

SUBWAYS SEEM ASSURED FACT

Council Meets in Special Session To Consider Crossing Question.

DEFINITE ACTION IS SURE

Expected the Ratepayers Will Have Opportunity To Vote On Question This Year.

Thanks to Mayor H. A. Stevenson and others of the council, who are devoting themselves to the solution of the problem of the crossing of the city streets by the subway, the citizens of London may have a chance this year to express themselves on some of the most important questions of the city. The council will meet in special session on Monday, March 15, to consider the question of the crossing of the city streets by the subway. It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

On Monday, March 15, the city council will hold a special session and will consider the question of the crossing of the city streets by the subway. It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

While a comprehensive scheme will likely be outlined it is hardly likely, in view of the present economic situation, that the whole scheme will be recommended to be put into effect at once.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

It is expected that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote on this question this year.

Little More Progress
Says Sir John French

British Have Severe Battle With Heavily Reinforced Enemy, Capturing Over 600 Prisoners—Railroad Junctions Destroyed.

(Canadian Press.)

London, March 12.—Gen. Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British forces on the continent, has sent the following dispatch to the war office: "A little further progress in the war was made today by the seventh division in the direction of Aubers. The fighting has been very severe and the enemy was strongly reinforced this afternoon, opposite my right, by at least two divisions. We captured 612 prisoners, however, and I hear there are more to come in."

"Our air craft have been very active, and the railroad junctions at Don and Douai have been destroyed."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

SERVIA'S SILENCE
PUZZLES BRITAIN

Nothing Heard of Her Army's Movements For Some Weeks.

(Canadian Press.)

London, March 12.—In the east the battle of the Plazas is in its opening stages, and in the west the operations around La Basse, where the Germans are making troops in an endeavor to reach the coast, are going on. The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday one, and yesterday two, British aviators were brought down by German fire."

NEW LOCAL

SERMON ON IRELAND.—Rev. Father Lennox, of Hamilton, formerly of Bramford, will preach on "Ireland and Her Faith," at St. Michael's Tuesday night.

SERIOUSLY ILL.—Owing to the illness of (Dr.) H. A. Wyckoff, 565 King street, her mother, Mrs. Mannell, of Toronto, has been summoned here.

SOCIAL EVENING.—The members of the Conservative Club will give a social evening. The members and friends enjoyed progressive euchre and spent a nice hour. A dainty lunch was served.

CONSERVATIVE WHIST.—The weekly Conservative whist held in the clubrooms of the Conservative Club last evening was well attended and the members enjoyed the game very much.

PREACHING IN LEAMINGTON.—Rev. W. J. Knox, M.A., pastor of First Presbyterian Church, will conduct anti-slavery services in Leamington tomorrow.

BILL CLYMER, former Wilkesbarre and Buffalo manager, who has been signed to lead the Toronto Leafs in the International League this season. Clymer has a record of winning six straight pennants.

HIT BY AUTO.—A lad named Henry, residing at 215 St. Paul street, was struck by an auto shortly before noon today while riding his bicycle and knocked down. He was badly shaken up, but had no bones broken. Master Stevenson attended him.

WARRANT ISSUED.—Failing to appear before Police Magistrate J. C. Judd today in response to a summons charging him with neglect of books sold and delivered to Dr. Stephens a warrant for the arrest of William Moore.

SUING HOCKEY MANAGER.—Dr. H. Stephens, manager of the West-End University hockey team, is being sued by The Macmillan Company, of Toronto, for $150.00, the price of books sold and delivered to Dr. Stephens last year. The writ was issued by Meredith & Meredith.

MILITARY EUCHE.—Over two hundred people attended the military euche given by the Lord Elgin Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, in the London Life Building last night. The chapter is doing splendid work.

DEFECTIVE BOOTS SENT TO OTTAWA.—A defective pair of boots sent to the 21st pair, have been shipped to Ottawa as a result of the inquiry conducted by a couple of officers of the 21st.

ISSUES OF THE WAR.—The issues of the war were the subject of a lecture delivered by Professor George Smith, of Toronto University faculty, to a large body in the Normal School last evening. A vote of thanks was tendered the lecturer, who is a former Londoner, at the conclusion of the address.

MILITARY NIGHT.—Hope of the West Lodge, 216, International Order of Bionics, held a military night recently, when members from the units concentrated in this city were present.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

DRUM-BEAT SERVICE.—A drum-beat service will be held on Carling Heights at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and Rev. Arthur Carline, chaplain of the 21st, will officiate.

REPORTED QUIET
AT MEXICO CITY

Secretary Bryan Thinks That Everything Is Nicely Smoothed Over.

(Canadian Press.)

Washington, March 12.—Mexico City was reported quiet today, and officials here expected all conditions to improve with the occupation of the Zapata forces. Secretary Bryan said:

"I think we are in pretty good shape. Carranza has promised to permit people leaving the capital to travel over the portion of the railroad he controlled while the Zapata general in command there has undertaken to admit food supplies."

The whereabouts of General Obregon, commanding the Carranza force which evacuated the city, is not known here. Some importance is attached to it by officials because of the bearing it will have on Carranza's force and his ability to maintain himself at Vera Cruz.

No further reports were received on the killing of John E. McManus by Zapata troops.

IDENTITY STILL LOST

Pte. Kirby, of the 15th Battalion, who is in Victoria Hospital, suffering from complete loss of memory, following a fall in his room at the fair grounds yesterday, is reported as unchanged this afternoon. He is still unable to remember who he is, or anything that has occurred in the past.

TWO SOLDIERS DEAD

(Canadian Press.)

Guelph, March 12.—The fourth death of a soldier occurred in the general hospital here. Pte. Garfield Cutting, of D Company, after an illness of five days, died this morning. His parents live at Elm street. There were symptoms of apoplexy, but the doctors would not state that meningitis was the cause of death.

NAME FROM BRITISH COLUMBIA

Nelson, B.C., March 12.—Major Percy Digby, of the 7th Battalion, Second Brigade, Canadian expeditionary force, killed in action, came from Bowser, B.C., where he had a fruit ranch. He served in campaigns in South Africa and India.

DIED AT KINGSTON.

Kingston, March 12.—Pte. Leonard Alfred Hooper, a member of the 21st Overseas Battalion, is reported as having died at the Victoria Hospital here. He was a native of Manchester, England, but lived here some few years. His wife and four children survive him.

ANOTHER WAR CONTRACT.

SARNIA, March 12.—The Larned-Carter Overall Company's branch factory here has received a contract from the Canadian Government for the manufacturing of trousers for the soldiers. It is reported that the company is a large one, and that it will mean much to the concern, and its workers.

STEAMER ARRIVALS.

Liverpool, March 12.—Arrived: Steamer Baltic, from New York.

REPORTED QUIET
AT MEXICO CITY

Secretary Bryan Thinks That Everything Is Nicely Smoothed Over.

(Canadian Press.)

Washington, March 12.—Mexico City was reported quiet today, and officials here expected all conditions to improve with the occupation of the Zapata forces. Secretary Bryan said:

"I think we are in pretty good shape. Carranza has promised to permit people leaving the capital to travel over the portion of the railroad he controlled while the Zapata general in command there has undertaken to admit food supplies."

The whereabouts of General Obregon, commanding the Carranza force which evacuated the city, is not known here. Some importance is attached to it by

HELPED SINK GERMAN "SUB."
MITCHELL, March 12.—Alfred Price, of Mitchell, has a cousin on one of the British destroyers that sunk the German submarine U-8.

A NEGLECTED COLD Will Very Often Turn to CONSUMPTION

Never neglect what at first seems to be only a slight cold. Perhaps you start to cough, a little irritation in the throat ensues, then it gets lower down, settles on the lungs and bronchitis sets in, and you start to raise phlegm of a greenish, yellowish color, and you cough persistently.

If you let the simple cold run it will surely develop into something very serious, and perhaps consumption. On the first sign of a cold or cough go to your dealer and procure a bottle of

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP.

A few doses will convince you that it is just the remedy you require.

Mrs. J. W. Pearson, Amherst, N. S., writes: "Some time ago my daughter had a very bad cough which settled on her chest. She had no rest day or night. I gave her everything I could think of, but without doing her the least bit of good. At last I thought of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle for her. She had not taken half of it before she got relief, and with the remainder she was completely cured. Now when any of the family have a cough we always know what to get for it."

Dr. Wood's is 25 and 50 cents. Manufactured only by The T. M. M. Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

DRUNKENNESS CAN BE CURED ALCURA WILL DO IT.

ALCURA, the widely-known treatment for Alcoholism can now be obtained at our store. It is guaranteed to cure or benefit, or money refunded. Remedy that has been tried by thousands and found to do just as it claims.

Drunkennes is a disease. Those who are afflicted with the craving for liquor have to be helped to throw it off. ALCURA No. 1 can be given secretly in coffee or food. ALCURA No. 2 is the voluntary treatment.

Help your loved ones to restore themselves to lives of sobriety and usefulness and to regain the respect of the community in which you live.

Only $1 per box. Ask for Free Booklet. W. T. Strong, druggist, 184 Dundas street, London.

WILL ESPECIALLY LOOK A TER W.U. C. NING NT

Lieut.-Col. H. D. Smith Makes Good Impression Before
Embryo Officers.

Lieut.-Col. H. D. Smith, O. C. of the 24th Kent Regiment, and new general staff officer of the local division headquarters staff, has been specially detailed to look after the Western University Contingent of the Canadian Officers' Training Corps. He was introduced to the members of the corps at the semi-weekly drill in the Armouries on Friday afternoon and outlined his plans to perfect the organization and training of the corps.

He praised the work already accomplished by the corps, and urged the members to take an interest in their work for king and country. He explained that, owing to the necessity for equipping and outfitting the overseas forces, at present there would be some difficulties to contend with, but he urged constant and universal attention to the work in hand.

Made Favorable Impression.
Lieut.-Col. H. D. Smith made a most favorable impression on the embryo officers, and the three cheers and a tiger for him, called for by Captain Murphy after he concluded his address, were given with a hearty goodwill that seemed to shake the very roof of the Armouries.

His statement that quarters would be available for the corps within a very short time was one of the most welcome announcements yet made. Since the corps was organized it has been without an official "home," but the taking over of the Ford buildings by the militia department will rectify this, it is hoped.

Captain Murphy made the announcement that the company rolls will be finally closed at the end of the present month.

CALOMEL SALIVATES

Calomel makes you sick and you lose a day's work. Calomel is a nasty, dangerous chemical. To live your sluggish liver and bowels when constipated, head-aching, bilious, just get a 10-cent box of harmless Calcarets. They work while you sleep, don't gripe, sicken or salivate.

TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Get a 25-cent box of Dandruff at any drug store, pour a little into your hand and rub well into the scalp with the finger-tips. By morning most, if not all, of this awful scurf will have disappeared. Two or three applications will destroy every bit of dandruff; stop scalp itching and falling hair.

POSITION REVIVED.

Paris. — The agent has decided to revive the office of under secretary of the merchant marine, and Georges Bureau, deputy for Havre and an authority on shipping questions, will be appointed to the position.

DR. A. W. CHASE'S 25c.

CATARRH POWDER 25c.
Is sent direct to the diseased parts by the Improved Flower, Jockeys, etc., clears the air passages, stops drops in the throat and prevents the cure of Catarrh and Hay Fever. 25c. a box; 50c. a box. Free. Accurate. Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

"TIZ" FOR TIRED AND SORE FEET

"TIZ" for Puffed-Up, Burning Aching, Calloused Feet and C.

Why go limping around with aching, puffed-up feet—feet so tired, chafed, sore and swollen you can hardly get your shoes on or off? Why don't you get a 25-cent box of "TIZ" from the drug store now and gladden your tortured feet?

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort; takes down swellings and draws the soreness and misery right out of your feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" instantly stops pain in corns, callouses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more shoe tightness—no more foot torture.

Canada Fibre Board Co.,
J. S. Ferguson, Manager
Toronto Bank Building, London, Canada

CANADA'S GREATEST SEED HOUSE

STEELE BRIGGS
SEEDS

THE BEST BY EVERY TEST

FOR SALE BY RELIABLE MERCHANTS
EVERYWHERE THROUGHOUT CANADA

SAVE HALF YOUR FENCE MONEY

Buy the "PAGE" Way—From Factory to Farm—At Lowest Prices—FREIGHT PAID. A PAGE fence will outlast two ordinary fences. It sells for very little (if any) more than the cheapest ordinary fence. It costs no more—lasts twice as long—saves you at least half on fence. Mail your next order to the nearest PAGE branch or to the London address below, and get fence that will last a lifetime, at the following low prices:

No. of bars.	Height, inches apart.	Spacing of horizontal.	Price in Old Ontario.
6	40	22 6 1/2, 7, 8 1/2, 9, 9 1/2	$0.22
7	40	22 5 1/2, 7, 7 1/2, 8, 8 1/2	.24
7	48	22 5 1/2, 7 1/2, 9, 10, 10 1/2	.25
8	42	22 6, 6 1/2, 6 3/4, 6 1/2, 6 3/4	.27
8	42	16 1/2 6, 6 1/2, 6 3/4, 6 1/2, 6 3/4	.29
8	47	22 4, 5 1/2, 7, 8 1/2, 9, 9 1/2	.28
8	47	16 1/2 4, 5 1/2, 7, 8 1/2, 9, 9 1/2	.30
9	48	22 6, 6 1/2, 6 3/4, 6 1/2, 6 3/4	.31
9	48	16 1/2 6, 6 1/2, 6 3/4, 6 1/2, 6 3/4	.33
9	52	22 4, 4 1/2, 5 1/2, 7, 8 1/2, 9, 9 1/2	.31
9	52	16 1/2 4, 4 1/2, 5 1/2, 7, 8 1/2, 9, 9 1/2	.33
10	48	16 1/2 3, 3 1/2, 4 1/2, 5 1/2, 7, 7 1/2, 8	.35
10	52	16 1/2 3, 3 1/2, 4 1/2, 5 1/2, 7, 8 1/2, 9, 9 1/2	.35
11	55	16 1/2 3, 3 1/2, 4 1/2, 5 1/2, 7, 8 1/2, 9, 9 1/2	.38

ALL FULL NO. 9 GAUGE.

Prices for New Ontario, Quebec, Maritime Provinces and the West on application.

THE PAGE WIRE FENCE COMPANY, LIMITED

DEPARTMENT 40, 87 CHURCH STREET, WILKE RIVILLE.

Write for the big PAGE general catalogue, listing hundreds of useful Farm and Home articles at lowest cash prices.

We have arranged with the Love Hardware Company, 111 Dundas street, London, to act as distributors of Page Fence for London and vicinity, and orders can be given them if preferred.

Bombarded by British Warships

Smyrna Harbor, Turkey, Which Is Being Reduced As Part of the Allies' Plans To Open the Dardanelles.

SIX FINE HORSES PERISH IN BLAZE

[Canadian Press.]
Hartford, Conn., March 12.—Six valuable horses, owned by Walter S. Goodwin, were burned to death in a fire that destroyed his stable early today. The loss is estimated at $30,000.

LEGAL WRITER DEAD.

[Canadian Press.]
Knoxville, Tenn., March 13.—Henry S. Ingersoll, widely known as a lawyer and writer on legal subjects, died of heart failure here last night at the age of 71. For the past twenty years he had been dean of the law department of the University.

POSITION REVIVED.

Paris. — The agent has decided to revive the office of under secretary of the merchant marine, and Georges Bureau, deputy for Havre and an authority on shipping questions, will be appointed to the position.

DR. A. W. CHASE'S 25c.

CATARRH POWDER 25c.
Is sent direct to the diseased parts by the Improved Flower, Jockeys, etc., clears the air passages, stops drops in the throat and prevents the cure of Catarrh and Hay Fever. 25c. a box; 50c. a box. Free. Accurate. Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

"TIZ" FOR TIRED AND SORE FEET

"TIZ" for Puffed-Up, Burning Aching, Calloused Feet and C.

Why go limping around with aching, puffed-up feet—feet so tired, chafed, sore and swollen you can hardly get your shoes on or off? Why don't you get a 25-cent box of "TIZ" from the drug store now and gladden your tortured feet?

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort; takes down swellings and draws the soreness and misery right out of your feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" instantly stops pain in corns, callouses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more shoe tightness—no more foot torture.

Canada Fibre Board Co.,
J. S. Ferguson, Manager
Toronto Bank Building, London, Canada

CANADA'S GREATEST SEED HOUSE

STEELE BRIGGS
SEEDS

THE BEST BY EVERY TEST

FOR SALE BY RELIABLE MERCHANTS
EVERYWHERE THROUGHOUT CANADA

SAVE HALF YOUR FENCE MONEY

Buy the "PAGE" Way—From Factory to Farm—At Lowest Prices—FREIGHT PAID. A PAGE fence will outlast two ordinary fences. It sells for very little (if any) more than the cheapest ordinary fence. It costs no more—lasts twice as long—saves you at least half on fence. Mail your next order to the nearest PAGE branch or to the London address below, and get fence that will last a lifetime, at the following low prices:

No. of bars.	Height, inches apart.	Spacing of horizontal.	Price in Old Ontario.
6	40	22 6 1/2, 7, 8 1/2, 9, 9 1/2	$0.22
7	40	22 5 1/2, 7, 7 1/2, 8, 8 1/2	.24
7	48	22 5 1/2, 7 1/2, 9, 10, 10 1/2	.25
8	42	22 6, 6 1/2, 6 3/4, 6 1/2, 6 3/4	.27
8	42	16 1/2 6, 6 1/2, 6 3/4, 6 1/2, 6 3/4	.29
8	47	22 4, 5 1/2, 7, 8 1/2, 9, 9 1/2	.28
8	47	16 1/2 4, 5 1/2, 7, 8 1/2, 9, 9 1/2	.30
9	48	22 6, 6 1/2, 6 3/4, 6 1/2, 6 3/4	.31
9	48	16 1/2 6, 6 1/2, 6 3/4, 6 1/2, 6 3/4	.33
9	52	22 4, 4 1/2, 5 1/2, 7, 8 1/2, 9, 9 1/2	.31
9	52	16 1/2 4, 4 1/2, 5 1/2, 7, 8 1/2, 9, 9 1/2	.33
10	48	16 1/2 3, 3 1/2, 4 1/2, 5 1/2, 7, 7 1/2, 8	.35
10	52	16 1/2 3, 3 1/2, 4 1/2, 5 1/2, 7, 8 1/2, 9, 9 1/2	.35
11	55	16 1/2 3, 3 1/2, 4 1/2, 5 1/2, 7, 8 1/2, 9, 9 1/2	.38

ALL FULL NO. 9 GAUGE.

Prices for New Ontario, Quebec, Maritime Provinces and the West on application.

THE PAGE WIRE FENCE COMPANY, LIMITED

DEPARTMENT 40, 87 CHURCH STREET, WILKE RIVILLE.

Write for the big PAGE general catalogue, listing hundreds of useful Farm and Home articles at lowest cash prices.

We have arranged with the Love Hardware Company, 111 Dundas street, London, to act as distributors of Page Fence for London and vicinity, and orders can be given them if preferred.

QUESTIONS MONEY VOTE AT SPECIAL MEETING

Ald. Tancock Thinks Council Has No Right To Vote L. and P. S. R. $60,000.

The legality of the special council meeting, at which $60,000 was voted for track extension of the London and Port Stanley Railway, was called in question last night by Alderman Tancock at a meeting of the stockyards committee, of which he is a member.

The notice calling the meeting, he pointed out, made no mention of the $60,000 matter, and therefore it should not have been taken up. He went on to say that he did not receive his notice in time to attend the meeting, and that, if he had been present, he would have objected to this phase of the question being dealt with, in which case it could not have been taken up.

Mayor Stevenson declared that the omission of any mention of the $60,000 was an oversight, and it was taken up.

