

GERMANY TALKS SO MUCH OF PEACE; NEW YORK TRIBUNE CONCLUDES SHE IS BEATEN

Compares German Successes to Those of the Confederacy in Civil War—Germany is Being Bled.

New York, Oct. 28.—Under the caption "Germany is beaten." The Tribune in its leading editorial this morning says: "If there were needed any evidence of the apparent condition of the European struggle, it could be found without difficulty in the statements of German public men, German newspapers and German people. After fifteen months of strife, after conquests, victories, triumphs, unequalled since the Napoleonic era, who is that is talking of peace? "Take the public statements of German statesmen, take the comments of the press, is there any mistaking the fact that in all, at some point the peace crops up. "Victorious peace," or some other be-adjectived peace, it is to be sure, but peace. "Travelers returning from Germany recently agree that the only real qualification to German confidence is found in the apprehension of a protracted war. Peace now means victory—but next year? "The Tribune compares the German successes to those of the confederate in the civil war with "which proper allowance for the difference in size the essential fact is the same" and continues: "Yet reading history, looking back now, nothing is clearer than that the South was always doomed unless it could get an early decision on the battlefield. Overnumbered, inferior in population, cut off from sea-borne commerce, the South was condemned to defeat unless on the battlefield it could win a victory that would destroy the armies before it. Precisely this the South could never do. It could win battles, campaigns, operations, as do the Germans, on inferior forces at the important point, while inferior in numbers as a whole. But its victories tell short of the essential requirement. Steadily the armies of its foe grew stronger, its own numbers weaker. The whole world contributed to the arming and munitioning of Northern armies as the whole earth now contributes to the Allies. "All this was not perceived at the outset or until almost the close of the war. Despondency, despair were common at times when, as we see it now, the North was as confident as assured. Compare Northern depression after the bloody and fruitless campaign from the Wilderness to Cold Harbor with British depression now and the thing is patent. Yet this campaign broke the back of the South by the sheer attrition of Lee's army. "With all the various differences in degree between Germany and the Confederacy the main fact is the same. Germany and her Austrian allies are outnumbered, the wealth and resources of England, France, Russia and Italy are incomparably greater. Sea power destroyed German commerce, sealed up German harbors, while for the Allies the sea brings all the resources of America and the colonies to the battle line. "The single significant fact in the military situation now is that Germany is bleeding to death. German soldiers on three fronts are killing British, French, Russian and Serbian troops—that to match this, there are all killing Germans. The terrible drain on Germany is utterly disproportionate to the drain on anyone of her opponents, although collectively their losses will exceed German. "It will take a year, two years to beat Germany; it took four to grind the seed corn of the Confederacy. But the thing everyone who would understand the war must recognize is that the process is going on steadily, remorselessly and that as it goes on Germany continues to fail to get the decision. To go to the Balkans Germany has had to abandon her Russian drive. Apart from a local operation for Riga, all effort to crush the Russian military power has been abandoned and Russia has been left to recuperate as France and England were left after the Marne and the Yser. In the west Germany is hanging on, but no more. In the east, save about Riga, Russia is on the offensive. Yet Germany has hardly sent more than 250,000 troops to the Balkans. "Viewing the war from this angle, then, it is clear why German statesmen talk and think of peace. There is no corresponding talk in London, Paris or Petrograd. The apparent losses, the nations which have so far lost, are not discussing peace on any terms, but out of Germany, despite censor, official warning, patent effort, there emerges only an ever-growing talk of peace. "When the Germans have opened the road to Constantinople, destroyed Serbian resistance, temporarily asserted their supremacy in the Balkans, nothing is more certain than that from one end of this earth to the other every German, every German sympathizer, will talk peace. Every influence that can possibly be exerted will be called into play to procure a settlement. "But no American should mistake this. It compares admirably with those of 1864, but that is a peace conference of 1864, when the South was already beaten, but Southern influences in the north combined with the pacifist and the war-weary in an attempt to prevent the inevitable and avert the final scene at Appomattox which every soldier now knew was but a question of time. And if Germany fails in her peace efforts, then the end is assured. Her defeat in the war is as certain as was that of the Confederacy after Gettysburg, unless she can tire out her opponents, persuade them to forego victory because victory will be costly and delayed. "Germany is now approaching what will be her last great bid for victory, but it will not be made on the battlefield. It is over. It will be made in conference, in peace negotiations, in operations through neutral nations. If these fail we shall presently see the whole character of the conflict change to the Rhine to the Vistula. What Americans cannot now know is whether the spirit that ruled in Washington in 1864 dominates in London, Paris and Petrograd in 1915."

FRENCH OFFICIAL

Paris, Oct. 28.—The official communication given out by the French war office this afternoon is as follows: "There have been reported last night nothing more than some out-post engagements and reconnaissance of small importance which everywhere resulted in our favor."

FALL OF GORIZIA AND RIVA IMMINENT

In Political Circles in Rome It Is Believed That the Two Places Must Soon be Taken, Notwithstanding Heavy Austrian Reinforcements.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Rome, Oct. 28.—In political circles here the fall of Gorizia and Riva is considered imminent, notwithstanding the heavy reinforcements Austria is concentrating on the Italian front. OFFICIAL STATEMENT Rome, Oct. 28.—Italian advances on the height of Santa Lucia and opposite Tolmino and the capture of a field fort southeast of Globna are recorded in the official statement issued to-night by the war office. The statement says: "From new positions, one on the right bank of the Adige, which commands communications at the bottom of the valley, our artillery on October 25th surprised and seriously damaged one of the enemy's military trains which was moving towards the Sant'uario station north of Rovereto. "On the upper Cordevole, October 26th, on the rugged slopes of Col di

Lana we stormed another fort filled with hostile troops. We found the enemy's trenches choked with bodies. We took eight prisoners. "In the Monte Nero zone, on the night of the 25th and 26th the enemy in great strength again tried to attack our positions above Vodil. We allowed them to come within a short distance, then mowed them down and dispersed them with our crossfires. "Our offensive accomplished fresh progress on the height of Santa Lucia and opposite Tolmino, where we made twenty-one prisoners. In the Plava zone, we conquered a field fort southeast of Globna. We took prisoner survivors of the garrison to the number of 102, four of them officers, and captured two machine guns. "On the Carso front heavy bombardment by the two artilleries continued throughout the day. Small advances were made there. We stormed several trenches, taking fifty-five prisoners, including one officer."

RECRUITING RALLY AT GLENMORRIS

In the Township of South Dumfries, the first patriotic meeting will be held on Monday night at 8 p. m. at Glenmorriss. Addresses will be given by W. F. Cockshutt, M.P., and others. All who can help the cause in any way are especially requested to be present.

PREMIER VIVIANI OF FRANCE DISPLACED BY M. BRIAND; NEW CABINET IS ANNOUNCED

New Premier Will be Foreign Minister as Well as Premier—Gallieni, Governor of Paris, is Minister of War.

