DR. CURREY DENIES NEARLY ALL HIS WIFE'S CHARGES

Says He Bought Supplies of Wine for Mrs. Currey and Her Lady Friends—Never Whipped His Children Severely—Alludes to His Wife's Stories as Fanciful

The Currey case was before the Divorce Court this morning and tonight Mr. Skinner saw the conclusion of the testimony. Argument will not be made until the stenographic notes are typewritten, which will be in about ten days.

Before the court met this morning Mr. Skinner gave to opposing counsel his list of authorities in support of his opposition to the granting of suit money. Mr. Skinner intimated that he would like to have until tomorrow morning in which to file a further affidavit. Mr. Teed said that believing the case would be finished today he had made other arrangements for tomorrow.

His Honor—I think we'll get through today. If counsel will try we will. Dr. Currey was on the stand under direct examination from eleven until adjournment.

The cross examination will be commenced this afternoon. Miss Currey was recalled and cross-examined by Mr. Teed.

Q—Did you ever hear Mr. Currey call his wife any other offensive name? Ans.—No. Q—Any pet names then? Ans.—No.

Mr. Skinner—That kind of cross-examination takes up time. Mr. Teed—Did you think so? Witness admitted that she on one occasion told a friend of the condition of affairs in the Currey household.

Here Mr. Skinner accused Mr. Teed of introducing three fourths of the hatred in the case. Mr. Teed did not think that such an observation was fair.

Mr. Skinner then re-examined Miss Currey, but brought out nothing new. Some discussion arose over the admissibility of Miss Currey's comparison to her brother. In the end the court requested Mr. Skinner to change the question which he proposed.

During the discussion Mr. Skinner referred to Mr. Hamilton's laugh as "doubtful".

Miss Currey said that Currey's wife called him a dog and said that a street cleaner would be a man in comparison to Currey. She said that she overheard Mrs. Currey say Alice Sweeney "I'll get a divorce from the brute, I loathe him. All I care for is his money, but my father asked me to wait." This occurred in the Charlotte street house in 1908.

Here Miss Currey asked the court's permission to make a statement with reference to her connection with this suit, claiming that Mr. Currey blamed her for the trouble.

Mr. Skinner—Never mind. Witness—Is this not a court of justice? Mr. Teed—You're not on trial. The Court—Never mind about that, Miss Currey.

To Mr. Teed she said that she frequently told her brother that he drank too much for his own good. To Mr. Skinner, she thought that Mrs. Currey drove her brother to drink.

Dr. L. A. Currey, plaintiff in one of the suits and respondent in the cross-suit, was then called by Mr. Skinner in rebuttal.

Mr. Teed—Before Dr. Currey takes the stand I desire to state my objection to the doctor giving evidence in support of his own case. The Court—Take any objections you wish Mr. Teed, and I'll endeavor to rule on them.

Mr. Skinner—We'll not go into our case. The examination of Dr. Currey was then commenced by Mr. Skinner. Dr. Currey denied that he ever beat (Continued on page nine)

NO DEFENCE OFFERED IN THE MICHAUD CASE

Hearing of Evidence was Concluded This Forenoon—Case Goes to the Jury Today.

EDMUNDSTON, N. B., Aug. 5.—Further evidence was taken today in the trial of Huard Michaud, charged with placing obstructions on the rails of the Temiscouata branch. Two witnesses for the prosecution were sworn before Judge Carleton, before whom the case is being tried. Their evidence did not bring out any new features but continued along the lines of that already taken.

This closed the case for the prosecution conducted by Attorney General Hason, while Messrs. Fowell, Michaud and Cormier for the defence, decided to call no witnesses. The case will go before the jury this afternoon.

An important feature of the day's evidence was the testimony given by some of the witnesses to the effect that obstructions have been found on the railroad track since Michaud's arrest.

HARRY THAW WILL GO IN FOR LITERATURE

Vaudeville Stage Does Not Appeal to Him His Sister Turns Down an Offer of Marriage, to Devote Her Life to Her Mother and Brother.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Harry K. Thaw will devote his life to literature if he wins his fight for freedom from the Matteawan asylum, and anticipating such a victory, his mother, Mrs. Wm. Thaw and her daughter Alice, the former Countess of Yarmouth, have spent about $25,000. It is reported, in fitting up a corner of the new Thaw house on Fifth avenue in Pittsburgh as a literary den for Thaw. Both Harry Thaw and his relatives have believed he would succeed in literary work and for a year this has been the main subject under discussion between Harry, Alice and the mother when they visited him. If permitted to leave the asylum he will go with them to Pittsburgh and engage in literary work after a little vacation in Europe to brighten up. Mother and sister will go with to Europe. Alice Thaw has also decided to cast her lot with her brother in his literary career in case he is liberated and she has already shown some good work by making contracts for Thaw's writings which will surely prove profitable if he is allowed to get out to do the writing. It is claimed by close friends that Alice has secured contracts which will require a full year's work on the part of Harry and herself and that $20,000 is about the total contracts call for. In connection with this Pittsburgh society is discussed a literary society concerning the daughter Alice Thaw to her mother and brother. She is said to have recently an offer of marriage from a rich young business man of Pittsburgh, but she has declined it, explaining that her father has an unfortunate brother and to her mother.

THE CITY MAY APPOINT ITS OWN INSPECTORS

It is the intention of the city to see that no more mud is dumped at the entrance to the harbor by the scows carrying material from the dredges. As soon as a reply is received from the Dominion Department of Public Works regarding the protest recently made by the Mayor, a special meeting of the Harbor Board will be called to deal with the matter. If assurance is received that the Government inspectors will make such an occurrence impossible in the future this will probably be satisfactory. If the assurance is not strong enough, however, it is possible that the city may appoint its own inspectors to see that the harbor entrance is not filled in.

It is also probable that the Board will ask that the scows shall not be allowed to go out of the harbor in rough weather as it is impossible for them to go to the prescribed limits beyond the narrow channel.

The Board will also fix an upset price on the water lots at West St. John which are now used for storing lumber scows. It is understood that the minimum will be fixed at about double the amount which they are now leasing. The lots will then be put up to auction.

The stationer has been made by one of the aldermen that those who oppose the project will be forced to come out into the open and give their reasons.

