S. teachers, and the moving pictures coming last on the program were interesting and instructive, everyone was highly pleased and some said it was one of the best entertainments they ever attended.

G. T. R. BUSINESS.

According to official figures the G. T. hauls more through trains out of Chicago than any other road. The reason for this is that a large percentage of the dressed meats are sent east over the Grand Trunk besides the cattle and general merchandise. The Grand Trunk hauls almost all of the Canadian freight that is for export shipment either to Portland or Montreal besides getting its share of New York freight. It is the most important road entering Chicago from the west. The Grand Trunk has less through passenger trains it easily makes up in freight trains.

WATFORD, JAN. 4, 1907.

Strength of England.
From the N. Y. Press.

A thoughtful Britisher, talking of his native land, made the following declarations at the midnight supper in one of the gilded caves of the Times square: "England can bear more mis-
government, luxury, and corruption than any other nation on earth, with the possible exception of America, and the prophecies of gabby politicians who have built their predictions of her downfall on analogies taken from other countries have all fortunately failed, because Great Britain has four points of strength and revivescence
not common from those examples which the analogies were drawn. Two of these sources of strength are physical—her coal and iron; the other two are moral—the freedom of the press and the trial by jury. They are sensibly and mutually conservative of each other, for should any attempt be made to destroy the last two the first two are admirably adapted to defend them."

saving up to buy a house and another is trying hard to sell his dwelling for less than it cost to get rid of it. One man is spending all the money he can earn in taking a girl to a theater or show and sending her valuable presents in hopes that he may eventually make her his wife, and his neighbor is spending all the gold he has saved trying to get a divorce. One man keeps a pistol to protect himself against burglars, while his neighbor doesn't keep one for fear of shooting himself or some member of the family. One man pays for his paper in advance because he can read it with a greater relish, while another takes it four or five years without paying one cent for it, and enjoys it hugely all the while.
Surely a queer old world this is.

Pursur Beaumont.
Pursur Beaumont, of the ill-fated steamer Monarch, lost on Isle Royale deserves some special recognition for his valiant services on the night of the disaster.

Confused accounts have been given of what he did. The facts seem to be that the passengers and crew landed in the Monarch's life boats, when a fire was made. The signal was answered by the light keeper on Passage Island, who rowed to the scene, four miles distant, in a heavy sea. He was unable to land, and Pursur Beaumont swam out, boarded the light-house keeper's boat, and told him the story. Together they rowed back to the light, and the steamer Edmonton, which was passing at 11 o'clock at night, was signalled for help. She stopped and was given particulars, but being unable to render immediate help, she returned to Port Arthur at 2 a. m., and no time was lost in sending tugs with ample provisions.
It is said among lake sailors that the most vigorous man has but little chance for life in the chilly waters in Lake Superior. Beaumont's swimming feat in the icy surf was therefore most noteworthy, as was the gallant dash of the light keeper, rowing
across the four mile channel in a raging sea.

TO KNOW IS TO PREVENT.—If the miners who work in cold water most of the day
would rub their feet and legs with Dr.
Thomas' Electric Oil they would escape muscular rheumatism and render their member limbs proof against the ill effects of exposure to the cold. Those setting out for mining regions would do well to provide themselves with a supply before starting.

WHY DO MUNICIPALITIES STAND STILL.
Canadian Machinery and Manufacturing News.

It is not because they do not wish to grow. Nearly every town and village has a sleepy demand to expand and grow big and outstrip its neighbors. People there would like to see industries coming, the town limits expanding and property value increasing, but, of course, with no effort on their part whatever. Then why do all the municipalities in Ontario where a future for manufacturers is assured and opportunities are so numerous, not enlarge as would a well regulated and healthful business in time of prosperity? Apart from natural advantages the reason and solution lie with the citizens themselves. In most instances those who could and should help to build up the place in which they reside and hold their business interests, are either too engrossed in their own affairs or else entirely indifferent. Take town after town, and municipality after municipality in Ontario and this is found to be the case. The growth of the town is found to be in direct proportion to the public spiritedness of the men who mould opinion and who take the lead in public affairs. This might be laid down as an axiom and holds
in the case of Ontario towns today.

