THE WAR NEWS.

Another terrible disaster has overtaken the Russian arms. The battleship Petropavlovsk while leaving Port Arthur to engage the Japs, ran foul of a submarine mine and was blown up. It is officially announced that Vice-Admiral Makaroff was aboard and went down with his ship. It is feared that almost the entire crew, consisting of close on seven hundred men, has perished. The Grand Duke Cyril, heir apparent to the Russian throne, was also on the Petropavlovsk, and had a marvelous escape. Everything points to a hig battle or bombardment at Port Arthur, which, according to latest dispatches, is still in progress. From a Russian source it is said that Admiral Togo approached with the intention of shelling the fortress, but was driven off by the Russian fleet. Stiff fighting is still going on along the Valu. Russians claims to have wiped out a Jap patrol, while Tokio hears that the Czar's troops in an attempt to cross the stream near Wiju were driven back with heavy

THE G. T. P. DEBATE

Mr. Gourley Takes Another Crack at the United States.

Ottawa, April 12. - The debate on the Grand Trunk Pacific was resumed this morning, the Conservative whip, figured out that the construction of the road would mean a tax of $25 per head on the population of Canada; $150 on every voter; a tax of $800,000 on every rural constituency, and $100,-000 on every township in Canada. He thought the Government should first get an order from the people before going to such a great expenditure Growing prophetical, he said, the Con servatives would presently be returned to power, upon which the contract would be canceled. Mr. Casgrain (Montmorency), held that the road would do nothing towards the colonization of Northern Quebec. Fifty million dollars spent wisely on colonization roads would increase the population of Quebec by two millions, but the G. T. R. would do nothing for the Province. Mr. Casgrain expressed the firm conviction that the eastern section would never be built. The Grand Trunk would simply use the road to North Bay to feed its system in Canada, and the

Dr. Daniels (St. John), advocated the extension of the Intercolonial Railway into the heart of the country. by which means, he argued, it could be made a commercial success. He also urged the Government to take a portion of the money which it proposed to spend on the G. T. P. and with it nationalize the ports of St. John and Halifax. Mr. Gourley condemned the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway scheme. He advocated the building of a road through the great alluvial district between the height of land and Hudson Bay, which, he said, would give Canada depth, and would ultimately result in the founding of a city on Hudson Bay that would be the capital of

The liabilities of the Lake Superior Company consist of a mortgage of $5,-600,000 held by the Speyer syndicate and claims of secured and unsecured creditors amounting to $2,399,708. Of these creditors' claims $585,283 63 is secured by first mortgage bonds of the Michigan Lake Superior Power Company, and supplies and materials of much greater value than the amount of the claims. This leaves the amount of the creditors' claims, to be provided for, $1,804,425 35. Add this to the Speyer mortgage and the total amount of indebtedness to be provided for is $7,-404,425 35.

The Ontario Government stipulates that the reorganized company shall wipe out all its indebtedness and have at least $1,100,000 of cash working capital over and above all materials and supplies on hand, to insure the successful operation of the works. It will be necessary, therefore, for those interested in the reorganization to immediately provide $8,504,425 35. The Government will loan its credit to the company to raise $2,000,000 by guaranteeing its bonds to that extent. As security the Province will take first mortgage bonds of $6,750,000 on the Algoma Central Railway; $405,000 first mortgage bonds on the Manitoulin and north to find a paying route, Seymour North Shore Railway; $725,000 first Gourley, M. The first thing to be done by the company is to complete the Algoma Central Railway, which will cost $1,-640,700, and which will earn $787,764 in subsidies from the Dominion Government as soon as completed. The names of the men who are behind the reorganized syndicate have been made public and include a score of noted mil- going to be run by short-haired wolionaires and business men in the United States. As to whether the Province of Ontario has taken any risk in loaning its credit for $2,000,000 in the effort to place this great enterprise on its feet, we quote the Premier's words:

"I should think it would be a very unwise thing for the Government on Cunard steamers of quadruple screws, sentimental ground, or any ground to embark upon an enterprise like this, or to pledge the security of the Province in this way, unless convinced of its soundness as a business proposition, and that the securities held by the Government are absolute, ample and beyond question. The direct railway securities represent a dollar for every twenty-five are the bonds, which represent more than our guarantee, which even if realize our guarantee. Then the stock and other securities, on which I am not placing any particular esthat we have a security which must be considered as ample and quite realizable. We have faith in the district and in its future. And when I say that we believe the Government are pledging the good faith of the Province without any material risk I say what I believe to be the case, and what I sincerely hope will be realized if the House approves of Distributing the Population.

