AGAINST GAMBLING.

John P. Quinn Addresses Eastern Workmen from his Car.

BOSTON, Nov. 23.—Mr. John P. Quinn delivered an address Saturday from the platform of his anti-gambling crusade car, Roanoke, which is located beside the New York and New England depot.

The party which had been invited to occupy the drawing room end of the car sang, "Throw Out the Life Line," and the melodious strains collected a crowd of workmen who were enjoying their "nooning" in the vicinity.

Mr. Quinn spoke of the Louisiana Lottery, showing that out of $168,000,000 received for tickets in 22 years only $3,000,000 had been given away in prizes.

He quoted figures to show how infinitely small was the chance of a ticket-holder for getting anything. He then exhibited a policy slip, and gave some figures on the chances the player stands.

A "banco chart" made its appearance, and one of the audience shook dice for $100 bills, watches, etc., just as the farmers do when they meet an affable stranger in the city. Several other gambling tricks were performed, and then Mr. Quinn appealed to such of his hearers as gambled to cease allowing themselves to be robbed and plundered in the hope of winning something. The product of honest toil is the only sure gain.

DEADLY DOSES.

A Port Huron Mother and Her Boy Take Too Much Morphine.

PORT HURON, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Ida Smith, a widow about 45 years of age who has been employed as nurse for the past eight weeks, took an overdose of morphine between 6 and 7 o'clock last evening, from the effects of which she has been in a stupor ever since. Dr. Platt after working over her for some hours, pronounced her apparently out of danger. Previous to taking the drug herself, she gave her 3-year-old boy, who had been ailing for some time past with cholera infantum, a dose of the drug for the purpose of easing the pain. The dose proved to be too large, and the child died from the effects of it at 6 o'clock last evening.

Soon after the death of her child Mrs. Smith took the dose, evidently to quiet her nerves, and for the purpose of getting some rest, she having had only very little sleep for the past few nights. It is said that she had been in the habit of using morphine to produce sleep. The drug she procured on this occasion was a five-grain lot, two grains of which was found to have been used in the two doses. It is not thought that she administered the drug to the child with any improper motive, nor that she took the dose herself with any intention of committing suicide, being simply an accidental overdose.

The Cotton Crop Short.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Henry M. Neill has just issued his circular on the condition of the cotton crop, and now lowers his estimate to 6,500,000 bales. He says complete reports from almost the entire cotton area indicates that the shortage is so great as to amount to a real calamity.

Joy for Josef!

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 23.—Josef Ignatz Strikowski (Count Ossowski) lives in a modest little cottage in the Polish settlement in the east end. Years ago his estate was confiscated by the Russian Government, and he became an exile. Several days ago he received news of his pardon and restoration to his ancestral estates, and now he will return home at once. His estate and personal effects are worth $1,500,000.

A Promising Youth.

DURAND, Mich., Nov. 23.—Herman Gruesel, 8-year-old son of a farmer near here, has confessed to an attempt to poison his parents by putting Paris green into the well. The boy has refused to attend school, and several times recently was severely punished by his father. After a severe chastisement stole a quantity of Paris green from the house and dumped it into the well. His father, mother and two farm hands are seriously ill from drinking the poisoned water and stock has already died.

Washington Deluged.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 22.—Reports of a storm throughout the western portion of the State are still worse to-day and prospects of rain communication being restored are abandoned for several days. Five deaths are reported as the result of the floods, while the loss of property in the shape of buildings carried away and wrecked will amount to thousands of dollars. Three or four steamers are sunk in the Suolomish River, but no lives lost. The Canadian Pacific has almost entirely escaped any damage or delay.

"German Syrup"

J. C. Davis, Rector of St. James' Episcopal Church, Bufaula, Ala.: "My son has been badly afflicted with a fearful and threatening cough for several months, and after trying several prescriptions from physicians which failed to relieve him, he has been perfectly restored by the use of two bottles of Bo-

An Episcopalische's German Syrup. I can recommend it without hesitation." Chronic severe, deep-seated coughs like this are as severe tests as a remedy can be subjected to. It is for these long-standing cases that Boschee's German Syrup is made a specialty. Many others afflicted as this lad was, will do well to make a note of this.

J. F. Arnold, Montevideo, Minn., writes: I always use German Syrup for a Cold on the Lungs. I have never found an equal to it—far less a superior.

—BROWNING.

London, Thursday, Nov. 24.

CANADA A NATION.

Mr. McNeill, the somewhat eccentric M.P. for North Bruce, has addressed several audiences in Great Britain recently, taking for his text the fact which Mr. Howard Vincent came from England to promote in Canada last year. The member for North Bruce—a constituency, by the way, gerrymandered so as to secure the defeat of a Liberal—holds himself to be the special promoter of a plan that shall enable Canadians to obtain some undefined advantages by permitting their affairs, or a portion of them, to be once more controlled in Downing Street. That, in brief, is what Imperial Federation means, no matter what may be the fine-spun theories of men who are the self-elected champions of it on this continent.

The fact has so far commended itself to a few persons in Canada. It is a scheme promoted chiefly by inconsequential office-holders in Toronto, who break down whenever they are asked to show how their views can be carried out without sacrificing the interests of the people of Canada.

Canadians are a practical people, and it is not likely that they will permit themselves to be drawn into any nebulous project that may bring them no end of trouble, while a much clearer and more intelligent course is mapped out for their guidance.

