CHAPTER XVI.
MAY'S TRIAL.
 So firmly convinced was Christy that Ned was wrong, and that she had not quarreled with Ned at all, that he wrote to him in the old friendly way. In a few days the answer came. Ned Cameron remembered his promise to keep May's secret, and he wrote to hide what he considered her fault as much as possible. This is a copy of the answer to Christy's letter:—

"Your note is at hand. It is my painful duty to write that your sister and myself have mutually agreed to cancel our engagement; but honor compels me to say that it was no fault of another that I relinquished the honor of an alliance with your sister. The real cause remains a secret between Miss Mellen and myself. Perhaps her severe illness has driven the memory of recent events from her mind. Yours,
 "NED."

Without a word of comment, Christy gave this letter from Ned into May's hands. After she had read it, she returned it to her brother. He waited for some word from her, but she preserved perfect silence. Finally he said:—
 "You will agree with me, now, May, that this strange hallucination was caused by the fever on your brain. I spoke with Doctor Brown about persons who had passed through illness similar to your recent attack, and he assures me that in every case of brain fever the patient recovers with a firm belief in the actual occurrence of something that they imagined during the progress of the fever. It is strange that you should fancy Goldie back again! Probably your mind dwelt upon the mysterious disappearance of our sweet little sister a great deal during the months that have passed since her death. Try now to banish all these tiresome thoughts, and be cheerful and happy. Try to regain your health and strength, for you are a great deal to me now, May."
 From that hour May endeavored to at away every thought of her own sorrow, and comfort her brother in his loneliness.
 He had finished his collegiate course, and was yet undecided whether to pursue his original plan to study law, or remain upon the farm and devote his time and energies to the cause of his imbecile father. Early in the autumn following May's illness, when she had fully regained her

CHAPTER XVII.
EVANGELINE ST. CLAIR.

Away in the warm, fragrant land of the orange blossoms, Major Grant was enjoying a new dream of beauty. Having completed the year of travel with Frank Whitney, he decided to return to his native land, and find if it held for him any unexplored place of beauty, for Major Grant was a passionate lover of the beautiful. From a beautiful flower up to God's perfection of nature—a beautiful woman—this man worshipped everything bearing the stamp of beauty. To many people it was a mystery why he had not married one of the fair women at whose feet he had successfully worshipped. But the truth was that Major Grant loved beauty of soul as well as a perfect form and features; and you all know how rarely we find a perfect soul within a perfect body. Therefore, this beauty-loving man, bowed before the outer semblance of perfection, turned bitterly away when he found the soul unfit to inhabit the body.

This man had always led a pure life. No shadow of wrongdoing stained his soul or haunted his life. He could look every person in the face and truly say: "I have done no wrong!" He was vastly rich, and enjoyed his taste for the beautiful in nature to its fullest extent. After having been over the most noted places in Europe, Major Grant decided to return home to Laurel Glade; but a letter from Frank Whitney, his favorite nephew, pleading to be allowed to go over Europe's beautiful places, altered his plans, and he wrote the letter that reached him while he was visiting at the Home Farm, bidding him to come at once to Europe and travel for a year.

This year had now expired, and Frank Whitney had resumed his studies at a German university, where he expected to remain until his education was finished. Bidding Frank an affectionate farewell, Major Grant started for his own country. Having a friend in the beautiful city of Savannah, Georgia, he decided to visit that place before coming to Laurel Glade. The beauty of the city and its suburbs charmed him there, and the days lengthened into weeks before he thought of leaving the city.