Paris, Oct. 28.—It is understood that Premier Viviani will retire from his present position in favor of Aristide Briand, former premier and M. Viviani will be minister of Justice in the re-organized cabinet. The cabinet in its new form will not be ready to appear before parliament this afternoon, according to the impression prevailing in political circles. Paul Deschanel, president of the Chamber, will move an adjournment until to-morrow, when the work of reconstruction will be complete. Information now available indicates that M. Briand will become foreign minister as well as premier with Jules Cambon, who was ambassador to Germany at the outbreak of the war, as his principal secretary. In addition to M. Viviani probable designations are: Minister of War—General J. S. Gallieni, military governor of Paris. Minister of Marine—Rear Admiral Lacaze. Minister of Agriculture—Etienne Clementel, former Minister of Agriculture and of Finance. Minister of Commerce—L. L. Clotz, former minister of the Interior and of Finance, or Joseph Thiery, under Secretary in the Ministry of War. Minister of Instruction—Emile Combes, former Premier. The other members of the present cabinet, according to this program will continue in their present positions. The Journal states that there will be six ministers of state without portfolio, of whom four will be senators and two deputies. It is also said the under secretariats will not be filled except in the case of the Minister of War, in which department Albert Thomas is to be continued in office in charge of the output of munitions. It was said later that the announcement regarding the composition of the new cabinet might be made to-day. It is understood that General Secretary of Foreign Office, M. Cambon will be responsible for the direction of foreign affairs. Conferences relative to the ministerial situation were continued during the morning with the idea of re-shaping the cabinet as to command united support of the country and of parliament. Indications were that the general features of the readjustment had been virtually decided upon. Although official sanction had not yet been given. The belief was expressed by persons in close touch with the situation that Premier Viviani's long service through the period since the outbreak of the war had taxed his strength severely and that he desired to rest as well as to bring forward some strong figure that would unite all elements as his successor. The name of B. Briand has been mentioned recently in this connection and while M. Viviani's retirement has not yet been decided on officially there is believed to be a strong probability that M. Briand will succeed him if he withdraws. As to this there seemed to-day to be little doubt. It is expected that M. Ribot, minister of Finance, and M. Millerand, Minister of War, will be associated with the new cabinet.

NURSE WHOSE EXECUTION HAS CAUSED WORLDWIDE STIR

This picture of Miss Edith Cavell, the English nurse who was executed as a spy by the Germans in Belgium, was taken several years ago, when Miss Cavell was visiting Chicago as nurse to a wealthy English family. The execution, which has caused a worldwide stir, is considered the bloodiest act of the whole war.

ANOTHER EFFORT IS NOW BEING MADE TO HAVE A BRANT COUNTY REGIMENT

Recruiting Executive Recommended Yesterday That Effort be Made to Get Permission to Raise One, and Today Mr. W. F. Cockshutt Was Waited Upon and Promised Every Assistance.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Brant Recruiting League took place in the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon when matters generally were discussed. PUBLICITY AND PUBLIC MEETINGS. This committee reported as follows: Gentlemen—Your Committee on Publicity and Public Meetings beg to report that the first meeting of the Recruiting Campaign, opened up by Sir George E. Foster and the Hon. G. Graham, was in every particular a great success. We would recommend a resolution of thanks from the Brant Recruiting League be forwarded them for their very able and excellent speeches. We wish to call attention to the fact that there was no expense whatever in connection with the visit of these two gentlemen. We would recommend: 1. That arrangements be made throughout the county for recruiting meetings and that speakers from Hamilton and other places be invited to take part in addition to our local men. 2. That meetings be held Sunday evenings after the regular church services in some convenient place. 3. That arrangements be made with the local theatres for five or ten minute recruiting talk two or three evenings during the week. The Committee to supply the speakers. We would strongly recommend that every effort be made with Ottawa to have permission to raise a Brant Battalion. In our opinion a regiment, officers and men, could be easily recruited in the county. If this request was granted we would have some objective to work for. Brant has done nobly in the past and it would be with feelings of intense pride that Brant's citizens would take up the movement. Adopted. MANUFACTURERS' COMMITTEE REPORT. At a meeting of the Manufacturers' committee of the Brantford Recruiting League, to which the manufacturers of the city were invited, the following were present: Wm. Bailey, of Singsby Mig. Co., Ltd.; E. R. Hutchinson, of American Radiator Co., Ltd.; J. Ruddy, of Canada Starch Co., Ltd.; W. H. Whitaker, of Goold, Shapley & Muir Co., Ltd.; Edward L. Goold, of Goold, Shapley & Muir Co., Ltd. After considerable discussion, the following resolution was passed, same to be submitted to the executive of the Brantford Recruiting League before being acted upon: Moved by Joseph Ruddy, seconded by E. R. Hutchinson: That the Manufacturers' Committee of the Brantford Recruiting League, recommend that a card be prepared showing total earnings of men who enlist for overseas service, and that each factory be supplied with these cards; that all eligible men enquiring for work be handed one of these cards, and that the superintendent or other official at each factory be requested to secure name and address of each eligible applicant for work and hand same to the chairman. Also that each manufacturer be asked to supply the committee with a list of eligible men who could be spared from their work in the different factories, with their home addresses, so that the committee could call and discuss recruiting with these men. Carried. In the event that the committee's recommendation re. cards be adopted, it was thought by the committee that possibly from 2000 to 3000 of these cards could be used to advantage, in the event of all the manufacturers and other employees of labor agreeing to use them. Adopted. MR. COCKSHUTT WAITED ON. In connection with the report adopted at the Recruiting meeting, recommending that a strong effort be made to raise a Brant Battalion, the following deputations at noon waited upon Mr. W. F. Cockshutt, M. P.: Mayor Spence, H. H. Powell, President of the Board of Trade, E. L. Goold, W. N. Andrews, C. Cook, W. G. Raymond, (Continued on Page 4)

CRUISER ARGYLL WRECKED

London, Oct. 28.—The British Cruiser Argyll has run aground and may be a total wreck. All hands were rescued. This was made known by the Admiralty to-day in the following announcement: "H.M.S. Argyll, Captain James Lanercr, R.N., grounded this morning off the east coast of Scotland. Owing to bad weather prevailing, it is feared she may become a total wreck. All her officers and the crew have been saved." The Argyll, 1850 displacement was laid down in 1892. Her normal complement is 655. She is 450 feet long. Her largest guns are 7.5 inches, of which she carries four. She has six 6-inch, two 3-inch and twenty-two 3-pound guns and two torpedo tubes. Prisoners at Seattle must not be passed by visitors: hope has been transferred that way too frequently. Mrs. Charles Huseman of Allbrightville, Pa., was killed in a runaway on the way to a hospital to visit one of her ten children.

Russians Attack Bulgarian Coast

Rome, Oct. 28.—Via London.—A Bucharest despatch to the Stefani News Agency filed yesterday, says that the Russians have begun an attack on the Black Sea coast of Bulgaria. "A Russian fleet arrived at 4 o'clock this morning off the Bulgarian coast," the correspondent wires, "and immediately began a bombardment of Varna. Shelling was still proceeding at 11 o'clock. Considerable damage has been done to the town."

Red Cross in Quebec

Montreal, Oct. 28.—Quebec province, at the request of Lieutenant-Governor P. E. Leblanc, is collecting money for the Red Cross fund to-day. In this city fifteen hundred English and French-speaking ladies are tagging. In addition to street collections, the whole city and district has been divided up, and each home, store and office will be visited. Before the campaign began this morning $2,000 had been sent to Mayor Martin for the fund. The mayor and all the aldermen have held meetings on behalf of the fund, besides making donations.

Cruisers for Holland

London, Oct. 28.—A despatch to the Express from Copenhagen says that the Kripps have obtained a contract to build two cruisers for the Dutch Government. The vessels will be built at Amsterdam and Rotterdam under immediate control of German engineers.

