DEATH OF MR. JOHN WALLIS.—After a long illness Mr. John Wallis, late the representative of West Toronto in the Local Legislature, died on Friday at the age of 57. Previously to his election in 1867 Mr. Wallis had been an Alderman of the city for St. Patrick's Ward.

SCARLET FEVER.—This contagious disease is pretty bad in several parts of the county of Lincoln; both county and village sections being affected. Quite a number of cases have proved fatal, and in some sections the public schools have been closed.

NEW USE FOR NEWSPAPERS.—The making of cartridges was being tried, them with newspapers is coming rapidly into fashion. In one respect this is cheering. It suggests the hope that a number of papers, ostensibly published as nutriment for the mind, will hereafter be issued exclusively as a covering for the body.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S life was rendered doubly a burden during the illness of her eldest son by the incessant stream of letters, condolences, and announcements poured in for the salvation of the Prince. One quick, more impulsive and confident than the rest, rushed into the royal pavilion and made an incoherent appeal to the good mother to accept his nostrum for her sick son, and life would of a certainty be assured.

MERCHANTS WANTED IN CHICAGO.—The Chicago Times prints the following in a prominent place under its editorial head, and says:—"Will newspapers throughout the country do Chicago the favour to advertise that there will be plenty of work for good mechanics at fair wages, plenty of shelter, and plenty of food to eat? In this way alone can the outrageous attempt to keep up competition, and to demand excessive wages, be fully headed off."

PERKINSON AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of this Society was held at Dally's Hotel, Elora, on Saturday the 13th, when the following officers were elected:—President, James Hunter; Secretary and Treasurer, John Hunter; Directors, B. Dally, Andrew Gordon, John D. Wallace, Richard Howe, John Streets, James Reynolds, George Faskin, James Haig and David Betzner. Auditors, W. G. Culloden and Frank Dally. Moved by Mr. Wallace, seconded by Mr. Hunter, that this Society unite its funds with the Centre Wellington Society, for the annual show, to be held in 1872, if said Society is agreeable. Carried.

A CLEVERMAN SENTENCED TO BE HANGED.—John Selby Watson, an eminent clergyman of London, England, has been sentenced to be hanged for murder. The trial has been lingering for a long time. Mr. Watson, about 3 months ago, while engaged upon a book, became exceedingly irritable, fidgeting and fretting if he was interrupted, and breaking out into terrible fits of rage. One night he was writing in his study at 2 a.m. his wife came to him and tried to persuade him to go to bed. He ordered her to leave the room, and she did not comply with his wishes. He suddenly attacked her with a hatchet, mangled her in a horrible manner and finally killed her. After the murder he did not attempt to escape, and was immediately arrested. The murder created a great feeling of horror all over the country, more especially as he was a man universally looked up to and respected. It is stated that in the afternoon of the day he murdered his wife he had preached a sermon denouncing murderers.

The great diamond, weighing 154 carats, which has been found at the Cape and is now on its way to England, is already furnished with its legend. It is stated to have been found in the wall of one of the native huts, where a poor Irish adventurer had received hospitality for the night, and that being surprised by the light shining amid the darkness, he had, upon examination, found it to proceed from a clump of the earth of which the wall was built. Of course the clump was soon detached by the visitor, and this new Koh-i-noor, with many other smaller diamonds, found within.

Annual Meeting of the Guelph Gas Company.

The annual meeting of the above Company was held in the Town Hall, on Friday afternoon, at four o'clock. The President, Mr. D. Guthrie, occupied the chair, and read the following report:—

ANNUAL REPORT. The Directors of the Guelph Gas Light Company in presenting this their annual report, have much pleasure in congratulating the stockholders on the success which has attended the operation of the Company during the first year of its existence.

