Dr. Burt was in Port Dover yesterday investigating a complaint lodged against the Dover fishermen for catching small fish and against our own Robert Revinger for allowing fish to spoil. Fish Pedler Baldwin was the informant. Dr. Burt got a copy of the complaining letter and investigated. There was nothing found wrong at Dover, and spoiled fish here were boxes spoiled in transit while the express company was up against a strike which delayed the fish reaching their destination. Mr. Baldwin's letter also contained a complaint against the sparrows for eating wheat.

CANNING FACTORY IS SHORT OF HELP
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Simcoe, Aug. 22.—The Courier man paid a visit to the Simcoe Canning factory yesterday evening about eight o'clock and found about sixty women and a few men at work for a 2-1/2 hour evening session. There was material enough in for a hundred workers at the beans alone, and enough to keep all busy to-day as well. Some of Simcoe's most estimable ladies had answered the call and will be there again to-day.

FRIENDS RESCUED RETURNED MAN

Smashed Doors of Carleton Place Jail to Free Russell Perrin

Carleton Place Ont Aug. 21.—Several unknown persons attacked the local jail an early hour yesterday morning and after having smashed the lock on the cell door freed Russell Perrin, a veteran with only one leg, who was charged with having stolen an automobile in St. Catharines.

Perrin and a companion named Frederick Martin were first arrested in Ottawa on Friday afternoon at the request of the local police on a charge of having obtained gasoline at a local garage and then driven off without paying for it.

They were returned here on Saturday and were sentenced to serve 30 days for stealing the gasoline, but were later permitted to go on suspended sentence.

On Monday morning the police received a wire from St. Catharines to hold Perrin on a charge of stealing an Overland car from Taylor Brothers garage in St. Catharines.

Perrin was apprehended and locked in a cell where his wife, who came here with him, called at the jail after the arrest to tell her not to worry as there were a number of returned men in the town who would see to it that he was not held in jail.

After the jail break yesterday morning Martin was again arrested on a vagrancy charge. He was released later as suspicion was attached to him either in connection with the theft of the car or Perrin's escape.

Police officials state that it would have been physically impossible for him to break the lock on the jail door himself as it was located more than two feet from the opening in the door.

Mrs. Perrin and her thirteen months old baby are being cared for by the town for a few days as she is destitute. Martin is also accompanied by his wife, the army, and many veterans associations of Ottawa have arranged to pay Mrs. Martin bills incurred and to pay all hotel bills to Ottawa.

structure. He has forced the Germans to move their guns far to the rear to prevent their capture, and to attempt to hold the first lines with machine guns and as small a number of troops as possible. The enemy system of defence, however, has not prevented the allies from going through it for several miles—five miles have been gained between the Oise and the Aisne in four days—and to threaten important bases, one of which—Laasigny—already has fallen. THE SITUATION.

Foch continues to maintain with splendid success his plan of hustling the enemy and affording him scarcely any breathing time between assaults. On Sunday there was the French attack on a ten-mile front. On Monday the line of assault was extended to fifteen miles. On Wednesday the British launched their present attack and it is keeping the Hindenburg outfit exceedingly busy in knowing just where to send reserve forces. This harassing of the Hun now continues along a front of about one hundred miles. Lassigny has fallen to the French, who have penetrated to a depth of five miles, while the British troops are sweeping forward and taking prisoners, villages, field guns and material in their rearward sweep. The foe is fighting desperately but it is now the quiet general opinion among military experts that he will be forced back to the old Hindenburg line.

The heavy casualty list of ten thousand among the Canadians since the onset of August, tells in sorrowful terms of the price of their glorious achievements. In the heroic performance of that task the number of prisoners taken equalled their losses, without taking into account the tremendous toll of casualties which they inflicted on the foe. Brantford and Brant county families have been hard hit, but the sorrowing can take pride in the fact that their dear ones either paid the supreme sacrifice, or were wounded, in the greatest and most noble of all causes, that of human liberty. The need for reinforcements becomes all the more accentuated, and it is gratifying to know that there has been a marked gain in the recruiting figures for the first part of August.

THE CZECHO-SLOVAK STATE.

The Czecho-Slovak state has no national boundaries. It has no name. It has no government. But it has armies fighting in Russia, Italy and France.

The Czecho-Slovaks have been recognized as an independent and sovereign nation in deference to the principle of self-determination to which Germany gave its adherence at Brest-Litovsk. They occupy Bohemia, Moravia, and part of Hungary. Their prospective state is contiguous to Prussia and Austria. As the people are hostile to Prussians and Austrians the erection of this state would create a barrier between the two Germanic peoples which would checkmate the plans of the Pan-Germans.

That the realization of Czecho-Slovak aspirations would so shake the military power of Germany, which has provided by treaty for the future control of the armies of the dual monarchy, means that Germany will no longer consent to it than will Austria-Hungary from which the state will be created, excepting as a measure of extreme necessity. The surrender of Alsace-Lorraine to France would be meaningless to the German empire than the erection of this sovereign power upon its southern border.—Syracuse Post-Standard.

PROFIT FROM NEGLIGENCE.

