ARBITRATION SECURITY AND DISARMAMENT

France Wants to Help Make Peace for All, Says Herriot.

A GREAT SPEECH

League of Nations Must Fight All Leagues of All Kinds.

(Canadian Press.)

Geneva, Sept. 5.—Premier Herriot of France, addressing the Fifth Assembly of the League of Nations today, began by saying that he brought the word of France to the Assembly, and that word was peace.

He hoped that the United States would not refuse to continue its useful collaboration in disarmament, especially now that arbitration had come in as a feature.

The French Premier mounted the tribune in front of the jammed audience amid a hum of interest, and before beginning his address received a great ovation. He urged the League Commissions "immediately to study this question of arbitration, upon the successful operation of which, he believed, the tranquility of the world's peoples depended.

Must Have Good Faith.

"But arbitration must not be a trap for nations of good faith," he added. The Premier pleaded for some system of protection for small countries, emphasizing that the great powers could always protect themselves. Referring to Germany, he said:

"We never desired the misery of the German people. France does not live on hate."

The applause was renewed when Mr. Herriot continued to the League, should have the same treatment as other nations seeking admission. France adhered to the League movement, he wanted to make it a living covenant, not a dead letter.

Geneva, Sept. 5.—(United Press)—Premier Herriot of France replied to Prime Minister MacDonald of Britain today, continuing the London debate on security and disarmament. Applauded as enthusiastically as was the British statesman, Herriot began his speech by saying:

"The national elections held recently in France manifested my country's desire to secure peace, live tranquilly and work honorably."

The French Radical Socialist leader then referred to the mutual guarantee pact which France ratified and Britain opposed.

"France signed that covenant and seeks therein her future security, justice and right," he declared. "France is most happy to see that England supports the ideas of arbitration, which France proposed at London in conformity with her traditional policy. France first supported arbitration at The Hague. Article XII of the League covenant provides for arbitrations, and but the project of applying the same and for creating an arbitration must be left to a commission of experts. The French delegates will work loyally to (Continued on page 2, sixth column)

The Wages Were Cut Seven Cents Per Hour

Hull, Que., Sept. 5.—A reduction of approximately seven cents per hour in the wages paid to unskilled labor went into effect this week at the plant of the E. B. Eddy Company here, and will affect from around 100 to 125 workers.

The cut in the wage scale was approximately from 40 to 42 cents per hour to 33 to 35 cents per hour.

An officer of the company announced that the reduction in wages had been decided upon as a means of equalizing the rate of wages paid for this class of labor as compared with that paid for the same class by other large plants in the district.

The officer stated that the reduction would not apply to skilled workers in the mills, and that it would only affect the unskilled yard laborers or handymen about the plant who had no technical knowledge in the various crafts which are employed in the big mill.

De Falco had threatened the janitor at his home when the man interfered with De Falco's eight children playing in the hallway. Just as her father pulled the trigger, his eldest daughter, Elizabeth, seven-year-old, stepped in the path of the bullet.

WHEN THE FLIERS WERE IN BROUGH

Quaint Yorkshire Village Took Americans to Its Arms and Heart.

Brough, England, Aug. 19.—(By mail)—This quaint Yorkshire village by the River Humber, proud of its long history, is no less proud of the distinction which the American round-the-world aviators conferred upon it.

Brough was old when Caesar's legions annexed Britain to the Roman Empire. The visit of Lieutenant Smith and his five gallant companions lifted this quiet hamlet out of its long past and hurled it into a place of world importance. For it was selected by the American airmen as the base where they overhauled their machines and made final preparations for the last leg of their trans-Atlantic flight home. Great was the rejoicing of the townsfolk when the six American fliers alighted here.

The welcome of the inhabitants was genuine and sincere and within 24 hours they had taken the visitors to their hearts and homes. The Blackburn Aeroplane Works placed their factory and staff at the full disposal of the Americans, who were guests during their stay at the social club which the Blackburn company maintains for its employes.

It was the industry of the Americans, their willingness to do any hard work in connection with the full disposal of their planes, that won the admiration of the Brough people. The village folk stood by to watch the Americans at their work, and the peace of acquaintance ripened at once into mutual friendship.

Some Souvenirs.

The Americans had so much to do that they found little time to meet the villagers outside the airplane works. Nevertheless, at the little village inn in Brough, the publican and his daughter have priceless souvenirs of the visit of the airmen. These are the long-stemmed churchwarden pipes which the aviators smoked one evening when they visited the inn.

These pipes, each autographed by the smoker, are proudly displayed by the innkeeper. Already an order has been given for a glass case in which to preserve and display them in years to come.

When the time came for the Americans to hop off for Kirkwall their leave-taking of the villagers demonstrated once more the genuineness of the friendships formed in the space of less than a fortnight. All the village folk were assembled by the riverbank to see the visitors take off. The birds made good-bye to each by name, with many promises to write letters and send snapshots which the fliers had taken of their friends.

Two Men Drowned From Their Canoe

Caledonia, N. S., Sept. 5.—Earl Goldsmith of Middleton, aged 29, and Edgar Saven, who was in his 20's and formerly of Annapolis Royal, were drowned on Wednesday evening in the Medway River, near Northfield, about 20 miles from here, when they with two companions, all members of a survey party, were thrown from their canoe into the fast moving waters of the rapids which they were attempting to shoot. A search is being made for the bodies.

THE COMMUNISTS ARE TURNED DOWN BY LABOR PARTY

This Decision at Hull Will be Issue at Conference in October.

