Behind The Guns

WHEN the war broke out in August, 1914, the Imperial Canadian Government was faced by no greater problem than that of the assembling and transport overseas of the army supplies required from this country, not only for the Canadian Expeditionary Force, but also for the British and Allied Armies. Expert knowledge was required otherwise confusion, delays, and expensive operations would be inevitable, and the necessary knowledge for such gigantic business were not easy to obtain. Lord Shaughnessy came to the Government's assistance by loaning Mr. A. H. Harris, Special Traffic Representative of the C. P. R., and righthandman to Vice-President Bosworth, with a large staff of traffic experts selected from various departments of the C. P. R., to act as a nucleus for the Overseas Transport Office. The work of this office has grown amazingly, so that to-day Mr. Harris directs no less than four-fifths of the export trade of Canada, inland and overseas, and the best evidence that the work is being well done is the fact that the Government railway and steamship interests are all satisfied, while the general business of the country has been continued with a minimum of disturbance. In fact, the number of people in Canada who are aware of conditions is infinitesimal.

Mr. A. H. HARRIS, Special Traffic Representative of the C. P. R.

The number of checkers, longshoremen, and dock laborers under control of the Department at the several Canadian ports used by the Department now exceeds 1,800 men, with a payroll of $33,000 a week. The volume of tonnage cleared from the seaboard has been facilitated, and delays minimized from the fact that the Presidents of the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Railways, recognizing the growth of the Transport Service, considered concentration of authority necessary to efficient direction and accordingly issued instructions to their Operating Officials that the regulation and control inland of all Imperial transport should be vested in the Director of Overseas Transport. Instructions were concurrently issued that all transport consigned to his order should be given priority of movement on the railways over all traffic excepting that of the Government. As a consequence thereof, notwithstanding the volume of tonnage affected, transports have not been held for cargoes, nor has there been congestion at the Canadian seaboard, such as has been experienced at U. S. Ports. The space occupied by vessels in loading at Montreal has been under 41 days. Canada has indeed reason to point with pride to the successful operation of its transport service due to Mr. Harris' administrative ability and the tireless energy of an efficient staff.

AUTUMN WEDDINGS

CLARKE—SULIS

A very quiet wedding took place at St. Matthews church, Deep Brook, on Thursday morning, Oct. 4th, 1917, when Emma Josephine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Sulis, was united in marriage to Mr. Bernard C. Clarke, of Bear River. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. W. L. Smith, rector of the parish, in the presence of only the immediate relatives. The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion. The wedding march was played by Miss Clarke, of Bear River. The bride, who was prettily attired in a dark green broad cloth travelling suit, with satin trimmings and hat to match, entered the church on the arm of her brother, Henry L. Sulis, by whom she was given in marriage. After the ceremony the bridal party was conveyed by autos to the Hilldale House, Annapolis, where a dainty luncheon was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Clarke left by the east bound express for Halifax and other places of interest. On their return they will reside in Bear River. A number of presents were received, including fifty dollars in gold and check for one hundred dollars from the firm of Clarke Bros. Congratulatory telegrams were received, including one from Quarter-Master Sergeant Clifford Rice, of Bramshot Camp, England, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rice, of Bear River.

SPOTLIGHT ON CANADA'S MEN

Scientists Show Keen Interest in Physical Examination Under Military Service Act

OTTAWA, October 8.—Medical men throughout the country are taking a keen interest in the coming examination of the physical condition of Canadians who are liable for service under the Military Service Act. This examination will be conducted by Medical Boards which are to be established all over Canada and will be free to all men who apply. Already the Boards are in process of formation. Many authorities have held that Canadians, as a race, are unusually hardy, owing to the rigorous weather experienced in this country. Never in Canada's history has there been such a thorough examination of men in the country between certain ages as is to be conducted under the Military Service Act. It will establish a new basis of fact for scientific men to work on, and the records will be of value for universities and scientific bureaus not only in Canada but throughout the civilized world. The object of the medical examination, primarily, is to inform those liable to service if they will be drafted or not, since men found physically unfit are sure of exemption by the Exemption Tribunal. Employers will also be able to calculate as to what removals they may expect from their business houses, factories, etc. But the scientific importance of the country-wide physical examination of men between certain ages looms large in the eyes of a great many medical authorities.

Death of Mr. Gilbert Bell

The death took place on Thursday, Sept. 27th, of Mr. Gilbert Bell, of Acadiaville, Digby Co., in the 81st year of his age. He was unmarried and is survived by two brothers, Alfred, of Acadiaville, with whom he resided, and Freeman, of Marshalltown. Gilbert Bell was the oldest son of the late Elijah Bell, Jr., and his wife companion Abigail (Cady) Bell, and a grandson of Eliab and Mary (Carter) Bell, King's American Loyalists, who emigrated from Braintree, Massachusetts, to Shelburne, Nova Scotia, in the year 1873, and removed to Hill Grove, Digby Co., locating in 1815 on farm now homesteaded by Mr. Perry Poyser, the local postmaster. The funeral was held on Saturday, Sept. 29th, the remains being interred in the Hill Grove Baptist cemetery. Rev. C. W. Robbins, of the Digby Baptist church, conducted the service at the house and grave.

New Pastor of Bridgetown Church.

The Rev. M. S. Richardson, with his wife, father and mother, arrived in Bridgetown last Thursday from West Jeddore, Halifax county. Mr. Richardson began his work as pastor of the Bridgetown Baptist church last Sunday, preaching very able and appreciative sermons both morning and evening to large congregations. The new pastor is a most earnest preacher, with a good enunciation and delivery that demands the close attention of his hearers. The church is to be congratulated on having secured so able a pastor. The pulpit, platform and choir gallery of the church was very tastefully and appropriately trimmed with autumn leaves, flowers and fruit, the work of two of the ladies of the church.

