The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

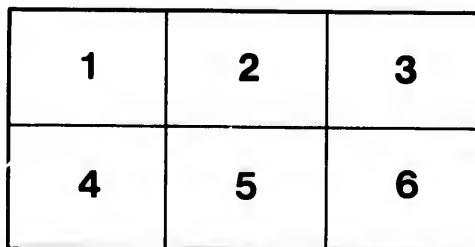

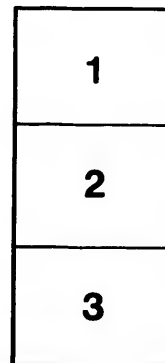

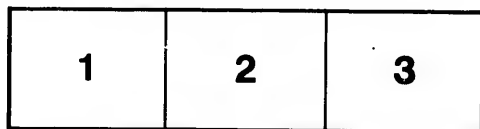

Library of the Public
Archives of Canada

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol  $\rightarrow$  (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol  $\nabla$  (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

La bibliothèque des Archives
publiques du Canada

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole  $\rightarrow$  signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole  $\nabla$  signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

THE "WEED" SEWING MACHINE, (IMPROVED),
 MANUFACTURED AT HARTFORD, CT., U. S.
 Out of eighty-two competitors, was awarded the
FIRST PRIZE at the PARIS EXPOSITION.

This is a Shuttle Machine, using the straight needle bar; makes the tight lock or shuttle stitch, leaving the stitch alike on both sides.

Boot and Shoe Manufacturers will find this machine the most profitable for them to purchase. All its parts are made of steel, and will wear ten years with constant use.

Tailors and Dress Makers will find they can do their work with more ease and convenience on the "WEED," owing to its speed and large range of work which they can command on it.

Families will find it to their advantage to purchase the "WEED," for it is the most simple Shuttle Machine ever brought before the public. A child ten years old can be taught in twenty minutes to operate on it.

This Machine will sew, hem, braid, bind, fell, tuck and gather with the utmost ease and comfort.

No machines genuine except bearing the trade mark.

Everybody invited to call at 155 HOLLIS STREET, Halifax, N. S., and examine for themselves.

All Machines warranted, and equivalent guaranteed for their money. It is an advantage to the public to call and see the improvements recently made on Sewing Machines.

PIANO FORTE

MANUFACTORY & WAREROOMS,
No. 70 & 72 Barrington Street,
HALIFAX, N. S.

In consequence of the great demand for our Pianos throughout the Province, and to be prompt with our customers, we have increased our facilities for manufacturing, and hope that we are now in a position to fulfill all orders sent us at once, for

Grand Square, Oblique or Cottage Pianos,

These Instruments are altogether unlike the common Pianos sold in different places in the city, being very strongly made, and having double check action, full metallic plates, with heavy bolts, and put together in a manner that no common Pianos are ever made, it being too expensive.

THE NEW STYLE in Catholic countries, by order of Pope Gregory XIII., was adopted in 1582, commanding to reckon the 5th of October as the 15th, thus omitting 10 days. Protestant countries adopted this rule in 1752, calling the 3rd of September the 14th, omitting 11 nominal days. Russia still adheres to the old style, the difference from the new being now 12 days. Up to 1752, the year was held to begin in England with the 25th of March ; 1751 did so, but 1752 began January 1, by Act of Parliament, agreeably to the Gregorian or Roman Catholic Calendar, which is the true time, with only an error of one day in about 3,000 years.

THE SEASONS.—The annual revolution of the earth is accomplished in 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes, and 51 seconds. In the course of this revolution the inhabitants of every clime experience, though at different times, a variety of seasons. Spring, summer, autumn, and winter, follow each other in constant succession. In those countries which lie in the southern hemisphere November, December and January are the summer months, while in the northern hemisphere, where we reside, these are our months of winter, when the weather is coldest, and the days shortest. In the northern and southern hemispheres the seasons are opposite to each other. During six months, from March 21 to Sept. 23, the sun shines without intermission on the north pole, so that there is no night there during all that interval, while the south pole is all this time enveloped in darkness. From Sept. to March the south pole enjoys the solar light, while the north, in its turn, is deprived of the sun and left in darkness. The sun is at different distances from the earth at different periods of the year, owing to the earth's moving in an elliptical orbit; but it is not upon this circumstance that the seasons depend. For on the 1st January we are more than three millions of miles nearer the sun than on the 1st July, when the heat of our summer is generally greatest.