WAS TROUBLED WITH CHOKING SPELLS AND SHORTNESS OF BREATH

When the heart becomes affected, there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation and dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

Many men and women drag along with weary step, and become worn out and haggard, when otherwise they could be strong and healthy if they would only pay some attention to the first signs of heart or nerve trouble.

On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills should be given a fair trial and you will find that they will soon correct both these organs.

Mr. James Leard, Tryon, P. E. I., writes: "Just a few lines to let you know what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. I had choking spells, and was troubled with weakness of the heart and shortness of breath. I tried three doctors but they all failed. A neighbor recommended me to try your pills, so I got a box and they helped me so much. I have taken six boxes. I highly recommend them to all who are troubled with their heart and nerves. I was not able to do any work for over two years; now I can do quite a bit."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

BURIED AT DORCHESTER

Mrs. Booth Was an Old Resident of the Township.

Dorchester, March 12.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Booth, who died at the home of her daughter in Bourdon, Missouri, was held yesterday afternoon from the Anglican Church to the Union Cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. H. Sutton, and Mr. Baker, of Hyatt Avenue Church, sang with music.

"Face to Face" the pallbearers were: Nelson, Walter and Dr. E. Spence (nephews of deceased), Colin Campbell, Henry Hart, and John N. Taylor. Mrs. Booth, whose maiden name was Martha Grace, was born on the Town Line, one mile north of Belmont, in 1843. She completed her education in Toronto, and later for fifteen years taught school in the vicinity of Dorchester.

In 1873 she married William Booth, and lived for some time on the farm now owned by James Wilson, of this village. Thirteen years later she was left a widow.

Mrs. Booth was a woman of marked mental calibre, and exercised at all times a deep interest in public questions of the day. She was a devout member of the Anglican Church.

Besides one son, Edward, of Detroit, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. R. Carson, of Bourdon, Mo., and Mrs. Carson, of Crosswell, Mich., and three brothers, John, of Dresden, Ont., Edward and Henry, of Detroit.

Miss Nellie Burke is visiting with friends in Gravenhurst, Ont.

The public library has been moved to the home recently purchased by D. Carroll, situated west of Holder's store. Librarian Mrs. Carroll expects to have the books arranged by Saturday night, at which time it will be open to the public as usual, from 7 to 9.

Sam Oliver left this morning for Vermontville, Mich., to continue his education. Later, he purposes entering Olivet College, to study theology.

Thomas McFarlane is east of Toronto purchasing two carloads of cattle. Ernest Cramp, chief train dispatcher, of Hamilton, visited here this week. He returned yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Elgin Haynes.

Ernest McFarlane has left his farm near Crampton, and has moved into the house lately vacated by Mrs. Ida Weidman.

Mrs. (Rev.) Sutton and Miss Alma O'Neill attended for three days this week the meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Huron held in Croyton Hall.

Marty O'Toole has gone back to the mines! The press agent can make and the press agent can break.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.
Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W12, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with these difficulties by day or night.

BREAK A CHILD'S COLD BY GIVING
SYRUP OF FIGS

Cleanses the little liver and bowels and they get well quick.

When your child suffers from a cold, don't wait; give the little stomach, liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

If your child coughs, snuffles and has caught cold or is feverish or has a sore throat, give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs" to evacuate the bowels, no difference what other treatment is given. Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit" syrup. Mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for the babies, children of all ages, and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

AMBASSADOR'S DAUGHTER TO WED.

LONDON, March 12.—10 p.m.—Miss Hines Page, the American ambassador's daughter, has announced the engagement of their daughter, Katherine, to Charles Greeley Loring, son of the late General Charles Loring, of Boston.

SMOTHERING OF ASTHMA STOPS QUICK THOUSANDS CURED BY "CATARRHOZONE"

Count Ten — Then Relief Comes From Chronic Asthma.

Nothing yet discovered can compare with Catarrhazone in bad, ugly cases of Asthma. Catarrhazone is the one remedy that can be sent quickly and direct to all parts of the breathing apparatus. The effect from Catarrhazone is a quick one—you feel better in no time—keep up the good work, use Catarrhazone as directed and you get well. If your case is curable, if anything on earth can rid you permanently of Asthma, it will be Catarrhazone. It contains that strangely soothing and powerful antiseptic found in the Gum Tree of Australia, and this is assisted by other germ-killing properties which, when so scientifically combined, make Catarrhazone a veritable specific for Asthma, Catarrh and Bronchitis.

Even though many other remedies have failed—even though you are discouraged and blue—cheer up and try Catarrhazone today. What it repeatedly has done for others it will surely do for you.

Catarrhazone is not expensive. One dollar will buy a complete outfit from any druggist. The money will be well spent, because your immediate improvement in health will surpass your fondest expectations. Don't wait—today is the time to use Catarrhazone.

Manufactured ICE

Safety First
Our ice is safe, pure and sanitary and you should not deny your household the benefit of having it, because you think it will cost a little more. Our customers tell us it is really cheaper. Try it for yourself.

Artificial Ice Supply Co.

DISTRIBUTORS.
PHONE 141. OFFICE, 19 YORK STREET

OXO CUBES

within sound of the guns

How OXO CUBES helped Princess Patricia's Regiment to make their Christmas dinner

An interesting letter from a sergeant in the above regiment:—

"At last we are where we wanted to be, and are contented with our little lot. We had a fairly good Christmas dinner, which consisted of bully beef and biscuits, and whatever we could forage. My friend and myself did not do so badly, as we had one carrot, one-half turnip, two leeks, one onion, TWO OXO CUBES and twelve ounces of bully beef, with three hard biscuits, all mixed up and boiled in a beef tin.

"To-day we had our Christmas pudding, one-half pound to a man, one pound tin of jam between four men, and a small bottle of wine, also between four men.

"We are all in good spirits, and also within sound of big guns."

[Reprinted from the "Montreal Gazette," Jan. 7, 1915.]

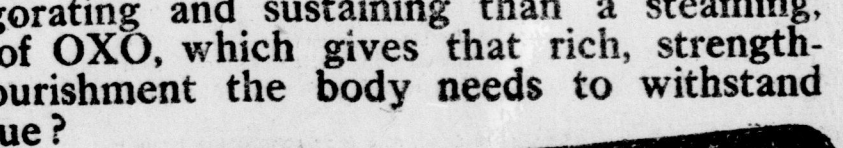

Winter weather is OXO CUBE weather. What could be more invigorating and sustaining than a steaming, delicious cup of OXO, which gives that rich, strengthening beef-nourishment the body needs to withstand cold and fatigue?

OXO CUBES beat all the old ideas for food-quickness. Simply drop an OXO CUBE into a cup of hot water—stir—and it's ready.

A daily cup of OXO is an excellent safeguard against colds and La Grippe.

A Cube to a Cup

In 10c and 25c Tins

DAILY PAGE FOR ADVERTISER WOMAN READERS

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letters can be answered privately.]

WHO WILL HELP?
Amid many appeals for patriotic purposes we must not forget our old friends, whose needs are every bit as vital this year as they have been in the past. How many of the girls who read this page day after day give a thought to the splendid work done in this city by the Young Women's Christian Association? How many of the girl readers have been helped in some way or other by that society? West of Toronto, between that city and Detroit, I believe the London branch of the association is about the only one in fact the only one I know of. So it is safe to assume that hundreds of girls who no doubt read The Advertiser daily have at some time been benefited through this channel, the Y. W. C. A. And now I learn that the poor dear "Y" secretary, Miss Ludwig, is staying awake nights and turning grey-headed, and all sorts of things, because there is a horrid shortage of dollars needed right away quick to meet an extra expense. Quite a number of girls who have heard of this have given their mite, and saved at least one grey hair. And the question now comes to you. Would any of the girl readers (or older ones, too, of course), like to help out by furthering the work of the association for other girls? If so, I should be very glad to have you send me your contribution, or else forward it directly to Miss Ludwig. Any money reaching me will be duly acknowledged on this page.

Wants a Sweetheart.
Dear Miss Grey—1. I am 17 years old. Do you think I am old enough to have a sweetheart, and where might the same be found, suitable for a future farmer's wife?
2. What do you think of my penmanship?
3. Should a young man buy bones of candy for his girl?
4. Could you give me a remedy for removing freckles from the face?
I remain,
Ans.—1. Well, my friend, if around your vicinity you can't single out a girl whom you could fancy for a sweetheart, I have small hopes of you. You are a bit young anyway; better wait a year before giving it serious consideration; by that time you may have made up your mind as to a candidate for the job of farmer's wife. You are fearfully practical for one so young!
2. It is fair.
3. It is very, very customary.
4. Scraping the skin off might help, but would doubtless be painful; you might try wearing a veil instead, only because there is a horrid shortage of dollars needed right away quick to meet an extra expense. Quite a number of girls who have heard of this have given their mite, and saved at least one grey hair. And the question now comes to you. Would any of the girl readers (or older ones, too, of course), like to help out by furthering the work of the association for other girls? If so, I should be very glad to have you send me your contribution, or else forward it directly to Miss Ludwig. Any money reaching me will be duly acknowledged on this page.

Will anyone lend a hand in this good work?
CYNTHIA GREY.

LONDON ADVERTISER COUPON.
I hereby subscribe the sum of ..... for the work of the Red Cross Society ..... for the work of the Canadian War Contingent Association.
NAME .....
ADDRESS .....

Subscribers are asked to indicate with an X the channel through which they wish their gifts to go. The Red Cross donations go towards providing comforts for the sick and wounded. The work of the C. W. C. A. is to send warm garments for the men in action. Will you not help?
Clip, fill out, and mail with your donation, to treasurer of either society, Hyman Hall, London.

To clean greasy overalls is a hard job, unless you let Snowflake Ammonia loosen the grease. Then it's easy.

Ask for it by name—say "Snowflake."

5 and 10 cent packages.

Lawrason's Snowflake Ammonia

Made in Canada.

The QUALITY and PRICE Remain Just the Same

Although the price of nearly every brand of tea on the market—including tea in bulk—has increased since the war started, the price and quality of remains the same. Of course the other dealers were justified in raising their prices. Every tea merchant has to pay considerably more today for his tea than he did six months ago. We decided, however, to give the same quality tea at the same price to the public as long as we possibly could, even if our profits were reduced to a minimum.

Grand Mogul TEA

IS PURE TEA

Maybe You Have Never Tried GRAND MOGUL

It has been a favorite in a great many of the homes of London and Western Ontario for many years, and will be in your home after you taste the first cup. IT IS SOLD AND GUARANTEED BY ALL GROCERS.

30c, 40c and 50c the Pound

T. B. ESCOTT & CO., Limited,
LONDON, ONT.

LAUNDRY

ALL PARTICULAR MEN AND WOMEN PATRONIZE.

THE PARISIAN

FOR GOOD LAUNDRY WORK. GUARANTEED PRESSING AND CLEANING. PHONES 558, 559.

takes them. If you love her, tell her so, by all means.
4. No.
5. Not unless engaged.

Is Just Sixteen.
Dear Miss Grey—1. On what day of the week did June 15, 1898, occur on?
2. How would you remove ink spots from half wool and half cotton material without discoloring it?
3. Could you tell me the meaning of the following names—Ethel, Moyra, Ethel and Albert?
4. Will long coats or suits be worn this spring?
5. Could you publish a good chocolate cake recipe; also chocolate icing?
Hoping I have not been troublesome. I wish you and your column every success.
JUST SIXTEEN.
Ans.—1. Wednesday.
2. Try sponging with a very weak solution of oxalic acid, followed by an application of cold water.
3. Ethel, of noble birth; Albert, illustrious.
4. Both to quite an extent—perhaps the suit styles are more in evidence, but there will be many separate coats as well.
5. Melt scant one-half cup unsweetened chocolate and add one cup of sugar, one-half cup of milk. When thoroughly blended, but not boiled, add the yolk of one egg and remove at once from the stove; cool and add vanilla. Mix together one cup sugar, one-half cup butter, one-half cup milk, two eggs beaten separately, two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder; add chocolate mixture. Bake in layers or as a flat cake.

A simple chocolate icing is made as follows: Heat a tablespoon of milk, remove from fire and stir in enough pulverized sugar to thicken it, add a teaspoon of ground cocoa, a little butter and a very little vanilla flavoring, then spread on the cake. The cocoa is much easier to use than chocolate, which has to be grated and melted, and tastes equally as good.

Another recipe is to boil together one cup of light brown sugar and half a cup of water. Remove it from the stove as soon as it strings from the spoon, and stir the whites of two eggs beaten to a stiff froth, together with a tablespoon of cocoa. Spread quickly on the cake.

ST. PATRICK'S BAZAAR.
The Marian Keith Club will hold a St. Patrick bazaar in St. Andrew's Hall, on Monday evening, March 15, at 8 o'clock. A musical program has been arranged and there will be home-made bread, cookies and candy for sale. A feature of the bazaar will be an Irish street scene, which will especially delight the children, and the adults will enjoy the tea-room refreshment. Those taking part in the program are: Mrs. Charles Wheeler, Misses Florence Eggleston, Doris Simon, Mrs. W. A. McCreath, W. A. McCutcheon, Gladstone Paul and Wilfred Scott. The club has been doing splendid work during the past winter in alleviating the distress among the poor of the city, and the proceeds of the sale will be devoted to this relief work.

News of the Canadian War Contingent Association

The monthly report for February of soldiers' outfits received is as follows:
February 2—Chalmers Presbyterian Church, 1 outfit; New St. James Presbyterian Church, 1; Empress Avenue Methodist, 1.

February 6—King Street Presbyterian, 1; Dundas Centre Methodist, 17 outfits, 15 cholera bands, 5 caps, 10 pairs socks, 25 pairs wristlets, 15 day shirts.

February 12—Kilwood Park Presbyterian, 1 outfit; St. James' Anglican 4.

February 28—First Methodist, 11 pyjamas, 13 day shirts, 5 caps, 4 cholera belts, 10 sets of underwear, 11 pairs socks, 13 handkerchiefs, 14 hospital shirts, 4 pairs wristlets, 4 cholera bands, 14 hospital shirts, 1 outfit; Knox Church, 1 outfit.

February 26—Adelaide Street Baptist, 1 outfit; Askin Street Methodist, 2 pyjamas, 3 day shirts, 4 hospital shirts, 4 caps, 8 pairs socks, 6 pairs wristlets, 3 cholera bands, 6 handkerchiefs, 2 sets of underwear, 11 rolls of bandages.

Outfits received during March will be acknowledged at the end of the month.

The report of the C. W. C. A. packing committee announces 2,529 articles, at a value of $1,429.45, shipped from London February 26, as follows:
Day shirts, 234; socks, 334; pairs; sets of underwear, 122; pyjamas, 41; hospital shirts, 19; wristlets, 594 pairs; scarves, 398; cholera bands, 189; handkerchiefs, 1 dozen; caps, 12; mitts, 1 pair; dressing gown, 1; tobacco, 20 pounds; cigarettes, 2 boxes; private parcels, 6.

Some of the donations were received during February from the Elgin branch of the C. W. C. A., St. Thomas, as follows:

Two parcels tobacco, 5 dozen each insect powder, 5 dozen towels, 12 dozen handkerchiefs, 2 dozen helmets, 18 dozen pairs socks, 164 pairs wristlets, 5 scarves, 42 cholera bands, 12 mitts, 1 pair knee caps, 24 hospital shirts, 8 nightgowns, 8 pairs hospital socks, 23 pairs pyjamas, 19 dressing gowns, 21 suits underwear, 25 day shirts, 36 scarves, also 15 private parcels.

During the past week a great deal of work has come in from the outside places, where the women's interest is increasing rather than diminishing. These articles are received, as follows:

Dundell, Miss Dora (Thirwall, 1 scarf); St. Lawrence, Misses Leach, 2 pairs socks, 2 pairs wristlets; Highgate, 1 pair mittens, 1 cap, 15 pairs wristlets, 5 scarves, 42 cholera bands, 12 mitts, 1 pair knee caps, 24 hospital shirts, 8 nightgowns, 8 pairs hospital socks, 23 pairs pyjamas, 19 dressing gowns, 21 suits underwear, 25 day shirts, 36 scarves, also 15 private parcels.

Other donations are: Miss E. Hamilton, New York, 2 pairs wristlets, 3/4 dozen handkerchiefs; Misses Tom, Blais, 2 pairs socks; Mrs. M. Wells and Misses Kilbourn, 2 pairs socks; Miss Jento and Miss Masurel, 1 scarf, 2 pairs wristlets; Mrs. Shennon, 1 pair socks; Mrs. W. T. Jones, 1 pair socks; Mrs. (Dr.) Morris, 1 pair hospital socks; Mrs. Cleghorn, 1 scarf.

Five dollars has been received from Mrs. Eleanor Matheson. In the list appearing on Wednesday last the name of Mrs. Mulvaney should have read "Miss Mulvaney," and Mrs. Buck should have been "Miss Bucke," $1.25.

Styles In Braids For the Miss Who Puts Aside "Little Girl" Fashions

"I'm just 16, and I want to do my hair up. Will you tell me some pretty way to wear it?" writes Miss Sixteen-Year-Old.

And from Miss Fourteen-Year-Old comes this query: "I'm 14 years old, and don't you think I'm too old to wear my hair in braids?" Fourteen is so much afraid of being counted among the "Middle-aged."

A serious affair is this "going up" in braids to the girls who are slipping from girlhood into young ladyhood—some of them so eager to put aside their little-girl fashions and some who so timid about assuming grown-up airs! To Miss Sixteen, we'd recommend the coronet style of hair dressing as a happy compromise between the two. The coronet is a little girl and a big girl. The coronet is more womanly than braids and it is almost always becoming. The only girl who must not twine her braids about her head is the girl with the long, thin face and the rather long nose. She should draw her hair softly back about her head, part it at each side just back of the ear, roll each strand into a flat little "wheel" just above the ear at a becoming distance from the forehead. The strand at the back is the single braid tied with a bow of ribbon or with those convenient little silk clasps that are sold in almost every department store for a dime.

To arrange the hair as it is shown in the upper left-hand picture, part it in the middle, divide it in three strands, pull out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck the ends into a wide crown, the white net to the nape, now and then he staggered, pulled out the two side strands so that they make a soft frame for the face, draw them back and fold the ends to the back strand and then braid the three in a loose but firm braid, tuck

THE BASEBALL RECRUIT SPENDS A PLEASANT TIME IN THE TRAINING CAMP DAY BY DAY

HE DON'T KNOW WHERE HE'S GOING, BUT HE KNOWS HE'S ON THE WAY.

Ed. Shea, President of the Rowing Club

Annual Meeting and Election of Officers Held Last Night—Will Send Two Crews to Canadian Henley This Year.

Members of the London Rowing and Bowling Club gathered in the Masonic Temple last night and discussed matters pertaining to the club and elected the officers for the ensuing year. Retiring President John MacPherson presided and opened the meeting with a brief address outlining the work done during the past season and thanking the officers and members of the club for their support. He was glad to report that the season had been a most successful one from every standpoint. The treasurer had a substantial balance on the right side of the books, despite the fact that numerous improvements had been made in the clubhouse and grounds.

The new officers followed. Those who were elected are as follows: President—Ed. Shea. First Vice-President—William Turnbull. Second Vice-President—William J. Ashland. Treasurer—A. N. Udy. Secretary—Victor Jackson. The committees formed were grounds, rowing, and tennis.

T. B. Udy, Racing Shell. The club will this year undertake to improve the rowing department. Increased interest is being displayed in this department and the membership is growing rapidly. This year it will likely be doubled. New boats will be

Semi-Ready Suits
Tailored to special order. 200 patterns to choose from. Six days delivery.
$18
182 Dundas St., London.

HERE WE ARE AGAIN WITH British Bicycles

—AT—
$30.00
THAT YOU CAN'T BEAT.

BROCK'S

The Sporting Goods Store of London, Canada.

