PLAN TO PREVENT WAR

W. J. Bryan Makes a Suggestion to President Roosevelt.

An Impartial International Board For the Investigation of Disputes, That Lead to War—Avoids the Objection Against Arbitration—Glorious to Have Brought About Arbitration Between Warring Countries.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 16.—A letter addressed to President Roosevelt from W. J. Bryan, in which a plan for the prevention of war is suggested, was made public Thursday night. Mr. Bryan congratulates the President on his success in bringing Russia and Japan together, and says:

"Why not ask Congress for authority to submit all international questions (when agreement cannot be reached by parties interested) to an impartial board for investigation and report? Investigation will, in nearly every case, remove the cause of complaint, and reconcile the parties. Questions which a nation might be unwilling to submit to arbitration in advance could be settled by investigation by an impartial international board.

"It was a glorious thing to end the war between the Russians and the Japanese, but it would have been more glorious to have prevented the war and saved the frightful loss of life. The moral prestige which our nation now enjoys would in all probability enable it to lead a successful peace movement. The congratulations which you have received from the hands of European Governments strengthen the chances of success. If the leading nations of the world would enter into an agreement to join in the creation of such a board, and pledge themselves to submit all disputes to the board for investigation before declaring war, the danger of war would be reduced to a minimum.

"Few men have had it in their power to do so much for humanity? Will you improve the opportunity? (Signed) W. J. Bryan."

Chicago Professor Will Stay Among Savages of Africa.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Prof. Frederick Starr, the University of Chicago anthropologist, has been granted a leave of absence of more than a year by the officials of the university, which time he will spend among the savage tribes of Central Africa.

The particular purpose of Prof. Starr's visit is to make a thorough anthropological study of the inhabitants of the land of Ndombi. Civilization has not reached this region, and little is known of the people. Prof. Verner, an American ethnologist, visited the country two years ago and brought specimens of one of the tribes to the St. Louis Exposition. It was here that Prof. Starr saw the strange people and decided that they were undoubtedly the most interesting in the world for anthropological research.

Alice Visits Dowager Empress. Pekin, Sept. 16.—Miss Alice Roosevelt, Mrs. Rockhill, wife of the American Minister, and the other ladies of Miss Roosevelt's party, went to the summer palace Wednesday and spent the night. Thursday they were received in formal audience by the Dowager Empress.

UGLY STORM

Yesterday's Hurricane Did Much Damage in Raleigh Township—Fences Blown Away

Reports of the damage done in yesterday's severe thunder and wind storm are very serious. Between Charing Cross and this city considerable havoc was wrought. Mr. Meloch, a Raleigh farmer, and four haystacks blown away, and George Wilson lost nearly all of his straw stack. Fences were blown down all over.

John Houston was driving in Raleigh during the whole storm. He says he never saw anything like it.

GUESS!

What Amount Traffic Will Cross the G. T. R. Crossings at Queen and William Streets in Three Days

P. Kelly, gateman at the Queen and William street crossings of the G. T. R. is varying his duties to-day. With pad and pencil he is busy keeping a tab of all the traffic which goes over either crossing—both the pedestrian and the motor. By reason of this being Saturday the task is a strenuous one. The work is undertaken at the request of the railway commission, now in session. As has been announced before "exclusively" in this journal the G. T. R. objects to the electric road crossing their tracks on the level and desires either a grade crossing or subway. To gain some idea of the average traffic over these crossings the commission has ordered that, for the next three days an account be kept of it.

It will be interesting to ascertain the figures.

HIS HONOR JUDGE BELL

DESCRIBES TOUR AROUND WORLD

First Installment of his Description of a Fascinatingly Interesting Trip told for Planet Readers—New Zealand, its Physical Features, Customs and Government

His Honor Judge Bell has but lately returned from a trip such as it falls to the lot of but few men to take. In the course of six months he girdled the globe—across the great American continent to San Francisco, thence to scenic New Zealand and progressive Australia, returning via Ceylon and the Suez Canal. His Honor returns greatly invigorated physically and enriched mentally by the scenes and experiences met with on his globe-circling itinerary. As an incident to the main objects in view—those of health and pleasure seeking—His Honor has obtained a rich and variegated fund of information concerning the places and peoples met with—their customs and forms of government—what they do and how they do it. His data carefully collected on all these points make a conversation with him both pleasurable and profitable.

The party, which left Chatham in the consist of Judge Bell, Mrs. Bell and Miss Margaret. The trip across the American continent to San Francisco was made. Here the party embarked for New Zealand.

where a stay of three weeks' duration was made.

NEW ZEALAND. "Auckland, a city of twenty thousand inhabitants, was the first point visited," said His Honor. "The city is the largest on the island and has a most commodious harbor. The inhabitants are hospitable and pleasant, and, apparently, well off—there being no signs of destitution visible. Throughout the whole of the island the hotels are comfortable and the prices reasonable. This may be due in part to the fact that the care of tourists is under the direct control of a department of the Government, who issue tickets, etc., and control several of the leading hotels."

ITS CLIMATE AND INHABITANTS. "Comparatively speaking, the temperature of the island is more medium than here. It is neither so hot in summer nor so cold in winter, and is more moist. Those who have heard a great deal about the beauty of that far-famed constellation, the Southern Cross, are greatly disappointed on seeing it. In New Zealand it is nearly overhead and is not nearly so brilliant as several of our northern constellations. None of the northern constellations are visible there and, at noonday the sun is to the north, due to the southerly position of the island. The white inhabitants number about 800,000, but there is room for five times as many. The opportunities offered the immigrant are unparalleled. Of the Maoris, the native aboriginal inhabitants, only about 40,000 remain. They are kept on reservations as are the Indians here. Physically they are well developed and handsome, but the women mar their beauty by tattooing. They send four members to the New Zealand Parliament, who take an active part in all the debates. I had an opportunity of seeing one of their war dances. Men and women dance separately, never coming in these affairs. The race interested me very much."

COUNTRY'S RESOURCES. "Agriculturally speaking," continued the Judge, "the country is a very fine one. Sheep raising and wheat growing are the principal pursuits. Throughout the country there grows a plant, known as the New Zealand flax. This is exported in large quantities. They grow more wheat than is needed for home consumption and so export some of this commodity also. The soil is most extraordinarily fertile and sells for $200 an acre, irrespective of buildings."

"One very much struck by the phenomenal exuberance of the forest growth—dense and rank. I noticed carefully," remarked the Judge, "but could not find a single tree with which we are acquainted in Canada. There the wood all sinks into the ground, and some of them are beautifully grained. Moreover, the trees are nearly all in a continual state of foliage the year round."

