Eczema

How it roddens the skin, makes, causes, drives and scales! Some people call it itches, milk crust or salt rheum. The suffering from it is sometimes intense, local applications are resorted to, they mitigate, but cannot cure. It proceeds from humors imbalanced or acquired and persists until these humors are removed.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

positively removes them, has radically and permanently cured the worst cases, and is without an equal for all cutaneous eruptions.

with the farmer there is a very grave danger that the cabinet of ministers, including even so great a genius as Hon. J. Israel Tarte, may not be able to maintain the high tide of prosperity now deluging this fair land. How much another good crop may mean to the farmers, to Canada and to politicians is indicated by that exponent of Liberalism in the great and growing west, the Winnipeg Free Press.

At the risk of being deemed a political heretic, of which danger it seems fully unconscious, that journal says—

Should these hopes be fulfilled the effect on the development of the west would be very great. Last year's receipts, large as they were, were largely used in wiping out liabilities that had been carried over from the previous season when the crop was short; and a great deal of the money paid out at the country elevators took the first train east. Of course no better use of the money could be made since the paying of debts is an admirable form of investment. This year, however, the farmers, if generously dealt with by Providence, will have funds in their possession which they will be enabled to dispose of in conformity with their own wishes; and the effect will be seen in a very great stimulus to trade. A great deal of building is going on in the country at present; farmers, wherever able, are hastening to discard the small houses that have sheltered them through past years in favor of larger and more comfortable abodes. Large and roomy barns, built on the generous Ontario models, are beginning to make their appearance on the prairie; and they add immeasurably to the beauty of the rural landscapes. With another good year there will be an expenditure for building materials that will tax the sources of supply, and new and larger houses will mean a demand for all kinds of housefurnishings. Much money will go also to the improvement of stock, to the purchase of better implements, vehicles, etc., and to the improvement of the farms by tree planting, fencing and other means. Great as has been the development of Manitoba within the past year, we think the prospects are more than fair that it will be completely eclipsed by the record of the next twelve months.—Ottawa Citizen.

THE KING'S PHYSICIANS.

Victor Smith in New York Press.

Everyone who has used listerine knows Dr. Lister, the discoverer of antiseptic surgery. He is 75 years of age. Sir Francis Laking, an old pupil of St. George's Hospital, nursed the Duke of York through his attack of typhoid in 1891. He was born in 1847. Sir Frederick Treves is a great fisherman and sailor. He was consulting surgeon to the forces in South Africa in 1900, and an important figure in the Lady Smith relief column. Sir Thomas Smith is consulting surgeon to several of the biggest hospitals in London. Sir Thomas Barlow is a member of many clinical and pathological societies. Most of these gentlemen were the late Queen's physicians.

George McLean, a former Wabash employee, who lost a good position through drink, with his wife, a pretty young wife, who was Miss Richardson, of Kent Bridge, on Sunday night, during which some warm words were exchanged. McLean divorced his wife, saying that he had never married her. She packed her clothes at once and went home to Kent Bridge. McLean, who bore a good reputation up to a short time ago, left for Detroit, saying he would not return.—Ridgeway Dominion.

The accounts of the executors in the estate of the late A. M. Burchell, of Ridgeway, were passed Saturday before His Honor Judge Bell. Fred Stone appeared for the official guardian of the infant son, and W. E. Gandy appeared for the executors. The executors are Fannie M. Burchell, widow, Cornelius Burchell and Joseph E. Gonnell. The estate is valued at $12,000.—Ridgeway Dominion.

The crop appears throughout the country, so far as hay, wheat and oats are concerned, are favorable for a good crop. Much anxiety, however, is felt for corn, owing to the continued moisture and exceptionally cool weather. The sugar beet crop in most sections is looking well and there is sure to be a good fruit yield.—Dresden Standard.

Around Comber there has been more stock feeding for market this year among farmers than usual, and there seems to be a greater disposition to go into raising improved stock, particularly of horses and cattle. A considerable number of farmers are raising sugar beets to the extent of from one to five acres.

The Dutton Council has appealed against the valuation of the village by the county valuers, the assessment of Dutton is $240,000, which is considered high, but the valuers have placed it at $350,000, meaning that the village will have to contribute for county purposes this year the sum of $58.

Orford mourns the loss of one of its oldest and most highly respected citizens. On Monday passed away, at the age of 81 years, John Crawford, of the 1st Con., near Palmyra.—Ridgeway Dominion.

Dr. John C. Gonnell, formerly of Orford, a student of the office of W. R. Hall, M. D., Chatham, for seventeen years ago, and now a successful practitioner in Ilwaco, Wash., has been visiting relatives and friends in this section.—Ridgeway Dominion.

At the hospital, Chatham, Mrs. Malcolm Campbell, Erie street, Howard, underwent an operation involving the removal of a carcinoma from her eye. The operation was successful. The bandages were removed yesterday and she is progressing favorably.—Ridgeway Dominion.

