ARMENIAN ARMY NOW IN PROCESS OF DEMOBILIZATION

CITY DEBENTURES TOTALLING $741,200 WERE SOLD TODAY TO TORONTO BOND BROKERS

Sale Is Largest Since Armistice Signed—Mayor Saves City $15,000 to $20,000 by Waiting Policy.

City debentures totaling $741,200 were sold today to A. E. Ames & Co., bond brokers, Toronto. The price and rate of interest have not been announced, but, according to City Treasurer James S. Bell, they are very advantageous. Had Mayor Little yielded to urgings to dispose of the bonds in December, the price obtained would have been $15,000 or $20,000 less than that secured today, the treasurer said.

The sale is the largest made since the armistice was signed. Debenture issues since that time have been sold over the counter to London citizens. With this issue of $741,200 on hand, $800,000 more in sight in the London bill, besides issues for a new collegiate and local improvement work of 1921, this plan would have been impossible to carry out. The local demand is not sufficient to absorb issues of that size, Mr. Bell declared.

The issues disposed of today were made up of $465,000 local improvement debentures and $276,000 public school debentures for work done during 1920. The local improvement bonds run from one to ten years. This is due to the fact that much local improvement work is of a minor character, and citizens can afford to pay for it in one instalment. The cost of the larger local improvements is spread over ten years. The fact that these debentures vary in the term of years is another obstacle in the way of disposing of them directly to the public.

The school debentures are for 30 years.

FIRST MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL FOR 1921 WILL BE HELD MONDAY MORNING AT THE HOUR OF ELEVEN

Both Committees Will Elect Chairmen, After Which Various Civic Appointments Will Be Handed Out—Who Will Be L. and P. S. Commissioners?

All indications are that the 1921 council will get away to a lively start when it holds its inaugural meeting Monday morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. A. A. Bice, one of the newly-elected school trustees, will open the proceedings with prayer.

After other preliminaries such as the reading of election returns and certificates of qualification by City Clerk Baker, the striking committee will bring in its report. This is regarded as one of the most important events of the year, as upon it rests the composition of the committees which do most of the actual business during the year. If the report is approved each committee will then withdraw to a separate room to elect a chairman. With these tasks completed, the mayor will assume the chair, and each alderman will take a seat at the council table, which will be his throughout the year.

The next business will be the appointment of various bodies under the council control. Of these the most important from the standpoint of expenditure is the railway commission. Commissioners W. A. Martin and Dr. R. W. Shaw have completed their terms of office. Dr. R. W. Shaw is not anxious to take up the duties again, he has informed some aldermen. Ex-Ald. O. L. Cunningham, J. P. Moore, and ex-Ald. E. R. Seabrook are mentioned as possible appointees. Commissioner Martin likely will be reappointed.

Representatives of women's organizations will be present to urge the appointment of doctors or other persons with some knowledge of medical science as members of the board of health. Whether the request will be complied with is not known.

It is generally conceded that J. H. Saunders, who was chairman last year, will be returned, while ex-Ald. Cunningham and ex-Ald. Seabrook are other possibilities if they are not appointed to the railway commission. The council this year has the privilege of appointing aldermen to other boards, so that it is possible a member of the council may be the third appointee.

Other appointments to be made are: A member of the court of revision; a member of the library board; five members of the Western Fair board; four members of the housing commission; members of the senate and board of governors of Western University; nine directors of the L. and P. S. R. and two members of the Children's Aid Society.

The mayor will present his inaugural address, outlining the work for the year. This will be referred to the committee, and the first meeting of the year will be concluded.

PARLIAMENT TO OPEN MIDDLE OF FEBRUARY

Exact Date Will Be Set by the Cabinet Next Week.

Ottawa, Jan. 8.—The date of the opening of the parliamentary session was not considered at the first cabinet meeting following the return of Premier Meighen from west, held yesterday. It was regarded as probable that an announcement will be made early next week. Members who have been making arrangements for their sessional stay at the capital have been advised that the House will meet at the middle of February as possible, the exact date depending to some extent on the progress made by the tariff commission with its report. Thursday, February 17, is still regarded as being the most likely date of the opening, but it might not be until the following week, and there is still the possibility that the House might assemble as early as February 10.

BABY'S FACE WINS CASE FOR MOTHER

Exhibited Before Jurymen, Who Refuse to Annul Marriage.

New York, Jan. 8.—A baby's face melted a stern jury's heart in the Brooklyn supreme court today and was the deciding factor in their bringing in a verdict denying an application for annulment of marriage brought by George H. Loffler.

Loffler, through his mother, instituted a suit asking that his marriage to his 23-year-old wife be annulled on the ground that he was "vamped" for his money. The youth, who was only 17 years old at the time of his marriage, inherited $250,000 from his grandfather.

A question has been raised as to the child's paternity. Attorney for Mrs. Loffler was beginning to sum up. Suddenly he took the 6-months-old child from his client's arms and exhibited the cherubic face to the jury. The likeness between the child and its father was so startling that the jury immediately brought in an adverse decision.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

London, Jan. 8.—Announcement is made of the engagement of Terry C. Durham, a lieutenant in the United States artillery, and son of ... A. Durham of Appomattox, Virginia, to Mary, daughter of Sir Leicester Harmsworth, brother of Lord Northcliffe.

MEDICAL SERVICE FOR JOBLESS VETERANS

Order-in-Council Provides For Free Treatment For Unemployed.

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—Arrangements are being made to provide free medical service to unemployed men who are returned soldiers. An order-in-council has been drafted to this effect and will be put into force almost immediately.

It is proposed to grant medical and surgical treatment to former members of the forces who are unemployed and who need treatment, at the medical bureau operated by the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Department, or in case no such bureau is at hand, in the home of the soldiers.

Conditions attending this free treatment are, it is understood, that the man so treated must have a certificate from one of the offices of the government employment service; that the department will not be bound to provide accommodations in hospital unless plenty of accommodation is available, and that no allowance will be paid for any disability unless it is due to active service.

The arrangement will be in effect until the end of March, and it will come as a relief to many ex-service men now on the unemployed lists. It is being recommended by the department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment.

Major Chesham, of the local office of the D. S. C. R., states that no official word has yet been received in London regarding the new order, but he expects to get the necessary instructions within the next few days.

He is of opinion that the provision of free medical service to returned soldiers out of employment will be a great benefit, especially these times when the cost of medical treatment is so high.

RAILWAY OFFICIALS PROVIDE FOOD FOR MEN OUT OF WORK

Montreal, Jan. 8.—Among the unemployed men who reported at the Grand Trunk street station yesterday were three who claimed they were in immediate need of help. They told the officer on duty at the station that they had nothing to eat in their homes, and that their wives and children were starving. Acting upon the instructions given the officer on duty sent a man to investigate these three cases at once and report was made that these were bona fide cases.

The officer then sent the three men with a constable to a grocery store on the corner of Shearer and Grand Trunk streets and asked the shopkeeper if he would give each of the three men two dollars' worth of groceries. The grocer was willing and the three unemployed men carried off their parcels.

The bills were brought back to the station by the constable, and were later sent to headquarters, where they will be handed over to the proper authorities.

SOUL-MATES ARE LODGED IN JAIL; DENY REPORTS

Paul Author and Mrs. Franzen Arrested in St. Louis.

WIFE NOT "STOLEN"

Woman Was Formerly Nurse With Canadian Overseas Forces.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 8.—Paul Pierre Author of Highland Park, Ill., and Mrs. Charlotte Franzen of Madison, Wis., with whom he ran away last Tuesday night, are in jail here today awaiting removal to Highland Park. Mrs. Franzen was formerly a resident of Montreal, and served as a nurse with the Canadian forces overseas.

Both Author and Mrs. Franzen deny the allegations of the woman's husband that she was "stolen" at the point of a pistol. They also deny that Author forced Franzen to give him a check for $100 with which to pay for the "honeymoon."

The search for the couple, which started on Thursday, was ended here early this morning. Detectives located Author and Mrs. Franzen at the home of a newspaperman, where, it was said, they had been taken for an interview.

They admitted their identity and Mrs. Franzen, the police said, related the circumstances leading to their departure from Madison. Author confirmed her statements.

According to the police, Mrs. Franzen stated that she and Author had never been married, as they were reported to have told her husband, but they had been acquainted for a number of years.

Several days ago, she said, Author came to their home in Madison, told Franzen of their mutual love, and asked him to allow Mrs. Franzen to leave with him.

Franzen is said to have agreed, and when Author stated he had no money, gave him a check for $100.

THREE MEMBERS OF IRISH AMBUSH PARTY KILLED BY SOLDIERS

TO DESTROY HOUSES

Dublin Castle Will Take No Chances Where Raiders Hide.

Dublin, Jan. 8.—The police barracks at Tramore, County Waterford, in the martial law area, were attacked last evening, and a military party which was sent to the relief of the police was ambushed near Tramore, it was officially stated today.

After heavy fighting, says the statement, the members of the ambushing party were dispersed, leaving three dead. It is believed, adds the statement that the attacking force suffered other casualties. One soldier was wounded in the fighting and one policeman was wounded in the affair at the barracks, the attack upon which was repulsed by the police.

UNUSUAL PROCEDURE ADOPTED IN CASE OF PRIEST'S TRIAL

Dublin, Jan. 8.—Intense interest is being evinced in the trial here today by court-martial of Father Dominick, chaplain of the republican guard and spiritual adviser to the late Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, who died in Brixton Prison, London, while on a hunger strike some time ago. It is said that the case against Father Dominick is so urgent that it is impossible to convene a general court-martial. The usual week given a prisoner for preparation of his defence also has been curtailed.

The charge was served upon the priest Wednesday without the customary evidence being taken, and he was not afforded legal advice until Thursday. It is learned that the charges are based on certain passages in a note book and in a letter. The accused man will maintain that the passages in the note-book were dictated to him by Lord Mayor MacSwiney in Brixton Prison in the presence of the prison authorities for transmission to MacSwiney's friends and that the letter was a private communication to a friend in England, where it was seized by Scotland Yard detectives.

VEGLIA ISLANDERS FORM REPUBLIC

Revolt Staged Against Italian Government Troops.

London, Jan. 8.—The population of the island of Veglia has revolted against the Italian Government troops and proclaimed a "Croatian republic," says a Central News dispatch from Rome today, quoting an Abazzia message to the Messaggero. Three soldiers were killed in the uprising. Veglia, in the Gulf of Quarnero, is one of the islands claimed by the Quarnero regency, but control of which was renounced by the D'Annunzians in their agreement to carry out the treaty of Rapallo.

Presbyterian Young People To Hold Big Jubilee Rally Jan. 17, St. Andrew's Church

Between Three and Four Hundred Delegates Expected to Attend Anniversary Services—Union Formed in 1897.

The silver jubilee rally of the Young People's Unions in the Presbytery of London will be held on Monday, January 17, in St. Andrew's Church. The rally is a unique one, as the London Presbytery can boast of being the only presbytery in Canada which has kept a Young People's Union organized and in a thriving condition for a period of 25 years.

The first rally was held on Tuesday, May 11, 1897, in St. Andrew's Church, and Rev. R. W. Ross, now of Fort Massey Church, Halifax, was the first president.

About 350 to 400 delegates are expected in the city for this occasion from the London Presbytery. An exceptionally fine program has been prepared, and there will be an afternoon and evening session. Frank Yeigh of Toronto will be the special sppeaker at the evening service.

The ministers of the various churches in the presbytery are compiling a honor roll of all young people, members of the union, who have entered into some special service in church work, missionaries, etc., to be read at the jubilee rally.

Death Warrant Signed for Dog Which Bit Girl

Akron, O., Jan. 8.—Judge E. D. Fritch today signed a death warrant for a poodle dog.

Here's the story:

About a year ago the poodle aforesaid bit a child in Barberton. Suit for $2,000 was instituted by the parents of the little girl, but the jury awarded $150.

The dog was owned by the wife of Capt. Erling Notvig, retired sea captain, and one of the wealthiest residents of Barberton. The captain appealed the case to the supreme court, which has just affirmed the action of the common pleas court here and ordered Judge Fritch to issue an execution order. The owner was called to court.

Capt. Notvig left the courtroom declaring he would ask Governor Cox to pardon the dog. Mrs. Notvig is said to have the dog in Chicago. She was a German countess before the war ended titles in the empire.

NOT TO CONTEST THE ELECTION OF BOARD CHAIRMAN

Says Trustee Edwin Smith Today.

WRITTEN FOR RULING

On the Question to Department of Education, Toronto.

"I have no intention of contesting the election of the chairman of the board," said Trustee Ed Smith, in conversation with The Advertiser today. "All that I desire in my contention in regard to the election and the legality of the votes of separate school representatives, is to find out if our regulations are legal, and if not, to be in a position to make them so. And for this purpose I have written to the department of education for a ruling.

"Even if a trustee is disqualified, I do not propose to question the election of Trustee Coleridge. He was duly elected as chairman for one year by the board as constituted at the inaugural meeting, and he is entitled to that position. With regard to the matter of a recount, there are two or three petitions being circulated urging upon Major G. McNeil Cooper to ask for a recount. One of these petitions which I have seen carries between 60 and 70 per cent of the names of businessmen on Dundas street."

PITTSBURG CHURCH SERVICES WILL BE HEARD 800 MILES

Wireless Telephone Equipment To Be Installed for Purpose.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 8.—Persons residing within 800 miles of Pittsburg, and having wireless telephone receivers, will be able to "listen in" on services at the Calvary Protestant Episcopal Church here tomorrow. A manufacturing concern, handling wireless telephone equipment, has installed transmitting apparatus at the church. The company has been advised by many amateur operators that they heard the music and sermon delivered at the church last Sunday and transmitted on the wireless telephone.

WIFE IS STARVING HERSELF TO DEATH FOR A PRINCIPLE

Danville Man Refuses to Join Her Church.

Danville, Jan. 8.—For the first time since his wife, forty days ago, began fasting in an attempt to induce him to abandon his produce business, and join her as anevangelist of her religious faith, Ernest S. Harrington today admitted he was worried over her condition.

"I thought she was only bluffing when she started," he said, "and would soon give up her foolish notion. Now I see she is determined to go the limit. But I am just as determined as she is. Lawyers have informed me that I cannot be prosecuted in the event her fast results in death. I have done everything to induce her to eat, except to join her church, and I won't do that."

Harrington said the only religion he knows is the Golden Rule, and does not believe it necessary to have any other.

PAIR HELD WERE NOT THE BANDITS

St. Thomas Men Visit Windsor Jail To Look Over Suspects.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 7.—The couple of men held in Windsor for the raid on the Erie Cafe, Thursday morning, are not the parties who got away with Wong's money. The couple of young men who were dining at the cafe at the time of the hold-up, went to the Border City this morning with Chief Armstrong, but failed to identify them. The tallest of the two raiders was unmasked, and the other was close enough to the young men to permit them to get a full view of the robbers. The only similarity of the men arrested to Wong's visitors was the difference in their height. No further clue to the route taken by the bandits nor of the appearance of the Michigan-licensed auto in other parts of the district has reached the police department.

DECLARES "BACKBONE OF CRISIS" BROKEN

Mexico City, Jan. 8.—Leading bankers here declared today to the correspondent of the Associated Press that the "backbone of the financial crisis has been broken. Earlier statements apparently are being borne out by the diminished lines of depositors seen before banks, and also by absence of the excitement which has prevailed during the past four days.

Reassuring articles which are appearing in the local newspapers are having an effect as quieting as that of their sensational articles earlier in the week was disturbing.

BRITAIN'S NAVAL SUPERIORITY FAR FROM BEING ENDANGERED; DOUBLE THAT OF U. S. FLEETS

Naval Strength of Empire Is More Than Twice As Large As Japan's Combined Sea Power — Program of Construction for America To Be Completed by 1923 Will Offset Preponderance Only in Certain Class of Ships.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Information now in possession of the United States Government on the relative strength of the three principal naval powers, believed to be complete, shows the present naval strength of the United States to be about half that of Great Britain, while more than double the seapower of Japan. In first-line major ships, including battleships and battle cruisers, the British navy on January 1, 1921, this information shows, numbered 32 vessels of 811,050 tons, while the United States possessed 16 vessels of 435,750 tons, and Japan ten vessels of 288,320 tons. While capital ships under construction for the United States navy, including 12 dreadnoughts and 6 battle cruisers, to be completed in 1923, will practically offset the British preponderance in this class of vessels the information shows that the United States fleet still will be greatly inferior in types of vessels regarded by naval officers as of the first importance in naval strength. These types include notably destroyer leaders, cruisers and light cruisers, and cruising submarines.

Although with completion of the present authorized building programs of the two countries, the United States navy will have only 6 battle cruisers as compared with 12 for that of Japan, it will more than maintain a 100 per cent superiority by virtue of its greater number of battleships and supplemental types of war craft.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE CONSIDER METHODS TO BE USED TO FORCE GERMANY TO DISARM GUARDS

Both Powers Absolutely in Accord as to the Necessity of Demanding Effective Execution of Germany's Promise —Former General of Imperial Staff Head of Civilian Organization.

Paris, Jan. 8.—Decision as to the methods to be employed in forcing Germany to disarm her civil guards is all that remains to be arranged between the British and French governments, says the Excelsior, which quotes an "important diplomatic personality" at the French foreign office as its authority. The two governments are declared to be in accord as to the absolute necessity of demanding an effective execution of the German agreement to bring about disarmament.

Reports from the inter-Allied control commission in Berlin, writes the Petit Parisien, show clearly that a former general of the German imperial staff is head of the civil guard organization, and the newspaper declares that France would be satisfied if the Berlin Government would give guarantees that present organizations binding regular forces and militia together are destroyed.

Alcoholism Is On Increase in N. Y.

New York, Jan. 8.—Nearly twice as many men and women were treated in the city's hospitals for alcoholism during the last four months of 1920 as during the same period of 1919, according to statistics made public today in a letter from Bird S. Coler, commissioner of public welfare, to Mayor Hylan. During the 1919 period mentioned, 682 cases were treated in the municipal institutions as against 1,311 cases for the last four months of 1920.

ARMENIAN ARMY BEING DISBANDED

Soviet of Erivan Is Carrying Out Demobilization.

London, Jan. 8.—Demobilization of the entire Armenian army is being carried out by the Soviet at Erivan, according to a London Times dispatch from Constantinople. The intention is said to be the fundamental reorganization of the republican forces. Three hundred Armenian officers, the dispatch says, have been sent to Moscow for instruction in Bolshevist military schools. After they have absorbed the principles of communist militarism the officers will return to Armenia and organize an Armenian red army.

SYNDICALISM CLAIMED AS STRONGEST WEAPON

Paris, Jan. 8.—In a manifesto addressed to the French workers relative to the recent split in the Socialist party over the question of joining the Moscow Internationale, the General Confederation of Labor declares that by accepting the Moscow conditions the Communist faction of the Socialists showed its intention to "pursue the destructive work on international syndicalism, comprising 27,000,000 workmen.

