TEMPLARS' NARROW ESCAPE.

tration.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 23.—A report that the R. and O. steamer Terrebonne, with the party of Knights Templar on board, had filled and sunk at the foot of the Beauharnois Canal, reached the city about 11 o'clock last evening. This news, tinged with the possibility of loss of life, was soon on everybody's lips, and large crowds of anxious people surrounded the Bonaventure depot and questioned each other, fruitlessly, as to the extent and causes of the accident, but there was no information to be had. The suspicion of fatality was, however, soon dissipated by telephone reports to the effect that the passengers had all been safely

As near as could be gleaned from the passengers on the arrival of the train, the steamer struck just as she entered the Cedar rapids. The first concussion was not very perceptible, and was only noticed by some of the more sensitive of the passengers, but a little further down the steamer struck again, this time with considerable violence.

She swung partially round in the current.

The fears of the passengers were thoroughly aroused; several ladies fainted and the crew were thrown into a high state of nervousness. Just after the steamer got out of the rapids the engineer came on deck apparently greatly agitated, and stated that the steamer was making water fast. This

The wildest *excitement, however, pre-struck, and even the strongest nerves among the passengers were subject to a strain which they will remember for a long time.

The unlucky Sir Knights and ladies landed here at 2:30 this morning, none the worse

MANY MILL MEN ON STRIKE Dundee, Aug. 23.—It is estimated that 17,000 mill workers are now out on strike. They have agreed to resume work if they are granted an increase of 5 per cent. in their wages, instead of 10 per cent., which they at first demanded.

THE CANADIAN CATTLE EMBARGO.

London, Aug. 23.-Mr. Walter Long, the new president of the Board of Agriculture, refuses to depart in any way from the policy of his predecessors in office with regard to the Canadian cattle embargo.

CHINESE SOLDIERS REVOLT. London, Aug. 23.-A special dispatch received here from Shanghai says that the Chinese soldiers stationed at Tien Tsin revolted on Wednesday, and as-sembled outside the gates of Li Hung Chang's Yamen, clamoring for their arrears of pay. Later they attacked a number of shops in the city, and killed over 100 persons.

CAUSES INDIGNATION. London, Aug. 23.-A dispatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Shanghai says that the utmost dissatisfaction and indignation prevails among the members of the foreign colony at the appoint-ment of the formerly degraded viceroy Liu, who is regarded as being the originator of the Cheng Tu riots, to investigate the recent outrages and the causes thereof.

UNREST IN RUSSIA.

Berlin, Aug. 23 .- A dispatch to the Cologne Gazette from Warsaw, says that the popular movement that led to the recent arrests in Odessa is more extensive than the similar movement that occurred in 1894. Peasants and artisans in West and Southwest Russia are exceedingly restless in consequence of the system of atic agitation, and might easily be incited to open revolt. The Government is prepared to suppress any overt acts against its FIFTY LIVES WERE LOST. Melbourne, Aug. 22.—The court of inquiry investigating the recent loss of the steamer Catterthun, which foundered after striking on Seal Rocks, between Sydney and Brisbane, have held that the steamer was wrongly navigated, but exonerates Second Officer Lanfear, who was in charge of the vessel when she struck. The Catterthun was bound from Sydney for Hong Kong. She sunk twenty minutes after striking the rocks, and 40 persons were lost.

THE SOUTH AUSTRALIAN BUDGET.

Adelaide, Aug. 23 .- The Hon. F. W. Holder, Treasurer of South Australia, in making a speech on the budget in the House of Assembly today, said he regretted to announce that there was a deficit of £98,000, despite the continued economies of the Government. The chief deficit was in the customs receipts. Mr. Holder declared that further economies in reduction in the Governor's and other salaries gave an estimated credit balance of £7,000.

CRITICAL STATE OF AFFAIRS IN CHINA

London, Aug. 23.-The Standard says: It is becoming more certain than ever that the unchecked, if not stimulated fury of the populace of China against foreigners will, unless means are found for meeting the danger, spread throughout the empire until the lives of whites will be nowhere worth an hour's purchase. The situation is critical. Resolute action of some kind is imperative, whether in co-operation with other powers or not. England clearly must find a way of compelling respect for the lives and property of foreigners. The paper deprecates the assumption that the same evasions and deceits will be practiced as before under the British consul's reports. It discusses the possibility of making the nation, epecially the mandarins, feel it worth while not to molest foreigners. China, it says, must be asked to make concesions to the country wronged. She must open another port of inland town trade. Great Britain wants more consuls in the interior and more markets for English goods. This would doubtless benefit other European nations the United States and Japan, so much that Great Britain would not be accused of wanting privileges that she would herself be only able to enjoy.

The Chronicle, treating on the same subjects, wonders how much longer the cutrages will be allowed to go on, and whether more lives must be sacrificed lefore Lord Salisbury loses faith in Chinese justice.

DR. TANNER TAKES HIS SEAT.

London, Aug. 23.-Dr. Tanner, who represents the middle division of county Cork, and who was suspended for a week for disorderly conduct in the House reappeared in the Chamber yesterday, the time of his suspension having expired.

T. P. O'Connor, Anti-Parnellite member for the Scotland division of Liverpool, asked the Government to reconsider the sentence of imprisonment for life on Mrs. Florence Maybrick, who was convicted some years ago of poisoning her husband, a well-known merchant of Liverpool. Mr. O'Connor said he did not know of a case that xcited more abiding interest and tronger conviction of innocence. Sir Matthew White-Ridley, Secretary of State for the Home Department, promised his best attention to the case. Rt. Hon. A. J. Lexington, Ky., Aug. 23.—While an excursion from Knoxville to Cumberand Gap was going at full speed yesterday a number of intoxicated pas-sengers commenced to fight. The trainmen, assisted by Capt. Wynne, superintendent of the Knoxville, Cumberland Gap and Louisville Railway, attempted to restore order, when the belilgerents drew knives and pistols. When order was restored three of the excur-sionists were dead from ristol wounds and Capt. Wynne was da gerously cut about the head and shoulders.

