DETECTIVE NOBLE CAUGHT P. E. I. THIEF

Clever Piece of Work Put Amateur Burglars Behind Bars.

HAVE CONFESSED.

SUMMERSIDE, Oct. 16.—D. A. Noble, police inspector on Government Railways, arrived last evening in Summerside by the Empress, with Irving Lewis in charge, the young man, who with Leo McIntyre, did the many acts of theft and burglary in and around Alberton. Mr. Noble crossed over to the mainland on the morning of the 14th, with but a very indefinite idea as to the whereabouts of Lewis. While on board the Empress he got chummy with a man from the western part of the Province, who passed as a cattle dealer. After sitting him up and landing at Point du Chene, he wired for an assistant to meet him and was put on the trail of the cattle dealer. All three boarded the train going north, but Mr. Noble kept out of sight of the other two. The stockman got off the train at Bathurst, with a very pleasant and agreeable fellow traveller, the unsuspected detective's assistant. They went to a restaurant and had refreshments and were having a good time generally. Mr. Noble had wired ahead for the sheriff of Bathurst, to meet him and he got among the lively men and gave them the tip. He then took a team and drove out fifteen miles to lumber camp and arrested young Lewis. Returning they found the cattle dealer and his friend enjoying themselves immensely, but when the cattlemen saw young Lewis, whom he had known very well, he began to realize that he had been caught and acknowledged that he had been sent from the island to warn young Lewis of his dangerous situation and if possible, to get him out of the way. He says now that New Brunswick is a hard place for securing stock. Detective Noble arriving here, proceeded to Alberton with his prisoner. On the way over to the Province young Lewis confessed his guilt—Charlotte, town Guardian.

HOW CHILDREN KICKED AND SQUIRMED
In olden days when Cod Liver Oil was administered in its crude form, No one would blame them for it; it was simply nauseating.

Modern methods have devised a way whereby all the medicinal elements of Cod Liver Oil without the oil or grease, are combined with Tonic Iron, thus giving to the world two world-famous tonics in a most delicious and palatable form. It is unequalled to overcome pulmonary troubles and build up weak and aged persons. A. McD. McDonald, Druggist, Campbellton, N. B.

OCEAN LIMITED MADE TO PAY HER WAY

Past Six Months Show Substantial Increase in I. C.
R. Earnings.

FOREST FIRES.

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—For the first six months of the fiscal year an increase of $100,000 is reported in the gross earnings of the Intercolonial Railway. It is also shown that the Ocean Limited service has been operated on a paying basis.

The census and statistics monthly shows that there were 825 forest fires in Canada in 1908, by which $6,290,000 feet of lumber, board measure, were damaged or destroyed and the value of the timber and improvements destroyed amounted to $2,524,550. Twenty fires were lost. The main causes of the forest fires were sparks from railway locomotives, bush burning by settlers, and carelessness by travelers and sportsmen.

A JOKE THAT COST
Nervous for carelessness on the part of the press is illustrated by a case just tried in Toronto. The World of that city, published a semi-humorous account of a haunted house which it directed as one of the important avenues of the city. The description was so realistic that hundreds of people went to the place to look at it; they trampled down the vines and the flowers, and did other mischief. The proprietor also claimed that the reputation of the place was injured by the untrue tale, and he asked for consequential damages. The World admitted that it published the story, but said it did not intend to do the property any damage and that its sole object was to tell a pleasant story. The jury took a practical view of the matter. It did not think that the value or reputation of the property was injured in any way by the newspaper relation, but it thought the owner ought to be recompensed for his injured shrubbery and flowers, and there, it gave him damages to the extent of one hundred dollars.

CARRUTHERS WAS SENTENCED TODAY
Fine of $100 or Four Months in Jail

KEENEVILLE, Oct. 16.—At ten o'clock Judge Drysdale entered the court room and took his seat on the bench and asked for arraignment of prisoner for sentence. Mr. Dunlop, one of his counsel, arose and asked for leniency. He said he had had the unpleasant duty of informing his sister of the finding of the jury and had to remain with her all night; she was an elderly lady subject to heart trouble and a sentence to jail would mean her death.