300 HOURS

425 and 427 Wellington Street

Next to Y. M. C. A.

ENOUGH SAID.

51n-777.

We will welcome you and your friends

The Assembly

Billiard and Cigar Store,

422 Richmond St., next to Free Press.

ywt

Tailor-Made Suits—$21.00

Any cloth, any shade, in the store except blues and blacks, for $21 during the next two weeks.

Blues and Blacks

$23.00

All made by expert tailors.

FRAUMENI

PHONE 3077. 230 DUNDAS ST.

GRANT SIX

$1,100.00

Completely equipped, including electricity starting and lighting.

RELIANCE MACHINE WORKS,

LONDON.

Distributors of Middlesex, Oxford,

Elgin Counties. Literature on request.

FREE TO ALL SUFFERERS

FROM THE MOST PAINFUL OF ALL AFFECTIONS

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY, "F. N. S. J."

THE RAPID CURE OF ALL AFFECTIONS

OF THE URINARY TRACT, INCLUDING

GONORRHOEA, SYPHILIS, AND ALL

OTHER AFFECTIONS OF THE URINARY

TRACT. THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY, "F. N. S. J."

IS THE ONLY REMEDY WHICH CURES

THESE AFFECTIONS WITHOUT DOING

ANY HARM TO THE SYSTEM. IT IS

THE ONLY REMEDY WHICH CURES

THESE AFFECTIONS WITHOUT DOING

ANY HARM TO THE SYSTEM. IT IS

THE ONLY REMEDY WHICH CURES

THESE AFFECTIONS WITHOUT DOING

ANY HARM TO THE SYSTEM. IT IS

THE ONLY REMEDY WHICH CURES

Woodstock Girls Hockey Team Is Still Unbeaten

Last Night Welland Ladies Were Defeated 4-3 in Exciting Match.

WOODSTOCK, March 12.—In the most exciting hockey match seen here this season, the Woodstock ladies here to another victory by their string by winning from the Welland ladies here to night by the close score of 4-3. It was a tip and tuck contest, the first period standing a tie, one all; second frame, 2-2, and in the last twenty minutes the local team back strong, scoring two goals to the visitors' one. Miss Hooker and Miss Best did the scoring for Welland, the former playing a very strong game. Mrs. Moyer and Miss Nesbitt did good work for the local line-up.

Welland Position. Woodstock:

Goal—Miss Nesbitt. Defence—Miss

Hooker, Miss Best, Miss Moyer.

Attack—Miss Nesbitt, Miss Best,

Miss Moyer, Miss Nesbitt, Miss Best.

Referee—Earl Gustin, Woodstock.

SAME OFFICIALS NAMED FOR N.H.A. FINAL GAME

Montreal, March 12.—In the second game between the Wanderers and Ottawa for the National Hockey Association championship, to be played at Montreal, Saturday night, the officials named for the game are: Referee, Dr. Wood, Toronto; judge of play, Dr. Wood, Toronto; judge of play, Dr. Wood, Toronto.

These officials were appointed today by President T. Emmett Quinn, of the N. H. A.

WILLIAM MALONEY, ONCE FAMOUS SPRINTER, DEAD

Chicago, March 12.—William A. Maloney, one of the fastest runners in the country, died at his home here yesterday of heart disease. He was 37 years old.

BERLIN HAS NO THOUGHT OF HOLDING OLYMPIAD

Berlin, March 12.—2:31 a.m.—No decision has yet been reached regarding the holding of the Olympic games in 1916. This matter has been in statu quo, pending the termination of the war. Should the war end in time, an attempt may be made to hold the games according to schedule. It is stated, but at present most of the officials and virtually all the German athletes are at the front. There is no thought of holding the Olympic games during the war, it is asserted.

COBBOURG LIEUTENANT WOUNDED AT FRONT

[Canadian Press.] Cobourg, March 12.—Advice was received this morning from the adjutant-general, Ottawa, that Capt. T. H. Abell, of Cobourg, belonging to the 21st Battalion, had been slightly wounded at the front.

BERLIN MERCHANT DIES ON THE STREET

Berlin, March 12.—E. Kibler, a well-known merchant of this city, formerly of Listowel and Brampton, dropped dead on John street this morning while walking to his store. He had not been ill up to a few days ago. Rupture of a blood vessel was the immediate cause of his death. He was in his 60th year, and was a popular member of the Berlin Bowling Club.

TWO CASES AGAINST GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY

Each for Two Thousand Dollars as Result of Deaths.

Two cases against the Grand Trunk Railway were set down for trial today at the courthouse for the spring assizes, which open before Mr. Justice Middleton at the courthouse on March 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Whiting and Wm. Smith, are each suing the railway for $2,000 damages for the death of their respective sons, Frederick Whiting and James Smith. The two lads died on the evening of December 11 last year, when an express train struck the sleigh the boys were driving across the Egerton street crossing in.

In the statements of claim, which are identical, the plaintiffs allege that the defendant company was negligent, that the train was running at an excessive rate of speed, the bell was not ringing, and further allege that the watchman on duty did not warn the lads of the oncoming express.

The Grand Trunk alleges that the company was not to blame, and that the plaintiffs were both negligent. Gibbons, Harper & Gibbons are acting for the plaintiffs, and W. H. Biggar, K. C., Toronto, for the railway company.

J. C. BEEMER

131 to 133 QUEENS AVENUE. WEST OF POSTOFFICE

Distributor Chalmers and Overland Motor Cars.

USED CAR LIST

Reo Touring Car.....$150.00

Overland Touring.....$450.00

Standard 7-Passenger.....$1,200.00

Maxwell Roadster.....$450.00

Overland Roadster.....$600.00

Maxwell Runabout.....$300.00

Chalmers "36".....$900.00

zxt

MANAGER WHO WILL LEAD TORONTO THIS SEASON

LAST NIGHT'S SCORES.

Northern League.

Consolation Series.

Preston 5, Waterloo 6.

Orillia 2, Alliston 4.

Monarchs 4, Melville 2.

Exhibition Games.

Gill family 6, Schell family 3.

Woodstock ladies 4, Welland ladies 3.

GAMES TONIGHT.

East All-Stars vs. West All-Stars.

Orillia at Detroit.

LEAGUE LEADERS

ROLL GOOD SCORES

Independents Beat Brunswicks in Three Games.

BEAT THEIR OWN RECORD

Spilled Total of 2,669 Pins in Three Games—Four Went

Over 500.

THE STANDING.

Wm. Lost. P.C.

Independents.....35.....706

St. Peters.....28.....533

Club.....26.....523

Adventurers.....25.....522

Cubs.....24.....471

London House.....23.....428

Allies.....20.....392

Brunswicks.....12.....250

THE INDEPENDENTS

The Independents had little trouble taking three games from the Brunswicks in the City Bowling League last night. The league leaders were in fine form, and four men on the team bowled

over the 500 mark. "Soup" Muscarel being high man, with 598, his best score being 222. The Independents also beat their former high total score by one pin, setting a new league record. The teams and scores were as follows:

Independents.....893

Brunswicks.....857

Bert Fenech.....129

W. Rowe.....158

H. Tanner.....155

N. Fontana.....157

J. Catalano.....147

776 730 334-2246

KING OF BANTAMS IS NOT AFRAID OF ANY OF 'EM.

Jim Gilmore says the Feds will place a claim of Player Mosely against the claim of Player Mosely against the

claim of Player Mosely against the

claim of Player Mosely against the

claim of Player Mosely against the

claim of Player Mosely against the

claim of Player Mosely against the

claim of Player Mosely against the

claim of Player Mosely against the

claim of Player Mosely against the claim of Player Mosely against the

PAT MORAN IS GOING TO RUN A TEAM ON KINDNESS!

IT HAS NEVER BEEN ACCOMPLISHED BEFORE

Here we have another type of manager in good old Pat Moran, who is to guide the destinies of the Philadelphia Nationals this season, thereby undertaking one of the toughest jobs ever wished upon a man.

Add to the fact that the team which for four years looked strong enough to win a pennant and failed each time, the further fact that it is badly disorganized, filled with dissensions, that it has lost some of the best players on the roster to the Federal League, and then further crippled because certain of the men aspired to manage the team and were disappointed when Moran was selected, and you will understand what Pat is going against.

If he makes good, everyone in baseball will give three cheers, for no man in the game has so many true admirers and so many sincere friends as has Pat.

Pat is a "hand-shaker," and it is the theory of a great many baseball men that no player or manager who was a hand-shaker ever won anything in the business. He is a good man—good in every way. He is sincere, honest and square.

He came from Fitchburg, Mass., and is one of the oldest catchers in point of service in the business. He was recognized as an excellent catcher when with the Boston Nationals, where he served several thankless years until Frank Chance made a trade to get Pat to work with the young catchers.

He is patient, quiet and a keen observer. He worked with pitchers, teaching and drilling them carefully, and for three years warmed up with the Boston Nationals, where he served several thankless years until Frank Chance made a trade to get Pat to work with the young catchers.

One spring, before the season opened, he wrote and told me about three young pitchers, telling me that all three would be stars before the season was over—and they were. He has been kind enough to tip me off almost every year on his judgment of the young pitchers with the clubs to which he has belonged, and he never has gone wrong on one.

His task is a heart-breaking one under present conditions, but if anyone can win the good-will of the men, and if anyone deserves to have loyal support from his men, Pat does.

He has shown that in spite of his kindness and good-nature he can be firm, but he probably will try the other way and win them by kindness—which never yet has been done in a big league.

Must Operate To Save Sig ht of Joe Shugrue

Jersey City Lightweight's Eyes Fail To Respond To Treatment of Specialists.

New York, March 12.—Peter Fitzgerald, manager of Joe Shugrue, the Jersey City lightweight, today announced an operation to save the fighter's eyes would probably be necessary within the next few days.

Specialist treating Shugrue's eyes have so far failed to help him, according to Fitzgerald.

Sinclair, however, refused to listen to any such proposal. It was also said that there was no chance that any other franchise would be transferred to the Kansas City case is due to be closed and a decision rendered on Monday, but one of the magnates asserted that it would be settled out of court. It was said that the $25,000 franchise would be given to the Kansas City men.

Most of the magnates left for their homes tonight. President Gilmore will be here until Sunday.

SHO. Y. Magee, of the Boston Braves, was injured by a fall. The dispatch does not give the details, but we know he did not alight on his head.

Lurid Lew Richie is reported near the end with tuberculosis. He made three laughs grow where one smile existed and he is now a better pitcher we could have spared more easily.

Charlie Ebbetts made a speech at Dayton, Pa., last night when someone asked he responded and made it a doubleheader.

Lynn Scoggins, the left-handed pitcher, took a straight literary course at college—which fact may have some bearing upon the amateur status of that school.

The St. Louis Feds in Havana complain that the players do not understand English and that they have to order the entire bill of fare to get what they want to eat. We're not certain whether it is a complaint or an ailment.

Eddie McGoorty and Jimmy Clabby seem intent upon taking more boxing lessons, and Prof. Mike Gibbons seems equally willing to teach them.

One fun-loving baseball writer just put over a good one on his sporting editor. He took a spring training story that the sporting editor wrote half a year ago, changed the names and wired it to the office, and the editor telegraphed congratulations on his excellent yarn.

Bank—there goes the governor of Montana hurling a monkey wrench into the machinery of hope. Wonder what makes these guys crack everything any-body wants?

Connie Mack and Clarence Rowland both agree that the Athletics tango and the Sox hesitate.

They say Jess Willard is fit to whip Jack Johnson. It would be a terrible knock to say anyone was not fit to whip him.

Today's Pome.

Where players earn so much they will not play.

Someone ought to give Home Run Baker's mule a warning as to what he is likely to happen if he balks during the spring plowing.

Now that the first score has been printed to rise to meet the Hot Stove League adjourn sine die.

FEDERAL MAGNATES ARE IN A QUANDRY

Sinclair Refuses To Operate Club in Kansas City.

WILL NOT LEAVE NEWARK

Indianapolis Intends To Stick in Outlaw Organization Also.

NEW YORK, March 12.—"Newark" will positively remain in the Federal League," announced James A. Gilmore, president, after a special meeting of the league here today. Representatives of every club in the circuit, except St. Louis, were present. The Kansas City case is due to be closed and a decision rendered on Monday, but one of the magnates asserted that it would be settled out of court. It was said that the $25,000 franchise would be given to the Kansas City men.

Most of the magnates left for their homes tonight. President Gilmore will be here until Sunday.

Sinclair, however, refused to listen to any such proposal. It was also said that there was no chance that any other franchise would be transferred to the Kansas City case is due to be closed and a decision rendered on Monday, but one of the magnates asserted that it would be settled out of court. It was said that the $25,000 franchise would be given to the Kansas City men.

Most of the magnates left for their homes tonight. President Gilmore will be here until Sunday.

Sinclair, however, refused to listen to any such proposal. It was also said that there was no chance that any other franchise would be transferred to the Kansas City case is due to be closed and a decision rendered on Monday, but one of the magnates asserted that it would be settled out of court. It was said that the $25,000 franchise would be given to the Kansas City men.

Most of the magnates left for their homes tonight. President Gilmore will be here until Sunday.

Sinclair, however, refused to listen to any such proposal. It was also said that there was no chance that any other franchise would be transferred to the Kansas City case is due to be closed and a decision rendered on Monday, but one of the magnates asserted that it would be settled out of court. It was said that the $25,000 franchise would be given to the Kansas City men.

Most of the magnates left for their homes tonight. President Gilmore will be here until Sunday.

Sinclair, however, refused to listen to any such proposal. It was also said that there was no chance that any other franchise would be transferred to the Kansas City case is due to be closed and a decision rendered on Monday, but one of the magnates asserted that it would be settled out of court. It was said that the $25,000 franchise would be given to the Kansas City men.

Most of the magnates left for their homes tonight. President Gilmore will be here until Sunday.

Sinclair, however, refused to listen to any such proposal. It was also said that there was no chance that any other franchise would be transferred to the Kansas City case is due to be closed and a decision rendered on Monday, but one of the magnates asserted that it would be settled out of court. It was said that the $25,000 franchise would be given to the Kansas City men.

Most of the magnates left for their homes tonight. President Gilmore will be here until Sunday.

Sinclair, however, refused to listen to any such proposal. It was also said that there was no chance that any other franchise would be transferred to the Kansas City case is due to be closed and a decision rendered on Monday, but one of the magnates asserted that it would be settled out of court. It was said that the $25,000 franchise would be given to the Kansas City men.

Most of the magnates left for their homes tonight. President Gilmore will be here until Sunday.

Sinclair, however, refused to listen to any such proposal. It was also said that there was no chance that any other franchise would be transferred to the Kansas City case is due to be closed and a decision rendered on Monday, but one of the magnates asserted that it would be settled out of court. It was said that the $25,00

CASUALTIES TO CANADIANS 360Fifty-eight Officers and Men Already Killed in Action.

TWO HUNDRED WOUNDED

Reinforcements For Princess
Pats Have Been In Action.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, March 12. — A hundred and fifty-nine members of the first Canadian contingent and of the Princess Patricia's have already given up their lives for the empire. Of these there have been 55 officers and men killed in action, and 191 lost their lives to disease or accident.

In addition there have been over two hundred of the men sent from Canada wounded.

With the Princess and a full division of Canadians in the trenches and with operations at the front becoming more active, the casualty lists are daily growing longer and heavier.

During the present week the casualties in killed and wounded among the Princess amount to 44 killed and wounded, and 48 in the other regiments composing the Canadian forces.

Reinforcements in Action.
WINNIPEG, Man., March 12. — That reinforcements for the Princess Pats which left Winnipeg about eight weeks ago, have been in action, is indicated by the inclusion of the name of A. W. Stokes, a native of Winnipeg, 19 years of age, in the casualty list. The Princess Patricia reinforcements were from various battalions in training here, and possibly were transported directly to France, where they would be available when needed to fill vacancies in the ranks.

RED CROSS GIFT
REACHES ENGLAND

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]
LONDON, March 12. — The war office received a handsome contribution this afternoon at the hands of Col. Hodgetts, who, on behalf of the Canadian Red Cross Society, handed the committee over 60,000 articles of clothing, which had been sent by Canadians for the use of the troops at the front.

A committee of the British Red Cross Society issued a resolution of appreciation of the valuable work the Red Cross has achieved in connection with Clivedon Hospital, and placing on record grateful thanks to all those who so generously assisted in setting up the hospital, which forms a most gratifying link between Canada and the home land.

HOW FAT FOLKS MAY BECOME THIN

[By Elizabeth Thomas.]
Perhaps you are suddenly becoming stout, or it may be that you have been putting on weight for years. In either case the cause is the same—lack of oxygen-carrying power of the blood. This trouble occurs in adults of both sexes and at all ages, but it may be overcome very easily and without any of the privations that most people imagine necessary to reduce their weight.

Simply go to your druggist and get some oil of orfeline capsules. Take one after each meal and one before going to bed. Watch yourself so as to know just how fast you are losing weight. Wonderful results have been accomplished by this inexpensive recipe, but be sure to get the genuine oil of orfeline in capsule form. It is sold only in original sealed packages. Any large druggist can supply you, or a large size box will be sent on receipt of $1. Address D. J. Little Drug Company, Box 1240, Montreal, Can.

To Give the Hair a
Naturally Wavy Effect

Since the virtues of plain liquid silmerine as a hair conditioner are known, English chemists, as well as druggists in Canada and the United States, have been having a really remarkable demand for this remarkable product. Its effectiveness and its entire harmlessness—especially as compared with the ruinous curling iron—doubtless have been responsible for its increasing use for the purpose mentioned. As the hairness is in evidence for a considerable time, a few ounces of liquid silmerine will last a long while.

One need only apply a little of the liquid with a clean toothbrush before retiring and in the morning the hair will have that beautiful wavy and glossy appearance which bears no marks of artificiality. The best way is to divide the hair into strands and moisten each of them from root to tip. There is no discoloration, no streaky or other unpleasant after-effect.

Easy Way to Remove Freckles and Eruptions

Some women have skin of such texture they occasionally are annoyed by the sudden appearance of freckles, slight eruptions or fine lines. March winds usually play havoc with skins of that kind. In such cases if one will procure an ounce of common mercurized wax at any drug store, apply a little of it before retiring, like cold cream, she can easily overcome the trouble. When the wax is washed off next morning, flaky skin particles come with it. The entire outer cuticle is removed, leaving the skin smooth, clear, fresh looking. No pain or inconvenience accompanies this simple treatment.

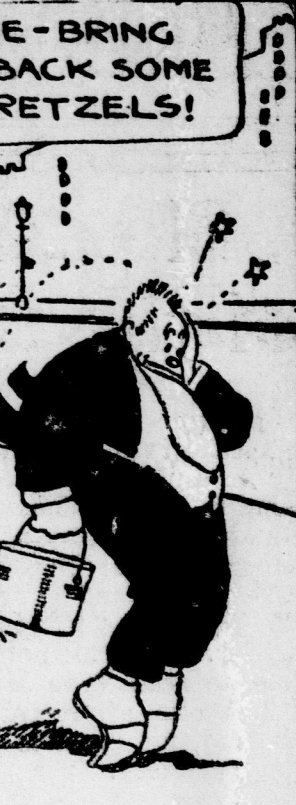

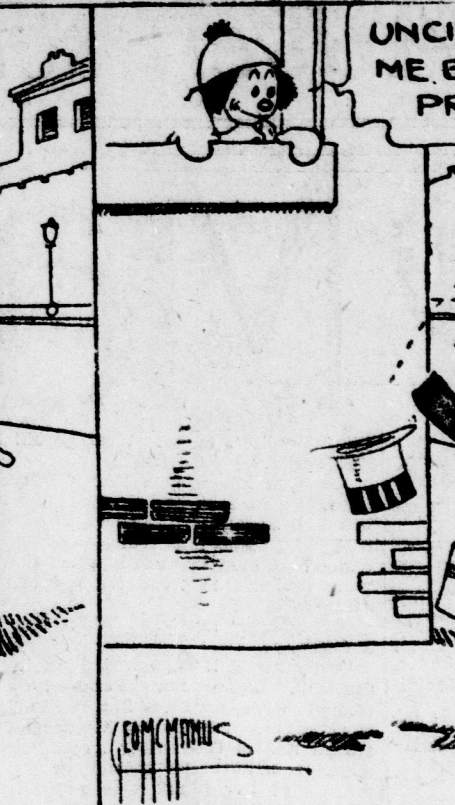

In case of wrinkles which sink beneath the outer skin a solution of salicylic, 1 cc., dissolved in 1/2 pt. which hazel makes a face bath which is wonderfully effective.