- 1 and 2—Days of the Month and of the Week.
  - 3 " 4—The rising and setting in mean time of the highest point, or upper limb of the Sun, corrected for refraction.
  - 5—The Sun's declination adapted to apparent noon, or the instant when the Sun's centre is on the meridian of Greenwich.
  - 6—Equation of time, or quantity by which the Sun is slow or fast of the clock at noon, apparent (not mean) time at Greenwich, or a quarter before 8 o'clock in the morning at Halifax.
  - 7—Length of days in hours and minutes.
  - 8—The rising of the Moon.
  - 9—The setting of the Moon.
  - 10—The time of the Moon's southing, or meridian passage. This column contains the Greenwich mean astronomical time at which the Moon's centre is on the upper meridian of Greenwich. This column also gives the time of high water at Parrsboro', Horton, Cornwallis, Hantsport, Windsor, Newport, Truro, &c.
  - 11—The Moon's place in the Signs or Constellations of the Zodiac. The Phases of the Moon are given at the top of the columns of each month.
- The FARMER'S CALENDAR is placed at the foot of the columns of each month.

  - 3—The time of High Water at Halifax N. S.
  - 4— " " Pictou, N. S. & C. Tormentine N. B.
  - 5— " " Annapolis, N. S., St. John N. B., & Portland, Maine.
  - 6— " " St. Johns, Newfoundland, of that tide which immediately precedes the meridian passage of the Moon
- These four columns are computed on the supposition that the time of High Water on the days of the new and Full Moon—L'establisment du port—is at Halifax, 7h. 30m.; at Annapolis, St. John, N. B., and Portland, 11h. 14m.; at Pictou and Cape Tormentine, 10h.; and at St. Johns, Newfoundland, 6h. 30m.
- This mark ✕ opposite every alternate Thursday, commencing January 2, denotes the days on which the mail is closed at Halifax per Steamer for Great Britain.
- *.* All the calculations are made to mean solar time, which has superseded the old mode of reckoning by apparent time.
- The top of the column of each month contain notices of the magnitude, &c., of the planets Vesta, Juno, Ceres, and Pallas.

LEAP YEAR.—Every year is leap year, the number of which can be divided by 4, and not by 100; or which can be divided by 400.

☐ The column of the moon's southing gives the time of high water at Parrsboro, Cornwallis, Horton, Hantsport, Windsor, Newport, Truro, &c.

EVERY farmer has a theory. Every sane man performs all his business in accordance with some rules which satisfy his mind. A man may strike his horse, or break his plough, without following, and indeed in opposition to theory; but all that he does deliberately, and of his free will, he does because he is convinced of its practicability and lawfulness—because he has a good reason for it; or he is no honest man. The farmer may affect to despise theory, and claim that he is a purely practical man; but he is mistaken. For to suppose that a man can carry out the manifold affairs of a farm, through a whole year and through many years, without some mental basis for his operations, is sheer nonsense. This mental basis is theory, and to take pride "in freedom from theory" is to boast of inability to think. Practice is, like theory, good or bad. Good practice may be in part accidental and independent of good theory; but good theory, if it become active, must work itself out in good practice. Bad practice is the result of erroneous or imperfect want of theory. Bad theory can hardly fail to produce disadvantageous practice.

Magnitude, Motions, &c. of the Planets Vesta, Juno, Ceres, and Pallas.

The immense interval which lies between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter, led astronomers to surmise that a planet of considerable magnitude might possibly exist somewhere within this limit. Between the orbits of Mercury and Venus there is an interval of 31 millions of miles; between those of Venus and the Earth, 27 millions; between those of the Earth and Mars 50 millions; but between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter there intervenes the immense space of 349 millions of miles. No planetary body, however, was detected within this interval till the beginning of the present

☽ The column of the moon's southing gives the time of high water at Parrsboro', Cornwallis, Horton, Hantsport, Windsor, Newport, Truro, &c.

