LABOR MAN RETURNS TO THE CHARGES

Says That Factory Inspectors Should Be Appointed by Examination.

CHILDREN UNDER AGE

Certificates of Birth Can Be Easily Secured From Great Britain.

Mr. W. R. Trotter, who addressed a meeting of labor men in St. George's Hall the other night, reiterates his statement that the present system of factory inspecion needs remedying. Mr. Harry Clark, the local inspector has seen fit to differ with Mr. Trotter. but the latter is not dismayed. He says that appointments to inspectorates should be made by competitive examination, and that the jobs should not be made political berths for ward heelers, as is now the case.

In England he points out that the civil servants are not turned out at every change of government. They secure their positions because they remain neutral in politics, and they are bound to be neutral, because they are well aware that a change of government is likely to occur at any time, and the man who is a heeler is weeded

Children Under Age.

As regards children in factories who are under age, Mr. Trotter says there is nothing in Mr. Clarke's statement that when the children come from England it is impossible to get their correct ages.

Mr. Trotter points out that the system of registration in Great Britain is almost perfect, and that a certificate of birth can be secured for 60 cents. The onus of securing this should be on the parents whose child suspected of being under age. Mr. James Hussey, of the local rades council, stated to Mr. Trotter that he was not at the meeting Tuesday night, and that he has nothing to say on the subject.

DOCTORS'REGISTRATION

Physicians in Convention in Favor of Dominion Registration.

Winnipeg, Aug. 25. - The Canadian Medical Association yesterday almost unanimously committed itself to the principle of Dominion registration. This important question formed the principal topic of discussion, and the debate was keen and protracted. The pronouncement carries great weight because of the fact that the convention was a very representative one. Four of the western provinces are contemplating such action and really have an understanding now. The attendance was the largest on record, 342 members having registered, which is ten more than ever before. The attendance was distributed cording to provinces as follows: British Columbia 8, Alberta 16, Saskatchewan 21, Manitoba 186, Ontario Quebec 11, Maritime Provinces 8, and Toronto was selected as the next place of meeting, and officers were then elected as follows: President, Dr. Adam H. Wright, Toronto; vicepresident, Dr. H. B. Small, of Three Rivers; general secretary, Dr. El-Mott, Toronto; treasurer, Dr. H. B. Small, Ottawa; local secretary, Dr. R. P. Campbell, Montreal.

The convention proceedings con-cluded with a delightful steamboat ide on the Red River last night.

Of course there is a city bylaw that mposes a penalty of $50 for using short weight, but the inspector in charge of seeing it carried out states that he is not encouraged to go ahead n the matter.

There are other ways of arriving at he same result, also. A man comes in with a load of hay and drives on the scales, and his dog lies down under the load and is duly weighed as hay. That has been done and the farmer has known it, for he has called the dog out immediately after. He probably takes the standpoint that it is the business of those in charge to discover the dog, but the purchaser pays for 25 to 50 oounds he has not received. President Takes Note of Charges Against Officials of General Land Office.

Washington, Aug. 26.-The President has taken cognizance of charges made against his superiors by L. S. Glavis, chief of the field division of the general land office in the northwest, with headquarters in Seattle.

Mr. Glavis has presented a report to the President in which, it is understood, he attempted to show that high officials unnecessarily concerned in expediting what are known as the Cunningham claims to valuable lands in Alaska, and in doing so have acted independently of he general officers of the department. The officials are much incensed over the report, but take the position that as they are preparing a report for the President, their lips necessarily are sealed magainst outside discussion of the subject. This is the attitude assumed by Commissioner Dennett, who only this morning arrived from an inspection tour through the west. Acting-Secretary Pierce coincides with this statement. Early in the day the two officials were in consultation with Assistant Attorney-General Lawlor with reference to the proposed report, and nearly half a million was sunk in the had to hustle for it. assurance was given that it would be put in shape as soon as possible. Privatethe officials express indignation regarding the report, and say that at the proper time they will have no difficulty convincing the public of the probity of their conduct. The incident is regarded generally as phase of the conflict between the interio lepartment and the forestry service. It is felt in the department that Mr. Glavis is co-operating with the forestry bureau.