THE GOVERNMENT. "The form of Government in vogue

in the country has many unique features. New Zealand is incorporated in Australasia but is not a part of the Australian Commonwealth, being independent. At the present time the labor party is in the ascendancy with the Honorable Mr. Seddon as Premier. An election is pending, however. The party opposed to the one in power is that headed by the capitalists. "Under the legislation of the labor party strikes are unknown. If any trouble arises it is settled by a Board of Arbitration, whose word is final. Moreover, colored labor is totally excluded and not allowed to compete with white labor. Of course this does not apply to the native Maoris but a discrimination is made against all other colored peoples, even those from the neighboring islands. These, called Kanakas, are to be deported in the near future.

"Municipal ownership is also being experimented upon. The Government owns the telegraph and telephone lines and nearly all the railways. In addition to this education is more directly under the control of the Government than here, the teachers being paid directly by the government. If possible the educational system is better than in Ontario and the teachers are paid about twice as much as they are here.

"In the coming election the labor issue is the predominant one. The faction now in power want a minimum wage of $2 a day paid and all colored labor excluded as at present. Their opponents claim that things have gone too fast and are dissatisfied with the present legislation as to colored labor and strikes. They claim it prevents capitalists coming to the country and say that, if hard times come this advanced legislation will be very detrimental to the progress of the country. They concede, however, that the country is in a very prosperous condition. "The legislation on the topics mentioned is unique and of an experimental nature. It will afford an excellent precedent for other nations whether successful or not. Personally speaking," continued the Judge, "I think the Maoris go a little too far and are too far in advance of the times. Premier Seddon, with whom I had a long chat is, however, confident of being returned."

SCENIC NEW ZEALAND. "The most transcendently beautiful part of always interesting New Zealand is what is called the Thermal District. This is in the interior and is a great health resort. People come all the way from Australia, twelve hundred miles distant, the waters being a specific cure for rheumatism and other diseases. Throughout the district are hundreds of geysers, which spout at regular intervals, throwing up scalding hot water. One of them, the Wayman-gau, throws water to a height of two hundred feet, higher than any in Yellowstone Park or in any other part of the world. They play at regular intervals and, when quiescent, the natives use them for cooking purposes. I saw them baking bread on one."

Into one of the geysers, the Dragon's Mouth, the Judge and his party went. It spouts regularly every ten minutes and in the quiescent period the cavern was explored. Describing the experience, the Judge said, "It was just like a vapor bath. The water, which is thrown up, is far too hot to put your hand in. The most marvelous natural phenomena I ever witnessed, however, was what is called 'The Blow Hole.' A steady rush of steam pours from a hole in the side of a mountain with tremendous force. It is accompanied by a roaring sound. Tin cans thrown into the hole are hurled forth again as if shot from a cannon. From time immemorial this has continued. As the pressure is 180 pounds to the square inch propositions have been made to harness it for commercial purposes but have always been rejected as it is considered the safety valve of the district."

"Another scenic wonder of this district; The Pink and White Terraces, were destroyed some 20 years ago by an eruption of lava which destroyed, at the same time, a native village, with great loss of life. The terraces were formed by the rushing of mineral impregnated water over the side of a hill. In bounding from ledge to ledge it left deposits which crusted and formed these celebrated terraces. "The district is quite extensive. One may go twenty or thirty miles without encountering any of the geysers and then there may be twenty or thirty of them closely grouped. It is dangerous to go through the district without a guide," continued the Judge. "A few years ago two lady tourists, not knowing the eruptive periods of the geysers, ventured too close to one and were scalded to death."

"The beautiful is present as well as the marvellous as witness the Waikare, sometimes called 'The Rhine of New Zealand.' The country is well interspersed with streams and fresh water lakes. "We spent three weeks in all in

WHY NOT PAVE?

Work was commenced to-day in tearing up a portion of the old cedar block pavement on King St. West, between the Post Office and Aberdeen bridge, for the laying of the steam heating pipes and electric road lines. It is a splendid opportunity to secure on this part of the street a good brick pavement. The cedar blocks have done worthy service, but their day is nearly over, and the present would seem to be the wise and profitable time to secure a new pavement. The stones and much of the foundation could be utilized in the work, thereby minimizing the expense.

The matter is worthy of the immediate attention of the ratepayers and the Council.

BETTER GO SLOWLY.

Acting upon the suggestions of Mayor Cowan, Ald. Austin has given notice that he will, at Monday night's Council meeting, move that the statute providing for a Board of Education be put in force in Chatham.

The Planet was perhaps the pioneer in this movement for centralization and direct responsibility in educational government. It is a move in the right direction. Yet this journal is impelled to raise a warning hand to a precipitate action such as is contemplated by the Mayor and Ald. Austin. A careful reading of the statute shows that the new act apparently does not make provision for County representation on Collegiate matters and seems to leave out of consideration a high school district such as ours. The Planet, of course, attempts no more than a layman's interpretation of the statute, but there is still time before the first of October for the Council to consult with the Attorney General and Minister of Education with a view to securing a definite interpretation as to the applicability of the Act.

It would be a great misfortune if, by undue haste, the city and school boards were dragged into an expensive legal embroglio. Debentures are being prepared for the expenditure of $19,000 in much-needed school improvements. It would never do to fritter this—or any part of it—away in solving legal technicalities. Better go slowly.

THE PILGRIMS

Every Effort Being Made to Secure English Footballers for Chatham on Wednesday

The proposal to transfer the International football match, between the English Pilgrims and the Kent county team, on Wednesday next in Detroit to Chatham is now under consideration. A generous offer has been made by the English management to secure the great game for Chatham. The announcement of the result of the negotiations will be made as soon as they are concluded.

The photos of the touring English team are on exhibition in the windows of the A. I. McCall drug store, and are being much admired. They are a fine, athletic looking team.

HOUSES STRUCK

Two Maple City Residences Narrowly Escaped Destruction in Yesterday's Storm

Yesterday's electrical storm was one of the most severe of the season. The lightning was sharp and did some damage, chiefly by burning out telephones. The whole circuit down William street and south of the G. T. R. was rendered useless. The rainfall reached the enormous total of 107 tons to the acre, or 95 inches. Two houses in the city narrowly escaped destruction. One, the home of Mr. Holey, Harvey St., was struck by lightning, the bolt entering via the chimney. It struck the floor in the interior and started a small blaze, which a few pails of water extinguished. The other dwelling struck was that of Neil Rathven, on Joseph street. A corner of the house at the rear was struck, but the electric light wires being near, the devastating fluid was carried away by them, or, perhaps, the damage would have been much greater. Mrs. Rathven was working quite near, but was not injured.