The prisoner was asked if he had anything to say.
He answered "Nothing."
The judge then addressed him saying he would take into consideration the remarks of Mr. Dunlop. He fully realized that the libel was published in heat of a political campaign. He fully agreed with the verdict. He could not see how it could have been otherwise. The sentence was as follows:
A fine of $100 to be paid within seventy days, or in default of payment four months imprisonment. The fine will be paid.

DR. SANSON NOW ON TRIAL FOR WIFE MURDER

Trial Promises to Be A Sensational One—Able Defended—Grand Jury Finds True Bill.

OTHER CASES ON.

The verdict of the Grand Jury will be known this afternoon.
SUNDAY, Oct. 20.—The jury called upon to decide the fate of Dr. Sanson, on trial for the murder of his wife, is composed of the following citizens:
Messrs. Oliver Boucher, Joseph V. Fournier, Philip Bourget, Jean Marie LeBlondier, Theophile Proulx, John Belliveau, Nicholas Gaudreau, Albert Mabo, Philip Francis John Adams, Charles Boyle and Edward Adams.
The Crown prosecutor, A. S. Garneau, K. C., exposed the following facts to the jury:
On the 10th of March last, Colanire Lafontaine, wife of J. M. Sanson, of Grand River, was taken with convulsions several persons entered the house. Up to that hour she had been in perfect health. She had been to church that morning, had been to confession and received communion. Throughout the day she had attended to her domestic duties as usual. When Dr. Sanson was suffering with convulsions several persons entered the house. To these persons the prisoner who was a practicing physician at the time, explained that he had given his wife a dose of tincture of colombo as an appetizer. Dr. Bernier, who lives eight or ten acres from the Sanson residence, was summoned.

MARITIME HAD ANOTHER CLOSE CALL

Collided With Freight Special on Grade Near Metis.

SLIGHT DAMAGE.

At an early hour Wednesday morning No. 31 Maritime express going west was nearly wrecked. While proceeding at her usual rate of speed between Sayabec and Metis, the driver noticed the tail lights of a freight special on the track ahead of him. He immediately applied the air brakes and only a slight collision occurred. The freight had been stalled on a heavy grade and was not able to get out of the way. The special was damaged and the express engine was also slightly damaged, but no one was injured.

It is all very well for Knapas to praise its own newspapers, but things happen in Kansas which happen nowhere else. For instance, a passenger on a Kansas railway was injured by a horse, which was grazing on the right of way. The horse reached through the window and bit him on the shoulder.

Old Folks' Coughs

Because Resisting Power is Weak
Pneumonia Often Follows.

Just think of it—a direct breathable medicine, full of soothing, antiseptic blue essences that reach every soft, congested membrane in two seconds. No drugs to take, nothing to swallow, the aged or the infant, because Catarrh is the most common cause of cough, cold and cold remedy ever devised. Mrs. M. E. Walford, wife of a well-known grocer in East Sheffield, writes: "For three years I suffered with a hard, racking cough and bronchitis, which annoyed me so much at night that I couldn't sleep. I tried many remedies, catarrh tablets, sprays, syrups, etc., but they only helped for a short time. Catarrhone brought me wonderful comfort from the first. I inhaled its balsamic fumes every hour or two, and am now free from any trace of cold, bronchitis, and catarrh. I can go out in all kinds of weather and don't take cold." There is no remedy so certain and safe as Catarrhone, but being a good remedy, it is limited. Beware of the substitute. Large Catarrhone lasts two months, price $1.00; smaller sizes 50c and 25c. All reliable dealers or the Catarrhone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Gannon, who were looking after the establishment of the headquarters of the company, which have been located in the Traders Bank building in that city. The affairs of the company were progressing in a satisfactory manner, he said, a large quantity of steel rails being manufactured and in general a very bright future, seemed to be in store for the corporation. Mr. Drummond said that several projects were under consideration and amongst others was the extension of the railway northward, which would, no doubt, be accomplished in the near future.

