The British Embargo

Chas. M. Flatt

At the present time no question is more before the public eye in the agricultural press than that of removing the British Embargo on Canadian cattle. The question is one that has been talked of at intervals for years but only recently has any definite action been taken in the matter.

In 1892 the British government placed this embargo on Canadian cattle presumably to protect British breeders from diseases found in a few instances in shipments of steers from Canada. Gradually the embargo developed into what is practically a protective tariff, since for many years neither foot-and-mouth disease or pleuro-pneumonia has broken out in Canada, these being the diseases feared.

Chief among those who are endeavoring to have this embargo removed is the Hon. Manning Doherty. He went to England and personally interviewed many of the citizens of the different classes both in towns and throughout the country. He found that practically the only people who favored the embargo were a few wealthy land-owners who now enjoy what is practically a monopoly of the beef business. The small farmers and the distributors as well as all consumers were anxious to have Canadian cattle landed on foot in England to be finished there by British farmers.

The matter is particularly urgent at the present time since the United States Government seeks to place what is practically a prohibitive tariff on Canadian products, particularly cattle, notwithstanding the fact that the Southern States and those of the Middle West are desirous of buying Canadian feeders.

It has been argued that Canadian farmers should finish their own cattle but Canada cannot fatten beef cattle and market them in England in competition with American or Argentine beef. And besides there will still be plenty of feeders for Canada when exporting is done.

Since so many on both sides of the water desire the removal of this embargo it only remains for the attention of the British authorities to be drawn to the matter to have it removed. The probable effect on Canadian markets is problematical but it is considered that our increasing home market will absorb as many cattle as can be fed here, and besides it is estimated that only 2 per cent of the cattle reaching the stockyards are fit for export.

W. A. A. A.

At the two public meetings of the Waterdown Amateur Athletic Association held this week very careful and elaborate plans were made for the year 1921. Officers for the various branches of out door sports were elected and the coming year promises to be a banner one for Waterdown.

The following officers were elected. President, A. W. Palmer; Vice-Pres., G. E. Nicholson; Treasurer, Harold Vance; Secretary, C. S. Burns Executive Committee—W. H. Torrance, J. F. Vance, Art. Featherston, A. J. Lovejoy, Dr. D. A. Hopper, J. J. Burns, Fred Allen. Manager of Junior Baseball Club, Dr. Vance, Manager Senior Baseball Club, J. J. Burns; Manager Bowling Club, J. F. Vance; Manager Tennis Club, W. H. Torrance; Manager of Football Club C. S. Burns. There will also be a Juvenile branch for boys under 16 years.

At the Executive committee meeting Tuesday evening plans were made for holding a social in the Rink on St. Patrick's night.

The association also intends holding a big field day of sports on May 24th. Give the boys every encouragement. Get your membership ticket and help put Waterdown on the map.

Mountsburg

A number from this place took in the theatrical play which was held in the Freulton Baptist church by a company from Carlisle, Strabane and Mountsburg.

Mr. Stanley Woolsey is kept busy with his engine cutting wood these days.

Mr. Geo. Bogle had a bee last week getting in his supply of ice.

Miss Isabel and Mr. Archie Gunby were the guests of Miss Winnie Mitchell last Sunday.

Mr. Dennis Hunter's auction sale passed off very successful and was well attended.

Mr. Geo. Bogle is confined to his bed with rheumatism and is under the care of Dr. King of Morrison.

Mr. Chas. McCarthy is the proud parent of a young daughter.

Mr. Alex Campbell lost a valuable cow last week.

Wentworth Regiment

Waterdown is to be headquarters of D Company of the newly organized Wentworth Regiment. The Department of Militia and Defence has authorized the apending of a sum of money to fit the drill shed up for training purposes, material for the new roof being already received.

Recruiting for the new company, which is in charge of Major E. S. Sawell, has been started and a social evening will be held in the near future for all those interested.

Millgrove W. I.

The Millgrove Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Robt. Flatt on Wednesday, February 23. The meeting was opened in the usual way after which roll was called and minutes of the previous meeting was read and adopted. Mrs. Andrew Carey gave a paper on "Art of dressing well and its effect on character." After discussion on this paper, the Misses Ella and Hattie Crooker gave an instrumental duet. The ladies then brought out their crocheting, Mrs. C. Markle helping them over their difficulties answering all questions regarding same. While this demonstration was on the members engaged in community singing with Mrs. Albert Cummins taking the solo part. A very amusing reading was given by Miss Ruth Flatt after which the meeting was closed by singing God Save the King." The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Jacob Carey the last Wednesday in March.

Anniversary Services

Anniversary services will be held in the Rock Chapel Methodist church on Sunday, March 6th. The Rev. Judson Kelly will conduct the services both morning and evening. The choir will be assisted by Rev. Mr. White and his daughter, Mrs. Price, in the morning, and the Dundas Presbyterian male quartette in the evening.

On the following Monday evening on old fashioned Tea Meeting will be given under the auspices of the Young Peoples' Bible class. A good program has been prepared. Miss Miller and Miss Duncan, Elocutionists of Hamilton, Mr. Seymour, violinist and Mrs. Walter Lyons, soloist. Addresses by Rev. Mr. Kelly and Rev. Mr. Albright. Chairman Rev. J. F. Wedderburn. Supper will be served from 6 to 8 o'clock.

Seven Days a Week

When Monday comes the week starts good.

For on that night I'll see young Hood.

Tuesday has a long night to be sure.

For on that night I have Lemon cure.

Wednesday passes quickly you see.

For on that night Creese sings for me.

Thursday through I cheerfully do stay.

For that's the night Hood helps to pass away.

Friday is a short day for me.

For on that night Lemon I'll see.

Saturday long I look devine.

For on that night Creese falls in line.

Sunday is a great day of mine.

As I see the three of them one at a time.

So all the week I'm busy you see.

It's the kind of life that just suits me.

The Sunday School Lesson

REWARD OF FAITHFULNESS.

Lesson—Matt. 25: 14-30.

Golden Text—"Well done, good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things" (Matt. 25: 23).

Historical Setting.
Time—April, A. D. 30. Place—Mt. Olivet.

The Lesson Text.

14 For it is as when a man, going into another country, called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods.

15 And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, to another one; to each according to his several ability; and he went on his journey.

16 Straightway he that received the five talents went and traded with them, and made other five talents.

17 In like manner he also that received the two gained other two.

18 But he that received the one went away and digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money.

19 Now after a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and maketh a reckoning with them.

20 And he that received the five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou gavest unto me five talents: lo, I have gained other five talents.

21 His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things; enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

22 And he also that received the two talents came and said, Lord, thou gavest unto me two talents; lo, I have gained other two talents.

23 His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things; enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

24 And he also that had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I know thee that thou art, a hard man, reaping where thou didst not sow, and gathering where thou didst not scatter;

25 and I was afraid, and went away and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, thou hast thine own.