"It is our imperative duty," adds the manifesto, "to form ourselves against this system, which in so many countries weakens the workers' organizations."

"Syndicalism," the manifesto says in conclusion, "remains the strongest weapon of warfare of the working class against a faction which wishes to destroy and dominate it."

EARTHQUAKE SHOCK RECORDED.

Washington, Jan. 8.—A "moderate" earthquake disturbance was recorded beginning at 1:40 a.m. today on the seismograph at Georgetown University here. Father Tondorf, director of the observatory, said the indicated distance was 2,400 miles from Washington. The record looked, he said, as though it might be a disturbance within continental United States.

D'ANNUNZIO MAY MAKE HIS HOME IN FIUME CITY

Poet-Soldier Said To Be Contemplating Settling Down There.

Trieste, Jan. 8.—Gabriele d'Annunzio, it is alleged, intends to remain in Fiume. This statement is based mainly on reports that he has sent to Venice for a large wardrobe of civilian clothes and has requisitioned one of the largest villas in Fiume.

MAY FOUND NEWSPAPER.

London, Jan. 8.—The Rome correspondent of the London Times reports that Gabriele d'Annunzio proposes to start in Fiume until he has completed a history entitled "The Five Days of Fiume." When the work is finished it is said he will go to Rome, where he may found a newspaper.

SEVEN HORSES ARE BURNED TO DEATH IN FIRE AT MONTREAL

Montreal, Jan. 8.—Seven horses were burned to death and fears are entertained for the safety of a man, in a fire which broke out early this morning in the premises of the General Bakery, Limited, 300 Cadieux street, the plant and the building being destroyed. District Chief Dargena suffered a severe cut on the right hand, but was treated by Dr. Carrew of Notre Dame Hospital and continued work.

HICCOUGHS EPIDEMIC SWEEPING BUDAPEST

Budapest, Jan. 8.—An epidemic of hiccoughs with which the physicians of the city are unable to cope has caused much alarm among the Budapest population. The patients are unable to sleep or eat and some of them have remained in the grip of the malady for two or three weeks, until the affection had run its course. As yet there have been no fatal results.

Professor Benedict of the local medical faculty has sounded an alarming note in connection with the epidemic.

MODERN PUBLIC HEALTH

A Column Devoted to Public Health in All Phases.
Questions Addressed as Above Will Be Welcomed.

CARE OF THE BODY TO PREVENT DISEASE.

What diseases can we prevent by "taking thought, what we shall eat and what we shall drink, and wherewithal we shall be clothed?" What part do exercise, sleep and a cheerful frame of mind have in escaping disease? There is no older or more intricate or more misunderstood subject. The less one knows about it, the easier it is to make dogmatic statements. A cheerful freedom and independence of pronouncement on this subject is only achieved to perfection by those who carefully divest themselves of the restraint of facts and go wandering at large in the realm of fancy.

Let us say first that a cheerful, never-say-die, frame of mind, with the great gift of humor, will make any affliction far lighter to its possessor than to the gloomy soul. We have all seen people whose reaction to discovering a hole in a pair of shoes was violent enough to match another person's reaction to discovering that his heart was seriously affected.

A CURIOUS FACT.

Curiously enough also, the very person whom the hole in the shoe worried almost to the point of cutting his throat may be quite cheerful over some real disaster and meet it manfully wrth keen calmness. There is no question that much of the alleged effect of the mind on the body is not an effect of the mind on the body at all, properly speaking—i.e., if all the different processes and actions going on in the body were carefully measured and estimated in the gloomy man and in the cheerful man, the latter would often be found to have more things wrong with him—but since he doesn't "take them to heart," they make no impression on his general mental happiness and mental well being.

CAUSES DISTRESS.

On the other hand the gloomy man whose body is really O. K., but who is continually suspecting it of being away off in this or that particular, has all the mental distress (perhaps more) that comes from a realization of something really radically wrong. Let us imagine both the cheerful man and the gloomy man breaking a leg, and going through the usual process of repair and recovery. To the one it may be no more than an incident—six weeks of rest and unexpected society, visitors, relatives, etc.—a veritable good time, cheaply bought at the sacrifice of some pain and discomfort. To the other the same six or eight weeks' "lay off" looms up then and later as the great catastrophe of his life. Exactly the same pain and discomfort the other fellow had and minimized, this man dwells upon to the exclusion of consideration of the alleviations. It is easy to get from one man's account the idea that breaking a leg is rather a joke, while the other man's account would make the same experience about equivalent to losing the leg entirely.

So first of all we must eliminate from consideration the mental impression which exactly the same occurence makes on different people.

TO WHAT EXTENT?

The next thing to consider is this—to what extent do proper exercise, sleep, diet and so on contribute to the aforesaid happy frame of mind? Quite apart that is from any direct action on the body processes themselves? In other words perhaps the cheerful man is cheerful because he is in good health, everything running well in his body. Perhaps the gloomy man is gloomy from indigestion say, or too much sleep, or not enough, or too much exercise or not enough or improper diet and so on. Unquestionably this is all more or less true at times and with certain individuals, but we all know gloomy persons who are taking the best of care of themselves, have good sight, hearing, digestion, sleep and eat well and so on—and we all know sickly weaklings, who are the cheerfullest of the cheerful.

NO SOUND BASIS.

Evidently the mind and the body don't work on each other, if at all, with any great uniformity or in such a mannor as to make predictions very sound ones. The novelist usually makes his heroine or hero "overcome" fever and death by slowly refusing to succumb, but in real life, this factor is a small one. Can we prove it mathematically? I think so. In typhoid fever epidemics, about 7 per cent die. That would mean, by the novelist's pathology, that seven out of every hundred have not the never-say-die attitude that will save them by mental effort or help them overcome the disease. But in pneumonia about 15 per cent die! Hulloa—twice as many lack the necessary mental stamina! Too bad that 15 per cent of our population are so poorly equipped—mentally! But in smallpox (of twenty years ago) twenty-five per cent died—twenty-five per cent of our population was mentally weak (against smallpox), where death is concerned.

HEAVY MORTALITY.

But in typhus fever, flupneumonia, plague, and some others from thirty to one hundred per cent die. This is getting worse and worse. Are we all mentally incompetent to avert death by will power? Yet the very population that can't resist plague (mentally) can resist typhoid ten times as well! Remember that these figures hold whether the people know what is the matter with them or not. So this cheerfulness as offsetting disease applies if at all, in different proportions to different diseases, doesn't it?

Well, but we are still a long way from what we set out to discuss, the influence of general health on disease; whether, for instance, proper exercise and so on will keep off some disease or any diseases. However, this article may clear the way for the next one, and so not be a total loss after all.

FACTS FOR FARMERS

WINTER LAYERS OF DIFFERENT AGES.

[Experimental Farms Note.]

It is thought that farmers keep hens with too old for profitable winter egg production and it is also a common belief that late-hatched pullets commence to lay only during the following spring. To throw some light on this subject, it was decided in 1915 to compare early pullets, late pullets, yearling hens, and old hens as winter layers, at the Cap Rouge Experimental Station.

The Experiment.

The experiment began on the first day of November and ended on the last day of February, during five consecutive years. The number of birds in each pen was about twenty-five, and the whole lot occupied the same house. A strict record was kept of all feed consumed, also of all eggs produced by every pen. At the beginning and at the end of each experiment the birds were weighed so that, in the spring, the gain or loss in weight could be credited or debited to them.

The Results.

If the cost of production of one dozen of eggs, during the winter, is taken as 100 for early pullets, hatched before May, it would be represented by 249 for yearling hens, by 280 for late pullets, hatched after April, and by 848 for old hens. In other words, when pullets hatched before May produced a certain number of eggs at a cost of $1.00, yearling hens produced the same number at a cost of $2.49, pullets hatched after April at a cost of $2.80 and old hens at a cost of $8.48.

Weight of Eggs.

It is sometimes objected that, though early pullets lay more eggs than yearling or older hens, the size of the eggs is such that they would bring much less if ever eggs were sold by weight. Taking the figures from the present experiment, we find that, for the same weight of eggs, when it cost $1.00 to produce them with early pullets, it cost $2.35 to produce them with yearling hens, $2.92 with late pullets, and $8.10 with old hens. It will be seen that, as expected, the weight of eggs from hens was a little larger than that from early pullets, but the difference does not materially change the figures for the cost per dozen.

Same Birds Compared.

The birds used for this experiment were not specially bred for egg production, so that the early pullets put in each year were not from better stock than the yearling or older hens. Two seasons, the yearling hens used for this experiment were the same birds, with the exception of a very few which had died, as the ones in the pen of early pullets of the previous year, and in both cases they were, for cost of production, below the new lot of early pullets taken indiscriminately in the farm flock.

Early Pullets Best.

That early pullets are the cheapest producers of winter eggs has been told and written so often that it is like an old story. But a carefully conducted experiment will again remind farmers as well known fact which they often seem liable to forget.—Gus. Langeller, superintendent, Experimental Station, Cap Rouge, Que.

HOW TO GET WINTER EGGS

You may breed eggs into a hen, but it requires care to get them out, says W. H. Wagers, in the American Poultry Journal. Of course, if a hen is bred to lay 180 eggs, it should not be expected that she should lay them unless the feed, housing and general conditions are favorable. I cannot help but think that good care has as much or more to do with the egg yield than breeding.

The winter quarters should be dry and comfortable. Especial attention should be given to dryness and ventilation. One of the very worst conditions is sometimes brought about by improper ventilation, for if the air does not circulate in the house, the walls will become damp and your birds will contract colds and possibly the roup. If they do not get the roup you may rest assured that they will get out of condition and stop laying for some time. If the roof leaks a little, and combined with this you have poor ventilation, your fowls cannot possibly do any good.

If the weather is very cold for a long time, so the fowls cannot be let out in the yards, it is important to shake up the litter frequently and remove all the fine dirt carefully and pile it up in one corner of the house until the filth is all swept up and removed; then by adding a few bales of clean straw the birds will be able to dig down and find the grain. In damp houses the straw will get wet so it packs together like manure in a barnyard and the fowls cannot turn it over.

Look out for this condition. If your roof does not leak and yet you find such a condition in your house, you may be sure there is something wrong with the ventilation. Get busy and remedy it at once.

DRINK AND FEED.

In winter my birds always drink from wall fountains. These fountains are taken in every night when the weather is cold, and in the morning are filled with hot water, so hot that the water does not freeze over during the day unless the weather be extremely cold. Sprouted oats are fed nearly every day. That is the best and also the cheapest feed. Be sure to feed when the sprouts are short, for you then get the benefit of the grain. Dry mash should be accessible at all times, and do not moisten it in cold weather. It is liable to freeze and become hard so the birds cannot eat it.

About once a month you should look for lice, and not only look, but do something to get rid of the lice. I make it a practice to catch every fowl after dark and dust it thoroughly with a good powder. I do not simply sift the powder onto the bird, but carefully work the powder into the fluff and around the wings and neck. After such an operation we nearly always notice an increase in egg production in a short time. Of course, if you have a real large flock, such an operation would be rather tedious and possibly impracticable, as you then would be expected to have suitable provisions for the fowls dusting themselves.

We think it best to keep the layers entirely out of the snow. Even in days when the wind is strong and the air chilly, we find it best to keep the birds in the house unless they have some especially good shelter from the cold winds.

HEALTH IN THE FLOCK.

A sound and vigorous constitution is the first fundamental requirement for the continued maintenance of a high degree of health in the flock. The breeder who regards this essential as the keystone in the arch of prevention has, by his decision, won the biggest half of the battle against disease. To put his plan in action he must be able to recognize at a glance the condition of his birds. He must have sufficient knowledge of the manifestations of health and disease to enable him to select as breeders only the very best individuals. Professor Rice of Cornell, gives the following excellent advice on this point:

"The actions of a fowl probably best indicate its physical condition. The physically weak is inactive and dopey, and is more likely to squat than to stand. It does not scratch or forage actively. It is the last to get off the perch in the morning and the first to go to roost at night, and frequently is found on the perch during the day.

"The loudness and the frequency of the crow of the male, or the song or the cackle of the female, is a reliable indication of health. The weak bird seldom crows or sings.

"Gallantry on the part of the male is shown in his generosity and consideration toward the females, as indicated by his calling them and giving to them the tenderest morsels to eat.

"The shape of the body is closely related to the health and physical vigor of the individual. The deep, thick, compact body with large fluff shows greater vigor than the slender, long-jointed, more delicate body of the same variety. This is particularly noticeable in comparing the strong and weak males and females.

"There is an interesting correlation between the various parts of a fowl, which is one of the safest guides in selecting fowls on the basis of vigor. For example, a fowl of low vitality is likely to have a long, thin beak and head; long, thin neck; long, slender body; long, thin thighs and shanks; and long, thin toes. The reverse is true of the physically strong."

EGG PRESERVATION.

Experiments in egg preservation were begun at the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, in 1898, and have been continued every season since that date. In the course of these experiments, trials have been made with more than twenty-five different fluids and preparations that have been proposed or sold as egg preservatives. The work of these fifteen years has shown the superiority of lime-water over all other preservatives which we have tested. The solubility of lime at ordinary temperatures is 1 part in 700 parts of water. Such a solution would be termed saturated lime-water. Translated into pounds and gallons, this means 1 pound of lime is sufficient to saturate 70 gallons of water. However, owing to impurities in commercial lime, it is well to use more than is called for in this statement. It may not, however, be necessary, if good, freshly-burnt quicklime can be obtained, to employ as much as was at first recommended, namely, 2 to 3 pounds to 5 gallons of water. With such lime as is here referred to one could rest assured that 1 pound to 5 gallons (50 pounds) would be ample, and that the resulting lime-water would be thoroughly saturated. The method of preparation is simply to slake the lime with a small quantity of water and then stir the milk of lime so formed into 5 gallons of water. After the mixture has been kept well stirred for a few hours it is allowed to settle. The supernatant liquid, which is now "saturated" lime-water, is drawn off and poured over the eggs, previously placed in a crock or water-tight barrel. As exposure to the air tends to precipitate the lime (as carbonate), and thus to weaken the solution, the vessel containing the eggs should be kept covered. The air may be excluded by a covering of sweet oil, or by sacking upon which a paste of lime is spread. If after a time there is any noticeable precipitation of the lime, the lime-water should be drawn or siphoned off and replaced with a further quantity newly prepared. It is essential that attention be paid to the following points: 1. That perfectly fresh eggs only be used. 2. That the eggs should throughout the whole period of preservation be completely immersed. Although not necessary to the preservation of the eggs in a sound condition, a temperature of 40 degrees F. to 45 degrees F. will no doubt materially assist towards retaining good flavor, or rather in arresting that "stale" flavor so often characteristic of packed eggs.

ONTARIO FARMERS' OPPORTUNITY.

Just previous to the period of the great war the meat-consuming population of the world was estimated at 587,000,000. Approximately 460,000,000 were peoples in Europe and Siberia, 105,000,000 in North America, 14,000,000 in South America, 5,500,000 in Australasia, and 1,500,000, making up the whole population of South Africa; thus, the meat-consuming peoples approximated one-third of the total population of the world. Statistics go to prove that the world's live stock surplus is not keeping pace with present requirements. A number of prominent exporting countries appear to have reached their maximum of production, while others are steadily reducing their exportable surplus owing to a greatly increased domestic consumption. In effect a number of hitherto surplus-producing countries are tending toward deficiency producing, or at least non-surplus producing. Canada has here an opportunity. The industry must, however, be specialized, as it appears that in the civilized world cheap meats are a thing of the past; range conditions have almost disappeared, a higher quality of meat is being sought, and in view of the comparatively high land values, a high standard of breeding and feeding is imperative to further development. This is an argument for the elimination of undesirable sires.

Through the British market there is an outlet for 1,500,000,000 pounds of beef annually, and it has been definitely stated that every encouragement will be given toward making the British Empire self-supporting. During the past year Canada exported to Great Britain 23,615,035 pounds of beef. It must be remembered, however, that war conditions forced the British people to deviate from their demand for quality. Consequently, Canada was able to dispose of a great deal of our lower quality beef, which will not be very acceptable in the near future. Moreover, only two per cent of our cattle marketed were really suitable for export purposes, which fact is borne out by the type and quality of live cattle shipped to a better class trade in Europe during the past few months.

A WARNING AND A CONDEMNATION

Only about 2 per cent of the cattle marketed in Ontario stock yards are fit for export. It has also been found from actual surveys taken in different sections of Ontario that where pure-bred sires were used the production of milk was from two to three times more than where inferior sires were used. This fact stands out, not only as a warning to our cattle breeders, but as a condemnation. The loss every year to the live stock industry is appalling, especially when we find that it is possible to remedy the cause of this loss. The most successful farmers agree unanimously that one of the main reasons for the lack of quality in our live stock is due to the inferiority of the average herd sire. Having discovered the cause, steps were at once taken to remedy the trouble. A notable fact in regard to the live stock industry in the Argentine is that Argentine buyers, during the past few years, have bought nearly all the high-priced bulls sold in the British Isles at annual stock sales. These bulls are first used on select pure-bred herds, and later their progeny are used on the ranch cattle of the republic.

A CAMPAIGN FOR BETTER BULLS.

The Ontario Cattle Breeders' Association, with the co-operation and support of the provincial and Dominion departments of agriculture, is endeavoring to carry on a campaign for the improvement of the cattle in the province of Ontario. As the first essential in obtaining better cattle is to have better sires, the campaign is quite properly described as one for better bulls. In this work the agricultural representative will be the local organizer for his county and will endeavor to obtain the assistance of such organizations and parties as may be available; for example, farmers' clubs, boards of trade, chambers of commerce, bankers, county and township councils, breeders of pure-bred live stock within the county and any other bodies which may work for the furtherance of the movement. The Ontario Cattle Breeders' Association in taking charge of this work will have a central committee appointed from representatives of the various breed associations. This committee will be responsible for the work carried on. Headquarters for the campaign will be the office of the director of the live stock branch for the province. In this office, there will be listed bulls for sale according to counties and according to breed, together with all necessary information incidental to these animals. Any farmer wishing to purchase bulls will, therefore, on application be supplied with the desired information. This central committee of the Ontario Cattle Breeders' Association will also recommend representative breeders of the various breeds of cattle to the federal department for appointment as buyers or advisers in the purchase of bulls.

EXCHANGE STABLES.