PRESENT POLICY IS ALL WRONG

Hon. H. R. Emmerson Stamps
Hydri-Headed Management Improper.

NOT SANCTIONED.

MONTREAL, Oct. 21.—That the policy at present pursued by the department of railways in regard to the Intercolonial Railway will not prove successful is the opinion expressed by H. R. Emmerson yesterday in an interview with the Windsor Hotel.

In the first place, he remarked, "I think it is a mistake to place the management of the railway into the hands of four men, instead of one. There is now a hydra-headed management, each member of which is only a quarter of a manager. He must have a special car, his own staff and all the other appurtenances of a manager. I don't think the expense thus entailed will be justified. If parliament had placed the Intercolonial Railway in the hands of one man, which was responsible to parliament, I would not have complained, but this matter has not been a subject of legislation. Not a penny has been spent in regard to the management of the railway since it was created. The Hon. Mr. Graham has simply created a board of four managers where one would have done, and he is just as much responsible for the whole policy and conduct of the railway as ever he was. No doubt the board of management is composed of good men, but I maintain that the policy which they have adopted is all wrong. You can't suddenly make the water of Niagara flow another way, and you can't suddenly turn the Intercolonial into a success from a strictly commercial point of view. That is what the present policy is now directed to doing, and as a result cutting down is going on all over the I. C. R. system. I don't think it is wise to discharge a man here and a man there, for instance, because the railway can be run without them and neither do I think it is wise to cut down renewals and repairs as is now being done. It may make a big showing the first year, but we shall have to pay dearly for it later on."

MONTREAL, Oct. 20.—J. J. Drummond, president of the Superior Corporation, has returned from Toronto, where he was looking after the establishment of the headquarters of the company, which have been located in the Traders Bank building in that city. The affairs of the company were progressing in a satisfactory manner, he said, a large quantity of steel rails being manufactured and in general a very bright future, seemed to be in store for the corporation. Mr. Drummond said that several projects were under consideration and amongst others was the extension of the railway northward, which would, no doubt, be accomplished in the near future.

W. C. Pearce, international audit Bible case superintendent, suggested that greater prominence be given to the Bible which makes it illegal to sell cigarettes to boys under sixteen. By inserting this on the cards used by the departments a knowledge, of such a law, would be greatly increased among the younger members of the community.

Robt. Reid called attention to the excellent number of the Sunday school Advocate, one of which were being circulated among the delegates, and asked for new subscriptions.

Rev. Mr. Kuhring's address, under the caption, A Half Hour with the Word, was again a fine feature. His text was taken from Luke 1:1-11, and dealt with the Lord's choice of men who should be a help for service. His remarks were most interesting and lessons he proceeded to deduct from Christ's work and choice were followed with great interest.

At 5 o'clock the members of the convention will face the fire of a Kodak when a group picture will be taken outside St. Andrew's church by J. Y. Mesereau.

S. S. CONVENTION NOW IN SESSION

Provincial Sabbath School Workers Meet In Annual Session.

MANY PRESENT.

CHATHAM, Oct. 20.—The New Brunswick Sunday school convention held its first session here tonight at 8 o'clock. Ald. R. T. Hayes of St. John's occupied the chair and Rev. J. A. Kuhring of St. John, with Rev. Geo. Wood, pastor of St. Andrew's church, were on the platform. The combined choir of the several churches led in the singing under the direction of Rev. Mr. Wood. The congregation was large and few empty pews were noticeable in the big auditorium.

President Hayes called the convention to order and after the appointment of committees the chairman delivered his address. Mr. F. J. McKean of St. John, then rendered an enjoyable solo, and this was followed by the presentation of a picture to the convention by Mr. Robt. Reid of St. John. The picture is a large one, handpainted, framed. It contains portraits of the association officers and is being much admired.