FEW MINUTES! NO INDIGESTION, GAS,
SOOR STOMACH—PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

Digests all food, absorbs gases and stops fermentation at once.

Wonder what upset your stomach— which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt: if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breathe foul tongue coated—just take Pape's Diapepsin, and in five minutes you will wonder what became of the indigestion.

Bringing Up Father

SMASH TURK FORTS
AS A SPORTSMAN
WOULD "POT" GAME

[Canadian Press.]
LONDON, March 12. — 2:30 a.m. — The officers of the British battleship Triumph, formerly the Chilean warship Libertad, which has been seventeen times in action in the Dardanelles, gave an account of the fighting in the tortuous waterway to the Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Mytilene, where the Triumph is coaling.

"Along the shore we perceived trenches and barbed wire entanglements, which had been erected. Some troops were also seen entrenched on the hills. On the morning of Feb. 19 all the allied ships proceeded against the outer forts, opening fire at 5,000 yards. They received no response. The Triumph caused very heavy damage with her 7-inch guns.

"Fleets' Furious Bombardment.
"When we reloaded the fleet in the evening a spectacular scene was witnessed. The French ships were firing furiously from the south, while the British ships steamed up and down, firing salvoes. Bad weather interrupted the operations, which were resumed the 25th, and the Triumph succeeded in locating Battery No. 50. This same day three trips into the entrance were made by various British ships, the Triumph getting to within 2,000 yards of Fort 3 and making direct hits on the enemy's guns.

"That night the Turks burned the lighthouses. The next day mine sweepers passed through the entrance under the protection of the Triumph.

"Triumph Thrice Hit.
"On March 1 the Triumph was ordered against Fort Dardanos, where she was hit three, one shell going through her armor, killing one man. This would have been a serious affair, but the shell exploded before it penetrated. Another shell went through the captain's cabin.

"The same evening the Triumph covered a landing party, which blew up some of the important works on the Asiatic side. The explosions sent fragments of wreckage hurtling 500 feet into the air, and three-quarters of the distance across the straits.

"All the men of the Triumph are in excellent spirits. Throughout the operations one would have thought these men were engaged in some sporting expedition rather than in deadly warfare."

WEATHER INSURANCE COMPANY

Makes Liberal Grant To Belgian Relief Fund.

WOODSTOCK, March 2. — At the annual meeting of the Western Farmers' Weather Insurance Mutual Company, held in the council chamber at the city hall on Thursday afternoon, the company unanimously voted $100 to the Belgian Relief Fund. The resolution providing for the grant was moved by John McLevin in speech in which there were many feeling references to the plight of the families of the brave Belgian soldiers, together with sentiments touching the sorry and duty of Canadians in the present crisis. The resolution was eloquently seconded by James Donaldson, of Atwood, who, in his own district, enjoys a reputation as a public speaker, and who has taken an active interest in patriotic work in Atwood and vicinity. Mr. Donaldson's address was a strong effort and one that made a visible effect upon the audience.

The reports read at the meeting indicated a satisfactory year's business. George McIntosh, of Braemar, was elected president. David Bonis, of St. Mary's, vice-president, and Columbus Ross, second vice-president. E. L. Sutherland, of Embury, is the secretary and George G. McKay, of Harrington, valuator.

Directors' Report.
Ninth report of the Western Farmers' Weather Insurance Mutual Company for the year ending December 31, 1914: To the Policyholders, Ladies, and Gentlemen—The directors of the said company beg to submit for your consideration the ninth annual report of the financial standing of the company as they appear on the 31st day of December, 1914.

We are pleased to state that the company has had a very successful year from every point of view. We started the year with a large overdraft, being caused by the very severe storms of 1913, which cost the company upwards of $25,000. A portion of the said claims was provided for during the year 1914. But notwithstanding the severe losses we had to meet it did not hinder the progress of the Company, for today our business is considerably larger than it has ever reached since its organization nine years ago. We are proud to be able to state that, according to the latest Government statement, sworn to by the officials of the different weather insurance companies, and admitted to the public by the Inspector of Insurance, our company, on the 31st day of December, 1913, shows $2,855,714.50 of insurance, also 1,275 policies, in excess of any other company of its kind doing business in Canada, which we feel should inspire confidence to our patrons.

The number of policies in force 31st of December, 1913, was 7,116. The amount of insurance was $8,862,104. The number of policies in force 31st of December, 1914, was 7,434. The total amount of insurance December 31, 1914, was $9,555,796, being an increase of 318 policies, and an increase in the amount of insurance of $672,692 for the year. The company started the year with an overdraft of $2,160 and several claims to adjust and provide for belonging to the previous year.

We adjusted and paid all our just losses (so far as we know) for the past year, and we are pleased to say we have to our credit in the Royal Bank and our books, December 31, uncollected arrears of premiums of year $6,000. A certain amount of this has been paid since the beginning of the year 1915, and notwithstanding that we sent out second notices to all policyholders a considerable percentage will still remain unpaid, of which the greater part can be considered good. It will be for the directors of 1915 to consider the

PETITION FOR PEACE HAS BEEN STARTED
BY GERMAN BODIES

LONDON, March 12. — 3:34 a.m. — A dispatch to the Exchange telegraph Company from Amsterdam says that the most important associations of German agriculturists, manufacturers and businessmen have petitioned the Imperial Chancellor to allow the discussion of terms of a prospective peace, so that the German people may have their say when the peace treaties are signed.

BERLIN (via London), March 12. — 2:50 a.m. — The Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, in an editorial referring to yesterday's petition by eco-

CRUISERS ORDERED
TO GUARD HARBORSUnited States Takes Action
To Preserve Neutrality—
Brooklyn At Boston.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels late today announced that the armored cruiser Brooklyn had been ordered to patrol the harbor at Boston to guard against violations of neutrality. The German auxiliary cruiser Kronprinzessin Cecilie is interned at Boston.

NEW YORK, March 12.—A conference on the general neutrality situation at the port of New York, was held today in the office of the collector of the port, Dudley Field Malone, at which were present, besides Mr. Malone, Rear Admiral Nathaniel R. Usher, commander of the Brooklyn Navy Yard; Capt. Ralph Earle, commander of the gunboat Dolphin, and Capt. George L. Carleton, commander of the cutter Mohawk of the United States Coast Guard. The Dolphin arrived at Tompkinsville today and joined the Mohawk in guarding the neutrality of this port.

Rear Admiral Usher said that the Drayton and the McDougal, two of the fastest torpedo boats in the navy, now on their way here from Guantanamo, Cuba, are due to arrive in two days.

In explaining the purpose of the conference, Collector Malone said it was "to discuss the necessary measures of co-operation and positions to be taken by the different ships for the purpose of enforcing the neutrality of the port."

GERMANY MAY KEEP
ITALY OUT OF WARInduces Austria To Agree To Concessions—Question
Not Settled.

LONDON, March 12. — Authoritative reports reaching The Hague from Berlin seem to indicate that Germany, with a view to securing Italy's neutrality, has induced Austria, despite vigorous opposition by Emperor Francis Joseph, to agree to make territorial concessions to Italy. In the event that Germany and Austria are victorious in the war.

It is understood, however, that although Italy has taken this attitude offer under consideration, no definite agreement has yet been reached. Italy's decision is awaited with anxious concern in all circles here.

The German imperial chancellor, Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, according to Berlin reports, at present is visiting the German headquarters at Mezières. It is stated here, however, that he will make a speech before the Reichstag committee.

Danish Steamer
Loaded With Oil
Taken by GermansOn Way to Stockholm Was Allowed To Pass By British.

LONDON, March 12.—10:52 p.m.—The steamer Bryssel, of Copenhagen, bound from Philadelphia to Stockholm with oil, was stopped in the Baltic by a German cruiser yesterday and taken to Swinemunde, according to Reuters' Copenhagen correspondent.

The Bryssel arrived at Kirkwall, March 1, and voluntarily submitted to an examination by the British authorities, who let her pass. She also stopped at Elsinore, Denmark, where she received declarations from the consignees, certified by the Swedish authorities, that the oil was destined for use only in Sweden.

ONE SURVIVOR LIVING.
HAMILTON, March 12.—Fifty-eight years ago today nearly 60 people lost their lives when a Grand Trunk train plunged through the bridge at the Desjardins Canal. The only survivor of the disaster alive today is Henry Urquhart, 387 Crawford avenue, Toronto. He was the express messenger. Mr. Urquhart is 81 years old, and well and hearty.

SMASH TURK FORTS
AS A SPORTSMAN
WOULD "POT" GAME

Makes Liberal Grant To Belgian Relief Fund.

WOODSTOCK, March 2. — At the annual meeting of the Western Farmers' Weather Insurance Mutual Company, held in the council chamber at the city hall on Thursday afternoon, the company unanimously voted $100 to the Belgian Relief Fund. The resolution providing for the grant was moved by John McLevin in speech in which there were many feeling references to the plight of the families of the brave Belgian soldiers, together with sentiments touching the sorry and duty of Canadians in the present crisis. The resolution was eloquently seconded by James Donaldson, of Atwood, who, in his own district, enjoys a reputation as a public speaker, and who has taken an active interest in patriotic work in Atwood and vicinity. Mr. Donaldson's address was a strong effort and one that made a visible effect upon the audience.

The reports read at the meeting indicated a satisfactory year's business. George McIntosh, of Braemar, was elected president. David Bonis, of St. Mary's, vice-president, and Columbus Ross, second vice-president. E. L. Sutherland, of Embury, is the secretary and George G. McKay, of Harrington, valuator.

Directors' Report.
Ninth report of the Western Farmers' Weather Insurance Mutual Company for the year ending December 31, 1914: To the Policyholders, Ladies, and Gentlemen—The directors of the said company beg to submit for your consideration the ninth annual report of the financial standing of the company as they appear on the 31st day of December, 1914.

We are pleased to state that the company has had a very successful year from every point of view. We started the year with a large overdraft, being caused by the very severe storms of 1913, which cost the company upwards of $25,000. A portion of the said claims was provided for during the year 1914. But notwithstanding the severe losses we had to meet it did not hinder the progress of the Company, for today our business is considerably larger than it has ever reached since its organization nine years ago. We are proud to be able to state that, according to the latest Government statement, sworn to by the officials of the different weather insurance companies, and admitted to the public by the Inspector of Insurance, our company, on the 31st day of December, 1913, shows $2,855,714.50 of insurance, also 1,275 policies, in excess of any other company of its kind doing business in Canada, which we feel should inspire confidence to our patrons.

The number of policies in force 31st of December, 1913, was 7,116. The amount of insurance was $8,862,104. The number of policies in force 31st of December, 1914, was 7,434. The total amount of insurance December 31, 1914, was $9,555,796, being an increase of 318 policies, and an increase in the amount of insurance of $672,692 for the year. The company started the year with an overdraft of $2,160 and several claims to adjust and provide for belonging to the previous year.

We adjusted and paid all our just losses (so far as we know) for the past year, and we are pleased to say we have to our credit in the Royal Bank and our books, December 31, uncollected arrears of premiums of year $6,000. A certain amount of this has been paid since the beginning of the year 1915, and notwithstanding that we sent out second notices to all policyholders a considerable percentage will still remain unpaid, of which the greater part can be considered good. It will be for the directors of 1915 to consider the best way and means to collect this balance.

We feel certain that the statements we are submitting to you today will appear to our patrons and be received as entirely satisfactory, and will meet with your approval.

Mr. Walter Murray, an esteemed member of the board, on account of ill-health, tendered his resignation as director, which the board very reluctantly accepted, and appointed Mr. C. W. Carroll (reeve of Norwich) in his stead to fill in his (Mr. Murray's) term of office, which expires today.

You will be required to elect five directors to fill the annual vacancies, also two auditors.

The directors whose terms of office expires this year are Messrs. T. C. Robson, J. R. Murray, John Calder, John Youngs and C. W. Carroll, all of whom are eligible for re-election. All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN DAVIDSON, President.

GENERALS WOUNDED

PARIS, March 12.—12:15 a.m.—An official statement issued by the war office says: "In the course of an inspection of an enemy first line trench 30 metres (about 90 feet) away, Gen. Maunoury, commander of one of our armies, and Gen. De Villaret, commander of one of the corps of his army, were wounded by bullets. They were examining the German line through the embrasures.

"The doctors have not yet given an opinion on the gravity of their wounds."

The French official army list contains the name of Gen. Michael Joseph Maunoury, former military governor of Paris, who was in command of the Allies' centre last September, and is reported to have commanded the French in the battle at Soissons in January.

The army list shows two Gens. De Villaret—E. G. T. De Villaret and A. M. A. De Villaret.

NO MORE LAY TEACHERS.
CALGARY, March 12.—The separate school board desires to dispense with lay teachers in the Catholic schools here, and aims at having by September only teachers who are members of some religious body.

CHANDLER SIX
$1750"The Six With the Marvelous Motor"Sensational New Price on the Leader of Light Sixes

THE announcement of the Chandler's new price came as the greatest surprise the automobile industry has had for many a year. It was the one big sensation of the Chicago Automobile Show. The continuation of the same Chandler model that met with such success when selling for $2150, at a $1750 price, offers a car value so far surpassing all others as to put it entirely in a class by itself.

Please note carefully that it is not a new cheap model. It is not experimental. Thousands of them are in service all over America. Nothing has been cut out to make the new price possible. The Chandler Company, now up to a point of heavy production and operating at a minimum overhead expense, has simply taken this bold step to attain a leadership which cannot be challenged.

Every Feature that has Made the Chandler
Famous is Retained

Yes, and every degree of fine workmanship and finish and every degree of high quality in materials. All the following features of design and construction are found on the Chandler, and not on any other six-cylinder car selling for less than $2000.

- Bosch magneto
- Gray & Davis separate unit electric starting and lighting system
- Enclosed silent chains for driving motor shafts
- Worm-bevel rear axle
- Bosch spark plugs
- Mayo genuine Mercedes type radiator
- Cast aluminum motor base extending solidly from frame to frame
- Rayfield carburetor
- Imported annular ball bearings throughout
- Genuine hand-buffed leather (not machine-buffed, split or imitation)
- Luxurious stream-line body
- Gold patent one-man top, covered with Jiffy curtains.
- Firestone demountable rims
- Large gasoline tank carried in rear
- Motor-driven horn, speedometer and all the usual incidental equipment
- And the marvelous Chandler motor built in the Chandler factory

Five-passenger and Seven-passenger Touring Bodies

You cannot afford to pay more than $1000 for an automobile without seeing the Chandler.

HENDRICK GARAGE, Dundas and Co'borne Sts.

Distributors for the Counties of Middlesex, Elgin, Lambton, Bruce, Oxford, Perth, Huron, Kent, Waterloo, Norfolk.

LIVE AGENTS INVESTIGATE THE GREATEST SELLING PROPOSITION IN CANADA THIS YEAR.

CHANDLER MOTOR CAR COMPANY, Manufacturers, CLEVELAND, U. S. A.

FITS CURED
By Trench's Remedy

The Famous Home Treatment for Epilepsy and Fits. Recommended by clergymen of all denominations. Twenty-five years' success. Over 1,000 unsolicited testimonials in use.

CONVINCING TESTIMONY
has been given by people in every walk of life. Those interested should write at once. Pamphlet containing proof positive post free from

Trench's Remedies, LIMITED,
415 St. James Chambers, TORONTO
Sole Proprietors, Trench's Remedies, Limited, Dublin, Ireland.

The Advertiser's Saturday Pages For Moving Picture Patrons--- The Master Key

By special arrangement for this paper a photodrama corresponding to the installments of "The Master Key" may now be seen at the Unique Theatre on each Wednesday and Thursday following its publication in the Advertiser. Thus it is not only possible to read "The Master Key," but also afterwards to see the moving pictures illustrating our story.

When the chest was open, dripping with ocean slime, corroded and mysterious, Harry Wilkerson stared at it stupidly. His mind went back down the years to that night when Thomas Gallon had drawn a plan by candle light, to the quarter, to his own desperate plight and escape. And now he was about to see for the first time the fatal paper, to know the secret of the wealth of the Master Key. He forgot his surroundings.

It was Jean Darnell who recalled him to the present. She leaned over his shoulder as he looked into the chest, and he looked into his nostrils. He looked up, laughed and then ordered the box taken out.

"It was dreaming," he said slowly. Then he looked at her directly and she saw the flame in his eyes.

"Why dream when things are coming true?" she parried.

"I wonder whether they will all come true," he said moodily, and followed the chest out.

The curious sailors set the box down and waited. It was evident from their attitudes that they expected nothing less than great treasure. Otherwise why this costly expedition?

But Wilkerson did not start immediately to open the chest. His very appearance seemed to bewilder them and his hands shook.

"Now you've got it," she said impatiently. "Hurry and open it."

Wilkerson stared around and picked up a marlinpike. He began to pry at the lock. Mrs. Darnell angrily jerked at his shoulder.

"Harry, you fool! Here is the key!" He took the article she handed him and nodded.

"We have the key. Fanny, I had forgot that."

With some difficulty he managed to clear the lock and insert the key. It turned with difficulty.

A moment later he had pried the lid back from its setting of rust and slime and saw all staring at him.

There was no sound except the trundling of the swiftly-revolving propeller and the heavy breathing of the sailors.

Wilkerson swung round angrily and ordered everybody forward. Then he began his search.

Old jackets, almost disintegrated by the action of water, pulpy paper, various odds and ends, came to his hand.

The pulp he carefully laid aside as being possibly what he was looking for.

"I'm afraid the plans are gone," Jean whispered.

"We must find them!" he snarled, and went on with his hunt.

Half way down he came upon a grotesque figure, dripping with weedy ooze. It stirred as he picked it up.

"An idol!" he gasped. Mrs. Darnell.

"Some sailor's curio! Well, go on! Idols don't talk."

An hour afterwards Harry Wilkerson took to his feet and kicked the soaked contents of the chest into the scupper. The idol rolled away and came to a stop upright against the bulkheads where it presented a ghastly, mysterious eyes.

"No plans!" muttered Wilkerson with a curse.

"Only an idol!" laughed Jean in wild derision. Then her handsome face flamed with wrath. She turned her back contemptuously on Wilkerson and stared across the water at the island which was pursuing them.

In the bitterness of her heart was no mingling of pity for her husband's self-contempt that she had depended on him, helped him. When she could control herself she went forward to get out of sight of the moaning heap of rubbish that had cost so much.

Presently a sailor made excuse to come aft and peered at the chest and its contents. He was also a little startled by the sight of the idol.

"Good in a pawnshop," he chuckled. "Thus comes now the plan of the Master Key mine escaped from Wilkerson's itching fingers."

When the launch put into San Pedro the Indian Dorr's launch also made its landing. "I'm going to Los Angeles," she said.

"You'll find me at the hotel—if you think it worth while."

He looked up from his business of setting the divers and made a gesture to detain her. He seemed to smile and then left. She paid no attention to one of the sailors who brushed by her, clutching a concealed object beneath his jacket.