In case sufficient applications for the purchase of bulls are received from any particular district, the Ontario cattle breeders' committee will recommend to the Dominion Government that an exchange stable be established for the benefit of intending purchasers. Upon such recommendation, the Dominion Government will then arrange for the purchase of the kind and number of bulls required. The purchasing of these bulls will be done, if possible, within the county wherein this exchange stable is being maintained, but in case the desired animals are not to be obtained in this district other counties will be visited. The expense in connection with the buying and collecting of these bulls at the exchange stable, and their maintenance while there, will be borne by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. The farmers may thus visit this stable and purchase a suitable bull at cost price. This exchange stable will be maintained for only so long as it is of a benefit within the county. In case a farmer in any county wishes to purchase a pure-bred bull for use on his herd, and wishes assistance in making this purchase, men recommended by the Ontario Cattle Breeders' Committee will be available to go with such farmers to advise them in buying. This assistance will be given free of charge.

What's In a Book?

By Kathleen K. Bowker.

(By Kathleen K. Bowker.)

Everybody must have been pleased with the "Book of Words" that Old Mother Nature published for us all during the holiday week. I would have liked to have been able to go out to Springbank, to see the Frost-embossed copy, with snow-tooled edges, that was on display there. But as that was not possible, I skipped into our handy Pocket-Edition Park (a real treasure it is, isn't it?) and spelled out all kinds of secret and delightful things in the black-letter type that the trees had printed on the hoarfrosted page.

Beautiful Memories.

Hoarfrost! It is subtle as a perfume, for re-producing double-distilled memories. Just to look at those dark branches, carrying a loan from Fairyland down their edges, takes you back bodily to one brilliant hoar-frosty morning that would have made the heart of a Dead Man dance, or a Dove and Dumb Dullard lisp in numbers, or break out into song—when you looked down a long avenue of beauty, at whose end, coming towards you——. Or those nights, when on the walk home from the rink, Somebody made every jewel-decked tree under an arc light an excuse for making you look up to see the silver circles that the light had spun among the frozen branches (you know how far you have to turn your face up to see them properly?) Or even further back, the time you tried to lick the hoarfrost off the wire fence—Speechless! But this is being a column about Books, read the Story of your own Life in the crystallized fancies.

Animal Friends.

But in and out among the Park Paths, and among the snow-covered bushes, every thought of mine went skipping—in the form of the friendly black-and-white figures of Peter Rabbit, Billy Mink, Reddy Fox, Bowser and Hound, laughing Johnny Chuck, Ol' Grandfather Frog, Mistah Mockah, poor Mrs. Quack, and all the other dear delightful people of the Green Forest and Meadows—just exactly as they skip through the pages of the Thornton Burgess Books (Little, Brown & Co.). And what delightful books those are for children! Firm pages, not easily torn—good bindings, so that the book easily stays open without cracking, and Mother can read aloud and knit at the same time (we did a whole sweater to the tune of "Mother West Wind's Children"), quaint but not ungainly pictures; and a wholesome, charming, generous, humorous philosophy, that the children swallow like chocolate-covered pills, and gently absorb into their little systems. Quite the Top-Notchers, the Young Classics—among the Nature Stories for Children.

HAD BAD COUGH FOR THREE YEARS

The constant hacking, racking, persistent cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it, is the kind that is dangerous.

The longer the cough sticks, the more serious menace it becomes to your health.

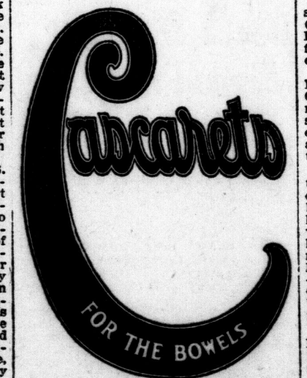

There is no remedy that will relieve coughs—coughs that won't let go—like Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

It has a healing and soothing action on the air passages, and at the same time acts as a disinfectant of the respiratory organs, destroying the germs that produce serious lung complications.

Mrs. John Miller, Minburn, Alta., writes: "I had a very bad cough for three years. I went to several doctors and tried different cough medicines, but nothing seemed to help me. One day a friend told me about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after using several bottles I became completely relieved. I always keep a bottle in the house, and also recommend it to others.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has been universally used for over 30 years, and so great has been its success, it is only natural that a great many imitations have been placed on the market. The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trrees the trade mark; price 35c and 60c a bottle; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

And that delighful new series——

Just then Jolly Round Red Mr. Sun slipped a wink between the clouds at me; and the radiance sent every serious thought scurrying to cover!

A Spy Tale.

The German Spy has run his course so faithfully through the printed page (even if not through the Intelligence Department) that it is rather a treat to find an Englishman snatching a bit of our own back to us.

Quintrel Quethiock, an officer in the R. F. A., was taken prisoner by the Germans in March, '18; and being mistaken for an Englishman who had sold secrets to the Germans under this entirely original name, he determines to allow the Boche to carry on the mistake as long as possible.

Fortune favors him, only to stab him through the heart. He is given co-operative work with Marie von Stressler, niece of a German Baron, who is heart and soul for the Fatherland, and who has "a way with her" that makes her especially valuable to the Department. Tho' his common sense—and his Patriotism—revolt—Quethiock loves her—against Reason, Loyalty, and Land. Only one thing he keeps to himself. He WILL NOT swear to be her slave; he refuses to walk blindly.

After several hairbreath escapes from Death and Discovery, he meets the English marching into Cologne, and finally turns up safe and sound, in Cornwall to the delight of his despairing relatives and friends.

During his months in Germany, however, he has learned many things, among others that the Germans are "Prepared for anything" and had complete plans for fomenting Civil and Industrial war in England, long before they believed that they could possibly be defeated on the Field of Battle.

That he has succeeded in hoodwinking the German Secret Service to the end, is brought home to Quethiock when anonymous letters are followed by an attempt to kidnap him. He becomes a special Agent of the British Secret Service, and with the badge (bestowed upon him in Germany), in one hand and his life in the other, he passes for the Reddest Socialist of them all, and carries out a coup that lands several of the Leaders in Prison.

Meeting Frauleln von Stress'er again—this time in an English Country House, under the name of Lady Mary Tremayne—he finds himself more enamored of her than ever—believing in her against Reason and Proof, and unable to bring himself to denounce her to his English hosts.

The unravelling of this tangled skein forms the climax of Mr. Joseph Hocking' latest novel "In the Sweat of Try Brow" (Hodder and Stoughton, London), and the Labor situation is handled with skill and sympathy. Mr. Hockings' hope of a solution, as put into the mouth of his Hero, is not, perhaps, a new one (How many years ago did you say it was promulgated?) But —?

TEACHERS' SALARIES WILL BE DISCUSSED

By No. 1 Committee, Board of Education, Next Wednesday.

IN FAVOR OF AMOUNT

That Will Satisfy Teachers, Says Trustee Edwin Smith.

That the question of teachers' salaries will be the first and most important matter before No. 1 committee of the board of education, which will hold its first meeting of the year on Wednesday afternoon next, was a statement made today by Trustee Ed Smith, chairman of the committee.

"The matter was referred to the committee by the board of 1920, and there are a number of rectifications for consideration. Personally," said Mr. Smith "I am strongly in favor of salaries that will satisfy the teachers. A satisfied employee always means a better workman, and on this ground alone the committee must take such action as shall assure that the teachers of the public and high schools of the city are adequately paid."

Answering a question as to his opinion of the action taken in Hamilton by the committee dealing with teachers' salaries in suggesting the payment of teachers according to their standing, Mr. Smith said: "I think the idea is a good one, but it would take some time, probably two or three months, to work out a basis on which such a scheme of payment could be made.

"I hardly think that the inspectors would like to take such responsibility," was Mr. Smith's reply to a question suggesting that the school inspectors might be able to grade the teachers at short notice from their their knowledge of the work they are doing at the present time.

DEPUTATIONS WAIT ON RED CROSS SOCIETY

Advisory Committee Will Pass Final Judgment on Requests.

Several important delegations appeared before the regular meeting of the Red Cross committee yesterday afternoon, but as their requests dealt with financial help from the Red Cross, decision on these requests will not be made until they come before the men's advisory board on Wednesday next. Mrs. Partridge, Miss Hilda Keene and Miss Jean McCrimmon formed a delegation from the day nursery board, asking for a $1,000 grant to carry on the work to the end of the year. Percy Moore also appeared, representing a number of soldiers' welfare organizations, and Mrs. Orr, Miss Craig and Mrs. A. A. Campbell appeared for the Soldiers' Wives' League.

A request from the meeting was forwarded by letter to the secretary of the Ontario division of British war relief fund, asking that London might keep that fund open for another month, in view of prospective donations.

Byron Soldiers Give $42.

An interesting piece of news was the report that the sick soldiers at Byron sanatorium had donated $42.05 to the British war relief fund, this sum having been handed over to Mrs. Ronald Harris, the president of the Red Cross, at the big Christmas dinner held at the sanatorium a few days before Christmas.

The Red Cross Society is beginning a series of fortnightly Tuesday entertainments for the soldiers at Westminster Hospital. These entertainments will be in charge of a committee with Mrs. J. M. Slater as convener, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Ashplant, Mrs. A. E. Miller and Miss Bapty. This committee is to choose a committee of young girls who have had experience in war work to assist them. The first of these entertainments will take place next Tuesday evening, the program of which is to be arranged by Harold Skinner.

NEW CLUBROOMS FOR THE GREAT WAR VETS.

Executive Will Deal With the Matter At Meeting Next Week.

The question of providing new clubrooms for the G. W. V. A. will be dealt with at a meeting of the executive to be held next week.

Although a considerable sum of money has been spent in renovating the present quarters and equipping them in a suitable manner, the fact remains that they are too cramped and inconvenient for the growing requirements of the organization. A number of new members have just been added to the muster roll, and another membership drive is being arranged for.

PRIEST'S MURDERER IS ADJUDGED INSANE

Cork, Jan. 8.—Cadet Harte yesterday was found guilty of the murder of Canon Manger, parish priest of Dunmanway, but the court-martial which has been trying him decreed he was insane when the offence was committed. Canon Manger, who was 70 years of age, was shot on December 15.

It was brought out by an auxiliary policeman at a recent session of the military court that Cadet Harte had been drinking heavily and was "abeolutely mad when he fired at the clergyman."

Detroit, Jan. 8.—The Liberty Motor Car Company, that has been operating with a decidedly curtailed staff, announced today that it would re-employ several hundred additional men January 17. The action will mean increased production by several automobile parts factories here, it was announced.

—William Meyers, proprietor of the Queen's Park poolroom, was fined $10 and costs in police court Friday for allowing a minor in his place of business. He claimed that he had asked the boy his age, but that he had been given a false answer. The boy swore that he had often played pool there, but that he had never been questioned.

He will appeal for funds to aid this work which has converted and helped to educate, a record number of lumbermen in the camps in various parts of the Dominion.

SKATING PROSPECTS ARE SLIM.—Prospects of skating on the city's open-air rinks, in the opinion of General Manager E. V. Buchanan of the P. U. C., this year are very slim. "Even if we had a good fall of snow and a steady frost now," said Mr. Buchanan, "it would be five or six days before these rinks would be ready for use, which would mean about January 15 before skating could begin. This, unless the weather should be exceptional, would mean at the most only about two weeks of skating, as when February comes along the sun in the middle of the day attains considerable power and spoils the ice. At the present time however, the prospects of weather that will provide ice even for the two weeks do not appear good."

SICK CHILDREN CAUSE POLICE MAGISTRATE TO SHOW LENIENCY

John Giovanni Allowed Out On Suspended Sentence.

COUNSEL MAKES PLEA

Italian Admitted Stealing Coal, Property of G. T. R.

Four little children, all sick with the whooping cough, and a wife and another child left without support, saved John Giovanni, a local Italian, from a term of imprisonment when he appeared before Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon for sentence today. On Tuesday last Giovanni pleaded guilty to stealing coal from the G. T. R. near the local coal chutes on the night of December 28. He was allowed to go this morning on suspended sentence.

When Giovanni appeared in court on Tuesday he wore a smile which apparently would not come off. Seemingly he did not realize the seriousness of his offence, for he admitted his guilt with a little chuckle. Today the smile was gone. The four days spent in the local jail, which separated him from his sick children, impressed him with the fact that he faced a tragedy. When he appeared before the magistrate today his face was drawn, for he was obsessed with the fear that he was to be kept from the family which needed him so badly.

H. R. Cluff, Giovanni's counsel, made a strong plea for suspended sentence. He claimed that the man did not realize that he was committing a serious offence when he stole, for the coal was strung out along the track. He told the magistrate of the conditions which prevailed in the little home.

The magistrate warned Giovanni that if he wished to live under the protection of the British flag, he must learn and respect British law.

DOWLER BUYERS RETURN FROM 4-DAY PURCHASING TRIP TO MONTREAL

R. H. Dowler, J. Dowler, M. J. Callaghan and A. J. McLean of the Dowler chain clothing stores report a most successful and encouraging purchasing trip to the large wholesale clothing tailor shops of Montreal, with the better class of manufacturers alive to the situation, doing exactly what the Dowler stores have done for the past year, meeting the conditions no matter what the cost of replacement.

Makers who are broad-minded, visionary and unselfish are quoting prices that will not bring anything like the cost of the garments. This the Dowler buyers can vouch for, the makers having shown their invoices and manufacturing costs.

There is a feeling of optimism all along the line, leaving nothing undone to keep the wheels of commerce turning and give employment to Canadian people and to get the price down within reach of everybody whether they work three, four or six days of the week. b

CIVIC ACTIVITIES

CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL TO ASK GRANT FROM ONTARIO GOVERNMENT

Will Meet Advisory Board Re Entry Into General Welfare Campaign.

At yesterday's meeting of the Children's Hospital committee, Mrs. Cl. T. Campbell's report, read by the secretary, Mrs. F. L. Greenaway, showed that the actual hospital building fund in the bank had reached the sum of $29,687.84, with an additional $575 held in trust for equipment and another $5,000 in Victory bonds. It was voted at the meeting that these funds should be transferred from the bank to the Canada Trust Company, where a much larger interest on the money was offered. Great appreciation of the action of the citizens of London in voting $50,000 to the hospital was displayed, and a letter of thanks is to be sent the city council, to be conveyed to the citizens of London.

Re Welfare Campaign.

One of the chief questions which came before the meeting was the question of whether the Children's Hospital committee would put their budget into the general welfare fund this year. As yet the hospital fund has received nothing from the general welfare fund of last year, although $20,000 is promised. The hospital committee feels that it must have its money so as to go ahead with the building of the new hospital, and is as yet undecided whether more direct results might not be forthcoming from a separate campaign. Yesterday's meeting decided to consult with the men's advisory board before definite action on this matter was taken, and it is possible that a joint meeting of the committee and the advisory board will be held next week.

To Ask Government Aid.

An important resolution of yesterday was the determination on the part of the committee to ask for a grant towards the hospital from the Ontario Government, the resolution being moved by Mrs. Wm. Gartshore and seconded by Mrs. Emerson Nichols.

The question of making provision for $500 endowments in the new hospital came under discussion, with the result that the committee will allow individuals or organizations to endow an infants' crib to be placed in an infants' ward, for the sum of $500. The price of a child's cot is $1,000. This action was taken, as many donations of $500 have been offered the committee, should such donations be used as endowments of cots.

There is to be another appeal for grants to the counties of Western Ontario shortly, Mrs. Arthur Smith to have charge of this part of the work, with Mrs. David Williams and Mrs. John Gemmell on her committee. Speakers will be sent out through the district canvassing for such grants.

W. I.'s Working.

Mrs. George Edwards of Komoka was present at yesterday's meeting and reported on the Children's Hospital funds being raised by the Women's Institutes of Western Ontario. Mrs. Edwards reported all institutes to be steadily trying to reach their objective, some of them to $500 and others to $1,000. She declared that the institutes were becoming more and more interested in the Memorial Children's Hospital, but that local memorials kept them pretty busy in the meantime.

The Children's Hospital matinee, which is to be given at the Allen Theatre on January 24, through the kindness of Mrs. George Macbeth, was referred to in the meeting and tickets distributed. Mrs. Macbeth will have these tickets at her home, 470 Maitland street, and shortly before the matinee they may be procured at the Wendall Holmes Book Shop.

Mrs. Emerson Nichols reported $160 from the sale of Christmas stickers by the Hugh Niven Chapter, and $100 raised at the chapter bridge held at the home of Mrs. J. S. Niven on Thursday. Mrs. F. J. Greenaway stated that the charity ball receipts had gone up to $902.

DOMINION SOCIAL SERVICE COUNCIL TO CONVENE HERE

Many Important Matters Listed for Consideration of the Council.

The Dominion Social Service Council opens in convention in this city for three days on January 25, 26 and 27. Dean L. N. Tucker, the Dominion president, will preside.

The problem of the delinquent girl; the report of the committee on family life, marriage laws, illegitimacy and housing conditions will be taken up on the first day. Criminology and the woman prisoner will be taken up on the second day, and general business and addresses on industrial life will complete the program on the third day.

At the regular meeting of Chelsea Lodge, S. O. E., No. 37, held in Sherwood Hall last night, the following newly-elected officers were installed for the ensuing year: J. Aldridge, president; W. H. Dibsdale, past president; F. Tilbury, vice-president; F. Gray, chaplain; Charles Hollins, secretary-treasurer; T. Harper, first guide; G. French, second guide; J. Russell, third guide; T. E. During the evening, Bro. G. Eaton was presented with a jewel, and the retiring secretary, Bro. T. Spettigue, who has faithfully filled the office for the past thirty years, was presented with a locket and chain. Mrs. Spettigue was the recipient of a handsome cut glass bowl. Frank Gray made the presentations.

TO BASE ALLOWANCES ON COST OF LIVING

TORONTO, Jan. 7.—Mothers' allowances in Ontario are to be based on a comfortable standard of living, and the present flat-rate monthly payment will disappear, judging by the plans set on foot today. The cost of living is to be the basis for judgment as to how much widowed mothers with children shall be allowed.

The law provides that an adequate allowance is to be made. Today 90 local boards throughout the province have received circulars from the commission asking for detailed information of the cost of living for various sized families in each locality. The details asked for are cost of food, fuel, clothing, rent, or taxes and upkeep, fuel and light, recreation, medical attention and education.

Rev. Peter Bryce, chairman of the commission, states that the total will go up to 1,000 and an annual payroll of approximately $600,000 a year.

CONDITION UNCHANGED.

THAMESVILLE, Jan. 7.—The condition of Robert Tuite, superintendent of the eastern section of the provincial highway in Kent County, who was hurt when the car in which he was driving was hit by a freight train last evening, is reported to be little changed. He is suffering from an injury to the spine, which has caused paralysis from the waist down.

CARDINAL GIBBONS CONDITION.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 8.—Cardinal Gibbons told his secretary, Father Haith, this morning, that he felt quite refreshed after an excellent night's sleep. He had a restful day yesterday, although he was slightly depressed for a while in the forenoon. This was attributed to the gloomy weather, Father Haith said, and was not alarming.

COST OF LIVING TO DECIDE AMOUNT OF MOTHERS' ALLOWANCE

Present Flat Rate Only Temporary Provision for Families.