Miss Jessie Whitton has resigned her position as teacher in the second department of the Rodney public school, and Miss Jennie Rodgers, of Wardsville, has been engaged to fill the vacancy.

J. B. Coates has bought the Walter Backus place of 100 acres, near Clearville, paying $3,800.—Ridgeway Dominion.

A Perilous Profession.

There are some astrologers in China, but not many, as astrology is a very perilous profession. While one of these so-called prophets predicts an event which does not occur, he loses his head.

The Flute is Very Old.

The flute is very old in its origin, but the flute of today is different from that of the ancients. It has been improved upon from time to time, and the old people would probably fail to recognize it now. The flageolet, which is somewhat similar, is credited to Juvigny.

A Dose of Arsenic.

The usually fatal dose of arsenic is two grains.

Queer Beauty.

In New Holland the women cut themselves with shells and, keeping the wounds open a long time, form deep scars in the flesh which they deem highly ornamental. Another singular mutilation is made among them, when in infancy they take off the little finger of the left hand at the second joint.

Peck.

Peck at first meant a basket or receptacle for grain or other substance. The expression at first had no reference to size.

Greasy Collars.

A cloth dipped in ammonia and rubbed thoroughly on a coat collar will remove the greasy look. Velvet collars may be treated in the same way, but must be held in front of a hot iron directly after to raise the pile.

Decline of Mental and Physical Vigor in the Hot Weather.

Paine's Celery Compound

Renews and Invigorates the Body and Maintains a Strong and Clear Brain

Thousands of people in whose blood lurk the seeds of disease, decline mentally and physically when the hot weather comes on. They become weak, languid, morose, have loss of memory, loss of appetite, with a feeling of flesh. For all such, Paine's Celery Compound is an absolute necessity at this time. It is the only remedy approved of by able physicians for purifying and enriching the blood, for feeding and nourishing the nerves, for maintaining digestive vigor, for the building of flesh, tissue and muscle, and for promoting refreshing and healthful sleep.

If your condition of health is not satisfactory; if you are not happy, active, and vigorous at present, try one bottle of Paine's Celery Compound; you will have cause to thank heaven that such a marvelous recuperator was placed within your reach. The following letter written by Rev. P. Rioux, of St. Anne's church, Montreal, is convincing and comforting:

"I am fully convinced, both by personal experience and by the statement of many parishioners entrusted to my care, that the celebrated medicine, Paine's Celery Compound, deserves a high recommendation. I therefore willingly endorse the testimonial already given in its behalf."

DAYS OF REJOICING

Citizens Should Hold Sacred the Country's National Day.

TWO MAYS OF CELEBRATING

A Strong Plan for Patriotism—God Always Blesses the Individual as Well as the Mighty Nation That Stands Forth as the Defender of the Weak—The Lesson Taught by William Penn.

Entered According to Act of Parliament of Canada, in the year 1902 by William Penn, of Toronto, at the Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Chicago, June 29.—Reversing the usual custom, H. P. De Witt, in this sermon, on the approaching national anniversary, takes a look forward. The text is Matthew xiii, 38, "The field is the world."

Every country has its annual holiday. It has a birthday celebration for banquets, fireworks, oratorical pyrotechnics and for the arousing of patriotic enthusiasm.

The French Republic's holiday is celebrated on the 14th day of July. This is the anniversary when the grim fortress of a prison for state criminals was razed to the ground.

So on the 14th day of July every car and wagon is stopped in the Parisian capital. Then the young men and maidens, decked in holiday attire, turn the boulevard of the Champs Elysees into a ballroom.

Then in the French cities can be heard the songs of the merry-makers and the music from the different bands playing up and down almost every street. The Brazilian Republic's holiday is celebrated on the 15th day of November, the anniversary of the time when Dom Pedro's Empire was overthrown and the exiled Imperial family had to sail away from the waters of the Amazon.

One of the first acts of the Cuban Congress which assembled after the American soldiers had been withdrawn was to appoint a national holiday to commemorate the day on which the Cuban Republic had gained her independence.

But there is an unwise as well as a wise way of celebrating the modern holiday. The first way is to glorify the past. The other way is to take a national retrospect for the purpose of rousing our ambitions to go ahead and win the further victories that must be won in order to fulfill the mission, and if any minister tries the latter way, he takes the full sweep of our future influence and work unless he discusses them from a worldwide standpoint.

He must attain his sermon to a world's theme. Phillips Brooks, the most beloved man of New England in his day, keyed his ministry to an international tone when from a European city he sent a letter at home a letter which read something like this: "Dear Harry—I wish you might do as I do every year. I wish you would annually spend two months abroad in the immensity of God's providences and how small are the circumscriptions of our own individual lives and how small even the Episcopal church appears to be when it is focused from across the seas."

