The Ex-King's Return Would Imperil Diplomatic Relations.

London, Dec. 1.—The British view with regard to the return of former King Constantine of Greece to Athens, sed in official circles here to day, is that the Allies canont pro-his return if the Greek people insist upon it. Great Britain takes the view, however, that the recall of Constantine would not only imperil good relations between Greece and the Allies, but between Greece and the Ames, would also gravely endanger the treaty of Savres.

vention at the Masonic Temple to vention was called by Sir John A. MacDonald in 1882, the second being in response to Sir James P. Whitney's call in 1904, about the same time that the Liberal convention was in progress. The preliminary plans for the present convention were laid last April, when a meeting of members and candidates was held in Toronto, and a decision reached that a province-wide in convention should be held to embrace every riding. INDIAN ESCAPES FROM JAIL.

Port Arthur, Dec. 1.—Canadian Press.

—At the Port Arthur district jail this morning Joseph Bushie, an Indian convict under sentence of 16 months, locked his warder in his cell, took his keys, released two others and then went into the jail kitchen, cooked a breakfast, changed clothes and leisurely walked out, leaving the civilian clothes tickets on the jailer's desk as a reminder. He has not yet been recaptured.

were found on their persons, but the men arrested asserted they were ignorant of the recently enacted firearms act, which forbids the importation of those weapons. They were closely questioned and their weapons were confiscated before they were placed on a train coming to this city.

When they reached here they were asked to go to Scotland Yard. They refused to talk to reporters, and their identities have not been disclosed.

Various stories regarding the men have been current since their arrest, but the police are very reticent regarding them.

Cork, Ireland, Dec. 1.—Details of the tragic story of Sunday evening's massacre near Kilmichel ,in which fifteen auxiliary police recruits were shot to death, may never come to light. The only available source of information is the sole surviving member of the party, who was severely wounded, and is believed to be dying in the military hospital here.

A meagre story of the event, gasped out by the wounded man, has been told officials sitting by his bedside. He has declared that the party of recruits med an armed band marching in the road, the men wearing khaki suits and "tin nats." The recruits mistook them in the fading light for soldiers, and thus fell into the ambush.
Road Was Mined.

Statements from other quarters would seem to indicate that the annihilation of the party of recruits can be accounted for only on the theory that the raid was mined or a trench had been dug across it. So far as is known there were no casualties on the side of the assailants. Remain in Field.

Toronto, Dec. 1.—W. F. Nickle, M.P., ex-M. P. P., of Kingston, Ont., today telegraphed to Capt. Joseph Thompson, chairman of the Liberal-Conservative provincial convention in session here today, withdrawing his name from the contest for the leadership of the party in Ontario.

An official of the Central Conservative Association here today says that Brig.-Gen. A. E. Ross of Kingston will also withdraw from the contest.

Hon. G. H. Ferguson, Hon. G. S. Henry and G. R. Geary of Toronto are said now to be the most likely contestants.

One thousand delegates had been cut across the road, and into it the leading lorry plunged. The second lorry, which was traveling fast, ran into the other car, it is said, and the occupants of both became easy victims of the men who planned the attack. Police was sent to scour the country for the missing men.

are said now to be the most likely contestants.

One thousand delegates had been registered up till noon, and the convention will be in full swing this aftsernoon.

Toronto, Dec. I.—The Conservative party of Ontario for the third time in its history will meet in provincial convention at the Masonic Temple today. The first convention was called by Sir John A. MacDonald in 1882, the second being in response to Sir James P. Whitney's cell in 1904 about the same time in the scoul of the country for the missing men.

Rounding Up Extremists.

Police authorities here still claim to be gaining the upper hand in the fight against extremists. They assert the men responsible for ambuscades and assassinationes feel they are being driven into a corner. They are receiving no protection from the people, and move about the countryside in bands of from 15 to 300, forcing farmers, it is declared, to provide them with food.

"Every man of them is known to us."

Dublin, Dec. 1.-Proposals for ter minating violence in Ireland are dequiry, comprising representatives of the Labor party in the British Parliamoth task will be the selection of a leader.

Speculation this morning is rife as to who will be appointed to lead the Conservatives. Hon. G. H. Ferguson, forger minister of lands, forests and mines, is prominently mentioned for the position, and it is predicted that he would obtain good support from Eastern and Northern Ontario delegates. It is also stated that he would obtain support in Southwestern and Central Ontario. Others mentioned for the leadership are: Brig.-Gen. A. E. Ross, M. P. P. for Kingston; W. F. Nickle, K. C. of Kingston; W. F. Nickle, K. C. of Kingston; W. F. Nickle, K. C., former mayor of Toronto. Proposals that an immediate conference of the Irish Labor party, the Catholic hierarchy, the Irish peace conference, and the labor commission be held have been published here. When asked their opinion of this pian, the commissioners said if the other bodies named wished co-operation they were ready to act, but they insisted that they must await an invitation to take part in such a conference. They also declared it was necessary for them. first, to consult their colleagues of the British Labor party.