The Mothers' Allowance Commission at Toronto, which has had under consideration the preparation of a cost of living budget, which is to be used as a basis for computation in changing the flat rate of the mothers' allowance to a more adequate one, has written to the local allowance board asking for information regarding the reasonable cost of living in this municipality.

The new rate which will be much more adequate, will be based upon the expenses of rent, taxes, upkeep, recreation, medical attention and education of the children of the widowed mother. The present flat rate was only given temporarily until the commission after obtaining information and gaining experience could allot to each family receiving the allowance which would enable them to live fairly in the different municipalities.

be occupied by militant Sinn Feiners.

This action is to be taken as a deterrent to further outrages and as an example to other districts.

It was also announced by the castle that owing to the persistent interference with mail cars in Tipperary, Sligo and Donegal, the mail services in those districts will be suspended, effective Monday.

According to the Castle statement, some mail routes have been raided as many as fifteen times. Throughout the country last week there were 35 raids on mails, an increase of fifteen over the previous week. Outrages during the last week numbered 73, as compared with 43 the previous week.

Held Guilty.

With reference to the military reprisals, the Castle's announcement says:

Although it is not yet possible to identify any persons actually engaged in attacks, the military governor is of the opinion that it is impossible to effect preparations for such attacks without the knowledge of many local residents, who are therefore held guilty, at least to the extent of having failed to give information to the authorities."

BISHOP CLUNE DEPARTS.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The Rt. Rev. Patrick Joseph Clune, bishop of Perth, Australia, who has been making efforts towards mediation for a cessation of hostilities in Ireland, left here today for Australia by way of Paris.

The newspapers recently stated that the prime minister, Lloyd George, was anxious to have Bishop Clune remain here to continue the negotiations which broke down, so far as the bishop was concerned, on January 1.

The London Times, in announcing on January 1 that attempts to obtain guarantees more effective than a mere truce for a cessation of hostilities in Ireland had failed, said that the negotiations being conducted through Bishop Clune on this point had broken down.

SPECULATIVE VIEWS.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—An official Sinn Fein communication issued today says that statements concerning Eamonn de Valera, "president of the Irish Republic," or views attributed to de Valera in the Irish or British press are merely speculative. The communication adds that the Irish people will pay no attention to these statements until they hear from de Valera officially.

FOUR CONSTABLES HIT.

BELFAST, Jan. 7.—Four constables were wounded today, one of them seriously, at Camlough, Southern Armagh, near Newry, when a small patrol was ambushed.

KILLED TOTAL 261.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Two hundred and sixty-one persons were killed and 446 wounded in Ireland in 1920, as a result of what are described in an official report as "serious outrages." These figures do not include eighty-two civilians who died as a result of the riots in Ulster from June to September.

The casualties are divided as follows:

Policemen killed	165
Policemen wounded	225
Soldiers killed	53
Soldiers wounded	113
Civilians killed—death said to have been due to Sinn Feins	43
Civilians wounded	103

The report says the number of courthouses destroyed was 68; royal Irish constabulary barracks destroyed, 530, and damaged 163; raids on mails aggregated, 998; raids on coast guard stations and lighthouses numbered 46; raids for arms aggregated 2,801, and raids on revenue offices numbered 119.

Minor outrages are not included in the report.

AREST TWO CURATES.

BELFAST, Jan. 7.—Two Catholic curates, the Rev. J. Green and Rev. P. Spain of Willaloe, County Clare, were arrested yesterday. Six members of the Catholic Clergy now are in custody in Ireland.

POSSESS GOOD HEALTH BY LOOKING AFTER THE BOWELS

A free motion of the bowels, once or twice a day, should be the rule of everyone, as half the ills of life are caused by allowing the bowels to get into a constipated condition.

When the bowels are allowed to become constipated, the stomach gets out of order, and the liver does not do its work properly on account of holding back the bile, so that it does not pass through the bowels, but is allowed to get into the blood, thus causing a poisoning of the whole system.

If you would escape constipation, sick and bilious headaches, heartburn, floating specks before the eyes, coated tongue, foul breath; the nasty irritating, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, you should keep your liver stirred up by the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills.

These pills, being purely vegetable, keep your liver working actively, helping it to resume its proper functions, and thereby removing the bile that is circulating in the blood and poisoning the whole system.

Mrs. H. Barrows, Enfield, N. S., writes: "I was troubled with such headaches and constipation. One day a friend told me of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I got two vials, and found they did me a world of good. I therefore have great faith in them."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

HELP THE CHINESE.

In a number of the city churches tomorrow an appeal will be made for contributions to the Chinese Famine Fund. China is facing a stupendous calamity. In the five northern provinces, Honan, Shansi, Shantung, Shensi, Chili, between 40 and 50 millions are already fighting the worst famine in many years brought about by the complete failure of two harvests. Many thousands have already perished, other thousands are dying daily and tens of thousands more will succumb unless the populace is fed until the June harvests can be turned into foodstuffs. The Chinese Government is doing its best to overcome this appalling situation, but it is not equal to the task of furnishing adequate relief. There must be assistance from outside. British residents in China are giving liberally, Japanese businessmen are sending large sums of money, and President Wilson has issued a national appeal and named a nation-wide committee to send relief as quickly as possible. On humanitarian and Christian grounds Canada is bound to join the others who are helping. Also it will be good business. China is destined to be one of our greatest customers, and in that day it will not be forgotten that we went to the rescue when the Chinese nation was in a dreadful extremity. We have no doubt but that Londoners will respond generously to the appeal.

THE CONQUEST OF EVIL.

In "The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," Robert Louis Stevenson succeeded in depicting with such vividness a conception of the conflict between good and evil in a human life that the familiar story became a marked factor in securing his niche of distinction in modern literature. Although viewed as perhaps just the tragic segment of a profound subject, it fixes an impression like the outlines of some night scene under the swift illumination of the lightning. Together with its unique treatment, the selection of a theme of such universal appeal discloses the genius of the author. A cognate subject, but upon a vaster scale is presented by Victor Hugo in "Les Miserables," which one appreciative interpreter has outlined as "The battle of the angels and the demons for a man's soul. How Jean Valjean was recovered from passion and sin to Christian service and self-sacrifice." A story so widely known requires no further allusion than to say that by the powerful medium of fiction it teaches how transgression accelerated by malign circumstances, mars the Divine image in which man was created, thus bringing condemnation into the consciousness; but that the Redeemer despairs not of a triumphant restoration to goodness and purity. At the ending the scarred hero passes away with loved ones weeping about him, and the reader realizes that in the lifelong and dramatic conflict for the citadel of Jean Valjean's spirit the forces for good had conquered. Therefore none need lose hope.

It is to the Scriptures that one turns for an adequate presentation of a subject so momentous in its bearings upon life and destiny. This inward conflict of the two natures is the subject of a thesis by St. Paul in what ranks as the greatest polemic of his life, his letter to the Christian Church at Rome which he was shortly to visit. In it, he outlines the Christian Gospel of redemption from sin, in its widest possible scope. The apostle draws upon the crucible of a trying spiritual experience of his own. He describes the strife of two natures or principles within, one of which is called "the flesh," and the other "the spirit." No language of inspiration could be more graphic than, for instance, the passage where, in anguish, he exclaimed, "O wretched man that I am, who shall deliver me from the body of this death?" This allusion is said to have been to the hideous custom of some ancient tyrants who fettered the living and the dead together. It is this hampering tendency to evil striving for supremacy over the desire to do good that Stevenson personifies as the corrupt and demon-like Mr. Hyde. Long centuries before either Hugo or Stevenson, the brilliant pagan genius of Ovid had described in words like these the conduct of one who surrendered to depraved rule the reins of his life:

"My reason this, my passion that persuades;
I see the right, and I approve it, too;
Condemn the wrong and yet the wrong pursue."

Now, without following analogies with respect to the notion of a dual personality in one individual, it suffices to say that the common experience of men and women shows the reality of the antagonism between right and wrong desires. Taking into account the innate evil in the nature and the adverse influences that contribute to its growth and strength the contest becomes unequal, hence the Redeemer taught even Nicodemus, a master in Israel, the essential need of a spiritual rebirth, so that there will be a turning about into a fresh course with the incorporation of a new and divinely implanted life principle, "producing right character and conduct." As St. Paul expands the doctrine, man is not left single-handed but has the illumination and support of the "indwelling Spirit," and, nurtured by grace and the Word of Truth, goes on to a position of triumphant security in which neither tribulation or distress or persecution or famine or nakedness or peril or sword shall separate him from the love of Christ. "Nay," he adds, "in all these things we are more than conquerors through Him that loved us." He declares to his brethren at Rome and all down through the ages, a gospel of assurance not of despair or the chance of some far-distant emancipation of the soul in Nirvana by transmigration or annihilation or a process of absorption into the Infinite. Over against such illusive vagueness is set-off the calm certitude of the writer of the letter to the Hebrews concerning the Redeemer who is able to save "to the uttermost." The provision is, therefore, all sufficient. The Apostle Paul, greatest of Gospel exegetes, finds in the Redeemer a complete and final response to the cry of the prophet Jeremiah for a balm and a physician who would recover the sin-disordered health of his people. And Dr. James M. Campbell points out that Paul sees the whole supernatural process of Christ's redemption wrought in every Christian. "His old nature is crucified; he dies to sin; he is freed from its condemnation; is buried to the world; is quickened from the dead; he ascends in heavenly life and is transfigured in its glory." He could discern harmony with God restored and Divine administration vindicated. In relation to the supreme spiritual issue of life, St. Paul was a Christian optimist holding a definite and confident belief fortified by experience and observations of final and complete triumph. Having fought a good fight, finished the course and kept the faith he was able joyfully to look forward with others to his crown of righteousness.

Letters to the Editor

RADIALS AND GOVERNMENT SYSTEM.

To the Editor of The London Advertiser:

In one of your editions I notice an article stating that public men in London are advancing a movement for the electrification of the London, Huron and Bruce, and of the Stratford branch of the Grand Trunk. As a former Londoner and as one who has given a few years of study to municipal and transportation questions, I hope you will permit me to comment on this proposal.

It seems to me that the policy some of your leading citizens are trying to advance, if I understand it aright, is eminently proper and worthy of approval. Evidence secured from prominent railwaymen in Canada and the United States indicates that while the initial capital outlay on electrification of roads is heavy, the operating costs may be reduced by about 10 per cent, depending on density of traffic, as against steam, and that the ability to give frequent service of a local character is considerably increased. The Grand Trunk now is nationally owned. Public ownership on a large scale is on trial. If we hope to make it triumph, is it not evident that the National Railways should be used as a basis for improved facilities wherever it can be shown that the demand and the business are sufficient to warrant the capital expenditure? Is it not equally apparent that it is much wiser to electrify roads already built, and whose rights of way, terminals, bridges, etc., were secured under low costs, than to attempt to force through new roads that will parallel and duplicate lines which we, as citizens of Canada, own, and whose annual costs we must meet?

When the G. T. R. and C. N. R., with their subsidiaries, were privately owned, the situation was entirely different. The agitation then conducted for hydro radials, built upon the debenture credits of municipalities, backed by expected provincial indorsation, was a legitimate aspiration of places which felt they were not adequately served. But today the people control these large systems. It is within their rights to urge that branch lines be electrified, if it can be proven to be at all practicable and economically sound. Such development, not only in your city and district, but elsewhere, I believe you will find to be in keeping with the views of thoughtful men everywhere. It is a broad program of making the best use of what we already have rather than plunging into an expenditure of many millions for new roads which could not hope to pay their way unless they took business from nationally-owned lines operating in the same territory.

Public ownership of railways in Canada can only be made a success by the application of the sanest business principles and the maximum amount of co-operation between federal and provincial governments, municipalities, National Railway directors and public service bodies. I may add that for some time we have been working with others to bring about some of these broad progressive policies.

I have reason to believe that announcements from the most responsible sources may later be expected which will appeal to the public imagination. Sincerely,
J. M. ELSON,
Secretary-Treasurer Ontario Hydro Information Association, 57 Colborne street, Toronto.

DEFECTIVE TEETH A PRIME CAUSE OF MENTAL DISEASES.

[San Francisco Examiner.]

Dr. Henry A. Cotton, M.D., is medical director of the New Jersey State Hospital at Trenton. In a recent article in "Oral Hygiene," he states that, in his institution, he noticed that a large percentage of patients who entered suffering from some form of mental disorder also had badly diseased teeth. Research led him to connect the two facts. Acting on the knowledge gained he treated the teeth. The result was that inmates discharged as cured totaled 87 per cent in the next nine months, compared with a previous yearly average of only 43 per cent.

Now, if infected and system-poisoning teeth may lead to serious mental afflictions, and their treatment by scientific dentistry modify or cure so large a proportion of them, does not that consideration demand attention in connection with our public school education, and the millions the people of California are giving to make it free, thorough and effective?

In the light of what science recently has revealed on the subject, it cannot be expected that children in the schools, steadily and progressively developing poisonous conditions of body and mind from decayed and infected teeth, will be capable of receiving and utilizing what the community gladly pays to have them taught.

If it be right to exact compulsory vaccination that smallpox may be kept out of public schools, it cannot be wrong to insist that, before admission and during tuition, children shall have sound teeth. The extraction of the hopelessly bad tooth is as important to the curriculum as the extraction of the cube root.

Reforms move slowly, especially in matters of education. Some of us can remember when the "three R's" comprised the extent of education considered necessary to the mass of rising citizens. We have marched far in advance of that. America for years has lavished money on education as a matter of vital public policy, of safety and economy. The results have been encouraging rather than altogether satisfactory. We are beginning to suspect that they would have been better if, twenty-five years ago, we had been conscious of the true relation of sound teeth to education.

From Here and There

A LITERARY MAN'S ESTATE.

[Vancouver World.]

William Dean Howells left an estate now valued at $77 less than an even $200,000. A generation ago that would have been a huge property for a literary man to have acquired, even in a lifetime so long and so filled with productive labor as was that of Mr. Howells, observes the Boston Herald. In these days of every sort of frenzied publicity and emphasis upon entertainment rather than artistry, the sum seems quite modest. Not one of the Howells novels would be rated a "best seller." His "Rise of Silas Lapham" was a very different proposition from Lew Wallace's "Ben Hur." His essays and volumes of description and travel will charm many readers in the future, as they have won the discriminating in the past. His vogue in England was considerable. But the appraisers estimate the royalties yet to accrue from his books only at $10,000, and in the last five years his publishers paid him an average of only $2,063 a year as his share from the profits of all his works. However, we are glad these things are so. It would have been incongruous for Mr. Howells to have left a million dollar estate. Let the sensationalists brag about their great "earnings." Mr. Howells always was balanced and serene, sane and sincere; he believed in comfort and he enjoyed the best that life affords in the world of ideas and ideals; and his comparatively small estate is a fitting token of the quiet but potent influence he wielded.

TRANSLATING ENGLISH.

[New York Independent.]

The most truthful of us do not say exactly what we mean; there are phrases and idioms which must be taken in a purely symbolical sense, although we use them so often as to be unconscious of this. Thus:

"Two or three" always means three and usually "at least three," or "three and upwards." "One or two" never means one, save by accident.

"In a minute" averages anywhere from five to fifty minutes.

"Oh, I beg your pardon" (in case of a collision on the sidewalk) means "I am too polite to ask you to beg my pardon for getting in my way."

"That reminds me of a story" means "Now, will you keep quiet while I tell my joke?"

"I hold no brief for" means "I am not going to defend——"

"While I do not wish to appear critical" means "But I am going to have my say out, anyhow."

"Of course, it's no business of mine" means "But I am simply devoured with curiosity."

"My conduct calls for no apology, and needs no explanation" is the usual introduction for an explanation or apology."

"No one could possibly have mistaken my meaning" is what we begin with when it is evident that someone has mistaken it.

YOUR "BOSS"—AND YOU.

[Detroit Free Press.]

The year is coming to a close, and you who are in business are thinking and speculating on what the New Year is going to hold in store for you.

Many of you are going to "make a change"—and many of you will be asked to make a change.

The idea of co-operation is still very young indeed, and many there are who will be first who are now last—and some last who are now first.

You who have counted the time of your employer as so many minutes and hours to get through with, are going to find that you are the one who has lost. And no matter where you go or what you do, you will remain the poorer for the loss.

Promptness, loyalty and a sense of conscientious service is far more appreciated than ever was brilliance or unusual originality.

Every honest "boss" appreciates the simple, everyday virtues of business in those whom he employs, and in nine cases out of ten regulates his decisions in regard to salary and advancements in proportion to their observance.

Your "boss" tries to be fair and considerate. Do you? Have you?

Always remember that you are in large measure a part of his thought—and his thought a part of you. So that what was once said of the chain—that it was no stronger than its weakest link—applies quite as truly to an organization.

Have you ever felt that the chain might break at your link?

The large part of our lives are spent in offices, stores and on railroad trains in the interest of some "boss." In the truest sense we are all employees, working for someone higher up.

To do your best is to serve yourself most.

"RED" PROPAGANDA.

[Montreal Gazette.]

The Soviet Government of Russia, having killed off the intellectual classes, is now, according to Professor Rostovsteff, of Wisconsin University, but formerly professor of Russian history at Petrograd, forming another intellectual class, imbued with the "Red" doctrines. This new class will be formed from the high schools and from the colleges which the soviet government supports. When they are sufficiently impregnated with the "Red" doctrines, they will be turned loose all over Europe and Asia, to work their fanatical will. That will is to be expressed in the overturn of all capitalistic governments, the destruction, in especial, of the British Empire, and the universal diffusion of soviet principles, of which an eloquent example is given in Russia itself.

There is difficulty in bending a sturdy and stolid Russian peasantry to the soviet will; and Lenine seeks, first of all, to inoculate distant peoples with the principles of the cult, the application of which has brought about the ruin of Russia. The principles of sovietism work to the enchainment of the human mind, the loss of all individual volition, the wiping out of every distinction which nature and God have imposed upon human society, the destruction of economic order—in a word, the ruin of every community upon which the blight of sovietism has fallen. But when a theory becomes an obsession, the mind sees only the ultimate triumph of the sacred cause and is indifferent to present suffering. "Sea-Green" Robespierre regarded himself as the saviour of society. He looked forward, and saw a new and happy society. In the meantime he sent hundreds to the guillotine, and thought himself highly moral for doing so. Similarly, Lenine saw, without compunction, the destruction of the intelligentzia, and looked forward to the day when his "Red" intellectuals would carry deliverance to enslaved Europe and hungering Asia.

The propaganda of the soviets is the most subtle and persevering thing on record. It has already insinuated itself into most European countries, and even in Britain it has found a lodgment. The nations of Europe, if they cannot see eye to eye in regard to the League of Nations, should, for safety's sake, counter this insidious propaganda, which seeks to loosen the bonds of society that it may impose upon its ruins a system of which the fruits are total paralysis of every saving activity, the imposition of hateful helotage, under which no man can call his soul his own, the setting up of an iron rule which reduces the individual to nonentity, the ruthless decimation of every tried institution which the laborious civilization of Europe has set up to conserve order and peace and progress.

