GERMANY FIRMLY RESOLVED NOT TO RATIFY PEACE TREATY

Wilson Proposal to Miners and Operators Expected to End Strike

GERMAN SOCIALISTIC PROPAGANDA REDUXTRACTS AT STRIKERS' TRIAL

Some Western Radicals Thought Toronto Labor Was Rebelling.

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, Dec. 7.—Extracts from socialist propaganda were read at the trial of R. Russell on Saturday afternoon. A. J. Andrews, K.C., crown counsel, read from a pamphlet published by the socialist party of Canada in Vancouver which said that conditions were very promising for a revolution, and that with the coming of peace there would be a great upheaval. This pamphlet said that anyone should put aside all thoughts of a peaceful revolution, as the capitalist class would not surrender without a struggle. Andrews also read from a document said to present the policy of the socialist party to the effect that the "slaves" of Canada should be educated to "take" the power from the capitalist and prepare for the new era, which would come when the socialists had realized their ambitions. This document finished with the following words: "Workers unite. You have nothing to lose but your chains, and a world to gain."

Corporal Zaneth, the secret service man of the R.N.W.M.P., who was a member of the socialist party in the Calgary district, was on the witness stand for about 20 minutes, while Robert Cassidy, K.C., leading counsel for the defence, cross-examined him. Corporal Zaneth characterized Mr. Pritchard as "a good fellow and a good man," when asked to do so, and said that the policy advocated by him was that of direct action. Zaneth denied that Pritchard said that he desired to avoid a revolution.

Questioned About Rifles. When questioned as to the carrying of rifles, Corporal Zaneth said that the Knight of Edmondson had told him that they arrived in the military district. Mr. Cassidy referred to them as government rifles, which statement Zaneth did not contradict. The witness said, however, that he had been loaded rifles in a building on Tenth avenue in Calgary, and that he reported this matter to the government.

Corporal Zaneth defined a socialist by name of Martin of Calgary as a revolutionary.

Fred Law, organizer for W.W.V.A., was a witness at the session on Saturday afternoon. He told in his evidence:

THREE IN CABINET WILL SOON RETIRE Foster, Burrell, A. L. Sifton—Possibly Mewburn—Borden May Go South Again.

Special to The Toronto World. Ottawa, Dec. 7.—Christmas time will see lively times in federal politics. Sir Robert Borden must reconstruct his cabinet. Those who will retire are Sir George Foster, Hon. Martin Burrell and Hon. A. L. Sifton, and probably Hon. S. C. Mewburn. Hon. A. L. Sifton's health makes it impossible for him to remain in political life, and he wishes to retire as soon as possible. General Mewburn may be induced to remain. It is probable Lloyd Harris will enter the government as minister of trade and commerce. Along with him will be new members of the cabinet from New Brunswick and British Columbia.

Borden's Health Poor. Sir Robert Borden remains at the head of the government, but will be unable to present much of the next session. His health is such that he may have to spend the winter in the south. To permit of his absence, he must reconstruct and strengthen his government. The prime minister is faced with a very difficult situation. He must strengthen his government and he must reorganize his cabinet. Health and a weakened constitution to lead in the commons this session, or he may retire.

Hamilton, Dec. 7.—Renewed interest is shown here in the political situation by the news from Ottawa that Hon. Robert Borden is asking Sir Robert Borden to let him out of the portfolio of minister of militia, as his professional work, now more or less neglected for over 15 years, demands his attention. He is tied up to the administration of the very big estate for one thing. If he is relieved of office he would likely keep his seat in the house until the general election at least. It is said that Sir Robert Borden would not need to be re-elected. General Mewburn joined the coalition government as a Liberal-Unionist. Lloyd Harris may take his place in the cabinet as a Liberal.

POLES FOR RECONSTRUCTION Paris, Dec. 7.—A Munich newspaper received here announces that 120,000 Poles laborers will cross South Germany in January for reconstruction work in France.

GERMANY CLAIMS CLAUSE PERPETUATES THE STATE OF WAR

From Information Obtainable in Berlin Official Circles Government is Resolved Not to Sign Ratification Protocol.

Special Cable to Toronto World and New York Tribune. (Copyright 1919). By William C. Dreher. Berlin, Dec. 7.—All information obtainable today in official circles indicated that the government is firmly resolved not to sign the protocol to be ready Monday. Besides disclaiming all responsibility for the sinking of the German fleet at Scapa Flow and refusing to replace that loss, the government takes the position that clauses in the protocol reserving to the governments of the allied and associated powers the right to take any measures whatever against Germany to compel fulfillment of the treaty, will, in effect, perpetuate the state of war. Officials of the governments said that Germany was ready to sign a treaty which meant peace, but not one that exposes the German people to a renewal of warfare at any moment. Gustave Noske, minister of defence, ridiculed the report current in foreign countries, quoted to him by The Tribune correspondent, that Germany was already planning revenge on the allies. No thought of revenge. "It is absurd to speak of leading German military men being filled with plans for revenge on our recent enemies," said Herr Noske. "Their efforts now are being directed entirely toward the re-establishment of peace and order in Germany as soon as possible." Discussing the report that Germany was still maintaining a large army despite the provision under the peace treaty for reduction of troops, Herr Noske emphasized the distinction between the different branches of the Germanized German forces and insisted that the size of the army was being cut to conform to the treaty. "As far as the reduction of the army is concerned," said Herr Noske, "all the responsible authorities of the German government agree that the obligations assumed under the treaty of peace must be met completely. All terms, accordingly, have been taken to reduce the army within three months after the ratification of the treaty." (Continued on Page 2, Column 1).

BORDER CITIES' ELECTORS ENDORSE HYDRO RADIALS

Saturday's Vote Overwhelmingly Backs Beck's Plan to Make Radials Part of Provincial Hydro System.

Special to The Toronto World. Windsor, Dec. 6.—Electors of Essex county at the polls today unqualifiedly endorsed the plan by which the Sandwich, Windsor & Amherstburg Street Railway, a subsidiary of the Detroit United Lines, and supplying local as well as interurban service to Windsor, Walkerville, Ford, Tecumseh, Sandwich, Ojibway, Anderton and the town of Amherstburg, becomes a part of the Ontario Radial Railway Association system to be owned and operated as a public utility by the provincial Hydro-Electric Commission. The vote was against a heavy vote. The storm of the day has left the entire border without street car service for a week, and on this account the total number of ballots cast was less than in previous elections. Electors, however, were not far from a unit in their approval of the plan, and while figures are not available at this hour it is conservatively estimated that the plan has carried by at least ten to one. Snow Hampers Traffic. The light vote was perhaps more apparent in Windsor than in the country districts. Some subdivisions up to noon, for instance, had registered but five per cent. of its total vote, while in others impatient registration officers closed up shop long enough to go home to dinner, and that they did not miss anybody. Snow fell steadily through the day, hampering what little traffic there was, but enthusiasts for the purchase plan got out and hustled for ballots. At seven p.m. two or three county polling places had not been heard from, but Mayor Vintner of Windsor, who had worked hard for the success of the purchase plan, expressed the belief that in every one of the nine municipalities with the possible exception of Anderton township, there would be a safe majority. Will Pay $2,000,000. The Sandwich, Windsor & Amherstburg Street Railway line controls some 24 miles of track in addition to side tracks and car barns. Its eastern terminal is at Tecumseh, eight miles east of Windsor, and the western limit is at Amherstburg, eighteen miles down the river, and at the mouth of the Detroit River. The price to be paid the Detroit United Railway for the lines, including cars and city lighting equipment is $2,000,000. The price will not be paid in cash, but in bonds bearing four per cent. interest and guaranteed by the various municipalities concerned.

WELL-KNOWN FINANCIER MISSING SINCE THURSDAY

Relatives and friends of Donald I. McLeod, 67 High Park avenue, are anxious as to his whereabouts. He left home last Thursday morning and nothing definite has been heard or seen of him since, although he is supposed to have been seen on Friday in High Park. Mr. McLeod is well known in financial circles in Toronto and Montreal. Last year, when manager of the New York office of A. E. Ames & Co., he took a commission in the United States army and later contracted the "flu." After spending several months in the hospital in Washington, he returned to Toronto, last September he suffered a nervous collapse, but after lying up for two months seemed to be progressing, until on Thursday morning he went out for a walk and has not been seen since. It is feared that he has lost his memory and is wandering around the country. Mr. McLeod is described as follows: Height, 5 feet 9 inches; weight, 155 pounds; hair, brown; complexion, pale; age, 33 years; clean shaven. When he left home last Thursday he was wearing a grey suit, collar and tie, a dark overcoat with velvet collar, black seal-skin cap, black boots and rubbers, grey muffler, brown woolen gloves and rimless spectacles. He was carrying letters addressed to 67 High Park avenue, his home.

