RATE WAS NOT STRUCK

Many Small Matters, However, Dealt With By Council

Traction Engines are Doing
Damage To City
Pavements

The regular meeting of the City Council last evening was attended by all the aldermen with the exception of Ald. Austin, who left a communication to Mayor Stone, in which he stated that it was impossible for him to be present, and that it would not be possible to strike the civic rate last night anyway, but that everything would be ready by the next regular meeting or a special meeting could be called for the purpose between now and that time.

THE LICENSE MONEY.
A communication was received from the License Inspector, certifying that the city's share from the licenses is $1,515.47.

Residents in North Chatham wrote, asking the Council to have debris removed off Emma street.—Board of Works.

The City Engineer's report on a sewer on Jahnke street, was received.

SERIOUS NOISANCE.
A letter was received from City Engineer E. B. Jones, calling the attention of the Council to the fact that traction engines passing through the city are injuring the bitulithic pavements, and that the owners of the machines should be forced to take the cleats off the tires of the engines before they pass over paved streets. Mr. Jones advised that the Council should pass a traction engine by-law similar to the one in force in London, Ont. The Mayor referred the matter to the Board of Works, and the chairman of that committee will bring in a by-law on the matter at the next meeting of the Council.

FIREMEN APPOINTED.
Fire Chief Richard Pritchard recommended the appointment of Geo. Pritchard, Theo. Banks and Wm. Roberts as call firemen. The Fire Chief's recommendation was approved by the Council.

The Mayor stated that he had received two communications regarding the new gas engine plant which the city is purchasing for the electric light department, but as the matter is now all settled, he said it would not be necessary to read the letters.

ON A LONG TOUR

Mr. and Mrs. "Mac" Gardiner and daughter, Ed. Massey and Miss Fannie Massey have returned from a twelve days' tour in Mr. Gardiner's Chatham touring car. Some of the places visited during their trip were—Wardville, London, Brantford, Hamilton, St. Catharines, Buffalo, Rochester, and Syracuse. They returned by way of Port Huron and Detroit, arriving back in the Maple City last night.

The party had some novel experiences en route. While speeding through a rural section near Hamilton a county constable took occasion to use the telephone to advantage on them, sending on word that an auto was coming in at the rate of 50 miles an hour. At the next village they were met by an excited and motley-looking band of natives, armed with brooms, hay-forks, hoes, bad eggs and every other emergency weapon they could seemingly gather up. However, though they made a great deal of noise, they did not attempt to molest the party. From Chatham, who were called to appear before the village "beak" and whack up an exorbitant fine. But autoists have no chance to appeal cases. They have to put up with whatever treatment they receive, and travel on.

At Niagara they put up at one hotel, where they were charged the enormous fee of $27 for the party's lodging over night. This is practically daylight robbery, but autoists say that that sort of thing is by no means rare during a tour.

Despite these few harrowing incidents, the party enjoyed the trip very much, and the run was made without a hitch.

COUNCIL TO INVESTIGATE THE IMMIGRATION PERIL

Ald. Bullis Takes a Commendable Stand and Finance Committee will now make Inquiries—Serious Problem for City.

Only one alderman seemed to care to have anything to say about the immigration peril at last night's meeting of the City Council. He was Ald. S. Bullis, who thought that the Council should take some steps to prevent the wholesale dumping of these English people into Chatham. He thought that if these people did not get employment for the winter, as is evidently going to be the case, the city would have a serious problem to face.

Mayor Stone in reply, said that he would ask the Finance committee to make inquiries of Immigration Agent James Waugh about the matter.

Ald. J. G. Kerr wanted to know when the Council were going to take some steps towards bettering conditions at the Maple Leaf Cemetery.

The Mayor said that he was waiting for a chance to secure automobiles to take the aldermen out to the cemetery to look into the matter. In the meantime arrangements will be made for a trip to the cemetery before the next meeting of the Council.

ANOTHER PARK.
Reference was made by the Mayor to the fact that residents had been asking him to have the Council consider the matter of making a little park at the gore of Victoria avenue and Grant street.

Works favored this scheme, but he did not think it advisable that the Council should take it up this year.

TWENTY LIVES WERE LOST

New York Tenement proves
An Awful Death
Trap

Majority Of Victims Are Women and Children—
Fire and Explosion

New York, July 30.—After an all-night search of the ruins of the six-story tenement at No. 222 Christie street, which was burned shortly after midnight, the police announced that there were twenty victims of the fire.

The bodies of the dead were found in all sorts of unexpected places, to which persons had fled after the fire broke out. Almost all of the bodies were burned beyond recognition, many to such an extent that it was impossible to distinguish the sex. A majority of the victims, the police believed, were women and children.

The burned building was one of those old-fashioned tenements common to the east side, with a store on the ground floor and the apartments upstairs crowded with tenants, mainly Italians.

The fire started in the store and swept through the building with such rapidity that a fifth of the 100 tenants in the place met a horrible death.

Another score, though they escaped with their lives, were more or less burned or otherwise injured.

A passer-by was attracted by the explosion, which apparently occurred on the basement floor. As he turned toward the building the whole front, with its flimsy fire-escapes, fell into the street and from the sagging floors a score of half-awakened persons dropped into the street.

Many of these were badly hurt, but they proved to be the more fortunate of the tenants, for in another moment the building was wrapped in flames and the cries of the persons burning to death rent the air.

In the wild panic that followed many suffered mortal injury. The police and firemen, who soon reached the scene, attempted to take the imperiled tenants from the side and rear windows, but few who were free to act did not wait for assistance, but jumped into the street.

Several who sought escape by a rear stairway were driven back by choking smoke. Some of these made their way through the fire to other exits, but more fell, overcome in the hall, to be dragged out insensible.

Of the dead and dying the larger part were women and children. In the mad scramble for exit and safety, the stronger in most cases survived. The flames were not controlled until the building was practically in ashes, when the search for the bodies began.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT

Ridgeway, July 29.—Master Jack Mayhew had a narrow escape from serious injury Saturday night, and as it was had his face considerably cut and was badly shaken up.

He was in Paddy's ice cream parlors and passed through the door to the chemical laboratory of the drug store adjoining, where a trap-door was open, and through which he fell to the cellar floor, eight feet below. He was picked up by the clerk, who had just gone into the cellar, and while his injuries were found to be severe they were not of a fatal nature.

