VOL. VII. NO. 100

GUELPH, ONT., CANADA, SATURDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 29, 1873.

PRICE TWO CENTS

Valedictory of The Guelph Advertiser.

With this issue, our readers have the last of the GUELPH ADVERTISER in its present form. Hereafter the paper will be amalgamated with the Guelph Mercury, and the two will appear as one, under the title of the "GUELPH MERCURY AND ADVERTISER." This step has been taken with due consideration, and with a full conviction of its benefit to all parties concerned. The two papers have for a long time been strictly in accord on all essential matters of political and local import; have been uniform in size and general appearance; and have worked harmoniously together in the promotion of what we considered the best interests of the country, the county, and the town. The subject of amalgamation has been for some time under consideration, as we felt convinced that it was not for the best interests of either ourselves or the public to keep up two distinct establishments on the same basis, both profiting to the detriment of the one political party and holding similar views in regard to local matters. Both papers having very large circulations, and having for many years been regarded as amongst the very best conducted and most influential provincial journals, the uniting of the two will give the Reform party an organ which will be in a position to wield more influence than perhaps any other outside of the large cities. And as a general newspaper for all classes of the community, the MERCURY AND ADVERTISER may justly claim to be excelled by none.

The ADVERTISER has been in existence since 1845, and during that time has undergone several changes in proprietorship. Except for a brief period, a few years ago, it has kept a uniformly consistent course as an independent, outspoken, exponent of the principles of the Reform party. That exceptional period was the result of unwise counsel and came near proving disastrous to the then publisher. It, however, recovered from the effects and we believe has since amply atoned for the error. The present publisher has worked hard and honestly to keep it up to the highest standard of provincial journalism, and if he has not succeeded in doing all that he might have wished, he has at least the satisfaction of knowing that he has done his utmost under the adverse circumstances which has surrounded him—and that he has nothing to reproach himself with, except it be, perhaps, at having undertaken too herculean a task with the limited capital at his command. He trusts he may be pardoned in indulging the belief that since the ADVERTISER came under his control, a year-and-a-half ago, it has at least not deteriorated in the opinion of its readers. He acknowledges many shortcomings, and has more than once felt humiliated at the apparent lack of careful attention to its practical details; but now, in writing its valedictory, he does so with a consciousness of having done his duty to his patrons, and of having expended his efforts in the cause of right and justice. While we have never looked or hoped for pecuniary reward from the party with which we are affiliated, we are not certain that we have even had the moral support or recognition of our services, that one would naturally suppose we were fairly entitled to. We don't say this in a spirit of complaint, but to disabuse the minds of the public from the generally received opinion that newspapers are largely sustained by political parties and by Government patronage. The days of "pay" are long since gone by, and newspapers now-a-days are usually published on purely commercial principles. If subscribers fail to pay up promptly, and if advertisers don't find it to their interest to give a paper sufficient patronage, the result is a financial failure, and it can only be sustained by the outlay of unlimited capital. We must confess that the publication of the ADVERTISER for a year-and-a-half has not been the means of adding many ducats to our private exchequer. It has been up-hill work to keep current receipts equal to current expenditures, and such being the case, it has been a very difficult task to give proper attention to editorial matters. We thus felt that the drag was greater than our resources would warrant us in sustaining. By amalgamating the subscription lists of the two papers, both would, we believe, be benefitted without detriment to the readers of either.

Mr. Innes will hereafter supply the subscribers of the ADVERTISER with the MERCURY AND ADVERTISER, and will collect all accounts due for the paper. All accounts for advertising and job printing will be paid to the undersigned, who will continue to carry on the jobbing business in the premises now occupied, in St. George's Square. We now say to the readers of the ADVERTISER, Farewell, hoping that we may often have the pleasure of meeting many of them in our job printing establishment, and of executing for them any style of plain or fancy printing.

JOS. H. HACKING.