Miss Nellie Richards, teacher of piano, will resume lessons on Tuesday, September 12th, studio Gerhard Heintzman rooms, over VonGuten's jewelry store.

Headaches

When the Head aches and the Tongue is Coated

it is Biliousness or Constipation. Torpid Liver is at the bottom of the trouble. And it takes Fruit-a-tives to make that lazy liver work.

Fruit-a-tives is fine for these troubles, but one can't eat enough fruit to do much good. The medicinal elements are in too small proportion in the ripe fruits.

A clever Ottawa physician discovered a method by which fruit juices could be combined so that their medicinal action would be increased many times.

Fruit-a-tives are these fruit juices in tablet form. They sweeten and tone the stomach and liver, cure Constipation and remove all blood impurities. One Fruit-a-tives tablet has the same curative effect on liver and bowels as dozens of oranges, apples, figs and prunes. And this action is as gentle as the fruit juices themselves.

"I have been suffering with Torpid Liver and Constipation, and find that Fruit-a-tives are just what my system requires to relieve these complaints. I hope many more sufferers will try them."

SOUTH BUXTON.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Travis celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding day, for which the whole family, except Mrs. A. Scott, were present, she being detained through sickness. The family reunion took place at the old homestead, where the family have lived for 35 years. Mr. Travis was born in Mercer Co., Pa., in 1833, and is now 72 years old, and Mrs. Travis was born in Allegheny County, N. Y., in 1839. They came to Canada and were married in Erey County, Ont., in 1855. They were blessed with twelve children, all of whom are living and were present at the family reunion, with the exception noted. They have four grand-children and six great grand-children. The names of the children are as follows: Mrs. James Robbins, Mrs. Mae Zebbs, Mrs. O. B. Kersey, Mrs. A. Scott, Mrs. J. Smith, John R. and Samuel, of Buxton; Mrs. S. Jones, of Windsor; Mrs. J. Cromwell, of Ann Arbor, and Mrs. J. Richardson, James and Charles, of Chatham Township. The aged couple are enjoying fairly good health and all sat down at a sumptuous feast with a few intimate friends—about 50 in all. After the feast was over the children formed a circle around their parents and J. M. Garel presented the aged couple, on behalf of the children, with a beautiful easy chair for each, and each one of the children kindly congratulated their parents, when a touching scene took place. J. M. Garel led the hymn, "Shall we Meet Beyond the River," when parents and children embraced and wept over each other, and Rev. Mr. Smith addressed the family and evoked divine blessings. This meeting will be ever fresh in the minds of the family.

International Bible Lesson for To-morrow.

Daniel in Babylon—Dan. 1, 8-20. Study the chapter; read Dan. 2.

Golden Text—"Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself."

In this lesson we meet four godly Jewish lads of about 16, captives in Babylon, Daniel their leader and spokesman, being sent to college by King Nebuchadnezzar. They are to be fed from the king's table. After a three years' course he will examine them for promotion to the councils of the empire.

Our lesson gives us a sample of what the Holy Spirit can do in making young lads witnesses for the true and living God at a heathen court when they are true to Him and their own conscience. "If any of you lack wisdom let Him ask of God, who giveth liberally and upbraideth not." These lads knew God's prohibitory laws against eating food He pronounced unclean and drinking wine from the king's table blessed in the name of idols, for these old heathen were very pious. How few to-day grasp the truth that we should do all things in Jesus' name, even eating and drinking to the glory of God, and sow to that to the flesh, as these lads did. How gentlemanly and judicious they are; not of the "don't care what anybody thinks," kind. See verse 12.

It is remarkable that all through the book not a word is said about Daniel's parents, but some one had brought him up well—a hint for all teachers, especially religious teachers, to look well after the children, no matter who owns them; they are God's own way.

Daniel's proposal for special use of the king's table and for ten days they are fed on plain, wholesome, vegetable diet, with marked success under God's blessing. When the king examined them none were found like Daniel and his three chums, and they were promoted to stand before the king, for he found them ten times better than all his old pagan philosophers and statesmen. So much for obedience to God, who gave Daniel special insight into visions and dreams, for special use to the king, and to God's people to the end of this age. The real gist of the lesson is the truth that nothing pays in the life of man for this world or the next but living before God in all good conscience, enlightened by His word and spirit.

This is being saved through Jesus Christ our Lord, is salvation.

The American Farmer the Best in the World.

The American farmer is the greatest man in the world to-day because he is master of the soil—he is gaining in intelligence quite as rapidly as the products of his land.

Our recent combines of capital in United States measured in money are enormous, yet such figures sink into insignificance when compared to the money, brain and brawn invested in agricultural industries. For instance, the farmers of Minnesota and Dakota have received $300,000,000 for their products in a single year.

The farmer knows what Nature will bring forth for him from his experience in the past. He knows if certain seeds are planted and properly cared for that Nature will take care of the rest. In the same way you are master of your own destiny.

Providing your blood is in good order, you only need a little effort on your own part to keep healthy and strong—rid your body of the poisons that are apt to accumulate and your system is ready to ward off the attack of the germs of disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes rich red blood by increasing the number of red blood corpuscles. There is no alcohol in this great tonic to shroud up the red blood corpuscles. As an alternative extract, made of herbs and roots it goes about its work in nature's way. It stimulates the liver into proper action, and feeds the worn-out nerves, stomach and heart on pure blood. Used for over a third of a century it has sold more largely than any other blood medicine in the United States.

More bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are sold to-day than ever before—that is a true test of its medicinal value after thirty-eight years of deserved popularity.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Advice sent on receipt of stamps to pay for mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

TURBINE STEAMERS.

Two of Them Now Regularly Crossing the Atlantic.

Naval designers and the manufacturers of marine engines are following with close observation the performance of the two turbine-driven steamships of the Allan line, both of which are now running regularly in the service of the company. This is the first application of the new motive power to large ocean liners, and it is realized that upon the results obtained with these ships will depend very largely the future of turbine propulsion at least for this type of service.

The first voyage of the Victorian gave only rather indifferent results, although it was understood that the low speed was due largely to unfavorable weather and fog. In her later trips, however, this ship has shown excellent results, better than any achieved by earlier ships of this line using reciprocating engines.

The second vessel, the Virginian, has done even better than the Victorian and is steadily reducing the record across the ocean over the route which she follows. On a recent trip to Montreal she left Montreal at 2.45 p. m. on June 9 and arrived at Rimouski at 4.15 p. m. (local time) June 15; the total time of the passage figures out as 6 days 3 hours, the average speed as 17.05 knots an hour.