Under the above title, Mr. W. B. Ellison, a New York lawyer, contributes a striking article to the New York Journal of Commerce on the subject of fire prevention. He points out that fire insurance offers the only medium that he knows of whereby a man can profit by his own negligence, or the negligence of his employees. In every other sphere of life, save this, a man is barred from profiting by his own care or the negligence of a representative. He contends that there should be legislation under which the standard form of policy should be amended so as to bar recovery of a loss incurred by fire, under circumstances clearly showing that the fire in question was the result of negligence on the part of the insured or his employees. Such a provision would immediately result in the exercise of greater diligence on the part of property owners, real and personal, to avoid a fire, and such diligence is nothing more than can be fairly expected of a person who seeks indemnity.

There is nothing unfair in holding that the property owner who neglects his duty and thereby causes damage to his neighbor, should be held liable therefor. On the contrary, in every other line of activity, such consequential damage is clearly recognized and approved. The economy that would necessarily grow out of such a situation would warrant and permit the insurer to extend the system of inspection to such a degree that over-insurance—that great tempter to negligence if not incendiarism—would be substantially eliminated. Everything that tends to conserve the financial strength of the insurer tends, equally to serve the welfare of the insured; and it should be a matter of public interest that our great indemnitors against loss by fire should be protected against a compulsory distribution of their funds among unworthy loss claimants.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

General von Bernhardt, the author of books declaring that the only way to fight is to advance, is now busy re-arranging along with the rest of the Teuton bunch. He must now realize that the pen is not always more mighty than the sword.

Mr. M. Co.—Mr. Wanmaker, that prince of merchants, who became a millionaire by advertising, is reported to have said, "Advertising doesn't jerk it pulls. It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady. It increases day by day, and year by year, until it exerts an irresistible power. A thousand spasmodic jerks will not budge the load, while one-half the power exerted in steady effort will do it in three ways to make advertising pay, and there are only three. First, is to keep at it; second, is to keep at it; third, is to keep at it."

CHAPTER V.
"The day Ruth and Brian were married dawned bright and beautiful. Awake with the first peep of day, Ruth ran to the window, and leaning out, said happily:
"Happy is the bride the sun shines on when called 'Mammy' to draw her bath."
"What for you all up so early?" the old woman grumbled, coming in with her cap all awry. "I don't thought you was sick, calling me 'Mammy' to draw her bath."
"No Rachel! I'm not sick. I'm going to be married to the man I love. I'm just glad to be up, and I want to get dressed quickly and get out of doors. I never would get married in any month but October. See the sun on the golden trees, Rachel. Isn't it lovely?"
"What you call them trees gold for? They ain't no gold. They is just glintin' ready to die, when leaves is, just like old Rachel will when her baby goes away."
"Nonsense! Hasn't Brian said I should send for you, soon? Come, don't let me be so distressed. One would think you were never going to see me again! And, taking hold of the nurse, Ruth danced her around the room until she was out of breath.
"Dar, child! what you all tryin' to do? Kill yo ole mammy?"
"No, make you stop grumbling so that I can have my coffee."
"Rachel went into the bathroom to prepare everything for her young mistress's morning bath, as she had never since Brian, a child of ten, had come to 'The Terrace' (as the place was named) to live. The running water drowned her grumbling, but it could not prevent her giving her thoughts expression.
"FOR THE LAST TIME."
"Who goes to git her bath ready, lak I doan? She ain't no call to go away up thar along with him wid-out me, that she ain't. What he thinkin' of, anyway? Thar ain't no niggers up thar, only poor white trash niggers. They ain't worth nothin', them kind. I reckon she'll be pendlin' for old Rachel mighty soon, when she gets one of them a waitin' on her." Then, "Come, missy Ruth, yo bath am ready."
"All right!" the clear voice answered. "Are you good natured agin, Mammy? If you're not, I'll put you in with all your clothes on, you see if I don't!"
"Yes, ise good-natured. I was jus' thinkin' about them pore white trash kind of niggers yo will get up north to wait on yo. Yo will be a sendin' for old Rachel mighty soon, so you neddin' be making forests to throw me in da tub."
"It isn't a threat, it's a promise!" Ruth replied gaily, giving Rachel a hug and a rousing kiss, before she got into the bath prepared for her. "I want my coffee quick! I want to have an hour out of doors before breakfast."
"All right, honey, it'll be ready when you is," and the old woman hustled away too quickly to hear Ruth say:
"I wonder if I will have to get my own coffee, or go without?" then, "I must ask cook to tell me how."
"Isn't he handsome, Rachel?" she asked as she sipped her coffee.
"Who, missy Ruth?"
"Why Brian, of course. Who else could I mean?" Ruth had had scarcely a thought she had not shared with her old mammy. It was perfectly natural that she should talk over her lover with her.
"Beauty is only skin deep, so missy Charban' say once."
"Dat he is handsome, isn't he?" persisted Ruth.
"Yes, missy, he mighty handsome fer a man. Yo all gwain to unak a mighty fine lookin' couple, I reckon."