The British Government will continue to control the price of 219,000,000 tons of coal needed annually in the home industries, giving British consumers the benefit of living in a coal-producing country. Speaking to the subject of the toast "The Empire," Mr. Eiliott said that the conception of the empire has greatly changed during the last quarter of a century. The old imperialistic ideas have gone and we realize today the great part that the overseas dominions bear in the empire. Today we realize as never before the power of the tender ties that bind us to the mother country.

Mr. Eiliott deprecated as unwise and unsafe if the empire is to remain the great unit that it is at the present time the proposal for an imperial parliament. He saw in such a parliament and its enactment of laws a great danger of friction between the different parts of the far-flung empire.

He believed that the imperial conference, which has been called to meet in May next, can and should be of great aid to the empire through the informal discussion of the various problems of each part, provided that nothing done at the deliberations be binding upon the overseas dominions without the free consent of the people of the Dominion.

The disciples of Hippocrates established the first university at Salerno in century, and here was centred the medical knowledge of Europe. So great was the fame of this medical schoo was the fame of this medical school that students flocked there from all parts of Europe. This school practiced as well as taught the science of medicine. William of Normandy, afterwards the conqueror, was one of its patients. It evidently put iron in his blood. In the course of time, as the population of Europe increased, Salerno became overcrowded. Its efficiency decreased. Students found it both inconvenient and expensive to attend there. Smaller schools were gradually established at more convenient centres where the students could attend nearer home and at less expense. Small universities produced better results, and finally in the early years of the nine-teenth century, after an existence of over one thousand years, the once famous university closed its doors.

The same policy of centralization produced the same results in France. Under the successors of Charlemagne, Paris had over thirty flourishing colleges. In the year 1200, Philip Augustus conceived and carried out the idea of combining all these colleges into one great university. From that time the great university of Paris began to decline, and finally closed its doors before the end of the eighteenth century. For hundreds of years England tried the centralization policy of university education at Oxford and Cambridge, but it failed to meet the needs of the people, and now, following the example of Germany, England is dotted with universities. The University of Liverpool was established in 1903, and the 1906 it had an enrolment of 2,854 more students than Oxford and Cambridge combined.

The wisdom and experience of centuries prove that the opportunities for that students flocked there from all

"Financier" On School Question Is All Wrong.

BURDEN FOR PEOPLE

They Had Twenty Mills Added to Taxes-Let Citizens of Future Help Pay For Schools.

That more than a million dollars will be saved in interest by making a direct levy for school building instead of issuing thirty year debentures is absolutely absurd, according to Ald. O. I. Cunningham, chairman of the city council finance committee.

The "financier" who advanced the plan argued that with the interest at six per cent it would require $2,173,467 to pay off the debt and that this could be saved by a direct tax. Such a tax for a school costing $400,000 would be only eight mills he argued. He did not mention that for a school of $800,000 it would be gixteen mills or for a million dollars that it would be twenty mills.

Ald. Cunningham contends that the plan is absolutely impracticable. He doubted if any citizen would be prepared to face an immediate eightmill addition to the tax rate. In addition to that he pointed out that no actual saving would be effected for the people.

"It is true that the city as a whole would severed."

con to that he pointed out that no actual saving would be effected for the people.

"It is true that the city as a whole would save the interest it ordinarily pays on expenditures of this kind, but the individual citizens would lose it," said Ald. Cunningham. It is as broad as it is long and it is better for the city as a whole to pay the interest than for the individual taxpayer. Under the plesent system the citizen pays only a small amount each year and has the remainder of the money for his own use.

"Besfdes this, it is not fair that the citizen of today should pay the entire cost of education for the next thiry years. When the cost is divided over the whole period the new citizens pay their share of it as well as the older ones."

Books are sold in these stores in both the Japanese and the English language. They are educating their children from the kindergarten right up to the universities, and the nation which does this is to be reckoned with. Our relation with Japan and China is vital. We should try to take into that country true Christianity. If we can do that we will win the hearts of every living person in Japan. Because farmers usually have little money in the early summer, it would not be feasible to collect their taxes at that period of the year, and it would not be legal to collect the taxes a year ahead.

is not the result of nervous energy. You really have two brains-one with which you think and act voluntarily, another one which, without any conscious effort on your part, controls the action of the various organs and members of the body. It is the failure of this sympathetic nervous system, as it is called, which most frequently causes trouble.

"Because nervous energy is lacking there is weak functioning of the vital organs. The digestive fluid does not flow properly in the stomach, and you have nervous indigestion—the action of the liver and bowels is slow and weak, and you suffer from constipation. And so it may be with other organs. While they are not really diseased, their action is weak for lack of nervous energy. What you need is

"There's nothing better. You know we doctors prefer to prescribe our own favorite treatments, but I have seen such splendid results from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food by my patients that I no longer hesitate to recommend it."