Your Directors have had many difficulties to contend with in carrying forward to successful completion the work in which they were engaged, but now have the satisfaction of recording the fact that all the subscribed stock, (excepting $138) has been paid up as the calls were made. A great public benefit has been conferred on the Town by the Company, as the use of this light has tended much to raise Guelph and its many remote stores on a par with those of our leading cities, while the danger from fire from the use of coal oil and other lamps has been greatly lessened.

A reference to the balance sheet brought down to the 15th inst., in which are included all charges the Company for wages, &c., up to the date specified, presents a result which under the circumstances must be regarded by the shareholders as substantially satisfactory.

Your Directors, out of the surplus thus obtained have decided to declare a dividend of the rate of seven per cent per annum on the amount of paid up stock, said percentage to be computed from the date of each payment up to 1st of January 1872, to be paid on and after 10th of February.

As the Town is rapidly increasing in size in order to be in a position to supply the growing demand for gas which is made on the Company, your Directors would recommend that the gas reservoir stock there be disposed of sufficient to enable our successors in office to increase the producing facilities by the erection of a new gasometer and other works in connection therewith, and for additional pipes to be laid in various directions throughout the Town, and such other improvements as may be necessary. The Directors also recommend that sufficient additional capital be provided to lay in a suitable stock of coal.

J. C. McLAGAN, D. GUTHRIE, Secretary, President.

Guelph, Jan. 19th, 1872. The financial statement was submitted, which shows that the capital stock is $30,000; stock subscribed for $18,100; reserved $1,900; assets up to date $25,739 71; expenditure $24,498 34; amount realized the first year $1,241 37.

The chairman, in moving the adoption of the report, referred to the difficulties they had to encounter at the commencement of the undertaking, to the success of the enterprise, to the excellent character of the light produced, and to the necessity for increasing the capacity of the works in order to supply the demand.

Mr. Chadwick seconded the motion, and the report was unanimously adopted.

Messrs. Davidson and Cornick were then appointed scrutineers to take the ballot for the re-election of Directors, when the following were declared elected: Messrs. Guthrie, Hogg, H. Dainton, Messrs. McLagan, Mitchell and Chadwick.

After a vote of thanks to the Directors for the way in which they had managed the business during the year, the meeting adjourned.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, Mr. Guthrie was re-elected President, and Mr. McLagan Secretary.

The Cold Spell in Manitoba.

A correspondent, writing to the London Advertiser from Fort Garry, says:—"We had anything but a Merry Christmas, for the simple reason that it has been too cold to be very merry. On Sunday the 24th, at 6 p.m., the thermometer was 22° below zero; at 9 p.m., it had fallen to 28°; and still going down and getting colder, with a bleak S.W. wind. About 6 a.m., on Christmas, on looking at the thermometer, I found the Mercury frozen, so that it must have been something over 40° below zero. At 8 a.m. it was 38° below; at 12 a.m., it was still 32° below, and at night 30°. Sharp wind from S.W. The day following was nearly as cold. The effects of such a frost are brought down to us, to say that if you put a hand in it will come down frozen. This is a reality, as I have proved by actual experiment, and it is perfectly astounding the short space of time in which exposed parts of the face or hands will freeze. During Christmas forenoon your correspondent went for a pair of water, and he was not out of the house five minutes, and he had his hands frozen. A friend went out to harness a horse to a cart in two minutes and got his hands frozen. A little boy went out to feed the pigs, and was out not more than three minutes, and got his ears frozen. We could mention many similar cases, but think these enough to give a slight idea of the reality of the fact that one at least of last summer's Canadian immigrants was frozen to death whilst walking home visiting a neighbor. Another was driving a horse back from town and had his son, a lad of some 12 or 14 years, with him. The poor boy got very cold and his father took off his own coat and wrapped it round the boy, but the boy went on to harness a horse, and he cut up his sleigh and built a fire to warm him. The boy suffers severely, as his hands and feet were badly frozen. Another emigrant from Huron was in town purchasing some necessities, and he also bought a cow. His son, a young man of 25, undertook to driver home, and he started off for that purpose, and he lost his way. He then dug a hole in a snow bank, and covering himself up with the snow and stayed there until morning, when he found himself nearly home, but almost unable to move; and he is yet in a precarious condition, his hands and feet having become very badly frozen. In fact, such is the cold that it is unsafe to travel much unless thoroughly wrapped up, and there are days when it drifts so that horses even cannot face the storm, but will stick their noses in the snow to protect their nostrils from the keen, biting blast. The old settlers say that it is not often that they have such cold weather so early in the season, and that the thermometer scarcely ever goes lower than forty-five degrees below zero often than twice or three a winter. It seems so long since the thermometer was up to zero that we wish sometimes it would rise to know just how it feels."