APPROACH IS TO BE PAVED

Cobblestone Between King Street And Fifth St.
Bridge to be Torn Up

Ald. Stephens Objects To Transient Trader Appeal
—C. W. & L. E. Trouble

The cobblestone pavement from King St. to Fifth St. bridge will be shortly torn up and replaced with bitulithic. The by-law authorizing this work was passed by a unanimous vote at last night's meeting of the City Council. This will much improve the appearance of that portion of the city, and will be a great boon to traffic. The total cost of the this work will be $1,465.58, of which $477 will come out of the general assessment.

The motion to have the by-law passed was moved by Ald. Benson, seconded by Ald. Stephens.

THE QUEEN ST. TROUBLE.
Ald. Massey, chairman of the Railway committee, drew attention to the fact that the C. W. & L. E. Company have been blocked in their extension to the lake by the Robertson-of-Inches appeal. The C. W. & L. E. now want permission to lay temporary tracks along the roadbed of Queen St. for use for construction purposes only, until such time as the litigation with the Robertson-of-Inches people is settled. He moved that the company be allowed to lay temporary tracks along the roadbed, subject to the approval of a committee composed of the City Solicitor, the City Engineer and the Chairman of the Board of Works.

Ald. Kerr at first objected to the name of the Chairman of the Board of Works being added to the committee, but Ald. Benson held that he had a right to be on the committee, as the responsibility for the condition of the roadbed laid with the Board of Works.

After a great deal of discussion the resolution was finally carried.

The by-law authorizing the paving of the approach to Fifth street bridge and the construction of a sewer on Jahnke St. were put through their various readings and passed.

TRANSIENT TRADER CASE.
The Mayor presented a bill from Officer McGror for $8.25 for expenses in connection with serving a summons on Jos. Brodie, the alleged transient trader. According to the Mayor, Brodie does not reside in Chatham, but has his home in Windsor. He explained that the case against Brodie, which had been thrown out by Judge Houston, was to be appealed before Judge Dowlin in Division Court.

Ald. Stephens—Was the appeal ordered by the Council?

Mayor Stone—It was ordered by the Chairman of Finance and myself.

Ald. Stephens—Have you the power to order this appeal without the sanction of the Council? I would like to have the opportunity to object to this appeal.

Mayor Stone—You certainly have the privilege of doing so.

Ald. Potter thought that the action of the Mayor and the Finance chairman should be approved of by the Council. He was of the opinion that the Council should have an opportunity of finding out where they were at with the transient traders by-law. If it is no good they should know it. Ald. Potter moved, seconded by Ald. Westman, that the action of the Mayor and Ald. Austin be approved of by the Council.

—Carried.

A well known local young bank clerk left his new Brantford wheel in front of the Dominion Bank building for a short time this morning. When he returned the wheel was gone. He thinks that possibly it has been taken by mistake. The case was reported to the police to-day.

CONGO IN STATE OF TYRANNY

Lords Condemn the Government In The Congo

Archbishop Of Canterbury
Regards It As Most Humiliating

London, July 30.—"The system of government in the Congo Independent State is one of unrestrained tyranny enforced by the lash and the bullet, by cruelty and by murder."

These words were spoken by Lord Monckswell, who raised the Congo question in the House of Lords yesterday, and moved for the papers. The attendance in the House was slight.

Lord Monckswell said that the Congo Government was a powerful engine of greed, which impudently and insolently violated the limitations and restrictions under which its rights over this territory had been granted. The speaker quoted authorities to support his statements, and added that an especial responsibility attached to Great Britain, because, except for her determined action, the King of Portugal and not the King of the Belgians, would at this moment have been the ruler of the Congo.

The Archbishop of Canterbury declared that the Congo was one of the most disheartening and humiliating of contemporary questions. He said it was a ghastly irony to read to-day the words of the address presented to King Leopold by the City of London in 1884, congratulating His Majesty upon his "bloodless victory." He declared the British Government should be regarded of the sense of responsibility of all Englishmen in this matter.

A general debate on the Congo question followed, and a number of bishops were among the speakers. The Earl of Mayo advocated another international convention in the matter of the Congo, and failing that, the appointment of more British consuls in the upper Congo. Lord Fitzmaurice, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, speaking for the Government, said they were not blind to the fact that this matter was surrounded with grave difficulties. The Government had asked the Congo state, he said, not to disregard the experiences of previous governments of native states, and had instanced the early history of British East India. The present system, the speaker said, was certain to have evil consequences.

Lord Fitzmaurice admitted that the House of Lords had a right to ask what progress had been made, but he said it was an international question, and if the House took any sudden, rash action, it would run the risk of injuring the cause it had at heart.

At the conclusion of Lord Fitzmaurice's address Lord Monckswell withdrew his motion.

DO WIVES LOVE THEIR HUSBANDS?

In spite of the proudly asserted independence of some women, and in spite of the flippancy with which marriage is usually discussed, the answer to this question at the head of this article, which is being asked by the Calgary Herald, must be often "Yes" than is generally supposed.

In this serio-comedy we call life, we meet with a case every now and then which proves that when it comes to the real "show down," most wives do love their husbands.

Here are two prettily pathetic little instances related by a clever woman writer:

"I'm glad to be rid of him," said my young friend to me last Saturday as the train moved out toward New York, and her husband's train started for Washington. "He is so mean about some things; he hangs his clothes all over our closet, and if I have a bit of sewing on the machine he pitches it up the attic stairs."

"And then I lent her my handkerchief—hers was too tiny."

"I went with her to New York. We had a good supper at a good hotel, but she didn't eat any pie. 'He,' it seems, usually ate both pieces. Then we sat in Central Park and pretended we weren't married till ten o'clock, when, in the dim shades beside me, I heard a heartfelt sigh, and then another, deeper. And truthfully sincere, at last, the words came out:

"Oh, I wish I had my man." "So I smiled at a convenient lamp-post and reflected on the well, the femininity of woman."

"I had an old Welsh grandmother to care for me one year when I was 'weary and ill at ease,' a sturdy little body who, when her husband was dying of small-pox and her baby—her ninth—was yet unborn, went down to the spring with a cup and the silver teaspoon, dipped nine times up stream, prayed, and fed this fresh, cool water to her husband. From that hour he mended. But at last he did come to the end of his life, and one winter he could not earn the barrel of flour and the coat. However, she had been taking washing in on the 'ly,' and she brought the needed supplies and showed him the fifteen dollars for his new suit of clothes."