It was here that accident accomplished what all the manoeuvring mamma in Europe and America had failed to do. "Major Grant met and loved a beautiful girl, who returned his attachment, and became his wife, before he left the city of Savannah. He had ridden out of the city alone one fine morning, and driving his horse under the shady branches of a large tree, secured him there, and walked a short distance away to secure some specimens of a rare plant:

that he had found growing wild the day previous. Being upon horseback the day that he had discovered this rare and beautiful plant, he feared to undertake to remove it, lest he should spoil it entirely by crushing the stalk and leaves. Therefore, he had procured a flower pot in which to place it, after he had removed it from the earth with the garden trowel purchased for the purpose. He was stooping over this plant and arranging it in the pot when the rapid beating of a horse's hoofs upon the hard road attracted his attention. Rising with the plant in his hands, he saw approaching, at a rapid pace, a magnificent horse, at whose side the slender form of a woman hung like a thing bereft of life. Calculating the chances of being unable to render this unfortunate being any assistance, he saw that by rapidly returning to his carriage he might be able to arrest the progress of the horse at that place. With a single bound he cleared the low fence between the field and the road, and arrived at the designated point just in season to seize the horse by the bridle, which was hanging loosely at his neck. The maddened animal reared and plunged, bringing his fore feet within a hair's breadth of Major Grant's chest, but at last, with one mighty effort to free himself, fell heavily to the ground. It was the work of a moment to free the clothing of the lady from the saddle to which she hung suspended but a few inches from the ground. This done, Major Grant left the horse lying as he had fallen, and bore the insensible girl to his own carriage which was only a few rods distant. Not until after he had gently laid this girl upon the soft cushions of the carriage did he look into her face. With his keen appreciation of the beautiful, how could he help the thrill of admiration that stirred his soul as he looked upon that face? Although it was marble-white, it was very, very handsome, and for a moment the man drank in its beauty of outline in silence. Then, remembering that something ought to be done to restore her to consciousness, he asked himself: "Where shall I take her?" He remembered to have seen a cottage only a little way back upon the road, and to this place he quickly resolved to go for aid in bringing life back to the insensible form. It was but the work of a few moments to drive slowly to the cottage and gain a ready consent to bring the lady into it. This done, the major drove rapidly to the city, and procuring a physician, as rapidly returned.

For many hours the young lady lay in a state of stupor; but at last her wondrous eyes shone from under their fringed lids, and falling upon Major Grant's face, she asked faintly: "Has any one stopped that terrible horse in his mad flight?" "You are safe. Rest assured that everything is well," was his reply. After another period of silence the young lady again spoke, saying: "To be continued."

A LITTLE DANDERINE MAKE YOUR HAIR SOFT, FLUFFY
 Get a 25 Cent Bottle Now and Forever Stop Falling Hair, Itching Scalp and Dandruff
 If you Wish to Double the Beauty of your Hair in Ten Minutes surely Try a Danderine Hair Cleanse
 Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.
 A delightful surprise awaits particularly those who have been careless, who have neglected or who are scrappy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.
 Try as you will, after one application of Danderine you cannot find any dandruff or a loose or falling hair, and your scalp will never itch, but what will please you more will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair sprouting all over the scalp. Danderine makes the hair grow long, heavy and luxuriant and we can prove it. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.

Fads and Fashions.
 Feather fans appear again. Ribbon hat trimmings are in high favor. One-sided effects still predominate in neckwear. Blue is the leading color for young girls' school suits. Nearly all the new raincoats are in mannish style. The craze for one-sided effects show little abatement. Pale rose seems to be the color for the debutante this year. No blouse is complete to-day without a frill over the hand.

Politics Again on Exhibition.

Although the proportion of partisan politics is somewhat reduced, and is not so blatant and glaring as that which appeared in the Burnin Speech a large portion of the Premier's speech at St. George's was devoted to a partisan appeal for support at the next General Election, which Sir Edward Morris declared for a second time would take place in the fall of 1913. In order that there may be no doubt in the minds of our readers about this we refer them to the published report of the Speech which appears in the Daily News this morning.

A few words, however, taken from the beginning and end of the concluding paragraph of this report affords clear proof of the partisan complexion of the address. Here they are:—

"We intend to stand or fall by our policy two years from now. and I am quite confident that, with your high sense of British fair play, you will again honour us with your support."