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES BY TELEGRAPH

Despatches to Duke Alexis. A Large Dividend. Suicide of a Young Lady. Raid on Gambling Houses.

New York, Jan 20.—Ex-Comptroller G. Collyer's bondsmen are to justify on Tuesday next.

St. Petersburg, 20th Jan.—The Duke of Alexandria, arrived here in the Jaga yesterday, and left here for St. Louis last evening.

The controller of currency has declared a dividend of 30 per cent to the creditors of the Ocean National Bank, payable January 25th, on all approved claims.

A beautiful young lady, named Isabella Sims, on a visit to this city from Philadelphia, committed suicide on Thursday night, at the residence of Mrs. S. Adams, 38 West 21st street. She was found in her apartment, lying on her side, grasping a small pistol, and blood was flowing from a wound in her forehead. No other cause is as signed for the act than temporary insanity, produced by physical suffering.

Washington, Jan 19.—The police to-night made a raid on the gambling houses in this city with but little success, however, as most of the gamblers had got wind of it after a few arrests had been made.

Thanks from a Brother of Dr. Livingston. (From the N. Y. Herald.) In the wilds of Africa he made himself a home, and drank the same water, he was not at all the same as a wader. By the Herald's Africa expedition in search of Dr. Livingston has attracted much attention in both hemispheres, and we have received from the public press, far and near, many complimentary notices of this novel, costly and perilous undertaking. It is with particular pleasure, however, that we lay before our readers the following letter from a brother of Dr. Livingston of the New Dominion:—

To the Editor of the Herald. I take the earliest opportunity of sincerely thanking you for your noble and generous efforts in attempting the rescue of my brother, Dr. Livingston, the African traveller. I had only heard it rumored lately that an American expedition had been sent to Africa to effect, if possible, the rescue of my brother, but I was not aware until a few days since that the expedition was fitted out and sustained at your expense. I deeply regret the misfortunes which have overtaken the expedition; yet Dr. Livingston's relative and friends will always feel themselves indebted to your enterprise and generosity equally the same as if you attempt to relieve the Doctor had been crowned with success. I am, &c.

JOHN LIVINGSTONE. From the last sentence of this letter it appears that Mr. Livingston is of the opinion that from the misfortunes which had overtaken our expedition it had failed. But our hardy and experienced Oriental explorer, having accomplished the most difficult part of his journey, had only halted at Uyanyanbe to recruit his strength and collect his forces for the few hundred miles of travel still required to carry him to Ujiji, on Lake Tanganyika, when he expected to find Dr. Livingston, or to get some definite information of his whereabouts, living or dead; and living or dead, it was the fixed resolution of our explorer to find him. We are, therefore, strong in the hope that before long we shall not only hear again from our expedition, but hear that it has returned, and we look to Zanibar, with Dr. Livingston, alive and hearty. We hope so; because, from several parties from Ujiji, our commissioner at Uyanyanbe was assured that the Doctor was still alive—"an old man and very fat."