The Montreal mail, which left Ireland twenty-six hours ahead of the Virginian on board the Baltic for New York, was distributed in Montreal nine hours later than the mail carried by the Virginian. On both new steamers the passengers and the others of the ship have testified to the remarkable smoothness of the turbine, the absence of vibration reminding the latter of the smooth motion of a sailing ship—Scientific American.

Life in Gotham! Every 40 seconds an immigrant arrives in New York. Every 3 minutes someone is arrested. Every 6 minutes a child is born.

Every 7 minutes there is a funeral. Every 13 minutes a couple get married. Every 42 minutes a new business firm starts up.

Every 48 minutes a building catches fire. Every 48 minutes a ship leaves the harbor. Every 51 minutes a new building is erected.

Every 55 minutes a passenger train arrives from some point outside the city limits. Every 1 3/4 hours someone is killed by accident.

Every 7 hours someone falls in business. Every 8 hours an attempt to kill someone is made. Every 8 1/2 hours some couple is divorced.

Every 10 hours someone commits suicide. Every two days someone is murdered.

Finland's greatest artist is dead, says The Novoe Vremya, in the person of Albert Edelfelt. It was his work that made all the artistic world turn to the little group of northern artists who founded the national art of a forbidden and poor country. Like nearly all his predecessors and contemporaries, Edelfelt received his art education abroad. He suddenly attracted attention at Paris in 1877 with his picture "Koroleva Blanka." Encouraged by this success the 24-year-old artist showed the large canvas of "Duke Carl laughing at the corpse of his enemy, Count Fleming," which set all the world talking of the Finnish painter. His favorite subjects were the national scenes of Finland, which he painted almost exclusively on the seashore or by the side of the lakes.

Human Incubators. The inhabitants of Pateros, a town on the Pasig river, near Manila, place the old men and women of their village in long narrow boats called bancas, cover them (with the exception of their faces) with duck eggs and allow the heat of the sun and their bodies to hatch the eggs. These human incubators are well fed and receive every attention during the time of incubation and are relieved for four hours each day by some younger member of the family.

A Common Interest. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt was talking about a young couple whose engagement had just been announced. The male party to this engagement was a lawyer with more conceit than ability; the female party was a pretty girl, the modest, simple-minded, humble type.

"They will be very happy," said Mrs. Catt. "Their life after marriage will be an ideal one."

"Why do you think so?" a spinster asked in a sour voice. "Because," said Mrs. Catt, "they are both interested in the same thing. What is that?" the spinster cried incredulously. "Him," said Mrs. Catt.

No Demi-Tasse For Reed. Some years ago Thomas B. Reed went to Ohio. On his journey out there he went into a little railway station to have dinner. At the end of his order he said:

"Bring me a demi-tasse, also." The waiter stared. "What's that?" he asked.

"A small cup of coffee," Mr. Reed exclaimed. "A small cup of black coffee; see that it's good coffee, please. Demi-tasse means half a cup."

"Aw, gwan," said the waiter, "I ain't a-goin' to bring you no half-cup. We don't sell nothin' less than five cents here."—Boston Herald.

Arithmetic Did Not Answer. An old woman living in Gardiner, Me., had occasion to call a doctor, according to The Boston Herald. He found her only slightly indisposed, and left a powder for her to take, with the following directions: "Take what you can get on a 10 cent piece every three hours."

Next day the doctor found his patient alarmingly ill. "Did you take the powder as directed?" he asked.

"No, not exactly. I did not have a 10 cent piece, so I took what I could get on two fives."

Use Armour's Extract of Beef in the Right Way.

Those accustomed to ordinary beef extracts and fluid beef usually use three or four times too much of Armour's. If a recipe called for one spoonful of salt and you put in 4, the dish would be briny.

ARMOUR'S is pure Extract of Beef—highly concentrated. One-quarter teaspoonful is sufficient to make a cup of beef broth, bouillon, etc., etc.

By the addition of a small quantity of Armour's Extract of beef you can restore the juices to yesterday's roast or give a rich, beefy flavor and color to gravies, sauces and left-overs that will make them appetizing and attractive. Sold by all Druggists and Grocers.

A Cat That Swims and Fishes.

A cat story comes from Maine, and if one is inclined to disbelieve it pussy himself is to be found at Bowdoinham. This cat swims like a duck and is a fisher. A patient watcher from the floating wharf which he frequents with praiseworthy persistency, this business-like swimmer waits his opportunity and when there comes a certain ripple on the water in he dives, soon reappearing with a good sized fish, which he proceeds to eat at his leisure.—New York Tribune.

INTERNATIONALS

Matches to be Played Yearly for a Cup—Open to Canadian, American and English Teams

Berlin, Ont., Sept. 15.—The touring English football club, the Pilgrims, were the guests of the Berlin Club last evening, and Sir Charles Kirkpatrick made an important announcement in connection with international association football.

Sir Charles stated that Sir Ernest Cochrane, of London, England, is to put up a guinea cup for competition. Sir Ernest will shortly visit this country to make arrangements in connection with the drawing of representative teams.

Canada and the United States will be required to find a winning team to go up against English teams for the trophy, which will be held one year, after which it will be defended against all qualified charges, including teams from the continent.

Sir Charles said that one reason of the Pilgrims' tour was to promote uniformity in the playing of the game in this country and England.

GENEROUS AOT

An act which demonstrates the spirit that pervades the English Pilgrims Football Club is the fact that they have generously donated the probably huge gate receipts at today's match to a local charity.

IN GOOD SHAPE

SEND OFF

Rev. T. H. Henderson, who is leaving the pastorate of the Campbell A. M. E. church to go to Hamilton, was given a reception by his parishioners Thursday evening. The function was largely attended and great regret expressed at the coming departure of the shepherd of the flock. An enjoyable musical program was rendered.

CALL OF DEATH

A very sad death occurred at twelve o'clock Sunday noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Moody, when their only child, Gladys Elizabeth Beryl, aged five years and two months, passed peacefully away into the Great Beyond. Death was not unexpected, as the little child had been suffering for some months with diabetes.

The deceased was a very bright little girl and was loved by all her playmates and by all who knew her. The grief-stricken parents have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community.

The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 to the Maple Leaf cemetery, the services being conducted by the Rev. Mr. Routledge, and was well attended by the many friends of the family, with four little friends as pall-bearers—Percie Scott, Lloyd Thomson, Harry Dunlop and Lorne Cutnam.

The floral gifts were many and beautiful.