Emphatically the most important of all future missions is the spreading of the gospel until it shall "be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations." The Bible does not state that the millennial day shall come gradually, as the sunrise first tips the eastern hills with light, making it appear as though the underbrush upon the tops of the mountains had been set afire by some careless campers. It does state that the millennial day shall come as when the dawn in the beginning shoots its long, slender bars of yellow gold across the heavens. It does not state that the glory of the day shall cover the sea, as the flood tide gradually creeps up the beach. But the Bible does teach that when the gospel of Jesus Christ shall be proclaimed in every town, village and city of every nation; when it shall be proclaimed in the mountain log hut and in the ship's cabin; when it shall be proclaimed at the touch of a single button. Then the millennial day shall be full of brightness, as the blackness of midnight was changed into the brightness of midnoon when God spoke at the morning of creation the four simple words, "Let there be light," and there was light.

The millennial day shall come as suddenly as the tongues of fire leaped out of the heavens when the Holy Spirit hovered over the heads of the praying, pleading, expectant Pentecost worshippers.

How the different religious denominations are able to work side by side in America for the scattering of the gospel seed may be illustrated by an incident in the life of George Whitfield. One day the great evangelist stopped dramatically in his sermon and, looking up as though addressing the throne of the Almighty, cried out in interrogation, "O Lord, are there any Presbyterians in heaven?" "No," came back the answer. "O Lord, are there any Methodists in heaven?" "No," came back the answer. "O Lord, are there any Catholics in heaven?" "No," came back the answer. "O Lord, are there any Christians in heaven?" "No," came back the answer. "O Lord, are there any Christians in heaven?" "No," came back the answer. "O Lord, are there any Christians in heaven?" "No," came back the answer.

So in the scattering of the gospel seed by the American nation there are no religious sects. In the sight of the Government there are only Christians. The Calvinists and the Arminians, the close communists and the Congregationalists, the Protestants and the Catholics, can work side by side because these different religious denominations believe in the atonement. They can and should scatter the gospel seed into all regions between the Atlantic and the Pacific, and be secured by our forefathers to the service of the Lord Jesus Christ.

The second mission is emphatically the establishment of an international court of arbitration. No real bloody wars in the future shall be an impossibility. That a great international court of arbitration can be established by the united action of the ten or twelve principal nations of the world is undeniable, and that such a court will be ultimately established is also unquestionable.

When such a court is established the United States, England, France, Spain, Austria, Germany, Italy, Russia, Japan and China will each have representatives upon that tribunal. Then when international difficulties arise these difficulties will be peacefully settled, as the Alabama claims were amicably settled before the Geneva tribunal which assembled in 1871, composed of the five representatives which were furnished by the United States, Great Britain, Italy, Switzerland and Brazil; as the Venezuela claims were settled before the tribunal which met in Paris in 1898, as the Alaska boundary line was amicably settled and as the claims against the Chinese Government which met in Paris in 1900 were amicably settled.

Recognizing the fact that many people are looking forward to the time when war shall forever be abolished, an inspired writer has described a sign, how the blessed condition was to be accomplished. He declared that the time would come when all Europe would be convulsed by a great international struggle. He pictured that event in the dim future. He arrayed every European nation upon one or the other side of the combat. But the night before the great battle was to open an angel in human shape would be seen going through the camps of the two armies. This visitor would stop long enough to pin upon every soldier's breast a sign, and when the rattle of the factory and the whistle of the steam engine, and the blow of the hammer and the rasp of the saw are all playing an accompaniment to the tune of a national financial success. It is difficult for a people to pray to a supernatural being. "O God, give us this day our daily bread," when the hands are full of wheat and corn and the bank vaults are a-choke with solid gold and the seven years of plenty have crowded out of the public mind the fact that there are thousands of millions of people who are starving and who are in need of food and clothing and shelter.

And since the most prosperous days which have yet come to a people are now crowding upon our nation the American people will have to pray harder than the people ever prayed at the Plymouth Rock or the Pennsylvania colony or the Virginia planters ever prayed at Jamestown to preserve a nation or Christian integrity.

As the American nation is a government for the people and by the people, I would have every citizen of our nation recognize our nation to God by consecrating our own personal lives to this divine service.

When the ambassador from Germany appears at the White House and presents his official documents, he does not come as a representative of the German nation, but as the personal representative of Emperor Wilhelm.

The representative of Italy represents King Victor Emmanuel. But when America's ambassador goes abroad he does not represent the president or the secretary of state, but he represents the people—the common people of America. And as part of the common people of America we can here and now begin to consecrate our government to the Lord in its days of prosperity by consecrating ourselves.

O Lord, our God, can any one have a greater work to do in the evangelization of the world than we Americans if we will only consecrate our lives to this service?

