"A child's among ye, takin' notes, An' faith he'll prove it."

A GOOD PRESENT.—The most useful gift you can make is to give a Wire Pen. Apply to D. McGillicuddy, agent, Goderich.

Geo. Stewart isn't taking views for the "Globe Fair" but they prepared to do the work on reasonable terms. He is not a wet fish.

The summer is well upon us and those who want to get seasonable suits made should not fail to call upon the people's tailor, F. J. Friddle, who leads the procession in his line.

Merchants can get their Bill Heads, Letter Heads, etc., printed at this office for very little more than they generally pay for the paper, and it helps to advertise their business. Call and see samples and get prices.

The report that Mr. B. Sellers was about to drop out of the picture-framing business is not correct. He does not neglect in the slightest particular his photo line, but he still does a fine trade in picture framing.

Being compelled to discharge our plumber, we seek our patrons to bear with us for a few days. We are getting a first-class man from Toronto on Monday next. We have on hand a full stock of hose, lawn sprinklers, Hydrants and sanitary plumbers' work. We do only first-class work at low prices and so on.

BRIEFLETS.

Miss M. Grant left on Wednesday last to visit friends in Detroit.

Garnet Fraser, who has been visiting in town, left by the Lora on Saturday last for his home in Detroit.

Mr. Charles Smith returned to Montreal on Saturday after a two weeks' visit at the maternal residence, Colborne street.

Miss Blair, teacher in the central school, who was seriously ill the past two weeks, is, we are pleased to record, steadily improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Rees Price of Goderich, left on Wednesday last, via the steamer Campana, for the Soo, where they intend visiting their son Fred.

Mr. John Lynn, of California, who has been residing in Goderich for some time, left on Saturday last for Detroit, where he has secured a situation.

Miss Jessie Thompson, who has been attending the kindergarten school at St. Mary's, has returned home for vacation preparatory to attending the Normal School, Toronto.

The Bible Christian church, two miles east of Beemiller, has purchased of Geo. W. Thompson, local agent for the Goderich Organ Co., one of those beautiful church organs. Success to them.

Mr. A. Duff, of this town, who has been teaching at Chespedis, county of Haldimand, is spending his vacation with his family in town. He has a decided preference for the Huron Tract.

SETTLEMENT EFFORTED.—The inspector of the Western Assurance Co. was in town last Thursday and made a satisfactory settlement with Mr. P. McEwen regarding the fire at his salt works. The fire that caused Mr. McEwen's loss started in the derick.

HE WILL BE WELCOMED.—Rev. T. M. Campbell, of St. Mary's, who is so highly esteemed by so many people in Goderich, will occupy North-st. Methodist church pulpit Sunday next, morning and evening. Rev. Geo. Richardson will occupy the St. Mary's pulpit the same day.

LEGAL HOLIDAYS.—Our hard-working brethren—the legal fraternity—are now enjoying their summer vacation. The law offices are closed at 3 p.m. every afternoon except Saturday, and the shutters go up at one o'clock. Litigants should govern themselves accordingly.

SACRAMENT SERVICE.—The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will, D. V., be dispensed in Knox Church, next Lord's Day morning. Mr. Anderson will conduct the service. The preparatory service will be held this (Friday) evening at 7:30 o'clock, when Rev. D. M. Ramsay, B.D., of Londonboro', will preach.

Mr. Will Hutchinson, of the Winnipeg Mills, is in town for a week or two after an absence of two years. He reports things lively in the Prairie Province, and looks for a big yield of agricultural products there.

A WELL-BRED HORSE.—We clip the following from Dominion's Spirit of the Turf, published at Chicago, which refers to a well-known Goderich horse, owned by Messrs. Aikhead & Gundry:—"Is Zamor registered as thoroughbred? If so what is his pedigree and in what book?" R.S. "ASA"—(1) He is registered in Vol. V Bruce's American Stud Book as a colt of imp Mortimer; dam Zoo Zoo, by imp Australian; 2d dam by Lexington; 3d dam by imp Yorkshire. We like his breeding.

HE GETS THERE ALL THE SAME.—The Clinton New Era thus refers to the building operation of a former resident of Goderich: "Mr. S. S. Cooper has been awarded the contract for the erection of a new house for Mr. P. Quigley, Hullist; Mr. Cooper put one up for Mr. T. T. Quigley (Quigley's brother-in-law) and it is to be the same as that one. Where Sam does one job it is usually a recommendation for another. What's stopping the boys is why Pat Quigley wants a new house when he has no one to occupy it, but even if he gets a new one, he will need a McIntosh to keep it dry."

EXCURSION FROM WOODSTOCK.—About 400 excursionists from Woodstock, principally employees of Kays's organ factory and Patterson's agricultural implement works came to Goderich Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock on a special train of eleven coaches. They at once proceeded to Harbor Park, where a program of athletic sports and games was successfully carried out. The games consisted of baseball, after which a number of the visitors availed themselves of the opportunity to take a ten mile excursion on the lake on the steamer Roberts, which all heartily enjoyed. The excursionists left for home shortly after 6 p.m., by the G. T. R., well Cooke instrumental duty, Miss Martin and Curran; solo, Miss Graham, and several other selections by the orchestra, which were greatly appreciated. Votes of thanks were passed to Mr. Carey for use of grounds, and to those who had furnished refreshments.

ONE STEP HIGHER.—Following are the names of pupils who were successful at the recent promotion examination of the Separate School, in order of merit. From I to IV to Senior IV:—Edna Dean, James Payne, Retto Curry, John Tiche, Ann McDougall, Ellen Nealon, Frank Shannon; from Sen. III to Jun. IV:—Dora Campion, James O'Rourke, Willie Curtin, Annie McCormac, Joseph Doyle, Ellen Webb, Jim Hurley; from Jun. III to Jun. IV:—Maggie Payne, M. Shannon, Ambrose Lyon, Maggie Lyon; from II to Jun. III:—Ed. Tighe, Rose Gallagher, Dora Chisholm, Eugene Dean, John Phelan, Teresa Doyle, Maggie Hurley, Maud Curry, Dalis Burns; from I Reader, Part II, to I Reader—Maggie Payne, M. Shannon, Teresa McEvoy, Maggie Williamson; from I Reader, Part I, to Part II Reader—Mamie McBride, May Payne, Joe Lynn, May Tighe, Ann McDougall.

TURNING THE TABLES.—Recently the well-known Goderich trotter, "Grey Tobe," was in London at the "aces in the city, and swept everything before him in his class. On the 5th inst. the bona fides of "Grey Tobe" were questioned by a Mr. W. H. Birrell, who thought himself an expert on horse-flesh. This is the way Mr. T. S. Johnston, owner of "Grey Tobe," gets back at Mr. Birrell, and makes the case one of "put up or shut up"—In the Free Press of Saturday, July 5th, I observe an individual named W. H. Birrell, who officiated as one of the timekeepers at the races on the Western Fair Park on the 1st inst., says:—"Grey Tobe" is a "weaver" and stands only 15 hands high, while "Grey Tobe" is a white horse and stands 16 hands high. "Grey Tobe" is not and never was "Grey Bennie," and if Mr. Birrell can find $100 to back up his rash statement, I will surmise as he thinks he "Grey Bennie" is a "weaver" and stands only 15 hands high, while "Grey Tobe" is a white horse and stands 16 hands high. Mr. Birrell is something of a "track faker" himself, and believes that all horse owners are built the same way. A few years ago he came to our town and ran the role of a singer, bringing in "Ralph B." and passing him under the name of "Billy Birrell." He was corralled at the time, and has been seen on Goderich horses ever since. T. S. JOHNSTON, owner of "Grey Tobe," Goderich, July 7, 1890.

RECEIVED THE SILK GOWN.—We are pleased to learn that amongst recent recipients of the title of Q. C. was Mr. W. C. Hamilton, of Regina, N.W.T., well and favorably known in Goderich—of which town, by-the-way, he is a native. We congratulate our former townsman upon having obtained the much coveted distinction.