26 But his lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I did not scatter;

27 thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the bankers, and at my coming I should have received back my own with interest.

28 Take ye away therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him that hath the ten talents.

29 For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance; but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away.

30 And cast ye out the unprofitable servant into the outer darkness: there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth.

Comments.

Verse 14. This text immediately follows the preceding lesson. The "man" is the "Son of man," and the "going" His departure from the earth, which was close at hand. His servants were, of course, His followers. The "goods" are the preaching of the gospel, saving men and extending the kingdom.

Verse 15. The value of a talent is variously estimated from $1,000 to $2,000. No disciple of Jesus is given responsibility beyond his ability, and abilities differ.

Verse 16. Here is a lesson of urgency and promptness. The demands of the kingdom of Christ are pressing. We may add to our ability, and abilities differ.

Verse 17. Here is a lesson of urgency and promptness. The demands of the kingdom of Christ are pressing. We may add to our ability, and abilities differ.

Verse 18. This servant returned proportionately the same as the other. The parable is designed for the study of all followers of Christ.

Verse 19. This servant received one talent because his ability was on the one-talent basis. Had he returned a proportionate amount he would have received proportionate blessing, but he left his talent unused, his influence uninvested.

Verse 20. This suggests that a long period of time will pass before the Lord's return.

Verse 20. This servant came happily and hopefully because he had done his best.

Verse 21. His faithfulness is rewarded. Faithfulness is a smaller sphere. Opportunity follows achievements.

Verse 22. The same thing may be said of the man of two talents that was said to the man of five talents.

Verse 23. Leadership can safely be placed only in the hands of those who show power of advancement.

Verse 24. The man who did nothing was the only one who came with an excuse. Not only so, but he aimed to shift the responsibility.

Verse 25. He dared to speak insolently to his master. The Lord's "own" would have been increased dividends as well as the original capital. There is no reason why we should not pay interest in the way of growth and influence.

Verse 26. The servant is reproved for neglect, and not for stupidity.

Verse 27, 28. Those who fit themselves to use abilities are the ones who are given opportunities.

Verse 29, 30. Opportunity is taken away from those who will not use it.

Topics for Research and Discussion.

I. The Distribution of the Talents (vs. 14-19). 1. Who is represented by the "man going into another country"? 2. What do the various parts of the parable represent? 3. To what extent is any disciple of Christ expected to bear responsibility? 4. What is the lesson in the word "straightway"? 5. Is it any more of a discredit to be endowed by nature with one talent than with five? 6. For what is credit really due?

II. The Talents Used (vs. 20-23). 7. If natural abilities increase by use, what is the effect of non-use? 8. Which is better, to make the best possible use of limited talents or worry because our talents are not greater?

III. The Results (vs. 24-30). 9. Who, in the parable, was the only man who came with an excuse? 10. To whom do most opportunities come, to those who use or those who bury their talents?

Artificial Digestion Quite Useless

The Temporary Relief of Digestive Tablets is Futile

My experience and study indicate that ninety per cent. of dyspeptics have slow liver, weak kidneys and constipated bowels.

These important organs get out of gear, throw an extra burden on the stomach which it can't handle and the result is indigestion.

My remedy will cure you. I call my remedy Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, and can recommend it, because I have proved it does cure chronic stomach trouble.

When you took at the formula of Dr. Hamilton's Pills you will see that they contain vegetable extracts that every physician admits are splendid tonics for the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Everyone knows the virtue of Mandrake, Butternut, Dandelion and Hyoscamus. These health-giving juices and extracts are carefully combined with other principles so as to produce a pill of wonderful efficiency that even children can safely use.

If you feel heavy and dull after meals, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. If your tongue is furred, or you have had taste and offensive breath, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

If you have a full, choking feeling in the throat and chest, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are badly needed.

If your head aches, you feel dizzy, no appetite and a desire to rest, your liver is at fault and needs the stimulation given by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Think it over. Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a system cleaner and health bringer of unusual merit; and they are safe for young and old.

My guarantee stands behind each box, proving my great confidence in the remedy I recommended; 25c per box or five for $1.00, at all dealers, and be sure you get the genuine Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

CURIOUS PLANT

Vegetable Bayonets Catch Multitudes of Flying Insects.

In Cuba there is a curious grass, centurus schinatus, which bristles with tiny sharp pointed apiclets upon which multitudes of insects are impaled. The wings of the victims are pierced and entangled by the barbed spines, so that most of them are unable to get away, and thus perish miserably. Even a large, luminous snapping beetle, which is so strong and active that it can with difficulty be held in the hand, falls a victim to these vegetable bayonets.

It has been observed, however, that two species of insects, a large bug, Oebalus, and an earwig, readily free themselves from the spines. Minute insects are not caught. The grass does not appear to derive any nourishment from its prey. It is found elsewhere in the West Indies and in Southern Florida.

In 1918 the revenue of the nine Provinces of the Dominion amounted to $69,019,108, being equal to $8.04 per head of the inhabitants. The highest per capita rate was in British Columbia, namely, $13.55.

NEGLECTED COLDS Lead to Consumption

Unless a complete cure is effected the inflammation passes rapidly to the throat bronchial tubes, and then to the lungs.

You can't make new lungs any more than you can make new fingers or a new nose—hence consumption is practically incurable.

But Catarrh can be cured, except in its final and always fatal stage.

Catarrhazone Guaranteed to Cure

The purest balsams and the greatest antiseptics are sent to every spot where catarrhal trouble exists—germs are killed, fur, secretions are destroyed, nature is given a chance and a cure comes quickly.

Colds and throat troubles can't last if the pure healing vapor of Catarrhazone is breathed—sneezing and coughing cease at once, because irritation is removed.

Use Catarrhazone to prevent—use it to cure your winter ills—it's pleasant, safe, and guaranteed in every case.

Two months' treatment, large size, guaranteed to cure, price $1; small size, 50c; sample size, 25c; sold everywhere.

On farms which have no woods the owner will often find neglected corners or poor soil slopes where planted trees would be profitable investment. The most should be made of these, for there are times when wood is as urgently needed as the products of the kitchen garden.

In some of the Polar regions wives are leamed on account of the great excess of men over women.

In six years Holland has increased its tea consumption about 90 per cent with a corresponding decrease in the use of coffee.

LET a woman ease your suffering. I want you to write, and let me tell you of my simple method of home treatment. Send you ten days in a trial, post-paid, and put you in touch with women in Canada who will gladly tell what my method has done for them.

If you are troubled with weak, tired feelings, headache, backache, bearing down, nervousness, dermal conditions, pain in the sides, regularly or irregularly, bloating, sense of falling or misplacement of internal organs, nervousness, desire to cry, palpitation, hot flashes, dark rings under the eyes, or a loss of interest in life, write to me today for free trial treatment.

