NEEDING A WAGON ROAD

Miners on All Gold Are Handicapped

Creek is Making Excellent Showing and Will be a Heavy Producer.

All Gold, a creek which has been stamped and abandoned several times in the last four years, is now rapidly coming to the front and will be recognized among the heavy producers in a short time. All the men who are working there now are pleased with the outlook and expect profitable returns in the near future. Some of the claims are already on a paying basis while on others the dead work is just being finished but the prospects are more than favorable.

From No. 95 to No. 112 at the mouth of the creek every claim is being worked and every claim will have a boiler this summer. Several claims in the twenties are also being worked with as good results as are being shown on the claims lower down. The high gravel deposits correspond with the white channel and carry good pay. The benches hold good value also, but it will take big machinery to put water on them. The miners are greatly handicapped for want of a roadway. This was promised them last fall but as yet nothing has been done about it. A road, it is stated, to All Gold creek would be the means of opening up the upper Klondike country tributary to Flat creek. The miners at the present time are using the road built by Chas. Fisher last spring. This road is entirely inadequate and causes the miners no small amount of trouble in getting their provisions and machinery.

EAGLE CELEBRATION

Program of Events and Prizes on the 4th.

Captain J. H. McLean, master of the Tyrrell which arrived this forenoon from Eagle, brings word that the residents of the village on American soil are preparing to celebrate the natal day of their nation in time honored style. They are expecting a large crowd from Dawson and have put up a program for their entertainment to the very best of their ability. Eagle is but a small place and a fund for a celebration such as Dawson would attempt would be a heavy draft upon the bank accounts of the few who are there and who are able to give. But what is lacked in expensiveness and large prizes will be more than made up in the hearty welcome that will be extended to all who accept of their hospitality. The following is the program of the events and the prizes held out as inducements for entries:

10:00 a. m.—Shooting match, 200 yards, open sights, five shots for 50 cents, winner takes 75 per cent and the second best 25 per cent of the proceeds of the shoot.

KLONDIKE NUGGET.

THURSDAY, JULY 2, 1903.

IN BAD TASTE.

After posing in Dawson for a couple of years as a British subject, the present editor of the Sun was "discovered" and in order to hold a little government printing proceeded promptly to take out papers.

The crudeness and lack of propriety thus displayed is really pitiable and we can assure our contemporary will call for the expression of no other sentiment from this paper.

In view of the fact, however, that the Nugget receives the exclusive benefit of the Sun's observations in this particular, it may be pertinent to observe that the proprietors of the News are both American citizens and the editor of that paper was also until last winter when he swore allegiance in order to become a candidate for office.

Some of the ablest newspaper writers in the United States are Canadians and American journalists are scattered throughout the whole of Canada.

The point, therefore, so frequently raised by the Sun is without significance, and certainly, in view of the record of that paper and its editor is in execrable bad taste.

The Sun this morning devotes a column or more to consideration of a contemporary which criticised certain actions of the Yukon commissioner, denouncing the paper in question on account of private references which appeared in its columns.

BASED UPON REASON.

The feeling of dissatisfaction so manifest among the public by reason of the fact that the territory has been without representation at the federal capital during the parliamentary session, is grounded upon the very best of reasons.

Greater faith was placed by the people in the results which would accrue from the election of Mr. Ross than in any reform movement ever inaugurated in the territory. The Ross platform was equally as broad in its demands as was the one upon which Joe Clarke sought election.

It was upon that basis that he received the independent vote which elected him and without which he was fated to failure.

The public is now informed that

Mr. Ross' health kept him away from the capital, but in the face of the assurances given at the beginning of the session that his health was entirely restored, that explanation will scarcely pass muster.

The people, therefore, who feel that their confidence has not been fully warranted have asked and are entitled to an explanation.

The flippant manner in which this demand is treated by the Sun will not result advantageously to Mr. Ross nor will it change public sentiment in any particular. From the day succeeding the election when the Sun endeavored to make a straight government victory out of Mr. Ross' success, until the present time, our contemporary has gone from one display of bad faith to another, apparently finding the utmost satisfaction in the fact that the electors have been made the victims of hypocrisy and deceit.

If there is any lack of reason or logic in the prevailing view of the situation the Sun has failed to make it appear, notwithstanding its daily output of gutter verbosity.

Dawson went en masse to the Forks yesterday to assist in celebrating Dominion day. The Nugget hopes that the compliment will be returned on the Fourth and that hundreds will come from the creeks to help in making the day a success.

The Swedish government has adopted a system of poll tax whereunder the person assessed must pay according to weight. A similar law in Dawson would just about double the local revenues.

Leave for New York Washington, June 19.—Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, will leave Washington for New York, on Sunday, and next Wednesday he will sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. for Europe, where he will spend his summer vacation.

The recent agitation, in this country growing out of the events at Kischineff has put him under a severe strain during the past few weeks, but he is now returning to Russia much relieved and with a sense of some personal satisfaction.

In a conversation today with an Associated Press representative he seemed especially gratified that the popular disposition in this country to hold the Russian government responsible for the deplorable events at Kischineff, arising out of the quick sympathy of the American people, has been succeeded by a calmer and more reasonable view.

The prompt and energetic measures taken by his government, he pointed out, demonstrated conclusively that not only were the intimations that the Russian government had conveyed at what had occurred at Kischineff preposterous, but that everything that the government had done showed that it had no sympathy with the affair.

The governor of the province had been removed, the authors of the occurrence had been punished as far as possible and the government had taken energetic measures to prevent a repetition of similar troubles in other places where anti-Jewish sentiment prevailed.

Whatcom, June 19.—The announcement made by Maj. Mills that the war department has approved the plans for the Whatcom creek waterway and that bids will be called for at once, was received with a great deal of satisfaction on Bellingham bay.

The estimated cost of this waterway improvement is in the neighborhood of $100,000. Of this amount an appropriation of $25,000 has been made on the continuing contract plan. This appropriation will be available under the present call for bids, and other appropriations will be made by congress from time to time upon the estimate of engineers as needed for the continuance of the work.

The great value of such an improvement to Bellingham bay was expressed in general terms by J. J. Donagan, general superintendent of the Bellingham Bay & British Columbia Railroad.

"It will," said he, "give the city a largely increased dockage, provide protected anchorage for vessels which, coupled with the perfect harbor of Bellingham bay, cannot be exceeded, and presents unrivaled inducements for the location of industries on our water front."

Insane Man New York, June 19.—Mrs. Nancy Rose, the oldest lighthouse keeper in the United States, is the heroine of a combat in the historic lighthouse at Stony Point on the Hudson, in which she was pitted against a lunatic. Armed only with a poker, the woman, who is 75 years of age, has attended the lighthouse for a century, bravely stood her ground and drove back her assailant.

