MOHAMMEDANS PROCLAIM WILSON THEIR PROPHET

Enthusiasm Reaches Climax in Egypt, Says Missionary

New York, Oct. 15.—President Wilson has been proclaimed a prophet by Mohammedans in Egypt, according to information received in the Interchurch world movement from Mark S. Roy, who for eight years has been a missionary of the United Presbyterian church in Alexandria province.
"Intense admiration for America and its president, led by the fourteen points, reached a stage of such enthusiasm that it culminated in a solemn proclamation from Moslem leaders making Mr. Wilson a prophet," Mr. Roy said.
The Interchurch World Movement is making a survey through all evangelized countries throughout the world to determine the attitude of the various tribes and races toward this country.

Officers elected were:—Honorary president, Senator W. H. Thorne; president, A. C. Skelton; vice presidents, Rev. H. A. Cady, J. H. Kimball, and E. H. Turnbull; secretary-treasurer, R. Brown. Who'll Pay That Mortgage?

That mortgage—or other indebtedness—may cause you no worry. You know you can repay it if all goes well. But there's the rub. What if things go wrong? Supposing you should die—could your wife pay the mortgage without your income?
An Imperial Endowment Policy for the amount of the indebtedness will insure its repayment, whether you live or die. There is no other means of meeting the case that is quite so certain—that leaves nothing to chance.
And the annual investment required is very moderate—moderate at least when you consider the peace of mind it will afford you.
Look at this problem squarely—don't dodge—don't wait. The advantages of life insurance are available only to those in good health. Send to-day for information about a policy to suit your particular need. To-morrow may be too late.

But, consider yourselves as well as your children, their friends, your friends and visitors—consider the satisfaction of owning, and showing and using really good furniture, that you bought right. That's the kind of furniture you get at

THE GRAND TRUNK MATTER

Sentiment at Liberal Conference Against Course of the Government

(Special to Times.)

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—Not enough Liberals returned after the Thanksgiving week-end festivities in time for a caucus called yesterday morning. There was a short informal conference and the general caucus will take place today. The prevailing sentiment expressed at the conference was that the government should not bring in such important legislation as the present on the Grand Trunk, when no indication of its intention to do so had been given in its speech from the throne and in what had been expected to be the "dying days of the session."
There is a certain opposition on principle to the measure from members on both the government and the opposition sides and from the opposition side some members will give expression to this conviction.
The government's contention, however, that there was nothing else for them to do and that it was much better to take over the road even if operations will be carried on at a loss for many years, than to keep the roads under private ownership and to maintain the private ownership by the payment of as large amounts annually to keep the roads in as nearly a sound financial condition as possible.

Those who are most firmly convinced of the soundness of public ownership and control with the operation under auspices free from patronage say that by cutting out duplications and by concentrating the equipment where it would be most useful it will not be very many years before the annual deficits begin to grow less from year to year.

Montreal, Oct. 15.—(Canadian Press)—The Ottawa correspondent of the Montreal Gazette says that serious opposition to the acquisition of control of the old Grand Trunk Railway Company is not looked for in the House of Commons. He says, however, that there is a considerable number of members who do not approve of government ownership and operation of railways, believing that it is neither as economical nor as efficient as private ownership and operation. Many of these senators admit, however, that the proposal now brought before the house involves more than whether or not Canada should engage on a larger scale than at present in the management and operation of railways. They admit the situation is complicated by the financial situation of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, particularly in respect of its obligations in the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway enterprise. They admit that the acquisition of the old Grand Trunk will mean the consolidation of the principal railways of the country into two great systems, and will in the future prevent the duplication of lines which has proved so disastrous. Their attitude toward the government's present proposal, therefore, will in large measure depend upon whether or not a feasible proposition which will relieve the government for the future of the burden of financing the Grand Trunk Pacific and the operating deficit of the latter road is brought forward. If such an alternative scheme is not forthcoming, it is said, opposition to the government's legislation may not be of so serious a character as to prevent its passage in the upper house.