So far Mr. McNeill and his friends have stated the chief objects which they seek to achieve by their aid to be (1) an army and navy alliance between Britain and the colonies; (2) the establishment of some sort of preferential trade arrangement whereby the people of the British islands shall be compelled to re-establish "protection" against all foreign countries, and in favor of the colonies, return for the granting of the colonies of a lower tariff for British goods than for imports from other countries.

To effect these objects would require a revolution in the present relations of Great Britain and the nations of the earth. So great, indeed, would be the upheaval that even Mr. McNeill's friends in Parliament admit the scheme to be chimerical in the extreme. And if there is to be an Imperial Federation, there must be an Imperial Parliament, in which representatives from all the colonies would have seats, and where these questions would be decided. How? In each case the voting would be according to self-interest. Would Canada with its half-dozen votes be able to control its own destiny, and make the most of its opportunities by any such arrangement? The idea is out of the question. A body meeting thousands of miles away from Canada would, under Imperial Federation, have practical control of Canadian commerce. We have but to point out the fact to prove the utter unworkableness of the project.

But it may be said that under Imperial Federation rule, Canadians would have the right to regulate their own tariff. That would be impossible if they bound themselves to the proposition of the Imperial Federationists, which is that, no matter how profitable the trade, say, or how beneficial it might be to trade freely with France and Germany—the fatherlands of many of our people—it would be imperative to tax imports from those places at a higher rate than that charged to goods coming from the British Isles.

Another effect—indeed the first effect—that would flow from Canada's indorsement of Imperial Federation would be the binding of the Dominion to become an active partner in all wars in which the old world rulers might choose to engage. Everybody knows that these dreadful conflicts are often the result of mere accident, and that jingo Ministers may decree a war that will result in most disastrous loss of life and treasure before the masses have a chance to utter a protest, though they are invariably the chief sufferers. Then, when war is begun, however indefensible, it can with difficulty be withdrawn from while there is a hope of worsting the other side, lest perchance national humiliation may be the result. Canada's development cannot be promoted by any alliance that will bind the country to support of any old world nation in any quarrel that may arise. The destiny of Canada is to peacefully develop this great northern country. It can best do so, we feel assured, by minding its own business and keeping out of all old world quarrels, blood-letting and political jealousies regarding the "balance of power in Europe." We need no standing army to enable us to hold our own. We require no heavy expenditure to sustain warriors to fight in battles that they can have no power in promoting or averting. The advancement of all such schemes can have but one outcome, the retarding of the progress of a united Canadian people. Our forefathers dearly won emancipation from Downing Street rule. It was no small task that they achieved when they won for Canada a recognition of her right to control her own destiny by the rule of her own citizens.

Nor would any trade policy, such as Mr. McNeill and his coadjutors indorse, be satisfactory either to Great Britain or to Canada. The British people, Lord Salisbury has assured us, will never again consent to the taxation of their food—not even to relieve the distress of Canadian trade restrictionists. The reimposition of these duties would, this Conservative leader has told the British people, lead to a condition akin to civil war. Gladstone, John Morley and others agree with him.

But in this connection Canadians must think not so much of what is or is not beneficial to Great Britain—the shrewd traders there can be trusted to look after No. 1—but to what is best calculated to promote the welfare of this vast country. The people of Canada do not want to have their hands tied. They already have free trade with England, so far as exports to the motherland are concerned; they can to-morrow establish freedom of trade in imports from Great Britain, if their rulers desire to increase the trade between the two countries by the fairest of means. But it would be fatal to the future of the Dominion if its people were to discriminate against and antagonize their kinsmen and neighbors in the adjoining States, with whom, despite hostile tariffs on both sides of the border, we now do nearly half of our trade. Instead of a nondescript agitation in favor of the unattainable, let us agitate for tariff reform and reduced taxes. This we can do while still holding before the eyes of the rising generation what the best minds in both political parties regard as the ideal future for the Dominion.

As an Independent Nation, Canada would live and prosper in friendly alliance not only with Great Britain, but with the great Anglo-Saxon nation to the south of us. We have not a doubt that when we choose to so declare both of these countries will be ready to acknowledge the rightfulness of our position and wish us Godspeed in our enterprise. Then our statesmen would do us better service, for, instead of looking to the old world for their honors, they would deem it the highest duty to approve themselves to their fellow citizens in the new Nation; and our rising generation would take far greater pride in their common country because it was no longer a colony of an old world power, but a Commonwealth of which they could justly be proud.

Years ago, Secretary Seward of the United States, when speaking of the Dominion said: "I see in British North America, stretching as it does across the continent from the shores of Labrador and Newfoundland to the Pacific, and occupying a considerable belt of the temperate zone, traversed equally with the United States by the St. Lawrence, with its Thousand Islands in river and gulf, a region grand enough for the seat of a great empire. In its wheat fields, its broad ranges of the chase at the north, its inexhaustible lumber lakes, the most extensive now remaining on the globe, its invaluable fisheries, and its yet undisturbed mineral deposits, I see the elements of wealth."

In graphic language, the American statesman unfolded the destiny of the Dominion as a great independent northern power—the Russia of the new world, but "a very different Russia from that which fills all Southern Europe with terror." This estimate of, and prophecy regarding, the future of our country we believe the majority of the people of Canada heartily endorse. Its effective promulgation, side by side with a common-sense policy of trade, would do more to put hope and courage into our young manhood, and to aid immigration to our shores from old world military-cursed nations, than any policy that could be devised.

Canada a Nation forever!

TOPICS OF TO-DAY.

A large firm of costumers in Berlin has failed on account of their inability to get the German Emperor to pay her bill. She is as fond of display as the Emperor, and is said to rarely wear a dress more than once.