Lowther to Visit Canada.

Right Hon. James Lowther, Speaker of the British House of Commons, announced recently that he hopes to visit Canada about Easter in connection with the presentation of a new speaker's chair to the Canadian House of Commons by the United Kingdom branch of the Empire Parliamentary Association. It is expected the chair will be ready for the opening of the next session of the Dominion Parliament.

Brides Need Schooling.

Brides under 16 years of age resident in Ontario will have to return to school next September, according to a Fred P. Gavin, inspector of Technical Education of the Province. This will come about when section three of the Adolescent Act comes into force, which is with the beginning of the fall term in 1921. Mr. Gavin says they estimate that there will be 100 boys and girls affected.

A Government Job.

They were looking down into the depths of the Niagara Gorge. "Do you know," asked the guide, "that it took millions and millions of years for this great abyss to be carved out?" "Well, well!" ejaculated the traveler. "I knew this was a government job."

OUR BOYS' AND GIRLS' CORNER

By Aunt June

Registered According to the Copyright Act

DEDICATED TO EVERY BOY AND GIRL IN CANADA

My Dear Boys and Girls:

Like the snowball, our League is growing and growing bigger and bigger every week. It is perfectly wonderful to find how many boys and girls there are in the world who wish to be helpers, and who are doing everything they can for other people. I am tremendously proud of my big band of true helpers. Do not forget what I said a few weeks ago that the very best way any person can help himself or herself to grow bigger and better, stronger or happier, is to help someone else.

Now, helpers all, I want you to remember once more that this is your own corner, and that by your letters, verses, stories or anything else you send in, you may make these columns as interesting as you like.

So far, I have not had many bird letters this year. Where are our bird lovers? A year ago so many of you told me about the winter birds. How many have you noticed around your house? Do you know any bird that sings in the winter? I wonder who can tell me of one.

Last week Hootie sent us a game, so we will print it here for everyone to learn. The game is called:

"QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS."

Each player is furnished with a pencil and two slips of paper. The more players, the more fun. On one slip of paper a question must be written. The papers are then collected and put into a bag or basket. Then the players write on the second slip the answer to the question they asked. These are then put into a different basket, each paper being first folded so that the writing cannot be seen. Each player now draws a slip from each bag until all hold a question and an answer which must be read aloud. As the slips have by now become all mixed up, the result is very comical; for instance, some of the questions and answers read like this: Question, Where are you going? Answer, I am afraid of them. Question, Do you like roses? Answer, Yes with mustard. Question, Do you eat beef? Answer, Yes, without horns.

WELCOME TO NEW MEMBERS.

A hearty welcome to the following new members: Clara Cousins, Centuria; Pudge, New Liskeard; "The Farmer's Merry Son," Renfrew; Mickey Pickford (this is a pen name) Roseville, Sask.; Eden Robinson, Whistler; Charlie Hope, Merlin; Mery Livinston; Karl Whittam Nicholson, Southampton; Eva Love, Flower Station; Dorothy Kay, Merida; "Two American Cousins," Marjorie Farrell, Missoula, Montana; Jean will not lose them. It is a long time since I wrote. I will write sooner the next time. You must have a lot of nice trips around Montreal. I liked the gifts you told us and the Helpers about. I have made some too—paper dolls I cut out and colored, ornaments, red, pink, brown, and all colored with my crayons. We had a Christmas tree nicely fixed, and Aunt Annie and Uncle Alfred sent us a book each and a card each. The names of the books were "My Railroad and Train," "Teddy Moleen," and "The Soldier Boys," and "Grimm's Fairy Tales." Santa brought us three sleighs. I hope there will be snow soon for us to play with them. I am sending you a verse about the lovely snow, and the next time I write will send you a story of Robin Red Breast and a verse about him too.

The Lovely Snow.

I love to see the pretty snow that comes on Christmas year. It fills everybody's heart with lots of Christmas cheer. I get my sleigh and go on the pretty snow, then I call Joe, Joe, Come and have a ride. "All right," says Joe. At Christmas tide there's lovely cold, cool, sunny air. I just love it then if it were hot weather fair. It's cool and cold and nice. It's cold as cold, cold ice. Oh, the lovely snow is just fun for John and Joe. I can look out of the window and look at John and Joe. Making pretty snow balls out of the pretty snow.

Wishing you and all the Helpers a Happy New Year, with love, from ANNIE LAURA HUNTER. Dear Annie—I am very glad to know that you and Joe were pleased with your badges. You have had a very happy holiday time with so many gifts and Santa Claus was indeed good to you. Thank you for the serve, and please give my love to Joe.

Eau Claire, Ont. Dear Aunt June—I thought that I would write to you when I saw the others writing to you. I go to school every day. I have a half-a-mile to go to school. I am in the junior third class at school. Our teacher's name is Miss Bell. I like her fine. Will you please send me a badge. There is a lot of ice around here. I love sliding.

MAGGIE MAXWELL. Dear Maggie—Is the ice still hard and good? If so, I am sure you are having a lot of fun. I am very glad you like your teacher. You did not tell me quite enough in your letter about yourself—that is, the kind of helping you do outside of school time. One of the rules for joining the Helpers' League of Service is that you must write a letter telling about your deeds of service. I am sure there is some one you help. If you will write and tell me what kind of thing you do, I will see that you receive a badge.

Glanford, Sta., Ont. Dear Aunt June—I happened to notice your other letters and thought I would like a pin. I wash dishes. I have a kitten called Popsy and a pony called Kitty. I have three sisters and two brothers. I am nine years of age. I go to school every day. I like skating very much.

DORIS LEMING. Dear Doris—I would like very much to see your pony and the kitten. I wonder if they are good friends. Your list of helpful deeds is not quite so long as some sent in by other Helpers, but I am sure that you will find other helpful things to do, and I expect you often do many more things for mother than washing dishes. Washing dishes is a great help. I know. You shall have a badge.

Dundalk. Dear Aunt June—I would like to join your League of Service and there is no pledge in our paper this week. I am a girl nine years old, and am in the senior first class. I just have one brother. He goes to school too. I can do quite a few things to help, such as wiping dishes, bringing in wood, setting the table. I like to play on the ice. We have a pet dog. His name is "Sport." I will enclose a stamp for a badge as my letter is getting long, so will close for this time.

MILDRED WARNER. Dear Mildred—Thank you for a neat letter. How does "Sport" like the ice? Do you take him with you when you play? I wonder what kind of a dog he is. When you say you can do quite a few things to help, I hope you mean also that you do these things or some of them. I am sending you a badge, and would like to have some more news from you another day.