MR. HAWKINS AT OTTAWA

Will Leave for Dawson About July 4th

Hopes to do Fully Three Months Work on Klondike Mines Railroad.

The low but distinct buzzing of the railroad bumblebee is once more heard in our midst—not the Grand Trunk but its buzzing being done between Quebec and Winnipeg, but the buzzing of the Klondike Mines Railway Company bee which contemplates the construction of a road from Dawson to Stewart river with spurs to all intervening sidehill and bench claims and a station at every road-house.

Mr. E. C. Hawkins has had a long siege at Ottawa but will leave there for the Pacific coast and Dawson on or about July 4th, having accomplished the object of his mission which means authority from and sanction of the Dominion government to go ahead with the work of construction and all indications point to the probability of at least three months work at railroad building before accomplished here before the advent of severely cold weather.

TEN STAMP MILL Will be Brought in and Erected on Violet Group

Mr. Dan McKinnon left on the Whitehorse Tuesday en route for Juneau at which place it is understood a ten stamp mill outfit is for sale at a bargain. Mr. McKinnon will purchase the mill and ship it to Dawson from which place it will be hauled out and erected on or near the Violet group of quartz claims near the head of Ophir creek.

The owners of the Violet group are confident that they have a good thing, otherwise they would not go to the expense of procuring and erecting a stamp mill.

Heavy Damages Bakersfield, Cal., June 19.—Attorney C. C. Boynton, of San Francisco in behalf of the Shamrock Oil Company, has brought suit against the Associated Oil Company, asking damages to the amount of $500,000, and the restoration of the Shamrock property at McKittick, which was transferred without the consent of the stockholders. It is claimed by the Associated company by a former board of directors.

The property in dispute is the last at McKittick on which is located the famous gusher of the Shamrock, which is producing some 1,500 barrels a day. The result of the suit is of the greatest interest to oil men generally, not only on account of the property involved, but on account of the effect that an adverse decision, it is said, might have upon other holdings of the Associated, which virtually controls the oil output of Kern county.

Eva Booth, of Salvation Army Fame

Public Reception to be Given on Her Arrival - Presented the Governor.

Elaborate preparations are being made by Adjutant Kenway and others of the Salvation Army to receive the reception and entertainment of Miss Booth when she comes to Dawson in the day of the high officials to the city. Several objects have been secured as the result of the first being the general approval of the branch stations in the past four or five months and also a desire of the colonel to see that portion of her work which she had never before had pleasure of viewing. It has not so very long since Miss Booth entrusted with the care of the army throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, her attention also extending to and including the Bermuda islands and Greenland.

It is very doubtful if there is a woman of her years in the world more generally known than Eva Booth. Born 33 years ago in a poor family, she was brought up in the work to which she has been so devoted for so long a time. She has been a member of the Salvation Army since its inception, and has been in the ranks for more than ten years.

She is the intention of leaving in charge of the post, to hold a short public meeting at the dock upon Miss Booth's arrival. A small platform will be erected near the entrance of the wharf where the lady will be received and introduced to the city. The colonel of the territory and the late adjutant Miss Booth to the city. She will reply in her own manner. The exact date of her arrival cannot be determined as yet, but it is expected to be about the 8th of July, when she will fall on Thursday. The reception at the wharf will be held in Church street at the barracks. At the time the adjutant hopes to have a talk with the colonel. Mrs. Booth is a native of London, and will deliver the lecture "In Slavery."

EXPECTED VERY SOON

Booth, of Salvation Army Fame

Public Reception to be Tendered on Her Arrival - Presented by the Governor.

Elaborate preparations are being made by Adjutant Kenway and other officers of the Salvation Army for the reception and entertainment of Commissioner Eva Booth who is expected about the 9th of the month. The present will be Miss Booth's first visit to Dawson, in fact the first of the high officials to this far west encampment. Several objects are to be attained as the result of the first being the general spiritual welfare of the branch stationed here, the inspection of the post and accounts of the past four or five years, and also a desire of the commissioner to see that portion of her domain which she had never before had the pleasure of viewing. It has not been very long since Miss Booth was promoted with the care of the entire army throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, her jurisdiction also extending to and including the Bermuda islands and Newfoundland.

It is very doubtful if there is a woman of her years in the civilized world more generally known than the Eva Booth. Born 33 years ago to parents who had been before the public at that time for years, it might be said that she has literally grown up in the work to which she is now so dedicated her life. It was in London that Miss Booth was chiefly known until her emigration to Canada. From the age when she was able to talk and care for herself she has been engaged in the slums of the largest city in the world, her sole aim being the bettering of mankind and the uplifting of the fallen. She soon became known as a powerful speaker upon the theme dearest to her heart, her eloquence and magnetism appealing to her hearers as none others have ever done before. Her advancement in the ranks has not been due to her birth, but has been accomplished by hard work and merit. Her first entered the ranks as a mere helper, then was promoted through various stages until finally she ranks second only to her illustrious mother. She is a natural born leader and for a time prior to coming to Canada was in entire charge of the city of London.

It is the intention of Adjutant Kenway, in charge of the Dawson post, to hold a short public reception at the dock upon Miss Booth's arrival. A small platform will be built at the street near the entrance to the wharf where the lady and her retinue will be received and presented. Commissioner Congdon and Mayor Klennan. The former will deliver a brief address of welcome in behalf of the territory and the latter acting for the city. The commissioner will introduce Miss Booth to the people and she will reply in her own characteristic manner. The exact date of her arrival can not be determined this far ahead but it is expected it will be on or about the 9th of the month which falls on Thursday. Following the reception at the wharf the Army and its friends will march down First Avenue to Church street and thence to the barracks. At the ferry tower the adjutant hopes to have erected an arch to be surmounted by a large picture of Commissioner Booth from the clever pen of Mr. Buel.

A meeting of welcome will be held Friday afternoon, the 13th, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon in St. Andrew's church. The same evening there will be services at the same place at 8:45 after all the other churches have finished their services. Friday evening Miss Booth will appear in costume, the same in which she was so well known in the slums of London, and will deliver her famous lecture "In Rags." Subsequent meetings can not be determined until a later date nor will it be known how long Miss Booth will remain. Adjutant Kenway expects a wire from Skagway upon the arrival there of his superior officer and will then know something of the itinerary of the trip. Who is included in her staff will also be ascertained at that time. The headquarters of the army for the Dominion are in Toronto. In the United States Booth Tucker, a son-in-law of the general, occupies the same relative position that Miss Booth does in Canada.