TRADE IN CANADA. Toronto, Aug. 23 .- R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly statement of trade in Canada says: There has not as yet been much resumption of activity in Montreal wholesale circles, though there are pretty general anticipations of a fair business in most lines. The feeling in commercial circles at Toronto is of a hopeful character. In some lines there has been improvement the past week, and indications point to a very satisfactory turnover the coming season. The failures for the week are 43 as against 22 for same week of last year.

A STORY OF WOLFE. An old story about the hero of Quebec has been resuscitated. In his earliest career Wolfe was aide-de-camp to General Hanley, who accompanied the Duke of Cumberland in that campaign which culminated at Culloden Moor. Dr. Wilson shall tell the story: "As the duke rode over the deserted ground, with the young aide-de-camp in his train, the colonel of the Frasers—a youth who had fallen at the head of his clansmen raised himself with an effort to gaze upon the face of the victor. Shoot that Highland scoundrel who dares to look on me with so insolent a stare!' exclaimed the duke, turning to Wolfe. Pausing for a moment at the brutal order, according to the narrative of an eye-witness, Wolfe replied: 'My commission is at your Royal Highness' disposal; I am a soldier, not an executioner." Some meaner hand had to be found for the deed of butchery. Wolfe was a young man then of 20 years.

the wheat being all cut. If frost comes in Manitoba it is heralded over the whole continent and immensely magnified. The trouble is not so much always in the actual damage done, but in the opportunity it gives to grade the whole crop down and it gives a chance to the buyer who finds a dozen grains of frosted wheat in a bushel to grade it one or two grades lower, which makes a big difference in price to the farmers. This is where the shoe pinches the farmer more than the actual damage done. This is the plain truth of the matter. A little frost-damage to our wheat gives big corporations a chance to bear our whole crop unfairly.

An Official Report to be Made by the City Engineer, the Patrons here show that frosts did | As to Whether the Barber Company Are Employing Any.

> The Report Denied in Part-Not Pleased With the Road Roller's Work-Blocking a Sewer-Damages.

At last night's meeting of the Board of Works Ald. Parnell called attention to the rumors that were going around to the effect that the Barber Asphalt Company were employing laborers who were not citizens, contrary to their agreement. He moved that the engineer make an official report on the matter, Personally, he did not know that the agreement was being violated.

Ald. O'Meara said no one could blame the company if they would not employ everyone who sought work. He had seen no good man turned away by the Barbers. It could not be expected of the company to employ all the corporation men.

Engineer Graydon said that no less than three men came into his office and complained that the company were employing men who were not citizens, but they refused to give the names of the non-citizens or even to point them out. Beyond four skilled laborers, the company were not knowingly employ-ing any man who was not a resident of the city. In the morning they would want twenty more men.

Ald. O'Meara said he believed in enforcing the letter of the agreement, but there was no use being unfair with the company. The motion carried.

The question of street improvements was then taken up. Ald. Parnell said that if the street railway company put down every line of railway that they agreed to this fall, the city would have and Port Stanley.
to pay out $10,000 for street improvements. Grades had to be made in sister, Miss A. X. Graham, London. ward 6 to protect the citizens.

Ald. O'Meara asked when Talbot street was going to be rolled, and what the roller was doing. "The roller does not satisfy me the way I thought it would," remarked the chairman. Ald. Parnell-We do not get 60 cents worth of labor for every dollar we The pavement people's crusher breaks three times as much stone as ours, and they do it in a businesslike manner. Our's isn't in it. We have got the poorest stone crusher Our's isn't in it. We that we could have had." A complaint was lodged with one of the aldermen that the street railway people, in building their power house, were blocking up a private sewer from the Tecumseh House. This was the only drain here at one time, and has been laid for 40 or 50 years. Engineer Graydon said he had spoken to Manager Carr on the matter, and he had retorted that the street railway company had bought the lot and all that was on it. The city engineer and Chairman Hea-man will investigate. Ald. Parnell urged that, as the street railway company had agreed to cart earth from their excavations free of charge within the half-mile limit of any place the city wanted it, the roadbed in the vicinity of Ridout and Horton streets be widened in readiness for the electric railway. The engineer thought it unnecessary. Ald. Nutkins wanted to know when the bricks on Lorne avenue were going to be rolled; one block only was done, and the people were up in arms. If the bricks were not to be rolled, they could be carted away.

The chairman explained that they were afraid to take the roller over the tile at Carling's Creek crossing. Ald. O'Meara-What is the use of the roller if it was not going to be used. Ald. O'Meara wanted a straight answer from the engineer whether or not Talbot street was going to be rolled. The Engineer-I have to receive my orders from the board.

The board finally prevailed upon Ald. O'Meara to let the matter rest for a week, and the accounts were passed. J. P. Webb received $3 in settlement for damages done his wagon recently.

Members present: Ald. Parnell, John Heaman, Nutkins, O'Meara, Callahan, Wm. Heaman (chairman), Engineer Graydon, Secretary Bell and Street Inspector Owens.

ROMANCE OF THE IELEGRAPH.

Some of the Old Difficulties of Operating a Line Through Queer Countries.

A good deal of romance hovers around the means by which the World's news gathered. The speed and accuracy with telegraph messages are transmitted between the uttermost parts of the earth is marve. lous when the conditions under which they are sometimes transmitted are considered. The Indo-European telegraph line offers a good illustration. It runs from London to Lowestoft on the east coast of England. It then dips under the sea to Emden, on the German coast, whence it passes through Germany to the Russian frontier. From this point the wire passes by way of Warsaw, Rowno, Odessa, the Caucasus, and Tiflis, to Persia, and by Tauris to Teheran, the capital of the Shah's queer domain, There it joins the Indian Government line, which runs from the Persian capital to Bushire on the Persian Gulf. Thence the wires run through Beloochistan, and complete the route by connecting at Kurrachee, in Northern India. The operation of this immense stretch of line, passing through countries of such varying climates and general characteristics, is obviously one of much difficulty.

