

NEED OF THE DAY IS CONSCRIPTION

Enthusiastic Meeting Hears Addresses in Favor of Compulsory Service.

WOULD END THE WAR

Magistrate Kingsford in Rousing Address Says End Would Come Quickly.

Heartily assent was given by the large and representative meeting in St. George's Hall last night to the call for conscription made by the numerous speakers, who included Magistrate Kingsford, Charles Sheard, Burnham, M.P., Dr. Charles Sheard, Henry O'Brien, K.C., Miss Constance Boulton and Mrs. A. M. Hughes.

The speakers were one in the opinion that, as Canada had entered the war to assist the empire in a struggle for life and death, it must not withdraw until it has given every man and every cent of its wealth to obtain victory. It was unfortunate, they declared, but it was true, that there were in Canada people who were apathetic and who did not yet realize the seriousness of the situation.

True, Germany was made up of diverse elements in religion, politics and nationality, but no matter how Germans differed, they were all in the same boat. If Germany were to win, how much attention would be paid to the fact that one man was a Liberal, one a Conservative, one a Protestant, one a Catholic, one a Jew and another a Little Canadian? Did the Socialists think the Germans would spare them for the sake of Socialism? He shuddered to think what would befall the empire if Germany won, and still there were people who were saying that they had to be told in plain words. Some pointed to the great army of Britain and said that had enough men and arms at the army camp, and asked what could our petty 400,000 do to help. But he wanted to tell them that the scale of the war would turn the scale.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

Rumanian recovery. The former neglect of the possibilities in Macedonia has to be made up for by the throwing of more swords into the scale.

In considering the prospects of such a movement from the Aegean and the Mediterranean as the allies may begin against the Berlin-Constantinople railway, it must be remembered that the military road to attacking such a communication would be to capture the order that the enemy was beaten, for the reaching of the objective would be the order that the enemy was beaten, for the reaching of the objective would be the order that the enemy was beaten.

Swiss newspapers are publishing the alarming news that masses of German troops are concentrating near Basle, and they assert that the Swiss intend to invade Switzerland, with the general staff believing that Germany intends to invade Switzerland, with the general staff believing that Germany intends to invade Switzerland.

The news from Rumania gets still better. Not only have the Russians and the Rumanians checked the Teutonic advance, but apparently, by a happy conjunction of bad weather and reinforcements, they have been able to inflict a sort of disaster on the enemy and to turn him back. In brief, after the troops have suddenly manifested a desire to make for home, and he is reported by wireless to have already evacuated Braila. It does not pay, however, to become too optimistic, for Von Mackensen is as busy as a fox and as swift as a circus horse, so until he is badly beaten, judgment should be suspended.

The crying need of the Germans for men is disclosed in the proclamation issued by the puppet provisional state council at Warsaw to the Poles. The principal thing in this decree is the program for the creation of a large and well-disciplined Polish army. Such an army, according to this precious proclamation, represents the principal condition of an independent state, and will contribute greatly toward the realization of the frontiers necessary to Poland. These words are enough to stamp the whole business as a sham, and it is almost impossible to believe that the Poles who allow themselves to be befooled with any degree of enthusiasm. The enemy can utilize the Polish soldiers taken prisoner for his Polish armies. The Kaiser is reverting to the practice of Frederick the Great. Frederick used to impress prisoners of war in his armies and to compel these unfortunate men to fight their own countrymen.

The Germans and the Turks have succeeded in fomenting a rebellion in Tripoli against the Italian authority, but the most encouraging has resulted disastrously for the rebels. Five thousand of these wild men marched to attack Zoara, in Tripoli; an Italian force intercepted them on the road and, falling on them, completely crushed them, inflicting a loss of 1000 men. The natives fled. The battlefield is situated between the City of Tripoli and the border of Tunis.

News From the Capital

SPEAKER RHODES IS GIVEN PRAISE

Sir Wilfrid's Only Regret is That Rhodes is Not a Liberal.

OPENING SCENE QUIANT

Formal Ceremonies Delayed Until Today—Tributes to Dead Members.

By a Staff Reporter. Ottawa, Jan. 18.—The only business done by the house at the opening today was the appointment of Hon. E. N. Rhodes as speaker.

The opening scene was somewhat quaint. The gentleman usher of the house, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, was waiting. There it was discovered that common sense had prevailed, so they were sent back to elect one.

