

Pitch-in on G. T. R. at Wyoming London Passenger Was Injured

Mr. Wm. Tackaberry, of Richmond Street, Badly Cut—Others Hurt.

A serious accident was narrowly averted on the G. T. R. near Wyoming yesterday morning, when Engine No. 330 crashed into a couple of passenger coaches standing on the tracks of the Petrolia division.

The accident occurred while some switching was being done, and the passengers, who were in the coach waiting to be taken down to Petrolia, were shaken up severely.

Londoner Injured.
Mr. William Tackaberry, of this city, was possibly the worst injured. He was standing near the stove at the time, and was hurled against the coal box, sustaining several severe cuts about the head.

In addition Mr. Tackaberry was severely bruised and shaken up, and will be confined to his house for several days.

Little Girl Hurt.

The 3-year-old daughter of Mr. L. D. Caldwell, of Watford, was thrown against the corner of the seat, and had her head badly cut.

It was thought for some time that she had been seriously injured, but later she recovered.

Many Hurt.

All the passengers sustained more or less bruises from being thrown violently about the car.

The accident was the result of the engine skidding when the brakes were applied. The platform of the passenger coach was completely wrecked, and the smoke box of the engine was considerably damaged.

INSANITY TO BE NEW THAW PLEA

The Second Trial of Stanford White's Slayer Set for December 2.

New York, Oct. 31.—Announcement was made today that insanity is to be the plea in the defense of Harry K. Thaw, whose second trial for the slaying of Stanford White will begin on Dec. 2.

Mr. Lytle, chief counsel for Thaw, is stated to have decided on this course. He is said to be convinced that Thaw is insane.

Ever since he took charge of the case, it is said, Mr. Lytle has given the question of Thaw's mental ability careful study. He has traced the Thaw family tree and it is said, has decided that insanity of Thaw may have been an inheritance.

TWELVE ALARMS DURING OCTOBER

But There Were No Serious Fires in London in That Period.

The firemen were called twelve times during the month of October. Three of the alarms came in by boxes, eight by phone, and one was a verbal alarm. Nine alarms were for fires, one was a chimney blaze, and two were false. There were no serious fires during the month.

ROLLED DOWN HILL BOY BROKE ARM

Arthur Gipwell, of South London Will Be Laid Up for Some Time.

A rolling stone will gather no moss, but a youngster rolling downhill is liable to accumulate much trouble. Arthur Gipwell, aged 12, who lives with his parents on the base line, yesterday afternoon went rolling down a hill by the other boys, and fast, and crashed into a stump. His left arm was broken at the wrist. He was taken to his home by the other boys, and Dr. John D. Wilson reduced the fracture. The lad was not injured otherwise, and is doing as well as can be expected.

GREAT RAILWAY STRIKE

Employees of All the English Lines Decide To Go Out.

London, Nov. 1.—The executive committee of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants today adopted a resolution to call a general strike.

RAMSEY LOSES SUIT VERDICT FOR $589,000

New York, Nov. 1.—A verdict of $589,000 against Joseph Ramsey, jun., former president of the Wabash Railroad, in a suit brought by John S. Jones, a financier and coal land operator, was handed down today in the supreme court.

Mr. Jones sued George J. Gould, William E. Guy and Mr. Ramsey as individuals to recover $460,000, which he alleged to be due him from the three defendants for securing for them 50,000 acres of coal lands in Southern Ohio. A part of the money sued for, according to Mr. Jones, represented sums advanced by him in payment for the land, and the rest included his commissions, expenses and interest. Judge Goff held that neither Mr. Gould nor Mr. Guy was liable, and the verdict consequently was rendered against Mr. Ramsey. It represented the full amount of the suit, plus costs and interest since 1902.

SLANDERING FREE MASON.

Tananarivo, Island of Madagascar, Nov. 1.—The natives are greatly excited over reports, said to have been spread by the missions, that the Free Masons are killing children in order to celebrate their rites. The Government is placing reassuring notices in all public places.

TOY BALLOON WON.

Paris, Nov. 1.—A toy balloon, one of many released by the newspaper, the Leclaire, has been found in Finland. It traveled a distance of 1,950 kilometers from Paris, thus beating by 25 kilometers the long-distance balloon record by Count De La Vaulx.

Engineer Richards on Niagara Power Figures Submitted All That's Needed

He Speaks of the Problem of Street Lighting and Points to Hamilton.

Hon. Adam Beck and Assistant Engineer Richards, of the Hydro-Electric Commission, were visitors at the City Hall this morning, and arrangements were made with Chairman Gillespie, of the special committee appointed to deal with the matter of electric lighting, to hold a special meeting tonight at 8 o'clock, when the questions involved will be discussed.

Engineer Richards said during a conversation with the chairman that the figures submitted were all that were necessary.

The commission did not consider the matter of lighting the streets something that could be settled by the council.

It had been estimated by Mr. Richards and Assessment Commissioner Grant that the amount of power needed in London would be something over 5,000 horse power. This would include the quantity necessary for the London Electric, which includes city lighting, etc.

Says It's Cheaper.

He said that the light suggested for the streets by the Electric Commission was much cheaper than the arc light, and it would result in a great saving. Hamilton had installed an electric light plant of its own, and had saved $30 a year on each light, besides paying something on the plant. London could do the same. The figures submitted called for the distribution of power to the manufacturers.

A Little Tardy.

"This matter should have been brought up before," said Hon. Adam Beck. "It could then have been discussed, and all the information possible would have been given on the question. The city of London will not have to erect any buildings. The commission will do that. The electricity will be stepped down ready for use when the contract is made. It will be just like putting water into the mains. The city will have to do the rest."

Troopers Held Shoot at the Coves

"B" Squadron, First Hussars, annual shoot took place at the Cove Ranges yesterday.

Trophy for the best shot in the Squadron was won by Trooper George Coughlin, senior contest; first prize, Q-M. Sgt. Livermore; second prize, Sgt. Clare; third prize, Sgt. Major Campbell; fourth, Trooper Armstrong. Junior contest—First prize, Trooper Tugwell; second, Trooper Arndt; third, Trooper Coughlin and Beaumont (tie).

After the shoot the squadron adjourned to a local cafe where the annual banquet was held.

Fireman Succumbs to His Injuries

Fireman John Robertson, who was so badly injured in the explosion of Engine 446 at Newbury Tuesday night died yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in Victoria Hospital. His death was not unexpected, as the attending physicians, Dr. Drake and Dr. Seaborn, did not think he could survive when they first saw him.

His injuries were terrible, and he suffered fearful agony. He began to sink early yesterday morning, and gradually weakened until he died. His wife was with him when the end came. Although he was under the influence of opiates he was conscious at the last.

Deceased is survived by a widow and also by his father and mother, who live in Hamilton.

It is alleged that during his delirium he repeated the words: "There's plenty of water, Bob."

This would indicate, if the story is true, that it was not the turning on of cold water on the hot flues that caused the explosion or that the water gauge was blocked, and showed water in the glass when there was none in the boiler.

Big Addition to a Local Factory

Another addition to London's steadily-growing factories was commenced Wednesday, when the Wilcox Manufacturing Company of Chelsea Green broke ground for a monster new

C. P. R. Foreman Painfully Injured

Mr. Edward Marsh, of Grosvenor street, foreman of the C. P. R. coal chutes, met with a painful accident this morning.

He was working on top of the chute when in some way he was struck by the bucket and knocked down the chute.

When his men reached him he was unconscious.

Dr. W. J. Stevenson was called, and found the man suffering from concussion of the brain. He was taken to the hospital.

On last accounts he was doing as well as could be expected. No serious consequences are anticipated.

Fugitive Actor Headed for London Seeks Hiding Place From Police

Comedian Hitchcock Jumps Bail and Skips Across the Border.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Boston, Mass., Nov. 1.—Fleeing the country in terror of his life, pursued by scores of detectives and police officers, Raymond Hitchcock, the comedian, who is wanted in New York by the police, passed through North Adams, in the western part of Massachusetts, yesterday afternoon, took a electric car for Bennington, Vt., left there hurriedly late last night, and is now believed to have crossed the border line in Canada, and is heading for London, Ont., where he seeks a hiding place. His friends, who accompany him, two in number, names and identities unknown, claim that Hitchcock is the victim of a base conspiracy, but that he is compelled to flee on account of his persecutors. A report from Bennington, Vt., says that Hitchcock took the midnight train for Montreal, but this is unconfirmed.

NEW MEDICAL COLLEGE IN SIGHT PROPERTY IS BEING BONDED

Will Be Located on O'way Avenue West of the Row of Hospital Buildings—An Important Move by the Authorities

The story that the Western Medical School will move from its present quarters is again revived. For some time it has been known that the present buildings are inadequate for the growing institution, and the authorities have been looking for a building or a new site for some time.

When the question of an isolation hospital and a hygienic institute was broached, the removal was left in abeyance until the matter of where these institutions were to be located was settled. When it was assured that the isolation hospital was to be located in the neighborhood of Victoria Hospital, it was determined to get a site, if at all possible, in the same locality, in order to build up a medical settlement or group of institutions of the same class of work. Then the Western Medical School authorities decided to build their new college in the same neighborhood. So they decided to bond some land in that vicinity. This is being done, and considerable property along O'way avenue has been inspected and options secured on some of it.

The new medical school will be one of the most modern in Canada, and of sufficient size to permit a considerable growth in the institution.

Those in authority would not discuss the matter very much, but it was admitted that an endeavor was being made to secure a new site for a college.

It is also confidently expected that the new hygienic institute will also be located in the same neighborhood soon, although the medical men say that it may be a couple of years before it comes.

Delegates Return From B. of S. A.

The delegates from the Egerton Street Baptist Church Chapter (London) have returned with glowing reports of the fourth annual convention held yesterday in the Gospel Tabernacle, Hamilton. The London representatives were Mr. O. Le Page and Pastor Arthur J. Bowen.

At 2 o'clock the business meeting took place, when the following officers of the Canadian Council were elected: President, W. J. C. Macrae, Toronto; first vice-president, F. Chorley, Hamilton; second vice-president, Pastor Arthur J. Bowen, London; third vice-president, J. Morris, Toronto; chaplain, Rev. J. W. Copeland, St. Catharines; secretary, S. A. McFadden, Toronto; treasurer, John Rodgers, Hamilton.

It was decided to present to the various chapters the need for the immediate placing of an organization in the field, and to take steps towards raising the necessary funds that this may be done without delay, as there are many towns and cities in Ontario where the churches are seriously considering the advisability of organizing chapters of the brotherhood.