I selected this text, "The field is the world," for two reasons. First, because the five words spoken by Jesus Christ to his disciples exactly convey the idea of the worldwide sweep of America's future influence in the evangelization of the two hemispheres. A Christian nation has no more right to close its doors and live for itself and let the rest of the people of the world suffer and die than an individual has the right to lock and bar the doors of his own home and let his neighbors be murdered in cold blood or allow his neighbors to maltreat their own children. As Cain was his brother's keeper, so is every Christian nation morally responsible for the education, evangelization and the protection of every other nation.

But the second reason why I selected this text is because it always has had an intense personal interest to me. This was the first text which my father as a theological student ever preached upon. When my father was a young man at New Brunswick, New Jersey, he went to visit a minister, who was then a pastor in Easthampton, N.Y. He went to visit in the same old parsonage where the great Lyman Beecher, the father of Henry Ward Beecher, used to live, and where many of the great brothers and sisters of Henry Ward Beecher were born. And while my father was visiting his brother-in-law the Rev. Stephen Merston, he preached the text which I have just quoted. So he preached in the schoolhouse there in the village of Easthampton his first sermon. The schoolhouse is now used as a barber shop. It is not larger than the ordinary sized parlor of an average city house. In that little schoolhouse the unknown theological student took for his text, "The field is the world." He little realized then that there ever would come a time when his gospel field would literally be the world. He little realized that before he died his printed sermons every week would appear before at least 20,000,000 readers. He little realized how God would some day bless his pen and lip. He could not foresee his future worldwide power any more than some of us can foresee the worldwide influence that will result from our lives if we will only help in the days of national prosperity to dedicate the nation to the service of God.

So may the national holiday ever be to all a sacred day. May it be a time when by retrospect we learn what pure and noble and consecrated ancestral blood is flowing in our veins. May it be a time when the people bow their heads to make an earnest, intense plea that the present generation shall be as true to its gospel trust as our forefathers were true to theirs. Then, after we have knelt in prayer, may we go forth inspired by the Holy Spirit to do the work which has been given us to do.

Queen's Scarf for a Canadian: In concluding one of his recent departmental reports, Lord Roberts says he wishes to record the fact that in April, 1900, Queen Victoria bestowed a scarf upon the Canadian scouts worked by herself, which she desired to be distributed to four distinguished private soldiers of the colonial contingents of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa. The selection of the recipients in each case was left to the colonial officer commanding the contingent.

The Canadian scarf goes to Private Richardson, Richard Rowland Thompson of the Royal Canadian Regiment, for personal gallantry in the field.

The Natal "speaker." Mr. Hulett, who has recently been re-elected Speaker of the Legislative Assembly in Natal, is an old and prominent colonist, well known and great service to Natal outside of politics, says The Daily Graphic. It was owing to Mr. Hulett's enterprise that the tea-growing industry was established in the "Garden Colony" and he has always been foremost in promoting the general interests of that part of South Africa.

Wisdom's Way: Unfailing Method of Securing Success in Any Business. If anyone wants to know why the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Enormous Shows United is so successful, they have only to look about and see at every hand their advertising. If they do so, a world of business, it is because they do a corresponding world of advertising. The same principle holds true with the business done by any of the local merchants. Alexander T. Stewart, pioneer of the great merchant princes in this country, used to say that at least one-third of a merchant's investment should be in advertising, and the remaining two-thirds to his stock. Merchants like John Wanamaker, Seigel & Cooper, and others of the best department establishments throughout the country, as a matter of fact, spend about as much money in advertising as they do in buying stock. This does not necessarily mean that they must make one hundred per cent. profit in order to do so, as might appear on the surface. The greatest item of expense of such great circus establishments as Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Enormous Shows United is that of advertising. Their enormous success shows the wisdom of their policy in that direction. Those great shows will appear here on Saturday, July 19.

Teacher—Do I make myself plain? Pupil—No; God made you plain.

Volumes, at times, of woman's happiness or misery. The dull, sunken eye, with its dark circles almost surely speaks of womanly ill-health, and its attendant suffering. With the dull eye goes usually the hollow, sunken cheek, the drawn mouth, the shrunken form—the whole glory of woman's beauty marred by the effects of disease.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the diseases which undermine the health and mar the beauty of women. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free, and so obtain the advice of a specialist upon their disease. All correspondence is strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y.

"With pleasure I send a few lines to let you know that I feel much better than for eight years before taking your medicine," writes Mrs. Pierce Giese, of 527 West 11th Street, York, Pa. "I will recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to every person who may inquire as to what it has done for me. I was troubled with female weakness and began to think I would never be well. If I had continued the treatment prescribed by my doctor, I don't know what would have become of me. When your treatment was commenced my system was so weak that I could not do any work. I have healthy color and my friends say I look well. My best thanks to you and my best wishes to you for what you have done for me."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the clogged system from accumulated impurities.

THE LOCAL BUDGET

Mr. and Mrs. McRobbie, of Detroit, are visiting friends in the Maple City.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Jeannette and child, of Detroit, are the guests of Mrs. Geo. Mcgrath, Centre street.

