poedry,

OH, PLEDGE ME NOT WITH WINE. Oh, pledge me not with wine, dear love I shrink from its ruddy glow; And white and cold deathly fear Drops into my heart like snow,

Through its mist of rosy foam I count the beats of a broken heart-I see a desolate home.

I shiver with iey dread; Each drop to me is a tear of blood That sorrowful eyes have shed.

Upon the dust of years,

A hearth without fire or light-A woman -an angry man-a door

That opens into the night--

Hot hands that cling to the crazy latch, Lips rigid and white with pain-A curse, a blow, and a wailing babe

A woman dead, with her loug, loose hair Soaked wet in the weeping storm, And her pallid arms half tallen back

A woma dead in the pitiless rain;

And sparkling on the sand, Dear Gop!-a golden marriage ring Dropped loose from her wasted hand. A white moon striving through broken clouds,

A horrified man at prayer-The cry of a passionate heart's remorse And a passionate heart's despair.

Under the dust of years; For thus does the red wine look to me, The flowing of bloody tears.

Oh, pledge me not, though the wine is bright As the rarest light that flows Through the sunset's cloudy gates of fire, Or the morning's vein of rose.

For hope, for peace, and for love's dear sake, Oh, pledge me not with wine!

AN INDIAN BATTLE IN NEW MEXICO.

An officer of the army turnishes the Santa We Gazette on the 11th ult., with the following particulars of the late battle with the dians, of which we have had already a brief account :-

1 left Albuquerque on the evening of the 25th, with Captain George McLean of the Rifles, and 12 men of his company. On the 27th we were joined by Captain Blas Lucero and his any company, composed of 50 Mexiand his spy company, composed of 50 Mexicans. We proceeded rapidly on our march until the morning of the 29th, when we reached Bear Spring, about 40 miles distant from this post. On the 28th we had both from this post. On the 28th we had both from the post of the p possession of Captain McLean, determined im to prepare for a contest with any considerable number o them. As we passed the spring on the morning of the 29th, we discovered a large number of Indiaes and ponies to the left, and half a mile distant from us. Captain Mc-Lean detailed four of his men, and Captain

Captain McLean's party operated about the middle of this valley, and we were not more than one hundred and fifty yards from either side. As Capt. McLean was aiming a shot Indian in front, some three hu yards distant, an Indian to the left took derate aim with a rifle at him. He fired took down the Indian in front, and quickly wheeled to get another cartridge. Just as he turned, the indian fired, the ball entering the front of the right breas, and, passing round some two and a half inches, came out. eaving a severe and painful, but not fatal round. The shock was stunning—so much so, that it was several minutes before be could collect hunself sufficiently to mount his horse, and with the assistance of two of his men, ride to the waggon. The engageas I could judge, and I sat on my horse immediately in the midst of the attacking party, watching closely everything that passed; there were about three hundred Indians on the were about three hundred Indians on the ground, against whom were twenty-six of our men, including the twenty spies under Capt.

taken and camp destroyed. The attacking party lost nothing but a profuse discharge of blood from Captain McClean's wound.

Thus has opened the campaign against the Navajoes. Captain McClean did himself great credit in the mode in which he made the attack. The sudden, determined, and active manner in which he operated, completely dumbfounded the savages, and incorred a completely dumbfounded the savages, and incorred a completely dumbfounded the savages, and inspired confi-dence and courage with the spies who were with him. He is a gallan: soldier and an ele-gant gentleman, in both of which characters I have had ample opportunity to observe him, and as brave and true a man as ever smelt gunpowder—insensible to fear. Such men should be fostered and encouraged by the government, for they are invaluable in is frontier country.

The spies under Captain Lucero behaved mention that Captain Lucero's son, a little fellow 12 years old, was on the ground, and, with pistol in hand, galloped to and fro with his father on the field.

ch are the main incidents and facts the Lattle of "Bear Spring," fought at 91 o'clock on Sunday, the 29th August, 1858, on the side of the Americans, there being 26 men, including the Indian Agent, who, on the uccasion, had to be a non-combatant, and 300