Among the recent callers at the office of the Agent-General for Nova Scotia, London, was Cadet D. Owen, Annapolis.

The bride and groom took their place under a beautiful arch of autumn bowers in the presence of a number of guests. The bride looked very becoming in her pretty dress of silk embroidered voile with bridal veil, which bore a crown of white flowers and pearls. After congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Neaves left for their home in Port Lorne, where they will reside for a time. The bride's travelling suit was blue, with a large picture hat of black and old rose velvet. The bride received many beautiful presents, which consisted of silver, cut glass, linen and furniture. Among the gifts were a beautiful bedroom suit, which testified of the esteem in which the young lady was held. The numerous friends of the bride and groom join in wishing them many long years of happiness.

Injury to Carrots by the Rust Fly Maggot.

Many have experienced trouble during the past summer from the ravages of the rust fly to their carrots. Early in the season the young plants assumed reddish, rusty appearance, and, on examination, the roots will be found to be blotched with rusty patches, especially toward the tips. Further examination will reveal the presence of small, yellowish maggots burrowing in the roots.

Not only are the growing plants attacked but the maggot frequently continues its work in the stored roots, thus causing further damage. Besides the carrot, celery and parsnips also suffer.

The life history of the insect, though known in a general way, has not been worked out in detail and no entirely satisfactory control measures have been evolved.

Late planted carrots are most likely to escape serious injury and rotation of crops is beneficial. Sand, land plaster or ashes, impregnated with kerosene, at the rate of three gallons of the diluent to the pint of kerosene, has been found to be of some value. Applications should be made three or four times at intervals of one week after the roots begin to form and especially after the carrots have been thinned.

A careful study is to be made of this insect in order to discover, if possible, improved methods of control. To secure material for this purpose, the undersigned will be pleased to receive carrots infected with the maggots, in lots of one half bushel or more, upon which shipping charges will be paid.

NELSON DAY

An Opportunity of Showing Appreciation of Our British Sailors.

His Worship, Mayor Longmire, is in receipt of a lengthy communication from the Honorable Secy-Treas. of the Navy League of Canada from which we publish the following extract:

The 21st of October, 1917, "Nelson Day" will be set aside to Canadians an opportunity of showing in a tangible manner their appreciation of what the British sailors have done for them.

Would you be good enough to appoint a committee to undertake the work of conducting a house to house canvass or a Tag Day on that date, so that your citizens may be afforded an opportunity of contributing their mite to this worthy cause?

If this date should clash in any way with arrangements already made by your people for any other patriotic event, could it be arranged that a joint collection be taken up and a portion of it allotted for the purpose herein described, falling which any date prior to the 21st of October that would be convenient to you for the collection of money for the sailors, would be satisfactory to the committee.

Mrs. Price Webber Ill.

Her many friends will regret to read the following item reprinted from the Boston Globe:

"H. Price Webber has been compelled to postpone the opening of the 43rd season of his Boston Comedy Company which was booked to start at Richmond, Me. Edwina Grey (Mrs. Webber), the leading lady of the organization, has not recovered from the effects of a bad fall which she had on the ice at Yarmouth last winter. She is improving in health, but will be unable to appear professionally for some time."

L. O. O. F. Grand Sire Coming

Word has been received here that the new Grand Sire of the L. O. O. F. elected at the recent Sovereign Grand Lodge convention, has definitely accepted an invitation to officiate at the session of the Maritime Provinces Grand Lodge to be held next summer at Kentville.

The life work of some men seems to be criticizing others.

A man is apt to be suspicious if his wife isn't jealous of him.

ANOTHER PROPHECY

Says War Will Be Over by U. S. Thanksgiving

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 8.—Is there a gold mine right in the heart of Los Angeles? J. P. Boatman claims there is, as he has had repeated visions of a huge box of buried treasure in this city, he hired a corps of laborers and began digging for a box that he says contains $1,750,000 in gold nuggets and old solid gold Mexican coins.

The buried treasure is supposed to be 119 feet from the corner of Temple street, northward on Buena Vista street. This is directly in front of the sheriff's office, and within a stone's throw of the courthouse.

While sweating laborers were busy with pick and spade, Mr. Boatman discoursed of premonitions. Among other things he said:

"The German armies will surrender to the combined forces of the Allies at Ghent, Belgium, early on Thanksgiving morning, (November 29) and before nightfall the dove of peace will have visited the ruling powers of every belligerent nation and the people of the world will rejoice.

"Kaiser Wilhelm will vanish from his home country and will never be heard of again. He will leave as soon as his armies surrender at Ghent."

UPPER GRANVILLE

Oct. 1st.

Mrs. Willard Whitman has been a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Whitman.

Mr. Cuthbertson, accompanied by Mr. Galus Eishor, returned from a short trip to Bridgewater on the 28th. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dodge, of Middleton, with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bath, enjoyed an auto trip to Yarmouth during the "Fair time."

Miss Rhoda Bent has taken up her duties as teacher in Chesley section, following Mr. Hall, whose short term substitute has been greatly appreciated. We wish Miss Bent equal success.

Mr. James Sanford has sold his property to Mr. Zachariah Phinney, a resident here in this vicinity. While regret is felt at the short sojourn of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford, we welcome our friends of the past and hope they have come to stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Walker returned home recently after a very enjoyable auto trip visiting the capital at the time of the annual exhibition and stopping at different points of interest en route. Through the courtesy of Mr. Norman Chute their sojourn of a week was made very agreeable.

