A Terrible Disclosure ; OR,
What Fools Men Are !

CHAPTER IX.

"Don't argue the point, Clifford," he said, quickly. "If she prefers it, that is reason enough. Let us speak to Mr. Browne."

Clifford Revel stopped him with a such of a finger.

"Wait. I'm awfully sorry. How is it that you didn't tell Miss Temple before?"

"Because, like an idiot, I forgot it," he said, regretfully.

Clifford Revel looked grave, and glanced at his watch. Lela looked from one to the other, pale and troubled, but with no trace of fear or suspicion.

Clifford Revel put up his watch, and shook his head.

"I am sorry, very sorry—seeing that I am, in a measure, responsible for the arrangements—but it is impossible to alter them now."

"But why—but why?" demanded Lord Edgar, impatiently, and loud enough to be heard by Mr. Nagle, who stood looking out of the window, with his thin lips tightly compressed, his hands locked behind his back.

"Because," said Clifford Revel, "there is not time."

"Not time!" echoed Lord Edgar, glancing at the clock on the mantel-shelf, and speaking with quiet regret; "not this morning; the ceremony must be performed before twelve."

"Ah, yes!" exclaimed Lord Edgar, who knew about as little of the laws regulating the marriage ceremony as could well be imagined, but who remembered to have heard something of this. "You see, Lela, that it is impossible to do as you wish now! Forgive me, darling! For Lela's sake," he murmured, "do not throw any obstacle in the way! I could not endure any delay!"

What could she say? What could any girl, innocent, trusting, loving, say under the strange circumstances? She put her hands into his, regardless of those present, and looked up at him.

"It will be the same, Edgar?" she said. "Though we are not married in a church, it will be the same?"

"Yes, yes," he said, "of course! Why, here is the clergyman, and here is the license."

He was horrified even at the faintest doubt.

"Then I am ready!" she said, sweetly, and she did not turn away when he bent and kissed her with passionate gratitude.

"Well!" said Clifford Revel, with regret for the little incident. "I am sorry! But what will you do?"

"We are ready," said Lord Edgar, drawing Lela's arm within his, and there was a touch of hauteur in his voice that was new to Clifford Revel. It sounded for the moment like the marquis.

Clifford signed to Nagle. He came to the table, and they saw that he had a book in his hand.

Lela, pale to the very lips, but fearing nothing, glanced up at his face and met his eyes fixed upon hers. They rested for a moment, as if he were waiting to see if she shrank from the ceremony, or offered any objection, but as she remained silent, he opened the book and commenced to read.

It is a magnificent service! It is profaned every day in the year by some who use its sacredness for the purpose of gain; by those who wed for power instead of love; by those who never intend to abide by the solemn vows they take so heedlessly; by those to whom its awful import means no more than the babbling of infants.

Every word fell upon Lela's ears and sank to her heart. The man who read it possessed a voice of deep, grave music, which lent importance to every sentence; and his dark eyes seemed to glow with fervor as he pronounced the words which made Edgar Fane and Lela Temple man and wife.

Clifford Revel, standing beside them with downcast face and lowered eyes, thought what a wonderful actor he would have made, but his face indicated nothing of the fardish triumph that swelled his heart.

He was grave and solemn, and gentle, as such a dear and close friend should be on such an occasion.

Long afterwards Lela remembered that downcast face, with its thin lips and lowered lids, and remembered, too, that never once during the ceremony were the keen, hard eyes visible. With deep, grave voice, without hesitation or faltering, Nagle read the service, his eyes fixed on his book, even during the pause when Lord Edgar put the ring on Lela's finger; then, having finished, he closed the book and stood with folded hands and tightly-closed lips.

Clifford looked up. He was as pale as death; but a smile fringed itself on his face.

"Let me be the first to congratulate you, my dear Edgar," he said, holding out his hand.

Lord Edgar, pale too, but with a glow of happiness in his eyes, turned to Lela.

"No," he said, "my first word must belong to her—my wife," and he took her in his arms and kissed her.

Then he took Clifford's hand and shook it.

"Thank you—thank you, Clifford! Lela, my wife, thanks you, too, do you not?"

Lela held out her hand and looked at him, but she said nothing, not even when he bent over her hand.

"May I not claim a cousin's privilege, Lady Fane?" he said.

She started and stared at him.

Lady Fane! What did he mean? Then it broke upon her that he meant himself—that she was Lady Fane; and before she could say "yes or nay," he kissed her hand.

It was a Judas kiss—a kiss that should have withered the lips that gave it; but it only gave him courage. His eyes gleamed triumphantly, his voice grew loud.

"Browne," he said, "I never heard you read the service in better style."

Nagle raised his head and looked at him—a strange glance.

"Never," he repeated. "I think your voice has improved. By the way, I must use my poor influence with my cousin on your behalf, Edgar?"

"Well," said Lord Edgar, turning his head—he still held Lela's hand—"what is it?"

"I was going to say a word for my friend Browne," said Clifford Revel, smiling so that his short, even teeth gleamed under his mustache. "You have, or will have, several livings within your gift: I hope you won't forget my friend here. You are a married man now, and will some day be Marquis of Farintosh. Don't forget the clergyman who helped to make you the happiest man on earth!"

It was a wild speech, but excusable. Lord Edgar thought, under the circumstances.

"I am very much indebted to Mr. Browne," he said, looking at Nagle's pale, cadaverous face—"very much; and I hope I may some day have the opportunity of proving the sincerity of my gratitude."

As he spoke Nagle raised his eyes and looked at him, and at the moment Lord Edgar was seized with a strange idea that he had seen him before.

"At what university were you, Mr. Browne?" he asked.

"At Oxford, with me!" said Clifford Revel, with a wild laugh. "Weren't you, Browne?" he said, lightly.

"Wonderfully clever man, Browne—passed with honors, while I was plucked. Now mind, Edgar, the first living that comes into your hands you give to my friend here."

Lord Edgar nodded.

"I promise that," he said.

Then, for the first time, Nagle spoke. He raised his head, and looked from one to the other.

"Thank you, my lord," he said.

"What a wonderful actor he is!" thought Clifford Revel. "No bishop could have looked more clerical, or read the service more devoutly."

Level then entered. He had put on a new dress coat—that is, a left-off one of Lord Edgar's.

"Lancheon is served, my lady," he said.

Lela looked around to see where "my lady" might be, then blushed a rosy red, and clung to Lord Edgar's arm. She was "my lady" now!

"Mr. Browne, you will join us?" said Lord Edgar, for Nagle had taken up his black kid gloves.

"Thank you, my lord," he said. "But I have a pressing engagement."

"Oh, come, Browne!" said Clifford Revel, remonstrating. "Whoever heard of a clergyman deserting his post before the wedding breakfast?"

Nagle looked at him steadily.

"I have a pressing engagement which I cannot break," he said.

A Minister's Evidence.