Suicide at Falls.
Niagara Falls, Dec. 28.—A woman believed to be Mary Hogan, of Buffalo, committed suicide this morning by going over the American Falls. She entered the river 500 feet above the brink of the falls, leaving her caps, umbrellas and purse on the shore.

PLYMPTON COUNCIL.

Plympton council met Dec. 22nd as a court of revision on the Ramsay drain as-essment. Members all present. Two appellants were heard, others in defence and a number of witnesses were examined which occupied the time till 3 p. m. when the court adjourned in order to open court on the Peacock drain, two appeals were also filed against this drain assessment, the appellants were heard and several in defence. The appeal of Wm. C. Peacock was dismissed and that of O. J. Armstrong sustained and reduced $20, $12 being placed against the roads and $8 levied pro rata
over the drain; the by-law finally passed

toothache and neuralgia disappear in a jiffy.
Rub it on and away flies the pain. For cramps, vomiting or indigestion, all you need is ten drops in sweetened water. Sick

From Stratford to Lake Huron.
"The Stratford St. Joseph Railway will be built as soon as the frost is out of the ground," declares N. M. Cantin, the founder of St. Joseph, on Lake Huron. Mr.
Cantin has an application before the House
for a charter for this electric railroad, and says that the branch from St. Joseph's to Parkhill, to get connection with the Grand Trunk, will be built in any event at once.
The line to Stratford will also be built promptly, if that city will give the road a civic franchise. Stratford is at present without cars.

The route of the proposed road would include the following stations: Stratford, Avonlea, Fullerton, Russeldale, Farquhar, Exeter, Henall, Zurich, St. Joseph, thence via Grand Bay to Parkhill. The capitalists interested in this plan recently looked over the route. They include Messrs. H.
G. Lajoie, barrister; J. K. Laurandea, of Lamontague, Limited, Montreal; and S.
Vincent, L. G. Routhier, Dr. Chovier, J.
P. Prudhomme, and J. M. Lavole of Montreal, besides a number of New York and Buffalo men.

THE seat made vacant by the death of Senator Vidal, of Sarnia, has caused Lambton politicians to consider who among their number is liable to get it. One or two Sarnia men are mentioned, and two from Petrolia, but it is generally conceded that John Fraser, ex-M. P. for East Lambton, has possibly a claim ahead of anyone else in the county. He represented his riding are simple defeated candidates.—St. Thom-

If there is one thing in which churches, as a rule, need to be more careful, it is the matter of preachers' salaries. With an indifference and an insensibility which we cannot understand in any church we seem to think that a contract between themselves and a minister is no contract at all. They promise him a definite salary then pay him whatever is convenient. The gas man, the

but the debt owing the minister is looked upon as altogether righteous and proper.

3 IN ONE FAMILY
CURED OF SKIN DISEASE BY Zam-Buk.

Once more Zam-Buk, the great herbal balm, has been proved vastly superior to ordinary remedies, and has cured where other preparations had signally failed. Three children in one family have been healed by it. This not only shows the power of Zam-Buk, but goes to prove how beneficial its pure herbal ingredients are to the delicate skin of children.
 Mrs. J. C. Bates, of Burk's Falls, reports the case referred to. She says: "I take great pleasure in recommending Zam-Buk as a cure for skin disease. My three children were all broken out with sores on face, hands and feet. Their condition was pitiable, and although I tried various ointments and salves, they did not seem to be able to get at the root of the evil, and the sores continued to spread. One day I saw a report in a local newspaper telling how beneficial Zam-Buk was for skin diseases, ulcers, etc. I got a supply of the balm and applied it to the children's sores. Almost immediately they got relief, and the sores began to heal. Although the skin disease had defied all the salves I had previously tried, in one week Zam-Buk overcame the trouble, and to-day the children have not a pimple or spot or mark of disease on their skin. For this grand result I have Zam-Buk to thank. It is a splendid healer."
 Zam-Buk is thus shown to be altogether different and superior to ordinary remedies. It is a healing balm compounded from saps and essences of the finest known medical herbs. It has high antiseptic power, killing disease germs which settle on sores and eruptions, etc., and which set up festering, blood poisoning and suppuration. It cures eczema, skin rashes, cuts, burns, bruises, abscesses, ulcers, acne, blackheads, ringworm, blood poisoning, etc. It heals cracked and chapped hands, cold sores, etc. As an embrocation it is also widely used and gives speedy relief in cases of muscular rheumatism, sciatica, etc. Rubbed on the chest in cases of colds, it relieves the tightness and aching. All druggists sell at 50c. a box, or may be obtained post free from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. 6 boxes for $2.50. Send one cent stamp for dainty trial box.

