The w lespread fame of these splendid Periodicals renders it need ess to say much in their praise. As literary ryans, they stand far in advance of any works of a similar stamp now published, while the political complexipation each is marked by a dignity, candor and torbearance, not often found in works of a party character.

They embrace the views of the three great parties in England—Whig, Tory, and Radical,—" Blackwood and the "London Quarterly" are Tory r the "Edinburgh Review," Whig.: and the "Westminster," Radical. The "Fareign Quarterly" is purety literary, being devoted principally to criticisms on foreign Continental Works.

The prices of the Re-prints are less than one third of those of the foreign copies, and while they are equally well got up, they afford all that advantage to the American over the Escitish reader.