A strong flavor of Christmas will pervade the editor's drawer in Harper's Magazine for December. Thomas Nelson Page will tell the amusing story of "Charlie Whittier's Christmas Party," which will be illustrated by A. B. Frost; John Kendrick Bangs will have a characteristic poem on "Christmas at the Peters Farm"; and there will be a variety of anecdotes, poems, etc., especially pertinent to the holiday season.

Martin Reifferscheid, a fugitive from German justice, has kept tattooed on his body a record of his varied career as soldier, calman, circus clown and Lothario. The warrant out for his arrest describes the curious autobiography thus: On the breast, "I cannot change my fate, 1885"; on the right forearm, woman's head, rifle, lance, sword, cannon ball, and "Whoever loves must suffer, 1889"; on the right shoulder, cross, heart, anchor, clasped hands, and "Everlastingly faithful"; on left shoulder, clown on a chair, 1887; on left forearm, "Long live the cable," horse's head, whip, clasped hands, "True love, 1890."

Another instance of the disadvantage of basing boundary lines upon imperfect geographic knowledge appears in Mashonaland. The British and Portuguese fixed upon the west side of the Manica plateau as their common frontier. It has now been discovered that the "plateau of Manica" has no existence, and another boundary has been established. At least a dozen ludicrous blunders of this sort have been perpetrated by the European powers in Africa. One of the most amusing cases was when the British and Germans fixed upon the Rio del Rey, from its source to the sea, as the boundary between their possessions fronting on the Right of Biafra. They were a little dismayed when they discovered later that the Rio del Rey was not a river at all, but merely an inlet of the sea, and not a deep one at that.

Outing for December contains an interesting article on "Athletics in Japan," from the pen of John A. MacPhail, who in a most entertaining, half-humorous style portrays wrestling matches and bouts with quarter-staffs among the good natured athletes of the Flowery Land. Numerous illustrations lend additional interest to the article. "Hunting the Moose," by S. R. Clarke, is an entertaining account of winter sport in the wilds of Manitoba.

Gen. Booth claims a marvelous measure of success for his Darkest England scheme of colonial industries and metropolitan shelters, upon which he has expended about £185,000. He has, he says, helped to feed 5,000,000 hungry people, furnished 1,000,000 with warm shelter, found work for over 10,000 unemployed, reclaimed and placed in situations 134 criminals, gathered from the streets and sent to situations 1,917 friendless girls, found and restored to their friends 1,295 lost people, and, generally speaking, wrought an immense amount of benefit, to say nothing of the miraculous reformations effected. He has spent £65,000 more than he has received, and is therefore that much in debt, and he asks to have it made up.

HAS GONE BACK ON THEM.
[Canadian Manufacturer.]

Mr. J. C. Hopkins, nor the Empire, nor any of the other mossbacks of the Conservative party, can down the spirit of reaction that has set in against the policy of inaction and do-nothing that now characterizes the Dominion Government.

WHY NOT TELL THE TRUTH?

With a revenue of $36,900,000 this current year, as compared with $38,579,000 in 1891, and a surplus of $250,000, together with cheap sugar and a free breakfast table, the Government may well feel proud of its financial management. [Toronto Empire.]

All but the cheap sugar and free breakfast table. This delusion has been repeated by the Empire, parrot-like, until it is probably believed, but no one else does. We cannot have free sugar on the breakfast table until sugar fit to be used on the breakfast table is admitted duty free. [Canadian Manufacturer.]

FREEDOM'S DAY APPROACHES.
[Toronto Evening Star.]

Before the people are many years older the protectionists will find confronting them, not an abstraction, but an enemy which will grapple them in the final struggle for the mastery. We purpose to aid in carrying the war into Africa, and will do our share towards making the robbers howl. Upon all sides are seen signs of unrest, presaging a reactionary period, in which those who have retarded the country's progress under the aegis of the protection will come up for summary judgment.

THE TUFF.

STAMBOUL TROTS IN 2:07. STOKTON, Cal., Nov. 23.—On a kite-shaped track this morning Stamboul trotted a mile in 2:07, with rain falling at the finish.

TIPS. Mr. J. G. Stewart, V.S., of Brantford, has sold his stallion Fred Wilkes, record 2:35. He has been purchased for an English firm, the price paid being $1,200 in cash.

The leading English jockeys up to Monday last were: Morry Cannon, 108 wins out of 669 mounts; G. Barrett, 148 in 641; J. Watts, 103 in 466; G. Chaloner, 77 in 400; C. Loates, 70 in 399; W. Bradford, 66 in 317; S. Chandley, 57 in 309; J. Woodburn, 57 in 320; F. Allsop, 55 in 528, and V. Kieckly, 51 in 350.

At the recent meeting of the Windsor Driving Park Association the following directors were re-elected: J. J. Foster, S. White, P. Hanrahan, W. R. Millard, J. P. Pulling, F. Girardot, J. H. Alexander, Joseph McKend, W. A. Hanrahan. Financially and otherwise the association has had the most successful year since its inauguration. Negotiations are in progress for securing the adjoining property to build a mile track.

The sale of the horses of Thomas Wilcox's Ivy Mills Stock Farm at the Philadelphia Tattersall attracted a big crowd of horsemen. Forty-two head were disposed of for $25,165, an average of nearly $600 each.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Mr. Robert Bonner is in earnest in his intention to, if possible, have Maud S. beat her own record next year. Yesterday he gave out a contract for the construction of a track 500 feet long at his farm in Tarrytown. The track will be fourteen feet wide, having a large loop at either end, so that the horse can turn finished on the inside with headed plank. Here Maud S. will be jogged all winter long to give her full use of her muscles, and if all goes well when the spring opens will be put to work on Bonner's last track. Bonner himself intends as far as possible to fit the mare. She is today as sound as a dollar with perfectly clean limbs, showing no trace of the hard work she has done in her many races.