"I only wish I was as handsome as he is."
"Go long wid' you, honey, yo is mighty purty. Yo ain't no wax doll purty, lak that Sutton gal wid' her yaller hair and blue eyes; but yo has de real look, yo has."
DEW AND DREAMS.
"There! now get me my cap, I won't be cold if I take that." She had seen disapproval in Rachel's eyes.
"Be sure yo wears it," the nurse said as she gave it to her young mistress. Ruth had a way of roaming around the garden in the early morning, gathering flowers or, now that most of the flowers were gone, great sprays of autumn leaves with which she decorated the breakfast table. "It is necessary that the table where one eats, be artistic, pleasing to the eye, if the food is to taste good," she often said, when reproved by Rachel for getting her feet wet in the early dew.
This morning, the morning of her wedding day, she went about her task with a gay, liltin' song upon her lips. She sang for pure happiness. But so had the sun many other mornings before she knew Brian Hackett. Why shouldn't she? Loved, indulged, she had everything to make her happy, nothing to make her unhappy.
"I wonder if we will have a garden," she said aloud, as she turned toward the house, her arms filled with leaves of red and brown and gold. "Of course you won't!" she laughed quickly, "we are going to live in an apartment—for a little while." But she held the leaves a little closer and, before she arranged them, she buried her face in their fresh, dewy beauty, and sighed ever so little.
To-morrow—Good-Bye.

BOARD OF WORKS.

A meeting of the Board of Works will be held to-night in the City Hall. There is considerable business of an important nature to be discussed.

ALARM WORKING.

The special fire alarm of the Mathews-Blackwell Co. is in working condition as a result of the labors of an electrician during the last few days.

WHEEL BROKEN.

The steering wheel on the giant pumper at the central fire hall has become split through a flaw in the wood. As it is impossible to repair it, a new wheel has been purchased, and arrived in the city yesterday.

MEET POSTPONED.

The "dumper" on operations at the Agricultural Park. The special meet which was to have been run off and at the close of which the prizes were to be presented to the winners, was postponed until Monday night.

ADMIT SOLDIERS FREE.

All veterans of the war, who have seen service in the trenches, will be admitted free to the Toronto fair grounds every day during the exhibition this year, which will commence next Monday. Men in training and those with permits from their commanding officers will also be admitted free.

WELLINGTONS HERE.

The Wellingtons of Toronto will play the Semi-Pros here Friday evening. The Wellingtons at present are leading the Toronto Semi-Pros. Jack Brennan and "Connie" Murphy are members of this team. The locals will have Thomas in the box and McKelvey will be back in the field. It has been found impossible to secure the Jersey City team to play this week.

APPEAL LODGED.

At Osgoode Hall yesterday an appeal was lodged against the convictions and sentences passed on two Russians by Brantford Justices of the Peace. The men were held to be agitators, and the appeal has been lodged on the ground that both were fined as well as sent to prison, and was an alien enemy, which latter allegation the Crown disputes.

TO DECIDE PENNANT.

As a result of the unexpected stumbling block which the Motor Trucks proved in Verity's path last week, Pratt and Letchworth's are now within half a game of the lead, and a battle royal to decide the league championship will be fought on Saturday, when the two clubs meet. The season ends on Aug. 31, and the outcome of Saturday's encounter will practically settle the leadership. The Cordage, who are holding down the collar position, will meet the Motor Trucks in the other game of the afternoon.

GRADING TRACK.

The grading of the track at the Agricultural park is rapidly nearing completion. Supt. of Parks Waller expects to have it finished in a day or two.

USING STONE CRUSHER.

The Board of Works Department are using a stone crusher on the work being done at the Bell Memorial. The machine is a large one and steam is the power utilized.

FOR R. A. F.

Jas. Stevenson, a former fireman who recently resigned, returned from Toronto last evening where he has been undergoing a medical examination. He is joining the Royal Air Force as a mechanic.

SILENT POLICEMEN.

The new silent policemen have received their positions, and they look quite nifty in their bright colors. The noiseless guardians of the traffic laws are of a pattern which makes them almost unnoticeable. They are set at all the street intersections where the traffic is heavy.

SPEED LIMIT.

The attention of motorists should be called to the fact that the speed limit for all motor vehicles is fifteen miles per hour. This law is not generally recognized by riders of motorcycles and any infringement on this law will be treated with a heavy penalty.

IS NOW CAPTAIN.

Lt. Humphrey May, a veteran of the 36th battalion has been promoted to the rank of captain, according to word received in the city to-day. Capt. May enlisted as a private in the first months of 1915, and since his arrival at the front more than two years ago, won promotion and his commission.

FOR SOLDIERS' WIVES.

"There is only two thousand tons of coal in the city at the present time," said Mayor MacBride to-day, apropos of charges made by other cities that Brantford was hoarding fuel, "and that is a reserve supply. Of it, a thousand tons is going to be distributed among the wives of overseas soldiers."

MORE FLOUR USED.

In spite of restrictions imposed by the Canned Food Board, in spite of the compulsory use of substitutes, the consumption of flour in Canada for purely domestic purposes has been steadily increasing as indicated by figures prepared by the Labor Department. For instance, it is stated that in May some 7,000 more barrels of flour were consumed than in April.

ICE CREAM TESTS.

Manufacturers of ice cream cannot be too careful with regard to the condition of the milk and the freezer they use. Bacteriological tests made in Toronto laboratories of samples of ice cream sold in the city showed big differences in the bacterial conditions. Ice cream made from milk that had been pasteurized, that is, heated to a certain temperature, showed up well, but the majority of the samples showed colonies of bacteria that might cause stomach and intestinal troubles, particularly in hot weather. Milk is a very delicate liquid and quickly taints and spoils. When it forms the basis of ice cream, after being held perhaps twenty-four hours, it is not likely to render a very good article.

AMERICAN OFFICERS RECEIVES THE D. S. O. The Central Figure in the picture is Commander Carpenter of the United States Navy, who received the Distinguished Service Order at the investiture held at Buckingham Palace on July 20th by the King.