Willing to Help Along.
 The cranky old bachelor was irritable. Calling the landlady, he said: "Mrs. Haskley, who is it that keeps singing, 'I Would Not Live Alone'?"
 "That is the lady in the room across the hall, sir," answered the landlady.
 "Well," continued the o. o. p., "kindly give her my compliments, and tell her if she keeps that up much longer she can rest assured she won't."

Why Remain Thin and Pale?
 Pale people have pale blood. The stomach is wrong, assimilation is poor and food is not changed into blood. The system lacks vitality and reconstructive power which can be supplied by Ferrozone. It braces the appetite, digestion is stimulated, what you eat is transformed into the kind of nutrient your system requires. Vital life-giving blood that makes rosy cheeks strength that defies weariness, spirit and ambition all come from Ferrozone. The Perils of the Cold Tub.
 Are cold baths suited to this weather? A leading physician declares that the average man who has a cold fresh-water tub at this time of the year, going straight from a warm bed to the bathroom, might just as well take a dose of strychnine. "Cold baths," he says, "are dangerous to most people. You hear people who regularly go in for cold baths talk about the pleasant glow and the feeling of warmth and invigoration which follows. Certainly this is the case at the moment, but two or three hours afterwards they begin to feel sleepy. Bathing in tepid water is undoubtedly the best, as no evil results follow, and it is quite safe to bathe in cold sea-water."

HARRIS & CO., PROPRIETORS

WATFORD, JAN. 4, 1907.

WATFORD NOMINATIONS.

There was the usual nomination crowd at the old Town Hall Monday evening, but the proceedings were comparatively tame. A long list of names were placed on the nomination papers, but finally simmered down to those actually in the race.

Town Clerk Fuller presided at the after meeting and the old councillors present gave an account of their stewardship.

The questions that came up for criticism were the Wire Works, the Financial Statement and the recent law suit against the Corporation re the disposing of a vacant lot on Front St.

President Swift, of the Public School Board, gave a clear and concise account of how the school monies had been disposed of.

The following municipal statistics may be of interest at this time:

Assessment 1905, $351,571.00.
1906, $353,055.00.
Taxes for 1905, $3291.30.
1906, $3343.22.
Public School Taxes 1905, $3023.62.
1906, $2688.05.
High School Taxes 1905, $1195.24.
1906, $1201.81.

The following information was brought out re the Wire Works:

The estimated value of the building and plant is $31,000. $2,800 had been paid out for wages at the factory and about $100 in connection with the erection of the buildings.

Warwick Nominations.

The Town Hall, Warwick Village, was jammed to the doors on the afternoon of Nomination Day. After the official proceedings Ex-Warden Hall was called to the chair and the different nominees addressed the electors. The proceedings were not as lively as customary, only a few items of expenditure coming in for criticism.

The candidates are:
For Reeve—Thos. Brandon, acclamation.

Deputy Reeve—John W. Blain, Peter Graham.

Councillors—Ezra Edwards, Wm. Jones, Wm. G. Hall, J. Reynolds.

Since Nomination R. Fitzsimons has withdrawn his name as a candidate for Deputy Reeve, and Wm. Jones, a candidate for Councillor, has also resigned, not being eligible an account of being bondsman for the Treasurer. The only contest therefore will be for Deputy between Messrs. Blain and Graham. Brandon is Reeve by acclamation, and Reynolds, Hall and Edwards are Councillors by acclamation. It is claimed that Edwards is disqualified on account of being Assessor, and the question will be disposed of at the first meeting of the new Council. This is the most complicated municipal mix up Warwick has ever experienced.