"This was too much for a Welshman, and he balked."

"Now, Mary, I can't wear your money. I'll never last out to need 'em."

"So she answered her old man like this:

"Oh, well, Alec, s'posin' you don't, they'll do for my next husband; so come along." He came.

All of which goes to show that after all there are some women who do say just what they think. We've met some ourselves.

A PRESENTATION

The congregation of Dover Presbyterian church met at the home of Miss Myrtle Kennedy July 24, 1907, and presented her with a well filled purse and the following address:

Dear Miss Kennedy.—We, the members of Dover Presbyterian church, desire to show our appreciation of your services as organist of our church by presenting you with a purse of money as a slight token of our high esteem for you.

While you occupied the position of organist amongst us your faithful attendance to duty, your kindness of manner, and your ever present desire to do the best possible in your capacity as organist while with us, has endeared you to us.

We hope your future life, wherever it may be cast, will be full of brightness, and that loyalty to truth and right will always mark that life, is the wish of the members and adherents of the Dover Presbyterian church.

Signed on behalf of the members and adherents:

JAMES BENNIE.

JOHN HENDERSON.

WM. MONTGOMERY.

Miss Kennedy feelingly thanked them and wished the church and choir every success in the future.

Suicides With Gas.

Stratford, July 29.—While brooding over his wife's death, William Donaldson, aged 44, committed suicide during Saturday night by inhaling gas. Yesterday morning he was sitting beside the gas range with a gas tube in his hand, and dead. For some months he had been carefully watched, as it was feared that in his state of mental derangement he would attempt his life. Deceased was for 28 years an employee of the Grand Trunk shops, and is survived by two children. This latter case makes four suicides in Stratford inside of three weeks.

Stole Kier Hardie's Vest.

Winnipeg, July 29.—While Kier Hardie, M.P., was addressing a Socialist meeting on Friday night, in the Central Congregational Church, his vest was stolen from the ante-room. Mr. Hardie was not feeling in good health when he left Saturday evening for Calgary.

A WOMAN'S QUICK EYE.

It Was the Means of Gaining a Fortune at Monte Carlo.

Nearly every one who has been to Monte Carlo has heard of "Mamma" Vland, a little, bent old French woman, a widow, who played for years. "Mamma" Vland played roulette each day from morning until night. Her beady eyes, twitching nervously, saw nothing but the ivory ball as it fell into the cell. As they watched her staggering from the gaming tables late at night people pitied her.

Her whole soul, her life, seemed absorbed in the awful desire of winning. The old woman at times lost heavily—for her; then she regained her losses. For a long time she was enabled to live and continue her feverish pursuit of the game.

One night the old woman lost nearly all her store. As she passed from the table, despair in her eyes, her attention was attracted by another wheel. She stopped and bent over the table. Again and again the wheel spun around and stopped. The old woman's eyes sparkled. A flush suffused her pallid cheeks.

As she left the room she clapped her hands, and her laugh—a shrill, mocking chuckle—started the gamblers as ominous, uncanny.

"Better watch the old woman!" one of the official lookouts told a detective. He followed "Mamma" Vland to her hotel. He listened outside of her door. There was no alarming sound. In a short while she extinguished her lights and evidently had retired.

The following evening she reappeared in the gaming hall. Her eyes still sparkled; her cheeks were still flushed. With her were several notorious gamblers. They approached a table. "Mamma" Vland began to play.

She won. The gamblers, who had loaned her money, watched. She played a second time and won and a third time and won. The gamblers looked on amazed and saw the old woman raking in thousands of francs.

During the evening the old woman sat by the table, playing persistently. Her winnings doubled, trebled, quadrupled and piled up about her.

The management became alarmed. A consultation was held. Special detectives were sent to watch her. Scores had gathered about the table, looking on breathlessly at her wonderful run of luck. The detectives reported to the management that "Mamma" Vland was playing a certain combination of numbers that invariably won.

One of the directors besought the old woman to desist playing. The bank would be broke, he declared. She smiled and continued to play.

The director offered her $50,000 to cease playing. He doubled the figure if she would tell him the secret of her success. He implored her to take $200,000, $250,000, only cease waging her successful battle for gold.

Finally he offered her $300,000. Accepting this, "Mamma" Vland, gathering together her fortune, told him very quietly that in passing the table the night before her quick eye had detected that the ball of this particular wheel stopped at a certain place at regular intervals. The managers examined the wheel, found that it was out of order and congratulated themselves upon having compromised with the old woman.

Idleness, like industry, is catching.

Humor and Philosophy

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

A man generally loses his credit about the time he loses his money.

No liar really cares to have you going around testifying to his character; besides, it isn't always safe for you.

Some people talk as if labor were the only great and glorious good, but we notice that they only talk that way.

Possession is nine points in law, but the price to pay the lawyer is a tenth that beats the other nine.

The race generally is to the man who knows how to fix it.

Some people are too amiable ever to be very busy.

Failures don't count with anybody except the man who has to pay for them.

Ideals somehow always have a way of connecting themselves entirely with future deals.

There is no new thing under the sun, so be sure that your recent foolishness has had its prototype.

There is hope for the man who actively doesn't enjoy being ashamed of himself.

The Saving Grace.

If you have a thousand dollars When arrested for a crime, There is very little danger Of your ever doing time. Leastwise, not until the able And persuasive legal limbers, Edith and Elizabeth, and the sons, Alonzo and Douglas.

Justice wears a heavy bandage Bound securely round its eyes That it may not see the color Of the prisoner or his size, But, though this blindfold arrangement Balks it when it wants to wink, It has ears attuned, they tell me, For the silver dollar's clink.

In this land where all are equal Justice, so they say, is free. Still at times you have to buy it As you would a pound of tea. For the fellow gets the limit, All the time and sixty days, If he goes into the courtroom Without cash to grease the ways.

Money makes the mare, they tell us, Trot or canter, walk or pace. Should the legal coils enmesh you, Money is the saving grace. If you bump into a statute, You can tell it to sidle, For some great and good attorney Will be charmed to see you through.

Financial Expert.

"That is a very energetic young man."

"Yes; he attends strictly to his business."