That Piles or Hemorrhoids, Can be Quickly Cured—A Justice of the Peace Cured Many Years Ago.

There has come to use recently these two letters from prominent men who bear unquestionable testimony in regard to Dr. Chase's Ointment as a prompt and lasting cure for piles.

These men give their evidence freely because they know what it means to suffer from the tortures of piles and then be cured. They feel it a duty and a pleasure to let others know how they, too, may be cured.

Rev. Frank N. Brown, Methodist Minister, Paroville, Ont., writes: "In the winter of 1912 I was stationed in Cobalt. I went for a snowshoe tramp one day, and sat for only a few minutes on a cold stump waiting for some comrades to catch up to me. From sitting on the damp stump I contracted piles, and suffered so severely that it caused me great pain to walk. A friend recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment, and immediately purchased a small box, which very rapidly effected a cure. I always keep a box on hand and it is excellent for any kind of wound or sore."

Mr. W. B. Thorne, J.P., Alderside, Alta., writes: "It was twenty-eight years ago that I became acquainted with the merits of Dr. Chase's Ointment and would not be without it on any account, as it never fails to do its work. I was first induced to try it for piles. Less than one box cured me, and I have never been troubled since. That was twenty-eight years ago, so I think the cure is permanent. It is good for sore lips and hands, chafing and, in fact, all sorts of sores. You are at liberty to use this statement for the benefit of others."

You can put Dr. Chase's Ointment to the test in any case of piles with the utmost assurance that you will obtain relief from suffering and ultimately lasting cure. 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Look for the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Remedial Book author, on the box you buy.

"At least you will drink a glass of wine!" said Lord Edgar, genially.

Level went and fetched a decanter and glass, and as he went, Nagle said: "I have not seen the license, my lord, will you show it to me, please?"

"Certainly!" said Lord Edgar, and he drew the license from his pocket and handed it to him.

He took it, and glanced at it, and Clifford Revel exultingly thought that indeed his tool was a good actor!

"It is usual for the clergyman to retain this," said Nagle.

"All right," said Lord Edgar. "It is of no use to me now," and he laughed buoyantly.

Nagle put the document in his pocket-book and then went to the writing table, and taking a sheet of paper, wrote something on it.

Then he approached Lela, and handed the sheet of note paper to her.

"This, my lady," he said, bending his dark eyes upon her, and speaking in a voice quite different to that which he had used hitherto, "is your marriage certificate; keep it, and preserve it. You may never need it, but still—keep it."

Lela took the sheet of paper and murmured her thanks, and Clifford Revel, looking on with a smile, was delighted at the way in which his tool was playing his part.

"And now I must say 'Farewell,'" said Nagle, quietly. "I am sorry that I cannot remain, but I have pressing duties. Good-by, my lord."

"Good-by," said Lord Edgar, taking his hand. "I am very much obliged to you, and am very sorry that you cannot stay!"

"Thanks."

Gin Pills
ON THE KIDNEYS SUCCEEDED

Where Travel and Change of Climate Failed to Restore Health

Hamilton, Ont., Apr. 10th, 1917.

"About four years ago I was afflicted with a condition from muscular and inflammatory rheumatism, which was very painful and my efforts through travel and change of climate in the hope of losing my guests, and now I only found relief in Gin Pills, spending a lot of time and money in foreign lands."

"When these Gin Pills have been used, I feel in advancing years a tendency to the kidneys, and get out more easily than formerly but a few doses of Gin Pills put them right and what of other ailments and serious trouble. When I remember what I suffered through kidney trouble and rheumatism and the freedom from these which I now enjoy, I feel it my duty to recommend Gin Pills for kidney and bladder troubles to my thousands of patients friends throughout Canada, to whom I am well known as a commercial traveller of over forty years' active service."

(Signed) W. G. REID.

Gin Pills sell for 50c a box or 6 boxes for $2.50 at all good dealers. Sample free if you write to National Dress & Clean Co., 405 Dundas Street, Toronto, or to United States address, No-Du-Co., Inc., 202 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

LONDON, March 25, 1918.

SIR GEORGE ALEXANDER.

Sir George Alexander's management of the St. James's Theatre was one of the brightest chapters of recent theatrical history in London. It is no exaggeration to say that he did more for English dramatists than any other manager of his generation. The fact that he produced "Lady Windemere's Fan" and "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" would alone keep his memory green. He brought forward many other original plays of merit, but those two made the St. James's for a time the best and most talked of theatre in London. Following the vogue of "Mrs. Tanqueray," his policy underwent a change. He went in strongly for the dramatic drama, producing "The Prisoner of Zenda," "The World King," and "The Heidelberg."

These plays earned him a lot of money and added to his personal popularity; but as a set-off his personal popularity, its distinctive off the St. James's; its distinctive character. From time to time Sir George returned to the modern drama, and the old glamour could not be re-created. The later Pinero plays, however, "The House in Order" and "The Secret of Robert" were successful. "The House in Order" was a triumph. "The Secret of Robert" was a triumph. "The House in Order" was a triumph. "The Secret of Robert" was a triumph.

More adventurous days of his management he almost promised the audience to produce "The Candida"; but for some reason he changed his mind. He had carried out his intent the subsequent history of the St. James's might have been very different, though perhaps not so financially prosperous. As an actor Alexander was always refined and interesting. He would have been the last to claim of imperiousness; but he had had charm of style and technical skill. Violent emotions were quite outside his range.

SUGAR CARDS FOR THE JUDGES.

The Ministry of Food will be requested to inform the House of Commons what arrangements are made respecting the rations of sugar to His Majesty's judges on circuit; and whether they are placed on the same footing as commercial travellers, and immediately on arrival at an assize, are obliged to go to the local court office to enter their names and signatures as in the case of commercial travellers. It was Mr. Plick's solicitor who dwelt on the importance to a suitor of the foreman of the jury having had a good breakfast, and the idea of being tried before a judge who had been deprived by the Food Controller of sugar in his morning cup of tea is too painful for an ordinary law-abiding citizen to contemplate.

Hr. Grace Notes.

Miss Nellie Dwyer, daughter of Sergeant Alex. Dwyer, left for St. John's by Wednesday morning's train, where she enters the General Hospital to train for a nurse.

Miss Rose Sheppard, daughter of Mr. L. Sheppard, left for Sydney on Tuesday morning, and it is said will shortly join hands with a young Harbor Gracian who is making good there.

Mr. Henry Bray, of Pipe Track Road, was so seriously burned last week that it is doubtful if he can recover. Mr. Bray was going in the country in his car, and put his pipe in his pocket, while the tobacco was still on fire.

Mr. W. H. Butt, eye specialist, of Carbonara, is arranging to spend a couple of days each month in Harbor Grace, giving the town and vicinity the benefit of his skill in the above profession. He will begin on Monday next.