INFALLIBLE CURE FOR SMALL-POX.—As that horrid disease, the small-pox, is gradually working its way westward, and may be here about the time the warm spring months sets in, to hamper and link for months in our streets, alleys and lanes, and infect the whole country, a receipt, which bears some appearance of being a good one, is now "going the rounds" in the cities afflicted, and we reproduce it. A subscriber writes to a Montreal journal:—"I herewith append a receipt which has been used, to my knowledge, in hundreds of cases. It will prevent or cure the small-pox though the tincture are falling. When Jenner discovered the cow-pox in England, the world of science hurried an avalanche of fame at his head; but when the most scientific school of medicine in the world—that of Paris—published this receipt as a panacea for small-pox, it passed unheeded. It is as useful as life, and is successful in every instance. It is harmless when taken by a well person. It will also cure scarlet fever. Here is the receipt, as I have used it and cured my children of scarlet fever; here it is, as I have used it to cure small-pox. When learned physicians said the patient must die, I said:—"Saltpetre of zinc, one grain; foggy (digitalis), one grain; glycerine, one tablespoonful; mix thoroughly, and add four ounces of water. Dose: One-tablespoonful every hour; for a child, smaller doses, according to age. Either disease will disappear in twelve hours. If countries would compel their physicians to use this there would be no need of pest-houses. If you value advice and experience, use this for that terrible disease. I add glycerine instead of a half a teaspoonful of sugar."

SIR PETER TAIT'S CUR.—Sir Peter Tait's magnificent cup, presented to the Canadian riflemen, was taken by the Deputy Minister of Militia and Defence, George Footvoe, Esq., P. C., accompanied by Lieut. Col. Powell and Mel'erson, to Rideau Hall, where the beautiful work of art was examined and highly praised by Lady Lisgar. The letter of Sir Peter Tait to the Hon. Sir George E. Cartier, Bart., which contains a laudacious compliment to the Wimbledon team, and expresses the sense of their soldierly conduct and gentlemanly demeanour during their residence in London, was at the same time read to his Excellency the Governor-General and Lady Lisgar, as was the appropriate reply of Major Footvoe on behalf of Sir G. Cartier. The cup, which cost £100 sterling, will remain with Lord Lisgar until shortly before the next annual rifle match, when it will be sent to the Lieut.-Governor of Ontario, to be shot for according to the terms of Sir Peter Tait's gift.

Ontario Legislature.

Toronto, Jan 19. The Select Committee met to-day and struck the standing committee. The Railway Committee is composed as follows:—Blake, Bonthele, Calvin, Cameron, Carling, Christie, Clark (Norfolk), Coyne, Craig (Georgians), Crooks, Cumberland, Fairbairn, Farwell, Ferguson, Fitzsimmons, Gibson, Gow, Gillman, McCall, Macdonald (Gomvall), McKellar, MacKenzie, McGill, McLeod, Paxton, Perry, Prince, Richards, Robinson, Rykert, Scott (Grey), Scott (Ottawa), Sinclair, Webb, Williams (Durham), Williams (Hamilton), Wilson, Wood (Brant), Wood (Victoria), Public Accounts Committee:—Blake, Cumberland, Farwell, McLeod, Mackenzie, Richards, Sinclair Wood (Brant), Wood (Victoria).

Mr. Scadding will to-morrow amend the Joint Stock Companies Act, providing that when a road is declared out of repair by the county engineer, the company shall cease taking tolls at any rate, and shall not be allowed to remove any of their property from the road till repairs are made. Also, in cases of arbitration as to the sufficiency of repairs made, if the road is made good merely by frost or snow, the company shall not have the benefit of it. Also, that no company shall abandon any part of their road without the consent of the municipality through which that part passes.

Mr. Rykert's Bill for the prevention of corrupt practices at municipal elections will be something similar to the law respecting Parliamentary elections.