The ADVERTISER is the oldest paper in the County of Wellington, and one of the oldest in Ontario. Since its establishment in 1845 by Mr. John Smith, it has passed through many vicissitudes of fortune, but throughout its whole existence it has been found steadily and untiringly laboring in the cause of Reform. In 1857 the paper was purchased by Mr. P. Clerhew, who conducted it for a year, after which it passed into the hands of Mr. J. Wilkinson, who retained the management of it for about twelve years. It was then purchased by Messrs. Dunn & Walker, and about a year subsequently changed hands again, coming into the possession of the present proprietor, who has done everything that unceasing hard work, energy, and perseverance could do, to promote its prosperity and usefulness. The various changes of ownership through which the paper has passed have possibly operated injuriously to it, and may have had the effect of shaking public confidence to a certain extent, thus alienating in a measure the patronage which it formerly enjoyed. When the paper came into the hands of the present proprietor in 1872, it was not in as healthy a condition as could be wished, nevertheless the proprietor, having an extensive acquaintance with the printing business, relied upon his exertions and energy to make it more than ever worthy of public patronage, and to this end spent large sums in needed improvements, and in replenishing the office with new material. This outlay has been fruitful to a large extent in enabling us to turn out a much better quality of printing, the natural result of which was, that many of the old patrons of the institution gave their support once more, and many new customers were attracted. But while the jobbing department improved in prosperity, the support which the improved appearance of the paper would seem to warrant the publisher in looking for was lacking, and though everything was done that could be done to keep its head above water in the hope of better times, it became more and more apparent that its days were numbered. Had we received the help from our subscribers which was our due, and which we had a right to expect, we should have been able to continue the publication of the paper. But we forgive them, and shall heap coals of fire on their heads by giving them a better paper than ever, in the MERCURY AND ADVERTISER. We trust they will appreciate it properly, and that the delinquents will make it a point not only to pay up at once, but also to pay for their paper in advance in future.

We shall continue the jobbing department of the office, and by giving our undivided attention to this kind of work hope to give better satisfaction to our customers than ever, and put more money in our stockings.—Guelph Advertiser, Nov. 28th.

SAURDAY EVENING, NOV. 29, 1873

Town and County News

ODD-FELLOWS' FESTIVAL.—A festival, under the auspices of the Guelph brethren, will be held in the Town Hall, on 18th Dec.

THE HARRISON TRIBUTE is of the same opinion as our correspondent regarding the municipal elections there—that politics will not rule them.

THE BILLIARDS CASE.—To-day, Saturday, Mr. Saunders gave his decision in the action against Mr. Rice, of the billiard saloon, under the town by-law. He overruled the objection of defendant's solicitor, and inflicted a fine of $2 and costs.

DEER.—Messrs. Leonard Day, Charles Bye, and Atkinson of Guelph Township, who were on a hunting expedition in Luther last week, brought home two large bucks, weighing 184 and 194 lbs. respectively. They were purchased by Mr. Geo. Hood for $22.

GOOD OPENING.—A young lawyer with fair legal attainments, good business habits, honest in his dealings, and prompt in doing business, is much needed in Markham Village. So says the Economist. We know some towns that could spare a couple or more without any inconvenience.

THE EVENING RECORDS, of Brookville, Mr. Wylie's new daily, is a unique little sheet. It is the smallest newspaper that comes to us, having only four columns on a page, the columns being somewhat wider than those of the Mercury. It is well got up, and a lively, readable paper.

THE SOUTHERN.—We are requested to say that there will be a meeting of the Ladies' Benevolent Association in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A., on Thursday first, at half-past two p. m., to take steps for starting the soup kitchen in the town for the winter. Other ladies who may feel interested in the movement are requested to attend.

SENTENCED.—The McIntyre assault case came up on Tuesday last, before his Honor Judge Macdonald. After hearing the evidence, the Judge held that the charge of feloniously doing grievous bodily harm had not been proved, but held that he had power to convict of the assault, and sentenced defendant to a month's imprisonment. Mr. Peterson prosecuted.

THE HOUSE of Mr. George Henry, Piblington, was burned down last week, with nearly all its contents. The progress of the fire was rapid, and it was impossible to save upwards of $100 in cash, which was in the house at the time. The building belonged to Mr. Geo. Howard, and was insured, it is said for $200. Much sympathy is felt for the family thus rendered homeless, and a subscription has been opened for them.

