Clean, tidy surroundings add a great deal to the appearance and attractiveness of your property. The women clean house each spring, and the men could well afford to spend a little time in putting things in order in the yards and around the outside.

EASTER SUNDAY IN THE CHURCHES

Dedication of Jeffery Memorial Window at St. James (Episcopal). Appropriate Easter Exercises at other Churches

ST. JAMES'S (Bridgetown)

Easter 1914, will long be remembered by all who worshipped in this church on Easter morning. Beside the usual bright and hearty service, advantage was taken of the day to unveil and dedicate the very beautiful window recently installed, and which will be known as the "Jeffery Memorial Window." This, of itself, would make any day memorable. As already indicated, the column the subject of this window is "The presentation of Christ in the Temple," and is after a cartoon by Professor Blain of the Munich Academy, Bavaria, where the window was manufactured by Mayer and Company, at their Munich Royal Bavarian Establishment.

The window is placed in the west end of the church and consists of three lights surmounted by three circles. The centre light depicts the aged Simeon holding the infant Christ in his arms and in the act of uttering the "Nunc Dimittis." The South light depicts the "Blessed Virgin Mother kneeling and gazing in rapt wonderment, with St. Joseph standing by her side holding the two doves for the sacrifice according to the Law. Whilst the North light depicts Anna the Prophetess bent with age intently gazing at the wonderful sight, together with a temple attendant. Of the circles above, two depict Angels, whilst the third shows a Crown surmounting all. Inscribed immediately beneath the figures depicted are the Scriptures: "Mine eyes have seen Thy salvation, which Thou hast prepared before the face of all people; a light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of Thy people Israel." At the bottom of all is the inscription: "To the glory of God, and in loving memory of John Jeffery, Sarah his wife, and their children, all of this town. This window was erected by the surviving daughter Mary." The window can only be properly appreciated when seen.

For wonderfully life-like facial expression, for dress and drapery of deep rich colouring, for detail shaded and shaded, and for harmonious detail we doubt if the window could be surpassed.

The service commenced with the hymn, "Welcome, happy morning." He did not, then, your ears confronted with difficulties which never yet have been satisfactorily surmounted.

Moreover, if Christ be not risen, we are yet in our sins, and are of all men most miserable.

On the other hand, if, in the face of what is incontrovertible testimony to every dispassionate observer, we say, Jesus Christ did rise again from the dead, not only does it open up a vista of illimitable hope, but we stand self-condemned if we accept not the Christ as revealed to us in the sacred Scriptures.

"In our generation teachers of every kind are appealing to Christ and putting Him in the centre of their systems and theology.

But in the face of what we are taught in Holy Writ, we are constrained to ask them, What Christ? Is it the Christ of the Scriptures? The Christ Who in the beginning, was with God, and was God? Who for us men and for our salvation came down from heaven, and was Incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary, and was made man, and was crucified also for us under Pontius Pilate. Who suffered and was buried, and the third day rose again according to the Scriptures, ascended into heaven and now reigns for evermore?

We must not be deluded with words and verbiage; only the Christ of the Scriptures can bring us the salvation of the Scriptures, and a man's attitude toward this Christ is the revelation of his deepest, most real self. It is the outcome of his inmost nature, and betrays his real character.

What, then, think ye of Christ? Christ Incarnate, spoken against, risen again, ascended into glory, thence to return again is the test of what we are, and our reception or rejection of Him determines what we shall be.

To those who reject Him what a mockery this day must be! But to those who wholly and unreservedly accept Him what a joy!—a joy to which no peas of earthly words set even to the richest harmonies can give adequate expression. And yet we dare lit up our voices to swell the chorus which today resounds throughout the Christian World—

"Christ is risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that slept. For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive."

In the evening another bright and hearty service was held, the music, including an effective setting to "Magnificat" and "Nunc Dimittis" by C. Cimpey, and T. Mee Pattison's anthem—"I know that my Redeemer liveth." The Rector founded his sermon on Rev. I. 18, "I am He that liveth and was dead; and behold, I am alive again for evermore," and Hebrews XIII, 18, "Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today and forever."

The Sanctus and Agnus were fittingly adorned with the rich festal hangings of which the Church is the fortunate possessor, and Calla and Easter lilies and Daffodils, kindly contributed by Mrs. Chas. DeWitt (in memoriam), Mrs. O. T. Daniels and Mrs. I. B. Freeman.

Most of the Easter Day music will be repeated next Sunday.