It would seem elementary that the nations of Europe should join together to arrest this incoming tide of destruction, which is marked by the most sinister possibilities. Britain in especial is called upon to counter this propaganda in the East. Through her magnanimous policy in India, thousands of young East Indians have been educated at the expense of the government; and, having imbibed modern ideas, they demand independence, in iteration of the general cry heard as an aftermath of the war. The people are excitable; they listen to the soviets; and, to emphasize their demands, murder a few government officials. This ground is already prepared for the soviets. This departure would demand the most careful measures on the part of Britain to stay the conflagration before it has spread in dangerous degree.

WHEN ILL HEALTH OR HARD TIMES HIT YOU, DON'T LIE DOWN

It is the man who can "come-back" that is the man worth while

It is said that about ninety per cent of men fail between the ages of 35 and 50 and very few ever "COME BACK."

A good reason for many of these failures is plain. As man approaches middle age THE IRON IN HIS BLOOD IS APT TO THIN OUT and he then lacks the necessary iron in his body to give him the force, strength and vitality; the "IRON-WILL" and "iron determination" to carry him on to success. In his own mind HE ALWAYS THINKS HE IS GOING TO "COME BACK," but he is like a crippled deer that rises up on its four legs after being shot, only to fall back again.

EVERY DOCTOR knows the tremendous power of an IRON WILL to pull a patient through a critical illness. With an iron will, it often seems that nothing can kill you. Without it, a patient sometimes speedily collapses and dies from an apparently trivial cause.

Lack of iron in your blood not only undermines your health and robs you of your bodily and mental vigor but it weakens your WILL POWER. Without iron ALL THE "FIGHT," COURAGE and "GO AHEAD" in you is taken out and you begin to think it is "all over"—there's nothing more for you in life.

DON'T TRY TO "FOOL" YOURSELF INTO THINKING YOU ARE A KEEN 100% IRON MAN WHEN YOU HAVE REASON TO SUSPECT THAT YOU ARE NOT.

Iron starvation of your blood may be the cause of all your troubles. How to tell is explained in the accompanying article.

WITHOUT IRON YOUR BLOOD ALSO LOSES ITS POWER TO CHANGE FOOD INTO LIVING CELLS AND TISSUE and nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good—you do not get the full strength out of it. In fact sometimes the more you eat the more you starve, as your digestive organs are unable to handle much food when your blood lacks iron and you often think you have stomach trouble, when it isn't that at all. Simply eat less and take iron. There are 30,000,000,000,000 Red Blood Corpuscles in your blood and each one must have iron.

DON'T TRY TO "FOOL YOURSELF" into thinking you are a man of "blood and iron" when you have good reason to suspect that you are not, anyway let your doctor decide. Get him to make a "blood count" of your red blood corpuscles and SEE WHETHER YOU ARE A 50 PER CENT; A 75 PER CENT OR A 100 PER CENT IRON MAN. Or if you do not want to go to this trouble eat more spinach and other iron-containing vegetables for two weeks and take organic iron like Nuxated Iron with them and at the end of that time see for yourself how much more strength, power and endurance you have. Nuxated Iron positively helps enrich your blood and put iron into it. If often increases your bodily and mental vigor in two weeks time and quickly helps revitalize your worn-out, exhausted nerves. There is nothing like filling your blood with good old iron to give you the courage, strength and force to fight the battles of life. NUXATED IRON is organic iron like the iron in your blood and not metallic or mineral iron which people usually take. The fact that you may have taken other forms of iron without benefit does not prove Nuxated Iron will not help you.—Try it on our guarantee below.

Manufacturer's Guarantee. Nuxated Iron is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated and does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach. Each tablet of genuine Nuxated Iron is stamped as follows: NI and the words Nuxated Iron are stamped into each bottle of tablets, so that the public may not be led into accepting inferior substitutes. The manufacturers guarantee satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

NUXATED IRON ENRICHES THE BLOOD-GIVES YOU NEW STRENGTH AND ENERGY

PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

IN SOCIETY

The Misses Gorman entertained at a delightful little party at their home on Hyman street last evening.

Mrs. Henry Gooderham of Toronto will spend the week-end with her mother, Mrs. P. Mulkern, Wellington street.

An event which is being looked forward to with great interest is the military euchre, to be given by the Senator Coffey Chapter, I. O. D. E., in St. Peter's Hall next Wednesday, in aid of the Sick Children's Hospital.

The London Drama League is arranging to entertain Sir Martin Harvey, the famous actor, when he comes to the city in the near future. For this occasion Mrs. Harry Blackburn is going to throw open her home, to the members of the league.

The officers' quarters at the armories will be the scene of a delightful tea dance on the afternoon of Saturday, Jan. 22, when the hostesses will be the members of the Seventh Regiment Chapter, I. O. D. E., and the proceeds go towards the Children's Hospital.

Mr. Roy Mitchell of Hart House Theatre, Toronto, will be the guest of the Misses Blackburn, Talbot street, while in the city next Thursday. After addressing the Drama League in the evening he will be the guest of honor at a supper party to be held at Wong's Cafe.

Miss Mary Murphy and Master Eugene Murphy, small daughter and son of Major T. J. Murphy and Mrs. Murphy, left last night for Toronto, where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George O'Neil for a few days. Tonight Little Miss Dorothy O'Neil will entertain in their honor.

The home of Mrs. J. S. Niven, Colborne street, was the scene of a delightful gathering Thursday afternoon, when the Hugh Niven Chapter I.O.D.E. entertained there at bridge, in aid of the sick children's hospital. About thirty tables in all were engaged, several ladies not playing dropping in at the tea hour.

Last night Miss Florence Widden entertained the members of the Janey Canuck Chapter, I.O.D.E., in honor of Mrs. George Elliott of Toronto and Miss Kate Lancaster, also of Toronto, both of whom were at one time members of this chapter. The chapter members spent a delightful evening renewing acquaintances with their old friends.

On Wednesday evening the members of the London Conservatory Alumni entertained their friends at progressive euchre in Conservatory Hall, Mr. Alfred Henderson carrying off the prize. At a short business meeting it was decided to start practices immediately for an operetta to be put on by the alumni, under the direction of Mr. Charles Percy. A dainty lunch, provided by the social committee, under the convenership of Miss Gladys Roeding, concluded a most enjoyable evening.

"The Kennels" was the scene of a gay party last night, when Mr. Ernest Weld and Mr. Douglas Weld entertained at a dance for a number of the younger set, among them many of the young married people of the city. About one hundred guests in all were received by the young hosts, assisted by their mother, Mrs. John Weld, who was wearing a handsome gown of old rose satin with tunic of jet. The spacious rooms of the club-house were festive for the occasion, and a merry time was spent.

One of the most delightful of holiday dances was that held last night by Miss Anne Macbeth at the home of her father, Judge Talbot Macbeth, in honor of three young schoolmates, from King's Hall, Crompton, Quebec. The lovely rooms of Judge Macbeth's home were fragrant with flowers for the occasion, the girlish hostess welcoming her guests in a lovely frock of pale blue chiffon over silk, made with a crisp skirt of many ruffles. Receiving with her were her young guests, Miss Dorothy Zimmerman and Miss Marjorie Phin of Hamilton, and Miss Frances Barrett of Paris.

RUNNING NOSE COLDS STOPPED INSTANTLY

Throat Is Cleared, Headache Stops, Sniffles Go For Good.

Catarrhozone Never Fails.

Dripping from the nose is one of the foulest and most disgusting symptoms of a Catarrhal cold. By using Catarrhozone you relieve this quickly—relieve it because you bathe the lining of the nose and throat with that powerful antiseptic of the Blue Gum of Australia.

So healing is Catarrhozone that you feel wonderfully benefited in five minutes' use of the inhaler. Nothing ever devised relieves a cough, cold or sore throat so quickly. No drugs to take, nothing to upset the stomach—you follow nature's own plan in using Catarrhozone, which supplies healing essences and soothing balsams in vapor form to the places that are needing treatment.

Results talk—that's why thousands rely solely upon Catarrhozone to prevent and cure their winter ills. Get the complete $1 outfit, it lasts two months; small size 50c, sample size 25c, all dealers and the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Canada.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

LETTERS OF THANKS COME FROM GRENFEL MISSION SECRETARY

Toy-Making and Weaving Classes Are Becoming Larger in Newfoundland.

Some very interesting letters came from Dr. Grenfel's Mission in Newfoundland, expressing thanks for the box and bales sent this summer from the Grenfel Mission here. The letters come from Mrs. Blackburn, secretary at St. Anthony, Newfoundland, and are addressed to Mrs. A. T. Little, secretary of the local mission. The following letter gives some idea of how the gifts were appreciated.

"Please accept our grateful thanks for your very wonderful bales, which arrived some little time ago. They were not unpacked until a few weeks ago, because the clothing committee could not meet owing to the fact that our hospital has been so very full. The clothing committee desires me to express to you their grateful thanks and high appreciation of the work put in by your branch. The bales contained such a splendid assortment, so very useful for the winter work, both in the hospital and orphanage."

Arrived in Time.

A second letter referred to a parcel of socks sent in by the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church, which arrived before navigation ceased. This letter also referred to the carving tools sent by Miss Dorothy Reid of this city.

"Please extend our thanks to Miss Reid for the carving tools. The industrial work is growing all the time and we hope more and more, we can have larger classes for the young people to do carving and other industrial activities. We have quite a few girls working at the looms, making homespun and doing fancy pattern weaving for bags, runners, scarfs, etc. Then we have a large toy-making department. Please thank the Grenfel Society for their most generous gifts."

SENATOR COFFEY CHAPTER.

The Senator Coffey Chapter, I. O. D. E., held their monthly meeting on Wednesday last in St. Peter's Hall. It was very largely attended by the members, who have been evincing great interest during the past few months in the work before the Chapter at the present time in aid of the Sick Children's Hospital. One hundred and fifty dollars was voted at the meeting, to be forwarded to the secretary of the Municipal Chapter for this worthy object, making a total of $700 subscribed by the Senator Coffey Chaper for the hospital fund. The regent, Mrs. F. Forristal, and the officers entertained the members at the tea hour, and a very pleasant time was spent, while those present made plans for a military euchre to be held in St. Peter's Hall on Wednesday evening, January 12.

A very beautiful monogram quilt will be raffled that evening, and everything points to a successful and enjoyable card party. Those attending will not alone spend a most delightful evening, but will have helped one of the most worthy projects before the people of London at the present time.

WOMEN'S SERVICE OF PRAYER.

That the women of London received with earnestness the Dominion-wide call to prayer yesterday was evinced when women of every Protestant denomination came in large numbers and filled St. Andrew's Hall for the afternoon prayer service. Splendid speakers. The speakers included Miss Bertha Hodge, of Honan, China, who made a strong plea for the people in the famine districts of the world: Mrs. Hill, of Africa; Miss Cooley, a native missionary of Africa, and Mrs. Frank Anderson. Mrs. D. L. McCrae acted as chairman, and a number of the women took part in the program of prayer. The splendid offering which was taken will be handed over to the Globe Famine Fund.

LONDON DRAMA LEAGUE.

Roy Mitchell, diretor of Hart House Theatre, Toronto University, will be the Speaker at the next meeting of the London Dramas League, which is to be held in the Normal School on Thursday evening, January 13. The matter of a community theatre for London will be brought forward at this meeting, at which it is expected there will be several of the representative men and women of the city. Mr. Mitchell's talk will be on "Community Theatres," illustrated by lantern slides. After the meeting, members wishing to meet this successful director of Toronto's community theatre, will adjourn to Wong's Cafe, where a supper party in his honor is being arranged.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

In the exhaustless catalogue of heaven's mercies . . the power we have of finding some gems of comfort in the hardest trials must ever occupy the foremost place. —Dickens.

Around the Grate Fire.

Dear Miss Grey,—Could you please give me a few hints on a dress I am intending to get? I have brown eyes, brown hair, fair complexion, and am in my teens. Do you think navy blue is too dark, as I want it more for evenings, and please suggest a way to make it, and trimmings? I would also like a couple of sachet bags. I have inclosed a self-addressed envelope and mite for S. C. H. Wishing you a happy new year. SAMMY LANE.

Ans.—I think navy blue is rather dark for evening wear. Why not have it a Royal blue, trimmed with black. It is impossible for me to suggest a way to make it, as I do not know what style would suit you. There are no sachets left. Many thanks for hospital mite.

Dear Miss Grey,—I would like two songs if you have them; one goes like this: "Billy boy, charming Billy, I'll send him to college one year yet," and the other is called "Little Brown Jug." I'm writing this for my grandma, and she signs her name as DALIA.

Ans.—Your request for songs is referred to readers.

Chili Bean's Friend.

Dear Miss Grey,—This is my first visit to your Mail-Box, and I hope I am welcome. My friend, Chili Bean, has persuaded me to write at last. I am thirteen, and in first year at high school. Am I far enough advanced?

I would like to have a correspondent about my age, if they would write first.

I am sending my mite for the S. C. H., and I would like a sachet bag if you have any left, or a package of seeds, cosmos, scarlet runners or African daisies.

Would you forward my requests to Chili Bean? I enjoy the Mail-Box very much, and have been a silent reader for some time. I wish the Mail-Box a very prosperous and happy new year. As I intend visiting the Mail-Box frequently, my penname will be LITTLE ELF.

Ans.—So you are the bashful friend Chili Bean referred to. Indeed you are welcome, Little Elf. There are no sachets left. Am mailing seeds. Many thanks for mite.

Where Is Peggy Also.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am returning the reading you lent me and also the addresses of the places where I could get readings and dialogues. Thanks ever so much for them. Inclosed you will find also another recitation, which you may give to anyone who wishes it. Well, Miss Grey, where do you suppose, Peggy has disappeared to? I sent her some readings some time ago, and have not as yet, heard from her. I wonder if she has left your cosy corner or if she ate too much Christmas dinner and has not been over the effect. What do you think? ISABEL.

Ans.—Thanks for the recitation, Isabel.

Around the Grate Fire.

Dear Miss Grey,—Greetings for A Happy New Year for all the Mail-Box friends.

I enjoy Cynthia Grey column very much and get many a good hint from it.

Will you please send me the animals patterns in the inclosed envelope. Thanking you in advance. Am sending mite for S. C. H.

AN OLD READER.

Ans.—Many thanks for good wishes and mite. Am mailing patterns.

Dear Miss Grey,—Inclosed find 10 cents for S. C. H.

Can you give me the words of the old duet entitled "Matrimonial Sweets." The chorus ran as follows:

Oh, dear! Oh, dear! 'Tis the plague of my life,
That ever I became your wife.

Hoping you can send them soon and oblige an old SUBSCRIBER.

Ans.—If words are sent in I shall forward them to you.

Wants Coat.

Dear Mail-Box Friends,—I wonder if there is any mother of boys who has an overcoat that her boy has outgrown, that would let another little boy finish it, as I have a little lad eight years old.

You may win a cash prize by doing so. Many have done this as will be shown by the names and addresses which we will send you. If you find the faces mark each one with an X, cut out the picture and send it to us, together with a slip of paper on which you have written the words "I have found all the faces and marked them." Remember all you have to do is to mark the faces, cut out the picture and write on a separate piece of paper the words, "I have found all the faces and marked them."

Puppy Stories (by Vincent G. Perry)

THE CURIOUS PUP.
Part Two.

No one can tell you how it happened, but it did happen, and the first thing Nibbles knew the balloon started to shiver all over, up came the stakes that held it into the ground and with a quiver that caused the little dog to shiver, too, up went the balloon, high, high into the air.

"Goodness me," Nibbles cried in surprise, "where can I be going to? What would my mother think if she saw me sailing up in the air like a bird? His mother would have been terribly frightened, no doubt, but luckily for the old dog she was far away and could not see the peril her young son was in.

"I suppose as soon as I get tired of flying I can just bite a hole in the balloon, and it will sail down again," Nibbles told himself. It was nice sailing up there, he thought, so high and so dry as it was, and he did not want to come down just then. He did manage to take a peep through a crack in the bottom of the balloon basket, and then what he saw caused him to jump back in fright. He was floating over the sea, a great big blue sea every bit as blue as the sky above him, but how it roared and bounded onto its shores. It was a very angry sea. Nibbles certainly didn't want to fall into it. He wished now that he had heeded his mother's advice and had not been so curious. It would never do to try to bite a hole in the balloon now.

How cold it got all at once. "Oh, goodness me!" Nibbles gasped, for this time he was really frightened. His legs were becoming quite numb, and icicles started to form on his lips.

In another minute unless something happened he would be a frozen icicle himself. What could happen so high up there with nothing but blue sky above and blue angry sea below?

Next Game.
Tuesday—Hamilton at Varsity.

KITCHENER, Jan. 7. — Kitchener slipped over a surprise on the champion Granites in the game at the local auditorium tonight, beating them, 2 to 0. Granites were by far the heavier, and were supposed to have been in better shape than the locals, but the fact is that the Kitchener boys stood up to the gruelling better than their Toronto opponents, and Coach Carrol handled them well.

The ice was in wretched shape, having pools of water in many places, and in addition, at one end the ice wore away to the cement. As a result there were many spills and the game was a hard, close-checking affair. Granites drew the most penalties, but it must be admitted that the Kitchener team did surprisingly well and deserved their victory. Had it not been for the great work of young Forbes in goal the score would have been much greater. Previous to the commencement of the game the teams and officials were called to the centre of the ice and all the occupants of the rink were silent for a minute, during which prayer was offered for the recovery of Frank Trushinski, the Kitchener player who is so dangerously ill in St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto. Rickey Claims $300,000 Offer For R. Hornsby

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 7.—Another new record has been created in the history of baseball finance by the report from Houston, Texas, quoting Branch Rickey, manager of the St. Louis Nationals, as stating the club had received a bonafide offer of $300,000 and four players for Roger Hornsby, Cardinal second baseman and champion hitter of the National League. This figure more than doubles the reported purchase prices given by the New York Yankees for "Babe" Ruth in a deal which was conceded to put a record valuation on a player's services, and is just twice the size of the offer made by the New York Nationals for Hornsby early last season.

ROW OVER FORWARD PASS PUTS EAST AGAINST WEST

Haughton's Curb on Play Meets Opposition in Plenty.

BY HEK.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The football row is on. It has developed over the forward pass, and it is a case of East against the West. Percy Haughton, former Harvard coach, wants the rules committee to put a curb on the forward pass. This he desires accomplished through permitting the blocking of a forward pass behind the line of scrimmage just as a punt may be blocked. A pass blocked would create a free ball.