WONDERFUL STUFF!

LIFT OUT YOUR CORNS

Apply a Few Drops Then Lift Corns or Calluses off With Fingers—No Pain

No humbug. Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out, without a particle of pain or soreness. This drug is called freezone and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callus will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This drug freezone doesn't eat out the corns or calluses but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. If your druggist don't have freezone have him order it for you.

The Japanese Empire.

The Japanese empire proper is made up of four large islands, Nippon, Shikoku, Kishu and Yeddo, and about 3,800 small ones, many of them too small and rocky for habitation. In area the empire is very nearly the same as the state of California, about 156,000 square miles. It has a population of between 45,000,000 and 50,000,000, the larger part of it being engaged in agriculture and fishing. The arable land of the whole empire, not including Formosa or Korea, is about 9,000,000 acres, or just about that of the state of New York.

Change Name of New Brunswick

Representations have been made to the Dominion government that the province of New Brunswick should change its name to that of New Windsor. The communication, which falls from Manitoba, emphasizes the fact that the King has dropped "Brunswick" from his title and that the Royal family is known as that of Windsor. It is urged that a similar course should be followed in Canada in regard to names "possessing a German flavor." New Windsor instead of New Brunswick is therefore suggested.

Special Cars Coming.

The C. P. R. is sending a large number of cars into the Annapolis Valley to meet the demand for the transportation of apples and potatoes. Shipments of apples to the west are now being extensively made and every carload possible will be rushed to its destination before the winter weather sets in. Potatoes are commencing to move quite freely for shipment to Cuba.

NOT ENOUGH CHILDREN

ever receive the proper balance of food to sufficiently nourish both body and brain during the growing period when nature's demands are greater than in mature life. This is shown in so many pale faces, lean bodies, frequent colds, and lack of ambition.

For all such children we say with unmistakable earnestness: They need Scott's Emulsion, and need it now. It possesses in concentrated form the very food elements to enrich their blood. It changes their weakness to strength; it makes them sturdy and strong and active.

Military Service Act, 1917

Explanatory Announcement by the Minister of Justice

THE MILITARY SERVICE ACT has received the assent of the Governor-General and is now part of the law of the land. It will be enforced accordingly, and the patriotism and good sense of the people can be relied upon to support it. Resistance to its enforcement, however by word or act must and will be repressed, as resistance to any other law in force must be.

Reinforcements under the Military Service Act immediately required

It is the intention of the Government immediately to exercise the power which the Act confers and to call out men for military service in order to provide reinforcements for the Canadian forces. This is necessary since the military authorities report that the reserves available or in sight for reinforcement will shortly be exhausted unless this step be taken.

First call limited to men between 20 and 34 who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6, 1917

The present call will be limited to men not in the schedule of exemptions who were unmarried or widowers without children on 6th July, 1917, are at least twenty years of age, and were born on or since January 1st, 1883. Of this Class all those will be entitled to conditional exemption whose services in their present occupations, agricultural, industrial or other, are essential in the national interest, and whose business or domestic responsibilities are such that serious hardship would ensue if their services be required. Conscientious scruples based upon a prohibition of combatant service by the articles of faith of the religious denomination to which men belong will also be respected. The men first required to serve will consequently be those who can be called upon with the least disturbance of the economic and social life of the country.

Civil Tribunals to deal with exemptions

Questions of exemption will be determined, not by the military authorities or by the Government, but by civil tribunals composed of representative men who are familiar with local conditions in the communities in which they serve, who will generally have personal knowledge of the economic and family reasons which those whose cases come before them have had for not volunteering their services and who will be able sympathetically to estimate the weight and importance of such reasons. Provincial Appellate Tribunals constituted from the existing judiciary of the respective provinces will be provided to correct mistakes made by the Local Tribunals, and a Central Appeal Tribunal for the whole of Canada, selected from among the present Judges of the Supreme Court of Canada, will be constituted in order that identical principles may be applied throughout the country. In this way every man may rest assured of the fair and full consideration of his circumstances and the national requirements both civil and military.

Proclamation will announce the day

A proclamation will issue calling out the bachelors and widowers referred to and fixing a day on or before which every man must report for service to the military authorities unless he has before that day made an application for exemption.

How to apply for exemption

Applications for exemption may be made by written notice on forms which will be available at every post office, and will be transmitted free of postage. They will not, however, be required to be made in this way, but may be presented by the applicants in person to the exemption tribunals. The cases of those who have given written notice in advance will take precedence, and appearance in person will therefore be likely to involve considerably more inconvenience and delay to the men concerned, so that it is recommended that advantage be generally taken of the facilities for written application.

Ottawa, September 11, 1917.

Exemption Tribunals in all parts of Canada

The local exemption tribunals will be constituted with the least delay possible, consistent with the selection of representative individuals to compose them, and the instruction of the members in their duties. There will be more than one thousand of such tribunals throughout Canada, each consisting of two members, one of whom will be nominated by a Joint Committee of Parliament, and the other by one of the Judges of the existing Courts. Every effort will be made by the wide distribution of tribunals, and by provision where necessary for their sitting in more than one place, to minimize the inconvenience to which men will be put in obtaining the disposition of their cases.

A Registrar will be appointed in each Province, who will be named in the proclamation and to whom enquiries may be addressed. Each Provincial Registrar will transmit to the appropriate tribunal the applications for exemption which have been submitted in advance of the sittings, and men who have sent these in will not be required to attend the tribunals until notified to do so. Other applicants should attend personally on the tribunal without notice.