South River, Ont. Dear Aunt June—This is my first letter to your club. I am reading all the letters in the Boys' and Girls' corner for a long time, and I thought I would write to help you out. I go to school every day. I live two miles from school. When I come home I help my mother. I feed the hens, carry in wood and water and help milking the cows and feed the sheep and pigs and other chores, for we have quite a few of other animals. I have a pet dog and cat. I play with them every day. This is all for this time. Wishing the club every success. I am sending a three-cent stamp and an envelope, wishing to get a badge.

ANDREW MICHAEL. Dear Andrew—Such a lot of my nephews and nieces live over a mile away from school. I expect you find that two-mile walk lovely in the summer time and the fall. You seem to have a lot of animals on your farm. I am glad you like pets.

Scottsboro, Sask. Dear Aunt June—I wish to join your club. Please send me a badge. I am eight years old and go to school. I bring the cows up at night. My pets are a dog named "Sport," and have some good times with him; then I have a black cat and a speck hen. I have an orphan cat; his name is Babe. I have one sister and no brothers. I wish Aunt June and all the members a Happy New Year.

BORDEN HARPER. Dear Borden—I am delighted to have your letter and so hear about your pets. Thank you for your good wishes. I would like to hear more about your school.

Carmangay, Alta. Dear Aunt June—As I was looking over the paper I noticed your corner and made up my mind I would join it. I live on the prairie seven miles from our nearest town, Carmangay. We had a very successful programme and tree at our school this Christmas. I helped to get it up. I said a recitation, was in a play, a drill and two songs. I help my mother a lot with the house work. Last summer I kept house while my mother and big sister were away. Will some of the members of this club please write to me. I will close now, wishing the club every success.

MARY THOMSON. Dear Mary—You shall have a badge. I should like very much to have seen your Christmas entertainment. You helped with it a great deal, I see. How would you like to write to some of the members whose names you will find in our Corner today? I think the idea of exchanging letters with each other is a fine one.

Napanee. Dear Aunt June—I have read with great pleasure the "Helper" letters. I would like to join your excellent League too. I live across the Bay of Quinte from Deseronto and am over there at least once a week, any way, summer or winter. In summer I row over in the skiff, and in winter, when the ice is good, I skate. It is snowing tonight and blowing a fierce gale. I have four pots—well five. First my little niece and namesake, a little curly-headed, blue-eyed, chestnut-eyed lassie. She will be three years old the 14th of February; then my little white-headed, two-year-old cousin Harold. They live in Deseronto. Well then there is Jesse the cow, a real pet. Jingo the cat (I had some time taming him), and last but not least, Gruffy, the pig.

Well, I'll now tell you how I help—not much I'm afraid. I wash the dishes, sweep the floor, keep my room tidy, carry water, bake nearly all the cakes, and do quite a bit of cooking for mother. I also take care of my nieces when they come over. I do my own mending and do a good turn whenever I get the chance. But my when I cook and see the things I could and should have done, it makes me ashamed! I think that I am doing very little to what the other Helpers are doing—don't you think so?

I go to school, yet I quit last year and went to work in the glass factory. I left there and went to a match factory. Now I have returned to school, and headed the Christmas report this year in my school. I have been going since November. I don't think that too bad, do you? But such awful writing. I don't believe you can make it out, so I will close, though I feel like writing on and on. I love to write stories and the one teacher I went to two years ago took several of my compositions home with her.

BABE. Dear Babe—I am very glad indeed to have such an interesting letter from you. As I read it through, I am wondering very much how old you are. With all the news you have given me, you left out this most interesting point. I think you must be over twelve years of age, because I note that you have been out to work in two factories. You did not say how you liked this adventure. Whatever your age, you are a very welcome new member to our League, because one is never too old to be a helper. You certainly have a lot of pets. I am very glad you put the baby niece first. I do not think you need feel ashamed of not having done more if you have lived up to the two lines in your letter, "I do a good turn whenever I get the chance." This is the Scout motto, is it not? Perhaps you will send in a story one day. I hope you will wear the badge.

Highgate, Ont.

Dear Aunt June—I would very much like to join your club. I am eleven years old. I go to school every day when I come home. I do my lessons and help mother. I help with the dishes, clean up, and when my brother is cross I play with him. He likes best to play with our kitten. He is a good size now, white and grey spot. His mother was killed so we brought them home and care for them. There was two of them, but the little gray one died. We had a dear little dog named "Beauty." Some cruel person poisoned him. I miss him very much. Mother is nervous, so I help her as much as I can. I would like to wear one of the Faithful Service pins, and will close with a three-cent stamp.

DOROTHY LITTLEJOHNS. Dear Dorothy—I wonder how old the little brother is. I am very sorry your dog was poisoned, for I am sure you love all the pets and must have felt his loss very much. You have earned a badge. I hope you will like to wear it.

Lovings greetings and many thanks to the following for their letters which will be found below:—Gladys Lancaster, Margaret D., Alice Graham, Ruby Elsom; Isabella Graham, Vera Casemore. I am delighted to read all about your many pets and the things what you love to do, and am only sorry that the space this week will not leave room for me to answer each letter separately.

Brocklet, Alta. Dear Dorothy—I am very sorry I did not say anything about my service work in my last letter. I get the breakfast for my mother, milk the cows, feed the chickens, wash the dishes. I am twelve years old. I will close now, hoping to get my badge.

GLADYS LANCASTER. Sarnia. Dear Aunt June—I thought I would like to join your club. My daddy work is go to school and I am in the second book. I like going to school fine and when I come home I do my home work and get the supper ready. I live on a farm eight miles out on the London road. My mother is not very well and is in bed most of the time. I have one big sister and one big brother. I had a pet kitten but it died. Will you please send me a badge. I am sending five cents instead of a stamp.

Olds, Alta. Dear Aunt June—I would like to join your Club. I help at home with dishes and sweeping and washing clothes. I have six brothers and one sister. I have to put my little brothers to bed at night. I am twelve years old and in grade 6. My sister is writing a letter also. I will close now.

ISABELLA GRAHAM. Winnipeg. Dear Aunt June—I have enjoyed reading the Boys' and Girls' page very much, so I thought I would write too. I am twelve years old, and I am in the infants' class at the school. I am going to try my entrance this June. I go to school every day I can. In the mornings I wash the dishes and milk four cows and do the same at night. I have a little pony called "Benny." I am learning to ride horse-back. I have great fun in the winter time with him. He likes hearing the bells jingle in the winter when he is hitched up in his cutter. Can I get a badge, Aunt June? I hope you all had a Happy New Year.

VERA MARGUERITE CASEMORE. Olds, Alberta. Dear Aunt June—I wish to join your club. I go to school nearly every day and when I get home I get supper and then I do the dishes, sweep the floor, and keep the care of the children. I have six brothers and one sister. Would you send me a badge.

ALICE GRAHAM. Charteris, Que. Dear Aunt June—I received the pin and think it a little beauty. I saw my letter in print and you said you liked cats. I like cats too. I take music lessons, and I am getting along fine. Our school stopped 22nd of December. Well, Santa was very good to me. I was away at my sister's for a week and a half; had a good time. I was at a Christmas tree down there.