On the snow-swept steppes of Russia the wires are sometimes snapped like thread by the rapid flight of flocks of wild geese. The poles are cut down and made into firewood by the nomad tribes of the Caucasian districts, and the cunning inn keepers of Georgia seek to boom their post-horse trade by deliberately creating faults in the wires. In certain parts of the mountainous regions of Asia the maintenance of the solitary line involves no little personal risk and hardship to the staff hands. Communication is often cut off by avalanches in the mountain districts, and the work of repairing after a snowfall of five or six feet is no light matter.

These mountain stations are provisioned with several months' supplies before the winter sets in, as the staff will be in touch with the rest of the world by the wire only until the spring weather opens out the passes. In these supplies are always included a liberal allowance of books and games wherewith to relieve the monotony of the tedious winter exile.

Small talk, says the Outlook, is often | contemptuously spoken of as the accomplishment of small-minded people, whose capacity is limited to superficial comment on trivial matters. If small talk is the only talk of which a person is capable, humorous contempt is not too pronounced an attitude to take towards it. If one has only a few tencent pieces to his fortune, his case is a sad one; but the man who wishes to take a cable car and has fifty dollars in bills of large denominations in his pocket and no small change, is, for the moment, in a positon quite as embarrassing. Small change is a slender foundation of fortune, but for certain purposes and at certain moments small change is invaluable. Small talk of the right sort is the natural medium of exchange in which a good deal of our social intercourse is carried on. We underrate the value of casual or routine contact with each other-the kind of contact which does not admit of continuous or deep-going discussion. There is no small civilizing power in that touch-and-go intercourse which makes up so considerable a part of our lives, and which affords opportunity for geniality of temper, friendliness of spirit, and a light play of talk on incidental and timely matters. To talk lightly and talk well is much more difficult than to talk gravely and to talk well: it involves lightness of touch, quickness of wit, and an open and courteous mind. The elephantine tread of the solemn-minded thinker is always heavy and sometimes oppressive; it is more significant of lack of intellectual variety and freshness than of presence

When a man acts from impulse, what he does may be unwise, but it is generally honest.

Robert Louis Stevenson sleeps soundly enough in far Samoa, but not more soundly than does that other "kindly Scot." whose last wish is thus embalmed in the ancient ballad:

Ah, bury me by the bracken bush, Beneath the bloomin' breer, And let never livin' mortal ken That a kindly Scot lies here.

Mr. Abner Jennings was never known to say a harsh thing to or about any one. His form of speech was invariably mild, and exaggerated statements vere viewed by him as almost as reprehensible as lies. Once, in the spring of the year, when the roads were in a fearful condition of mud and mire, the team of a "traveling merchant" was stalled a short distance from Mr. Jennings' house. The old man at once brought out his oxen and went to the peddler's assistance.

The team could not be instantly released even with the aid of the yoke of oxen, and the peddler, who was a man of high temper and little selfcentrol, proceeded to vent his rage in language which first amazed and then disgusted the equable Mr. Jennings. He bore it as long as he thought was necessary and proper, and then unhitched his oxen and went calmly home. "I went to try and help him." he explained to his wife as he walked into the kitchen on his return, "but he talked so poorly that I came off and left him."

One day he caught some boys robbing his black cherry tree, and surveyed them for some moments in speechless disapprobation.

"Boys," he said at last, giving the culprits the sternest glance of which he was capable, "boys, I think you've been doin' very poorly!"

After administering that stinging rebuke, he turned and walked slowly away to the barn, and never referred to the matter again.

Contradictory Evidence.

The interim sessions room at the court house was crowded to the doors last night, when the inquest into the cause of Sunday evening's fatality, whereby Robert and Richard Warwick, of Miles street, lost their lives in the Thames, was begun before Coroner Dr. Ferguson, of South London. The spectators were mostly from the north end of the city, and included many relatives and scores of friends of the two brothers, whose career was brought to such a sad and sudden end. A sister of the Warwicks is completely broken down, while the mother is said to be Seriously affected in her mind, and her condition is critical. Mrs. Warwick had been very ill for some weeks previous to the accident.

The evidence adduced only went to prove what had generally been surmised-that the three young men, the third one being John, a first cousin of the deceased, had been drinking pretty freely at the Ward hotel, across the river from Springbank, and were incapable of rowing back to the city. The evidence indicated several cases of infraction of the liquor law by Ward, and further proceedings by the crown are certain.

HOW THE ACCIDENT HAPPENED. Heretofore only a bare outline as to now the accident happened has been given, but full light was thrown upon it by John Warwick. John, who is a cousin, is an employe at the brickyards, and on Sunday afternoon he met Robert and Richard at their They home and walked down town. spent two or three hours walking around, during which they called at three places, having four drinks in the first, three in the second and two in the third. The trio whiled away the time until 7 o'clock in the evening, when they went to the house of John Milne and hired a boat. According to witness' story, they were all "feeling pretty good," but were not arunk, and intended to return by o'clock. The trip to Ward's was made without any noteworthy incident except a stop near Wonderland during a shower.

"Did you have anything to drink at Ward's?" asked Mr. McKillop. Witness-We had five or six drinks. Q.—And the city liquor had not affected you? A.—Not in the least.
Q.—What kind of drinks did you get?

A .- The first was lager and the next was whisky. Continuing, the witness said there was quite a crowd hanging around the hotel, probably about fifteen. They might have had seven drinks. When they started for home the trio were affected by their load. Witness was very drunk; Robert was intoxicated. Richard was the soberest of the party.