PRETTY ORNAMENT.—Here is something pretty that is within the reach of every little girl. Try it!—Take a white sponge of large size, and sew it full of rice, oats, or wheat. Then place it for a week or two in a shallow dish of water, and as the sponge will absorb the moisture, the seeds will begin to sprout before many days. When this has fairly taken place, the sponge may be suspended by means of cords from a hook in the top of the window where a little sun enters. It will then become like a mass of green and can be kept wet by the mere immersion of it in a bowl of water.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. George Stewart, 5th concession, Peel, met with a severe accident last week. He and his son were drawing staves, and while in the act of raising a large one out of the ground he had a lever under it and the stone fell back, striking the lever with such force that it was caused to fly up and struck Mr. Stewart on the cheek, loosening all the flesh and leaving a cut from the eye down to the jaw bone. He bled profusely, and was taken home in a state of insensibility, remaining so for nearly two hours. Dr. Bell, of Hallin, dressed the wound, and Mr. Stewart is improving. Had the lever struck him two inches higher up there is no doubt it would have caused instant death.

FINDS POLICE NEWS.—On Thursday last a woman named Martha Orr, who had been in the employ of Wm. McMullen, of the Queen's Arms Hotel, and was dismissed for drunkenness the Monday previous, went back in a state of intoxication and took possession of a bed. Mr. McMullen ordered her to either leave the house or pay for the bed, but she refused to comply. She was ejected by force, and laid an information before Mr. Henry Jones and Andrew Frank, the parties who put her out of the house, with committing an assault and battery upon her. After the case had been once adjourned through the plaintiff being drunk, the magistrates dismissed the case—giving the defendant a reprimand, however, for the rough manner in which they handled the unfortunate woman.

Local and Other Items

Mr. Robt. Wilson has rented Mr. Daniel Quinlan's tavern at Salems.

Mr. Ulloden has left Elora to take charge of the Goderich Star.

An Elora manufacturer has an order for 15 vehicles from British Columbia.

Mr. F. W. Tuerk, jr., has been appointed Chief Engineer of the new Berlin Fire Brigade.

One of the children, attending school-section 3, 5th school, named Albert Amy, fell and broke his leg. Dr. Wright set it.

Mr. Edward Brooks, 8th con., Peel, has purchased a steam vat and ordinary screw presses for the manufacture of cheese.

Drs. Pipe and Whiting, of Berlin, are at present seriously ill with inflammation of the lungs, but hopes are entertained that both are fast recovering.

People are beginning to talk about the municipal elections in Piblington, and the name of Mr. Brohman is freely mentioned as that of one of the candidates for the Reveship. Mr. Roberts will probably enter the field. It so, a close contest may be looked for.—News.

The South Riding Christmas Fair and Cattle Show will be held on Wednesday, 10th Dec. The Centre Wellington one will be held in Fergus on Tuesday, 9th Dec. Prizes are offered at both for cattle, sheep, hog, turkeys, and geese.

A cure for corns the Medical Press and Circular says:—Castor-oil should be applied to the corns after paring closely each night before going to bed. It softens the corn, which becomes as the other flesh. It will cause every time.

A cow of Mr. Edward Brooks, 9th con., Peel, was killed lately in a very curious way. She seems to have been stepping over a few rails, the remains of a fence that had been taken down, when she stumbled and fell, her horns sticking into the ground. In this position, with her head under her shoulder, she was found quite dead.

Messrs. J. & R. Hunter's recent sale was not so successful as could be wished, owing to the absence of American buyers—no doubt through the financial panic. The animals were in fine condition. Amongst the sales Mr. W. Telfer, of Piblington, became possessor of a fine thoroughbred bull calf at $180, which Mr. E. B. Bnie, of Nichol, purchased a thoroughbred and two grades at proportionate figures.

Changes in our Schools.