The brotherhood was most cordially invited by the chapters in Toronto, and also by the London (Egerton Street) Chapter to hold their next convention with them, and the matter was left with the executive for decision.

After an excellent supper provided by the Gospel Tabernacle Chapter and lady friends, a most enjoyable hour was spent in singing and short addresses.

At 8 o'clock a great public meeting was held at which inspiring addresses were delivered by Rev. E. W. Hollinrake, Hamilton; Rev. A. Esler, Toronto; and Rev. F. W. Pallipott, Hamilton, after which the chaplains, Rev. J. W. Copeland, St. Catharines, pronounced the Benediction.

Methodists Burned the Mortgage Which Burdened the Old Church

A Unique Ceremony Joined in by the Hamilton Road Congregation.

The Thanksgiving fowl supper and entertainment held in the Hamilton Road Methodist Church last evening was a marked success.

Considering the many holiday attractions, the numbers present were very gratifying.

The programme was an excellent one. Songs were given by Messrs. Forster, Lancelotti and Taylor, also by Messrs. Gay, C. Pink, Nichol and Moyer; a duet by Mr. Gay and Miss Taylor, and a trio by Messrs. Nichol, Moyer and Hudson. Miss Gould assisted in readings. All delighted the audience.

Rev. F. E. Malott, B.D., of Colborne Street Methodist Church, gave an excellent address on "The Living Rev. J. J. Teasdale spoke a few inspiring words, and Rev. L. W. Wickett led in the opening prayer. The pastor of the church presided.

Burning of Mortgages.

One of the interesting parts of the programme was the burning of two mortgages, preceded by a detailed report given by Mr. Henry Pocock showing the financial progress made during the pastorate of Rev. D. E. Martin, covering a period of nearly four years. Mr. Pocock stated that at the time Mr. Martin took charge of the Hamilton road congregation the congregation was carrying a debt secured by two mortgages on the church and parsonage properties amounting to $2,300. During his term this liability with all interest, and also other outstanding liabilities, had been paid off, and the two mortgages mentioned were very gratifying.

"The payment of this sum," said Mr. Pocock, "shows that we have been able to make great advancement under the able leadership of our pastor, and this is not all we have accomplished during the four years. By the time the conference year has expired we will have erected and will be occupying the new Hyatt Avenue Methodist Church, costing about $15,000, which will be a credit to the pastor, the congregation, and the southeast portion of the city."

Mr. Pocock also pointed out that the people expect to find in their minister spiritual qualities, but those combining spiritual qualities, social, executive and financial ability equal to that of Mr. Martin were hard to find, and he trusted that the new pastor would be of the same type as the present one.

Londoners and Larder Lake Property

A committee, composed of Mr. B. V. Eole, G. G. Steele, C. B. Keenleyside, and Mr. J. Cole, representing the London holders of stock in the Larder Lake Proprietary Gold Fields, attended a meeting of the shareholders in that company in Toronto yesterday.

For some time the company has not been doing so strong. It is alleged, and the circular issued calling the meeting declared that the company would go into liquidation if more funds were not forthcoming shortly.

The London men, who represent about $30,000 worth of stock, went to Toronto and took a considerable part in the debate. A great deal of information was received about the company.

The directors decided to issue $100,000 worth of bonds to carry on the company and place it on its feet. At the suggestion of the London representatives, a clause was inserted in the bylaws calling for all the money received from the sale of stock to be applied on the bonds. This will probably help the company in future. There are several good claims under the company's control.

Toronto Report.

The Toronto Globe has the following account of the meeting:

At a meeting in the King Edward Hotel yesterday afternoon the shareholders of the Larder Lake Proprietary Gold Fields, Limited, authorized the issuing of debentures to the extent of $100,000 if necessary to carry on the expenses of the property. These debentures will be issued at 80 cents on the dollar. Apparently, the shareholders were fairly well satisfied with the progress so far made, since the stamp mill is now erected and will shortly be running. It was stated after the meeting that practically the whole future of Larder Lake depends upon the results obtained from this stamp mill, since many other companies have made application to have their ore run through it for test purposes. Mr. E. P. Bond, of Toronto, was elected a member of the board of directors.

Left for the West.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chambers, of High street, South London, accompanied by three of their children, Misses Bessie and Olive and Mr. George Chambers, left yesterday for Vancouver, B. C., where they will in the future reside. A large crowd of well-wishers gathered at the depot, and while wishing the members every success in the west, sincerely regretted their departure from London, where for nearly 30 years Mr. and Mrs. Chambers have resided.

Local Death List Light in October

The vital-statistics for the month show 95 births, 46 deaths, and 66 marriages, as compared with 90 births, 68 deaths and 37 marriages last year.

Cupid had a busy month in October, and the figures show that the deaths were fewer than last year.

The health of the city has been excellent during the past month. Last year there were 26 cases of typhoid, with 5 deaths during October, while this year there have not been half a dozen cases, and there were no deaths. Diphtheria also caused the death of 4 children in October of last year.

A Notable Friday in Catholic Circles

Today, although it is Friday, the Roman Catholics of London by a special dispensation from the Pope, are permitted to eat flesh meat today, a fast day, at the feast of All Saints. Yesterday was ordered to be the day of fasting. Only once before has the church permitted the eating of meat on Friday, and that was at the golden jubilee declaration of the dogma, when Christmas came on that day.

A Notable Occasion.

The New York Tribune this morning says: Through a dispensation from the Pope Roman Catholics will be permitted to eat meat today, a fast day, at the feast of All Saints. Yesterday was ordered to be the day of fasting. Only once before has the church permitted the eating of meat on Friday, and that was at the golden jubilee declaration of the dogma, when Christmas came on that day.

RAISING MILLIONS TO SAVE WORLD

Philadelphia, Oct. 31.—In the hope of evangelizing the world in the present generation the layman's missionary movement, an interdenominational organization of wealthy church members, is planning to raise $25,000,000 a year for the next five years among laymen in this country.

J. Campbell White, of Pittsburgh, secretary of the movement, declares that 40,000 missionaries are needed, which will require an expenditure of $75,000,000 and $80,000,000. It is estimated that $25,000,000 will be received in small amounts from children and others in the churches. The remainder of $100,000,000 will be obtained by the sale of "shares" among church members of all denominations and others, as follows:

Two million shares at $5 a year, for five years, $50,000,000.
Two hundred and fifty thousand shares at $100 a year for five years, $25,000,000.

Twenty-five thousand shares at $1,000 a year, for five years, $25,000,000.
The laymen's missionary movement will turn this money over to the various mission boards for the extension of their work.

ALCOHOL BARRED BY FINLANDERS

Helsingfors, Finland, Nov. 1.—The Diet today adopted unanimously, without a roll call, the alcohol bill, prohibiting the manufacture of alcohol in Finland, or its importation into Finland. As the measure affects Russia's tariff relations with foreign countries, the Emperor will sanction the measure.

In view of the passage of the bill, temperance celebrations are being held in every part of the country.

It is not often that man owes his life directly to the strength of his suspenders. A young Alpine climber from Geneva does, however. He was coming down the Plan Aiguille near Chamounix when he slipped and fell over a cliff. He caught in a tree after falling 300 feet and a branch caught his suspenders and held him there. Otherwise he would have been dashed to pieces.

Most Enjoyable Thanksgiving Day Weather Ideal, Attractions Many

People of London Spent a Very Pleasant Holiday Yesterday.

Never was there a much finer day than Thanksgiving Day. It was perfect autumn weather, a cloudless sky and plenty of warm sunshine. There was not a bit of chill, but, on the contrary, it was warmer than it has been for many days. Everybody went out—there was no need to stay in. As a result there were many people on the streets taking in the glory of a Canadian autumn day.

A large number went to the woods, and spent the day with the "kids," hunting for nuts, and watching the youngsters enjoying themselves.

A considerable number went driving, the country roads being in good shape, and a drive being a very splendid means of enjoyment.

The football game and other athletic attractions were well patronized, and the theaters report a large business.

The day was quiet in the city. The police were not busy. Drunkenness was not noticeable, and on the whole the day was very quiet. Not an accident is reported.

The churches held the usual Thanksgiving services. More churches than usual held these services, and there was a large attendance at every one of them. Special music was rendered, with the day and its celebration, and were patriotic in many instances.

Holiday traffic was heavy in spite of the rumored scarcity of money. It was a real home holiday, and visitors from afar were many.

There have been few days when there were so many real visitors in the city, except perhaps during some large celebration.

Many Londoners went away, the points of interest being Toronto and Detroit principally.

Hallowe'en Passed Off Very Quietly

Hallowe'en passed off very quietly in London, and very little depredation was committed. The voice of the student was not heard in the land, as most of them went home for the holiday. The youngsters were somewhat tired after the holiday, and did not seem anxious to get out and create a disturbance. A few gangs with the tick-tack and the pumpkin did business as usual, but their hilarity did not last very long.

The gates of the citizens were not removed so far as on former festive occasions, as there was very little doing in that line. It might be stated that front gates and fences are no longer fashionable in London.

Hallowe'en parties were quite numerous and the young people had a good time. It is stated on good authority that the number of young ladies who looked into the mirror to discover their sweethearts was larger than usual.

On the whole, the Hallowe'en of 1907 was as quiet as has been in many years.

THE PROVINCIAL POWER POLICY

The Ontario Government Will Build Transmission Line.

A LOOP LINE FOR THE WEST

Niagara Energy Is To Be Carried to All the Municipalities.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—A conference relative to the present status of the power question as it applies to this city was held at the offices of the hydro-electric power commission yesterday. Hon. Mr. Mackenzie, the chairman, presided. Mr. A. F. Naught, M. P. P., a member, Mr. A. F. Lobb, counsel, and Chief Engineer, Sotthmann represented the commission. The city representatives were the members of the board of control, City Council, Fullerton and Mr. William C. Chisholm, city solicitor. Mr. T. C. Meredith, K.C., of London, who has been retained in connection with the agreement between the commission and the Ontario Power Company for the purchase of power at the Falls, and the wording of the contracts on which the municipalities will vote for the raising of money required to carry out their respective responsibilities in connection with the power scheme, was also present.

It is likely that as a result of the conference the board of control will recommend to the city council the framing of a bylaw authorizing the raising of the money necessary for a distribution plant. As the cost of distribution the figures will not be definitely known until the city engineer receives the estimates of Messrs. Smith, Kerry & Chace, to whom the preparation of estimates was entrusted by the city. The firm it is thought, will hand in its report to the city engineer on Saturday. Reports current yesterday were that for a pole system the estimates were in the neighborhood of $400,000 to $500,000, and that for a distribution system, largely underground, the cost would be a little over $1,000,000 for 10,000 to 15,000 horsepower. The idea seems to be that the city should be in a position to have its own distribution plant if the ratepayers wanted it, so that there would be no question of being held at the mercy of a private corporation.