MAY APPOINT INSPECTORS.

The matter of appointing special inspectors for different branches of dairy and meats products offered for sale on the market was recommended some weeks ago, may come up at the council meeting on Monday next.

PUMPER SATISFACTORY.

The giant pumper of the central fire department was out this morning, being tested after the repairs that the men have just made. It was found to be in good condition, and the men are well satisfied with their work.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

The city treasurer's report for the month of July is as follows:
Receipts for July ... $298,833.51
Cash on hand July 1 ... 2,435.40
Total Receipts ... $301,268.91

POLICE COURT.

There was a light list at the police court this morning. A drunk who was up on his first offence was allowed to go. George Wilson who was charged with being responsible for the fire which destroyed part of the plant of the Waddell Preserving Co., was remanded for a week. It is claimed that he, in company with two others, was in the building and left a cigarette stub, thus causing the fire. He left the city immediately afterward, and has only just returned.

MOTOR HEARSE.

The first motor hearse to be utilized in Brantford arrived in the city on Tuesday night. The machine was driven from London Tuesday afternoon by Mr. M. P. Brown, of Reid and Brown, who own the vehicle. The body of the vehicle is of black polished wood with carved curtain designs in a duller polish. These are set between dull carved columns surmounted with Tonic curves. The tires of the machine are a striped grey and black. The interior is handsomely finished in natural wood complete with a movable rack for flowers.

END OF A GAY TIME.

Niagara Camp, Ont., Aug. 22.—W. B. Buckner, of the Canadian Railway Troops depot, is in detention here, in the uniform of an American Military officer. He is charged with desertion, and is said to have cut quite a swath across the border in the guise of an officer of the United States army. His private's uniform is being prepared for him, as his present appearance is not regarded as in keeping with a Canadian soldier. He is under arrest and awaiting court-martial.

CANADA'S PROSPERITY RESTS ON THE FLEET

Without Humble Merchantman the Nation Would Face Disaster

Since war was declared, Canada has witnessed a period of financial prosperity such as probably has never occurred in the history of the country. Wheat is high, pork and beef command top prices and all the food produced is sold at a figure that would have been undreamed of a decade ago. From a period that verged on a financial depression, in a short space of four years the Nation has reached the height of prosperity. The reason of this may be roughly given as the war, which is in itself conducive to high prices. But it must be remembered that unless our commodities could be transported they would be a drug on the market. The reason that Canada today enjoys her prosperity is that 300,000 men of the Merchant Marine are braving the perils of every destructive device known to modern maritime warfare, to carry Canada's goods to overseas markets. Fifteen thousand of them have already perished, and they have left behind sorrowing families. As members of an unofficial service, no pension is granted the dependents of merchant sailors. Yet they gave their lives for the Empire. What will the Empire give them? "Sailors' Week" is being held from September 1st, to 7th, to raise money to relieve the distress of their families. Every dollar that is collected will be used by the Navy League of Canada in helping these unfortunate women and children. Ontario's objective is $1,000,000. Ontario has never yet failed. Give generously! Let your motto be "They shall not want."

Amsterdam, Aug. 21.—In an address to the Brandenburg Battalion, Emperor William, according to a despatch to The Lokal Anzeiger from Carl Roster, according to the would be employed in working out every new phase of modern fighting for the purpose of instructing all the German infantry.

RIOTS CONTINUE THROUGH JAPAN

Authorities Endeavoring in Vain to Suppress Popular Disorder

Tokio, Saturday, Aug. 17.—By the Associated Press.—Disturbances in the campaign against the high price of rice continue, and there have been many clashes throughout Japan, some of which resulted seriously. The government has compromised with the newspapers concerning reports of the disturbances, and is permitting the publication of two official bulletins. The first bulletin on the situation in Tokio province during the last few days states that mobs attacked and damaged rice shops, and attacked the Saiyoken hotel and the building of the ministry of communications and commerce. Other buildings and automobiles and tramways were the objects of mob anger. Police and troops eventually dispersed the mobs. Large gatherings were held in Tokio Friday night, but there was no rioting. Reports of rioting in eighteen prefectures in addition to Osaka, Kyoto and Nagoya are referred to in the bulletin. Disturbances occurred in the prefectures of Shiga, Fukushima, Kurayama, Hiroshima, Wakayama and Kagawa. The bulletin emphasizes that the disturbances at Nagoya were in the outskirts of the city. A police station and a post office building were raided, and three policemen wounded. A determined attack was made on the police and military at Wakayama, and one rioter was killed and several policemen wounded seriously. Some mercantile houses were attacked and plundered, and the mob were dispersed after a struggle. Newspaper dispatches from Kobe say that in fighting there, four members of mobs have been killed, and three bayoneted by the soldiers. It is claimed that Socialists are inciting

SITUATION TO-DAY

New York, Aug. 22.—(The Associated Press) issues the following: Fighting their way along the southern reaches of the Plateau, the front, French troops to-day stand before Noyon. This city has been referred to as the key to the whole German line west of the Somme.

On the northern side of the Lys salient, in Flanders, the Germans have been forced out of a strong position north of Bailoult. The Germans launched a heavy counter-attack against the British positions at Loure Hospice, but were repulsed. Heavy fighting is reported in this area.