DEATHS

NICHOLSON—Suddenly, on Wednesday, Aug. 4, The Rev. Victor, aged 14, youngest and beloved son of the late Daniel and Emma Nicholson. Funeral notice later.

SAYS ALL WILL NOT BE HARMONY IN HEAVEN

English Divine Stirs Up Northfield Conference

Dr. J. H. Jowett Believes Individual Opinions Will Prevail and That Theological Differences Will Exist.

NORTHFIELD, Mass., Aug. 5.—That there will be individually with peculiar and personal characteristics their death, and resulting therefrom will come theological differences in heaven and different explanations for divine things, these were some of the statements made before the conference here yesterday by Rev. Dr. J. H. Jowett of Birmingham, England, and they have precipitated a general discussion among the delegates, not all of whom are in harmony with the opinions of the English divine.

Dr. Jowett advocated a form of church unity which has set all the ministers here thinking. His subject was "The Perfect Man." He severely criticized the lack of harmony and unity among Christian denominations, but said what was needed was not theological unity but actual unity. He felt in Christ and in the grace received from him. He advocated unity of action for the good of the world, but does not believe that unity of doctrine or creed is possible. Dr. Jowett views are quite new to Northfield.

Dr. Jowett's address was listened to by the largest audience since Sunday, and was doubly interesting as he has recently said that the church and state will soon be separated in England and that many of the Protestant denominations will unite even if there is a difference in creeds. Just before he came here he got into trouble in the pulpits after being expelled from the Church of England and being with the Church of Scotland and one of its leading canons spoke in the pulpits after being expelled to preach in a Nonconformist church.

DROWNED BEFORE HIS COMPANIONS EYES

Sad Accident Near Summerside, P. E. I.

Lobster Commissioner Hears Contradictory Evidence—Says Enforcement of Size Limit Would Ruin Industry.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Aug. 5.—About noon yesterday Irving McKenzie, aged 24, while swimming at Oyster Cove, Hamilton, ten miles from Summerside, took a cramp and sank drowning before the eyes of his twin brother Fred and a young lad who were both on the shore. They had all been out sailing and after landing McKenzie started to swim from a dory near the shore to where a large boat was anchored. He called out that he was drowning and the others tried to reach him with an oar but the water was too deep. By the time they got to the dory McKenzie had perished. The body was recovered shortly after.

Commander Wakeham, of the Lobster Commission, heard evidence from McKenzie's brother and the young lad regarding the length of the season, but the fishermen were unanimous in asking McKenzie to start to swim from a dory near the shore to where a large boat was anchored. He called out that he was drowning and the others tried to reach him with an oar but the water was too deep. By the time they got to the dory McKenzie had perished. The body was recovered shortly after.

ATTEMPT TO ENFORCE DOG LAW A FAILURE

Zealous Policeman Rounded Up Stray Cur But Had to Free It—No Official Found or Dog Catcher.

The first attempt to enforce the new law, which demands that all dogs shall wear a tag giving their license number, was made this morning. It was only an attempt, however, and the zealous policeman who made it did not achieve the glory that should result from such an effort to maintain the supremacy of the law.

A dog found straying on Main street today without an official tag or any other indication of his ownership was arrested and taken to the North End police station. As there is as yet no dog pound, the animal was held there until advice could be received from the Mayor as to its disposal. His Worship surveyed the situation and then pronounced judgment that the dog should be set at liberty as if it were destroyed by the police the owner might be justified in bringing a suit for damages.

The law provides that there shall be a dog catcher and a public pound to care for all stray dogs. So far, however, no one has been found willing to perform the duties of dog catcher and pound keeper and so the law remains unenforced.

PASSENGER STEAMER GOES DOWN OFF AFRICAN COAST

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 5.—Stockholm today is suffering seriously from a shortage of food which so far is the most notable result of the labor conflict that reached its acute stage since the beginning of the week. Those who from lack of foresight or for other reasons neglected to lay in a supply before the strike began are the worst sufferers. The stock of bread is already almost completely exhausted and meat is scarce and expensive. The restaurants have raised their prices for meals and the figures today are prohibitive except for persons possessed of ample means. The strikers are living practically on fish. Thousands of them are camping out. Some are in tents but many are without shelter on the shores or lake and the islands of Archipelago where they spend their time in angling. The authorities have taken charge of the milk supply of the city and soldiers are distributing milk in limited quantities and supervising the sale from milk cans at the railroad stations. The deliveries of ice have ceased. This is especially trying, as the weather is unusually hot.

STOCKHOLM FACES SCARCITY OF FOOD

Conditions Worse Than Yesterday, and the Outlook is Very Gloomy—Disaffection is Spreading.

Paupers from the state poor houses have been enlisted to replace the striking grave diggers and undertakers, and instead of hears stretchers are being used to carry corpses through the streets to the cemetery. The funeral procession under military escort. The employees of the gas works and the electric light plants have gone out on strike and as a result military guards have been placed over the establishments. The authorities contend that this protest is necessary and assert that last night they frustrated an attempt to blow up the works and no boats are allowed to leave between it and the shore. A battalion of grenadiers from Linköping and a detachment of 200 from the Västergötland regiment has been ordered into Stockholm.

At Gothenburg work in all the public houses has come to an end. The general strike committee has called upon the railroad men and the printers to join the movement.

ANOTHER NEW BRUNSWICK PROFESSOR FOR THE WEST

Dr. R. K. McClung Goes to Winnipeg—Sackville Man's Peculiar Accident—Railway Man Retires.

SACKVILLE, Aug. 5.—Ernest McKay, of Anderson, has left for Montreal, where he will undergo a delicate operation looking to the removal of a small piece of steel filing from one of his eyes. The steel entered his eye a few days ago flying up from a part of a bicycle which McKay was fixing. McKay consulted a doctor, who advised that an electro magnet would have to be brought into requisition before the steel could be removed. Under the circumstances it was necessary that McKay make the trip to Montreal.

Dr. R. K. McClung, who for the past two years has been professor of physics at Mount Allison University, has resigned his position. He has been appointed to a similar position at the University of Manitoba, Winnipeg. The appointment of his successor is now under consideration and an announcement will be made shortly.