RUSSIAN TREATY

By C. F. GRANDALL (British United Press.)

London, Sept. 5.—A distinct split which has been threatening for some time has been caused in the ranks of British labor by the decision of the delegates to the conference of the party now assembled at Hull that Communist support of the recent Russian treaty, while acceptable as delegates to the gathering, will not be received as candidates for parliamentary honors.

This is a serious setback to the Communist minority, which was making progress on the party before this. Many unions have definitely nominated Communists at parliamentary candidates in several divisions, and this decision will be the main issue at the general party conference which will be called to meet in London in October.

Harry Pollock, the secretary of the Communist group, predicts victory for his party, which if it is brought about will mean a widening of the split and the disruption of the party. The Daily Herald, the organ of labor in Britain, makes announcement this morning that the Government is next week inaugurating an extensive campaign throughout the country in support of the recent Russian treaty, and that Premier MacDonald and every member of the cabinet will make speeches in its favor.

Imperial Conference. While official announcement is lacking with regard to the proposed Imperial Conference in the fall, Premier MacDonald's announcement to the League meeting at Geneva yesterday that he had consulted Canada and other dominions with regard to his proposal for the setting up of a Court of International Arbitration makes a conference necessary in the near future.

The Premier is confident that his plan provides the only helpful solution of the problem of French security, and he regards it as a matter of the utmost urgency that the British Dominions should heartily concur in his schemes and forward his proposals.

WANTS SIMPLE LIFE ON WESTERN RANCH

Toronto, Sept. 6.—The manager of the Prince of Wales in Alberta, W. L. Carlyle, arrived in Toronto on Tuesday, en route to the west. No ostentatious preparations were being made for the Prince's visit. There would not be a flag flying. "The Prince," he went on, "is coming out here for a rest. He wants to get away from the crowd and from publicity. This is about the only place where he can manage it and have a quiet time. There are only four or five employes on the ranch, and a Japanese cook, who will prepare meals for the Prince."

Asked if any steps were being taken to ensure privacy for the Prince, Mr. Carlyle said that the E. P. ranch was the same as a private home, into which people would not think of intruding. "The western people respect his desires, and he appreciates it," he commented.

Mr. Carlyle stated that the ranch was paying its way. It consists of 4,000 acres, and three new buildings have been added since it was purchased for His Royal Highness. Stock at present comprises 150 head of Short-horn cattle, 170 sheep, 12 Percheron ponies, 5 Clydesdales and 23 Dartmoor ponies.

Born in Eastern Ontario, the manager of the Prince's ranch is a graduate of the Agricultural College at Guelph. He happened to be manager of the Bar U Ranch, owned by George Lane, when the Prince visited it in 1919. "He rode around with me," said Mr. Carlyle, "asked questions and picked out his own ranch. That is how it came about."

Villa-Genaro Bout Postponed

These Are the Airmen Winging Their Way Homeward Today

Lieuts. Smith, Nelson, Harding and Arnold reached Pictou this week, on their flight from Hawkes Bay, Newfoundland. They found awaiting them there Lieuts. Wade and Ogden, who were forced out of the flight when their plane came under attack on Iceland. Lieuts. Wade and Ogden resumed the flight in their new plane, "Boston II," sent to Pictou for that purpose.

WILL SUPPLY WORK FOR UNEMPLOYED DURING WINTER

Emergency Relief Will be Given Only When Absolutely Necessary.

ADVISORY COUNCIL

Federal, Provincial and Municipal Authorities Asked to Carry On.

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—The unemployment conference called by the Federal Government came to a close shortly before midnight with the adoption of a report embodying a number of recommendations for meeting conditions of unemployment throughout Canada. The report of committee was read by Mayor John Stacey of Halifax. It was as follows:—

"This conference, having heard the views of representatives of all various bodies called together for the purpose of considering ways and means of dealing with the unemployment situation, desires to place itself on record in the following recommendations:—

"The unanimous opinion of the conference is that assistance in the form of money or doles should not be entertained, but that work of some description should be encouraged in every locality, an especial consideration to be given to work of a permanent nature such as buildings, construction, etc.

"Carry On Public Works." From representations made, it is the judgment of the conference that certain classes of work, which in the past have been discouraged during the winter months, can with perfect safety and economy be undertaken throughout the country.

"We recommend: That all federal, provincial and municipal government work now under construction should be continued with a full complement of employes during the winter months.

"That all federal and provincial government work that has been provided for during the past session of different parliaments should be immediately undertaken and continued during the winter months with a full complement of employes.

"That inasmuch as the Federal Government has during the past two years had in contemplation the construction of certain public buildings, for which the plans and specifications are already in hand, we recommend that they be asked to call for tenders at once on such of this work as can be proceeded with.

"Further, that the greater number of hours' work per day on all work undertaken the smaller will be the number engaged, and inversely the shorter the hours the greater the number who will be provided with some earnings to tide them over the period of scarcity of employment. It is recommended that this policy be adopted.

A National Committee. "That a national committee be appointed, consisting of representatives of the Federal and Provincial governments for the purpose of determining where necessary work can be initiated to best relieve unemployment, and to find ways and means for financing the proposed work. This class of work to be commenced as soon as possible.

"The conference is satisfied from representations placed before it that in certain provinces a considerable amount of unemployment at present exists, and that we must anticipate its being materially aggravated during the winter months.

"Under these circumstances we consider that some definite understanding should be had between the various provinces as to the best way of looking out for him.