Strong German counter-attacks are developing near Miraumont and Irlis, which are near the southern end of the line over which the British attacked yesterday.

In this region the determined resistance of the Germans seems to have slowed up the British, if it has not checked the momentum of the blow launched by General Byng. The same may be said to be the situation on the hills north of Soissons. Little progress has been reported in this sector for the past few days. Last night's German official report, however, told of the French reaching the plateau north of Juvigny, but said they were driven back.

Noyon, it would appear, is almost untenable. It would seem that a retreat by the enemy toward Chauny, further east, is almost impossible. The railroad leading east of Noyon is now under direct fire from the French guns. The only remaining chance for a German retreat appears to be the northeast toward Ham, Mount Renaud, a height which stands as a sentinel to the southwest of Noyon, now appears to be outflanked and, therefore, useless as a defensive position.

There have been no reports of fighting from Lesigny north to the Somme.

CANADIAN CAVALRY IN THE FIGHT

Daring Exploits Recorded in Opening Days of the Somme Battle

(By J. F. B. Livesey, Canadian Press Correspondent.) With the Canadian Forces, Aug. 20.—Via London, Aug. 22.—It is now possible to trace some of the exploits of the Canadian cavalry on three opening days of the Somme battle.

It undertook some desperate adventures in this quest over a country serrated with trenches and wire and containing hidden nests of enemy machine guns. On the right of our line lay the open Amiens road. Great strategic results might be gained by a sudden dash down toward Roye, but it was impossible to get off the road owing to the risk of death of our infantry had captured Demmer, and that the French had occupied Andechy. Unfortunately it developed that this was erroneous. The enemy held on to both these strong points on either side of the road as well as the woods between, while the trenches of the road itself were lined with machine guns.

Under this misapprehension a small body of cavalry attempted to gallop down the road, a strong hold that did not fall into the hands of the French until nearly a week later. Straight down the road they rode through the ranks of the advancing infantry, but they were wiped out long before they reached their objective. One trooper alone got within a hundred yards of it. Some empty saddles returned, and at night half a dozen wounded men crawled back into our lines.

More success came to another squadron of the same regiment whose captain holds both the V.C. and the M.C. Advancing along this fatal road the squadron met very heavy machine gun fire west of Les Quesnoy, coming from the direction of Dammery. It swung south of the road and crossed the French infantry line and then, galloping over trenches and wire, captured the village of Andechy, and with it a very large enemy supply depot and a considerable number of prisoners.

The squadron held the village in face of enemy attacks until it was taken over by the French infantry. Another famous cavalry regiment whose deeds in the South African war are a matter of Canadian history, made on the opening day an attack on Quesnel, but the charge was stopped by the enemy's machine guns in a sunken road. The squadron swung to the right and left, and here, the major leading it, got in advance of his men, and with one corporal defended himself in a scrub for 11 hours against the attacking boches, finally rejoining his command under cover of night.

In the meantime one troop galloped into Fresnoy, on the right,

SEVERAL HUNDRED OFFICERS SHOT

1,500 Arrested in Moscow, And Many of Them Executed

(By Courier Leased Wire) Several hundred of fifteen thousand officers arrested in Moscow have been shot according to a letter written in Moscow on August 14 by Dr. Alfonso Paquet and published in the "Frankfort Zeitung." Some of the officers who encouraged Russian citizenship and acquired German or Polish passes, were released at the request of the German consul-general. The remainder were sent to a concentration camp surrounded by artillery. The officers, it is added, were subjected to conditions "begging all descriptions." Those imprisoned included a number of former generals and colonels.

Dr. Paquet says that several hundred British and French business men have been arrested in Moscow and adds that further arrests of representatives of the bourgeois are expected. If this proves inadequate to maintain order, he continues, a reign of terror, with public executions, is unavoidable.

ON TRACK OF RAIDER

(By Courier Leased Wire) Washington, Aug. 21.—Strong forces of swift naval boats and destroyers sped to-day to the north Atlantic fishing banks where the trawler Triumph, captured yesterday by a German submarine, armed and manned, is reported to be raiding fishing fleets. Naval officials here think the recapture of the trawler or the enforced destruction by the German crew is a certainty.

ALLIES HOLD KEY TO TOWN OF NOYON

Now Outflanked on South-east and Dominated by French Guns

New York, Aug. 21.—The Associated Press issued the following: Numerous additional villages have been liberated by the French north-west of Soissons, and positions have been captured on both sides of the Oise River, which seemingly make untenable for occupation by the enemy the important town of Noyon, which is now outflanked on the south-east and dominated by the French guns from the south and west. On the south the French are standing in Sempigny, a mile and a half distant, while on the west they have captured the important pivotal town of Lassigny, the key position to Noyon and the plains to the north.

With the latest advances by the French east of the Oise there has come under the range of General Mangin's guns the broad-gauge railway line leading from Noyon eastward to La Fere—the sole remaining line, except for two narrow-gauge roads, over which the enemy may transport his men and supplies beyond the range of the French artillery. What is to be the effect of the Allied drives along the 120-mile battle-line from Ypres to Soissons cannot be foretold at present, but it seems highly probable that this entire front soon must be realigned. The particular menace to the Germans, aside from that in the territory between the Somme and the

FUSE FACTORY IS NOW MAKING SHELLS

Until Fuses Were Not Needed it Had Turned Out 35,000 a Day

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—The fuse is a delicate piece of mechanism of 57 parts which explodes a shell either by time or percussion, and sends its fragments on their mission of killing Germans. To manufacture fuses a plant was set up in Canada by the Imperial Munitions Board, which developed into the largest plant of its kind in allied territory, probably in the world.