CITY TO REGISTER NAMES OF RETURNED SOLDIERS

At Meeting of Special Committee to Look After These Men, It Was Decided to Ask Them to Register in the City Clerk's Office in Book Provided For Purpose.

All soldiers who return to Brantford from the front are asked to register their names and full particulars of their occupation at the City Clerk's office in the city hall. This applies to soldiers who have already returned as well as those who will come home in the future, and to soldiers who want work provided for them and soldiers who do not. This was the most important step taken at the meeting of the special committee to look after returned soldiers which assembled yesterday afternoon. There were in attendance, Ald. Dowling (chairman) Ryerson and Calbeck of the special committee, the Mayor, Messrs. Powell, Reg. Scarie and Logan Waterous of the manufacturer's committee of the Board of Trade. The committee decided to take every step necessary to see that the city did not neglect returned soldiers looking for work. The registry scheme seemed feasible and as Col. Leonard generously offered to keep the register open in his office, in addition to his other work, as his "little bit," it was decided to get the men registered immediately. The registration will state among other things the class of work the men find themselves best suitable to do. Mr. Logan Waterous, chairman of the Manufacturer's Committee of the Board of Trade, was asked to call a meeting of the manufacturers in order to get their co-operation in the matter. The committee feels that there is no doubt but that the manufacturers who employed men before enlistment will be desirous of re-employing the same men upon their return. The special committee will meet at regular periods henceforth to discuss conditions as they develop.

ZION CHURCH UNION VOTE

The vote on church union by Zion congregation was counted last night and whilst Rev. Mr. Woodside would give neither the total vote nor the percentage, he said, it was very largely in favor and in every respect favorable—the majority much larger than he anticipated.

In making the above statement he paid a very fine tribute to his people who by the vote showed themselves ready to sink sentiment and personal feelings in the wider interests of Christ's Kingdom and such he believed to be according to the will of Christ. He said he was still holding the vote open for any who may wish to send in their vote who have not already done so.

LEAD RUSSIAN TROOPS AGAINST HIS COUNTRY

General Dimitrieff, Former Bulgarian Minister to Lead Muscovites.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

(Milan, Italy, via Paris, Oct. 28.—The Courier Della Sera learns from a diplomatic source that General Radko Dimitrieff will command the Russian forces sent against Bulgaria. He is now at Bucharest trying to induce the Roumanian government to permit the passage of Russian troops through Roumania.

General Dimitrieff at the opening of the war was Bulgarian minister to Russia. He at once resigned and offered his services to the Russian war office. His offer was gladly accepted for he had been commander-in-chief of the Bulgarian army in the last part of the first Balkan war.

Dimitrieff has had a stormy and picturesque career. In the war between Serbia and Bulgaria in 1885, he was chief of staff of the eastern Bulgarian army corps. For his services in the battles of Dragoman Pass, Tsiabrod and Pirof he was decorated by Prince Alexander with the Order for Bravery. Later, however, he led a conspiracy against the prince, King Ferdinand's predecessor and was forced to flee to Russia. There he remained until he was pardoned in 1899 by Ferdinand whom he had assisted to the throne.

Much of the present efficiency of the Bulgarian army is attributed to General Dimitrieff's training. He has been called Bulgaria's little Napoleon. He is 56 years old.

NO CHRISTIAN REPRESENTATIVE AT CORONATION

Japan Has Decided That Coming Crowning Will Be Distinctly National.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Tokio, Oct. 2.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Japan has decided to adhere to her original intention not to invite a representative of the Christian religion to the coronation ceremonies of Emperor Poaihu to be held in November.

Japanese Christians tried to induce the court and government to change the original plans on the ground that Christianity is now one of the prominent religions in the empire, but the authorities have decided that only a representative of the Buddhist and Shinto priests have a court rank in Japan which entitles them to an invitation. On the other hand, the coronation board will recognize the religions of the west by inviting their representatives to the banquets to be held November 6 in various cities of the empire, simultaneously with the first great coronation feast proper which will be given at Kioto by the emperor on that date. More than 100,000 people will be present at these various commemorative feasts.

The coronation board says it is very desirous of having it understood that the coming coronation will be distinctly a national affair. It points out that the expenses will be borne by the nation and that officials of the government and every class of people in the empire will be represented. The diplomats corps will attend two of the principal coronation ceremonies and the three coronation feasts to be held at Kioto, but they will not be invited to the third great ceremony at Kioto known as the Daijosi or grand harvest thanksgiving festival. No anti-foreign consideration figures in the question, the officials explain, but this being an archaic ritual service which is simply Japanese and has been in no way influenced or changed by western civilization, it has been deemed best to invite no foreigners. This is the ceremony at which the Emperor offers the sacred rice to the ancestral gods and himself partakes of the sacred food.

CHANGE NOT LIKELY

London, Oct. 27.—(In Montreal Gazette)—The Daily Chronicle's parliamentary correspondent says: "Some well informed politicians are unwilling to give credence to the rumor that the cabinet is to be greatly reduced in number. The notion that a smaller cabinet would facilitate a decision favorable to conscription may be safely disregarded."

"In point of fact, the success of Lord Derby's scheme in bringing in men promises to be so marked that conscription is not likely to be again a bone of contention in the cabinet, be it small or large."

"UNDER ORDERS."

On Saturday evening at the Grand Opera House, Albert Cowles new war play, "Under Orders," will be presented. As its title infers, it deals with the present conflict in Europe, but differs from other plays similar in nature, inasmuch as the incidents depicted are actualities, and not fancies. There is a strong plot, it was a heroine plays the part of a recruiting agent, of a wireless operator and a nurse. She undergoes many trials and tribulations, but emerges successfully in every instance. The hero too has a strong part of courage and love, and in his fight to save his submarine from the attempts of a spy, who is one of the crew in disguise, he shows the necessary daring spirit and saves the situation. There is a lot of comedy element in the play which quite equals in importance the seriousness, which in all war plays is, in a measure, unavoidable. Several entirely new novel effects will be presented, among them the use of the deadly gas bomb, the destruction of a signal tower by a mine, and the annihilation of a wireless station by aeroplanes.

A commendably strong cast will present this latest and best of war plays, and the staging of it leaves nothing to be desired. This is a play, remember, it is not a moving picture. You cannot afford to miss it.

The House of Quality & Good Value

SATURDAY MORNING OCTOBER 30th, ushers in a new era in merchandising in Brantford—for on that day the doors of this great, new store swing open with a hearty invitation to all to come and enjoy its many advantages and conveniences.

This epoch-making event holds promise to you of great things—great in the sense that its wider purchasing power and greater distribution—lessening overhead costs and eliminating waste—will bring new buying power to your dollars.

The more this store sells, the less it will cost you. As business grows upward, prices will grow downward. Every effort in the world of science today is concentrated on finding ways and means of accomplishing the day's work in a quicker and more efficient manner. The new building, while it embraces every modern improvement, with ventilating system—providing an abundance of fresh air—broad, spacious aisles, plenty of sunlight—as well as many other advantages, all of which add to your pleasure and convenience, and while it covers almost 11-4 acres of floor space, the cost per square foot of space is less than in our old store. The heating and ventilating system, which is of the newest type, will effect a considerable saving in fuel. The automatic fire protection system will result in a saving of 80% in the cost of insurance, and we might enumerate other savings in overhead cost, all of which ultimately go to reduce the cost of goods to you.