Discussion of this proposition arises wherever football men congregate, and the question no doubt will come before the rules committee in March, but we doubt if the suggestion will be adopted. The forward pass has done a great deal for football, and it is strange that there should be a reaction against it. Quite a number of men well known on the gridiron have supported Haughton, but most of the coaches are opposed to any change as regards the forward pass.

Yost Opposes Haughton.

"Hurry Up" Yost, coach at Michigan, is among those who are against the adoption of the Haughton idea. Yost says:

"It has been the tendency of football rule makers for several years to make the play as open as possible. The forward pass is the one big thing that does that, and to make the pass valuable the team using it must be protected. The way the pass is played today puts a premium on its skillful handling and encourages its use."

Yost thinks that to give the defending team an additional opportunity to take the ball would in a large measure discourage the offenders from putting it to use. This, he thinks, would set the game back all that had been gained in recent years, and we agree with him.

Another suggestion which has been advanced—and which has found strong support in the western conference—is to do away with the goal from touchdowns. Frank Cavanaugh, coach at Boston College, is one of the advocates of the elimination of this relic of the old days. The goal from touchdown serves no purpose but very often to beat the better team. It would not be missed.

Retain Forward Pass.

The forward pass is a most spectacular play and should be retained in the game. But the haphazard throwing about of the ball by a defeated team which has nothing to lose in the hope of getting one over should be made impossible. As this play stands, it is putting a premium on luck against skill, which is not a good sporting proposition.

I offer the following suggestion as a solution: Allow one forward pass after each first down. This would not interfere with the play as a threat, for the opponent never knows when it will be used. It automatically would make for a scientific development of the play. If completed for the necessary ten yards, the pass could be used again and again.

To my mind it would make for a much higher development of forward pass formations and would eliminate the haphazard throwing about of the ball. It would require that a team develop other parts of the offence to an equal standard with the pass. It would not complicate the play, would require no extra measuring and would retain the play in the game in the proportion it deserves. The number of passes used in a game would depend entirely on the team's ability to successfully execute it.

Hoppe Versatile.

Ever since Willie Hoppe scaled the heights of billiard prominence and proved that as a balkline player he is in a class by himself, among the players of this country, at any rate, there has been much interest in his all-around ability—that is, his ability to play three-cushions, the pocket game and, in fact, all of the different styles of cue play.

His complete mastery of the ivories led to the belief that he could excel at any style of play he elected to devote any time to. In a great measure this belief was substantiated recently when the balkline king took part in an exhibition team three-cushion match. Hoppe's team won the match, due chiefly to the excellent angle playing of Willie. He made a high run of seven, and that without having had any practice.

Excellent at Three Cushions.

Hoppe's friends believe that if he went after the three-cushion crown he would annex it and be crowned the billiard king in every style of play. At one time Alfredo de Oro, the Cuban wizard, challenged Hoppe to play a three-cushion contest, but the challenge came to naught. De Oro at that time was in his prime as an exponent of the difficult angle game.

"If Hoppe wanted to apply himself to three cushions I am convinced that he could hold his own against the most expert players in the country, and probably defeat them," said one of the champion's admirers today.

Kept Busy at Balkline.

Hoppe is so busy playing balkline billiards throughout the regular season that he has no chance to devote any of his time to any other style of play. For this reason he has refrained from taking part in many public exhibitions at three-cushions. He has, however, played the game in private for recreation and personal amusement. He has played it against Charley Peterson, the fancy shot maker, and Peterson says that Hoppe has made several substantial runs, several times exceeding the present record of 18 and once running 25.

Hoppe has also played pocket billiards for relaxation and to break the monotony of continual balkline practice. Recently he played pocket billiards in private and on his first turn at the table ran more than 30 balls before he missed. In this way Hoppe has proved to those who have had an opportunity to witness his work in private that he can play and play well any game played on a billiard table.

VARSITY 4, AURA LEE 2

TORONTO, Jan. 7.—Varsity defeated Aura Lee here tonight in a scheduled O. H. A. senior fixture, after one period of overtime had been played, by a 4 to 2 score. Aura Lee looked best in the first period, outscoring Varsity, 2 to 0. The students, however, recovered themselves and held Aura Lee scoreless during the remainder of the game, tallying twice themselves in the second period. Neither team scored in the third period. Sullivan, after four minutes of overtime play, broke the tie on a shot from outside the defence. He duplicated his effort three minutes later. Carson, Sullivan and Langtry were particularly effective for the winners, while Conacher and Burch appeared to best advantage for Aura Lee.

WESTERN ONTARIO HIGH SCHOOLS' TRACK TEAM WILL BE SENT TO JOHNS HOPKINS BALTIMORE INDOOR MEET

Trials Will Be Staged Here February 11, Under Auspices of Western University Athletic Association.

Secretary-Treasurer Mel Brock of the Western University Athletic Association has completed all the arrangements with the Johns Hopkins games committee of Baltimore, Md., whereby a team of five boys, chosen from among the high schools of Western Ontario, will battle with the pick of the high schols of the State of Maryland, in a four-mile relay race to be held on February 26, and circulars have gone out to the 63 high schools in this area, asking for entries for the trials to be held in the armories here on Friday evening, February 11. The boys will go to Baltimore at the expense of the Hopkins games committee, and while there will be entertained at the homes of the boys of the City College of Baltimore. Short trips to Washington and points of interest in the surrounding country have been arranged by the Baltimore people, so that the fortunate lads from Western Ontario will receive the trip of their lives.

The Canadian Club of London has agreed to furnish the running suits for the team. These will consist of white jerseys, with a red maple leaf, white running trunks trimmed with red, grey sweater coats with a red maple leaf, and indoor spike shoes. Great interest is being evinced among the various schools, and the trials on February 11 should bring forth some wonderful races.

THREE GOOD GAMES START GIRLS' CITY BASKETBALL LEAGUE OFF

Shamrocks, L. C. I., Crackerjacks and C. A. C. Are Winners — Mayor Little Officiated.

The Girl's City Basketball League opened its season last night at the East End Community Hall, and, after the opening ceremonial frills were whisked away, nearly 400 people saw the three contests that got the circuit away on its season of play.

Mayor Little and General Manager Buchanan of the public utilities were guests for the opening ceremonies of the league. Both made brief speeches, complimenting the girls on their organizing ability, and the spirit in which they undertook rather a big task. President Carrie Blackwell replied for the league, and thanked both for their help, and included City Treasurer Bell in her remarks. Mayor Little's trophy was displayed at centre, and the reverse was put on when the mayor was presented with flowers and a miniature basketball. The teams of the league, in uniform, ambushed his worship and Mr. Buchanan in the centre of a triangle drill, and in a rather "chorus" effect sang them what jolly good fellows they were.

Shamrocks No. 2, L. C. I., and C. A. C. were the winners last night.

The Shamrocks-Silverettes game was one-sided, but the losers gave a good account of themselves, and should come along with practice. The general result of the first three games was to show that the first six teams were evenly matched. All the games were well worth while, and if noisy plaudits are any indication of interest, then the Girls' League has a good solid hold, already. The scores were:

Shamrocks 24, Silverettes 2.
King Street Presbyterian 0, Crackerjacks 14.
C. A. C. 12, Smallman & Ingram 8.

MILITARY BASKET-BALL LEAGUE GETS AWAY WEDNESDAY

Has Six Teams In and Will Stage Games at the Armories.

At a meeting of the basketball enthusiasts in the various city regiments, held in the office of the 1st W. O. R., it was decided to organize a Garrison Basketball Association to play during the winter months. Representatives were present from the Hussars, Machine Gunners, R. C. R., Western University C. O. T. C., and the 1st W. O. R., and the following officers were elected:

Honorary President—Brig.-General H. A. Panet, C. M. G., D. S. O.; Lieut.-Col. C. C. Hill, D. S. O.

President—Lieut.-Col. W. G. Coles.

Vice-President—Lieut.-Col. H. Reason, D. S. O.

Secretary-Treasurer — Major Mel Brock.

Executive—Lieut.-Col. Eric Reid, D. S. O., Capt. E. Robinson, Major M. L. Maitland, Capt. R. Crouch, Lieut.-Col. R. J. Langford.

It was decided to play the games on Wednesday nights, commencing on Jan. 12, when the Machine Gunners meet the Hussars, at 8 o'clock, and the Western C. O. T. C. meet the 1st W. O. R. Arrangements are being made to make this a gala night at the armories. General Panet and his staff have kindly consented to act as patrons, and the men of the various units are taking a keen interest and will be out in force to cheer on their favorites.

As it is not the idea of the organization to make money, but rather to foster and develop the game, there will only be a nominal admission fee of 15 cents to cover the expenses of staging the games. Mr. Colin Duffield has been secured to referee, and as the new arrangements of the baskets will facilitate the seating, everyone is assured of a good view of the contests.

WOODSTOCK JUNIORS WANT NEW GROUP

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 7.—The management of the Woodstock junior hockey club would like to have the local juniors grouped with Paris, Brantford and Hamilton juniors, and have communicated with Secretary Hewitt as to the feasibility of the proposal. The local group has been left with only Tillsonburg and the locals, and it hardly satisfied the local fans.

The big difficulty at present would be to secure dates in the Hamilton arena. If the O. H. A. fails to consider the proposition, then the locals will ask for a double schedule with Tillsonburg, the remaining team in the old group.

HOPES CANADIAN GOVT. WILL KEEP HANDS OFF TRADE

Have Reached Deflation Point and Readjustment Period, Says Lloyd Harris To Canadian Club — Excess Profits Tax Reason For Deflation.

"We have now reached the deflation point and readjustment period," said Mr. Lloyd Harris of Brantford in opening his address to the members of the Canadian Club at their annual meeting in the Tecumseh House last night. There was a very large attendance and R. Greene, president, occupied the chair, being supported by Hume Cronyn, M.P., and George Reid, ex-president of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Lloyd Harris went to London, England, with Premier Borden just before the armistice on a mission having for its purpose the re-establishment of Canadian trade connections broken by the war. Canadian producers then flocked to London, hoping that the mission would do something for them, and were rewarded by a flood of contracts. But organized labor was insistent for higher prices, the cost of raw materials jumped and a slump came about the middle of last year through the curtailment of credit at the banks and the imposition of the luxury tax. The time for readjustment had therefore arrived. It was in this direction that the speaker's remarks were principally aimed.

Keep Hands Off.

"I hope," said Mr. Harris, "that one of the things that the Canadian Government will do from now on is to keep their hands off business and enact legislation that will give protection to all classes of society and encourage development." The reason for the inflation, which had now spent itself, was, he declared, the excess profits tax, and he hoped that in his next budget the finance minister would remove this handicap to our trade. "If I were leader of the Government," continued the speaker, "my platform would be outlined in the words of Lord Macaulay:"

His Platform.

"Our rulers will best promote the improvement of the nation by strictly confining themselves to their own legitimate duties, by leaving capital to find its most lucrative course, commodities their fair price, industry and intelligence their natural reward, idleness and folly their natural punishment, by maintaining peace, by defending property, by diminishing the price of law, and by observing strict economy in every department of the state. Let the Government do this; the people will assuredly do the rest."

If Canada were going to develop its export business she must study the requirements of each country. In this connection he suggested that the manufacturers should organize two tours; first, to the West Indies, where an enormous trade could be done, and, second, that a boat should be chartered to carry 250 on a tour to every other section of the British Empire. And by thus getting asquainted and exhibiting samples of their products, build up a trade connection much more effectively than sending out of travelers would do.

Bring Large Orders.

Mr. Lloyd Harris also referred to the great results obtained by the extension of credits to European countries, the total Canadian exports for the year, 1920, coming to $149,074,694, while the total credits used amounted to $34,241,529. For the year that the mission was over in Britain it brought to Canada orders to the amount of $250,000,000. "What impressed me most," Mr. Harris remarked, "was the boundless fields for Canadian trade within the British Empire."

Since his return to Canada, Mr. Harris had been invited to join the research council at Ottawa, the big job of which was to encourage and assist research in developing the natural resources of the country. "We are getting too many things from the United States that we should get in our own country," he said. "We are now annually using $120,000,000 worth of steel, for example, that ought to be produced in Canada, and it is the duty of every Canadian to buy everything possible in Canada in order to rectify the adverse rate of exchange."

Higher Standard.

In conclusion, Mr. Harris expressed the hope that in the year, 1921, Canada would attain a higher standard of citizenship, develop the national spirit, and enter into one of the most prosperous years in her history.

On the motion of Arthur White, seconded by S. Frank Glass, M.P., Mr. Harris was cordially thanked for his stirring and instructive address.

At the outset of the proceedings, Hume Cronyn, M.P., submitted the report of the nomination committee of the club, and R. Greene was unanimously re-elected president, and George F. Copeland, secretary.

A resolution of sympathy regarding the death of A. E. Miller, second vice-president of the club, was carried by a standing vote.

VENIZELIST OFFICERS ARE BEING RETIRED

Athens, Jan. 7.—Eighteen generals and more than 300 colonels were appointed to the Greek army today to replace adherents of former Premier Venizelos. In view of the movements in Thrace and Constantinople, doubts were entertained of the loyalty of the Venizelist officers, and it was decided to retire them on pay, their places being filled with men whose loyalty to King Constantine was beyond doubt. Demetrios Gounaris, the war minister, left Athens last night to inspect the forces in Thrace.

Raney Favors Probation Plan

Attorney-General Will Introduce Bill at Coming Session.

TORONTO, Jan. 7.—Attorney-General W. E. Raney intends to introduce a bill at the coming session of the Ontario Legislature, providing for the examination of a probation system by which a person convicted of an offence other than treason, homicide, rape, arson or kidnapping, may be granted probation if the ends of justice and the best interests of the public and the convicted person would be served thereby. Imposition or execution of sentence could be suspended and the convicted person placed in charge of a probation officer. A system of this kind is in vogue in the District of Columbia, United States, and this will form the basis of the bill to be introduced by Hon. Mr. Raney.

Burnham Threatens Mandamus Action—O'Connor in Fight?

PETERBORO, Ont., Jan. 7.—With reference to the threatened mandamus proceedings on behalf of J. H. Burnham, ex-M. P., to compel the Liberal-Conservative Association of West Peterboro, to call a convention to nominate a candidate for the federal by-election, G. W. Hatton, Mr. Burnham's legal adviser, has written to T. E. Bradburn, president of the Liberal-Conservative Association, expressed a hope that the desired convention will be called without recourse being had to mandamus proceedings.

The Liberals of the riding will meet early next week to consider the question as to whether they will nominate a candidate or not. There are four candidates in the field now.

W. F. O'Connor, formerly of the board of commerce, who arrived here yesterday, was still in town today. When asked yesterday if his presence here had any political significance, Mr. O'Connor replied "Maybe."

Today, upon the question being repeated, he amended this by saying, "Maybe has changed to likely."

After a seven-mile walk about this city, Mr. O'Connor had a conversation with J. H. Burnham, the old line Conservative candidate in the coming by-election in West Peterboro.

Mr. Glass was an expert in mining law and a financier. His wife predeceased him three years ago. Besides his sister, he is survived by one son, Gordon, and a married daughter, who is residing in Washington, D.C.

Mr. Glass received his early education here and graduated from Osgoode Hall. For some time he was in the law firm of his father, Hon. David Glass, Q.C. He went to New York 25 years ago.

MEASURE PHONE SAVES, IS CLAIM

Bell Counsel Contends That Measured Service Means Saving.

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—(By Canadian Press.)—Evidence seeking to show that the Bell Telephone Company was profiting to a great extent by its relations with the Northern Electric Company under which the latter acted as purchasing agent for the Bell company, and also to show that in Halifax, where measured service has been made effective there was a substantial saving to the telephone user, was adduced by counsel for the Bell company at today's sessions of the Dominion Railway Commission.

The hearing adjourned at 4:30 this evening until 10 o'clock on Monday morning, when further witnesses for the Bell company will be called.

A host of telephone experts and legal luminaries are taking part in the case, and it is not expected at present that there will be any sign of a conclusion before about Thursday of next week.

Contract Auditor.

E. V. Cox, supply contract auditor of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, who was on the stand this afternoon, testified that the contract between the Bell Telephone Company and the Northern Electric Company was very advantageous to the former.

As to the probable trend of telephone prices, Mr. Cox thought there would be no great decline in the near future. Raw commodity prices were returning to normal, but the special items required in telephone construction were not decreasing. Raw material cost was only 30 per cent of telephone equipment prices.

Sees No Drop.

The witness saw no possibility of labor costs falling as far as telephone work was concerned. Highly technical men were required in telephone equipment manufacture, and the witness was confident there would be no decrease. The highly skilled labor needed was hard to secure.

Mr. Cox read a letter from a firm of telephone equipment manufacturers, stating that telephone prices would not be lowered in the next four or five years. Labor costs were not coming down, though labor was showing a tendency to become more settled and more efficient.

Witness thought the Bell company could not economically purchase supplies and equipment except through one central buying plant.

AMBIGUITY CAUSES MISUNDERSTANDING

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—Owing to a striking ambiguity in the freight and passenger rates judgment delivered by Hon. F. B. Carvell, chairman of the railway commission, in September last, there has arisen considerable misunderstanding as to the nature of the decrease which became effective with the new year. The judgment reads as follows:

"Until the 31st day of December, 1920, I would give a general increase of 40 per cent in eastern freight rates, and 35 per cent in western freight rates, with 20 per cent both east and west in the passenger fares, 50 per cent in sleeping and parlor car rates, and 20 per cent on excess baggage. Commencing the first day of January, 1921, and until there is another revision of rates, I would reduce these percentages on freight to 35 per cent in eastern territory, and to 30 per cent in western territory, with 10 per cent reduction in passenger fares, up to the first of July next, when passenger rates should come back to the basis in effect prior to the coming into force of this judgment, but continuing the full increases in parlor and sleeping car rates and excess baggage."

With regard to the freight rates the judgment is clear. The increases are simply reduced. The words: "With 10 per cent reduction in passenger fares," however, are not so clear. Supposing, for instance, the rate prior to the increase had been 100. A 20 per cent increase on that would bring it to 120, and a "10 per cent reduction" on that fare would be 12. That, however, is not the intention of the judgment. What Mr. Carvell declares he intended to say was that the increase in passenger rates should be cut in half, and should now be a 30 per cent, instead of 20 per cent. Instead of a reduction of 12, it is a reduction of 10, on the 100.

AFRAID TO GO TO TOWN, SHE SAYS

London Woman Had Sudden Attacks of Dizziness—Tanlac Ends Troubles.

"I now enjoy my meals for the first time in ten years, and never sit down to the table without feeling grateful to Tanlac," said Mrs. Annie Wingate of 443 Ridout street, London, Ontario. "For ten years I had no appetite at all scarcely and what little I did eat would cause gas to form, which gave me palpitation of the heart, nausea and awful spells of dizziness. Any acid foods, especially gave me no end of trouble. I was extremely nervous and could not sleep at night.