Bill for Local Prohibition To Come Before British Commons

London, Dec. 7.—The text of a local prohibition bill applying to England and Wales was made public yesterday. The measure will be introduced in the house as a private bill, whose author states he has the backing of a small coterie of members of the House of Commons. The object of the bill is to enable parliamentary electors in prescribed areas by direct vote to prohibit the issue within such areas of licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors and also the common sale or supply of such liquors in licensed premises, clubs or elsewhere. The principal clause provides that during September, 1923, and in the same period in subsequent years, one-tenth of the parliamentary electors of any parish or ward may petition the borough or ward thereof in any urban district may address a written requisition to the borough, urban or district council demanding a poll of the electors on the question of the grant or issue of licenses to premises within the area for the sale, wholesale or retail of intoxicating liquors. When the poll is for prohibition or against it another may be taken before the lapse of three years. The bill is intended to come into operation in 1923.

TO MAKE IRELAND INDEPENDENT ALLY OF BRITISH LABOR

T. P. O'Connor, in Manifesto, Says Tragedy of Country Deepens Hourly.

London, Dec. 7.—T. P. O'Connor, president of the United Irish League of Great Britain, and member of the house of commons for the Scotland division of Liverpool, in a manifesto just issued, says: "The tragedy of Ireland deepens hourly; oppression grows cruel and more widespread and shameless. Civil law has ceased to exist in Ireland in all political concerns. Martial law, justified only in actual warfare, has taken its place. The government in Ireland is Prussian militarism and Orange in its policy. Its methods and its instruments. I have come to the conclusion that we have nothing to expect from the present ministry; they have broken their pledges to Ireland almost in the same breath in which they were uttered. We are determined to make our organization an ally, independent, of the British labor party. "We have now had full opportunity of testing the policy in every community in which the Irish form a section of the population; they have thrown in all their energies, as well as their votes, in favor of the labor candidate, and the Irish have gone to the resentment felt by one people in Great Britain against the present treatment of Ireland by striking a blow for the independence of Ireland, in Great Britain against those responsible for Irish oppression."

BALLANTYNE, MAYOR SIMPSON, CONTROL Independent Labor Party, For First Time, Contests Municipal Seats.

Mayor James Ballantyne, president of the Independent Labor Party, Controller—James Simpson, editor, Industrial Banner. Ward 1—W. J. Storey, Steamfitters' Union. Ward 2—H. H. Hynes, Meat Cutters' Union. Ward 3—William Stephenson, Shipbuilders' Union. Ward 4—James Richards, plumber. Ward 5—Charles Clay, secretary, Canadian Federation of Labor. Ward 6—A. Galsby, Meat Cutters' Union. Ward 7—R. Bond, Street Railwaymen's Union. Ward 8—W. H. Brown, business manager, Boot and Shoe Workers' Union. Board of Education—R. C. Brown, machinist; Louis Braithwaite, business manager, Meat Cutters' Union; W. Beamish, Arthur Glenn, W. F. Sawyer, Fred Henry, Rubber Workers' Union; J. E. Fowle. James Ballantyne for the mayoralty and James Simpson for the controllership. This, with many aldermanic candidates, was the state of the Labor party as expressed at the meeting of the labor representative committee on Saturday night. The meeting endorsed all the bylaws but one of those which are to be submitted to the electorate on January 1. This one exception was the suggestion of Alex. Doy, of the Edison Company, that retail stores agree on shorter hours, probably noon to six p.m. Automobile factories got dependent on the Edison Company for power will be permitted to use the fuel they have on hand, when this supply is gone no more will be allowed them. This includes a number of larger factories including Ford Motor Company, which announced today it had coal on hand "for immediate future."

FRANCE'S HEAVY TOLL IN LIVES OF OFFICERS

Paris, Dec. 7.—Eighteen and seventeen per cent of the officers mobilized during the war were killed or died of wounds, according to official statistics published today. Sixteen per cent of the rank and file died in similar causes.

NEW INTEREST AROUSED IN PRESIDENT'S ILLNESS

Senator Fall Intimates After Interview, That Case is One of Locomotor Ataxia or Paralysis—Resignation May Come.

Washington, Dec. 7.—(Special.)—The visit of Senators Fall and Hitchcock to the president's bedside, and their report of the interview, has become the principal theme for discussion over the week-end at the capital. Both senators agree that the president's mind is clear, and that he seems to have a good grasp of the Mexican situation. They report that he took an active part in the conversation, moved both arms freely, and seemed to be in fair condition. It was reported that he had been confined to his bed during the past ten weeks. Senator Fall, however, is not satisfied in his own mind as to the president's physical condition. He more than intimated that Mr. Wilson may be suffering from paralysis or locomotor ataxia. The two senators went to the White House as an unofficial committee from congress to satisfy themselves, and report as to the president's mental condition. Mr. Wilson has been so closely guarded, so few people have been allowed to see him, and such an air of mystery has surrounded the

PRESIDENT HAS MADE A DEFINITE PROPOSAL TO END COAL STRIKE

TROOPS HAD $5,000,000 IN BRITISH CURRENCY

Ottawa, Dec. 7.—(Special.)—The soldiers coming from England have brought with them British currency to the value of five million dollars, which is now in the finance department and on which the soldiers received the benefit of the exchange. "The tragedy of Ireland deepens hourly; oppression grows cruel and more widespread and shameless. Civil law has ceased to exist in Ireland in all political concerns. Martial law, justified only in actual warfare, has taken its place. The government in Ireland is Prussian militarism and Orange in its policy. Its methods and its instruments. DETROIT FACTORIES FEEL FUEL PINCH

Eleven Close Today, Throwing 55,000 Men Out of Work.

Special to The Toronto World. Detroit, Mich., Dec. 7.—Eleven Detroit factories announced they will close down either completely or in part beginning Monday, throwing approximately 55,000 men out of work as a result of government order limiting their power supply to conserve coal. Only absolutely essential industries are permitted to operate with Detroit Edison power. Detroit Edison Power Company supplies seven per cent of the city's factories. Coupled with curtailment of fuel for industries as the suggestion of Alex. Doy, of the Edison Company, that retail stores agree on shorter hours, probably noon to six p.m. Automobile factories got dependent on the Edison Company for power will be permitted to use the fuel they have on hand, when this supply is gone no more will be allowed them. This includes a number of larger factories including Ford Motor Company, which announced today it had coal on hand "for immediate future."

RAISE BRANTFORD COAL

Brantford, Ont., Dec. 7.—(Special.)—Hard coal has been raised here to $13.50 a ton. One dealer claimed his profit at $13 was six cents a ton, it costing $8.25 F.O.B. the mines.

REPORTED TERMS OF WILSON'S OFFER

Chicago, Dec. 7.—The proposal presented to John L. Lewis, acting president, and William Green, secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, by President Wilson and Attorney-General Palmer in Washington last night, included a 14 per cent advance to miners and the appointment of a commission to study wages, profits, and all conditions surrounding the industry upon resumption of work by the striking miners, according to private advices from the national capital, received by Dr. F. C. Honold, secretary of the Illinois Coal Operators' Association today.

COMMUNITY BASIS BEST FOR NORTH, SAYS E. C. DRURY

Premier Considers Scores of Suggestions While Touring North Country.

Cochrane, Dec. 7.—"Good roads are the first essential in the development of this country," Mayor J. A. McInnis of Timmins told Premier E. C. Drury and his colleagues, Hon. Henry Mills and Hon. Beniah Bowman at tea board of trade luncheon held in the gold camp town yesterday, and his remarks have been echoed at various other meetings held in this northern section of Timiskaming over the week-end. One speaker after another has broached the question of better highways to the attention of the cabinet ministers, and at Timmins, Irons Falls and Cochrane the subject was never long absent from the discussions. Speaking on this question at Irons Falls last evening, Mr. Small, a secretary of the township, said that this country as it stands, a virgin forest, was of no use to the province, but that it could not be expected that the province would go to the trouble and expense of clearing a virgin forest, and live on wind roads were an absolute necessity, he said. John Vanier, defeated labor candidate in the provincial election, said the majority of the vote were but lines on the map. A. P. Brigham, manager of the Hollinger mine; the Braddette of the recently organized Township of Glackmeyer, Manager Anson of the A. P. and P. Co., and Reeve Morgan of Tisdale spoke in a similar strain, and at every gathering held from all walks of life impressed upon the members of the government the urgent necessity of providing good highways if it was to prosper. Other requests there were in plenty and these have become so numerous that the premier has said he would like a special car to convey them to Toronto for consideration. The summer fire portage on the country has been broached at different places, the extension of the T. & N. O. Ry. to James Bay, and an improvement in the government service has been brought before the party; the settling of the north on a community basis, including, while other suggestions made, have included the making of the provincial riding of Cochrane a district with this place as the district seat; the devolution of the water powers of the country; the eight-hour day for collar

MORE CANCELING OF RAILWAY TRAINS

Cutting Off 35 to Save Fuel—Includes a Transcontinental.