Mr. Chas. Ellis, of St. John's, was in town for a few days this week. He returned to the city yesterday.

Mrs. Joseph Ross went to St. John's on Monday morning on a visit to her son Pte. William Ross, and other friends.

A flat car left on the Shipbuilding Co.'s track was set in motion on Tuesday by some boys releasing the brakes. The car ran down the grade at a great speed, crossed Water Street and into the shipyard.

Mr. Robert Ash, an old resident of Harvey Street, passed away early yesterday morning after a rather lengthy illness.

Mrs. Mary Murphy, mother of Mrs.

E. M. Pumphrey, passed away on Sunday last at the advanced age of 83 years. The funeral took place on Tuesday at 9.30 a.m.

Mrs. William Verge, of Pipe Track Road, died on Friday last after a few weeks' illness. She leaves a husband and family to mourn their great loss.

A unique and interesting event took place at Gordon Lodge on Monday night last when a party of about 35 partook of a banquet given by Mr. Ernest Simmons in honor of Geo. Webber, one of his clerks, who has lately enlisted.

The discharged soldiers were represented at the banquet by Sergt. Arthur Webber, Sergt.-Major Moore, of St. Anthony, Robt. Tetford, Tom Noseworthy and Geo. Sellars and Jas. Hennessy; the Navy by Samuel Crocker and Geo. Sellars; the accepted volunteers by Geo. Webber, Geo. Crocker, Frank Ash, Alex. Yelton. Other members of the forces present were Daniel Serok and Frank Pumphrey of the C.E.F., and M. S. Martin of St. John's, a member of the Nfld. Regt. Mr. Simmons' employees were present, viz. Capt. Jas. Pike, Frank Sullivan, Harold Oke, Ronald Kitchin, O. Davis, M. Sheppard, and the ladies Miss May Davis, Miss Marion Simmons, who with Miss Gertrude Davis presiding at the organ contributed much to making the evening a success.

Gordon Lodge Rooms were tastefully furnished and decorated with the flags of the Allied nations. The repast was generous and bountiful with meats, vegetables, pies and fruit of all kinds. The host proved an excellent chairman and guided a successful programme of toasts as follows: "The King," proposed by the host; responded to by gramophone selections, the Marseillaise, etc.

Sergt. Arthur Webber also gave an interesting account of the memorable battle of Monchy where so many brave sons of Newfoundland proved to the death and imprisonment their devotion to their Country and their God.

At 1 o'clock the company reluctantly dispersed carrying away the happiest memories of fraternal intercourse, gratitude to the kind and thoughtful hosts who had made such an evening possible, and bright hopes of reunions in coming days, it is to be hoped.

Evening Telegram

W. J. HERDER, - - Proprietor
C. T. JAMES, - - - - Editor
SATURDAY, May 4, 1918.

The Great Betrayal.

The failure of a Government to make good its word is a crime against civilization. The failure of the Newfoundland Government to keep its word to the Empire, the country and the Regiment is a far worse crime, if such can be, and one which will surely bring time's reversion.

From the very beginning of the falling off in recruiting on the part of the Government, up to the present day, when there are some 500 men enrolled for service, in St. John's, the Telegram has unceasingly advocated the sending of continued drafts as they came in, but no energetic steps were taken to carry out the first duty which conditions demanded.

The Minister of Militia in making the announcement of the despatch sees the words, "The following message, which speaks for itself." It not only speaks for itself, but it speaks in tones of thunder against the Government, of their gross negligence and incapacity to handle a serious situation, the withdrawal of the Regiment from the battle line must be attributed.

Newfoundland's pledge to the Empire through the Prime Minister, has been broken. The Government has failed to make good its word. No man or body of men is responsible, save only the Government. The country responded to the call to arms, and the sadly needed reinforcements were on the strength, yet nothing, apparently was done to get them across, and today, who doubts that the gallant men of our Regiment are not shedding tears of blood over their withdrawal from a proud place in a proud Division: a place which they had won and held by deeds which have made them famous. Does any one ask if they would rather not be doing duty as General Headquarters Troops, than in the front rank of the 29th Division, a place which the Royal Scots deemed it such an honor to occupy, that they moved Heaven and earth and Army Headquarters, to get back again to the position in which the Royal Newfoundlanders succeeded them?

That question will be answered by the "Royals" themselves, and make no mistake about it, their answer will cause uneasiness in certain quarters, if the present dishonor has not already brought about a fear of the consequences. Nothing the Government has done has been more despicable than its absolute neglect of the Regiment, and all the protestations of patriotism and loyalty made by its members, have but served to show that their talk is as the sounding of brass and the tinkling of cymbals. The great betrayal of trust is chargeable directly to our present rulers. They had not the initiative to direct matters of State, but wrangled over the spoils of office and while the men in the trenches faced death every minute of the day, the party-political politicians of the Government neglected, and practically repudiated, their requests, and the demands of the Imperial authorities for reinforcements. And the result, to again use the phrase of the Minister of Militia, "speaks for itself."

The Estimates.

The following statements are taken from the Finance Minister's speech introducing the Estimates at the House yesterday: Total vote, 1918-1919, $5,367,032.18, an increase over last year of $661,336.00, not including additional estimates. This increase is represented by added interest amounting to between $390,000 and $400,000, in which is included the interest of a further loan of $3,000,000, which has to be raised this year. Civil Government increase $153,000; Dept. of Justice $38,000; Public Charities $30,000; Postal and Telegraphs $117,000, representing increased subsidies. Government House gets another typist at a salary of $520. The Colonial Secretary's Department also gets another at the same salary, and the Deputy Head, Mr. Mews, receives an increase of $100, and the second accountant augmentation of $70. The Deputy Registrars of Vital Statistics (clergymen in Outports) are to receive 20 cents instead of 10 cents for each name recorded in their returns, and a new typist is to be furnished to the Registrar at a salary of $300. In the Finance Department the Deputy Head is increased from $1,500 to $1,800 and the First Clerk from $1,000 to $1,200.

A re-arrangement of certain minor salaries in the Department of Justice works out at an increase of $190. The Marine and Fisheries Department will have two herring inspectors, instead of one, which involves an increase of $1,200. In the Public Works Department, the Secretary gets a rise of $300 and the Assistant Inspector an extra $93 (some fancy figuring here). The explanation is that this is not an actual increase. The sum was voted last year but overlooked. (The A. V. should see that he gets the $63 due him on last year's salary.) A re-arrangement of stipends in the office of the Auditor General gives the Asst. Auditor, Mr. Donnelly, an increase of $450 with lesser increases for the other officials, the total advance being $3,013. The votes for new offices, Controller of Liquors and Profits Tax Assessors, are new ones. The former represents $6,156.00, and the latter $8,500.

