I went to bed that morning after two.
I had been up watching for some nights, fearing fire. I watched on account of the fire in the shop alongside the house. It was burned on Thursday week about 12.30 a. m. Another reason was the threats made by Mr. Devereaux. He brought a letter up the evening before the shop was burnt, saying if Mrs. Devereaux did not come down, to his house at 7 o'clock, he would have satisfaction, or lose the last drop of his blood, or put it in flames. The letter was torn up. I saw him about the house, on the road, and in the fields several times since. On Wednesday night he came down to the house, and went up to the barn. It was dark, I was handy enough to know him. I went to the barn to see the direction he took. I saw no fire in the barn then. He kept on up to McDonald's line. After I came back I went to bed, and was wakened by the fire. The fire could have been set underneath, where it was all chaff and straw. I could not tell where it first caught. I saw tracks to the foot of the hill.

I went with the Chief of Police next morning after two.

Chief Police Stapledom deposed:—I arrested the prisoner on Wednesday June 6th, at 10 p. m., on a warrant; the charge was for burning a barm. I brought the prisoner to the lock-up. On Thursday morning I came to the cell, and got one of prisoner's boots that he has on now. I asked him where his strong boots were. He told me they were in a shed in his yard. I went there and got them. I went on to Mr. Lane's in the upper part of Chatham. I saw the embers of the barn. I went on to Mr. Lane's in the upper part of Chatham. I saw the embers of the barn. I went there with him. There was a track very plain there, that exactly fitted this boot, (boot produced) it has a peculiar half sole on it. The ground was softenough to take the impression of the half-sole. It was "putty" ground. The impression was very plain. The surrounding ground was hard and would not take an impression. When I came back, I shewed the boots to prisoner:—John Lane on the margins of the library novels they read. One emotional creature writes:—

John McCarthy sworn:—I live in Chatham in Mr. Devereaux's house, I remember last Tuesday. He was there; saw him on Tuesday evening. Did not know he was going away. He was in the house at little strange, that when Fenian raids were thought so beneficial to Canada, Mexican raids should be thought so bad for the United States. The Mexicans are, after all, only following an example which United States neighbors set them.

Arson Case

The police court was occupied on Friday forenoon last with the preliminary examination of John Devereaux, who was arrested on suspicion of having set fire to a barn belonging to John Lane at the Ballast Ponds. Messrs. Carman and Tweedie appeared on behalf of the prosecution, and after the proceedings were somewhat advanced, William Wilkinson Esq., appeared for the prisoner. The case attracted a good deal of attention, owing to the fact that the prisoner is well known in Chatham, where he has held several parishoffices and was, until within a few months, conwhich Gen. East Stoneham, Me., May 12, 1873.

Messrs, Seth W. Fowle & Sons:
Gentlemen—I feel it my duty to write a few words in favor of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. In the early part of last Winter I took a severe cold, and shortly afterward a distressing cough was added to it. My friends did everything they could for me, but without avail. The best physicians that could be procured did not relieve me, and my cough continued with me all through the Winter with increasing severity. I spit blood three or four times a day, and my friends considering my case hopeless gave me up a confirmed consumptive. I was in this condition when I heard of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. I began its use, and before I had taken half a bottle of it my cough and all my other troubles left me, and I was cured. I feel so truly indebted to this great remedy for what it has done for me that I send you this voluntary testimony, hoping it may be the means of inducing others, who are Merchant's Gargling Oil as a Family Liniment. We are now, and have been for some years, preparing the Oil free from stain, to be used as common liniment for human flesh, extracting the coloring ingredient which has bestevotres rendered it objectionable. This Oil possesses all the medicinal properties of that prepared with the dark tings for horses and cattle, and will be found one of the best remedies for all purposes where a liniment is required that has aver been manufactured. wan one cark tinge for horses and cattle, and will be found one of the best remedies for all purposes where a liniment is required that has ever been manufactured.

From J. K. Fisher, Uniontown, Pa., Jan. 37, 1857.—"Your Gargling Oil is doing much better here than formerly, since its virtues have become known; and the bottles put me family use, without stain, are much sought for."

55 The Gargling Oil called "Family Oil," although prepared intentionally for human fiesh, answers as well for beasts; vice verse, the dark Oil answers as well for human fiesh, only it will stain and discolor the skin, but not permanently. Yellow wrapper for animal and white for human flesh.

Merchant's Gargling Oil as an Internal Remedy. Merchant's Gargling Oil is a diffusible stimulant and carminative. It can be taken internally when such a remedy is indicated, and is a good substitute for pain killers, cordials and odynes. For Cramps or Spasms of the Stomach, Colic, Aathma, or Internal Pain, the dose mean nean.

We have a thousand wants, which a thorough business edu ation will aid us to satisfy. I wish it were possible to give every young man who is going to take charge of a farm, or a factory, or a mechanical establishment of any kind, or to enter into commercial pursuits, the elements of a business education. Business colleges mean that there are wants which pre-existing institutions were not shaped or calculated to meet. I say prosperity and success to business colleges.—Horace Greety.