"What is his business?"

"Keeping his father's money in circulation."

"What did he die of?"

"I don't know."

"Perhaps it was appendicitis."

"Oh, no, I am sure it was nothing as expensive as that."

The Train For Him.

"How do you like your cousin who is visiting you?"

"He is the limit."

"Then why don't you send him home on the limited?"

Of Course.

"I wish I knew what I want."

"I can tell you."

"Well, what?"

"The first thing you find that you can't have."

Great Bargains.

"Every man has his price."

"Yes, and that is not the worst of it."

"What is?"

"They are mostly cut prices."

In Wrong Place.

"I just met Hillson in a saloon."

"Did he shake you for the drinks?"

"No; he worked me for the drinks and shook me afterward."

Fettered.

Fashion is a foolish dame Who tries to make us silly. Sometimes we kick, but, just the same, She gets us willy nilly.

Not Even Safe.

"Is it possible for a man to love two women at the same time?"

"Possible, but not practical."

Far From It.

"Did you take the limited?"

"Well, not exactly. The train I came on was the limit."

More Up to Date.

"I understand she left him in a huff."

"No; she left him in an automobile."

BRONCHIAL TROUBLES

Readily Yield to Soothing, Healing Treatment of Hyomei.

Bronchial troubles are purely local. They cannot be helped by stomach dosing. They are caused by irritation in the air passages and can be relieved and cured by medicated air alone. In this lies the secret of the great success of Hy-o-mei in the treatment of bronchial troubles.

The Hy-o-mei medication, laden with nature's remedies, is breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, reaching every part of the bronchial tubes and killing at once the disease germs. It allays all irritation and heals the inflammation of the mucous membrane with astonishing rapidity.

Treatment with sprays, douches and atomizers in bronchial troubles is condemned by the best physicians, as they cause further irritation.

The first breath of Hy-o-mei's medicated air seems to soothe the inflammation, stop the cough, and thus relief soon becomes permanent and a cure results.

Hy-o-mei has made many remarkable cures in the worst and most chronic forms of bronchial troubles and is sold by C. H. Gunn & Co., with the same guarantee as they give when Hy-o-mei is purchased elsewhere. It always is, to refund the money does not give satisfaction. The complete outfit costs but $1.00.

TRAGEDY AT DEATH BED.

Man Shoots His Brothers and Sisters—One May Die.

Versailles, France, July 29.—Henry H. Huntington, son of Douglas St. George Huntington, former attaché of the American embassy in Paris, was arrested here last night on the charge of shooting his two sisters and one of his brothers. The condition of the sisters was said to be serious.

The tragedy occurred at the bedside of the father, who was dying. Henry had returned to ask his father's forgiveness after having been estranged from his parents for some time past. Mr. Huntington, Sr., was suffering from pulmonary consumption, and as it was believed that he was near death a telegram was despatched to Henry to return. The latter hurried to the bedside, around which were grouped the weeping wife, the daughter, Edith, Elizabeth, and the sons, Alonzo and Douglas.

Henry pleaded for forgiveness for the sorrow he had caused, and had received his father's blessing, when Douglas requested him to seek the pardon of his mother also. This Henry declined to do, and thereupon Alonzo asked him to leave the room.

According to the police, Henry drew out a revolver and fired at Alonzo. He then wheeled and shot both his sisters and his brother Huntington, and endeavored to make his escape. He was captured, however, by a guard who ran into the house to investigate the cause of the shooting. Henry, Huntington, Sr., who is 60 years of age, survived the shock of the tragic scene, but at midnight was sinking rapidly and was not expected to survive the night. The sister, Elizabeth, is dying from a wound over the heart.

The Story of a Medicine.

Its name—"Golden Medical Discovery"—was suggested by one of its most important and valuable ingredients—Golden Seal root.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that he could, by the use of pure, triple-refined glycerine, aided by a certain degree of constantly maintained heat and with the aid of apparatus and appliances designed for that purpose, extract from our most valuable native medicinal roots their curative properties much better than by the use of alcohol, so generally employed. So the now world-famous "Golden Medical Discovery" for the cure of weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness and kindred derangements was first made, as it ever since has been, without a particle of alcohol in its make-up.

A glance at the full list of its ingredients, printed on every bottle-wrapper, will show that it is made from the most valuable medicinal roots and herbs known in our American forests. All these ingredients have received the strongest endorsement from the leading medical experts of the world.

Dr. J. C. Jackson, an eminent physician, has been compiling by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and will be mailed free to any one asking same by postal card, or letter addressed to the Doctor as above. From these endorsements, copied from standard medical books of all the different schools of practice, it will be found that the ingredients of our "Golden Medical Discovery" are advised not only for the cure of the above mentioned diseases, but also for the cure of all catarrhal, bronchial and throat affections, accompanied with catarrhal discharges, hoarseness, sore throat, lingering, or chronic coughs, and all those wasting affections which are liable to terminate in consumption. Take Dr. Pierce's Discovery in time and persevere in its use until you give it a fair trial and it is not likely to disappoint. Too much must not be expected of it. It will not perform miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stage. No medicine will. It will cure the affections that lead up to consumption, if taken in time.

RUINS OF POMPEII

The pictures at Wonderland last evening were decidedly entertaining and instructive. The ruins of Pompeii, the city in ancient Italy which was destroyed by the eruption of Mount Vesuvius, were vividly shown. Scenes in the city when the rock and hard lava had been taken off were shown, and also the broken down statuary work. The places where thousands of skeletons were unearthed were clearly illustrated and the road through the city to Naples could be plainly seen. The pictures last night were undoubtedly the most interesting that has been shown here for some time. They will be put on again to-night.

CORTEGE OF SIX HEARSE.

Toronto Junction Mourns at the Biers of Nine Young Men.

Toronto, Junction, July 30.—Places of business and industry were closed; heavy crepe draped the buildings on the principal streets, and flags floated at half-mast, on the public buildings yesterday during the funerals of Frank Kyle, Leonard and Frank Daly, John Irving, Walter Dundin and Reginald Miller, six of the nine young men who were drowned in Humber Bay on Friday morning last.

A joint service was held in Victoria Presbyterian Church. The funeral was of public character, attended by representatives of the different municipal bodies, and hundreds followed the hearse which conveyed the deceased from the homes of their parents to the church and thence to their last resting-place. The streets through which the solemn cortege wended its way were lined with people bowed in reverence as the procession passed.