Grateful for Cure, Gleason Gives $100,000 Home for Free Hospital

New York, Sept. 5.—The $100,000 home of A. J. Gleason at 610 Central avenue, East Orange, N. J., will be opened on October 1 as a free sanatorium for persons suffering from intestinal maladies. The house, containing equipment worth $20,000 worth of medical appliances, including an X-ray machine costing $10,000.

Mr. Gleason, who is president of the Gregg Secretarial Schools, and secretary of the Newark Board of Mayor John Stacey of Halifax. It was as follows:—

"The idea of turning his home into a hospital followed his recent cure from chronic intestinal poisoning. Mr. Gleason said. For three years he was virtually an invalid. Examinations, diagnoses and treatment by more than forty physicians were unavailing, he said, and his health was so poor that he was unable to go to his office for weeks at a time.

Five weeks ago Mr. Gleason went to Miss A. Dennis, an East Orange nurse, who, he heard, was successfully treating intestinal disorders by a new method. Her treatment cured him in three weeks, he said, and he now plans to enable her to ease a larger number of sufferers by placing at her disposal a well-equipped hospital. Miss Dennis will be in charge of the nurses at the sanatorium.

The treatment will be entirely free, Mr. Gleason said, and the only requirement for admission will be the consent of a physician.

Tokyo, Sept. 5.—Since the American Congress passed the immigration act including the Japanese exclusion clause, the Japanese are doing fewer young men for military service, according to the head of the recruiting in Tokyo. In former years scores of young men tried to dodge conscription, but now they have been only half a dozen such cases in the capital.

A LONG DISPUTE IS NOW AT AN END

City of Rome Will Pave Square In Front of St. Peter's.

Rome, Sept. 5.—The imposing big square in front of St. Peter's, is at last to be newly paved and overhauled as part of the dressing-up process in anticipation of Holy Year, 1925, but only after more than 50 years of disagreement as to whether the expense should be borne by the Vatican or the municipality of Rome. The city has finally made the necessary appropriations, and work already has begun.

The square, one of the show places of Rome, has been in need of repairs since the temporal power of the papacy was overthrown in 1870, but until now the city has refused to supply the funds because it was argued that the cathedral and Vatican grounds, the expense should be borne by the Church. The Church authorities retorted that it was one of the city's most beautiful and picturesque public squares, since it was always open to the public, and, therefore, it was the city's business to keep it up.

Communists were blamed at first, but later the disaster was attributed to carelessness on the part of employes.

WOMEN NOT IN COURT AT TIME HEARING DUE

In the police court today interest centered in a case in which four women were reported in the matter of selling souvenir badges and ribbons to citizens and visitors. They were reported for assaulting people on the streets by approaching them and without consent pinning the badges on their coats. The case was set for 12 o'clock, but there was no sign of any of them.

The women when reported gave their names as Nellie Balfour, Pearl Goldie, Cleo Hutton and Sadie Stein. The leader is Mrs. Goldie. They arrived in the city last Saturday and made application to the management of the exhibition for a concession to sell their wares on the exhibition grounds, but said that the amount for such a concession was too large, and they then gave up the idea of working within the gates of the "big show." They then proceeded to City Hall and, according to their story, were given permission by His Worship Mayor F. L. Potts to work on the street.

They were reported by Police Sergeant Dykeman.

U. S. AVIATORS AT END OF WORLD CIRCLING TOUR

Plans Changed and Expected to Give Up Stop at St. John.

ALONG THE COAST

Approaching St. Martins at 2.30—Hope for Boston Tonight.

Winging their way through leaden gray skies, the United States army airmen piloting their three planes neared the city at 3 o'clock this afternoon, en route to Boston, where they will touch American soil for the first time since last April. The machines took to the air at Pictou, N. S., at 12.15 daylight time St. John, and followed the coast along the Northumberland Strait, striking across the Isthmus of Chignecto about 1 o'clock. The planes were reported passing over Albert at 2.05 daylight, flying quite direction of St. John. The course was along the Northumberland Strait, across the Isthmus of Chignecto, thence down the New Brunswick and New England coast lines.

At 2.30 o'clock the planes were sighted off St. Martins. The epoch-making flight of the United States army aviators, headed by Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, in their magnificent attempt to encircle the globe, and the possibility of the three planes stopping over in St. John this afternoon for refueling purposes served to keep up citizens to a high pitch of interest as could be adequately judged by the hundreds of telephone calls to the Times-Star office for definite information on Smith and his companions.

Disappointment was keen when the first news came from Pictou early this morning to the effect that Lieutenant Smith proposed a non-stop flight to Boston. The airmen made this decision based on weather reports received from the wonderful exploits of the American airmen, and the opportunity to see them and their machines was greatly welcomed. The news, therefore, that they would not stop came as a disappointment to local people who were ready to join in the applause these heroic officers have fully earned.

At the same time local sentiment was strong to have the round-the-world fliers complete their work successfully and many were the expressions of good wishes for the men on today's hop to Boston. The battery of telephones at this office was kept in constant use during the morning and early afternoon in the main topic of conversation in the streets concerned the fliers and their last hop to the threshold of the United States and home, sweet home.

The Start.

Pictou, N. S.—(By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—The American world fliers under command of Lieut. L. H. Smith got away on their 820 mile hop to Boston at 10.35 this morning after motor trouble had developed and been repaired on the Boston II, the machine sent here to permit Lieut. Wade and Ogden to complete their world encircling flight.