Fancy Lane and Colored Hostess, in ladies' and children's sizes, in great variety of styles and prices, at Thit-odeau & Jacques.

Mrs. Alister McKay, Centre street, entertained the children of the First Presbyterian Mission Band yesterday afternoon to a garden party.

Mrs. McDonald, daughter of John Fisher, Chatham Township, underwent a serious surgical operation in St. Joseph's Hospital on Tuesday last, and is doing well.

S. Carbutt, Jeannette's Creek, had a horse stolen on the night of July 2nd. The steed was last seen straying on the road about 11 o'clock at night. It is a brown mare, three years old, 15 1/2 hands high, weight about 1,500 lbs.

A unique volume, entitled "Search Light Through Three Centuries," written by one of the best of the U. S. salient, has been placed on sale in the book-stores. The book is well printed and handsomely bound, and contains a great deal of most interesting and instructive reading.

The King street pavement is being torn up in front of McCall's drug store. This is the first time that the pavement has been damaged by being torn up. A defective sewer connection is responsible for the necessity. Every effort was made to get the sewer working by flushing it, but without success.

Don't forget Christ Church S. S. excursion to Walpole Island, Tuesday, July 15th. Delightful sail across the Lake through the famous St. Clair Flats Canal and past the fashionable American club houses and ideal summer resorts. One of Chatham's crack baseball teams will play against the Indians. Indians games, races, and sports of all kinds. Refreshments on sale. Round trip 50c, children under 15 years 25c. All come, July 15th.

The W. C. T. U. met on Thursday afternoon. After a short business session Mrs. Carter read a paper on "Successful work in the local unions." The paper was a very thoughtful one and contained many good suggestions, the principal thought being that successful work is found in these words: "Unless the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it." More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of, and if work is faithfully done "in His name," one serving, another watering, God will give the increase. The meeting then adjourned and Mrs. Wilson invited the members to the dining room, where refreshments were served.

Holidays And Kodaks

These two go together. If you intend taking a holiday trip this summer, buy a Kodak and get everything you want during your trip.

Solomon Arnold had the misfortune this afternoon to be severely kicked above the eye by a horse at the Park House barn.

Preston Pardo had his left hand very badly lacerated in a plaster this morning. He will, the doctor says, be laid up for a month.

James Stewart, banker, of Tilbury Centre, is at the mineral bath house taking a course of baths for a slight attack of rheumatism.

Capt. Bell and Stone and Lieut. Collett and Turner, of the 24th Regiment, have applied to be attached to the London Military school for a special course of instruction during the summer.

CORONATION DATE

London, July 4.—It is believed that owing to the King's improved condition the number of bulletins will be reduced, and that the physicians will probably issue but one statement each day. It is understood that the Marquis of Salisbury, the Prime Minister, and the physicians in attendance on King Edward, have had a conference in regard to the date of coronation ceremonies. The medical men stated that provided all goes well the earliest date that could be set would be Thursday, October 2. It is now understood that that is the date provisionally in mind of the authorities.

SEIGE ROMANCE.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 4.—The wedding of Miss Mary Pierce to Lieut. Harold Hammond, of the Ninth Infantry, will take place on the evening of July 9. Invitations were issued to-day.

Miss Pierce was a guest of Minister Conger during the siege of Pekin, and Lieut. Hammond was one of the instructors in Spanish.

Lieut. Hammond and his bride will live at West Point, where the lieutenant is stationed.

This will be the second marriage growing out of the Pekin siege. Miss Laura Conger, another young woman who went through that trying time, was married, also, to a son of Lieut. Buchanan, who was with the besieged forces.

SERIOUS CHARGE

Col. J. B. Rankin, solicitor for the new Board of Directors of the Binder Twine Company, made the following statement to-day in regard to the affairs of the company:

"Manager Ross has checked over all the stock certificates issued by the company to shareholders for stock, and up to the present time it has been found that the old Board of Directors issued duplicate certificates to the extent of 82 shares. That is, when certain persons purchased 4 shares they were given two stock certificates for four shares each. These 82 shares apparently given away, were worth $820, as, so far as can be ascertained, nothing has been paid for them, and unless the books show that the stock has been doubled by these shareholders, the company will lose $820."

"The new directors have been advised to employ auditors to ascertain the exact condition of accounts and the state of the certificates. As soon as this is done, the shareholders will be given all information that can be gained."

THE MARKETS

The market was crowded this morning. Strawberries were not so plentiful as formerly, but sold at unchanged prices. Green peas were in good demand at 50c a quart. Red currants sold in limited quantities at 50c a quart.

SWITCHING IN NORTH GREY

Further Evidence of Frauds in the Election—Important Evidence.

Shows That Boyd's Majority
Over the Liberal was at Least Six.

Toronto, July 5.—The frauds in connection with Poll No. 9, St. Vincent, in the riding of North Grey, grew every day more and more apparent.

