ELECTRICAL STORM SWEEPS PROVINCE

Much Damage Reported to Buildings and Crops over Wide Area

One of the fiercest electrical storms ever to visit this section passed over on Monday evening and left a train of considerable damage in its wake. There was a gale of wind, incessant lightning, torrential rain, and, in some sections a considerable amount of hail. The storm broke over the county about six o'clock and continued with slight intermission until after nine.

So vivid and so close the lightning seemed that most people were almost sure that their own houses were struck. As it was there was much damage done. At Tracey Mills three barns are reported to have been destroyed, a barn owned by Peter Haynes of Glassville was burned, and reports of other damage in that section have come in.

At Lansdowne the house of Delaney Foster was struck and the carpet on the floor was torn to shreds. Some of the inmates received severe shocks. At Ban- non barns owned by William Laskey and Mansfield Clark were struck.

At Mainstream Wentworth Shaw's house was struck and the bolt severed the ell from the main house.

Crops suffered severely in places, grain and potatoes being beaten down by the heavy rain and wind, while in certain localities hail did quite a lot of damage.

The storm extended over the whole province.

During the season there has been more electrical storms than in all the last five or six years put together, and it is hoped that the change of the atmosphere to cool, clear, fall-like conditions will be permanent.

River Bridge Needs Repairs

The river bridge needs immediate attention and repairs. On Monday one of the heavy timbers overhead, six inches square and 24 feet long, fell with a terrific crash not ten feet beyond a lady who was driving across. John McInnis, travelling in the opposite direction, was very close when the timber fell. A few years ago the Observer had much to say concerning the condition of the bridge at that time, and under another government. It must be as insistent that the new officials in charge do not delay another day the safeguarding of the public. It might be mentioned that the $100,000 of the people's money that A. R. Gould paid to J. K. Fleming would have paid for three new bridges across the river.

THE VALLEY RAILWAY PLUNDER

St. John Globe says Attorney General Should Not Lose a Minute in Starting Criminal Action Against Fleming

As the result of conversations with Hon. James K. Fleming, Premier of the Province, while negotiating with Mr. Fleming and his government for a railway contract, Mr. A. R. Gould agreed to make a political contribution of $100,000, and subsequently carried out the agreement, paying upwards of $75,000 of the money to Mr. Fleming and the remainder as he directed. That there are payments by Mr. Gould to other members of the government and to others more or less closely identified with provincial politics, is the reference to be drawn from a question asked Mr. Gould in his examination before Justice McKeown on Thursday, but overruled as having no bearing on the matter at issue. Ways and means should be found by the present provincial government to get these and any other as yet untold facts before the country in a way that can leave no doubt of accuracy. Mr. Gould's admission of the payments to Hon. Mr. Fleming establish finally what has long been suspected.

His testimony that Hon. Mr. Fleming suggested the payment when the contract negotiations were on, and before the contract was signed, establishes a guilty compact and furnishes the direct proof for a criminal prosecution the Attorney General should not lose a minute in starting. It was as Premier of this province that Hon. Mr. Fleming negotiated with Mr. Gould for the construction of the Valley Railway, and it was as premier of this province that he suggested, demanded the contribution which was in effect the price of the contract. The evidence of Mr. Gould presents the man whose duty it was to safeguard and protect the interests of this province and drive the best possible bargain with the contractor, negotiating personally with that contractor for a share of the profits. Considered in connection with the more recent exposure of payments on the lower section contracts, the Valley Railway contractors and sub-contractors appear to have generously dispersed upwards of a quarter of a million dollars, possibly more, to politicians and the intimates of politicians.

What a revelation of political rottenness it is, and the unanswered questions suggest that much remains yet to be told.

J. Clark & Son to Build

It is announced that J. Clark & Son, whose headquarters are at Fredericton and who have a large farm implement business hereunder the management of H. N. Dickinson, will soon commence the erection of a large concrete block building on Main street directly north of Glass Bros. garage. It is stated that a portion of one of the upper floors may be finished up for a hall for Brighton Lodge, K. of P.

PRAISE FOR MR. CARVELL

(St. John Globe.)