To the Ratepayers of Watford.

At our nomination meeting Monday night Mr. Fitzgerald read an article from an Ingersoll paper re the renewing of the street lighting contract of that town. The point in the article which Mr. Fitzgerald wished to bring before the ratepayers was the fact that Ingersoll has 45 arc lamps and only paying $59.00 per light per year and had an all-night service. Mr. Fitzgerald couldn't see why Watford had to pay $45.00 per light per year and only have a service until 11 p.m. Mr. Fitzgerald is only fond of trying to mislead the people but in so doing it shows his lack of information. The explanation of the matter is simply this: Give me 45 arc lamps and I will give an all-night service for $59.00 per lamp per year. Or in other words write to Ingersoll and ask the Electric Light Co. which they would rather have, 15 arc lamps at $65.00 per light per year or 45 arc lamps at $59.00 per light per year. I can assure the ratepayers of Watford with all honesty that they are not paying any more for their street lights than any other town, all things considered. You will greatly oblige me, Mr. Editor, if you will kindly allow space for this letter in your valuable paper as I do not care to have the people misled in this matter.

Yours very truly,
R. C. MCLRAY.

A very sad accident happened here on Friday last, when Gerald, eldest son of John Smith, met with a terrible accident.

The little fellow was being chased by some other companions and accidentally ran into a passing team. He was knocked down and ran over with the sleigh, one of the horses stepping on the poor little fellow. He was quickly carried home and Dr. Copeland was immediately called in, who upon examination found that 4 ribs had been broken, his back injured and also injured internally. The patient is doing as well as can be expected, but slight hopes are entertained of his recovery.

The annual New Year's concert at the Baptist church drew a large and appreciative audience, who thoroughly enjoyed all the good things presented to them.

The singing of Mr. Hewer, of London, gave great satisfaction, his rich baritone voice and pleasing manner, showing to advantage in each selection. Mrs. A. E. Brown rendered her selections with her usual taste and ability. Miss Anthistle, of the London school of elocution, is an artist of exceptional ability and fairly captured the audience with her exquisite rendering of each of her selections. Mr. Watson, also of London, favored the audience with a number of instrumental selections, which were well received. Music on the gramophone was rendered by Mr. Will Baldwin during the assembling of the audience which was much enjoyed. The proceeds of the evening amounted to $93.00.

Let Me Sell You a Chatham Incubator - On Time

Do you know there is big money in raising poultry? Do you know there is more money in running a good incubator than in almost anything else you can do for the amount of time and trouble it takes? Do you know my incubator will pay you a bigger profit than any other thing you can have on your place? Well, all these things are true, and I can prove it. Thousands of people all over Canada have proved it every year for the last five years. I want to quote you a price on my Chatham Incubator, —sold ON TIME. I want to send you my Chatham book. This incubator book is free— I'll send it to you for just a postal card. It tells you a lot you ought to know about the Poultry business—it tells you how to make money out of chickens—it tells you how my Chatham Incubator will make you more money than you can make with hens—far more, and with less trouble. This book tells you how my Incubators are made—why they are the best ever invented—and why I sell them ON TIME and on a 5-Year Guarantee. My Company has been in business in Canada for over 50 years. We are one of the largest wood-working factories in the country. We also operate a large factory at Detroit, Mich. We have the Incubator and Brooder business down to a science. Chatham Incubators and Brooders will make you money, for a Chatham Incubator will hatch a live, healthy chicken out of every fertile egg put into it, in 21 days. Will you write for my book today? Do it now while you think of it. Just say on a postal "Please send me your Incubator Book"—that's all. Address me personally.

TROTTED IN BANKRUPTCY

By C. B. Lewis

Copyright, 1900, by Ruby Douglas

After the death of her farmer husband the widow Allen moved into the village of Fergus. Her husband had left her a snug property and a goodly sum of life insurance, and at fifty years she became a money lender.