PASSED AWAY.—Miss Nora Seymour, sister of our former townsman, Mr. William Seymour, died in Goderich on Wednesday. She had been an invalid for some time, and came to Goderich in the hope of recuperating by change of air, but disease had too great a hold of her and she succumbed. The funeral will take place this (Friday) morning at 9 o'clock.

APPOINTED COMMISSIONER.—Mr. J. G. Ward, of Duggan, was in town Monday last, and received a parchment which entitled him to act as commissioner for the taking of recognizances of bail, or affidavits, or affirmations or depositions or solemn declarations in and for the County of Huron. The appointment of Mr. Ward will prove a boon to the people of his section, and save many of them the trouble of going to London.

A STRICKEN FAMILY.—We regret to learn that four members of the family of Mr. W. R. Robertson have been stricken down with illness during the past week, but hope soon to hear of the recovery of all the patients. Amongst them is Mr. Will Robertson, well and favorably known through his connection with the business office of THE SIGNAL. He and his family have the full sympathy of our entire staff.

STRAWBERRY SOCIAL.—The social held under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E. of North-st., Goderich, on Tuesday evening last, on the beautiful grounds of Mr. Johnston Carey, was well attended and an enjoyable time was spent. In addition to refreshments consisting of strawberries, cake and ice cream, an interesting musical program was presented. The program consisted of songs, Miss Cooke instrumental duty, Miss Martin and Curran; solo, Miss Graham, and several other selections by the orchestra, which were greatly appreciated. Votes of thanks were passed to Mr. Carey for use of grounds, and to those who had furnished refreshments.

A BEAUTIFUL SUBSCRIPTION PICTURE.—We have just received from Mr. Wald, editor and proprietor of the Farmer's Advocate, of London, Ont., and Winnipeg, Man., a copy of his subscription picture, called "Canada's Pride." The picture is 24x36 inches, and shows a beautiful landscape. In the foreground are the portages of nine celebrated draught horses. The ownership and the particulars of each horse is concisely given. The picture itself is a very fine original engraving, and is the best thing of the kind ever issued in America. DR. M. NICHOLSON, the West-st. dentist, makes the preservation of the natural teeth a specialty. Gas administered from 9 a. m. for the painless extraction of teeth.

MR. AND MRS. THOM and infant son, of Montreal, were visiting Mrs. Thom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Hutchinson on Tuesday. Mr. Thom returned to Montreal on Tuesday but Mrs. Thom and child will remain here for a couple of months to enjoy our bracing air.

A NEW FACE IN KNOX CHURCH PULPIT.—Rev. S. Jones, of Brussels, occupied the pulpit at Knox church very acceptably on Sunday morning. Mr. Jones has passed four score and three milestones, but his natural forces are still vigorous and his powers are unabated. We understand he will occupy the same pulpit for the three ensuing Sabbaths.

SUCCESSFUL STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.—The people of Victoria-at-Mathews Church were to be congratulated on the success of their strawberry festival last Friday. The day was wet and winds cold, yet the attendance was good and the social was in many respects all that could be desired. The lady club swung under Mr. Baily, gave a series of refreshments. The evening's enjoyment was marred by the cold, high winds prevailing, in consequence of which the grounds could not be illuminated. The young people are very grateful to Mr. Bawden for the use of his house and grounds. Proceeds, $42.60.

HIGH SCHOOL ENTRANCE EXAMS.—The examinations for entrance to the High School in West Huron took place last week. 67 wrote at Goderich, 45 at Exeter and 23 at Duggan. The list will appear next week.

WRITING FOR CERTIFICATES.—The writing for certificates opened Tuesday morning last in the Court room, under the management of Inspector Tom. There were 22 writing for 2d; 52 for 3d; and 3 for matriculation.

BARBER COGNATE.—By reference to the announcement on our eighth page it will be seen that Mrs. R. B. Smith has established a bargain counter at the Glasgow House, where Berlin wools, ribbons, lace, &c., can be had at genuine bargain prices. Early callers secure the best selection.

ORIT.—The remains of Charles E. Slack, a native of Goderich, but for many years past a resident of the United States, arrived from Argentine, Kansas, Thursday last. He had been sitting for some months in bed, and passed away on Tuesday last. He will be buried from the residence of the late Thos. Dark this (Friday) afternoon at 3 o'clock.

SATISFIED WITH THE CHANGE.—The many friends of Mr. Samuel Grigg, formerly of this town, but now manager of the water works at Northfield, Mass., (built for the accommodation of those who attend the Moody meeting) will be pleased to know that he is thoroughly satisfied with his change in life, and has no desire whatever to return to his former occupation.

HE BELIEVES IN GODERICH'S RECRUITING POWER.—Mr. Wm. Seymour, of Detroit, formerly a well-known and esteemed resident of Goderich, is spending a week or two in town, accompanied by his wife and family. Last year about this time Mr. Seymour spent a few weeks in Goderich to recruit his health after a three months' illness in Detroit the previous spring, and so satisfactory were the results that he has had neither ache nor pain since. He is now over here for some of the old medicines—the bracing breeze of Lake Huron.

PUBLIC SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.—The monthly meeting of the public school board was held in the library on Monday evening, members all present. The principal's report, showing the average attendance for June, 548—boys 290, girls 258—was filed. Account of Fraser & Porter, $10.50, was ordered to be paid. An application from Mr. W. Herbert Robertson for the position of assistant during the summer term was read and the gentlemen unanimously appointed by the board. Miss Blair's room was ordered to be vacated during vacation, the chairman and Messrs. Crabb, Swanson and McKenzie being appointed a committee for purchasing seats. Several resolutions and reports were referred to the contingent committee, and the board adjourned.

HURON SIGNAL

FRIDAY, JULY 11, 1890.

AND NOW the newspaper paragrapher in the city who doesn't wish to sacrifice cigar money treating lady friends is working up the old chestnut about poisoned ice-cream. Some of the girls won't scare a little bit, however.

GOVERNOR NICHOLLS, of Louisiana, has vetoed the Lottery Bill. NICHOLLS knocking out the gambling scheme will keep nickels in the pockets of many foolish people who formerly sent their all to be invested in New Orleans chances for wealth.

THE Province does not appear to have been thrown into a chaotic state re- sulting only OLIVER MOWAT was endorsed at the polls, and even the editor of the Hamilton Spectator is allowed to attend Divine service as his conscience dictates, and with his old time religiosity.

A REVEREND lecturer at Crediton recently secured the attention of his audience by offering a prize for the auditor who could give the best summary of his discourse. Here's a method for occu- piers of pulpits to keep the members of the congregation awake during the en- suing two months' services.

GENERAL MIDDLETON has been made a middleman—a buffer, so to speak—to break the force of public sentiment be- tween the people and the Ottawa Govern- ment. MIDDLETON saw that at Ottawa corruption reigned, and unfortunately thought that looting furs in a campaign would never be questioned. But he forgot that once in a while some one had to be made a scapegoat of.

FRIDAY last Organizer Preston, Sec- retary of the Provincial Reform Associa- tion, was banqueted by his friends in Toronto and presented with a handsome gold watch and $1,000 spot cash, as a slight token of the appreciation of his services in connection with the recent Provincial elections. Now that the way to do such things, and if the Reform- ers in every locality would show appre- ciation of those who do good work at election times, it's quite possible THE SIG- NAL would be a blushing recipient itself—that is to say—as it were—speaking after the manner of men—ahem! Well, we would mildly remark that if our friends were to frantically pine for the opportunity of getting up a testimonial for us they need not be afraid of us throwing cold water on the project. Anything from a Bullock press to a trip to Europe would not be irreverently thrust to one side. We're not built that way, and never act churlish to our friends and well wishers.

PROTECTION AND THE TOILER.

Time and again we hear from Res- trictionist sources the old, old story that Protection has a tendency to in- crease the wage of the workman, but we fail to find that such has been the ex- perience of the countries which have adopted the policy of High Tariff.