Political feelings have been so bitter in Carleton county that F. B. Carvell would not be human if he failed to experience a very large measure of personal satisfaction over the success he has achieved in uncovering Valley Railroad rotteness. As counsel for the province, it is Mr. Carvell's duty to get all the facts, and the knowledge that those facts discredit his political opponents cannot make his task less congenial. Aside together from the political aspect of the matter, it must be agreed that Mr. Carvell is discharging a very important public duty in a thorough and business-like manner.

(St. John Times)

F. B. Carvell is one of Canada's big men. He is big enough to be considered as a most desirable member of the union government. His political enemies would like to form to save themselves from utter defeat. The province of New Brunswick owes a great debt to him for his exposure of the grafters. Abused in the most shameless way by the St. John Standard, Mr. Carvell has gone calmly on with his task, drawing the net around men closely identified with that sheet, until he has them in his pillory. Hence their hatred.

Used For Shaving

Many men are troubled more particularly in the cold weather, with a sort of roughness of the skin or eczema caused by shaving. The application of Dr. Chase's Ointment after the shave cures the trouble and by using it after each shave you keep the skin soft and prevent irritation and soreness. Because of its antiseptic qualities this Ointment prevents and cures Barber's Itch.

BATH BREEZES

Chester W. Parlee and Daniel B. Secord are reported to have each invested in a new motor car, thus making 16 in the village.

The farmers are about through with their haying operations. The crop is an abundant one and taxes the capacity of the barns in which to store it. Harvesting has already begun. Oats promise good and potatoes are holding on well although some rust is in evidence. The turnip crop is promising an abundant one and the acreage is more than doubled from last year.

Rev. Mr. Howlett attended his usual services at Wicklow where he administered baptism to two candidates at the close of his morning service. He was assisted by Rev. W. J. Hurlow of Tracey Mills.

A number of the men are at work cutting down the grade on the lower ferry hill on the Wicklow side of the river, which will very much ease the hill. J. N. Drost, former highway superintendent in this parish, has charge of the work.

It is announced that the first and second quarterly meeting will be held in the Baptist church here on September 4 and 5 and the people will gladly welcome any who shall attend.

Wilmot Kimball and family of Armond were callers in this place on Sunday en route from Perth.

James Jones and son Turney have purchased the E. E. Kearney farm at Demerchant Settlement.

Mrs. E. W. Seeley and daughter of Moncton are visiting Mrs. Seeley's mother, Mrs. E. D. R. Phillips.

ASHAMED OF THE PIMPLES

PIMPLES and skin eruptions always seem to come where they are the most noticeable, and consequently most embarrassing to the person so unfortunate as to have them.

The most satisfactory treatment for pimples and skin eruptions is Dr. Chase's Ointment, applied at night after bathing the skin in warm water. Instead of clogging the pores, as do powders, Dr. Chase's Ointment cleanses them and promotes the healthy action of the pores of the skin.

By its antiseptic action this ointment destroys poisonous germs, and thereby prevents the development of eczema. There are scores of ways in which Dr. Chase's Ointment is useful in every home.

PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS.

Miss Carrie Altwater, Bitter Lake, Alta., writes: "I was entirely cured of pimples and blackheads some months ago by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. As I have also found this ointment a splendid treatment for sunburn and chapped hands, I would not be without it in the house. It is the best I ever used."

SHORTAGE OF WOOL

By Saving Rags Canadians Can Help to Avert Serious Shortage

In all the warring countries the demand for rags, to supply the world's shortage of wool, is insistent. Canada is no exception, and appeals are being made for the saving of rags and old clothes that be used again, in the manufacture of shoddy, to relieve the strain upon the wool supply. In Great Britain, the Local Government Board has called attention to the varied means by which this material may be saved, as follows:

"On account of the large stocks of clothing needed for the British and allied armies, efforts are being made to save the maximum quantity of rags for use in shoddy mills. The aid of women's societies has been invoked in conjunction with urban and rural officials. The collection is largely dependent upon the patriotic spirit of the people, but large supplies of old clothes and rags will be called for. Central depots are provided for storage, and when enough rags are on hand for shipment they are forwarded to the district centre, where they are sorted and sold to the mill owners, the profits going to the Red Cross or other war charities. An especial appeal is made to the tailors and dressmakers to keep their cuttings for this purpose. Discarded clothing is separated into classes—all wool, all cotton, and cotton and wool."

This method can be undertaken in Canada by many organizations. Hitherto, owing to our wasteful habits, the saving and collecting of rags has not appealed to us, but the war has brought about many changes, and, it is incumbent upon all Canadians to do their bit toward averting the serious shortages that otherwise are sure to result.