Horse Meat More Common

Much has been said during the last few years regarding the utilization of horse meat for human food. The chief arguments advanced in its favor are that horse meat is nutritious and for many years has been used in Europe; that thousands of light horses for which there is no appreciable market are consumed on the range that might better feed cattle and sheep; that beef, mutton and pork are scarce and high in price, and that additional hides are needed to supply leather. Men who oppose these views contend that horse meat is unwholesome, unpalatable, will not keep well, and is not actually needed in America, and that the "mole horse" for esthetic and sentimental reasons should not be put to such an undignified use.

Nevertheless, horse meat is slowly but surely entering the United States markets and going abroad.

Horses are being slaughtered in a Milwaukee plant and a market for its sale is doing business in that city. There are similar slaughter houses and markets in other parts of the country. Other centres for this industry are springing up.

About twenty friends called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Basch, 229 Rodney street, West End, on Monday evening in recognition of the nineteenth birthday of Mrs. Basch's sister, Miss Pearl Boudreau, and presented to the latter a leather case ivory manicure set. Games, music and refreshments were enjoyed.

Probably the oldest mule in the United States is owned by E. W. Thomas, a farmer of Richmond, Ind. The mule, Captain Crosby, early started his sea career is 42 years old.

Capt. G. E. Crosby.

The funeral of Capt. George Edgar Crosby, a retired sea captain, who had sailed practically all over the world, was held in Lexington, Mass., on last Monday. Captain Crosby died on Friday.

A native of Yarmouth, N. S., born on Feb. 18, 1848, he was the son of Edward and Ellen Crosby. Following in the footsteps of his father and grandfather, both of whom were sea captains, Captain Crosby early started his sea career.

SPORT AND OTHER SPORT.

If St. John set out to be a professional baseball centre, it would first have to provide a diamond and then import the players. That might be a good investment from the publicity standpoint.

What is most needed in St. John, however, is a revival of interest in clean amateur sport. We must provide grounds, encourage sports, baseball included, and make it possible for St. John to be represented in at least interprovincial athletics.

The very worst thing that can happen is to go on mixing up paid and unpaid ball players. St. John has twice learned that lesson in years past, and has been learning it over again, despite the warning of those who remember former experiences.

The three Improvement Leagues in this city, with the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A. and several other existing organizations can do a great deal for the benefit of the city by affiliating with the A. A. U. and going in for clean amateur sport on a larger scale than has ever been attempted in St. John.

A FUTILE STRIKE. The longshoremen's strike in New York is virtually ended. The men of six unions have voted to return to work.

Although Liberals held a caucus in Ottawa yesterday and decided to oppose the immediate acquisition of the Grand Trunk by the government, the Ottawa correspondent of the Montreal Gazette expresses the view that there will be very little serious opposition in the House of Commons.

The contest between Ernest Lapointe and Arnold Lavigne, the Nationalist for Sir Wilfrid Laurier's old seat in Quebec East is of interest throughout Canada.

ST. JOHN AUTO RECOVERED IN ST. STEPHEN; FOUR YOUNG MEN ARE HELD

A car owned by C. H. Townsend, which was stolen from his garage on Sunday was recovered in St. Stephen yesterday. The police here communicated with all the towns nearby, and the chief of police in St. Stephen captured the culprits and held them until an officer could go from this city to bring them back. Sergeant Detective Power in company with Mr. Townsend went to St. Stephen this morning to bring back the missing car and four well known young men of this city are said to have taken it from the garage. It was thought that the lads had intended making a long stay of it as they had secured spare tires and other supplies. The car is a "Studebaker Six."