Lieut. Wade was forced down three minutes after taking the air but was successful in again regaining the air and five minutes later all three planes had disappeared from view. It was anticipated Wade would have greater difficulty in taking the air owing to the extra weight of the machine he was flying.

Faced with the necessity of installing a new propeller and trying out the motor for the first time Wade and Ogden experienced trouble from the first.

Just previous to getting their motor to turn over they were visited by Lieuts. Smith and Nelson, Nelson fell in the water to his waist, stepping from navy tender to pontoons. After warming up his engine Wade made two attempts to rise without success. He finally made the air after a two mile run straight down the harbor. (Continued on page 2, first column.)

NEW BOOST FOR ST. JOHN IS HERE

Supreme Sales System Makes Important Addition to Activities.

The merchants of St. John and community at large have a great deal to be thankful for in the location here of the Supreme Sales System, with Samuel J. Ross as president and I. J. Goldberg, secretary-treasurer.

The very remarkable final performance and its incidental enthusiasm which marked last season's closing of The Carroll, will probably always linger in the recollection of those so fortunate as to be present, and quite akin in the matter of interest, Chipman, will accompany Dr. and Mrs. King to the Coast.

"The conference desires, therefore, to recommend that where, after full and careful investigation, emergency relief is found to be necessary, that such relief should be extended, the expense to be borne by the Federal, Provincial and Municipal authorities, on the basis of 50 per cent. by the municipality, the balance of 50 per cent. to be taken care of equally by the Federal and Provincial governments concerned.

"After hearing representation respecting the work carried on by the committee appointed under the co-operation of the Federal Government that these advisory councils be properly constituted and their activities be placed on a working basis and be continued during the coming winter."

An amendment introduced by John W. Bruce of Toronto, one of the Labor delegation, calling for regulation of immigration to correspond with available employment, was not approved without considerable discussion. Finally it got to a vote of 13 to 11.

Just before the conference adjourned, Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor in the Dominion Government, promised his best efforts to see that the recommendations in the report were approved by the Government of which he is a member.

ST. JOHN, N. B., SEPTEMBER 5, 1924

THE WORLD'S HOPE.
What is this League of Nations which yesterday cheered the British Premier to the echo as he delivered an address that brought the members to their feet in a burst of enthusiasm? The answer is found in a summary of its accomplishments by an American, Mr. Arthur Sweetzer, who holds the position of Assistant Director of the Information Section of the Secretariat at Geneva. He says—
"The League has become a centre of conference, co-operation and conciliation among sovereign States working together through a common mechanism in certain admittedly international interests. It has settled several serious disputes, the Alands, Albania, Upper Silesia, Memel; has admitted saved Austria and Hungary; has created a world court of law; has helped toward reconstruction in matters of finance, economics, transit and health; has created a new kind of international administration in mandates, the Sarre, Danzig; has sheathed together many existing but languishing international efforts such as control of the opium and white slave traffic; has co-ordinated many isolated and struggling international activities, has repatriated half a million prisoners, has aided thousands of Greek and Russian refugees, and so on through many branches of common international effort."
"This does not tell the whole story, but it will suffice. What of the League today? We find an excellent explanation in the New York Times, which says—
"The League has passed the period of infant mortality and finds its 'expectancy' increased with every added year. The attention which the League is receiving is itself evidence of its growing importance in the eyes of the nations. Four years ago, when the first Assembly was held, forty-one nations were represented. Today there are delegates from fifty-four. Four years ago the only important nations unrepresented were then characterized as 'unhappy Russia, unrepentant Germany, uncertain America and unasked Mexico.' These same nations are today the only absentees, big or little, except Turkey, then unrecognized, Afghanistan, Ecuador, which is at the threshold; Egypt and the Dominican Republic. No Premier gave his countenance to the first Assembly. At this session the Premier of the European Powers are present; Herriot of France, MacDonald of Great Britain and Theunis of Belgium. Popular interest is shown by the coming of from 15,000 to 20,000 visitors to Geneva, by the presence of 400 newspaper men and by the fact that there are scores of applications for every seat in the chamber where the Assembly sits. Among the fifty successful American applicants, out of more than 200, are such outstanding men as former Attorney-General Wickens, General Tasker Bliss, former Justice Clarke and Mr. Lamont. Their presence suggests the interest which 'uncertain America' still takes in a 'foreign agency'—the President being certain on the one hand that we cannot ever associate ourselves, this being a 'closed incident' and many others being as certain on the other hand that such an association is inevitable; for in a few years it will, otherwise, be America alone outside of the League—America isolated except for her private citizen co-operation in a world where all the rest are joined in an effort to assure justice and peace under a plan of her own official suggestion. The great majority of the people of the earth are officially represented in an assemblage without the sign of sword or uniform, to promote 'moral disarmament' and the 'peace and prosperity of humanity,' to use the phrase of M. Motta in welcoming its members four years ago. Fifty-four nations, without America, at any rate are proving that they can get on by themselves. Can we without them? That is a question we shall have to be answering some day if we stay outside the League."
After reading the abridged summary of Premier MacDonald's speech we can well understand the enthusiasm of the representatives of the war-worn nations, for this was the voice of the British Empire, and the voice, also, we may well believe, of the United States, though that country officially still remains out of the League. The world looks to Geneva with a new hope, and a revival of the dreams of Armistice Day.
The exhibition needs you. You need the exhibition. It has much to say to you if you will lend an attentive ear. All-comers praise it, and thousands meet daily in the buildings and grounds. If you live in St. John it is your exhibition, for it is a community enterprise. It deserves your support and it has something to give in return. There is only one more day left to-day. Make the last day better than the first. Meet your fellow-citizens here, get the spirit and enjoy it to the will.