The same care and forethought used in building the new store have been employed in selecting the splendid stocks for every department in the house and so you can come with every expectation of finding just what you want at prices in most cases, lower than you will find elsewhere.

The Situation.

The fact that the German forces have effected a junction with the Bulgarian troops will doubtless lead to some speedy results in the campaign against Serbia. Meanwhile British and French troops are advancing into Macedonia. Greece still officially remains on the fence. It is said that the authorities are determined to insist upon their protest with reference to the landing of troops at Saloniki and that the Allies will continue this process whether she likes it or not. Greece has troops in readiness, but in which regard no one yet knows. The rumor is current that Roumania is likely to allow Russian troops to cross her territory, but there is nothing of an official nature in this regard and this country up to date is also in the watchful waiting class.

From the other fronts very little of a marked nature is recorded. The resignation of the French Ministry has come as a big surprise, more especially with regard to the withdrawal of the Premier. They have manifestly been having their administrative troubles there as well as in Great Britain.

A BRANT COUNTY BATTALION

The desire to have the above has long been prevalent, and has again been revived. Recruiting has been excellent up to date, but it is felt that there would be even more of an impetus if men who joined could be kept together under a local title. As the war lengthens, this matter of securing more and more men has become of paramount importance, and in all portions of the Empire is challenging attention. In the Old Country there has even been quite a lot of talk of conscription, but a last effort to secure results by the voluntary process is now on trial with very fair prospects of success.

In this respect the interesting statement is made that Lord Kitchener is an advocate of the quota system. This is a compromise between the present voluntary enlistment system and conscription, and is a historical method of raising troops, for it existed in England from Saxon times down to the year 1832. It is now merely suspended, not dead. By the quota system, Great Britain would be divided into military districts, each of which is required to send its quota of a required number of recruits. It is a form of compulsion but a democratic form that stood the test of eight centuries. Its special merits are its appeal to local patriotism and its civil control. Each locality has the power to enforce enlistments if other means fail, but a large number of other additional voluntary recruits will be found just because the affair is managed by the civil authorities and the appeal is more personal and less emotional than by the military recruiting with their bands and speech-making actors.

There are many statutes on the English books relating to the quota system, which can be enforced at any time by an order of the Privy Council with the approval of Parliament. Some changes were made from the old methods in 1757 when the various counties were instructed to proportion their quota among the various parishes where the men, in case of necessity, were to be chosen by ballot. This law placed the age of service from 18 to 30 years, exempting all men with more than one child born in wedlock. Forces for the Napoleonic wars were thus raised. In 1832 the old militia passed from the control of the counties to the war office, and the system of district selection was allowed to lapse.

MABEL SMITHSON. Mabel, the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smithson, 80 Brunswick street, died this morning of diphtheria. The funeral, which will be private, is to be held this afternoon to Mount Hope cemetery.

Petition Filed.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Trenton, N.J., Oct. 28.—The government's petition for an appeal to the United States Supreme Court in the Sherman anti-trust suit against the United States Steel Corporation was filed here today in the Federal court. The appeal is taken as a matter of right and insures a hearing of the case by the highest federal court.

DOCUMENTS NOT GARBLED

Papers Received From American Embassy Published Without Change.

London, Oct. 28.—It is officially stated in London that the papers relating to the case of Miss Cavell were published exactly as they were received from the American Embassy, and, of course, after the consent of the American Embassy had been obtained.

This is in a reply to a statement issued by the German authorities in Brussels, in which it is asserted that "In these documents most of the important events are inaccurately reproduced. The American Minister at Brussels was painfully affected by the report as made public. He intends to inform his London colleague and his Government at once of the difference between the written report of the Belgian attorney for the legation and the facts."

The German statement suggests that the Belgian attorney in question was responsible for the "improvement" that Minister Whitlock was put off with promises by the Germans at the time the death sentence was being carried out, and alleges that Mr. Whitlock admitted that no such promises were given.

NO WORD AT WASHINGTON.

Washington, Oct. 28.—No word had been received at the state department today from Brand Whitlock, American Minister to Belgium, regarding his reports to Ambassador Page at London on the execution of the British nurse, Miss Cavell, American diplomatic officers are caring for the interests of Great Britain in German territory and as Miss Cavell was tried and executed by a German military court. Mr. Whitlock's communications on the subject were transmitted to the British Foreign Office as a matter of course.

MORE HOPEFUL IN LONDON ABOUT SERBIA

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, Oct. 28.—Unofficial reports from Greek sources represent the situation in southern Serbia as somewhat more favorable to the entente allies. A despatch from Athens which has not been confirmed, states that the Bulgarians have withdrawn from Uskup. Hope is being revived in London that the Serbians will be able to reform their lines along the Monastir front.

The Germans, having effected a junction with their Bulgarian allies, it is possible that the campaign will be shifted from an effort to relieve Serbia to an attempt to cut communication with Constantinople. In this connection, several military critics hazard the guess that the entente allies are not likely to withdraw from Saloniki, no matter what happens to Serbia.

Berlin, via Sayville, Oct. 28.—The Bulgarians have captured Zajecar and Kniajevatz, having crossed the Timok over a large front.

Zajecar and Kniajevatz are on the railway from Negotin to Nish against which the Bulgarians have been marching. Kniajevatz is about thirty miles from Nish.

USKUB RE-TAKEN.

London, Oct. 28.—An Athens despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. says an unconfirmed report has been received there that Uskup has been re-taken by the Serbians.

In the Strumitza region the French have occupied the village of Tirtili.

RAILWAY REGAINED.

Paris, Oct. 28.—The Haxas Agency correspondent at Athens sends word that railway communication between Saloniki and Veles has been re-established and that a military train going a long distance northward from Veles encountered no Bulgarian troops.

LURING THEM ON.

Paris, Oct. 28.—Uskup was abandoned by the Serbs, says a despatch to The Mail, sent from Saloniki, on Tuesday with the object of drawing on the Bulgarians and enabling the Serbian forces at Veles to envelop them in the north.

The correspondent says that the Germans after gaining thirty miles thanks to their heavy artillery, are now checked by natural obstacles, which will make the artillery useless.

BULGARS REPULSED.

Milan, Italy, via Paris, Oct. 28.—Secolo announces that the Bulgarians have been repulsed in the Timok valley after two days of desperate fighting. One of their regiments is surrounded between the Timok and the Danube and will, The Secolo believes, be obliged to surrender.

Two Serbian divisions, under General Glokowitch are marching against the Austro-Germans.

KEY TO PIROT.

London, Oct. 28.—The Bulgarian authorities have occupied the railway line between Dedeaghat and Ostich, which is now worked by the Bulgarian state. A despatch from Sofia which brings this information to Keuter's Amsterdam correspondent, says it is semi-officially announced that Bulgarian troops have gained important successes in the district of Kniajevatz. They have occupied the town of Kniajevatz and captured by storm a position of Drenovagava, which is a key to the fortified girdle about Pirot.

PIROT OCCUPIED.

London, Oct. 28.—Bulgarian forces aiming toward Nish have occupied the strongly fortified town of Pirot, says a despatch to The Mail from Saloniki. Pirot is thirty-five miles east of Nish. It was the scene of an important battle between Serbs and Bulgarians in 1885.

Since Sunday the allies troop trains have run without interruption between Giuevli and Veles. This section, it is said, has been entirely cleared of Bulgarians.

It removes such surprising foul matter that a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. M. H. Robertson, Limited, druggist.