Mr. Hodgins' Bill to amend County Courts Acts was deferred to-day. It provides for the Union of County Courts and the Court of Common Sessions, under the title of County Court, and for new County Court districts as follows:—1. Stormont, Dundas, Glenora, Prescott, Russell, Carleton Place, Middlesex, Leeds, Grenville, 2. Frontenac, Lennox, Addington, Prince Edward, Hastings, 3. Northumberland, Durham, Peterboro', Victoria, 5. York, Ontario, Peel, 6. Simcoe, Grey, Bruce, 7. Wellington, Waterloo, Hamilton, 8. Wentworth, Lincoln, Welland, 9. Halton, Norfolk, Brant, 10. Oxford, Perth, Middlesex, 11. Huron, Lambton, Perth, 12. Elgin, Kent, Essex.

After routine business the Hon. Mr. Scott rose to make his usual explanations. Mr. M. C. Cameron and Mr. Wood replied, after which the House adjourned.

Telegraphic News.

From the San Francisco Chronicle. Two young men, telegraph operators, heard at one of our leading first-class hotels, and being of a somewhat idiosyncratic disposition, had got an agreement in carrying on conversation with each other at the table by ticking each other with knife, fork or spoon.

A few days ago while the two young men were seated at breakfast a stout young man entered the dining-room with a handsome wife, and soon as the bustling countenance showed her to be a bride. The couple had, in fact, been married but a day or two previously, and came to San Francisco from their home in Oakland, or Mid-Springs, or some other rural village, for the purpose of spending the honeymoon. The telegraphic operators commenced as soon as the wife and her husband had seated themselves.

No. 1. I opened the discourse as follows:—"What a lovely little person this is—alike of me—ain't she?"

No. 2. "Perfectly charming—looks as if butter wouldn't melt in her mouth. Just married, I guess; don't you think so?"

No. 1. "Yes, I should judge she was. What luscious lips she's got! If that country bumpkin beside her was out of the road, I'd give her a kiss for luck."

No. 2. "Suppose you try it, my dear. Give her a little nudge under the table with your knee."

There is no telling to what extent the impudent rascals might have gone but for an amazing and entirely unforeseen incident. The bridegroom's knee had flushed and a dark scowl was on his brow during the progress of the tickling conversation; but the operators were too much occupied to pay any attention to him. The reader may form some idea of the young men's consternation when the partner of the lady picked up his knife and tickled the following terse but vigorous message:—"This lady is my wife; as soon as she gets through with her breakfast I propose to wring both your necks—your insolent whelps!"

The countenance of the operators fell very suddenly when this message commenced. By the time it was smelt they had lost all appetite and appreciation of jokes, and slipped out of the dining-room in a very rapid and unceremonious manner. It seems the bridegroom was a telegraph operator, and "knew how it was himself."

The Canadian Dairyman's Association.

The fifth annual Convention of the Dairyman's Association will be held in the Town Hall, in Guelph, on Wednesday and Thursday, the 7th and 8th of February, 1872. The Executive have the satisfaction of announcing that arrangements have been made by which the annual meeting will be one of the most important and useful to Dairymen that has ever been held by the Association. X. A. Wilard, Esq., of Little Falls, New York, will deliver the annual address. J. B. Arnold, Esq. of Ithaca, N. Y., has kindly consented to favour the Convention with a carefully prepared article on "Poisonous Cheese," with microscopic illustrations, showing the various changes in milk. Among other subjects, the following will be discussed: Fainted milk, deterioration of cheese, butter in connection with cheese, food of dairy stock, has the quality of our cheese, during the past year, met the requirements of the foreign market; if not, in what has it been deficient, and what steps are necessary to take to remedy these deficiencies? How does the experience of the past few years warrant making dairying a specialty, to the exclusion of grain-raising?

A young man in Strathroy, which his initials are Charlie, had his hair fashionably dressed at a barber shop recently, but his hat in his pocket and walked home barbed. There is nothing like having style about you.

A game of billiards was played at Montreal on Thursday night between J. B. Bennett, of Toronto, and Alphonse Berone, of Montreal, for the championship of the Dominion and $200 a side. The game was 1,500 points extra. The former was victorious.