HARRIMAN THE GREAT.

They talk and write of Mr. Harriman as though the continent tipped when he set foot on American soil again. Wall street is represented as holding its breath until the great man gave the signal, like Casey at the bat, and bade the game go on. The dispatches say his reassuring words at once propped up the market, which had been timid and shaky because the master hand was out of the reach of the ticker during the week of the ocean voyage. There was a pathetic touch in the picture: the Colossus was so ailing that he could scarcely walk from his steamer, and he had to give his interview to the reporters while reclining on a couch. The feeble, meagre, little man, apparently on the verge of the grave, was a melancholy contrast to his swollen ambitions, and the homage paid him by his countrymen as the controller of 41

It is said there is no one indispensable in the world, and there is a ludicrous exaggeration in the importance that the complex machine of American main, the harvest would reappear, and encourage this philanthropic work. in manipulation, but the juggling of bilshares for private ends, while it may shift riches from one pocket to another, does not create them. The concentration of so many interests in the hands of one individual is in reality a source of danger and weakness to the nation.

After all, Mr. Harriman is a pretty shrewd man, and must get some emusement out of all the fuss that is being made over him. He doesn't mind posing as an oracle, but he probably speaks with his tongue in his cheek.

A WELCOME VISITOR.

The British naval service does not contain a more striking figure than the case till now, but by the interest Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, Every Britisher, whether at home or in would in due course succeed to the commander though he is. Lord Charles Some of his public utterances since his retirement go a long way towards atoning for his indiscretions.

Lord Charles is not one of those who see cause for alarm as to the possibility of invasion. In estimating the should not be allowed to cloak racerelative strength of the British and track gambling. other navies, he thinks too much importance has been attached to Dreadnoughts. The panic-mongers have ignored other types of ships of equal fighting value.

Equally sound is Lord Charles on the question of colonial contributions to naval defence, his views being in line with the resolution unanimously adopted by the Dominion Parliament on March 29 last. He has emphatically announced his disapproval of the policy of giving Dreadnoughts to the mother country, and has declared himself in favor of each colony developing its own navy, with cruisers for the protection of the trade routes as the main feature. He has warned the people of the mother country against navigable only one way. any step or suggestion which may be taken as even a hint of domination or control on their part. "We want," he says, "to be all on one level, on the lous shortage of labor would be as same platform, and we should discuss how best we can help each other. I be hoped that reports of the scarcity believe the right plan for the colonies are exaggerated. The same alarm has to adopt in helping the mother country is to look after the weakest places we have in the Empire, our trade routes, and that they should have a

In his opinion the best plan for the colonies is to begin by having their own fleets in their own ports, under their own management, so long as there is standardization of the ships belonging to the five nations with those of the mother nation. He would also 107 have the colonial officers and men drill in the imperial fleet. Elaborating his idea in a recent speech, Lord Charles

Considerable interest has been aroused in England in connection with Government's town-planning country from overcrowding. In the manufacturing county of Lancashire the deaths average 86,000 a year. In group of English rural counties, having the same population, the number of deaths is only 58,000 or 28,000 fewer than in Lancashire. In the Australian colonies, where the population is also about the same, the deaths are 51,000 a year, or 35,000 fewer than in Lancashire. The main cause of Lancashire's high death rate is that the masses are denied the sunlight, fresh air and vegetation so necessary for the rearing of a healthy people. JIMMY ARCHER'S "SQUAT THROW"

SENSATION IN NATIONAL LEAGUE THE GIANTS SNATCH CLOSE

[Special to The Advertiser.] Chicago, Aug. 26.—No one will deny that Hugh Jennings, the Detroit leader, and Fred Clarke, of Pittsburg, are great managers, but— Hugh and Fred made one big mistake each when they Archer get away, and Frank Chance, the Cub manager, showed one of the traits which stamp him as a baseball general when he grabbed Archer to take the place of the rebellious Johnny Kling.