I was soon pulled out, regained my seat, and started for home. Richard was rowing at first, and after we got well under way Robert decided to use the other of oars lying in the boat. Mr. McKillop-Did you call for help or raise an alarm? Witness-No, because I never realized any danger. At any rate, I was in a very drunken state, and the last I remember was the exchange of words Then I went to sleep and did not wake until about 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning, when the boat had drifted against the bank and under a bush. I was very stupid, and did not know where I was until I rowed about and saw Ward's hotel. I returned to the city then, tied the boat up and went home, arriving there about 5 a.m. Juryman James Wilkins elicited the information that Warwick had been to Ward's the Sunday previous to the accident and had secured several drinks. WARD'S STORY

There was a stir as Mike Ward, proprietor of the resort, was called, and Harry McCann and George Evans were ordered into another room. Ward remembered the three men coming to his hotel on Sunday and also two of them the previous Sunday. There were quite a number about the place on the second occasion, some of whom were bearders, while others had driven down from the city. In direct contradiction to John Warwick's statements, Ward said the deceased had only four drinks each at his place. The first was lager and the rest a mixture of beer and ginger beer, which was not as intoxicating. When they started home about 9:30 they were well able to take care of themselves, and John Warwick said everything was all right. "You heard Warwick say that they were all drunk and that they had seven drinks, including whisky?" asked

Mr. McKillop. Ward-Yes, and it is untrue. Q.-And you want the jury to believe your story, when John Warwick was so drunk that he did not know enough to call for help when the two men were in the water? A .- Yes, every werd of it.

Mr. McKillop-Well, I guess you are the only man in the room who believes Q.-And two of these men had iquor at your place on Sunday, Aug. "NONE OF YOUR BUSINESS."

Harry McCann, an employe of the vater commissioners, who boards at Ward's, saw the Warwicks in the barroom on Sunday, and when they left Robert seemed a little shaky. Mr. Wilkins (juryman) asked if it was true that he (McCann) did not want to appear as a witness in the case.
"I did not want to appear if I could help it," answered McCann.

Mr. Wilkins—You told some person not to subpoena you? Witness -Yes.

with the city. George Evans ("Shorty"),a frequenter of the Ward hotel, saw the Warwicks arrive on Sunday. He agreed with Ward as to the kind and number of drinks served the men. Evans also testified to having three drinks before the Warwicks arrived and a similar number with them.

BEFORE THE TRIP. William Warwick, a first cousin, stated that he saw Robert Warwick on Sunday morning, when he was perfeetly sober. That was the last time the witness saw him alive. Anthony Adair, an employe at Milne's bcathouse, saw Robert, Richard and John Warwick get the boat about 7 o'clock in the evening-the same one that they had hired a week before. Robert said they would be gone about two hours. They appeared to be sober, and witness never suspected that they had been drinking. Robert and Richard did the rowing, at which they seemed to be quite adept. Juryman Wilkins-Did you notice whether or not they had any liquor with them? Mr. Adair-I did not. John Milne, proprietor of the boathouse, remembered seeing the three Warwicks going in for a boat. He had no conversation with them and did not suppose they had been drinking, as they walked very straight.

Joseph Richardson and James Davis were examined as to the finding of Richard's body. The inquest was then adjourned until Tuesday evening, Sept. 3, at 8 o'clock. In the meantime the crown officers will

TOMORROW'S ELECTION. Tomorrow a bye-election for the Dominion House of Commons takes place in Westmoreland, N.B. The last byeelection in the Maritime Provinces was held four months ago, when the seat held till his death by the Conservative leader, Sir John Thompson, was carried by Hon. Mr. McIsaac, a stalwart Liberal. After the result in Antigonish, N.S., where a large majority in favor of high taxation was converted into a substantial majority for trade freedom, economy and progress, there is naturally much interest in the result in Westmoreland. For many years the constituency has always returned a Conservative, and at the last election in 1891, Mr. Wood, the late Conservative member, was returned by the enormous majority of 2,148. When Mr. Wood forced the Government to implement an old promise to make him a Senator, because another politician was crowding the leader for a life job, it was thought not to be a very difficult undertaking to open the constituency. The county has over 10,000 voters, spread over many miles, and pipes were laid in secret so as to take the friends of trade freedom unawares. The election was rushed on in a day or two after the first announcement of the vacancy, and the hope was entertained that the Liberals would allow a Confeeling against the men in power and us in this respect. their methods, however, that no time was lost in putting Mr. Killam, M.P.P., in the field, and in making a strong fight for victory for trade freedom all along the line. The supporters of the do high tax policy were thrown into a city panic. Referring to the revelations made by the commission which investigated the condition of the separate schools in Ottawa, Chairman Seguin of the French section of the board remarked at the last meeting: "The deficiency in the teaching of English in the French schools is a matter for especial regret. We want our children to learn English."

This is a very sensible view for a leading French-Canadian to take. Only by acquiring a thorough English education can a French-speaking pupil hope to make the most of his energies on this continent. For this reason it is to be regretted that Sir Adolphe Caron's newspaper at the capital, the Conservative Le Canada, strongly urges that the reforms recommended by the commission be not carried out. There is not a well-wisher of the separate schools who will agree with its advocacy of continued inefficiency.

The Ottawa Separate School Board do well to insist that their schools the way .- Toronto Globe. shall be as efficient as are other public schools in the city. They owe that to the rising generation.

Chicago city Methodist preachers want the time limit of pastorate, at present five years, entirely abolished. But the country preachers will go to Cleveland in full force in opposition to the change, and they will win. The Itineracy is still on trial, it would seem, but in the rural regions, where the majority of the preachers toil, there is still a determination that it shall continue. It has served a good Lothrop Publishing Company, Boston, the result is strong nerves, sound sleep,

POINTS.

Though ready enough to quibble over a typographical error in regard to the original estimate of the cost of the Sault Ste. Marie Canal, the high tax journals do not tell us why a bonus of $90,000 was paid to the contractors to have the canal opened on July 1, 1894. The canal is not opened yet. Mr. Haggart says it may be ready for business in September, but he has fooled the people so frequently that they cannot trust him. If further apologies are made, will the defenders of the bunglers explain how the lowest responsible tenderers for works connected with the bridge were passed over?