How to report for service

Men who do not desire to claim exemption will report to the military authorities for service either by mail or in person at any time after the issue of the proclamation. Forms of report by mail will be found in all post offices, and, like applications for exemption, will be transmitted free of postage.

Early report advantageous

No man who reports for service will, although he may be medically examined and passed as fit, be required to go into camp or join a battalion until after a day fixed by the proclamation sufficiently late to permit of the disposition by the local tribunals of most, if not all, of the applications for exemption which may come before them. Thus no advantage will be gained by delaying or disadvantage incurred by prompt report for service on the part of those who do not intend to apply for exemption.

Facilities for immediate medical examination

Immediately upon the issue of the proclamation, medical boards will sit at every mobilization centre for the examination of men who report for service or who, subject to their right within the time limited to apply for exemption, desire to have their physical fitness determined in order to allay any doubt as to their physical condition, or to know definitely and in advance whether there is a possibility of their services being required. Certificates of physical unfitness issued by exemption tribunals when accepted without any further investigation by exemption tribunals when they sit. Men found physically fit who have not reported for service may nevertheless apply for exemption on any of the prescribed grounds, including even their physical condition if dissatisfied with the Medical Board's conclusion.

Notice to join the colors

As reinforcements are required, notice to report to the nearest mobilization centre will be given from time to time to the men found liable and passed as fit for service. Disobedience of such notice will render the offender liable to punishment, but punishment for failure to report for military service, or to report subsequently for duty when called upon, will be imposed ordinarily by the civil magistrates; offenders, however, will remain liable for the performance of their military duties notwithstanding any civil punishment which may be imposed and will be liable to military punishment in cases in which civil proceedings are not taken.

Watch for the Proclamation

Notice of the day appointed for the making of a claim for exemption or for report for military service will be published as widely as possible, but, as no personal notice can be given until the individuals called out have so reported themselves or claimed exemption, men possibly concerned are warned to inform themselves with regard to the day fixed, since neglect may involve the loss by them of important privileges and rights.

Minister of Justice.

A Rally day service was held in the Baptist church, for the Baptist Sunday School, on Sabbath last, Sept. 30th, and a Thanksgiving service in the form of a concert, will be held in the same church on Sabbath evening, Oct. 7th, proceeds for Mission purposes.
Your correspondent read with interest a discussion on "Sabbath Degradation," by Rev. F. H. Beals, of Lawrenceston, published in the MONITOR. We need more men like the Rev. Mr. Beals, for Sabbath desecration, or "Sabbath Degradation as the P. Gentleman terms it, is rapidly becoming one of the greatest evils of the present day. Years ago cultured Germany threw aside part of the Bible and its teachings, for "higher culture," and she stands alone today—a disgrace to civilization. Even in our own little province, it is time our ministers and leaders were wide awake to the danger threatening us from desecration of the Lord's Day. The minister, who "dares to be a Daniel, dares to stand alone, dares to have a purpose true, and dares to make it known," is the one needed to day.

The supper was one of the best ever served at such an occasion in Karsdale and was greatly enjoyed. The proceeds, $32.00, go to augment the funds of the church.
On Tuesday evening last the Karsdale Union Bible Class met at the home of Mrs. Frank Covert. The attendance was good. After the lesson P. H. Porter, Esq., following a few appropriate remarks, read an address from the class to Rev. Mr. Markham, who was in attendance for the last time, expressing regret at the separation and wishing him every possible success in the future and closed by presenting him with $6.25 as a gift from the class. The Rev. Gentleman was quite surprised but made a very neat reply, thanking all for their kindness and wishing all a very happy and prosperous future. An excellent lunch was then served by Mrs. Covert and after prayer the company dispersed.

A BIGGER PAPER

Our readers will notice this week that the MONITOR has been enlarged from four to eight pages and made a much more convenient size. It is the intention of the paper's present management to give the people as much as the business will warrant. Everyone should be proud of the local paper for nothing can boost the town or the county more than a live newspaper. We believe that the MONITOR, with its large circulation, must be read in almost every home in Annapolis county, and it is now rapidly making its way in many of the homes of Digby county. We are always pleased to send sample copies to any addresses furnished us, especially to those who have moved away from this part of the province. We again thank our old and new readers for the interest they are taking in our personal welfare and wish particularly to thank the merchants and business men for their increased advertising patronage and for their orders for job printing, which are coming in by every mail. There is no necessity for an order for job printing to go outside the county. Everyone should keep this in mind and patronize home industry.

DIGBY COUNTY EXHIBITION

Weather Conditions Were Ideal, and a Big Crowd Visited the Fair.

One of the best exhibitions yet held in Digby Co., opened in Digby on Tuesday at 1 o'clock, and concluded Wednesday afternoon.

All the exhibits, both on the grounds and in the buildings, were up to the average. The attendance at the opening, on Tuesday, was not as large as was looked for, but on Wednesday morning people began arriving in town at daybreak, and by noon hundreds had arrived, for the purpose of visiting the fair.

At the grounds in the afternoon, there was a record attendance, the gate receipts being $363.90.

There was a first class display of fine arts and school children's exhibits, and domestic manufactures. The exhibit of bread and preserves was excellent, also the dairy products of all kinds.

The assortment of apples in the fruit section, was one of the best we have seen, also the garden vegetables and field roots.

The showing of cut flowers and potted plants, deserve special mention, for they were exceptionally good.

The exhibition, on the whole, was a big success, and much credit is due the officers who had it in charge.