FOOTBALL.

AS THE GIRLS SEE IT. [From the Boston Courier.]

I took the gentle Annabel To see a football game And thus unto a friend of hers Did she describe the same:

"O May, you should have seen them play, 'Twas such a lovely sight! And though the first game I had seen I understood it all."

"I first came the Yale, all dressed in blue, Then Harvard came in red, One fellow yelled, the rest all tried To jump upon his head."

"And then one fellow stopped and stooped, And all the rest got round; And every fellow stooped and stooped, And looked hard at the ground."

"And then another fellow yelled, And each man, where he stood, Just hit and struck and knocked and kicked At every one he could."

"And then one fell upon his neck, And all the others ran, And on his prone and prostrate form Lapsed every bloodied man."

"And then the ambulance drove on, And loaded up with men, With twisted necks and broken lungs, Went driving off again."

"On football's just the cutest game! But yet it really is a shame To use up men so fast."

RICKS. The greatest football battle of the year in New York takes place to-day (Thursday), when Yale and Princeton play their annual Thanksgiving Day contest.

HOCKEY.

A STRATFORD CLUB. At a largely attended meeting held on Monday night the Stratford Hockey Club was organized with the following officers: Honorary president, G. B. McPherson; president, W. C. Young; vice-president, J. A. MacFadden; secretary-treasurer, F. W. Tiffin; committee, D. G. Marquis, R. T. Harding, W. Miller, R. M. Cassels and J. J. Powell. It was decided to enter the union and play in the scheduled games of the season.

SEATON.

SKATER HAGEN AT ST. JOHN. ST. JOHN, N. B., Nov. 23.—Harold Hagen, the speedy skater, has arrived here from Norway, and will go to Minneapolis with ex-Champion McCormick. Hagen says that he wrote from Norway to G. C. Walter, skating director of the Manhattan A. C., of New York, in answer to a letter, saying that he was willing to compete with Joseph F. Donohue. Hagen says he will arrive again and try to arrange a match at Minneapolis.

ATHLETICS.

CORBETT'S AMBITION. NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—"Jim" Corbett has just bought six lots on Jerome avenue, near High Bridge, for $33,000. The property is located on the famous drive leading to the Morris Park racetrack. It is the intention of the famous champion pugilist to erect an attractive road-house on one of the lots and make it the headquarters for turfmen and road drivers. The remaining lots he will not build on for several years. Corbett expects the property will be worth double the price he paid for it by that time. He says it is his ambition to be the wealthiest fighter in the world.

BASEBALL.

THE DIAMOND WILL REMAIN. "It is all poppycock," says President Young, "to talk about changing the number of bases and the appearance of the diamond, not five persons in a hundred being in favor of such a proposition. We talked it over informally, to be sure, but the general opinion was that it would not injure to the benefit of the game. Baseball has reached a stage of perfection which no changes in the diamond could possibly improve."

"So far as salaries are concerned, it was agreed to let every club regulate its own affairs, although it was not denied that the past season would have been much more profitable had it not been for the high grade salaries which the League

Convention of the Ontario Camps.

The Delegates Decide to Organize a High Camp.

With Headquarters in London—The Representatives Present—Officers—Elected—Banquet to Visiting Members of the Order.

Delegates from the several camps of Woodmen of the World in Ontario met this afternoon in the National Union hall, Dufrail block, at 2 p.m., to take into consideration the propriety of forming a head camp for the Province or Dominion. The delegates in attendance are as follows:

Forest Camp, No. 1, London—W. G. McMillan, Geo. Wrigley and J. H. Lusk. Maple Camp, No. 3, Woodstock—W. G. Clark, James Hamilton and W. Jayden. Royal Oak Camp, No. 4, St. Thomas—V. T. Cochrane, J. E. Hill and R. H. Blackmore.

Elm Camp, No. 5, Petrolia—D. R. Weir, W. J. Clarke and John Reid. Beaver Camp, No. 6, Lucan—C. C. Higgins, Dr. Clarke and James Sadler. Red Oak Camp, No. 7, Sarnia—Geo. Proctor and A. B. Telfer.

Hyde Park Camp, No. 8, Hyde Park—Peter Elson, Peter McNamee and Geo. T. Tremmer. Strathroy Camp, No. 9, Strathroy—Fred L. Evans, James Ferguson and Henry Owens.

Rosewood Camp, No. 10, Milbourne—Charles Nagle and R. Charles Nichols. Redwood Camp, No. 11, Fergus—Wm. Brown, Chas. F. Heidt and Dr. Guest. Brantford Camp, No. 12, Brantford—A. R. Narraway, Dr. W. S. Harrison and J. H. Mason.

Cherry Camp, No. 13, Mount Brydges—Wm. Francis and Malcolm McGowan. White Oak Camp, No. 14, Iona Station—J. S. Waddell.

Hickory Grove, No. 15, Ballymore—W. G. Sheehy, Richard T. Sheehy and John Walker. Walnut Camp, No. 16, Fingert—S. Fulton, James Miller and H. J. Carter.

The chair was occupied by the overture Wm. Fuller of Hyde Park, who read his authority from the Supreme Camp to call the convention.