Mark Twain, though 60 years of age, is working like a beaver to pay his debt, at least so the telegraph informs us. If every debtor in the country were to follow the excellent example set by the industrious Canadian animal and the versatile Yankee humorist, a great many of us would soon be better off.

A Boston paper styles itself "The Eye Opener." Is not this infringing on the patent campaign literature issued in the interests of the Conservatives in last Provincial election? Who does not remember the green sheets stealthily handed around by the opponents of the Mowat Government?

Fifty-five towns and cities in England now destroy garbage by burning, and use the heat to generate electricity for street lighting. That is a profitable disposition of city refuse. But no matter how the civic waste is finally made away with, it should be collected on the co-operative plan. As we have it in this city, the collection and disposal of domestic refuse is most wasteful to the taxpayers. We have the civic co-operative plan in the building and repairing of our highways, in our water supply, in our fire and police protection. Is it not time that our civic authorities got away from the village, higgledy-piggledy system of collecting and disposing of the civic contest. There is such a revulsion of refuse? A CHANGE NEEDED.

The London "Advertiser" publishes a thoughtful article on the scarcity of work in cities. That over 100 persons, many of them good mechanics, applied for a position as janitor at a salary of less than $8 a week, and that only one in ten of the applicants for work on street improvements could be employed, are facts which do not speak well for the existing condition of industry. This is in London, the center of one of the best farming districts on the continent. Evidently there is a chance for lawmakers to get themselves and their laws out of

"I met Dr. Wilde the other day," writes a correspondent of mine in Toronto. "I do not think he will go back to London. He would only consent to be pastor of a church there if he received $3,000 a year, and that, he says, is not now probable. The Congregationalists must look for a pastor elsewhere. If they get Rev. Mr. Pedley, of Vancouver, they will get a good preacher and an estimable man."

A city doctor said to me today: "I have only taken one holiday in seventeen years, and I have just returned from it. I went up the lakes, and had glorious time. Every year since I have been practicing I have intended to take a few days off, and every year new obstacles have raised themselves in my way, until I began to think that I could not be spared from the city. I got so engrossed with my patients, and they were so insistent on my personal attention, that I believed it to be impossible to be absent. And so I had not a holiday of any length for seventeen years until now. I come back, and I find that neighboring practitioners have kept my practice going all right, and that I have scarcely been missed." Is not this medical man a type of many business men. Could anyone be more miserable than the man who has waited so long for a holiday that he is incapable of enjoying it when he finally ceases from Wise country hotel-keepers are making as careful preparation for bicycle horsemen. The better class of rural hostelries are now adorned with legends of this description: "This way to the stables"; "Bicycle barns here." A safe place for a bicycle at every tavern is a necessity.

I was at Port Dover the other day and I saw the arrival of the powerful coal steamer Shenango, No. 1. This came in from Conneaut, Ohio, where it has been built of one of a line of lake ferry steamers to carry coal to Port Dover and to take back Canadian products in payment of that necessary of life. These steamers will run winter and summer. They are 300 feet long, 54 feet beam, 25 feet deep, and carry in addition to passengers and freight, 28 loaded coal cars, each 34 feet long. The engines are 2,700 horse power, with a screw in the bow as an ice crusher; 250 electric lights, and a 5,000 candle search light. This is a carrying out of the scheme which the Cleveland syndicate had in view when the bargain with the city for the establishment of a lake ferry between Cleveland and Port Stanley was arranged. Unfortunately for London and this part of Ontario, that scheme was bungled; we had pretended leaders of public opinion who, early and late, said it was a scheme which would never pay; and they scared the chief monied man out of the syndicate, and brought chaos where effective co-operation and tact would have secured

Knox, M.A., of St. Marys, has been appointed science master of Orangeville high school at a salary of $750. It is expected that the famous West Zorra tug-of-war team will pull with the Boston team at Hamilton on Sep-sidewalk some time ago and broke her arm. She has commenced suit for domages against the city. Mrs. Geo. D. Shoemaker, Waterloo township, died on Tuesday at the great age of 86 years, 7 months and 20 days. Her husband is still living, and is 92 years old. J. P. Lindenman's store, Eagle, was burglarized. Goods and stamps were taken to the amount of about $30. En-buried his young wife. Messrs. J. M. Cole and Arthur Gundy, Aylmer, arrived home from their trip to Montreal by bicycle. They rode over 800 miles while away, and Sol White, acting for Joseph Martin, the defeated aldermanic candidate in the fourth ward, Windsor, made a motion to have the election of Ald. Wear set aside. Judge Horne reserved his decision.

A gopher snake, over five feet in length, was killed on the farm of Christopher Frankfurth, lot 5, con. 6, Tilbury West, on Friday afternoon. The snake is described as the largest seen west of the plains for many years. Burglars are again at their work in Delhi. Last night Quance's flour mill was entered. They made an unsuccessful attempt to blow open the safe. They finally secured about $3 in coppers and postage stamps, which were in a desk drawer.

A very shocking accident occurred at Listowel whereby Alex. Mitchell lost his life. The old gentleman was about 75 years of age. At an early hour, with a lamp in his hand, he went down stirs to get some water, made a mis-step and fell, breaking his neck. A little nephew arrived in time to put out the fire caused by the lamp falling, otherwise the house would undoubtedly have been burned.

John W. Atcheson, formerly of the Stratford Model, has secured the New den school on the 12th con., East Nissouri, for the balance of this year, at the prodigious salary for these hard times, of $1. All those who had any intention of attending the model schools this fall, should ponder long over the above example of a teacher's We wonder if this includes lighting the school fires and sweeping -Thamesford Record.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Park, Chatham, were in a bush burning stray piles of brush, when Mrs. Park's dress caught fire. She was badly burnt and scarred, her clothing being burnt almost entirely off. The lady is upwards of 60 years of age, and it is feared that her injuries may, by reason of her advanced years, result fatally. Her husband, in his efforts to extinguish the was very severely burned about the arms and face.