ETERNAL FITNESS

Believed in and Advocated by Col. Riechenbach

Colonel Chas. Riechenbach is a firm believer in the eternal fitness of things and endeavors to apply the principle when ever it is possible to do so.

The colonel is a dyed-in-the-wool patriotic citizen of Canada and subject of King Edward, but that does not deter him from carrying out his "eternal fitness" hobby. He has lately and at great expense imported from United States territory a number of small evergreen trees with which he will decorate and beautify the sidewalk in front of his place of business on King street for the Fourth of July. The trees were grown in the vicinity of Eagle in Uncle Sam's soil and were admitted free of duty and without bond for their safe return.

The colonel gives it as his own unbiased, unprejudiced, untrammeled, unchallenged, unanswerable opinion that it is a poor Canadian who is not willing to assist his "Yankee" brother in the proper celebration of the natal day of his country's independence although there is a glaring possibility that had there been a few skilled warriors of the colonel's stamp one hundred and thirty years ago that declaration of independence might have "hung fire" some years and possibly might have been hanging yet.

CHIEF ISAAC HAPPY

Salmon Will Soon be Running in the Yukon

Chief Isaac, hiyu man of the Mooschides, natural philosopher, Christian gentleman and child of nature, who holds sweet communion with the stars, the gurgling brooks and growing weeds, is in the city today and is in high glee over a late revelation vouchsafed to him to the effect that within a few days the Great Spirit will drive salmon up the Yukon to the delight of his people, Cut Mouth John, Hootch Ann and all the other members of his tribe amongst whom the aroma of fish, owing to the late high winds, has become almost extinct.

On this account pannies were today blooming in Isaac's heart and the turtle dove of peace was crooning in his breast. There was a gladsome look in his unsullied eye and his placid features ever and anon busted into a smile as he would sniff the air in fond anticipation of a whiff from the salmon vanguard.

Not so Sure

Princeton, N. J., June 19.—Grover Cleveland, on being shown the alleged interview reported by Mr. Bailey of the Galveston News, stating that he had no desire to re-enter public life, made the following statement to the Associated Press correspondent, today:

"I am very much astonished to see such an outburst by one who only gained friendly access to me by reason of his being the representative of a paper formerly conducted and owned by my deceased friend, Col. Belo, and now conducted by his son.

"I do not know whether Bailey intended it or not, but he has given a very erroneous impression of what occurred between us.

"If I had dreamed that he would attempt to construct an important interview dealing with important subjects out of what was said on the occasion of his visit, I would certainly have insisted, according to my habit, upon it being then and there reduced to writing and submitted to me. Instead of gaining the least intimation of such an intension on his part, his first words were that he knew an ex-president was not a person to be interviewed, and he left me without the least hint that I had been interviewed for publication.

"All I care to add is that the substance of the interview as published is in some respects grossly inaccurate. There are statements in it attributed to me that I certainly would not have made to a person so nearer to me and no more in my confidence than Mr. Bailey."

The interview to which Mr. Cleveland objects is as follows:

"It is perfectly absurd to suppose for an instant that I have any desire to re-enter public life. Nor have I remotely entertained the thought since I left Washington more than six years ago. The matter is as far from my thoughts as it was in 1896, when, all must admit, it was not within my hearing or my sight. I have no higher aspiration than to pass my days in peace with my family around me and take no part in politics which any private citizen cannot take, with the utmost propriety.

"I have not spoken to anybody on the subject of a fourth candidacy. I have never written to a single political friend one way or the other nor have I been written to or spoken to by them. There is no political leader of any prominence endeavoring to advance any movement to nominate me in any state, so far as I have been advised, nor do I anticipate that any such effort will be made by any leader, prominent or obscure, in any locality in the country.

"I have on several occasions within a year undertaken to perform the labor which usually falls on the private in the ranks, but there has not lurked within me the hope of any reward save the consciousness of having made an effort to assist in bringing about satisfactory conditions in the party."

Greater Than Free Trade

Cape Town, June 16.—Premier Sir Gordon Sprigg, in the course of a debate in parliament today on the South African customs convention, took occasion to refer in terms of warm approval to Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's preferential tariff proposals. He said that though he himself had always been an ardent free trader he was bound to admit that there was something greater than free trade, namely, the consolidation of the empire. The premier's remarks were cheered on both sides of the house.

Will Miners Strike

Scranton, Pa., June 15.—President Mitchell was unanimously elected chairman of the United Mine Workers' convention, called to take action on the refusal of the operators to recognize District Presidents Fahey, Nicholls and Dettrey as the miners' representatives on the conciliation board. Nearly five hundred delegates were present. President Mitchell addressed the convention. He said in part: "Gentlemen, it is needless to say that the refusal of the mine owners to live up to the award of the strike commission is a decided disappointment to me. I was hopeful, after our long strike, and after the commission had made its award, that each side would accept it. I desire to say that if the United Mine Workers should refuse to comply with every letter of the award I would be first to condemn them. We must do nothing we cannot defend. I might say for myself that I am hopeful we may find an honorable way out of the calamity. The commission's award "Then, if you are willing, we will be married at once, but we will not live in the close-crowded city. I will purchase a little farm, and we will live on it and be as happy as turtle-doves."

"And I shall be a farmer's wife."

"Yes, my darling."

"And what do you think, John? You won't have to buy a milking-stool for me, for I've got one already."

"You have?"

"Oh, yes, the prettiest you ever saw—decorated with plush and cherry colored ribbons.—English paper. was not a great financial victory for us, but it was a great moral victory. We can afford to bear our disappointment and live up to the award."

"He's rather an indifferent character, that fellow, isn't he?"

"That's so. He's forever saying, 'I don't care if I do.'"—Philadelphia Press.

COVERED WITH HAIL

Were Dead Bodies at Heppner, Oregon

Provisions and Supplies Going in by Train Loads—Terrible Sights.

Heppner, Or., June 19.—The developments today show the Heppner death list will pass estimates of the last two days. Now prominent citizens are beginning to make estimates from 250 up, no one falling below the former number. Not all these bodies will be found. Some are washed to the Columbia river, forty miles away, and some are probably buried in cellar bottoms right in town. There are several large shifts of men at work, and corpses are being found many miles away.

At the rate bodies are coming in, the list will easily reach 200 actually found, identified and buried. There are doubtless dozens more.