IMPORTANT CHANGES FOLLOW STEEL STRIKE

"Hardware and Metal," Oct. 11 Important changes have gone into effect this week as a result of conditions resulting from the steel strike in the United States. Practically all lines of builders' hardware will advance from five to ten per cent. On Tuesday all prices in the United States on strap and ice hinges and bars and all other lines of wrought hardware were advanced ten per cent. Prices from Canadian manufacturers have been withdrawn, pending revision of price lists and all wrought hardware will be immediately advanced. Manufactured raw materials are very scarce. An advance of thirty cents over base price is effective in galvanized sheets and in a letter to the trade one manufacturer warns that the greatest conservatism should be observed in disposing of stocks as it will be from three to four weeks after the strike ends before new supplies are available. Another advance, due to the strike, which will hit most householders is in floor and polishing brushes. The difficulty of obtaining the iron parts necessary in their construction has caused the advance. Scarcity of bristles and the higher prices has resulted in a general advance in brushes of all kinds, the new quotations being from nine to twenty per cent. above former figures. Soldering coppers are higher, an advance of 3-4 per cent per pound having been made in base prices. Higher quotations are also effective on American large head roofing nails. Trouble in getting enough goods to meet the demands of the trade continues to be the great difficulty of many merchants. Shoe manufacturers are swamped with business and some of them declare that higher prices are likely after the first of the year, owing to the demands of labor for increased wages and also higher prices for raw materials. There is great activity in oil heaters and electric heaters. Turpentine prices are holding unchanged. Linseed oil shows a tendency to be easier and this is expected to develop as supplies of new seed begin to come in.

NEW BRUNSWICKER KILLS WIFE AND ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

George Mersereau in Hospital After Tragedy in Orient

Shoots Young Wife With Gun and Slashes His Throat With Butcher Knife When Neighbors Prevent Him From Shooting Himself

Houlton, Me., Oct. 13—George Mersereau, aged twenty-one, killed his wife on Tuesday, then cut his throat, inflicting a serious but not necessarily fatal wound, at their home at Orient, twenty-five miles south of here, according to word received by Arrostook county officials. Mrs. Mersereau was four years younger than her husband. The couple came to Orient with their people from New Brunswick several years ago. They have a two months old child. It is said Mersereau was jealous of his young wife. The shooting occurred at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning. The wife was shot through the breast with a shot gun, death being instant. Three families lived in the same house and other occupants on rushing to the Mersereau apartment found the wife dead and Mersereau about to shoot himself. The gun was taken away and the frenzied man grabbed a butcher-knife from the table and made an attempt to cut his throat. He was taken in an auto to the Arrostook hospital in this town, where it is thought he will recover. Mersereau is about twenty-five years of age and his wife seventeen.

GRAND JURY FINDS NO BILL IN CASE AGAINST NOWLAN

Man Charged With Killing Richard, Dominion Police Officer, is Given His Liberty

Four Hours Spent in Hearing Evidence and Defence Puts Forth Opinion That Officer Accidentally Killed Himself - Chief Justice McKeown Approves Finding.

Richibucto, Oct. 14.—The case of Albert Nowlan, charged with murder, which was up before the Kent circuit court today, His Honor Chief Justice McKeown presiding, was dismissed, the grand jury having found no bill, and the prisoner walked out of the dock at 3 o'clock a free man. The jury was out for four hours to hear the evidence of the twelve witnesses and after deliberating for about twenty minutes it returned, stating that no bill was found against the prisoner. They stood seven for no bill and four for true bill, only eleven jurors being present. His honor after hearing the verdict of the jury said that in view of the evidence submitted he did not see how they could have returned any other verdict. The prisoner was very calm throughout and when he was brought into the dock to hear the decision of the grand jury he showed not the slightest emotion. When the judge announced to him the jury's decision and proclaimed him a free man he did not appear to understand as he evidenced no feeling of any kind and it was not until his friends shook him by the hand outside the dock that he smiled and appeared pleased. The court opened its session at 11 o'clock, the attorney-general, Hon. J. P. Syme, appearing for the crown with R. W. Hewson representing the department of justice and E. R. MacDonald the defence. The grand jury, composed of the following, was called—David Targett, Neil Ross (foreman), Honoré Chasman, Antoine A. Richards, John Baldwin, Robert Glencross, David Roush, Seacarie Legere, Edwin Farrer, Duncan Stothard, Charles Lockhart and Theophile Goguen. Antoine Richard was absent.