On Thursday night, at the residence of Mrs. A. J. Worsley, No. 113 Elgin street, St. Thomas, a happy event took place, when Miss Allie Winter, of Listowel, Ont., sister of Mrs. Worsley, was united in marriage to Mr. Frank C. Parker, of Chicago. There is a slight tinge of romance in connection with this pleasant affair. While visiting the World's Fair Miss Winter met Mr. Parker at the residence of her sister, who was at that time living in the Windy City.

Some nineteen years ago there was interred in Windfall Cemetery a handsome lady who died young. There were several gold rings and earrings on her when buried. Her husband shortly married again. Wife No. 2 also died and was laid to rest in Windfall Cemetery. The husband got a young housekeeper, whom he fell deeply in love with, and proposed marriage and was accepted. His affianced wife wanted jewelry; her affianced husband had her ears pierced for rings, but owing to the scarcity of money he could not get the jewelry that wouldbe-wife No. 3 so much wanted. He went one night about three weeks ago and dug up the grave of his first wife, took up the coffin and, after a careful search, found the gold rings and earrings and gave them to his affianced wife. She sustained such serious injuries that her recovery is regarded as hopeless. A new Presbyterian church of fine proportions is being erected in Blenheim. # LIBERAL CAMPAIGN SONG.

The following is the song which took first prize in the recent competition 44 inch Black and Navy inaugurated by the Young Liberal Associations of the Province. It is from the pen of a resident of this city:

MARCHING TO VICTORY. (Air: "Marching Through Georgia.") Ring the knell of boodling, boys, we'll sound it loud and long; Ring it with a spirit that will wake and thrill the throng; Ring it like true Liberals, a thousand thousand strong,

For we are marching to victory.

CHORUS. Hurrah! Hurrah! true Liberals are we, Hurrah! Hurrah! the country shall be free. Freemen! rally round us from the center to the sea, For we are marching to victory. The taxingmen, corruptionists, the tyrants and their tools, Coerce, oppress, and gather pelf by wretched tariff rules, Most wickedly they squander it and think that we are fools, But we are marching to victory.

Rouse we then the people, boys, enlist them one and all; Let every Liberal be brave and true to duty's call; The useless Senate we will send forever to the wall, For we are marching to victory.

free and true, Come join our loyal ranks and vote as all Reformers do: Prosperity and peace shall mark the path that we pursue, For we are marching to victory.

While "Union" is our motto, boys, as we go hand in hand To banish bribing boodlers most loy ally we stand Around the flag hat never shades a slave on sea or land For we are marching to victory.

God bless the cause, the righteous cause for which Reformers pray, And when the N. P. mockery shall all be swept away,

On Canada, fair Canada, shall dawn a brighter day. For we are marching to victory.

Chorus-

A PERILOUS TRIP.

Montreal, Aug. 23.-Five hundred miles through an almost uninhabited country, covered by pathless forests swift rivers-that and watered by is the canoe trip which two ladies and three children started on this morning. Mrs. Newnham, daughter of Principal Henderson, of the Montreal Anglican Theological College, has been visiting her friends in the city, and, accompanied by her family and her sister-in-law, Miss Newnham is now returning to Moose Factory, on James' Bay, to rejoin her husband, Bishop Newnham, of Moosoonee Diocese. Mrs. Newnham left Montreal a few days ago, and was met by a canoe and six Indians at Missanabie, which she leaves today. The party expects to be seventeen days on the road, or possibly longer.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

With each succeeding year comes added interest in this important branch of study.

There is a growing desire on the part of both parents and educators for a broader culture, a more uniform development of all the powers and faculties. Health of body is essential to health and activity of mind. The interdependence of body and mind makes the education of both equally imperative. Only as we succeed in preparing the body to perform its highest function, that of serving the soul, can we attain to cultured, well-developed, self-governed manhood and womanhood. Everywhere are seen the effects of a disregard of nature's laws in the slovenly gait, round shoulders, contracted chests, squeezed waists, protruding shoulderblades, curved spines, uneven hips and flabby muscles. Fifteen minutes of uniform exercise daily will overcome these weaknesses as well as unpleasant mannerisms, strengthening at the same the nerve centers, stimulating the vital organs and equalizing the circulation. The Emerson system is simple yet comprehensive. Each exercise has its hygienic and aesthetic value. No apparatus is used, no oldtime jerky movements are allowed, but only those calculated to develop the four physicial attributes, poise or equilibrium, flexibility or freedom, strength or control, grace or harmony of movement. Physical Culture is not a fad. There was a time when "Delsarte Aestheticism" was ridiculed by the comic opera, "Patience," and "Iolanthe," but the modern educationists have produced a system of Physical Culture that commends itself to sensible right-thinking people. Physical Culture is important to ladies and the best recommendation for it is the grace and beauty of carriage, the symmetrical development of all the muscles, and the good health of all those who have given it a fair trial. It is satisfactory to know that the School of Physical Culture and Elocution under Miss Bacon (late of Boston), 340 Dundas street is a success. Classes will be formed 1st. September.

PRETTY FACES RULE THE UNIVERSE.

There's No Beauty Without Freshness and Pureness of Complexion.

Good complexions, handsome eyes, and graceful carriage in women have caused monarchs to forget to rule, and millionaires to cease the worship of gold. Our literature is filled with advertisements of complexion beautifiers, cosmetics, etc., but beauty is not skin deep. Nearly all women's ills are directly the result of irregularities of the bowels. To avoid these irregularities means to preserve that fresh ness and beauty of complexion which women crave more than anything else in the world. It means youth and beauty. It means freedom from dizziness, headache and biliousness. Irregularities of the bowels and the many afflictions arising therefrom, and in fact over seventy-five per cent. of all the ills women are subject to, are derived directly or indirectly from constipation, and the researches of many eminent doctors go to prove the above statement to be true.