HELEN MOIR

OR

Love and Honour.

A TALE OF THE CLYDE.

CHAPTER XI.

She turned up by the end of the ferryman's house to a quiet spot where she often went—an old disused quarry—in the cool grassy hollow of which, shaded by the surrounding wood, she had frequently sat for hours reading or musing or listening to the hum of the passing bee, the glad songs of the birds, and the soft murmur of the waterlets on the shore beneath.

In this secluded spot she had never been interrupted nor even disturbed by the sound of a footstep passing along the road, which was close at hand, so unfrequented was the place, so complete its retirement; and she dreaded nothing now, as she seated herself on a mossy slope and went on with her reading. She was lost in a blissful reverie when a shadow came upon the grass beneath her gaze, and caused her to look hastily up. There, standing within two yards of her, was the disagreeable and unwelcome form of Victor Dubouche.

The sight produced a rude dispersion of her fond imaginings. The book dropped from her knee upon the ground, and quickly she rose to her feet. This was the first time she had encountered Dubouche since the scene in Grove Terrace, when he asked her to be his wife and she rejected him. All that had come and gone since then, and his share in it, rushed on her mind, and this, coupled with the significant look with which he regarded her, made her nervous and uneasy. She remembered how, lately the place was, and an ill-defined sense of evil took possession of her. The Frenchman was no longer a man whose extravagance of language was to be smiled at; his former threat of vengeance had been carried out only too sedulously, and he had shown himself to be treacherous and unscrupulous, in the means he employed.

All these thoughts and feelings flashed, we say, across her mind in a moment. Yet there also a mixture of indignation, which caused her, when she had risen to her feet, to bestow upon him one scornful glance as she made a motion to go.

"Stay a moment or two, Mam'selle Moir," he observed. "I have sought this interview because I have something to say to you, and you will pardon me if I ask you to remain to hear it."

"Excuse me, M. Dubouche," replied Helen, coldly. "In consideration of past circumstances, it is not desirable that we should have any conversation together. I shall therefore—"

"Again pardon me, Mam'selle. I have sought you for a special purpose. I have taken much pains and trouble to obtain this private interview, and you must hear me."

"Must, sir?"

"Yes, Mam'selle—must. It concerns me to put it so; but your evident intention to depart compels me. Do not be alarmed; I desire you no harm. I love you too much to hurt you. Notwithstanding what has passed, I adore you still, Mam'selle, and do not despair of implanting in your fair bosom feelings more favourable to my hopes."

"Spare yourself the trouble, sir. My feelings and sentiments towards you have suffered no change since our last interview unless in a way the opposite of what you would wish. You must know well the cause of this."

"Of what do you suspect me, Mam'selle?"

"It is no more than suspicion; it is much more than suspicion; it is absolute conviction. Your letters to Herr Rheinbach have not been undetected. I require to say no more to show you that I can have no intercourse, no conversation with you."

"Not quite so fast, Mam'selle, if you please. Suppose it suited me to pretend utter ignorance of what you mean by anonymous letters; what proof have you to substantiate the charge? None, I should say—absolutely none. But I do not take that course. I do not pretend to misunderstand you. I do not deny the acts of which you accuse me. On the contrary, I justify them, or rather say the result has justified them. I was certain Herr Rheinbach would be highly displeased at the thought of his son marrying his governess. Not that you are not good enough for the best boy in Europe; let alone the heir of a money-grubbing German wine merchant. But I knew the man, and knew how he would view it, and to save you from after disappointment I made him acquainted with the intimacy which existed between you and Hermann. I did not mean to hurt him, or to make him intended to injure him. I merely acquainted him with the fact, and left him to his own feelings and acts."