This individual, once clear of the water front, quickly made his way to a pawnshop. He changed hands for a small sum, after much haggling.

Before Wilkerson had settled with the diver John Dorr's launch also made its landing, and the two enemies would have met except that Wilkerson had to go to bank to cash a draft.

As he slipped away he saw the other boat and laughed bitterly. Dorr was welcome to what there was in the old chest.

"There is just one thing to do," John said to the broken-hearted Ruth, "and that is to find out what Wilkerson did with what he got from your father's chest."

The captain of the other boat received them with a good-natured grin, and in answer to their inquiries pointed to the open box and the articles scattered on the deck.

"So far as I could make out," he went on, "there wasn't anything in the old chest worth the trouble of going after. At any rate Mr. Wilkerson and the lady seemed disappointed and put out."

"Didn't they take anything?" demanded Ruth, peering curiously at the moody chest.

"Not a thing, so far as I could discover," was the reply. "In fact I heard the two of them kind of quarrelling and the lady went off by herself."

"He is spending lots of money," she sighed. "How much longer can we keep this up, John? Surely we are broke again!"

"Not so long as good old Everett sticks by us," was the response.

"An old idol. But I'm sure neither of them will."

"But what became of it?" John continued, trying to conceal his anxiety.

"Maybe one of the men picked it up for a curio," the skipper said apologetically. "Everybody seemed to think it was a curio."

"Not a thing, so far as I could discover," was the reply. "In fact I heard the two of them kind of quarrelling and the lady went off by herself."

"He is spending lots of money," she sighed. "How much longer can we keep this up, John? Surely we are broke again!"

"Not so long as good old Everett sticks by us," was the response.

"An old idol. But I'm sure neither of them will."

"But what became of it?" John continued, trying to conceal his anxiety.

"Maybe one of the men picked it up for a curio," the skipper said apologetically. "Everybody seemed to think it was a curio."

the old thing was worthless, and you know a sailor will grab at that kind of thing. Better ask some of the crew."

A few moments later Dorr had learned that one of the sailors had indeed taken the idol, and he was up and about it, apparently to sell it.

John thanked the captain, and when he and Ruth were out of earshot he said, "That idol is what we are after, Ruth."

"But where can we find it?" she murmured.

"We must trace the sailor. Ten to one he'll try to sell it to a second-hand pawnshop. I think, Ruth," he answered.

"That thing seems to be wanted pretty much," he remarked. "I bought it for a good price and sold it to a Hindu a little while after for a rug. Maybe you would like to buy a rug?"

They made it plain that rugs did not interest them and departed with the poor satisfaction of knowing that the object of their search was in the hands of a second-hand dealer.

"We can do no more just now," John told Ruth.

"No," was the response. "But I am going to keep an eye out for a Hindu rug seller. I don't imagine there's very many of them here, so it ought to be an easy matter to pick him up."

As they walked back to the hotel Ruth grew more cheerful. At any rate, Wilkerson and Mrs. Darnell missed it, she remarked.

"I never understood just why that woman mixed herself up in this," John said thoughtfully. "You must have some notion, Ruth. You were with her some time."

"No," she said, blushing divinely. "Father didn't like her and wouldn't have anything to do with her or her father after that."

"Wilkerson is certainly in love with her," John said.

"I think he is," Ruth assented. "But she doesn't care anything about him. I'm sure. All she is after is money."

Later in the evening, as they discussed the events of the day, John brought up the subject of Wilkerson's anxiety for the papers again.

"The fact that old Tom Gallon had always insisted on Wilkerson's knowledge of something."

"I wonder just what it was," he went on. "He knows that that Hindu peddler is, he's concealed his knowledge pretty well, and the eagerness he is showing to get hold of the plans is proof of that."

"He is spending lots of money," she sighed. "How much longer can we keep this up, John? Surely we are broke again!"

"Not so long as good old Everett sticks by us," was the response.

"An old idol. But I'm sure neither of them will."

"But what became of it?" John continued, trying to conceal his anxiety.

"Maybe one of the men picked it up for a curio," the skipper said apologetically. "Everybody seemed to think it was a curio."

"Not a thing, so far as I could discover," was the reply. "In fact I heard the two of them kind of quarrelling and the lady went off by herself."

"He is spending lots of money," she sighed. "How much longer can we keep this up, John? Surely we are broke again!"

"Not so long as good old Everett sticks by us," was the response.

"An old idol. But I'm sure neither of them will."

"But what became of it?" John continued, trying to conceal his anxiety.

"Maybe one of the men picked it up for a curio," the skipper said apologetically. "Everybody seemed to think it was a curio."

"Not a thing, so far as I could discover," was the reply. "In fact I heard the two of them kind of quarrelling and the lady went off by herself."

"He is spending lots of money," she sighed. "How much longer can we keep this up, John? Surely we are broke again!"

"Not so long as good old Everett sticks by us," was the response.

"An old idol. But I'm sure neither of them will."

"But what became of it?" John continued, trying to conceal his anxiety.

"Maybe one of the men picked it up for a curio," the skipper said apologetically. "Everybody seemed to think it was a curio."

"Not a thing, so far as I could discover," was the reply. "In fact I heard the two of them kind of quarrelling and the lady went off by herself."

"He is spending lots of money," she sighed. "How much longer can we keep this up, John? Surely we are broke again!"

"Not so long as good old Everett sticks by us," was the response.

"An old idol. But I'm sure neither of them will."

"But what became of it?" John continued, trying to conceal his anxiety.

"Maybe one of the men picked it up for a curio," the skipper said apologetically. "Everybody seemed to think it was a curio."

his being. It had made a bravo of a coward. It had welded a dozen strands of viciousness into a strong character—strong only in its relation to the woman. The past few weeks, with their wildness, risk, crime and continual plotting, had made the Harry Wilkerson who was a weakling and sport of circumstances, into a person of steel.

He must be dealt with, Jean Darnell realized something of this when he next spoke.

"All this has been disappointing," he said quietly, his eyes burning steadily on hers. "But the more disappointments I have to overcome, the more worth while it makes you."

"Quite an old-time knight!" she said scornfully, but with an effort.

"I am going to get that idol," he went on. "I know that two things there are millions in gold hidden in the Master Key mine and the plans are concealed in that image."

"Will you have them?" she cried, trying to fight against the man's evil power.

"Tomorrow," he returned.

He nodded gravely. She read the message in his eyes, and shuddered. He looked into his eyes and called upon him to save them, as his prophet had said he was able.

Thus, with the folk believing on the go of his vision, the prophet prayed also to the spirit of the deity, and the rain came from the hills and the river rose and the morning green. When they had been saved and their beliefs

What the Camera Fails To Snap in the Movie Films

Operator Gets Action Alright, But What About the Director?

[BY JOE WALTERS.]

The train runs out onto the wobbly trestle. The structure is seen to tremor under the strain of pounding tons.

The supporting beams slowly buckle. There is an instant's pause. Then gravity gets in its work, and coaches, locomotive belching steam and smoke, hurtle recklessly into the rushing torrent below.

Heads appear above the surface of the water. People are struggling faintly for life. Nearby there is a woman struggling faintly. Then a man's head appears. With swift overhand strokes he reaches the sinking form, and, half-drowned, bears it to shore.

Then, "passed by the Ontario board of censors," dashed before the eyes and reeked the tense audience to its surroundings. Facing those in the crowded theatre is a blank screen. The vision has vanished.

Melodramatic? Certainly. But it's happening in movie houses every day. And what is remembered? The wreck? Yes; but the vivid picture is in the sensational rescue of the drowning woman. It is the expressions on her face that the audience has not to see.

But the chief thing about that picture is that the director must be that way, or the realism would be torn from the picture. He is generally a man in shirt sleeves with a megaphone. He is a bundle of animation. He seems to have eyes in the back of his head. He doesn't act any particular part, but he acts all of the parts in order, there is no part that he does not play.

And in their last misery men turned, and Scott & Brown, Toronto, Ontario.

Keep Your Lungs Strong

This advice is doubly important with the knowledge that every three minutes some one in the United States succumbs to consumption.

It is after colds or sickness, from overwork, confining duties or when general weakness exists that tubercular germs become active, and the relative powers of the body are weakened.

Only with fresh air, sunshine and abundant rich food can one hope to arrest their progress, and the concentration of Scott's Emulsion is found for rich food, and its rare nourishment helps strengthen the lungs while it builds up the force.

If you work indoors, the easily felt lack of fresh air, Scott's Emulsion is the most strengthening food-medicine known and is free from stupefying drugs.

Scott & Brown, Toronto, Ontario.

Scott's Emulsion Made in Canada

MRS. LYON'S

ACHES AND PAINS

Have All Gone Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Terro Hill, Pa.—"Kindly permit me to give you my testimonials in favor of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I first began taking it, I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches—pains in lower part of back and throat, and pressing down pains. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman. I highly recommend it to all women."—Mrs. Augustus Lyon, Terro Hill, Pa.

It is true that nature and a woman's body are made to produce and remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made, a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as a standard remedy for woman's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health—many of them open to the public. They are the letters of women who have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; and in some cases too, it has saved them from surgical operations.

Love is a noun which conveys no definite meaning without an adjective. There is, indeed, an essence of love, a complete and all-absorbing passion before which even the gods bow and against which the world is powerless. Too often we must describe it as lawless. Yet it also exists when it evokes reverence of the most mystical. Wilkerson's love for Jean Darnell was the very essence of as men will, to one who dreamed. Reality was death. Dreams held out the promise of life. And this dreamer, as do all who follow a vision, made his dream into a goal.

People listened to his tale of a deity who was merciful to listen and powerful to save. They fed on the dreamer's words and called him a prophet. Yet still the earth refused food and the river shrank within its bed. Then they went to the prophet and called on him to save them and to call his god to their aid. Like many prophets, he found himself forced to materialize his dream.

In order that the common folk might see and believe: for he had taught them that unless they believed there was no salvation.

"How can we believe in a god whom we cannot see?" they cried.

"I believe, though I do not see nor feel," he told them. "But they were not satisfied and menaced him with stones."

So he took metals and fire and made an image of his god and a shrine for it, and set the image in the shrine, where it might see and worship.

And the people prayed to this new god and laid offerings at his feet and called upon him to save them, as his prophet had said he was able.

Thus, with the folk believing on the go of his vision, the prophet prayed also to the spirit of the deity, and the rain came from the hills and the river rose and the morning green. When they had been saved and their beliefs

What the Camera Fails To Snap in the Movie Films

Operator Gets Action Alright, But What About the Director?

[BY JOE WALTERS.]

The train runs out onto the wobbly trestle. The structure is seen to tremor under the strain of pounding tons.

The supporting beams slowly buckle. There is an instant's pause. Then gravity gets in its work, and coaches, locomotive belching steam and smoke, hurtle recklessly into the rushing torrent below.

Heads appear above the surface of the water. People are struggling faintly for life. Nearby there is a woman struggling faintly. Then a man's head appears. With swift overhand strokes he reaches the sinking form, and, half-drowned, bears it to shore.

Then, "passed by the Ontario board of censors," dashed before the eyes and reeked the tense audience to its surroundings. Facing those in the crowded theatre is a blank screen. The vision has vanished.

Melodramatic? Certainly. But it's happening in movie houses every day. And what is remembered? The wreck? Yes; but the vivid picture is in the sensational rescue of the drowning woman. It is the expressions on her face that the audience has not to see.

But the chief thing about that picture is that the director must be that way, or the realism would be torn from the picture. He is generally a man in shirt sleeves with a megaphone. He is a bundle of animation. He seems to have eyes in the back of his head. He doesn't act any particular part, but he acts all of the parts in order, there is no part that he does not play.

And in their last misery men turned, and Scott & Brown, Toronto, Ontario.

Keep Your Lungs Strong

This advice is doubly important with the knowledge that every three minutes some one in the United States succumbs to consumption.

It is after colds or sickness, from overwork, confining duties or when general weakness exists that tubercular germs become active, and the relative powers of the body are weakened.

Only with fresh air, sunshine and abundant rich food can one hope to arrest their progress, and the concentration of Scott's Emulsion is found for rich food, and its rare nourishment helps strengthen the lungs while it builds up the force.

If you work indoors, the easily felt lack of fresh air, Scott's Emulsion is the most strengthening food-medicine known and is free from stupefying drugs.

Scott & Brown, Toronto, Ontario.

Scott's Emulsion Made in Canada

MRS. LYON'S

ACHES AND PAINS

Have All Gone Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Terro Hill, Pa.—"Kindly permit me to give you my testimonials in favor of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I first began taking it, I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches—pains in lower part of back and throat, and pressing down pains. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman. I highly recommend it to all women."—Mrs. Augustus Lyon, Terro Hill, Pa.

It is true that nature and a woman's body are made to produce and remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made, a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as a standard remedy for woman's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health—many of them open to the public. They are the letters of women who have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; and in some cases too, it has saved them from surgical operations.

Love is a noun which conveys no definite meaning without an adjective. There is, indeed, an essence of love, a complete and all-absorbing passion before which even the gods bow and against which the world is powerless. Too often we must describe it as lawless. Yet it also exists when it evokes reverence of the most mystical. Wilkerson's love for Jean Darnell was the very essence of were full the people went away and left the prophet alone with his god and his deserted shrine.

Yet always in time of trouble and stress they remembered the god who had saved them and returned to his worship, so that in season other prophets of old arose and erected a temple and taught the people to bring offerings at all times. Thus the image became the image of the tutelary deity of the city and its river, with offerings to do him homage and obey his commands.

Centuries passed, and the god still maintained his place; his priesthood prospered, his temple was never empty. And one day a drunken sailor wandered into the temple to stare at the heathen wonders, and when he slipped away the image of the god was vacant.

"He has gone on a journey," said the terrified priests, and concealed the fact. But the high priest sent a scout to take a steamer for India and the city by the river. The image was concealed with all reverence in his bundle of rugs and the moved cautiously, because of the dream.

"How shall we find him?" they asked.

"By a path of death and destruction," was the answer.

So they set out and found the sailor who had stolen the image. Jean Darnell's last but for wealth and Harry Wilkerson's passion for a woman without a heart in the possession of a grotesque image, made by a dreamer in far-off India centuries before when a city died and a river waned within its bed!

(To be continued.)

Washburn is married to pretty little Mabel Forrest, who sometimes appears in the pictures with him. Like a goodly number of the photo plays' handsome men, he has been captured, and his captor is a movie queen, as is also often the case with the camera people.

IS HE MARRIED?—SURE! Is Bryant Washburn, the "heavy" man of the Eganay Company, who plays "Upstairs" Francis X. Bushman, the Eganay star, married? And is it to Beverly Bayne, the pretty little actress who he is always trying to win in the films, and who he always loses to handsome Bushman? Certainly not! Mr. Washburn is married.

IS IT SLANG? The word slang. Is it slang? Is it a word of the moment? Or is it here to stay? Recently "Photoplay" conducted a contest. The magazine sent a question to 1,000 editors throughout the United States. The query was this: "Do you consider the word 'slang' as applicable to a moving picture theater or film, a good word, and do you approve of its use in your newspapers?" When the answers were counted, 733 had been turned in. Of these, 311 were "yes," and only 222 were marked "no." Evidently the consensus of opinion is for placing the word side by side with "English" as it is written in Webster's big book.

A NEGRO PLAY. "The Negro Governor," a play dealing with the negro problem in the Southern States, is being produced by the William Fox players in August.

WHAT DOES SHE CARE FOR WAR? Although the war is raging in Europe, there is one movie actress who does not care that it will interfere with her work. She is Irene Fenwick, who has been called the "movie" queen of New York. She recently signed a three-year moving picture contract, and will go to Europe next summer for the picturing of "Hawthorne, U. S. A."

"SNAPS" TRAVELLING BULLET. The latest accomplishment of the moving picture camera is to "snap" the progress of a bullet hurtling through space. The regulation shutter is supplanted in the outfit by a device that snaps out electric sparks at the rate of 100,000 per second. The wheel which turns the film, revolves at the rate of 9,000 revolutions per minute.

WORLD'S LARGEST MOVIE MOUSE. The largest movie house in the world is "The Strand," in New York, which has a seating capacity of 3,500. It is estimated that the daily attendance of this picture house is at least 10,000. The Strand is a movie house of record, and has been running for a little over a year. In that time box office receipts have shown that the attendance for twelve months totalled nearly four million.

A REAL MOVIE WEDDING. Of the hundreds of nuptial knots that are tied before the camera for production before thousands of people who demand the realistic in photo plays, there is occasionally a sure-enough wedding.

advertisement No. 1

Where Will We Stay in New York?

This is the question that worries many in planning their trip.

Consider the Location

Serial Stories and Notes About Great Players of the Film World

Runaway June

By George Randolph Chester and Lillian Chester

By special arrangement for this paper a photo-drama corresponding to the installments of "Runaway June" may now be seen at the Star Theatre. By arrangements made with the Mutual Film Corporation, it is not only possible to read "Runaway June" each week, but also to attend to see moving pictures illustrating our story.

Copyright, 1915, by Serial Publication Corporation.
FIRST EPISODE.
THE MAN WITH THE BLACK VANDYKE.

Chapter I.
The quivering centre of all the intense agitation in Brynport was Bouncer. That energetic could remember no occasion so exciting as this in the Moore household, but as everyone seemed thoroughly satisfied, Bouncer helped in the happiness until his tail ached.

Once, and once only, Bouncer had been able to get past old Aunt Debby. This time he caught that coal black cook with her hands full of snow-white dough. She lost her dignity and her centre of gravity and sat down on the floor with a plump which jarred the house as Bouncer plunged beneath her flaring skirts, but she saved the dough! Bouncer meanwhile was up the back stairs, and a brown and white streak had flashed into the dimly-lighted room of his friend, friends and playfellow, pretty June Moore. Here all was billowy confusion. June herself, standing by the long, low row of delicately-ornamented windows, was the nucleus of all the frothing white. Her girlish cheeks were flushed and her eyes were wide and shining, and a fat dressmaker, with her lip in her mouth and a mass of distasteful wrinkles in her brow, was on her knees completely encircling June with pats and pulls and twitches. A brown-beaten dressmaker's helper, with a flaming red spot in each cheek and her yellow hair dragging to denote her repressed agony, and with her bosom stuffed full of pins and needles and things, was standing rigidly to one side holding an orange blossomed veil, June's mother, in a very special dress, and with her hair done in the most painful precision of which a Frenchwoman was capable, stood just in front of June, wringing her hands and helping with her eyes in all the sacred ceremonies.

Marie, Marie of the broom and duster, black-haired and red-gummed, waited near, with a wide grin and moist eyes, to have things hung upon her, when there was no more space upon the little white bed nor any of the chairs. Over by the door, talking incessantly, was Mrs. Blomberg, a black-haired as Marie, as fat as the dressmaker's helper, when she was excited than all of them put together. She was the bosom friend.

For only a moment Bouncer was permitted to gaze upon this puzzling scene. When he sprang too near the central figure of it all, with the perfectly natural and commendable intention of leaping upon her, the woman's undying affection, there was a combined shriek from six women, and five of them put him out.

Well, it was a strange world, and by way of setting his mind at ease Bouncer ran six times around the house and chased a cat up a tree and exhaled long views with all the neighbouring children who hung upon the fence waiting to see the bride.

There were pink bridesmaids at every window, and a nice, regular fat girl, dressed in white and with a white apron, Albert, walked up and down the porch, looking at his watch until eternity dragged by, but when the time came, he was the housewife began to move, and Bouncer, with a yelp of welcome, sprang to his regular seat by the side of the first driver, Jerry, who pointed merrily at the cat and the dog and the children who were in the neighborhood, and then the door opened and the neighborhood children found it difficult to recognize June Moore, but shiny robes and pale cheeks were no disguise to Bouncer.