The following remarks from the Waterloo Chronicle will, we feel, apply also to the state of things in Guelph, and are well worthy the attention of our School Board:—

"We understand that Miss Morningstar, who has taught the third division of the Waterloo Central School very creditably for a number of years past, has resigned her situation here, to accept one elsewhere at a higher salary. Last year we lost a very efficient lady teacher in a similar way, though our Trustees were fortunate enough to get a competent substitute. The Board of Examiners, in fulfilling their duties as defined by law, are gradually weeding out the profession and, of course, diminishing the supply. The result is a parallel rise in wages, a rise that must be continued at its present rate for several years before the compensation of teachers reaches the level of that of other professions of equal rank. If under these circumstances, our School Board persists in allowing trustees of rural schools to call out our best teachers by offers of higher wages, it does not require a prophetic vision to discover our position in the near future. Even if the new comers were guaranteed equal to the old teachers in every respect, a change that comes to us, having only four columns on a page, the columns being somewhat wider than those of the Mercury. It is well got up, and a lively, readable paper."

Mesmerism and Biology.—Miss de Montford, a distinguished mesmerist and biologist, commences a series of entertainments in the Town Hall on Thursday evening. A person who came under her influence in Barrie this gives the nature of his rather strange experience in the columns of the Advance, published in that town:—

"On going into the hall to see Miss de Montford's entertainment, I had no confidence or belief in her theory of mesmerism or biology, no belief whatever that she, or any one, could have the power of acting upon one's will against their own power of resistance; therefore, it was my feelings of perfect confidence in myself that I tried the experiment of shutting my eyes. Ten times in four nights I shut them without feeling any effects whatever. Once again I shut them, at the time being some 20 feet from the biologist, and standing in among the audience. This time, after holding my eyes closed for about a minute, I attempted to open them, but in vain. The eyelids were perfectly powerless, and they remained so. Thus a rush of dense air seemed to fill my whole system, or to be drawn from me from the feet to the shoulders, and thence to be altogether drawn into and through the right arm, which produced in that member an equally strong effect that would be received from a galvanic battery, yet with this difference, that added to the feeling of electricity, there was one of as if I was at the end of a large tube, from which the air had been exhausted, and I was being drawn up by an elastic force—that is, as if I was at the end of a shaft of dense air, which was so thick that I was fastened to the one end of it, and that some one before me was drawing in the other end, of course, forcing me to walk up step by step. Several times I threw myself, staggering back, but to no avail; I would be drawn upon my feet again, and either have to fall forward or walk up. My senses were all just in the same state as when I had first entered the hall, but the faculties of speech and of sight were completely taken away for some ten minutes. I felt no surprise nor fright; but once (during the first night) I put my hand on a brass key, which had the effect of sending a very disagreeable shock in the right arm. This was the only disagreeable feeling during the whole time I was under the influence. The after effects were nothing more than those one would receive from a very steady and strong galvanic battery shock."

The man whose hair turned white in a single night is surpassed by the Komoka girl who lost hers completely in one dance.

Geese and turkeys were sold at 4c. to 5c. per pound, to-day, on the market.

Town Council.

An adjourned meeting of the Town Council was held last Friday evening—the Mayor in the chair. The following gentlemen were present: Messrs. Hogg, Howard, Heffernan, McLagan, Elliott, Coffee, Davidson, Richard Mitchell, Robt Mitchell and Crowe.

The following petitions and communications were received: Mrs. Galt, for remission of taxes; Robt. Smith, in reference to dog-tax; Hugh Walker, for use of Council Chamber for Oddfellows' ball on the 19th prox; Frank Gaughan, resignation of position as returning officer for the South Ward; Jacob Spence, petition for prohibitory liquor law, on behalf of the league. The above were referred, with the exceptions noted below.

Mr. Elliott saw no harm in requesting the Mayor to sign the petition on behalf of the Council for presentation to the Legislature, inasmuch as a similar petition had been similarly dealt with last year. He also dwelt on the evils of intemperance at some length.

When the Oddfellows petition came up, Mr. Elliott said that the Council Chamber had been badly used on previous occasions and he thought that only that portion of the room outside the bar should be granted.

Mr. Hogg said that might have been when rather disreputable characters had it. The firemen had had it, and he saw no reason why the Oddfellows, a large and influential body, should not have it also.