The distribution of population in the older provinces of Canada is much the same as it was 50 years ago. In greyhound fleetness, but it will insure Quebec the French settled along the valley of the St. Lawrence, and the English in the eastern townships. In Ontario the U. E. Loyalists made their homes chiefly along the shores of Lake Erie, Lake Ontario and the Detroit, Niagara and St. Lawrence Rivers. The know it back country has been gradually settled, but to no appreciable depth. Today from the Atlantic coast to the head of Lake Superior the Canadian people are spread in only a narrow fringe along the southern boundary. In Quebec there has been some settlement in the Lake St. John region, and in Ontario a large community has been planted in the Temiskaming district. But these are only outposts. It has been well said that the Dominion has length but not breadth. The Canadian people have been brought up to look upon this as a geological necessity. A depth of two or three counties from the frontier has been supposed to be the limit of Ontario's habitable and productive in the popular mind, had no future. except as a lumbering and mining camp. Only in recent years has it dawned on us that the vast hinterland of Ontario has not been doomed by nature to be forever a wilderness. The discovery of a tract of arable land in this region, estimated at 16,000,000 acres, is an important fact in the history of this country. The Dominion's great need is depth, and unless there are resources which will give it depth by sustaining permanently a population in the back country, the work of ration-building will be immeasurably more difficult and precarious. The country is only tied together by a slender thread of population along the boundary stretching 3,500 miles. For national reasons, no less than commercial, it is desirable that the hiatus between the east and the west should be closed up. The mines of New Ontario have drawn a considerable popueadth and thickness to this country. WO EDITIONS DARK - WEEKLY Surely it should be a national policy o open up for settlement the great arable areas which we know exist in New Ontario, and which are reported to exist in the hinterland of Quebec. This development will be facilitated by the new transcontinental road. It will put a backbone through the Dominion and be a great unifying in-This is the aim which has nspired the Dominion Government and which determined it, against the will of the promoters of the Grand Frunk Pacific, who would have ended heir line at North Bay and linked it there with the Grand Trunk system, to insist on the construction of a road which will unlock the wealth of the interior and put population where it is needed to consolidate the framework of the Dominion.

New and Novel Teaching Method Planned by an Educational Expert.

Chicago, April 8. - Dramatic acting n the schoolroom as a means of educating the children in history, literature, and ethical truths is the novel pedagogical method recommended by Mrs. Emmons Blaine in an article on "The Dramatic in Education," which appeared yesterday in the April number of "The Elementary School Teacher." The magazine is published by the University Press and is edited by the faculty of the School of Education, which Mrs. Blaine has endowed to the extent of nearly a million dollars. The plan she suggests is being tried in the classes there.

Mrs. Blaine holds that the dramatic instinct is strong in children and that by careful training it may be made "a power to construct in them strongclearer images and finer thoughts.' This dramatic instinct, however, Mrs. Blaine would have worked out by the children themselves in schoolroon plays. She says that there are few things on the stage at the present time that children should see or hear and suggests that the theaters set aside Saturday afternoons for plays to be given for the school children.

Of acting in the schoolroom, Mrs. Blaine says, "School should be a stage. Periods of history being studied should be lived in, and lived out, for the benefit of the others. Each should contribute out of his knowledge to the detail of the play. The children should be Greeks, Romans, and middle-age barons and priests; they should write the Magna Charta and discover America and construct our nation every day. Motifs of all sorts should be shown in action, imaginative as well as historical, and done in an impromptu and spontaneous way, as well as worked out into a more studied cor rectness. What would be the result? Vividness of impression. History would be to them their familiar field; people in distant ages would be people not names with dates attached. "There is another result to dwell upon, perhaps more valuable even - the immense power of impressing actions by the action done - the moral force of impersonation. For the drama that children should continues Mrs. Blaine, "what can

[Special to The Advertiser.] Toronto, April 12. - The debate on the discussion on Mr. Pettypiece's railway taxation bill. The Soo debate was reopened by Mr. Whitney, who spoke for over an hour and a half. He was taxation bill. The social taxation bill to the social taxation bill taxation bill. A ROYAL COMMISSION.

At the afternoon session the special ommittee to whom Mr. Pettypiece's bill was referred, recommended to the House that a commission of three be appointed as soon as possible to collect information on the various phases of railway legislation in the States, and also as to the value of railway property in Ontario. Mr. Pettypiece supported the report. When the report was presented to the Legislature, Mr. Clark (Center Bruce) moved that it be referred back with instructions to the committee, to whole bill. This provoked one of the liveliest debates of the session. It occupied all the afternoon and resulted in a division, and the re-* port as presented was adopted by a vote of 43 to 47.