RESOURCES AND RESEARCH.
A very interesting discussion on Canadian coal deposits and oil shales featured a session of the geologists and chemists of the British Association in Toronto this week. The particular coal referred to in a paper by Prof. W. A. Bone, F. R. S., of the Imperial College of Science, was the lignite or brown coal of Western Canada. A report of his remarks says—
"The lecturer described one particular seam of lignite which was 160 feet thick, and after a layer of three feet of rock continued down for 120 feet more. As the thickest seam in England is only 16 feet thick, the British scientists expressed astonishment at the wealth of Canada. This so-called brown coal can only be utilized after drying, and Prof. Bone devoted considerable time to a description of a drying process developed by himself, as well as to other recent discoveries in this direction."
A paper by Dr. G. S. Hume of Ottawa on the Canadian oil supply said that the present production of oil in Canada was only 1.3 per cent. of the total consumption, representing an adverse trade balance of nearly $31,500,000. The report goes on—
"Canada, said the lecturer, possessed immense potential resources of oil in the tar sands of Alberta and the oil shales of New Brunswick. For neither of these deposits has a satisfactory commercial process of extraction been evolved up to the present," he concluded, emphasizing the boon to the country which chemists could confer by discovering a solution to the problem."
There is in these two papers a very strong argument for scientific research in relation to the development of our natural resources. Not only in regard to coal and shale are there opportunities for the enthusiastic scientist to discover methods of utilizing natural resources at present lying dormant, or at best but very little brought into practical use for the benefit of the people. We are not without proofs that Canadian scientists are as capable as others. The great difficulty is that funds are not available to enable men of scientific knowledge and eagerness to explore Nature's storehouse to develop their lives to that work. In time governments will learn that this is not merely a field for private initiative and enterprise, but that in the public interest the work of research should be thoroughly and systematically conducted at public expense.

Referring to the experiences of the Italian aviator rescued by an American cruiser from northern waters the Ottawa Citizen says: "The details of Locatelli's adventures in a seaplane off the coast of Greenland read like an adventure story. Drifting about on the cold waters of the sub-Arctic seas, in constant danger from fogs and ice, mistaking the planet Venus for a ship's light, sending a rocket aloft and finally being picked up by the navy ship Richmond, are incidents which the modern romancer might make profitable use of."
The war in China, while between two provinces only, contains the seeds of a wider conflict in that great country of diversified interests and ambitions. Whether any other nations will be involved depends upon the treatment of foreigners and foreign interests.
The latest reports indicate better crops than were recently expected in Saskatchewan and Alberta. The west may come through the year very well, after all, and the east will also rejoice if that should be the case.
St. John should have a large representation at the Maritime Board of Trade meeting in Kentville on Sept. 16. This should be a get-together meeting of real service to Maritime Province interests.
Mayor Potts made a plea at Ottawa for the use of Maritime Province ports for Canada's winter trade. The Mayor saw an opportunity and was not slow to use it.
Sir George Foster celebrated his 75th birthday at Geneva. He lives long because he is at peace with the world. All Canadians extend their felicitations.
The Times-Star does not know the new President of Kings' College, but he is a newspaper man. Could anything more be said?
The suggestion that the city be decorated for the convention of Canadian Clubs is worthy of attention. Make the city look its best.
Do not let the exhibition pass without having studied the Made-in-St. John exhibit. In current phrase, it is a "knockout."

Press Comment

REVOLUTIONARY PRINCE.

(Ottawa Citizen)
Consternation reigns among London's smart young men as a result of the discovery, made a few days before he left for Canada, that the Prince of Wales has discarded "braces" for a belt. And as if this were not enough, it has also been publicly proclaimed that His Royal Highness has ejected from his wardrobe all shirts which are fitted to the person by being pulled over the head, and that in their place he has hung a supply of the kind which are put on like a coat—other words the sort that Canadian Brunismen favor, the ones which open all the way down the front.
Progressive in many other directions, the British man-about-town is a conservative when it comes to the more personal parts of his haberdashery. For ages he has worn braces, and the wearing of a belt, not as a pessimistic safeguard against the collapse of the braces, but as the sole means of support, is looked upon as a vulgar American habit and a surrender of gentlemanly tradition.
Of course the London Johnnies will now have to follow the example of the Prince. As a fastidious and a well-dressed man he is supreme autocrat. Think what a revolution will now take place. Even at this moment, the Bond street tailors are probably in conference, thinking of the possible consequences of having to make trousers which fit snugly low down on the waist instead of the kind which reach in waves to the shoulder-blades. So, too, must the boards of directors of shirt-making firms be scurrying to London to consider the crisis attendant upon the shedding of the overhead shirt by the Prince. Really, if the Prince continues to display such a fine disregard for hallowed British sartorial habits, it may even happen—horrible thought—that Piccadilly will soon be appalled by the sight of a resplendent "toff" without a waistcoat!

LABOR BANKS.