Mr. Rhodes' elevation was well received. Sir Robert Borden, who moved the appointment, was complimentary, but Sir Wilfrid Laurier was even more eulogistic. He described the appointment as giving him "very great pleasure" and said Mr. Rhodes was "qualified for the office by character, education, judicial training and enviable every man to a grip. It is a special dispensation."

Tributes were paid to the prime minister and the leader of the opposition to four members who had died during the recess: Hon. T. Chase, C. E. Lovell of Stanstead, William Gray of London, and Lieut.-Col. Harold Baker of Byrnie, who was killed in action.

DELUGE OF MAIL FOR "BERLIN" OVER

Senders Told Repetition Means Letters Will Be Sent Back.

KEEP LIST OF NAMES

German Sympathizers Learn Lesson and Postoffice Has Little Trouble.

By a Staff Reporter. Ottawa, Jan. 18.—The postoffice trouble regarding the carrying of the name of "Berlin" is practically over. Very few letters are now coming addressed to Berlin, for the postoffice department took radical action to cure German-Americans of their desire to give trouble.

When it became known that the order to send to the dead letter office letters addressed to "Berlin" had been rescinded in order to conform with the international postal regulations, there was a small deluge of letters from firms and individuals in the United States and even in Canada addressed to "Berlin." It was very evident that German sympathizers simply wanted to create annoyance.

Warning Has Effect. However, careful notes of the senders of these letters was made by the department and they were returned to the sender. The letters were returned to the sender and they were returned to the sender.

Mr. Hewitt dealt with some of the problems that will face the country at the close of the war, and urged that plans should be prepared now so that the men returning from the struggle should not find themselves facing a new struggle for existence. "For the war we were told that the needful things were men, money, munitions. They are supposed to be held by a big local exporting company.

BRITAIN READY TO DO HER PART

But War Could Not Be Conducted on "Limited Liability Principle."

ARMY-NAVY FINANCE

N. W. Rowell Outlines the Empire's Achievement in These Spheres.

N. W. Rowell, K.C., chose "Britain's Part in the War" as the topic of his address before the Empire Club yesterday. The task that faced Britain at the beginning of the war was that of organizing a free, peace-seeking people to combat a highly organized military nation, said he.
Germany was compact, largely self-supporting, and ready. Great Britain was loosely-knit and unprepared. But "I want to say that to the full extent to which it was understood and contemplated that Britain would take part in a continental war in aid of France and Russia, she was prepared to do so," Mr. Rowell said.
Soon, however, it was found that the war against Germany could not be conducted on any "limited liability principle."
Mr. Rowell paid a glowing tribute to the work of the navy. The navy today was 50 per cent. stronger than before the war. The speaker showed the tremendous growth of the army of munition workers. "Twenty per cent of the entire population of Great Britain is bending its entire time and

CITY HALL NOTES

The board of control yesterday ordered the payment of $30,000 to the Toronto and York Highways Commission on account of the $50,000 which is due from Toronto.
Salary increases as recommended by the civic heads of departments total $10,754. The treasury department heads the list with $3650 of increases, and next in order is the public health with $2900. The assessment department has $2000 of increases. The city auditor must first endorse the increase before the board will deal with them.
Unanimously the board of control voted yesterday to exempt the big new steel plant from taxation until two years after the war. So far the terms upon which the harbor commission has secured the industry for Toronto have been kept secret. The industry was secured in the face of keen competition from Montreal and Three Rivers, Que. The annual taxes on the 80-acre site would yield approximately $15,000 to Toronto.
Rag and Bone Merchants At War With Junk Dealers
War has been declared between the rag-and-bone men and the junk dealers, owing to dissatisfaction over the prices paid by the dealers for such household refuse. The collectors refuse to sell their wares to the dealers and are trying to secure a site for a yard, where they will be able to store their collections and dispose of them without having to pay a profit to the middleman.
The collectors want to establish a yard on Baldwin street, and will appear before the board of control today to ask for a license.
It is estimated that there are 800 collectors in the city.

LARGES FRAUD IN LAND DEAL

Cops of Port Weller Land Company Are Aired in Court.

ARTNERS DISAGREE

A. G. Penman Charges Former Associate With Misappropriating Profits.

Alleging fraud and misappropriation of profits accruing from the sale of lands, A. G. Penman, real estate broker, is suing J. B. Bartram, a former partner, in the non jury assizes before Mr. Justice Middleton for unstated damages and a share in the profits. The suit hinges around the sale of an option in England on farm lands and the disposal of certain commissions for the purpose of making sale. Both parties were interested as shareholders in the Port Weller Land Co. and the Port Weller Securities Corporation. Each held 18,801 shares in the land company and 148 in the securities corporation. The lands were located in Grantham Township, Lincoln County.