Jennings couldn't see Archer with binoculars. Neither could Clarke. Chance saw him work and added him to his stable. And Archer has been making history in the National League ever since. As a thrower to the bases there isn't a man in the big leagues compares with Archer. He is in a class by himself, whipping the down so fast that he gets a runner who is careless enough to so much as Archer is parent of the "squat throw." He hasn't patented the oss yet, but he's the only one using it because the others can't acquire The "squat throw" is made while Archer is sitting on his heels in the position all backstops assume when signalling the pitcher. In this position it is impossible for the runner to tell when he is going to make the throw, and Archer does it with so little effort that runners tick closer than poor relatives when he is doing the receiving.

Archer's throwing has won two world's records for him. Both were gained at the expense of Charlie Babb's Memphis Club, in the Southern Association, when Archer was with Atlanta. The first was the catching of three men off base in one inning on four pitched balls, and the other was catching seven men off first in one game. Otto Williams, of the Pelicans, once wagered $50 he would steal at

HAY JUMPED UP TO $16 A TON

Sensational Advance in Price of Fodder on the Local Market.

VEGETABLES ARE FIRM

Fruit Market Consisted Principally of Plums Today-Oats Supply Was Very Limited.

Hay made a sensational advance on the tocal market this morning, when a number of leads sold for $16. The cheapest price paid for hay this morning, even for a very inferior quality, was $14. Even at these prices the supply was very small, and did not come within a long distance of meeting the demand. The situation is assuming very serious aspects now, and gives some inkling of what may be expected in the line of prices this year. The persistent drought is bringing in a situation that will have very pronounced effect upon very many branches of in-

The oats supply, too, was very limited though the prices remained fairly stable. One very poor load of old oats brought $1 55, while the better varieties brought

LITTLE BOYS AT PLAY FIND FATHERS BODY

Latter Mysteriously Disappeared Early in July and Foul Play Is Suspected.

Townsend, Vermont, Aug. 25.-The accidental discovery of the decomposed body of George Kent, a 60-year-old farmer of this town, and father of Elroy Kent, a convicted murderer, at the bottom of a deep ravine near the Kent home Tuesday, was the cause of an investigation into the man's death by State Attorney Williams, of Bellows Falls, yesterady. On July 9 Kent visited the neighboring farm of Herbert Barker, and since leaving Barker's house to go home, nothing has been heard of him until the discovery made by his two little boys. Two lads Bernard, aged 14 years, and Perry, aged 10, sons of George Kent, while playing on he hillside near their home, clambered to the top of the ravine, and looked to see how deep it was. The quick eye of the elder boy detected something looked to him like the coat his father wore when he disappeared. With an eager cry the lad made his way down the gully, followed by his brother. They discovered the remains of their father beneath some bushes.

Horrified at their discovery they fled hastily from the gloomy depths, and running to the nearest house told of their discovery. Led by the two lads a party of men went to the ravine and confirmed the story of the two boys. Little could be learned from the boys, except that there had been friction between their father and one of his elder sons.

Bolts Found Effective in Eliminating Infection.

Berlin, Aug. 24 .- A new use for elecricity, involving its employment as the handmaiden of surgery is recommended to medical men in the latest issue of The Roentegen Ray Archives, WHILE BOYS GO DOWN a German scientific review. The writer affirms that the healing of wounds, cuts and laceration, which have become infected through the presence of dirt and other extraneous matter, can often be effected by the application of rays emanating from high-power elecrical currents. Wounds of this kind, which include those produced by gunshots and powder explosions, for a large class, often extremely dangerous, owing to the dif-In a heroic attempt to effect a rescue, a Freund, the German bacteriologist, as evidence that electricity applied under proper conditions will kill the mi-