MARGARET D. Yours lovingly, AUNT JUNE. Box 516, Station F, Toronto.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

BY MISS ROSALIND

Registered According to the Copyright Act.

Miss Rosalind welcomes letters from young women asking for advice on any subject. All you have to do is to address your letter to

MISS ROSALIND,

34 King William St., Hamilton, Ont.

Dear Rosalind:

I have followed your column for some time, and I have come to the conclusion that you must be a tactful, sensible person, therefore I wish to take you into confidence upon a matter concerning my heart's affection:

A year ago last spring, there came into our district to teach, a girl of about 20 years of age, but looked a few years older; after getting acquainted and as time went along, I found her to be a very nice person. At tennis I was given preference over others and also at a dance I was chosen for Ladies' Choir dance, also after the players had left the tennis courts, she would ask me, "could we have a little play, or is it too dark?" and I always would consent to a little play until dark. Do you think this girl was playing upon my feelings? There were others in better position than I. One in particular used to drive his car constantly at her service, while I had to depend on others to give me a ride here and there. This girl seemed to give me marked preference and I might say encouragement. About three weeks before she left I asked if I may call to see her, while passing through Saskatoon, C. Bingham and she said she would rather I would not as she would be very busy preparing for exams at the University, but asked for a visit on my way returning, consented in a half-hearted don't care kind of way. I also asked for correspondences, but could not gain consent. So what is your opinion of this girl? The fact is I have lost my heart to her, the last two or three days she turned very distant before leaving. Thanking you in anticipation. Yours,

A WAITING BACHELOR.

Dear Bachelor:

I am inclined to think you took the girl's interest in you a little too seriously. She probably found you superior to many of the others and enjoyed your companionship most; but with no thought at all of falling in love with you. When she saw that you were more serious than she wanted you to be it frightened her a little and she showed it by a decided change in manner. I would advise that you drop her a card occasionally in the friendliest, big brotherly way and if you pass through her home town, telephone her quite casually, but on no account bother her with serious attention, until her old liking comes back. If it should not return, then I'm afraid the case is hopeless—but time works wonders my friend, don't be discouraged.

ROSALIND.

My Dear Rosalind:

At last I have made up my mind to bother you. I live on a farm 5 miles from town as there are not many young folks around here I would like to have a small party. Could you furnish me with some games for a bunch of young folks to play? I thank you for your help.

INDIAN BELLE.

Dear Belle:

I am afraid you will think me horribly slow about answering. I wonder if we could not get some good suggestions from our readers along the line of your letter. I am sure there have been some jolly parties this winter. Why could we not have letters telling us about them and passing on some good ideas. I think charades are heaps of fun, that is choosing sides, you know, each side in turn acting out the syllables of a word for the other side to guess.

Another game, designed especially to keep guests moving around the room and breaking up stiffness, is the "Initial Contest". The hostess presents to her guests "Art Catalogue," and tells them that their portraits have been painted by a celebrated artist and are on exhibition in her home. She invites them to examine the pictures and guess the right names from the titles attached, which are personal characteristics, hobbies or fads of each guest, beginning with the guest's initials. The catalogue is a folder, with an appropriate design in color on the cover, containing numbers from one to fifty, corresponding with those on the pictures. A pencil is fastened by a cord to the folder.

The pictures are cut from the fashion pages of magazines, pasted on cardboard panels and hung on the wall by ribbons. The initial letters are printed on the picture in red ink and the other letters in black. A girl by the name of "Louise Raymond," is fond of flowers, the portrait is entitled "Loves Roses," and is a picture of a young girl carrying a bunch of roses. An appropriate prize for the best guesser might be an inexpensive picture.

This game is one of the kind always successful because there is a personal interest in it for every one.

Where there is plenty of room a good fun maker is the "Barrel and Bell" game. Place a barrel bottom in the center of the floor. On it place a desk bell of the kind used by teachers. With a piece of chalk make a mark on the floor about four feet from the barrel. Blindfold one of the players and stand him on the mark, facing the barrel. Give him a five-foot stick, a little wider at one end than the other—a canoe paddle will answer the purpose admirably. Then begin to turn around until he has made about three complete turns. The player must try to keep in mind the location of the barrel while he is being turned. When he stops he may try three times to ring the bell with the stick. Let each player have three different turns during the game. The largest number of rings by one person will win the game.

I hope these help a little and that you have a wonderful time.

ROSALIND.

Dear Miss Rosalind:

Seeing your letter to girls in the paper I would like to ask your advice on three questions:

No. 1. How old should a girl be before she keeps company with a young man?

No. 2. Which would you advise a young girl to stay at home until all her boy friends' relatives are dead or married or move in with his friends. If the boy friend cannot have a home of her own before.

No. 3. How many times should a fellow see you during a week and how long should a fellow sit up at night with you when he first starts to go with you?

HAWAIIAN TRIO.

Dear Girls:

In answer to question one, I have

JACK and Jill went up a hill,
To fetch a pail of water;
They carried it back
Without spilling a drop,
In just the way they ought'er.

Find two other water carriers. Both upper side down, along hair.

always maintained that girls should have boy playmates all their lives. If a girl grows up used to boy friends, she is more apt to make a wise choice when the time comes than one who, when grown up, has boy friends for the first time. The latter is likely to think herself in love with the first man who walks home from church with her.

A girl "keeps company" with a young man when she is old enough to be engaged—say about twenty-one. Before that she has a good time with the crowd.

Second question—I would wait quite a while before I would live with a bunch of "in-laws" no matter how nice they were. The chances are the girl, if very young, will change her mind, which I think would be a wise thing to do.

Third—if you mean that when a girl starts to have boy friends she is to see only one, I think you are foolish. After a girl has reached years of reasonable discretion—say 21—and a man seems much more interested in her, and she in him than the rest of the crowd—he asks to call, and generally it becomes a habit—say once during the week and on Sunday. An evening call should be terminated at ten-thirty at the very latest. Please get away from that "going with" idea.

ROSALIND.

Dear Rosalind:

I am a girl nineteen years of age and am keeping company with a boy twenty-one. I am very much in love with him and he wants me to marry him. But my father is very mean with me and I have a very miserable life, and when I tell him he says "have patience." I have it in my mind to go away. Now should I wait for him or go away. Please answer as soon as possible and thank you I remain as usual.

MALJORIE R.

Dear Marjorie:

If you only knew how right father is! I know it seems mean of him, now; but if you will only believe me, when I tell you that right now when you "are very much in love" is just the happiest time of your whole life. I know, my dear! So just keep it that way as long as you can. Be content and be happy—and tell yourself how happy you are until your happiness makes your home a lovely place for you and father and everybody. Whatever you do, don't go away!

ROSALIND.