Country residents may be divided into two classes—the neat and the slovenly. The former may be known on approaching their dwellings, by the air of finish and comfort which pervade the premises—the whole indicating that the man who has mastered one art, does not find it hard to master another, in other words, as he does not allow the intrusion of mullins and pig weed among his crops, neither will he allow the defacement of his door-yard by old rubbish in its countless forms. Of the latter class the indications are various—sometimes they consist in a broken fence bordered with an unbroken hedge of brics, elders and thistles—at others, the yard, which has been a neat lawn with shady trees, mostly occupied with burdocks and nettles, bordering old decaying heaps of chips and pools of kitchen slops, and the droppings of cattle, and cut up by the wheels of carts into mud-holes of unknown depth, until sounded in a dark evening by the unwary foot of a neighbor's wife or daughter. There is again an intermediate class—belonging partly to both the preceding—perhaps the largest class of all. Over these neatness and disorder seem to hold each a sort of doubtful jurisdiction—perhaps a neat picket fence in front, has its counterpart in a decayed rail fence in rear—a flower bed by the front door and a puddle of soap-suds at the kitchen door.

Century; and instead of one large body, as was surmised, four small ones have been discovered. Of these four bodies the first discovered was Ceres at Palermo on the 1st January 1801. Vesta was discovered in 1807, by Dr. Olbers, who had previously discovered Pallas, and re-discovered Ceres. Mean distance of Vesta from the sun is about 225 millions of miles, its annual revolution is completed in about three years, 7½ months; the circumference of its orbit is 1414 millions of miles, moving with a velocity of more than 44,000 miles an hour. Its diameter is only about 270 miles, and if this be correct, it will contain only 229,000 square miles, or a surface somewhat less than Great Britain, France and Ireland, and would contain a population of 64 millions of inhabitants, or about five times the number of the inhabitants of the United States of America, or nearly the twelfth part of the earth.

☽ The column of the moon's southing gives the time of high water at Parrsboro', Cornwallis, Horton, Hantsport, Windsor, Newport, Truro, &c.

WHEN Spring comes every farmer will have a piece of ground, garden or orchard where he can profitably apply all the manure he can save or make during winter. Every shovelful of manure judiciously applied will increase the amount of his harvest. Now is the time to make arrangements and preparations for carrying it out. Let all manures be kept under cover or sheltered as much as possible. Save carefully all droppings from the roosts, this makes a near approach to guano. Let those near the sea shore collect seaweed—and those who live near saw mills draw home and put under cover sawdust. This may be used, to good advantage, in absorbing the urine of horses and cattle, and retaining the fertilizing ammonia which they contain. Sawdust and dry meadow muck, well saturated with urine, will be a fertilizer almost equal to guano. Save all the bones you can and make your own superphosphate—your next harvest will pay you for all your trouble. Remember your manure is gold and your farm your mint!

light is more intense and white than that of either Ceres, Juno, Pallas.
The distance of JUNO from the sun is estimated at 254 millions of miles. The circumference of its orbit 1596 millions of miles. Through this circuit it moves in 4 years and 128 days, at the rate of 4,860 miles every hour. Its diameter is 1425 English miles. Its surface will therefore contain 6, 380,000 square miles, and a population of 1786 millions, which is more than double the number of the earth's inhabitants. Its greatest distance from the sun is 316,968,000 miles, while its least distance is only 189,792,000. This planet is of a reddish colour, and is free from any nebulosity.
The planet CERES is about 263 millions of miles from the sun,

☽ The column of the moon's southing gives the time of high water at Parrsboro, Cornwallis, Horton, Hantsport, Windsor, Newport, Truro, &c.

EVERY farmer should have now decided on what field to sow this or the particular crop. He now only awaits fine weather and a dry soil to commence operations. In the mean time there is work enough to do. Ploughs, harrows, whippetrees, clevises, harness, &c. should be examined, and if repairs are needed, they should be made before the busy season commences. See wheat, barley, oats, timothy, clover, &c., should be procured now; and if it is intended to use guano, or other artificial fertilizers, the sooner it is in the barn and crushed ready for sowing the better. Too many neglect all preparations for their spring work, and when the fine weather comes, having everything to do in a few weeks, they are in too great a hurry to do anything well. They must flop over a furrow 16 inches wide, scratch it a little with a harrow, sow the seed, and trust to "good luck" and a virgin soil for a harvest. It is undoubtedly desirable to plough as much as possible in a day, yet we are far from being convinced that it would not be better to plough an acre narrow and well, than to turn over two acres in wide furrows.

and completes its annual revolution in 4 years, 7 months, and 10 days. The circumference of its orbit is 1653 millions of miles, and moves at the rate of about 41,000 miles an hour. Its greatest distance from the sun is 283,500,000 miles, and its least distance, 2,300,000. Its real diameter is 1624 English miles; but including atmosphere, is 2974 miles. Its surface, therefore, contains 285,580 square miles, or about the one sixth part of the habitable portions of our globe; and would afford accommodation for 2,319,962,000 of inhabitants, according to the rate of population in England, which is nearly triple the present population of the earth. This planet is of a slight ruddy colour, and appears about the size of a star of the eighth magnitude, and is consequently invisible to the naked eye.