Montreal, Dec. 7.—So serious is the coal shortage affecting Canadian railways that one of the crack transcontinental trains is being canceled, to-day, reports the Associated Press. A total saving of 18,919 train miles a week and effecting a saving of 5000 tons of coal per month, according to the Railway Association of Canada (the Canadian railway war board). With this additional cut on the Canadian Pacific Railway the total reduction of passenger train service in Canada to date, as a result of the American coal strike, amounts to 324,000 passenger train miles per month, or 3,888,000 per year. This represents a saving in coal at the rate of 240,000 tons per annum. The reduction is equal to 1.18 per cent of the total steam passenger train mileage of the Dominion.

WILL BE PRESENTED TO POLICY BOARD OF MINERS—ATTORNEY-GENERAL, WITH TWO CHIEFS OF MINERS, NOW ON WAY TO INDIANAPOLIS—VEIL OF SECRECY TO BE LIFTED TOMORROW.

Washington, Dec. 7.—Government proposals for settling the coal strike were tonight cloaked in a veil of mystery which promised to lift only at Indianapolis Tuesday, when the federal court and the leaders of the United Mine Workers alike will be called upon to consider them. Attorney-General Palmer and his special assistant, Judge Ames, were traveling to Indianapolis tonight on the same train with John L. Lewis, acting president, and William Green, secretary of the Mine Workers' Union, whose secretariat and equally secret conference yesterday afternoon and Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, resulted in a provisional agreement to settle. Not one cent could be added to the price on coal to finance wage increases to the miners greater than the 14 per cent he suggested which operators could pay out of profits, and that as it was behind him in the stand. It also was pointed out that on Nov. 26 he suggested this basis of agreement to the miners, with a proviso that an arbitration commission be appointed by the president to review his decision with power to change it if the commission found the government's estimate. This proposal the miners' representatives then instantly rejected. Attorney-General Palmer's sources there was only the attorney-general's statement issued last midnight that a "definite concrete proposition from the present looking government to the settlement of the strike" had been taken before Lewis and Green, and that they had agreed to recommend it to the national executive board of the United Mine Workers of America, with a view to reaching an understanding between the government and the miners, which would result in a settlement of the coal strike situation. "At this conference there was submitted a definite concrete proposition from the president, looking to a speedy termination of the strike situation and an adjustment of the entire controversy. The officers of the United Mine Workers, in response to the suggestion of the president, agreed to, and have called a meeting of the general body of the representatives of all the districts, organizations and the international executive board of the United Mine Workers, to be held in Indianapolis on Tuesday, Dec. 9, at 2 o'clock p.m. In view of the president's proposal will be considered and its acceptance by the miners urged by Mr. Lewis and Mr. Green. The attorney-general will be in Indianapolis on Tuesday."

REPORTED TERMS OF WILSON'S OFFER

Chicago, Dec. 7.—The proposal presented to John L. Lewis, acting president, and William Green, secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, by President Wilson and Attorney-General Palmer in Washington last night, included a 14 per cent advance to miners and the appointment of a commission to study wages, profits, and all conditions surrounding the industry upon resumption of work by the striking miners, according to private advices from the national capital, received by Dr. F. BIG DEVELOPMENT AT PEACE RIVER

Oil Discoveries There and Further North Awaken Great Interest.

Peace River, Alta., Dec. 7.—Every thing points to tremendous activities in this country during the coming year. Lady Macworth, who is now the directing head of the Lord Rhonda interests in the Peace River country, has given instructions to build a fast river boat to ply between Peace River town and Hudson's Hope, which is 260 miles up the river in British Columbia.

Hudson's Hope will be the centre of considerable oil drilling during the coming year. The Imperial Oil Co., Anglo-Canadian Oil Co., Peace River Petroleum Limited, a Toronto organization, and the Shell Transport Co. will be operating in this district, and on account of the large amount of freight that must be moved up the river, this boat will be specially built for the purpose.

The Lord Rhonda interests will also drill for oil in the Peace River country, and develop their vast interests, which include oil lands, coal lands, steam heat shipping lines, and a chain of trading stores.

During this season the Union Oil Company of California had their geologists look over the Peace River country and as a result they purchased a large block of oil leases, and will be developing them in a large way during the year 1920. This company has as its representative, Mr. Talpey, a well-known California oil expert. Mr. Talpey drilled for his company two wells in the Athabasca gas sands during 1918 and 1919. The drilling rigs in Athabasca have been dismantled and are being moved to Peace River to commence operations in the coming year.

Word has been received from Petrolia, Ont., that a group of old-time oil men have secured a large block of leases in the Peace River country, near Peace River town, and close to some of the wells now being drilled. The Petrolia syndicate will be commencing operations at an early date. Their representative from Petrolia visited the field recently, and was well satisfied with the oil shows which have been discovered in the wells now drilling.

A remarkable showing of oil has been discovered at the Victory Oil Company's wells which were first drilled to 960 feet, with a 13' casing set tight on bottom. Two splendid discoveries of oil were made at 720 and 775 feet. During the past few weeks the oil has been gradually working over the top of the casing. As a result the higher grade than has yet been discovered in the wells farther down the river. The Victory Oil Company are drilling under a sub-lease from the Consolidated Company, which is now controlled by Peace River Petroleum Limited.

It is estimated at least 20 new drilling outfits will be operating in the territory next season.

There is plenty of time to have your home wired and lighted by electric light before Christmas. Estimates free. Phone College 1878.

GERMANY TO REFUSE PEACE RATIFICATION

...to 100,000 by April 1, 1920. The organization of Einwohnervorposten, home guards, for the protection of life and property, however, the minister continued, "does not conflict with the terms of the peace treaty, as these organizations are not under military authority and are not a part of them with modern weapons is justified by the fact that certain quantities of such weapons are still in the hands of certain criminal elements in the German population.

Heavily armed police companies exist now in the contrary the German government has determined its police system and the home guard service in an unshakable determination to put down the unruly elements that got out of control during the long war, and in the subsequent revolution. The government wants only to establish peace and order in the country, without which no effort to effect the terms of the peace treaty is quite impossible.

In reply to inquiry regarding reports from a board that many of the German troops have refused to take the oath of allegiance to the new constitution, Herr Noske said that all Reichswehr (national defence) troops had sworn to the new constitution without the slightest unpleasant incident.

Minister Noske said that the evacuation of the Baltic provinces, as insisted upon by the allies, was proceeding smoothly and that the German troops which had been in that region would be discharged under the supervision of the allied commission and General Njessel.

"As to what credence should be given foreign reports that Germany is working for common action with Russia, Herr Noske said: "It is utterly absurd to speak of co-operation between Germany and Russia and any similar movement is a foot in Russia, especially since the allies' attack upon the Bolsheviks from the east and the west have been broken down."

May Send New Delegation.

Berlin, Dec. 7.—Reports are current that Baron von Lersner and his peace delegates will not be replaced by a new delegation comprising financiers, business men and leaders of the Hauswart League, in addition to diplomats. The Liberal "Vossische Zeitung" attacks the government for its method of handling the situation and accused it of trying to achieve, thru a ruse, what it entered into what it has been unable to accomplish by negotiation.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

ADMIRAL JELICOE HONORS EARLSCOURT

Pays Tribute to Glorious Dead at B. I. A. Memorial Service.

"It is a great pleasure for me to preside at this meeting of thanksgiving service to Earlscourt's brave men who gave their lives in the great war," were the opening words of Hon. Lloyd H. Clarke, lieutenant-governor of Ontario, the chairman at the Oakwood Theatre, corner Oakwood and St. Clair, on Sunday night. It was the eighth memorial service held under the auspices of the British Imperial Association, and records the death of 328 men of Earlscourt and district killed in action or died of wounds during the flag of the motherland and Canada since August, 1914.

In introducing Admiral Lord Jellicoe, who was received with musical honors, the entire audience standing and cheering, his honor remarked there could be no question as to who had won the war for the allies—it was the British navy.