Death at Aroostook Junction

Aroostook mourns the loss of one of its oldest and most respected inhabitants. William Phinney Hopkins died on Saturday morning, August 4, at the age of 79 years, having been a life-long resident of the Junction since his birth in February, 1838.

The funeral service was held at his residence at 12 o'clock, Tuesday, August 7, and was conducted by Rev. J. S. McFadden, Baptist minister of Andover, after which the remains were taken to the cemetery for interment. The service was attended by a large number of the residents of Aroostook and neighborhood. The singing was furnished by a quartet from Andover, consisting of Mrs. F. Sadler, Mrs. B. Waite, Mrs. S. P. Waite, and Miss P. Waite, who rendered "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," "Crossing the Bar," and "Nearer, My God, to Thee," the part singing in the first being exceptionally fine.

The surviving relatives are: two brothers, Samuel and John, and one sister, Mrs. Albert Brewer, three nephews, Harry and Le-Baron Hopkins, and one nephew in Pittsburgh, three nieces, Mrs. R. W. Demmings of Aroostook, one niece in Washington, D. C., and one in Vancouver, Mrs. Orlay Merritt, formerly of St. John. In connection with this, the oldest family in Aroostook Junction, it is of interest to note its antecedents: Daniel Hopkins, father of deceased, was born in year 1801, in the State of Maine, and migrated to the confluence of the Aroostook and St. John rivers, now known as Aroostook Junction, at the age of 25 years. There he settled, and for some years fetched the whole of his supplies from Fredericton on the ice, and established a large logging business, building a boom across the Aroostook river, and afterwards built the first piers of the present bridge used by the Canadian Pacific Railway on the Edmundston line of railway. The deceased, William Hopkins, was in partnership for many

With the Fingers! Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of freezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This new drug in an ether compound, and while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heeled footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.

PAID FLEM- ING $100,000

The Gould arbitration proceedings in connection with the Valley Railway started by the Murray-Baxter government and carried on in a pussy-footed manner, have suddenly taken on life. The engagement of F. B. Carvell, M. P. as counsel is largely responsible for the change. Yesterday Mr. Carvell secured from Mr. Gould the admission that he (Gould) had paid Fleming the sum of $100,000 for the contract. The money came from funds belonging to the province in the hands of the Prudential Trust Company, of Montreal. The money was paid over just prior to the local election of 1912. With the help of this big boodle fund, stolen from the people, the government swept the province and returned Fleming to power to continue his boodling operations. The timber land seal of $73,000 was pulled off the following year, when there was no election in sight.

The Valley Railway enterprise appears to have been a steal from start to finish. In comparison with it, the famous Pacific scandal, which wrecked the Tory government at Ottawa in 1873, was in the kindergarten class.

A. R. Gould had to pay Fleming $100,000 for the Valley Railway contract. Eventually Fleming lost his job as Premier and Gould had had his contract cancelled. The world turned on in the lathe of time, and a new contract was let to a company headed by Thomas Cozzolino, a native of Sunny Italy. It was not necessary for Mr. Cozzolino to see Fleming, but he saw Tennant, and for the privilege of finishing Gould's work he had to flash up $120,000. In both cases the taxpayers of New Brunswick paid the indemnity.—Fredericton Mail.

Arnold Blizzard Arrested for Theft

The following concerns a young man who is very well known in Hartland, having spent his boyhood days here:

Arnold Blizzard of Fredericton was arrested by Policeman Murray at the West End Bathing Beach for going through the pockets of the clothing of bathers left on the shore. The prisoner was brought to the police station by Policeman Murray and made resistance while being brought. Blizzard had been at the beach sometime before his arrest and his actions near the bathers' clothing aroused the suspicion of the policeman who was doing special duty in plain clothes on account of numerous complaints concerning thefts at the beach. He told Blizzard to get away and leave the beach. The man did so but later returned. Policeman Murray caught him in the act on this occasion.

Friends of the accused say he was not himself yesterday on account of liquor and also that he

"For two years, I was a victim of Acute Indigestion and Gas in the Stomach. It afterwards affected my Heart and I had pains all over my body, so that I could hardly move around. I tried all kinds of medicine, but none of them did me any good. At last, I decided to try 'Fruit-a-lives'. I bought the first box, and now I am well, after using only three boxes. I recommend 'Fruit-a-lives' to anyone suffering from indigestion."