She had no friends as a girl, she had few as a wife, and as a widow and a capitalist people did not speak in her favor. She drove hard bargains and had no pity. If her capital or interest was not forthcoming on the day and date she invoked the aid of the law and accepted no excuses. She had always been a woman of stingy disposition, sure to avenge what she deemed a slight, and when she came to know the general opinion of the villagers she ground her teeth together and made up her mind to get even.

The village of Fergus boasted of only three general stores. That was more than was needed to supply the wants of the people. There would not have been a fourth had not one of the merchants had a business transaction with the widow Allen and been obliged to go to law over it. She was beaten in the suit, and to get even she planned to start another store. Not being an educated woman and afraid to try the idea by herself, she lent a sum of money to young George French, who had for several years been a clerk in the store of the merchant she wished particularly to ruin. He was bound hard and fast. The widow wanted revenge, but she didn't propose to lose any money over it. She was near fifty years old and the new merchant not yet twenty-six, but she let it be known that when a marriage took place between them the firm name of "George French & Co." might be shortened to "George French."

There was a rush of customers to the new store. To keep expenses down and make an innovation young French employed a girl bookkeeper and another girl as clerk.

As the widow insisted on his boarding with her so that they could talk business and he be under her watch, she did not become jealous for a time. The day came, however, when she announced that he must get rid of both girls and replace them with men.

He refused to heed her in this, pointing out the saving and other good reasons. One of the reasons that he did not give was that he admired the fatherless girl, Jennie Warder, the bookkeeper, who was supporting a widowed mother by her efforts, and to whom he had been attracted from the first day. His admiration must have been patent to her in a hundred ways, and yet he had spoken no word. The new store was an experiment; if it was a success he might avow himself. If a failure he would have no right to ask her to share his lot.

The widow Allen concealed her chagrin and did not press her point. The young merchant was hustling and making things gloomy for her victim. At the proper time he would offer an alternative.

Nine months of liberal advertising, low prices and attention to business on the part of the new storekeeper brought bankruptcy to two of the other merchants, but they brought no such profits to French as he had hoped for. He had bound himself to sell at certain prices, and he dared not depart from them. He had bound himself to repay a certain amount of the capital invested at the end of the first twelve months, and figure as he would he could not see his way clear to do so. The widow was waiting for him to speak, and then she laughed and hinted at matrimony. When her hints were turned aside she said quietly:

"At the end of the year you must pay me as agreed. If not the law will put me in possession and you will be out of employment."

"But you are not pressed for money. You can give me time," he protested. "I have worked like a slave to make the store a success. I put in a thousand dollars of my own money. You would not drive me into bankruptcy?"

"If we are not married on the day your notes are due I shall demand my money. If you go into bankruptcy I shall buy in the stock and put some one else in your place."

Her declaration lost her her boarder, but when he walked out of the house he knew that he was ruined in business. He could not pay her the half of what he owed her, and a call at the lawyer's brought him no comfort. She had spoken of marriage, but he turned away in disgust at the thought. She had said she would ruin him, and she was a woman to keep her word.

There is always a way out for the merchant who finds bankruptcy staring him in the face, and few take it who cannot excuse themselves to their own consciences. The merchant went over the ground time and time again, but he always came back to the one thing. If his store was burned out before the year was up the insurance money would pay the widow Allen and leave him something to start anew. Men recoil from this idea at first, but if the situation is pressing a large proportion grasp it in the end.

Young French looked around his store and saw the favorable situation of things. All he need do was to leave a lighted candle among the litter under the stairway when he went home at night. By midnight or an hour later the whole building would be in flames, with no possibility of anything being saved. The widow Allen alone might suspect him, but she would have no proofs.

The merchant debated the idea with himself for two weeks before he adopted it. In the store he gave no sign that he was troubled, but the bookkeeper was not deceived. She knew what the profits were, and she knew who had a clutch on him. She even interpreted the glances he cast around the store, and when she saw him adding to the litter in the closet she could have told him his purpose.