"Bouncer!" June Moore, in all her important finery, stooped swiftly down and took his head between her white-gloved hands and looked into his wistful eyes and touched her cheek for a moment, upon his sullen ear and whispered to him, of all the world, her last girlish secret. The June Moore, last girlish secret, dragged Bouncer back and locked him in the shed, while June Moore rode away never to be June Moore again.

What was this new world which she was approaching? No bride known and no woman. June sailed contentedly. Ned—how he had filled her world! And how happy they were to be.

Why, they were at the chapel, the pretty little grey chapel loaded with vines. And there was a window of the Sunday school room and looking so strained and uncomfortable. And there were the ushers in the doorway. She hardly knew how she was suddenly transformed into a procession.

Why, here was Ned, close beside her, and trembling! In a mist they knelt and said responses, and Ned put a ring on her finger. His own fingers were cold and clammy, but his voice was clear and earnest as he promised to love, cherish and protect her as he bestowed upon her all his worldly goods.

Someone in the church was crying softly—Irish Blomberg, the bosom friend. Husband Bobbie was comically patting her hand. There was a general dabbling of handkerchiefs. Bright-eyed little old Grandma Moore smiled and smiled, with as smart a gown as any there. Ned's father, a strong-faced, handsome man, sat stolidly with his arms folded and went over the ceremony with his lips, word for word. Bouncer trotted down the aisle, wagging his tail, his blue ribbon torn, and the marks of the earth under the shed upon his fluffy coat.

THE WEDDING OF JUNE AND NED.

Then the organ pealed again, and beneath the vine swung portals, which June Moore had entered on the arm of her father, June Warner, on the arm of her husband, now emerged into the world.

Then the bustle and confusion began again—the mad scramble into travelling clothes, and the going away, and the speeding of friends, and the semi-hysteria of Mrs. Blomberg, with Bouncer barking his indignance protest somewhere in the misted distance.

Just before June came downstairs in her trim little travelling suit of blue her mother had slipped something into the hand of every woman's tragedy. It was a purse stuffed with crackling bills.

That they were alone, launched upon the sea of life! They were in the tiny drawing-room with a white-toothed porter stowing things into racks and hanging things on mooks and sticking flowers everywhere.

Ned had clasped her in his arms and had covered her blushing face, with kisses in that first realization, and now she sat by the window, her head pillowed contentedly upon his shoulder, and loved the world they had known up to this point in their lives was slipping away from her. A tiny child darted into her eye. Her first instinct was to grab her handkerchief, and the search for that resulted in a little cry of dismay.

"My money," she replied in concern, with all once a panic springing into her heart.

"That all?" he laughed. "Well, little wife," and he laughed again at her eyes. "I'm just the same as your purse, except that you can't lose me," he told her, dwelling with fond eyes upon her long lashes, her smooth, round cheeks, her red lips. He reached into his pocket with bluff heartiness and produced a roll of bills just as the porter came in with two snowy pillows.

"Good work, George!" approved Ned, and catching two bulging eyes fixed upon the roll of bills he held in his hands, Ned stripped off a dollar. "Is my letter of introduction?" he observed as he passed it over.

Ned turned to June, smiling, as the porter went out of the door and took the money. "I think you'll feel happier carrying this around."

He stuffed the bills into her clasped hands. She tried to close her hands against it, with a sudden instinct which she could not fathom, tried to draw away from the money, but his fingers, he kissed her and straightened up to put the balance of the money in his pocket.

She looked at the bills, while a slow flush of crimson came up over her face. Why should this have embarrassed and humiliated her? It seemed absurd, for this was a part of marriage.

Ned sat beside her and put his arms around her, and she held up her lips to be kissed. Suddenly she buried her head on his shoulder and cried. Something had been broken. The man had given and she had received.

Chapter II.
There was a shadow on the Palisades, the greenness of a cloud which had not been there as they had started upon this journey. Money—the woman's money.

It had been all right for June to coax her mother and wheedle her father, but they were mummy and daddy. Yes, but that was it—he would give it to her! She would be the recipient of his bounty, or, worse still, would be paid for being his wife! She suddenly arrived at the startling fact that this was the status of every wife. It was a most disgusting thought, destructive of self-respect. It was unbearable.

Ned Warner felt the precious head on his shoulder become heavy. Poor little girl. Getting ready to be married was a black, wild country with more strange birds flying over it and no human habitation in sight. There were human creatures, though, two of them—a big, ponderous-jawed savage, with matted hair who carried an enormous club over one shoulder. Behind him trudged a smaller figure, a woman, with matted hair hanging to her waist, in her nose was a ring, and to this ring was attached a leather thong, the other end of which was in the man's hand. He was taking home his bride. Must this wedding march, the little girl, ivy-hung chapel at Brynport. Was that Ned coming down the aisle? Was that June, his bride? Was that a leather thong in Ned's hand? Oh! Was the other end of that thong—

There was a sudden jolt and screeching noise, a bang and the sound of hissing steam. June Warner jumped wildly to her feet and gazed around the little compartment. There were the two savages, one crouching and the other standing. Comprehension came to her slowly, for she was still half in her dream. The train had stopped. She snatched at the door, threw open the door, and looked out. A man, tall, slender, with a bag which contained her little travelling trunk, then she jerked open the door, and looked out. A man, tall, slender, with a bag which contained her little travelling trunk, then she jerked open the door, and looked out.

That troubled knitting of June Warner's beautifully arched brows had not been due to the light shining in her eyes, but to the first flame which had sprung up in her mind, and that flame danced itself into the figures of weird dreams. She saw Ned tipping the white-toothed porter; then she saw Ned, with equally hearty generosity, giving her down one of the blinds.

"That troubling knitting of June Warner's beautifully arched brows had not been due to the light shining in her eyes, but to the first flame which had sprung up in her mind, and that flame danced itself into the figures of weird dreams. She saw Ned tipping the white-toothed porter; then she saw Ned, with equally hearty generosity, giving her down one of the blinds.

Wonderful cookies, those! June was just reaching for one when, much to her disappointment, they were not there. Aunt Debby was not there. The familiar old kitchen was not there. Why, this was the kitchen of the new apartments. The next which was waiting for Ned and herself after the honeymoon! June was in a big white and blue dotted apron, struggling in the baffling art of making cookies. Someone came in. Ned—his eyes shining as the fragrant cakes were drawn from the oven! June turned them over on a white cloth. Ned turned his fingers on one of the cookies and he burned his tongue, but he was highly pleased with the taste and he gave June some money. He patted her on the shoulder and then he gave her the money, paying Aunt Debby and patting that valuable cook approvingly on the shoulder.

In her dream June saw Ned's office, a stiff, prim place, as stolid as the elder Warner. There was a nice-looking stenographer, quite obviously great friends with the young secretary, and there was a nice-looking young boy. It was evidently Saturday night, for Ned presently rose from his desk and walked over to the nice-looking stenographer. He handed her the envelope containing her pay, and they exchanged a frank smile and a pleasant word. Pretty good pay for the stenographer, he thought. Ned handed the nice-looking secretary an envelope. They exchanged a few pleasant words and a frank smile. Ned handed the nice-looking young boy an envelope and laughingly squeezed the boy's chin and ruffled his hair. The boy grinned delightedly and popped the envelope into his inside pocket. Then Ned walked over to June and handed her an envelope. It was larger than his others. He bowed to her very courteously as he presented it. He spoke a few pleasant words, but did not smile frankly, and she cast down her eyes. There seemed to be a distinct understanding that she had not earned her envelope! A poor, shivering old woman sat huddled in a doorway. Ned stopped, looked at the old woman a moment and then walked across to her and handed her a collection of his money. He was in spite of his compassion. He broadened his chest with the exhilaration of the good deed, then he smiled down at his wife most generously. Yes, his wife, for the old woman was gone and June, in luxurious furs, but huddled, was in the doorway. It was she to whom he had given the money.

A man and tattered, pinched and hungry-looking little boy stood mutely beside them, pitiful appeal in his upturned eyes, and held out his clawing little palm. Ned, beaming with kindly goodwill, placed a coin in the outstretched palm, and put his hand in benediction on the head of the boy for it was she, and not the little boy, who stood there pitifully begging.

What wonderful scene was this! A black, wild country with more strange birds flying over it and no human habitation in sight. There were human creatures, though, two of them—a big, ponderous-jawed savage, with matted hair who carried an enormous club over one shoulder. Behind him trudged a smaller figure, a woman, with matted hair hanging to her waist, in her nose was a ring, and to this ring was attached a leather thong, the other end of which was in the man's hand. He was taking home his bride. Must this wedding march, the little girl, ivy-hung chapel at Brynport. Was that Ned coming down the aisle? Was that June, his bride? Was that a leather thong in Ned's hand? Oh! Was the other end of that thong—

There was a sudden jolt and screeching noise, a bang and the sound of hissing steam. June Warner jumped wildly to her feet and gazed around the little compartment. There were the two savages, one crouching and the other standing. Comprehension came to her slowly, for she was still half in her dream. The train had stopped. She snatched at the door, threw open the door, and looked out. A man, tall, slender, with a bag which contained her little travelling trunk, then she jerked open the door, and looked out. A man, tall, slender, with a bag which contained her little travelling trunk, then she jerked open the door, and looked out.

That troubling knitting of June Warner's beautifully arched brows had not been due to the light shining in her eyes, but to the first flame which had sprung up in her mind, and that flame danced itself into the figures of weird dreams. She saw Ned tipping the white-toothed porter; then she saw Ned, with equally hearty generosity, giving her down one of the blinds.

"That troubling knitting of June Warner's beautifully arched brows had not been due to the light shining in her eyes, but to the first flame which had sprung up in her mind, and that flame danced itself into the figures of weird dreams. She saw Ned tipping the white-toothed porter; then she saw Ned, with equally hearty generosity, giving her down one of the blinds.

Wonderful cookies, those! June was just reaching for one when, much to her disappointment, they were not there. Aunt Debby was not there. The familiar old kitchen was not there. Why, this was the kitchen of the new apartments. The next which was waiting for Ned and herself after the honeymoon! June was in a big white and blue dotted apron, struggling in the baffling art of making cookies. Someone came in. Ned—his eyes shining as the fragrant cakes were drawn from the oven! June turned them over on a white cloth. Ned turned his fingers on one of the cookies and he burned his tongue, but he was highly pleased with the taste and he gave June some money. He patted her on the shoulder and then he gave her the money, paying Aunt Debby and patting that valuable cook approvingly on the shoulder.

In her dream June saw Ned's office, a stiff, prim place, as stolid as the elder Warner. There was a nice-looking stenographer, quite obviously great friends with the young secretary, and there was a nice-looking young boy. It was evidently Saturday night, for Ned presently rose from his desk and walked over to the nice-looking stenographer. He handed her the envelope containing her pay, and they exchanged a frank smile and a pleasant word. Pretty good pay for the stenographer, he thought. Ned handed the nice-looking secretary an envelope. They exchanged a few pleasant words and a frank smile. Ned handed the nice-looking young boy an envelope and laughingly squeezed the boy's chin and ruffled his hair. The boy grinned delightedly and popped the Chapter III.

Ned Warner, as the train pulled out from that momentum station, was in the washroom of the smoker, with a pleasant smile on his lips, making the most elaborate toilet of his existence. He was to have the honor of dining alone for the first time with his charming wife.

Thoroughly complacent, he strolled back through the car to awaken the sweetest girl in the world, the little "June!" he called, and turned to bend over her seat.

"So there! I don't know, boss!" he replied, as scared by caution alone as if he had been accused of throwing the pretty little bride out of the window. "Honest to the Lord, I don't know!"

The delectable search began from that instant. In about two minutes the conductor, the brakeman, all the porters, and half the passengers were searching for June Warner.

At that particular moment the New York express overtook the local and slowly forged ahead, and Ned Warner, peering feverishly into every passing window saw the suave, black Vandyke stranger bending gracefully over his wife, and June was smiling up at him. Then Ned, against his will, passed on.

The express, however, was delayed a moment, and the local pulled in ahead of it. Ned was the first passenger out with the woman which had suddenly grown up in her she could not make of her marriage with Ned the sacred relationship which she had held as her ideal. The black Vandyke man passed quite near her, gazing at her with a smile. She walked around him.

Where should she go? Home? She could see her father and mother plying her with question upon question, driving her to tears with their worried insistence and their utter lack of understanding. How could they understand a young girl who had grown up since their youth had passed? Not home, then.

"If not home, where then? As if from the setting sun the answer came to her. Her wily question upon question, driving her to tears with their worried insistence and their utter lack of understanding. How could they understand a young girl who had grown up since their youth had passed? Not home, then.

Ned, at that moment was extracting slow information from a half-dead and totally dumb old woman with a cross-grained disposition. Yes, she had seen a young woman get off the train at a place called Farnville. She didn't know if the station was Farnville, or not, but the girl had run on her hat.

June Warner, standing on the station platform, had grasped meantime with the first problem of her independence. That problem had to do with the means of getting to New York, and it was a minute and was inquiring for a lonely gold watch.

In the meantime Ned's train had drawn up at the next stop, and he had the station master's name, "She's with a minute and was inquiring for a lonely gold watch."

"Why, yes," huskily shouted the station master. "A young person of that description has been found around here on the platform, and she's just getting on the down local." He reported the station master. "She's with a minute and was inquiring for a lonely gold watch."

A black Vandyke stranger! Ned almost recoiled. So that was why she had left the train!

"Stop them!" he yelled. But the phone was dead. Stationmasters are busy people.

He hurried to a down train. Ned looked at the bulletin-board. The New York express. It arrived in New York at the same time as the local. The first passenger in the board that train was a young man, tall, slender, with a bag which contained her little travelling trunk, then she jerked open the door, and looked out.

June, paying but little attention to the man, who had helped her, turned near to the car, a day coach, and viewed the interior with despair. In that coach there were only two passengers—a man and a woman, sitting together.

could take on a wheedling tone, but it did. "I want $10."

The man turned to her with cold disdain. He produced $10 from a tight-bound wallet and instantly into June's mind there flashed that picture of her standing before Ned a piteous beggar!

The runaway bride took a seat by herself and was presently given the discomfort of knowing that the man was grumbling at the woman incessantly for having bought the watch. The black Vandyke man went over to them, and she saw him pay some money, and then he came back to June with the watch in his hand.

"Of course, you won't permit me to present you with this!" he pleasantly observed. "If you care to send for it later, however, I will be very glad indeed to give you my card."

"Thank you," she accepted, and, taking the card, put it in her belt. "You are very kind."

It was not until they were nearing the station in New York that he spoke to her again.

"Pardon me," he said, bending over her. "If I can be of any service to you on your arrival I shall be very happy indeed."

"There is nothing, thank you," she replied, smiling up at him. "You are very kind."

At that particular moment the New York express overtook the local and slowly forged ahead, and Ned Warner, peering feverishly into every passing window saw the suave, black Vandyke stranger bending gracefully over his wife, and June was smiling up at him. Then Ned, against his will, passed on.

The express, however, was delayed a moment, and the local pulled in ahead of it. Ned was the first passenger out with the woman which had suddenly grown up in her she could not make of her marriage with Ned the sacred relationship which she had held as her ideal. The black Vandyke man passed quite near her, gazing at her with a smile. She walked around him.

Where should she go? Home? She could see her father and mother plying her with question upon question, driving her to tears with their worried insistence and their utter lack of understanding. How could they understand a young girl who had grown up since their youth had passed? Not home, then.

"If not home, where then? As if from the setting sun the answer came to her. Her wily question upon question, driving her to tears with their worried insistence and their utter lack of understanding. How could they understand a young girl who had grown up since their youth had passed? Not home, then.

Ned, at that moment was extracting slow information from a half-dead and totally dumb old woman with a cross-grained disposition. Yes, she had seen a young woman get off the train at a place called Farnville. She didn't know if the station was Farnville, or not, but the girl had run on her hat.

June Warner, standing on the station platform, had grasped meantime with the first problem of her independence. That problem had to do with the means of getting to New York, and it was a minute and was inquiring for a lonely gold watch.

In the meantime Ned's train had drawn up at the next stop, and he had the station master's name, "She's with a minute and was inquiring for a lonely gold watch."

"Why, yes," huskily shouted the station master. "A young person of that description has been found around here on the platform, and she's just getting on the down local." He reported the station master. "She's with a minute and was inquiring for a lonely gold watch."

A black Vandyke stranger! Ned almost recoiled. So that was why she had left the train!

"Stop them!" he yelled. But the phone was dead. Stationmasters are busy people.

He hurried to a down train. Ned looked at the bulletin-board. The New York express. It arrived in New York at the same time as the local. The first passenger in the board that train was a young man, tall, slender, with a bag which contained her little travelling trunk, then she jerked open the door, and looked out.

voice, and a panting porter piled Ned's white-ribboned luggage on top of him.

Away through the tangled traffic, across Forty-fourth street and up Fifth avenue rushed the three taxis at break-neck speed.

(To Be Continued.)

Stage Training Necessary For Movie Success?

Just Put Emotional Feeling Into Picture Says Pretty Beverly Bayne.

[By JOE WALTERS.]
Is it necessary to have training on the "legitimate" stage before breaking into the "movie" game? Actors say yes and no. Beverly Bayne, the popular favorite of the Essanay Company, who plays leads with Francis X. Bushman, declares that no theatrical training is necessary to make a successful "movie" star. She says that all that is necessary is to put emotional feeling into a picture. And Beverly Bayne should know. She has had no experience previous to the first time she stepped before a camera in a minor role and was "taken." From the first her success was almost phenomenal. Here has been an untold triumph, as her large following of "fans" prove.

Marguerite Snow is another popular actress who does not believe that a start must be made before the footlights. This winsome lady played the difficult role of the Countess Olga in "The Million Dollar Mystery," and her consistent work throughout the entire series of films, won for her instant recognition with the thousands of fans who followed the exciting career of Jim Moran and Florence Gray. She has served her reputation in parts requiring real dramatic ability, and from her first appearance scored a wonderful success. Miss Snow got into the movie business while visiting a studio one day as a spectator. The director was short a "super," and asked her if she would like to fill in. She did. Only after seeing her work, the director placed her name on the regular pay roll of the company.

On the other hand, Marc Maedermet, popular leading man with the Edison Company, declares that while the movies open up a wide field for a certain type of actor, there is nothing like the legitimate stage. Naturally he believes the motion pictures are a very wonderful thing, but he asserts that they do not offer the best opportunities for expression.

And what about George M. Anderson, better known as "Broncho Billy"? What does he think of the legitimate stage. The cowboy star says: "Not for mine. I prefer to sit in a real saddle, to dash over the roads, the fields, and down ravines at a breakneck pace on a real thoroughbred. Once when her opinion was asked he is quoted as saying: 'The legitimate stage? No, I never cared for it. In the movie business there is real action. If we want to wreck a train, we wreck it. We don't move a few pieces of scenery around and bang some boards together and depend on imagination in the seats in the audience to do the rest. No, sir. No matinee hero can run into a stage, slap imaginary dust from his clothes, and tell of a fast ride against time and inches, and get away with it in the movie game. It's action from the first click of the reel till the end of the film.'

Another star who is daily winning laurels, Anita Stewart, who has had more successful screen careers, and has been called the greatest natural actress in film land, by D. W. Griffith, one of the biggest directors in the business, has had no stage experience beyond several very minor parts when a small child. She is scarcely 19 now, but has played before the camera nearly six years, starting with the Biograph, and recently jumping to the Laaskys. After her tremendous success in "The Best-Known Man" and "The Escape," she would hardly consider an offer that would necessitate a change of field.

And now for a knock. Lee Shubert, head of one of the greatest theatrical firms in the world, believes that actors of both sexes damage their commercial value by appearing on the screen. He declares that many of the best-known artists on the American stage have ruined their ranking and drawing power by so-called "starring" in picture productions.