As to the question of transmission, there is no longer any doubt that the Government has decided upon Government-owned lines. The building of them will not be undertaken, of course, until the municipalities have decided their course by vote at the next municipal elections. It was stated to the Globe yesterday that in the event of the various votes showing the acceptance by the municipalities of the formal contracts with the commission, work on transmission lines would be started almost immediately.

Work on the surveys of such of the lines as would serve the municipalities of the western union that have applied to the commission for power is almost completed. The general basis of these surveys, it is understood, contemplates a loop line from Hamilton, which city will soon be furnished with the estimated cost of distributing the power it has asked the commission to supply. West to London the northern portion of the loop will include Guelph, Galt, Stratford and St. Marys, and Woodstock, Brantford and other places will be included in the southern part. Between Hamilton and the Falls there will be a duplicate line, and from Hamilton to Toronto a special line. This loop combination, it is claimed, will do away with danger of breakdown of the service at any of the points named.

The framing of the formal agreement with the Ontario Power Company for the supply of power at the Falls is progressing satisfactorily, and its conclusion, it is thought, will not be subject to much of a delay.

Mrs. John Hay, widow of former secretary of state, and her sister, Mrs. Samuel Mather, have given to Adelbert College, Cleveland, a memorial chapel in memory of their father, Amasa Stone.

HAU'S SENTENCE COMMUTED

American Professor Found Guilty of Killing Mother-in-Law.

London, Nov. 1.—The Berlin correspondent of the Standard says that the Grand Duke of Baden, acting on the advice of the Minister of Justice, has decided to commute the sentence of death passed on Karl Hau, formerly professor of Roman law at George Washington University, Washington, D. C., for the murder of Frau Motur, his mother-in-law, to penal servitude for life.

This decision is regarded as being based on the view that evidence adduced at the trial was not sufficient to justify Hau's execution. Moreover, the grand duke, having just succeeded to the throne, does not wish to begin his reign by signing a death warrant. Hau will shortly be removed to the penal settlement at Bruchsal.

THANKSGIVING DAY IN LOCAL CHURCHES

Large Congregations Filled Many Edifices—Interesting Sermons.

The ideal weather of yesterday had the effect of filling most of the city churches for the special Thanksgiving Day services.

At St. Paul's Cathedral Canon Dann preached an excellent Thanksgiving sermon at the morning service, after which holy communion was partaken of.

At the Memorial Church Rev. Dyson Hague preached to a large congregation, from the text "Praise Ye the Lord." Mr. Hague spoke most impressively of the blessings everyone had received, and said how grateful all should be for the general prosperity of the country.

In the Wellington Street Methodist Church Rev. E. B. Lancelley preached at the morning service.

A large congregation attended St. Andrew's Church to hear Rev. Dr. Jordan, of Queen's University. Dr. Jordan preached a splendid sermon which was greatly enjoyed by his audience.

ANNUAL MEETING OF YOUNG PEOPLE

Of St. Luke's Parochial Society at Which Officers Were Elected.

The annual meeting of St. Luke's (Broughdale) Parochial Society was held in the newly-opened basement on Monday evening last. There was a large and interested gathering and much satisfaction was expressed at the work accomplished by the society in its first year.

The president, Mr. C. Stockwell, was in the chair. An animated discussion took place as to the form of organization for the coming year. It was unanimously decided to continue the Parochial Society in its present form, with a ladies' branch (Women's Aid) and a Young People's Society as auxiliaries.

The election of officers then took place and resulted as follows: St. Luke's Parochial Society—Hon. president, Ven. Archdeacon Richardson, M. A., D. C. L.; president, Mr. C. Stockwell; secretary, Mr. Walker Henry; treasurer, Miss Stockwell.

Women's Aid—President, Mrs. Richardson; secretary, Miss C. Stockwell; treasurer, Miss B. Richardson. Young People's Society—President, Mr. A. L. G. Clarke; vice-president, Mr. C. Effinger; secretary, Mr. E. Lancelley; treasurer, Miss McKim.

It was then decided that the Parochial Society hold its first meeting next Thursday at 8 o'clock, while the

Fit any "talking machine" and make it almost as good as the COLUMBIA GRAPHOPHONE. DISC. 65c and $1.25. CYLINDER 35c and 60c.

FOUR SURE HITS

"Southern Girl." A quartet record of exceptional merit, sung by the Columbia Quartet in their usual faultless style. Orchestra accompaniment.

"Oh, Oh, Miss Lucy Ella." A rattling good coon song, with a taking orchestra accompaniment. Sung by Arthur Collins.

"Dreaming" (Serenade). A really beautiful serenade, well adapted to Albert Campbell's velvet tenor. Orchestra accompaniment.

"Who? Me?" A well-rendered combination of wit and melody by Billy Murray. An unusually clever song. Orchestra accompaniment.

These four only indicate the variety and quality of the 5,000 in our regular catalogue. Call in and ask for the November list. Stay and listen as long as you like.

LONDON, FRIDAY, NOV. 1, 1907.
MR. BORDEN DISCREDITS HIMSELF.

The Conservative party and press have been wont to hold up Mr. Borden as a statesman who would not descend to the methods of the cheap politician.
The tour of the Opposition leader through the west, however, has served to show him in another color. Where-ever he has gone he has appealed to local sentiment and interest, and pretended to look at all questions from the point of view of the particular community in which he happened to be. His speeches have been those of a parish demagogue, not a national leader.

He began his chameleonlike progress through the west in British Columbia.
Here was a prize opportunity for ad-homine politics. He found the people excited over the difficulty with the Japanese, but instead of urging discretion and forbearance, where so delicate an international matter was involved, he set about to roundly denounce the Ottawa Government for consenting to be a party to the convention with Japan, unmindful of the fact that he and his lieutenants in parliament had highly commended the treaty, and only censured the Government for not having taken advantage of it before.

Even less to Mr. Borden's credit is his appeal on the question of Provincial subsidies. He knows as well as anyone that this matter was settled at the last conference of Provincial premiers to the satisfaction of all but Premier McBride. In spite of the political purity plank of his platform
Mr. Borden is found offering the bribe of a larger subsidy should he be returned to power. As Hon. Mr. Fielding recently put it, "sometimes when the present Government provides a postoffice or a drill hall for a community, the country has been told it is an attempt to bribe the constituency; but here is a case where the leader of the Opposition has attempted to bribe a whole province." Mr.
Borden, in holding out this bait to British Columbia, is insulting the premiers of the other provinces, whose unanimous advice was accepted by the Federal Government.

In the new provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta, Mr. Borden's appeal has been somewhat different, but scarcely more to his credit. He tells the people that should his party be placed in power, the control of the lands, now held by the Dominion Government, shall be given to the provinces. As is well known the disposal of these lands lay at the base of the Dominion Government's immigration policy, the provinces being given money compensation. To make a change such as Mr. Borden now pretends to favor, would mean the trans-ference of this most important work from a well-organized and efficient Government department, to inexpert hands. Moreover, the present policy was that pursued by the Conservative Government with Manitoba, when that province was taken into the Confederation. Even Mr. Haultain is on record as declaring that the people
"approve absolutely of the Government's mode of dealing with this question," and Mr. Geo. E. Foster has told parliament and the country that the Government's terms were so reasonable that they would have the effect of leading other provinces to demand better treatment.

Mr. Borden may return from the west with more votes in his pocket, but his reputation as a public man has been distinctly damaged.

REVIVAL OF CANAL-BUILDING.

The prophecy long since made that all inland water transportation was doomed, and that the railroad would eventually be the only means of carrying freight, was far astray. In view of the works now in progress and others projected, evidently these artificial waterways are destined to continue to play an important part in the transportation of this continent. Without their canals neither Canada nor the United States could manage their carrying trade in any way as expeditiously or economically as they are enabled to do now. Not only do canals carry heavy, bulky freight cheaper than railroads can do, but they relieve congestion, cheapen rates and enable railroads to give better service to lighter freights requiring speedy transportation. James J. Hill has expressed the opinion that fifteen thousand and miles of rail track would have to be built annually for the next five years to bring the railroads abreast of American business, and it is not at all improbable that at the end of that time business would again be ahead of railroad construction.

In addition to the canals under construction—including the great work undertaken by the United States on the Isthmus of Panama, and the canal connecting Puget Sound with Lake Washington which the State of Washington is constructing—there are works projected in both Canada and the United States for all of which considerable saving in distance and time is claimed. In Canada the Georgian Bay ship canal project is attracting increasing attention. A great deal of money has been spent for surveys; detailed estimates have been furnished by engineers and English contractors are prepared to undertake the work. The Trent Valley canal which for years was a political enterprise, is now approaching completion, and has already opened long stretches of inland waterways to navigation.

In the neighboring republic canal projects are numerous. As time goes by the plan for an inside water route between New England and Florida takes better shape. On the Cape Cod canal work has already begun, steam shovels being at work cutting a deep and wide ditch between Cape Cod Bay and Buzzards Bay, the object being to avoid the passage around the Hook, so long and dangerous. This is perhaps the oldest of canal projects, having been first brought to the notice of the council of the Massachusetts Bay colony in 1676. Another scheme is to avoid the passage of Cape Hatteras by the construction of a canal from Norfolk to Beaufort Inlet. The canal idea has also taken firm hold in Florida, where it is proposed to construct a shipway from Jacksonville to Key West, utilizing the St. Johns, Halifax and Indian Rivers, Lake Worth and Biscayne Bay, and following the line of a small canal that connects the Indian River at Jupiter Inlet with Lake Worth and a longer one that links Lake Worth with Biscayne Bay. Another Florida project is a ship canal across the northern part of the state from the Atlantic to the gulf.
Contemplated canal improvements include the enlargement of the Chesapeake and Delaware canal, connecting the head of Chesapeake Bay and the Delaware River, and deepening and widening of the Erie Canal and the Chicago drainage canal.

Evidently the railroad is not going to put the canal out of business any more than electricity and gasoline have destroyed the usefulness of the house.

St. John, N. B., returned by acclamation a member of the Laurier Government in place of a Conservative.
This is more than an offset to London.

The Hamilton Spectator sees in the London election a "bad black eye" for the Laurier Government. There is something wrong with the Spectator's eye, too.

The Conservatives of Pictou, N. S., has sent all the way to British Columbia for a candidate—Sir Hibbert Tur-per. Nova Scotia has been a nursery of able public men, but the Conservative party in that province doesn't appear to be raising a new crop.