T. H. Preston, F. D. Reville and R. Searle.

Short addresses were made by all present in which they urged the desirability of the move. It was pointed out that Elgin and other counties had obtained such permission and that the stimulus would be great of one Battalion instead of having the men scattered. It was intimated that Capt. Cutcliffe and other capable officers were invited to take hold.

Mr. Cocksbutt, in reply, pointed out that a deputation, of which he was one, had waited on Sir Sam Hughes at Niagara Camp some time ago with a like request and that the Minister of Militia could not then see his way clear to accede. However, there seemed to have been a change since then, with regard to the formation of such battalions. Mr. Cocksbutt went very fully into the pros and cons of the case and said that he would heartily support the request of the Recruiting committee. It was arranged to send a night telegram to the Minister. Mr. J. H. Fisher, M. P., will co-operate in the movement.

LOSS OF LIFE FROM PANIC AT BAD FIRE

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Peabody, Mass., Oct. 28.—Twenty bodies had been recovered from the ruins of St. John's Parochial School at 11 o'clock.

Peabody, Mass., Oct. 28.—Fire swept through the three-story brick building occupied by the St. John's Parochial school to-day, burning and driving to death in the panic that followed the alarm, probably 60 of the 600 boys and girls, who a few minutes before had assembled for their daily lessons.

An hour later twelve bodies had been removed from a vestibule, where the jam of terrified little ones had resulted in the greatest loss of life. The police had estimated the dead as high as fifty. Many others were injured in their flight down the stairways, and a few jumped from the windows of the third floor.

The students, who ranged in years from seven to thirteen, were in charge of sixteen sisters. When the fire broke out the sisters marshalled their charges as for a fire drill, and started them from the building. The proceedings were orderly until others from the third floor joined those pouring from the class rooms on the second floor.

Suddenly there was a cry of fear from one of the throng. It was taken up by a hundred others and panic ensued. The sisters made frantic efforts to stop the pushing, struggling mass, but to no purpose. The smaller children fell under the feet of those behind them, and soon the vestibule was so jammed with living and dead that the firemen could not force an entrance. The sixteen sisters escaped.

The flames, it is supposed, started in the basement, and, according to some, were caused by an explosion of a steam boiler, from which the building was heated. There is doubt, however, as to the exact origin of the fire.

The bodies of the dead, generally, were burned beyond recognition.

The first alarm brought a hundred distracted mothers to the school yard where soon they were joined by other relatives of the pupils, until the building was surrounded by a great crowd of hysterical men and women who rushed the police lines in wild efforts to reach their own. The police were powerless to stop the rush, but what they failed to do was accomplished presently by the flames which sprang from the windows.

St. John's Parochial school stands on Chestnut street, nearby St. John's Catholic church and the home of Rev. Nicholas Murphy, the pastor. Opposite is St. John's convent.

GOOD IDEA.

Under a regulation to be issued by the Department of Education at an early date, the singing of the first three verses of the National Anthem will be a part of the opening exercises of every school of the province each morning. Speaking of the new rule yesterday, Hon. George H. Ferguson, Acting Minister of Education, said that it was intended to stimulate patriotic sentiment in the minds of the children. "There is not too much of that sort of thing in our schools," he added, "and we thought this might help."

The Brantford Historical Society will hold a meeting at the Public Library to-morrow at 8 p.m.

FALLEN ASLEEP.
Mr. and Mrs. Gillies of Oxford St., mourn the loss of their infant daughter who died to-day.

MEETING TO-NIGHT.
Notice has been sent out to members, ex-officers of the 38th Dufferin Rifles to meet at the Armouries to-night regarding the Machine Gun Fund.

TAKING WELL.
The City Treasurer has been busy receiving funds and answering enquiries in connection with the city loan. This method of financing appears to be very popular with the citizens generally.

AT THE ARMOURIES.
A few recruits are still coming in, two new men were signed up yesterday, one for the 25th Dragoons at Paris, Alfred Allworth, Canadian, age 20, chemist, Paris Ont., and one for the new 2nd Mounted Rifles, William Bell, Canadian, age 18, laborer, 66 Oxford St.

YOUNG INVENTOR.
Alton J. Hall, 16 years of age, left for Ottawa last night to see artillery experts try out a new shell which he has perfected. He started working on this before the war, and about six weeks ago got it completed. He communicated with Ottawa and they asked him to forward a model. They then wrote for him to come down. Young Hall, therefore left last night.

A WARNING.
Many complaints have been coming in, and Chief Slemm wishes it understood that in future more strict traffic regulations will be enforced. All drivers of wagons with heavy loads should keep close to the curb, and all motorists and drivers of lighter vehicles should slow up at street crossings and corners. The police are on the look-out, and summonses will be issued for all who do not observe these regulations.

REFUND OF TAXES.
Another application for rebate of taxes has been made. Mrs. T. J. McAvella has written the city clerk, informing him that the store owned by her at 79 Oxford St., has been empty since August, 1914. Mrs. McAvella would also like to have the valuation lowered. The store is now taxed for $650, where formerly it was only $450. Mrs. McAvella thinks, owing to the fact that the store has not been occupied for so long, she is justified in asking for these refunds.

ARBITRATION CASE.

Last evening when Mr. Joseph Ham, M.P.P., was running his car into the Overland garage, a little child ran directly in front of it. Mr. Ham swerved his car aside, and in so doing struck Pte. He was taken to the hospital, and unless internal injuries develop, will be out by the end of the week.

COCKSHUTT PLOW BEAT EXPOSITOR

All records were shattered in the City Bowling League last night at the Y. M. C. A. alleys. A great exhibition was given by the Cockshutt Plow team when they broke the record which was held by the Kolts with a splendid total of 764 for one game. This will likely stand for a considerable time.

The Cockshutt team have been bowling in great form since the league started, and all are very consistent bowlers.

The bowling of Matthews of the Expositor was the feature of the evening. He broke the high single record held by Brantston of the Kolts, by one pin, his count being 245. The Expositors broke the total pin record by rolling a grand total of 1996.

On Friday night the Bankers will clash with the Verity Plow team and another exhibition of bowling will be put on that will come anywhere near the records that were made last night.

Matthews was high man for the evening with 663 for three games, while Beatty was high for Cockshutts with 532.

The Cockshutts won two games but had to break some records before doing so. The following are the scores EXPOSITOR.

Whittaker	170	113	137	420
Deagle	107	129	156	392
Preston	166	184	171	521
Matthews	222	245	196	663
	665	671	660	1996

Woolman	137	146	142	425
Waddington	210	111	107	428
McGaw	222	144	170	536
Beatty	195	147	190	532
	764	548	664	1976

some big scores will likely result. The Bankers are rolling in good form these days.

Royal Cleator of the Bankers rolled 244 in a practise game, while his skipper, Cam. Thorburn came along with 213.

The Kolts are now on the war path, they are going after the record set by the Cockshutt Plow team.

Bill Waddington is rolling in great form these days.

Last night was truly record night, and will go into history as a big evening.

The Verity Plow will likely have some new faces on their line-up on Friday night.

Garibaldi's Son Wounded.
By Special Wire to the Courier.

Milan, via Paris, Oct. 28.—Ezio Garibaldi, one of the five sons of General Ricciotti Garibaldi, and a grandson of Garibaldi, the Italian liberator, has been seriously wounded. The Secolo states, in a battle near Coulcarca. A bullet entered his chest and perforated a lung. His father and mother have gone to Venice to be with him at the hospital where he was taken. The five Garibaldis, of whom Ezio, aged twenty, is the youngest, enlisted last June as simple soldiers in the famous Alpine brigade, once commanded by their grandfather. On August 26, Ezio was severely wounded in the face while fighting the Austrians.