Whether the Premier likes it or not his party will be judged by its deeds, and the crops of wild oats and weeds have been so prolific during the past three seasons of the Picknickers' sowing that the people at large are highly disgusted, and are only waiting for the opportunity to turn them out neck and crop.

Many people are wondering where the money is to come from for the building of the branches of railroads, contracted for or to which the Picnic Party is committed. So many promises have been made under this head that even Sir Edward himself apparently forgets to mention an odd

THE PROFIT.

Two years ago the offices of the Marine and Fisheries Department were entirely renovated and painted. They have just been renovated again and repainted throughout and the work provided patronage for a party supporter.

That Outrage at Bell Island.

MR. FRANK THISTLE THE VICTIM.

Yesterday we referred to an outrage on a man at Bell Island Tuesday night, and to-day we find that it was Mr. Frank Thistle who was the victim of the attack. Mr. Thistle is a brother of Mr. John Thistle, Shoemaker, of Water Street, and went to the island to go to work with one of the companies. He has been about 35 years absent from the country, living in New York and was quite a stranger at Bell Island on reaching the place. He returned to the city to-day and told the Telegram that the outrage committed on him was the work of three miners who were either going to or returning from work. He met the men about 7 o'clock and asked them a civil question when they led him along for about 500 yards until he came to the car tracks when he, without warning, was felled from a blow delivered by one of them. He was then kicked and beaten unmercifully and two of the men held his arms while the third went through his pockets. When he resisted he was kicked into insensibility, had his eyes blackened, lips split and received other injuries about the body and legs. His aggressors took his watch and chain, all the money he had in his pockets and a fountain pen worth $5. Yesterday he laid the case before Sergt. Cox and Const. Morrissy and will this evening give the facts to I. G. Sullivan.

Laughs All Night at Practical Joke

San Bernardino Man's Good Humor Nearly Cost Him His Life.

San Bernardino, Cal., Oct. 16.—Wm. Benson started laughing yesterday when some friends played a joke on him. He laughed all night and until an early hour to-day, when physicians called in by alarmed relatives and friends to save his life succeeded in quieting him.

Benson, who has been known throughout this section as "Laughing Bill," went out hunting yesterday. For hours he shot at doves without bringing down one, and then learned that his friends had taken all the shot out of his shells. He roared with laughter at the joke on himself and could not stop.

All night his sides shook and tears rolled down his face. His friends finally became alarmed and called in physicians.

When You Feel Cross Kickers, Take Notice!

We learn to-day that Mr. James Murphy has received an appointment inside in the Board of Works office as assistant to Mr. Snelgrove. We congratulate Mr. Murphy on the success of his efforts to better his position. He has been kicking at the scurvy manner in which the Premier and the Picknickers have treated him after giving them strenuous political services. The Picknickers were afraid of Mr. Murphy and well they might be after their wild ways during the past two and half years. They have provided him with a better job to stop the kicks they were beginning to feel. Murphy had rightly sized up Morris.

TRIPOLI, To-day.

There was a combined attack of Arabian horsemen and Turkish cavalry against the Italian lines on Sunday. The main attacking force was assisted by Turkish infantry and small guerilla bands of fierce Arabs, who directed a galling fire from the shelter of trees. The Italians withstood the shock, and then repulsed the enemy, eventually surrounding them and capturing several hundred. The enemy lost several hundred dead and many wounded. The Italian loss is not serious.

It is believed in some quarters that a plebiscite on the Naval Question may be coupled with a General Election two years from now, after the Redistribution Bill has been put through Parliament. Advocates of the plan claim that, with so strong a majority Premier Borden's Government will run no risk in making the appeal to the people, and that it would come back with its base of power considerably extended.

"I have since continued the use of Postum for I have grown fond of it, and have discovered to my joy that it has entirely relieved me of a bilious habit which used to prostrate me two or three times a year causing much discomfort to my family and suffering to myself.