The ladies of the Field Comfort Club served lunch on the grounds Wednesday.

Digby Amateur Concert Band furnished music during Wednesday afternoon.

Record Trip to Yarmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Chipman, of Bridgetown, who had with them as guests, the editor of the MONITOR and Mrs. Dunham, made the run from here to Yarmouth Post Office last Wednesday in Mr. Chipman's Overland in three hours and fifty-five minutes, running time. Stops were made at Westville, Church Point, Salmon River, Beaver River and Port Maitland. After a pleasant visit at Yarmouth, attending the exhibition, meeting old friends, etc., the return trip was made in good time the following day, stops being made at Brooklyn, Yarmouth county; Weymouth North, Westville and Clementsport. On the same date in 1916 the editor made the run from the Digby railway station to the Grand Hotel in Yarmouth in two hours and eighteen minutes, the guest of Mr. H. T. Warne in his seven passenger Studebaker, the other guests being Mr. F. W. Nichols, Digby; Mr. Geo. E. Graham, manager of the D. A. R., and Mayor Pelton, of Kentville.

Recent Casualties.

The casualties reported since our last issue are: Wounded—R. V. Trask, Little River; B. E. Hutchinson, Digby; Killed—A. A. Rice, Lequille. Gassed—S. Parker, Clementsport. Wounded and gassed—Staff-Sergt. A. Morris, Middleton. Died—B. M. Sabean, North Range.

We wish to call the public's attention to the Primrose theatre advertisement in today's MONITOR. The enterprising proprietors of this picture house are determined to give their patrons high-class entertainment and the coming program is certainly a good one.

Death of Mrs. Eben Bent

At the home of her brother, Mr. J. W. Wade, Thursday, Sept. 27th, the death occurred of Jane Wade, widow of the late Eben Bent, of Granville Centre. Although the deceased had been in poor health for several years, the call came unexpectedly at the age of seventy-eight years. Mrs. Bent, previous to the time when disease had wrecked both mind and body, was one of the bright, useful, christian women, always giving her assistance to the moral and religious interests of the community in which she lived. She leaves to mourn their loss, two sisters, and two brothers; also three step-daughters and one step-son, who cherish the memory of one who was specially qualified to fill the place of mother. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon, conducted by her pastor, Rev. A. R. Reynolds, assisted by Rev. I. Brindley. The remains were interred in Wadeville cemetery beside her husband.

Thanksgiving Day in Bridgetown

Monday, Thanksgiving Day, passed off very quietly in Bridgetown. Service was held in St. James church in the morning. Several took advantage of the holiday following Sunday and spent the week-end out of town; others entertained guests. A party of eight of our business men enjoyed the holiday in the woods at one of the favorite camps, pronouncing the outing a very enjoyable one. Places of business were closed and flags were displayed from many of the staffs throughout the business section and in various places around town.

Death at New Tusket, Digby County.

The death occurred at New Tusket, on Thursday of last week, of Emily, wife of the late Michael Prime, in the 92nd year of her age.

She is survived by three sons: Charles, of Tiverton; Norman, of Maine; John, of Harmony, King's Co., and three daughters, Mrs. Videto Mullen, of Cedar Lake, Yarmouth Co., Mrs. Allen Pine, of Tiverton; Mrs. Nesbitt, of New Tusket.

The funeral took place Saturday last with interment in the Baptist cemetery. Rev. Mr. Hatfield conducted the services at the house and grave.

Visitors to the Yarmouth Exhibition.

Among the auto parties from Bridgetown to the Yarmouth exhibition, not already referred to in another column, were noticed, Dr. and Mrs. M. E. Armstrong, son, Maurice, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Williams; Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Fay and son James; Mr. Freeman Fitch, daughter Ethel, Mr. and Mrs. Abner Williams and Miss Grace Hoyt; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chipman and Mr. and Mrs. John Bent. The latter party was from Tupperville.

Woman Thought She Would Die. Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Ogdensburg, Wis.—"I suffered from female troubles which caused piercing pains like a knife through my back and side. I finally lost all my strength so I had to go to bed. The doctor advised an operation but I would not listen to it. I thought of what I had read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and tried it. The first bottle brought great relief and six bottles have entirely cured me. All women who have female trouble of any kind should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. ETTA DORRIS, Ogdensburg, Wis.

Physicians undoubtedly did their best, battled with this case steadily and could do no more, but often the most scientific treatment is surpassed by the medicinal properties of the good old-fashioned roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complication exists it pays to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special free advice.

STILL MAKING GRINDSTONES

One Family Has Operated New Brunswick Quarry for a Hundred Years.

At Woodbine, N. B., five miles from Sackville, in the Moncton consular district, is a grindstone quarry whose product, until the present transportation restrictions, was shipped in large quantities to ports on the eastern seaboard of the United States, says a report from Moncton, N. B.

The president of the company operating this quarry states that grindstones were first quarried in Canada, near Minudie, N. S., probably by the French, for local use before the British occupation, or about 1746. In the early part of the nineteenth century, the great-grandfathers of the present holders of the leases, in company with an associate, acquired control of these grindstone ledges and began making regular shipments of grindstones to the United States in small vessels. For some years Eastport, Me., was the port of delivery, whence the cargoes were transhipped in American bottoms to ports farther down the coast. Later, a branch house was opened in Boston, which was maintained uninterruptedly until 1888.

Quarries were opened at other points, notably in Pictou county, N. S.; at Shediac and Fox Creek, along the Miramichi river, and at Stonehaven, Gloucester county, in New Brunswick. At the last named, operations were started in 1850.