One windy, rainy night, when there was excuse for shutting up early, and when only thirty days remained between French and business ruin, he made a pretext to be the last one out and the candle was placed and lighted. The young merchant went to his boarding house and to his room, and all he had to do was wait.

The wind rose and the rain fell more heavily, and he was rejoiced at the thought that none of the villagers would be on the street in such a storm. Between midnight and 1 o'clock the flames would start. When the alarm was given people could only turn out and look on with folded arms. French went to bed at the usual hour. He left nothing to chance. He lay there hour after hour thinking, scheming and planning. It was close upon midnight when his other self came to the rescue. The two personalities debated and argued and fought. The one self contended and the other protested.

After a quarter of an hour the merchant arose and hurriedly began to dress. He was pale faced and trembling and frightened. He felt himself a criminal and branded before the world. Bankruptcy might come, he might be forced to most menial employment, the widow Allen might triumph and he might lose the one he had learned to love, but he would save the store.

The wind was blowing a gale and the rain coming in sheets when he stepped from the door and ran through the mud and storm to the store. Not even a dog was in sight. As he ran he prayed that he might not be too late. With shaking hands he inserted the key in the door and pushed it open. There was no smell of smoke. Striking a match, he made his way to the closet. The candle had been blown out hours ago. It had not burned half an inch. With a new fear at his heart the man turned away and lighted a lamp and leaned on the counter to think. He heard the rustle of garments and light footsteps, and Miss Warder came out of the darkness and stood before him and said:

"Mr. French, I blew the candle out a long, long time ago."

"You—you found and blew it out!" he gasped.

"Yes, and I have been waiting for you to come."

"I was going to burn the store for the insurance," he said, after a long silence.

"Yes."

"To pay the notes due that woman in thirty days and save myself from bankruptcy."

"I know."

"But I couldn't do it. I thought I could—I meant to—but I came here to blow out the candle and save the store. I am a ruined man, but I am not a criminal except in intent."

"I knew you would come," said the girl, with tears in her voice. "It is hard to face ruin, but it is harder to face conscience. Yesterday a lawyer came to see mother. He told her she was one of the heirs to a large estate. He brought papers for her to sign, and within a month she will have $20,000."

"Well?" queried French, as he wiped his brow and looked around the store.

"I—thought—thought—"

"You want to give me notice and leave your place at the end of the week. You will go, of course, but I hope you will remember that I came back to save the store. I wanted the insurance money, but my conscience wouldn't let me be a criminal."

"I thought that if you wanted to take in a partner—"

"But where can I find one?"

"If you—wanted to take in a partner and pay up the notes and be clear of that woman mother would give me the money, and—"

He saw her to her home through the storm and darkness, and he did not realize that the wind blew or the rain fell or that he had to pick his steps. He realized only that he held her hand and that he had been saved from his other self. His sign reads "George French," but there is a silent partner with him and behind him and daily adding to his happiness.

BILIOUS?

Mrs. J. W. TONG.
FROM A PHOTO

A writer has stated there are only two really bad things on earth—sin and bile. Misdirected action is sin. Misdirected bile is biliousness. When you are bilious—every thought of food may be nauseous. Every time the room gets warm you may feel sick! If you think of food—same result. If you hurry or move quickly—same wretched feeling! Headache, turning off with vomiting spells are also marked symptoms. All this arises from misdirected bile, imperfect liver action, and Bileans cure these symptoms as surely as the day follows night!

Mrs. Tong, of Hull, says:—"I suffered from biliousness for years. Sometimes I was so bad I positively could not stand! Scores of remedies proved altogether unequal to a case so bad as mine. Bileans, however, to my delight effected a complete cure, and what is better still, I have never had any bilious attack since!"

A FAMOUS MUSICIAN CURED.

Mr. J. Wright, of Weber Street, Berlin, Ont., a prominent musician, formerly a member of the famous Kilty's Band, gives his testimony to Bileans.

He says:—"I suffered for years with Biliousness and Headache and spent hundreds of dollars on Doctors and so-called remedies. From this expenditure, however, I got no benefit and had about given up in despair when a friend advised me to try Bileans. I did so, and the first box seemed to do me some good; so I persevered with this remedy, and three boxes were sufficient to cure me completely. This testimony is entirely unsolicited, and you have my permission to use it in any way which would benefit fellow sufferers." If you are one

Rachel as Phedre.