Karl's Clover Root Tea, put up by its American proprietors after one of the most scientific formulae ever produced by medical research and skill, comprises not only herbs, which will positively cure constipation and all irregularities of the bowels, but ingredients, which will at the same time act as a tonic to the system, a panacea to the complexion and a boon to those afflicted with headache, dizziness, languor, melancholia, This remedy can be procured at W. T.

Regular sizes, 25 and 50 cents. Don't take any other, but be sure you have Karl's Clover Root Tea.

-The Barber Company greatly increased their force of men on Dundas street this morning, and are rushing the work along with all possible speed. The concrete foundation for the street railway tracks is being laid, the stone for which is being crushed in the yard at the corner of Wellington and York streets. The village of London West won two cases at the First Division Court this morniug. Reeve Macdonald, Finance Chairman Moore and Clerk Simpson were present, and left at the close with becoming countenances. Judge McKenzie, of Sarnia, was the presiding judge.

The first case was that of Wm. Nichol vs. the Village. It lasted for over an hour. Nichol was suing for salary due him as treasurer. The evidence went to show that Nichol had not properly performed his duties, and the case was dismissed with costs.

The other case was J. C. Stewart vs. London West. Mr. Stewart was engaged to audit the village books for 1891 93. He claimed to have been instructed to audit the books for 1890, and was suing for $20 for that audit. His lawyer, R. M. C. Toothe, could not prove that he was ordered by the corporation to perform this audit, and case number two was dismissed.

LOUISE PLATT SENTENCED. Louise Platt, the young girl convicted of vagrancy a week ago on the complaint of her mother, Mrs. Louise Wennesheimer, 288 Simcoe street, was arraigned for sentence. She were that same indifferent manner as she did while her mother was telling of her depraved life, and smiled at the policemen in court quite freely; and when the P. M. beckoned her to stand up for sentence the girl went forward as if to ascend to the magisterial bench. The magistrate reminded her that the full penalty for her offense was two years in the Mercer Reformatory, and if she ever appeared again he would have to send her down for that period. The sentence this time would be eight month, in the institution. The girl is probably one of the most depraved and hardened that the police have had to deal with for some time. Over a year ago Mrs. Wennesheimer sent her to Brantford, hoping a change of companions would be of some benefit, but Louise soon fell in evil ways again and was sent to the Mercer for six months.

PARCEL POST CHANGES. The Canadian Postoffice Department has issued an entirely new schedule of parcel routes, to come into operation on Oct. 1. It shows that a tariff has been arranged for the carrying of parcels to almost every part of the world open to foreign commerce. An examination of the table shows that distance does not always dominate the charges. For instance, it costs to send a postal of one pound weight to the Congo Free States 72 cents and to Chili $1 02, which latter is the same rate charged per pound to Cochin China. Again, while it costs $1 48 to forward a five-pound parcel to Panama, a package of similar weight may be sent to Constantinople for 90 cents. The most expensive rates are those to the Dutch East Indies, Persia, and the German colonies in East Africa, the rates being from $1 10 to $1 18 per one-pound package. For same rate one may send a six-pound parcel to Jerusalem. STILL THEY COME AND GO.

The Secret Out.

Suddenly he felt himself gripped still more tightly by his companion and drawn along towards the right. He followed, but he had no longer any interest in himself or any special desire for succor. All he thought of was rest, and if he had been left to himself he would certainly have sank to the earth. But he was not left to himself, and in a few minutes he heard a sudden hollow and ringing sound, then another and another, that surged through his dreaming ears like the peal of an awakening trumpet. It was the clatter of a desperate man upon a door. Roused in spite of himself, he lent his efforts to those of his companion, and together they put their shoulders to the senseless, resisting wood, and in an agony of effort started it from its hinges and sent it toppling in upon the floor. A gulf of darkness greeted them, but in it was shelter and comparative warmth. Feeling a great flood of thankfulness pour through his heart, Dr. Cameron helped his comrade to place the door back in its former position, then he stumbled forward with him into some sort of a room, and after a moment of semi-unconsciousness, regained enough mastery over himself and his benumbed fingers to draw his match safe from his pocket and strike a light. "I want to see the face of my pro-man through whose energies he had been sustained and brought to this As he did so, a cry of indescribable emotion broke from either lip. The two faces confronting each other were those of Dr. Cameron and Julius Moles-

The blow was too much for Dr. Cameron's exhausted strength. fell like a log. When he came to himself the haziness of a dream was still upon him, and through this haziness he met a pair of eyes that turned away from him as he looked, and left him free to gaze about upon his strange surroundings. Could he have remembered where remembering, he thought himself in some weird and unknown region from which come the inspirations of the poet and the dread reality and unreality of our dreams. For in the space about him there were no familiar objects, but rather the scenery of some cave or Norseman's hut. By the vivid firelight which shone from a hearth out of his view, he could see but not understand, the great shadows of four rough hewn pillars, which supported a rof of rudely plastered beams; while from the sides about him flapped the skins and hides of animals, which if meant to add warmth to the spot, did it with an effect that was rather re-pelling than comfortable. As for the floor it was damp and earthy; while the rude bench and table that encumbered the only open spot before him, were of the shape and clumsiness of those times when each man manufactured his own articles from the wood which grew before his door. He was lying on a settle as rough as the rest, and the first thing which brought him any real natural sensa-tion, was the sight of another man's overcoat thrown over his chilled and well-nigh benumbed limbs. This brought him some faint memory of suffering and rescue, and in another instant a subdued sound from the other end of the hut or cellar, recalled, with a terrible rushing sense of recoil and anguish, the whole situation to his mind. Rising on his elbow, he furtively searched the spaces about him for the man who occupied the fearful position of his sole companion and most hated foe. He saw him crouching forward on the hearth, feeding the fire with careful hand from a pile of wood at his He was without his overcoat, and the sleet having melted from his hair and face there was no mistaking the stern profile, with the incomprehensible flashes of expression coming and going upon it, as the glow of the fire increased to a flame or died down to the dull red which invited further fuel. "A demon or an angel," thought Cameron, and stretched his limbs to see if he had strength to rise. But the effort was as yet too much for him, and he lay for a few minutes longer, listening to the wicked howlings of the storm and longing, while he dreaded, to catch the sound of a cry without, which should assure him of the approach of some other member of the party which they had left struggling along behind them. But no such cry came, and ere long the passions in his breast became too great for concealment, and throwing boy. himself to the ground, he strode across the four black shadows made by those ghostly pillars on the earthy floor, and approaching Dr. Molesworth, who rose