The active and concentrated ingredients of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food are approved by the best medical authorities as a means of building up the exhausted nervous system. The experiences of many thousands of people go to back up the professional opinion, and hence the enormous success of this great restorative. 50c a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Supporting the appeal, which was made by Dr. W. C. Doyle, mayor of Essex, the case of a now defunct tractor firm was cited. This factory had started in 1916 and was already becoming one of considerable importance, when, in 1918, along came the federal order-in-council which provided free entry for all tractors valued under $1,400. As for amateur theatricals ambitious to appear before a large public, often in aid of worthy civic causes, they see ahead of them a perfect mountain of expense to be climbed over, and doubtless many are discouraged from the attempt. It is principally the high rental of the theatrical building that sicklies o'er the native 'hue of resolution with a pale cast of anxious thought. Thus a very natural, healthy and useful activity of our young people is atrophied, and our social and artistic life is that Amateur acting should be encouraged as much as amateur sport and athletics. It is not good for a nation to take either its sport or its drama merely sitting and looking on, especially as some of he professional sport and of the professional drama is apt to be of a dubious quality. A community theatre rented at cost to amateur performers, or for expensive musical productions, or for drama and other entertainment of too refined quality to be altogether popular, would be a great help to the cultural progress of the city and vicinity.

LABOR LEAVING THE FARMS.

[Monthly Letter of National City Bank of New York.] The most serious feature of the agricultural situation is the continued loss of labor from the To every of peports from all sections of the country estimates reduction of 12 per cent in hired labor from a year ago, and that the amount of hired labor is only 72 per cent of what it was before the war. The As usual under a Tammany administration rise of wages and the shorter hours of labor in the town industries are accountable for this constant

It does not require an argument to convince any thoughtful person that this drift away from agriculture to the town industries is the result of artificial conditions and fundamentally wrong. Men are not worth so much more to society in the town industries than upon the farms as to justify this situation in the present state of world affairs.

If the crops are short and prices go higher, preumably the wage-earners of the cities will want further increases of pay to compensate them, and this will raise industrial costs still higher. Perhaps by that time, also, the demands for a 44 or 40-hour week will be due, and another installment of farmers will move to town, where the living conditions are so attractive. Then, with still higher prices for farm products, wages in the towns will have to be lifted again, until the last farmer has been convinced of the folly of resisting the movement, and wages for everybody in town are finally high enough to enable them to live without any crops! The farm demonstrator of the department of agriculture located at the State Agricultural College f New Hampshire says that this year practically completes the elimination of hired labor for the farms of New Hampshire. The next effect, he says: "Will be the elimination of small farmers and of men working with restricted capital. Such men simply sell off their stock and hire out by the day way assumed the cause of all ex-soldiers to help at the nearest mill or job that pays wages. the drug stores of the United States and Canada so the public could obtain this very remarkable tonic, corrective, and blood-maker. Dr. Pierce manufactured this "Discovery" from roots and barks—a corrective remedy, the ingredients of which nature had put in the fields and forests, for keeping us healthy. Few folks or families now living have not at sometime or other used this Golden Medical Discovery for the stomach, liver and heart. Evidence of the wonderful said of this medicine is recorded in the books of Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Buffalo, N. Y., showing that over twenty-four million bottles of this tonic and blood remedy have been sold in this country. No one can fight the battles of life and hold his own if his blood is not pure. No one suffers from colds, "flu" and catarrh who has plenty of red corpuscles and a good digestion. As cell-nutritial depends upon the blood, impurities in the blood, together with a lowered bodily resistance, cause catarrh. Introduce pure red blood into the system, and health is assured.

Dr. Pierce advises you, if you wish to avoid the many germ diseases, to keep your blood in good order. You can obtain Golden Medical Discovery in tablet or liquid form at all drug stores, or send

"There is only one agency I know of in Montreal carrying on the work of the dining-room so as to accommodate more girls. #### Thistles Form Industrial Claims Goldie Curling League For Inter- Prodger Signed Rink Games; a New Idea But He Says Not

Eighteen Classifications Alrea dy Made and Some Entries in C. H. A. Report He Will Play Each—Puts Zest Into Competition and Produces Strong Rink Spirit.

An industrial curling league was organized by the Thistles last evening for the inter-club rink competitions at a big meeting held in the north end club rooms. The idea closely follows that suggested by some of the bowlers last year; that of classifying present members in professions and trades and new members as well, and thus adding a zest to the competitions of the club, and a rink spirit often lacking.

18 Classifications.

There will be at least 18 classifications under the Thistle plan and probably as high as 20. Many of the classifications have entries in already, and the idea promises to go big, once its gets worked out.