"Looking Backward" was the subject of addresses by Mr. S. J. Parsons and Mr. Geo. Haddon. They were for the most part of reminiscences, interesting particularly to the older members of the church.

Miss Jessie McDonald was heard in a delightful solo. After which the president announced that owing to the absence of Mr. W. C. Pearce, Rev. Mr. Kuhring had consented to give an address.

Mr. Kuhring took Phillips' words to the accused who should be found guilty of manslaughter. The Crown will begin to examine its witnesses today.

CHATHAM, Oct. 21.—The second session of the Sunday school convention opened this morning with a large attendance of delegates. President Hayes was in the chair. Devotional service began at 8:15 and was led by Rev. B. H. Noble.

Reports from the superintendents of departments, were given in the absence of Rev. A. A. Rideout, Field Secretary. Rev. J. B. Gannon, gave that of the Home Department. He quoted statistics showing the membership and financial standing, both of which were satisfactory.

The temperature report was given by M. H. Farinham and the elementary report by Mrs. W. C. Matthews. In discussing the reports which followed Rev. Mr. Gannon made a suggestion that the present card containing a pledge against the use of alcoholic liquors, have an additional pledge printed on it, that of abstaining from the use of cigarettes.

W. C. Pearce, international audit Bible case superintendent, suggested that greater prominence be given to the Bible which makes it illegal to sell cigarettes to boys under sixteen. By inserting this on the cards used by the departments a knowledge, of such a law, would be greatly increased among the younger members of the community.

FOUR CONDUCTORS TO BE DISMISSED

Names of Men are Withheld
But None are From New Brunswick.

WERE DISHONEST.

MONCTON, Oct. 21.—As far as is known, the names of the four conductors who have been dismissed from the railway are withheld. The announcement last week to the effect that the railway had decided to dismiss four conductors, caused considerable uneasiness among all the conductors, but they are now breathing easier.

It is stated on fairly reliable authority that only four conductors have been dismissed, and these, two are in the Province of Quebec and two in Nova Scotia. Of the latter one has been dismissed from the Truro and Moncton line, and the other, named Harry, from Moncton.

Several conductors in discussing the dismissal, said the Order of Railway Conductors would probably raise the matter up, and ask for an inquiry into the cause of the men affected.

Philippines' Sweep and Extensive Damage Caused

MANILA, Oct. 20.—A typhoon of unusual violence swept across the western and southern Luzon on Sunday night. With communication to all points beyond Dagupan, Luzon, was cut off and details are lacking. One message brought to Dagupan from San Fabian said that the loss of life was considerable and the damage to property heavy.

Torrential rains accompanied the storm and an extensive area was flooded. The railroad bed was washed out at several points and one railway station was swept away.

LOCAL TRAINMEN SUSPENDED

Near Collision Same Day as Nash's
Creek Wreck

As a result of an investigation into the cause of a narrowly averted head-on collision near Moncton on October 16th, three local C. C. R. employees have been indefinitely suspended. On the date mentioned the fast freight left Moncton on the northern division about one o'clock and had gone as far as the new shop when a special was seen coming in the other direction. The brakes were immediately applied on both trains, which were brought to a standstill.

The matter was reported to the Board of Management who after investigation suspended Conductor J. A. Davidson, of the fast freight, Driver, Enock Rushton of the same train and Operator J. A. Broun.

AN I. C. R. CASE FROM CAMPBELLTON IN THE SUPREME COURT

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—The Maritime list is being taken up before the Supreme Court. The sittings were resumed on Tuesday for this special purpose. The first case called was Chamberlain vs. The King. This is a complaint in connection with the loss of a house and barn near Campbellton by fire alleged to have been caused by a spark from an I. C. R. engine. The judge held that the engine caused the fire but he must infer that the repairs were made and that the engine was not defective when the engine passed by.

A PAPER TEACHING OF HISTORY.