ST. MARY'S (Belleville)

The celebration of the Easter festival began in this Church with festal evensong on Easter Eve and this service will long be remembered because at it the new Altar and Reredos were solemnly dedicated. As recorded before, both are made of quartered oak and the work of the Valley Seating Company, Dundas, Ontario. Their installation has involved considerable change in the arrangement of the East end of the church, the choir stalls being moved into the body of the Church immediately below the chancel level, and the Sanctuary enlarged to almost twice its original size. This has enabled the Altar and Reredos to be so placed, as to give a quiet and spacious dignity otherwise unobtainable, and "dignified" is the only proper adjective now applicable. This was certainly the impression given on Easter Eve, heightened, no doubt, by the festal lights and careful placing of cut flowers,—Easter lilies, carnations and daffodils.

The Altar will bear the inscription: To the glory of God and in loving memory of William Bustin, Who entered into Rest, Feb. 19, 1909, and his sister, Jessie Bustin, who entered into Rest, Aug. 23, 1912. This Altar was erected by Mrs. Wm. and Mr. Arthur Bustin. Dedicated Easter, 1914.

The inscription on the Reredos will be:— To the glory of God and in dear memory of Alice Maude Colebun, who entered into Rest, April 17, 1913. This Reredos was erected by her mother. Dedicated Easter, 1914.

The services on Easter Day consisted of a celebration of Holy Communion at 8 a.m. and the usual service at 3 p.m.

Immediately after the Easter Eve service a very pleasing and somewhat unexpected presentation was made to Mr. Walter Tosh. The Rector having asked the congregation to kindly remain for a few minutes, explained that it had occurred to some of them that the present might be a fitting time to show, if only in a small way, their appreciation of the willing heart and hands of their good friend Mr. Tosh. Often he looked around and asked "Who did this?" "Who did that?" and almost invariably the answer was "Mr. Tosh." He would not for one moment disparage what others had done (and everybody in Belleville always worked with a will when necessity arose) but Mr. Tosh was able to do many things the rest could not and he never spared himself. Therefore on their behalf and in their name he would ask their good friend to accept the contents of the envelope which he was about to hand to him, with their best wishes for Easter, 1914. The Chapel Warden also spoke a few words, and Mr. Tosh (of whose kindly services the congregation feel they can only inadequately express their appreciation) made a brief reply.

The services in the parish next Sunday will be those usual to the third Sunday in the month—Bridgetown, 8 a.m. (Holy Communion) 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. Belleville, 3 p.m. (Continued on page Four)

You paint your house to improve its appearance and to protect the material of which it is built from the wear and tear of the weather. Therefore, the best paint that you can buy is the most economical as it will last longer and look better than cheap paint.

Put paint on your buildings as insurance against the ravages of the weather—SWP (which means Sherwin-Williams Paint, Prepared) on the cans of paint you buy is paint insurance. It means that you get the best and purest paint.

It is reckless extravagance to buy cheap paint. A paint at $2.50 a gallon that lasts five years or more is much cheaper than a paint at $1.50 a gallon that only lasts two years. In the first case you get paint protection at 50c a year and in the second case your paint protection costs you .75c a year and at the end of two years you have to assume the whole expense of repainting. Sunday evening was a memorial one in Baptist church annals. The ordinance of baptism was witnessed by a vast congregation. Twenty candidates, ranging in age from twelve to nineteen years, were baptized by Rev. H. G. Mellick. Of these, five were young ladies and fifteen young men. Taking the two services together, that in the Methodist church and in the Baptist church, we have much to be thankful for and feel glad that so many have put on the new life in Christ while still young. The church and baptistry was beautifully decorated with flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie McLeod, of Calgary, sent the Treasurer of the Methodist church the sum of fifty dollars, as an Easter offering. Many will recall this couple as members of the Lawrencetown church, their recent marriage here, and their going to their western home. Aside from the actual value of the gift it means much to have a token of remembrance from those who have been co-workers. The letter accompanying the gift was read at the morning service, which was rendered still more interesting by having fifteen members added to the church roll. Mr. Jones, a student from Sackville, who substituted here some two years ago, and very successfully, assisted in the service.

The economical decoration of your home is largely a matter of knowing the right finishes to use.

For the exterior of your home there is no better paint than Sherwin-Williams Paint (Prepared) SWP. It is made of the purest of materials, combined in correct scientific proportions with the aid of special machinery. The result is a far spreading, long wearing paint in liquid form, all ready to apply.

For floors, the easiest finish to apply is S-W Inside Floor Paint, and this gives particularly good results even on old worn or discolored floors. On a good hardwood floor the best finish is S-W Mar-not, a hard-drying waterproof floor varnish.

For the walls of your home, while water paints, such as S-W Decostain, give pleasing effects, they have not the durability which means true economy. Sherwin-Williams Flat-tone is unquestionably the best paint for walls. It is an oil paint that dries with a soft, flat, velvety finish. It is very durable and can be washed with soap and water. S-W Flat-tone comes in twenty-four beautiful colors, the selection of expert decorators.