"How does deep ploughing improve the soil?" asks an inquiring farmer. The simple answer is, by increasing its depth. "But," says the inquirer, "if I plough deep I shall turn up the clay and inert earth that contain no nourishment for plants." "Well, if clay and inert earth, containing no nourishment, lie so near the sun's face as to be within reach of your deepest working plough, they ought to be turned up and exposed to the influence of sun, air, frost, rain, snow, and manure, that they may become rich." "But," says the inquirer, "it is strange how many 'buis' such people can find for use on such occasions." "It would require too much hard work and too long a time to do this, would it not?" That depends upon whether you would prefer five dollars profit per acre now, and forever hereafter, to two or three dollars now, this year and the next, and ten or twenty dollars per acre hereafter. And so with seeding—farmers, as well as other people, like to make good bargains. Some of the worst bargains they make is with themselves—for example—to save five dollars of seed they lose twenty dollars of hay or pasture.

The planet PALLAS revolves around the sun at the mean distance of 263 millions of miles, and finishes its revolution in 1681 days, 17 hours, which is within a day of the time of the revolution of Ceres. Its distance is likewise nearly the same as that planet, and the circumference of its orbit will also be nearly the same. It presents a ruddy aspect but less so than that of Ceres—it is likewise surrounded with a nebulosity. The eccentricity of the orbit of Pallas is greater than that of any of the other planets, which is no less than 64,516,000 miles, so that this planet is 129 millions of miles nearer the sun in one part of its orbit than it is at the opposite extremity. Its greatest distance from the sun is 327,437,000 miles, and its least distance only 198,404,000 miles. Of course its rate of motion in its orbit must

The column of the moon's southing gives the time of high water at Parrabro', Cornwallis, Horton, Hantsport, Windsor, Newport, Truro, &c.

KEEPING roads in good repair is generally conceded an object of much importance so long as men merely talk about the matter; but it seems to be otherwise when they are called upon to work, if the reluctance, indifference, shirking and dislike to that duty upon the public highways, may be taken as indications of the real state of sentiment existing on the subject. The indifference which many display in regard to keeping roads in good repair, and their unwillingness to do their proportion of work upon the public highways, have often been matters of surprise. For months and months farmers have been seen plunging through rough, racking and muddy places, with injury to waggons and harness, when a very little work would have removed the whole difficulty and the cause of it. But then others would have removed the stands unrepaired for months to the disgrace and inconvenience of a whole neighbourhood, and especially of him who lives close by it, but it is submitted to for months just because some others would have received a little benefit, even though they would have secured to themselves many times more.

very variable, sometimes moving several thousands of miles an hour swifter at one time than at another, which is likewise the case with the planet Juno. Its mean motion is 41,000 miles an hour. The diameter of Pallas is 2099 miles and will be about the size of our moon, and will comprehend on its surface nearly 14 millions of square miles, which would accommodate a population of nearly four thousand million, or five times of our world. Such is a brief view of the principal facts which have been ascertained respecting these planets. All situated between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter, and all invisible to the naked eye, except, perhaps, the planet Vesta, when in certain favourable positions. These bodies present to our view various singularities and anomalies, which at first sight appear incompatible with the proportion of harmony, which we might suppose originally to have characterized the arrangement of the solar system.—In the first place, their orbits have a much greater degree of inclination to the ecliptic than those of the old planets; the orbits are in general more eccentric. Several of them cross each other. Another peculiarity is that they revolve nearly at the same mean distances from the sun, and perform their revolutions in nearly the same periods, and are much smaller than the other planets. The anomalies and peculiarities of these bodies—so very different from the order and arrangement of the older planets—open a wide field for reflection and speculation.