BODIES ARE FROZEN.
While the bodies found yesterday and today were in a horrible condition, many were frozen stiff when brought into the hot sun, a phenomenon rendered possible by their covering of hail. Great banks of frozen hailstones still lie in the drifts, with bodies. Corpses not thus situated are so bad that workmen hate to touch them. Where people were rolled before a wall of hail during the flood they were stripped naked and their flesh whipped into a solid bruise.

Five carloads of provisions have arrived at Lexington for the destitute. The work of the relief committee is becoming more arduous. Hungry and destitute families are being found and are being cared for as rapidly as possible.

Superintendent O'Brien, of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation, arrived this morning and hurried five wagons out to load provisions. Trains may reach Heppner by Sunday, when all danger of want will be passed. The relief fund has reached $20,000, and it is estimated that $40,000 will be sent in within the next week.

MORE VICTIMS MISSING.
The following is a list of additional persons missing and believed to be lost:

Otis Bullis, 23 years, of Tower City, N. D.; J. Staley, 40 years, Bessie Paul, Ed. H. Bell, Gertrude Ford, John Connor, 40 years, of Meacham, Or., or Hardmann, Or.; Joe Potter.

The bodies of Mrs. Douglas Gurdane, wife of the city marshal; Mrs. Boyd and child, a Chinese and Erma Ashbaugh were found and identified today, bringing the official list of dead to 157.

Ten bodies were recovered today from the debris along Willow creek. Three gangs of men will continue the search for bodies for a couple of days yet and then it is thought that the task will be given up. Tons of hailstones are still found in sheltered places, although the weather has been hot for five days. The O. R. & N. Company will have its line open to this point tomorrow morning, when regular service will be resumed on the Heppner branch.

The list of dead recovered today follows:—Will L. Salling, assessor of Morrow county; Mrs. Douglas Gurdane, Bessie Paul, Gertrude Ford, E. C. Ashbaugh's child, a Chinese.

This brings the total number of bodies found to 161. Those were all dug out of drifts from three to four miles below the town, four being discovered by the railroad workmen engaged in clearing the Oregon Railroad & Navigation roadbed of debris.

Mrs. Mary Paul was working with others in the morgue when the mud-covered form of a child was brought up the stairway and laid upon the cleansing table. She took up a sponge and wiped the features clear. Suddenly she screamed in bitter grief. The bruised features of her little daughter Bessie were before her.

Will Enforce Law.
Seattle, June 20.—Henry Rief, who in addition to his duties as game warden of King county has fallen in to those of forest warden, will start early next week on a tour of the country. He will investigate conditions which are apt to give rise to forest fires, and will instruct his 125 deputies as to their duties. Warden Rief will pay particular attention to the district around Enumclaw, which in recent years has been the center of destructive conflagrations.

The laws passed by the last legislature in regard to the protection of forests went into effect May 10. Previous to that time the only law in the state applicable to those maliciously starting fires was the United States law pertaining to public government land, under which one arrested was made during the last five years. The new law provides fines of from $25 to $5,000 for starting, without permission, a fire with intent to destroy forest land. A term of imprisonment may also be included in the punishment. For leaving a camp fire burning, a fine of $25 to $100 may be imposed.

"It will be one of my business," said Warden Rief yesterday, "to bring to task all offenders against the forest laws from now on. My deputies, among whom are all the road supervisors in the county, will have instructions to keep a close lookout for breakers of the law. I shall devote most of my time when out to logging roads and camps, from which most danger is to be apprehended. The last fire at Enumclaw, which threatened great damage, was started by the superintendent of a logging company.

"I do not expect a repetition this summer of the big fires we had last year. People, I think, have taken warning from the disaster of the last dry season, and are more cautious in respect to starting fires. I shall be in and out of the city at all times during my trip."

Last Outlaw Killed.
Butte, Mont., June 19.—A Glasgow special to the Miner says James McKinney, the last of the Glasgow fugitives who broke jail June 6, was shot to death tonight, after he had made an ineffectual attempt to kill Miss Darnell, who discovered him hiding in her ice house. The shell stuck in McKinney's rifle, and while he was endeavoring to extract it the girl's father appeared with a rifle and shot the outlaw through the arm. The fugitive then made a dash for the brush, but another shot from Darnell's rifle brought the desperado to the ground. McKinney lived three hours after being shot.

McKinney is the third one of the four prisoners who participated in a general break from Glasgow, June 6, to meet a violent death, and their escape has cost five lives. William Hardee, under sentence of death, Jack Brown, James McKinney and a prisoner named Pierce broke jail, after murdering Jack Williams, the guard. Hardee was killed in battle with the posse Monday night, after he had first shot and killed Posseman Charles R. Hill. Jack Brown was recaptured by the officers, and later taken from the jail by a mob and lynched. Pierce has been lost track of and it is believed has succeeded in getting out of the country.

Makes Appearance.
St. Louis, June 19.—E. J. Arnold, proprietor of the Arnold Tuff Investment Company, chief of the exploded get-rich-quick concerns, appeared at the four courts shortly after eleven o'clock today and surrendered himself. Arnold, who is charged in indictments with fraud, has been missing since his company went to pieces in February. Attorney Rowe accompanied Arnold to the four courts. Arnold stated that he was ready to give bond. Arnold's manager, L. A. Gill, is also under indictment and has been missing from the city.

Upon surrendering himself Arnold announced that he was ready to give bond to answer the seven indictments against him. The bonds for $800 on each charge were prepared immediately, and after being signed Arnold, accompanied by his wife, attorney and bondsmen, drove away.

Arnold declined to make any statement as to his whereabouts since he was sought by the grand jury after the collapse of his company.

Touched Live Wire.
Philadelphia, June 19.—Otto Thornert, an electrical expert from Germany, was instantly killed by touching a live wire while inspecting a new switchboard for the Germantown Electric Company. Thornert had been here but a few weeks. He was formerly assistant supervisor of an electric light system in Berlin and was an authority on electrical construction. He was making the final adjustment of the switchboard when the accident occurred.

The Servian Tragedy.

The Servian method of doing things is in many respects an improvement over the continuous performance indulged in by Kentucky as an illustration of the superiority of the American type of civilization.—Aberdeen Bulletin.

The more one hears of the Servian tragedy the worse it appears. For pure, unadulterated, cold-blooded inhumanity it surpasses anything within the conception of living man. It is reported that the European powers will insist on the punishment of those directly connected with the crime. This is insisted on, it is said, in order to establish a semblance of law and order, and in a measure to demonstrate the feebleness of protest that the powers deem it necessary to make. Altogether it looks like a sham and farce.—Olympia Recorder.