Charges Jury. The prisoner was then charged with murder and his honor gave his charge as follows: "The facts both for and against as set forth by the depositions, advised the jurors that they were not trying the case but were merely to decide if there was sufficient evidence to send the man up for trial, and further, that if they did consider the accused was not in the vicinity at the time their duty was to bring in no bill. His charge lasted about three-quarters of an hour. The jury first stood six to five for a true bill after some discussion the standing was seven to four for no bill. The witnesses called was as follows: John Vetchlan, John Chandler, Percy Dux, Robert Debo, John I. Gibson, Evangeline Nowlan, sister of accused, William Nowlan, father of accused, Dr. Mark Delaney, John Murray, Mrs. William Nowlan, Alphe Phagan and a shell expert from Quebec.

Facts of Case. Evidence in the preliminary examination before Magistrate Leon Dalgic at Richibucto was submitted. Albert Nowlan was charged with causing the death of Joseph A. Richard, dominion police officer, at Roy post office near Buctouche on August 22. It appears that Officers Vetchlan and Chandler visited Roy on the morning of the 22nd to arrest Nowlan for interfering with a police officer in the execution of his duty, and also for being a defaulter under the military service act. The deceased parted company with the other officers and went down a field. Chandler and Vetchlan went into the barn where they remained until William Nowlan was finished feeding his cattle when they followed him to the house and searched for the accused not finding him. While standing on the doorstep they heard a shot in the big wood some six hundred yards away. They stated they saw sheep running from this wood but found nothing but dead bodies, near a fence and a blood trail for fifty-seven paces from the body to a brook. Near the body they found a small piece of button and a shot, the button being identical with those on deceased's trousers. The defence argued from this that the button was evidence that the deceased met an accident at that spot and that the blood first shown where the button was found was additional evidence, also that the distance from the brook to the clearing between the brook and the woods was twelve yards and no man could be seen at the brook because of trees and bushes.

Evangeline Nowlan testified that, aroused by the officer searching the house she looked out of the window and saw a man in a red sweater whom she thought was her brother running in the direction of another man who had something like a revolver in his hand. She heard three shots when both disappeared in a hollow by the brook. The autopsy by Dr. Delaney showed only two wounds in the leg with no bullets in either and decided death was due to loss of blood, from wounds which had severed an artery and vein. There were also punctures of the skin, apparently caused by shot in the baton which had been split. The theory of the defence was that the accident might have happened by the deceased handling his own revolver too carelessly and that the revolver, discharging, hit the baton scattering the shot and perhaps causing other material in the baton to form the two wounds. Under cross-examination, Policeman Debo, who originally said he heard Albert Nowlan shoot the officer, said that he could not be certain. This was practically all the evidence laid before the jury which returned about 5:30 o'clock. The prisoner having been re-

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon, apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp, and rub it gently with the finger tips. By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

CHURCH MORTGAGE IS BURNED WITH MUCH CEREMONY

Thanksgiving supper of more than usual rejoicing was celebrated in the hall of the Douglas Avenue Christian church last night when the mortgage on the church, which had been running for about twenty years, was burnt with all due ceremony. The supper was also a special welcome to the returned soldier members of the congregation. About 200 sat down to the excellent repast prepared by the ladies of the church and the pastor, Rev. J. C. B. Appel, presided. After the good things had been disposed of a solo was rendered most pleasantly by Mrs. V. R. Henderson. Mr. Appel in a happy speech welcomed the soldiers back to their home church. In appropriate words Sergeant Major

George Baldicombie replied on behalf of himself and his comrades. A word of thanks was given by Messrs. McEachern and was heartily applauded. In introducing the white elephant of of the church has been in the vicinity of $8,000. It has a present membership of more than 200. The youngest member of the church, Miss Aline Armstrong, was then called upon to burn the mortgage. The Doxology was sung and congratulations were extended to the pastor and congregation by Rev. F. J. M. Appelman, of the Colberg street Christian church and by P. S. Flagg, also of the same church. God Save the King was sung before the gathering dispersed. The Douglas Avenue Christian church was founded twenty-three years ago in the month of January and in the fall of that same year its present pastor, Mr. Appel, was appointed to it, coming from Lexington, Kentucky. Mr. Appel is an Englishman by birth. He has been the only pastor of his present church and it was entirely under his guidance that the church was built and is now completely freed of debt. The total