Admiral Lord Jellicoe said he was sorry to disagree with Mr. Clarke's statement that the British navy had won the war, and he would like to correct him. It was the British navy that had made it possible for the gallant armies on the continent of Europe to win the war. The people of Earlscourt, said Lord Jellicoe, give of their best, and this service appeals to the heart for the gallant deeds of Earlscourt men who have gone and to whom "we owe the deepest debt of gratitude. Neither must we forget the deep sympathy we owe to those loved ones who were left behind, and it is indeed a great pleasure for Lady Jellicoe, and myself to be here, as we realize more than you may think the part that Earlscourt has played in the war."

Lord Jellicoe had to leave early, but before doing so both he and Lady Jellicoe shook hands with eight heavily wounded men from the Christie Hospital, and also with several war widows who were present. To Mrs. Rogers, who had seven sons in the war, the admiral spoke for a few minutes congratulating her on such a fine record.

ST. DAVID'S ANNIVERSARY

Anniversary services were held at St. David's Presbyterian Church, Harvie and St. Clair, yesterday. Prominent preachers occupied the pulpit in the morning. The Rev. J. E. MacNicol, subject being "The Church in Relation to Labor." Rev. E. Crossley Hunter presided, and the men's orchestra, under Mr. Robins, played. Messrs. W. A. Cameron was at the piano.

The committee desire to place on record their thanks to the Messrs. Crang Bros., proprietors of the Oakwood Theatre, for donating the theatre for this memorial service.

Fred Bancroft of the Labor Union gave an address to the Men's Own Brotherhood on Sunday afternoon at the Central Methodist Church, subject being "The Church in Relation to Labor." Rev. E. Crossley Hunter presided, and the men's orchestra, under Mr. Robins, played. Messrs. W. A. Cameron was at the piano.

STILL UNCONSCIOUS.

Father of Little Girl Killed by Radial Car at Thornhill Crossing Lies in Stupor.

Dr. W. A. Bond, the physician in attendance on Mr. and Mrs. William Cummer, who met with such a distressing accident when their motor car was struck by a radial on the Metropolitan Railway at Thornhill on Thursday night, stated to The World last night that Mr. Cummer, the eight-year-old boy, had not recovered consciousness. Mrs. Cummer, the seriously injured, having three ribs broken, is doing well. The little daughter, Edith, aged 11, was in the car at the time, died about 8 o'clock on Saturday morning.

An inquest touching the death of the little girl will open at the city morgue at 11 o'clock this morning.

Out thru the county, where Mr. Cummer was widely known and held in the highest esteem, the greatest grief is felt by the family. The place where the radial car struck the motor is one of the most dangerous on the whole line, the approach being hidden on either side by the trees. The radial car was seen by the motorist in the tracks before setting out at high speed at this point.

YORK TOWNSHIP AND HYDRO.

The electors of York township are annoyed at the council not having a bylaw guaranteeing the township's share of the Hydro radial east and north thru the township ready for submission at the next council meeting. It is possible yet for the council to put the bylaw thru in time to get busy. Sir Adam Beck told the township council that the Hydro radial is now the only way to close up the whole deal and to allow the project to get under way for the next year. The city's utility goes on election day, so should the township one.

PROMINENT FARMER DIES

After a short illness William James, one of the best known residents and farmers of West York, died at his home on Saturday last. Mr. James was in his 71st year and had been born on the farm where he died. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Agnes James, and three children, Oswald, Laura and Harold. He was a member of the Ancient Order of United Workmen and attended the Presbyterian church at Thornhill. E. A. James, county superintendent and engineer, is a relative.

Young People's Society Revived by Presbyterians

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of Rhodes Avenue Presbyterian Church, which was dormant during the war years, owing to the large number of members enlisted, has now been revived. Bernard Madely, who was president before the war, was killed in action, and his brother, Richard Madely, George Wright and Miss Ivy Haddon are the new officers. The society meets on Monday evenings.

EVANGELIST CROWDS CHURCH.

Riverdale Presbyterian Church, Pope avenue, was crowded both morning and evening yesterday when Rev. F. A. Robinson commenced a two weeks' series of evangelistic services. The preacher outlined the power of his ten years' experience. He found that Christianity was the only panacea to cure existing evils. In London, England, the influence of socialism in a great many instances was successfully combated by Christian teaching, he affirmed.

Special solos were rendered by the choir. L. Hunter, pastor, assisted.

TRIBUTE TO LATE D. BEWLEY.

Rev. Dr. Seager, rector St. Matthew's Church, First avenue, paid a feeling tribute to the late David Bewley, 207 Booth avenue, a prominent member of the church, recently deceased. Mr. Bewley, who lived in his wife and grown-up children. One son, Stanley, was killed in action overseas.

DEATH SADDENS CONGREGATION.

The congregation of Hope Methodist Church was saddened by the announcement of the death of Mrs. David Liddell, 2153 East Gerrard street, which took place at Wellesley Hospital yesterday evening. Rev. A. I. Terryberry, pastor, paid tributes to the excellence of the deceased who was a prominent member of the church and active in all church work.

WORK FOR THE GOOD OF THE COMMUNITY

Technical School Needed.

With approximately 600 night students in the Riverdale district, Percy Douglas, school trustee, recommended the residents of the east end to agitate for a technical school in the district. He pointed out that the city had sufficient land for the purpose and the government should pay half the cost.

Ald. F. M. Johnston, ward one, who has been a patient for some time in Wellesley Hospital, is now convalescent and is leaving for his home, 49 Victor avenue, today. He is positively for the field for aldermanic honors at the next municipal election.

ALD. JOHNSTON IN FIELD.

"DEVIL'S DIP" FILLED IN

East Gerrard street hollow or "Devil's Dip" now filled in and the street car tracks laid. Service is resumed along East Gerrard street to Greenwood avenue by the Queen cars.

IN APPEAL FOR LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE.

The annual appeal on behalf of the Lord's Day Alliance was made by Rev. D. W. Snider at the morning service in Simpson Avenue Methodist Church yesterday. There was a good response by the congregation. Rev. R. Patterson, pastor, officiated at the evening service.

TO HEAR CANDIDATES

At a meeting of the Danforth Ratepayers' Association, held at the Danforth school, held on Saturday evening, it was decided to give aspirants for municipal honors an opportunity to address the members at the annual meeting of the association, to be held at the school, Logan avenue.

The following resolutions will be submitted for the endorsement of candidates: That compulsory vaccination be eliminated from our statute books; and "That a free maternity hospital, under municipal control, be established in the Riverdale district."

Educational Reformer Ready To Contest Munro Appointment

Regarding the stand taken by the board of education in the confirmation of the Peter Munro appointment, T. L. Howard, president of the Educational Reform Association, stated to The World last evening that he is prepared to contest the matter thru the law courts, claiming that the appointment is illegal, and that the teachers of the public schools were in line for the position.

"Personally, I have no ill-feeling towards Mr. Munro," he stated, "but we are determined to see justice done in all board of education matters, and our organization will place candidates in the field at the forthcoming board of education elections who will carry out the wishes of the citizens if elected."

HAMILTON

Hamilton, Dec. 7.—While on duty on North Hess street, Constable Wheeler slipped on a slide made on the sidewalk by children sleighing, and fell, dislocating his right arm.

James Simpson, who was the speaker at the first open forum held under the auspices of the I. L. P. in the Playhouse Theatre, outlined the history of the Labor party in Canada and his relation to the Farmers.

William R. Allen, aged 74 years, brother of John Allen, ex-M.L.A., and George R. Allen, died at his residence, 132 South Caroline street. He was a prominent Oddfellow.

Nicholas Curtis, nine years old, is suffering from a fractured skull. He was knocked down on North James street by a motor truck.

The death occurred in Mount Hamilton Hospital today of Mary Jane Asplinn, wife of Sylvester Higson, 6 East 33rd street, Mount Hamilton.

An interesting ceremony was held in Colvin Presbyterian Church this evening, when two elders, John Baker and James Colwell, were ordained.

A memorial window for six members who gave their lives in the world war was unveiled in Zion Tabernacle Methodist Church.

denance about the meeting of the association held during the strike at Manitowish Hall, at which resolutions favoring the strike were passed.

This meeting, he said, was packed by returned soldiers sympathetic to the strike.

Letters passed between Russell and other people, including Dickie, W. A. Fritchard, Thomas Cassidy and Earl Berg, were put in as evidence. One of the letters from Thomas Cassidy to the accused was read by J. B. Coyne, K.C., counsel for the crown.