TRIED TO WRECK TRAIN.

Fishplates and Spikes Drawn From a Curve on the C.N.O.

Port Arthur, July 30.—An attempt was made Sunday to wreck the Canadian Northern express.

When a freight train, west bound, reached the forty-three-mile post, it was noticed that the track had been tampered with, and the train was stopped.

At the curve the fishplates and spikes had been withdrawn, and there was nothing holding the rails.

The place where it had evidently been decided to wreck the train is one of the most dangerous on the road. It is at the bottom of a hill, and there is a sharp curve.

The train would have been hurled some distance into the river, and very few would have escaped.

Detectives have been sent out to investigate the affair.

Fatal Auto Accident.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., July 30.—In a collision at 10 o'clock last night, near the city line, between an automobile and a carriage, four persons were badly hurt.

One of them, Miss Frances Grace of Niagara and Sixth street, will die. Her skull is badly fractured.

In the automobile were William Harrigan and wife, and in the carriage Miss Grace and Henry Pierce.

COUNCIL TO INVESTIGATE

in view of the great expense which the city is already facing. The expenses for repairing and maintaining bridges is very heavy this year, he said. If it wasn't for this, the Council could go into many necessary improvements, but he is anxious to keep the Board of Works expenditures down as low as possible for the balance of the term.

The application of Wm. Cottingham for refund of taxes for a dog which was shot some time ago, was granted.

Ald. Potter, seconded by Ald. Ben-sen, moved that the Property committee be empowered to purchase a new carpet for the Council Chamber dais.—Carried.

ICE FOR OFFICIALS.

Ald. Massey, seconded by Ald. Potter, moved that a cake of ice be delivered at Harrison Hall each morning for the use of the city officials.—Carried.

Ald. Kerr drew attention to the fact that the Grand Trunk Railway company had moved away the agent's residence, which formerly obstructed the view at Queen street crossing, and had cut down the trees on their property. There were still a number of trees on city property nearby, which the company wished permission to cut down in order to make the view more clear. He moved, seconded by Ald. Westman, that the request be granted.—Carried.

TO IMPROVE RIVER FRONT.

Ald. Westman said that the Central Drug Store people and himself intended improving the water front back of their King street properties.
They intended to have the front piled, and were anxious that the city should pile their portion next to the bridge. This would have to be done first. The matter was referred to the Board of Works.

ANONYMOUS LETTER.

Mayor Stone said he had received an anonymous letter from somebody complaining that certain factories in the city were obstructing the streets by unloading their raw material on the pavements. As the letter was not signed the Council followed their usual rule in such cases and filed it without taking further action.

Ald. Benson, seconded by Ald. Massey, moved that Mayor Stone attend the annual convention of Canadian Municipalities to be held in Port Arthur next month.—Carried.

The Mayor thanked the aldermen, and said that he would make an endeavor to have the convention held in Chatham next year.

A petition for a glazed pipe sewer on Elizabeth street, was referred to the Board of Health.

REVIVE TREATY OF 1871.

Britain Hopes It Will Be Basis For New Agreement.

The Hague, July 29.—At the session of the committee on maritime warfare, Count Tornhiell, who presided, announced the intention of Great Britain to submit to the peace conference the Anglo-American treaty signed in Washington, May 8, 1871, regarding treatment of belligerent ships in neutral ports and waters, in the hope that the other powers would adhere to this treaty and an international agreement thus be reached.
 The committee, before which the collection of public and private debts was under consideration, was in session for two hours Saturday, and then voted in favor of the American proposal in the premises, which provides for the concluding of an agreement in which there shall be introduced "some limitations in the use of force for the collection of contractual, public and ordinary debts."
 Sir Edward Fry recognized the difficulty which international arbitration presented. Nevertheless, he added, the British delegation had associated itself with the American and Portuguese proposals. England, Sir Edward proceeded to show, had always practiced arbitration, and in 1905 had signed treaties of this nature with ten powers. The result of this practice, he continued, had not always been conclusive, but England believed that the moment had come for the conscience of the civilized world finally to find expression in this way.

STRATHCONA ADVISES C.P.R.

Favors All-Red Route and Would Have the Railway Help.

Montreal, July 29.—The members of Parliament who have interviewed Sir Wilfrid Laurier since the Premier's arrival in Canada, and R. Bickerdike, M.P., is of the number, do not hesitate to say that Lord Strathcona's coming visit to this country has a great deal to do with the question of the "all-red" line.
 It is said, in fact, on the best of authority that Lord Strathcona will use every effort to induce Sir Thomas Shaughnessy to not only abandon the strenuous opposition the C.P.R. has put up against the scheme, but will advise the Canadian Pacific to throw in their influence with the deal and tender for the Atlantic service. It is stated that Strathcona is ready to abandon the Irish connection and either take the British port of Liverpool or Southampton, but that most are agreed that Halifax shall be the Atlantic port for the year around.
 The idea is for the Canadian Pacific to build three new roads for the Halifax route and place the Empresses of Britain and Ireland on the Pacific. The statement is, however, made that there is a plan to have the new Atlantic greyhounds come up the St. Lawrence in summer, but it is not presumed that this alternative will prevail.

KOREANS ATTACK JAPS.

Serious Conflict Reported—Troops on Patrol Duty.

Seoul, July 29.—Guards were placed along the railways in the country yesterday and regular bodies of troops are patrolling all parts of Seoul.
 Korean troops and rioters in Kyongseong have destroyed seven Japanese dwellings, injuring six persons and driving the Japanese to their boats.
 Two of Marquis Ito's new appointees, the Minister of the Household and Keeper of the Seals, both in the Cabinet, have been ordered to reform the court and warned that if this is not accomplished within three months their appointments will be revoked.
 This means putting a quietus on the activity of the former Emperor, who, as late as July 23, it is said, intrigued to send a commissioner to Germany.