A SAD REPORT

There seem to be good grounds for the rumor of the sudden death in Cleveland of Miss Lucille Rockey, a young lady who has been very well known in this city during the summer months.

Miss Rockey's home is in Wooster, Ohio, and during the summer she has been canvassing the city, selling a book entitled "The Dictionary of Thoughts." She was very successful in her work and the many friends she made during her stay here will be grieved indeed to hear of her reported sudden death.

Miss Rockey was on her way home to Wooster when she was taken ill. She and Miss Martin, of this city, went to Detroit together on the steamer "City of Chatham." Miss Rockey complained of a severe headache on the way to Detroit, but nothing serious was suspected, she being a very strong and healthy looking girl.

It is reported that she was stricken down with typhoid fever at her aunt's home in Cleveland, from which illness she died.

PRACTICAL JOKE

Coroner Bray and P. C. Dezella the Victims to say nothing of the Crowd

This morning a local drayman was the perpetrator of a practical joke, which attained large dimensions. Noticing part of the wearing apparel of a man floating in McGregor's Creek, near the William St. bridge, he secured a fishing pole and submerged it so that it had the appearance of the floating body of a dead man.

Soon crowds collected on the scene of the tragedy and passed resolutions of sympathy for the family and friends of the unfortunate man. Coroner Bray was notified and was soon on the scene with P. C. Dezella.

The latter descended to the creek's edge and tenderly pulled to shore a pair of trousers. The big P. C. didn't say much, but looked very thoughtful. The crowd was less kind in its remarks. Coroner Bray got away without attracting any undue attention.

SEAT FOR FLORODORA

Seats go on sale on Monday morning at ten o'clock for the pretty lyric comedy, "Florodora," which appears at the Grand Opera House on Friday, September 22nd. This is perhaps the first time in the history of the Chatham Grand that any organization with the reputation of the Florodora Co. have ever appeared in the local theatre. Select your seats early; a rush is expected.

NOT IMPLICATED

There seems to be a wrong impression in some quarters in reference to the hold-up case which came up in the Police Court yesterday morning.

As will be seen from the report of the case in last night's Planet, Adams was not implicated in the hold-up. He and Harry Young were together during the first part of the evening, and although they had a few drinks, they were not drinking at the C. P. R. Hotel. Adams went home early and when he learned there was a charge against him he gave himself up to Chief Holmes and had himself cleared.

SAD DEATH

One of the saddest deaths for some time occurred at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Herbers Connor, when their little son, Willie, aged two years, passed peacefully away on the 14th of Sept. He was treated by the best doctor in the city, who gave him every care, but the little fellow's time had come.

Willie was a general favorite, loved by everyone who knew him and his relatives and friends sympathize with the almost distracted parents.

The funeral will take place on Sunday, Sept. 17th, leaving house on Taylor Ave. at 1:30 o'clock, for Maple Leaf Cemetery.

FORCEFUL FACTS.

One-sixth of the deaths from disease are due to consumption. Ninety-eight per cent of all those who have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for "weak lungs" have been perfectly and permanently cured. Cornelius McCawley, of Leechburg, Armstrong county, Pa., had in all 81 hemorrhages. He says: "My doctor did all he could for me but he could not stop the hemorrhages, and all gave me up to die with consumption." What doctors could not do, "Golden Medical Discovery" did. It stopped the hemorrhages and cured their cause. This is one case out of thousands. Investigate the facts.

Free, Dr. Pierce's great work, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay cost of mailing and customs. Send 31 one-cent stamps for paper covered book, or 50 stamps for cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

COUNT DE BRAZZA DEAD.

Fatal Termination of the Explorer's Illness at Dakar, West Africa.
Paris, Sept. 16.—The Minister of the Colonies yesterday received a cable despatch from the Governor of French West Africa announcing the death of Count De Brazza, the explorer, who had been seriously ill at Dakar. The Minister notified Countess De Brazza, saying that France had lost one of her most glorious citizens. President Loubet also telegraphed his condolences to the Countess.

Count De Brazza was returning from a special mission to Central Africa, to investigate charges of cruelty against natives, when he was attacked by acute dysentery, which was aggravated by the fatigues of the voyage, and he became unconscious and died.

His Career in Brief.
Pierre Paul Francois Camille De Brazza, Count De Savorgnan, was born on a vessel in the harbor of Rio de Janeiro, January 26, 1852. Educated in the Jesuits' College, Paris, he entered the French navy and was naturalized as a Frenchman in 1874. The following year he was sent to explore the basin of the River Ogowe, Western Africa, and in 1879 he commanded another expedition for the African Association, and founded the towns of Francheville and Brazzaville. The Government sent him in 1883 to consolidate French authority, and he became Commander-General of the new settlement in 1888. He led a successful expedition in 1891, which kept him abroad for six years.

WORKMEN ASK SUFFRAGE.

King Prerogues Diet and Will Form Government From Majority.

Budapest, Hungary, Sept. 16.—Since early yesterday morning dense masses of workmen have been marching to the Lower House of the Diet for the purpose of a demonstration in favor of the universal suffrage. Crowds composed of other classes also gathered and strong cordons of police were posted near the building. Herr Julius the deputations, who presented petitions setting forth the demands of the people. In reply Herr Justh said his position as president of the House precluded him from expressing an opinion, but he begged the people to wait quietly for the decision of Parliament. Work is at a standstill in all the factories, as the workers are taking part in the demonstration.

On the re-opening of the Diet yesterday Baron Fejervary formally announced the resignation of the Cabinet, and the prorogation of Parliament until October 10 in order to enable the coalition parties to submit a program to the King-Emperor, Francis Joseph. "His Majesty," added the Minister, "has authorized me to say that he wishes to form a Government from the ranks of the majority after agreement on an acceptable program."

Francis Kosuth, the leader of the United Opposition, vigorously protested against the prorogation of Parliament as unconstitutional. A motion by Mr. Kosuth to this sense was adopted, and the House adjourned amid great excitement.

DEPRECIATES BOOTH'S HOPES.

Failures Due to Present Economic System of Britain.

London, Sept. 16.—Balfour Browne, K. C., Unionist, addressing the electors of Dumfriesshire, somewhat depreciated Gen. Booth's hopes of making failures into decent citizens by exporting them in large numbers to Canada. What was the reason of their being failures? It was not any want of pluck on their own part, but because of the present economic system, which was taking work from Britain and giving it to foreigners. He advocated some preliminary enquiry.

Thrown Out By Grand Jury.

Toronto, Sept. 16.—The charge against George Arksey, the Sutton farmer, was thrown out by the grand jury. They brought in a verdict of "no bill." Arksey was charged with placing an obstacle on the road for the purpose of injuring automobiles. The original complainant was S. Frank Wilson.

