Doing Good Work.

MAKES AGRICULTURE THE BASIS

Has a Well-Trained Standing Army -Will Not Allow Adventurous Foreigners in Country.

London, July 12.-Jacques I., Emperor of the Sahara, erstwhile known to fame as M. Lebaudy, of Paris, and the reputed possessor of far more money than brains, is now commonly regarded as a notoriety-seeking freak whose kingdom should be restricted to the confines of a lunatic asylum. That is the way he is usually written up. But an Englishman who recently has had abundant opportunities for studying Lebaudy at close range takes an entirely different view of him. W. L. de S. Lennox is his name and e has just returned from a year's stay at Troja, where the eccentric Frenchman has established the capital of what he dreams will some day be mighty empire. Nor can it be said that Mr. Lennox has any reason to be prejudiced in Lebaudy's favor. For merly an officer in the British volunteers, he thought that he might be able to get a snug billet in the emperor's army. He didn't get it, because, he says, he would not forswear his English citizenship and turn Mohammedan That was not calculated to make him an admirer of Jacques I. Notwithstanding this, he assured me that his Saharan majesty is a much underrated man. Instead of being devoted to mere idle show, pomp and vanity, he said Calgary, Alta.

Tenders will not be considered unless energetic and capable administrator, Tenders will not be considered that and who is doing a difficult work in an exigned with the actual signatures of cellent fashion, transforming a barren waste into a productive region and introducing law and order where brigandage was formerly the favorite of cupation of the people > given over to brigandage and poverty Two years ago, when he went to Sahara, the territory over which he now rules was in a most primitive state Now law and order have been established there, schools have been opened an embryonic city of 6,000 people has been brought into existence, many acres have been brought under cultivation and yield sugar, cotton rice and tobacco, while stores, granaries and other improvements have been in troduced. His empire is self-supporting and well governed. He himself leads a most industrious life and is the hardest worker in his kingdom. His Kitchener was the type of man needed to attack abuses which have been rooted in the system from time immemorial. He owed nothing to social prestige or backstairs influence. He was a soldier first and last. Caring everything for his profession and nothing for society, he surrounded himself with men of his own stamp, he did his work in a workmanlike manner, with a contempt for old fogeyism and routine.

When he went to India he found a particularly ripe specimen of the circumlocution office. The whole military the home team?" administration was strangled in red tape. In his own words it was "paperlegged with unnecessary verbiage, and almost submerged in "endless references and cross-references;" his work doubled by "a mass of correspondence and conflicting opinions.' "The army," says Lord Kitchener, "is bad, déspite its splendid material. The consideration that an army exists for war has been overlooked."

Lord Kitchener has treated the barpacles with an iron hand, to use an historic phrase, and the Bumbledom of the army stands aghast. The Imperial Government has sided with him, and the dual authority in military administration in India been modified in his favor. One of the Big Winners Is a Woman-Another is a Preacher Who Didn't Believe What He Preached.

Goldfield, Nev., July 12.-The search for gold brings mankind together in oddly-assorted lots. If you don't believe it come to this mining camp in the heart of the Nevada desert, 27 miles from the nearest railroad. There are 8,000 people here now, and the only notable absentees are the Chinese and Milyan's brownstone fort on Gold- the Japanese. They are not here because they can't get in. A reception committee, or to be more exact, a departure committee, awaits him, and away he goes. There's no yellow peril here.

One cannot take half a dozen steps through the main street of the camp without meeting someone of the hundreds who have come here within the last two years without a penny and can now write their checks in four, five and six figures. Not the least notable of them is a woman, Mrs. Addie When gold was discovered here two years ago she was one of the first to arrive on the ground. She knew nothing of mining camps, and it was her plan to put up a big lodging tent for the new arrivals. But when she reached Tonopah her funds were exhausted. She held up the first prosperous-looking man she met and told him point blank that she needed $300 and vanted it at once. He didn't have a chance to get in a word of remonbreath she showed him what a good was to get his money back, convinced him that she was a woman to be trusted and wound up by getting

The question, so far as a piano is concerned depends largely upon two things, the construction of the pin block and the quality of the strings. To show how nearly the firm of Gourlay, Winter, & Leeming, To-ronto, have solved the problem, the following letter from Calgary is submitted. The writer is Mr. E. H. Crandell, who says: "I beg to report the safe arrival of the Gourlay piano without a scratch and in perfect tune. This I think, is marvelous and speaks volumes for your instruments. It's a long way from Toronto to Calgary." The Toronto University examinations in music have just been held, the number of candidates being larger than ever before. Among the successful ones there are many friends of the Gourlay piano, for these instruments were used by the University and the candidates were greatly delighted with the responsiveness of the piano, which was of great assistance to them at such a critical and nerve-racking time.

Fair advances were established, when nunerous selling orders appeared, presumably for long account profit taking. This encouraged traders to attempt a turn on the short side.

During the noon hour dullness set in, and various soft spots developed, notably in Union Pacific, on talk of un-certainty regarding the increased dividend. There is little else, however, o report, and it looks for the remainder of the session as though the market would be dull and professional in one. Sales to noon, 404,000.

KITCHEN ECONOMY

There is triple economy in using Strong's Baking Powder: 1. It costs less than other good powders.

2. It goes about twice as far.

3. It gives uniformly good results.
The amount of money lost in one "spoiled" baking, through the use of impure powder, would pay the entire cost of Strong's Baking Powder for several months. This powder is always pure, fresh and full of strength, hence you can always depend upon it producing uniform results. Price, 25c a pound.

I fancy that this country will consent to parting with her gold only upon condition that she reeives something tangible in exchange. Nothing could better protect her elf-esteem against the ill-humor William II, than the bill signed by the Sultan of Morocco. Germany is neither rich nor given to making loans. Would she be willing or able to re-

Son of Fireman George Taylor Injured, But Only Slightly. On Queen's Avenue.

George Taylor, son of Fireman George Taylor, of No. 3 fire station, was bitten by a dog owned by Mr. James Duffield, on Mr. Duffield's lawn last evening. The lad who is about 12 years of age, and is employed at Cairncross & Law-rence's drug store, had delivered a parcel at the Duffield residence, and started to run across the lawn to the gate. As he did so the dog, which was lying on the grass, snapped at him, cutting him just above the knee. Dr. Reason cauterized the wound and took every necessary precaution, and Dr. Tennent, V. S., placed the dog in quarantine. Dr. Tennent says he is doing this merely as a precautionary measure, as beyond doubt the animal is not suffering from rabies or any other ailment. Further, the doctor says, that he has not come across a single case of rabies in the entire city. The dogs which were placed in quarantine some time ago are all doing well.