The horrible tragedy encompassing the death by assassination of the king and queen of Servia, while reprehensible as to the act, is an indication that the world is advancing, and stands as a warning that rulers of nations must be men and women in the true sense. "The king can do no wrong" is an expression that will be no longer tolerated in the face of an evil administration. That those placed in the highest positions in the gift of nations or monarchies, must possess all the attributes of true manhood or womanhood is emphasized by the Servian tragedy.—Yakima Herald.

Long Sitting.
Ottawa, June 13.—The house of commons sat all night and did not rise until 6:20 this morning. The trouble was over the item of $35,000 for the census bureau for the coming year. The opposition discussed this item for a time and then asked that it should stand. The item of $150,000 for exhibitions was then passed after some explanations by Hon. Sydney Fisher as to the government's plans for the St. Louis exposition. Then the opposition reverted to the census item and kept up the debate until long after dawn. The item failed to pass, but before adjournment an appropriation of $220,000 for the dairy service was agreed to. Mr. Cliby did most of the talking on behalf of the opposition. Three ministers stayed out the night, Messrs. Fielding, Fisher, and Sutherland. It was a very tired and sleepy looking house that separated when Dr. Macdonald, the deputy speaker, declared the proceedings adjourned this morning.

A Little Bit of Ireland.
If you ask a Scotchman whether he loves shamrock best or heather—
Ah, I know heath—surely say,
"Gie me heather o' the brae."
But still I love the shamrock—
Its bloom is dear to me,
With its pretty myrtle three.

O, the red rose is more queenly,
And she looks down scornfully
On her sisters of the vale,
But the haw'd by many a gale,
Still I love the fairy shamrock—
Its bloom is dear to me,
With its pretty myrtle three.

Grows a little starry flower,
Where the mighty mountains tower,
'Tis the placid rare celandine,
And the Swiss may think it rare,
But the bright and tender shamrock
Is the fairest yet to me,
With its pretty myrtle three.

The autumn tinted maple
Is an emblem staunch and staid,
In its varied hues combine
Many flowers fair and fine,
Still I love the modest shamrock—
Its bloom is dear to me,
With its pretty myrtle three.

"Scots wha hae," then let us whistle
For the sturdy true old thistle—
Shamrock, thistle, maple rose,
All their beauties may disclose,
But best I love the shamrock—
Its bloom is dear to me,
With its pretty myrtle three.

ANOTHER GO ARRANGE

Burley and Choyms Will Meet Again

Event Will Probably Take July 25th—Both Men Have Resumed Training

Nick Burley and Joe Choymski have another go. They had a fight and agreed upon an after fight. They have made to the D. A. and it is understood the latter brought consider and accept the position submitted by the pug. It is probable that the date for the contest will be Tuesday, July 25th, although the date has yet been positively agreed upon. Mr. and Mrs. Choymski have Joe's opinion on Third Avenue doors. "Both of 'em" where they will reside during the summer of their stay in Dawson. A veteran ring man began his experience today by trotting down the mountainside back towards the mountain part of town. It is known yet where his indoor will be done, whether at the gymnasium or in some cabaret to his residence. The left hand which was injured late in the fight was improving very. All the swelling was out of the evening and only a slight crease exists where the bone of the hand was dislocated. Otherwise Choymski is in shape than when he began the fight for the previous go as he became accustomed to the water and other local conditions. As to Burley—well, Nick runs to step into the ring of "bur" notice. He is still and is in better condition of health. He will continue his gruniasium and may be expected to be there with the first call of time. The time which the approaching will be held have not yet been announced.

Manila Rope.
What is called Manila has been long known as the chief export of money crop of the Philippines. Furthermore, efforts have been made to produce the other East Indies, its perfection in the American islands only.

There are historical as well as natural reasons why America take a particular interest in Manila. American sailors first used its peculiar merits and introduced it to the world. American sailors were the first to plant it largely. The United States has been by far the largest buyer of it.

The production of Manila, comparatively modern industry in 1820 little was produced, but of which the plant known as hemp was exported to the American whaling industry in the height of its prosperity. Whalers, ever alert to news, soon discovered that the Oriental fiber made the strongest harpoon lines.

Until 1830 the whole import trade of the Philippines was in the hands of Spanish monopoly. The first American firm which secured a special concession from the Spanish government, chief office in Manila hemp.

Although the plant that this fiber grows wild in China and requires special cultivation, and although the hemp of areas upon which planted, Manila hemp is the highest priced of cotton.

The reason is that for 1845 there has been great improvement in the method of spinning the fiber. The best fiber is now made in 1855 by drawing the fiber through a series of smooth-edged knives down on a block of wood. A new-edged knife that was used until then had been expeditious, but the fiber that the insular government was prohibiting was employing inspectors to see that it was not used.

It remains for the Yankins to supplement the work of the spinner and the Yankins, with Manila, by using a machine that will now done by hand labor, and the Chicago-Inter Ocean.

ANOTHER GO ARRANGED

Burley and Choynski Will Meet Again

Event Will Probably Take Place July 21st—Both Men Have Resumed Training

Burley and Choynski will have another go. They had a meeting and agreed upon an offer which they have made to the D. A. A. A. It is understood the latter will not consider and accept the proposition submitted by the pugilists.

It is probable that the date fixed for the contest will be Tuesday night, July 21st, although the date has not yet been positively agreed upon.

Mr. and Mrs. Choynski have taken the Boyle's cabin on Third avenue a few doors north of Albert street where they will reside during the remainder of their stay in Dawson.

The former ring man began his training exercises today by trotting up and down the mountainside back of the northern part of town. It is not known yet where his indoor training will be done, whether at the Club gymnasium or in some cabin connected to his residence.

Choynski's left hand which was injured in the late go is improving very rapidly. The swelling was out of it yesterday evening and only a small sprain exists where the bone in the back of the hand was dislocated.

Otherwise Choynski is in better shape than when he began training the previous go as he has now become accustomed to the climate, the water and other local conditions.

As to Burley—well, Nicholas is ready to step into the ring on half an hour's notice. He is still training and is in better condition than ever before. He will continue his work at the gymnasium and may be depended upon to be there with the goods at the first call of time.

The terms upon which the approaching contest will be held have not yet been announced.

Manila Rope

What is called Manila hemp is the best cordage fiber known. It is the chief export or money crop of the Philippines. Furthermore, although it is the other East Indies, it grows to perfection in the American possessions only.

There are historical as well as material reasons why Americans should have a particular interest in Manila hemp. American sailors first discovered its peculiar merits and introduced it to the world. American merchants were the first to deal in it largely. The United States has always been by far the largest consumer of it.