So I saw Rachel. It was one of the most overpowering impressions of my life. The play was Rache's "Phedre." When Rachel stepped upon the scene, not with the customary stage stride, but with a dignity and majestic grace all her own, there was first a spell of intense astonishment and then a burst of applause. She stood still for a moment, in the folds of her classic robe an antique statue fresh from the hand of Phidias. The mere sight sent a thrill through the audience; her face a long oval, her forehead, shadowed by black wavy hair, not high, but broad and strong; under her dark arched eyebrows a pair of wondrous eyes that glowed and blazed in their deep sockets like two black suns; a finely chiselled nose, with open, quivering nostrils; above an energetic chin a mouth severe in its lines, with slightly lowered corners, such as we may imagine the mouth of the tragic muse; her stature, sometimes seeming tall, sometimes little, very slender, but the attitude betraying elastic strength; a hand with fine tapering fingers of rare beauty; the whole apparition exciting in the beholder a sensation of astonishment and intense expectancy.—Carl Schurz in McClure's.

THROUGH THE HEART!

WHEN THE NERVES BECOME A WRECK AND VITALITY RUNS LOW BECAUSE THE HEART FAILS TO DO ITS WORK—THROUGH THE SELFSAME HEART—IF CURE COMES—MUST IT COME

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart

Cures the nerves through the heart. Experience of the highest medical authorities has conclusively proven that the quickest way to cure diseases of the nerves is to fortify the heart with "food" that is natural to it, and that enriches the blood; and it has been proven also, beyond the shadow of a doubt, by this same high medical authority, that Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart is the most potent nerve nourisher and heart strengthener that has been "gathered in" from nature's lap to assuage sufferings, stop pain and heal the heart; and when you know that with the heart, the main spring, the balance wheel of life, out of order, the future looks out on nothing but darkness and suffering, why postpone applying the remedy? Why delay taking hold of the healing hand that will lift you back to health? Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart will relieve any and every form of heart disease in 30 minutes.

Margaret Smith, of Brussels, Ontario, says: "Many a time my suffering was so great that I would have hailed death with a welcome, but four bottles of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the heart wrought a wonderful cure in me."

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney

What We Claim for Ferrol

FERROL is an Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, and if it were nothing more it would take front rank because of the quality and quantity of the oil used and the scientific method of preparation. But FERROL has special claims which take it out of the ordinary class of Emulsion altogether. For instance: FERROL combines Iron and Phosphorus with the oil, and no other emulsion contains these ingredients, although it is well known that they should always be administered together, as each is the complement of the other.
FERROL is so scientifically prepared that the first processes of digestion are actually performed in the process of manufacture, and the emulsion is ready for instant absorption into the blood. This is of the utmost importance to persons with delicate stomachs.

PROUT-WATSON.

An exceedingly pretty wedding was solemnized at high noon on Xmas Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Watson, of Bosquet, when their eldest daughter, Elizabeth Vina, was united in marriage to Mr. Joseph Prout, of Forest, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Prout. The ceremony, which took place in the prettily decorated drawing room under a beautiful wedding bell of evergreens and silver ropes, was performed by the Rev. E. W. Edwards, of the Theford Methodist church. The bride, who was unattended, entered the drawing room with her father while Mrs. H. S. Clarke played a beautiful wedding march. A dainty wedding dinner was served in the dining hall immediately after the ceremony. The tables were handsomely decorated with pink and white carnation. The bride wore her going away gown of navy imported serge with hat to match and blouse of colonial lace over silk mulle and carried a bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern. After receiving the congratulations of the relatives and friends invited to the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Prout left on the 2.50 train to spend a few days in Toronto before returning to their home in Forest. Among those present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Sinclair, of Sarnia; Mr. Hattie Bentley, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Watson, of Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Maguire, of Brinsley; Mr. and Mrs. Watson, of Alisa Craig, and Mr. James Maguire, of McGillivray.