Dear Rosalind:

I have been reading your Advice to Girls in a small town paper and find it very interesting.

I would like to ask you some questions about something that has been troubling me for a long time.

I am twenty-one and should be old enough to judge for myself but heart and reason disagree.

If I should confide in you and send a stamped envelope would you write to me personally for I do so want your help, and I cannot have my letter printed. Would this be asking too much Dear Rosalind? If so, I shall try to work out my difficulties myself.

GLADYS.

Dear Gladys:

I am an exceedingly busy person, but I want to help all my girls. Nobody can know who writes these letters, my dear. If you use a pen name you are just as safely in my confidence as if I wrote you personally. However, if you still feel that the thousands of readers will know your story, send it to me as you suggest.

You Don't Taste Sugar In Sugar Cured Ham

The sugar and other materials used in curing ham add nothing to the flavor. Properly used they bring out and preserve the natural flavors of the meat—that's all. Duff's buy only prime Canadian hogs. Their special sugar cure developed during years of experience, does preserve this natural flavor—all of it. Serve Duff's Sugar Cured Ham baked, boiled, broiled or fried; you will find it delicious. Its smooth grain and piquant flavor make it welcome on any table. Your grocer and butcher have it or can get it from us—to-day.

Conversion

To the Members of Grace Church.
Dear Brethren:

God speaks to a man with a "still small voice." The slumbering conscience being awakened, the man listens, obeys the voice and is converted. This experience comes to all true christians in different degrees. Under God, some of us are so trained from childhood that we grow gradually in a state of grace from baptism until we consciously unite with Christ in public profession. Others have wandered away into grievous sin or slothful neglect of the church. A moment of revelation comes. In a flash he realizes he has wounded the love of Christ. At the same time he resolves to amend. He is convicted of sin. He repents. He believes. He is converted. This may take such hold of him, or he may have such an emotional nature that he feels an indescribable joy. The preacher or teacher sometimes makes the mistake of requiring this sudden joy from every member of the church. But one must guard against spiritual pride. Moreover emotion is not to be trusted unless followed by the fruits of the spirit, church going, Bible reading, prayers public and private, abstinence, church work, Living faith and hope, and above all charity. Joy will come. It may tarry. Joy will come. The God of all comfort will work with his own. Joy will come in Communion or Holy Communion or church work.

As we are now joining with millions of christians in London exercises are you, dear brother, looking for this joy? "Stir up the gift that is in you by the laying on of hands" as St. Paul wrote to Timothy. Then you will desire to share your grace with your fellowman. Turning others to Christ brings abundant satisfaction. A word, a good example, some movement towards the church on your part, often warms the heart of the onlooker and bring sweet satisfaction to the worker in the Lord's vineyard. In this our Forward Movement, win your place on earth and your eternal crown hereafter.

Yours faithfully,

H. J. Leake

Valuable.

The death of Major Arthur Allison Bartlett, of Charlottetown, a noted philatelist, recalled an incident in his career when he carried out a coup with Hon. W. S. Fielding, then Premier of Nova Scotia. The major had discovered that tucked up in the archives of the Government was a very large stock of unused pre-Confederation stamps. The Nova Scotia Government desired to cancel the stamps, but the British Government would not accede to the request and they were paid for and forgotten. With this "find" on the circumstances, Bartlett interviewed Premier Fielding and offered him $10,000 "for something he did know the Government possessed." The Premier declined to do business without knowing what he was selling, and ultimately, under an agreement of strict confidence between the two, Major Bartlett disclosed his knowledge on the understanding that he would receive the first refusal of the whole of the unused stock at a fair price which Premier Fielding would fix.

Shortly afterwards the major received a letter from Premier Fielding offering him the whole supply for $20,000, or double what the major had offered. The major took two friends into his confidence and they agreed to join him in acquiring the issue for $20,000, or for as much less as the major could negotiate. Armed with two certified cheques, one for $20,000 and one for $15,000, Major Bartlett returned to Halifax and had a second interview with Premier Fielding. As a result of this conference Premier Fielding agreed to let him have the stamps for $15,000, and thus it was that Major Bartlett obtained possession of the most valuable and remunerative collection of stamps ever placed on the market. Having got a corner on them he proceeded to place them on the market judiciously, and succeeded in making a great deal of money on the investment.

THE MAELSTROM

By FRANK FROST.
Late Superintendent of the Criminal Investigation Department of Scotland Yard.

"Well?" said Hallett quietly for the third time.
"You were at the house. You saw who killed the old man? You would know him again?" The man did not wait for an answer. "You must keep your mouth shut. This is for a warning. If you see him again you not tell—oh? There are many of us. You will be watched. And if you spit—" A prod with the pistol finished the sentence.

The theory that his molester was a reporter had long ago been abandoned by Jimmy Hallett. It was evidently thought that he had seen the face of the man at Limestone Terrace Gardens and he was to be terrorized into silence.

He had sense enough to reflect that for all the audacity of the hold-up, the threat of surveillance was bluff—perhaps even the concealed pistol was bluff. Not that his actions would have differed much even had he supposed them real.

He took a quick step backwards and sideways and a bullet that tore its way through the cloth of the other man's pocket told that that part of the story was reliable. Then Hallett's knee was in his back and Hallett's arms were woven in a strangle hold about his throat. The man collapsed gurgling.

The whole business had occurred in barely two seconds of time. As they fell there was a third arrival.

"Hold him down a minute, Mr. Hallett. That's all right." The third man possessed himself of the squirming captive's wrists and twisted them behind his back to Hallett. Then he methodically and quickly ran his hands through the prostrate man's clothing, possessing himself of a small, still-smoking revolver and a sheath-knife.

"Thank you, sir. Now this gentleman might get up. We'll run him along to King Street Station and see what Mr. Menzies has to say about it."

Then Hallett noted that the man who had come to his assistance was the liveried functionary who had accepted his five-pound note to put off the reporters less than an hour ago. But he no longer wore livery. He was in quiet, unassuming tweeds, and his manner was not exactly that which might be expected from a waiter to a hotel guest—even in the circumstances.

He surprised Hallett's look of inquiry and smiled as he locked his arm into that of the prisoner. "Detective Sergeant Royal, sir," he explained. "I'll let you know all about it later. What's your name, my man?" He shook his captive slightly.

"Smeeth—William Smeeth," said the man sullenly, and Royal winked at Hallett.

"That's a good old Anglo-Saxon name," he said. "Come along."

It was in the criminal investigation office at King Street, while they were awaiting Menzies, the Royal gave his explanation with a certain apologetic tone. "It was this way, Mr. Hallett. You see, Mr. Menzies asked me to keep an eye on you when you were sent home yesterday. Of course he thought you were all right, but it doesn't do to take any one's say-so in our trade. This is murder, you see, and although it seemed all right, you might have forged or stolen the introduction you had. We couldn't be sure your name was really Hallett."