In his decision, given on Wednesday last, Mr. Justice Maclellan declared Mr. A. G. McKay, the Liberal candidate, elected by a majority of 2. In doing so, he allowed Pol. No. 9, St. Vincent, to stand as Boyd 23 and McKay 40. The original return was Boyd 23 and McKay 40, but the courts refused to count four Boyd ballots, which all parties immediately concerned declare were tampered with after the poll closed.

Had the intention of the voter been recognized in this case, Mr. Boyd would now be member for North Grey by a majority of two and the Ross Government would be definitely out of power.

PREMIER'S SLENDER HOLD.
Poll No. 9, St. Vincent, rises into importance every day, inasmuch as the Government of a vast province clings to power on the strength of four ballots dishonestly spoiled. Government has been heard of who maintain existence by purchased ballots, but never before a Government which clung to power by virtue of a handful of spoiled ballots.

The latest revelations show, however, that not only the four voters who cast these ballots were robbed of their franchise, but that at least two others who voted at the same poll for Mr. Boyd had their ballots switched and counted for Mr. McKay. When the scrutiny does take place, no doubt many more voters in the riding will be found to have been cheated.

A fortnight ago thirty men, who voted at Poll No. 9, St. Vincent, came forward and swore that they cast their ballots for Mr. Boyd. Yesterday Mr. Geo. Wright, of Sydneyham, another voter at the same poll, voluntarily made an affidavit to the same effect, showing that 31 of the 69 ballots cast there were for Boyd.

This leaves but 38 for McKay, or a majority of seven instead of fifteen, as allowed by the Court of Appeal, and gives Mr. Boyd a clear majority of six on the general return. When all that took place throughout North Grey comes out—if all that took place ever does—it will show that Mr. Boyd had a comfortable majority.

An error was made yesterday in the report of the Bennett fire, Selkirk street. It was stated that the gas line stove exploded. Mr. Bennett says it did not explode, but a packing box on which it rested contained paper, and some gasoline was spilled on it. The paper caught fire in lighting the stove. A boy passing saw the smoke, hence the alarm. The fire was out when the firemen arrived.
Detective Skirving and Constable McGregor made a very clever catch Wednesday night. Last Saturday two men giving their names as Daley and Howard crossed over from Detroit with a couple of stolen wheels and sold them to a couple of farmers. Mr. Peel and Mr. Perry, of Raleigh, for the small sum of $5 each. One of the farmers was in the city on Saturday and was telling Mr. McGregor of the cheap bargain he had made. Mr. McGregor scented something and went after the wheels. He brought them into town and telegraphed to Detective Campeau and learned that the wheels were stolen. The wheels were forwarded to Mr. Campeau last night. The two thieves are still at large.

FOR LITTLE FOLKS

A LESSON IN GEOMETRY.

Easily Demonstrated With a Wooden Ball and Pieces of Cord.

There are some propositions in mathematics that we can prove with perfect accuracy without making use of figures. There, for example, is that well known theorem of plane geometry—the surface of a sphere is equal to four times the surface of a great circle. The reads as if we were going to give you something dry and uninteresting, but read on and you will find it just the other way, for we are going to tell you how you may prove that proposition with a croquet ball and a piece of cord.

The croquet ball is a sphere, and the section made in it by passing a plane through its center is a great circle. The radius of the great circle, therefore, is exactly equal to the radius of the sphere.

Now, saw the ball through the center, thus dividing it into two hemispheres, and laying one of them on the table, with the flat part down, drive a small nail in the center of the round or upper part. To the nail tie the end of a cord, and then wind the cord around the ball until the surface is entirely covered by the cord. Cut the cord where you stop winding.

Then take the other half of the ball and drive a small nail in the center of its flat part, trying to tie the nail a piece of cord exactly like the piece first used, and wind it around the ball spirally, passing it down so that it will lie flat on the surface of the circle. Cut the cord when the surface of the circle is entirely covered, and when you compare the two cords you will find that the piece first used is exactly twice as long as the second.

This proves that the surface of a hemisphere is equal to twice the surface of a great circle and that therefore the surface of a whole sphere is equal to four times the surface of a great circle.

So that we demonstrate an important theorem of geometry simply by using a ball and a cord—New York Herald.

A Balancing Trick.
Bend a hairpin as shown in figure. Fasten a five cent piece into the hook on the left, while you suspend a ring or, if necessary, two rings from the other hook. This will balance the money, if you place the rim of the five cent piece on the point of the large pin, as shown in figure. By blowing against the ring the whole will turn without disturbing the balance.

The Otter.
The otter, as is well known, will eat none but the choicest portions of the fish it catches, and will, for preference, select even those choice portions from the plumpest and best tasting varieties. It is this trait in its character which leads it to play such havoc in trout streams and other preserved waters. In order to provide for itself a meal of perhaps two or three dozen mouthfuls the otter will not infrequently catch and kill nearly as many fine fish, contenting itself with a small portion from the back of each victim immediately behind the gills. When an otter kills a moor hen, which is not seldom when these birds abound near its habitat, it devours the neck only, leaving the body intact and devoid of every drop of blood.