THE greatest enemy of Fruit culture is the caterpillar—the canker worm—the borer—the grub—the bark louse—the black knot—the fire blight—the yellows—the curculio. The caterpillar sometimes strips whole orchards of their leaves, and for that year puts an end to the crop. But there is another enemy, greater by far than any one of these, if not than the whole list put together. This is a certain animal which the ancient philosopher singularly described as "a two-legged animal without feathers," the great epicure, Dr. Johnson, as "the only animal that cooks its victuals," and zoologists under the scientific name Homo sapiens MAN (under which general head boys also are included), is the greatest enemy that fruit trees have to contend with. The first thing he usually does, when he procures young trees, is to crowd them into a small hole in a hard soil; which mixed with sods, is thrown among the roots and stamped hard with the foot. They are not unfrequently choked and killed the first year by sowing grain crops about them. He next "trims" them up without regard to form but a misshapen one.

☽ The column of the moon's southing gives the time of high water at Parrsboro, Cornwallis, Horton, Hantsport, Windsor, Newport, Truro, &c.

As a general thing farmers do not provide themselves with good garden. The excuse for this neglect is generally they have not time to attend to small matters. The interests of the farmer, the comfort of his family, the good condition and health of his whole household, requires a garden in every farm in this country. After a winter's diet on solid and generally animal food, the human constitution requires the detouring operations of vegetable and fruit diet; and as a general rule no one can dispense with safely. Besides this, the natural appetite calls for it, and there are pleasures that may be so safely and even beneficially indulged in. In the latter part of winter and early spring, measures should be taken to secure early vegetables of all kinds capable of early cultivation. When early peas, beans, cabbages, cucumbers, potatoes, green corn, lettuce, radishes, &c., in season and none of these luxuries then to be found on the table, nothing but blue beef, salt pork, and beans or potatoes of winter, the life of the farmer is not to be envied, nor his family their enjoyments.

In the year 1608, seven bodies only were known to belong to our system, viz. the Sun and Moon, Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn. In 1700 there had been discovered, in addition to these, 11 cometary bodies, viz. 4 satellites of Jupiter, 5 of Saturn, the Earth's Moon, now fully recognized as a planet, and Halley's comet, though the prediction had not been verified. In 1800 nine more were added—Uranus and its satellites, with two satellites of Saturn. Since the beginning of the year 1800, there have been added 13.—Vesta, Juno, Ceres, Pallas, Astrea, Hebe, Iris, Flora, the new planet Neptune, the satellite of Neptune, Enck's comet, & Biela's comet. The planet ASTREA was discovered in 1845. It appeared like a star of the 5th magnitude, in a place where before there was none. Astrea

☽ The column of the moon's southing gives the time of high water at Parrsboro', Cornwallis, Horton, Hantsport, Windsor, Newport, Truro,

TOBACCO, for destroying insects on trees and plants, is applied in ways. The most common is to form a strong decoction in a tub or barrel enough hot water to cover it, and let it stand some days. If strong enough it will destroy plant lice, and other small insects which infest fruit trees. It often fails for want of sufficient strength. A mixture of a small quantity of starch in solution, will add to its efficacy without increasing in any degree the danger to the trees. A mixture with it of a solution of soap adds to its effect, but if the soap be strong, it proves in some cases injurious to the young foliage. Tobacco, being a vegetable poison, will not do injury, however strong it may be. Small trees may be bent over and dip into the solution; it may be applied to larger trees by a showering syringe. Smoke from burning tobacco may be applied to plants by means of a fumigator.

volves round the sun at the distance of 247,000,000 miles. In its istance and period of revolution, Astrea agrees most nearly with und; in inclination, with Vesta. The planet HENK was discovered 1847. This body is considered as belonging to the smaller planets etween Mars, and Jupiter. This planet comes between Vesta and orea. The planet IRIS was discovered in 1847, about six weeks or that of Hebe. The planet FLORA was discovered soon after that of Iris. Since the epoch of discovery, the brightness of this planet is considerably increased, and now equals that of a star of the ighth magnitude. From the above it appears that three new primary anets have been brought to light during the year 1847, and in the pace of less than four months. It is remarkable, too, that they all elong to that class of comparatively small bodies—sometimes called

☽ The column of the moon's southing gives the time of high water at FARRSBORO', CORNWALLIS, HORTON, HANTAPORT, WINDSOR, NEWPORT, TRURO, &

As far as possible have the plan of each day's work laid out before hand. Treat hired help kindly, and thus secure their good will. If things do not move as expected, don't fret. It will not mend matters. Be careful of your health. Do not overwork yourself. Never be so busy that you cannot find time to eat leisurely. Keep your feet well clad, and avoid bitters and quack medicines. Be social with your friends, but waste no time in loafing in which all farm work is done. When work season comes, work in earnest and when the play time comes enjoy it. Have a time for everything and everything in its time. "He who waits to do a great deal of good at once will never do any." This is the kind of mistake which some farmers commit. In their zeal to do a great business, they run in debt for large farms, and debts keep them under water, and they are always working to a disadvantage.