"And sandbagged myself on the back of the head," interpolated Hallett, with irony.

Royal gave a shrug. "Mr. Menzies doesn't take any risks, sir. It couldn't do you any harm. They know me at the hotel, and that's how it was I was able to get into livery and walk into your room pretty well as I liked."

A new light broke upon Hallett. "I get you. I thought perhaps I was a bit fogged when I got up and had forgotten where I put things. You've been searching my room?"

Royal's face never shitted a muscle. "I don't admit it, sir. That would be illegal without your permission."

"Illegal or not, you did it," retorted Hallett. "I hope you're quite satisfied."

"Oh, there'll be no more trouble about that," Mr. Menzies told me on the telephone just now that he'd cabled to the States, and they've put your record reputation straight. Besides, there's what I learned about you."

"I suppose you read my letters," ventured Hallett. "No; don't worry to soothe me down. I'd probably have half-killed you if I'd caught you at it, but I'm quite calm now. By the way, there was a fever—"

A flush mounted to the temples of the detective, and he shook his head in vehement denial of the implication contained in the broken sentence.

"I had to take it or you might have suspected something. I passed it on to the servants and told 'em what to do. I never saw the reporter myself. Some of 'em might have known me."

"When you went down to breakfast I changed my clothes and slipped a phone message through to headquarters. They told me to hang on to you till Mr. Menzies had seen you. You'd never have known a word about it if it hadn't been for our bird down below." He jerked his head in the direction of the cells.

Hallett began to appreciate some of the realities of detective work. Before he could make any comment Menzies came in. He nodded affably to the young man.

"Morning, Mr. Hallett; not much the worse for last night, I see. I've got a little job for you presently. Meanwhile I want to see your friend down below. Like to come along?"

He made no apology for the espionage he had set on foot, and Hallett did not think it worth while to thrash out the subject again.

"William Smith," it seemed had already been searched with care and thoroughness. Royal explained to his chief that nothing which would serve as a hint to who he was had been found on him—nothing but the pistol, nine cartridges, and some money.

"Have you looked for the name of the tailor on his clothes—the brace buttons, the inside of the breast pocket, the trousers band?" demanded Menzies.

"Of course, sir," said Royal. He was a trifle offended that it should even be thought that he had neglected so elementary a precaution. "There's nothing—nothing at all."

Preceded by a uniformed inspector they went down to the cell. Smith looked up sullenly from the bench on which he was seated and met Menzies's gaze squarely. The detective chief was no believer in Lombroso's theories of physiognomy, but he studied the face intently.

In point of fact he was analyzing the features to discover if he had seen the man before. He wanted too, to get some clue as to the manner he should adopt—authoritative and official, or familiarity and persuasion.

"Well, sonny," he said gently. "You've tumbled into a mess. Attempted murder is a serious business."

Smith glanced at him blackly over his shoulder. Menzies went on. "Of course we don't believe the cock and bull story you told Mr. Hallett of there being a gang of you—"

"You don't eh?" exclaimed the prisoner, wheeling in sudden passion to face his visitor. "Then you are—what shall I say—wooden block-head?" He pointed a long slender forefinger at each of them in turn. "You and you and you—I tell you you will be marked. I failed—but there are others who will not fail if you persist."

Royal turned away to hide a snigger. This kind of melodrama failed to impress him.

"No doubt, no doubt," assented Menzies soothingly. He might have been calming down a headstrong questioner at a vestry meeting. "But there are a good many police officers in London. It will take a long time to kill 'em off. Now, why don't you be reasonable, Mr. Smith?"

HOW TO SAFEGUARD YOUR DIGESTION

THE BLOOD SHOULD CONSTANTLY BE KEPT RICH AND PURE.

If you suffer from any form of indigestion, your diet should be carefully chosen. Over-eating it always harmful, but at the same time one must take enough food to supply the needs of the blood. It must be remembered that the blood has to carry nourishment to every part of the body, find fuel for its energy and defences against disease, as well as the requisite juices for digestion. Hence when the blood becomes weak and fails to do its work, indigestion arises; also when indigestion begins the blood still further suffers. Therefore, to safeguard your digestion, the blood should be kept rich and free from impurities. For more than a third of a century Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a favorite tonic for enriching the blood and strengthening the nerves. If, therefore, you find yourself troubled with indigestion, or other ailments due to weak, watery blood, you will find Dr. Williams' Pink Pills both safe and effective. The value of this medicine in cases of stomach trouble is shown by the experience of Mrs. J. Lewis, Lake George, N. S., who says: "I suffered very severely with indigestion. I had severe pains in the stomach after every meal. I had a loathing for food, my rest at night was very much disturbed, and my general health was declining. I was under a doctor's care, but did not find any improvement. Reading of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had done in a similar case I decided to try them, with the result that after giving them a fair trial, my general health was improved, and all symptoms of the indigestion that had afflicted me disappeared. I feel very grateful to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for saving me from so much misery."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CHINESE EGGS

Importation is Worrying the Minister of Agriculture, Who Will Investigate.

In reviewing Canada's resources in the matter of agricultural interests, live stock and markets, the Hon. F. S. Tomlin, minister of agriculture for the Dominion, addressing the annual convention banquet of the Canadian Produce Association, made reference to the fact that there was a decided feeling at El Paso, Texas, when he was there in January in favor of increasing the tariff on live stock and other agricultural products, and in view of that contingency he thought Canada should examine carefully its amount of trade with the United States. Dr. Tomlin regretted that Chinese eggs were coming into this country in such great quantities, and announced that it was his intention to go into that question at an early date.

There is nothing repulsive in Miller's Worm Powders, and they are as pleasant to take as sugar, so that few children will refuse them. In some cases they cause vomiting through their action in an unsound stomach, but this is only a manifestation of their cleansing power, no indication that they are harmful. They can be thoroughly depended upon to clear worms from the system.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE SUN LIFE CO.

RECORD OF ACHIEVEMENTS AND GROWTH STANDS ALONE IN ANNALS OF LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES IN CANADA.

The year 1921 marks the fiftieth anniversary of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada which in the half century of its existence has grown to be one of the largest and most successful life insurance companies in the world.

A comparison of the growth of the company's business by decades is perhaps the most convincing proof of the strength of its management and of the steady development of public confidence towards it.