When we read of the sufferings of the white slaves of the Pennsylvania coal- mines, who fail to get sufficient re- munerations to furnish them with even the necessities of life; when from the toilers and moilers of New York a cry of anguish ascends that "Bread is so dear and flesh and blood so cheap," when strike follows strike to restrain combine after combine, and Capital and Labor have to battle like giants in legislative halls, in a country where the rank Protection obtains, then it be- comes to us to believe that Restriction is not a wage-raiser, and is not in the inter- est of the masses.

Even in Canada the High Tariff in- augurated in 1879, and increased in the years that have intervened, has not suc- ceeded in making our land an El Dor- ado, and placing wealth in the way of the workman. Wages have not in- creased to the artisan under the benign influence of the N.P.; manufacturers have not increased and multiplied; the home market has not been created for the farmer; the country has not pro- spered and prospered. The cause for this lack of prosperity was pointed out by Mr. A. F. JURY, one of the best posted workmen in Canada on econo- mic questions, in a recent address de- livered before the Single Tax Associa- tion of Toronto, and we give the following excerpt which bears on the line of our argument:

He pointed out that protection utterly failed to protect the workmen, that the manufacturer could work on until his warehouse was full of goods, and then insist on a reduction of wages. If the man refused to accept this a lock-out would follow, and he could meet foreign competition with the surplus stored in his warehouse. Had he failed to starve his workmen into submission before his warehouse was emptied, he could then import duty free—what he would call at election time—the pauper labor of Europe. Then in some cases manufac- turers are not able to pay as high wages under protection as under free trade, be- cause they must pay a higher price for their raw material. It never occurs to them to strike against the price of the raw material but they even up the cost of production by cutting down the wages of the workmen.

Mr. JURY here ran counter a Single Tax Society peculiarity. A question was fired at him point blank from the audi- ence and with the instinct of an old stumpster he met it squarely.

"How is it that wages are higher in protection than in free trade countries?" asked the interrupter.

"They are not," replied Mr. JURY; and he quoted from Ainsworth Spofford's American Almanac to show that wages are from 25 to 100 per cent. higher in free trade England, than in any other European country, while the cost of living in all articles affected by the tariff is lower in England than elsewhere on the continent.

It is unfair to compare England with a country like the United States or Canada where there is an abundance of land easily accessible to the people. The rate of wages is practically deter- mined by the amount of first-class land accessible to the people. A fair com- parison could be made between two such countries as the Australian colonies of Victoria and New South Wales, one protected and the other under a low revenue tariff. In New South Wales, the revenue tariff colony, wages are a little higher than in Victoria and the cost of living cheaper. He was willing to compare New South Wales with any country in the world.

Another questioner wanted to know why it was not as easy to pay the neces- sary taxation in the form of a protective tariff as in any other way. Mr. JURY pointed out that under protection the people pay not only the revenue but al- so a large sum into the coffers of the manufacturers. He estimated that of every $3 the people pay in duties, only $1 reaches the nation's treasury at Ottawa. In the matter of sugar alone, it makes a difference of a million dollars to the people of Canada, whether they are taxed on the raw or the refined sugar.

From the foregoing it will be readily seen that no matter who may benefit by a policy of High Tariff the workman is, and must continue to be, the sufferer. A few pap-fad industries may see out a miserable existence; or the stockholders of one or two sugar refineries or other pampered institutions may wax fat and easy, but even then it is only Capital that multiplies and increases, while Labor has to struggle along with the bitter fight for existence 'still,' before it.

And as with the workman so with the farmer. High Tariff does not and cannot benefit him in the slightest, while a positive injury is done him on every side by its iniquitous working. Every article that the farmer has to purchase—from the cradle to the coffin—is added to in cost by the policy of Restriction, while in no solitary case is the price of his labor added to in the slightest. These facts are indisputable, and after a trial of eleven years we are willing to have the farmers of Canada guided in their decision as to the merits of High Tariff being a benefit to their class by their personal experience during that period.

Careful and candid investigation on the part of the artisan and farmer will satisfy each and every one that the policy of High Tariff has been a hollow mockery, a delusion and a snare.

The High Taxationist must go.

THE METHODIST MAGAZINE FOR JUNE, 1890.

This popular Monthly closes its 31st volume with an excellent number. It has four illustrated articles—The Cana- dian Tourist Party in Italy, Lady Bras- sey's remarkable adventures in Borneo, Rev Geo. Bond's Vignettes of Travel in Northern Palestine, and a graphic account of the "Forward Movement" in London. A Diamond in the Rough is a clever Newfoundland character sketch by a Minister's daughter. "The First Methodist Society" takes us back to the beginnings of that remarkable Church which has belted the world with its mis- sions. ### BEHIND A MASK.

A Pleasant Evening Party at the Residence of Mr. G. M. Doe.

On Monday evening there occurred at the handsome residence of Mr. Geo. Mer- rill Doe one of those brilliant society events for which Goderich is so noted. Mrs. Doe, having a large house party of American friends, gave a somewhat novel but a most successful entertainment—a fancy dress ball. The beautiful and handsome costumes, fitting from room to room and through the magnificent garden, contrived to produce a brilliant scene not soon to be forgotten.

The following were among the most elegant and noteworthy costumes: Miss Edith Lindsay, of Detroit, was attired in a most charming manner an Eastern princess; Miss M. Mumford, of Detroit, wore a dress of black and yellow, looking essentially the Spanish lady, while Miss Ada Chilton also carried out the same character to perfection; Miss Hawley and Miss Theodosia Hawley each repre- sented the pretty Swiss peasant; Miss Doe, Miss Horton and Miss Nafel in white dresses beautifully draped each looked the classical Greek girl; Mrs. R. Hutchison in a handsome black costume suitably trimmed represented Night, Miss Annie Wynn in a somewhat similar dress also taking the same character. Miss Aggie Ross, in yellow and green, prettily portrayed the beauties of the butterfly; Mrs. R. S. Williams wore a beautiful Japanese dress; Miss Widder looked exceedingly well as Britannia, while Canada was equally well portrayed by Miss Smith; Miss Hamilton was attired as a lady of the House of Stuart; Mrs. R. and the royal Stuart tartan; Mrs. G. Reynolds was quite a dignified Mar- tha Washington; Miss Sophie Williams in a dress of silver grey and white, made a charming Marguerite; Miss Rena Nafel was becomingly dressed as an Egyptian, while Miss Mabel Cameron and Miss Start each enacted the pretty flower girl; Miss Cameron as a lady of the 17th century, and Miss Bessie Chilton in an Empire costume were charmingly dressed; Miss Malcolm attired in white and gold, made a radiant Morning; Mrs. Perry Drummond and Miss Drummond in apple-green and white, made pretty Lillies, and while Mrs. F. Nafel also looked well as a gipsy girl. A number of other ladies, including the hostess, handsomely dressed though not in fancy costume, lent brilliancy to the scene.

The gentlemen looked very well, though from their costumes it could be easily seen, that while some were very handsome they had neither that brilliancy of conception, nor nicety of finish that marked the ladies' dress. The following are the characters as taken by each:—Mr. Henry Doe, fisherman; Mr. Griggs and Mr. Gray, negro minstrels; Mr. Doe and Mr. Chas. Doe, dominos; Mr. Garfield, clergyman; Mr. Abe Gar- field, coachman; Mr. Horton and Mr. McDermitt, dominos; Mr. Hosie, gentleman of 17th century; Mr. Jos. Williams and Mr. Dudley Holmes, officers; Mr. Thos. Chilton, sailor; Dr. Shannon, Hamlet; Mr. R. G. Reynolds, Geo. Washington; Mr. McVicar, bar- rister; Mr. Wm. Hutchinson, Mr. P. Mal- comson, Mr. F. Nafel and Mr. Adolphus Nafel, gentlemen in reign Charles I.; Mr. Murray, clown; Mr. Drummond, tennis costume; Mr. Lay, East Indian snake charmer. A number of other gentlemen including Judge Johnston, Mr. Ormou- son, Mr. R. S. Williams, Mr. John Wil- son, Mr. Wm. Hutchinson, Mr. P. Mal- comson, Mr. F. Nafel and Mr. Adolphus Nafel wore evening dress and were masked.