Asteroids, which move between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter and are all invisible to the naked eye. These bodies revolve nearly at the same distance from the sun, and the times of their revolution round the Sun are not much different from each other. A considerable degree of mystery hangs over the facts and circumstances connected with these bodies, which prevents the forming of any definite ideas respecting their nature and destination. It is generally supposed that they once formed the component parts of a large planet, which formerly moved near the regions they now occupy; but by some internal force had been disrupted into a number of smaller parts, which form the bodies that have been lately discovered. If these small planets once formed the component parts of a large

MUCH has been written on the subject of preparing meat, in the best possible manner for domestic purposes, previous to placing it in the smoke house; but little or nothing of the manner of smoking it. The best, most effectual, cheapest and neatest manner of smoking meat, is to place a shovel of live coals in an old pan, or some low dish, and lay on them a few sugar maple chips—dry ones are the best, for it requires too much fire to use green ones. No other wood will produce so sweet smoke as sugar maple; and the coals of it will keep alive as long, or longer, than the coals of other wood. In the absence of chips, corn cobs are nearly as good—three or four laid on a few coals will produce smoke sufficient to fill an ordinary smoke house. As a substitute for a smoke house, use a molasses hoghead, covered with boards on the top, and a hole cut in the side near the bottom, large enough to admit a pan of coals, with a cob or two, or a few small chips. Thus avoiding all danger of setting fire to the smoke house, and consuming meat and all. It is not necessary that the smoke be driven in, by heating the smoke house like Nebuchadnezzar's furnace, seven times hotter than it ought to be heated.

planet, was that planet inhabited? At what period did the disruption take place? And, if inhabited, what was the fate of its inhabitants? Were they entirely destroyed by the catastrophe? or did the inhabitants of the different fragments fly off along with that portion of the original planet which they occupied? are these bodies still inhabited? or, are they flying like shattered masses through the voids of space? And if so, are they ever again to be re-peopled? answers to such enquiries cannot be expected while we remain in the present state.

If we do not admit the hypotheses of a large planet having been disrupted, it is, on the other hand, very difficult to account for the present position, motions, and other phenomena of these bodies, so

☽ The column of the moon's southing gives the time of high water at Parrsboro', Cornwallis, Horton, Hantsport, Windsor, Newport, Truro, &c

A modern writer well remarks that "a deep soil is better than a shallow one, because it furnishes a more extensive feeding ground for the roots of cultivated crops." The soil may be deepened by thoroughly underdraining it. With no further working, save the operation of continued draining, it will in time become deep and mellow. It does this from three causes: First, the drains allow the surplus water to filter rapidly away through the soil, instead of remaining a long time just below the surface, hardening, and in a manner, puddling the soil. Second, if the soil is clayey, drying it by drainage instead of evaporation, causes it to shrink or crack, thus tending to its pulverization. And third, into the cracks thus formed, surface mould is washed, which not only keeps the clay from again uniting, but invites the roots of plants to follow the vegetable food thus supplied, thus increasing the pulverization until, in the course of time, it becomes equal to that of the drainage itself. A more rapid method of deepening the soil is by the use of the subsoil plough, or by deep culture with any implement adapted to the purpose.

NOTE.—[The usual order of the arrangement of the Almanack has been somewhat departed from in the present issue, in order that the Executive and Legislative Councils and Legislative Assemblies of the Provinces of Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, might be given, as well as the Privy Council, Senate and House of Commons of the Dominion. The Tariff of Duties has been omitted as it will most probably be materially altered at the first meeting of Parliament at Ottawa for assimilating the Laws of the several provinces relating to the Tariff and Post Office into one general law applicable to all, and other necessary changes and measures consequent upon the Union. The Post Office matter is given as usual with the necessary corrections, and will remain as given until altered by the general law to be passed above alluded to.]

The number of Senators is fixed (except that six additional Senators may be appointed), that of members of the House of Commons is to vary according to the population ascertained at each decennial census, Quebec retaining the present number. The Privy Council consists of 13 members.

The Local Legislature of the Province of Ontario consists of a Lieutenant-Governor appointed by the Privy Council of the Dominion, and one house only, of 82 members, called the Legislative Assembly. Term 4 years, unless sooner dissolved, session annual.