The inevitable has happened. As the Telegram has predicted for well nigh a year, the Regiment has fought one great fight too many, and is now honourably "shelved". It has been sacrificed to its own bravery and the deliberate neglect of those whose whose first duty was towards it—the Government. Facing the enemy at old, fighting and suffering as of old, it fell below fighting strength, and, having no reserves, had to be withdrawn from the division of which it was so proud, with a pride that was so amply returned. It is now attached to general headquarters, doing, I suppose, picket or police or some such other work which a bettered old Regiment is only suited for.

Is it not enough to make a man's blood boil? We have conscription at last—and in a few months it will produce some recruits. But will it restore our Regiment to its old place? I doubt it. The Government has been forced, as it was time and again warned it would be, to adopt the measure that might six months ago have saved the situation, have spared the country this dishonour. When the Recruiting Committee and the Patriotic Association sent to the Government their resolutions urging the immediate necessity of conscription, they were insulted by being "completely ignored." When the Government consented to discuss the matter its agreement was, that the next session would be time enough to consider such a step. Those who were in earnest and knew the real danger, replied that it would not be time enough—it would be too late. How fully and how bitterly the truth has been borne out! If the Government are compelled to defend the justice and the necessity of conscription now, how can they defend the months of criminal neglect that lie at their door? How excuse the folly that waited until the Regiment was half wiped out before thought was taken of coming to its assistance? They cannot. I have objected in the past to the cool assumption by those men, established in power by a piece of intrigue of a peculiarly contemptible kind, of the title of a "national" government, but it is appropriate after all. It makes it easier to lay on the right shoulder the blame of this national disgrace.

THE QUESTION AT ISSUE. The protestations of the Government, the dust piled by the Advocate and Herald to a very new tune, would be amusing if the case were less serious. Having performed a "right-about" on the subject of conscription, they do the same performance on that of an election. In the most open and unashamed manner they have attempted to tag onto the Conscription Act a measure to extend the life of Parliament, making the one, an insult and injustice to the Colony, the product of the other, an act of justice performed too late. These have not, and cannot have, the remotest connection. Instead of being confined in power

MARGINAL NOTES

By Commentator.

THE WAR. The third stage of the great offensive is ended. It has had no greater success than its predecessors, on the whole much less, though it registered at one time gains which sent the London papers, plainly nervous from the tension of the past weeks, into gloomy predictions of the loss of the Channel ports and years more of war. Fortunately, they have been more than falsified. The capture of Kemmel Hill does not seem to have given the Germans any immediate advantage, and for days past every attack has broken down completely before the defence of the Allies, who have now, from the welding process of these attacks, not a weak point in their whole line. The situation must indeed be one to cause misgiving to the German high command. They have gained nothing commensurate with their losses; to attack again means simply the further melting of the last Reserve, while those of the Allies are swelled by daily accretions; to abandon the offensive altogether is to make a too damning confession of failure, and let loose heaven knows what pent up forces throughout the war-torn and desperate nation. At the same time it is clear that something has gone wrong in Austria, whose offensive might have been expected to synchronise with the height of the German attack. The desertions which are credibly announced to the ranks of the Italians are probably but surface indications of the unrest that prevails in the dual empire. To add to this Germany is with her native genius, plainly provoking the Russians by her tyranny and callousness, and is at last growing alarmed at the hostility she might have known she would create. Altogether there are signs and portents that the stars in their courses are beginning at last to fight for the Allies; but whether or not, it is certain that the next few weeks are big with fate and they will possibly be the most critical of the whole war.

TOO LATE! The inevitable has happened. As the Telegram has predicted for well nigh a year, the Regiment has fought one great fight too many, and is now honourably "shelved". It has been sacrificed to its own bravery and the deliberate neglect of those whose whose first duty was towards it—the Government. Facing the enemy at old, fighting and suffering as of old, it fell below fighting strength, and, having no reserves, had to be withdrawn from the division of which it was so proud, with a pride that was so amply returned. It is now attached to general headquarters, doing, I suppose, picket or police or some such other work which a bettered old Regiment is only suited for.

C. M. B. C. On Sunday last at the meeting of the Cathedral Men's Bible Class, His Lordship the Bishop of Newfoundland, was present and delivered an eloquent address. At the close, His Lordship was presented with an illuminated address and vestments appertaining to His Episcopal Degree. Following is a copy of the address.— St. John's, Nfld., April 28th, 1918. To The Right Reverend, William C. White, D.D., Lord Bishop of Nfld. Right Reverend and Dear Sir— On behalf of the Cathedral Men's Bible Class, we beg to approach Your Lordship with expressions of deep regret that the time has come when the Tie must be severed that bound us to you as our Parish Priest and Rector for the past ten years. While, as members of the Holy Catholic Church in this Dominion, we join in the common joy that you have become our Bishop, we nevertheless feel that what is the gain of the whole Diocese is the loss of the Cathedral Parish. We ask your acceptance of the accompanying Vestments as a small memento of the esteem and loyalty of your friends in our Class. That God may abundantly bless your Episcopate is the earnest prayer of your obedient and humble servants. (Sgd.) FRED REID, Lay Chairman. EDWIN ESBARY, Secretary.

4 CYLINDER 16 HORSE POWER... 295.00

Everyone knows that a Four Cycle Engine will produce the same power on much less fuel than any two Cycle Engine made...

The only objection to Four Cycle Engines has been the difficulty of keeping the ignition dry in wet weather; this objection is overcome in our "WATERPROOF" Engines...

Letter to the Prime Minister.

The following Letter has been Handed the Prime Minister by the Executive of the S.R.V.A. (Copy) Hon. W. F. Lloyd, K.C., D.C.L., etc., Prime Minister.

Sir.—We have learned with inexpressible regret that the Royal Newfoundland Regiment after so many sacrifices of gallant lives and so much glory won for itself and this Dominion has at length been withdrawn from the 29th Division...

The country as well as our Regiment has lost its place of honor in the War. Nothing now matters but to regain that place without a moment's avoidable delay...

We therefore ask you, Sir, and through you we ask His Excellency the Governor in Council, most respectfully, but most earnestly and urgently, that on the very day that the Military Service Bill becomes law, a Proclamation be issued bringing it into immediate operation...

We have the honor to be, Sir, Your obedient servants, The Soldiers and Rejected Volunteers Association.

Public Notice

I am directed by His Excellency the Governor in Council to issue the following notice under Authority of Minute in Council passed 28th February, 1918.

Augmentation of the Pay of Royal Naval Reservists Newfoundland.

The Government of Newfoundland have decided to augment the pay of Newfoundland Royal Naval Reservists so as to place them on the same footing as men of the Newfoundland Regiment.

Under the provision of the War Measure Act, authority is given to the Minister of Militia to deal with the matter of augmentation of pay of the Royal Naval Reservists, Nfld., in consultation with the Senior Naval Officer, St. John's.