"My brother-in-law was cured of chronic constipation by leaving off coffee and using Postum. He has become even more fond of it than he was of the old coffee.

Confirmation.

His Grace Archbishop Howley accompanied by Rt. Rev. Mons. Roche visited Topsail Parish on Sunday, Oct. 22nd. The purpose of their coming was to administer the Sacrament of Confirmation. At 12 o'clock the Pastor, Rev. J. Coady, met the distinguished party at Topsail Church where a large gathering had assembled. Old and young came long distances and from various quarters quickened by the desire to see and hear His Grace and to honor him as their beloved Archbishop as well as to be present during the administering of this excellent and life-increasing Sacrament. His Grace in the beginning, and at considerable length, explained the nature, purpose, efficacy of Confirmation as far as it was necessary for all to know, and in language simple, clear and inspiring unfolded the beautiful teaching of Holy Church on this subject which was earnestly listened to by a large and devout congregation. When he had finished his touching discourse about 49 children were presented for Confirmation. Once more they were exhorted to live good Christian lives, to be faithful to the obligations contracted through the reception of this Sacrament and to conform their lives as far as possible to the teachings of Holy Church embodied in the Gospel.

At 2 o'clock the distinguished party left for Kelligrews where about the same number of children were eagerly awaiting His Grace's approach. In his own inimitable and lucid manner he also expounded the teaching of the Church concerning this Sacrament instituted by Christ. Then 40 children received Confirmation and were sent away as little Soldiers of Christ, strengthened in the faith and ready to fight the fight of Christians in the battle of life. It was a pleasing sight to behold so many bright young children attentively listening to every word uttered by His Grace and to receive from him a Sacrament which added to their innocent, unsullied souls additional lustre.

His Grace was highly pleased with the reception the people gave him and took occasion to praise them for their faith and for the respect manifested by them toward the Chief Pastor of their sons; their faith was shown by their presence and attention, their respect by the decorations and arches everywhere witnessed. The day was exceptionally fine and the auto drive distinguished visitors before returning to town were dined at Power's Court, the Pastor's home, thus was brought to a close a very busy and pleasant day in this picturesque locality.

Klark-Urban Co.

Last night the above named company reproduced "Capt. Clay of Missouri" at the T. A. Theatre. The hall was filled and the performance was even an improvement on the previous night's presentation. The acting went smoothly and any defects occasioned by the short time for preparation on Monday night were remedied. The specialties were particularly good and drew rounds of well deserved applause. Evidently the Klark-Urban Co. have caught on and will have good houses all the season. To-night the company will produce the popular dramatization of the celebrated novel "In the Bishop's Carriage," which is spoken of as one of the most charming light dramas of the day. The company made a great hit with the play in the towns of Eastern Canada, and no doubt will make a success of it here also. The curtain will rise at 8.30 instead of at 9.

Obscene Pictures.

The police have seized a large number of obscene pictures the past few days. A certain party in town had been importing them and selling them to make money. The Inspector General is now making a searching investigation in order to find out the extent to which those pictures have been circulated. The vendor will be brought before the court.

HEALTH RESTORED TO THIS FAMILY

Wife's experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food led to husband's cure. "Since childhood I was afflicted with biliousness and sick headache," writes Mr. A. K. Van Wyck, Park Hill, Ont., "and as all the doctors' medicines and prescriptions failed to do me any permanent good, I had lost faith in all medicines. It was by accident that I came to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for it had been recommended for Mrs. Van Wyck and did her so much good that she wished me to try it.

"I did so, and was surprised at the results. It is now three years since I discontinued the medicine and I have not had so much attack of the old trouble. I hope that others may benefit by my experience."

The cure effected by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food are lasting because it builds up the system and removes the cause of trouble. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50; at all dealers, or Edgarsson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

CHEAP Selling.

These two naturally go together.

With a thin "out-sole" and a thick "slip-tap," the cost of soleing can be reduced, since "out-soles" are worth more than "slip-taps."