(Bangor News)
The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Journal reports that there are now 28 "labor banks" in the country with total resources of $175,000,000, of which the engineers have $127,000,000. This is a very respectable showing, when the fact is considered that it is only three or four years since organized labor started in the banking business. It is nothing to what may come in another decade or two.
Not the least interesting thing about it is that, as the Engineers' Journal reports, the banking facilities so provided are not restricted to labor patronage, but are used by every class.
Warren S. Stone, president of the engineers' brotherhood and head of their bank, is doubtless right when he says that "labor banking has come to stay, and will be an important factor in stabilizing the whole financial situation."
He might have added that it will help to stabilize the whole industrial situation. Labor is capable of amassing an immense amount of capital, because most of the active capital in the country is continually passing through their hands in the form of wages. Good wages, combined with thrift and the consolidation of workers' savings along with their labor, may make them a big factor in future business enterprise. And there is no reason to fear bankers, bank stockholders and bank depositors are not given to revolutionary action. Workers turned bankers may be as much interested in holding the business system on even keel as are bankers of the traditional type.

OBSTRUCTING THE WINDSHIELD.

(Bangor Commercial)
The Massachusetts guardian of the highways has ordered the elimination of the diving girl from the windshields and windows of automobiles. The motorist who refuses to obey the warning stands to lose his license, according to the registrar, and the drivers are not taking chances but are installing mermaids from their cars. According to the statement made by the registrar the order is in the interests of public safety and the public morals. The obstruction to the view through the windshield may properly be reckoned as a menace to safety but the diving girls hardly constitute a serious menace to the morals although the taste of the display may be questioned. The registrar is not to be stopped at the diving girls. There is suggestion that political placards and stickers for various movements that adorn the windshields of many cars may also come under the ban.

GARDEN AND GOLF.

(Exchange)
John Coolidge, the President's son, spending his vacation at his grandfather's home in Vermont, was invited the other day to go over and play golf with a friend at Woodstock.
"My father has me pulling weeds in the garden," replied John. "I don't play golf, anyway. Come over and help with the weeds."
Whether the friend came is not revealed, but it was good advice. The President, in ordering his son to pull weeds, is doing what a lot more fathers ought to be doing for their sons. And the son, in acquiescing, is unintentionally setting a fine example.

THE ADVENTURER.

(Catherine Parmenter)
There are those who love the mountains, the spruce's evening song, The enchanting gleam of moonlight upon a distant peak; The mountain winds may challenge those to whom the hills belong, But the winds of all the oceans are blowing on my cheek! Oh, give me a gallant ship, white sails before the sun, And the beckoning horizon where sea and sky are one!
So they may choose the mountain paths, brown earth beneath their feet; But I shall follow ocean trails—blue trails that have no end, And I shall go to where the world is scorched by tropic heat— To where upon the ice-bound deep the northern stars descend, Beyond the reefs and shallows, beyond the white gulls' cry, I can sense the lure of foreign shores under a foreign sky.

There are those who love the mountains, the beauty of the hills; But I have known the shelter of the azure sea's embrace; The far, blue trails are calling, and my heart with longing fills To feel the touch of salt spray against my upturned face, Oh, give to me a gallant ship, white sails before the sun, And the beckoning horizon where sea and sky are one!
LIGHTER VEIN.
Interesting Point.
The prisoner had been convicted a dozen times before.
"Your Honor," he said, "I should like to have my case postponed for a week. My lawyer is ill."
"But you were captured with your hand in this man's pocket. What can your counsel say in your defense?"
"Precisely so, Your Honor. That is what I am anxious to know."

A Cool Joker.
"Author of an interesting volume of reminiscences, published under the title of 'Memories of Sixty Years Ago' the late Earl of Warwick, who died a few weeks ago, was a much-travelled man, with a keen sense of humor, and he tells many funny stories.
Ferdinand Arkwright was the name of a picture figure in Warwick. He stuttered, but he was imperturbable. He lived for a time in Malta. Once, at the Governor's ball there, he called his partner's attention to a man with a blue birthmark on his cheek, and made a jest

THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1924

SPORT NEWS GLEANED FROM WORLD'S CENTRES

SAINTS REFUSE TO PLAY ROYALS

As a Result Trojans are Declared Winners of the League.

By virtue of the St. John Baptists' refusal to meet the Royals this evening at the South End grounds, Manager McDermott having written to the executive committee, stating that his team would play the Royals under no consideration, and that since the league officially finished on August 21, contrary to the published schedule which denotes August 14 as the closing date, and his team were in the lead on August 21, the executive committee meeting last evening decided to have the Trojans acclaimed leaders of the league and winners of the trophies.

The presentation of prizes to the Trojans will not be for two weeks or so as the Spalding people will have to be notified of the winning team before the cup is engraved. The C. M. Lingley cup for the leading batter in the league will be presented to Les Kerr, Trojan pitching ace.

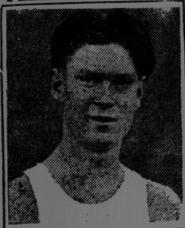

The Trojans will meet the Portlands this Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the South End diamond in their second exhibition game. Kerr and Hannah will probably be the opposing hurlers. The Trojans defeated the North Enders in their first clash, and a good game tomorrow may be confidently expected.

Hillsboro Will Meet Portlands

With their 8 to 4 win over the Chatham nine at Hillsboro yesterday and the decision of the M. P. B. A. U. Chatham game of last Thursday to the Hillsboro team, Hillsboro are now winners of their section of the provincial play off series. Hillsboro and the Portlands will play off in a series of three games for the provincial amateur baseball championship, and if possible the winner will meet Nova Scotia and P. E. I. title holders for the Maritime title.