Although the Stonehaven quarries lie beyond the limits of the Moncton consular district, a description of them cannot well be omitted. Stonehaven is situated on the south bank of the Bay of Chaleur, eighteen miles southeast of Bathurst. The bank of the cliff at this spot is fifty feet or more in height; on the beach below is the quarry, operated by the same company as that similarly employed near Sackville. It is said that half the grindstones used in Canada originate at Stonehaven. The product consists of stones of all sizes from eight inches in diameter, for kitchen use, to eighty-four inches in diameter by fourteen inches thick. The latter is the largest "stock" stone, each one weighing about three and a half tons. Stones from twelve to thirty inches in diameter for the hardware trade are made in large quantities. Stones from thirty to forty-eight inches for machine-shop use are made in only slightly less quantity.

The Stonehaven quarries were reclaimed from tidewater by the building of dams. The most recently constructed of these dams is over one and a quarter miles long. Like the others, it is built chiefly of timber cribwork filled with stone, and heavily rip-rapped on the side exposed to the sea. After the dam is built the water is pumped out and quarrying begins. The stone lies in horizontal sheets of varying thickness, the total depth of the formation being about twenty-five feet.

Modern methods are employed at the Stonehaven plant. A steam channeller and steam and air drills are used as required, and by their use, with powder and wedges, the rock is quarried to the required size. It is then hoisted to the "dump," where the stonecutters take it and shape it round. From there, if it is not too thick for a single grindstone, it goes direct to the lathe to be finished. If the block is two or three feet thick it is sent to the saws and cut to the required thickness. This applies to the larger stones. The smaller stones are split out of the irregular-shaped that come out along with the larger stones. The stones are cut round and shaped as a rough grindstone.

For handling stones three derricks are used at the quarry, three at the mill, and three at the wharf and station, while a travelling derrick operating under its own power and equipped with an "orange peel" bucket has been used for stripping purposes. One steam plant of fifty horse-power operates the hoisting machinery for the quarry derricks. Another of about the same capacity handles the pumping plant and the steam channeller.

A 100-horsepower plant runs the mill machinery. This consists of an air compressor for the hammer drills used in the quarry, three gang saws, eight lathes, two scythe stone grinders, and a shingle mill for making shooks-for scythe stone boxes, besides the necessary hoisting and pumping machinery, exhaust fans, etc. Water for the boilers is piped from reservoir half a mile away. A good public wharf provides accommodation for water shipment. About 2500 tons represents the normal average annual output of the New Brunswick grindstone quarries.

CARE OF THE EYES

Give Them a Daily Bath and Good Exercise

(By Wm. M. Smith, M. D.)
No branch of medical science has advanced more rapidly in its therapy than that touching the care of the eyes. In a great majority of cases eyes start on their life journey quite normal and after ten years' service are as a rule in the same condition. Soon after that age the eyes of the less sturdy begin to feel the effect of near work and electric light glare. As this is brought to your notice it becomes necessary to resort to treatment to restore the eyes to as near normal as possible. For the last decade or even longer glasses have been considered a panacea for all eye ills and many a child has had its vision impaired by use of strong lenses which have fixed the glass habit on the unfortunate for life. I don't wish to be misunderstood as to the value of glasses as in a number of cases they are of decided benefit along with other remedial treatments which I will enumerate. Eyes are exposed to infection in countless ways in which dust and dirt play an important role. The one treatment I have used for years consists of an eye bath. To cleanse the eyes is as essential as the daily use of the tooth brush. As a prophylactic treatment a proper eye bath is indicated in normal eyes. If practiced daily it will keep the eyes healthy and vigorous and render them less liable to infection, disease and the need of glasses. Eye-bath solutions should be prepared fresh for each treatment; the most convenient method for making the solution is by the use of an ophthalmic or eye tablet, which, when added to sterile water, dissolves readily and is ready for immediate use. Individual eye cups are preferable and should be kept in the bathroom cabinet for daily use. The daily eye bath softens and irrigates the muscles of the eye and helps nature to keep the eyeball thoroughly cleansed. It thus retains its normal shape and size and becomes less liable to conditions leading up to the wearing of glasses. In so-called cold in the eye, after removal of foreign bodies, etc., the eye bath is the essential treatment. Simple eye rests and exercise also helps. If engaged in steady, near work, it is a good plan to rest occasionally and close your eyes, then open slowly and gaze into the distance, after which let the eyes return to their tasks. Another exercise consists in looking straight ahead, then rolling the eyes upward to the ceiling, then back again to the starting point. As a resume in closing let me add that the technique to be followed in caring for the eyes comprises just three suggestions, avoidance of excessive near work in poor light, daily eye baths and eye exercise.

BIG LOG RAFT

A Similar One Towed Down the Bay of Fundy

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 8.—Towed more than 1000 miles from an interior point in Oregon, to San Diego, a great raft of pine logs, 600 feet in length and 52 feet wide has been brought into the harbor here, says a dispatch from San Diego to the Tribune.

The huge logs of Oregon pine are being released from the chains which bound them during their ocean trip, and will be sawed into hundreds of thousands of feet of lumber. Much of this lumber will be used in building structures required by the United States Army, although a part of it will find its way to other markets in the Southwest. Some of the lumber will go into the many new ships being rushed to completion by the Federal Shipping Board.

The logs in the raft vary from 80 to 100 feet in length, and they will produce a total of from 4,000,000 to 6,000,000 feet of lumber.

The raft draws 24 feet of water, and the topmost logs are 12 feet above the surface of the water. Sixty-four steel chains were required to hold it together, aside from the huge towing chain by which the raft, which is about three blocks in length, was drawn slowly through the water by a small but sturdy and powerful ocean-going tug. The chains weigh more than 200 tons.