But the gratification which was to result to her from a suncessful examination, outweighed all considerations of the happiness of healthful youth. We declined giving special advice while she was at school.—We have no doubt that the reaction which will take place after the examination will, with her previous condition, send her to an of similar cases before. The Govern-ment relinquished the right of requiring the company to proceed to a point further east than Riviere du Loup, relieving them from the construction of a section of the line which, judging from past experience, would not have been in the least degree remunerative, unt I, at all events, the lines from the lower provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia had effected a junction with it on the shores of the St. Lawrence. The Grand Trunk Railway was a single line throughout, of the 5ft. 6io. guage, but land had in all cases been provided for a double track, and in several of the larger structures the foundations and the tions and the masonry of the abutments had been put in for a double line. The works, inclusive of the plant, &c., had been all constructed under contract, but in many places, from a want of the necessary information and experience in regard to what was required, the line was left incomplete in many important points of detail at the stations and termini rom the want of which facilities it may fairly said that the traffic had not yet had a dequate opp rtunties of development. At the close of the year 1859 the Grand Trunk system would be a continuous railway from Detroit to Portland and Riviere du Loup, upwards of 100 miles below Quebec, the total cost of which would be as nearly as can now be estimated, capitalizing the reat of the Portland section, about £10,700,000 or How long or how hard she had been striving, we do not know; but the struggle had been so severe, the tension so great and continued to the strings. MR EDITOR -- I observe in a recent numher of the Globe, that the Ottawa country is decided as having "sold itself" again, and the proof of the statement is sought to be unded in the fact that certain surveys are to be made along the Ottawa, with a view of one of the new roads for opening up wild similar roads are being built in other sections of the back country. Now is the mere fact of certain public improvements being carried on under the direction of the Board of Works. such as are constantly being made in nearly every part of the country, a sufficient justification for a public journal to assert that such improvements or surveys however needful and indi-pensible they may be, are offered as a bribe to a section of country, and accepted as rious influence upon the other. Does he

Has political partizanship come ass, in Canada, that nothing can be done in a years, or the growth and productiveness of blic capacity, without public men being the mummy wheat, after being abrouded in harged with dishonorable motives for performing it?

Politics must, indeed, be a desperate game fact, and distortions of the ordinary course of laces. The Ottawa people have not sold them alves, any more than the Counties of Peterpore and Victoria sold themselver for the augvey of new townships and roads in the -it ands in their rear, or that the people of Red River sold themselves for the half monthly mail which this province has despatched to them during the present season. The Ora tawa country has never had justice done it in comparison with what other portions of the country has received; and it has a right to claim that justice without subjecting itself to the imputation of being "sold,"

Will Mr. Brown's organ accuse Montreal f " selling berselt" by and by, when he succeeds in driving the seat of Government out of Upper Canada, and locating it in that eits? We shall see. In the meantime it is very evident that somebody is being bought and

To the Editor of the C. P. Herald. SIR. -As I am after walking seven weeks on the Opeongo Road, the Hastings Road, and the Branch road which connects said roads, it may be interesting to some of your readers to obtain some little information about the extensive tracts of land through which these roads pass. The Opeongo Road runs through a very hilly country. The road is good, considering the sort of land through which it has been made. I wondered to ree the road allowed to pass this whole season vithout any of the settlers performing statute labor on it. The branch road to the Madawaska river, 134 miles, made by Mark Cardiff & Co., was almost finished as I passed a few days since. This is a beautiful road. I heard that the Contractors are likely to be in debt; if so, I think they ought to be fully compensated for their time, and liberally rewarded for making such a complete road in such a place. This road is also made 21 niles South of the Madawaska, and intersects the Hastings road at the N. E. corner of the Township of Herschel, about 35 miles from the Opeongo Road. There is a great quantity of good land on this branch road, chiefle on the south side of the Madawaska River. walked about fifteen miles north of the oint above mentioned, to McKenzie's Lake, in the Township of Sabine, and turned south to Madoc village. The road runs through some tracts of good land. There are many Grant Lots yet unoccupied, but settlers are coming in very fast. If the various mill sites on the Hastings and branch road were occupied, and some good stores opened along the road, I believe that the whole territtony several others in with me who took up large tracts of land all along the road into Sabine

To the Editor of the C. P. Herald. In the Herald of the 11th instant, I observe an article upon the effects of the Moon's bases on vegetation, recommending particuar times for sowing certain garden seeds, and, of course, inferentially, all other garden and field crops; now, although I am well aware of the effects of the Moon's changes upon tides, &c., and believing, to a certain extent, in planetary influence upon the weather. I cannot arrive at a belief in the old doctrine ab ut particular times, winds, &c., for sowing seeds; in fact there are some difficulties in the way that appear to be utterly irreconcileable with reason. If it could be shown that plants, as a general rule, when in a state of nature, shed their seeds at a particular period of the Moon's revolution, it would be one grand step goined in favor of the theory; but, as the reverse is the case, af course that argument falls to the ground. Again, even admitting that the Moon does affect vegetation, it must be evident that the time of depositing the seed in the earth can have no connection with the matter,mproving the navigation of the river, and Seeds may lie dormant in the earth for months or years, and until the living principle lands is about to be completed just as other is developed by warmth and mo sture, it is perfectly absurd to imagine that Luna's pale beams can affect the future being, whether microscopic moss or a giant oak.