Historical records show that up to 1802 there were no horses in New England, and their introduction into New York, and their introduction into New York, occurred during the administration of Governor von Killier, 1833-38. Tremblay's History of Connecticut mentions the horse accompanying emigrants from Massachusetts to that State, October 15th, 1830. The first horse seen in Canada was brought to that country from France in a ship which arrived at Tadoussac, June 20th, 1647. It is estimated that there are now in the United States eight million of horses, valued at between two and three thousand millions of dollars, a sum ample to pay the national debt.

BREAKFAST—EPPE'S COCOA—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Eppe has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctor bills. Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Each packet is labeled "James Eppe & Co., Homeopathic Chemists, London." Also, makers of Eppe's Milky Cocoa (Cocoa and Condensed Milk).

On the death of one of England's most eminent physicians, all his effects were sold by auction, and among other things was a sealed packet, marked "Advice to Physicians," which brought a great price. The purchase on opening the packet, read as follows: "Keep the head cool, the bowels open and the feet warm." If physicians necessary, use Parson's Purgative Pills—they are the most scientifically prepared pill that has appeared in the last hundred years.

The use of Tobacco causes indigestion, palpitation, dizziness of intellect, a desire for strong drink, an intermittent pulse, it destroys the vitality of the blood, produces dizziness, disturbs the sleep, makes a man miserable, and prematurely old. When the disease is serious and stubborn, the best remedy is Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, as it restores circulation, the nervous ganglia, builds up the muscles, and induces healthy liver, heart, stomach and intellect.

Few people unacquainted with physiological chemistry are aware of the quantity of iron in the blood, but all should know the importance of keeping up the supply, for debility, disease and death are sure to follow when the quantity becomes too much reduced. The Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of iron) supplies this vital element, and has cured many chronic diseases.

What do these certificates amount to?—They prove that Perry Davis' Pain-Killer is safe to use under any circumstances, that it is not only a liniment to rub on limbs, Cuts, Scalds, Burns, and external complaints with untiring relief, but that it has been successful in curing Cholera, Campy, Spasms, Head-ache, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Stomach-ach, Dizziness, Sick-headache, and also it was the Pain-Killer that cured John Sparler of the Fever and Ague; you know he had it for over a year.

Husband—Did it cure any Rheumatism about here? I am more interested in that than I am in fever and ague.

Wife—You had better go over to Judge Jones and see the certificates for yourself. There is no question but what they are convincing, and I don't think he has returned them yet to Providence, R.I., where Perry Davis & Son's head office is.

Husband—I am really getting interested in the Pain-Killer, my dear, and I will call on the Judge to-day, for my Rheumatism is quite unbearable.

Wife—The Pain-Killer is an internal and external remedy for pain. For internal pain, Campy, Spasms, Cholera, and Bowel difficulties, a few drops in water will give immediate relief. As a liniment, it is with an equal effect, rubbed through in daily use, and it is the Pain-Killer, sold by Perry Davis & Son, and sold by all Druggists and Grocers.

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES

All life-endowed Lodges, whether they be Benevolent, Fraternal, or Religious, are governed by a Law, which binds all the springs of existence, and as none can escape them from destruction, when this principle leaves them, the discovery of means whereby vitality may be sustained in the living body is in need of a boon to the world.

Modern Chemistry has ventilated the question and discovered that elements constituting the brain, muscles and nerves, are found that by introducing these ingredients in proper proportions the brain and nervous system are strengthened.

This Syrup substantially the basis on which the new Hypophosphite is built, its direct action being on the Brain and Nervous System, and the Muscles, Strengthening the Nerves, it causes the rapid distribution of blood in the Muscular Organs of the Body.

Restoring the Sluggish Heart and Liver, strengthening the Action of the Stomach and Bowels, and enabling the Lungs to be fully inflated with Oxygen.

It is adapted for all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, whether arising from a Scanty Diet, a tropical climate, from fever, or debility from any cause, and is especially recommended for the Nervous Debility of the young, and for the aged, who find it useful in all cases.

As this is entirely distinct and different from any other preparation of Hypophosphites, the certificate is for Fellows' Syrup, and take no other.