Mr. Fabian Ware, editor of the London Morning Post, felt it his duty to see Canada with his own eyes, and says every intelligent Englishman, who does the same thing, wonders whether Canada, not little England, will ultimately dominate the whole Empire.
Hear, hear.

Professor Schofield of Harvard was sent to the University of Berlin to represent the United States. Some American newspapers are disquieted by the discovery that he is a Canadian. However, it is not likely that the singing of Yankee Doodle or The Star-Spangled Banner is one of his professorial duties.

NO PREVIOUS EXPERIENCE.

[Philadelphia Press.]
"You after the job as office boy?" asked the merchant.
"Sure," replied the youngster.
"Any previous experience?"
"No, sir, nothin' previous about me, an'
I don't whittle."

A SLIGHT HINDRANCE.

[Yonk's Companion.]
The numerous "she" who have "had good characters, but lost them," are no worse off than the domestic whose search for employment was hindered by an unlucky circumstance. Said the master of the house to an applicant:
"Can't you find any work as all?"
"Plenty, sir; but everybody wants references from my last employer."
"No, sir, nothin' previous about me, an'
I don't whittle."

RESOLUTIONS OF THE HAGUE CONFERENCE.

[Humoristic Blade.]
1—There shall be no more war.
2—If a war breaks out explosive bullets must not be used.
3—If explosive bullets are going to be used notice is to be given beforehand.
4—If no such notice is given all previous declarations exchanged by the two belligerents are to be considered null and void.

EFFECTS OF THE DINGLEY LAW.

[Life.]
"What has the Dingley law done?" cries
a New England editor.
The answer is easy. Everybody.

A CHECK UPON FRAUD.

[Weekly Sun.]
The enforcement of the fruit marks act has had a most beneficial effect. Everyone interested in the fruit trade knows that before its adoption all sorts of rubbish

was in many cases shipped to England bearing the inscription of XXX. Since the act has gone into full working order the practice of this sort of fraud has almost ceased. The result has been a marked improvement in the standing of our apples in the British market, and a corresponding advance in prices.

THE WORLD IS HER LOBSTER.

[Memphis Commercial-Appeal.]
A bright woman who is also a pretty woman has the world in a sling.

UNWISDOM OF JUDGES.

[London Chronicle.]
One day a celebrated advocate was arguing before a very rude of Scotch judge, who pointed with one forefinger to one of his ears, and with the other to the opposite one.
"You see this, Mr.—?"
"I do, my lord," said the advocate.
"Well, it just goes in here and comes out there," and his lordship smiled with the hilarity of a judge who thinks he has actually said a word that they will not be able to do without. But after a sick head

NEEDED THE WATER.

[Philadelphia Ledger.]
"Why are you raising the price of milk
two cents?" asked the housewife.
"Well, you know," returned the milkman, "winter is coming on, and—"
"Oh, I see," resumed the woman, not softening in manner, "the water will be needed for making ice."

BIG DIFFERENCE.

[Exchange.]
"Paw, what is the difference between a chef and a cook?"
"A chef, Tommy, superintends the culinary, and a cook bosses the kitchen."

CONCILIATION FIRST AND LAST.

[Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux.]

If, in my capacity as Minister of Labor,
I take pleasure in one respect more than another, in my connection with that department of the Government of Canada, it is in the fact that the keynote of my policy in all its varied relations with the watchword of all our efforts and energies in our attempt to diminish the bitterness and moderate the intensity of the unending struggle between these two vital elements of society, and if we have sometimes succeeded in averting evils to the community it has been possible to do so only in the way, by conciliation. From the beginning of things the just aim of statecraft.
Therefore, conciliation is and shall still be my watchword.

HIS WIFE'S ADVICE.

[T. P. O.]
Sir William Treloar told me once of the nervousness he felt on the very first occasion when he acted as a chairman. He was on tenterhooks lest he should do anything malapropos, and consulted his wife
as to how he should act. "I do not know what are a chairman's duties, but if I were invited to take the chair I think I should sit in it," was Lady Treloar's reply, and this advice the Knight of Ludgate Hill rigidly followed.

FIDDLE AND GROW HAIR.

[Paris Menestrel.]
It is now a scientifically proved fact that music exercises a great influence on the growth of the hair. It is with good reason that great musicians, such as Paganini, Liszt and Paderewski, are represented with a growth of hair which Absalom might have envied.
Science has proved that strings on the violin have a favorable influence on the growth of the hair, while brass instruments act in the opposite direction. Every one has probably observed that a bald violinist is as rare as a bald horn player.
Music instruments, such as the flute, seem to have no pronounced influence either way.

A DELICATE HINT.

[Harper's Weekly.]
Two very cadaverous-looking tramps looked in at the widow of a railway station where a telegraph operator sat at his key.
"Say, pardner," one of them said, in a very husky voice, "report a couple of empty gals east."

HE WOULD SQUARE THAT.

[Ladies Field.]
He had bought her a pot of real Irish shamrock grown on the Old Soil, for it was St. Patrick's Day, and shee, too, had in her veins the blood of Erin.
"Oh," she cried, "how good you are! How perfect they are! How fresh! Why believe there is still a little dew on them."
"Yes," he answered, flushing. "I know there is, but it will all be paid off tomorrow."

A LITTLE VAGUE.

[Lippincott's.]
"Is it far from here to the next town?"
asked a tourist of a man he met on a rural road.
"Well, it ain't so very far, nor it ain't so very near, an' yit it ain't so high as it might be, an' it ain't so low as it is. Still, it'd be further if it wasn't so high, so I reckon one might say that it is betwixt an' between fer an' nigh."

OCCASIONALLY.

[Somerville Journal.]
Hicks—Does your wife believe all you tell her?
Wicks—She does when I am paying her a compliment.

GIVE HER ANOTHER.

[Exchange.]
Fondpar—You say baby swallowed a spoon. Did it hurt her?
Mrs. Fondpar—I'm afraid so; she hasn't been able to sit since.

FLOATING MINES.

[Manchester Guardian.]
Methods of warfare which expose innocent merchant ships and fishing crafts to sudden and awful destruction are cruel and unjust, and should also be illegal. In territorial waters neutrals have no absolute right of navigation, but the high seas are the property of no one—they are a highway on which belligerents and neutrals have absolutely equal rights.

THE PHILOSOPHICAL FATHER.

[Cleveland Plaindealer.]
The old man had finally succeeded in marrying off two of his seven daughters.
"You girls have been blessings," said the officializing clergyman after the double ceremony.
"Yes," the old man huskily asserted;
"they are the sort of blessings that brighten as they take their flight."

EXPLANATION.

[New York Sun.]
Mrs. Outlate—You are half seas over.
Outlate—Just practise cruise, m' dear.

SEVENTH HOLD
ANNUAL SHOOT

Some Excellent Shooting at the Cove Ranges Thanksgiving Day.

The sport at the annual shoot of the Seventh Regiment at the Cove ranges yesterday were productive of some excellent sport, and a thoroughly enjoyable time was spent by all those who attended.

The officials carried out their work in a businesslike fashion, and there was no delay between events.
Lieut. Milligan, Sergt.-Major Shirgold, Sergt.-Major Borland, Lieut.
Westland, Secretary Captain Gregory, and Treasurer Captain Bentley looked after the work under the direction of Major Hayes.

Because every woman who attends becomes enthusiastic over the huge savings the sale provides. She cannot keep the good news to herself. She tells her friends the good tidings in a manner that brings them here on the run. In that way our chain of customers grows larger and larger.

When you attend Friday you will be able to tell your friends that for bargains of unparalleled generosity this sale is the biggest event that has happened in this city. Just read the news furnished in this ad. It tells of savings of a most marvelous order.

Mill Seconds and Odd Lots of the Well-Known Puritan Mills Underwear

The kind of underwear the Puritan Mills manufacture is very well known to a host of our customers, and, of course, those who are familiar with its sterling worth will literally buy these bargains by the armful. The garments are seconds in many cases, but that does not injure their wearing qualities, and why they should be called seconds will, no doubt, often puzzle you. There are odd lots, too, of discontinued regular lines. Altogether the quantity is immense, but it's not great enough to prevent your size in a certain line from disappearing before you would believe it possible. Therefore, it's wise to buy early. Start right in Friday is the best plan. Here is a brief summary of the lines on sale:

CHAPTER XXIV.

A Way of Escape.

Evelyn Ashe here! At Caux his presence might have been an accident, but not here. Now, what was she to prepare for?—was Isobel's swift thought as she replied calmly to his "I am afraid I startled you, Miss Stormont."

"I certainly did not expect to see you here."

"No?" But this wonderful autumn had tempted me back to the mountains. Some other Joshua seems to have commanded the sun to stand still this year," said Ashe, carelessly, though with keen appreciation of the girl's courage. For one moment he had surprised her with the mask of conscious effort laid aside, but now she was once more the conventional young lady, as point de vue in manner and expression as was her very correct and dainty traveling dress. She was a foe well worth conquering, not a mere weakness to be made use of. At Caux she had played her part well. When he had uttered the name which he was now certain must unlock for her a grim past, after a moment of white silence, she had stepped back into the shadow of the palms, where the bars of light and shadow were a more baffling screen than even the dusk.

"Thistlethwaite," musingly. "What a funny, difficult name to say," laughing a little over the final "th." "Have I ever heard it before? Ought I to remember it? For, if so, please enlighten me, for though I tell people till I am tired that I can remember nothing, they somehow expect that I will remember them, think they have every right to be offended if I don't," and he felt rather than saw that she was looking straight and dauntlessly at him. It was admirably done, but before he could take up the glove she had fearlessly cast down Lady Stormont had appeared, and Ashe had noted the girl's nervous grip of her arm as she had pressed up to her side. The two ladies had soon withdrawn, and next morning the Stormonts were gone.

"Mr. Stormont he find it too gal, and after Scotland—perhaps, I have been there—ah, if it isn't," said the manager with a shrug, as he delivered Sir David and Lady Stormont's adieu. But Ashe was not lightly to be turned from his purpose, as if he were merely an unwelcome acquaintance to be discouraged, and a party traveling with maids and courier is easily followed up.

"Then your Joshua has not done his work very thoroughly," replied Isobel, lightly, "for every day is shorter than another, and when once the sun goes behind the Matterhorn it seems to be night at once, and the paths here are certainly not suitable for walking in the dark." She rose as if to go.

"No, nor for talk, since two can't well walk together." The faint smile vanished as he decided upon immediate action. "You know that I have followed you to Zermatt to have this talk, and you know, too, I fancy, what I have to say. You cannot, I think, have forgotten that afternoon by the river at Stormont."