Shot at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Man., July 29.—Dr. Clyn Smith, of St. Louis, who lies in the General Hospital with a bullet wound in his neck, while the police are in search of the man who escaped being a murderer by the merest margin.
 The doctor was invited by a man whom he met at the Strathcona Hotel to take a drive out on the Kildonan road. At a point some miles from the city the man suddenly placed a revolver against the doctor's forehead and pulled the trigger. There was no explosion, but a struggle began, and the revolver was discharged, the bullet passing through the doctor's neck. In the struggle the doctor got possession of the revolver, but, thinking he might be overcome by loss of blood, threw it away. His assailant escaped and Dr. Smith went to a farm house, where he had the wound dressed and was afterward taken to the hospital. Robbery is believed to have been the motive for the attack.

Grampian Launched.

London, July 29.—The twin screw Allan-Liner Grampian was launched in the Clyde Saturday. She is 502 feet long, 60 feet broad, and of 10,000 gross tonnage. Till the Hispaner is ready next spring, the Grampian will be the fastest liner in the fleet. She carries 500 first and second, and 1,400 third-class passengers. Her maiden voyage to Montreal will probably be made in September next.

HE HAD HIS DOSE.

An Incident of the Terrible Battle of Montmirail.

In February, 1814, the French army made a heroic stand against the allied forces of Europe, and in one week relieved for a short but glorious period its lost prestige. Though composed largely of half raw recruits, it escaped from the very center of 250,000 foes, attacked an army of 70,000 men, won 4 battles and captured 68 cannon, 5 generals and 23,000 prisoners!

After the terrible fight at Montmirail Major Bancel, staff surgeon to the guard, was attending the wounded as well as he could, close behind the columns still engaged. Looking up from one unfortunate man whose wounds he was dressing, he perceived within a short distance an old mounted chasseur of the guard, who was tranquilly smoking his pipe and watching the surgeon.

Bancel did not at first pay any attention to him. By and by he noticed the man again, still in the same posture, tranquilly smoking his pipe.

"What are you doing there?" cried the surgeon.

"Smoking," answered the man. "Does the major forbid me to smoke?" "What?" returned the officer. "Aren't you ashamed to be loafing around here while your comrades are covering themselves with glory?"

The chasseur blew out a cloud of smoke and, driving his right spur into his steed, made him execute a half turn. Then he said, taking his pipe out of his mouth:

"Look, major. Don't you think I have got my dose as it is? Can I do anything more?"

The major looked. The chasseur's leg was shot off half way between the knee and the ankle, so that his left foot was hanging and dangling against his horse. The veteran's question required no answer. But it may be surmised what care and attention the surgeon lavished on the imperturbable chasseur.

LINCOLN'S GROCERY.

Result of One Partner's Hunger and the Other Partner's Thirst.

A giant in stature, he was as awkward as he was strong. His rustic appearance was enhanced by an ill fitting suit of homespun. Thus at the head of the ox team he made his debut in the outer world, without means, without education, without influence. This may seem a sorry beginning, but let it be remembered that if on that day he had graduated from Harvard in a fashionable coat the gates of history would probably have been closed against him.
 Mr. Lincoln's first business venture resulted in downright failure. He formed a partnership with one Berry, under the firm name of Berry & Lincoln, to carry on a grocery, for the purchase price of which the firm note was given. Berry was a jolly, irresponsible soul, who was born thirsty and who gave his undivided attention to that part of the stock known as "wet groceries." Mr. Lincoln, on the other hand, having a keen appetite, devoted himself to the crackers and cheese, smoked herrings and other edibles at the dry end of the shop. This happy adjustment rivaled the familiar case of Jack Sprat and his congenial spouse, but the meager stock could not long withstand the inroads of hunger at the one end and thirst at the other, and a crisis came which required the sale of the remnant of stock. The purchaser defaulted, and Mr. Lincoln was left to pay all the liabilities—a task which plagued him for several years. Thereby he had impressed upon him a legal proposition that a partner is liable in solid.

It is related that Mr. Lincoln bought a barrel of a customer, in the bottom of which, among other rubbish, was found a copy of "Blackstone's Commentaries." This was a great find for the law student, but as the book thereafter engrossed his attention the grocery business collapsed. Thus ended the first lesson—J. V. Quarles in Putnam's.

A "Jumble Bird."

In the West Indies is found a bird called the sunset bird, because half an hour before sunset and half an hour before sunrise it utters its peculiar cry of "Soleil coucher!" The natives call it a "jumble bird" (a bird possessed of the devil) and say that to kill it would bring death to its slayer. Another bird found in the same region is the "Soufriere bird," which makes its home near the volcano of Soufriere, and among the natives there is a strong belief that the first individual to see this bird will die, while the most horrible torture by evil spirits awaits the man who kills it.—Minneapolis Journal.

CELEBRATED HIS JUBILEE.

Famous English Baritone Singer Receives Many Congratulations.

The celebration recently by Charles Santley, the great English baritone, of the fiftieth anniversary of his entrance on the musical calling, has called forth many tributes to this eminent singer's life and achievements. He is spoken of as a man who never experienced the temptation to which many singers succumb of assuming a foreign appearance, but was content throughout to be an Englishman. His style was marked by fire and rhythm, and in foreign compositions his command of the languages was remarkably satisfactory. He is also regarded as the best musician among British male singers of his generation. He has been conservative in his choice of selections, and did little to encourage native composers of high aims. Yet his methods were above reproach and his songs were marked by a happy blending of intelligence and emotional force. Mr. Santley was born in Liverpool in 1834, and was educated in London in 1857, his first great success being in the opera "Dinorah" in 1859. Since then his voice has been heard throughout the United Kingdom and in many distant countries.

NIGHT FLIGHT ON A TUG.

Famous Case Recalled By the Death of Lord Gordon.

Memories of a sensational kidnapping case are recalled by the announcement of the death, on the fifty-first anniversary of his birthday, of Lord Granville Gordon. His lordship, who was brother and heir presumptive of the Marquis of Huntly, died on a liner between Suez and Aden. It was in 1901 that the case which had become a public scandal, in that year Lord Gordon (then a widower) was cited as co-respondent in a suit for divorce which his cousin, Mr. Christian Frederic Gordon (generally called "Eric"), brought against his wife. Mr. Gordon obtained a decree nisi and an order for the custody of what was looked upon as the child of the marriage, Cicely Margot. Mrs. Gordon, however, sprang a dramatic surprise by alleging that her husband was not Cicely's father; the author of the child's being Lord Granville. She endeavored to get the courts to give her the custody of the child, and a long legal tussle ensued. Ultimately Sir Francis Jeune decided that Lord Granville Gordon (who by the time had married the divorcee) was not a proper person to have the control of the child, and she was left in the care of Mr. Gordon.