Messrs. Heffernan and Davidson objected to any invidious distinctions as between societies in this respect, and held that if it is given to one it should be given to another.

The discussion continued for some time, Mr. Elliott stoutly opposing the petition, and the other gentlemen as stoutly sustaining it. It was finally decided that the prayer of the petition should be granted, on condition that no refreshments be served inside the railing.

Moved by Mr. Howard, seconded by Mr. Elliott, that the Mayor and Clerk do sign the petition of the Ontario Prohibitory League for presentation to the Dominion Legislature.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Richard Mitchell, seconded by Mr. Hogg, that leave be granted to introduce a by-law to appoint a returning officer for the South Ward, vice Mr. Frank Gaughan resigned.—Carried.

The Council went into Committee on the By-law, Mr. Davidson in the chair. At this juncture, as a couple of gentlemen were standing at the fire-place, Mr. Coffee rose and called attention to the fact that there was no quorum—as ruled by the Mayor a few weeks ago—and amid much laughter the two gentlemen took their seats.

The blank caused by Mr. Gaughan's resignation was filled up with the name of Thos. A. Cooper, and the by-law read a third time and passed.

The Council went into committee of the By-law, Mr. Davidson in the chair. At this juncture, as a couple of gentlemen were standing at the fire-place, Mr. Coffee rose and called attention to the fact that there was no quorum—as ruled by the Mayor a few weeks ago—and amid much laughter the two gentlemen took their seats.

The by-law was then read a second time, and the Council adjourned.

The Goodrich Case.

Lucretia Myers has been discharged on a motion to that end by District-Attorney Britton, who remarked in making the motion that she was "an outlaw from the realm of credibility," and on her discharge she walked gallily out of court laughing immoderately as she reached the street. "Yesterday," remarked the district-attorney to an Eagle reporter, "I received a letter from her. The handwriting of the letter struck me at once. It was the same as that of the Beach letter. I sent for her immediately, and she at once said: 'I never knew Goodrich. I did myself write the Beach letter; and all I have said about this murder case was a series of lies. I don't know what made me do it. I told nothing but lies. I know nothing about it. I don't know Kate Stoddard.' Now, resumed the district-attorney, 'after such an open avowal as that, with the hand-writing of the two letters before me, and the number of lies I knew her to have told, I could not honestly put that woman on the stand to testify in my case. On such woman's oath no counsel, much less a district-attorney, would jeopardise the life of a fly.' The reporter remarked that her lies seemed motiveless. 'Precisely,' said the district attorney; 'and for that very reason the more puzzling. Never before did I see a person whose motives in the case before me I could not in some measure divine—not always correctly, of course; still some appearance of motive would be presented with her was none. She lied for the mere love of lying, and I think with her it may be the mania of a mind oddly constructed, unbalanced by a love of notoriety and unchecked by any moral principle whatever.' Yet this woman has led the Brooklyn detectives by the nose, so far as the Goodrich case is concerned, some months! It is most extraordinary." And Mr. Goodrich, as we have previously suggested, undoubtedly committed suicide.—Rochester Democrat.

GERMAN SANGERS.—Delegates from the various German choral societies of Ontario met in Hamilton during the present month, and formed a Sangersbund, or Choral Union for the Province. A constitution and by-laws were adopted, and Mr. Zoellner, of Waterloo, was elected Director or President for the present year. The Chronicle says that Waterloo will have the honor of welcoming the Bund at the occasion of its first annual Fest, which will be given under Mr. Zoellner's direction on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd of September of 1874.

GRIP.—John Anderson sends us a copy this morning. The cartoon is "The Premier's Model." Mackenzie, in stone-mason's dress and with hammer and chisel, has just been out a rugged figure in his own likeness, as defender of "Economic purity and Independence of Parliament." Canada is looking on approvingly, and promises to be with him so long as he stands by that policy.

A New Volcano.

Bombardment of Carthage.

The War Cloud Blown Over.

The Virginus to be Given Up.

New York, Nov. 29.—At a meeting of the creditors of Howes & Macy it was resolved to accept the proposition of the firm of paying 65 per cent to creditors in the following manner:—40 per cent on the 1st of January, 10 per cent on the 1st of March, remaining 15 per cent during the remainder of the year, and the same to be accepted by creditors as full payment of claims.