In the clear afternoon light he could read her face better than in the sunset glimmer or the electric glare at Caux, and the change could not escape these eyes, which noted everything. Pain, pride, anger, affront, trouble, a growing dread, all these had been in her look that day amid the falling leaves by the river side, and were now dawning again in her eyes, but it was none of these which had wrought the change. Since he had seen her beside the Alder Pool something had come; but of all who had noted the indefinable change, Ashe alone had the true reason for it. She knew. The old child-like unconsciousness, glad or sad by turns, was wholly gone; she was feeling her way in a new world no longer.

"That afternoon at Stormont," said Isobel. "Yes, I remember. I have not lost my memory a second time, though I have been ill. You were good enough, I remember very well, to offer me your help in some possible trouble. If that is what you wish to speak of now, I can only make you the same answer, that I know of no trouble, steadily, 'and even if there were, I should need no help but that of my friends.'"

"You would set me outside the pale, then?" said Ashe, a sudden gleam in his eyes. "You are wrong, Miss Stormont; it is as your friend I speak; I am your friend, believe me."

"Oh, dear me," said Isobel with a sudden change of tone. "You speak as one's friend is almost as bad as to be spoken to for one's good. I have learned that already, but really the friendliest thing you could do would be to let me say good-bye now. If I am much later, my father and mother will begin to imagine that I have undertaken a glacier expedition unguided. You could speak to me as a friend at our hotel, surely, which, I feel, will be yours also, as it is the only decent one open, a glint of mockery in her eyes."

"You have learned a great deal of late, I have no doubt," said Ashe gravely. "I am distressed if I inconvenience you, but I must ask you to hear what I have to say. It is still quite early, and it is better here than at the hotel. We can go in-side if you are finding the air chilly. We are not likely to be disturbed; the populace does not seem to be distressingly devout."

Isobel shrugged her slight shoulders in mock resignation. "Well, Mr. Ashe, what have you to say to me which cannot be said in ordinary circumstances. Needs must when I won't finish the proverb, however—my latest acquirement in my mother-tongue."

"Your mother-tongue," said Ashe, with slow significance; and though eyes looking into his did not flinch, the color wavered up and sank again in the delicate face.

"Yes, my mother-tongue," in the same hard, light, half-bantering tone. "If you imagine that I am not proud of being Scottish on both sides of the house—"

"I think that is where the difficulty comes in. About Miss Stormont's mother tongue there might be no doubt, but yours—"

Isobel started. Then, like one resolved to treat an inexplicable aberration lightly, she laughed. "I am not Miss Stormont, then?"

"No," steadily. "I do not think that you are, and, more, you know that you are not," risking his great throw. "Now, the blood flamed red over face and neck."

"Mr. Ashe, you must let me go—you must be ill—or—something is wrong. I can't conceive that you would willingly detain me here only to insult me, and she cast a quick glance around the empty valley, as if seeking some lip or calculating her chances of flight. "Am I alone here with a madman?" her look and tone seemed to say.

"No, I am not in the least mad," said Ashe, with the flick of a smile, "and the truth is by no means so impossible as it would doubtless appear to the many friends who congratulate Sir David on the restoration of his only daughter—a daughter who though with a marvelous resemblance to the Stormont family, and a great physical likeness to the lost girl, differed from her in mind and character and disposition in every possible respect."

"Really," broke in Isobel impatiently, "is all this mystery founded upon that wearisome old story of the change in me?"

"No, there is more tangible proof. You remember that afternoon by the Alder Pool I asked you if you had ever seen a little Testament, which was found in your pocket when you were brought home, and which Sir David has never allowed you or any one to see since."

"It did not occur to me to ask to see it, and I am not aware that it was any other one's concern," coldly.

"But you have seen it since?"

"And if I have seen it since?"

"Then, if I am wrong, you will be able to set me right. The inscription on it is—'To Elsie, from her mother—' and there was a green envelope inclosed and a lock of reddish hair in it," with a glance at the bright waves under her hat. "That is the case, is it not?" The opaque eyes were fixed pitilessly on hers.

"Yes," She threw the single word at him.

"You know, too, of course, that I was told of this, and a great deal more, by Mr. and Mrs. Thistlethwaite at Caux, who were greatly excited by your extraordinary likeness to a certain luckless protégée of theirs; indeed, I had a good deal of difficulty in convincing them that you could not be she."

"While they in their turn seem to have convinced you that I must be—really, it is rather funny. But, after all, what is there a likeness? Some people will see one anywhere, and then, of course, they talk."

"The likeness, remarkable though it is, would be a small matter. One might let it pass if you can explain the mystery of the Testament to me. The 'Elsie' to whom it was originally given died, in Hebdon, Yorkshire, leaving it to her child, whom, with her last breath, she asked to be called Isobel. The child was brought up in a home for friendless girls, in which our friends, the Thistlethwaites, take a somewhat excessive interest, and from which she ran away in the beginning of last August. Now, how did that Testament come to be in the possession of Isobel Stormont, when Basil Conyers, as he believed, and as every one else believes, found her half dead in that ruined cottage on the hillside?"

"I do not know what may have happened then, as you very well know, but a change of clothes would account for that. I had nothing left of my own eyes, but the very idea is utterly absurd. I will not be subjected to this cross-examination. I have borne it too long. What right have you?" cried Isobel; but she was speaking at random now. Basil's name on Ashe's lips had hung over her in a confusion of dread and shame. He to hear this story, and not from herself, when he might have had some mercy, but from this man!

Ashe smiled at the feeble retort. "I am afraid I shall have to resort to a little of the old-fashioned method of account for it in that fashion. There seems to me only one explanation, and if the facts were known I think most people would agree with me, and that is that the young lady who is now known as Isobel Stormont is more likely Isobel—Brown."

"Do you threaten me, Mr. Ashe?" cried Isobel. She stood at her full height, her slender neck lifted, her gray eyes steel-bright like the sparks struck out by the jar of crossing swords.

"Need we keep this up? You have made a brave fight of it," said Ashe, with a sudden change of tone. "Do you think that I don't understand—that I don't honor you for it? I know that it is not for yourself. I can see what it is costing you. Isobel, listen to me. When I first saw you do you think that the knowledge that you were a great heiress, the last of an old line, could blind me to your beauty, your sweetness, to all that makes you what you are? No; but it could shut my mouth, it could make me feel how mad I was even to lift my eyes to you, a poor man, with nothing but an old name, though an honorable one, to bring you. But I was only a man, after all; I couldn't be near you, not love you, not long for you, not strive for you. Isobel, we are on a level today, there is neither name nor riches between us. You know that what I have said is true. Isobel, I can protect you now, I can be of service to you now, I can ask you to be my wife now."

"When the Hon. Evelyn Ashe can gain Stormont and its title, I will give you the old and honorable name to Isobel—Brown," cried Isobel, wrought up to the last pitch, and with a laugh which might have flayed the least sensitive.

Ashe had his traditions, if nothing more. The blood rose dark to his face, his breath caught in his throat. He snatched at her hand between rage and roused passion.

"By God, you're worth winning! Say what you like, despise me as you please, you must listen to me—there's no other way out. But that's the least of it, Isobel, I love you—I love you—I love you!"

For once the young man was wholly mastered. He had no art, no wiles to plead his cause. "I love you"—it was more than enough, the words left no doubt, they burned with devouring desire. In the veiled eyes a spark kindled and grew to a devouring fire, which burned on unhalloved altars.

With a sharp shudder Isobel snatched her hands away.

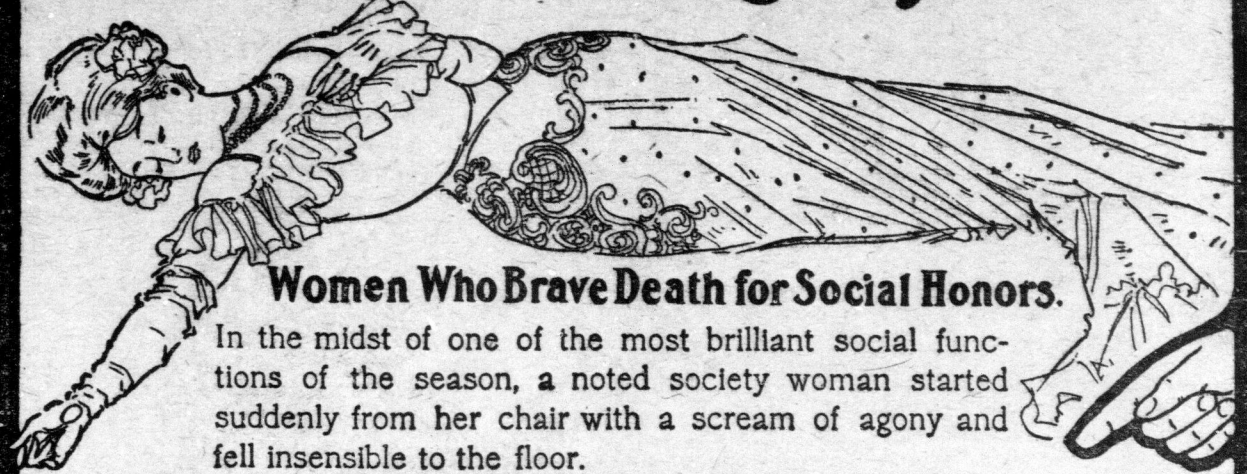

"You love me—you," the long emotion rushing into speech at last. "Love What do you know of it? What can you know of it? Love! Good God, why isn't there some other word which a man like you could take into his mouth?"

She had darted out from under the cold shadow of the porch. The sun, a mighty round of pulsing, intolerable splendor, was touching the southern ridge, and as she turned and flung back her passionate words at him, the last long rays seemed to enwrap the tall figure, the fair face in a sudden glory of light.

Oldham, seven miles from the town of Manchester, England, is noted as the greatest cotton spinning place in the world. It has nearly 200 mills, containing 15,000,000 spindles. These factories give employment to 37,500 persons, whose annual wages amount to $12,168,250. Oldham is also a great town for the production of textile machinery, one such shop employing about 3,000 machinists and another nearly 2,000.

Social Tragedy

Women Who Brave Death for Social Honors.

In the midst of one of the most brilliant social functions of the season, a noted society woman started suddenly from her chair with a scream of agony and fell insensible to the floor.

A few hours later the distinguished physician told her anxious husband that she was suffering from an acute case of nervous prostration brought on by female trouble, and hinted at an operation. Fortunately a friend advised her to try

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The result was that she escaped the surgeon's knife and to-day is a well woman.

The derangement of the delicate female organism sets every nerve in the body quivering with pain. Headaches, backaches, torturing bearing down pains and dragging sensations make women nervous and hysterical.