The Local Legislature of the Province of Quebec consists of a Lieutenant-Governor, appointed by the Privy Council, a Legislative Council of 24 members, and a Legislative Assembly of 65 members. Term, &c., same as Ontario.

The Local Legislature of the Province of Nova Scotia consists of a Lieutenant-Governor, appointed by the Privy Council, a Legislative Council of 21 members, and a Legislative Assembly of 38 members. Term, &c., same as Ontario and Quebec.

The Local Legislature of the Province of New Brunswick consists of a Lieutenant-Governor, appointed by the Privy Council, a Legislative Council of 12 members, and a Legislative Assembly of 37 members. Term, &c., same as Ontario, Quebec and Nova Scotia.

And an annual grant to each Province equal to 30 cents per head of the population as ascertained by the census of 1861, and in the case of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, by each subsequent decennial census until the population of each amounts to 400,000 souls, at which rate such grants shall thereafter remain.

Canada becomes liable for the debts and liabilities of each Province existing at the Union—and the annual interest on such public debts to form the second charge on the consolidated revenue fund of Canada.

The exclusive power of the Provincial Legislatures is to make Laws in relation to matters coming within the following classes:

Generally all matters of a merely local or private nature in the Province.

In each Province the Legislature may exclusively make laws in relation to Education and Agriculture, subject to certain provisions.

10. Armouries, Drill Sheds, Military Clothing and Munitions of war, and lands set apart for general public purposes.

The wisdom of Her Majesty Queen Victoria's selection of OTTAWA as the capital of the Dominion of Canada having been fully recognised, the sum of £75,000 was voted for the erection of a Parliament House, competition invited, and a premium of $1,000 offered for the best design not to exceed that amount, and although the design of the successful architects by many was considered as too costly, responsible contractors were found who tendered within the government vote. Upon examining the spot selected for the erection, formerly known as Barrack Hill, it was found from the inequality of the ground, immense excavations were necessary, which made in solid rock, added enormously to the original cost, and could not have been foreseen by architects or builders. The government finding no provision for this work in the grant, and fearing it would cost a large portion of the original sum voted, stopped the works, and for some considerable time there was no progress. A commission of inquiry was appointed, fresh contracts were signed, and the whole of the works placed under the superintendence of Mr. Fuller, under whose management the present highly creditable structures have been reared. The corner stone was laid with great ceremony by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, in September, 1860, on which occasion the rejoicings partook of the nature of the place, the lumber arches and men being a novelty to most of its visitors, bullocks and sheep were roasted whole upon the government grounds and all comers were feasted. The site of these buildings has been very happily selected in the most elevated part of the city, they consist of the Parliament and two Departmental Buildings, forming three sides of a large square, facing the city, and from their position overlooking most of the houses. In the rear of the Parliament Building the rock descends almost perpendicularly to the river Ottawa, from here the view is truly magnificent, and cannot be surpassed on this continent nor in Europe. The broad river is in itself a beautiful object, but the vast extent of distant forest and hill completely absorbs every attention. From this point the Chaudiere Falls are distinctly Letters pre-paid may be sent from one Way office to another, if unpaid they will be sent to the nearest Post Office, and taxed 7 cents.

Letters to QUEBEC, ONTARIO and NEW BRUNSWICK, 5 cents—prepayment optional. Letters to PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND, 5 cents, must be prepaid; if wholly or in part unpaid, they will be forwarded and taxed 5 cents in addition to the postage. Letters for the UNITED STATES, (except Oregon and California) 10 cents; to Oregon and California, 15 cents—must be prepaid.

Official letters addressed to the Provincial and Military Departments, are exempt from prepayment.

Registered letters for the Provincial Public Departments and the Military Departments, addressed to Halifax, can be sent without prepayment of postage or registry fee.

REGISTRATION.—Letters for registry must be posted half an hour previous to the closing of the Mail by which they are to be sent. The postage as well as the Registration fee must be prepaid. The registration of a letter to any place in Nova Scotia, British North America, or the United States is 10 cents; to the United Kingdom, 8½ cents, to Australia and all other places, when passing through the United Kingdom, 25 cents.