San Francisco, Nov. 28.—A despatch to-night from Eureka, Nev., states that a volcano has broken out in the Pirot mountains, 10 miles from that place. A dense volume of smoke was issuing from the crater.

London, Nov. 29.—Special despatches to the Times and Standard give particulars of the bombardment of Carthage on Wednesday. The arsenal and barracks were the chief marks for the seiger's artillery, but the cathedral and Hospital were also struck. On Friday the theatre, protestant church and two entire streets were destroyed and two hundred persons killed and wounded within the city. The insurgents have raised the black flag on the forts. At last, accounts the fire around the city was subsiding. Loss of lives has been exceedingly small. The officers of the foreign squadrons succeeded in obtaining an armistice of 4 hours on Friday night.

New York, Nov. 29.—All the Washington specials in the morning papers unite in asserting that Spain has conceded to our demands, and peace is assured. The Times despatch says this announcement was received through Admiral Polo last evening, after the adjournment of the cabinet meeting. Spain promises to deliver up the Virginus, the flag and papers, to restore the survivors, and to bring to punishment the Santiago butchers. The Herald's despatch dated 2:15 this morning says Secretary Fish was in high spirits at his dwelling where warm congratulations were being given to the evening. He shook hands with every body, remarking that he was very glad that war had been averted. Gen. Sherman expressed great satisfaction at the happy termination of the negotiations. Secretary Fish has no doubt that the Spanish Government will be able to carry out its orders in Cuba. The Colonial Minister, Mr. Soles, now in Havana, will personally see that they are executed. The World's despatch says the situation is peace. It gives among the conditions acceded to by Spain, indemnity to families of such American citizens who were executed at Santiago. A double headed editorial in the Times treats of peace as a forgone conclusion, and praises what it calls the good temper and tact of Admiral Polo and Secretary Fish in having effected it. It adds there can be no propriety in mentioning that Admiral Polo has endeavored by all honorable means to bring about a peaceable solution, without forgetting for a moment the claims of his own country.

New York, Nov. 28.—This morning James Ingersoll and John D. Farrington, jr., convicted of forging and altering a warrant for a fictitious claim on the county, were sentenced by Judge Davis to Ingersoll to five years in State's prison, with hard labor, and his tool in the transaction (Farrington) to eighteen months.

Eight Persons Poisoned.

Montreal, Nov. 28.

An appalling tragedy happened yesterday in Tabby's Yard, behind No. 16 Hermonie street, by which eight persons lost their lives. This locality has long been known as a nest of low, drunken characters, and the tenements are of the worst possible description, being two story wooden houses with a balcony all round, and reached by rickety stairs—the whole forming three sides of a rectangle. A great many of the inhabitants have come into collision with the police for drunkenness and assaults. It appears that on Monday or Tuesday, Beans, Mercer & Co., wholesale druggists, sent out by an express label a Winchester blue bottle containing half a gallon of vinu colchici, or colchicum wine—a deadly poison. It was either stolen or lost from the sleigh, and fell into possession of the denizens of the rookery in question. The stuff smelt like cherry, or, as several of the men said, like port wine, and pouring some of it out into an old tea-cup, its colour proved as rich as its smell. During Wednesday many "treats" were handed round, some drinking as much as two or three gills. Eight persons have died already, and it is feared that more will follow. The symptoms of the poison were constant vomiting and purging, and the pulse was weak but high, going up to 120 and 130. There was a consciousness nearly all the time up to the point of death. The primary effect of the attack was to paralyze the muscular structure of the heart. There is intense excitement and an inquest has been held.

National Unification.

is called—the joining together of the various portions of a race into one compact whole—is one of the favorite political theories of the day, and millions of dollars have been sacrificed in different countries for that object; but whether the result will justify the expenditure, time alone can tell. But this we do know, that the "Canadian Pain Destroyer" is certainly the best medicine for curing colds, rheumatism, neuralgia, summer complaints, &c., can be had for 25 cents per bottle of all Druggists and country dealers.