A Most Important Factor in The Training of the Future Citizen.

(A paper read before the Northumberland County Teachers' Institute at Chatham, N. B. Oct. 15, 1908, by H. H. Stuart of Newcastle.)

In emphasizing the great importance of the proper teaching of history, both as a separate study and as core in our own country and also have an intimate or in any way detract from the value of other subjects of the curriculum. Arithmetic, algebra, and bookkeeping, manual training, physics, chemistry and agriculture each provide good training for the mind and furnish the student with knowledge of the greatest value in his after life. The work of geometry and logic in strengthening the reasoning faculty cannot be overestimated. The humanizing effect of botanical study, which, by showing the intimate relationship between animal and vegetable life, prepares the mind for the early and permanent absorption of the main principles of the theory of evolution, is an irretrievable recommendation for that branch of education. That physiology and hygiene must be taught goes without saying, and so with English grammar, composition and cognate studies. The acquisition of Latin, in order to more thoroughly understand our own tongue, is useful if the pupil has the time to spare; and the learning of some foreign language such as the richly endowed speech of France or Germany and the commercially profitable one of Spain, is highly desirable. But to lay in the student's mind the foundation of good citizenship and to adequately equip him or her for the proper discharge of political duties and the satisfactory solution of urgently pressing problems of a social, industrial and moral nature, the student must be well grounded in the history, past and present, of his own country and also have an intelligent knowledge of the great historical crises in the other important countries of the world. The success with which we are to develop our national resources and mould our national destiny depends more than upon anything else upon the value of the education which our boys and girls receive in the public schools, and especially upon the carefulness with which they are trained in history.

When a child comes to school, at Even people who are usually healthy occasionally require some kind of a food tonic. by ordeal, and other absurd customs all accompanied, however, by an intense love of liberty and well-developed democratic principles of government which, in spite of the then practice of slavery, and the subsequent enslavement of the masses under the feudal system, finally gave the common people the feeling that they are the natural equals of any class—afforded the teacher a fine opportunity of instilling into his pupils an ardent love of freedom, hatred of oppression and desire to carry on the work of progress until every man and woman of the British race, and of the whole human family, has been guaranteed by law and custom an absolute equality of opportunity—an equality which is still, in far too many cases, a theory only—not an accomplished fact.

The overthrow of the old English system of land tenure by which the majority of the citizens held their land as freemen, which they were able to dispose of as they saw fit, and its replacement in the reign of William the Conqueror by the feudal system, affords an opportunity for the teacher to contrast the old system with the feudal and with the feudal custom of each clan holding the land in common—a custom which survived in Ireland for centuries and in Scotland until the fatal battle of Culloden in 1746.

The resurrection of representative government, overthrown by the Normans in 1066, and partially restored by Simon de Montfort in 1265, is a most interesting and useful study. The growth of the Commons can be traced gradually through the reigns of the Plantagenets till its temporary overthrow by Edward IV, and its restoration in 1381, when the commons of the upper portion of the middle class, the whole middle class becoming finally enfranchised by the Reform Bill of 1832.

The most interesting topic of all is the rise of the lower classes. Up to about 1085 chattel slaves, they became under the feudal system serfs, liable to be bought and sold with the land, but not off it. Experiences of the Hundred Years war, embodied many efforts to buy their freedom, but the effect of this concession was neutralized by the Statute of Labourers in 1351, which forbade the free laborer (as in Mexico today) to ask higher wages or leave his parish in search of work, and empowered landowners to seize the life and make them work for the wages set by the parliament composed of these same landowners or others of their class. The first rising of the commons took place in 1381, when their leader, Wat Tyler, Jack Straw and Rev. John Ball, boldly demanded the abolition of serfdom and lost their lives for their pains.