Perhaps the plainest manner of putting the case would be to take two equal portions of seed (My peas), soak the one part for twelve bours, and sow the other part without any preparation; according to season and reather, Ceteris paribus, the former will make their appearance from one to four days before the other, but except that differ in forwardness, the product will be identical, am aware that the Moon, or rather its light,

THE NEW YORK I MISONE, now more than seven the years old which was the first journal in the work that appeared regularly on an imperal eight-page that a so low a price as two cents, and which has attained the unparalleled aggregate of more than 100,000 subscriptions, respectfully solicits its share if the patronage which the Metropolitan Press is encelorth to receive. It asks especially the patronage and active favor of Republicans—of those in that all forms of operation, and derive that every henceforth to receive. It asks especially the patronage and active favor of Republicans—of those who hate all forms of opression, and desire that every rational being shall be free to employ his faculties in such innocent manner as he shall deem best—of those who could extend Liberty and limit Slavery; but it further appeals likewise to all who look and labor for the return of National thrift, plenty, prosperity, through the protection of American Industry by wisely discriminating duties on Imports—all who favor National progress through internal development and melioration rather than by external aggression and extension—all who would rather have the National resources devo.ed to the construction of a railroad to the Pacific than to the purchase or conquest of Mexico, Nicaragus or Cuba—all who for trench radically our present inordinate Federal expenditures by abolishing or immensely reducing the Army and Navy, and expending the money thus saved on works of beneficence which will endure to bless our children—all who profoundly realize that RIGHTEOUSNESS exalieth nation," and that no real advantage can ever accrue to any person community from acquisitions or successes achieved py means which contravene the laws of Federal Right. The free allotment of limited portions of the Public Lands to Actual Settlers thereon, and every hopeful plan intended to diminish the sum of human misery dearth of employment or inadequate recompense—every scheme especially that seems to help the unfortunate by enabling and teaching them to help themselves—must command our carnest sympathy and cooperation.

Withen the present year The Tribune has provided itself with a new and faster Press at a cost of $30,000 merely that some of our subscribers may receive their papers a mail earlier than they otherwise might do. With correspondents at the most important points throughout the civilized world, and, a staff of writers chosen from among the best in the country, we believe that even those who dialike the politics of our sheet concede to it frankness in avowing its convictions and ability in maintaining them. We applie then to those who believe that an increased circulation of The Tribune would conduce to the political intellectual and moral well-being of the Republic, to aid us in effecting such increase. As we employ so traveling soliciters of subscriptions, we ask our present patrons in every locality to speak to their neighbors and friends in our behalf; we shall gladly sective and read a specimen copy of one of our editions and shall be particularly grateful to those who may send us such names from post-offices at which we have now no supscribers. Whatever additions may thus be made to our circulation shall be paralleled by increased efforts and expenditures to make our issues more valuable and useful than they have hitherto been.

Scientific American PROSPECTUS VOLUME FOURTEEN

Begins September 11, 1858.

MECHANICS, INVENTORS.

MANUFACTURERS AND FARMERS.

THE SCENTIFIC AMERICAN bas now reached its Fourteenth year, and will enter upon a new Volume on the 11th of September. It is the only weekly publication of the kind now issued in this country, and it has a very extensive circulation in all the States of the Union. It is not, as some might suppose from its title, a dry, abstruse work on technical science; on the contrary, worlds, as to please and instruct every one. If the Mechanic or Artisan wishes to know the best machine in use, or how to make any substance employed in his business—if the Housewife wishes to get a recipe for making a good color, &c.,—if the Inventor wishes to know what is koing on in the way of improvements—if the Manufacturer wishes to keep posted with the times, and to employ the best facilities in his business—if the Man of Leisure and Study wishes to keep himself familiar with the progress made in the chemical laboratory, or in the construction of telegraphs, steamships, railroads, reapers, mowers, and a thousand other machines and appliances, both of peace and war—all these desiderata can be found in the Scientific American, and not elsewhere. They are here prestaerata can be found in the Scientific A me-rican, and not elsewhere. They are here pre-sented in a reliable and interesting form, adapt-ed to the comprehension of minds unlearned in the higher branches of science andart.

MOFFAT'S LIFE PILLS.

And Phænix bitters free from all mineral Poisons.

— Seware of Counterfeits.—The great popularity which Moffat's Life Pills and Phænix Bitters have attained in consequence of the extraordinary cures effected by their use, renders it unnecessary for the proprietor to enter into a particular analysis of their medicinal virtues or properties. Having been more than twenty years before the public, and having the united testimony of more than Three Millions of persons who have been restored to the enjoyment of perfect health by them, it is believed that their reputation as the best vegetable medicine now before the public, admits of no dispute. In aimost every city and village in the United States there are many who are ready to testify to their afficacy in removing disease and giving to the whole system renewed vigor and health.

In cases of Scrofula, Ulcera, Scurvey or Eraptions

The receipt of Advance Sheets from the British publishers gives additional value to these Reprints, maximuch as they can now be placed in the hands of subscribers about as 2000 as the original editions.