BEERBARIC NOT BARBARIC

Dr. Grenfell Has New Adjective in Talk to Students. Toronto, Oct. 15.—Dr. Wilfred Grenfell, the hero of the Labrador Medical Missions, preached to the students of the University of Toronto on "Faith," but managed to get a few shots in on prohibition. A few of his outstanding remarks were: "If you know of a better way to fight the liquor interests than by prohibition, bring it on. The liquor interests are not philanthropists that they want to give you a stronger beer to ward off influenza." "The German atrocities were not barbaric. They were beer-baric." "If you vote prohibition in now, the next general election will not need half the amount of alcohol now taken as medicine." "What is the use of asking hospitals to cure drunken men and then send them to damn their families?"

TIME IS INOPPORTUNE FOR TAKING OVER GRAND TRUNK

Liberal Opposition Feels it is no Time to Burden Country Further

Ottawa, Oct. 14.—In the expectation that the Government might take advantage of its privilege of going on with the Grand Trunk legislation today there was a Liberal caucus held this morning which was but thinly attended owing to so many members not having had time to return from the week-end holiday.

Hon. W. S. Fielding, P. D. McKenzie, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and Hon. Charles Murphy were appointed to draw up a resolution to be presented today in case the Government went on with the matter. Its general effect would be that while the opposition would not say we should not take the Grand Trunk over at some future time conditions at present were such as not to permit of parliament putting such an addition on the debt of the country.

The matter did not come up in the house as the resolution remained in the pocket of the leader of the opposition, but it gives an idea of the course the opposition will likely pursue.

UNDREAMED-OF RICHES COME TO MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN IN WONDERFUL OIL FIELDS IN LONE STAR STATE. (By Charles W. Barton.) (Assistant Publisher of The Morning Telegraph.)

When I boarded the train for Texas about a month ago I was somewhat skeptical about the reports of the fabulous wealth which was coming to oil investors in Texas. I was prepared to meet a lot of smooth-talking, silver-tongued oil stock salesmen.

Jump on a train and go down and see for yourself, as I did, the wonderful opportunities which are open in every line of business in Texas towns adjoining the oil fields.

When a man goes out and buys a lease in territory in which geologists have told him he should strike oil, in some sections the oil lies in shallow fields, and in other sections he must dig much deeper.

WRITERS AND BASEBALL OWNERS ENTERTAINED WHILE VISITING CITY

Joe Page is Heartily Supported in Suggestion That St. John Should Enter Team in New England League—Irvin Cobb True to Form as Humorist But Speaks Seriously of Friendly Relations Along U. S. Canadian Border.

The party of noted writers who are in the city enroute to Nova Scotia in quest of big game were taken about the city and the suburbs by automobile yesterday and, last evening, were tendered a dinner in the Union Club under the auspices of the Board of Trade and the N. B. Tourist Association. One of the speakers remarked he was struck with the freedom of the evening and the informality of the speeches. It was felt this was the keynote which undoubtedly will be productive of much good so far as the city and the province is concerned. During the evening, Joe Page, baseball fan and writer, who promoted and planned the trip, made a strong plea for the city of St. John to get into professional baseball with the teams in the New England League. This he said, would be the greatest investment the city could make in the way of putting it on the map. Irvin S. Cobb and Harry Leon Wilson, of the Saturday Evening Post; Lieut. Col. Roseman Bulger, New York Saturday Evening World; Damon Runyon, syndicate writer and sporting editor New York Morning World; Major W. O. McGeehan, sporting editor New York Tribune; Wm. J. Macbeth, syndicate writer with New York Tribune; Frank Stevens, New York National League Baseball Club and Colonel T. L. Huston, baseball magnate and owner of the New York American League Baseball Club; Mayor Hayes, Commissioners Thornton, Bullock, Jones and Fisher; E. A. Schofield, C. B. Allan, R. J. Wilkins, S. R. Desjardins, C. P. R., A. O. Seymour, publicity agent of the C. P. R., Joe Page, Bruce Burpee and C. A. Avard, of Sackville.