It is with regret we announce a sad accident which happened to Morley Counter, of Three Rivers, Mich., formerly Seaforth, whereby he lost his life. From the meagre accounts received it appears that he was in bathing in lake Kingston and was seized with cramps and sank to rise no more alive. His body was recovered and forwarded to Simcoe where it was interred on Wednes- day. Deceased was a great favorite amongst the young people and enjoyed the respect and esteem of all his acquaint- ances.

NOTES.

Dept. Wm Marlow has about completed another fishing boat, 28ft keel, 9ft beam, for Port Dover.

The docks are now pretty well cleared out, but more is expected shortly.

Williams' barrel factory has been running full time during the past week, and the daily output is increasing as the operatives are becoming expert in feeding the machines.

A. Hunter, Brussels, Clerk Fourth Division Court is away on a holiday trip to Chicago, Cincinnati and other American cities.

Olinson New Era.—The other day a young fellow from the country appropriated an article out of a store. Constable Heasley soon set after him, and on his catching the article the youth was allowed to go.

The following from the Vancouver Herald, of June 20th, refers to a well-known athlete of Grey township: A fine exhibition of wrestling took place in the Imperial Opera House last evening between the Jap and G. Ferris. A fair assembly assembled to witness the match.

About 10 o'clock W. B. Gallagher introduced the contestants, and also announced that Jas. Bates, of New Westminster, would act as referee. Lots were drawn for choice of style, and the up being successful chose the Greco-Roman style for the first bout. The contestants then proceeded to the centre of the carpet, and after the customary preliminary ceremony of hand-shaking went to work. The first fall, after severe struggle on both sides, was won by the Jap in 23 minutes and 14 seconds.

The second fall was won by Ferris, catch-catch-can, in 7 minutes and 37 seconds, having won the second fall in shorter time than the Jap won the first, by arrangement Ferris was entitled to the choice of style for the last round. He accordingly selected catch-catch-can again. After a rest of 10 minutes the contestants again opened fire, and in 5 minutes and 28 seconds Ferris had the Jap "flat on the broad of his back." At this juncture the Jap, smarting somewhat under his defeat, issued a challenge to Ferris to wrestle within 15 days from the Greco-Roman style, for $250 or $100 on either side. After a little consideration he accepted the challenge, declaring that he would meet the Jap any time and wrestle him any style he wished, but that he would have to be satisfied with "catch-weights," as he (Ferris) would not train himself down again for any man. Thus ended one of the best exhibitions of the kind ever witnessed in Vancouver. Ferris' friends, while not underrating the Jap, have the greatest confidence in their man, whose splendid physique, size and wonderful strength, will be supplemented by a skill almost if not quite equal to that of his renowned adversary.

THE TORONTO BUDGET.

A PROTEST FILED AGAINST MR. STINSON'S ELECTION.

Immigration to Ontario.—Mr. Manley's Body Found at Lewiston.—Another Father Loses His Life in the Don.—A Fatal Scaffolding Accident.

TORONTO, July 10.—A petition against the return of Mr. Thos. H. Stinson to the Ontario Assembly from Hamilton was filed yesterday with the registrar of the Court of Appeal. The protest was accompanied with the necessary deposit of $1000.

Mr. J. V. Teetzel, Q. C., of Hamilton, filed the document through his Toronto agents, Messrs. McCarthy, Oser, Hoskin & Creelman. Mark J. Patterson, the petitioner, is described as a gentleman. He is an ex-acting waiter in the Hamilton Customs House. Mr. Stinson and his agents are charged with a variety of offences against the election law: with betting money on the result, bribery, intimidation, aiding personation and with violating the License Act.

Captain Fred Manley and his brother Herbert returned from Lewiston last evening on the Cibola, bringing over the remains of their father, who was accidentally drowned in the Niagara river on Monday evening. It is supposed that the old gentleman, after leaving his home in Millland-street Monday, went to the wharf to take a boat for the island, as he had expressed some intention to his daughter earlier in the week. It is also supposed that his mind being unsettled by his recent severe illness he got on the Niagara boat instead of the ferry and did not notice his mistake until the steamer was far out.

On arriving at Lewiston he walked up to the vicinity of Brock's monument. He was very much exhausted at the time. He spoke to a man on the road and seemed to be suffering greatly. Shortly after his body was found in very shallow water. His hat was on his head. It is thought that he tumbled off the bank, and being so weak was unable to save himself.

For the six months ended June 30 there arrived at the five agencies in the Province of Ontario 32,562 immigrants; 6190 came via the St. Lawrence route to the United States; 24,928 went to the United States, 64 to Quebec, 976 to Manitoba and 6525 remained in Ontario. The nationality of the latter is: English 3720, Irish 923, Scotch 978, German 367, Scandinavian 16, American 389, other countries 28. The totals for the same period of 1888 and 1889 were 54,319 and 48,319, of which 12,746 and 9616 remained in Ontario.

While several men were at work on a scaffold on a building in course of erection at Uster-street and Euclid-avenue at 4 1/2 yesterday afternoon, the support gave way and the workmen were precipitated to the ground, a distance of 35 feet. John Boyle of 37 Brunswick-avenue sustained serious internal injuries. The ambulance was summoned and he was conveyed to the Hospital. It is impossible as yet to say whether his injuries will terminate fatally.

William T. Humphrey, aged 13, son of Thomas R. Humphrey, contractor, 3 Queen-street east, went bathing in the Don above Winchester-street bridge yesterday with a companion named John Schaefer. He either waded beyond his depth or was seized with cramps and sank to the bottom. Young Schaefer gave an alarm and the body was recovered an hour afterwards by Superintendent Bulmer of Port Arthur was appointed Sheriff of Thunder Bay; James Meek was made Clerk of the District Court and W. C. Dobie police magistrate, vice Thompson. Sir Alexander Campbell, Lieutenant-Governor, leaves on July 16 for a trip to England during the absence of the administrator who will devolve upon Chief Justice Sir Thomas Galt.

Drowned.
PETERBORO, July 9.—A drowning accident occurred in Emily township Sunday. Richard Morrissey, aged 30, was bathing in Pigeon creek, and getting beyond his depth was drowned. The body was soon after recovered.

29 Japs Drowned at a Launching.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Advices from Japan state that 29 persons were drowned at Osaka on June 15 during the launching of a sailing vessel. Twenty were injured. The vessel turned completely over on the launchings.

Sudden Death at Indian Village.
PETERBORO, July 9.—George Dick, jr., of Bobcaygeon, aged 35, accidentally fell off the steamer Maple Leaf while it was lying at the Indian Village wharf, and was rescued without apparently having sustained any injury. About half an hour afterwards he put his hand quickly to his head as if in pain, and became gradually unconscious, dying in half an hour from the bursting of a blood vessel in the brain. He leaves a wife and family of young children.

Rather Rapid Matrimonial Experience.
HITCHELAW, July 9.—Charles Lagrange, who was arrested on the charge of bigamy a week ago, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three years in the State penitentiary. He married a girl in Sedgwick June 8 and one in Hutchinson June 13.

Fighting the Beer Syndicate.
ST. LOUIS, July 9.—The English syndicate that purchased 17 St. Louis breweries is somewhat disappointed. The sellers were bound by contract not to go into the brewery business for 10 years. Every president was made a manager at salaries of not less than $3000 a year. Orders have since been served by the local representatives of the executive committee cutting these salaries down to $3000 and dismissing several managers. The retrenchment saves nearly $100,000 a year in salaries and cuts off 12 high-priced employes. The three non-syndicate breweries are taxed to their capacity and the sellers are exasperated. At a secret meeting held a few days ago it was decided to start three new breweries to fight the syndicate.

Yesterday's Ball Games.
PLAYERS.—Boston 15, Cleveland 8; New York 18, Buff. 4; Philadelphia 9, Pittsburg 16; Brooklyn 15, Chicago 9.

NATIONALS.—Boston 15, Pittsburg 7; New York 9, Chicago 3; Philadelphia 6, Cincinnati 1; Cleveland 3, Brooklyn 6.