MOTHERHOOD WOMAN'S JOY

Suggestions to Childless Women.

Among the virtues of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the ability to correct sterility in the cases of many women. This fact is well established as evidenced by the following letter and hundreds of others we have published in these columns.

Poplar Bluff, Mo.—"I want other women to know what a blessing Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been to me. We had always wanted a baby in our home but I was in poor health and not able to do my work. My mother and husband both urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, my health improved and I am now the mother of a fine baby girl and do all my own house work."

—Mrs. ALMA B. THOMAS, 216 Almond St., Poplar Bluff, Mo.

In many other homes, once childless, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice—it will be confidential and helpful.

Be ready For Emergencies

The best way is to always keep a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house, ready for emergencies. Then when croup or colds come suddenly they can be promptly cured before they have time to reach an acute and dangerous stage. To meet this requirement we must put the syrup up in family size bottles which contain nearly three times as much as the 25-cent bottle and sell at 60 cents.

Potatoes in Aroostook

Potatoes are rusting quite badly in nearly all parts of Aroostook. The damage from rust will be so great that the crop as a whole for the country will be rather a moderate one, from present indications. Sharp work spraying is being done, however. The fields that have not been hit too badly are developing well. Indications are that shipments to Boston, on a very small scale, may begin about Monday, August 27.—Port Fairfield Review.

NEW BRUNSWICK AS A SHEEP COUNTRY

In five years New Brunswick's Sheep Population Decreased 40 per cent.

One often hears from an outsider the expression "What a splendid sheep country New Brunswick would make." This is very true and we all know it but have not realized it, and our sheep population has declined very rapidly. Often we get into a rut like this and pursue the even tenor of our ways oblivious to our natural advantages. However there was a time when wool and lamb prices were very low and the sheep men became disgusted, and dropped out of the business, but now for a long time to come no one need fear any serious drop in prices. It is a well known fact that meat consumption is increasing and meat producing animals are decreasing in numbers the world over. Let us analyse the various sheep countries of the world and see what they have to offer. The Australian supply of mutton and wool is uncertain. The country is subject to drought and this is sure to effect the sheep crop. Then they are situated a long way from the principal wool and mutton markets of the world, London, Boston and New York. This disadvantage offset many of the natural advantages in favor of Australia, as a sheep breeding country. Argentina is probably the most important exporting country in the world, that is to say they export a bigger per cent of their than is the case of any other country. Sheep and beef are the two important classes of stock kept by the natives of Argentina. Poor railway and shipping facilities along with droughts limits the amount of mutton export from Argentina. Along with these there is a growing movement towards mixed farming.

In point of numbers the United States might be considered the meat country of the world. Their population is however increasing very rapidly and their export trade in meat, once the greatest in the world, has rapidly decreased.

Home consumption accounts for this. Now they are the importers. Next to Great Britain they import more wool and mutton than other country in the world.

The same applies to dairy products, the United States is an importer. South Africa has developed into a sheep country and has the natural advantages necessary for mutton production, but the climate is not the best for producing wool.

The European countries such as France, England, Scotland, Germany, Austria Hungary and Russia in normal times produce a good supply of mutton and wool. Of course they do not produce enough for home consumption. During the last three years this production has very materially decreased. Their breeding stock has been depleted due to war demands and it is very probable that this stock will be further drawn upon for food. Coming closer home few of us but are familiar with conditions in Canada. In 1910 we had 2,598,470 head of sheep. In 1914 the number had decreased to 2,058,045, that is a decrease of over half a million in five years. In the year 1910 the Province of New Brunswick had 203,620 sheep; in 1914 this number had decreased to 121,739 sheep, that is a decrease of about 40 per cent. in five years. In 1914 Canada imported 5,610,182 lbs of mutton and lamb, and 7,252,119 lbs of wool. In the same year Canada exported 65,167 lbs of mutton and 2,841,184 lbs of wool. In the same year Canada exported about 20,500 head of lambs and sheep. This is the situation of Canada and it is a very good index to the situation in the United States. To sum it up properly we have been going backwards for eight or ten years, and have finally arrived at the stage where we import more than we export.