For the varnishing of interior work such as wainscoting, doors, furniture, etc., we recommend S-W Excello Varnish, or S-W Kopal, an old fashioned, general purpose varnish, which can be used inside and outside and is just the thing for varnished woodwork in kitchens, bathrooms, or for front doors, porch ceilings, etc. For floors use S-W Mar-not, a special waterproof floor varnish, will not turn white when water is spilled on it, nor does it show scratches and heel marks readily.

We can take care of your every paint and varnish need. Drop in and discuss your paint and varnish problems with us.

28 YEARS OF PIANO SATISFACTION

Our Civic Responsibilities

The awakening to a sense of their civic responsibility is one of the changes that have come into the lives of women in recent years. This has come with a clearer understanding of what civic affairs are, and of how intimately they are connected with the daily life of the people. Women are coming to realize that their responsibility to their own families entails a certain responsibility for the way the affairs of the city are conducted. The water that comes through the taps for the family to drink, the milk on which the health of the little ones is so largely dependent, the system of sewerage which is far-reaching and subtle in its effects, the purity or impurity of the air that comes through the window from street or back alleyway—all these are beyond a woman's immediate control, and yet they are all included among the responsibilities which she shares with other citizens. The revelations of existing conditions which have been held up before the public again and again by social workers and students of social conditions are helping to quicken the civic conscience of women. The mother who takes devoted care of her own children, and who is able to give them all that is needed for their welfare, will be ready to take her share of civic responsibility for the children of those under less favorable circumstances. As a writer on the subject, "It has seemed to be a reproach to the mothers of the community that so many children die in infancy. But if we inquire into the source of the statistics, we will find that most of the children who die are not born in homes of comfort, wealth or education, but among the poor, the miserable, the ignorant, and the unprotected. But what has produced the conditions that allow of this, but the failure of government to carry out ideal legislation? What else created a housing problem, a tuberculosis problem, a vice problem?" In many cities—far more so than our own—civic carelessness has allowed conditions to grow up which should rest heavy on the social conscience. There are districts in which men, women and children are existing in old "rookeries" unfit for human beings to shelter in. Builders have been allowed to occupy every available area, so that children have no place to exercise their healthy instincts for play, except in the streets. Babies in the slum districts die from the unhealthy state of their surroundings as well as from want of proper milk and care. The task of remedying these conditions has been left to social workers and the generosity of private citizens, and the work accomplished can only, by the nature of things, touch the surface. What is wanted is a government that will go to the root of the matter, remove causes, and prevent an increase of untoward conditions.

At the present time, the citizens of Montreal are facing the responsibilities of electing a new civic governing body of Mayor and Aldermen to conduct the city's affairs for the next two years, and a Board of Control with administrative powers for four years. It is manifestly the duty of every citizen, man and woman, to do all that lies in his or her power to see that men are elected to office who will do their best to manage the affairs of the city wisely and for the benefit of the people now and in the time to come of the city's growth and prosperity. But, say some, and with reason, what are you going to do when the right men for the business won't let themselves be nominated, and the wrong men insist on being nominated? This does not lessen, however, the responsibility of the electors to see that the best men of those in the running win.

There are between twelve and thirteen thousand women who have votes in Montreal, according to the lists made out by the Local Council of Women, although owing to removals since the date of registration and to deaths in some cases, it is likely that this number is in excess of the actual voting strength. Nevertheless there are probably at least some ten thousand, a number sufficient to have very considerable weight in the electoral decisions. While most of the women electors, who have been approached by canvassers, express their willingness to take their share of civic responsibility by voting on election day, one does occasionally hear an objection. And one idea advanced than which none can be more fatal, is that "there are so many others voting my vote won't matter." Your vote does matter, and voting responsibility is an individual duty, you cannot delegate yours to the rest of the community. Another objection is from the easily discouraged. She, or it might as likely be he—says, "I voted four years ago, or two years ago, and it didn't do any good." But granting it to be so for the sake of the argument, what right have you to throw up your hands and quit, until the end of good government has been achieved—it may be now, it may be twenty years hence.

And, she is not dead yet, the woman who says she doesn't want to use her vote because she is a "womanly woman," and a home woman. She has been met with the present campaign. For her, and for the uncertain holder of a vote, I should like to quote from a little book sent to me from England not long ago. The author says: "It is not because we do not care for our own homes that we long to do something to take away the loveliness of so many of the homes that are around us. It is not because we want to shirk the responsibilities that we have, it is because we want to give to these responsibilities a wider and more lofty interpretation. . . . The health and welfare of every community is the concern of every home in that community. It matters to the homes of the rich as to the homes of the poor that stumps should be swept away and children should not be allowed to sicken and die under unsanitary conditions. It matters to us all that there should be a high standard of public life in our towns, and that our public duties should be efficiently carried out by people who have a high conception of the work we ask them to do. We certainly have not reached the fulfilment of our civic duty if we confine ourselves to grumbling at the folly and incompetence of our city councillors. We want a more substantial patriotism than that, and what we believe is that the more women take part in the duties of citizenship, and the more they realize their opportunities, the greater will be the sense of citizenship in all our homes." And with the sense of citizenship of the mother as well as the father in the home, we may have a generation grow up with the public spirit which more than anything else is needed to infuse into our civic governments the elements that make for success.—Mary Malvern.