But what happens?
The wearer soon finds these cheap-soled shoes are "cheap" in a sense that doesn't please.

"Where is That Missing Million?"

Toronto, Oct. 23.—The Mail and Empire, commenting editorially on the census, under the caption, "Where is the Missing Million?" points out that combining the population at the last census with the Government's reports of immigration and an estimated natural increase of one million, the present population should be over eight million. After allowing for the departure of many immigrants who stay in Canada was but temporary, the Mail and Empire continues: "Evidently there is statistical inaccuracy somewhere. If the census is approximately correct, then the immigration figures given out by the Government cannot be right. In ten years the Government expended $7,768,199. Did the country get all the immigrants the Government reported against the large outlay? Either Canada has been paying for more immigrants than were ever landed on its soil, or it has been paying for the passage for them on to other countries. The new government might well investigate the mystery."

A BROKEN-DOWN SYSTEM:
This is a condition (or disease) which doctors give many names, but which few of them really understand. It is simply weakness—a break-down, as it were, of the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its cause (for they are almost numberless), its symptoms are much the same: the more prominent being sleeplessness, sense of prostration or weariness, depression of spirits and loss of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life. Now what a boon is it to find a medicine in all such cases is Therapion—"vigor."

VITAL STRENGTH AND ENERGY
to throw off these morbid feelings, and experience proves that as night succeeds the day this may be more certainly secured by a course of the celebrated life-reviving tonic.

THERAPION No. 3
is a most reliable combination. So surely as it is taken in accordance with the accompanying directions, it will be shattered and broken-down system will be restored.

THE EXPIRING LAMP OF LIFE LIGHTED UP AFRESH.
and so lately seemed worn-out, "used up," and "dying away" in accordance with the directions, it is again renewed and made as good as new. It is a most reliable and innocuous, is agreeable to the taste either sex, and it is difficult to imagine a case of disease or debility, whose main features are those of debility, that will not be speedily and permanently benefited by this never-failing restorative essence, which is destined to give vigor to the system.

THERAPION is sold by Chemists throughout the world. The principal agents in this country are: Dr. J. H. Ross, 25 and 45, St. John's Street, St. John's, Nfld. Stamp in white letters on a red ground affixed to every bottle. Beware of cheap imitations. Consult "owners" and without which it is a forgery.

Therapion may now also be obtained in Dragee (Tasteless) form.

Railway Strike Appears Inevitable.

Special to Evening Telegram: LONDON, To-Day. It is believed that nothing can avert another great railway strike, which would be prolonged, and a fight to a finish between the companies and the men. It would inflict incalculable damage on the industry of the nation. The men are entirely dissatisfied with the report of the Commission. At their meeting next Monday a resolution is to be proposed refusing to accept the findings.

Little Girl Scalded.

PUSHED INTO BASIN OF BOILING WATER BY COMPANION.

Little Mollie Casey, the four year old daughter of Mr. Peter Casey, was badly scalded last evening while playing in Bambrick's Lane, near the Horwood Lumber Co's. yard. The women residing in the lane there are in the habit of putting tubs and basins under the exhaust pipe that comes from the Horwood factory through the fence. A large basin was there full of hot water, and when Mollie was playing there, her companion pushed her in. All one side was scalded to her waist and she suffered dreadful pain all night. The little one is being attended by Dr. Anderson, who hopes to save her life.

Injured by Auto.

This morning a woman who resides at Portugal Cove came to the police station and reported to the police that on Wednesday last as Mr. Miller, an aged resident of the place was driving home with Mr. Hutchins, the cart on which they drove was struck by an auto and turned over, and Mr. Miller was badly hurt about the body and arms and has been confined to his bed ever since. Who occupied the motor car she does not know nor could she describe them.

Made Them Cough Up.