[This calls to mind the famous "Leary" log-raft that was floated down the Bay of Fundy and along the New England coast a generation ago.]

UNITED FRUIT CO.

Its Three Largest Steamers in Government Service.

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—United Fruit Co. has now contributed its three largest steamers to government service. They are of 9,900 tons capacity and were capable of bringing weekly into the United States 7,410,000 bananas, or 2,470,000 pounds of food products.

Taking of these steamers for government service means a total of nine American and all but three of the English steamers, which have been appropriated for war purposes.

Six of the nine American steamers were those building in this country and which were in various stages of completion.

English importations are now running on the basis of a fortnightly cargo. Something like 15 English steamers have been taken for admiralty service.

All in all United Fruit has played a very valuable naval role in this war.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

Report of Annual Meeting Held at Paradise.

The 44th annual convention of the Annapolis county S. S. Association, was held in the Baptist church, Paradise, on Thursday, Sept., 20th.

The morning session opened with a devotional service, conducted by Jas. N. Jackson, of Bridgetown, after which the president, L. C. Sproule, presided.

There were 56 delegates present, seven of whom were clergymen, five pastors, six superintendents and quite a number of teachers.

The morning session was occupied with reports of the department superintendents and district presidents.

Mrs. C. S. Balcom, Supt. of the Elementary work, reported good work done by nearly all the schools of the county. Mrs. Balcom has had charge of this department for a number of years and we hope she may be permitted to enjoy it many years hence.

Mrs. Frail, Supt. of I. B. R. A., reported this work not so encouraging as in former years.

The sec'y-treas. report was then called for. This report showed that nearly one hundred dollars is needed to meet our pledge to the provincial work, and we have no reasonable excuse whatever to offer for this deficit. I wonder if the Lord is pleased with the flimsy excuses we often make in regard to this most important work.

The afternoon devotional was led by Rev. I. A. Corbitt. Rev. A. F. Baker, new Field Secretary, was present and joined in the exercises.

A blackboard exercise by R. J. Messenger, a paper subject, "The Cradle Roll," by Mrs. C. S. Balcom, and an address by Rev. Frank Beals, were interesting features of the afternoon and were enjoyed by all present.

Evening service opened with a song service. Addresses by Rev. Mr. Brindley and Rev. A. F. Baker were especially interesting and helpful.

Music by the choir also added to the enjoyment of the evening. Officers for the coming year:

President, I. J. Whitman, Torbrook.
 1st Vice, Rev. J. A. Smith, Granville Ferry.
 2nd Vice, Rev. David Grant, Middleton.

Labor Conditions Following The War

ONE of the most serious problems which Canada must face at the close of the war is the re-arrangement of our affairs upon the basis of normal civil life, with the incidental question of labor unemployment.

Labor conditions in Canada today are, in many respects, very similar to those which prevailed in the United States during their Civil War and the re-construction period. Our labor conditions immediately previous to the war had the same chaotic aspect. The start of the war first brought depression in industry, followed by a rapid return in the demand for labor as manufacture of munitions and other war supplies extended, and today in Canada there is little if any unemployment and skilled labor is in strong demand.

At the close of the Civil War, the United States had a population of about 33,000,000. The Union Army at the time of Lee's surrender numbered slightly more than 1,000,000. It was estimated that another million men and women were employed in the Northern States in the manufacture of munitions. During the four year period of the Civil War, immigration had fallen off, and re-recruiting had depleted the workers on the farms, and drawn largely from the laboring classes in the cities. The call for munition workers was supplied from other branches of industry, with the result that ordinary enterprises were compelled to run short-handed or pay a high premium for labor.

Compared with this situation, we find Canada's army of about 400,000 drawn from a population of about 2,900,000. It is estimated that some 290,000 men and women are now engaged in munition work. Only 12% of our army, however, has been enlisted from the farms and more than half of the total has been recruited from among the skilled and manual laborers. The comparison shows the same situation regarding the scarcity of labor for ordinary enterprises, because of the drain through the army for overseas forces and munition workers.

During the Civil War period, wages gradually increased. Prices of commodities also advanced. The laborer, however, skilled or unskilled, was placed at a disadvantage because his wages did not advance in proportion to the prices of necessities. Even better among the mechanics and skilled people, whose incomes did not advance in proportion to the increased price of living.

When the Union Army started to muster out in 1865 at the rate of about 300,000 per month for the three summer months, there was for a time a glut of the labor market. This was but temporary, however, as 1866 witnessed an active industrial and agricultural revival. The returning soldiers, a large percentage of whom had volunteered from the farming districts, went back to producing in the newly opened Mississippi Valley States. This wholesale homesteading brought demands for new railroads; more than 15,000 miles of rails were laid in the west during the five years directly following the war. This railway work took up quantities of labor from the eastern centres and assisted to marked degree the settlers who had gone into the new country without sufficient funds to tide them through the breaking and growing seasons of the first year.

The first annual report of the United States Commissioner of Labor published in 1886, summarizes the re-construction period, as follows: "The year 1867 can hardly be called one of financial panics or industrial depressions, although hard times, apparently prevailed. The stimulation to all industries resulting from the war, the speculative enterprises undertaken, the extension of credits, and the slackening of production, necessarily caused a reaction, and a consequent stagnation of business; but the period was hardly spoken of by business men as one of any particular hardship. People for a while began to be conservative; but the impetus gained during the war could not be overcome, and it was not until the crash of 1873 that the effects of undue excitement in all branches of trade and business were thoroughly noticed."