AMERICAN.—Columbus 6, Rochester 7; Toledo 9, Brooklyn 3; St. Louis 5, Syracuse 12; Athletics 1, Louisville 3.

Protection in Spain.
MADRID, July 9.—The new cabinet has issued a circular outlining its policy. It announces its intention to give decided and sincere protection to national productions by a revision of the tariff.

A NORTHUMBERLAND MURDER.

Killed by a Blow—A Dog Prevents Another Tragedy.

BRIGHTON, July 9.—On June 25 Charles Gereau went into the blacksmith shop of Franklin K. Minor of Haldimand, Northumberland County, on a run, caught hold of Minor and gave him a squeeze, let him go and exclaimed, "I'll show them. I have had too many of these things." He went to the door just as Robert Lockhart was coming in, who said, "Hello, Charlie." Gereau picked up an oak scantling three feet long and three inches square and struck Lockhart over the head and knocked him senseless. Gereau helped to take him into the shop and said, "Now that I have done it you can go and bury him. I have killed him and I'll kill another." It appears that all this must have been premeditated. When Miss Lockhart was in the field calling her brother she saw Gereau coming towards her. She ran for the house and he ran after her with a club in his hand. Just as he was about to strike her over the head Lockhart's dog came out and kept him at bay and saved the poor girl's life.

After this Gereau was tied by his neighbors, taken before a magistrate and sent to jail for trial.

Lockhart happened on an unconscious state until July 8, when death put an end to his misery. A jury is now considering the case.

LABOR TROUBLES.

Two Men Killed in a Riot at West Superior—Lake Seamen's Strike.
MILWAUKEE, July 9.—A special from West Superior says striking dock laborers attempted to prevent all work in the city this afternoon. A riot ensued. Two men were mortally shot and others wounded.

CHICAGO, July 9.—The recent strike of lake seamen tying up the commerce of this port for several days has brought about "a state of things" between the Seamen's Union and the Vessel Owners' Association. The latter met yesterday afternoon and resolved that after Aug. 1 they would employ only non-union men and that in default of help of that sort they would tie up their vessels. It was also decided to advertise for men on the Atlantic coast.

THE HOME CIRCLE.

Most housekeepers know how invaluable newspapers are for packing away the winter clothing, the printing ink acting as a defiance to the stoutest moth, some housewives think, as successfully as camphor or tar paper. For this reason newspapers are invaluable under the carpet, laid over the regular carpet paper. The most valuable quality of newspapers in the kitchen, however, is their ability to keep out the air. It is well known that ice, completely enveloped in newspapers so that air is shut out, will keep a longer time than under other conditions; and that a pitcher of ice water laid in a newspaper, with the ends of the paper twisted together to exclude the air, will remain all night in any summer room with scarcely any perceptible melting of the ice. These facts should be utilized often rather than they are in the care of the sick at night. In freezing ice-cream, when the ice is scarce, pack the freezer only three-quarters full of ice and salt, and finish with newspapers, and the difference in the time of freezing and quality of the cream is not perceptible from the result where the freezer is packed full of ice. After removing the dasher, it is better to cork up the cream and cover it tightly with a packing of newspapers than to use more ice. The newspapers retain the cold already in the ice better than the packing of cracked ice and salt, which must have crevices to admit the air.

Useful Hints.

A good substitute for cream in coffee is the beaten yolk of an egg, with a teaspoonful of sugar and two tablespoonfuls of water added.

To prevent lard cake from sticking to the tins, be sure to rub them smooth with common table salt, and then oil them with melted butter, after which lightly dredge with sifted flour.

Another a fire with carpets, etc.; water will often spread burning oil, and increase danger. Before passing through smoke, take a full breath and then stoop low, but if carbonic acid is suspected, walk erect.

"Waste not, want not," is an old adage, and many a crumb can be saved by cutting a loaf of bread or cake, freshly baked, with a hot knife, the slices being as smoothly cut as if the loaves were cold and twenty-four hours old.

A clothier states that the proper way to wash a flannel shirt is to soak the garment in hot soap water, never rubbing it, and put it repeatedly through a wringer. The garment should never be wrung with the hands, and never put in cold water.

To clean a carpet thoroughly, throw damp salt upon it and then sweep it briskly, and it will be found that all the coloring will have been vastly brightened; or if the carpet has been well swept, go over it afterward with a clean cloth and salt water, and the result will be almost as good.

As an item of economy, as well as of convenience, we recommend the buying of lemons when plenty and cheap; squeeze out the juice, and to each pint add one pound of refined sugar, bring to a boiling heat, stirring the mixture in the meantime till the sugar is dissolved, then bottle and cork tightly, and set in a cool place. When wanted for lemonade take a goblet of water and add sufficient juice to suit the taste. Hot lemonade is made by the use of lemon instead of cold water. Every family should preserve lemon juice for times of need. The juice of the lemon preserved in this way will be found a convenience, as well as a luxury when travelling.

English Method of Cooking Rice.—To two quarts of boiling water, add one-half cup of rice washed in three waters; place in the boiling water and cook for about one-half hour, or until tender; then pour into a colander and rinse in either hot or cold water, reheat, and season according to taste. Cook in a single kettle.

Green Pea Soup.—Wash and pick a pint of peas, boil till quite soft in three pints of water, strain through a colander to remove the skins, return to the kettle and add salt to taste. Just before serving add one-half cup of cream or a tablespoonful of butter. Serve with toasted bread cut in small squares.

Boiled Carrots with White Sauce.—Boil about two quarts of carrots (sliced round) in salted water; always scrape them; when tender drain in a colander, and mash fine in a stew-pan with a potato masher. Add one-half cup of cream or one tablespoonful of creamed butter, one pint of milk, and one tablespoonful of corn-starch, rubbed in a little milk; add when it boils.

Hygienic Pudding.—Soak one cupful of sago one hour in water enough to cover it—drain off any water that may not be taken up. Stir into a quart of boiling water, into which a cup of seeded raisins and two sour apples sliced thin have been placed; let all cook till perfectly done. Mould in cups or pudding mould; serve with cream or sauce. Dates and figs can be used instead of raisins, with less cooking. This pudding is sweetened with fruits in the proper proportion so that no cane-sugar is required.

Millard's Eminent is used by Physicians.

A Companion in Poverty. A wall of a boy was eating a stale loaf of bread on the street yesterday with the air of a starving, says the Detroit Press, when a stray dog came along and crouched at his feet. The hungry look remained in the boy's eyes, but he glanced down at the vagabond dog and said in a friendly way: "Wot you want? This ain't no bone. Git!"

The dog moved off a little and again it crouched and looked wistfully at the food. "Say, do you want this wuss nor I do?" asked the wall. "Speak, c'nt yer!" The dog gave a quick bark and the boy threw him the rest of the loaf. "Nuff said," he remarked, as he watched him eat ravenously. "I ain't the fellow to see a pard in trouble."

And the boy went off one way and the dog he had befriended another, both the better for the encounter.

people. The supervisor's reports show a smaller per capita expenditure for the support of paupers than in any other town within Cook County; in some cases only one-half. For the six months just expired under the present supervisor, food has been furnished to 18 families, at a cost of $136; and the official estimate for the year is $1,100. For the six months barely four policemen have been found necessary, and their duties are very light, chiefly that of looking after traps seeking the victu and clothes of a sober people. There never has been a house of ill-fame here. For the year ending Oct. 1st, 1884, the dockets of the courts exercising police powers show only 38 arrests for criminal or disorderly conduct, one-third of those being on the platform as they come from the city.

The Scotch Nationality.