LIVINGSTON-MOORE.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized in the Methodist church Regina on Friday, Dec. 14th at 9 a. m., when Edna, youngest daughter of Mr. W. Moore, Watford, Ontario, became the bride of Mr. Frank E. Livingston, druggist, of Dundurn, Sask., the ceremony being performed by the Rev. C. W. Brown, Regina.

The bride looked charming in a dress of white net over ivory satin, carrying a bouquet of white roses, and entered the church on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. R. P. Moore, Calgary, Alta. Miss Margaret Crosbie, of Manitou, Man., playing Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bridal party proceeded to the altar. The bridesmaid, Miss Lillian Moore, of Calgary, Alta., was prettily attired in pale blue colienne, carrying a bouquet of pink roses, and the bride's niece little Grace Moore, in a dress of white silk, carrying a basket of white and pink carnations, made a pretty little flower girl.

The groom was ably supported by Mr. W. J. Crosbie, jeweler, Dundurn. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond locket with chain, to the bridesmaid a solid gold blouse set with pearl setting, to the flower girl, a pearl crescent, to the organist a pearl ring, and the groomsmen a sterling mounted military brush set. The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful and costly gifts from friends in Watford, Toronto, Sarnia, North Bay and other points, among them being a handsome marble pillared mantle clock, a gift to the groom from gentlemen friends in Dundurn.

Immediately after the ceremony, the happy young couple took the ten o'clock train for their home in Dundurn, carrying with them the best wishes of many old home friends in Regina.—Regina Leader.

Two Petrolea Boys Drowned in Bear Creek.

A double drowning accident occurred at Petrolea Monday by which Ross Collins and George Neven, two young boys lost their lives. What makes the affair still more pathetic is the fact that both boys are sons of widows.

The two lads had gone skating after dinner on Bear Creek, the waters of which were considerably swollen by the heavy rain of last night, which had also rendered the ice unsafe.

The boys may have been too venturesome in trying the ice. They were both suddenly engulfed without a moment's warning and swept down stream by the swiftly rushing waters.

Their cries attracted the attention of Mr. Gus Kelly, a clerk in McCrabie's drug store, who was returning to work. Without a minute's hesitation he plunged into the icy waters and struck out for the boys. The task was beyond his power, and his strength beginning to fail, he clung to the edge of the rotten ice. By this time other willing hands had arrived at the scene and a rope was thrown out to Mr. Kelly, whose position was becoming precarious. He managed to grasp it and he was pulled to shore.

Nothing more was seen of the two boys, bodies and so far they have not been recovered, although many boats are out dragging the creek. It is feared that they may have been swept under the ice and held there. If such were the case, their bodies might not be recovered till spring.

The plucky attempt of Mr. Kelly has aroused the greatest admiration and it is almost certain that some public recognition will be made of his bravery.

The banks of the creek were thronged with people all afternoon, who waited in vain for the bodies to be recovered.

The accident is a terrible shock to Mrs. Nivens and Mrs. Collins, the mothers of the unfortunate boys, and they have the deepest sympathy of all in their unhappy loss.

All attempts at recovering the bodies of the two boys drowned at Petrolea has so far proven unsuccessful.

Bad Wreck on the B. and O.

Washington, Dec. 30.—Thirty-five people were killed and 100 injured in a collision on the Baltimore and Ohio Railway at Terra Cotta, a station about three miles from Washington. An accommodation train ran into the Frederick local. Three cars of the local were completely demolished. The injured are being brought to Washington as fast as they can be taken from the wreck.

The engineer of the Frederick train has been arrested.

Train 66, due here at 6.25 p. m., from Frederick, Md., known as the Frederick local, collided with a headend passenger equipment special of eight cars. The local train was a little late arriving at Terra Cotta at 6.13. The wreck occurred at that station.

C. W. Calloway, superintendent of transportation of the Baltimore and Ohio, stated to-night that it was impossible yet to determine the cause of the wreck.

Dr. C. B. Eckel, of Pembroke, has purchased the medical practice of Dr. A. E. Morgan, late of Adelaide village.