Dr. Harrison, Brantford, was appointed adviser; H. J. Carter, Fingert, banker; W. C. Fitzgerald, Lucan, clerk; D. R. Weir, Petrolia, secretary; W. G. Clark, Woodstock, chairman; and Geo. Proctor, Reid and Ferguson, executive committee on credentials.

Thirteen delegates from five camps were reported, and it was decided that the delegates from each camp should be represented by one delegate.

Sovereigns Wrigley, Lusk and Telfer were appointed a committee on resolutions, and reported the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, that in the opinion of this convention the order should be recognized as a friendly society in Ontario and Dominion;

Resolved, that such recognition be obtained by means of the procuring of a special act of incorporation from the Dominion Parliament and from the Ontario Legislature, providing that the connection therewith be borne by the Supreme Camp.

Moved by T. H. Lusk, seconded by C. C. Higgins, that in order to enable the Supreme Camp to carry out the foregoing resolution this convention hereby form a head camp with the necessary and usual officers, but so as not to form a separate beneficiary jurisdiction.

Moved in amendment by George Wrigley, seconded by Wm. Fuller, that for the first part of the resolution the following be substituted, viz.: "Form a provisional head camp having the usual officers of a head camp, but having no emoluments other than those of a head camp; the officers of the provisional head camp to be a legislative committee to procure special acts of incorporation from the Dominion Parliament and the Ontario Legislature."

The amendment was lost and the resolution carried.

It was resolved on motion of Sovereigns Hayden and Crocker, the head camp to be the head camp in London, and the following officers were then elected:

Wm. Fuller, Hyde Park, head consul commander. C. C. Higgins, Lucan, head adviser.

T. H. Lusk, Lucan, head banker. W. C. Fitzgerald, Lucan, head clerk. R. H. Blackmore, St. Thomas, head secretary.

Charles F. Heidt, Fergus, head watchman. C. Fulton, Fingert, head secretary. Sovereigns J. E. Hill, St. Thomas; M. McGowan, Mount Brydges; H. J. Carter, Fingert; Jas. Ferguson, Strathroy; and A. B. Telfer, Sarnia, head managers.

Sovereigns T. H. Lusk and W. C. Fitzgerald were named to act legally in the matter of securing incorporation at Ottawa and Toronto.

The head clerk was instructed to notify the Supreme Camp officers of the action taken to-day, after which an adjournment was made to the London House, where the visiting delegates were banqueted by local camp.

THE BANQUET. The last was not the least interesting meeting of the day. Gathered in the dining-room were about 50 capable woodmen and a number of their friends, and here an excellent spread, provided by the well-known host was partaken of with relish.

Sovereign W. G. McMillan presided, and after a few pleasant remarks introduced the toast list, which was replied to as follows:

"Queen and Woodmen"—Company sang "God Save the Queen."

"Supreme Camp"—Company sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," and Head Consul Commander Fuller spoke briefly.

"Governor-General and Dominion Parliament"—"For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," sung by the company. Dr. W. F. Rooms, M.P. for West Middlesex made few remarks.

"Ontario House"—Replied to by Secretary Proctor, of Sarnia, who said that the two Governments would, notwithstanding their difference in political views, be on good terms if the Dominion would but give Provincial the Registration Act that he latter were asking for.

Mr. Andrew Ferguson responded with a well-rendered song.

"Officers and members from the newly formed Head Camp"—Speeches by C. C. Higgins, warden of Middlesex; Dr. Harrison, Brantford; Head Watchman Heidt; Sec. Ferguson, Strathroy; Sec. Telfer, Sarnia; Sec. Hill, St. Thomas; Sec. Weir, Petrolia; Sec. Crocker, Lucan; Sec. D. R. Weir, Chatham; Sec. Clark, Iona; Sec. J. A. MacFadden, Brantford; Consul Commander Sadler, Lucan; and Sec. Such was the cast of characters in Smith & McKee's comic opera, "Robin Hood," produced at the Grand Opera House last night before a packed house. The S. R. O. sign was hung up shortly after 8 o'clock, although chairs were placed in the aisles to meet the overflow. London theatre-goers have a relish for comic opera, and as "Robin Hood" was the first of the season they turned out in a manner that was enthusiastically endorsed. By far the best of the evening was the individual singing from a managerial standpoint. It was a very fine gathering, youth and beauty being thoroughly represented. Of the performance itself, it is safe to say that no one was away disappointed. Whatever may have been lacking in the individual singing was amply atoned for by a superb chorus. The music is bright and catchy and the opera is melodious throughout. There are some very pretty passages in it, notably the chimes chorus in the last act, which was enthusiastically endorsed. The music is bright and catchy and the opera is melodious throughout. There are some very pretty passages in it, notably the chimes chorus in the last act, which was enthusiastically endorsed. By far the best of the evening was the individual singing from a managerial standpoint. It was a very fine gathering, youth and beauty being thoroughly represented. Of the performance itself, it is safe to say that no one was away disappointed. Whatever may have been lacking in the individual singing was amply atoned for by a superb chorus. Danesbury House.

"I can not understand you," emphatically said Mr. St. George, as he looked at the Miss Danesbury, yet you will not let me say anything to you. I am sure you are right, but my opinion is, that you and Miss Danesbury should not meet, unless things between you can go on more satisfactorily.

"You, my lord, the engagement ought to be,"

"Perhaps you wish to prohibit my calling at your house to see her?" haughtily spoke Lord Temple.