After thirty-eight years of continuous service in the track department of the Intercolonial Railway at Aulac, J. Sisdal Lowerison has retired from the employ of the railway. He will now receive his pension, under the provisions of the provident fund. Later on he will receive a long service medal from King Edward. Lowerison was one of the men employed on the construction of the Intercolonial and it may also be noted that he was the builder of the first water tank erected on the eastern division of the line. During all his years of service Mr. Lowerison never lost a day from work through illness.

A. B. Coyle's condition shows much improvement today.

FEARED THE LOSS OF LIFE IS VERY HEAVY—SIX BODIES WASHED ASHORE—ANOTHER LARGE STEAMER ON THE ROCKS ON WELSH COAST

CAPE TOWN, Aug. 5.—The British steamer Maori foundered last night off Slang Bay. It is feared that the fatalities will be heavy as the vessel carried a considerable number of passengers. Nine survivors have thus far been landed and six bodies have been washed up on the beach.

ST. DAVIDS, Wales, Aug. 5.—A large four masted steamer ran on the submerged rocks under St. David's Head last night in heavy fog and is still fast this morning. The fog still holds and the vessel has not been identified. A life boat is alongside the steamer.

THE EXTRA VOTE OFFER ENDS ON AUGUST 14TH

There are Extra Votes for everybody, but the period during which they are to be had closes August 14. Don't stop as long as this period continues, but remind every friend who has promised you a subscription that now is the very time to give to you. They have no reason for waiting; if they are going to help you at all, they may as well do it at one time as another and they should do it while you can get as many votes as possible. They won't become angry with you for looking out for yourself. If you do, they are very unreasonable. You are not asking them to make you a donation. They will get value received for every dollar they invest. The Sun or Star is worth far more than the subscription price, and as they must have a paper, anyway, there is every reason that it should be this one. If they understand clearly that they are helping you it is all the more reason that they should choose one or the other of these two papers. Visit every one on your list of friends before this Extra Vote Period expires and explain to them about the Extra Vote. If they don't respond eagerly then there is something radically wrong. Try it, anyway.

EVERY ONE WILL WIN.

Every one of the fine prizes will be won by some contestant, and they are within your reach if you enter and start to work. Get your friends to clip the daily coupons for you and to renew their subscriptions, or take out new ones for you. To pay in full, you save the annoyance of constant calls from the collector.

Lectures and Other Works of Don Romolo

Murri Placed Under Ban.

ROME, Aug. 3.—The Roman Congregation of the Index has condemned the lectures, sermons and philosophical and political writings of Don Romolo Murri, leader of the Christian Democracy movement in Italy, who was recently excommunicated by the Pope for his political opinions. This fresh condemnation covers all works published during the last ten years, including a number of thirty lectures delivered at Anagni Cathedral at the invitation of the late Cardinal Mannara, an enthusiastic supporter of Don Murri against the persecution of the Roman Curia. The lectures dealt with "the religious life in Christianity," and won the commendation of innumerable prelates, and were translated into many languages. A still more significant condemnation is that of the learned French ecclesiastical historian, Abbe Joseph Turmel, whose "History of the Dogma of Original Sin," and "History of the Dogma of the Immaculate Conception," in Italian, are all three relegated to the official catalog of forbidden books. A large number of Italian and French Modernist publications are also placed on the index by this latest decree.

BAD MONEY GALORE

IS SENT FROM ITALY

Secret Service Traps Big Gang of "Pushers," But Source of Supply Remains Open.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—An untold collection of Italian criminals as ever had to sit individually before a police court now await trial in Manhattan, Brooklyn and Pittsburgh on the charge of passing counterfeit money. They are about twenty, all told, and they are believed to be the best part of a well organized gang of "pushers" who have been flooding Greater New York and all the territory within a radius of fifty miles with counterfeit money in the last two months.

Since first Captain Flynn, head of the New York office of the secret service, began to round up the members of this gang in the first week of June he has gathered in 400 or 500 counterfeit government silver certificates of $2 denomination. He has secured the same number of $5 certificates. Few bigger hauls of bad money have been made by his office, except when the stuff was found at a raided plant or on the persons of counterfeiters surprised in getting away with their product.

STORY UNIQUE

The story of the rounding up of these Sicilian plotters in big money is unique, even in the varied record of Flynn's office, for not for a long time has he had to deal with so perfectly organized a band whose business was conducted in so business-like a manner. It is unique, too, for the secret service police have not yet been able to lay their hands on the manufacturing plant that has been turning out this spurious money, and it is not often that they nab the implementers of their unlawful trade in so many instances.

It was about the third week in May that an Italian over in Brooklyn sent a message through underground channels to Detective Carro, of the Italian squad, at Manhattan police headquarters. The message was to the effect: "Bring Carro over one night for a conference with his informant. That conference was held behind locked doors, for the man who has something to say is a man of importance. He is a sealer—a police stool." He feared serious consequences might follow if they were not satisfied with their product.

For a few days Carro did a little private work of his own. He learned enough to report to his superior, and the latter with information which was of the utmost importance. For several weeks past Flynn had been getting from various small banks on the East Side and from the grocers and traders of lower Brooklyn specimens of $2 and $5 counterfeit certificates. For as his men could, they had not succeeded in tracing any of the bad money very near its source with their product.

THINGS BEGIN TO HUM

Before the government detectives had been at work a week on the case presented by Carro things began to happen in the Italian community of crime. There were arrests in Pittsburgh, in Newark and in Philadelphia. The arrests followed swiftly, one upon another. Over in Newark the occupants of an entire Italian boarding house found themselves suddenly locked in a room by a military guard. Three men were nabbed near midnight and were under heavy bonds before twelve hours.

On the day following the arrests in New Jersey a very busy time was had by eleven men in Manhattan to whom the bad green bills had led a direct trail from the out-of-town points. When Flynn and some of his men started in they had a few-for-fore fight with eight suspects in a saloon on Chrystie street. Before they had finished the days work they had weathered another fight with a desperate criminal armed with a revolver and evidence was not lacking in the net of the secret service.

In the trunk of one of the men arrested in Newark was found some of the counterfeit money. In the rooms of another taken in the Manhattan raids was a rubber stamp tallying with the serial number marked in red upon the bills that had been in circulation. The green counterfeits were also found in plenty in the effects of some of the prisoners.