Not Torpedoed.
By Special Wire to the Courier.

Montreal, Oct. 28.—According to advices reaching Montreal the late lake boat, Donnacona, foundered in mid-Atlantic, and was not torpedoed by a German submarine as at first reported. Her crew took to the boats and were saved. The Donnacona, which was owned by the Canada Steamships Company, had been engaged in carrying iron ore between Sydney, N. S., and English ports,

FEDS. AND NATIONAL READY TO JOIN HANDS

Chicago, Oct. 28.—The baseball war is near an end, and if the efforts of certain National and Federal League moguls are successful the finish of the bitter strife is right ahead. The flag of truce should soon be hoisted.

Charles H. Weeghman, president of the local Federal league club, returned to-day from a three weeks' Eastern trip. Most of that time, according to Weeghman, was spent in discussing peace with Federal and organized baseball magnates. The meeting, attended by Ban Johnson during the world's series games in Philadelphia was only one of many sessions.

LATE MR. WARD WANTED GIANTS.

The most startling piece of peace news brought back from the east by Weeghman was an admission that Harry Sinclair, owner of the Newark, Fed's and the late R. B. Ward of the Brooklyn Fed's had all closed a deal for the New York Giants at the time of Ward's death. That one deal was to have been the stepping stone for others. Mr. Ward's sudden death halted proceedings. However, his will is to be probated to-day or Friday, and Federal league officials here assert his agents will eventually win close the New York deal. That may account for McGraw's activity in connection with Cincinnati, Chicago and other clubs.

President Tener of the National League, and Garry Herrmann, chairman of the National Commission, favor the taking into the National League of certain Federal magnates. So there is really nothing to stop the completion of the plans as laid out. THE BASIS OF THE MERGER.

The plans as discussed in the several meetings follow:

The Ward interests and Harry Sinclair of Newark to purchase the New York Giants.

Charles H. Weeghman to gain control of the Chicago Cubs.

Phil Ball to get the St. Louis Cardinals.

A settlement of an amicable nature to be arranged between Gwinner of the Federals and Dreyfus of the Nationals in Pittsburgh.

In the event of the merger—and it seems sure to come—Baltimore and Buffalo will be turned back to the International League, and Kansas City to the American Association.

According to Weeghman, Mr. Ward's associates are to remain in the baseball business. Ward liked the same and stood ready at the time of his death to plank down a million dollars in the pending deal with the New York Nationals.

HERRMANN'S SIGNIFICANT COMMENT

Cincinnati, Oct. 28.—Chairman August Herrmann of the National Commission, when told to-day of the report that peace terms had been reached between the National and Federal baseball leagues, said:

"I can say nothing, or rather, I have nothing to say, but it is a story worth printing."

CITY SHORT DATE BONDS

By-law No. 1345 has been duly passed by the City Council, authorizing the issue of Treasury Certificates in the form of promissory notes at one, two and three years, for the sum of Ninety Thousand Dollars. These notes will bear interest at the rate of five and a half per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, and are offered to the public at par in sums of $100.00 and upwards.

The Treasurer is empowered to accept funds at once, and issue interim receipts, pending the preparation of the Treasury Certificates. All funds so paid to the Treasurer will draw interest from date of deposit.

Applications will be received by the Treasurer up to noon on Saturday, November 6th, after which the lists will be closed. Intending investors should apply early.

ARTHUR K. BUNNELL,
City Treasurer.

Brantford, October 26th, 1915.

TWO FLAT DENIALS.

New York, Oct. 28.—At National headquarters here it was officially stated to-day that no conference had taken place in reference to the unification of National and Federal league interests.

Secretary Foster of the Giants said: "The Giants are not for sale. There is not a word of truth in the story." "I don't believe either Mr. Weeghman or Mr. Walker ever made such a statement," said President Gilmore of the Federal League when shown the report from Chicago. "There is no use in my saying anything further as I know that neither of them could have said anything of the kind."

Sues Hamilton Club For Arrears of Salary

Hamilton, Oct. 28.—Besides facing a financial loss of $2000 this season, the Hamilton baseball club appears to be due for another kick in the slats. Ex-Manager Bill Cristall's suit for back salary is now in the hands of the National Board, and it is hinted that Cristall will win.

It will be remembered that Cristall, when released, claimed that his contract was to have been those iron-clad frame-ups, and that he could not be let out unless paid for the entire season.

Ban Johnson Continues to Dictate to Players

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Players under contract to organized baseball were warned to-day by President Johnson of the American League and a member of the National Commission, not to play post-season games against picked teams when Federal leagues are engaged in the contest.

Reports reached President Johnson that Scott and Weaver, members of the Chicago Americans, had played against a team at Waukegan, Ill., which included Grover Gilmore and Felix Chouinard, Federal League players.

"The National Commission point," Johnson said, "and our players who violate the order are simply playing with fire."

PROTEST TO BRITAIN SENT FROM AMERICA

Special Messenger Bears a 10,000-Word Note Covering Points of Complaint.

Washington, Oct. 28.—America's long considered protest against British interference with commerce between the United States and Europe has been despatched to London by special messenger and will be presented by Ambassador Page at the British Foreign Office next week.

It became known yesterday that the note, which is about 10,000 words long and covers exhaustively the argument of the American Government on all phases of interference with neutral trade, was approved by the President last Saturday and started on its way to London Sunday. Alexander W. Kirk, third secretary of the American Embassy at Berlin, who had returned to Washington carrying documents from Ambassador Gerard, was entrusted with the mission on his return journey to Berlin.

Until yesterday the fact that the communication had been sent was kept secret, instructions having been given to officials that no announcement of any kind was to be made about it. That it contains a repetition of arguments made in the note of March 20, which recorded the Washington Government's first protest against the order-in-council or so-called blockade, is admitted, but no intimation was given by officials yesterday as to what measures are proposed in the event that there is no modification of British practices.

200,000 Soldiers From Canada are Under Arms

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—There are now 200,000 Canadian soldiers under arms, either at the front, in England or Canada.

To the 100,000 which it was announced had enlisted up to the end of September, nearly twenty new battalions have been added during the past month while the foundations of others are being laid by the plan of the Minister of Militia to raise and train men in the smaller local centres.

The new units recently recruited are as follows:—Two pioneer regiments, one in Western Canada and one in Eastern Canada. One regiment of mounted rifles from Niagara district; one battalion from Toronto; one from Grey County; two from Simcoe County; one from Ontario County under Sam Sharpe, M.P., one or possibly two from Elgin and Kent Counties; one from Essex County; one from the Rainy River and Fort William districts; two new battalions from Manitoba; two from Saskatchewan; one from Alberta; one from New Brunswick; and one at Victoria, with another to be raised on the British Columbia mainland.

EVERY SAILOR LIKES HIS RUM

Look Forward to Their Daily Allowance With Keen Anticipation.

The complete story of how sailors and officers in the British navy get their "munny" or grog, respectively are supposed to call it, is very entertainingly told by a well known naval writer, John S. Margerison, in the Daily Mail. His account follows:

They don't trouble much about the details, such as who was the first man who introduced the spirit ration in the navy; they don't clink their glasses—they often drink out of basins—and say, "The King—God bless him!" as the naval novelists say they do. In short they make little or no fuss about their daily whack of rum and water, save that they look forward to it with an anticipation that is never under any circumstances loses its keenness.