Armistice Envoys Sat on the Grass to Discuss Terms.

Nine Consecutive Hours Were Spent Over Details, and Then the Armistice For the Armies of Manchuria Was Signed—A Neutral Zone Established—Naval Armistice to Be Arranged by Special Envoys.

Gunshu Pass, Manchuria, Thursday, Sept. 14.—Owing to the variance between Russian and Japanese time and the fact that the exact spot for the meeting of the Russian and Japanese representatives had not been defined, Major-Gen. Ovanovsky, (representing Gen. Linevitch) was the last to arrive yesterday morning at the place of the armistice conference, Gen. Fukushima, (representing Field Marshal Oyama) with Col. Tanaka and Capt. Tanaka, two professors of international law, Ariga and Sozyl, and a guard of fifty men had already arrived under a flag of truce. Ovanovsky and Fukushima dismounted and in the plain near Shahotzu after an exchange of greetings, the two generals at 10 a. m. began the discussion of the conditions of the armistice, frequently referring for the purpose of consultation. All the houses on the spot having been destroyed, the conference was held in the open, the officers sitting on the grass.

After nine consecutive hours of negotiations the armistice was signed at 7 p. m. It takes effect September 16, to the abolition of all hostile or inimical acts, establishes a neutral zone of four kilometers wide between the two armies of which Shahotzu on the railway is the centre. Maps showing the zone are to be exchanged, only civilians will be allowed within the territory and communication between the two armies to be only by the Shahotzu road.

For a Naval Armistice. Special naval envoys are to meet near Vladivostok with one ship for each nation to confer and establish an armistice and a neutral zone at sea. An armistice on the borders of Korea is to be arranged by separate negotiations between the local commanders and on terms similar to those arranged for Manchuria.

But Think Ontario Need Not Take Second Place Yet.

Winnipeg, Sept. 16.—Hon. Nelson Monteith, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, returned to the city after a flying visit to the west as far as Brandon, and leaves for the east this morning. He expressed himself, greatly impressed with western crops, but thinks Ontario need not take second place yet. Primarily he had in his mind the object was to discover the amount of land was readily available for agricultural settlement. The result of his trip convinced him that many fertile valleys may be thrown open for agricultural purposes, and that in districts hitherto regarded as useless for anything but blueberry cultivation.

Any attempt to force a bill to this effect through the Legislature will cause serious disaffection. A similar attempt in 1891 caused a disturbance, resulting in the presence of a British garrison to restore order.

HOTEL HOUSEKEEPING.

It Requires a Genius to Manage the Army It Employs.

The housekeeper of a great hotel is one of those geniuses who are born and not made. She must possess an absolute talent for taking care of linen, tact in detecting dust, a subtle ability in training servants. In short, she must know how everything in the realm of housekeeping should be done and marshal her forces for the doing of it with the mathematical discretion of a general.

Take, for example, the woman in charge of the internal economy of such an establishment as the Hotel Astor, New York's new $7,000,000 hostelry. She has under her supervision nearly 200 maids and men and two assistants to help her in the mere work of administration, each required to be on duty every other morning at 6 o'clock and to stay at her post until nearly midnight. The army which the housekeeper and her lieutenants direct includes a corps of men to do the cleaning, with several head cleaners, and another corps of women, a platoon of parlor maids, one of chambermaids and a third of maids' maids to look after the rooms of the hotel employees. Besides these there are half a dozen young women in the linen room who are clever seamstresses and whose time is given to darning lace curtains that have been torn, making the maids' caps, giving out the linen and receiving it as it comes from the laundry, and so on.

Directing the energies of such a force of workers involves innumerable inspections, constant supervision and unending patience. The head housekeeper of the Astor is not an easy person to see, partly because she is so hard to find. Her duties seem to call her everywhere at once. First comes her daily tour of the linen and supply rooms on each floor; then a glance into each of the several drawing rooms, which must be kept scrupulously dustless. If furniture is to be moved the head housekeeper must be on hand to see that proper care is exercised and that everything is arranged as it ought to be.

Strict count must be kept of the linen issued, the reserve mattresses, blankets, pillows and all the rest of the household equipment. If an extra bed or chair is needed there must be a visit to the furniture supply rooms. The up to date hotel undertakes to meet the slightest whim of any of its guests instantly, and every request imaginable—some entirely sensible, others quite unreasonable—must be carried out promptly, no matter how difficult its fulfillment may be.

Daring King Leopold.
In spite of his years King Leopold of Belgium is one of the most daring of men. Not only is he given to riding in an automobile at tremendous speed, but he also employs as a chauffeur one Marcel, who is a pronounced anarchist. In view of the many attempts made on the lives of European rulers the king's retention of this employee is regarded as foolhardy. He has been warned against the man by the police of Belgium, France and Germany, but he pays no heed to their counsel. He addresses Marcel as citizen (citizen), the title which was substituted for all others in France during the reign of terror. Thus the cynical king pays mock deference to the leveling theories of anarchy.

Mineral Springs.
There are between 9,000 and 10,000 mineral springs in the United States. Of this number about 800 to 900 are utilized commercially, the waters being sold either for table use or for medicinal purposes. The total production of 750 of these mineral springs is about 60,000,000 gallons annually, which bring more than $9,000,000. When the first list of mineral springs in America was made in 1881 there were only twenty-one springs catalogued. The number of American spring resorts is increasing all the time, and some of them now rival in popularity the oldest European resorts. —Mineral Water News.

All Household Roads Lead to Kitchen Work

NINE-TENTHS of kitchen labor and worry is caused by ill-working cook stoves and ranges; by ranges that draw poorly; that have such complicated drafts that only a skilled mechanic can manage them; whose grates are so constructed that it is a strong man's work to shake them down; ranges which work well when the wind is in a certain direction, but act like a fiend at other times; ranges whose work is so unreliable that the housekeeper is in a constant nerve-racking worry lest the meals be late or the baking spoiled.

The Pandora range is built to make work easy, a child can shake it down; its drafts are so simple that one learns them in a minute; its heat is kept in the range so effectively that you can do a big baking and hardly know there is a fire in it two feet away; it keeps the kitchen cool; it saves you worry; it saves you time and money; it saves you backaches and headaches, because it is so easy to manage and so reliable.

The Pandora makes kitchen work easy.

Why Tea Quality Varies

YOU know how the quality of strawberries from the same patch will sometimes vary from one day to another.