"I don't mind, my lord. I hope you will never find me guilty of discourtesy; though I am not sure my eyes to what is right and wrong, especially with regard to the interests of Miss Danesbury."

"If I could marry!" murmured his lordship. "But it is of no use dwelling on it. We would not live very long together."

"Do you mean to say, my lord, that you would not live long together?"

"No; of course I don't. But to bring label to an unsound home, and to know things have come to such a pitch that the estate must be sold."

"I know they must. But a thousand or fifteen hundred a year can be managed out of them."

Lord Temple opened his eyes and his mouth. He doubted if he heard right.

"I am sure you are right," he said, "but I am not sure my eyes to what is right and wrong, especially with regard to the interests of Miss Danesbury."

"If I could marry!" murmured his lordship. "But it is of no use dwelling on it. We would not live very long together."

UGANDA MUST BE HELD.

The following satirical jingle from Truth has been republished in the Empire:

Goosey, goosey, gander, whither will you wander?
Over Africa and in and out of Uganda;
The British goose is coming with a sounding roll
Of drums,
Selling to the savages gunpowder and rum,
Commerce and religion we've worn to introduce,
Commerce and religion, so says this British goosey.

Goosey, goosey, gander, award, pray,
Cheerfully will we pay your way to send you to Uganda.

Goosey, goosey, gander, choose a brave commander,
Never mind the money, it's a land of milk and honey;
If we don't make something of it, 'twill be exposed to the world, and when the folks may say,
"What a fine thing it was, that you, see, it's pretty sure to pay."

Then all you Jews and usurers join in the merry cry,
And all you Jews and usurers join in the merry cry.

Goosey, goosey, gander, come quick, get up
Mr. St. George.

"I am sure I gave it. For I would believe Anketel and Swallowtail, who hold it brought it to show me. It was my own writing, plain enough; rather shaky, but still mine."

"Swallowtail-Swallowtail!" said Mr. St. George.
"Ah, he is much about gambling, and our local houses now. The less you have to do with him the better."

"He is a lawyer, isn't he?"

"He was," replied Mr. St. George, "but he phased the second word, 'but his practice was too sharp, and he was struck down by the law."

"On that, it is," he said, "carefully replied Lord Temple. "He has something to do with the establishment in St. James' street.
I think for he is always there."

"Too much to do with it," muttered the lawyer. "Was it this man who won your races?"

"I suppose so. Or, non-compos as I was from pain (sighing). When meeting my I should hardly have given him an acknowledgment. I have no more recollection of the transaction myself than the child who born."

"But you must surely remember the fact of playing, if you do not remember the details. And you could not give an acknowledgment in your own handwriting without retaining some consciousness of it."

"I assure you I am totally oblivious of the evening altogether. I have faint recollection of going into the house, and of seeing the Sandlin and Sir Robert Payne, and then, think, somebody gave me some brandy and water, and I lay down on the sofa to sleep.
I have no further consciousness of anything
till I woke up next day in my own bed."

"It is very strange," exclaimed Mr. St. George.
"No it is," said his lordship; "but it is true."

"Who was in the room when you played?"

"How am I to know? I met Payne junow, and he says he left about three o'clock with Colonel Neeve and Robert Danesbury.
That I was asleep on the sofa then, with play in me, and Whitehouse and Eden were tossing for sofa. I asked Anketel yesterday if he had further consciousness of anything
till I woke up next day in my own bed."

THE WEATHER.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 23—11 p.m.—The general distribution of pressure has changed very little since last night, and the weather over the greater portion of the country has been decidedly cold. In the Northwest Territories a heavy gale has prevailed, attended by a fall of snow, and from the lakes to the Atlantic the winds have been fresh or strong with snow flurries or light snow falls in many places. Minimum and maximum temperatures: Equivalents, 36°—48°; Calgary, 6° below—2°; Qu'Appelle, 0°—14°; Winnipeg, 18° below—9°; Port Arthur, 4° below—16°; Toronto, 14°—24°; Montreal, 16°—22°; Quebec, 18°—24°; Halifax, 30°—24°.

TO-DAY'S PROBABILITIES.
TORONTO, Nov. 24—1 a.m.—Probabilities for the next 24 hours for the lower lakes region (covering the peninsula and as far east as Belleville) are: Moderate to fresh northerly to northerly winds; generally fair; not much change in temperature.

THE LAST DAY.

All citizens whose names have not yet been added to the Ontario Voters' List should attend at the Court House before Judge Davis to-day (Thursday) without fail, or they will lose their opportunity to vote at the coming bye-election, which may take place almost any day soon. Don't neglect this, the last opportunity of obtaining the franchise. The persons thus referred to should either attend the court personally or by some relative or friend who can prove their ages, residences, etc. But each one should endeavor to attend personally if possible.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—W. D. and Miss Mills, city, have been visiting friends in St. Catharines.

—Miss Jennie Hewitt, city, has been visiting her cousin, Miss Hewitt, in Brantford.

—Mrs. Strong is lying dangerously ill at the residence of her son-in-law, Conductor Cromwell, 143 Waterloo Street.

—Fidelity No. 5, A. O. U. W., London, celebrate their fourteenth anniversary on Friday, Dec. 16 next, at the City Hotel.

—The Falcon Concert Company of this city gave a performance in Mount Brydges last night, the members returning home on a late train.

—This is Thanksgiving Day throughout the United States. An admirer of President Harrison sent him a 31-pound turkey for his dinner to-day.

—James Kelly, of Chicago, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective Rider, charged with stealing an overcoat valued at $20 from the Huron House.