Among the various nationalities which contribute their quota to the making up of the population of New York City, the most cosmopolitan community probably on the face of the globe, the Scottish nationality ranks among the smallest. It is not strange that it should be so. Scotland has never had a large population. As compared with either of her two nearest neighbors, England and Ireland, with the former especially, Scotland, in point of population, has always been exceedingly small. Today, with the large increment of Irish in the larger cities, especially in the west, the entire population but slightly exceeds four millions. It has really been wonderful how this small nationality has sent its sons and its daughters to such numbers all over the earth. In every British colony the little kingdom is well represented; and it would be difficult to find a foreign country into which Scotchmen have not forged their way. It is significant, also, that wherever you find them they are an element of force. Whether the front. Macnally likens the Scotchman, in one of his well-known passages, to a piece of cork. Sink the cork where you may, it will rise to the surface. It is so with the Scot. Plant him where you may, leave him only liberty of action, and he will make his presence felt; he will work his way to the surface of society.

The Scot owes something to nature.

There is intrinsic excellence in the race. There is the ring of genuine metal in the material out of which he is made. Whether you regard him as Celt or Saxon, or a qualified compound of both, there is in his superior racial excellence, which time and hard experience, mental, moral and religious training, have undoubtedly qualified, but not degraded. In some of the finer, softer, more amiable, and more attractive aspects of human nature Scotchmen may be found wanting as compared with the men of some other nationalities. But in the various elements which constitute the real worth of the individual man—solidity of character, purpose, energy, resource, determination, endurance, and self-reliance—the typical Scottish man has few if any superiors. He is a debtor to race first of all; afterward to climate, to a rigidly adhered to Presbyterian Church, and to the parish school. In spite of an inborn stubbornness—an unconquerable unwillingness to be driven, or sold, or ruled upon, or made use of—he has a faculty of taking advantage of favoring circumstances when they offer; and when he has his hold there is but a feeble possibility of his grip. For the use of others, the Scot is not the most adaptable of men. It is to his honor that it is so. For his own purposes, and in pushing his own way, he is adaptable enough. Of the general accuracy of these statements it would be difficult to multiply proof. In Canada the reins of power have been held by a Scotman for the best part of two generations. Sir John Macdonald has found but one man worthy to be called a rival, and he has been a countryman of his own. In the older Australian colonies, where there have been opportunities for those offered in Canada, Scotchmen are more often than otherwise at the summit of power; and they are foremost not so much as politicians, or office-seekers, or self-server, but as men seeking the welfare and advancement of the colony or community. It is not necessary, however, to linger in foreign parts seeking examples. We have them in abundance in these United States; and we are far from being without them in the immediate neighborhood, and especially in the city of New York.—John L. Wilson, in Harper's Weekly.

Prohibition in Practice.

Here is a story of how the town of Evanston, Illinois, was built up—an Aladdin's castle of the present day—by the magic lamp, Prohibition. We take the story from the Voice, and everyone will do well to read it: "Thirty and odd years ago, the Legislature of Illinois chartered the Northwestern University, adding to its educational powers the educational command that intoxicating liquors should never be sold as a beverage within four miles of the seat of said school. Its Methodist managers stuck its home-stakes here, twelve miles northward from Chicago, on the border of Lake Michigan; and its infant plantings became the nucleus of a village settlement named Evanston. Its facilities for training boys drew good people, and its facilities for preventing boys from becoming criminal rogues also drew. At that time local option was not the law of the State, and Prohibition was not possible to the will even of the majority of a town. Hence, the prohibitive force around this spot made it a rare city of refuge to careful parents. It grew in size, and kept its amiable quality. During a decade no open attempt was made to add liquor to the village. But, twenty years ago, a Chicago liquor factory looked upon this as untilled soil, and sent out its farmers to gather figs of thistles. But he got pricked to death. He was ejected by lower court judgment, took his grief to the Supreme Court, and returned broken hearted, that court fully sustaining the charter of the University as Prohibition that did prohibit. Since any court has not made any later effort to set up open shop in the village of Evanston, though nine years ago it sought to lead men into temptation several miles across lots near another settlement. The distance being in dispute, the Hon. D. Briggs, then pastor of the Methodist Church, carried one end of the chain that measured off that four mile law. The saloon being found on sacred soil, it straddled its cask and rods beyond the line, lest impromptu justice should take the tongue to it. "The population is 8,500, of which 6,000 are in Evanston village proper. In health, morals, money and intelligence, the average condition of the people is unusually high. The University has become an institution of two million dollars costly structures, a thousand students, and forty accomplished instructors and has the confidence of a wide circuit, graduating most of its young men and women religious as well as learned. The burial records of the township show the deceased in 1883 to have been only 136, or less than 15 deaths per annum in 1,000 inhabitants. This, too though the town contains an exceptional number of retired elderly

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

GENERAL CHATTER ON THE NEWS OF THE DAY.

Prevailing Political Gossip. There is quite a stir in political circles just now, although a number of Dominion and Provincial Cabinet ministers and such like people are summering it in seclusion or in backwoods. Quite a number of petitions have been filed in the Court of appeal against the return of recently elected members to the Ontario House. Amongst these are petitions against Sir. White, (Con.) Mayor of Windsor, Mr. Dunlop, (Con.) North Bedford, Mr. Charlton, (Lib) South Norfolk, Hugh Smith, (Con.) Frontenac, James Hiscott, (Con.) Lincoln, John T. Gilmour, (Lib) and John G. W. Ross, (Lib) West Middlesex. The petitions set forth bribery and corruption, polling illegal votes, treating and giving away liquor and such like wicked practices. It is expected that some of these petitions will be filed before the Court of appeal next summer. The annual Exhibition in the fall seems to be given up as much as the city can manage at present.

Poison-ivy and Poison-suncho.

There need be no trouble in identifying the poison-ivy in any of its forms. The hairy trunk will often serve us, but there are two other features which are of much more value. First let us remember that its leaves are always grouped in threes whatever the outlines of their more or less wavy margins. In some sections the plant is always called the "three-leaved ivy."

And this naturally leads me to a consideration of that low vine with similar habits which is commonly known as the "five-leaved ivy," and a leaf of which I have here pictured under the title of an "innocent victim." This is a leaf of the Ampelopsis quinquefolia (quinquefolia—five leaves), also called Virginia creeper and woodbine. Look at the leaf, and six its form in your mind. This is one of our most beautiful native climbers. It is allied to the grape vine, is perfectly harmless, and is the one plant that has to suffer from suspicion, being often destroyed under the impression that it is the poison-ivy.

The writer knew of a person who possessed a beautiful home upon the Hudson, and whose deficiency in knowing of this one little page of botany cost him a severe loss. His children were suddenly prostrated with fever poisoning, one of his "ninth-hour" neighbors came in to offer him some learned advice. Something in this style: "Well, Squire, its fetched 'em at last. I've been telling' Betsy all along that the pesky stuff would ketch yer arter a while. Well, ther, goodness and truth! Time an' time again, when I've been goin' by the gate an' seen them air children playin' in the summer-house yender, it's made me 'tarnal ticklish, an' I've sed the pesky stuff would ketch yer arter a while. Well, ther, goodness and truth! I done it; an' if you take my advice, you'll cut the pesky weed down an' burn it before the hull on ye is ketched. What air tellin' ye is yer yore own good. That air weed is nigh on make, an' it'll nigh out kill some folks."

Such advice, coming from a practical farmer in whom the "Squire" had perfect confidence, was immediately acted upon. The vines which had embowered the beautiful arbor for a generation were sawed off at the ground. As to the peep into the botany might have saved them!

Four things need to be committed to memory to insure safety against our first-sunches: First. The three-leaved ivy is dangerous. Second. The five-leaved ivy is harmless. Third. The poison-sunches have white berries. Fourth. No red-berried suncho is poisonous.

Both the poison-ivy and poison-sunch, though unlike in appearance of foliage, have similar white berries growing in small slender clusters from the axils of the leaves. In all other sunchos the berries are red and in close bunches at the end of the branches, and far from being dangerous, yield a frothy, locking acid which is just agreeable to the taste, and wholesome withal. With these simple precepts fixed in the mind, no one need fear the dangers of the hazardous rare grasses and mosses which are so common in the white berries of the poison-ivy. Both of these rash maidens, I believe, paid the severe penalty of their botanical innocence.—William Hamilton Gibson, in Harper's Young People.

Millard's Eminent cures Distemper.