Squid Ship as a Convey for Flight

North Sydney Man Invents Craft to Cross Ocean in Fifty Hours.

(Sydney Record.)

The proposed aeronautical voyage across the Atlantic which has been attracting the attention of the expert aviators on both continents for the past year or so, promises to be one of the features of the present year. The aeroplane manufacturers, aero clubs and aviators have been devoting considerable space in the newspapers to the coming trans-atlantic trip, and some attention has also been given to the method of ocean convey, Several schemes have projected, but so far none have met with such approval as that suggested by Charles P. Bethune, at present a resident of Centreville, C. B., and Mr. Bethune claims that his model comes nearer the requirements than anything yet projected.

In conversation with the Record recently Mr. Bethune stated that his model for a convey to accompany the proposed aeroplane flight across the Atlantic is on squid principles which is the most rapid fish in the waters of the world. As the makers of aeroplanes modelled machines upon the bird, the national habitant of the air, so Mr. Bethune has modelled his steamer upon the lines of the lightning-like squid.

The model was built in the west of England in 1907, and was inspected by London patent lawyers, who declared that nothing like it had been invented for fifty years. Mr. Bethune claims for his model several characteristics and several advantages. The ship has no screws and emits no smoke, has greater stability and fifty per cent more speed than the fastest ship afloat. His claim for it is that it will cross the Atlantic in fifty hours. After adjusting the compasses this ocean-goer may be commanded and controlled by one man—an engineer. The ship will carry fifty per cent more cargo than any craft her size and the engine is capable of driving a seventy-thousand-ton ship with a much smaller crew.

Mr. Bethune has earned quite a reputation as an inventor on the other side of the Atlantic, where he has worked in the chief shipyards in Ireland, Scotland, England and Wales his experience covering seventeen years. He has held conferences with naval experts and professes that he has been able to give them valuable hints. Mr. Bethune states that Japan may take hold of his invention as it would be peculiarly adapted for use in the Suez and Panama Canals. The inventor of this squid model claims that it would be practicable in the present search for the missing sealer Southern Cross.

Mr. Bethune's father, who died last October, was born at North Sydney but Charles the inventor, first saw the light in Newfoundland. He is a modest young man although he has great faith in his invention, which he will shortly bring officially before the various aeronauts who propose to take the hazardous air voyage across the Atlantic.

STAMPS BY THE MILE.

The Bureau of Engraving at Washington is about to adopt an entirely new method of printing postage stamps. An employee of the establishment, Benjamin R. Stiekney, has invented and constructed a machine which, without intervention by human hands, performs all the requisite processes. A continuous sheet of paper a mile in length passes into one end of the contrivance, and, travelling between engraved steel rollers, receives impressions of the stamps, ten in a row, one hundred and twenty to the foot.—Technical World Magazine.

ZAM-BUK

MRS. A. SAICH, of Cannington Manor, Sask., Writes: "My brother suffered severely from eczema. The sores were very extensive, and burned like coals into his flesh. Zam-Buk took out all the fire, and quickly gave him ease. Within three weeks of commencing with Zam-Buk treatment, every sore had been cured."

This is but one of the many letters we are constantly receiving from people who have proved the healing powers of Zam-Buk. For eczema, piles, sores, burns, cuts and all skin troubles there is nothing like this wonderful balm. No skin disease should be considered incurable until Zam-Buk has been tried.

ECZEMA

Six Years Premier

London, Eng., April 8.—Premier Asquith again became a member of the House of Commons today, when he was returned unopposed by his old constituency of East Fife, Scotland.

At noon as no other candidates have put in an appearance the returning officer of the constituency declared Herbert Henry Asquith duly elected once more for the constituency he has represented in the Lower House since 1886. An interesting coincidence in connection with Mr. Asquith's return is that today is the sixth anniversary of his assumption of the Premiership.

Premier Asquith has resigned his seat in the House of Commons on March 30, when he established a precedent by taking the Secretaryship for War as the British custom a member of Parliament on accepting an office of profit under the Crown is compelled to give up his seat in order to seek the approval of his constituents for his acceptance of office.