The Thistle Club membership has been greatly augmented this autumn through the active services of a live membership committee, and it is intended that every member of the club, who desires to do so, may come in under one of the classifications comprised in the T. I. C. League. It is the desire of the committee who have worked out the idea that every member desiring to play and who is not notified prior to December 20, should immediately communicate with Secretary Leland E. Barrie, 312 Wolfe street.

The league has been formed to develop the good old game of curling as well as the good fellowship for which the Thistles are noted. It has been pointed out that a more pronounced esprit de corps could be characteristic of rinks formed under certain industrial classifications, and this idea when laid before those interested in the game has been enthusiastically acclaimed. Already applications for membership in the T. I. C. L. have been made by the following: Bankers (2 rinks), St. James' Church, C. P. R., Starr, Smallman & Ingram, Doctors, Travelers (2 rinks), Teachers, Printers, Hymans, McClarys, Fords, Newspapers, Hellmuths, Grocers, Clergymen and Gentlemen.

The Personnel.

The personnel of the league has not been definitely decided upon, since it may be a difficult matter to include all of those who wish to participate and confine the number of rinks to 20, which is the wish of the committee. However, further arrangements will be made at a full membership luncheon, which will be given in the club rooms at an early date. Great preparations are being made to provide for every member of the Thistle Club at this luncheon, and it is expected that this will be a fitting start to a successful season at the game.

The committee which worked to December 20, should immediately communicate with Secretary Leland E. Barrie, 312 Wolfe street.

The league has been formed to develop the good old game of curling as well as the good fellowship for which the Thistles are noted. It has been pointed out that a more pronounced esprit de corps could game. The committee which worked out the details of the league idea to date and which met last evening was comprised of the following curlers: Alf. Talbot. A. E. Barbour, Howard Hartry Dr. W. J. Brown, C. L. Edy. T. C. Margrett, Norman H. Keene and T. C. Benson.

Little Doubt City League Will Get London Curlers'Ice

Meeting This Afternoon At Armories At 5:15-Rink Committee Reports.

Indications are that the City League cutive will announce after this afteron's meeting that they have made ar-ngements for the use of the London rling Rink for the season. It is be-ved that the curlers are quite favorto the proposal, especially as it is rthern League hockey that is being offered. Friday night will be the Northern League night, if negotiations for the rink are put through.

Very little remains now to be cleaned up by the league. It will be up to the individual clubs from now on to dig out and get their players mustered for the coming of ice. Some clubs have already announced a good strong list of men, strong enough to make a good string brand of hockey assured.

All the clubs, however, once the question of ice is settled, will get right down to hard work on the men they sign up. fered. Friday night will be the North sign up.

This afternoon the representatives of the four clubs will deposit their Northern League entrance fees, which puts the stamp of the cold sounding circuit

Letters from Sarnia to the council of the London and District Soccer Asinclation indicate that better support than was anticipated even may be looked for from that town. The Sarnia soccer enthusiasts are going to form a public school league, and intend to nurse it along once it is formed. St. Thomas also will be organizing soccer in the public schools. With London also looking after public school soccer and giving it every encouragement, there should be no dearth of talent for London and District soccer in the

That is where soccer had fallen down largely in Canada. Some of the rural schools took up the game spasmodically and not in an organized way, but in the cities soccer has had very little real encouragement. If he game was played the youngsters had very little encouragement or chance for that matter to continue on in it, for once out of public school there were few teams to which they could go.

Now, however, with talent being steadily developed in the schools, and with good teams for them to graduate to soccer is on the right course to achieve an increasing prestige as a Canadian s port.

The organization made a very small beginning last spring, but rapidly grew, and at the end of the season had put soccer on a better basis than it has ever been in London. Still bigger things are in prospect for next year's league, which will have practically all the teams in the London and District Council, from the city, and also have the backing of the higher executive.

Whether a new set of officers will be elected tomorrow night, or whether the executive of the London and District Council will be asked to take over City, League affairs as well is not known. The latter plan is a good one in many respects, as it centralizes control, although keeping the affairs of the two leagues separate.

Last year there were eight teams which finished the season. Grand Trunks being returned champions, with Great War Vets runners-up. There will probably be twelve teams this year, if not more.

PROBLEMS OF WAR SOLVED BY EDISON

Evolved a Whole String of Valuable Inventions and Devices.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 .- "What did Edison do in the war?" is a question answered by Captain Lloyd N. Scott, liaison officer, in an official history of the work of the naval consulting board. A whole string of valuable inventions and devices was evolved by Mr. Edison imself as head of the naval consulting board. In fact, Mr. Edison took the presidency of the board on the organization work, but should be free to employ his time in working out inventions. He tackled the problem of detions. He tackled the problem of de-lecting submarines by sound and spent months working on the problem. His idea was that if a device could be perfected whereby a ship could hear the sound of a torpedo as soon as it was fired from a submarine, and then quickly alter its course, it would be as effective as destroying the submarine. At that time listening devices on moving ships as destroying the submarine. At that time listening devices on moving ships had failed, largely because they were towed astern, where the rush of water and the noise of the ship's propellers interfered with other sounds.