We understand that while Customs Detective W. K. Morrissey was down in Green Bay, from which he arrived Saturday, he discovered that several motors were imported in different places and admitted duty free as they were bought ostensibly for fishery purposes. As a matter of fact Mr. Morrissey found that quite a number were used in boats which were devoted to the towing of logs and carrying of freight and passengers. The alert official, to use an Americanism, made the people who imported them "cough up" the duty and they were glad to get clear thus easy.

Refined Oil Advances.

We understand that refined cod liver oil has taken a jump upwards with a possibility of its going still higher. It was quoted all the fall at 50 cents per gallon but latterly it was advanced to 70 cents.

Submarine Murderer.

A curious form of crime has just been brought to light in Delhi. A gang of bad characters have been making a practice of hiding in the river Jumna and pulling down the gold and silver jewelry who go to the river to bathe. Recently several boys and women disappeared, and their bodies have not been recovered. A few days ago a Marwari woman, wearing heavy gold jewelry, while bathing was suddenly caught by somebody from below the water. She raised a cry, and two of her companions caught hold of her and prevented her from being dragged down. Help arrived, and a Mohammedan was caught in the water. He was arrested. Lately on one day five boys similarly disappeared; two were sons of city jewelers.

THE GOOD FELLER.

If the man who comes down to breakfast a n d k i c k s about everything from the weather to the omelet could have his morning roar read to him by a phonograph after dinner at his club, when he feels as playful as an ardent spinster at a corn husking bee, he would sweeten up faster than the travelling salesman who discovers that he has mistaken the proprietor for a clerk. The real salt of this crusty earth is the man who can look sour coffee and burned flapjacks in the eye on an empty stomach and refrain from musing up the atmosphere with a low grade of adulterated profanity. The good feller, who can crack a joke in the face of bacon that you couldn't tell from charcoal on a bet, and eggs that were packed for release in 1897, is the boy who makes the breakfast table look like a session in the frat house. The grouch who makes life a burden for everybody on the lot, from the house dog to the hired girl, has started more promising suits for separate maintenance than all the booze and high-priced calico from the time that Delilah gave the lamented Samson the double cross with a pair of barber's shears. The girl who picks out a husband with a bubbling smile never will have a chance to set up a plea for alimony and the custody of her offspring.

Serious Charge Against Turks.

Rome, October 19.—Commandator Simonetti, general secretary of the Italian anti-slavery society, which has been working in Tripoli since 1899, gives an appalling description of the slaves still conducted there, despite the efforts of the society to liberate those in bondage.

He says that the society provides the slaves with freedom papers, which the Turkish officials have disregarded derisively, calling them "papers of the second slavery."

He tells of the Turkish steamers engaged in the slave traffic, and says that when the slave markets were closed in 1900 the slaves were brought within a day's march of Benghazi, from where they were secretly embarked or returned to the interior. A common trick of the Turkish officials was to declare freed slaves Ottoman subject because they had come from Muscisman regions, and so keep them under an influence favorable to their return to slavery.

Slave Market in the Sudan.

The greatest trade, he says has been among the Bedouins, who sell negroes to the Senussi, who still have public markets at Abeshir, in Wadai, state of Central Africa, in the French zone of influence; and at El-Fasher, the capital of Darfur, Egyptian Sudan, under British domination.

The younger of the women slaves he says, were sent to Tobruk and the Gulf of Solum, Tripoli, and were destined for Turkish harems. These slaves were chained at night and acts of disobedience were punished with death. At Silten, not far from the city of Tripoli, Simonetti says that a slave was killed in such a barbarous fashion that a woman who was present died of fright. He closes with a list of so-called respectable Turks who indulge in the traffic of human flesh, simply for sport.

Annexation of Egypt Believed to be Imminent.

London, October 19.—It is believed in diplomatic circles that England will soon take advantage of the present situation to annex Egypt. This report, which came first from British sources in Egypt, appears to be confirmed by statements emanating from financial circles in Berlin and Vienna.

The Foreign Office, of course, makes the usual perfunctory denial, but in Egypt it is generally believed that the sending of England's greatest soldier, Lord Kitchener, to Egypt was for no other purpose than to have the right man on the spot when a crisis should occur.