The work on the plant began in February, 1916, and 19 weeks after the building operations commenced the first fuse was loaded and assembled. The average output of this factory reached over 35,000 fuses each day. The factory has a floor space of seven acres. The greatest number of fuses assembled in any one day was 40,246, which necessitated the handling of 4,160,000 component parts by the munition workers. The total number of fuses completed up to date is over 8,000,000. As fuses were no longer required from Canada after the early part of this year, this plant has now been converted to the manufacturing of 18-pounder shrapnel forgings.

TRAWLER, TAKEN BY GERMANS, RAIDING ALLIED COMMERCE

Huns Convoys Fishing Vessel "Triumph" Into a Sea Wolf

(By Courier Leased Wire) A Canadian Atlantic Port, Aug. 22.—The steam trawler Triumph with two guns, with wireless apparatus and manned by six Germans from the U-boat which captured her yesterday, is raiding the banks off the coast of the Nova Scotia, and the crews of the schooners sunk by the Triumph have arrived here. The vessel known to be sunk are the Una, P. Saunders of Lunenburg, the Ephyatt Andrew of Gloucester, Mass. and the Francis J. O'Hara of Boston. Captain Wallace Bruce, master of the Gloucester schooner, told the Canadian press to-day that his vessel was held up by the Triumph yesterday afternoon and that he and his crew were given ten minutes to leave the ship. The Germans then sank her with bombs. The Triumph then moved over to the Boston and Lunenburg vessels, sinking them in turn. The dories from the three vessels reached here at 10 o'clock this morning. The fishermen say that while making for this port they heard shots and they believe that a number of other fishing vessels have been sunk. Captain Myrre, master of the Triumph, who landed here with his men this morning told the Canadian Press to-day that the captain of the submarine said his was the only one of six U-boats operating on this coast. "We intend to destroy the fishing fleets," the German commander said to Captain Myrre.

Much larger harvests will be garnered in the Lethbridge district than many expected, and it is estimated the total yield of wheat at least will be ten million bushels, and probably fifteen million.

PRISONERS AND GUNS TAKEN IN ADVANCE ON TEN MILE FRONT

Gen. Byng's Army Smashed Through Foe Lines in Yesterday's Attack—Fog Aided British in Catching Enemy Unawares.

With the British Army in France, Aug. 21.—Having smashed into General von Belov's seventeenth army during a heavy fog at dawn to-day on a front of more than ten miles, extending from the Amere River to Moyenneville, the British have throughout the day made steady progress forward, capturing villages, taking prisoners and guns, and inflicting heavy casualties on the surprised enemy.

Coming directly on the heels of the battle south of the Somme, the scene of which virtually adjoins the field of the new operation, this blow exploits to the limit the confusion created among the German forces by their recent defeats.

Heavy fighting has occurred along the embankments of the Albert Arras railroad, which, although well within the German lines last night, seems to have been easily reached by the storming British infantrymen, who were aided in this task by tanks. It was from this embankment that the Germans, armed with countless machine guns, fired a rain of bullets in an effort to keep the British from coming further, but while they were doing it they themselves must have suffered severely, not only from the flood of direct and indirect machine gun fire, but from shells which were sent crashing about their ears from directly in front of them, for the British field guns moved up closely in the rear of the infantry, and from their flank, where the big British guns hurled in an avalanche of steel from the north.

As is inevitable when a battle rages with such intensity as along this embankment, the exact situation is obscure, but reports have been received that the British have broken down the German defence at various places and have passed through to the eastern side. Behind the embankment there may not have been a great force of German reserves when the battle began, but by this time the harassed enemy certainly is rushing men to the scene as fast as he can, for another disaster threatens him.

Advanced in Heavy Fog. The battle opened with a sudden crash of guns of all calibres just as day was breaking. Great billows of thick fog such as are seen only on this side of the Atlantic, hung over the scene. The infantrymen and tank crews could scarcely see a hundred feet ahead of them, and the flare of fired, while explosions from their mouths rolled up into a continuous deadened roar.

The fog was most favorable to the attacking formations, for it effectively shielded them from the eyes of the enemy, and at the same time caused the Germans opposite to believe that the attack was not directed against them.

"The guns sounded a long way off," said one of the early prisoners, "so we congratulated ourselves that we were not to be attacked. Just then a tank, followed by infantry, rolled right over our position, and I surrendered."

As tanks and men followed behind the sweeping barrage, the atmosphere became even more thick, for mixed with the fog were great banks of smoke, from innumerable shells fired for just this purpose of increasing the protecting screen.

The Germans guns retaliated only feebly, but there was sharp fighting at various points, where isolated posts filled with machine guns and snipers put up a stiff battle. At the little shell-ruined village of Courtrai, about the centre of the battle-front, the German garrison made a desperate fight, and for a time the advance of the infantry was held up at this place.