Listening Device Success.

Mr. Edison constructed a listening device that projected twenty feet in front of the bow of the ship. It was found to work satisfactorily in a rough found to work satisfactorily in a rough sea, with a ship going at its full speed of fourteen knots.

With this device there would be no sifficulty whatsure in hearing a toroid. difficulty whatever in hearing a torpedo more than 1,400 yards away, and this is far beyond the effective distance at which a torpedo can be launched from a submarine.

The noise from a torpedo is very piercing and peculiarly distinctive, so much so that in the course of some of much so that in the course of some of Mr. Edison's experiments at Sag Harbor, Long Island, where practice torpedoes were launched, the telephone connected with the detecting apparatus could be laid on the deck, and the noise of the torpedo could be plainly heard. In addition to working out schemes for distribution of shipping so as to give U-boats more ground to cover, Mr. Edison experimented with collision mats to stuff the holes caused in the side of a ship by the explosion of a torpedo, and he also devised a system of conveying a merchant ship out of a mined harbor.

Perhaps his most original contribu-harbor.

Perhaps his most original contribution to the subject of protecting the coast from the submarine attack was a plan to patrol the coast from Nova Scotia to Florida with a chain of submarine buoys, 50 to 100 miles out at sea. These buoys were to be used as lookout or reporting stations. Each sea. These buoys were to be used as lookout or reporting stations. Each would be manned by three men. The buoy could remain on the surface or the surface or the surface or submerge, and was to be equipped with sound-detecting apparatus as well as introduced.

On detecting a submarine or enemy ship the buoy would flash the word to the nearest destroyer or coast patrol ship, and in this way prevent the invader from getting in close to shore.

Another of Edison's inventions was a special sailing light for convoys. It was so constructed as to be visible to the lookout men in the masthead of other ships in the fleet, but invisible to the submarine on the surface of the sea.

Underwater Searchilghts.

An ingenious application of the smoke screen was also worked out by Mr. Edison. This was a plan for smudging the skyline three or four miles behind a the skyline three or four miles benind a fleet in action, so that the enemy warships would have no clear background for their gunnery. In other words, the skyline smudge would produce a state of low visibility for the enemy, but would not bother our own ships, as it would not be between them and the enemy.

Experiments by Mr. Edison with underwater searchlights did not progress very far, but he did invent a light which penetrated sea water for 60 feet and enabled persons to read print at that distance. He also worked on a type of oleum cloud shell to blind an enemy at sea, perfecting a projectile which would penetrate water—without ricecheting—and invented an underwater vane or fin operated automatically to over-come the roll of a ship, this to facilitate come the roll of a ship, this to facilitate gun pointing at sea in rough weather.

Among other things to which Mr. Edison devoted his attention were the means of obtaining nitrogen from the air, a hydrogen gas detector for submarines, masks to protect masthead observers from the fumes of the smokestack of a ship, a turbine head for projectiles, a plan for mining Zeebrugge harbor, a mirror signal system for warships, a direction finder for aeroplanes, a sound ranger for detecting concealed sound ranger for detecting concealed enemy guns, an extension ladder for the lookout man on shipboard, and a reacting shell, otherwise a "non-duddable" shell.

Italian Boy Who Played For His Meals Real Virtuoso.

New York, Nov. 29.—In the Lombard city of Milan there is a little restaurant called "La Grande Italia" where the cookery is excellent and the wine better still. On Christmas eve last the night grew merry at "La Grande Italia." A pleasant company was gathered, musicians most, from La Scala and the conservatory.

At the head of the principal table sat Maestro Bavagnoli, who directed the orchestra at New York's Metropolitan a few years ago. Beside him was Signor Ferrario, the host of the establishment, Says Prosper Buranelli in the New York World.

Outside a shabby youth stood and peered through the door. He was slender, pale and blond. He had a small chin, a short nose and a wide forehead. His years were 19 or nearly that. The night was cold, and he shivered in his thin coat, Finally he walked hesitatingly into the restaurant. Signor Ferrario confronted the stranger.

"I am Vasa Prihoda, a native of Bohemia," he said. "I am the first violinist in the world. I have eaten an apple and a slice of bread the last two days. It is Christmas eve and I am hungry. Give me something to eat and I will repay you by playing for you."

Signor Ferrario laughed. He grimaced at the "first violinist in the world," but the lad was hungry.