Send a Helping Hand. I shall never forget the feeling I had once when climbing one of the pyramids of Egypt. When half way up, my strength failing, I feared I should never be able to reach the summit or get back again. I will remember the help given by Arab hands, drawing me on farther; and the step I could not quite make myself, because too great for my wearied frame, the little help given me—sometimes more and sometimes less—enabled me to go up step by step, until at last I reached the top, and breathed the pure air, and had a grand lookout from that lofty height. And so in life's journey we are climbing. We are feeble. Every one of us, now and then, need a little help; and if we have risen a step higher than some other, let us reach down for our brother's hand, and help him to stand beside us. And thus joined hand in hand, we shall go on conquering, step by step, until the glorious eminence shall be gained.—Bishop Simpson.

ALLEGED CONSPIRACY.

Four Arrests Growing Out of the Strike on The Montreal Herald.

MONTREAL, July 7.—In connection with the strike of The Herald's printers President W. Kydd of the Typographical Union and Charles Beattie and Silas Reed, were arrested this afternoon on a charge of conspiracy.

The complaint is made by Manager W. S. White of The Herald, who makes affidavit that he believes the defendants conspired to prevent one Stephen and one Greenway from working for The Herald by inducing Stephens to go to Boston and offering to send Greenway west.

The Herald people are advised that they can cause to be arrested the whole of the job room printers who were engaged by the week and who let their work without notice, but they are unwilling to do this at present, as the majority of the job room men were unwilling but were compelled to go out.

THE ILLS OF BABYHOOD.

Some Advice to Mothers About the Rearing of Infants.

Nell Nelson in N. Y. World. From a physical standpoint babyhood, which embraces the first two years of life, is all the animal kingdom the most helpless is the human offspring.

The new-born babe can utter a feeble cry and is possessed of a degree of automatic motion, but until the fifth day of existence there is no evidence of intellectual life.

It has been proven by the registry of vital statistics that one out of every five infants dies within the first year of life.

A healthy baby will sleep a greater part of the time for the first few days, and it is not necessary to waken it for nourishment.

The demand for warmth for the first week will require that the baby sleep at night in contact with the mother, but that it be wholly covered so that it breathes nothing but pure air, freighted with emanations from the skin.

The position of the child in the crib is more favorable to development than that in the last position, and it is not interrupted by being transferred to the crib.

As the child increases in interest with age the widow of having strictly observed the hour for "putting to bed" will be apparent.

DUNLOP'S HISTORY.

Leaves from the Story of the Early Days.
 A Succinct Account of the Growth and Development of a Noted Part of Colborne Township—Interesting Reminiscences.
 Written for The Signal.
 A history of this stirring burg may prove interesting reading to its residents and perhaps, to others of your readers. During the past 56 years this community has been known as civilization under various names, such as Lawson's Corners, Hyndman's Corners, Anthony Allen's, etc. In 1878 the residents succeeded in having a post-office established. The place was then named Milburn, but the Government changed it to Dunlop in 1881. This last name, we think, will never be changed. What we call Dunlop extends from John Barker's north to the line fences of the border farm of E. Shaw and the boundary farm of W. Clutton, on either side of the Lake shore, Colborne township, Huron, Ontario. To your readers we will try to give a brief history of the events which have occurred in this place and the names of those who once made it their home, who have moved away, or have been called to another home, and also of its present burghers. Some are business men and others farmers. The early settlers here were had he struck, replied, "Nothing but blue clay, are well-known. The pit was taken from the pump in 1881, and can be seen at the homestead. At the north end Barney Hall was built by the late John Galt in 1834, and was the first bachelor residence here. Step by step the march of progress has been in this locality, and from the day of the longings, small clearings, the reaping-hook, and cradle and flail to that of the mower, reaper, self-binder and steam-thresher seems after all but a narrow span."

OUR SAWMILL
 has seen many owners, having been burned down and risen again. It was first run by water power by D. Lawson, sr., whose son John was drowned by falling into the race above the big wheel and being forced under by the current, the body being discovered by the late A. H. Green. Mr Galt purchased it in 1850, and ran it for many years with a name called Going as foreman. For a time J. Gilmore was the lessee, and then came W. M. Savaeo, who had his ups and downs, and who upon being burned out in 1871, erected a gristmill in connection with the sawmill. But unfortunately he did not succeed in working up a trade for the gristmill, and continued to work the sawmill until 1873, when Fisher & Morrish took the burden off his shoulders. In 1875 R. Jewell took hold of the sawmill, and was followed by the late A. Hodge, who was succeeded by the present owner, Mr George Neiberger, who has exhibited commendable energy in enlarging the capacity and employing a number of hands in cutting staves, shingles, and doing a general lumber trade.

THE EXCHANGE HOTEL
 has flourished under different landlords. Among the first was Opter Grove, who opened it about the close of the Fifties. In the beginning of the Sixties A. Allen became its landlord, and for nineteen years kept the hotel, its bright fire of logs in the big fire-place being still remembered by many who in the olden days availed themselves of its glowing breath and comfortable warmth as they passed and repassed the old hostelry in inclement weather. The old fireplace was done away with by Mr Dixon, who succeeded Mr Allen in 1879. Mr Dixon was followed by the late Mr Fred Horton as proprietor in 1881, and was succeeded by Mr Zent, who for a short time was the landlord. Then came the present proprietor, Mr A. McAllister, and it is needless to say that "Andy" is popular with all classes of the community and the general travelling public, whether they indulge in "hard" or "soft" liquida. Perhaps at this juncture it would be well to make a note of

DUNLOP'S HORSES, PAST AND PRESENT, for there is good material upon which to draw. The first team was brought to Dunlop in 1833, and was used for a short time as the landlady. Then came the present proprietor, Mr A. McAllister, and it is needless to say that "Andy" is popular with all classes of the community and the general travelling public, whether they indulge in "hard" or "soft" liquida. Perhaps at this juncture it would be well to make a note of wood period will be fresh in many memories, and the prowess of the team of our Irishman, and those of others of our residents will be embalmed in our local history. Quite a trade was done in cord-wood in the olden days. The farm of E. Quaid was a great point for this industry when owned by the late R. H. Kirkpatrick. Other farmers also drifted into the trade, and a number of the salt-blocks in Goderich were built from timbers purchased here. Peter Hollenback, who now sleeps with the silent majority, having many sticks, assisted by his son Sandy, and drew them out with the aid of oxen and James Campbell's fine yoke of black cattle. Our townsman, D. Cumming, also controlled a large force of men engaged in the taking out of timber at that time, and constructed a wooden railway to the Lake to facilitate the handling of the output. Though an old settled part our burg has no kirk or chapel. In the early history of the place our people went to hear the Word to Garbraid or to No. 1 schoolhouse, but now the Leburn church bell seems many leagues higher in answer to his call, while others are attracted by Goderich bells or the stirring sound of the Salvation Army drum. The rising generation got in the good old days in a log schoolhouse taught by a Mr Sims in Garbraid in the Thirties, in old No. 1 later on, and later still in No. 6. In 1879 D. Cumming made an effort for the Dunlop school, but the scheme was not pressed. In 1887, however, the agitation for better school accommodation was renewed, and after a sharp and vigorous struggle the battle was fought and won on Jan 11th, 1888. Two weeks later the site was selected, during the following summer the present commodious and handsome temple of education was erected; and in Jan., 1889, it was opened to the service of the public for the inculcation of knowledge to the rising generation. The board of trustees for 1889 was J. O. Stuart, chairman, John Horton and Robert Quaid, and the teacher for the first year was St. Q. H. Williams. The present teacher is Miss M. J. Littlefield. A school hall was presented to the section in 1889 by Robert Porter, M. P.

