Upward. BY REV. H. BONAR, D. D. feward, where the stars are burning, Silent, silent in their turning Round the never-changing pole ; Upward, where the sky is brightest, Upward, where the blue is lightest, Lift I now my longing soul !

Far above that arch of gladness, Far beyond those clouds of sadness, Are the many mansions fair ; Fat from pain and sin and folly, is that palace of the holy, I would find my mansion there !

Where the glory brightly dwelleth, Where the new song sweetly swelleth, And the discord never comes ; Where life's stream is ever laving And the palm is ever waving-That must be the home of homes. Where the Lamb on high is seated,

By ten thousand voices greeted, Lord of lords and King of kings ; Sen of man, they crown, they crown him : Son of God, they own, they own him : With his name the palace rings.

Blessing, honour, without measure, Heavenly riches, earthly treasure. Lar we at his blessed feet ! Poor the praise that now we render Loud shall be our voices yonder. When before his throne we meet !

How to Make Both Ends Meet.

John Johnson says that he has noticed that tose farmers who have the most difficulty to make both ends meet always plow the most, and keen the most stock. Now these men take the true plan to keep themselves always poor, and bring in little. It is a good profit to raise three hundred bushels of wheat from ten acres ; but when it takes thirty acres to raise that amount it is raised at a loss. So it is with cattle and sheep. You will see the thinking farmer making four-year old steers worth from $50 to $80 offer his bundle of matches, and beg a little each, and his neighbour's, at the same age, not worth over $24 to $40. If his land is exhausted intended, if he came again, to inquire into his -and a great many farms are-then he should case ; and finding that he had no parents or plow no more than he can thoroughly manure friends to look to, she determined to enable him Seed with clover and grass, and let it rest for to provide for himself ; for it is always better to even two years, and that field will not only pay help ourselves than to depend upon others. well for tillage, but will furnish manure (if rightmanaged,) to make another field of the same For this purpose she procured a large basket, richness also.