It is ordered that a sum of 33c. per day be placed to the credit of each Naval Reservist from the time of commencement of the war, in cases where men were then serving, or otherwise, from the time when their services began up to the time of discharge, or of death, or to the 30th of September, 1917, inclusive.

As the rate of pay of Naval Reservists was increased from October 1st, 1917, and as the difference between the amount they receive and that allowed the members of The Royal Newfoundland Regiment is 17c. per day, this difference will also be credited them from that date.

The foregoing amounts will not in any case be made a payment from Admiralty sources. The Minister of Militia, St. John's, Nfld., is solely responsible for the issue of any sums due.

Newfoundland Royal Naval Reserve men serving in any of H. M. Ships, including all members of the Trawler Reserve and those in Defensively Armed Merchant Ships etc., are eligible for the pay as set forth, and should be informed of the following alternatives as regards the method of payment:—

(a) Payment will be made on personal application to the Minister of Militia, St. John's.

(b) Payment will be made to the nominee of any Reserve man, on written application duly witnessed, to the Minister of Militia, St. John's.

(c) Sums due will be placed to the credit of Reserve men who do not desire to avail themselves of the foregoing and can be drawn by them at the expiration of their service.

The following form is to be compiled and forwarded direct to the Minister of Militia, St. John's, Newfoundland, at the earliest possible date:—

Table with 3 columns: NAME AND OFFICIAL NO., WHAT IS DESIRED DISPOSAL OF AMOUNT DUE UNDER ORDER 1, 2, or 3 (IN CASE OF 2, FULL NAME AND ADDRESS MUST BE GIVEN), SIGNATURE AUTHORIZING DISPOSAL.

All communications of any description with regard to these payments are to be made to the Minister of Militia, St. John's, direct. Payment will commence on 1st May, 1918.

In cases where members of the Royal Naval Reserve (Newfoundland) have been killed in action or died of wounds or sickness, or through any other cause, the amount due as Augmentation Pay will go to the Estate of the deceased. The authority to obtain the Estate of the deceased is, in case of a Will, Letters of Probate; and in case there is not a Will, Letters of Administration. Such letters are issued by the Supreme Court of Newfoundland on the Petition and Proofs of Executor of the Will, or the next of kin. If the Estate does not exceed $500.00, after the proof of the facts has been obtained the petition can be applied for by the Minister of Justice.

With reference to the foregoing, it is suggested that the next of kin of Reservists who are now serving should communicate with them and request them to send their instructions to the Militia Department. No action can be taken until such instructions are received.

Next of kin of deceased Reservists will be communicated with in due course when their claims have been proved.

J. R. BENNETT, Minister of Militia.

The Artistic Fireman.

By RUTH CAMERON

RUTH CAMERON

A certain train which I had occasion to take several times, this winter, was almost invariably from a half to three quarters of an hour late in making a three hour run.

But the last time I took it I was astonished to find myself reaching my destination exactly on time.

I expressed my wonder to my host, and he explained, "Oh, yes," said he, "that train is always on time now. It hasn't been late but once in the last month, and then it was held up by a big fire beside the tracks. They've got a new fireman and he knows how to fire. They say he is a wonder. You can hear him blowing off steam as he comes into town. The rest of the trains are about as bad as ever, but you can count on the two he brings into town being right on the dot."

Not a Mechanical Job.

Now, a layman would not, offhand, conceive of the job of fireman as permitting such wide variation of achievement. One would think of it as a rather mechanical job.

And yet, there you are!

The difference between a train that is sure to be half an hour late and a train you can set your watch by, is simply the difference between a man who does his job mechanically and a man who does his job artistically.

When you come down to it, it is astonishing how much variation the human factor can make in the simplest—most mechanical job.

Two Kinds of Toast.

Table making toast; what a wide difference there is between the toast that a careless indifferent cook makes—half toasted on one side, burned a bit on the other (how often have I ground in spirit as I heard my breakfast toast going under the ministrations of the knife), butter thrown on in two or three hard lumps,—and the toast that is evenly golden brown on both sides, and evenly buttered with butter melted to the proper consistency.

And how much more fun the artist gets out of it!

I know nothing about that fireman except that he gets his train in on time, but I'll wager he takes pride and pleasure in his job.

Work For The Work's Sake But—

But there's one thing I'd like to know. Does the railroad recognize the high quality of his service and give him some reward to encourage him?

"Work for the work's sake," is a splendid doctrine.

But the employer who simply gobbles up the advantage of such a doctrine and doesn't show his appreciation, deserves the spirit of resentment and rebellion which he is apt to arouse.

Your Boys and Girls.

Here is a list of things that the new baby cannot well get along without: Six nainsook slips, four flannel petticoats, one best dress, one white petticoat, three cotton and wool bands, three cotton and wool shirts, three pairs of knitted socks, three knitted blankets, three flannel sacques, three dozen napkins and a white flannel coat.

It is no longer necessary to hem the baby's napkins. Cotton birdseye can be bought in packages of a dozen and three dozen should be enough if the used napkins are washed every day. Use a good white soap, never brown soap as it is irritating to the tender skin. Wash, rinse and dry carefully and do not let the baby wear napkins until they have been dry twenty-four hours.

Wrappers for the baby for before and after bath time are very useful. These are little kimono made from French flannel, challis or flannellette. The edges are embroidered, scalloped and hemmed, featherstitched or bound with ribbon. They tie down the front with three sets of ribbon. A nice bath apron may be made of flannel or

Our Daily Story.

TEMPERAMENT.

Shortly after midnight fire broke out in the basement of Mrs. Dindon's theatrical boarding house, all the rooms of which were occupied by members of the Titcos Grand Opera Company. Howland Deep, the basso, was the first to smell smoke. He rushed from his room and leaned over the banisters, sniffing, in his pyjamas.

"Woe! Woe! Woe! There's aught amiss below!" he sang lustily.

Immediately the entire company streamed out of their rooms, fear and consternation on every face.

"Ah me! Ah me! What can it be?" sang Circeanian Dudds, the soprano, in a trembling voice.

"What can it be? What can it be? Woe! Woe! Woe! There's aught amiss below!" sang the entire frightened chorus.

By this time the flames were leaping gayly, and Spruce Clipper, the tenor, chimed in:

"Oh see the flames that spring and dart—oh let us part, oh let us part!"

And the chorus swelled out: "Oh see the flames that spring and dart—let us part, let us part! Woe! Woe! Woe! There's aught amiss below! There's aught amiss below! Below—oh-oh-oh—be-llooooooh!"

Above the roaring of the flames and the crashing in of the downstairs walls, the basso could be heard again:

"Something must be done! The time draws nigh to run!"

And the chorus: "The time draws nigh to run! Woe! Woe! Woe! There's aught amiss below! Oh see the flames that spring and dart—"

Naturally they were all burned to death.

ERADICATING FOREHEAD WRINKLES.