Registration is applicable to all descriptions of letters and parcels, whether they contain articles of value or not. Registration is not an absolute guarantee against the miscarriage or loss of a letter; but a registered letter can be traced when one unregistered cannot, and the posting and delivery or non-delivery can be proven. A registered letter is thus secured against many of the casualties which, from incorrect address, forgetfulness of the receiver, or other error, may affect an unregistered letter against actual dishonesty on the part of the Post Office employees, a registered letter is incomparably more secure than an unregistered one—an unregistered letter leaves no trace behind it, whilst passing in the great stream of ordinary correspondence, though its presence as a money letter, and the nature of its contents, are to any person accustomed to handle letters, as manifest, as though the letter had been singled out, and marked by the registered stamp. If the consequences were limited to the mere risk of the loss of the money so sent, the senders of money in unregistered letters might reasonably urge, that if they choose to encounter the risk, they are free to do so; but higher considerations are involved, and the chance of loss to the careless remitter is really but the smallest part of the evil associated with the practice. The department has gone to a great deal of trouble and expense to ensure as far as it is possible, the sure and safe transmission of money by mail—the safest mode of remitting is by money orders,—where there are no money order offices, the Registration system is available.*

* Attention to the above remarks by those who are in the habit of sending money by mail is strongly recommended, and it is further suggested that letters containing money should invariably be secured with the best wax, and not by wafer, mucilage, or self-sealing envelope.

Coffee! Coffee! Roasted and Ground by Steam Power at Sutcliffe's.

DESIGN—To prepare Young Men for Business of all kinds by an actual Business system of Training.

It will be found an excellent discipline for the young person of whatever sphere. It may be acquired by a small outlay of capital, and is a ready passport to success. It improves the salaries of the employed, and secures employment to those wanting such. The times too will require all officers of honour and trust, to be possessed of business habits. For many years the system has been perfected by the experience of the ablest business men, and the better known, the more valued, as is proven by the general opinion of the Press and business community. A few quotations from the St. John's, (N. B.) Press, for example.

"The U. P. C. College is one of the most admirable institutions of the kind in existence.

"Many students have been favoured by merchants, who have visited the College and inspected the system."

"Students acquire a thoroughly practical knowledge of Commercial and Financial operations in all their various and intricate ramifications."

"Numbers have been called away to fill various situations in merchant's offices, &c., before they have half finished their course of study, still continuing to attend a few hours in the evening; and others who have finished their course are now filling first-class situations through the recommendation of the Principal."—St. John Morning Journal.

Precisely the same course is pursued in all our colleges. For particulars please call at the Colleges, or send for a circular (enclosing stamp).

The unequalled success that has attended the application of this medicine in all cases of PULMONARY COMPLAINTS has induced many physicians of high standing to employ it in their practice, some of whom advise us of the fact over their own signatures. THE STAR LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY, 48 Moorgate Street, London. E. C.

CAPITAL ,.....	£100,000	Sterling.
ANNUAL INCOME ,.....	£145,000	“
BONUSES DISTRIBUTED ,.....	£240,000	“
RESERVED FUND ,.....	£647,000	“

Invested on Mortgage of Real Property, Government and other securities. To be able to pay all claims, meet all expenses, and at the same time create such a Fund, shows the prosperous nature of the business, and the secure basis on which the Society rests.

90 PER CENT. of the profits are divided amongst the policy holders.

The next Division of Profits will take place in 1869.

£405,000 Sterling have been paid to the representatives of deceased assurers, the value of which to the WIDOW and FATHERLESS can never be told.

WHAT IS LIFE ASSURANCE ?

It is the exercise of prudence. It secures independence and domestic happiness to the Widow and the Orphan. It affords to persons in every class and in every situation in life, the means to avoid much future misery in their families, and to render them independent of public or private charity.

Admitting the uncertainty of human life, it behoves every head of a family, as well as all who have others dependent on them for support, to consider the position which his family or dependents would be placed in, supposing he were to DIE to-morrow. The great advantage offered by LIFE ASSURANCE, is the certainty of the family of the deceased Assurer receiving a stated amount, even if his death were to take place the moment after he had paid the first premium. Supposing a person insures his life for £500, he is placed in precisely the same position as if he had deposited £500 in the Bank, for the purposes of his family.

The Directors of the "STAR" have decided to appoint AGENTS throughout the Provinces of NOVA SCOTIA and NEW BRUNSWICK, who will receive a liberal remuneration for all business done by them. Applications, accompanied by testimonials, to be made to the GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT of the NOVA SCOTIA BRANCH, who will be happy to afford every information.