Ignazio Provenzano, the biggest fish caught in the net of the secret service on those two busy days, was from all the evidence one of those whom the detector most wanted—a "dealer" in the spurious certificates. Already he has been tried in the United States district court of New York and sentenced to Sing Sing. Two more dealers and four "shovers" are awaiting trial in Pittsburgh, and in the Tombs there are six of the middlemen in counterfeits who await summons to the bar.

OTHER OCCASIONAL ARRESTS.

Since the two big days of the roundup there have been other and scattering arrests both in New York and outlying cities, but the business in $5 and $2 certificates is on the wane as far as the present gang is concerned; there are very few dealers and pushers remaining outside of jail.

The organization of the gang's business was complete to the smallest detail. The money is made in Italy, of this fact the government agents are morally certain, partly because it is so poorly made, and also by reason of the fact that though so many arrests have been made no evidence of the existence of a plant on this side has been found. From the Italian plant the product is brought to this country—sent by the mails or by express, or by the inside men who stand next to the counterfeiters and do business directly with them.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 4.—Present day journalism and "Old Kentucky" counter attractions last night a very large crowd attended the Princess and everyone seemed more than pleased with the excellent programme of pictures and musical selections. If anything "The Rand Girl" is making the biggest bit of any act seen at this house for a long time. The pictures shown are simply great. Chief among them is a great temperance picture, "What Drink Did?" This is a very powerful temperance lesson. The pictures are equally good. One is a very fine comedy and the other a rattling good drama. That will keep you more than interested. Don't fail to see this show; it's a dandy.

NEW SHOW TODAY AT H. H. H.

Today a new programme of songs and band selections will be given at the H. H. H. Blamphin and Healy will present a new programme of popular songs. Solo, I Love You, Miss Healy; duet, Will You Miss Me, from "The Girl Behind the Counter," and a sensational duet arranged by Mr. Blamphin for popular songs. This will prove to be an even more popular programme than their first one. Blamphin and Esphery, the lady banjoists, whom local banjoists say are great, will present new selections as follows: "Swanee River," both by request, and "Love Me And The World Is Mine." Yesterday's pictures were splendid. Solo of Bergerac is a splendid picture telling the adventures of the long nosed bear made famous by Richard Mansfield. It was when leading lady for Mr. Mansfield that Miss Anglin made her first sensational picture. This is a most dramatic love story with magnificent scenery. The Historical Fox is a handsome colored picture, the kind you like. Same pictures today. New ones tomorrow.

German Bankers Want to Get Rid of His Deposits, But He Objects.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 3.—The fate of the ex-Sultan Abdul Hamid's vast private fortune appears to be in the balance.

A few days ago representatives of the Reichsbank, the Deutsche Bank and the Ottoman Bank requested Abdul Hamid to receive them, accompanied by their respective consuls, to discuss the position of his private fortune in their banks. Abdul Hamid emphatically refused, declaring that if he were once deprived of his private fortune his personal safety would no longer be guaranteed.

Last night a train from Constantinople arrived here, under the escort of two officers and a detachment of soldiers, conveying Herr Neef, director of the Deutsche Bank of Berlin, and Herr Anders and Lieutenant Ritgen, of the German embassy in Constantinople. They brought with them fourteen large boxes of bullion, presumed to be part of Abdul Hamid's hoard. The bullion was transferred to the Ottoman Bank under a military guard.

The value of the bullion is about $1,500,000. There is a cleverly conceived scheme to return the deposits to Abdul Hamid and to secure his receipt. The Turkish will then take charge of the money.

Abdul Hamid will be forced to receive the bankers. The question is, can he compel him to sign the receipt?

FIRST HARVESTERS' TRAIN, AUGUST 11

MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—Details reported regarding the western harvesters received today by the Canadian Pacific Railway, and steps were at once taken to make arrangements for the annual harvest excursion to the prairie with the serial number marked in red upon the bills that had been in circulation. The green counterfeits were also found in plenty in the effects of some of the prisoners.

There are many old forts and places of great historic interest in the Maritime Provinces and in Ontario and Quebec which are now being left practically to decay or to be appropriated for commercial or industrial purposes. It is proposed to give the national battlefields commission, which is now concerned solely with the work of nationalizing the Quebec battlefields, charge of this larger work of extending the Quebec project into a national work of restoring and beautifying all spots in Canada sacred to the struggles and heroism of the men who preserved Canada to the British Empire.

The members of the commission are the Mayor of Quebec, Sir George Drummond, Mr. Byron E. Walker, Col. G. T. Denison, Hon. Adolphe Turgeon and Hon. Colonel Hendrie. They have now about $4,000,000 on hand to apply to the further carrying out of the Quebec battlefields scheme and have already secured the deeds to a considerable portion of the lands required on the Plains of Abraham.

THE EMU'S KICK

An emu can kick as hard as any donkey. The bird stands on one leg and with the other delivers at will a quick and generally very accurate blow. "I never would have believed that a bird had such power," says a recent Australian traveler, "but I had not had evidence of it during our trip. After two or three of our men suffered from the terrible kicks of these birds we did not venture near them, but after running our horses until we got close enough would bring them down with our rifles. We killed them for their feathers and also pointed out to their eggs, but we took good care not to go within kicking distance."

COMMISSION TO HAVE POWERS EXTENDED

OTTAWA, Aug. 4.—It is probable that the government will take steps to extend the powers of the National Battlefields Commission, appointed last year to take charge of the Champlain Bicentennial celebration at Quebec, and to carry out the project of converting the battlefields at Quebec into a national park. When the commission was appointed the suggestion was made that its scope be widened to include the work of preserving for the people of Canada as a whole the various places and sites of historic interest throughout the Dominion. At the time this larger scheme was left in abeyance, but it has been forgotten.

NICKEL'S PICTURES EXCITED COMMENT.

The most unusual quality of the Nickel's picture programme yesterday caused constant expression of a most flattering nature and in conjunction with the fine musical features the whole programme proved of sterling entertainment value. In the film-story "The Iron Mask," the watcher is treated to a dramatic review of a matter in French history when twin heirs to the throne were born, one of the children—now a grown man—was destined to oblivion. The American fleet at Monte Carlo was a fine educational travel picture and the trained people in "Save! From The Flames" excited much wonderment. In the afternoon and during some of the show was reproduced by sketch. Holmes and Buchanan will today continue in their charming Gypsy quest. Little Dorothy Dainty will sing and dance and there will be new orchestra features. On Monday the Nickel will startle the community with a musical feature yet unapproached in a picture theatre.