One day sweet, compact, well ripened, well colored, richly flavored—next day it rains, is cloudy,—following picking is soggy, sour, green, coarsely-flavored, poor.

Tea, also, on account of its volatility of flavor, after picking and during the curing process is very susceptible to weather changes. A few hours of sunshine or bad weather after picking may make the difference between good and poor tea.

So that while one picking may be first class, the next from the same garden may be very poor.

I select only the pickings which come up to the Red Rose standards of richness and strength in Indian, and delicacy and fragrance in Ceylon teas, and thus that "rich, fruity flavor" of Red Rose Tea is produced and maintained.

Red Rose Tea is good Tea

Minard's Liniment—Lumberman's Friend

A VERY CAREFUL WOMAN.

Lady Eldon Could Not Abide Anything Like Extravagance.

Lord Chancellor Eldon was energetically aided in his parsimonious habits by his wife, of whom it was said that she and her daughter had but one bonnet between them. The Rev. R. H. Barham, author of "The Ingoldsby Legends," records in his diary an amusing story of Lady Eldon's parsimoniousness:

"June 1, 1822.—The chancellor is very fond of shooting. One morning last year his lordship, intending to enjoy a few hours' sport after a rainy night, ordered Bob, the pony, to be saddled. Lady Eldon told him he could not have it, but company being in the room, gave no reason. In a few minutes, however, the servant opened the door and announced that Bob was ready.

"Why, bless me," cried her ladyship, "you can't ride him, Lord Eldon. He has got no shoes on."

"Oh, yes, my lady," said the servant, "he was shod last week."

"Shameful!" exclaimed her ladyship. "How dared you, sir, or anybody have that pony shod without orders? John," continued she, addressing her husband, "you know you only rode him out shooting four times last year, so I had his shoes taken off and have kept them in my bureau ever since. They are as good as new, and these people have shod him again. We shall be ruined at this rate."

CATCHING A LOON.

The Way a Hunter Got One and Why He Let It Go.

Once, and only once, I caught a young northern diver, says Graham West in Recreation. It was in July in the Laurentians in a little lake far back in the forest covered in a forest always nest on small islands in lakes, never where foxes can get at the eggs or young. The birds at first are coal black. The one I took was the size of a pigeon and it took me twenty minutes to get it. When pursued the little fellows make for the open deep water, never swim among the weeds, and fly entirely upon their wonderful diving powers. You can only catch them when they are very young and on a perfectly calm day when you can see them the instant they come up.

I followed the bird so quickly that I was always near when it rose and by shouting and brandishing the paddle frightened it into diving before it had regained its wind. At length it could not dive more than a foot or two below the surface and then I caught it in my hand. It was savage and sea-sick in the canoe. The mother kept near it from first to last, swam round the canoe, calling most plaintively while the note being "Whe-on-on," quite distinct from the usual mocking laugh, "Ha-ha-ha-ha! Ha-ha-ha-ha!" I paddled the little loon about a mile and then put it overboard very gently, and the mother led it off in triumph.

Most Men Have It.

"That man who turned the corner a moment ago will probably go into No. 149," said the lady man on the front steps.

The woman stood up to look.

"It was 147," she said.

"That is near enough," said the lady man. "I knew he would stop some place in this part of the block."

"But how could you tell?" asked the woman.

"I could tell by the door key grab," was the reply. "Most men have it. Not one man in a hundred waits till he gets to his own door to take out his latch-key. The minute he turns into his own block he unconsciously digs into his pockets."

Bee Comb.

Bee comb or beeswax, the material of which the honey cells in the beehive are composed, is a wax produced by a system of chemistry carried on in the "wax pockets" which are located in the abdomen of all working bees. It is a peculiar substance and is said to be analogous to the fats of higher animals. Originally it was supposed that this wax was taken up in an almost pure state from the flowers by the bees, but recent experiments carried on by the leading botanists and chemists of the world conclusively prove that the bee is capable of elaborating his peculiar wax, although confined to a diet purely saccharine in its nature.

How He Got the Moon.

John Henry Maedler, the astronomer, whose favorite study was the moon, having learned that Frau Witte, the wife of the state councillor, owned a wonderful model of his pet luminary, spent years trying to gain possession of it. As her husband was living, he could not marry the owner of the model, so he married her daughter, and at the death of his mother-in-law the coveted moon became his.

A Lesson Wanted.

A mother was showing her dear little Joe a picture of the martyrs thrown to the lions and was talking very solemnly to him, trying to make him feel what a terrible thing it was.

"Ma," said he all at once, "oh, ma, just look at that poor little lion right behind there. He won't get any."

A Harsh Order.

On the beach near an English town a sign bearing this legend was nailed to a post:

"Notice.—Any person passing beyond this point will be drowned. By order of the magistrate."

Perverted.

Young Husband—I wish I were single again. Wife—What for? You monster! Young Husband—To have the joy of marrying you again. Wife—You darling!

BABY GIRL'S AWFUL HUMOUR

Would Scab Over, Break Open, and Be Raw—Intense Suffering for Two Years—Doctors and Medicines Failed to Help Her.

CURED BY CUTICURA WHEN ALL ELSE FAILED

Writing under date of August 15, 1904, Mrs. L. C. Walker, of 5 Tremont Street, Woodford, Me., says: "My sister had a terrible humour on her shoulder when she was eighteen months old, causing intense suffering for two years. We had several doctors, and tried everything, but in spite of all we did it kept spreading. One day it would scab over and then crack open and a watery matter ooze from it and the scabs would all fall off. It would be raw for a time, then scab over again. Some one recommended Cuticura, and we immediately procured a box of Cuticura Ointment, and a cake of Cuticura Soap. She was much better after the first bath with warm water and soap, and an application of the Ointment. Before it was half gone we saw a marked change for the better, and she was entirely cured, without a scar being left, by the use of one box of Ointment and one cake of Soap. Her skin is now entirely clear, and she has not had a sign of trouble since."

That Cuticura Soap is the best baby soap in the world for cleansing and purifying the skin, and that Cuticura Ointment is of priceless value for soothing and healing torturing, disfiguring eruptions, itchings, and chafings. A single application of Cuticura Ointment, preceded by a warm bath with Cuticura Soap, gives instant relief, and refreshing sleep for skin-tortured babies, and rest for tired, fretted mothers.

PRINCIPLES VS. PARTIES.