In this letter, which was dated North Bay, April 12, 1919, Mr. Cassidy said that he had expected greater things from the Calgary convention, and was glad to see that he was not doomed to disappointment. It was evident to him, said the writer, that the convention had placed indirect opposition to American fossilization of labor, with all its ramifications. Mr. Cassidy also advocated communication between reds as being particularly necessary at the time of writing. The letter referred to the Trades Council at Toronto, which, it is said, might at the time of writing have passed over to the reds. A large union of meat workers had been organized for the purpose of this "coup," the letter concluded as follows:

"Well, I feel I have written sufficient for the present. Hoping you all realize that the revolution is here now.

"Yours in revolt," (Signed) "T. S. Cassidy."

Reads Lenine Article

An article outlined in the issue of The Strike Bulletin distributed, entitled "Fight all capitalists," by Nicholas Lenine, was read by the crown and the bulletin introduced as evidence. The article stated that the Russian revolution was not domestic but world-wide and declared that Russia would be the result of a world-wide revolution. The article continued, advocating the destruction of all monarchies, which it declared were a menace to the world.

OFFICIAL OPENING AT GUELPH TODAY

Special to The Toronto World. Guelph, Ont., Dec. 7.—With the exception of a few beef cattle and some sheep which are on the way from the Chicago livestock show, the Ontario Provincial Winter Fair is all ready for the official opening tomorrow, when Mr. Manning Doherty, Ontario minister of agriculture, will declare the fair open and will also deliver an address at the first of the directors' luncheon to be held at noon. The fair this year is fully up to the high standard of other years, and in some particulars even surpasses them. There never was a finer display of beef cattle than that on exhibition in the fair buildings today, and when the judges begin their work tomorrow afternoon they will find that their task is not an easy one. The exhibit of horses, particularly the heavy ones, is excellent, and the dairy test, which began on Tuesday night, came to a close at 10 o'clock tonight, and the results will be awaited with a great deal of interest.

Exceptional Milk Records.

There are several cows which have been making exceptional records. The James Bagg & Son, of Edgely, and a big Holstein, owned by Charles C. Best, of Jarvis, the Ayrshires are also showing up well, and it is possible that some surprises may be sprung when the results of the test are made known on Tuesday morning.

The poultry was all judged yesterday and general satisfaction was given by the judges. Some of the seed grain, corn and potatoes were also judged. The exhibit of potatoes this year is the finest ever seen here, some extra fine specimens coming from northern Ontario.

More Judging Today.

CHURCHES HOLD BIBLE SUNDAY

Adopt Resolution of International Sunday School Convention in U. S.

In accordance with a resolution adopted by an international Sunday School convention in the United States some time ago in which a day was set aside for the universal study of the Bible throughout America. The resolution pointed out the various educational values to be derived and appointed the third Sunday before Christmas as the day of study. The order was generally recognized in Toronto yesterday. Among those preaching directly on the Bible were the Bishop of Toronto, and others.

The Bishop of Toronto, preaching on the Bible at St. Mark's Church as the guide of life, touched on the relation of the Scriptures to the forward movement. "Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear, the words of the prophecy, and keep the things which are written therein: for the time is at hand. This text, from the first chapter of Revelation, might be taken as a condensed statement of the truth that from Genesis to Revelation the prophecies of this Book have been verified, and are still being fulfilled as the ages are converging towards eternity. This day has now a new significance. Not only does the season of Advent prepare the minds of Christians for that tremendous event, the second coming of our Lord, but it also the authority of the Word of God when we recognize this as Bible Sunday. Such recognition is extending, not only in Great Britain and the other British Dominions, but in the United States, in India, China, and elsewhere throughout the world. Such observance should tend to a greater acceptance of the injunction in the Word itself: "Search the Scriptures" to the end that all may come to a knowledge of the salvation offered therein. An eminent divine has well said that the Old Testament is the New Testament concealed, and the New Testament is the Old Testament revealed. The old foreshadows the coming of the incarnate God in the flesh, and two fundamental doctrines of the New Testament are the manifestation of the person of the Son of Man, and his coming in great power and glory to inaugurate his reign.

Library of Books.
The Bible is more than a book—it is a divine library of 66 books, which required a period of 1600 years to compile. A source of history it is unique, for it contains the story of the human race in its incalculable variety, from the dawn of life to the day in which we live. Taking our stand at this point in the annals of the human race, we realize that it has a message for every nation and every individual in every circumstance. By it God rediscovers Himself to men, and thru its disclosures of His inestimable love we have the presence of the human triumph thru His Son, the Saviour. As a work of literature and philosophy, the Bible explores the profound depths and the sublime heights of the human mind. As a text-book for the business man it has a value beyond compare as a lamp of life. It illuminates when other counsels are dark, and as a chart of the soul it warns us of every reef and danger.

Object of Movement.
The right apprehension of the Bible as the guide of life is the controlling factor in the present forward movement. If we thought the main purpose of the movement was the raising of money to appropriate, without respect to spiritual ends, he would have nothing to say to it, nor would he advise any man to support it. The true object of the forward movement was the deeper devotion of ourselves to the spread of the kingdom of God on earth. We must of necessity keep the truths of God's Word to ourselves, when we realize that Christ came not to condemn the world, but that the world, thru Him, might be saved. At the Church of the Epiphany yesterday, Dr. Dyson Hague preached on the text: "For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning." This topic was chosen because the words were written by an inspiration, written for the everlasting instruction of every tribe and nation. Dr. Hague said he would like to give a book containing the story of the writing of the Bible, to everyone. No one would scold at it, for the story is marvellous. How did sixty-six volumes, written thousands of years ago, in different languages and on different subjects, all come together? They were the production of one mind, during one age, all written at God's dictation. There was no writing in the time of Jesus, and that a non-writing nation should have produced the books of the ages most remarkable. Moses was commanded to write and thus the book began, the how he wrote will be forever hidden from us. The Old Testament, David, Daniel, etc., began to write, and thus the book was evolved. If the work had been spoken only, there would have been inaccuracies, but God willed that the books should be written in order that they might not pass away. God was thinking of us, and they were written for our learning. Even our small children are more familiar with the characters of the Bible than with the great men in history.

A returned soldier advised a Montreal clergyman to get rid of the Old Testament, but that would be a great mistake. The only Bible St. Paul ever had was the Old Testament, and nothing has been altered since his day. It is written for our benefit—for Gentiles more than for Jews. It tells us about the beginning of everything, but more than that, it tells us what we are. The Old Testament gives an answer to the first question a human being asks: "Where did I come from?" "In the beginning God"—the maker of man. Take Christ out of the Old Testament and we lose the Passover, the symbol of the service, and the 6th chapter of Isaiah. From the Old Testament St. Paul extracted whole gospels. It was written that we might "read, mark, learn and inwardly digest"—hear with our inner ear, learn by heart, and meditate upon its precious truths. Its counsels strengthen the weary, uplift the fallen, and stand for the redemption of man thruout the ages.

Fuel Controller Warns Optimism Against Premature Optimism
In connection with the recent report received from Washington that an early settlement of the strike of the bituminous miners is expected, A. H. Harrington, fuel controller for Ontario, said last night that premature optimism would be very unwise, and that as great and every greater conservation of soft coal should be practiced in the future, as has been practiced since the strike. Mr. Harrington points out that the strike will cost many millions of tons behind the regular output and that this must be made up. Also the American industries are in a difficult position for fuel as Ontario is.

LABOR NEWS

TORONTO NEEDS CITY MOTHERS

Mrs. L. A. Hamilton Makes Suggestions at the Open Forum.

That the many pale faces of children, undergrown condition of the men and women and general sense of restlessness had a very real cause and that that cause was among other things lack of sufficient air and accommodation due in many cases to the profiteering instincts of landlords and that the housing question was perhaps the most important of any affecting Toronto was the opinion expressed at the Open Forum yesterday afternoon by Mrs. L. A. Hamilton, who also forecasted a city council of both city fathers and city mothers.

Mrs. Hamilton described the present system of calling for property qualifications for aldermanic candidates. She also urged street reservations for children in certain localities so that they might be able to run about in the fresh air without running the risk of being knocked down by automobiles, and another hope she expressed was that the date of municipal elections would be changed from January 1 to a more suitable date.

Mrs. Hamilton in the course of her address quoted landlords' profits as high as 200 per cent. In 37 cases investigated it had been found that 23 rents had been increased 25 per cent since 1914, 16 forty per cent, 22 a little over a hundred per cent, and 6 200 per cent. All of which had resulted in overcrowding. She told of some families where parents slept in one room with five children, where leakages, bad plumbing and general filth condition featured many homes, while in some cases whole streets called for condemnation at the hands of the health department.