WAS A CONFIRMED DYSPPEPTIC

Now Finds It a Pleasure to Enjoy Meals

Here is a case which secured as bad as is hopeless as you can possibly be. This is the experience of Mr. H. J. Brown, 384 Bathurst St., Toronto, in his own words:

"Gentlemen—I have much pleasure in mentioning to you the benefits received from your Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets and can cheerfully recommend them. I simply had confirmed dyspepsia with all its wretched symptoms, and tried about all the advertised cures with no success. You have in Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets the best curative agent I could find. It is now such a pleasure to enjoy meals with their consequent nourishment that I want to mention this for the benefit of others."

The fact that a lot of prescriptions or so-called "cures" have failed to help you is no sign that you have got to go on suffering. Try Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets and see how quickly this sterling remedy will give you relief and start your stomach working properly. If it doesn't help you, you get your money back. Middleton Outlook.—Capt. F. A. Brown has just received from the Meteorological headquarters for Canada at Toronto a set of apparatus for making weather observations. Brown agrees to keep exact meteorological records.

Our popular stipendiary magistrate, Mr. John Irwin, K. C., lectures in the Methodist church, Friday evening of this week. The popularity of the lecture is assured by the fact of the subject matter to be presented which is as follows:—"Early History of Bridgetown, and old time customs of the rural districts of Nova Scotia." Also a sketch of the military career of Col. Foynt, a former resident of Bridgetown.

On Good Friday morning a house owned by Robert Bent, and situated in Beaconsfield, was burned to the ground with all its contents. The house was occupied by Arthur Bent, who with his family lost all their furniture and clothing. Mr. Israel Bent, the father of Mr. Bent, who is ninety years of age, had a narrow escape from a horrible death in the fire. The house was insured for one thousand dollars and the claim will be paid in full. The barn was damaged, but through the faithful assistance of the neighbors, it was saved. This damage was covered by insurance.

The very high tides and heavy gale on Saturday and Sunday nights did considerable damage in this County. The tides broke away the dyke at the Chipman Marsh between Tupperville and Round Hill and washed away the roadbed of the D. A. R. at that point, and also did considerable damage to the Chipman bridge on the post road, the great body of water carrying away huge boulders. The early freight on Monday morning was delayed several hours owing to the damage. Another washout occurred just west of the Allen River bridge at Annapolis. No trains passed this point on Monday, but the damage was temporarily repaired so that all trains were running on schedule time yesterday. It will require a lot of work and an immense amount of material to put the roadbed at these two places in thorough repair.

The cold, changeable weather is very prone to bring on colds and coughs. In spite of care the little folks get wet and chilled. Our special Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, prepared for us by Parke, Davis & Co., keeps the little systems built up and able to throw off the ill effects of these experiences—it is easy to take too, the children like the taste of it. Wedding at D. p Brook

MOORE-BARTRAU
A quiet but very pretty wedding took place on the morning of April the eighth, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bartroux of Deep Brook, when their only daughter Annie Josephine was united in marriage to Mr. Thomas Moore of the Foundation Company, at present at Bear River. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John L. MacFadden, after which the guests enjoyed a beautiful wedding breakfast. The bride's dress was of fine white serge prettily trimmed with ruching and white silk. The gifts were many and beautiful, conspicuous among them being a very tasteful collection of fine silver, consisting of coffee set and spoons, knives and forks, tea spoons, soup spoons, two dainty trays, and a handsome double cruet set from the Foundation Company, giving ample testimony of the high esteem in which Mr. Moore is held by his friends. A cut glass pitcher from Clarke Bros., where the bride was formerly employed, a chafing dish from her mates in the store, silver cut glass, embroidered linens, and other tokens from neighbors and friends, all showed the affection and good will felt for the bride by all who know her.
Mr. and Mrs. Moore left for a short wedding trip followed by showers of rice and confetti and the hearty good wishes of all their friends.

Messrs. Will and George Kinsman have purchased a fine power fishing boat recently, and will use it in the Bay this season.
On Tuesday last week a ten-cent tea was held at Mrs. Ansel Casey's by the "Helping Hand" of the Baptist church. A goodly sum and a nice social evening the result.
Capt. J. D. Apt during the past week has been making the air on the shore resonant with the ring of or bells, working a dry dredge. Captain doesn't seem to be one of the chosen, where he is doing his own dredging, but with the assistance of F. R. Parker and his bristles, he is doing a fine job.
Capt. and Mrs. George S. Johnson were very agreeably surprised on Saturday evening, April 4th, when a large party of neighbors and relatives visited their home, the occasion being the birthday of Mrs. Johnson. The evening was happily spent in music, games, etc. Refreshments and ice cream played an important part at the close. The gift of the evening was a fine silver butter dish.
Messrs. J. W. Snow and Ansel Casey with Herbert Johnson assisting, brought into port from Yarmouth the fishing schooner Grace Darling, Thursday morning, 9th. The vessel is American and will be renamed, remeasured, registered and fitted with new dories and all the modern equipment. She is an eight-dory vessel and Capt. A. Casey will be in command. REMARKABLE CURE OF RHEUMATISM