Mrs. T. E. Gills, of Windsor, N. S., writes:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—When I commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was suffering with weakness and female trouble, headaches, backaches, and that worn-out, tired feeling. I have only taken the Vegetable Compound a few short weeks, and it has made me well, strong and robust. I believe that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is without equal for female troubles.

Mrs. Laura Emmons, President Loyal Home Workers, Walkerville, Ont., writes:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am enjoying such good health that I feel it a duty to write and thank you for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered for more than five years with functional troubles, causing an unpleasant discharge and weakness which no amount of medicine, diet or exercise seemed to correct. Your Vegetable Compound, however, reached the root of my trouble, cured me and made me strong, healthy and well. I want to say to every suffering woman, don't dally with medicines you know nothing about, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham's advice is free to all. Her address is Lynn, Mass.

BRUCE-BROUGHTON

Marriage of Well-Known G.T. Engineer at Point Edward.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Broughton, Point Edward, was the scene of a happy event Thursday evening, when their daughter, Miss Louise Broughton, became the bride of Thos. Bruce, G. T. R. engineer, of London. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. Mr. Condel, of St. Paul's Church, and was witnessed by only immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The bride and groom were unattended.

Following the ceremony a dainty wedding breakfast was served, after which the newly-married couple left by the G. T. R. express on a honeymoon trip to Chicago and other western cities. The bride was the recipient of a handsome array of beautiful wedding tokens, among which was a substantial check from her brother in Dawson City, Yukon.

The bride and groom are widely and favorably known and have the best wishes of a host of friends for their future happiness.

APPOINTED INSPECTOR OF MEATS.

Strathroy, Oct. 28.—Mr. James Edgcombe, who for the past ten years has been superintendent and processor at the Strathroy canning factory, has been appointed by the Dominion Government inspector of meats, with headquarters at Strathroy, under "the meat and pure food act."

"By God, you're worth winning! Say what you like, despise me as you please, you must listen to me—there's no other way out. But that's the least of it, Isobel, I love you—I love you—I love you!"

It has cured the worst forms of dyspepsia, even of twenty-five years duration. Mrs. Geo. Parker, Cooper, Ont., was cured; she writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters and find that few medicines can give such great relief in dyspepsia and stomach troubles. I was troubled for a number of years with dyspepsia and could get no relief until I tried B.B.B. It helped me right away and I think it a wonderful remedy. I would recommend it to all sufferers from dyspepsia."

Argos Go Down Before London In Fast Game at Tecumseh Park

The Toronto Team Was Defeated After a Splendid Contest Twelve—Eleven.

London has done it at last, and the Toronto Argonauts are the victims. It all happened at Tecumseh Park yesterday afternoon, and in the fastest intermediate game that has ever been witnessed in this city the locals won out by a score of 12 to 11.

The day was an ideal one for football, and both teams were out for a victory. The better team won.

There were but two changes in the local line-up, but they were sufficient, coupled with the practice that the boys have had since their defeat at Toronto a week ago.

London never played better in its existence, and too much credit cannot be given to the boys who have persevered until a good team has been secured.

Approximately eight hundred people turned out to see what they expected would be a slaughter with the locals on the short end of the argument. The old stands fairly shook with applause when it was seen that London was the better team, and was playing its opponents off their feet.

Argonauts at Their Best.

There was no disgrace connected with the defeat handed the Argos, however. They fought for all there was in them, and, while they did not win, they kept the London boys busy every moment.

And never was a game freer of individual stars. Of course some of the backs on either side kept themselves more in the line-light because they handled the ball better in plain view of the spectators, but the game on the whole was one in which team work played the most important part for both teams.

Just before the game started the bulk of those in the stands leaned back in their seats, expecting to see the same old thing occur, with London in the short end. After the play had been going two minutes there was another story to tell, for London proved its supremacy at the jump-off by scoring a rouge in less than three minutes of actual play.

There was no walk-over, though, even after that. The Argos were there to win, and one point could not disconcert them to any marked extent.

London Good Luck.

On bucking the line, London was a hundred per cent better than the visitors, while in kicking the London backs held their own.

The Argos' wing line seemed woefully weak, and the locals tore through in regular "China" Hobbs fashion. Jackson was suffering from a badly injured knee, but he and Bole got their punts away nicely as a rule, while Dick Whetter was one of the best ground-runners on the team. All of the London boys, with one exception, tackled splendidly, and in time after time Toronto was unable to return a punt a foot.

Each team had its faults, as was only natural, but on the whole the teams put up a wonderful game of football. From a spectator's point the bout could not have been better. First one team would have the advantage, and then the other, although London had far more chances to score than did the Argos, on account of their aggressiveness in following up the ball and plunging through the line.

Tackling a Feature.

One of the features of the game was the hard tackling of the London boys. When they went out to get a man they got him, almost without exception. One of these exceptions was, however, a costly one, for it allowed "Babe" Hewitt to half crawl and hobble over the line for Toronto's second touchdown, near the end of the game, when points were more desirable than dollars.

Fast as the game was, and as exciting as it was to the spectators, to describe it fairly would mean to repeat oneself over and over, for it was nip and tuck all the way, first one side having a little the best of it, and then the other, with the margin going to London.

Accidents were frequent, although nothing very serious occurred in that line.

A Peculiar Play.

In the third quarter a most peculiar play laid out three men at one time. The ball was in the Argos' possession on London's fifteen-yard, and Meredith was about to try a drop kick for a field goal. Whetter and Spry both broke through at the same time, and in the collision following the blocking of the kick all three went down. Meredith sustained a nasty cut under the eye, while Spry and Whetter had the breath knocked out of them, but appeared to be otherwise uninjured.

There were some scowls when it was first mentioned that Bobby Hauge would line up at full-back, on account of his unfortunate showing at Toronto.

THE BOLT WORKS WIN AT SOCCER

A large concourse of football enthusiasts witnessed the game of soccer football on Carling's Heights yesterday morning between the Bolt Works and McClarys teams. No goal had been scored by either side at half-time, but soon after the Bolt Works scored one goal, and this was the only score of the game. The game was splendidly contested and the winning team was loudly cheered by the spectators for their gallant fight. Their team has shown marked improvement and their victory was a complete surprise to the champions of last year's league. The goal-keeper of it wasn't a moment, however, before everybody saw that the great little player was in trim, and was doing great work.

The boys have won—and we all hope will win again—and everybody is happy.

The Game in Detail.

The game had not been in play three minutes before Toronto was in danger, and a moment later London scored a rouge. Spry brought down Meredith.

London lost twenty-five yards on two consecutive plays after the kick-out, or there might have been more trouble before Toronto chased the pigskin back to the center of the field.

In the second quarter Meredith got away for fifteen on the kickoff, and later went through for thirty-five on a fake kick. Meredith then kicked to Whetter who fumbled on London's 8-yard line. English was sent over for a touchdown. Meredith failed to convert.

London earned its first touchdown by superior bucking and timely punting. After working the ball up to the Toronto 5-yard mark London sent Whetter over for a touch. Bole failed to convert. At half-time the score stood 6 to 5 in favor of London.

London shoved the Toronto crowd off its feet in the third quarter and soon had the Argos back-pedaling at a great rate.

Argos tried to kick from their 10-yard line after having been shoved back perhaps fifteen yards. The kick was blocked and an Argos man was pushed over his own line for a safety-touch.

Score, 8 to 5.

In the last quarter London again plowed through the Argos line on almost every buck. The Argos were shoved back to their own 20-yard line, when they fumbled. Whetter fell on the pigskin and Bole drop-kicked a pretty field goal on the second down.

London 12, Toronto 5.

Then, on an exchange of kicking in which London held its own for a while. On a scrimmage near the center of the field London made a fuke pass and a Toronto man began to dribble the ball down the field. Hauge fell on it, however, and saved any damage. Shortly afterward, though, a bad kick from the London end of the argument gave Toronto the ball on London's 10-yard, and from there Hewitt went over for a touchdown straight through the center, which was evidently looking for an end play. Meredith converted.

Final score, London 12, Toronto 11. Play ended with the ball in London's possession near the center of the field.

The teams lined up as follows: London—Full-back, Hauge; quarter back, Spry; backs, Bole, Jackson and Whetter; scrummers, Rau, Jones and Brown; wings, Baker, Rowlands, Sage, McColl, McEwen, Bice.

Toronto—Full-back, Challice; quarter, Hewitt; backs, Wright, Meredith and English; scrummers, Reid, Kent, Thompson; wings, Reddy, Taylor, Ross, Murray and Robinson.

Referee, W. Morrison, Toronto. Umpire, T. Hay, Toronto. Timekeeper, A. McMahon, London.

WESTON GOING WELL

The Famous Walker Does Forty-Two Miles in Eleven Hours.

Boston, Oct. 31.—Edward Payson Weston, who is walking from Portland, Maine, to Chicago, Illinois, repeating the trip he made 40 years ago, arrived here at 5:20 o'clock tonight, 40 minutes ahead of schedule time. He walked from Newburyport, 42 miles, in exactly eleven hours today.

A crowd greeted him and gave him a cheer. He went to bed immediately on reaching his hotel and rested three hours before completing the day's journey, which was to land him in Deadham for the night.

DUNDAS DEFEATS HAMILTON CUBS

Dundas, Oct. 31.—In a fast game, in which the home team outplayed the visitors at every stage, Dundas defeated the Hamilton Tigers in the intermediate series by a score of 8 to 2. Hamilton got away with a tackle in goal during the first five minutes of play, but were unable to get to the line during the remainder of the game.