The production of Manila hemp is a comparatively modern industry. Prior to 1830 little was produced in the islands of which the plant is a native. It was exported until 1825. The American whaling industry was then at the height of its prosperity. Yankee whalers, ever alert for improvements, soon discovered that this new Oriental fiber made the lightest and strongest harpoon lines.

Until 1830 the whole export and import trade of the Philippines, with the exception, was in the hands of a Spanish monopoly. The exception was an American firm which had secured a special concession from the Spanish government, chiefly for dealing in Manila hemp.

Although the plant that produces this fiber grows wild in the Philippines and requires practically no cultivation, and although there are millions of acres upon which it might be planted, Manila hemp is still about the highest priced of cordage fibers.

The reason is that for seventy-five years there has been practically no improvement in the method of separating the fiber from the surrounding pulp. The best fiber is still produced, as in 1825, by drawing the stalks under a smooth-edged knife pressed down on a block of wood. By using a saw-edged knife this process may be expedited, but the fiber is so injured that the insular government is thinking of prohibiting such knives and employing inspectors to see that none are used.

It remains for the Yankee inventor to supplement the work of the Yankee sailor and the Yankee merchant for and with Manila hemp by devising a machine that will do what is now done by hand labor—get the fiber out of the pulp without injuring it.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

STREETS GRADED

Much Improving Being Done by City Council

Alderman Ryan, chairman of the streets, works and property committee of the city council, has had a vast deal of work done so far this summer on several of the residence streets which is very greatly appreciated by the people residing on those streets. Parts of Seventh avenue has received badly needed attention and Eighth avenue has been transformed from a sideling passageway to a street upon which a load may be hauled without fear of upsetting or miring down. On the last named street, the uphill side of the road has been plowed up and scraped out by horses, the center of the road being rounded which gives a level roadway and affords needed drainage. Eighth avenue is open for traffic very nearly from a connection with the A. C. trail to a point a couple of blocks south of Church street. Another thoroughfare that is to receive attention is the alley running north and south between Eighth and Ninth avenues and extending from Queen street south. Ninth avenue in that vicinity is half way up the hill where it is so steep it would be almost impossible to make a road. The result is that many residences have been built on the lots facing the avenue though the houses stand the reverse, facing the river and the entrance being via the alley. The latter is the only method by which an entrance can be effected and it is to be made more passable for both teams and pedestrians.

Is Lett Pethless

San Francisco, June 19.—It is a hard luck story of robbery, sickness and destitution in a strange land that a young, refined and pretty Russian woman at the International hotel has to tell. The young woman is Mrs. Natalia Nurkiewicz, wife of a former contractor on the great Transsiberian line, and who, until last spring, lived for several years in the Russian-Chinese city of Porth Arthur.

Mrs. Nurkiewicz arrived in San Francisco Wednesday night on the steamer Nevada, from Honolulu. With her are her three little daughters, the eldest 8 years of age. The mother and little ones are now en route to Vancouver, B. C., where they will join the husband and father who as yet knows nothing of the suffering and hardship his wife and children have endured since he left them in Honolulu on May 6 last.

Bronislaw Nurkiewicz went to Honolulu from Port Arthur early this year. He did not like business prospects there, and decided to go on to British Columbia with his family. At the last moment he found he could only secure one berth, and as it was important that he should go at once, he decided to leave his family behind.

He gave his wife $3,200, all American gold, and she was to follow with the children in a month. That was last May. Mrs. Nurkiewicz was taken ill, however, and for some days was confined to her room. Meanwhile she kept the money under a pillow.

One day she took the children out for a walk, asking Vladislav Tremski, a Polish bookkeeper, friend of her brother-in-law, to accompany her. He declined on the plea that he had a dinner engagement with Capt. Johnson, of the Honolulu board of health.

When the little woman returned to her rooms from the park she discovered that the hiding place of her family treasure had been discovered and the money stolen. Summoning Chas. F. Chillingworth, the deputy sheriff of Hawaii, she told him the story of the robbery. A little investigation showed Tremski had not been to dinner with Capt. Johnson.

Later Chillingworth, arrested Tremski on suspicion of having stolen Mrs. Nurkiewicz's money. The latter was unable to furnish sufficient evidence, however, and the bookkeeper was discharged.

Mrs. Nurkiewicz says the deputy sheriff impounded her to depart from Honolulu and join her husband in Vancouver, informing her, she says, that there was a better chance of the bookkeeper spending her money if he had it, after she had left the islands, and that the police might then secure some evidence against the supposed thief. As she was penniless, Mrs. Nurkiewicz says Chillingworth advanced her $100 and a week ago she sailed on the Nevada for this port.

OUTPUTS

Grand Total of Last Year First Published

Amount Upon Which the Export Tax Was Paid is Valued at $12,358,683.

It may be considered rather early to begin estimating on the gold output for the present year, but the figures covering the amounts presented at the comptroller's office for export for the months of May and June as compared with the same time last year are more than interesting. The total of last year's output, which has not before been published, may also prove of interest as will doubtless the fact that exports were made continuously during the winter for the first time in the history of the country. There was not a month in the year even after the close of navigation that the stage did not carry out a more or less quantity of treasure, the smallest sum exported in any one month being in November, when that upon which the tax was paid in Dawson was $7,332 and for the entire territory $11,523, the difference between those two amounts showing the value of the dust upon which the tax was paid either in Whitehorse or Fortymile. During the remainder of the winter months the amounts varied from $82,969 in February, down to $40,050 in the month following.

The fiscal year of the territory ends on June 30, but in computing the output of gold for any one year, the year is presumed to begin May 1 and end the following April; there being practically no sluicing or marketing of the new crop of gold before May 1 and that sent out in midwinter during of necessity have been mined during the previous summer. The total output of the Klondike district for that period by months was as follows, the amounts shown being the value of the dust rated at $15 per ounce upon which the export tax was paid at the Dawson office:

Table with columns for month and amount. Rows include May 1902, June, July, August, September, October, November, December, January 1903, February, March, April.

Total $12,358,683. That, as stated, was for the Klondike district alone and to which sum must be added $295,203, the value of the dust upon which the tax was paid either at Whitehorse or Fortymile making the total output for the year 1902 of $12,653,886 according to the books in the office of Comptroller Lithgow. As dust is still in constant circulation on the creeks and the banks and large companies, jewelers and other firms always have a more or less quantity on hand it is safe to say that the value of the gold mined in the Yukon territory last year exceeded twelve and a half millions.