A Hypocritical Clamor.

The Hamilton Times has the following trenchant remarks on the way in which John A. and his newspaper supporters have been "charivaring" Mr. Cartwright. It says:—"Be it remembered that the only charge against the present Finance Minister is that he was untrue to his party and his party chief, and on that account he is accused of business, treachery, and ingratitude. Yet (in his speech) Macdonald boasted that in the case of Hincks, he "forgot party and forgot even Mr. Cartwright," which he claims was a noble act, a sacrifice of party to country. Admitting it to have been so, on what ground does he condemn Mr. Cartwright? After the late Premier had disgraced himself and humiliated his followers, Mr. Cartwright thought it his duty to "forget party, to forget even Macdonald;" thought himself bound as a patriot to place, "country first and party after," and so he stood prepared to vote in confidence in the delinquent Premier. But it seems that that which "in the captain is but a choleric word, in the soldier flat blasphemy;" what was an act of sublime virtue in Macdonald, was an act of disgraceful treachery in Cartwright. For Macdonald to make his bed with the corrupt Hincks was patriotic devotion; for Cartwright to ally himself with Macdonald was a foul act of treason. For Macdonald to place country before party was noble and laudable; for Cartwright to do so is base and treacherous."

Mr. Robin, editor of the Ottawa Free Press, has resigned, in anticipation of that paper changing from Independent to Conservative principles. Mr. Robin declines to write against his convictions as a Reformer. He is to be congratulated on this manly and independent action. We have no sympathy with the doctrine that a journalist should be a mere writing machine whose pen is at the service of the highest bidder.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Globe says:—"Col. Bernard, who went to England last spring, it was surmised to facilitate the disallowance of the Oath's Bill, has returned. Rumour attributes to this gentleman the inspiration of certain English journals, who have taken the exceptional course of attempting to justify the Pacific Scandal or to make it appear there was nothing in it."

A telegram from St. John, N.B., says that the Opposition nominee, Mr. Skinner, withdraws from the contest. There is no probability of further opposition to Mr. Deveber, the Reform candidate.

These are exciting times in Lennox. A four hours' meeting at Napanee on Friday afternoon was addressed by Mr. Blake, Sir John Macdonald, E. B. Wood, and briefly by Messrs. Deroche and Cartwright.

Yet another. Hon. A. J. Smith, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, elected by acclamation for Westmoreland County, N.S., at Sackville, on Friday.

Mr. E. O. Bickford is to oppose Mr. Moss in the Tory interest in West Toronto.

Changes in Manitoba.

The Bill recently passed through the Manitoba Legislature for the purpose of a fair and equal redistribution of the electoral divisions in the Province of Manitoba, appears likely to have important effects. The Nor-Wester speaks very hopefully about it. It says:—"Since the passing of the Manitoba Act the Province has been ruled by a combination of the French and Hudson's Bay Co. interests. These two powerful parties—one with the astute Governor of the Company—Mr. Donald A. Smith—as its exponent, and the other headed by the Catholic Archbishop—acting together in a strict alliance, were easily able to control both the Local and Dominion elections and to place their own nominees in every place of trust and influence. For the English speaking population to object to anything, however unjust, was idle in the extreme, and no means were considered to dishonourable to punish those who were bold enough to appear in the front of any movement of the kind."

But the French party had not calculated upon the immensity of the loss they had sustained in the death of Cartier—and still thought they were sufficiently strong to have everything their own way. Foolishly enough they committed themselves to the support of a man accused of murder, and a refuge from justice. They even went so far as to commit a grave breach of the commonest decency, by obtaining the election of an outlaw to the Dominion Parliament, thinking they could force him on the Ottawa Commons in spite of the disgust such an election would be sure to give rise to. And they openly threatened the authorities with disorder and rebellion, because, at the eleventh hour, they did what should have been done years ago—viz.—issued warrants for the arrest of the men who were openly accused of being implicated in a dark and disgraceful crime."