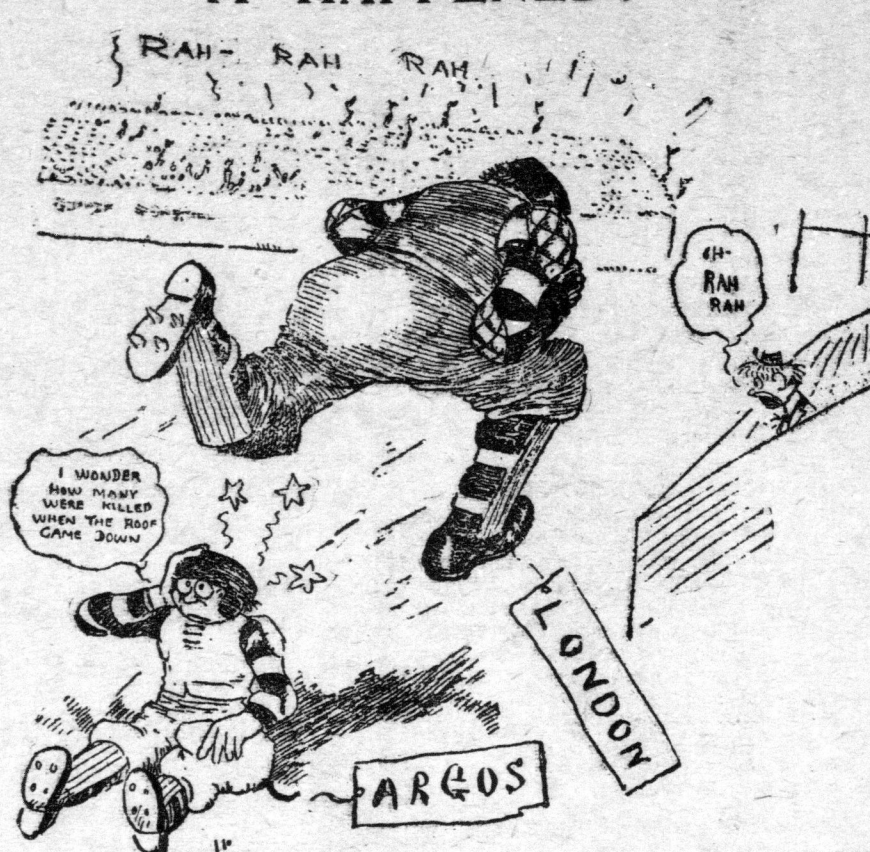

Dundas outbuckled their opponents on the line and scored a touchdown, which was converted in the second quarter, and got away with a rouge and safety touch in the third.

SARNIA DEFEATS THE L. C. J. TEAM

The London Collegiate Rugby team traveled to Sarnia yesterday and was defeated 12 to 6 by the fast team of that place.

The long grass bothered the players.

IT HAPPENED!

JOTTINGS FROM THE SIDE LINES

That drop-kick of Dave Bole's saved the day, although it would not have been much good without the points made by team work. Those field goals are the real things when you get away with them, and it doesn't cost anything to try them.

Our old friend, the enemy, Mr. Tiger Cub, got it thrown into them right at Dundas yesterday. This begins to look like a year of ups and downs in football.

Did you see "Teeny" Sage tackle? Just like getting hugged with a bear to have the fellow go after one.

"Kid" Robinson almost rebelled silent Bill Rowland. "Now, there will be trouble, Kid," said he, "if you don't quit holding my hands." And that from the noisy one! Willie was in the game himself.

Someone one time accused Dick Whetter of being a grandstand player. Well, if London had a few more of his type there would be nothing to it but first place in the intermediate ranks. Dick took some awful chances yesterday, and blocked all kinds of kicks, besides making the longest run of the day.

Here is betting that Toronto never bumped into a harder scrimmage in their intermediate career than Rau, Craig and Brown. They were as solid as a brick wall.

Vic Jackson kicked well, even with the handicap of a very bad knee. Toronto was thankful he was crippled.

Little Bobby Hauge showed Londoners what kind of a player he was when he is right. Bobby worked like a fend, and prevented what looked like an almost sure goal near the close of the game.

That old war horse, Bice, was appreciated on the wings. He was said to have slowed up a little bit. If he has it was not in evidence yesterday. There never was a more aggressive player on the team. Spry knew what he was doing when he got the veteran out for practice. Here is hoping he will go with the boys to Dundas tomorrow.

Big John McColl showed that his endurance has not staid any of his cunning. Jack was there with his body and his head.

McEwen is improving all the time, and should shortly prove one of the best wings on the team. The boy is cutting aggressiveness, and Captain Spry feels proud of him.

Even Billy Morrison, the referee, was tickled when the Argos got it. Billy didn't care so much for seeing the Toronto bunch trimmed as he did to see the locals get a well-earned victory.

Said Billy: "I have never seen a prettier intermediate contest in my life, and I believe that the better team won."

First honors on the Toronto team lay with Babe Hewitt, Wright and Meredith. If anybody tells you that Babe is not a ring general tell them they are mistaken.

Wright is one of the surest catches that ever played at Tecumseh Park. He is there with the hoof, too.

There were a couple of howls from the stands against one or two decisions, but then when it is one's home team that is involved it makes a difference. Morrison has always suited the boys heretofore.

Tommy Hay got away with the umpiring in good form also.

The hardest task the boys have had to tackle this season will come off tomorrow at Dundas. Any eleven which can stand away the Cubs will not be pie for any team.

Let us all look forward to a victory.

It is unfortunate that Dick Whetter cannot go with the bunch. It is a question where either Sage or Whetter can get away. It is a pretty hard problem to solve. We need them both. A bank has no license running anyway when there is a good football game coming off.

Did you ever notice how easily everything runs along when a team is on the winning trail? To start at the top of the ladder and to keep up there is easy, but to drill a team into winning shape is another thing. Hats off to Manager-Captain-Secretary Spry.

If London had a team of any kind to line up against in practice there would be nothing to it but the Forest City.

Dundas here a week from next Saturday. Nothing but an even break at least will satisfy the fans. London can win on their own grounds with yesterday's lineup.

Just when they thought they had the old Forest City down and out, up she bobbed again. That is the kind of victory which is most sweet.

Wonder how the Cubs liked the sensation of getting trimmed?

Well, if Dundas can turn the trick, the locals ought to also.

Prognostications are in vain. We shall see what we shall see.

Everybody root for a victory at Dundas tomorrow.

SECOND ANNUAL GAMES OF C.A.C. GOOD SPORT AT QUEEN'S PARK

A fair crowd attended the second annual games of the Canadian Athletic Club at Queen's Park yesterday, and the sport provided was good.

The cup offered for the one mile team race for schoolboys was taken by the Chesley avenue school. Two of that school's team finished one, two, and the cup will have to be fought for another year.

Willie Hunter was the first boy to finish, with Howard MacDonald second.

William O'Rourke captured the 100-yard event for boys, who had not competed in the other races, Frank Nickle second, and Russell Bryden third.

The cup for the five-mile team race went to the Y. M. C. A., which has now taken it twice in succession.

Mel Brock was the winning runner. The "Y" boys had three runners finish well up.

Campbell, of the Ramblers, came in second and took a handsome silver medal.

The entries for the two big events were as follows:

One-Mile Team Race.

St. George's School—Chester Park-

BOSTON NATIONALS GET JOE KELLEY

The Toronto Baseball Club Loses Its Popular Manager.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—Joe Kelley will manage the Boston Nationals next year. This announcement was made in a telegram last night from President James J. McCaffrey, of the Toronto Baseball Club, who is in New York attending the Eastern League and National Association meetings.

Kelley was drafted by the Boston Nationals when the drafting season opened, and the action came in the nature of a big and painful surprise to the club owners and baseball followers of the city. Kelley made good from the very first when he took hold of the local club this season, and was one of the most popular managers who have ever directed the club since this city got its first taste of big league ball in 1886. It is a coincidence that it was just a year ago, and at the Eastern League meeting in New York City that Kelley came to terms with the Toronto Club. It was then announced that Kelley was to receive a salary of $5,000, a big figure for any minor league club to pay, but which was nevertheless generally believed to be the sum Kelley's contract called for. Under the national agreement when a player is drafted he must receive a substantial increase in salary. This being the case Boston will have to pay handsomely for Kelley's services.

It was said that Kelley was so well pleased with his surroundings here that he would under no circumstances leave Toronto, and that if Boston refused to waive its claim he would manage the local club from the bench. Time and again the club officials stated that this was the solution of the difficulty, and that there was no question about Kelley remaining in Toronto. Evidently a cog has slipped, and Toronto is to lose Kelley after all. However, in these days of queer baseball deals, it is just possible that there is a nigger in the fence. Kelley will certainly not find his new sphere of labor congenial. It had a trying time of it in Cincinnati, but in Boston, with a tail-end team and no chance to strengthen it, at all events for several seasons, Kelley will go the way of the other managers who have vainly striven to make the Boston Nationals a pennant winning aggregation.

HAMILTON DEFEATS ONTARIO FOURTEEN

Hamilton, Oct. 31.—The Tigers got to the Ottawa Interprovincial team today and swamped them by a score of 29 to 8.

The game drew one of the biggest crowds that has ever witnessed a game in this city.

The Tigers did a lot of fumbling. The redoubtable feature of their work was their running and passing. The Ottawa backs handled the ball cleanly, but were outplayed by Tope and Southern.

Although there was little wind the Tigers had all the better of the play in the first quarter, but were outplayed in the second, and but for their strong defense, many more points would have been scored against them.

There was little to choose between the wing lines. The Ottawa forwards broke through better than the yellow and black, but the Tigers excelled them in tackling. Ballard's try in the first quarter was the result of a trick play. The backs lined out as if a combination play was to be attempted, and Ballard had no difficulty in walking through the Ottawa's open line.

Ottawa—Full back, Obrien; left half, Williams; center half, Gleeson; right half, Connel; quarter back, Ferguson; left scrumming, Walters; center scrumming, Kennedy; right scrumming, Merrifield; left inside, Aylmer; right inside, Church; left middle, Vaughan; right middle, Disney; left outside, Lafleur; right outside, Ryan.

MONTREAL TRIMS SENIOR ARGOS

Toronto, Oct. 31.—The Montreal senior Interprovincial football team defeated the Argonauts today by 9 to 7.

CIRCLE MT. ROYAL IN RECORD TIME

Montreal, Oct. 31.—Abbie Woods, of the Gordon Harriers, won the Herald road race here today, his time over the ten-mile course around Mount Royal being 59 minutes and 44 seconds, thus lowering the time made by Tom Shipman over the same course last year by nine seconds. There were 200 starters and among the first eight to finish were the four members of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association team, who thus won the trophy for their club. The only Ontario man competing was Milroy, from Brockville, who finished ninth.

Seven Chinese laundrymen have just joined Mr. Rockefeller's church in New York. It is getting to be quite the cosmopolitan organization, with its imported pastor.

WALKER HARTLEY MAKES TIME WALK

Peterboro, Oct. 3.—Hartley, the 54-year-old walker of Peterboro, walked 132 miles in 32 hours.

Hartley started from Oshawa and walked to Toronto, back to Port Hope, and from there to Peterboro.

SPORTING GOSSIP

BY SOUTHPAW

Two big surprises were pulled off in the intermediate series of the Interprovincial Rugby Union yesterday, and it is up to the Tiger Cubs to watch their laurels.

While London's victory does not lift them from the bottom of the table, yet the locals have hopes, and if Dundas can only take another spill out of the Cubs, there may be something new in the line of a champion in the intermediates this year. London would have to put up a great battle to win out, but they hope to either do so or see Dundas get the title.