Accommodation for Girls.
Another matter which called for special comment, said the speaker, was the kind of accommodation afforded girls from outside Toronto. Large waiting lists featured conditions at the Sherbourne House and "Y" buildings, and when girls took rooms at ordinary lodging houses they suffered the lack of proper rooms in which to welcome their friends. But perhaps the most notable defect in Toronto, as perhaps in Canada generally, was the peculiar treatment of men and women in Europe. Mrs. Hamilton asked if it was the intention of the people of Toronto to permit the poetical and musical imaginative natures of the southern Europeans to be crushed and destroyed thru lack of that touch of sympathy without which none could live.

In conclusion the speaker called upon the citizens of Toronto to submit to no boss system of rule, and to try wherever possible to effect the fullest co-operation between men and women on all matters pertaining to government no matter where. Need of homes in the outlying districts where the air was pure and of decent transportation, where no man or woman was obliged to hang onto a car by the eyebrows formed the essential needs of the moment, and to this end men and women should work to elect a really representative city council.

POSTAL CLERKS ACCEPT AFFILIATION PRINCIPLE

Following an address delivered by Alfred Manco, secretary of Toronto Trades Council, upon the merits of trades unionism, the Postal Clerks' Association decided to accept the principle of affiliation with the Trades Council, so far as Toronto was concerned. It was pointed out, however, that a Dominion-wide referendum of the association was being taken in the matter, and that two weeks or more would elapse before the association decided to take this step. It was stated to the World that many individual associations had already expressed a desire to affiliate with the trades councils of their respective towns, but that the referendum would decide the matter for the entire Dominion command of the association. The vote of individual locals thruout the Dominion had indicated that the referendum would favor affiliation 75 per cent.

JAMES BALLANTYNE AT PEOPLE'S FORUM

Says I. L. P. Best Party to Serve Mass of People.

The St. George's Hall on Elm street was rather poorly filled last night when James Ballantyne of the independent Labor Party addressed the People's Forum on "Why the I. L. P. can best serve the people of Canada in the near future." Mr. Ballantyne traced the development of freedom of political parties in the old country that had brought them down to the time of Adam Smith and his references to democracy as economic servitude. Mr. Ballantyne declared that political parties in Canada had formed their institutions on English lines, and in both countries as time advanced labor was squeezed out of all power by two political parties and then began to organize itself and out of it all came trade unions. The present was the time for the establishment of a new party and one that would stand for the removal of economic servitude of the individual and the rights to a fuller expression of all power. He intended the present Conservative party did not stand for these principles or we should not have such orders-in-council as we have today.

I. L. P. the Only Party
The one party in Canada, said Mr. Ballantyne, which was likely to exercise influence in that direction was the I. L. P. The Conservative party were for a high tariff, the Liberals for a low one, and the Farmers were also for a tariff in any country. He said, "could not add one dollar to the wealth of that country. It might, however, influence the distribution of the wealth produced." The miner said, "I would not produce political freedom," he declared. Wealth should be conscripted, he said, and it was no use people arguing that this was now done by collecting it thru a so-called business tax. The producer to cover the amount of that tax put the sum on his price to the consumer. The fact was not the acute industrial situation in Canada as in other countries at the present moment was accounted for so Mr. Ballantyne said, by the fact that Canada had no great centralization of population. The great question before Canada today was the development of her resources and if the people were to get the benefit from such development very different means from those at present in use would be necessary. In this relation Mr. Ballantyne referred to the coal strike in the U. S. A. and declared the operators regulated production by limiting the work in the mines. The miner said, "he declared, 'give me a six-hour day and six days a week and I will produce coal, but the ideal of the miner was overridden by the operators." Mr. Ballantyne did not consider it a healthy thing for Canada to depend on the U. S. A. for her coal when they could do it themselves. He urged the miners and conduct them for the benefit of the people.

In Alien Hands.
It would be interesting, he said, to know just what natural resources of Canada were in the hands of foreign capital. The I. L. P., he declared, believed in industrial citizenship, and would give to the worker that which he had dreamed about. Every workman and woman should have as much say in the industrial production of the nation as they have politically. They should have equal powers and directors in the management of a plant, as both were necessary and essential to the business. In referring to the Farmers' movement, he declared they gave the political liberty they all wanted, but they did not go far enough to please the worker. He foresaw the Farmers' movement taking the place of the Liberal party in Canada, and he trusted Labor would work by its side.

Mr. Ballantyne made a brief reference to the coming civic election, and said that Labor hoped that a big majority in the affirmative would be given for all the questions except one to be put to the electors on Jan. 1. The question was whether or not the one in relation to the street railway franchise. He thought every voter in the city was entitled to vote on the question and not, as the bylaw stated, a privileged class only.

SOLDIERS FAVOR CO-OPERATION

Comrade Charles H. Stock, secretary of the Soldiers' Independent Labor party, stated yesterday afternoon that while the returned men had no intention of affiliating with any labor movement, they were pretty well in one with the idea of co-operating to the extent of conferring with representatives of the labor party respecting the question of placing candidates so as to not conflict with each other. This was provided the labor party was in favor of any such co-operation. In these circumstances conferences might result in soldiers championing labor candidates in one riding and laborites championing soldier candidates in other ridings.

MANY LIVES SAVED.

Royal Life Saving Society Reports Wonderful Year's Record.

"The most successful year in the history of the Ontario branch." Such was the general opinion at the 11th annual meeting of the Ontario branch of the Royal Life Saving Society of England, which was held at the scout headquarters, East Bloor street, on Dec. 5 last. Owing to the absence of A. L. Cochrane, president, on account of illness, the chair was occupied by E. A. Chasman, first vice-president. No less than 781 awards for proficiency in swimming and life saving were granted this year, an increase of 220 over last year, making a grand total of 3,841 awards granted during the 11 years the Ontario branch has been organized.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS.

The switch so convenient in the home for turning on and off the electric light finds its counterpart in the large generating and sub-stations of the power company. The interrupting of the large currents often at high voltages there encountered imposes very severe conditions upon the design of the circuit-breakers made for this purpose. Some of the difficulties encountered by the circuit breaker designer were described in a paper read by G. A. Burnham, chief engineer of the Condit Electrical Manufacturing Company, Boston, before the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, Toronto section, at the Engineers' Club on Friday evening.

CHARGED UNDER O. T. A.

Clare J. Belding, 50 Homewood avenue, was arrested last night by Policeman Pillinger on Bay street, charged with a breach of the Ontario temperance act. Belding had a bottle whiskey on him when arrested.

PILES

Do not suffer another day with itching, bleeding, or protruding piles. No surgical operation required. Dr. Chas. Ointment will relieve you at once and certainly cure you. Get it from all dealers. Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

YOUTHS ARRESTED

Alleged to Have Entered Three Stores and Stolen Money During Past Month.

Four youths were arrested last night charged with shopbreaking. During the past month they are alleged to have broken into three stores and stolen sums of money. Sunday afternoon they are said to have entered Tyrrell's bookstore, 750 Yonge street, and to have stolen $20 in cash and a number of fountain pens. All of the places were entered by forcing basement windows.

MONDAY MORNING, DEC. 8.

Labor in the Field.

For the first time the Labor party is making a real bid to dominate the municipal government of Toronto.

The majority candidacy is of premier significance for several reasons. It marks the stepping down from first place as a labor champion of James Simpson, who tries to recover a controlship, and the rise of James Ballantyne, a rather different type of man, more moderate in his ideas, and more appealing in his methods.

Mr. Ballantyne is Scotch—a good fault—and a scholar. He was two years at Ruskin Hall, Oxford. He speaks well, has an excellent grasp of civic questions, can deal effectively with opposition, and having been an aldermanic candidate for East York, has valuable campaigning experience.

The rest of the fighting personnel is largely untried, but there is no reason to believe it doesn't, at least, measure up to the standard of recent councils and boards of education. Labor's first job is to commend itself as a constructive force, able to win support, without unnecessarily antagonizing large sections of the electorate, to whom the idea of strong labor groups in local administration is novel.

There is no soldiers' party in municipal politics, and there appears to be no need for one, unless Labor fails to handle its case efficiently. Everybody agrees that great changes are needed, and as Mr. Ballantyne's aide has a greater favor with a larger proportion of the people than any other in sight, it is to be hoped that, under his able leadership, a new phase in civic government will be assured.

Tropical Empire for Canada?

There is a statesman in London of whom we seldom hear, but whose influence on empire policy is important to Canada—Col. Amery, under-secretary for the colonies. He graduated from The Times. He married a Toronto girl, who was raised in Whitby. He has been discussing the future of the empire in terms that should be carefully observed by all who realize that we are in the midst of a great imperialist drive.

The colonial under-secretary admits cheerfully that the war had wrought a revolution which has made it impossible to regard the empire as a sort of solar system, with the United Kingdom as the sun and the dominions as satellites which revolve around, and which should be drawn closer to it. Canada has an equal status with the other British nations within the empire and in the league of nations.