Mr. Clark (Center Bruce) claimed that Mr. Pettypiece was inconsistent in supporting the report after declaring that he would not consent to have his bill shelved. The report was too vague, and said nothing as to the division of taxes received from the railways. Under Mr. Pettypiece's bill the Province's treasury would have been benefited almost immediately, but the new proposal would defer such a result perhaps for years. Mr. Clark the moved that the report be referred back. MR. PETTYPIECE'S DEFENSE.

The Premier declared that the first part of the report explicitly affirmed the general principle of increased railway taxation, which was the basis Pettypiece's bill. Moreover, it of Mr. affirmed the principle of the bill looking to the taxation of all classes of railways, whether local or through roads, and it suggested a permanent railway assessment commission, both of which principles were in entire harmony with Mr. Pettypiece's views. He drew attention to the fact that it vas proposed to revolutionize a system in vogue in Ontario for fifty years. A number of systems were in vogue in the States. Before the House could act intelligently in the matter, all those systems must be carefully investigated. No leap in the dark should be taken. The question involved over three hundred million dollars' worth of property in the Province, and the inof practically every citizen. He thought the guaranteeing of the company's bonds meant establishing a bad precedent and did not think the Government would ever recover the $2,000,000. He declared the securities to be unsubstantial and mythical and did not think they would be accepted by a financial insitution.

THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL. Mr. Gibson, who followed, declared he measure was justified as a measure that had been the Government policy for over 25 years in the matter of aid to railways. The Government had not given one acre of land, and would not do so until the $2,000,000 guarantee was wiped out. He contended that new money amounting to $3.-000.000 had been put into the enterprise. The agreement provided that the $1,000,000 working capital should

The absence of rest accounts for much of the ill-health, irritability and despondency that we find everywhere about us. We can't eat our pudding and have it, nor can we go on wasting our energies without soon reaching the limit of our reserve power.

Japan's Advantage. One advantage which Japan has in he conflict with Russia is that practically the whole of Japan's naval strength can be concentrated for use in the struggle. Russia, however, has to safeguard her interests in other parts of the world, so that many of her vessels are not available. The Baltic fleet, for instance, cannot be made use of, and the prospect of trouble in the Balkans keeps the Black Sea fleet in those waters. Moreover, as regards the latter fleet, there is the Dardanelles difficulty. MAURA'S CLOSE SHAVE

of Spanish Premier. Barcelona, April 12.-Late tonight a semi-official report of the attack on Premier Maura was issued, according to which the assailant had concealed a kitchen knife, with which he stabbed Premier Maura, but the force of the blow was broken, and its direction diverted by the heavy lace on the minister's coat, resulting in only a slight scratch under the sixth rib. A doctor attached to King Alfonso's suite was employed as a domestic. anarchist, and when arrested attempted suicide by dashing his head against a wall. He was injured. Premier Maura is very unpopular in Catalonia, owing to his firm attitude in suppressing labor disorders. The attack was made just after he had distributed 3,000 pesetas to the poor. Artao was examined, and declared that he had no accomplices, but had acted on his own initiative because of his hatred of Maura's politics.

loads of oats sold at $1 per cwt. wheat was offered today. WEEKLY REVIEW.

There has been considerable improvement in the attendance, so far as numbers is concerned during the past six days on the market here. Thursday's and Saturday's markets were the largest in several weeks. Most of the offerings were confined to the smaller lines. Trade was fairly active for most of the stuff

STOCK MARKETS.

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Commerce building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & arrington today:

New York, April 13—Noon.—The market today has been somewhat erratic and dervous. The opening was depressed, but the was followed by a sharp rally in the more active stocks. This did not last, and the end of the first howr the tone was again weak and quiet. Stocks been watched carefully during the morning, and it is now easier in tone. The traders seem to think that if Harriman's petition is denied the stock will was fairly active for most of the stuff offered, and prices were a shade easier. Grain—Oats are in good demand; the supply is on the light side: prices range from %c to $1 per cwt. Clover seed is quoted at $5 to $550 per bu.

Hay and Straw—About 190 loads were offered during the week; prices rule at $7 to $9 per ton. Straw sells at $3 per load, or $5 to $550 per ton.

Butter and Eggs—The demand for the best grades of butter is fairly brisk, at 16c to 17c for crocks and 17c to 18c for pound rolls; common stuff is duff, as very little is wanted. Prices of the stuff offered, and prices were a shade easier.

The traders seem to think that if Harriman's petition is denied the stock will sell off. Too much importance is attached to this petition. It was made only to facilitate the bringing of the suit. If, it is denied another suit will be brought at once, probably in New Jersey. The dominant interests are strongly bullish. A bull tip on Brooklyn Rapid Transit was in active circulation during the morning, but the stock has done very little. Potatoes-The supply is hardly suffi-