GREAT LEGS

Iowa City, Sept. 5.—An armless boy is expected to be the outstanding star of the Iowa University track team next year. His name is Harold Vestermark, and he is a sophomore.

Vestermark will go in for both the sprints and the distance. Coach Breenahan is counting on him particularly for the cross-country runs.

Vestermark fell from a tree when a boy, fractured both arms and lost them when blood poisoning set in.

BROOKLYN JUMPS TO SECOND PLACE

New York, Sept. 5.—The Brooklyn Dodgers of 1924 are emulating the Boston Braves of 1914.

It was just 10 years ago that the Boston Braves, trailing the whole field on July 4, began their famous drive that brought them under the wire first in September.

The Dodgers yesterday won a pair from the Boston Braves, 5-1 and 9-1, jumping from third to second place when the Pirates skidded against the Cardinals and lost, 9 to 2.

St. Louis thumped Pittsburgh. The slipping Giants lost a decision to Arthur Fletcher's Phillies, 10 to 6. The Cincinnati Reds, fighting desperately to land in the first division, blanked the Cubs, 8 to 0.

The Senators yesterday, with Walter Johnson feeding the pills administered to the other to Boston Red Sox, 12-5, while the Yanks were knocked unconscious by Connie Mack's Athletics, 8-2.

PHILLIES HAVE A POOR HITTING CLUB

Only One Player Who is in the .300 Class.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—The Phillies boast the poorest hitting club in the majors. Combined, they are hitting around .285. Anything but auspicious in these days of lively baseball and heavy clotting hitting over .300. And he is just inside the elite circle, too.

The once great Cy Williams of home-run fame is hanging around .290, with Mogan, Harper and the rest bringing up the rear.

Ford and Sand, infielders, are two of the poorest hitters among the league's regulars. They are below .250.

As run getters, the Phils are in about the same boat. Williams tops his mates, but is so far removed from the leaders that Fletcher's outfit isn't likely to show a single player in the "100 runs" class this year.

No wonder the Quakerstown team is still just about the same old doormat it has been for years.

WILL BE IN ST. JOHN

To make the trip from New York to New Brunswick, to return again by a different route and to travel the greater part of the distance by canoe is the undertaking of W. F. Otton and Mr. and Mrs. DeMille of New York, who were in Montreal on Wednesday, en route to Elgin, N. B. They left New York early in the summer. They traveled first through the Champlain Canal and thence through Lake Champlain and the Richelieu River to the St. Lawrence.

They then paddled down the St. Lawrence as far as Mont Louis, and crossed to the New Brunswick shore, where they were held up by bad weather for eight days. They took the train for Moncton and thence went on to Elgin.

They expect to remain a few days at Elgin and from there they will take the Kennebecasis River to the St. John River, down which they will go to St. John. They will go along the Atlantic coast, keeping in the protected waters as far as possible.

DON CABLE MAKES A GOOD SHOWING

Friends in this city will be interested to learn that Don Cable, assistant general agent of the C. P. R. at Atlantic ports for the C. P. R., made a remarkably fine showing at the Dominion championships held in Winnipeg late in August. He captured four firsts and won the individual aggregate, making a total of 12 points. He won the discus throw at 124 feet 8 inches; the 16-pound shot-put at 98 feet 3 inches; the 16-pound hammer-throw at 119 feet 11 inches; and the 56-pound weight throw at 29 feet 9 inches. He was wearing the colors of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association.

Mr. Cable is well known in this city, coming here every winter and remaining until the C. P. R. lines are able to get up the St. Lawrence in the spring. His ability as an all-around athlete is well known and he is to be congratulated on his marked success.

JOCKEY EARLE SANDE REMOVED TO NEW YORK

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Earle Sande, premier American jockey, who was injured in a spill at the Saratoga race track, Aug. 6, has been removed to New York city on board the private car of Harry Sinclair, owner of the Ranocosa racing stable by which Sande was employed.

CRITICIZES INTERVIEW

To the Sporting Editor Telegraph-Journal:

In speaking to you over long-distance last Wednesday night I tried to impress on you that I had had my own personal experience at the Olympic games in France. I mentioned Phil McDonald's name and as we had been together practically all the time, I felt that he had no grievance. The article published in the Telegraph-Journal would lead one to think that I suggested the other boys were complaining without good reasons. I am sure the boys would not complain if they did not have cause to do so.

You spoke of unsanitation as though I knew this for a fact. I remember mentioning to you that I had heard things of that nature, but that was a mere matter of conversation and not meant for the press.

I am very sorry that you interpreted my conversation as you did, for the article published was very unsatisfactory to me. I think in justice to myself and in fact the other boys the statements should be corrected, and you will greatly oblige me by doing so.

I was not assistant manager of the Canadian Olympic team. I was offered that position, but did not act, as I wished to be one of the boys and have no responsibility.

You misunderstood me as saying the other athletes had no good cause to complain. I heard complaints from some of the boys, but as I had none to make myself I paid no attention to them.

I was also misunderstood in regards to Olympic grounds being unsanitary. I said so far as I could see we were more comfortable at the different hotels, as I had heard rumors that things were not as comfortable there as where we were stopping.

By correcting these statements you will greatly oblige.

Yours very truly,
ZAN MILLER,
Member of Canadian Olympic Team.

Mr. Miller's letter refers to the interview obtained from him over the long distance telephone after his return from the Olympics and published in the Telegraph-Journal recently.

TALK OF RUN-RUNNERS IS TOLD IN CASE IN POLICE COURT

Trouble on a Vessel, and Drinking, Come Out in Evidence.