One might say that there is an unlimited market for mutton lambs at home and abroad. During the next few years the United States can easily take the entire product of Canada. The same thing applies to Great Britain or France. In the spring of 1917 wool sold for 60c and 65c per lb in New Brunswick. Next year it won't be any lower and no doubt reach the 70c mark. Lambs are easily worth $10 this fall.

People engaged in the sheep business haven't suffered to the same extent from high priced labor as have other branches of farming. The labor involved in sheep production comes at a time when there is very little other work to be looked after. The lambing, shearing and dipping season covers the big end of the labor involved. Throughout the summer little if any real labor is required. The feed bill is not large—mixed timothy and clover hay or preferably pure clover hay supplemented with swede turnips.

With a handful of oats is the best winter ration and evidently a cheap one. Hay prices have been low during the last two years and farmers can profitably winter more sheep instead of selling hay. Summing up one might say that sheep raising offers one of the best investments obtainable for:

1. Mutton, lamb and wool prices are good.
2. There is very little labor involved in sheep farming.
3. It is a profitable way of marketing our hay crop.
4. We have in New Brunswick good upland pasture and plenty of water.
5. We have easy access to the best markets in the world; Great Britain and the United States.
6. The investment involved is small and the turnover is big and quick. The wool crop is marketed in the spring when very little money is coming in to the farmer.

Probably one of the greatest curses to the sheep industry has been the dog nuisance. The old dog law has been amended so it is up to the sheep breeder whether he has a dog protection or not.

The Live Stock Division of the Department of Agriculture has been acting as an exchange between breeders and purchasers. Breeders who have stock for sale communicate with us, likewise those desirous of purchasing stock and we have been able to give material assistance to the purchasers about the location of stock and prices.

A great number of people have taken advantage of this, in fact so many that our local supply of flock headers and pure bred ewes is nearly exhausted. If local breeders cannot supply the demand we shall import from the upper Provinces. In this latter case people deposit a sum of money with the Department of Agriculture, sufficient to cover purchase price and freight charge. The Department furnishes, free of charge, a man to make the selection. To those purchasers are stocking up with grade ewes we give similar assistance.

In closing I would say "It is a good time to stock up with sheep." Mr. Farmer get busy. If you haven't any sheep you should get some. If you haven't any available stock in your district write to us. Use the Department of Agriculture. We are here to serve the farmers.

Thomas Hetherington,
Superintendent for Livestock.

WASTE OF FOOD STUFFS

Odds and Ends Thrown Away Amount to Vast Amount

Do not waste a slice of bread. There is an old saying, "Many mickles mak' a muckle", and, if there are many individual savings the total gain will be great. Do not be too proud to notice whether anything usable is being wasted; do not be too proud to use odds and ends which might, otherwise, be cast into the garbage can. In Chicago, recently, the garbage was reduced from 400 loads per day to 200 loads per day due largely to the preachments of economy. Economy in the use of food stuffs should be practised by those who live in the country as well as those who dwell in the towns and cities. Get the real vision of economy and put it into daily practice. Every individual must realize the shortage in all its magnitude and he must realize what want and famine would mean and then he must put forth every effort to prevent it. Do not leave it to the other fellow. Do your part. In this matter prevention is a thousand times better than cure. Eliminate all waste in your household.

FARMING AND DEMOCRACY

Importance of Basic Industry For Canada Emphasized

An interesting essay on farming and national life was given by W. C. Good, B.A., of Paris, Ont. He said in part that agriculture as an industry must be called domestic—the entire family co-operating in carrying on the work. Little children having opportunity to assist parents, and through these conditions learning how to do things and how to think. Thus establishing family habits. These respects farming contrasts sharply with city life. Again farm work is seasonal, and the farmer must work with nature, and be governed largely by other conditions, hence his work is very varied, and calls for an unusual degree of adaptability, initiative and resourcefulness. It thus contrasts with routine work in the city. Country life is also quiet, and promotes continuity of thought and strength of character. Lastly, the continuance of democracy is largely dependent on agriculture. The perpetuation of a sturdy and independent citizenry is one of the best guarantees we have for the perpetuation of democracy, which is the only thing that is destined to last; it may have its faults, but it is the only system of government which contains within itself a continuity of life. From that point of view, the maintenance of an independent and intelligent class in the rural districts is of vital importance to any country.

