Drowned in an Ocean of Kindness.

London, July 26.—The National Liberal Club was lavishly decorated this evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone, who yesterday celebrated their golden wedding. There were 2000 persons present including a large number of peers and members of parliament and many ladies, Viscoont Oxenbridge presented to Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone an album, the work of the leading artists, commemorative of the occasion. Mr. Gladstone in accepting the gift, made an eloquent and pathetic speech, which was free from political references. He said he felt as if drowned in an ocean of kindness. He deemed it a noble calling to serve people such as they and he hoped they would all partake of the full blessings belonging to them as Britons and Christians. Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone took their departure from the Hall amid a scene of the greatest enthusiasm.

CATARRH. rrhal Beafness, Hay Fever - A New Home Treatment. Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal desfaces, and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. N. B.—For catarrhal discharges peculiar to females this remedy is a specific. A pamphiet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A. H. Inhalation, therefore, is our sheet anchor, without which no physician can hope to succeed. Without this the disease will drift on from catarrh to broughtis, and from broughtis to consumption and death.

But with all the sids of modern science and a life's experience in these cases the physician will not find catarrh an easy disease to cure. Skill and perseverance are necessary to conduct it to a successful issue. The remedies must be carefully adapted to the stage and form of the disease. The inhaling instrument must be used morning and everning to reach the parts below the throat. Nose-washes and throat-washes are necessary to cleanse the inflamed membrane and neutralize the acrid secretions. The nasal passages are extremely sensitive in some cases, and early little so in others. The washes and in haled vapors must be such as 'the patient can bear without pain or discomfort.

The injury which catarrh produces on the general health is wide-apread. It affects the stomach through the patient swallowing the sacrid secretions. It affects the head through the spread of the disease along the nerves and vessels to the base of the brain. It affects the stomach through the patient swallowing the sacrid secretions.