A little inside information about the activities of run-runners was brought out in the police court this morning in a case in which John Balfour was charged with unlawfully assaulting Thomas Jones, mate of the S. S. Karakaka, on the high seas on August 11. Under cross-examination, the plaintiff said that the assault had taken place about 25 miles off Long Island, where the steamer was anchored after discharging a quantity of liquor to other vessels. When the case was called, Mate Jones was summoned to testify. He said he had been on watch on the evening of August 11 and saw the defendant start to lift a beam which was holding down No. 3 hatch. He said he was under the influence of liquor, and the mate said he informed him that he could not go down the hatch while he was there. He said the defendant then grabbed him by the collar, tore his shirt and struck him four times in the face, and also used abusive language to him, threatened to cut him to pieces and throw him over to the sharks, and began to pull him towards the side of the steamer. He corroborated the evidence of Mate Jones regarding the assault. He said that a few minutes before the defendant and another fireman had been into a fight. He said that about 12 of the crew were drunk at the time.

Walter Sutherland, chief engineer, testified about the occurrence, after which Captain Clare was summoned. He produced the log book and showed an entry regarding the incident. He said he had given strict orders that no one was to be allowed to go down the hatch, as the cargo had been broken on two occasions previously. He had also instructed the officers not to get into trouble with members of the crew, as he feared a mutiny. Cross-examined by Mr. Tait, he acknowledged that, although the incident had occurred on August 11, he had not made an entry in the log book regarding it until August 31. He said the mate and Balfour had been fighting previously that day.

At this stage the case was set aside until tomorrow morning at 10. A. N. Carter appeared for the prosecution.

Since being placed on the service the Prince Arthur has handled a large number of passengers and a fair amount of general cargo.

AUTO COLLISION CASE IS HEARD

Dr. Mayes Case Sues for Damages in County Court.

County Court resumed this morning with His Honor Judge Barry presiding. The civil case of Dr. Mayes Case vs. Crandall C. Precoat, doing business under the firm, name and style of Standard Creamery, was commenced with a jury. G. H. V. Belyca, K. C. is appearing for the plaintiff, and J. H. A. L. Fairweather for the defendant.

The action is for damages, and arose out of a collision between cars of the plaintiff and defendant in Main street in January, 1923. In his evidence, Dr. Case said that he was traveling down Main street near Sheriff, and turned to the left to avoid a team ahead, thereby getting on the street car tracks. The defendant's truck, coming down the street directly behind the doctor's car, he said, struck the latter, which sustained damage to the mud-guards, fender and painting. The plaintiff closed his case this morning with the evidence of Dr. Case and Guy Saunders, and defendant's counsel moved for non-suit. The court refused the motion, however, and the hearing will be continued this afternoon.

EAGER TO SEE WORLD FLIGHT END

Rothsday Family Had Been at Start of American Airman.

Particularly interested in the flight of the U. S. aviators today on the last lap in their world-circling journey, were naturally keenly interested in the bulletins coming from Pictou as the machines were being tuned up for the flight into U. S. territory after being over foreign lands since March, and Mrs. Lambord was disappointed at the early statement that the planes would abandon the plans made for a stop at St. John for gasoline and oil. She was desirous of seeing the finish of the world journey as well as having been at the start and hoped that at least the planes would be visible here, even if they did not stop.

Mrs. and Miss Lambord and Mr. Hamm had been spending some time in California on a visit and they took part in the great demonstration that was given the flyers on the eve of their setting out in last March in an effort to encircle the globe for the first time by the air route. Next morning, before dawn, the intrepid airman were away.

Shaw, 72 Dufferin avenue, when friends and relatives gathered to celebrate Mr. Smith's birthday. A handsome smoking stand and a beautiful sofa cushion were presented to the guest of honor. A birthday cake, gay with candles, presented an attractive appearance. Games and music were enjoyed during the evening. The preparations were made by Gordon Lawson and Mr. Shaw.

NOT DETERMINED YET.

No decision has been given by Collector C. B. Lockhart as yet regarding the penalty to be imposed on the truck driver captured with a truck load of alleged contraband liquor in the Red Head road on Tuesday evening. However, the liquor has been seized and Collector Lockhart said that the truck, as is customary in such cases, is also forfeited to the Government. The customs authorities, he said, are still working to secure sufficient evidence to lay a charge against the owner of the liquor.

SCHOOLS AND FIRES.

The monthly meeting of the New Brunswick Fire Prevention Board was held yesterday afternoon in the office of the fire marshal, Canterbury street. The principal matter discussed was the compiling of the new manual to be used in the schools. It was decided to call in the aid of Dr. Logan of Halifax and G. H. Prince, deputy minister of lands and mines, in preparing it. A committee will meet with these two gentlemen some day next week to decide on the form of the book and the subject matter.

Miss Whelpley is held in high esteem by the other members of the class. She is to leave for Nyack on Sept. 9.

GEORGE LESLIE MACAULAY.

Much sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. George Macaulay, 177 Wentworth street, whose son, George Leslie, died this morning at the age of 15 years. He was a youth of much promise, and would have entered high school this term but for his illness. His health had been poor for four years, but it was hoped the summer holidays at the family camp in Upper Golden Grove would restore him. He was taken very ill recently, however, and sank rapidly. Besides his parents, he is survived by one sister. He was formerly connected with the Y. M. C. A. and was a member of German street Baptist Sunday school. The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family home, 177 Wentworth street.
