CRADLE AND COFFIN.

Two receptacles awaiting
Meet the needs of human kind;
Each with its appropriate weight.

Cradle, placed in marriage chamber,
Swaying, swaying to and fro;
Up to the children's cradle-side;

Coffin, midway placed, and dreary,
Cold, funeral dirge, and still;
And its tenant resting weary.

With the death-dump stealing child;
That hangs aloof, and cold and chill;
Round the couch are vigils kept.

Cradle—coffin—intervening
O, long and aching years!
Soul, slow learning time's dark meaning,

Eyes out-looking through their tears;
Through the lattice and the door;
Come, upspringing our omens—

Self-convicting our commissions.
Loving deeply, fondly, truly,
We infinitely demand;

Yielding up spontaneity, duly;
Frolics and frolics and frolics;
Thence this anguish is but telling

Of the depth whence love was wailing.

LIABILITY OF NEWSPAPER SUBSCRIBERS.

We invite the attention of subscribers to the following extract from a late London Paper, by which it will be seen that the principle has been finally settled by the Courts of Law in reference to the legal responsibility of subscribers to Newspapers.

"1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions.

"2. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their Periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible till they have settled their Bills and ordered their Periodicals to be discontinued.

"3. If subscribers remove to other places without informing the Publisher, and such removal is proved to be true, they are held responsible for the periodical sent to the former direction, they are held responsible.

"4. The Courts have decided, that refusing to take a Newspaper or Periodical from the office, or removing and leaving it uncollected, are sufficient notice to the Publisher, and all persons notified, are required to make immediate payment to either of the Publishers.

"5. Benjamin Haywood, William Haywood, Witnesses—Thos. G. Roggles, Tugby, F. C. Island, 29th Decr. 1852.

The business heretofore conducted by the above Parties will be carried on after this date, on their own respective accounts.

WILLIAM STRAIGHT, Hatter, (Has worked in some of the principal Shops in London, viz. Messrs. Christie's & Co., Edmond & Co., Mayhew & White, &c.)

What we call DUTY.—Every man ought to pay his debts—if he can. Every man ought to help his neighbor—if he can. Every man and woman ought to get married—if they can. Every man should do his work to suit his conscience—if he can. Every man should please his wife—if he can. Every wife should please her husband—if she can. Every one should take a newspaper, and pay for it—anyhow.

NEW CODE FOR TOOTHACHE.—A writer in a late number of a Medical Journal says:—Gum Copal, when dissolved in chloroform, forms an excellent compound for soothing the holes of decayed teeth. I have used it very frequently, and the benefit, which my patients have derived from it, has been truly astonishing. The application is simple and easy. I clean out the hole, and moisten a little cotton with the solution; I introduce this into the decayed part, and in every instance, the relief has been almost instantaneous. The chloroform removes the pain, and the gum copal resists the action of saliva, and as the application is so agreeable, those who may labour under this dreadful malady would do well to make a trial of it.

CHINESE MODE OF FEELING THE PULSE.—The Chinese physicians, it is well known, have long had the credit of paying very peculiar attention to the pulse. The patient is required to be laid in bed, with his arm resting on a cushion. The physician must be seated, and both parties are to remain silent, calm, and collected. The fingers are next to be applied, in due succession, one after another, in order to judge of the compressibility of the artery. The Chinese do not infer solely from the rapidity of the pulsation. Their mode is to compare the number of pulsations of the artery with the intervals of the respiration; or of the pulsation of a man in moderate health, they consider to be a correct indication. Their chief divisions of the pulse are four: the superficial, the profound, the quick, and the slow. These they consider as having relation to the temperature, the tension, the serenity, the pliancy, and the mobility.

ASKING TWO MEAT.—A young couple were sitting together, notobly in some romantic spot, with birds and flowers around; at least the reader is led to infer that they had all these "appiances and accessories to heart," when the following conversation ensued:—"My dear, if the meridian of my life would please thee, most gladly would I lay it down at thy feet."

"Oh, sir, you are too kind! But it just reminds me, that I wish you would gratify me by dismissing the use of tobacco."

"Can't think of it. It's a habit to which I am wedded."

"As very well, sir, I also in the way in which you accustom your life for me, and as you are already wedded to tobacco, I'll take care that you are never wedded to me also, as it would be bigamy."

A GREAT INVENTION.—Oswego Journal says, that Professor Willis, of Rochester, has invented a self-winding clock, which is the greatest mechanical wonder of the day. It has been examined by several scientific gentlemen, who are unanimous in their opinion, that it is a complete triumph. The Editor says, that Mr. Willis, "in this invention, has succeeded in finding the principle of perpetual motion, for so long as the component parts of the clock exist, it will continue its action, and keep constantly in motion."

A MOST MIRACULOUS CURE OF BAD LEGS, AFTER 45 YEARS SUFFERING. Extract of a Letter from Mrs. William Galpin, of 70, Saint Mary's Street, Weymouth, dated May 15, 1851.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT. A PERSON 70 YEARS OF AGE CURED OF A BAD LEG, OF THIRTY YEARS' STANDING. Copy of a Letter from Mr. Wm. Auld, Builder of Gas Ovens, to Professor Holloway, dated May 31, 1851.

THE KNEE. I suffered for a period of thirty years from a bad leg, the result of a severe cold, and during the whole period had the best medical attendance, but all to no use. Having before heard a wonderful story in my own day, of your medicinal ointment, I determined to give it a trial, and to my great surprise, I had recourse to a variety of medical advice, without deriving any benefit, and was even told that the leg must be amputated; and, in opposition to that opinion, your Pills and Ointment have effected a complete cure in so short a time, that few who had not witnessed it would credit the fact.

A DREADFUL BAD BREAST CURED IN ONE MONTH. Extract of a Letter from Mr. Frederick Turner, of Penzance, to Professor Holloway, dated December 13, 1850.