A shapely forehead with the skin smooth, fine in texture and unmarred by furrows, not only imparts refinement and intelligence to the expression of a face, but a certain poise as well. The most common blemishes to the forehead are wrinkles. These, in many cases, are made by facial contortions, screwing the features in wild manner expressive of passing emotions. Again the disposition and temperament have much to do with the premature lining of the face.

Until these difficulties are overcome, a woman cannot hope to eliminate the marks of age from her forehead. Calming herself, holding her nerves, and her temper in check will prove of great assistance to the woman desirous of banishing wrinkles. The general treatment for wrinkles will, to a great extent, assist, too, in the elimination of other blemishes, rough, dry or tight skin, pimples and sun stains.

Pat dry and then rub the forehead firmly with the tips of the fingers of both hands starting in the center and drawing them out to the temples. Repeat half a dozen times to further stimulate the circulation. Now rub up and down, and then a circular motion should be made with the balls of the fingers as they slide over the forehead. This you will observe, loosens the dermal tissues and makes the skin more elastic. In many cases it is dry and hard to move over the bones.

Now you are ready for the cream bath, and for this good cleansing cream is used. Thoroughly rub it into the pores and start the first movement. Place the index and middle finger of one hand firmly on the forehead, holding the skin taut, then with the first finger of the other hand, massage up and down, going in the opposite way to the wrinkles. Repeat, going over the entire forehead and temples. Then, with the index finger of each hand at the top and base of the forehead, push the fingers tips in the opposite direction, first up and down, continuing in easy parallels from temple to temple. This tends to press out the wrinkles. Renew the cream whenever necessary for the fingers must glide easily over the skin.

Everyday Etiquette.

"Should a bride to mark her linen with her first name or the initials of her name to be?" asked Jessie.

"The linens should be marked with the initial or initials of her maiden name. If it is Fanny Smith she may mark it with an F. or an S. or with both," said her aunt.

Special Notice

At the end of this year we will give 5 cts. for every 12 Outside Green Wrappers obtained from "STAFFORD'S LINIMENT."

We will also give $10.00 to the person forwarding us the largest number and $5.00 to the 2nd largest.

We will keep a record of every person forwarding us these wrappers from time to time and at the end of the year we will publish the names of the winners.

"STAFFORD'S LINIMENT" is the strongest and most penetrating Liniment for sale in Newfoundland and is sold in over 500 stores.

It is the best Liniment you can use for RHEUMATISM, LUMBAGO, NEURALGIA and all ACRES and PAINS. Owing to the cost of bottles and ingredients used in the manufacturing of this Liniment, we have had to advance the price a little, but the bottle still remains the same size.

A BIRTHDAY.

WALLY MASON

Some empty years ago to-day I showed up on this planet, where northern stream-lets dash their way between tall hills of granite. I'm growing old in count of years, that much I am allowing; but I am chipper as the steers that Adam used for plowing.

If you'd convince me I am old, you'd have to bring the papers; for I am gay, my step is bold, and I cut fancy capers. Men often say, "You look so young! Your youth is scarcely wily; the rest of us by age are stung—why don't you bend and shrivel?" And I reply, "The world's a joke, and life a transient flurry, and all our troubles end in smoke, so I refuse to worry. To me care looks like twenty cents. I throw it to the foxes; it's worry ages dames and gents, and puts them in their boxes. Oh, worry will not heat a sore, there is no balm in weeping; so while you fellows walk the floor, I put in nine hours sleeping. And here I am all sound and hale, and fit and pert and able; I take a bullock by the tail and throw it over the stable." To-day I celebrate my birth with flares and Roman candles, while sighs re-echo round the earth, brought forth by Teuton vandals. If tears would down a single foe I'd make a moist beginning; but not an ill is healed by woe, and so I keep on grinning.

NO "SEDAN" POSSIBLE. LONDON, May 3. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—The German defeat in the west is likely to lead to a command by the German High Command that the war is likely to last longer than expected. It is pointed out that one reason why American troops did not sooner become engaged in the home field is because of the home front. The German High Command is not of importance to the British. EARLY MESSAGES

WARRIORS POSSIBLE.
LONDON, May 3. (Ottawa Agency.)—The German defeat in the West is not of importance to the British command. They declare that the German army may decide not to retreat. Sir Wm. Robertson's statement that the war is likely to last for a long time is commented upon as timely. It is pointed out that the German army has not become demoralized and that the British command is not in a position to make any arrangements for an offensive of an immense scale and that a successful offensive against Germany may be necessary.

USED UP RESERVES.
LONDON, May 3. A representative of General Radcliffe, Director of Military Operations at the War Office, to-day summed up the situation on the West front as follows: In the north, while the Germans failed in their main objective, they made their right flank secure by the capture of Kemmel Hill; but we must regard the operation from the viewpoint of economy of men, and they used up the divisions from the general reserve, besides seven or eight divisions previously employed.

FRENCH OFFICIAL.
PARIS, May 3. The statement issued by the War Office to-night says: There was no infantry fighting during the course of the day but there was great activity by the opposing artillery in the region north and south of the Aves. Our batteries took under their fire and dispersed bodies of enemy troops, south of Villers-Bretonneux and before Castel.

BRITISH AND FRENCH TROOPS CO-OPERATE.
LONDON, May 3. In local fighting last night, south of Villers-Bretonneux, says Halg's report to-night, our troops co-operated with the French and secured a few prisoners. The enemy's artillery showed great activity this morning north of Albert in the Beaumont-Hamel sector. Apart from artillery activities on both sides, on other parts of the front there's nothing to report.

FIRE AT THREE RIVERS.
THREE RIVERS, Que., May 3. The fire starting in the film room of the Victoria Theatre spread rapidly through the building this am. and after it collapsed, to the store and residential section of the city adjacent. A number of stores and houses were destroyed while several hundred families were compelled to evacuate their homes on account of the heat. The fire got a good hold on the theatre because the firemen were at first hampered by a poor pressure in the water mains. The flames were fanned by a high wind and spread with great rapidity. In their path on St. Jovite Street was a school. The children at the approach of the flames were dismissed. They marched out of the school building without a sign of panic, under the direction of the Sister teachers. When it was seen that a number of houses were bound to be consumed, the town people left their work and banded themselves together to do salvage work. By their timely assistance little of the furniture in the burned-out residential section was lost. The total damage done is estimated at $150,000. No loss of life was reported at this hour. The flames were put under control at 12.30.

SHIPWRECKED CREW IN HALIFAX.
HALIFAX, May 3. The crew of the shipwrecked Newfoundland schooner Oregon arrived here to-night from New York via Yarmouth. The Oregon was bound from Cadiz to St. John's with a cargo of salt and had to be abandoned in mid-ocean. The crew was landed in France from where they were sent to New York by steamer. Capt. Chas. Rose, Mate Paul, Steward Mallon and Seaman Roland Emberley and Hodder leave for their homes in Grand Bank to-day. The schooner was owned in Grand Bank.