Canada especially needs strong agricultural interests in order to maintain its financial credit and progress. Mr. Good quoted from Sir George Paish, the financial expert, showing that the burden of interest on the enormous cost of railways in Canada, which are sufficient to deal with at least twice, if not three times, the present output—will be enormous until the productive power of the country is greatly increased. The welfare of the Canadian people, individually and collectively, depends absolutely on the rapid increase of the agricultural and mineral output, hence land must be filled to capacity.

PROFESSOR WAS CUNNING

Philosopher Cheated Slot-machine and Then Philosophized

Professor Charles Gray Shaw, instructor of philosophy at New York University, in one of his lectures to a class described how philosophy fell before the will of a penny-in-the-slot machine, and how he hopes to get even before he dies. Professor Shaw, who possesses an unlimited fund of humor, said: "The chief difference between ourselves and insane people is that we restrain ourselves, while they do not. If an insane person feels like killing a man he immediately proceeds to kill him. We doubtless know many people who would be more than glad to kill, but we do not do it. 'Just once before I die I propose to be insane. I intend to wreck a slot machine—the kind whose chin you strike after inserting a cent—but to not get the chocolate or gum. But sometimes the machine compensates you for the disadvantage of the loser. Once I not only actually got the chocolate, but my penny also was returned. To get even for many disappointments I again inserted, and again got inserted that penny, getting a bar of chocolate each time, until the box was empty. And I still had the cent. What I got did not make up for all my losses, but it helped."

ECCENTRIC EGG-EATERS

Spaniards Will Not Eat Them With Spoons

Is there any corner of the earth where the homely egg has not found its way? It forms a substantial food to all nations, and it is not curious to find that different nationalities have different ways of demolishing this article. Eating an egg with a spoon would be sacrilege to a Spaniard. He boils his egg just one minute, then breaks the contents into a glass, and drinks it as if it were wine. The Spaniards place their egg in cold water and remove it just as the water boils. When they break it on a plate and eat it with bread.

English cooking prevails in France in regard to the egg. Three minutes of boiling water is the rule. It is then broken into a glass and mixed together with salt, pepper, and butter. Hard boiled eggs, plentifully mixed with pepper, butter, and salt are beloved of the Americans.

CANDID ABOUT ONTARIO

Westerners Think Easterners Love to Exploit Them

An Ontario writer, discussing the views of Hon. George Brown of Saskatchewan, says: You should hear a Westerner enlarge on the attributes of Ontario. He is somewhat like George Bell, lately retired from the secretaryship of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Bell is an old Ontarian who inveighs against the Ontario man on forty years' Western experience pretty much in the same way as the Ontario man has discussed the average Englishman who used to come to Ontario in the "We own 'em" spirit. The Ontario fellow imagines that over the plainsman he has cast his shoe, that the Saskatchewan is his washpot, that there is none like unto Ontario, no, not one; Governor Brown is an old Ontarian, but he knows us for what we are capable of doing to the West.

London's "Big Ben" Apocryph of Britain's efforts to save daylight and the consequent putting on of all clocks one hour, does anyone realize what the speeding up of "Big Ben," the great clock in the tower of the House of Parliament, by a single hour really means? The minute hand of this enormous time-piece is no less than 14 feet in length and weighs a couple of hundred-weight. The minute spaces on the dial are each 1 foot in length, so that the big hand will have to be pushed forward a distance of 5 feet.

FOR SLEEPLESSNESS

Treat sleeplessness calmly; recognize that it means nothing to the man who is sound. Also, return to simple meals. For breakfast, at eight, and supper, two small rice apples, grated with the skins and mixed with oatmeal, a dessert spoonful of sweet condensed milk, and a little ground nut to form a substantial plate of porridge. In addition, wholemeal bread and butter, or fat bacon, and a cup of milk coffee free from caffeine. Oranges, bananas, plums, and other fruits can be substituted for apples. For dinner, at one o'clock, daintily-cooked vegetables, two or more kinds, or a savory made of vegetables and cereals; fruit, milk, or any nourishing and agreeable pudding, followed by lettuce (always lettuce) and salad oil, fresh fruit, and nuts. No alcohol, no tea. This diet—no further drink will be needed—will mean health, sleep, and something to live for.—Tit-Bits.