What it will be this year is still a matter of conjecture, though the best posted men in this vicinity have not hesitated to say that it will be larger than last year. May of this year shows a great increase over May of last year when the exportations for that month were but $19,890 as compared with $173,781 for May of this year. June, however, has fallen behind. Last year the amount was $3,324,180. The last named figures, though, are for Dawson alone and upon the report being received from Whitehorse and Fortymile for last month the amount will be increased to a certain extent. For the two months as far as is known at present last year's exports exceeded the present by $71,853. The revenue received by the government last year from the 24 export tax levied on all gold mined in the territory amounted to $308,967.97.

Four Drowned

Montreal, June 14.—A man, a woman and two children were drowned in a swift part of the St. Lawrence near Bout l'Isle, this evening. From shore the men were seen to lose control of the boat and soon the other occupants, becoming excited, the boat upset, throwing them all into the water.

The name of the drowned is Pierre Guay. The others were his wife and children. One body has been recovered.

MAX STEINFIELD

Again in Court and is Remanded One Week

Max Steinfield, the self-confessed robber of Isaac Bros.' warehouse was this morning remanded back to jail for one week by Mr. Justice Macaulay pending passing of sentence by Magistrate Wroughton before whom the plea of guilty was entered.

His honor informed Steinfield this morning that he had conferred with Magistrate Wroughton and the result of the conference was that the time Steinfield is serving before sentence is passed will be deducted from the time imposed in the sentence. It is not likely that Steinfield will be sentenced until after the trial of his alleged accomplice, Sam Levy, whose case is set for hearing in the territorial court on July 16th. Levy is confined in the jail pending his trial.

Grand Trunk Plans

Montreal, June 15.—A statement credited to Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, on the eve of his departure for England, says that the Grand Trunk Railway proposes to spend $75,000,000, which will be raised by an issue of common stock of the Grand Trunk Pacific, and that the company will eventually have a trans-continental line of 3,000 miles long, competing directly with the Canadian Pacific for traffic between Atlantic and Pacific points. At the head offices of the company here it is discredited, on the ground that Sir Rivers Wilson would scarcely announce how far the Grand Trunk Railway is prepared to go until after the government makes known their intentions.

Saloon Man Killed

Atchison, Kan., June 19.—Nick Beirich, a German, 40 years old, proprietor of a saloon in Eighth street, was shot and killed by Theodore McKim. McKim was mortally wounded later in an exchange of shots with the officer. McKim admitted the killing and said they fought over a game of dice.

Another man, a comrade of McKim who says his name is Charles Long, and that he lives at Quincey, Ill., was also shot by the police and it is believed fatally wounded. Long was found later some distance from the scene of the shooting. He asserts that he was not in Beirich's place.

Charges of Boodling

St. Louis, Mo., June 19.—According to James A. Waterworth, an insurance expert of St. Louis, the refusal of insurance companies to put up $10,000 for boodlers in the legislative session of 1899 was responsible for the passage of the bills abolishing rating boards in the cities, and county insurance.

At the session two years ago, first bills were introduced. At the old figure, $40,000, was demanded for passage. This was afterward reduced to $25,000, the companies refused to produce the money, and the bills were killed in committee.

Now Safe

New York, June 5.—The Hamburg-American liner Deutschland, after being stuck in the mud off Sandy Hook for nearly twenty-four hours, was wrenched free at high water late today and proceeded to sea. It took the combined efforts of seven vessels and her own powerful screws to get her into deep water, and once back into the channel she headed for the sea and crossed the bar under the escort of small boats. She was not injured and it is expected that she will make her average speed in crossing.

Supposed Murderer

Rochester, N.Y., June 5.—Detective John C. Hayden left the city this evening for Detroit to bring back Joseph Pinkey, arrested in that city. Pinkey is supposed to be the murderer of George Hickey in this city on August 19 last. Hickey and three others were engaged in a midnight drunken brawl in a vacant lot on Brooks avenue, when a quarrel followed and Hickey was stabbed in the throat. He staggered into a hotel nearby, fell to the floor and expired without uttering a word. The alleged murderer was a man said to be "Toronto Slim." One of the party present at the brawl claims the picture of "Pinkey" is Toronto Slim.

Lieutenant's Face Punched

San Francisco, June 18.—When Lieut. C. Carrigan, U.S.A., son of a local merchant, graduate of the University of California and a volunteer in the recent war with Spain, awoke in his temporary quarters at the Palace hotel this morning he was sorer, but probably wiser from an experience of the previous night. Carrigan and two young companions, with spirits noticeably buoyant, strayed into the Palace hotel last evening and proceeded to demolish the bootblacking establishment located in the basement of the big hostelry. Something in the architect's design of the stand, so it is believed, was objectionable to the trio and they lifted the structure from its base and threw it to the other end of the room.

The incident might have passed without undue notice from the colored attendant had not the three young men made reference to the bootblacker's color in language that riled his blood and immediately put him in a fighting mood.

Suddenly turning on his tormentors, the black man floored them in rapid succession. The blow received by Carrigan landed squarely on his mouth, from which blood flowed freely for several minutes.

Another of the three received a black eye and the third got a swat on the nose that made that organ look like a carmine colored incandescent electric light globe.

It was a one-sided fight, for the white men quickly realized that they were up against a Tartar and were not slow in beating a retreat to the office floor of the hotel.

It later developed that the bootblacker is to be a participant in a boxing contest next week and has just begun slowing up on his training when the opportunity to try his prowess was afforded him last evening.

Carrigan and his two companions left the hotel, but returned at 10:30 and for a time it was thought that they had come for more trouble.

Quite to the contrary, however, the lieutenant went directly to his room and his two friends, realizing that he was out of danger for the night, again took their departure.

Sir Thomas Lipton seems to have met with a world of trouble in getting the third Shamrock ready for business. Another break occurred yesterday and the try out races were again postponed. Sir Thomas has spent money like water in his endeavors to lift the America's cup.

While this far unsuccessful by has given the world an example of splendid sportsmanship.

Dogs Not Tagged

There are several owners of from half a dozen to a dozen or more dogs in the city who within a short time will be brought up with a sharp turn if they do not take out licenses for their brutes, according to a statement made yesterday by a member of the city council. Some of these people, said he, "imagine that, if their dogs are kept strictly at home and within their own door yard they are exempt from a license, but such is not the case as they will find out to their sorrow. I know one man who has about fifteen dogs—and has taken out two licenses to cover them all, one for a male and one for a female. In addition to his neglect we have had many complaints about them with reference to them being a general nuisance, disturbing people in that vicinity at night to greatly that it is impossible to get any sleep. Another person who is disregarding the ordinance is a woman who has a pack of a dozen or more worthless curs which make the night hideous at times. She also has taken out but one or two of the most two licenses, whereas everyone not so tagged is liable to be taken up even though the dog catener might have to go inside her yard to get them."