—Mr. J. Shaw, G. T. R. telegraph operator at Dorchester Station, passed through this city yesterday afternoon en route to Gloucester. He will return on a trip to Toronto and Montreal a beneficiary.

—Rev. Dr. Jeffers, the well-known Methodist preacher, and father of J. Prith Jeffers, of this city, is now aged 75. He preached in Belleville on Sunday. Fifty years ago he was pastor there. He said he had read all the works of the great theologian and advanced thought, but in the Gospel he preached a half-century ago he still had unaltered faith.

—From Elderton to San Francisco via Chicago, Union Pacific and the Sierras, a trip of a lecture to be delivered by Rev. W. S. Ball in the First Presbyterian Church this (Thursday) evening. Mr. Ball has recently made this journey and has kindly consented to give others his impressions of a most interesting and enjoyable trip. The collection is for the Northwest mission work of the Y. P. S. C. E. in connection with the First Presbyterian Church.

—Rev. W. S. Ball, of Vauclerk, lectured at the Lyceum on Tuesday evening on the subject of "The Northwest." Mr. Ball having been through the greater part of the scenes during the rebellion in the Northwest Territories was able to tell the story of many of the stirring incidents. Dr. Bucke, superintendent of the asylum, presided, and very highly complimented the speaker. Rev. Mr. Ball lectured at Komoka last evening, and will deliver an address in the First Presbyterian Church here to-night.

The Late Mr. Peter Carmichael.
The funeral of the late Peter Carmichael, of Lobo township, took place Tuesday afternoon and was largely attended, there being about 200 carriages in line. Deceased was universally respected by all who knew him. His age was 42 years, and during all his life he lived in Lobo township, the place of his birth. He leaves a wife and three children, and was a brother-in-law of Mr. A. A. Campbell, of this city. The pallbearers were Messrs. C. Paul, H. P. Carmichael, T. Carmichael, E. McLurg, D. Graham and N. A. Graham.

Northwest Life.
Mr. C. H. McIntosh M.P., for Ottawa, formerly of this city, has written a book on Northwest life, which is likely to have a big sale. The humorous and pathetic side of the settler's life are to be given, and the whole is to be embellished by a series of views which Mr. McIntosh is to obtain from the C. P. R. Here is one of the true stories of Northwest life. Sir Matthew Cogswell, a prisoner before him one morning. The latter was accused of nearly killing one of his "pals" on a ranch. "You are a scoundrel," said the judge. "If I had the power I would send you to the penitentiary for life. But the law will not allow that; I will fine you $30." "All right, your Honor," replied the prisoner. "I will fine you $30, and order you to be imprisoned for six months. Have you got that in your hip pocket?" asked the judge, with a quiet sarcasm.

Select Knights of Canada.
T. L. Lewis, grand commander of the Select Knights of Canada, visited this city Monday night. He was received by a delegation from London Legion, No. 8, and returned to London, No. 128, and escorted to the legion rooms, Duffield block, where a joint meeting of the above legions was held. Dr. McLellan acted as chairman and Dr. Ferguson secretary. Grand Commander Lewis reviewed the progress of society insurance in this country for the past 25 years, and gave a very lucid explanation of the beneficiary and endowment department of the Select Knights of Canada. The speaker cited the great progress this society has made during the past three years, showing that it now numbers about 6,000 members in both departments. Following Mr. Lewis' address came short speeches by Dr. C. T. Campbell, Belton and Ferguson and J. H. Flood, John Isaacs, Thomas Brenton, R. N. Curry, W. A. Wescott and others. The grand commander left on Tuesday to visit the Guelph legions.

A Pleasant Evening.

A very pleasant social was held Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. Thomas Woodburne, Adelaide Street North, by the members of the Adelaide Street Baptist Y. P. S. C. E. Mr. Woodburne had kindly extended an invitation to the young people to come and spend an evening with him at his home, and in response a large number were present. During the first part of the evening excellent music and readings were given by the members; solos by Miss E. Hartson; reading by Miss L. McLeod; duet, Misses Elsie and M. Hartson; instrumental, Miss Robertson; quartet and chorus, the Misses Hartson and Messrs. J. Drew and C. Moorhead. After the programme was carried out the remainder of the time was spent in a genuine social way, and at the close of the evening's enjoyment, a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Woodburne for his hospitality. Mr. Woodburne, jun., president of the society, made a happy reply, and the pleasant evening came to a close.

SNYDER SAYS SO!

The Earth and the Comet in Collision.

And the Aerid Wanderer Gets Smashed Into Smithereens.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 23.—The event for which the astronomers have been waiting and general public deriding, has come to pass. To-night, in its passage through space, the earth crashed into a comet, with disastrous results to the solar tramp. The statement that the earth and a comet were in collision is made up of authority by Prof. C. M. Snyder, instructor in astronomy at the high school in this city. According to Prof. Snyder the comet struck was not Riel's, but a tiny one that was wandering through space without a fixed orbit or a determined destination. The comet when struck by the earth was in the Andromeda group. The force of the impact between the two bodies shattered the comet to pieces and he evidence of the collision was plainly visible to all persons out doors to-night. The great number of shooting stars or meteors that fell from the heavens. The shooting stars or meteors were the fragments of the unfortunate comet that chose to cross the earth's path.

At the point of impact the point of passage. Prof. Snyder says that the fate of all comets is to be eventually broken in their passage through space by a collision with some of the large heavily bodies, and that the result is likely to be attended by any disastrous consequences.