Has a Backache, But That is Sole Disability of America's Most Valuable National Asset.

People who think E. H. Harriman an old man are wrong. He is still young along an existence hanging by a slender thread of life should have seen him when he crossed the ocean in June accompanied by his wife and no nurse, only his wife and Secretary Miller, of the Union Pacific. He was looking better and feeling better than when he passed through Boston in October last.
If anyone thinks Mr. Harriman is mentally decadent, they should have heard his bright remarks and passing comments upon anything that came up on the dock or in the smoking-room. He was as frank and chipper as a school boy and just as much interested in one subject as another, whether it was the advancing price of agricultural lands in Idaho or the railroad rates charged in Ecuador, or the outlook for American investment in Europe, the bank reserves or any other subject—and all of these were under discussion.

PHILOSOPHIC ALWAYS.

If one thought that Mr. Harriman was some weak in his legs, they should have seen him springing the first section of the train at Chesham, and before the servants looking after the luggage knew where Mr. Harriman was, he was with Mrs. Harriman speed-of details to his subordinates while he drives servants behind for the next section. If for the main issue. He takes philosophical whatever comes. They do not readily rent out special trains in France, and it was little concern to Mr. Harriman that his application was refused.

Mr. Harriman is not a man of words, does his own thinking, believes in being generally helpful to his followers and finds no pleasure in success that would mean the crushing of his competitors or antagonists.

In three notable instances, each involving many millions, Mr. Harriman could have made millions by picking up the fragments after financial disaster, but in each case he elected to avert the disaster, and in neither case was there any moral or financial responsibility calling for Mr. Harriman's protection.
His whole temperament is creative and constructive.

George Falsh, the railroad editor of the London Staffer, went over to Paris for a few minutes' chat with Mr. Harriman, at Mr. Stillman's house. He wanted to know about the future of South-

THE STARR, T. JOHN, N. E., THURSDAY, AUGUST 5 1920

SAYS LYING IS CAUSED BY NERVOUS DISEASE

Neurasthenia Said to be Sapping Foundation of Human Life.

Inadequate Power of Resistance and Lack of Intellectual Symptoms—Present in Many Forms.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—It is the world coming to be peopled with neurasthenics is the opinion of the British Medical Journal, which has come into so much prominence of late, "sapping the foundations of social life."

That it is seen to be the opinion of least authority on the disease, whose victims are discussed in the current number of the British Medical Journal. Doctors, he says, have plenty opportunities of observing the steady spread of the disease.

They see students with pale faces, victims of intellectual overwork, who complain of weakness and exhaustion, loss of power of concentration, they are haunted by the fear of examinations, which loom before them like specters.

"By their side are seen the examples of a different class, the neurasthenic being a weakness of mind, with an accompanying instability or want of principle, arising out of lack of purpose in life."

SHYNESS AND LYING.

And the disease manifests itself in numerous other forms. Some of the sufferers are shy to the extent of becoming paralyzed before the simplest demands of social life—they grumble at everything.

Others are liars and full of spite against their fellows. Others still are violent, passionate, impulsive, with little or no power of self-restraint. One symptom is common to all, inadequate power of resistance and total lack of intellectual discipline.

In professional life the disease, it is said, manifests itself in the desire to succeed by short and often questionable cuts, in "alternating paroxysms of exaltation and depression," the sufferer is "over-sensitive to criticism."

So deeply impressed with the dangers of the disease is Dr. Carto that he suggests an international conference should be organized to deal with it.

After this dim view, it is a little comforting to find that the journal itself does not take the prevalence of neurasthenia in modern life as a serious matter. Often, it says, neurasthenia is a high-sounding name for "that tired feeling." Nor does it agree with Dr. Carto that the schoolmaster should be invoked to combat it.

Far from it, for "we venture to think that it is the prevalence of the schoolmaster and of his satellite, the examiner, which is to a large extent responsible for the prevalence of neurasthenia."

THE REMEDIES.

It is in "the strain of an unsuitable education forced on children incapable of bearing it" and in modern competition that the journal finds the cause.

"We mistake a barren knowledge of facts for education," it says. "What chance would Nelson, Wellington or Napoleon have in the present day without admission to the army or navy?" Such is its indictment of the faults of our modern education.

What are the remedies? Education answers the journal—education adapted to the needs of the life that lies before the child, not education cast in one rigid mould. "The mind should be trained, never cramped, and every opportunity should be taken of knowledge, not 'traps for an uncertain memory.'"

MCCURDY WILL EQUAL BLERIOT

Ambitious Flight Planned for New Aerodrome.

WETAUAWA, Aug. 4.—Bleriote's flight across the English Channel will be emulated on a minor scale by J. A. D. McCurdy in the Baddeck No. 1 Monday next. McCurdy announced today that he will then attempt a flight across the Ottawa river from the military camp at Port William and return, a journey of ten miles altogether.

A suitable spot for the start has been found on a steep cliff overlooking the river on the Ontario side, while on the Quebec shore a similarly appropriate starting and landing place has been located. Much interest attaches to the proposed flight, as it will be the first time the aviator has ever flown over a body of open water.

Mr. Graham Bell has wired his congratulations to McCurdy and Baldwin on the successful flights accomplished on the Silver Dart on Monday when using the new engine as a propelling force. He also expressed his regrets regarding the injuries sustained by his two proteges and the destruction of their first aerodrome, Silver Dart. The first flight in Baddeck No. 1 will take place Thursday afternoon late, or Friday morning.

Great progress has been made, the men working until a late hour last night and starting in early again this morning. Baddeck No. 1 is an imposing-looking machine, being of a much stronger and larger construction than Silver Dart. Every part of its frame work is built so as to offer the minimum of resistance to the wind.

McCurdy is a great admirer of the Wright Brothers and was much interested in learning of the world record made by Orville Wright last Friday. "Withal he contends that when their dream gets going right this record will not stand for long."

Col. English, R. C. A., camp commandant, has issued orders prohibiting any one entering the shed where the remains of Silver Dart lies. So many parts of the disabled aerodrome have been carried away by curious hunters that the aviators protested with the above result.