"You need not play. But you shall eat," he said.
"I will not eat, unless I play. I am no beggar." Vasa Prihoda replied placidly.
"Eh bien!" Signor Ferrario moved his shoulders resignedly.
They made place at the table and the guest sat down to his meal.
In the restaurant a fiddler, a flute and a harp discoursed suave tunes. After an hour the fiddler resigned his instrument to the vagrant youth.
Whereupon followed Tartin's formidable "Devil's Trail," and Paganin's G string variations of an aria from Rossin's "Mose," played in a style that set the musician-diners shouting. A Kubelik at 19 had walked among

Some "Overprivileged Boys" Who Entertained "Tough Guvs"

[From Literary Digest.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The scientific social workers call them the "underprivileged boy," and the "overprivileged boy," and the "overprivileged boy," One of them is born with a silver spoon in his mouth and the other, says Ben Hecht, special correspondent of the Chicago Daily News, "with a splinter in his big toe." One of them grows up carefully protected, perhaps too carefully protected, from all the shocks and tribulations that boyhood is heir to. At six he begins to find automobiles a bore, at ten he throws the miniature electric railway out of the window and refuses to waste any time on the silly old Christmas tree. The scientific workers have him tabulated as the overprivileged boy, and he is likely to develop into a bad sort of a clitzen if nothing happens to reduce Ms idea of his own importance. At the other extreme is the curbstone gamin, yelling "cheese it" when the cop heaves into sight, fighting, swearing, and hunting cats in the alleys. No scientific charity-workers were on hand to remold their gamin souls and tack new labels onto them. This raised suspicions and Constable Esson went down, looked over the window where it was said the party had entered the house, visited the cellar, and found the covers of several liquor cases. Then a perusal of the records of the express company for liquor shipments furnished the missing link in the story, with the result that Munro appeared in court today charged with exposing or keeping liquor for sale, contrary to section 40 of the O. T. A. His counsel, F. P. Dawson, made a plea for leniency, advising the court that his client had stated that he had not sold any liquor and that his wife had confirmed the assertion.

Resigned His Seat in Favor of Hon. Manning Doherty.

CHATHAM, Nov. 30.—J. B. Clark of Harwich Township received official notice this afternoon that he had been appointed registrar of Kent County, his duties to take effect on January 1. Mr. Clark successfully contested the East Riding of Kent in the last provincial election, but resigned his seat not long after in favor of Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture.

Miss Carrie Burton, the deputy registrar, has been employed at the Kent registry office for a great many years, acting as registrar after the deaths of P. D. McKellar and the late A. J. Dunn.

ARE NOT WORRYING.

TORONTO, Nov. 30.—Criticism of the action of the Ontario Government in appointing J. B. Clark registrar for the county of Kent seems not to be affecting either Hon. Manning Doherty, for whom Mr. Clark gave up his seat in the Legislature, or Mr. Drury, neither of whom admits that Mr. Clark's appointment was in the nature of a reward for his having made way for the minister of agriculture. Premier Drury this evening admitted that there might be some discussion on the question, but he said Mr. Clark is a capable man and his appointment had been asked for by a good many persons in Kent County.

Trades and Labor Council Plan To Put Full Slate in Field.

SARNIA, Nev. 30.—The natural gas question will be made an issue at the coming municipal elections by the trades and labor council. At a largely attended meeting tonight it was decided to place a full slate in the field, and it was partially named as follows: For mayor, George Crawford; for aldermen, Harry Steele, George Galloway, William Nelson and H. Derbyshire; for school trustees, R. M. Durnford and Fred Gowrie. The opinion was generally expressed that the council had not handled the gas situation in the best interests of the citizens. It was felt that there was no reason for granting increased rates without increased service, and this will be made an issue in the election campaign, and an effort made to secure cheaper gas. neaper gas.
The school question also received con

"Dealers today have the following costs: They pay $15 for coal at the mine, $3.64 for frieght to Niagara Falls: $2.06, exchange rate; $1.80 for freight from Niagara Falls to Windsor, and $1.25 for delivery. MOUNT BRYDGES, Nov. 30.—At a meeting held in the North Caradoc Presbyterian Church in connection with the proposed co-operative union with the Methodist Church, Rev. N. Campbell, Presbytery's convener of co-operation, and Rev. J. D. Byrones were the speakers of the evening. At the close of the meeting a vote was taken, which was unanimous in opposition to the proposed co-operation with the Methodist Church.

A similar meeting was held at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Mount Brydges. At the close Mr. Byrones delivered a long address, after which a motion was moved and seconded, which was as follows: "While we believe that co-operation may be useful in some localities, we feel that we know our church and people better than any outsider can, and belleving that any move in that direction would not be for the best interests of Christianity in this community, I now move that we, as St. Andrew's people, positively and absolutely refuse to have anything to do with it, or take any steps in that direction."

A standing vote of the congregation was taken, the result being 57 in favor of the motion, to 4 against it.