"I was so subject to attacks of dizziness I hardly ever ventured downtown without someone with me, for fear one of these attacks would come on me suddenly in the street. At times I had such violent attacks of palpitation of the heart I thought my time had come.

"But I got Tanlac and it was a happy decision, for the medicine proved just what I needed. I was not half through the first bottle before I was feeling a great deal better, so when I finished that bottle I got another and my appetite now is excellent. I sleep fine at night, and am built up in every way; in fact, all my troubles have disappeared. Why, I can eat bananas or any kind of fruits now, and nothing ever hurts me. Tanlac is simply grand."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

Strengthen Your Business "Morale"

Soldiers know what it means when an army's "morale" is shattered.

The fighting spirit is gone, the men invite defeat.

What is true of military forces is true of some industrial armies.

At the first serious jolt their morale weakens—hope flies, courage disappears—their fighting spirit is lost.

There is no place in business today for the "calamity howler." He is drawing salary or wages under false pretences. More distressing still, he is weakening the "morale" of other workers, and of the business itself.

Strengthen your business morale.

Take stock of your men as well as your goods. Retain enthusiastic, profitable workers even at a temporary loss.

What the Press Agents Say About the Shows

AT THE GRAND

As fine a company of players as those associated with Clifford Devereux for the presentation of the classic English comedies has been rarely seen on the Grand stage. The entire cast is superb, each and every member of the big cast, from Mr. Devereaux himself and his charming leading lady, Miss Zinita Graf, down to players of the humblest parts is a finished artist, and their offerings this week have indeed warranted the support of every London theatre-goer. Last night witnessed one of the most weird productions that has been seen on the Grand stage in many seasons. Ibsen's "Ghosts," which, because of its nature theme, was for many years barred from the stage. A delighted audience last night enjoyed it, keenly, and the bill today, "The Lady of Lyons," should play to large audiences at each performance.

MARGARET LOOMIS IS LEADING WOMAN IN NEW WASHBURN FILM—POPULAR SCREEN ACTRESS HAS SPLENDID ROLE IN "WHAT HAPPENED TO JONES."

Margaret Loomis, one of the most popular leading women on the screen, plays opposite Bryant Washburn in "What Happened to Jones," the Paramount-Artcraft comedy-drama, which will be shown at the Grand Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The play was adapted from the famous George Broadhurst comedy success which convulsed Broadway for months.

Miss Loomis came to the screen after great success as a leading dancer with Ruth St. Denis. She has appeared since leaving the vaudeville stage in many Paramount Artcraft productions. "Modesty" in "Everywoman," and the feminine lead in "The Sins of St. Anthony" are her offerings of recent months. Her success was instantaneous. She is pretty and has a fascinating personality that "gets across" in a wonderful manner. Manager Minhinnick is glad of the opportunity to again present Miss Loomis to his patrons.

"What Happened to Jones," an uproarious farce of bootlegging and reform in a dry town, was directed by James Cruze. The scenario was written by Elmer Harris. The supporting cast includes J. Maurice Foster, Frank Jonasson, Lillian Leighton, Caroline Rankin and Richard Cummings.

Big Special Added Attraction.

See yourself in the movies. If you have a desire to appear on the screen, Manager Minhinnick will give you an opportunity to appear in the big 1,000-foot comedy which will be taken on the streets of London and the interiors on the Grand stage. Local aspirants for the "silver sheet" desirous of appearing in the big company, can do so by making application by letter, inclosing snap or photo. The whole movie outfit, including the big studio arc lights, will be seen in action on the Grand stage. The finished picture will be screened at the Grand the following week, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, January 17, 18 and 19.

Other Added Film Features.

Pathe Topics of the Day, Fox News, with scenes of the burning of Cork, and the ice races at Dufferin Park, Toronto, are among the news features on this special Fox Weekly. A funny Snub Pollard comedy, "Park Your Car," completes the big bill for the first three days of next week.

"BABES IN THE WOOD" AT THE GRAND.

The master effort of E. Stuart Whyte in his pantomine, "Babes in the Wood," will play a special return engagement next Thursday evening at the Grand, one night only. Other years have had these English productions under his supervision, and they have all been popular, but this year the acme of gorgeousness is presented. A dozen magnificent scenes painted and costumed by artists of renown comprise the stage pictures, while forty people take part in the entertainment. The dancing this year is under the direct supervision of Mme. Jean Van Vlissingen, who possesses the unique distinction of being the tutor of Isadore Duncan, and with her are Audrey Burnham, Arline Goldsby, Elsie Spielman, and Gloria Thompson, sprightly little queens of terpsichore. Wee Dorothy Mackay is the dainty leading lady, and six famous funmakers, headed by George H. Summers, will furnish the laughs which interlace the musical and dancing features. Little Gloria Thompson will play "Cupid," and all through the story creates the love interest with charming grace and appeal. The music is by the well-known composers, B. C. Hilliam, Pierre Bayard and Clive Hamilton, who were responsible for the tuneful setting of "Little Red Riding Hood" and "Cinderella." Those who enjoy the pantomine this year will agree that Mr. Whyte has spent his time and his $30,000 to some purpose. Seats go on sale Monday morning next at 9 a.m.

FISKE O'HARA HERE NEXT FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

Fiske O'Hara's annual local appearance takes place at the Grand Friday and Saturday next under the direction of Augustus Pitou, Inc. Not in many seasons has such an absolute novelty been offered to the playgoing public as "Springtime in Mayo," the fascinating romantic comedy in three acts, in which Mr. O'Hara appears this season. It was written by Anna Nichols Duffy and, as a matter of fact, has more genuine enjoyment than is to be found in half a dozen plays of its class which it distinctly distances in point of real merit. This sterling comedy marks a new era in the history of the stage. It follows none of the old methods of speech or action and enjoys the unique distinction of never having received a single adverse criticism. In "Springtime in Mayo," Mr. O'Hara makes a definite characterization of a true gentleman, a part which will certainly add to his popularity, and his fine tenor voice will again be a distinct feature of his performance with melodies that will always be remembered. Seats Tuesday at 9 a.m.

TORONTO GIRL, IN "SPRINGTIME IN MAYO" CAST, AT THE GRAND NEXT FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

Patricia Clary is a Canadian by birth, Toronto claiming her as all its own. She first courted the attention of an audience at the Grand Opera House, in her native city, when only two years old, a child in arms, in "The Romany Rye." At the age of five she joined the Dan McCarthy company in "The Pride of Mayo," playing a child's part, and remaining with the organization five years. At this time a signal honor was paid the little actress. She appeared with Sarah Bernhardt in two performances of "Gismonda" at the Grand Opera House, Toronto, and a brilliant future was prophesied for her by the Diva. Next she joined the Ralph Cummings Stock Company, in Toronto, one of the famous organizations of the time, still doing child's parts, continuing in that capacity for three seasons. Later, when the company went on tour and the temperamental leading woman suddenly left, the leads were intrusted to Miss Clary. She was then only thirteen years of age. That the management made no mistake in doing so is evidenced by the success the young actress achieved in plays like "The Two Orphans" and "Pink Dominos." The next three years were spent in study, and at the end of that period she graduated with the highest honors from St. Patrick's School for Girls, Toronto. While at school she won the approbation of her teachers for the cleverness in playing the various roles in the dramas given in the famous institution for learning. At sixteen years of age she resumed her stage career, in New York, appearing in the Weber & Fields successes. Then she deserted musical comedy and played for two seasons on tour in "Arizona," first as Lena, and then as Bonita, and this was followed by three seasons as Madge in "In Old Kentucky." This is her sixth season as leading woman for Fiske O'Hara.

AT ALLEN'S

BOYS, DON'T FORGET THE ALLEN PRIZE ON MONDAY.

To the boy who can make up to look most like Wesley Barry as he is seen as Freckles Dinty in the great picture playing at the Allen, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the Allen management will present a handsome prize. Don't forget, you fellows! Here's a chance to have a lot of fun and win something besides.

ZANE GREY'S GREAT STORY OF "THE OLD WEST," "DESERT GOLD," COMES TO ALLEN.

Presented at the Allen next Friday and Saturday will be a picturization of Zane Grey's famous story of the old west "Desert Gold." The days when Indians were bad, and cowboys were the real soldiers of fortune we picture them in our imaginations—those are the days of which Zane Grey has written, and he has given us many a thrill, many a laugh, and a few moments of pathos, in this wonderfully picturesque romance of the days of old. In the cast are such stars as E. K. Lincoln, Edwin Perey, and a number of others. "Desert Gold" will be one of the most beautifully set pictures ever produced, for all the outside scenes were taken in and near the famous Yellowstone Park, America's wonderland.

WESLEY (FRECKLES) BARRY AS "DINTY" WHOOPS AWAY LIKE A STREAK O' LIGHTNING IN THE SWIFTEST SET OF LAUGH-THRILLS YOU EVER SAW, AT THE ALLEN MONDAY.

Marshall Neilan's newest is "Dinty," and by advance reports it is even greater than his other and former thriller, "Go and Get It." Playing the leading role in "Dinty" is famous young Wesley (Freckles) Barry, and he heads a cast that looks like a gala day pageant. There's Marjorie Daw, Pat O'Malley, Colleen Moore, T. Barney Sherry, Noah Beery, and a dozen others that come in with a whoop. "Dinty" is to be shown at the Allen Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and it is a regular streak of lightning, six crashing reels of mystery, drama, romance, laughter and thrills.

Run for your life, he told them. The Chinks have got the girl strapped to the table under the swinging Dragon Knife, which swings closer, inch by inch, nearer her throat, and Dinty led the police down into the heart of San Francisco's Chinatown, down where the police had feared to go, to rescue the sweetheart of his benefactor. The door crashed in splinters before the rush, and, batoning, hitting, piling on the Tongmen, came the police. But where is Dinty? Dinty and his two pals, one a coal-black negro boy, and the other a half-caste Chinese lad? They had started a Tong war among the hatched men of the underworld, and lifted the lid off a real life romance. They had started a clean-up of the Chinese smuggling gangs. Alone they had found the girl and sped on and on to greater adventures leaving a trail of mystery, drama and thrills that will take you right out of your seat as you whirl in the case with Dinty. A picture for the entire family, there's no one who will not cheer this great laugh-thriller and its gigantic, whizzing sweep of action.

Among the many extra attractions will be a special Christie Follies comedy, Chester outing pictures, Allen Canadian News, and overture, "Light Cavalry," by Allen's famous concert orchestra, under the direction of Maurice Poure.

OTIS SKINNER IN VAST MILLION-DOLLAR ADAPTATION OF "KISMET," THE BIGGEST EVENT OF THE YEAR.

They came, they saw, and they went away, proclaiming "Kismet" to be a miracle of the theatre's art. A beauty and brilliancy beyond words, a stupendous film spectacle, massive in settings, perfect in detail, with an all-pervading grandeur which belittles description. The harem scene, with its floor of wonderful and massive mirrors, laid in intricate mosaic designs; the Persian palace, built upon the plans of a new palace now building for an Arab millionaire; famous Oriental dancers, who number among the greatest in America; costumes and clothes that have never before been seen outside the palaces of a sultan. Greater than the play, which was such a phenomeral success, a story such as the dreams of old Omar, brimfull of color, drama, comedy, adventures, intrigues, fights, lovemaking, bewilderment and suspense. There has never been a picture of a play which can compare in any way with "Kismet." Artists, dressmakers and players were brought from all over America to work on it, and the production encompasses an entire city facsimile of old Bagdad, covering many acres of ground built especially for this picture. Thousands of actors, dancers, negroes, camels, horses, donkeys and fabulous fortunes in rugs, antiques, jewelry, etc., were bought especially for it.

When "Kismet" is showing at the Allen the management have arranged for a spectacular and beautiful prologue of Hindustana dances, to be presented by one of the country's most celebrated Oriental dancers, and a specially written musical score accompanies the attraction. The opening date for this event is January 17

AT LOEW'S

"SINS OF ROSANNE," NEW ETHEL CLAYTON PICTURE' IS COMING—PRETTY STAR IN MYSTERY-ROMANCE OF SOUTH AFRICA, ADAPTED FROM NOVEL.

Ethel Clayton's latest Paramount photoplay, "Sins of Rosanne," which will be seen at Loew's Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, has a South African setting. It was adapted from a novel by Cynthia Stockley.

The story centres around Rosanne, a beautiful young woman who lives with her parents near the Kimberley diamond mines. From a Malay native, who saved Rosanne's life when she was an infant, she has received a mad craving for bright stones and the power to curse with misfortunes those who meet her displeasure. Her desire for jewels leads her into a scheme to smuggle them from the Kimberley mines. It is the man she loves, Sir Denis Harlenden, who finally gets on the track of the smugglers, and, after exciting adventures, Rosanne is proven innocent.

The cast supporting Miss Clayton is an unusually competent one, including Jack Holt, Fred Malatesta and C. H. Geldart. Tom Forman, who has played important roles in many Paramount pictures, directed "Sins of Rosanne." Mary H. O'Connor adapted the story to the screen.

BUSTER KEATON IN "THE SCARECROW."

From a weirdly marvelous, rural bachelor apartment down to the erratic robes of a hermit of the fields, Buster Keaton, the sober faced comedian of the silver sheet, slapsticks his way through two reels of flippant fun in "The Scarecrow," his latest smile reel which comes to Loew's Theatre next Monday. As in his previous side-splitters, "One Week," and "Convict 13," the wearer of the comical mantle of Fatty Arbuckle keeps the wealth of humor in "The Scarecrow" revolving at high speed. The comedy itself bears that stamp of artistic slapstick which marks all the Buster Keaton smile reels. Through the whizzing atmosphere of jazzing bachelor life in a trick apartment, where every modern convenience is double-faced and nothing is what it seems, to the final amusing and salubrious windup, Buster Keaton is shown in his best mirth getting style. "The Scarecrow" is replete with new features and gives Buster Keaton plenty of chance to put the blackbirds of slapstick to flight in his bounding career of whizzbang love, while his contortions as an unnatural fakir furnish a continual scream.

"MUTINY OF ELSINORE" GIVES THRILL OF SEA.

A thrilling picture of life on a sailing vessel bound on a voyage round the Horn will be shown at Loew's Theatre next Thursday, when "The Mutiny of the Elsinore," the new Metro special production with an all-star cast, begins its engagement at Loew's for a run of three days.

The picture may best be described as one which will make your hair raise, for it develops all of the power inherent in the source itself, that of Jack London's stirring story of a conflict between strong men of the sea. More than this, however, the picture presents an arresting portrayal of life on a sailing ship, where the mutiny of the gangster crew, who have been recruited from the dives of 'Frisco, is put down by the iron hand of John Pike, the sailing vessel's first mate.

The story of "The Mutiny of the Elsinore" concerns the machinations of Andreas Mellaire, second mate of the vessel, in his villainous desire to possess Margaret West, the beautiful daughter of the ship's half-owner. Thwarted in his desire, Hellaire incites the thugs and gunmen who compose the crew to mutiny, which is finally put down by the iron hand of John Pike.

MAJESTIC

PAUL ARMSTRONG'S STIRRING CROOK PLAY, PRESENTED BY THE MAJESTIC PLAYERS TWICE TODAY.

Chuck full of tense dramatic action, replete with clever comedy and sufficient thrills to suit the most fastidious playgoer, makes for "The Deep Purple," Paul Armstrong's thrilling tale of the New York underworld, one of the most enjoyable productions of the current season at the popular Majestic. Miss Edna Marshall, this week is given a rare opportunity to display her capable talents and in the role of Frisco Kate, she excels any previous effort seen since the introduction of stock to London. Her line of "slang" and her artistic protrayal of a "crook" gone straight, adds much to the enjoyment of the piece. Miss Pates, as the innocent young girl who is snared into the hands of a band gang of crooks, adds to her already enviable reputation with Majestic patrons. George V. Dill has a clever role and makes the best of it. James Swift, as the "pious" old crook, is a scream, and his work evokes a big share of the applause. The bill will be presented today at 2:15 and this evening at 8:15 p.m.

"HELP WANTED," A COMEDY PLAY, WILL BE NEXT WEEK'S OFFERING OF THE MAJESTIC PLAYERS.

Next week's bill at the Majestic will provide a comedy bill that should eclipse any previous offering in the matter of mirth and hilarity. The title of this rollicksome play is "Help Wanted," and concerns the trials and tribulations of a tired, modern businessman with his "hired help." The difficulties he meets in securing suitable applicants to fill his important posts in the big office, and the efforts of the "staff" to make good, form the basis of all the merrymaking, and as the "boss" has a kindly feeling for the pretty little "stenogs" in their "vampirish" makeups, the fun is fast and furious. He hires no less than seventeen "stenos" in about the same number of minutes, and fires them just as fast. William A. Grew, the popular director of the company, will have the stellar role of the "boss" and will occupy the "limelight" throughout the play. Some new faces will be seen in the cast, and next week's bill should again play a record week. There will be the two popular matinees on Wednesday and Saturday, with the usual Monday night performance with two seats for the price of one.

Pratt Only Major To Bat In Seven Runs One Game

Del. Did It Against Detroit, and Bill Morrissette Was One of Opposition.

[BY ERNEST J. LANIGAN.]

Derrill Bradford Pratt, who will either play second for the Boston Red Sox or coach for the University of Michigan squad this year, was the one major leaguer of 1920 to bat in seven runs in one game. Derrill did this against the Tigers on August 23, when the Yankees won on the basis of 10 to 0. He then wrenched loose a home run, a t—agger and two singles from the Detroit moundsmen — Hub Leonard, John Oldham and Bill Morrisette—rioting with the bat in the following manner.

Pratt Against the Tigers—August 23.

First inning, Leonard pitching—Hit home run into left field stand, with Pipp and Ruth on the bases. Three runs batted in.

Third inning, Leonard pitching—Doubled and scored Pipp. One run batted in.

Sixth inning, Oldham pitching—Singled and scored Ruth and Mays. Two runs batted in.

Eighth inning, Morrisette pitching—Singled and scored Pipp. One run batted in.

Pratt scored two runs in this game, batting himself home on his four-bagger in the opening chapter, and being furnished passage to the plate on Bodie's sacrifice fly in the fifth, so he was mixed up in eight-tenths of the tallies—quite a good afternoon's work.

The limit of runs batted in by a player in a National League game was six, with a pair of Georges—George Lange Kelly of the Giants and George Henry Paskert of the Cubs—acting in this manner. The Easterner starred with the slapstick on July 10, in a contest with Chicago that New York won by a score of 8 to 5; the Westerner was a headliner on September 14 in an engagement with Brooklyn that resulted in a 10-to-2 victory for Paskert's team. The dope on the two performances.

Kelly Against the Cubs—July 10.

First inning, Martin pitching—Tripled and scored three men.

Second inning, Carter pitching—Singled and scored two men.

Fourth inning, Carter pitching—Homered and scored himself.

Paskert Against the Superbas, Sept. 14.

First inning, Cadore pitching—Doubled and scored two men.