Some of the heavy editorial writers of the country are leaving stocks, money, politics and war alone long enough to dash off a few lines on baseball and one of the high-priced writers of the east calls attention to the fact that winning the world's championship is a hoodoo. Perhaps it is. Surely precedent—a generally patent argument—can be invoked to support the idea, but we have not enough precedent yet to make its citation strong.

It may be a hoodoo to win the world's championship. It is a fact that we have had no repeaters, and the fact may be interesting, but there may come a time when one team will win straight victories and then the hope will go to smash. But be that as it may, there are few teams that are not perfectly willing to take the chance.

And now for another London victory. It is rather dangerous suggesting victories. One might possibly have to do a whole lot of back-pedaling if the blow ever descends.

Pipe Dreams in Advance

In accordance with the custom of many years, herewith is presented for the guidance of the pipe dreamers a schedule of baseball sports for the winter season:

Oct. 28—Great war in baseball. Minor's secede and devastating carnage is begun. (Already sprung.)

Nov. 1—Bar Johnson announces himself a candidate for the presidency of both big leagues. (This story will create some stir in the midst of baseball.)

Nov. 15—Comiskey and Johnson break their annual bottle together to show that all is kisses and hugs in the American League. (This is the big autumnal dream.)

Dec. 1—President Murphy delivers his annual speech to the National League in Chicago papers day before it is delivered.

Dec. 1—Tom Brush and Garry Herrmann have fight in the National League as to who shall press the button to call the winter. (This is the blue ribbon dream.)

Jan. 1—Fred Glade breaks news to Hedges that he finds running a flour mill too profitable to give up for baseball, unless there is something doing in the region of the safety deposit vault.

Feb. 1—Ty Cobb begs privilege of signing with the Sox on the ground that he would like to have another chance to show Chicago that he is really some good.

Feb. 15—Muggsy McGraw makes a plea before Y. M. C. A. for manliness on the diamond.

March 1—Comiskey signs Plank, Wild Bill Donovan, Cy Young and Addie Joss and decides to take his team to Oyster Bay for spring training.

These world's championship games are getting to be veritable gold mines for the men and owners, although the custom of coming across with a post-season gratuity by the latter, is getting to be large enough to knock a hole into the profits.

It may be a hoodoo to win, but most teams are willing to be hoodooed.

Tommy Burns, in all his sartorial beauty, has departed for England. We can stand for Thomas taking a beating—if he has to, and we are willing to stand for almost anything he does—providing he does not come back with a monocle. Horrors!

It has been about three years since a local team won an intermediate football match. Small wonder of the great joy thereat when a contest drops out way.

The grass was too long for our collegiate boys at Sarnia yesterday. Wonder how about their opponents' legs and arms?

Wasn't it queer that the Argos went down with the turk? They looked like meat to London, anyway.

And now for another London victory. It is rather dangerous suggesting victories. One might possibly have to do a whole lot of back-pedaling if the blow ever descends.

A Thanksgiving Wedding.
A very quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Peters, when Mabelle Evelyn Gaud, daughter of Mrs. A. C. Gaud, was married to Lilburn McGill Allan, of Toronto. After a dainty luncheon, the happy couple left by the 4:25 G. T. R. for the east.

Tibbs—LeClear.
A quiet wedding took place at Christ Church yesterday at noon, when Miss Daisy LeClear was married to Mr. Wesley A. Tibbs. Rev. R. S. W. Howard performed the ceremony. Miss Georgina Tibbs, sister of the bride acted as bridesmaid, while the groom was supported by Mr. Charles LeClear. Mr. and Mrs. Tibbs left for points east and on their return will live in this city.

Patrick—Kerslake.
Miss Mabel Kerslake, only daughter of Mrs. Mary Kerslake, was married last evening to Mr. George Patrick, a well-known young Londoner. Rev. George H. Long, of Highgate, performed the ceremony. The bride was assisted by Miss H. Andrews, of St. Louis, while Mr. A. Wheatcroft supported the groom. The wedding march was played by Mrs. S. A. Newans. Mr. and Mrs. Patrick, after a trip to Rochester and New York will reside in this city.

Death of Riley Day.
One of the oldest and most highly-esteemed residents of East Nissouri passed away yesterday afternoon at his home, in concession 8, in the person of Mr. Riley Day. Mr. Day was in his 78th year, and had been a life-long resident of Nissouri. Besides his wife, he is survived by five sons and four daughters, Samuel, Geo. R. Harrison, William, Ernest, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Smith, of Thamesford; Mrs. Fred Quait, of West Nissouri; and Mrs. Downham, of East Nissouri. The funeral will take place from his late residence on Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. to Zion Hill cemetery, the service being conducted by Rev. Mr. Watson, of Thamesford.

A Warning.
The Catholic Record says: We deem it necessary to again warn our people against those well-groomed frauds who represent themselves as "ecclesiastical students, and who go about the country selling articles to the Catholic people at more than double the actual value. In the Maritime Provinces some of our people are putting these cases into court. We have been informed that their mode of doing business is to sell a book at $5 cash or $7 on time, giving a year to pay. About a month afterwards a collector makes his appearance and demands the full amount for the book. When his request is not complied with, he desires to take the book away, making no recompense to the purchaser for what he had already paid. This "ecclesiastical student" trick is pretty well worn out now, and no doubt some other scheme will be tried in the near future. There is a regularly organized gang of sharpers who make it their business to prey upon the people in the rural communities, more especially where a policeman is not at a convenient distance.

SMITH-FERGUSON
Pretty Home Wedding at "Maplehurst Farm," Harrietsville.

A very pretty event took place at the home of Mr. Donald Ferguson, Maplehurst Farm, Harrietsville, on Wednesday, Oct. 30, when his only daughter, Myrtle E., was united in marriage to Mr. Charles Smith.

Promptly at 2 p.m. the bride entered the drawing-room to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by a cousin of the bride, Miss Eva Ferguson, Harrietsville. The bride very becomingly dressed in a gown of white silk mull over taffeta, wearing the bridal veil caught up by a shower bouquet of pink carnations and white chrysanthemums. Miss Mamie Faulds attended the bride, wearing cream voile over taffeta, carrying a bouquet of pink and red carnations. Mr. Allen Smith, brother of the groom, acted as groomsmen, and Rev. Mr. Knowles was the officiating minister.

After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining-room where the wedding breakfast was served by Catherine Fawkes, of London. Later on the happy couple left amid showers of rice and confetti for Toronto and points east. The bride's going-away dress was of navy blue broadcloth, with hat to match.

The groom's gift to the bride was a crescent set with whole pearls, and to the bridesmaid a half moon set with pearls.

The presents were many and costly. About fifty guests, including the near relatives, were present from Brownsville, Tillsonburg, Avon, Toronto, Belmont, London, Napier, Harrietsville, and Bay City, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, after a short honeymoon trip, will be at home to their many friends at Brownsville, Ont.

"WIZARD OF OZ" WELL PATRONIZED

Old-Time Favorite Drew a Large Audience to the Grand Yesterday.

The attraction at the Grand Opera House yesterday was the old favorite, "The Wizard of Oz." There were large audiences at both performances.

The production is hardly so elaborate as in its pearly days, although it is a show that is worth the prices asked. The chorus was large, and sang well. Several new songs have been given the place, and these brought it down to the time all right. They were tuneful and catchy.

The role of the Scarecrow was assumed by George Stone, brother of Fred Stone who created the role. He was fairly yesterday, although not in the same class with his brother, Frank Hayes, as the Tinman, was good. William Barry as the Wizard was fair.

Minerva Coverdale, Lillian English, Anna Suits and Gertrude Barthold were in charge of the leading feminine roles, and were very fair.

"Gingerbread Man" Tonight and Saturday.

"The Gingerbread Man" will be the attraction at the Grand tonight, tomorrow, matinee and evening. The popularity of the musical play nowadays is mostly determined by the number of songs and musical numbers the audience catches on to. The New York first night of the production of this class finds the manager lingering with the departing audience listening to which songs are popular and how many of them are being whistled. In "The Gingerbread Man" it was hard to make a decision, as every song struck the fancy of some member of the audience. It was finally decided to leave it to the discriminating part of the spectators, the gallery, and when Fred Nicolson, who plays the title part, commenced the chorus of "John Dough," the entire gallery, as one man, took up the refrain, and whistled an accompaniment. Since then it has become the most popular song in New York.

"The Social Whirl."

The modern scandal sheet, which derives its support from the blackmail of persons of wealth and social position, is humorously burlesqued in "The Social Whirl," which will be seen here next Monday at the Grand. The fun of the piece is based on an item published by a son of one of the victims. This is one of the big successes of the Shubert forces, the East numbering 85 people with Charles J. Ross and Mabel Fenton playing the leading roles.

MANY WAIT TOO LONG
SAYS THIS HOME-MADE, HELPFUL MIXTURE SHOULD BE USED PROMPTLY.

A well-known authority states that backache and pains in the loins are only too often the danger signals which notify the patient that something is wrong with the kidneys, and warns everyone to be careful, particularly at this period of the year, when the skin pores are closed, forcing the kidneys to do double their work of filtering the impurities and poisons from the blood and system.

At the first sign of backache or pain in the region of the kidneys, or weakness and urinary trouble, the following simple home recipe should be used. Anyone can easily prepare it.

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Any good prescription pharmacy will supply these three ingredients at small cost, which can easily be mixed by shaking well in a bottle. Few people seem to know the value of these common remedies in the treatment of the kidneys. This simple prescription when taken as directed, will regulate the urine, clear up and remove sediment, overcome back pains and cleanse the entire kidney structure, correcting bladder troubles in just a little while.

Sikhs are beginning to invade British Columbia, which is certainly not like India. Three thousand of them are in the province, and more are coming.

LONDON YOUTHS IN ST. THOMAS MIX-UP

Alleged They Created Trouble in a Rink There.

A man giving the name of George Walsh, of this city, went over to St. Thomas last night, and stirred things up at the roller rink there in great style.

It is not known just how the trouble started, but during the melee Constable Flazen, on duty at the rink, received an upper-cut which placed him hors de combat for some time from either Walsh or some of the other men who were mixed up in the altercation.

Walsh was locked up. He was given a hearing today.

It seems that a number of London young men went over to St. Thomas to have a good time, and that they partook of the wine when it was red.

Later on Herbert Cullis, another Londoner, was arrested for disorderly conduct.

There is a factory in Amsterdam, Holland, which cuts and polishes 400,000 diamonds annually. About twenty women do most of the actual cutting of the stones.