Rum, like everything else that the sailor drinks, cats, wears or washes himself with, officially comes under the head of "paymaster's stores."

That is to say, the paymaster is in charge of the rum, and he is responsible for its daily issue. He checks every pint of it when it comes aboard and occasionally tests it to see that the spirit has lost none of its proof strength.

RUM AND NAVAL CUSTOM

He is father and mother to the rum and daily superintends its issue, being present when it leaves the stores, when it is poured into the rum tub, when the water is mixed with it and when it is served out to the sailors.

And yet, I strongly doubt whether any paymaster in the world is so much in the King's navy has ever tasted the spirit in its raw state. You see they get so used to it that they never trouble the slightest bit about sampling it, knowing full well that if there was anything wrong with it they would be sued to the messes they would learn exactly what was the matter in the shortest possible time from the men themselves.

Every day, about 11 o'clock in the forenoon, the paymaster, with the ship's steward and the captain of the hold, descend into the spirit room and measure out the exact quantity of spirit which is required for the ship's company's grog. At this time, all those men—chief petty officers and sergeants of marines—who are allowed to have their spirit ration issued to them undiluted muster at the spirit room, and, under the supervision of the paymaster, the half pints which form the portion allowed to these higher branches of the services are measured out into their bottles. When all this is finished the remaining rum for the day's issue is placed in a special barrel called a "breaker" and taken to the half deck, where, with the spirit room key it is placed under the watchful eye of a sentry.

After the rum is disposed of the grog tub and inspectors it to see that it is perfectly clean. Then, as he personally measures every drop of water party carry great kettles to and from the fresh water tanks, ceasing only when the paymaster calls, "Hold, enough!"

CHECKING UP THE GROG.

Meanwhile the steward has been checking up his books ready for the issue of grog, finding out who is under stoppage of rum for punishment who is on leave, and who will be absent from the ship during the dinner men he will deduct their allowance from the total allowed to their mess and return that portion to the stores after the issue. In the second he will also deduct the amount from the totals, but here he will enter up the money allowance which the sailor draws in lieu of his rum; while in the last the quantities will have to be kept aside and replaced under the sentry's charge until the like returns to the ship, when they will be served out their grog separately.

And then, at a quarter, to 12, the bugler sounds of "Cook's Call." The men whose duty it is to prepare the day's food for their messmates come down from their work on the upper deck and hasten to the rum tub to await their turn for the rum ration. As they hurry they take their places in the waiting queue and wait for 12 o'clock. Two minutes before that hour the breaker, released from its imprisonment under the sentry's eye and escorted by the paymaster and the petty officer of the day, makes its appearance, hailed by a suppressed and exceedingly muffled cheer from the waiting men. The key is produced and the padlock taken off. Then the bung is withdrawn and the rich brown fluid gushes forth and mingles with the water in the tub.

MEASURING OUT THE RATION.

The petty officer rolls back his sleeves, the steward produces his book and the cooper hastens up with the cooper's measure, which he fills a pint to four gallons. These are now inspected by the paymaster, and as 12 o'clock rings out and the boson's mate pipes dinner and the bugler sends forth the "grog" call the paymaster says, "Carry on."

The first man in the queue steps forward. "No, 15 mess," he says. "The steward runs his eye down his list.

"Half out of eight," he orders, and immediately the petty officer fills up the eight pint measure to the brim and pours it into the mess tins held out by the waiting sailor. You will notice that, although the steward has ordered only seven pints and a half—the rations for fifteen men—to be issued, eight pints are placed into the man's tin. When the half pint measure full is taken out. The reason for this is that there is always a certain amount of spilling, and if the mess had to lose it there would be trouble, while the tub always contains a spare half pint to make up for leakages.

I remember a case where a blue-jacket was washed overboard in the coldest weather when a storm was at its height. In spite of the huge waves and the almost certainty of death a messmate dived in after him and assisted him to keep a float until he had thrown them a line which was too rough for any boat to be launched—and hauled them aboard. As they stood on the upper deck dripping, yet quite unhurt, the rescued man turned to his chum and said, "I can't thank ye, Jim," he said, "But ye can take my rum for a week."

Nothing of an exciting nature happened till Hamilton was reached, when the "hostile" population thronged the main streets of the city. A panic occurred in The Gore, where crowds lined the roadway; someone started the rumor that the troops were coming another way. The great throng stampeded into King street, but soon returned when they heard the band coming from the east. Great was the cheering, the bells clang and all Hamilton came over to the side of the south when they saw the men of the fighting 37th, for they are indeed splendid fellows. They remained at the Armouries last night and continue their march to Toronto this morning, encamping at Port Credit at night.

The 74th Battalion, under Col. Winder, left Niagara yesterday morning and was encamped at St. Catharines last night. To-day will see four battalions on the march, aggregating about 4,400 men. The enemy's strength is unknown.

GENET'S MEN IN ACTION AT GRIMSBY

Report Has It That the Colonel Himself Was "Killed" or "Wounded" in Sham.

Hamilton, Oct. 28.—Rumors were rife in military circles here last evening that the 88th Battalion, under Col. Genet, had been held up on coming into Grimsby yesterday afternoon.

One report stated that Col. Genet was "killed" in action, another that he was "wounded." No confirmation or contradiction of these statements were procurable at headquarters, which is exercising a vigorous censorship in the matter. It is certain, however, that the gallant commander was under direct fire.

Following up his slight advantage of the afternoon, the enemy made a night attack on the Grimsby Park camp. The outposts of the 88th were surprised about 10.30, and a stiff engagement is now in progress.

Grimsby is a death-trap for an army. It is commanded upon one side by two lofty and precipitous hills, rather thickly wooded. It was feared that the northern might get possession of these heights and intercept the 88th Battalion as it passed through the village yesterday morning on its third day's march to the relief of Genet's army at Newmarket, which is reported to be in a bad way, the northern having resorted to gas and hot air.

ENEMY'S FIRE DRAWN

Col. Bick, who has been a soldier since he was fourteen, is a fighter, and gave orders that the column must stop for nothing, so the scouts and advanced guard had to clear the way.

This was dangerous work. Moments were noticed on the skyline of the hill and a party was sent to scale the heights and draw the enemy's fire so that he should reveal himself before the main body came up. This proved successful, a volley after volley echoed around the hills. Your representative came under fire, but refused to die, standing cool and collected with pencil and notebook. Flag signals were flashed back along the road, with the message that the enemy had been located on the hilltop opposite Stop 17.

The advanced guard then raked the enemy's position with a withering fire, executing great slaughter—and the column moved forward unmolested. The advanced guard was under command of Major Ansley, Capt. W. W. Proctor, Lieut. J. M. Cane, Lieut. Jackson and Lieut. Hay. Lieut. Cane was a Toronto newspaper man before enlisting.

The battle of Stony Creek of 1813 might have been repeated yesterday, for when the scouts came to that dangerous point on the road where the monument to that historical event is situated, the men on the alert, but the enemy did not believe in history repeating itself, or perhaps he had not recovered from his defeat at the now famous battle of Grimsby Heights.

seizing a jagged burning billet from the fire, she struck Matt Harding down and, leaving him prone on the ground, she rushed to Stanley hall to regain her firstborn.