Tariff Commissioners Hold a Sitting in Toronto.

Toronto, Dec. 1.—"In presenting our views on the Canadian customs tariff to this commission, we respectfully point out that the province of Ontario manufactures 48 per cent of the total amount of goods made in Canada; that the population of Ontario is about one-third that of the Dominion, and that the area of this programs is three times. the area of this province is three times as great as that of the United Kingdom, and almost twice as great as either

The tone generally was strong, and some gains were registered, notably in the 1924 issue, in which a full point advance was made. three in number: First, the Canadian eustoms tariff, by assuring a home market, had enabled Ontario manufacturers to produce in large quantities and to ship their products east and west; second, the waterpowers available in the province, which had attained a creditable measure of development; fluctuation of % for the morning's dealings. Abitibl and Brompton were unchanged.

He declared that agriculture in Onario had made remarkable strides, and in support of that statement he quoted the minister of agriculture's figures showing the gigantic productions of the province in grain, fruit, vegetables and stock.

GARBAGE DEPT. SIGN

Has Caused Much Misunderstanding On Part of Irate Citizens.

After thorough consideration from all possible angles No. 2 committee of the city council has finally decided to take an important step to connection with a comparison of population, it is evident that the province is still capable of a great degree of industrial and agricultural expansion."

This was the opening paragraph of the statement presented today by John R. Shaw, chairman of the Ontario division the city hall. Those were prosperous days, before the war started or the high cost of living was ever thought of, and the city fathers of that day recklessly expended several dollars on a wire screen for the large window. Theis served the double purpose of protecting those within from too-curious eyes and also by means of large gilt letters informed passers-by that it was the headquarters of the system which occasionally called for the ashes and other material collected in their and other material collected in their back yards. The garbage business grew and the head office was moved to more commodious quarters on the second floor. But the screen and the gilt letters remained. Recently the small office was alloted to Plurbing Inspector
James Young. With a desk and chair and filing cabinet it began to look like a real office once more, so people began to drop in to make remarks about the garbage collection. Mr. Young in the province, which had attained a creditable measure of development: and, third, the extent and value of natural resources, including those of agriculture, which had furnished a considerable proportion of the raw material for manufacturing purposes. "We submit, further," said Mr. Shaw, "that the tariff has been the most effective of the three because, without it, there would have been neither the opportunity nor the necessity for so great a measure of the proper in to make remarks about the garbage collection. Mr. Young was sympathetic, but all he could do for them was to direct them up the stairs to the proper place. Sometimes when he was out on an inspection job, irate citizens would wait half an hour At the end of that time they would was one flight up and that they could have saved considerable time by going there half an hour ago. STANDARD STOCK EXCHANGE. Toronto, Dec. 1.—Light trading wa again in evidence at this morning' session of the Standard Mining Ex province in grain, fruit, vegetables and stock.

The official information issued by the department of agriculture furnished adequate proof that agriculture in Ontario is in a prosperous condition. Comparatively little of the produce of Ontario farms is exported, nearly all of it is marketed or consumed in Canada, said the statement.

"We think, therefore, that any change in the fiscal system which would result in the lowering of the tariff, or its complete abolition would produce farreaching and serious consequences."

GUELPH, Nov. 30.—The new $60,000 agricultural building, the latest addition to many fine educational structures at the Ontario College will be formally opened by Premier Drury Wednesday at the first session of the three day's consociation. Cattle Coming In.

With the arrival of 25 head of dairy cattle today the influx of live stock to the Winter Fair has commenced, and from now on for the balance of this week there will be a steady stream of exhibits pouring into the big buildings. Among the first of the dairy cattle to reach Guelph were the Ayrshire exhibits of Harmon McPherson of Norwich, and H. C. Two Hackneys from Cascater's Weston string also arrived during the night and were the first horses to put in an appearance. Supts. Saunders and Leitch have all ar angements just about completed and had to do a lot of close figuring in order to find room for the big entry list.

Big Poultry Show.

The escalator, which is used for transferring the poultry from the ground floor to the poultry department, is being erected today and the prize birds in thousands will arrive tomorrow. Some of the entries in the seed department are already in the building and this will be an important feature of the fair this year, particularly in view of the fact that seed will be here from both New Bruhswick and British Columbia, in addition to the Ontario exhibits.

HENRY V. ESMOND AND EVA

MOORE AT THE GRAND THURS-

Following the phenomenal success achieved by the all-Canadian tour of "The Maid of the Mountains," under the auspices of the Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited, the same organization now presents for the entertainment of London playgoers one of the most successful comedy hits known to the English-speaking stage of the last decade. H. V. Esmond and Eva Moore will present their delightful comedy success, "The Law Divine," at the Grand Opera House Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with popular Saturday matinee.

and Saturday, with popular Saturday matinee.