But, says Col. Amery, this question of equal national status is not the first thing after all.

Equal participation in carrying out the development and governance of the less advanced territories under our flag seems to be of far more practical importance than the equality of status in international affairs, the full recognition of which has come with the war. It is theirs as much as consequence to the dominions than securing equal participation in the development of imperial trade and territories. To return to the empire in the destiny of the African territories under the British flag is of more moment than to have an equal say in the fate of Hume or Galt. It should be the aim of the imperial policy of the future to encourage all the dominions to take an active interest in the tropical empire. It is theirs as much as ours. Every part of the empire must look upon it as theirs just as much as England's, as an instrument fashioned to their hands for playing their part in settling the destinies of the world in peace or in war.

Honestly paraphrased, what does this mean? You cannot dissociate the colonial office from the admiralty. Col. Amery is not a haphazard talker. What the admiralty wants was made very plain during conferences with the dominions' premiers towards the end of the war. The admiralty, clinging to its ideas of ten years ago, asked for an imperial navy, with the dominions' sections essentially under its own centralized control. The premiers summarily rejected this, and declared for the policy of national navies laid down in the Foster-Borden resolution of 1909, and carried into effect by Australia, and whose ships destroyed the German raider Emden.

The Canadian people have greatly enlarged their national horizons. The "new status" of which so much has been said, represents not primarily the improvement of London ideas, but the growth of Canadian life, forcing its way into the maturity of nationhood.

Look into the colonial under-secretary's declaration. Oh, he says, this nationhood is important because it imposes on Canada an equal responsibility with England for tropical Africa and for India, which is one of the "less advanced territories." Canada must have an "equal say" in the governance of India and Timbuctoo; and this must be the means by which Canada will play her part "in settling the destinies of the world in peace or in war."

Clearly, if you assure equal responsibility for the governance of the tropical empire and of India, you assume a responsibility for any war that may arise in connection with them. If there is to be a Canadian navy, therefore, it must exist, not predominantly as an instrument of Canadian national defence, but as an aid to playing Canada's part "in settling the destinies of the world." This, according to Col. Amery, is "what is to be stressed in imperial politics today."

That is all from the angle of Downing street. But so far, it has not been stressed in the parliament or among the people of Canada. The future of Canada as an entity in settling the destinies of the world cannot be pre-empted in London or anywhere but in Canada, where it is vitally a question of government of the people, by the people, for the people.

What is needed is discussion in Canada by Canadians. It is up to Ottawa to say something, and to say it quick.

India and Local Government.

Not for a century has anything happened so important in the British Empire as the passage of the bill bestowing a measure of local government on India. It has been a direct outcome of the war, urged on to some extent by methods not wholly unfamiliar in Ireland, and applied in India, no doubt with the hope of similar results.

But the causes of the new policy lie deeper even than the war, or political intrigue, or imperial necessity. When Warren Hastings, in 1784, gave Wilkinson a commission to translate some of the sacred books of India into English, he let loose a new current in the west of the ancient forces which had often previously invaded the sunset lands. Earlier invasions from the east had been by hordes or by armies. The nineteenth century was assailed by democratizing ideals, to which the English-speaking races chiefly responded. In exchange, Asia received from the west the forms and methods of democratic government, and in the twentieth century Asia responded to this prompting. China felt it, an "new India is to have local government.

The faculty of the east is to spiritualize what she receives, just as the west materializes it. The new democracy may be a union of both phases, more practical with the worldly wisdom of the west; more kindly, tolerant and willing to help with the inner wisdom of the east.

It is to the credit of Britain to be true to her ideals. Germany would never have given local government in any degree to Asia.

Leavens Beyond the Sea.

The good people who are afraid of new ideas and who imagine that it is only labor "agitators" and advocates of public ownership who indulge in them would be shocked to read what happens in British universities. The Oxford Union, of which has come a heavy proportion of the Elder Statesmen of the empire, has just carried a motion that it would be good for the country if the Liberal party superseded the Lloyd George coalition—a coalition in which the chancellor of Oxford University is a house of lords leader. The debate reports say the form of the resolution embarrassed the members of the Labor party, the Labor party represented by undergraduates in the Oxford Union!

The Cambridge Union about the same time debated the suggested levy on capital to meet the war debt. The advocates of a levy were in a minority of only a dozen on a vote of nearly 300. During the five months' incubation of the Union government at Ottawa, a motion was carried that change were brought in high quarters to discourage—what do you think? An income tax in Canada because capital wouldn't like it.

Glasgow University has just acclaimed its lord rector, who happens to be President Poincare of the French republic. Reviewing his election to that office, The Morning Post mentions candidates, including Mr. Cunningham Graham, the nominee of the socialist undergraduates of Glasgow.

Strange leavens are working in the ancient seats of British learning. Some time ago President Falconer in Toronto University said there is more intellectual ability in Europe than in Canada. If he found that out in the calm serenity of Queen's Park, what would he have remarked if he had advocated public ownership in Toronto and Ottawa ten or fifteen years ago?

Mr. Drury's New Job.

An unkind critic said the other day that Premier Drury had mistaken his vocation—he should have been a newspaper editor, for no other man talks legitimately to the public every day. The remark is recalled by the advent of The New York Sun, which contains a two-column article by Mr. Drury. It is a good article, and necessary—to The Sun, Perhaps Mr. Drury to collar for miners; a new colonization policy and better rural schools; the late government was indicted for lack of attention to fundamental problems which the numerous speakers in the three towns expressed their hopes that the new administration would do much to remedy this state of affairs and complimented the party on its visit to the north.

COMMUNITY BASIS BEST FOR NORTH

Mr. Drury said it was "simply plain business sense" to come into northern Ontario to see the situation, which should be approached as a business proposition. He said he considered many of the suggestions made were feasible, but they must remember the government was for all parts of the province. There would be no class legislation and no special provisions for the north, and he asked the people of the north to be just a little patient while the government worked out the various problems which faced it and he said the dollar was probably at its minimum value today.

He favored the settlement of the country in community blocks with the land speculator eliminated as far as possible, and he declared there must be a sufficient system for handling the five provinces. The premier has stated at each meeting that he was unable to promise, but long on performance.

Spent Day Quietly. Today the premier and his colleagues remained in Cochrane, spending the day quietly. In the afternoon a visit was made to the provincial hospital, for which institution the Cochrane Board of Trade last night requested assistance from the provincial treasury, declaring it to be the only hospital in this district, and as serving a wide territory, the suggestion was made that any money paid should be a charge on the northern Ontario development fund. A strenuous program lies ahead of the party tomorrow, when short visits are to be paid to the towns of Cochrane, Hearst and North Bay.

The Cochrane Board of Trade also wanted a separate judicial district, assistance for the hospital, the extension of the railway to the town of Hearst, fire protection, good roads, and advances to the settlers to encourage the raising of livestock.

AN ERRONEOUS IMPRESSION.

Editor World: In your "City Hall Notes" in today's issue, re formation of Civic Waterworks Association, a very erroneous impression is conveyed to the public when it is stated that "it is claimed that the boys' employees who stayed at their posts during the last strike of civic employees."

Altho it is true that the pumping station employees stayed on duty at the time referred to, we have not based our application to the city hall for a raise to meet the H.C.C. on such a claim.

Hoping in fairness to ourselves that you will make this correction. W. J. Malcolm, General secretary.

D. R. O. Payments.

Editor World: Have you any idea of what is causing the delay in paying the returning officers and others who officiated at the last elections? Mr. Drury stated that the accounts had to be gone into by his staff of auditors. Surely such an efficient body of men, which they must be to hold a position in the government service, would have arranged all those accounts in the number of weeks that have elapsed since the election, when one knows that for instance the Eaton Co. returns every week a pay roll for over 200 employees.

Mr. Drury can but some ginger into his staff, the accounts if paid promptly will help many toward a better Christmas.

NAMING DIRECTORS FOR DAIRY CONTROL

Hastings County Farmers Choosing Men for Ontario Creameries. Belleville, Ont., Dec. 7.—(Special.)—Hastings County farmers at a representative meeting held at Springbrook appointed five provisional directors to act on the board of a big company which it is proposed to form to take over and operate co-operatively many of the cheese factories and creameries of the province. The five men chosen are representative dairymen in their respective districts, they being J. J. Thompson, Springbrook; John McCaffrey, Madoc; Herb Mouck, Thomasburg; Hugh Mahoney, Marmora; C. W. Thompson, Springbrook. The meeting was held in connection with the annual convention of the county association of the United Farmers of Ontario. Four sessions of the convention were held and much business transacted.