A quarrel has broken out on the subject of the bye-election in East Cavan, which the Sinn Feiners persist in contesting despite Nationalist demonstrations. which young men are, under the Selective Conscription Act, eligible for immediate or early Military Service

Will Do So At Their Own Risk.

It is evident that Class A will have to be called up immediately, and Class B may have to be called up much earlier than some people may think.

Patriotic Newfoundlanders

are not engaging young men who have not anybody particularly dependent upon them and who are eligible for Military Service. Neither are they giving their support or financial backing to parties who might, for their own interests, engage such young men.

Some People Have Been Unwise Enough to Say

Don't Let Anybody Run Away With This Idea!

WE KNOW that there are too strong reasons why this Bill must be enforced immediately by the Government. And as regards the enforcement of a Conscription Act, every intelligent man, woman and child throughout the Dominion is behind the same, even knowing only some of the necessities.

Civil Servants Hold Successful Meeting.

Over 120 Government employees including representatives of every department and several deputy heads assembled in the T. A. Armory last night and discussed the high cost of living as compared with the present rate of wages.

Mr. J. T. Meaney, the convenor, briefly outlined the object of the gathering. Mr. Theo. Thompson was appointed chairman and Mr. Alex. Rooney, Secretary. Mr. Meaney then pointed out the situation as to the salaries paid civil servants, who said there were family men in the city to-day, employees of the Govt., whose monthly wage is not sufficient to obtain the absolute necessities of life. They are half fed, less than half clothed and during the past winter more than half cold. The civil servant in St. John's is the worst paid man in Newfoundland. The majority of the family men have not received more than $50 per year advance in wages since 1914. The increase given last year did not exceed 7 per cent. to men whose salaries were barely sufficient for their maintenance before the war. Mr. Meaney submitted a statement showing where the cost of living is approximately 100 per cent. higher than in 1914. He then moved for the presentation to the Government of a resolution setting forth the unfortunate position of the majority of civil servants in this city, asking that their request of an increase of salaries be favourably considered. The resolution was unanimously passed.

The forming of a Civil Servants Association was discussed and some excellent speeches made on the subject. It will be further dealt with at a future meeting as it is hoped that by united effort they will obtain their just demands.

Miss Brigden's Address

There was a large congregation at Gower Street Methodist Church last night to hear Miss Beatrice Brigden, A.C.S.E., deliver an address on "The Three Institutions for the Growing Child." In a very striking and convincing manner she impressed upon her congregation the responsibility of the home, the school and the church in the development of a strong Christian character. The lecturer pointed out that the criminal and immoral class of citizens was easily produced and that the easiest way to offset this condition was to begin with the training of the child, and by careful attention through the medium of an institution of a constructive character it was easy to produce a god-fearing, moral and useful citizen.

Degeneration of home life means the decay of citizenship. We know more about the physical nature of the man; more of waste steam than we do of wasted life energy; most of the misery and sadness find their genesis in the lax and inconsistent training in the home.

She pointed out that out of our educational institutions, fully two-thirds of those that study therein are failures.

The Church ought to lead in concerted effort to save and train the child.

A NEW TYPE OF SHIP.

LONDON, May 3.

The first electrically-propelled merchant ship ever built in London and the largest electric vessel in the world, is now undergoing its finishing touches at a British shipyard and will soon start on its first voyage. The vessel is designed on a system in which a combination of steam and electricity is employed. The importance of this type of vessel under present conditions is its decreased coal consumption and larger cargo space.

May 4th. is the Birthday OF AN INSTITUTION—YOUR OWN WALT MASON.

May 4th is the birthday of Walt Mason. He will then be 56 years old. William Allen White, long ago referred to him as "The Poet Laureate of the American Democracy." Never more was he exactly this, than now.

For 10 years dear old Walt has been working for my newspaper syndicate and thru it, your paper has been able to cheer and bless thousands upon thousands. There is not another man in all America that is more sincerely loved by the masses. He has always been a lover of the plain people—the many. He has always hated false things and false people. His rhymes have been more than rhymes. They have been the philosophy of America. During the past 10 years Walt Mason has written approximately 4,000 rhymes and they have been read daily by an audience of approximately 10,000,000 people each working day. They now appear in around 200 newspapers daily from Boston to San Francisco and from Winnipeg to New Orleans. No poet has ever been able to boast a record like this. Even Walt doesn't boast it. I don't do it for him. It is a record, however, that I dare say will never be beaten.

In all these years Walt has worked as regularly and as faithfully as a clock. Always cheerful. Always lovable. Always generous and always fine. He has never been a day late with his poems in all this time. Walt has always been a worker, even before fame came around to shake hands with weekly called the "Hornet" in St. Louis, and I sent some stuff to it; the "Hornet" printed it, and the editor wrote to me and asked me to call. He offered me five dollars a week to go to work in the office, writing gems of thought, reading proofs, sweeping floors, and otherwise making myself useful. I took the job and remained with the "Hornet" until it went broke. Not being able to get another job in St. Louis, I went to Kansas and worked around the state for three years as a hired man. Disgusted with that sort of work, and being ambitious to get into the newspaper business, I managed to get a job with the "Leavenworth Times." Later I became a reporter in the "Atchison Globe," and there learned a great deal that was useful to me. From that time forward I was chasing myself over the country, and was connected with newspapers in a dozen cities, but always had the idea that the next town would be a little better, and kept moving around. I was mixing up farming with newspaper work in Nebraska for a good many years and making a failure of both. It took me a good while to discover that pigs and poetry won't mix. When I did find it out I came to Kansas and went to work for William Allen White, writing stuff for the editorial page of the Emporia "Gazette." The "Gazette" always printed on its first page an item of local news with a border around it, called a star head. One day the city editor was shy of the necessary item, and asked me to write something to fill that space. I wrote a little prose rhyme, advising people to go to church next day, which was Sunday. The prose rhyme attracted some attention, and on Monday I wrote another one, and a third on Tuesday, and so on, and the star-head rhyme became a feature of the "Gazette." Thus originated the prose poem.

THEN MME. LAVOIE USED DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Now She Says She is in Perfect Health, and is Recommending Dodd's Kidney Pills to All Who Suffer From Kidney Troubles. Vauban, Que., May 3rd.—(Special.)—"I know that Dodd's Kidney Pills are good." So says Mme. Xavier Lavoie, a well-known and highly-respected resident of this place. And Mme. Lavoie tells out of her own experience why she recommends her friends to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. "I suffered from kidney disease, headache and indigestion," she says. "I had no appetite, and I could not work. My heart also bothered me. "I took Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I am now in perfect health. I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to everyone who suffers from kidney disease."

Use "Tiz" For Sore, Tired, Aching Feet

No more puffed-up, burning, sweaty calloused feet or corns.

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath. When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions. "Tiz." There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture. Get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.