In September, 1913, the securities company gave Bartram an option on the lands, the purchase price being $700,000. Bartram then went to England to sell the option for $170,000 and it was agreed that he should get $80,000 as commission for securing the sale. Later defendant notified Penman that it was necessary to ask $200,000 for the option and that another $30,000 would be necessary for expenses and commissions to sub-agents.

This arrangement was agreed to by the parties and the plaintiff declares that the defendant assured him that the extra $80,000 had been used up in commissions and expenses but charges that it was placed to defendant's personal use. Defendant later exercised the option and assigned the agreement to the Canadian Securities Company, of which he was vice-president. Believing the statements of Bartram as true, the plaintiff states he transferred 11,350 shares in the land company and 86 in the securities corporation to defendant, so that the defendant held four shares to his one in the latter company. The transfer was made that defendant should get $80,000 and plaintiff $20,000 in cash payment for the sale of the option, but defendant on return of the stock. An agreement was afterwards reached by which the plaintiff released all his claims against the defendant.

Besides asking for damages and a share in the profits Penman wants the release set aside. The case is proceeding.

Alex. E. Dufferin, the queer little man who informed a local bank manager that he had lost a letter of $200,000, appeared in the police court yesterday. He was sent to the reception hospital to determine from whence sprang his dream of wealth.

WILLS PROBATED

Application has been made by Charles S. Baird and Harry E. Baird for probate of the will of their father, the late tax collector, who died in January 2 last and who by his will named them as executors of an estate valued at $7,207. With the exception of a few small requests the two sons and a daughter, Mabel McLeod, are such to receive $500 and one-third of the residue.

The late Joseph Atwell, a cattle dealer, left $5,850, of which $1,000 is insurance payable to the widow, $1,250 is real estate and $500 cash. ### DISTRIBUTION OF TIPS CAUSES BOYS TO STRIKE

G. N. W. Messengers Allege Unfair Treatment at Hands of Office Manager.

Disgruntled at the distribution of the messengers' Christmas fund, messengers of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Co. declared a strike yesterday. This fund comprises the tips received by the boys from firms they visit, and it is pooled and divided among the boys according to their individual length of service. The boys claim that a portion of the fund was kept back by Chas. Lillie, office manager of the company, to use over them as a "whip."

USE SCHOOL GARDENS TO GROW VEGETABLES

Hon. Dr. Pyne Advises Teachers to Urge Greater Production.

Hon. Dr. Pyne, minister of education, yesterday issued a circular to teachers and inspectors thruout the province, urging them to do all in their power to increase food production in gardens by replacing flowers with vegetables in school gardens. The circular goes on to say that with the same object in view the hours of garden projects should be enlarged and extensive use made of vacant lots and other unoccupied areas. In this way advantage might be taken of the potential labor of boys and girls from eight to fifteen or sixteen, much of which is not utilized. If the 1,411 municipalities in Ontario having a population of from 1,000 to 5,000 would double the present production of these gardens and poultry yards, and use the vacant lots and other unoccupied areas, it would increase the food products of Ontario by $10,000,000 at a very conservative calculation," says the circular.

Will Humanity Guarantee Peace?

Germany's excuses and accusations published on Wednesday were suitably met yesterday by Mr. Balfour's note to President Wilson, an appendix to the reply of the entente allies to the president's peace proposals.

The object of the communication is to make clear and definite the reasons why it is impossible for any compromise with Germany at the present time. The first note stated the terms, as requested by the president, upon which the entente allies would agree to make peace.

The disease is quickly fatal to young trees, girdling the stems. In old trees the disease may continue for years.

Another stage of the life of the fungus is passed, in a manner familiar to biologists, on a different plant. The spores or seeds require living plant tissue upon which to develop. They cannot germinate on the white pine direct, but require to pass a stage of their history in another set of conditions. This appears to be a universal law of some forms of life.

The white pine blister spores fall on the leaves of the wild or cultivated currant or gooseberry, particularly the cultivated black currant, and there they germinate. This stage is recognized as "currant rust," and from these leaves the spores pass to the pines. They do not kill the currants, which are necessary to their development, but they are fatal to the pines. A second crop of the spores comes from the currant leaves in the fall. These occur on very short peg-like protuberances growing from the lower side of the leaves.