Determined by hook or crook to have the daughter Lady Gordon hit upon a bold plan. A contract was made with the manager of a towing company at Gravesend to take a party to Dunkirk or Boulogne, and on Sunday night, March 8, 1903, four women and two children left Gravesend in the tug Rescue. Two of the women left the boat at Southend, the others went on to Dunkirk, and as they landed one said to the tug master, pointing the while to a child dressed in a sailor suit, "You might like to know that that is Lady Granville Gordon's child."

Lady Gordon, who was one of the party, returned to London, but when a warrant for her attachment for contempt was issued by Sir Francis Jeune, she once more went to France, and all the courts closed. She was sequestered her estate. The child was never recovered, and Lady Gordon has since been traveling with her in America.

Prevent Double Taxation.

The Governments of several of the Provinces of the Dominion have intimated their willingness to consider favorably the opportunity offered by Ontario for a reciprocal arrangement in reference to the collection of succession duties. New Brunswick is the first province to formally enter into such an agreement. Its administration has passed an order-in-Council extending the provisions of the New Brunswick Act so as to harmonize with section 6, sub-section 9, of the Ontario Succession Duties Act. This simply means that New Brunswick will not collect duties on the devolution of property situated in Ontario under the present law. Provision will, however, be made for cases in which the rate of taxation in one province exceeds that in the other.

The Maori Tattooer.

The song of the Maori tattooer in days of old was prophetic, for his will soon be a vanished art. Already much has been said regarding the value and significance of the chiseled spirals and arabesques, for when the Maori of the old school disappeared beneath the tide of an advancing civilization the key to this knowledge was buried with him. Neither the white man nor the modern Maori can explain the principles on which the moko or face-markings of one chief used to differ from that of another, or can interpret the imagery expressed in the various spirals. The practice of tattooing is dying out so rapidly that the time seems near at hand when the history of this astonishing custom will have to be taken from the dried specimens. It is this that makes Major-General Robley's collection of dried tattooed heads so interesting and valuable. This collection, patiently gathered together during a long series of years, contains no less than thirty specimens of tattooed heads, ranging in period from 1770 to 1831, and illustrating with remarkable completeness the style and skill of the old-time Maori artists. These heads exceed in number those to be found in the museum of New Zealand, the British Museum, the Jardin des Plantes, the Royal Museum of Washington, Rome, Sydney, and others combined. The collection is thus unique, and, indeed, irreplaceable. It is carefully classified and arranged, and shows the wild art in its different conventional stages from the rough scribble to the finished, tattooed chief. Many visitors from New Zealand have been to see Major-General Robley's collection in London, and have expressed the hope that it will find a resting-place in the country from which it originally came. This also is the desire of the collector, who, although he has received offers from continental museums, he is willing to give the New Zealand Government an opportunity of acquiring the relics for preservation in one of the museums of the colony. New Zealand has suffered severely from the depletion of its most notable relics during the past hundred years, and every effort should be made to repair the mischief whenever the opportunity occurs.

A "Velasquez" Discovery.

Sir Charles Holroyd, director of the National Gallery, London, has received for examination a picture which, picked up for three guineas at the recent disposal of the Stisted Hall Collection, bears the characteristics of a lost Velasquez. The story of the "find" is remarkable. Among the effects at the Essex mansion was a picture measuring 41 inches by 56 inches, which had hung in the hall for many years. It was described in the sale catalogue as "No. 366, Flemish school, an embarkation of troops." It was put up by the auctioneer after paintings by Morland, Davis, Gainsborough, Turner, and Landseer had been sold, and, rather neglected, the dealers neglected, will give you full details. The rates include special excursions to all points in Manitoba and Northwest Territory and tickets are good for two months longer by paying small payment at point of destination. Mr. E. Rispin also has a great many attractive trips to the Muskoka Lakes, Georgian Bay District, Temagami country, the beautiful and picturesque Lake of Bays with its 375 miles of coast line, and a great many other cool, attractive summer resorts.

Soldier's New Overcoat.

A novel article has been issued by the War Department for experiment and report. It is a combined overcoat, waterproof sheet, tent, and wagon cover, and consists of a strong waterproof canvas sheet measuring 7 ft. 6 in. long and 5 ft. wide. On each corner there is a set of strong metal eyelet holes for lacing purposes. The sheet can be rolled and carried on the back like an overcoat; it can be unrolled and used as a tent, or a number laced together will make a tent cover or shelter impervious to wind and water.

LOST DOG ANSWERS "AD."

Replied In Person to Enquiry For His Own Recovery.

Here is the latest dog story. It is the story of a lost dog which answered in person an advertisement about himself before it had been published. It is vouched for by J. Parsons, proprietor of a staid provincial paper, the Hastings and St. Leonards Observer.

One day an advertisement containing a description of a lost dog and offering a reward of five shillings ($1.25) for its recovery was handed into the office of the newspaper. It was set up in type, with hundreds of others, and in due course passed into the hands of the "maker up" for classification. While he was perusing it a strange dog made its appearance in the composing room. To get there it had made its way up five flights of stairs.

The coincidence, of course, impressed the "maker up" as something decidedly out of the common. But his astonishment was vastly greater on discovering that the animal bore a striking resemblance to the description given of the lost dog in the advertisement which he held in his hand. He kept the dog in the composing room until the paper had gone to press, and an hour or two later, accompanied by it, presented himself at the address given. It was the dog that had been lost, sure enough, and the man was given the five shillings reward. Now the question has arisen whether the long arm of coincidence can be stretched far enough to account for the dog's behavior, or whether it was led to anticipate the appearance of the advertisement by some spook.

The dog of the Maori tattooer in days of old was prophetic, for his will soon be a vanished art. Already much has been said regarding the value and significance of the chiseled spirals and arabesques, for when the Maori of the old school disappeared beneath the tide of an advancing civilization the key to this knowledge was buried with him. ILLEGAL DIVORCE.