A Coin Trick.
Place a little mucilage on the rim of a wineglass, turn the glass over on a sheet of white paper, and when the mucilage is dry cut away the paper close to the glass. Put the glass mouth downward on a sheet of paper like that which covers the mouth of the glass. Make a paper cone to fit over the glass. Now lay a penny on the large sheet of paper by the side of the wineglass. Cover the glass with the paper cone and place the whole over the coin. Command the coin to disappear, and on taking off the cone the coin will appear to have obeyed your command. To cause it to reappear replace the cone and carry away the glass under it.

She Could Not Help It.
Lillian, three and a half years old, was in the house playing one day when it was raining very hard and was very dark outside. Mamma came to her and said:

"Lillian, there were three pieces of cake in the pantry, and now there is only one. How did that happen?"

"Well," said Lillian, her eyes open wide with excitement, "it was so dark in there I didn't see the other piece."

Something New.
A showman to the jungle went and caught a fierce young gnu. Said he, "I'll teach him to perform and sell him to the zoo."

This man was very much surprised and quite delighted, too, for he, in each quick and novel trick the new gnu knew!

KRAUSE CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC.

The Krause Conservatory of Music, Chatham, has just closed one of the most prosperous years since its organization, under the musical direction of R. Victor Carter. It's fourth season's work will commence on Monday, Sept. 1st, 1902.

For next season's work Mr. Carter has engaged Mr. Samuel Slade, of Detroit, as vocal instructor, and already a large number of gentlemen students have enrolled under his tuition for next season's work. Mr. Slade is recognized as one of the finest teachers for gentlemen students in Detroit, and having made the voice a specialty he will prove a great boon to all gentlemen students in Chatham and surrounding districts.

Mr. Carter will also make other additions to the staff which will be announced later.

The examination results will appear in next Saturday's issues of the dailies.

Potted Plants.

It is necessary to supply food to any large plant growing in a small pot. The soil gets so full of feeding roots that nourishment must be supplied extraneously. A good fertilizer supplies the plant with food quite as sufficiently as would rotting.

A favorite dish of the East Indians is an ant mash. The insects are caught in pits and mashed by hand into a paste.

To Freshen Raisins.

If figs or raisins have dried up so they seem chippy, put them on a plate in a steamer and set over boiling water. In half an hour they will be plump as when just bought. Allow the moisture to dry off and roll them in confectioners' sugar before putting them away.

Insects In Greece.

Greece uses more than 5,000 tons of copper sulphate per annum for killing insects, especially those that feed upon the current bush.

Fertile Egypt.

The fertility of Egyptian soil is illustrated by the fact that every one of 10,000 square miles can support 928 persons, whereas even in densely populated Belgium there are only 680 to the square mile.

Matchmakers.

It takes the constant labor of 60,000 people to make matches for the world.

London Likes Fowls.

It is the opinion of leading salesmen that London consumes no fewer than 15,000,000 fowls a year, which if evenly divided among the population would allow about three per head per annum.

Morocco Mail Carriers.

Mail carriers in Morocco are said to avoid the risk of losing their places by oversleeping by tying a string to one foot and setting the end on fire before going to sleep. The string, they know from experience, will burn so long, and when the fire reaches their foot it is time for them to get up.

The latest sell—Payne school property. Lennox, Ontario, is a splendid country.

I think I can now say "Lennox Riding ahead."

Mills build up a city. They also build up the rate.

The small pox outbreak cost the city pretty near two mills.

It looks as if we were going to have the strawberries with us always.

I think that Josh Sanford will feel that he had well enough, alone.

If all accounts are true, Sanford was not the only brick in the wall.

I suppose Lake Erie Tillson thinks he has made a Payne investment.

Make hay while the sun shines. The farmers would like to find the sun, here in July 1, which report appears in the issue of July 2.

Even a boarding house couldn't use these lacrosse match scraps to advantage.

Lake Erie Tillson can scarcely say that the School Board gave him a Payne.

Why should the city be put to expense to abate the spite of an alderman against a judge?

The doubtful constituencies have begun to come over to the Conservative party, won by one.

It might possibly be considered a grave offense to run Stanley avenue through the cemetery.

Speaking about taxes, I haven't as yet heard anyone say that 25 1/2 mills on the dollar was "first rate."

I think the weather man can now locate the storm centre somewhere near the new Stanley avenue sidewalk.

Lacrosse was invented by the Indians, and, by the way it is played around here, I guess it is still an Indian game.

Forepaugh's great circus is one of the many selling travelling, but an exception. Everything sells, especially the tickets.

There are those who claim that the disposal of the Queen street school property wasn't a "sell" at all but that it was a "give away."

If the School Board is as bad as the opponents of the Queen street school sale claim, then I wonder how they have escaped jail so long.