AN APPEAL

I am addressing this Appeal to all the people of Newfoundland, but especially to those of the Outports.

Your Government have decided to make another special attempt to obtain further recruits for the duties forced upon us by the War. I am anxious to explain to you in simple and strong words why those duties are yours.

In your sea-girt home you have, I know, your own dangers and anxieties to face. As I write this my mind is still full of the appalling disaster to the Florida. But War you do not realise; you are beyond the sound of the guns which, in the South East corner of England, I have heard day after day breaking in upon the beauty and calmness of the summer air.

That awe-inspiring rumble of the guns which I ask you to imagine—that lurid light on the horizon which I ask you to picture are the signs of a terrible struggle for Right—of a mighty effort to save from ruin, not only France, but every bit of free soil in the world, including this island of which you are so proud. The awful struggle seems to be approaching its climax now and your close kinsmen are in the middle of it.

Some may ask, What is the danger? and it is my purpose to endeavour to make it clear to you.

By some permission of Divine Providence, which we do not understand, a nation of criminals is now attacking all that is just and true in the whole world. Germany has set herself deliberately to violate every law of Right and every principle of Humanity.

Never before in History has a War been planned like this. Hitherto all wars have had some sort of pretext of right or impulse of passion. It has been reserved to the German military party to plot willfully and wantonly a great crime against the peace of mankind.

And the hypocrisy with which Germany supports the crime makes it still more abominable. As Judas treated the Christ, Germany is treating Civilization. Under appeals to God, Germany masks the utmost malignities of the devil. The German nation to-day knows no Law except that of the pagan, the liar, the ravenisher, the murderer. They are a curse let loose on the Earth. And the task demanded of all of us is to fight and conquer this curse just as in our mortal life we are bound to fight and conquer Sin. The Cause is far broader and holier Cause than that which impelled the Crusaders against the Saracens.

We may thank God that the greater nations of the World have realised the justice of the Cause; and I believe that every man in Newfoundland will one day be thankful that he was at least asked to face this question—"Is it not my higher duty to go out and save humanity from destruction?"

Remember that your wives, your children, your cottages, your boats, are in positive danger if the German breaks through France. As he is treating the foolish Russians, so he will treat every nation whom he touches—America, Canada, Newfoundland, are to him mere objectives for his greedy brutality. He is entirely evil, he has no sense of right and no feelings of Mercy.

This mass of incarnate selfishness is held back by the strong arm of the Allies in France. Will any man of British race decline to do all he can to defeat and crush it?

At this moment the need is specially great, for the Germans are now desperate. They begin to realise the truth of that dread decree, "He that takes the sword, shall perish by the sword." At no horror will they hesitate if they can but escape the punishment that is their due.

Now on every man and woman among us lies the duty to bear a hand in administering that punishment a duty not only to ourselves but to posterity. If age or health prevent some of us from going they do not prevent us from following the greatest example ever set to mankind and making the sacrifice of that which is dearest to our hearts.

You young men I ask to listen carefully to the appeals which will once more be made to you in the next few weeks. Believe me that the voluntary act of a man, impelled by the high sense of duty, is far nobler than the mere obedience to the provisions of a public enactment.

One special word I say to women. Try to realise the sufferings of women and children wherever the Germans come; think of the little children starved in Belgium and slaughtered in cold blood in Armenia. Let your men folk stand out and protect you, for in helping to defeat the Germans they are protecting the honour and safety of all their dear ones at home.

O. ALEXANDER HARRIS, Governor and Commander-in-Chief.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—The agitation by the Civil servants for an increase of wages will have the sympathy of the public up to a certain point.
The labourer, no matter what his occupation, should be paid sufficient to keep himself and family decently and in comfort.
The civil servants would have more support for their claims if the service was operated on business principles.
Why should a man consider he has done a day's work for the public (you and me) after putting in work say from 10.30 a.m. to 4.30 p.m., as many of our departmental men do.
The business of the city, especially customs, is seriously handicapped trying to crowd in business with these departments during the short hours in which these departments are open.
Let the Civil Service be conducted during business hours, say from 8.30 to 4 p.m., this would necessitate a reduction in the staff and full day's pay given for a full day's work and pay for overtime.
The places made vacant by conscription should not be filled, but the work done by the remaining officials during the longer hours, and the salary saved by those dismissed or drafted could be paid to the remaining hands and so give them a decent wage without any increase to the Dominion finances.
I respectfully submit this proposition to the Government.
Yours, etc.

Special Meeting St. Patrick's Parish.

The men of St. Patrick's Parish will hold a meeting on Sunday in the Convent Schools, after Last Mass, to arrange for a farewell address and presentation to Rev. J. F. Pipy, who has been appointed Parish Priest of Pouch Cove. Regret at Fr. Pipy's departure is deep and general, and the convenor of the meeting, Mr. John Barron, is confident that the attendance will be worthy of the purpose for which it is called.

House of Assembly.

The House met at 3 o'clock yesterday and having proceeded to the Legislative Council Chamber, witnessed the ascent of the Governor to the Daylight Hill.
Mr. J. Young, M.H.A., for Harbour
Grace, took his seat with the Opposition.
On returning to the Council Chamber petitions were presented by Mr.
Young from Spaniard's Bay, on the subject of a road; by Mr. Abbott from Charlottetown, E.B., for a telephone;
by Mr. Goodison from the Roman Catholic residents of Carbonar for an extension of the water service to Patrick Street; and by the Premier from the officials of the Congregational Church regarding the transfer of property.
Resolutions dealing with the Fire
Patrol and the increasing of the vote for this service from $4,000 to $5,000, were passed and a Bill to give them effect was introduced.
The House next went into Committee on Supply on motion of the Finance Minister. (Part of the Estimates submitted appears in another column and it is hoped to give the balance on Monday.)
The Select Committee on the Conscription Bill having to meet at 4 o'clock, the Comrs. and the Legislative Council, all other business on the order paper was deferred and the House adjourned till 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Police Court.

Two wayward youths who stole 24
brin bags from a Horse Cove man recently and disposed of them at a coal dealer at the rate of ten cents each, appeared in court this morning and were given a severe lecture by His Honor Judge Morris. They were allowed to go on suspended sentence.
The Judge, in giving them their freedom, pointed out that should they be arrested for a similar offence he would give them the right of their lives. The mother of one of the offenders was in court and told the Judge the following pathetic story: Her husband died in March past, one of her sons had made the supreme sacrifice in France, and another was now home on a brief furlough from the Navy. Since the death of her husband the indolent son had refused to work and was causing her endless trouble.

Fishermen, now is the time to secure O. Mustad's Jiggers or Pike Hooks. They are bright, small and act as a minnow, attach small swivels to make it spin. Just try this famous Norwegian fish killer, any ordinary lead sinker will suit, but place one swivel above the sinker and the other below to keep your line from twisting.