Seventh inning, Mitchell pitching—Singled and scored two men.

Ninth inning, Miljus pitching—Homered and scored himself and another man.

Ping Got Six.

Another major leaguer of 1920 who batted in half a dozen counters in one fray was Ping Bodie of the Yanks. He did this in a game against his old team, the White Sox, on July 18, cleaning the three bases with a homer off Claude Williams in the pry-off period and singling in two runs later before the left-hander was relieved by George Payne, northpaw. Looks as if Ping could hit southpaw pitching.

The feat of batting in five runs in one game was accomplished seventeen times in the American and twelve times in the National, Babe Ruth laying claim to one of these performances.

The Battering Babe knocked in four home runs in each of four games, but he was not alone in doing this, Derrill Pratt and Oscar Felsch also turning the trick.

Of games in which players batted in from four to seven runs, Ruth figured in five and so did George Kelly, Pratt, Felsch and Bill Jacobson. The men with four performances of this kind to their credit were Bodie and Joe Jackson, and the men with three were Shano Collins, who has just had an eating club named after him in his home town of Pittsfield, Mass.; George Paskert, Dave Robertson and Roger Hornsby.

Two pitchers—Hod Eller of the Reds and Leon Cadore of the Superbas—will be found among the major leaguers of 1920 who batted in from four to seven runs in games, said major leaguers being listed below:

Batted in seven runs in one game.—American, 1—Derrill Pratt.

Batted in six runs in one game.—National, 2—George Kelly and George Paskert; American, 1—Frank Bodie.

Batted in five runs in one game—American, 17—Frank Bodie, Bill Jacobson and Kenneth Williams, 2; John Collins, Oscar Felsch, Joe Jackson, Robert Meusel, Mike McNally, Walter Pipp, Bob Roth, Babe Ruth, Swede Risberg, Robert Veach and Aaron Ward, 1. National, 11—George Kelly, 2; George Burns, Frank Frisch, Jacques Fournier, Lee King, Emil Meusel, Hi Myers, Austin McHenry, Dave Robertson and Zach Wheat, 1.

Batted in four runs in one game.—American, 35.—Oscar Felsch, Derrill Pratt and Babe Ruth, 4; Joe Jackson and Bill Jacobson, 3; John Collins, Joe Dugan, John Tobin and Frank Welsh, 2; Frank Bodie, Eddie Collins, Mike McNally, Swede Risberg, Ray Schalk, George Sisler, Carl Wellman, Lawton Wit, and Aaron Ward, 1. National, 27—Rogers Hornsby, 3; Pat Duncan, Arthur Fletcher, George Kelly, George Paskert and Dave Robertson, 2; Leon Cadore, Vernon Clemons, Harold Elliott, Hod Eller, Jacques Fournier, Walter Holke, Pete Kilduff, Benny Kauff, John Lavan, Hi Myers, Ed. Roush, Milton Stock, Walter Tragesser and Geo. Whitted, 1.

ONTARIO ATHLETIC COMMISH. TRAINS THE YOUNG IDEA

Have Comprehensive Program For All Sport of Province.

Toronto, Jan. 7.—The Ontario Athletic Commission, at a meeting today, went into the question which they have had under consideration for some time—the preparing and issuing of a handbook of athletics for public and high school boys. It was decided to delve further and deeper into the matter which is really an ambitious project, and which will cost a good deal of money, but with the object in view of supplying a real text book for the younger athletes, it was considered a matter well worth while going the limit for. The intention is to evolve a compact little book that will tell the youth of the province all that is worth knowing about athletics, track and field.

The new and distinctive feature for this pamphlet is a series of pictures posed for by the outstanding athletes in Canada, and showing how things should be done, and covering every item on an Olympic program of athletics.

The aim is to start boys right; to teach them the most up-to-date and effective methods as shown in the Olympic games of last year at Antwerp, and to give teachers and coaches a line on modern athletic methods as evolved by the best masters in the world.

The work will be gone on with at once, and with the material in the schools ready for development the result should be most gratifying by the time the next Olympics come around.

It is the intention to pay particular attention to the school boys in the rural and smaller town centres. The larger cities are not too badly off.

The question of filming athletic performances by experts for educational purposes is also under consideration.

The meeting decided to send Acting Chairman P. J. Mulqueen to New York January 10, 11 and 12, to attend a meeting of the various state boxing commissions, with a view to entering into a working agreement, and probably an affiliation from this country once the other Canadian provinces in line with the commissions after Ontario's example.

The question of appointing local representatives in several large centres throughout the province was laid over because of the lack of power to delegate authority.

Henceforth the commission will insist on bonds to cover the purses of all boxing shows, and the use of licensed referees. Managers are required to file at once with the commission their contracts or agreements with the boxers or wrestlers under their charge.

BRITISH CLAIM PETE HERMAN STILL CHAMP.

Say Only by K. O. Could the American Lose Title.

London, Jan. 7.—Pete Herman, former world's bantamweight champion, and "Battling" Levinsky, the former light heavyweight champion, who are matched, respectively, to meet Jimmy Wilde and Bombardier Wells at Albert Hall, London, January 13, are in training at Thames Ditton, a London suburb, where English boxing enthusiasts daily watch them in their workouts.

Notwithstanding the recent decision obtained by Joe Lynch over Herman in New York, Herman is being acclaimed here as the world's bantamweight champion. Herman and the English promoters are maintaining that only by a knockout could Herman have lost his title; that a fifteen-round contest to a decision has no bearing on Herman's status, and that if Wilde wins here he will be the world's champion. The promoters of the bouts base their views on rules drawn up at the Paris conference in 1919 of world boxing experts, at which the United States was not represented, and upon which, the English promoters state, there is a general understanding that bouts should be for at least twenty rounds.

CRUDE OIL PRICE REDUCED.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 8.—The price of Pennsylvania crude oil, on which is based the price of other crude oils in the United States, was today cut from $6.10 a barrel to $5.75 a barrel. This is the first reduction in crude oil for a number of years, and is brought about, the principal purchasing agencies said, by a decreasing demand.

MONEY.

London, Jan. 8.—Bar silver, 40 7-8 per ounce. Bar gold, 113s. 3d. Money, 5 per cent. Discount rates—Short bills, 6 1-8 per cent; three months bills, 6 5-8 per cent. Gold premium at Lisbon, 140.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

New York, Jan. 8.—(Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.).—Oils, steels and equipments represented the firm to strong issues at the hesitant opening of today's stock market. Royal Dutch, Crucible Steel and American Locomotive registered gains of 1 to 2 points. Many department stores, industrial alcohol, corn products, and American Hide and Leather, preferred, also improved fractionally, with rails of the Pacific division. Within the first half hour, however, the list sustained a general setback, due mainly to recurrent weakness in Atlantic Gulf. That stock opened at a decline of 1½ points, which soon was extended to 5 points. Mexican Petroleum also was subjected to further pressure.

ASKS FOR MORE MEN.

Windsor, Jan. 7.— Chief Daniel Thompson asked for the appointment of five new officers at the first meeting of the police commission for 1921 this afternoon. He pointed out that a new plainclothesman was badly needed, that a new sergeant would have to be appointed, and that three additional constables were necessary. He reported that he had discharged one constable, and that another had resigned.

"Burglaries are common," said the chief, "and if I am to police the city properly I must have at least five additional men."

PLANNING PROTECTION.

Chatham, Jan. 7.—A suggestion has been made by J. D. Ellwood, president of the Maple City Club, and a member of the industrial relations committee of the Chamber of Commerce, that a census be taken of the labor men in Chatham in order to protect them from labor coming in from outside places and taking their positions.

WALL STREET REVIEW.

New York, Jan. 8.—The first week of the new year was characterized by a marked increase of activity at higher prices for stocks and bonds, although the credit situation continued somewhat strained and the reinvestment demanded was comparatively light.

Sentiment among traders and the professional element was more hopeful, but due account was taken of the important changes still in progress in the commodity markets and in general lines of trade and industry.

Gains in the stock list were most substantial among the speculative issues comprising the industrial and special varities, this same condition applying to the bond market, in which convertible rails developed pronounced strength.

Release of January interest and dividend payments was without effect upon the money market, call loans holding firm at 7 per cent, while time accommodations were meagre, apart from moderate purchases of commercial paper.

There was an almost sensational advance in the leading foreign exchange remittances especially sterling rates, but much of this advantage was soon cancelled. Bankers are conferring regarding credit extensions and new loans to Europe and South America, but the outcome is said to be contingent upon a partial readjustment of present unsettled economic conditions.

ALLEGED MOONSHINER FACES FOUR CHARGES

Whiskey-Making Equipment Is Brought Into Court at Brantford.

Brantford, Jan. 7.—Four charges will be made against George Lubrick, the Austrian moonshiner, who was remanded for hearing when he appeared in police court today. Two boxes of raisins, a quantity of cider and whiskey-making equipment were brought to the court. Lubrick, it is alleged, had liquor on the Indian reserve had the stuff for sale, was making it illegally, and was unlawfully wearing a British army uniform. Local foreigners arrested say that the moonshine has a kick and is tasty.

John Sardinski, leader of a gang of rowdies who have been entering local theatres, appeared in court on a charge of beating up a theatre usher. Sardinski tore the usher's uniform badly, and hit him on the head with a piece of iron. He was remanded.

TO OPEN SANATORIUM.

Kitchener, Jan. 7.—It was announced today that Lieut.-Gov. Louis Clarke had been invited to officially open the Freeport Sanatorium. The opening will take place some day during the week of January 17. Gov. Clarke will decide the date.

WORK ALL YEAR WOULD KEEP MEN ON THE FARMS

Small Cottages For Married Hired Men Would Solve Help Shortage.

The problem of keeping men on the farm is largely one of making the men happy and contented with their lot, and this again is a question of paying them adequate wages.

"This is the crux of the whole situation," said an employment bureau official Friday. "There are lots of men willing to go on farms, but at this season of the year farmers can not or will not offer inducement sufficient to tempt men from the cities.

"Good board and a small wage until the springtime is the usual offer, but this is not tangible enough to draw men from the lure of the comparatively large figures paid in factories, and even when such city work is not immediately forthcoming the unemployed prefer to hang on for a while rather than do chores around farms in the winter season.

Such institutions as the Government Employment Bureau put farmers in touch with men in search of work, but in many cases no agreement is come to, for the reasons already given. What is required is more system in the dealings between employer or employed. A definite contract for all the year round would do much to solve the situation. Married men, especially, are afraid to take chances these days, but if the system of providing cottages for married men and their families, which prevails in Britain, was adopted by Canadian agriculturists a great advance would be made.

Such men want real homes of their own, and the place for such homes is where the work is located. In this prospective farm helpers are merely seeking what their city brethren enjoy as a matter of course.

On the other hand, farming in Canada has not reached a stage which has taken hundreds of years to reach in the old land, but the fact remains that higher wages and adequate provision for the families of married farm hands would clear the way for more satisfactory conditions.

BRYANT WASHBURN in "WHAT HAPPENED TO JONES" A PARAMOUNT ARTCRAFT PICTURE

BRYANT WASHBURN who will feature the Grand next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in "What Happened to Jones." A Paramount picture. On the same bill will be featured that big vaudeville sensation: "Making Moving Pictures on The Grand Stage" with a cast of local stars.

At The Theaters

AT THE GRAND.

Whether the world has outgrown Henrik Ibsen and his dreary dramas, or whether there was too short notice of the performance to allow all the unorthodox and radical among London playgoers to arrange to attend, the regrettable fact stands out that one of the smallest audience of the season attended a really magnificent presentation of "Ghosts" by Clifford Devereux and company at the Grand last night. The few who did attend, applauded generously and sincerely some of the finest pathological acting on the part of Zinita Graf, as Mrs. Alving, that has ever been portrayed on a London stage. At times the dramatic intensity and fervor of her art was oppressively realistic, while the work of Mr. Devereux as Oswald Alving, the paretic son, approximated to uncanny excellence just before the final curtain.

Whatever one may think of Ibsen, the father of modern sex plays, one must admit that he had dramatic ability and used it to draw attention to glaring social evils, even if he was not radical or advanced enough to suggest real remedies. Isben concentrated too closely upon the evil to see the way out. Too deeply immersed in the poisonous fumes of the social miasma, he often ends his plays in the same dismal swamp where he begins them. But had there never been an Ibsen, the chances are there would never have been a Brieux, nor any other one of the Neo-Nietzchean school, who, decrying Ibsen as a morbid old woman, yet were wise enough to build upon the ground he had at least cleared of rubbish. Strindberg, Sudermann, Hauptman, Shaw and many others all come after Ibsen.

The handful of people who applauded in the Grand last night may not all have struggled through the crowds to see all-week presentations at another local theatre of at least three photoplays, all depicting the evils of sexual dissipation and the dangers of venereal diseases, but they, probably, know at least that Ibsen, whether for better or for worse, started the whole crusade before the cinema was invented.

One could not ask for a better interpretation of Regina than that given by Winifred Day. Both in the first two acts, where finesse and sympathy are both needed to portray the part well, and in the last act, where Regina, refusing to profit by the experience of others, goes out into the world to have her fling in turn, Miss Day's work is marked by ease and excellence.

As Pastor Manders, typifying Convention, Law and Order, and other old shibboleths that have retarded progress and bolstered up stupidity and moral wrongs since civilization began, Edmund Forde gives splendid support.

The monotonous dreariness and sickly morbidity of the play is happily lightened with a few touches of gentle and artistic comedy, imparted by Walter Pilson in the role of Engstrand, the carpenter, symbolical character of Expediency, the working member of society, who keeps his thoughts to himself and, tinker-like, makes the best of all had circumstances, sometimes with good results and sometimes adding to the bungling.

The helplessness of a weak idealism in the face of it all is strongly brought out in Zinita Graf's portrayal of the leading role. The "ghosts" of life are difficult to drive away. The "sun" cannot always be restored.

This afternoon and evening Clifford Devereux and his talented company will present a more cheerful play, "The Lady of Lyons."

AT ALLEN'S

Opening with the averture "Pomp and Circumstances," rendered by special request, the program at Allen's Theatre yesterday was one of the most delightful of the many pleasing bills presented at this popular picture house.

"The Poor Simp," with Owen Moore in the leading role, as Milton Carruthers, a young millionaire who gets cold feet when faced with the problem of proposing to his best girl, and when a young dude gets her attention with a musical composition he decides that the best thing he can do it to die, but when, following a fight in a saloon, he is attended by a doctor who humors his whim, he suddenly develops a desire to live.

In the development of the story Owen Moore's outstanding ability as a comedian provides a regular string of real mirth and laughter-compelling situations. He is supported by a strong cast and by-and-large the play is one of his best productions.

A Pathe news film, Mutt and Jeff at "The Tailor Shop," and a glimpse at some of Mack Sennett's bathing girls complete a bill that is bound to draw large houses all day today and which assures to those who see it a very delightful two hours' entertainment.

S. A. C. SECRETARIES TO MEET IN TORONTO

Will Discuss Work for Children and Dependents of Returned Men.

Soldiers' Aid Commission secretaries from all parts of the province will meet at Toronto next Wednesday for a round-table conference, E. H. Lance, the seretary of the local branch, announced Thursday.

The principal topic for discussion will be the work for the children and other dependants of returned men.

Since this branch of the commission's activities was started here in October, 45 children have been cared for, Mr. Lance said. These were from twenty different families. In many instances where the mother of a family was taken ill the commission cared for the children, while the father earned a living. In other cases they brought together enstranged parents and secured a happy home life for the kiddies. In a few instances where both parents of the children had died, they were made wards of the commission and entirely looked after by that body.

RAILWAYS REPORT FALLING OFF IN PASSENGER TRAFFIC

Complicated Application of Rate Increases a Cause of Worry.

Despite the reduction in passenger rates, which went into effect on January 1 on all Canadian railroads, there has been a considerable decrease in passenger traffic since the beginning of the year, according to local railway officials. It is yet to be determined, however, if the slump is due to the usual after-Christmas slackness or whether it is a part of the general business depression.

During the whole of the year 1920, passenger traffic was unusually heavy. Every train, both in the through service and on the local runs was loaded from platform to platform. The railroads experienced considerable difficulty in finding accommodation for all people traveling. Although for the first three days of this year the trains were crowded, comparatively few people have been traveling during the past few days.

Considerable misunderstanding concerning the application of reduction in rates has been caused by officials, by the complicated way in which the increases were applied some months ago, when passenger rates were increased 15 per cent, and then later by a further 20 per cent. The general impression that the rates were decreased by 10 per cent on the first of the year is not in accordance with the facts.

When the railroads were allowed to increase their rates 20 per cent over and above a previous 10 per cent increase, a clause was inserted in the agreement, stipulating that in no case were rates to exceed four cents a mile. Because of this in only a few instances were rates increased by the 20 per cent.

While it was announced that the decrease would be 20 per cent it should have been announced that fares would be decreased to 10 per cent above the prevailing rates before the ruling concerning the 20 per cent increase went into effect. This would be generally speaking a decrease of only 7 or 8 per cent.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Church of Epiphany Hold "Get Together" Meeting Wednesday Night.

The congregation of the Church of the Epiphany celebrated the sixth anniversary of the church opening on Wednesday evening by a "Get Together" parish meeting. A supper was served at 7 o'clock, followed by a program. Addresses were made by Rev. L. Armitage and James Armitage. Miss Pugsley, Mr. Clarke, Mr. Bugler and the Petrie Orchestra contributed to the musical part of the program.

On Thursday the Feast of Epiphany was observed in the church, Rev. J. Edmonds preaching the sermon, and the service being taken by Rev. A. L. G. Clarke. On Sunday the anniversary will be continued by the children, when a special service will be held for them at which Bishop David Williams will preach.

ALGONQUIN PARK IN WINTER.

There is an increasing desire among many city people to escape from the cares of housekeeping, and of life in the large centres, and seek the hospitality and good cheer to be found at the resort hotels. The Grand Trunk Railway System is meeting this desire in keeping open its famous hotel in the Algonquin Park of Ontario, "The Highland Inn." This hotel is easily accessible through Ottawa or Toronto, and offers warm, cheery private and public rooms. Excellent cuisine and the companionship of guests who have a common aim—to enjoy the healthful winter sports, invigorating climate, that the great unspoiled wilderness of Algonquin Park affords. CITY ENGINEER'S DEPT. EMPLOYING 190 EXTRA MEN AT PRESENT TIME

About 500 Individuals On Outside Work for Department.

That the city engineering department is making a real effort to provide work for the unemployed was indicated Thursday by the announcement of Acting City Engineer H. McNab, that there are 190 more men on the pay roll than there were at this time last year. About 60 of these are men who were employed through the summer months. Under normal conditions they would have been let out eary in the fall, but extra work was started this year in order that they might be kept employed. In addition to these about 130 others were taken on. The total number of men on the pay roll for all outside work is about 500.

Hold-Up Men Get Little