The gypsy roused himself from the stunning blow and hastened after her ere she could spoil all his greedy schemes. The great door of Stanley hall stood ajar. For a moment Hagar swayed faintly at the portal. Then she staggered in and down the spacious hall to the door of the library, guided by the sound of music voices

and the cries of a child—her child!
Her hands seized the knob and softly and silently she threw open the door just as her gypsy husband seized her from behind.

The backs of the judge, the English lawyer, the doctor and the nurse were to the door, but Colonel Stanley stood behind the library table facing the door.

"Yes," he was saying, "there is the newborn baby, a son, do you hear, a son?" And then his eyes opened wide with horror, for there, struggling at the open door, were the gypsy woman and her husband. The man's hand was over the woman's mouth, and with every effort he sought to strangle her to silence and closed the door.

Colonel Stanley clutched at his heart and fell senseless forward across the library table.

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAP-TERS.

A bitter feud exists between Colonel Arthur Stanley and his cousin, Judge Lamar Stanley, wealthy Virginia aristocrats. The feud has been engendered in family feason for the possession of an heirloom known as the diamond from the sky, found by a noble adventurer ancestor in a fallen meteor. This feud is further augmented by the fact that the death of a noble kinsman in England makes the elderly man of the older branch of the Virginia Stanleys heir to the Stanley estates in Warwickshire, as well as possessor of the diamond from the sky.
Judge Lamar Stanley has a son, the presumptive heir to both these coveted honors. But this child is about to be born to the fair young wife of Colonel Stanley.
When the child is born and proves to be a girl and its mother dies Colonel Stanley in chagrin and disappointment and aided by the doctor and the nurse buys a newborn gypsy male child from its unnatural and money greedy father. In so doing Colonel Stanley and those assisting him to cheat his enemy, commit a sin which he has believed the gypsy mother has consented to the secret transaction. But Hagar, the mother, thus her way to Stanley hall to denounce her greedy and unnatural husband and secure again her beloved firstborn. She arrives just as the suspicious heir is being verified according to the Stanley custom by the English lawyer representing the Earl of Stanley and Judge Lamar Stanley, the colonel's enemy and father of the boy who is thus being deprived of a title and the diamond from the sky.

CHAPTER III.
The Queen of the Gypsies.

AS Colonel Stanley fell unconscious across the library table
the library door from the outside. His right hand closed tightly over the mouth of Hagar, preventing the weak and anguished mother from making an outcry, as before her eyes.

Good Old Doctor Lee.

before the door closed on the scene,
she beheld her boy, her first born, arranged in fine linen, a great jewel glowing on his little breast, the center of some strange aristocratic rite or ceremony.

No silent had been the struggle in the hall that, while the keen eyes of Judge Stanley had heard a rustle and a gasp, his attention had been so taken up with the anguish on the face of his kinsman enemy, Colonel Stanley, as the colonel tottered and fell face forward on the table, that the judge had hardly heeded these slight extraneous sounds.

As for Marmaduke Smythe, the timid and bewitched English representative of the Earl of Stanley, he, like the judge, was facing the swooning colonel and also was unaware of the silent struggle in the hallway—the struggle that had caused Colonel Stanley to swoon, for the colonel saw in his tribe's eye the baring of his plot, his own disgrace at undertaking it and worst of all, the triumph of his enemy of blood.

Like a stone Manny Lucy, holding the false heir, had never stirred or changed attitude.

Dr. Lee, standing closer to the colonel, sprang at once to the aid of his friend and with all his skill sought to revive the stricken man.
Down the hall to the great open doorway Matt Harding bore his stringent, silenced wife. The bank notes in his bosom, the price of the sale of his own flesh and blood, rustled as he struggled with the frenzied, half strangled Hagar. By the sheer force of his brutal strength the gypsy dragged the woman to the little house where their meager camp was pitched. Here he bound her with ropes to the seat of the van, gagged her with his neckkerchief, hitched his horses and drove off toward the dawn.

In the library the ministrations of Dr. Lee had revived Colonel Stanley.
"Face yourself!" the doctor whispered. "Remember, your heart will not stand much of this."

HOW RUSKIN SAVED PAINTINGS OF HIS FRIEND

The Turner drawings, which any one may have shown to him by an attendant in the basement of the National Gallery in London, are a monument to generous devotion on the part of one great man, John Ruskin, to the fame of another. Ruskin tells of his long task, self-assumed, of sifting, classifying and arranging the drawings and water colors of Turner. He says: "In seventeen boxes in the lower room of the National Gallery I found upwards of nineteen thousand pieces of paper, drawn on by Turner in one way or another—many on both sides. Some with four, five or six subjects on each side (the pencil point digging spiritedly through the front into the tender pieces of sky on the back. Some in chalk, which the touch of the finger would sweep away. The best book of studies for his great shipwrecks contained about a quarter of a pound of chalk, debris, black and white, broken off the crayons with which Turner had drawn furiously on both sides of the leaves; every leaf with peculiar foresight and consideration of the difficulties to be met by future mounters containing half of one subject on the front of it and half of another on the back. Many torn half way through; numbers doubled (quadrupled I should say) into four, being Turner's favorite way of packing for travelling; nearly all rudely flattened out from the bundles in which Turner had finally rolled them up and squeezed them into the drawers on Queen Anne street.

With the Famous

It is an old story, but it will bear retelling. Mr. Keir Hardie adhered, for the most part, to the small cap cross between the cap known as Scotch and the kind of tight-fitting cap a workman wears when he is starting for work in the bleak early morning. It was this cap which led, on one occasion to a little incident. Mr. Keir Hardie, on the opening day of the session, went down to the library of the House of Commons to consult some books. "Are you working here, mate?" queried a friendly policeman at the Palace Yard Gate. "Yes." "On the roof?" (which was undergoing repairs at the time); "No; on the floor."

The strategy and tactics that have made Field Marshal von Hindenburg one of the commanding figures of the world war did not originate in the brain of the great German commander, a fact that von Hindenburg frankly admits. To a great extent his maxims of war are those of Frederick the Great, and the maxims of the great Frederick were not of his own making. Furthermore these maxims, the carrying into effect of which has twice overtaken the Prussians and has undoubtedly played a prominent part in the wonderful resistance of the German armies in France and Belgium, have not been the secret possession of the Prussians. They were brought to light by a Frenchman, and from France found their way to the war councils of Frederick the Great and his successors.

About one hundred and fifty years ago there labored in China a French missionary, a Jesuit priest, Father de Guignes. "De Guignes mastered the difficult language of the Chinese and in due course of time (in 1767) was permitted to study and to translate into French the five Holy War Books of the Chinese. These books contained the greatest of the great Chinese warriors who lived in the period between 1200 and 800 B.C., maxims that are as late as A.D. 1800 every Chinese officer was required to memorize. Says the United States Infantry Journal in the July-August issue—

"Thus it became apparent that, centuries before the time of Homer, war was already waged according to fixed rules, and that even in ancient times strategy was an art and the art of war was taught. Napoleon recommended their study and many of the great General's maxims may be traced to them."

The maxims followed by Frederick the Great and by von Hindenburg are those of the great Chinese warrior Lou-tao, who lived about 1150 B.C. Lou-tao's maxims were recently published in Germany and the publication is prefaced by the statement that "it is remarkable that the maxims of Frederick the Great should have been enunciated 3,000 years before his time, and that the principles of Hindenburg's strategy and tactics should have been likewise laid down at that early period."