PATRIOTISM and PRODUCTION

"Belgium as a producing factor is obliterated from the map. Britain, always unable to sustain itself, will have stronger needs. That beautiful section of France where a little more than a year ago I saw the countless stacks of golden grain is now scarred with the deep-dug trenches. Surely, surely there is need for all that we can do."

HON. MARTIN BURRELL, Minister of Agriculture.

The Empire Needs Many Foods

The Empire asks Canada to increase the production of staple foods—not merely of wheat. Great Britain wants oats, corn, barley, peas, beans, potatoes, turnips, onions, meat, dairy products, poultry and eggs.

In the past Great Britain has imported immense quantities of these staple foods from Russia, France, Belgium, Germany, and Austria-Hungary as shown by the following:

Average Imports Years 1910-1913		Make Your Land Produce More		Average Possible
Wheat	28,439,609 bush.	Millions of bushels rather than millions of acres should be Canada's aim. The fields already under cultivation should be made more productive. Keep in mind good seed and good cultivation.	Corn Ensilage	12	19
Oats	23,586,304 "		(Tons)	18	37
Barley	15,192,268 "		Beans	16	33
Corn	7,621,374 "		Potatoes	119	400
Peas	703,068 "		Turnips	421	1500
Beans	639,663 "		By "possible" is meant the actual results which have been obtained by our Experimental Farms and by many farmers. These "possibles" have been obtained under intensive cultivation methods and conditions not always possible on the average farm, yet they suggest the great possibilities of increased production. By greater care in the selection of seed, more thorough cultivation, fertilization, better drainage, the average could be raised by at least one-third. That in itself would add at least $150,000,000 to the annual income of Canada from the farm. It would be a great service to the Empire, and this is the year in which to do it.
Potatoes	4,721,590 "
Onions	271,569 "
Meat	26,509,766 lbs.
Eggs	121,112,916 doz.
Butter and Cheese	91,765,233 lbs.
The above mentioned sources of supply of staple foods are now, in the main, cut off as result of the war. Great Britain is looking to Canada to supply a large share of the shortage. Every individual farmer has a duty to perform.		Average Possible
		Fall Wheat		20	43
		Spring Wheat		12	33
		Barley		16	33
		Oats		36	91
		Corn, Grain		70	200

Have You Attended Your District Conference?

If you have, you know that you heard once more the same old gospel of crop production. Have you talked over with your neighbour farmers the problems discussed at the Conference? If there are any questions on which you are at all doubtful write at once for information to the Canadian Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, or to your Provincial Department of Agriculture. They will be pleased to help you.

Increase Your Live Stock

Breeding stock are to-day Canada's most valuable asset. The one outstanding feature of the world's farming is that there will soon be a great shortage of meat supplies. Save your breeding stock. Plan to increase your live stock. Europe and the United States, as well as Canada, will pay higher prices for beef, mutton, and bacon in the very near future. Do not sacrifice now. Remember that live stock is the only basis for prosperous agriculture. You are farming, not speculating.

Make use of the Free Bulletins issued by the Canadian Department of Agriculture. They are mines of valuable information. The Government has nothing to sell and its reports are unbiased. There are special bulletins on wheat, oats, corn, barley, peas, beans, potatoes, turnips, onions and live stock. Send coupon below (no stamp on envelope necessary).

Publications Branch, Canadian Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.
Please send bulletins on wheat, oats, corn, barley, peas, beans, potatoes, turnips, onions and live stock.
(Mark out Bulletins you do NOT want.)
Name.....
P.O. Address.....
County..... Prov.....

Justice of Peace Praises Dr. Chase's Ointment

After Nine Years of Agony He Escaped an Operation by Using This Great Healing Agent.

As a means of healing sores and wounds that defy ordinary treatment, Dr. Chase's Ointment has long stood supreme. It is a simple, yet powerful, remedy, known far and wide as a positive cure for eczema, and piles. Whatever uncertainty there may be about the results obtained by the use of medicine

Sunlight Soap

Dainty Garments—Fine Linen—

These are surely worth your best care and the use of nothing but the soap that cannot hurt the finest fabric—

Here's the Sunlight way:

First, soap the garment; then roll it up to soak. After a while, rinse well and the dirt practically drops out. No wearisome scrubbing, no hurtful rubbing—the gentle strength of Sunlight does the work almost without effort and entirely without injury.

50c.

Try one cake—you'll find it's kind to the hands, too.

At all grocers

CAPTAIN OF FRYE TO RENDER REPORT

Will Tell American Officials Story of His Vessel's Destruction.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, March 12.—Official interest in questions arising from the destruction of the American sailing ship William Frye by the German converted cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, which was sunk in the North Atlantic on January 23 last, has been revived by the receipt of a letter from the captain of the vessel, which is being forwarded to the American government.

The decision of the American government on the questions raised by the sinking of the Frye and the internment of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich will be announced for several days. It is reported as virtually certain, however, that Germany makes voluntary reparations for the destruction of the Frye, the United States government will protest and also claim damages. The opinion prevails in many quarters that the usual reparations in such cases will be made by Germany, and the incident closed.

The time allowed the Prinz Eitel to repair at Newport News will be kept secret by Administration officials. Officials believe the vessel will intern.

TWO MEN HELD.

[Canadian Press.]

Newport News, Va., March 12.—Washington officials have been asked by the customs authorities here to consider the case of two of the crew of the William P. Frye, who remain on the Prinz Eitel Friedrich. It has developed that the two men, who were said to be enlisted in the German navy, have been detained by order of Commander Thierichsen on the ground that they were German citizens and still subject to service under German arms.

Collector Hamilton said the matter had been reported, and that he was awaiting instructions.

Are They Naturalized?

The men detained are Charles Frank and Robert Rogers. Captain Kiehn, of the Frye, told officials here he did not believe they were naturalized American citizens, and that they had not protested to him when detained. Notwithstanding that it was said repatriations have been made in their behalf by American citizens.

Further word that British cruisers brought here today by the crew of the British steamer Anglo Patagonia from England, which has arrived here for repairs.

AMBASSADOR DEFENDS.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, March 12.—The Count Bernstorff, German ambassador, in discussing with state department officials today the sinking of the American ship William P. Frye, defended the action of Captain Thierichsen, of the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, contending that he acted under the Declaration of London, which cities the only guide he had as to disposition of prizes.

STEAMER MONTROSE AGAIN IN TROUBLE

Ex-C. P. R. Liner Now Ashore Off West Coast of Africa.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, March 12.—A Bordeaux cable to the Star says the ex-Canadian Pacific liner Montrose is ashore on the west coast of Africa, and is asking for assistance.

The Montrose is the ship upon which Crispin, the famous murderer, was arrested. In December last the Montrose was reported ashore near Bordeaux, and later was again in trouble on the Goodwin Sands, off the mouth of the Thames.

TO INQUIRE INTO BRANTFORD BLAZE

[Canadian Press.]

Brantford, March 12.—Following recent developments in connection with the fire at the Canada Glue Company, a fire inquest has been ordered for Monday afternoon at the police court.

Coroner Dr. Fissette will preside, and Crown Attorney A. J. Wilkes will conduct the examination.

Investigation has shown that a sack saturated with coal oil was placed under the screens in the drying room and set on fire, thus causing considerable damage, though the fire was extinguished by the sprinkler system.

Further developments in the case are expected, though no arrests have yet been made.

RUSSIA'S FIRST BAND WELCOMED PREMIER'S DEAD FORT GARRY HORSE

Count Witte Was One of the Country's Most Remarkable Men.

DEVELOPED INDUSTRIES

He Also Caused the Railway Expansion and Established Gold Basis System.

[Canadian Press.]

London, March 12.—Count Sergius Juvovich Witte, Russia's first prime minister, died last night, says a Petrograd dispatch to Reuters' Telegram Company.

Count Witte, who was born June 29, 1849, at Tiflis, was one of the Russian plenipotentiaries at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, in the negotiations for peace with Japan in 1905. He afterwards was made a count and appointed president of the new ministry, but retired in 1906, and held no important position after that time.

Remarkable Man.

Count Witte was regarded as in some respects one of the most remarkable men his country had produced, but his reputation was even greater abroad than at home. Throughout his career, during which he accomplished much for Russia, he had many and powerful enemies, although his great ability and remarkable capacity for work never were questioned. Regardless of his work as a statesman, his chief fame in Russia rests upon his development of manufacturing industries, the expansion of railroads and the placing of the monetary system upon a gold basis.

Although always a firm supporter of monarchy, he recognized the power of the people, and had democratic tendencies. On his father's side his family was of common origin, but his mother was a descendant of the Burks, the old rulers of Russia before the election of the Romanoff dynasty.

After his graduation from the University of Odessa, Witte entered the railroad service in the shipping department. He mastered the question of tariff rates, and his advancement was rapid. In 1877 he married a sister of General Paderff.

Ability Recognized.

He first attracted attention at the capital during the Russo-Turkish war by the administrative capacity he displayed in the movement of army supplies. He went to Petrograd in 1878, and was given increasingly responsible posts in the railroad service. Alexander III. appointed him minister of railways and communications in 1892, and soon afterwards minister of finance. It was then that he began to develop his great scheme for the creation of a new manufacturing and commercial system, which eventually took the Siberian road to the Pacific.

Boomed Trade.

In his efforts along these lines Witte used every power of the state. He gave subsidies and Government orders until factories and mills were running full blast. Then he had the state take over the private railroads, the state treasury guaranteeing the bonds. To do all this he borrowed immense sums in France. Under the plea of regulating the liquor traffic, he had the state take over the vodka business of the empire, thus vastly increasing the Government revenue. His crowning achievement was regarded, however, as the establishment of the gold standard. As minister of finance in 1892, he reached the height of his power.

Victim of Intrigues.

His policy in regard to Manchuria, which he desired to develop only on a commercial and not on a political viewpoint, resulted in powerful intrigues against him, which resulted in his removal in 1903 as minister of finance. He went for a time to Paris, but returned to Petrograd when the Russo-Japanese war was in full swing. He neither offered nor was asked for advice in regard to the conduct of the struggle, but when Theodore Roosevelt, then President of the United States, prevailed upon the Emperor to consider terms of peace, the tide turned, and practically the entire nation united in demanding the selection of Witte as plenipotentiary. At the Portsmouth conference he succeeded in gaining terms under which Russia was not obliged to pay a cash indemnity to Japan. This was considered a remarkable achievement, and Witte again became a hero in his own country. The Emperor rewarded him for his services by appointing him a count.

Premier at Last.

It was at this time that the Russian people began clamoring harder than ever for a share in the government. When the imperial manifesto was issued, which granted some of the demands, Witte became Premier in Russia's first real cabinet on October 31, 1905. His appointment as president of the council of ministers was announced a week later. The next day he pledged himself to support the plan for a convocation of the National Assembly. Because of the opposition of powerful interests opposed to democratic reforms, he experienced considerable difficulty in forming a cabinet. The Liberals refused to lift a finger to aid him. At the second session of his cabinet on November 11, a project was considered for placing the Council of Empire on an elective basis.

Resigned.

Dissatisfied with his treatment at the hands of the Emperor, and feeling that it was beyond his power to restore tranquility, Count Witte tendered his resignation as Premier on December 7, 1905, but it was not accepted, and he was ordered to retain his office until he was relieved. Official announcement that his resignation had been accepted was made, however, on May 2, 1906, and his retirement from public life became complete.

In his farewell rescript to Count Witte, Emperor Nicholas thanked him cordially for his services to the empire, and attributed his retirement to the shattering of his health by his arduous labors. Shortly after his retirement, the count left Russia with his second wife and visited various health resorts, undergoing several operations.

Serious Bread Riots at Madrid

[Canadian Press.]

Madrid, March 12.—Serious bread riots broke out yesterday at Jenont, where a mob of women and children attacked the bakeries. The police were obliged to close several times before order was restored.

"MOTHERS' PENSIONS."

OTTAWA, March 12.—A delegation from the National Council of Women today urged Premier Borden to inaugurate a system of "mothers' pensions" and to investigate the question of care of the feeble-minded, with a view to lessening crime. Earnest consideration of both subjects was promised.

HOSPITALITY EXTENDED

Winnipeggers Delighted With Reception Given Them In Kenosis City.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

London, March 12.—Fort Garry Horse has at last come into its own. After over six months spent in various quarters around Salisbury, it has arrived at Canterbury to be converted into cavalry. This will be interesting news for Canadians, especially in Winnipeg, where most of the Fort Garry horse men, and where friends have been wondering for many months what was going to become of them.

As previously announced by the Canadian Press, the Fort Garry Horse reached the ancient cathedral city early this week, and there joined men from Toronto, who came earlier. All are now comfortably quartered in the famous cavalry barracks. Incidentally we should think the present railway service to Canterbury was instituted by Saint Augustine also.

Met By a Band.

The arrival of the Fort Garrys at Canterbury was signalled by a band, their neighbors in barracks meeting them at the station. Winnipeg's cavalrymen are the only portion of Canada's expedition to have been played into barracks. It was very different from the slow, unheralded journey to Salisbury Plain, at the beginning of autumn.

The Winnipeggers are delighted with the welcome extended in other ways by the famous Kenosis city. The team has been extended to extend handshakes to the officers, and the corps will have a church parade to the cathedral tomorrow.

Often Complimented.

The men have volunteered to help construct erect stables of corrugated ironwork, already well in hand. Regimental messes and canteens have been established to extend handshakes to the officers, and the corps will have a church parade to the cathedral tomorrow.

Despite the awful weather experienced in Salisbury neighborhood, this regiment still is in the same outfit as when it left Canada, and is able to parade with its thoroughly smart appearance. New uniforms are being served out this week. A large portion of the contingent stationed at Shorncliffe in Kent, and which was inspected yesterday by the brigadier-general commanding. Many of the men have already received leave. Max Aitken, Canadian eyewitness, has left for the continent.

TEACH THE FOREIGNER ENGLISH TENDENCIES

Ald. Lerner Thinks Money and Else Could Thus Be Saved To Canada.

[Canadian Press.]

Alderman Lerner recently moved in the council at that body give its support, and on the other hand, to the Ontario Government in having the colonization act amended. His reasons were that:

"It is a great national and economic question, and I trust it will receive your sincere consideration and support. The subject of immigration is one of the most important of the day. The principle of the scheme that I wish to propose is a practical one, and it is approved by English and American statesmen, and some noted English financiers and philanthropists. Please enface my personality as an introduction of this proposition; I make no claim of being the originator of it, and only ask that the committee and council deal with the subject on its merits. In the event of the proposal meeting with the favor of the committee and council, and being carried to a successful issue, I will be proud to know the London and the council of 1915 will have the credit of having introduced the scheme into the province.

Resources Need Developing.

"My chief reasons for considering an amendment advisable are as follows:

"Canada is a young country, with marvelous resources that require developing. Our governments and municipalities welcome and encourage immigration. We want two classes of people in particular—capitalists and agriculturists. A very large number who come to this country have no capital and experience at farming. The result shows that large numbers flock to our cities and overcrowd the labor market, where they are neither needed nor wanted, and they fail to enter into agricultural work where they are needed. This overcrowding of the labor market by immigrants who should go on the land is of especial interest to this and every other Canadian city, and it behooves the various city councils to take the necessary steps to bring about conditions that will enable worthy immigrant farmers to engage in farming.

"Permit me to illustrate the results that obtain with thousands of Russians and other Europeans who do not speak our language when they come to Canada, by referring to what has happened in this city respecting the Russian.

2,500 Russians Came.

"Since the year 1904 about 2,500 Russian men came to London from Russia. These men had been accustomed to farm work. It is not many years since they emerged from the Russian state, and took up agricultural pursuits; they are a strong and industrious people, and the farm is the natural place for them to go. The majority of these men paid their passage to London with borrowed money, and through sheer necessity they came to the city, where they obtained work as laborers, and some of them acquired some knowledge of certain trades. These men did not come to stay. They lived very far from the city, and their earnings went back to Russia, and the majority of them went back themselves. There are but 575 Russians in London now—very few of the thousands there have not been more than this number here at one time, proving that the Russian population, generally speaking, is not floating one. At the present time, the 575 men earn from $12 to $20 each weekly; the average earnings are not less than $15 per week; this amounts to about $431,250 yearly. The great majority of the men are living in a condition of from 20 to 30 in one house; 80 per cent of their earnings are sent back to Russia.

slas—this latter statement can be verified by our bankers and postoffice officials.

Claim on Community.

"This item is only of the city of London and you must not forget that in any important town or city of the Dominion of Canada you will find the Russian race in enormous numbers, and if you go together their earnings, that will amount to quite a sum of money that is sent out of this country to that country, and if Russia were an enemy there to be used against us, and also, take this $431,250 yearly. If left in the city we would have more capital invested, but as it stands today it is a drain to the community and country. I take the Russian race as an example for I have had practical experience of their conditions of life in this country, but they are not the only race we have to contend with.

"I want to draw your attention to the fact that the United States has no more the Yankee atmosphere and traditions. It is a melting pot, and we Canadians dare not allow the same practice, for the results are always in the larger cities and the country at large. And, as to whether there is a fear of this, I will leave the question open. But I say, now, is our country the one there is but one sure remedy—Dr. Hamilton's Pills—which cure quickly and thoroughly.

Surfers find marked benefit in a day, and the same goes on improvement continues. No other medicine will strengthen the stomach and digestive organs like Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They supply the materials and assistance necessary to convert everything eaten into nourishment, into muscle, fibre, and energy with which to build up the body system.

Why not cure our dyspepsia now? Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills today. 25c per box, at all dealers.

ADVICE TO DYSPYPTICS WELL WORTH FOLLOWING

In the case of dyspepsia, the appetite is variable. Sometimes it is ravenous, again it is often very poor. For while the supply of the materials and assistance necessary to convert everything eaten into nourishment, into muscle, fibre, and energy with which to build up the body system.

Why not cure our dyspepsia now? Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills today. 25c per box, at all dealers.

CAPTAIN AT POST AS STEAMER SANK

Bayano Survivors Praise His Heroism—No Panic On Board Vessel.

[Canadian Press.]

Ayr, Scotland, March 12.—Most of the survivors of the auxiliary cruiser Bayano, which was landed here, left for Portsmouth by train last night. Garbed in clothing contributed by sympathizers and still suffering from their experiences, they were grateful to have escaped death. Three of those who were injured are still in a hospital here. The survivors say there was no panic aboard the Bayano, but there was no time to lower the boats before the vessel sank. It was a case of every man for himself, but none of them left the ship until she went down. They praised the heroism of their captain, who was at his post when the steamer was engulfed.

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST CAKES

MADE IN CANADA

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

ROYAL YEAST

"I hope that, in dealing with the motion of myself and Ald. Daly, your committee will see its way clear to recommend to the council that the municipalities be asked to petition the Government to amend the colonization act by adopting the principle of the scheme practiced by Sir Moses Montefiore in the following manner:

"We have immigration agents at the ports now, and it would be advisable that when these immigrants arrive at our boundary they should be interviewed individually by our agents as to what occupations they are inclined to devote themselves, and if they desire to go on land, and which, to my opinion, it would naturally be so, for, as I practice in the following manner:

"By forming a fund from which money may be loaned to approved settlers on homestead farming lands of New Ontario; such loans to be sufficient to provide settlers with their first year's supply of seed, food, implements, stock and dwellings; no payment of interest or principle to be demanded from settlers during the three years' homestead period; terms for payment of the amount of loans, with a reasonable rate of interest, to be arranged in rate of payments from the fourth to the eighth years, inclusive. I believe that this plan, or an adaptation thereof, is a most desirable and profitable estimate benefit to this province and the Dominion, to our cities, and to labor."

CHOCOLATES WITHOUT A RIVAL

For Daintiness and Flavor

Made of The Finest Ingredients

The Utmost in Candy!

All Moir's Chocolates are prepared from our own Exclusive Recipe from cocoa beans selected and ground by ourselves.