The government has taken steps to prohibit the importation of white pine stock from Europe. Other quarantine measures are necessary, and to accomplish this it is desired that prompt reports be sent to the Canadian Forestry Association, 119 Booth Building, Ottawa, by anyone who notes the presence of the disease in any plant. The association publishes a pamphlet describing and illustrating the "blister" which may be had on application. All who are near the woods, or who cultivate small fruit, should be on the look out for this costly and dangerous enemy.

International treaties will not bind those who have already torn up the most sacred bonds. The arbitration measures by which America, Great Britain and other nations sought to eliminate the danger of war were coldly viewed by Germany. "Her historians and philosophers proclaimed the splendor of war." Germany with such sentiments is not to be trusted.

Mr. Balfour points out that the calculated brutality of Germany in Belgium and elsewhere was designed not merely to crush its victims in the dust but as an example to terrorize others with the fear of what might be expected from resistance to the mighty conqueror. The German navy "assiduously initiated the barbarous practices of the sister service."

He concludes that while only those benefit by rules and codes who break them, and those who keep them suffer, it is useless to attempt by treaty to bind these outlaws. Nothing less, therefore, than the success of the allied cause will secure the ends aimed at by the civilized powers of the world. He mentions three conditions necessary for a durable peace.

First of these is the removal or weakening of international causes of unrest. Second is the growth of such opinion among the central powers that the unscrupulous methods and aggressive aims of their rulers should fall into disrepute. And third that some form of international sanction should be devised to stand behind all international law and treaty arrangements, such as "would give pause to the hardest aggressor."

If there be any bluff in President Wilson's proposals this statement "calls the bluff." If the United States wishes to establish a permanent peace it must join with those who will make this peace, and see that it is preserved. This practically means the acceptance of the arbitration treaty policy in all respects, coupled with the creation of an international naval and military guarantee, which the rowdy nations would be bound to respect.

Behind all this must lie the sublime faith in the moral principles and ethical evolution of humanity, assuring the acceptance of the allied ideals of liberty and justice, truth and peace, by the greater part of the race, thus curbing forever the ape and tiger instincts which have broken loose in Germany.

The White Pine Disease
An international conference on forestry opened yesterday in Washington, and its principal object was the consideration of the plague of the white pine blister disease which threatens to exterminate this valuable timber. It means are not found to check its ravages. The threatened loss is set in monetary value at $400,000,000. It has already exterminated the white pine forests of Europe. The Americans forests are fated to follow if no remedy can be provided.

It was when the white pine was introduced from America into Europe that the white pine blister rust, as it is called, first began to show itself destructive. It is a form of fungus, and must have existed previously in eastern Europe, but when it settled on the white pine it found a favorable ground for development and spread with extraordinary rapidity. European countries had vast tracts of land suitable for raising pine seedlings, and they were grown by millions, mainly for export to America. These seedlings brought the disease to America. Before 1914 the disease was unknown here, but in the year of the outbreak of the war it appeared, was recognized, and has been fought as persistently as any enemy in Europe.

Partners With All.
There has rarely been such a united effort in the community as has been organized for the campaign next week of the Patriotic and Red Cross Funds to raise $2,500,000. Every class of citizenship has been enlisted for the great effort, and it is probable that previous records will be entirely outdistanced, as indeed they need to be. The school children have been lined up to do their part, and there are no more energetic workers. When the sympathies of children are aroused there is no effort they will not make, and no object they will not compass. Their whole-souled self-abandonment is an example for their elders who hope to share with them the labors of charity.

That unique organization, the Rotary Club, is taking charge of the factories and will make an exhaustive canvass of the workers. The women of the city are to make a house-to-house visitation, and their collections will form a valuable contribution. The great central team to engage the interest of the banks, the financial houses and the business men, and will form the vanguard of the forces in the big campaign. The names of those, both men and women, associated with the organization are given publicly this morning, and they number among them a large number of the most prominent and efficient people in the city.

These people are dropping everything else to take up this work, and their adherence to the cause indicates as little else could do their sense of the importance of it to the community. They only desire, however, to be partners with all the other citizens who may join in the effort by whatever contribution they are able to make, to place the Patriotic and Red Cross Funds in a position to meet all the heavy demands that will be made upon them this year.

CUTTING A DEUTSCHE ROLL

Canadians, One and All!

By William Henry Taylor, Author of "Canadian Seasons," etc.

The Northern Lights are waving high,
These winter nights electrify
Canadian limbs, Canadian souls,
For War's Aurora thru them rolls.
From Spiritland those signals say:
"The bones of Red Men gone away
"Can never rest unless their heirs
"The blanket of a freeman wears."