Then the tanks arrived on the scene and charged into the enemy's positions, quickly transforming them from strongholds to shambles. The tanks repeated this performance at other places in the line where the stubborn Boches held out courageously. But their courage availed them nothing in the face of the great tanks dipping and out of shell-holes and across old trenches that have seen some of the war's fiercest fighting, and the smallest whippet tanks and armor-

AUSTRALIA MAKES RABBITS PAY NOW

Once a Pest, Bunnies Are Now Source of Considerable Revenue

Associated Press. Washington, Aug. 22.—Rabbits, which were once the curse of Australia, as they have been to a lesser extent in the southwestern United States, now are providing a profitable source of revenue and at the same time are helping to win the war by increasing food supply.

Official dispatches received here say the British Board of Trade has ordered 600,000 crates of skinned rabbits, which will require the killing of 21,600,000 rabbits weighing 38,000,000 pounds after dressing. Previously the rabbits were skinned with the skins on, but inconvenience was experienced at hospitals in England in removing the fur.

How to dispose of the skins is causing the Australians speculation. There is a ready market for them in this country, but tonnage is scarce.

CANADA'S WORK FOR THE WOUNDED

Motion Picture Shows Methods of Rehabilitating Returned Soldiers

The work that Canada has done and is doing for her wounded soldiers in the way of hospital treatment and re-education is fully set forth in "Canada's Work for Wounded Soldiers," a five-reel serial produced by the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment and shortly to be exhibited in theatres throughout Canada.

It is little realized by the Canadian public that Canada leads the world in this work, her system having been copied by Australia, and, more recently by the United States.

The film shows every phase of the work, from the deck of a hospital ship in a Canadian port to the shop, office, or farm where the returned soldier is working, after having been educated at Government expense. Any man whose war wounds prevent him from resuming his pre-war occupation is entitled to such education, and is trained in a suitable trade or profession.

Some of the most interesting scenes in the film are those illustrating occupational therapy—where men are encouraged by being given some simple and useful work such as carpentry and wood carving, which are found to be particularly beneficial of special interest, not only to the general public, but to medical men are the scenes showing the use of the apparatus at Hart House, Toronto, and other places, for restoring flexibility and power to arms, legs and fingers made impotent by war wounds.

The film took eight months to complete, and the camera man travelled from coast to coast to photograph it.

Army Dentists Are Efficient

The work of the Canadian Army Dental Corps overseas is making quite a stir in army circles in England and France. A recent letter to Sir Auckland Geddes, Minister of National Service, from the British Dental Association contained the following:

"In numbers alone, the fact that the whole of the British forces have a little more than twice the number of dentists belonging to the Canadian Army Dental Corps is surely very significant, and as regards organization and administration the inter-army comparison with the Dominion forces, is equally manifest to those who are familiar with the details.

"At times when the last reserves of the country are being drawn upon, and the raising of the age limit is, believe, being considered, it does seem to me that the Canadian man-power in the army among munition workers and the rest of the civil population should be wasted at various points. The dental service in the army is both insufficient in personnel and inefficient in organization. We are aware of the seriousness of the situation, but we are prepared to support it.

In suggesting the remedy the letter, which is signed by the president, the chairman of the Representative Board, the hon. treasurer and the secretary, among other things, expresses the opinion that the organization should be similar to, but not necessarily the same as, the Dental Service of the Dominion.

In the department of mouth hygiene our dental services have done particularly important work. Infectious stomatitis, a very common and most baffling mouth infection, has been brought under control in the Canadian forces to an extent quite unknown in the other armies. This is the disease to which the misnomer "trench mouth" has been applied. Only a few soldiers and men in the trenches, since thousands of cases appear among those who have never seen the trenches, traced to its origin in any way be known.

As its name (infectious stomatitis) implies, it is infectious—exceedingly so. It is no respecter of rank or sex. It is not a disease of the children of both sexes have been treated by the C.A.D.C.

In battalions it can be spread by the use of dishes. In entertainments in some areas it has been prevented from spreading by keeping the dishes of those already infected separate. In some cases, it has been contracted by kissing their soldier fathers. In one case where five or six men lived in the same house and in one case where a soldier, shortly after it appeared in one of the men in the house for the disease. The slightest carelessness in disinfecting the mouth dishes in one of the areas where courses in gas measures are taught might cause an infection to spread widely. An instance of this kind occurred in one of the areas where a great many men were using the same mask. Moistening the finger in dealing cards has also been found to be causing it in one case in particular.

The importance of controlling and eliminating this trouble will be immediately appreciated when it is said that in many cases when the first apply for treatment, the person infected simply cannot bite or chew. The prevalence of the trouble will be appreciated when one learns that in the six months from July, 1917, to December, 1917, 5,397 patients were treated in Shorncliffe, Bramley, Witley, Stafford and London alone, and that about fifty per cent. were cured. In attaining this end it was necessary to administer 31,809 treatments.

In the treatment of infectious stomatitis not the least important part of the treatment is to bring about a cleanly condition of the mouth. The men of the C.A.D.C. are each issued with a kit containing a tooth brush, but until recently, no dentifrice. There was a time when a goodly number of teeth were found their way to the buttons on the tunic rather than the tooth in the mouth. The importance of cleansing the teeth has been strongly impressed by the Dental Services on the soldiers, and as a result in this respect conditions have greatly improved. The introduction of 100,000 tins of special dentifrice, invented by the Canadian Army Dental Corps' experts, for use of the oral pathology department, will produce inestimable results both in assisting the dental officers in their efforts against infectious stomatitis and as a preventive against occurrence of the trouble.