The member asked that the matter be given publicity in order that those violating the dog bylaw might be warned as to what they might expect in the future in case they fail to comply with the provisions of the ordinance.

Seven Killed

Glasgow, June 13.—Three men, three boys and a woman were killed and a number of persons were injured last night as the result of a fire at a whisky distillery. Thousands of casks of spirits exploded, blowing down a wall of an adjoining flour mill. The victims were buried beneath the debris, around which the blazing whisky streamed. A million gallons of whisky were burned.

Interdicted Man Gets Off on Toot

Peter Young MacArthur After Two Months Cultivates a Red One.

Peter Young MacArthur, a man who bears a striking resemblance to William Jennings, the apostle of free silver and unlimited coinage in the ratio of 16 to 1, was before Mr. Justice Macaulay this morning in police court on the charge of having at an early hour this morning at the Orpheum dance hall been drunk and disorderly and in addition to having violated an interdiction order imposed upon him two months ago, the order to cover a period of one year. When arraigned MacArthur said, "I must be guilty, I guess."

When Corporal Stewart saw Peter in the dance hall at 3 o'clock this morning he was partially under the influence of liquor and knowing him to be an interdicted person asked him where he had obtained whisky. Peter made some evasive answer and said something about a policeman giving it to him. The corporal could get no further satisfaction and ordered Peter to go home. Half an hour later the same officer found the same Peter very drunk and took him to the barracks.

Deciding to give Peter a further show to adhere to his interdiction, his honor passed the grave offense of the violation of the order, talked kindly to the erring man and advised him to keep clear of temptation by keeping away from drinkers and drinking. "If I learn who supplied you with the liquor I will show no mercy," said his honor.

Peter promised to try and abstain in the future, a friend slipped him $6, the amount of the fine and costs and the matter was settled.

Another Victim of the Cruel Yukon

The Yukon river has given up another of its victims, a body having been found on its bank almost immediately opposite Circle City on June 20th. The identity of the body was not learned.

The news of the finding of the body was brought to Dawson by J. E. Clark who had come out from Tanana across the country and was at Circle awaiting the arrival of the steamer Rock Island on which he came on to Dawson. Thinking that perhaps the body was that of one of the two of the three men drowned in the Klondike river on May 15th, Mr. Clark on his arrival in Dawson submitted to the police a report the substance of which is as follows:

On June 20th some Indians came to Circle and reported finding a human body across the river. Mr. Clark and three other white men accompanied the Indians to the spot where they found the badly decomposed body of a man 5 feet and 9 or 10 inches in height; hair still remaining on the head was dark; the teeth were good which lead the men to believe the body was that of a young man.

The body had but recently been thrown up on the bank or bar by the water; the flesh of the face was so torn and discolored as to leave no trace of features. The only clothing on the body was a woolen undershirt and one felt shoe, the presence of the latter indicating that the body had been in the water since before the spring thaw began as after that time fells are seldom worn.

Clark and those with him took accurate account of everything about the body after which they buried it, as it advanced stage of decomposition would not permit of its being longer held for investigation.

As to size and color of hair the description of the body would tally with that of William Bailey, one of the three men drowned in the Klondike May 15th and one of the two whose bodies passed into the Yukon and out of sight, but it can not be his for it is known positively that Bailey at the time of his death was wearing leather shoes. Neither can the body be that of Hegland, drowned with Bailey, as the hair does not correspond in color, that of Hegland being light.

It may never be known who the unfortunate was in life, but one more victim has been claimed by the relentless Yukon.

ANNUAL DRUNK

Miner From Creeks Celebrates at Early Morn

Bartlett House Women Out July 11

With bedrock gravel adhering to his shoes Thos. Webster was before Mr. Justice Macaulay this morning on the charge of having been drunk and disorderly at the unseemly hour of 8:15 yesterday morning—unseemly because too late for a night and too early for a day jag. Thos. has no doubt at some time in his career attended an Uncle Tom's Cabin play and witnessed the tableau where Little Eva climbs the golden stairs, for when arrested yesterday morning he was endeavoring to climb the fire escape on the Rochester hotel, the probable result of too many high balls.

As yesterday was a holiday Thos. stated that he had come to town the previous evening from the creeks after a year's hard work and had taken too many drinks. About a year ago he did the same thing and confessed with a blush that he had been arrested for a like offense. He promised that if let off he would hike with a hasty pack to the creeks and resume the pick and shovel. His honor was compassionate and decided to give Thos. a chance, so let him go. As T. left the box a smile stole over his features, which indicated self-congratulation on having been lucky instead of good looking.

TIME IS NEARLY UP

Bartlett House Women Out July 11

Have Mastered the Art of Washing and Ironing During Their Imprisonment.

By Sunday, July 12th, Lucille Martin, Marcelle Martin and Louise Corrogaard, the three females of Bartlett House—fame and notoriety will have completed the two-months' sentence imposed on them for keeping and being inmates of a disorderly house. As the 12th falls on Sunday the three women will be liberated Saturday evening.

Since being confined in the jail the women have been kept busily engaged at washing and ironing the clothes of the other prisoners and as washstubs and smoothing irons had not formerly appeared in their pathways they were wholly unaccustomed to their uses and in consequence were very awkward with the work at first. Two months' experience, however, has made them quite proficient and it is said to be astonishing how rapidly they can separate real estate from a pair of convict overalls.

The women will emerge from the jail penniless and jewelless as they hypothesized everything they owned to raise bail money for John Roberts who was charged with being supported by them. Roberts skipped as the women intended he should but they aided him with all they had to prevent him doing six months at hard labor.

"Some info," said Uncle Eben, "will put in weeks praying for rain and then when it happens to get their feet wet."—Washington Star.

REPORT CONFIRMED Of Finding Bones of an Unknown Man on the Porcupine. John Wood, a trapper who has been on the Porcupine for some time, filed a report with the police today regarding the finding of a lot of human bones in the Porcupine last fall, confirming the exclusive report published in Monday's Nugget concerning the same matter secured through an interview with Bob Mason, also freed from the Porcupine region. Wood stated to the police that the bones were scattered about in a manner that would indicate the body had either been killed by wild beasts or had been disturbed by them after death had ensued from another cause, probably freezing to death. There was not the slightest clue by which the identity of the unfortunate man could be established with the exception of a rifle found by his side upon the stock of which was engraved the letters "J. J. J." The bones were gathered together, a hole dug and they were decently interred, a blank on a tree near by marking the resting place of another unknown who was lured to his death in the inhospitable north by the seductive tales of gold.