PARKER A CANADIAN

Novelist and Politician Enjoyed Chequered Early Career

Gilbert Parker, who attained prominence in British politics as well as widespread fame as a writer of fiction, was born in 1862 in Camden East, Ont. The gifted knight of the pen is the son of Joseph Parker, a non-commissioned officer of the British army who settled in Canada. After completing his education at the Ottawa Normal School and Trinity College, Toronto, he emigrated to Australia for the benefit of his health. It was many years ago that he landed in Sydney and found his first profitable employment for his pen as a member of the editorial staff of the Sydney Morning Herald. While "down under" he wrote a play or two for the Australian stage, and an acting version of "Faust," but his efforts toward the elevation of the drama were not brilliantly successful. He travelled extensively among the South Sea Islands and published a volume of travels.

It was upon his return to his native Canada that the young author discovered the human material which inspired his first important work of fiction. The Metis and half-breeds of the Northwest, among whom he spent some time, were incorporated in his first novel, "Pierre and His People," which was published in Toronto in 1893. Several other works of fiction dealing with French-Canadian life followed and achieved for the novelist an international reputation. In 1895 he married Miss Amy Vanne, a New York heiress, and subsequently settled in London, becoming a Unionist member of Parliament in 1900, and a knight in 1902.

HONOR GOOD ROADS HEAD

Sam R. Henderson of Manitoba Was Seven Years President

Three hundred lusty male voices were lifted in cheering, 800 hands gave one lengthy burst of concentrated applause, and 300 Manitoba men stood on their feet and almost raised the roof of Manitoba Hall in singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," when Sam R. Henderson, for seven years president of the Manitoba Good Roads Association, formed the embarrassed central figure of one of the most pleasing events in the history of the Association. President Henderson was presented with a costly, heavily jeweled and suitably engraved gold watch in recognition of his record of valuable service as the chief executive officer of the Association, being taken completely by surprise at the annual banquet of that body.

Fisheries Unrivaled

Canada's fisheries have three features in which no other fisheries can equal them. (1) The purity and coolness of our waters, all being north of the 45th parallel, in which the best food and game fishes, the very aristocracy of the fish world, are native. (2) The cold winter conditions provide nature's own refrigeration, and facilitate transportation. (3) Fish are everywhere; fishing can be carried on by those with the least capital, merely by a boat, a net and baited hooks. The silvery legions of the sea and finny armies in lakes and rivers are amongst the most available, reliable and lasting of our natural resources.

New Idea in Aerostats

A French aviator has placed a pneumatic buffer in front of the seat of his aeroplane to lessen the shock should he strike the ground heavily.

An adjustable rest for the legs below the knees and the feet, which can be attached to any chair, has been invented by a German. It is not over-inflation but under-inflation of tires that should be guarded against by the automobilist.

WHY WE ARE NERVOUS

In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when strength is declining the same nervous system gives the alarm in headaches, tiredness, dreamful sleep, irritability, and unless corrected, leads straight to a breakdown. Scott's Emulsion is exactly what you should take; its rich nutrient gets into the blood and so feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the whole system responds to its refreshing tonic force. Armand News

Murray London who has been in Toronto during the past 15 months has returned home suffering from an injury to his knee which threatens to lay him up for the rest of the year. While sorry for his misfortune his friends welcome his return.

Hilton and Allie Robinson have been visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Clark at Hartland.

On Wednesday of this week there was a big party of young people at the residence of Wilmot Kimball in honor of his daughter, Agnes, who on Friday will return to Lowell, Mass.

Ivan London who has been working at Tungsten Mines, York county, has been home for a fortnight, having come to see his brother Murray.

Robert Henderson is in very poor health at the home of his son, Armand, whose wife is also in very poor health.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Robinson spent the week-end with friends in Fort Fairfield, making the trip by automobile.

George Brewster who enlisted some eight months ago, was home on short leave, and left again for Montreal where he will be located for some time.

Misses Stella and Victoria Spinney of South Knowlsville have been visiting their aunts, Mrs. Edmund Robinson and Mrs. Henry London.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Kimball, Miles and Agnes Kimball made an auto trip to Andover and Fort Fairfield, going on Saturday and returning on Sunday.

Potatoes, hay, wheat, and all crops excepting oats are looking promising in this section. There is some rust among the potatoes, but not so severe as in Aroostook county.

Miss Charlotte Henderson who has spent the summer at Hartland has returned home for a few weeks.

Blueberries, which were so plentiful, attract great crowds of people from all sections to the region of Cloverdale.