Recently a patient after unsuccessful treatment in a London hospital, was informed that he must have his teeth extracted. To make a long story short, he is now under treatment in the Canadian Army Dental Corps' oral pathology department, and will probably not have to lose his teeth; nor will the Government be placed under the expense of supplying plates for him with which to masticate.

One of the features of the Canadian Army Dental Corps' treatment of "trench mouth" is its rapidity and accuracy in diagnosis. With the use of a microscope the specialist can tell the patient positively, and in a very few minutes, whether he has or has not the disease. The New Zealand forces, whose Dental Corps is particularly efficient, requested their dental officers be allowed to study the Canadian system, and two officers have already been returned to New Zealand for the purpose of introducing the Canadian method of treatment there.

THE CROPS

The following is a summary of reports made by Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

Most of the barley and Spring wheat, and a considerable portion of the oats have been cut and stacked, and some threshed. More than usual of the threshing has been done in the open owing to the favorable weather prevailing.

Barley is turning out a first-class crop, both as to yield and quality. The yield will be well above the average, the fields being as high as 65 bushels to the acre. Excellent Spring wheat has done so well that it is likely to become a more established crop with some who have been neglecting it. Margus and goose have been the varieties mainly grown this season.

Oats also are a bumper crop and will be considerably over the average in yield per acre. Essex and Kenora report some fields running as high as 80 and 90 bushels to the acre. There will also be a fair crop of excellent straw.

Suckwheat on the whole gives promise of being a fair crop. Peas for canning and seed purposes have done well, but the vines of the later varieties were affected by the drought and intense heat.

Second growth of clover, which started well, has been somewhat checked by drought, but recent rains have helped conditions. Corn has been growing remarkably fast during August, and with favorable weather should do much better than in 1917 or the preceding year.

Potatoes are not a uniform crop, but on the whole have done fairly well. The tubers so far are remarkably clean, but the drought has checked growth. There are complaints of blight and other diseases but there is remarkable freedom from rot.

Field roots are no so promising as early in the season being much in need of rain. The Fall wheat cut this summer, although very small in yield per acre, is on the whole of excellent quality, and will provide good seed for the new crop. The ground has been dry and hard for plowing, but considerable land has already been prepared for this fall's sowing. Tractors are very busy and have much work arranged for ahead.

It is estimated that in Sudbury District alone $50,000 worth of blueberries have been picked this season. Norfolk also reports that strawberries of the everbearing variety are now coming on the market. Price paid for cattle sold to drovers and butchers range all the way from 10 to 15 cents a lb. Grade dairy cows have been in strong demand during the week at from $100 to $160. While the flow of milk has dropped off considerably, it is about normal for mid-August.

Prices for bacon hogs have been keeping around $19 to 19.50 per cwt. according to locality. Sheep have indeed come to their own. Good ewes are bringing $30

FILM LETS
In Lila Lee's latest picture, "Joe," an orangutan from Borneo, plays an important part. Joe gets a salary of $350 a week in real money, or rather his owner does, and he is insured for $5,000. You can see why this that Joe is a distinguished specimen. In fact he is a tractable chap, who seems to understand all that is said to him. He has developed an insatiable appetite for soda, water and ice cream cones. Joe, like all his kind, is imitative, and he observed that Miss Lee seemed to like such things. You see Miss Lee has not outgrown her youthful tastes despite her formidable age of 16.

Caruso gave a free show in New York city the other day, although he did not intend to do it. In his character as Carol in "My Cousin Carol," the photoplay on which he is now working, he appeared at the stage door of the Metropolitan opera house just as he has done on several former occasions. This time he was accompanied by Director Edward Jose and a couple of camera men. As soon as the latter were in position Caruso's progress toward the stage door was interrupted by a group of Italian sailors from a warship in the harbor, who explained that they had been unable to obtain tickets at the box office, where they were greatly distressed, because they wanted so much to hear their countryman, the great tenor, "Cousin" Carol, sing.

Thereupon Cousin Carol produced a notebook, in which he scribbled a request to the manager to let the sailors in if he had to throw some of the box holders out. Then he went on in followed by the huzzas of the sailors. A crowd of two thousand people invited themselves to witness the filming of the scene, to the great annoyance of the police.

William S. Hart has the fight of his life in a picture. Bill has a leg broken—according to the scenario—and yet contrives to whip the villain as he deserves. The fight put up before the camera by Lon Chaney, the villain, was so realistic that Hart could not have been very much worse off at the end if he had broken both legs. As for Chaney—well, the scenario said he had to be licked, and he was; there was no doubt about that.

Ships built in British yards and in foreign yards on British account in July reduced the British deficit to 22,311 which compares favorably with the average monthly deficits during the first six months of this year of 90,000 tons.

ANNOUNCEMENT

FALL WHEAT SEED

VIEW of the partial failure of the Fall Wheat crop in this Province this year, it will be necessary for farmers to make early arrangements for the supply of seed which they will need for Fall Sowing. Under these circumstances farmers who have on hand quantities of wheat suitable for Fall Seeding are urged to conserve them for this purpose. If there is no demand locally, the information should be supplied to this Department, or to the Local Office of this Department in your County, so that every effort may be made to have an equitable and satisfactory distribution. The need for foodstuffs justifies a large acreage of Fall wheat in this Province again this year, and the co-operation of the farmers in the mobilization and distribution of the available seed supplies is invited.