GERMAN BALTIC TROOPS TO BE PAID AND CLOTHED

Berlin, Dec. 7.—German Baltic troops under Gen. von Eberhard, who are returning to Germany, will be considered German citizens and will receive demobilization costs and clothing until they find employment according to a semi-official announcement today. When pressed by the entrance a short time ago as to the status of these troops, the German government declared they were deserters.

NOTICE FOR MARINERS.

Parry Sound, Ont., Dec. 7.—Mr. M. B. Brals of the local marine and fisheries agency announces as follows for the benefit of mariners and others: The gas and whistling buoy off Cove Island, Lake Huron, also the Trinity bell buoy off Bear's Rump, and the gas buoy in Port McNicoll Harbor, Georgian Bay, will be removed without further notice, but all other buoys in the approaches to the various Georgian Bay ports will be maintained in operation until the close of navigation unless weather conditions make it imperative to make earlier action.

MOONLIGHT AND MONEY

THE BROKEN IDOL

CHAPTER 55.

So Harry had been dining with another woman! That was the thought which whirled thru her head as Louise sat staring at the fire, after Carol had gone.

One by one the possibilities of the situation came to her. If Carol had seen him, other people they knew would see him also. That meant gossip. Would they think Harry was neglecting his wife? That Mrs. Shaftsbury fascinated him, so he cared more for her than for his own wife? The thought hurt her pride.

Perhaps they would believe she had deserted Harry, when they found she was living with her parents and Harry was still in the country. In that case they might imagine Harry had been with this other woman out of pique.

Either idea worried her. And the fact remained that only for a few nights after she had left him, Harry was sufficiently consoled to dine with a party at a frivolous restaurant. If through some fault of hers Harry had left her, Louise felt sure she would not have the heart to dine out with a festive crowd.

Her father's footsteps in the hall interrupted her reverie. She turned and called him. "Yes, my dear," he said, coming in to the room, his overcoat on and some books under his arm. "Are you going so soon?" she asked in surprise.

"I only ran in to see how you and your mother were getting on. I don't want to take these books to the club. Do you want anything?" "Yes," Louise answered with a little note of authority, "I should like you to sit down and talk to me. Please do, and tell Anne that you'll be here for dinner."

Louise obeyed her, cheerfully, as the father liked being told to stay for dinner in his own home. Dusk had deepened into darkness, and the only light was the flickering illumination of the fire. It was easy to talk this way, Louise thought, and she wanted to speak intimately to this man—this man who, to her father, was yet almost a stranger to her.

"You asked me whether I left because there was another woman," she began when they had both seated themselves in the big lounging chairs by the fire.

"Of course, I don't want to impress him. Do you think I'm jealous?" "Aren't you, a little bit?" This question surprised her by its directness. "Perhaps," Louise confessed, trying to keep her face as neutral as possible. "There's nothing he could dislike more, particularly if the jealousy is unbecomingly strong."

There was something so intensely sincere in his tone that Louise was startled. She thought a moment. She believed that the system had found the key to the puzzle, that long ago separated her parents. She began again. "Do you think it wrong for a woman to like the man she is in love with?" "No man is worth being idolized by a good woman," her father said. "Besides, she's bound to be unhappy when she finds her idol is broken, as broken it must be some day."

"Yes," said Louise half to herself, "My idol is broken."

"Tomorrow—Better and Worse"

EARLIER HOLIDAYS FOR GALT PUPILS

Due to Scarcity of Fuel—Revision of Salary Scale.

Galt, Dec. 6.—(Special.)—Because of scarcity of fuel, Galt's public schools will close for Christmas holiday on Friday, Dec. 19, instead of Monday, Dec. 22, and thus two days' heating will be saved. The school board has advanced salaries of all male teachers and caretakers, in view of its recent action in dealing with the women teachers' petition. Salaries of male teachers for 1920 will be: principals, $1600 to $2000; assistant principals, $1150 to $1450, and caretakers, $1000 to $1350. Women teachers are not satisfied with the action of the board in granting them a maximum of $1100 and an increase of $100 for 1920, when they requested $1200 maximum and an increase of $150, but the board has daily refused to reopen the question. William Linton, principal of Victoria School, who is resigning after 46 years in the profession, is to be succeeded by the teachers of the city next Friday. He will be succeeded by J. A. Ballie, who is promoted from assistant principalship of Central School.

Fight No Decision At Milwaukee

THE DENALS EASILY DEFEATED PARKDALE

Scoring Nine to Nothing in Opening Exhibition Match at the Arena.

The hockey season was opened at the arena Saturday night when Denals and Parkdale played their senior S.P.A. fixture. A good crowd for an opener was on hand, and Admiral Jellicoe looked on for part of a period to help the good cause along.

There was only one team on the ice, but the big crowd seemed to enjoy the exhibition. Denals were all over the water dogs and won as they pleased, scoring nine goals, and Forbes turning aside every effort of the Paddlers.

HUGH DUFFY MANAGER OF TORONTO BALL CLUB

Veteran of the Time of Joe Kelley and Willie Keeler to Lead the Leafs.

A telegram to this office last night from J. J. McCaffery, who is on his way home from Cuba with L. Solman, also of the Ball Club, gave the simple information that Hugh Duffy has been appointed manager of the Toronto Club to succeed Mooney Gibson.

Hugh Duffy joined the Philadelphia Nationals in 1892 when they won the National championship, repeating the following year. He played centre field. Then Clarkston and Kelly were with the Beaneaters and that was shortly after the time Arthur Irwin was with Providence and when Joe Kelley, Muggsy McGraw, Hugh Jennings and Willie Keeler were with Baltimore. Duffy stayed with Boston until 1897 and 1898, when they also won pennants.

O.H.A. READY FOR SEASON TO START

Reports at Annual Meeting Shows Organization in Flourishing Condition.

There was a large attendance at the 38th annual meeting of the Ontario Hockey Association held in the Temple Hotel on Saturday evening.

Several important changes were made in the constitution, and the whole business of the association was carried off with the proper spirit. The president's report, the treasurer's address and the report of the executive committee showed that the organization is in a flourishing condition. With the war a thing of the past, the entries are expected to be larger than ever.

The most important changes made in the constitution were one to allow the intermediate champions to play-off with the senior winners, and then the Cup series as the official representative of the O. H. A. In the past the intermediates were the only ones that did not get into the play-off for the championship of Ontario and the juniors played the other provincial champions for the Allan Cup.

The amendments were carefully considered by the delegates. Sheriff Paxton proposed that the following be added to clause 7 of the constitution and it passed easily.

The war-time regulations in regard to soldiers were struck out after a short discussion and in future a junior player may be promoted to senior status if he has played in a junior club for a season and has been recommended by the governing body.

The delegates passed an amendment to give the secretary authority to appoint two referees on large ice spaces when he thinks it is necessary.

Only one amendment to the playing rules was passed and it has to go before the provincial association as a recommendation. It is to allow a goal to be substituted at any time. H. Sturm, who is in vogue in the pro league, he failed to get a second.

The following officers were elected without opposition: President, R. M. Glover, Peterboro; Vice-president, J. P. Paxton, Whitby; Secretary, W. A. Fry, Dunville.

THE PRESS REPORT SAYS SHARKEY WON THO IT READS LIKE WILDE HAD A DRAW

Neither Fighter Was Marked, Except the American Left the Ring Bleeding at the Mouth—Englishman Gave Away Nine Pounds.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 6.—Jimmy Wilde, the British flyweight champion, making his first American appearance, was decisively outpointed by Jack Sharkey, a New York bantamweight, tonight. The defeat of Wilde was a surprise. He succeeded in winning only two of the ten rounds. Sharkey having the better of seven sessions and the first was even. The New Yorker started out to make it a rushing fight and brought the crowd to its feet in two rounds when he staggered the little Welshman with rights and lefts to the head and his punches frequently than Wilde and his punches had greater force. Wilde lived up to none of his advance notices. His judgment of distance was bad and there was little force behind his punches. He got $11,000 for the thirty minutes he was in the ring. Neither fighter was marked, although Sharkey was bleeding at the mouth as the result of a newspaper reporter's expectations at the ringside that Sharkey had clearly the better of the match. It was estimated that the fight had brought 7,500 and the receipts between $25,000 and $30,000.

Round three—Sharkey hooked a left to Wilde's head and a right to the stomach. Wilde landed a left to the head and a right to the head. The Englishman landed right and left to the head. Wilde missed a left to the head and Sharkey jarred him with a right to the jaw. Sharkey staggered Wilde with a left hook to the chin. Sharkey was straightened up with three straight lefts. Sharkey's round.