It may be of interest to Ald. Cowan to know that the decorations at McKee's school were prepared by the teachers at their own expense.

If the school trustees knew all that some people were saying, they would have turned Gray rather than sell that Queen street school property.

I have at last discovered the cause of this damp spell. It rained on Easter Sunday, forgot to rain on the following Sunday, and has rained ever since.

Lennox knocks for admittance into the Conservative party. Her passport is three. All right, Lennox, old fellow. You'll pass the time, but next time you must do better.

"Well, we're having a little rain for a change," said a merchant to a woman, "but the other day."

"Yes," replied the man of the country. "But we won't have a bit of change in the fall if it keeps up."

WORLD OF SPORT

THE LACROSSE TROUBLE.

Thamesville, July 3, 1902.

Editor Planet: Dear Sir,—Kindly allow me space in the columns of your much prized daily to make a few comments on the report of the lacrosse match played here in July 1, which report appears in the issue of July 2.

The account of the match, while correct in the main points, is certainly incomplete in one point, and for this reason conveys a wrong impression, and is rather unfair to our town. The unanimous verdict of the spectators is that the Chatham players are gentlemen. It is questionable whether any blows were exchanged by the members of the opposing teams, and the referee's action in assaulting a Thamesville player. As a matter of fact, when the spectators rushed on the field, it was the intention of the majority to protect the referee, not to assault him. There was not the slightest desire, on the part of the crowd, to quarrel with the Chatham players.

AV AGED WOMEN

After Passing Three Score and Ten Years Mrs. Plowman is Cured of Dyspepsia—A Very Serious Case.

Nothing can render old age more miserable than Dyspepsia.

Mrs. Emma Plowman, wife of Alfred Plowman, of New Lowell, Ont., is over seventy years of age.

She has been afflicted with Dyspepsia for a number of years, and has been completely cured of a very bad case of Dyspepsia.

For a few years past Mrs. Plowman has been afflicted with Dyspepsia, which finally culminated in Dyspepsia of a very aggravated form.

She tried many dyspepsia cures but got no relief until she began to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

From the beginning she found some relief, but the improvement in her case was slow.

However, she was not discouraged, but determined to keep on till every trace of her old trouble was gone.

She used in all twenty-one boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and her digestive organs were completely restored to a healthy condition.

Now she is enjoying perfect freedom from every symptom of Indigestion or Dyspepsia, and is loud in her praise of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

It seems quite a long treatment, but as Mr. Plowman himself says, "Who would not spend ten dollars and a half to see his wife cured of such a distressing and painful disease?"

While it took twenty-one boxes to effect a cure in the case of this old lady it must be remembered that many cases are cured by a much shorter treatment.

Some systems respond more quickly and positively to medical treatment than others do. Age has often something to do with this.

Some do not continue the treatment without interruption, and thus do not give the remedy a fair chance.

But this is true—There is no case of Stomach Trouble, no matter how acute or of how long standing, that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will not cure if persisted in according to directions.

THE RAILS SPREAD.

New York, July 4.—An accident occurred near Railway, on the Central Railway of New Jersey, to-day, in which several persons were injured. The rails spread and three passenger coaches left the track and fell over on their sides. Mary Sherock, sixteen years old, of Bayonne, had her right arm fractured. A number of men were cut by flying glass.

A CLEAR CASE.

A man at Erieau claims to have found 19 snakes in his bed when he went to his summer cottage the first time this year. I don't think they used a hotel at Erieau, at all, at all. The residents seem to be doing pretty well without it.

To Rent—The Bothy, Sandy-Knowe, Erieau, for the season, completely furnished; also Hazeldean Cottage for July. For sale—Naptha launch, in splendid condition; white cedar row boat, nearly new. J. W. Young.

International Bible Lesson, for Tomorrow—The Giving of Manna—Ex. xvi. 4-15.

Golden Text—"Give us this day our daily bread."

From the outcome of the Church of the Lord Jesus from Judaism and Gentile idolatry in our last lesson, we take up the history of the delivered Israelites from Egyptian slavery and idolatry for our next quarter's lessons. We have before us a mixed multitude of murmuring millions; certain critics would make the books of Moses, mythical and natural, while they are typical and supernatural histories, all pointing to the Lord Jesus Christ and teaching faith in God. "These things happened to them as examples to us," I Cor. x. 11. This lesson specially points to Jesus as the true bread from heaven—John vi. 24-35—who says, "I am the bread of life; he that cometh unto me shall not hunger and he that believeth on me shall never thirst; not as your fathers ate the manna and died; he that eateth this bread shall live for ever." Quail on the desert, Israel had to arise daily, except Sunday, before the sun to gather manna, as men now labor for the bread that perisheth instead of that which abideth unto eternal life. The carnal mind and worldly man has no desire for such food; only those who are fed on the manna of God, who is their life, Manna and quail were sent to prove Israel; Jesus Christ comes to prove us.