The Globe finds it necessary to say something in explanation and defence of its claim to independence within party lines. "From The Globe's standpoint," it says, "the fundamental doctrines of Liberalism are to be preferred for Canada over the fundamental doctrines of Toryism; and, even though in our judgment the Liberals in Parliament have erred—errand in yielding to the clamor of the militarists, in not standing more firmly for the constitutional rights of the provinces, and in pensioning disgraced and discredited politicians—yet their error is in no instance one that a Tory Opposition would check or a Tory Government correct. From our point of view, therefore, it is better, and more in the public interest, to seek to recall the Liberal Administration from errors that are a surrender to Toryism, rather than to play into the hands of those who would run the whole round of the Tory policy."

This is plausible enough; but it does not, the Woodstock Express points out, meet the objection raised to The Globe's course.

From The Globe's standpoint the fundamental doctrines of Liberalism may be preferred over the fundamental doctrines of Toryism, and no one could properly find any fault with such preference; but from The Globe's conduct it would appear that the success of the Liberal party, as a party, is to be preferred over even the fundamental doctrines of Liberalism. If The Globe were true to the standard which it sets up for itself it would stand by the fundamental doctrines of Liberalism, no matter by whom enunciated; but that is just what The Globe refuses to do. When the test comes between political parties, The Globe loses sight of fundamental principles, and asks everything on party success.

Time and again in recent years the fundamental doctrines of Liberalism have been advocated by the leaders of the party calling itself Conservative; but in no single instance of this nature has The Globe shown its preference for Liberal principles.

The effect of this failure or The Globe to yield to its own logic is to cast doubt on its sincerity. Its faith in the fundamental principles of Liberalism is not proven by its works. And so it fails to bring conviction either to the public or to the party.

In the matter of independence, The Globe to-day, while in advance of some, perhaps most, of the party papers, is still far behind its founder. George Brown, when he saw Liberal principles in danger of being sacrificed by Liberal politicians, was not afraid to apply his own logic to the situation, even to the extent of bringing about the defeat of those whom he believed to have been unfaithful. A term in opposition was more likely, he believed, to bring the party back to its senses and its principles than perpetuation of power. The Globe to-day, in many respects a great paper, and a vast improvement on The Globe of George Brown's day, appears to lack the courage and consistency that characterized the earlier days. It contents itself with fine talk about fundamental principles, but it fails to bring the conviction that it is deeply in earnest, for in the end its conduct shows that, it is more interested in the success of the principles.

The Kincardine, Ont., Review, relates the following story, scarcely veiling the identity of a well-known Anglican divine who pays occasional visits to the capital and whose sermons are always enjoyed: "Rev. Charles Miles told a good story on the 12th of a Canadian bishop who has a son living in Chicago. On July 4 the son wrote to say: 'I am celebrating the day we licked you. The father in reply wrote: 'If I celebrated every day I licked you I would be celebrating half the time.'"

SIR WILFRID.

Toronto Mail.

A western politician, discussing the Premier Haultain, says of Sir Wilfrid: "I know him as if I had made him, and, thank heaven, I didn't. He has the fame of a statesman, the intellect of a dancing master, and the soul of a Quebec notary." A strange thing in connection with this description of Sir Wilfrid is the fact that the "dancing master" idea originated with Sir Richard Cartwright. Sir Richard once said he would make a first-class dancing master for a ladies' seminary!

BLUSHES WHEN RAIN FALLS

Among the many wonders of the vast Florida swamps there is nothing more surprising than the blushing tree. This tree is not common. It is only found in the densest thickets of those interminable marshes, whose luxuriant vegetation is a revelation to explorers. It actually blushes when the rain falls upon it. The phenomenon at first seems incomprehensible. It never fails to astonish those who see it for the first time. The mysterious and beautiful glow of color which it assumes in a rainstorm baffles description. The Seminole Indians, who once ruled Florida, have always known of the tree, and have in their musical language words signifying the maiden tree, which reddens at the coming of her lover, the rain.

When the cool rain drenches a tree, a changing of color is noted. Gradually, yet unmistakably, the green hue gives way to pink. In a few minutes the green fades from sight. Only in a few half-hidden spots beneath broad branches and on its trunk is there a tinge of green to be seen. The tree is as pink as the cheek of a healthy girl.

After an hour or more, when the shower passes over, the wonderful tree assumes its familiar green once more. As it is changing back to emerald the spectator suddenly realizes the secret of the phenomenon. Certain tiny insects are about the tree itself change color. These peculiar parasites are possessed of the power of chameleons. In the bright, warm sunshine they are greener than the tree on which they live. But when the chilly rain falls upon them they contract their tiny backs and become a pretty pink in color. Millions of these change the tint of the tree and impart to it a blushing aspect.

A GOOD DOG DETECTIVE

Scrip, who lives in Old Town, when at home, is an undersized cur with bright eyes and sharp ears, and is of badly mixed lineage. He is owned by one of the state game wardens, whose duty it is to examine certain trains coming down from the game region. Every piece of game must be checked up and suspicious packages examined. The Main law positively prohibits the taking out of the state of game birds in any way whatever. As the people alight from the train, few notice a little dog dodging about among them, sniffing at this handbag and that bundle.

Soon his master hears a little bark. He knows what that means, and, dropping everything, finds Scrip dodging and nosing about the heels of a passenger. The warden closes in on the game "pointed" by Scrip, quietly invites the suspect into the baggage room, and questions him about the game which he has concealed about his person or effects. The dog has never been known to fail in "pointing" game. He possibly may miss game, but when he has made up his dogish mind that there is a violation of the law, he has always been correct so far.

But inspecting the handbaggage is not all of the little detective's work by any means. After the passengers are all out he hops into the baggage, and express car and applies his sharp little nose to everything in sight. While making his usual inspection the express car one day he came across a barrel to all intents and purposes containing fish. It certainly had fish in it. Scrip sniffed at it, went on and then came back and sniffed again. Round and round the barrel he went, whining and dancing. With a faith in the little animal born of long experience, the officers investigated the barrel, and, found, in the centre of a liberal lining of fresh shore cod, several dozen of plump partridges.

STRICTURE CURED

YOU CAN PAY WHEN CURED. NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT. STRICTURE AND KIDNEY DISEASE CURED.

"I had stricture for eleven years. It finally brought on Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. I had an uncomfortable, shooting pain in the groin and feeling as though something was in the urethra. My back was weak and I could scarcely stoop over. Urine was full of sediment. Had a desire to urinate frequently. Family doctors, so-called specialists, patent medicines, electric belts, all failed. I was discouraged. I had spent hundreds of dollars in vain. Finally I consulted Dr. Kennedy & Kergan as the last resort. I had heard a great deal about them and concluded from the fact that they had been established over 25 years that they understood their business. I am delighted with the result. In one week I felt better and in a few weeks was entirely cured. Have gained sixteen pounds in weight."