British Columbia Has Raised Question of Provincial Powers. Vancouver, July 29.—The Minister of Justice will be asked to take part in arguing the question raised here as to the powers of the provincial court in matters of divorce. The point is whether the B.N.A. Act, which includes marriage and divorce among the exclusive powers of the Dominion Parliament, did not sweep away the rights of the courts in this province and Nova Scotia, which alone of the provinces have divorce courts. Both have exercised this power until now unquestioned, since pre-confederation days, and British Columbia adopted this law of England. Justice Clement, formerly of Toronto, raised the question in a local case. A stated case is likely to go to the Privy Council. If the two provinces have not this power, Ottawa would have to pass an enabling act to validate all the illegal divorce decrees of both provinces.

WIRE WOUNDS.

My mare, a very valuable one, was badly bruised and cut by being caught in a wire fence. Some of the wounds would not heal, although I tried many different medicines. Dr. Bell advised me to use MINARD'S LIMEWATER, diluted at first, and then stronger as the sores began to look better, until after three weeks the sores have healed and best of all, the hair is growing well, and is NOT WHITE as is most always the case in horse wounds.

St. Petersburg, July 29.—Gen. Schilder, who was in command of the review in Krasnoye-Selo last Wednesday when the Seminsky regiment refused to participate in the manoeuvres and broke up the order of parade, has been relieved of his command by Grand Duke Nicholas Nikolaievich, commander of the Imperial Guard, who was present at the review and witnessed the mutiny. Gen. Schilder has been given a minor appointment in the provinces. He has been succeeded by Gen. Zuboff, formerly attached to the general staff.

ANOTHER GREAT DISCOVERY.

A well known gentleman in Black Bay, Ont., Mr. John Cowan, has discovered an absolute specific for Rheumatism, and writes: "I was afflicted with Sciatica and chronic Rheumatism, which I contracted 20 years ago. The disease had a great hold in my blood, and it was hard to make any impression on it. Reading of Ferrozone I was convinced of its merit and it's certainly the best I have ever tried. Why, it just drove away the Rheumatism. Even quick results. The reason is, once quick results. The reason is, that Ferrozone acts through the blood and thereby destroys the cause of the disease. Price 50c. per box, at all dealers."

Imprisonment for Life.

Bialystoke, Russia, July 29.—The District Court on Saturday handed down sentences in the cases of the men placed on trial for complicity in the anti-Jewish attacks here during the month of June, 1906. The trial of these individuals has been postponed many times. The court sentenced a man named Demyanovich to eight years' hard labor in the mines, and four other men were given life terms of imprisonment.

$1 and $1.25 Dress Fabrics, New, this Season's Goods, 50c.

GOOD GOODS MARKED TO CLEAR

When the Foreman's reduce the prices they have one object in view, and that is to clear the line of goods they have out in price.

Once they reduce the price on a line of goods they reduce the price on that line for all time.

The Foreman's do not have sales from January to December. They do not buy cheap shoddy merchandise that is useless before it leaves the Store.

FOR SPECIAL SALES

The Foreman's buy the highest quality of goods at the lowest market prices, and mark them at a legitimate profit.

If a line of goods do not sell or if they think their stock is too heavy they cut the price on the slow moving lines regardless of cost, and keep pegging away at such lines until they are cleared.

They are clearing many lines of good goods during the next few weeks, and it will pay you well to visit their Store.

FOR INSTANCE—

They have marked all their Un-trimmed Millinery at 50c. and 25c. Imagine buying this season's shops for each 25c., and a few that are older, at each, 5c.

DRESDEN 18, ABERDEENS 2.

The Aberdeens were defeated yesterday by a team composed of senior and intermediate players. McLean pitched a good game for the Aberdeens, but his support was very ragged at times, and with better backing he would undoubtedly have kept the score down. The Aberdeens played a good game but, of course, were easily outclassed by the senior men.

AN INQUEST IS OPENED

Investigation To Be Made Into Accident On Board "Gilbert"

Unfortunate Fireman Said To Have Been Treated Very Badly

St. Thomas, July 29.—Coroner Luton opened an inquest this afternoon at the city building touching the circumstances which led up to the death of Wm. H. Munce, the late fireman of the tug Gilbert, who was fatally scalded by a flue bursting in the boiler when the boat was opposite Merlin on Thursday last. The request for an inquiry was made by Mrs. Annie Munce, mother of the deceased.

After viewing the remains and proof was given of the identity of the body, Dr. Lipsey, the attending physician, gave evidence as to the cause of the young man's death. He attributed his demise to the terrible scalds he received from the steam and water blown over by the bursting of the flue. No portion of the body escaped and the sufferings of the deceased must have been excruciating.

One of the jurors suggested that the coroner make inquest into the treatment meted out to the young man from the time of the accident until he reached the hospital, it being reported that the attention given him by his associates on the boat was not humane. Dr. Lipsey intervened and stated that no matter what could have been done for him, his scalds were such that he could not recover from them.

It is possible that an inspection will be made of the boiler on the tug and the crew of the boat will be asked to give a detailed history of the awful fatality.

ESTEEMED LADY DIES

She is survived by her husband and three children to mourn her loss. The funeral takes place from the house at two o'clock on Tuesday. Rev. T. W. Cosens, pastor of the Methodist church, will officiate. Interment at Wallaceburg.

OIL AT GLENCOE

For the past two or three weeks a large American company of capitalists have been drilling for oil in the immediate neighborhood of Glencoe. On Saturday last at a depth of about 1,000 feet the drillers came in contact with a vein of oil on the farm of Mr. Archie Graham, which adjoins the village of Glencoe. A good quality of oil was found and about seven barrels were pumped out. The well will be shot in a few days.

A FATAL ACCIDENT

Ridgetown, July 29.—News reached town Saturday evening of the terrible death of Homer, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Campbell, at Helen Mine, New Ontario. Deceased's father went to that place from Ridgetown several months ago and has held an important position in a machine shop there ever since. About a month ago Mrs. Campbell and three children joined him, intending to stop there until September.

They had been having a splendid time and a few days ago joined a party in a trip to a deserted village about three miles from Helen Mine. They went through a number of the dwellings, which in years gone by had been unoccupied by miners, but were now empty, and in one of them the little boy found several dynamite caps, which he supposed were cartridges and put into his pocket intending to take them home to his father.

On the return journey the lad lagged behind the other members of the party, who were surprised to hear a terrible explosion. They hurried to the scene, only to find the boy dead, the caps having been exploded by a fall or in some other manner. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell are grief-stricken over the sad affair, and much sympathy is extended to them by friends here.