The creamy insides and centres of nuts, fruits and jellies have just the Right Flavor—the rich, thick chocolate coating has just the Right Taste.

Our blending of these two confection extremes creates an exquisitely delicious flavor not found in other brands. Try Moir's.

MOIR'S CHOCOLATES

Moir's, Limited

Halifax, Canada

DIED IN HURON TOWNSHIP

Thomas Hardie Was One of Early Scotch Settlers in District.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

A FACT WORTH KNOWING

All the regular 10-cent cigars sell for 5 cents, every day in the week, at any one of Taylor's 4 Cut-Rate Drug Stores.

In Our Optical Department

You can always get the newest and best in

OPTICAL GOODS

At very moderate prices.

John S. Barnard
Optician, 184 Dundas Street, 3rd fl.

We mine our own coal and sell direct to you.

LARGE PE
COLL. $5.95
A TON.

We guarantee this coal to have the value of nut in the range and dealer; saves you $1.25 per ton.

DR. S. R. MOORE

DENTIST.
Removed to Suite 15-16 and 1, London Loan Building, corner Dundas and Park Avenue.

Evenings by appointment. ywt

WHOLESALE RETAIL

LONDON'S LARGEST JEWELRY STORE

Just received a shipment of

Eight-Day Auto Clocks

with the sweep second hands on. These clocks we can guarantee to give satisfaction.

OUR PRICE, $9.00.

W. J. WRAY &amp; CO.

234 Dundas Street.

Established 1846.

B. A. MITCHELL

DRUG STORE
The oldest established drug store in London.

114 DUNDAS ST. W. PHONE 623.

WEGNER CLOTHING CO.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Overalls, Sweater Coats, Gloves, Mittens and Raincoats.

London's Largest High-Class Workingmen's Outfitters.

Exclusive Manufacturers' Agents for the Best Canadian and American makes of Overalls.

371 TALBOT ST., OPP. MARKET. Open Evenings—Phone 1849.

MODERN PLUMBING

When asking for prices on all kinds of plumbing and heating see

Eggett &amp; Co.

Phone 210. 392 Clarence St. ywt

ABOUT YOUR EYES

Consult C. H. TREBILCOCK
116 Dundas Street.

Formerly with Tait Optical Company. ywt

COAL

Genuine Plymouth Anthracite, from individual mines. Prompt delivery. Prices on application.

JAS. H. HERRICK, AGENT. ywt

TWO THOUSAND MEXICANS STORM NATIONAL PALACE TO RELIEVE 250 PRIESTS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 12.—Two thousand Mexicans stormed the national palace in Mexico City yesterday in an effort to release 250 Catholic priests imprisoned there, according to advices received here today. A riot followed.

Quartermaster, chief of police of the capital, was stabbed, two Mexican assassins who attacked him were killed, and a large number of persons injured.

The London Loan and Savings Company of Canada

Dividend No. 84

Notice is hereby given that a dividend at the rate of six per cent per annum is declared for the current quarter year, ending March 31, 1915, on the stock of the company, together with a bonus at rate of 1 1/2 per cent per annum, to shareholders of record on the 15th inst., and is payable on the 15th day of April, 1915.

Your Choice of Any Article in Our North Window

C. H. Ward &amp; Co.

Diamond Merchants and Jewelers,
386 RICHMOND ST. PHONE 1084.

Jet Jewelry

GENUINE EUROPEAN STYLES, MANUFACTURED IN ENGLAND.

Most extravagant showing of Jet Jewelry ever placed before you.

NECKLACES. COLLARS. BRACELETS. CROSSES. EARRINGS. BROOCHES. BEAD STRINGS.

YOUNG'S

"A Good Place to Buy."
London and East London.

YOU CAN ALWAYS RELY ON THE PURITY AND QUALITY OF

JOHNSTON BROS.

XXX BREAD

5c Wrapped and All Other Kinds.

Johnston Bros. Phone 944

CONFERENCE NEXT WEEK

Private Companies and Commission to Get Together on Underground

It is expected the long-talked-of, long-mooted, long-expected conference between the public utility commissioners and the local private power and light, telephone and telegraph companies to consider the burying of all wires in the downtown area, will materialize next week. All the companies have now agreed to the conference.

There is a possibility that the commission may advance a proposal to the Bell Telephone Company to buy the latter's conductors in order that the entire conduit system may be under one management and control.

FIFTY PER CENT DISCOUNT

Big Sacrifice Sale of Player-Piano Rolls at Heintzman Hall.

If you want to lay in a stock of rolls for your player-piano, at half-price, go to Ye Olde Firme of Heintzman & Co., 742 Dundas Street, London, Ont. They have a big assortment they are selling at 50 per cent discount.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S UNION

ACTIVE AT HYDE PARK

HYDE PARK, March 12.—The Young People's Union held another successful meeting in the Presbyterian school-room Thursday evening, and the president was more than pleased to note the attendance had doubled itself since the first meeting.

The program, which was "St. Patrick," all through the evening, consisted of several guessing contests, singing and general violin and organ duets by Mr. G. H. Gray and son Gordon, and a beautiful luncheon was served.

The next meeting will be missionary night. The program will be prepared under the able leadership of Mr. Paul Elson.

Mr. Hugh Sloan has recently purchased a 100-acre farm in Bothwell, and with his family, will remove there the last of March.

30c STRONG'S BAKING POWDER

French Cream Tartar is now arriving in Canada at more frequent intervals and at a more favorable price. Therefore, we have reduced the price of this household necessity.

Strong's Baking Powder

30c PER POUND.

A "Strong's Cook Book" free on application.

STRONG'S Drug Store

184 DUNDAS ST., LONDON, ONT.

BROMIDE ENLARGEMENTS

make ideal home pictures. Prices on application.

J. H. BACK &amp; CO.

210 DUNDAS STREET. ywt

Points About Our Delivery Service

PROMPT, ACCURATE, ALWAYS READY, RAPID, COURTEOUS.

Order all your drug store goods from

CAIRNCROSS

Dependable Druggists,
216 DUNDAS ST. PHONE 880.

QUALITY TELLS

WE STAND BEHIND EVERY TON OF COAL WE SELL.

JOHN MANN &amp; SONS

Cor. York and Burwell.
Phone 470

Hamilton's Ale and Porter

Cannot be excelled. It's a favorite drink with many, and will suit you if you try it.

Recommends Site

Be Purchased for Livestock Yards

Special Committee Approves Collier Property—Price Named at $1,500.

The special stockyards committee of the city council last night decided to recommend the purchase of a site for a civic stockyards the Collier property, immediately to the east of and adjoining the McLeod property, upon which the council originally decided, but the title to which is at present clouded by litigation.

The site now recommended is smaller than the previous one, being only three acres as compared with the other's five and is rather more expensive, the purchase price being $500 an acre, but it includes a right-of-way extending between the G. T. R. tracks and the McLeod property out to First street. This, the committee thought, made it much more satisfactory than the other as it would simplify side arrangements with the G. T. R. and the proposed belt line of the L. & P. S. road.

Alderman Hanev, the chairman, stated that the litigation over the title to the McLeod property certainly would prevent its acquisition by the city for some time to come, and might prevent it altogether. In any case, he declared, this property would not have been suitable for the purpose for which it was intended, and the city would have been involved in very serious difficulties. He suggested that, if the courts rule that the title was clear, the city could buy it as well as the Collier property in which case they would have a very valuable site.

WEDDING BELLS

SUTHERLAND-MALLETT.

A quiet wedding was celebrated last Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, when Miss Georgina Mallett, of this city, was united in marriage to Roy Sutherland, of Komoka, Ont. D. C. Macgregor performed the ceremony.

The bride entered the church with George Preston, who gave her away. She looked exceedingly wise in her wedding robe of cream-colored marvellous satin with nipped drapery and bugle and gold trimmings, and wore the customary veil of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The only ornament she wore was a pearl crescent brooch, the gift of the groom.

The bride was attended by Miss Mamie Preston, who was most becomingly groomed in white satin with apricot trimming and white picture hat, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The groom was assisted by his brother, Fred Sutherland. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold pair of cuff links.

After the ceremony the bride and groom proceeded to the home of Miss Preston, 18 Hope street, and after congratulations had been extended to the young couple a dainty luncheon was served.

The house was prettily decorated with pink and white tulips. The bride received many presents.

The bride's travelling costume was a navy blue cloth, and blue hat with white plumes.

After a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland will reside at Komoka, and will be at home to their friends after April 15.

LINDSAY-RICHARDSON.

Edmonton, March 11.—On Wednesday, March 10, the home of J. B. Lindsay, Ivan, was the scene of a happy event, when his eldest daughter became the bride of George W. Richardson, of Moose Jaw, Sask.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. McCullough, of Ivan, before the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a dress of white silk, with lace tunic, and trimmings of pearl and brocade satin.

The groom's bride wore a handsome necklace of amethysts and pearls.

After congratulations, the company proceeded to the dining-room, where a sumptuous dinner was served.

The numerous beautiful present testified to the popularity of the happy couple.

The bride and groom left for southern points, the bride travelling in a suit of new sand cloth, with white satin hat and plumes.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson will visit their friends before leaving for their home in Moose Jaw, where they will be at home to their friends after April 1.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. George Sampson and Mrs. Mary Fleming desire to express their gratitude to all the friends who have shown them such great kindness in their recent bereavement.

LOW FARES TO THE CALIFORNIA EXPOSITIONS, VIA CHICAGO AND NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY.

Four splendid daily trains from the new passenger terminal, Chicago to San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego. Wide choice of scenic and direct routes. Double track. Automatic electric safety signals all the way. Let us plan your trip, and furnish folders and full particulars.

B. H. Bennett, G. H. Bennett, 46 Toronto street, Toronto, Ont. March 12/15

GREY HAIR

Dr. Tremaine's Natural Hair Restorative, used as directed, is guaranteed to restore grey hair to natural color, money refunded. Positively not a dye, and non-injurious. On sale at Anderson & Nettie's drug store, 288 Dundas street, London. Price $1.00 (postpaid). Write to Tremaine Supply Company, Dept. 151-152-153, Toronto.

DANCE HALL LINKED TO WHITE SLAVERY

Evangelist Gordon States That New Dances Are a Distinct Shock.

CONDEMNNS CARD GAMES

"Pasteboards" Are Instruments of the Gambler, Speaker Asserts.

Is it wrong to dance? Is it wrong to play cards? Is it wrong to go to the theatre? Is it wrong to smoke? Dr. J. L. Gordon answered these three questions last night in the First Methodist Church, giving his ideas of the principles underlying the discussion of the four amusements. In addition, Dr. Gordon answered the question: "What is wrong with the church?"

Canada's Dangers.

"The two greatest dangers threatening the church today are pleasure and covetousness. On the outside the church is in danger from innumerable amusements, and on the inside from a questionable character. The church is threatened on the inside by a spirit of covetousness, and this is the far greater danger of the two."

Orthodox greed is a good deal more of a problem than the matter of securing an orthodox creed," Dr. Gordon said. "The great sin of the church in the present generation is covetousness. The eyes of the average saint are filled with gold dust. The trouble with the church is that it is the hellishness of selfishness. The church is not suffering in advance of the world to provide bad men with a good example."

The expenditure of the "average saint" is outlined by Dr. Gordon as follows: $5,000 per annum for home expenses; $1,500 for automobile repairs; $500 for vacation trips during the summer season; $500 more for club privileges and social functions.

"Then remember that when it comes down to the church and charity, the usual appropriation is a paltry $100, and yet these folks are the pillars of the church," he said.

Dr. Gordon explained that the church problem of the present is covetousness, and not questionable amusements. The questions of wrongfulness in dancing, smoking, theatre-going and card-playing are little questions, usually asked by the young person under 30 years of age. They are called questions, because they are right or wrong, and wrong for others. Give a man a rule, and he becomes a Pharisee; give him a principle, and he becomes a Christian.

Is it wrong to play cards?

"Your boy asks you: 'What possible harm is there in matching two cards? When you answer this question, this is the solution: Don't command your son dogmatically not to play cards. Reason with him. There are two points to be considered. First, Dr. Gordon stated, 'The first is the question of time. Card-playing is exceedingly fascinating, and time is the only thing you put into the first of life, you put into the whole life. It is a very vital matter what you do with your time before you are 20 years of age.'

"The second point: Cards are the gambler's instrument. The hardest motto to teach a boy is that of the professional gambler. Not one in one thousand is ever converted. On the battlefields of Europe, before a soldier begins to fight, he throws away his pack of cards, and tries to make sure of the fact that he has on his person a New Testament, a photo of his loved ones, and something that links him with the splendid ideals of the human heart."

"It is wrong to dance?"

"I answer, dancing is wrong, because it sets on fire the animal instincts in the body of the young man just at the time when he should seek to develop self-control."

"A young man answered the question thus: 'It is wrong for me. Master, I am not a Christian, and I have cut it off; or if my right eye offend thee, pluck it out.'

New Dances a Disgrace.

"The speaker urged, 'no matter what the sacrifice, dancing is a question of social intercourse. The dance-hall of our modern city and the white slave trade are more closely linked than most people imagine. There are new dances every day and anon which are a shock to the imagination and a disgrace to our Christian civilization.'

"Is it wrong for a Christian to go to the theatre?"

"My answer to this question is the least satisfactory of all," Dr. Gordon declared. "I believe that the church's neglect of the amusement of the people is absolutely criminal. It is about time that the church, both Protestant and Catholic, demanded and supported a clean, respectable, and Christian theatrical."

FRANCE TO CALL OUT 1916 CLASS OF RECRUITS

Will Not Be Sent to the Front Until Older Men Are Utilized

PARIS, March 12.—The Chamber of Deputies today passed a bill calling out the 1916 class of recruits. These recruits will not be sent to the front, however, until after the men of the older classes are utilized.

A dispatch from Paris, March 4, said the instruction of the class of 1916 recruits had progressed sufficiently for them to go into the active army, and that M. Millerand, minister of war, had introduced a bill in the Chamber of Deputies, which would give him the authorization to send them to the battle line at his discretion. This bill, it was stated, also requested the government to call into training the class which was due to join the colors in October, 1916.

RUSSIAN VIOLINIST IS RELEASED BY AUSTRIA

VENICE (via London), March 12.—9:17 p.m.—Through the efforts of Frederic C. Penfield, the American ambassador to Austria, the Austrian government has released Dr. Adolf Brodsky, an eminent violinist, who had been interned in Hungary for several months. Dr. Brodsky is a Russian, and has been with appeals from the United States, Great Britain and Italy to obtain the release of the violinist.

Fruit-growers will find John Sharman, representative of E. D. Smith, nursery stock, etc., at Darby & Huntley Seed Company, Market entrance, Thursdays and Saturdays. ywt

SMASH DEFENDERS' RANKS LONDON FEARING CAPTURE

Base Company, Its Desperate Night Struggle, Pierces the Battalion's Lines.

After a desperate night encounter, in which several hundred men on both sides were "killed" and a large number taken prisoners, the Base company, in command of Maj. Milligan, succeeded in breaking through the left flank of the men of the 13th Battalion, who were defending London, late last night, and the city today is in imminent danger of being captured from the north-west.

Clever Strategic Work.

Clever strategic work marked the operations of the Base company throughout. By sending small groups of men, who had instructions to draw the outposts away and get themselves captured, the main bodies of the attacking party made steady progress.

Early in the operations, the creaking of a barbed-wire fence, under which a party of the Base company was attempting to creep, warned the outposts men, and they at once opened a fierce fire on the advancing foe. Reinforcements were hurried to the point, and the attacking force raked from the front and flank by a withering fire, was annihilated.

A few minutes after, a farmer's wagon was seen coming down the road, and the sentry at once challenged. The farmer stopped his team and was asked what he had in the wagon.

"Going to market with a load of pork," he said.

Hold Up Farm Wagon.

The outposts men insisted upon searching the wagon, and concealed in the bottom they found ten men from the Base company, who were trying to break through. They were at once surrounded by a corps with fixed bayonets, disarmed and marched to the guardhouse.

By a clever ruse, Maj. Milligan's men obtained the courtiers, and began to make steady progress from the direct line of the Asylum sidewalk. In mud and water up to their knees, they waded through the swamp, and a fierce battle took place. The defending party soon found out that this was a danger point, and from the signalling station on the top of Wolsley Barracks, Lieut. Elliott and his staff of signallers kept flashing. "The enemy is breaking through on the left."

Fought Past Outposts.

It was too late, however. Maj. Milligan's men had got a start, and not only held their ground against a heavy fire, but gradually made their way through the lines and forced the outposts back. When the action was over, Lieut. Col. Wigle made a brief address to the men, in which he warmly complimented them upon the excellent work they had done.

Grant Is Approved For Bands to Lead Eighteenth March

Patriotic Aldermen Will See Motion Through—Plan Rousing Reception.

Through the efforts of Walter Smith, of Byron, an old soldier, who believes that the flowers of applause should not be all given after the battle, a number of aldermen will support a motion in the city council for a grant to both local bands of the 18th Battalion, to march through the streets for the 18th.

Aldermen Tancock, Hanev and Wilson are heartily in favor of granting whatever sum may be necessary for the bands. They believe that no one would object if it were to be deducted from the annual band concert appropriation.

Many citizens, while feeling that the soldiers do not believe the mass of people are indignant, believe that there should be a rousing reception to the men of the 18th.

Cheer, While They're Here.

"I'll all very well to say we'll cheer them when they come back," said Mr. Smith, "but many of them will not come back."

This old soldier single-handed organized a squad of cheerers on the last parade. He is today working hours daily to show his respect and admiration for the men who have given up much that the world may be kept from the hands of the Hun.

MARTYR TO LEPROSY TRYING TO FIND CURE

LONDON, March 13.—4:30 a.m.—The death at Colyton, Devon, of Sir George Turner is announced. Death was caused by leprosy, contracted during research work to discover a cure for the disease.

HEAVY FINE IMPOSED ON PEOPLE OF LILLE

BERLIN (via London), March 12.—5:45 p.m.—Because the inhabitants of Lille, today that he had been without sleep or rest for 26 hours.

Absolute secrecy is being maintained, but interesting developments are expected.

KINCARDINE NOTES

KINCARDINE, March 12.—The Odd-fellows had a very sociable dance and basket social last evening. It passed off very satisfactorily.

John Johnson is home from Ottawa for a rest. It is hoped by his many friends that he will soon recuperate.

Just the thing for the damp weather that is coming. A pair of rubber-soled and heated Astoria at 36. They will give perfect comfort and keep your feet dry and warm. Come in and see them.

J.P. COOK CO

THE STORE THAT SERVES YOU BEST

WE ARE RECEIVING Nice Scranton Coal

Daily, and can save you money by burning our coal.

Heaman &amp; Son YORK AND BURWELL STS. Phone 312.

1 Pound of BEEF 580 Food Units.

1 Pound of EGGS 720 Food Units.

1 Pound of POTATOES 385 Food Units.

1 Pound of MILK 225 Food Units.

1 Pound of SKEIN STEAK 415 Food Units.

Even If You Only Got One Pound of Bread When You Buy a Loaf Think of the Food Value You Obtain

One pound of ordinary bread, according to Government statistics, is worth more in food value to the human body than a pound of beef, at 23 cents a pound, a pound of eggs—eight medium-sized—at 20 cents, a pound of potatoes, a pound of milk, a pound of sirloin steak at 30 cents, a pound of fish at 15 cents a pound, a pound of mutton leg at 22 cents a pound, a pound of cooked beans at 10 cents a pound, or a pound of peas at about the same price. After considering these facts, compiled from Government figures, stop and consider the food value you get from a loaf of

Parnell's Bread

Made Clean

Parnell's Breads—made in twenty-one varieties—are made of the best Purify Flour, Fleischmann's Yeast, Granulated Sugar, pure salt, a little tonic malt, a little special flavoring, and London's pure water filtered.