NELLIE BLACKBURN TELLS SAD STORY TO POLICEMAN

Friendless and Homeless, She is Found Wandering Bare-headed About the Streets—Her Story.

When Policeman Finley met a young woman bareheaded wandering about on Rockland road yesterday morning about eleven o'clock he stopped to inquire where she was going, and he was told a sad tale by her. Nellie Blackburn, she gave as her name. She stated that she, accompanied by her parents, left Thomaston, Maine, about two months ago, and went to Digby, N. S. James Sabean, his non-in-law in Digby, had promised Mr. Blackburn that he could procure work for him and as business was dull the time was told a sad tale by her. Nellie Blackburn, she gave as her name. She stated that she, accompanied by her parents, left Thomaston, Maine, about two months ago, and went to Digby, N. S. James Sabean, his non-in-law in Digby, had promised Mr. Blackburn that he could procure work for him and as business was dull the time was told a sad tale by her.

A few days ago there was some disagreement in the household of Sabean, and Nellie was forced to leave the apartment. On Tuesday she came to the city on the Prince Rupert, with the intention of searching for her parents. She was given her supper and boarded for the night in a house in the city, and yesterday morning she started out, bareheaded and penniless, to search for her father and mother, and wandered in the vicinity of Rockland road, where she was found by Officer Finley. The officer took her to North End police station and later to central, through the intervention of W. H. Wetmore, secretary of the Municipal Home, she was admitted into the Salvation Army Rescue Home to be cared for until her parents can be located.

PATHETIC SCENE AT THE DEPOT AT MIDNIGHT

Mrs. Ellis Waned to Join Sick Husband; Ill Himself—She Faints and Falls Into Arms of Watchman.

A pathetic incident occurred at the Union Depot at about twelve o'clock last night, when the wife of Corporal William Ellis, of No. 1 Battery, 3rd Regt. C. A., who is lying in hospital in Montreal with a broken leg, wandered into the station and her mind temporarily deranged by illness, she wished to go to Montreal to join her husband. Nightwatchman Patrick Gorman, who was in the station at the time, observing that the woman was acting strangely, attempted to calm her. Shortly before midnight she fell into the arms of a watchman and was carried to the hospital in an ambulance. She was conveyed to her home, 549 Main street, and is reported to be resting easily.

At her home it was learned that since hearing of the accident to her husband she has been desirous of going to Montreal to join him. Dr. Bishop refused to permit her to make the journey. The fact that she could not join her husband has evidently preyed upon her mind. Shortly before midnight she left her home unobserved and though not dressed for the street made her way to the railway station with the idea that she could get on a train bound for Montreal.

Her mother-in-law missed her shortly after her departure, and going to the railway station where she was last seen, she accompanied her daughter-in-law home in the ambulance.

YOUNG GIRL SUICIDES.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 4.—Clara Brattwaite, the thirteen-year-old daughter of George Brattwaite, hotel keeper at Harrisburg, was found hanging from a tree in the orchard near her father's house early this evening. The body was first noticed by the crew of the Grand Trunk train running past the spot. The train was stopped and the crew on cutting the body down found life extinct. The case is thought to be a clear suicide, although a motive is lacking. Dr. E. C. Ashton, city coroner, has gone to Harrisburg to investigate.

TORONTO, Aug. 4.—Lieut. Colonel J. C. McDougall, R.C.M., now in command of Wolsley barracks at London, Ontario, will be transferred to Halifax as chief staff officer of the Maritime Provinces, September 1st.

NO REAL LIBERTY EXISTS IN RUSSIA

The Common People Have Won No Substantial Success

Constitution a Shadow But for Vigilant Prime Minister—One Chance for Better Things Lies in Law to Compel Officials to Testify.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 4.—Since the Czar is willing to be lured out of his self-imposed seclusion of the last five years the question is occasionally heard: How does he fit in with existing conditions here and abroad? Foreign visitors have expressed surprise that the Czar should have been so energetically against the revolutionary agitation which is denouncing the governments of England, France and Italy that they should refuse with righteous indignation to admit him from him until he yields free, constitutional government to his own people. They have asked what progress, if any, has been made toward constitutional liberty since, say, Red Sunday, four and a half years ago.

The first response of a correspondent who has been in almost continuous contact with the political forces over five years is that a vast change has taken place over the social life of the country in that time; his next would be to point to any substantial success won by the representative idea against the autocratic idea. This statement, however, does not concern itself with the existence of the Duma as a nationally elected body, but with the freedom of the representatives of the plain citizen with the government authorities and what freedom of conduct he has under the law.

The change for the better is in the diminution of graft, and the benefits thereof fall on the more numerous classes of the population. The so-called proletariat, the vast inarticulate mass, is very much better off than it was before the struggle began. If those who keep outside of political agitation have a better idea of the social conditions they happen to be under a vigilant Prime Minister who has clean hands and an honest mind and who tries where he can manage it, to put men of his own stamp into positions of control. That the public advantage rests solely on his personal character; should he fall and one of the "old boys" take his place, the government people would have to realize that their constitution is a shadow and that they have no security in law against a return to the old arbitrary treatment. For that some of the "old boys" are still in power, the Czar Nicholas is himself to blame.

There is, "the true one ray of light in the darkness," the Czar himself. He has risen and overpowered the old ruling classes, and has taken anything good from the Russian throne in the lifetime of its present occupant. Every effort at breaking up political parties has been made. The fundamental vice of the present legislative procedure is that a party or a group of men is not permitted to be in the government service, can ignore the summons of the court by declaring that they are outside of and above the law. His own department may regulate him, but the common law is for the common people, and he is not one of them.

This practice wrecks the usefulness of any trial in which the independent outside citizen attempts to match himself against the bureaucratic machinery. Every effort at breaking up political parties has been made. The fundamental vice of the present legislative procedure is that a party or a group of men is not permitted to be in the government service, can ignore the summons of the court by declaring that they are outside of and above the law. His own department may regulate him, but the common law is for the common people, and he is not one of them.

The immunity of the privileged elements goes further. Recently two young pupils of the Guards Officers school here got drunk and charged down a busy street in their carriage. They collided with a cab, got over and drew their revolvers and proceeded to shoot right and left. The defence was a plea of insanity. Their conduct was due to excess of patriotic pride. The contention was practically successful. No ordinary citizen dare to pass a day in prison. After their families had arranged to compensate the wounded man they were set at large with a reprimand.