Sup't. of Sunday School in Toronto Cured by "Fruit-a-lives"

R. A. WAUGH, Esq.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 1st, 1913. For a long time, I have thought of writing you regarding what I term a most remarkable cure effected by your remedy "Fruit-a-lives". I have lived in this city for more than 12 years and am well known. I suffered from Rheumatism especially in my hands. I have spent a lot of money without any good results. I have taken "Fruit-a-lives" for 18 months now and am pleased to tell you that I am cured. All the enlargement has not left my hands and perhaps never will, but the soreness is all gone and I can do any kind of work. I have gained 35 pounds in 18 months.

R. A. WAUGH, 55 DOVERCOURT ROAD. "Fruit-a-lives" will always cure even the most stubborn cases of Rheumatism because it is the greatest blood purifier in the world and acts on the bowels, kidneys and skin. "Fruit-a-lives" is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c, or will be sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

IMMIGRATION FROM BRITAIN.

There is a distant slowing down of immigration from Great Britain as compared with the past few years. It is well that this has occurred. We have pretty well drained the mother land of her farm workers. She has scarcely a million agricultural laborers all told now, and cannot afford to lessen the number. They will have to be paid more wages to keep them at home, but there are signs that this will be done either by the voluntary action of farmers and land-owners or as the result of pressure by the State. We cannot hope to draw much longer on the English or Scottish farm laborer. More and more the immigrants we get from Britain are town dwellers who know nothing of farming, and are quite indisposed to learn. They remain in the cities and towns, and the inevitable result—and we have seen in Toronto during the past year—is a surplus of workless men and women in town while the country cries out for help to till the soil.

It is clear that until we secure immigrants in great numbers from the United States and continental Europe who will go upon the land as settlers we will not be in a position to absorb as many town dwellers as Britain has been sending us in recent years. This should be set forth very plainly in the printed matter of the Immigration Department, so that there may be no charge of deception on the part of Canada's accredited agents. There is room for millions on the land, but it is only as the land is settled that the urban population can be increased with safety.—Globe.

ON THE STREETS OF THE HOLY CITY TODAY.

Very shortly the streets of the Holy City will hum with the noise of electric cars and its more important thoroughfares will be illuminated at night by electricity. Its old picturesque walls and massive towers are to be removed, and the city given an adequate water supply. The rapidity with which Jerusalem is extending, through the return of the Jews in such large numbers to the city, has rendered these improvements necessary. To the north and west of the city there has sprung up, within the last decade, large Jewish colonies, populous residential sections, as well as convents, hospitals, schools, and other buildings, with the result that today there is a greater Jerusalem without the walls than within.

Four separate tramway routes are to be laid down. They will all start from the Jaffa Gate, the principal entrance into the city, and run outside the city walls through the newer parts of Jerusalem. The first, which will have a length of about two miles will give easy access to what may be termed the business quarter of the Holy City, while the second, of similar length, will link up the large Jewish colonies to the north with the city's principal entrance, while the third will encircle the old city, embracing many of its most historic sites, such as that believed by many scholars to be the scene of the Crucifixion, the Tomb of the Kings, the Mount of Olives, and the Valley of Jehoshaphat. The fourth line will run from Jaffa Gate to Bethlehem, some six miles distant, traversing what is probably the most sacred thoroughfare in the world. It teams with holy places—sacred wells, tombs and convents. The work of laying the rails commences this month, and, according to the terms of the concession, the syndicate have power to extend the lines in any direction within a distance of twenty-five miles. The city walls, which have a circumference of about three miles, and rise in places to a height of 381 feet, are now being offered by the government for sale as building material. It is expected, however, that efforts will be made to save isolated sections more particularly the massive towers—Canadian Pictorial.

STAMP CANCELLING AND POST-MARKING MACHINE. One of the most economical of the time and labor-saving devices which are being introduced by the United States Post Office Department in the post offices of all the larger American cities is the electrically operated machine which mechanically cancels the stamps and imprints postmarks on letters. The machine, operated by ordinary service current, is capable of performing the double operation of cancelling and postmarking at a speed of six hundred and fifty per minute. Inasmuch as the average speed of experienced workers in hand stamping is ninety letters per minute it may be appreciated that this machine does the work of seven men. In addition, it mechanically counts the envelopes that pass through it. The United States government does not buy these machines outright, but merely leases them from the inventor and manufacturer.—Selected.