For Chapped Hands or Wind-Chafed Face. Daggett & Ramsdell's Perfect Cold Cream serves a two-fold purpose; it allays irritation and brings back the smooth freshness of youthful beauty to the complexion. That is why DAGGETT-RAMSDELL'S PERFECT COLD CREAM is the choice of women who would keep their skin fresh, clear and free from blemishes—just as nature intended it to be. (After outdoor sports, after the shopping trip, use this dainty cream to cleanse and heal the skin.) Sold in tubes and jars where toilet goods are sold and used everywhere by discriminating women. Palmers Limited, Montreal Wholesale Distributors for Canada.

Mr. Avard, of Sackville, said that he appreciated being here and also spoke of the friendly relations between the two countries. R. E. Armstrong in brief remarks warned the visitors not to carry any champagne baskets to the part of Nova Scotia they were heading for. Joe Page said that St. John in some respects was the best baseball city on the continent. He urged that publicity for the city be given from the home-end rather than bringing the other fellow in and letting him go back across the border to boost the city. This could be done by the creation of a professional baseball team from St. John in the New England League. It was up to the business men to bring this about. There was no city in the world that was growing, he said, unless it had athletes. Mr. Page said that the New Brunswick and Maine League never gave St. John any publicity because it was the only big city in it, and the smaller towns would naturally look to the largest one. St. John should be affiliated with the New England League, which would bring real live publicity than any investment it could make. Mr. Page said that he talked the matter over with the mayor and Commissioner Thornton and they offered every assistance if the money end of the proposition was arranged. They promised, he said, to do more than their share even in regard to the financial end of the scheme. A. O. Seymour, general tourist agent of the C. P. R., said that he was with the party merely as a courier and one who would see that each mouse of the party was brought out of the woods would have its proper tag. Frank Stevens, of the Saturday Evening Post, extended thanks to the city for the welcome received. Commissioner Thornton referred to the remarks of Mr. Page and he added that he was heartily in favor of the move. He was personally interested in all sport and urged the city council to provide an athletic field as soon as it was needed. He said that St. John was an enthusiastic baseball city, and said that good baseball with a fee for entrance was what is wanted in the city. A professional team was required. Damon Runyon backed up the remarks of Mr. Page and Commissioner Thornton, saying that a city with a professional baseball team was a city on the map. C. B. Allen, of the Tourist Association, referred to the pleasure having such distinguished men in the city, and the freedom of the evening and the informality of the speeches. He said that the nineteenth century had made the world a neighborhood but it was said that the twentieth would make it a brotherhood. This latter was the spirit displayed at the present gathering. He touched on the splendid hunting offered in New Brunswick and added that a record had been established by this province in having taken out of it a moose with a spread of seventy-two inches. There were short remarks made by Commissioners Bullock, Jones and Fisher, also P. E. Hinkley.

Eliminating Unnecessary Waste in Manufacturing. In most every manufacturing plant, there are a thousand little holes that soon become expensive leaks in the efficiency of manufacturing equipment, time, labor and materials. The average manufacturer does not realize that these leaks exist, or that a part of his profits is running away and forming a stream of lost dollars. Dominion Friction Surface Belting for many years has helped manufacturers to eliminate a large part of the unnecessary waste in manufacturing by plugging the leaks. For fifty years we have manufactured belting and our experts are conversant with every phase of transmission. Many of Canada's largest manufacturers find this service so profitable that they have made our engineers responsible for the efficiency of all their belting equipment. We are ready to show you, without charge, how unnecessary waste in your factory may be eliminated. Address the nearest Service Branch. Service Branches: Halifax, St. John, Moncton, Miramichi, Sackville, St. Catharines, Toronto, Vancouver, Victoria, etc.