IN MUNICIPAL MATTERS
 some of our residents have taken a part. The late Sheriff Hyndman sat at the municipal board as a commissioner; R. Jewell, another resident was in the township council of 1877, and took a higher step as deputy-reve for the following year. Then there was a battle for the reevehip in 1879. The little meeting in the back chamber of the "Exchange" was noted in THE SIGNAL of Jan., 1890, and is not forgotten by many of the present residents. The climbing of snowdrifts in canvassing and the bringing of electors to the polls showed that Dunlop perseverance could win the day. From 1880 to 1888, A. Allen was Colborne's deputy-revee, and in 1889, on the retirement of W. Young, he succeeded to the reevehip. Since his withdrawal from the council board no other resident of Dunlop has seen fit to come forward for municipal honors. Although our farmers do not make a great commotion outside gradually but surely vine fences, good farmhouses, enlarged barns and improved methods have appeared in our midst, the best systems of drainage have been adopted, and summer fallowing has banished all thistles and other noxious weeds. Our townsman, A. Allen, has of late years taken quite an interest in agricultural shows and become an extensive importer of stock from the Old Land. For many years past we have had a public market scales for the weighing of stock, hay, grain, &c., which is in frequent use by the farmers of the neighborhood who were conducting their shipments of cattle, and a point for purchasing horses Dunlop has in past years proved itself equal to the best, and has become a favorite rendezvous for dealers.

THE BUSH FIRES
 of 1864 and 1871 are still remembered by many of our residents. One of these conflagrations was started by three juveniles who were endeavoring to acquaint themselves with the mysteries of the pipe, and the other was caused by someone who wanted to take advantage of the dry time. Both fires did ultimate good, but were rather harmful to the cash returns at the time. One of the pastimes of Dunlop in the Sixties was walking on the rope in the millyard, a height of 30ft. The Ross boys—Hugh and Robert—were good at this exercise, as was also John H. Barker. In quoting contests during the past ten years quite a number of laurels have been gained by D. Cumming.

A BUSINESS CENTRE
 Dunlop has quite a name. The first smithy was established here in 1872, and was continued for several years by John McIntyre, now of Salford; and after it was closed H. J. Horton, now of Goderich, at the request of the community started in the business in December, 1875. When, two years later, Mr Horton joined the married forces of the section, he was induced to open a store in Oct., 1877, and when the post-office was established he took charge of it, Mrs Horton making up the first mail, and A. C. Macdonald, a well-known resident, posing the first letter. In 1881 Mr Horton resigned the post-office and store, and Mrs Lasham, now of Salford, took the place for a year, assisted by her grandson, A. McQuarrie. Since her departure Mr and Mrs Shaw have conducted the store and post-office.

THE BLACKSMITHING BUSINESS, saw Mr Horton build a good residence, and in the fall of 1888 the old smithy was pulled down, and a larger one, two storeys high was erected, suitable for the increased requirements of the trade. Overtaken by severe illness, however, Mr Horton was at this juncture compelled to relinquish the business, and rented the premises to Mr C. Fisher, who, after a year's residence removed to another station. At the time of writing the original smithy is without a tenant, and it is likely pressure will be brought to bear by our residents to induce the township fathers of Colborne to purchase it for a township hall, and sell the building at Colborne in which the township meetings are now held to the Salvation Army for use as a barracks. A good general business is done by A. C. Macdonald as a wheelwright and in making repairs to farming implements. D. Cumming, our local architect and builder, has a large workshop, assisted by a helper, a good trade is done. It closing the sketch of Dunlop we must not forget to mention which has attained a local name and fame second to no other similar institution on this broad footstool. Through its ministrations several cases given up as hopeless by the best medical skill are in fact today, and two of the trained nurses have in an experience of a quarter of a century Dunlop not only clad many of our residents in their first garments, but have with reverent hands carefully laid out and invested with cements the forms of those who "sleep the sleep that knows no waking" this side of the grave.

THE PROSPECTS
 as we write today are good. Substantial progress has been made in the past, and the outlook for the future is bright. Nature smiles. The earth is clad in verdure, and the promise is of a bonny return to the husbandman. With a spirit of thankfulness for past blessings and a bright expectation of things to come, and with the trained ministrations of the nurses, it is not surprising to THE SIGNAL'S readers, "The History of Dunlop," is now concluded by the pen of JOSEPH MAYKREED Dunlop, July 10th, 1890.

PRISON REFORM INQUIRY.

OPENING SESSION OF THE COMMISSION HELD AT HAMILTON.
 The Chairman States the Scope of the Investigation—Many Sheriffs and Jailers Present—Governor Ogilvie's Evidence as to the Hamilton Jail.
 HAMILTON, July 9.—The Prison Reform Commission, consisting of J. W. Langmuir (chairman), Hon. Timothy Aglin (Secretary), Hon. Charles Drury, Dr. A. M. Roebright and A. F. Jury, met here today. The commission was appointed by the Ontario Government in consequence of resolutions passed by the Prison Reform Conference held in Toronto last November requesting the selection of "a commission to investigate and report upon the question of prison reform, with the view of suggesting improved methods of dealing with the criminal classes," and their first session was held in the court house here at 11 o'clock this morning.

There was a large attendance of witnesses including Sheriff T. C. Dawson and Jailor Hamilton of St. Catharines; Sheriff James Smith and Jailor John Coulson of Welland; Sheriff McKellar and Jailor Ogilvie of Hamilton; Rev. T. Geoghegan, Rev. Father McEay, W. C. Barnes and Rev. J. S. Rice. The chairman explained that the commission had a large scope, but would make enquiry especially on these points: 1, the cause of crime; 2, any improved means for providing and conducting industrial schools; 3, improved means of rescuing destitute children from a criminal career; 4, improvements in the management of county jails and the management of prisoners; 5, the most fitting practicable employment for prisoners in the provinces; 6, the question of indeterminate sentences for offenders against provincial laws; 7, improved way of dealing with tramps and habitual drunkards. The commission had chosen Hamilton to open in, not on account of its prominence as a criminal centre, but simply because it was near Toronto.

Governor James Ogilvie of the Hamilton Jail was the only witness this morning. He gave a long statement of the treatment and classification of the prisoners in his charge. He could not keep in case awaiting trial separate from the sentenced offenders. He never knew of any boys being corrupted in his jail, in fact the boys used much worse language than the men. He had never heard of prisoners resorting to their crimes to the younger men; on the contrary, they are very careful about talking of previous crimes, though they frequently talk how often they have done time. The Central Prison takes the worst prisoners away, and sometimes the 30-day men are sent when they are short of labor at the Central.

The establishment of a municipal prison here would reduce the number of prisoners in the jail, enable them to improve the classification and discipline of the jail. It would be an impossibility to adopt the cellular system in the Hamilton jail, because all the inmates of the cells in one corridor can speak to each other. He thought the isolation of prisoners would be cruel, would weaken their minds by brooding and injure their moral sense.

Last year 401 prisoners were sent down for being drunk and disorderly, of whom about one-fifth were confirmed drunkards, and they were hardened rather than reformed by the committals. He could not say that he knew of any case where a committal to jail had had a deterrent effect on them. Drunkenness among women has largely decreased in recent years, due in his opinion to fear of the Marcor and also to the excellent work of Christian societies. Habitual drunkards may generally be looked upon as a charge on their families, not as supporters of their families. He would favor sending them to an inebriate asylum where they would be subject to medical treatment, especially for men under thirty.

In his opinion the chief cause of crime is intemperance, with ignorance a good second. Illiterate children are usually the children of drunken parents. One of the grandest institutions for the prevention of crime among boys is the field sports instituted by the clergy of St. Matthew's, where the boys can assemble in the evenings and amuse themselves under supervision.

In answer to Mr. Drury the witness said that prisoners should have hard labor, and that it should be real hard. The jail here always has a large supply of stone on hand for this purpose. There was only one month in five years when there was no stone at the jail, and the news spread so quickly that the jail was immediately overflooded with tramps.

PERSONAL.—Willie Brodwell, who resided in our midst for some time, and attended S.S. No. 6, in Salford, during his sojourn here, was amongst us last week, the guest of his uncle, A. C. Macdonald. Will was pleased with the new schoolhouse here and remarked he wished it was there when he had to tramp to Salford over the snow mountains of '85. Since he left here he has travelled over the great plains of the Far West and has been in Oregon, and is now returning to his home in Alpena, Mich.