METEORIC SHOWERS.
BERLINGTON, Ky., Nov. 23.—A Hawkeye special says a brilliant meteoric shower was witnessed at Mount Pleasant, Ia., to-night 10 o'clock to midnight. Falling stars were very numerous.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 23.—There was a meteoric display here to-night apparently from the comet now visible in heaven. It was of almost constant duration. The meteoric spikes appeared to radiate equally from the zodiacal center, differing from the display in August last, when the shower of meteors seemed to follow the milky way.

GULLED AND BURTAILED

There is no change in ex-Secretary Blaine's condition.

The fire which has been raging in Holden mine at Guelph, Ont., for several days past has been subdued. The 29 men who were overcome by gas are all doing well. Those who were supposed to be fatally injured will recover.

HAMILTON, Nov. 23.—The Hon. Wilfrid Laurier has written the secretary of the Young Men's Liberal Club here informing him that he will be present at the annual banquet to be held Jan. 10.

SHOT IN MISTAKE.
CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 22.—Detective Valentine shot and killed an innocent man yesterday who he mistook for a burglar. The victim was Frank O'Hara, lately a lieutenant in the Australian army. He had been in this country a short time and could not speak English.

Egus Baldwin.
CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 22.—The most expensive barrel of apples Charleston has ever seen was passed through the custom house yesterday. They were labeled "Baldwin" and came from Barcoo. The custom house authorities were suspicious of Baldwin apples from Barcoo and opened the barrel. It contained cheroots. The barrel and contents were confiscated. The vessel was valued $300 and the captain and mate arrested and jailed.

May Be Settled By-and-By.
OTTAWA, Nov. 22.—A beginning is at length to be made in the final settlement of the accounts between Ontario, Quebec and the Dominion. Legislation was had last session providing a court of arbitration, and subsequently the Dominion appointed Mr. Justice Burridge, of Ottawa, arbitrator for the Federal Government, and Ontario appointed Chancellor Boyd, of Toronto, to represent that Province. A long delay ensued before Quebec acted, but that Province has now appointed Judge Casault as its representative. Steps are being taken to secure an early meeting of the three arbitrators.

Miraculous Rescue from Ovarian Tumor and Peritonitis.

MITCHELL, Jan. 20, 1887.

Firs.—I am at present recovering from a successful surgical operation for the removal of an Ovarian Tumor, from which I have suffered for a number of years, and for the relief of general debility arising from such a long and painful illness. I was continually doctoring, and I was continually doctoring. Being much persuaded, and after seeking the opinion of a number of physicians, I decided to try a trial for strengthening the system completely run down system. How I felt, in a few days I began to mend. When I was attacked with Peritonitis, I felt in need of any medicine of the kind, and when last April I met the Royal Crown Remedy to my aid, and continue to do so. I remain yours truly, FANNY SMOTHERINGALE, ywt

CANADIAN PREMIERSHIP.

Mr. Straith Statement That Sir John Abbott has Resigned.

Associated Press dispatches.—GENERAL, Nov. 23.—A Conservative Senator from the Montreal district who arrived from Ottawa to-day stated that he had information direct from the Government to the effect that Sir John Abbott has resigned the Premiership.

Intimate friends of Sir John's have confirmed the rumor, saying that a cablegram had been received by Sir John's friends from the Premier stating that he had decided to spend the winter in Egypt, and could not take his place in Ottawa next session.

OTTAWA, Nov. 23.—An impression prevails in official circles that Sir John Abbott will not resign the Premiership at present.

GENERAL, Nov. 23.—No confirmation has been received here of the report that Sir John Abbott has resigned.

Something that every good housekeeper should know about baking powders? A large proportion of the powders sold in Canada are made from alum, or alum, ammonia and phosphate. The best baking powder is made from pure cream of tartar and bi-carbonate of soda. The best among them is the one known as Pure Gold Baking Powder, which is made by the Pure Gold Manufacturing Company Toronto.

St. Nicholas for Young Folks.

St. Nicholas long ago wrote of St. Nicholas: "It is little to say of this magazine that it is the best children's periodical in the world." Edward Eggleston, the author of the Hooray Schoolmaster, says of it: "There is not one of the numbers that does not contain the curiosity, inform the memory, stimulate thought and enlarge the range of imagination." Founded in 1873, and for the first number edited by Mary Moes Dodge, St. Nicholas is now entering its twentieth year. The most famous writers have contributed to its pages in the past, but never has its editor been able to offer a better programme or a more distinguished list of contributors than for 1893.

There is to be a series of illustrated papers on "The Leading Cities of the United States," the story of each city told by prominent residents. Edmund Clarence Stedman will write of New York; Thomas W. Higginson, of Boston; New Orleans will be described by George W. Cole, and Baltimore by President Gilman, of the Johns Hopkins University. Dr. Loan Abbott will tell the story of Brooklyn, and other cities will be treated by other famous men. There will be articles of the World's Fair, and a number of sets of funny pictures and humorous verses.

Mrs. Kate Douglas Wiggin, the well-known author of "The Birds' Christmas Carol," etc., will contribute the leading article for St. Nicholas during the coming year. The November number opens with a three-page poem by John G. Whittier, which has in it some of the most beautiful lines of good Quaker poet has ever written, describing the visit of a party of young girls to his home.

The School Journal says: "Place St. Nicholas in your household, and you need have no fears for the lessons taught your children." The magazine is the greatest friend the teacher and the conscientious parent can possibly have. It entertains and at the same time educates and instructs. The subscription price is $3 a year. Remittances may be made directly to the publishers, the Century Company, 3 East Seventeenth Street, New York.