Fortune in Buttons.

Dead Man's Collection Worth $40,000.

London, England.—A great surprise has come to the heirs of a man who died at Ghent. It was found that he had left a fortune in buttons which he had collected all his life. At first the news caused much laughter in the town, but when the collection of buttons came to be examined those who were engaged in the task became greatly interested.

The collector had divided his buttons into series. They dated from the ninth century. The collection was started with a button from the robe of Charlemagne and ended with one taken from the uniform of Napoleon. There were buttons from all the regiments which had existed in France, from the archers of Charles VII. to the Alpine chassateurs. The collection included buttons in wood, glass, bone, ivory, lead, brass, zinc, silver, gold, emeralds, rubies and diamonds. The material value of the collection was put at $40,000.

Fear Another Revolt in Yucatan.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 20.—Though the so-called Rees revolt in Tabasco and Southern Yucatan is not regarded generally as important, the Federal Government and population of the Peninsula are in a panicky state. Troops are held at Merida, the capital of Yucatan, with a train ready to transport them to disaffected points should the report of an uprising prove true. There is great excitement over a rumor that a mysterious ship landed arms and ammunition on the Yucatan coast.

The election returns thus far give Pino Suarez, 8,238 votes, President De La Barra, 4,956 and Dr. Vasquez Gomez 2,606, out of a total of 16,004 cast for Vice-President. This indicates a safe majority for Pino Suarez.

Woman Too Smart For Masked Men.

Welland, Oct. 21.—A masked man appeared at the house of Mrs. Manuel Ferris, Port Colborne and pointed a revolver at her. He demanded that she let him in the house but she struggled with him, tore the mask from his face and knocked the revolver from his hand. He then escaped.

The Picnic-Party Wool-Gathering.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—Will you kindly allow a space in your paper to make a few remarks concerning the present condition of affairs now existing in H. race. I may say for a "starter" that I am looking very strange around here lately. It looks as if the picnic party are expecting a heavy haul as they are ballasting the side-walks in a way calculated to make faint heart quake with fear. We hear talks of a "new moon" in place of "Mr. See No More" on the Tory ticket next time. Again, Mr. Editor, the $50,000 Government building goes head when it's not fine enough to spread fish. But, sir, you never heard tell in your life of such a squall will hit our honourable member, Mr. Ed. Parsons at the coming election. I heard, too, that the Old Age "Picnic" would be around here this winter. Some of the Old Fishermen, who were promised pensions last election are mad enough about it to give by "Picknicker" who mentions Pensions a black eye. Well, that may be as it may be, but I can tell you, Mr. Editor, I was amazed the other day when I went into the woods berry-picking to find the hills white with sheep, and the breed red, too.

"Well, well," said I to Archie, Ned's done it at last, and what fat pickings the heifers will get shearing them. Now, I know what the Fifty thousand dollar building is for. It's to store the wool to pull over people's eyes.

Yours truly,
OBADIAH

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

To save the forests and the coal, we meet betimes in Kansas City, and bring a good long rigmorale, and sing a soul-inspiring ditty. We talk at dinner and at lunch, on how to save the country's CONSERVATION bacon, and then we, the whole blanded bunch, to have a fine group picture taken. Long may our golden banners wave! Long may we wage this noble battle! The land's resources we shall save, if we must pow-wow at Seattle! We'll scourge the pillagers away, and drive the Morganheimers batty, e'en though to win the fateful fray we have to meet at Cincinnati! The tikefist is the shining sword with which we'll stop the spottlers' capers! So let's orate till crowds are bored, and read our long and prosy papers on all who don't agree with us we'll pass our caustic, savage strictures, and after all the pleasant fuss we'll go and sit for moving pictures. We battle for eternal right, for home —be it a hall or shanty—and we shall win the sacred fight, though we must meet at Ypsilanti!