Only the other day a Colonel on active service shot a money lender dead, and he is still in the same status as an official person. He had been raising money in several directions, and his victim fearing that his security was becoming worthless went among the other creditors circulating a story that unless they tried to get their money at once they would get nothing, as the Colonel was about to be sent on service to the Caucasus. They closed round him, and the angry officer learned who had started the circulation. He went to the money lender's house and after a violent scene shot him. His defence was that it was an act of self-defence. The military officer should concern himself with the military duties of an officer of the Czar. The Colonel was ordered to go to penance in church and sentenced to two months confinement to barracks, with remission because of previous good conduct.

The flagrant crime in such cases is that the defence is always a profession of too ardent patriotism. No ordinary citizen dares to trade on his political rights in a criminal court. Moreover it is not so much the crime themselves as the Czar's personal attitude that allows of the scandal. The right of petition to the Czar is a sacred thing, and in Russia, but no petition from the radical side are taken heed of. One has only to start with a fervent declaration of belief in the Czar's heavenly anointment, infallible authority to be marked down as "well intentioned," with a good chance of having one's crimes forgiven.

Dr. Dubrovnik, president of the St. Petersburg Duma, has been lured out of his self-imposed seclusion of the last five years the question is occasionally heard: How does he fit in with existing conditions here and abroad? Foreign visitors have expressed surprise that the Czar should have been so energetically against the revolutionary agitation which is denouncing the governments of England, France and Italy that they should refuse with righteous indignation to admit him from him until he yields free, constitutional government to his own people. They have asked what progress, if any, has been made toward constitutional liberty since, say, Red Sunday, four and a half years ago.

DUTY ON LEATHER GOODS REDUCED

But Tariff Will Not Sign Bill Until Change is Made

Tariff Debate Gives Rise to Lively Discussion—The President is Preparing to Move.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 4.—The concurrent resolution making corrections in the leather schedule of the tariff bill was reported to the Senate from the finance committee by Senator Aldrich today. This resolution changes paragraph 460 to read as follows:

"Hides of cattle, raw or uncurd, whether dry-salted or pickled, shall be admitted free of duty; provided, that on and after October 1, 1920, grain, put and split leather shall pay a duty of seven and one-half percent ad valorem; that all boots and shoes, made wholly or in chief value of leather, shall pay a duty of ten percent ad valorem; that harness, saddles and saddlery in sets or in parts finished or unfinished, composed wholly or in chief value of leather shall pay a duty of twenty percent ad valorem."

This resolution will be acted upon after the conference report has been disposed of.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 4.—The tariff bill was reported to the Senate from the finance committee by Senator Aldrich today with a host of Congressional callers. Altogether there were eleven Senators and twenty-three Representatives on the long list of attendees who called to say goodbye, to discuss details of the President's fall trip to Europe, and to discuss the tariff bill.

It was a "moving day" in the executive offices, several van loads of office furniture, fittings and letter files being shipped by express to Beverly Hills, where the President will be located in the Board of Trade building. The office forces were given Washington until the President goes. His departure naturally is contingent upon the adjournment of Congress. The President is expected to get away Friday, although he may be delayed until Saturday afternoon.

Whether or not the President will go to the capitol tomorrow to sign bills which may prove to be the last day of his presidency, depends upon the programme decided upon by the Senate leaders. If the concurrent resolution is adopted, the duties on shoes made of calfskin as well as of hides formerly dutiable is likely to be delayed by prolonged discussion and numerous amendments, the President will not go to the capitol. He will not sign the bill until the resolution is passed directing the enrolling clerks to change the boot, shoe and saddlery schedule.

In the meantime the President is directing the enrolling clerks to change the boot, shoe and saddlery schedule. The new law will run along the west bank of the Tobique River through a thickly settled district. A short distance from the river the railway will connect with the National Transcontinental.

The Tobique and Campbellton, according to present expectation, would begin this year. The new railway, which is practically an extension of the Tobique Valley Railway to Riley Brook, from the latter place the road is eventually to be extended from Riley Brook to tap the International. Until the latter road is completed the work of location cannot be carried out. The new road will run along the west bank of the Tobique River through a thickly settled district. A short distance from the river the railway will connect with the National Transcontinental.

The anxious mother held on tightly crying "Help! help!" Finally the boy still asleep, got away from her and very quickly in the direction of the window. The window is quite small and the bottom sash was raised, and the young boy ran directly through the open three story window and fell to the ground, a distance of forty or fifty feet. He first struck just over his right eye. His skull was completely fractured and the blood poured profusely from his head.

One of the boarders who happened to be standing outside the door was within ten feet of where the boy fell. The unfortunate lad was carried into the house by Wade Motzfeldt, immediately Dr. McAlpine, Preston and Walker were summoned.

Medical attendance, however, proved of little avail, and death seemed certain. All the boarders were soon aroused and everything possible was done for the youngster. He never regained consciousness, however, and in twenty minutes he passed away.

Meanwhile the boy's mother and half-sister, Mrs. Dummer, on hearing of the death, were called in and both ladies were in a very weak condition at an early hour this morning.

Mr. Berryman was called in, and speaking to a Sun reporter he said that owing to the fact that he had not become fully acquainted with the facts of the case he had not decided whether or not an inquest into the accident was necessary. He thought that it would not be necessary, however.

The victim of the accident was a bright and smart youth. He was a particular favorite among the boarders. He was of a gentle disposition, and always was friendly to his actions.

He started to work in the Slater shoe store on Monday last, he having intended to work for the holidays and return to school again after they were over.

CONSTRUCTION ON A NEW RAILWAY IN THIS PROVINCE WILL BE STARTED THIS YEAR

WALKING IN HIS SLEEP HE JUMPS FROM WINDOW

J. E. Stewart of Andover, who is at the Victoria Hotel, informed The Sun that the construction contract for the Tobique and Campbellton Railway had been let early in the autumn and that construction work would begin this year. The new railway, which is practically an extension of the Tobique Valley Railway to Riley Brook, from the latter place the road is eventually to be extended from Riley Brook to tap the International. Until the latter road is completed the work of location cannot be carried out. The new road will run along the west bank of the Tobique River through a thickly settled district. ### MISSOURI MOB HANGS WHITE MAN

Cardinal Gibbons Thinks It Would Place a Premium on Illegal Liquor Selling.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 5.—"That the establishment of prohibition in Chicago, or other large cities, would place a premium on the sale of intoxicating drinks," was the opinion expressed today by Cardinal James Gibbons of Baltimore.