"The five years following the Civil War saw the organization of the first labor unions. These had been started in a local way during the last two years of the war. In 1866 the first National Congress of Labor met at Baltimore. The slogan of the labor organizers of the period was the necessity for organization so as to protect American labor against invading foreigners, who were immigrating in large numbers during the five years following the war.

The plants established for the manufacture of munitions for the Northern Army during the war marked the beginning of the factory system, and the centralization of industry in the larger cities. A continuation of this system after the war had a further influence in bringing about labor organizations.

Canada has since the opening of the war, increased her manufacture of staples and reduced her imports. Industry has been given an impetus that should mark a great era of development. We have demonstrated that many new lines can be profitably manufactured in Canada. We face the same dangers, however, that culminated in the crash of 1873 in the United States—the danger of speculation and over-production, without properly developed markets.

A general survey of the labor situation in Canada indicates that about 150,000 more men will be required after the war than are now employed in Canada. This would about take care of the proportion of returning soldiers which will require employment after the war. The problem then arises as to what we will do with our munition workers—an estimated detail of about 200,000 being employed in this work at present, fully 75% of which number will be called upon to find other employment when the war is over.

We will also have the problem of finding employment for those immigrants seeking work, because it will be difficult to restrict immigration to those who wish to engage in agriculture. Our greatest need today is more farmers and greater agricultural production, as will readily be recognized from the fact that our population is half urban and we consume more than we produce. There will be great opportunity and a crying need for farmers and farm laborers all through Canada after the war, but unless proper governmental plan is worked out to direct our immigration into that channel, we face the danger of a flood of unemployed in our cities and towns, while our farms remain undeveloped.

Next in importance to the problem of increased agricultural production is that of the development of our vast natural resources through the extension of existing and promotion of new industries. We must replace the munition plants by utilizing them in extending our present lines of manufacture and promoting the introduction of new lines. Canada should prepare for increased participation in export trade after the war and should grasp the opportunity now to extend in every possible way her industrial development to enable the opportunity to be taken advantage of.

The problem of capital is always closely related to that of labor. Statistics show that Canada has always been able to absorb immigration in direct proportion to the amount of foreign capital it has been able to secure. It is estimated that during the six years preceding the war, Great Britain invested $1,500,000,000 in Canada. After the war, the Mother Country will have her own financial problems to solve and we will be compelled to look elsewhere for our capital. So far we have been able to obtain large sums from the United States and they will probably be willing to be our bankers after the war. They have the money—and it should be only necessary to educate them as to our resources and opportunities; when we will be able to obtain the capital we require.

Available information shows that more than one-half of our overseas forces were recruited from among skilled workers. Some plan must be put into operation for returning these men to civil life gradually so that they will not glut the labor market; otherwise we can count upon serious labor congestion at many points. If, on the other hand, we begin to grapple with these future conditions; to employ every effort of our governmental, financial and commercial organizations to handle the problems of re-organizing our industrial life, Canada will be able to grow by great strides and occupy a prominent place among the nations of the world.

Most men are critical about coffee. They travel around among the best hotels and taste coffee prepared by expert chefs. Now Red Rose Coffee was produced especially to meet the critic's keen, educated taste. It is a blend of the richest coffees, and is crushed—not ground. Some men, whom we know to be real kickers, have been kind enough to say that the flavor is equal to that of any coffee they have ever tasted. If you are a kicker, have your wife make you a cup and then tell us what you think of Red Rose Coffee.

Pay Will Be The Same

Men selected under the Military Service Act will receive the same pay as those now on active service receive. Pay will start from the time a man reports for duty. Money from the Patriotic Fund and Separation Allowance will also be available for selected men.

Canadian soldiers are well paid. The fact that wages in Canada are generally higher than those paid in Europe is recognized in the system of remuneration for men on active service. Clothing and all equipment in addition to food is also supplied to the Canadian soldier, leaving him with no expense except personal incidentals.

The rate of pay for men in the Canadian Expeditionary Force, other than commissioned officers, is as follows:

Rank	Pay $2.00	Field Allowance 30 cts.
Warrant Officers
Regimental Sergt-Major, if not a Warrant Officer	1.85	20 "
Quartermaster-Sergeants	1.80	20 "
Orderly Room Clerks	1.50	20 "
Orderly Room Sergeants	1.50	20 "
Pay Sergeants	1.50	20 "
Squad, Batt., or Co. Sergt-Major	1.60	20 "
Colour-Sergeant or Staff-Sergeant	1.60	20 "
Squad, Batt., or Co. Q.M.S.	1.50	20 "
Sergeants	1.35	15 "
Lance-Sergeants	1.15	15 "
Corporals	1.10	15 "
Lance-Corporals	1.05	15 "
Bombardiers, or Second Corporals	1.05	15 "
Trumpeters, Buglers, and Drummers	1.00	15 "
Privates, Gunners, Drivers	1.00	15 "
Sappers, Batmen, etc.	1.00	15 "

As in the case of those already gone overseas, Separation Allowances will be available for those dependent on selected men. The Separation Allowance is $20.00 per month for the rank and file, $25.00 for sergeants and staff-sergeants and $30.00 for warrant officers. The experience is that many men can afford to assign half their pay to dependents, in addition.

A considerable number of men who have enlisted in the Canadian forces have found themselves better off under the army rate of pay, which is granted in addition to board, lodging, clothing, equipment, transportation, etc., than they were while in civilian positions. Their wants are provided for, and they receive a steady addition to the bank account each month.

Issued by The Military Service Council.