or were dead. The common sacrifice with the United States would tend, even in the future, to unite the countries still more strongly. He touched on Canada's financial condition today and in 1916, saying that bank savings were far in advance of what they were three years ago. In an educational way, his worship said the Maritime provinces had sent out presidents to every university in Canada and even to the United States where educational leaders could be found from the Maritime provinces. These lower provinces since confederation, had sent forth three or four prime ministers. His worship concluded by wishing the visitors luck in their hunting trip. E. A. Schofield, the next speaker, said that St. John was proud to be able to extend a welcome to the literary men. Mr. Cobb then delighted the gathering with a wonderfully worded speech all his own, which was marked by humor and wit as well as giving thought for serious consideration. He started off by saying that the lowest form of an insect was considered by some people as being the professional after dinner speaker. Some people even compared them to "cockles," although others more kindly placed them in a higher category. Irvin S. Cobb. He then referred to his being called to his feet as spokesman of the party. This honor, he said, should have been conferred on any other member of the party who had fought in the war overseas with the American forces, one as a major and the other as a lieutenant. After some pleasant, getting more serious in tone, Mr. Cobb said that he was delighted to see at a dinner on the evening at which there was present the German general known as the Gray Ghost of Metz. This man was commanding the 14th German army of invasion and was looked upon by Germany as their greatest strategist. "He had asked me," said Mr. Cobb, "what was the population of Canada and he was told; he then asked for the population of the United States and he was told. "Why you outnumber them ten to one," said the German general, "you are letting slip a great rich prize. Canada is sending her men over to this country to fight. Why don't the Americans seize the opportunity and conquer Canada? It would be an easy task. The boundary line between the two countries must be wreathe marked now." To this Mr. Cobb said he replied that the boundary line that exists between the two countries is not strongly fortified with guns and cannons. One can pass over it and never know it. On neither side of the boundary line are there any fortifications or armed sentries and this condition has been in existence for over one hundred years. There is no fear in either country of aggressions or war between them. This the German general could not understand and said Mr. Cobb: "We are the same people, that is the answer." Mr. Cobb then went on to speak of certain peculiarities that the American takes objection to in the Englishman. One, he claimed, had a hereditary president called the king, while the other country elected a king who is sometimes called a president—the latter being the United States. In Great Britain there is the subject in the United States he is called a citizen. Mr. Cobb then made several humorous references to the prohibition issue which had practically made United States "bone-dry" and he asked the assistance of the moral support in the losing fight for the rehabilitation of the national thirst. The speaker then referred to the kindly entertainment which had been extended to the members of the visiting party to St. John. It had been a boast in the southern states that they possessed a hospitality that could not be equalled. This opinion he would amend and assured those present that he would now boost the hospitality of St. John which was of the finest variety he had ever served. "In this beautiful, kindly, friendly city of ours," This concluded Mr. Cobb's remarks. Harry Leon Wilson, of the Saturday Evening Post, said that he never could talk on his feet. He had come to see this part of the country, he said, and not to kill a moose. Colonel Bulger, of the New York Saturday Evening World, followed Mr. Wilson and said that he enjoyed very much being here. He had found two wonderful things in St. John—the Reversing Falls and prohibition—and he had enjoyed both (laughter). The hospitality he had met, he said, was even more delicate in St. John than in the southern states. He had eaten moose meat twice today and already had sent a card to his wife saying: "Have already eaten moose meat" and this, he added, could be claimed by every member of the party that had eaten moose meat in Canada even if they never killed one. He was extremely grateful for all the entertainment that was shown him and the party. A Baseball Owner. Colonel Huston voiced the same sentiments and styled himself a plain business man. He referred to his meeting many Canadians in Cuba in 1908 where he had spent some years. He found them wonderful people, good friends and sociable. The war had shown the world that Canada was made with "her army of the best fighters in the world and they deserved credit," concluded Colonel Huston. Major McGeehan, when asked to speak, merely said that he was delighted with the country and delighted with its people.