The loss of pride in birth and race,
The shame of taking second place,
The taunts of that Teutonic horde,
The blood on their dishonored sword;
These, and a thousand reasons why,
Should make Canadians live or die—
With single purpose, eye to eye;
Then banish fakers, and their tricks,
Intern their parish politics.

Our party system is a weed,
A thistle of the rankest breed;
The backwoods grew it, green and raw,
Its seed took root in Ottawa;
But now it's time to be as true
As Ours who fight for me and you;
Let Ours cast out their selfish sins,
And Tories shed their callous skins.

The nation calls for Union now,
Progressive stairways guide the plow;
No French, no English, creed, or class,
Should belch asphyxiating gas,
To dim the glory won at war,
Or quench it like a shooting star.
Arouse! Canadians! One and All,
Your party must be NATIONAL!

The Toronto World, January 19, 1917.

OBTAINED PROPERTY BY UNDUER INFLUENCE

Capital Trust Corporation Wins Case Against Sylvester Teskey of Ottawa.

M.P. AWARDED DAMAGES

W. M. German, K.C., Sustained a Broken Arm and Other Injuries in the Capital.

Deciding that the defendant, Sylvester Teskey, was a gambler, had lost considerable sums of money and had influenced his mother to deed him part of a lot on Clarence street, Ottawa, Justice Britton handed down a judgment, setting aside the deed in favor of the Capital Trust Corporation in its case against Teskey. The testimony was heard by the justice without a jury at Ottawa and the decision was recorded at Osgoode Hall yesterday.

For many years, his lordship declared, the mother was under delusions that members of her family were trying to poison her. She secreted food behind locked doors and drawers, often changing the locks to prevent discovery of the eatables. He expressed the opinion that she was of unsound mind when she made the deed, Feb. 18, 1916. She died March 15, 1916.

The corporation as administrator of the estate attacked the deed on the ground of want of testamentary capacity, undue influence and want of independent advice. The defendant answered that the conveyance was prepared by the woman's solicitor under independent instructions.

"INTOLERANCE" AT THE GRAND.

"Intolerance" will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House next week with a matinee every day. Nothing comparable to this production in dramatic power and significance has ever been shown. For many years it is sure to be the leader of pictorial achievement.

LOEW'S.

"Everyman's Sister," a sparkling drama of recent day life and conditions, will be the headliner of the coming week at Loew's Yonge Street Theatre. An added attraction will be the Brown and White stars of "Chain Lightning."

GAYETY.

Next week at the Gayety Theatre "Al Reeves," the Toronto boy, will present his big beauty show with an entertainment "The Beauty of the World" 25th anniversary in burlesque, etc. It is celebrating by giving the beauty show as Miss Robies and Al Green, Sulzbach and Miller; Pagano, the beautiful ragtime violinist; Edith and Earl Foxton; and Green; Bernice Taber and Edna Clair, and a chorus of thirty beautiful girls.

STAR.

"The Mischief Makers," who come to the Star Theatre next week, are a brand new and very different comedy. Both dramatic and far-comedy side this photoplay is unique. The scenes of college life that are depicted are very extremely humorous, while the story is of unusual interest. Lillian Walker, in the part of the madcap college girl, whose love of fun nearly got her into a serious scrape, is simply splendid.

MADISON.

Booth Tarlington, referred to in his story, "The Conquest of Canaan," as his master fiction work. As a screen production, with Edith Taliaferro and Jack Sherill, it was shown at the Madison last night for the first time and fully lived up to all predictions. It is a massive picture of six parts and over 1100 scenes.

SOLDIERS FAIL TO STOP RIVERSIDES

East End Club Score Goals and Keep Khaki Boys Without a Counter.

The Riverides seniors march merrily along. The east end club tackled the 228th Battalion for the first time last night at the Riverides rink.

It was a case of the Riverides another-ly the 228th with checkings. Haynida could never get away. Three Riverides men clung to him like leeches every time the big soldier defence man made a try.

The only bright spot from the losers' side was that the Riverides seniors stopped Dopp. Myers chased him from end to end and shut him out for dozens of times. The little fellow had everybody on the rink pulling for him.

Toad Flair was the best man on the ice. He checked from end to end and completely fooled the soldier defence with his superior work. He was white with head and shoulders over any man on the ice.

That Riveride defence was as usual good as anybody. The Riverides collected 8 goals.