Coming from the only Cardinal of the Roman Church in America, and in Chicago at a time when fifteen thousand Catholic total abstinence advocates are gathering here to adopt measures for a further advancement of the cause, the observations of Cardinal Gibbons are considered of especial importance.

Cardinal Gibbons' brief visit here was an incident of his trip across the country to Salt Lake City and Yellowstone Park. He was the guest Mrs. of Mr. E. O. McCormick, and with Mr. at Mrs. McCormick left this evening on the McCormick private car for the West.

"I am heartily in sympathy with the total abstinence movement," said the Cardinal. "It is a campaign of great import and wide influence, and I hope it will spread to the furthest corners of the nation."

"In the rural parts of the country and in the smaller towns and cities there are signs of progress which must mean widespread prohibition. However, much I am in favor of total abstinence, though I fear that in the large cities like Chicago it would not prove feasible."

"At the same time I am convinced that the total abstinence movement will continue to make headway. It is a cause worthy the best there is in American citizenship."

WEDDINGS

KIDSO—ANDERSON. A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. Anderson in St. John's last evening, when his second daughter, Bessie May, was married to William Wellington Kido, of Sussex. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. W. Camp of St. John, in the presence of a large number of invited guests. The bride, who was given away by her father, was becomingly gowned in brown silk and to match. Miss Anderson was one of the most popular young ladies of Sussex and was the recipient of many useful presents. The rooms were prettily decorated with flowers. Tea was served after the ceremony. The happy couple left on the evening train for St. John and after a short bridal tour will reside in Sussex.

MOTT—McDONALD. Yesterday afternoon Rev. Gideon Mott, at his residence, 116 Waterloo street, united in marriage Herbert S. Mott, of Holyoke Cove, Queens county, and Miss Cora A. McDonald, of McDonald's Point, Queens County. The young couple were unattended. They left by the steamer Maritime last evening for Holyoke Cove, where they will in future reside.

PARM LABORERS' EXCURSION. Our readers' attention is called to Canadian Pacific advertisement in today's issue. The demand for laborers in the Canadian Northwest is greater than ever before, and it is estimated from the most reliable sources that at least 20,000 laborers will be required this year to assist in this work. The rate from St. John to Winnipeg is $2.00 going, and $3.00 returning, and the distribution of the laborers will take place in Winnipeg as in previous years. This will be the only excursion from the West this year, those going from here will be "the first in the field" and will have the advantage of being the first to get to work.

In the civil court this morning a teamster named Sullivan and Ernest McCaw for $4.25, the price of repairs to a pole of a double team. H. H. Pickett appeared on the plaintiff and Daniel Mullin, K. C. for the defendant. The plaintiff claimed that while his team loaded with stone was being driven along Union street, McCaw was driving an express wagon crossed in front of his. The hind wheel of the express caught the end of the stone pole and it was broken. The case was adjourned until this afternoon.

MRS. RICHMOND HELD FOR THE GRAND JURY

Sent Up on Charge of Killing McTavish

Witnesses Tell of Happenings in the Boarding House Where P. E. Island Man Was Murdered.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Aug. 4.—Mrs. Elizabeth Richmond was held without bail by Judge Almy in the Cambridge district court yesterday for the murder of Stewart McTavish in the Hotel Florence, East Cambridge, on Friday, July 23. She was at once taken to Cambridge jail, where she will await the sitting of the September grand jury at Lowell.

McTavish had tarried for a few days at the hotel previous to starting on a vacation from his duties at the state colony for the insane in Gardner, where he was employed. It was his intention to go to his home in Nova Scotia, but according to witnesses yesterday there

WOMAN ASSISTS ATTORNEY.

She followed the proceedings with the utmost care, and several times summoned Atty. Glog to her side. They conferred earnestly on each occasion, and at the end of each conference the lawyer began a new line of cross-examination of the witnesses, of whom 20 had been summoned, but of whom only four were called.

Medical Examiner William D. Swan first testified to the condition of the body and the nature of the wounds from which death resulted. He said there were several of these about the body on the bed when he and Timothy J. Clifford, a boarder, discovered it.

"Mrs. Richmond was lying on the bed when I saw it," he said. "I had previously seen her in the sitting room," he continued, "and the last time I saw Mrs. Richmond alive was on Thursday. I did not see Mrs. Richmond on that day."

He was asked as to whether or not he knew there was an axe in the cellar.

"I did," he replied. I have used it many times."

He said that he had seen McTavish coming from a room on the top floor, and that Mrs. Richmond was lying in the bed in the room in a drunken condition. He said that the arrival of McTavish in the house had been the cause of comment among the boarders. One of them, Clifford, who was with him when the body was discovered, had remarked that the "herring choker" was back again, and that there was sure to be trouble at the house.

DENIES KILLING MCTAVISH.

"You didn't kill McTavish, did you?" asked District Attorney Higgins.

"I did not," replied Drobman. Timothy J. Clifford declared he came home to dinner on Friday and found Mrs. Richmond on the kitchen floor, "dead to the world."

"I asked Drobman if he was there, and he said he didn't know. I remarked that we'd better find out. We then went upstairs and found the door to his room locked. We got it open and found the body on the bed."

"My God, she's killed him," shouted Drobman. "I heard the shot but hope I never will again," he finished impressively, as he described the scene in the room.

"Did you kill McTavish?" asked the district attorney.

"No. Do you think I'm crazy? No," answered Clifford.

John A. O'Hern testified to paying a bill water tax for Mrs. Richmond at Cambridge City Hall on the day of the murder. He said that she was sober when she gave him the money and asked him to pay the bill.

Atty. Glog declared no evidence had been introduced to support the charge of murder against Mrs. Richmond, but Judge Almy found probable cause and ordered the woman held.

Rev. Frank L. Orchard, of McAdam, and Rev. J. Harry Puddington, of Millville, York County, have been registered to solemnize marriages.