The temporary estrangement of a husband returned from war service to war office duties and a wife who has neglected her domestic duties owing to the allurement of war work of various kinds, and the astonishingly human method of their reconciliation constitutes the basis of a comedy as entertaining, as fascinating and as diverting as any which have packed the London theatres during the past ten years.

Mr. Esmond and Miss Moore will present "The Law Divine" with the original London, England, production and the original London cast. No more attractive theatrical entertainment is in sight for the Grand stage during the present season. present season. Seats for the London engagement are now on sale for all performances, and judging by the mail orders, capacity audiences will no doubt be the rule throughout the three days.

"MUTT & JEFF AT THE RACES"
NEXT MONDAY AT THE GRAND.
Those famous cartoon comics, Mutt and Jeff, originally created by "Bud"
Fisher and brought into national fame by Gus Hill, are announced to hold forth in a merry whirl of action, mirth, music, pretty girls, gorgeous costumes, novelty surprises and their latest adventures at the Grand next Monday. Tuesday and Wednesday. This year their exploits will be served through the medium of a brand new musical play of wit, humor, song and melody, entitled "Mutt and Jeff at the Races."
Of course, the same old arguments will be revived, patched up and renewed as of yore, but amidst atmosphere and environment that will tickle, please and amuse their millions of admirers. A wild orgy of unalloyed delight, hilarity and unstinted joy is promised. Mutt and Jeff are an institution and purely American at that. Seats go on sale Thursday at 8 a.m.

AT LOEW'S.

Robert Warwick, the photoplay star, is becoming an expert at masquerading "The City of Masks," in which the stalwart star is to be seen at Loew's for the last time today, is the second picture recently in which he has played the role of a nobleman concealing his identity while he works in a humble capacity. However the two pictures are vastly different in theme. In "Jack Straw," Mr. Warwick was an iceman and waiter, who follows his lady love to California. The "City of Masks" casts him as a chauffeur to all outward appearances. But in a certain gathering he is known as Sir Eric Temple, which happens to be his real name.

A funny Howell comedy, with a laugh every foot of celluloid, takes care of the fun end of the excellent program, which has delighted capacity audiences at Loew's the past two days, and which will be seen for the last time today. Loew's Screen 'Pictorial is replete with picture interest from far and wide, and three of the best vaudeville offerings seen here in some time, completes the bill. Anita Stewart, that charming little star, comes to Loew's for the last three days of the week in "Harriet and the Piper." It's advertised as a prohibition cocktail with a "kick," and it ought to be one of the best offerings of the season. AT LOEW'S.

of the season.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

If you want to enjoy one of the best dramatic productions seen on any stage in London this season take in "The Boss" at the Majestic as presented by the Majestic Players, which is indeed one of the best bills that has been offered by these sterling players since opening week. The entire company is seen in the cast, and each and every member has ample opportunity to display their artistic talents, much to the seen in the cast, and each and every member has ample opportunity to display their artistic talents, much to the enjoyment of the capacity audiences which have been in evidence the past two nights. That the Majestic players have won the hearts of London playgoers is evident in the increasing crowds that have greeted the players this week. The big popular matinee today will bring out a capacity crowd, and is proving the popular performance among the feminine folks.

"The Boss" is a tense dramatic plece, with love, comedy and everything that goes to make for a tidy production, enjoyable from every angle, and an evening's entertainment you'll remember for quite some time.

IS "MASTER MIND," SHOWING AT THE ALLEN.

Of all the great triumprs of Lionel Barrymore, none shine forth more strongly than his great interpretation of "The Master Mind," which is showing at the Allen today for the last time.

The Barrymores have been known for years as the greatest artists of the stage and screen, and Lionel, in his masterpiece of characterization as the arch-plotter of vengeance, brings to the screen a personality as forceful and compelling as was his worldwide success in "The Jest."

As the master mind of the criminal world, Barrymore carries you through a series of tense dramatic scenes, from the time of the execution of his younger brother on a wild, stormy night, to the culmination of his revenge, when the trap all set for his enemy, he pulls the strings of his plan one by one, and brings the world tumbling about the head of the man who had wronged him five years before. For sheer tense interest, and for dramatic ability, which is able to sway you from the height of happiness to the depth of pathos, nothing can compare with "The Master Mind." The story is remarkable for its able to sway you from the height of happiness to the depth of pathos, nothing can compare with "The Master Mind." The story is remarkable for its detail, but more so for its lack of unnecessary detail, the action standing out strong and bold, flowing swiftly through the entire six reels.

The overture is "The Ballet Egyptian," by Allen's famous concert orchestra. Among the interesting features of the Canadian news are several scenes of the Princess Pats embarking at London, Nov. 30.—The League of Nations commission of control has arranged an armistice between Lithuania can on th son, in response to an invitation from the League of Nations council, has