The second rising, however, for their comrades, and by their death, undermining the foundations of the hated feudal system. Then, in 1450, comes the rising of Jack Cade and the Statute of Labourers in 1351, which forbade the free laborer (as in Mexico today) to ask higher wages or leave his parish in search of work, and empowered landowners to seize the life and make them work for the wages set by the parliament composed of these same landowners or others of their class.

da should assume if she should sever her connection too soon with the rest of the Empire.

In the history of both Britain and Canada the educative value of the work of the best authors should not be overlooked. English literature is among the richest in the world.

In teaching geography, the pupils' attention should be directed to any marked difference between the laws and customs of his own country and those of the country which is being discussed. For instance: In New Zealand and Australia, all the railways, telegraphs and telephones are publicly owned, education is free and compulsory, the old have pensions guaranteed, and women have the ballot. In Russia, the original home of the Doukhobors, who by their communistic system of co-operative industry have become the richest agricultural settlement in Canada, the land of the peasantry is held in common as in Switzerland, they have Direct Legislation, by the initiative and referendum, that of that country has a chance to demand its submission to a popular vote (referendum) which, if taken, settles the question; and that the same proportion of the voters as is required to secure a referendum may prepare a law of their own and have it submitted to a general vote (initiative). In Belgium they have Proportional Representation, whereby each political party is represented in parliament in the same proportion as its vote received stands to the total vote polled. For instance, a party securing 5, 10, 20 or 30 per cent. of the members of parliament, whereas in Canada such a minority party might not elect any representatives.

No opium, no chloroform—absolutely nothing harmful. It calms the distressing cough, and heals the sensitive membranes. Accept no other. Demand Dr. Shoop's. Sold by all dealers.

The teacher should familiarize his pupils with the basic principles of and fundamental differences between, all the different political parties seeking the support of the electorate. He can do this without inflicting upon his charges his own personal views and predilections. He should place the facts within the pupils' reach, leaving them to draw their own conclusions.

Thus, by skillfully leading the student to discover what kind of people he springs from, by what steps his ancestors slowly and painfully ascended the scale of intelligence and civilization, and how other great peoples have dealt with similar problems, the teacher can develop in his pupil that quality of true patriotism which, by enabling him when grown to do his part in bringing about the early realization of our national life of the inspired visions of the generally despised and rejected prophets who have endeavored in the past and are, in this and many other lands today, endeavoring to lead the plain common people—the heart and the sinew, but alas, not yet a higher, nobler and happier standard of existence than has ever yet been reached.

CHEST INFLAMMATION

Suffered From a Heavy Cold, Pleuritic Pains in Side—Constant Coughing.

"NERVILINE" CURED QUICKLY

"Anyone that goes through all that I suffered last winter will appreciate the value of a remedy that cures like Nerviline cured me." These are the opening words of the solemn declaration of E. P. Von Hayden, the well-known violinist of Middleton. "My work kept me out late at night, and playing in cold drafty places brought on a severe cold that settled on my chest. I had a harsh, racking cough and severe pains darted through my sides and settled in my shoulders. I used different liniments, but none broke up my cold till I used Nerviline. I rubbed it on my neck, chest, and shoulders morning and night, and all the pain disappeared. Realizing that such a heavy cold had run down my system, I took Perforone at meals, and was completely built up and strengthened. Since using Nerviline I have no more colds or pleurisy, and enjoy perfect health."

It's because Nerviline contains the purest and most healing essence and medicinal principles, because it has the power of sinking through the pores to the kernel of the pain—these are the reasons why it breaks up colds, cures lung disease, stiffness, neuritis, sciatica and rheumatism.

STOPPING A RUNAWAY ENGINE
A car loaded with lumber, that had been sidetracked at the Wellington crossing on the pulp mill branch, started down the heavy grade for the mill Saturday morning. It threatened to do great damage unless it could be derailed or stopped in some other way. Driver Joseph Trevers ran his shunting engine up the line and met it and his fireman jumping just before the crash came. The engine and car were badly broken up by the collision. If the car could have been derailed by placing an obstruction in its way the damage would have been much less, but there was no one beside the track to do it.—World.