IMPROVING MANITOBA HIGHWAYS

Now that spring is almost here and the frost will soon be out of the ground, the question of good roads will once again confront municipal authorities and others, who are held responsible for the care and maintenance of the highways of the province. The great benefits to be obtained from the building of good roads have been dwelt upon at considerable length by the press of the Province, during the past few weeks and the truth of the remarks given vent upon this subject will soon be borne home to all interested in good roads. At no time of the year are good roads of so much value as in the spring. With the melting of the winter's snow and the disappearance of sleighing, many of the most important highways of the province become impassable.

The future of Manitoba depends to a very great extent upon the settlement of its vast agricultural areas and the bringing within the reach of its farmers the markets of the world. To attain this end the country must be opened up by means of good roads as well as by railways and other means of transportation. Roadbuilding is an expensive matter, but one which repays well for the money invested in it. During the coming year the government of Manitoba will devote the sum of $2,500,000 towards constructing and improving highways in the province. This is a wise and judicious movement on the part of the provincial government and it is to be hoped that every effort will be put forth to secure our rightful share of this generous grant in the improvement of the highways of Westbourne and Lansdowne municipalities.

HOW FOURTEEN SALOON KEEPERS INSPIRED A MAN.

(By Herbert H. Smith)

The fourteen saloon keepers in the first charge of the Rev. Robert J. Patterson probably inspired, humanly speaking, the "Catch-my-pal" movement. "You won't dare talk temperance in that congregation," friends told the young Irish seminararian when he was called to the church at Armagh, near Belfast. Put he did. The presence of those fourteen saloon keepers stimulated him to attack the evil which produces ninety per cent of the crime of Ireland. He did not fight the men, but he did hit the traffic. At the same time he never lost his sympathy for the creatures whom drinking had ruined.

It was this compassion for his fellow-men which led him to talk with a half-dozen drinkers on the streets of Armagh one day less than five years ago. That conversation and the promise of the six to reform was the beginning of a temperance movement which spread rapidly over the British Isles. There is no record of the number of pledges which have been signed through the various branches of the organization, but 285,000 buttons of the organization have been sold. The Good Templars and other temperance organizations, by adopting the man-for-man method of the movement that Mr. Patterson started, have also greatly increased their strength.

Who is this man—out of the seminary a little more than two score of years—that he should have started such a movement? He has lately held five-days' series of meetings in Chicago, persuading large numbers of people to join in the task of reclaiming men and women from drink. He is now spending two months under the direction of the National Reform Association, addressing thousands in various parts of this country. He is a clever and forceful speaker.

"Jesus got men through their ears, their eyes, or their feet in his ministry of healing. I try to reach men for him through their throats," he said, in emphasizing the evangelistic nature of his work. He told the ministers of Chicago at a union meeting that a constitutional amendment prohibiting the manufacture and sale of liquor would not be adopted until people have a keen desire to help falling men and women. The passion for souls is his. This desire, linked with his training of seventeen years in the Armagh pastorate fighting the drink habit, fitted him to be founder of the movement which he named "Catch-my-pal" based as it is on the idea of one man getting a friend—a "pal" to sign the pledge. He is general secretary of the Protestant Total Abstinence Union, which has many local branches in Britain. On the committee of fifty in direct charge are not a few men who have themselves been reclaimed from drink. The movement embraces all Protestant denominations.

The heart of the "Catch-my-pal" movement is action. Mr. Patterson exemplifies this in his speaking. The pledge he offers to abstain from drinking intoxicating liquor, carries with it a promise to get at least one drinker to agree to quit.—The "Contingent."

SAWDUST AS FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

Few of us would think of throwing ordinary sawdust on a fire as a means of extinguishing it, yet for certain sorts of fires it has proven unusually effective. Water is of course of no avail in dealing with blazing oils. Sand has been heretofore recognized as the proper extinguisher for incipient oil fires, but some daring genius tried sawdust and found that when thrown on the surface of blazing oil it extinguished the blaze. Sawdust extinguishes the flames by smothering them, which is the only effective method in oil fires. It is more effective than sand because it floats on the surface of the oil, while sand sinks through.—Exchange.

Johnny—"Pa, is it wrong to steal from a trust?" Pa—"Don't let the question bother you, my son. It's impossible."

English Guide (showing places of interest)—"It was in this very room, sir, that Wellington received his first commission."

American Tourist—"Indeed! And how much commission did he get?"

Consumer—"Do you call these pork chops?"

Waiter—"Can't you tell by the taste, sir?"

Consumer—"No!"

Waiter (querulously)—"Then what does it matter what they're called?"

"What do you understand by 'edible fungi'?" "It has something to do with mushrooms and toadstools," replied Father Cornstossel. "But whether it's what you swallow or what happens to you afterward I wouldn't like to say without writin' to the department."