One year after it was organized, in 1872, the company's income was $48,000; its assets, $96,461, and it had written policies for a total of $1,064,250. By the year 1880 the income had grown to $141,402, with assets $473,682 and insurance in force of $5,897,139. From this time onward the development of the company, not only in Canada but in stretching out to many other countries of the world, proceeded at a rapid pace, as the tables for the next four decades indicate:

1890	Income	$ 889,000
	Assets	2,473,000
	Insurance in force	16,759,000
1900	Income	2,789,000
	Assets	10,486,000
	Insurance in force	57,980,000
1910	Income	6,577,000
	Assets	38,181,000
	Insurance in force	143,549,000
1920	Income	28,751,000
	Assets	114,839,000
	Insurance in force	486,641,000

Such a record stands alone in the annals of life insurance companies in Canada. Nor after such a great achievement is there any sign that the company has any intention of standing still on its laurels, for during the past year there was written in new insurance upwards of $106,000,000 which in itself exceeds by $50,000,000 the high mark of 1919, which up to that date was a record for the company. It is interesting to note that during its fifty years of existence the Sun Life has paid out to its policy-holders or their beneficiaries over $100,000,000. Details of the financial statement of this company for the past year appear elsewhere in this issue, and will be studied with more than usual interest in this its Jubilee year.

NEVER BUT ONCE.

As the stage coach careened toward the edge of the cliff the timid tourist gazed anxiously down at the brawling stream 200 feet below.

"Do people fall over this precipice often?" she asked.

The driver chuckled to his horses. "No, madam," he returned placidly, "never but once."

THIS WOMAN'S MISERY

Ended by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Remarkable Recovery of Mrs. Church.

Smiths Falls, Ont.—"I suffered with falling of my organs, pains around my heart and in bowels and down my legs, neuralgia in my face and head, and that terrible sickening feeling. I felt that I could not live and would fix my house in order every night so there would be no trouble if I dropped off in the night. My husband went to the druggist to get the best remedy he had and he gave him Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took six bottles and felt a lot better. I will always recommend the Vegetable Compound, and you can use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. O. Church, Box 245, Smiths Falls, Ont.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from nervous prostration, displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion and dizziness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

If there are any complications about which you need advice write in confidence to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

In Ye Olden Time

hoop' skirts were worn by those who first asked the druggist, and insisted on having the genuine Golden Medical Discovery put up by Dr. Pierce over fifty years ago. Dress has changed very much since then! But Dr. Pierce's medicines contain the same dependable ingredients. They are standard today just as they were fifty years ago and never contained alcohol.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the stomach and blood cannot be surpassed by any remedy today.

At this time of the year some people feel "all out of sorts"—their vitality is at a low ebb—the blood becomes surcharged with poisons! The best blood medicine and tonic is called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It puts vim, vigor, vitality into the blood. Try it. This is what folks say about it:

LINDSAY, ONT.—"Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best medicine I have ever taken for stomach trouble. For many years I suffered with gastric stomach trouble and nervous indigestion. I would be so bad at times that it was necessary for me to be in bed two or three days at a time. I have doctored and taken many different medicines with little relief. Just recently I began taking the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and it has given more relief than all the other medicines I have ever taken. My stomach does not bother me and I have not had any indigestion since taking this medicine. I can highly recommend the 'Discovery' to others who suffer with this ailment."—Mrs. Geo. WELLSINGTON, No. 6 John Street.

TRADE WITH DOMINION.

Canada Has Rich Market In Fellow Dominion.

Canada led all other countries in supplying the colony of Trinidad with foodstuffs in 1919, complete trade statistics for that year, which have just been published, show. The importation of foodstuffs from Canada was over three-quarters of a million dollars greater in value than in the previous year, amounting to $4,203,898, as against $3,485,486. The bulk of this consisted of flour and salt fish.

During the year food stuffs valued at $2,588,534 were imported from the United States, $589,536 from Britain and $1,504,104 from British dominions and possessions other than Canada.

Canada sold this colony raw material valued at $203,270, as against $90,165 in the previous year and manufactured articles valued at $555,688, against $283,574 in the previous year. In manufactured articles the Old Country had a big lead, importations in 1919 being valued at $3,358,024, in the previous year the value of manufactured goods purchased from Great Britain was $2,517,518.

The total import trade with Canada showed a considerable increase during the year, being $5,096,764 as compared with $3,859,224 in the previous year. While this increase was largely due to the steady rise in prices, the proportion of the import trade held by Canada shows that the Dominion has steadily increased its share, being 20.5 per cent. in 1919, 18.6 per cent. in 1918, 18.1 per cent. in 1917, and 9.1 per cent. in 1913. This increase has been largely at the expense of the Mother Country which shows a steady decrease. In the flour trade it is stated that Canada now practically has a monopoly.

Canada now furnishes most of the butter used in Trinidad. In 1919 $44,289 worth of butter from Canadian dairies was sold in this market, while cheese to the value of $12,907 came from the Dominion. The imports of condensed milk are also important, amounting to $40,056 in 1919. Among other leading items supplied by Canada during the year were: paper, $32,236; painters' colors and materials, $23,719; rubber manufactures, $47,332; undressed timber, $103,315; dressed timber $67,977.

The trade in rubber manufactures is a comparatively new development and includes largely canvass rubber-soled shoes, for which a big demand had developed here as a substitute for leather shoes.

The export trade to Canada showed a decrease in 1919, being $793,150 as compared with $1,081,689 in 1918. The four chief exports to Canada are sugar, cocoa, coconuts, and molasses, all of which, except coconuts, showed declines in the year.

The Trumpeter Swans.

In a recent issue of the Toronto Mail and Empire there appeared a news item to the effect that in a very remote region of British Columbia there were discovered between 50 and 100 trumpeter swans on a lake, and that the Dominion Biological Survey had put a guard over them. Last summer Mr. R. M. Barnes, curator of the Field Museum, Chicago, said that the United States Biological Survey had discovered two pairs of trumpeter swans breeding in a lake in Yellowstone Park, and that they had placed a very strict guard over them.

This is all very good news to bird lovers, as there is not a more beautiful bird in North America than the trumpeter swan, and authorities were beginning to think that the last remaining bird was the big male in the National Park Zoo at Washington. Mr. Frank Miller, the gamekeeper at the Old Soldiers' Home, Quincy, Ill., recently declared that he well remembers the time when in the late fall he could run down the rows of corn and kill with a stick the big trumpeters before they could rise to fly. The trumpeters unfortunately took the Mississippi river course, while the whistler swans took the Great Lakes and the Pacific coast trips while migrating, and the Mississippi is a terribly destructive course for a huge bird to travel.

Salmon Fishing.

Fishing for salmon is prohibited at the present time in nearly all the rivers of Alaska and altogether in the southeastern part of the territory. Meanwhile the fishery goes on, but it is marine fishery. The salmon are caught on their feeding grounds out at sea with purse seines, gill nets, floating traps and fish lines. Trolling for salmon is great sport and is particularly fine off the straits of San Juan de Fuca.

Our Wheat.

Canada's most important cereal crop is wheat. It covers 26 per cent. of the land in crops, and forms 25 per cent. of the value of all crops. Saskatchewan alone has more than half of the wheat acreage of the Dominion. Yield, 1919, 182,260,400 bushels; value, $360,573,000.

Happy Occasion.