The face of Dr. Cameron glowed with frenzy in the firelight. "Separate? depart?" he cried. "Do you think I will ever let you go out of my sight till I tear the secret from you which is threatening my home and imperiling the safety and honor of my wife?"

"What-what do you mean?" queried the other, with the first sign of faltering Walter Cameron had ever discerned in him. "I know of no secret." The gesture of his opponent stopped him. Dr. Cameron had become ter-rible in his wrath and denunciation. "Don't lie," he protested slowly. have not left my insensible wife and braved the terrors of such a storm as this, to listen to any weak denial of the truth. If you hate me-

Dr. Molesworth smiled. "If you love my wife—"

She has also related how you were connected with the affair and told how you came to the rescue in the disposal of the body."

A long silence was his first answer. Then the doctor's stern lips moved, and he exclaimed in firm, low tones: "And she is ill, you say?"
"Very ill."

"And you want me-" "To satisfy me on a point that is killing me. Wait! you are not going to escape me."

The following affidavit was made in Hamilton recently by Wm. J. "I, William James McCormack, of the town of Petrolea, in the county of Lambton, do solemnly declare: "1. That about 9:30 o'clock on the evening of Friday, the 10th day of August, 1895, I met James Savage and his son John Savage on the common between Tank street and John Josh's house in the town of Petrolea. They asked me to go over to Josh's house with them, but I refused to go, and went over near the barn, where they told me that I had to marry Sarah Savage, the daughter of the said James Savage. I refused to do so, and John Savage said that if I did not do it he would commit a crime, and John Sav-age said I must marry the girl before I left there or I would die. They tried to induce me to go into the house, but I would not. They grabbed hold of me and forced me into the house, where they so terrified and overcame me with their threats and menaces that I said I would marry her. There were present at the time in the house: John Josh, the two Savages, the girl Sarah Savage, John Waller and his wife. After they had compelled me to say that I would marry her James Savage drove me down to Postmaster Barclay's, where I and Savage waited outside while Josh went into the house. After came out I was taken in, and Mr. Barclay asked me my age, and I signed my name. I did not ask for a license, but the whole arrangements were made by Josh before I went in. I was then driven by these two men to Mr. Mc-Robie's house. I didn't go in the house nor have any conversation with Mr. McRobie. Josh went in and made all arrangements, and he had previously paid for the license. McRobie then drove back with me and Savage in buggy, and Josh walked. During all this time I had drank three or four glasses of liquor, and Josh obtained some liquor while we were in the town. Josh paid the minister for his services $2. After the marriage ceremony was gone through I sat down on the sofa and became unconscious, and knew nothing of what occurred until next morning at 6:30. Nearly the whole party were drinking, and I can remember before I lost my senses that they were all singing some song. I was

THERE IS NOT a more dangerous class of disorders than those which af-fect the breathing organs. Nullify this danger with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oila pulmonic of acknowledged efficacy. It cures soreness and lameness when applied externally, as well as swelled neck and crick in the back; and, as an inward specific, possesses most substantial claims to public confidence.

The Aylmer Express reports: "Mr. and Mrs. Chute, of Aylmer, desire that we should publish their testimonial and let other sufferers know what WILIIAMS' ROYAL CROWN REMEDY (Nature's Liquid) had done for Mr. Chute. He writes: For ten years or more I have been a sufferer with dyspepsia, and doctored with six of the most skilled doctored in this part of the country, but with little relief and no benefit in return for the very large doctors' bills that I paid. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, but all to no purpose, until April, 1893. I took to myself a wife, and it so happened that three years previous to our marriage she had been in poor health and used part of a bottle of Royal Crown Remedy, and knowing of its excellent qualities she prevailed upon me to give it a trial. I purchased one bottle of the Remedy and Pills, and by the time I had taken three bottles I was restored to good health, and my neighbors say that I am looking healthier than I have done for years. I believe Royal Crown Remedy to be the best value for the money on earth, and am, thankfully yours, WILLIAM CHUTE.'"

How the Man Who Advertises Is Regarded.

(From Art in Advertising.) I was walking up F street with Dr. Bedloe, the well-known Philadelphia wit and raconteur, the other evening. He said he was going after a florist. I told him there were two nearer than the one he was looking "I am seeking this man," said the doctor, because he advertises in the papers. "Cheap flowers?" "Not at all; because the man who advertises in the newspapers is always up to the times, and he is easier to deal with. You laugh, but I tell you it is a fact. I have studied this over and I know from personal experience. For the last few years of my life I've made it a rule never to deal with any business man who doesn't advertise. I wanted some flowers to send off in a box by mail, and I looked in the paper this morning for the advertisement of a florist. Now, you see, he wants to deal with me-else he wouldn't put that in the papers. I don't know any of the places here; but the rule is a good one. I'll bet you anything you say that I can get what I want at this place and get it cheaper than anywhere else, or at any flower place that keeps its name out of the newspapers. The business man that doesn't advertise almost invariably cheated me, on the theory, I presume, that I'd come there anyhow-or that his reputation brought me there. But I always found such a man narrow-minded, selfish, non-enterprising, penny-wise and pound-foolish, even if he didn't cheat me outright. No, sir; I never