Reverend Person (doing an odd job with the church fence)—"You appear to be watching me very closely, boy. Do you take an interest in carpentry?" Boy—"No." Rev. P.—"Then what are you waiting for?" Boy—"I'm waitin' to hear 'out a parson' says when e' 'its his fumb wiv the 'ammer."

"What are you thinking of, Beatrice?" inquired Mr. Hainer of his wife one morning while they were at breakfast. "I am dreaming of my youth," replied the woman. "Well," replied the brute, "I thought you had a far-away look in your eyes."

Once, while addressing an open-air meeting, an atheist asked Bishop Boyd Carpenter if he believed that Jonah was swallowed by a whale. "When I go to heaven I will ask Jonah," said his lordship. "But supposing," the other persisted, "he is not there?" "Then you will have to ask him," was the quick retort.

An Irishman who wasn't much of a hunter went out to hunt one day, and the first thing he saw to shoot at was a bird sitting saucily on the top of a fence. He blazed away, and then walked over to pick up the victim. What he happened to find there was a dead frog, which he raised carefully at arm's length, looking at it with a puzzled air. Finally he remarked:—"Well, but he was a deuce of a fine-looking bird befur Oi blew the fithers off o' ye!"

A Highlander was one day brought before his chief, being accused of stealing. The crime being fully proved, Donald was sentenced to be hanged. In those days a criminal was allowed to choose the tree on which he was to be hung, Donald was therefore asked to name the tree of his choice.

"Oich, oich!" he said, "she would like to be hung on a grossart (gooseberry) bush."

"But a grossart bush is not half large enough for that," was the reply. "Oich, oich," answered Donald, "but she's in nae hurry; she'll just wait til' it grows."

"There's another row up at the souter's said Willie Wilson, as he shook the rain from his plaid and took his accustomed seat by the inn parlour fire. "I heard them at it as I came by just now." "Ay, ay; there's aye some fun gawn on at the souter's," said another of the company with a laugh. "Fun? I shouldn't think there's much fun in those disgraceful family disturbances," said the schoolmaster. "Aweel, it's no' so vera—had after a'—" said the other, who had his share of matrimonial strife. "Ye see, when the wife gets in her tantrums she aye throws a plate, or a brush, or may be two or three, at Sandy's head. Gin she hits him she's glad, and gin she misses him he's glad; so ye see, there's aye some pleasure to yin side or the ither."

Healthy Bowels

THIS simple rule of health is daily called attention to by every doctor in the land, whose first question to the patient almost invariably is, "Are your bowels regular?" Yet there's not one person in fifty who takes proper care of the bowels. And the result of this foolish neglect is nine-tenths of all ill-health. If today you are unable to free your body of waste matter at the usual time, or if the act causes straining, pains and discomfort, don't let that condition occur again tomorrow. Unless your bowels can carry away the waste-materials left after food is digested, decay sets in, the poisons of which, taken up by the blood, increase the risk of Typhoid Fever, Appendicitis, and many other serious diseases. In treating constipation, there is a right way and a wrong way. The wrong way is to take harsh purgatives which even though they do clear the bowels, cause griping and nausea, injure the delicate tissues, and so disturb the normal functions as to cause the return of constipation. The right way is to help Nature to produce natural movement, without pain or discomfort, by using a gentle laxative in the form of a chocolate-tasting tablet. One of these tablets eaten just before going to bed will help to restore your bowels to normal activity at a time when your body being at rest, the medicine can do its best work. As a result of taking that tablet (or say two, if your case is obstinate), your bowels will move easily and naturally in the morning. The use of Rexall Orderlies for a few days afterward will restore normal regularity. Even chronic constipation is benefited by them, and it is not necessary to continue the treatment for a long time, because, instead of driving Nature, they simply help her to help herself.

Rexall Orderlies

More Than One Hundred Million Were Sold Last Year

This enormous quantity was used with good results by busy men who suffered from constipation, due to lack of exercise, or indigestion caused by overwork—by children whose parents realize the harmful effect of common purgatives—by old people whose systems cannot stand anything harsh—by women during pregnancy, and after childbirth, when any medicine with a violent action would be particularly dangerous. Many of these people are your neighbors and friends. Ask anyone who has ever used them—they'll tell you Rexall Orderlies satisfied and helped them.

This Is Our Guarantee—You Risk No Money

If Rexall Orderlies do not make your bowels act right, tell us so and we'll give back your money without asking a single question. There is no red tape to this guarantee. It means just what it says. You sign nothing. We won't hesitate, or ask you any questions. Your word is enough. If Rexall Orderlies do not do all you expect them to—if you don't feel better after using them and find that they are the pleasantest-acting and best laxative you have ever used, we want you to tell us and get your money back.