Hitherto their power rested chiefly in the unfair and unequal division of the electoral districts, by which the English speaking districts were carefully excluded from the counties in which they lay right, should have been entitled to vote, and were congregated in a most incongruous manner together, in order to avoid the possibility of a French minority being outvoted by their majority. In this way the French inhabitants, safely under the control of the Priesthood, were enabled, in spite of the great increase of English speaking emigrants, to keep the majority of the members in the Local House under their influence. But the Bill brought in by Mr. Clarke was calculated to entirely upset this arrangement, and it has been carried in spite of all the influence brought to bear against it by the opposing party. It was brought in as a private bill of Mr. Clarke's, and the opposition voted with him for it. The factions evoked at prostration of the other side were defeated or treated with contempt; the Bill has actually passed, and has been assented to, and the French and Hudson's Bay Co's control of the Province is at an end. The elections will take place immediately after the adjourned session has been held, and then we shall have a new Local House with new blood, and a fairer representation of the people."

Canadian Cheese in British Markets.

From Scotch papers of recent date we learn to learn that Canadian cheese are not only attracting some attention, but beginning to occupy a high position in the markets of Great Britain. This was particularly noticeable at the great annual cheese fair held lately in the west of Scotland. The number of entries was unusually large, upwards of thirteen hundred of the most famous dairies of Scotland and England being represented. The judges were selected from the most experienced cheese factors of the Kingdom. Thus the specimens of Canadian cheese were placed alongside of the very finest cheese produced in the world, and were tested by those who are most capable of forming an opinion as to their merits. It is interesting, therefore, to notice the remarks of Mr. Copeman, of the firm of Yents, Acocks & Copeman, of London, who, with the concurrence of the other judges, expressed himself as follows:—"The general quality of the cheese shown was as good as he ever saw. As a stranger to the district, coming here quite unprepared to see such fine cheese, he thought there was the nucleus of this becoming the finest cheese producing district in the United Kingdom, because it was well known that the making of cheese in a number of dairies in Somersetshire was decreasing every year. There was some Canadian cheese as finely flavored as any shown." As we have already said, the other judges concurred in this opinion. It must be extremely gratifying to cheese manufacturers in this country to learn that in the production of an article of such extensive domestic use, they can not only compete with their neighbors across the line, but also with the most famous makers of Britain, whose reputation was world-wide before Canadian makers had turned their attention to this branch of agricultural industry.—Berlin Telegraph.

CHAPTER IX.

FLIGHT OF FLORA—A SORROWING MOTHER—OVERTAKEN BY IAN.

"It is," she gasped—"how—?" "Be in no way alarmed," interrupted our heroine, seeing the agitation of her companion. "I only put the question that I might assure myself that you are one for whom I have felt much sympathy before and to whom it becomes me to give all assistance in my power, though, alas! that is but little at present."

"I do not understand you," exclaimed Jeannie, in amazement. Flora then told her of her flight with Hector, the attack upon them by Ian McKenzie in the hut, and how, when all but overcome, Ned Gordon had arrived in time to rescue Hector from the hands of Ian and Angus. She also spoke of the pursuit by the Highlanders, and of Gordon again saving them by tearing up the bridge which spanned the chasm along the bottom of which ran the burn.

"Oh, the poor girl moaned, 'I have been mad—infatuated. I should never have left my parents' roof to follow him who deserted me. That was the first error, and the second was my not returning long ago. But I could not. Did my brother speak kindly of me?'"

"He did," was the reply. "He spoke of you with an earnest affection, and expressed himself eager to again meet and clasp you to his bosom."

Flora could not find it in heart to overburden the poor girl's suffering spirit with the intelligence of her parents' death, caused by their daughter's flight.

"Which he would most assuredly have done," responded Flora. "But have courage," she continued; "he has not yet left this district. He is much before his time if he has returned to Kinloch-Ewe. We may hear of him as we pass along."

"Bless you, bless you, for the confidence and hope with which you have inspired me," said Jeannie, gazing at Flora. "Surely a kind Providence has thrown us together. My mission I might have regarded as hopeless long ago—to find him whom I claim as my husband, and if possible secure from him an avowal of our union. Had I but that from him, I would forgive him for his neglect of me. Why he deserted me I know not. I cannot believe him so heartless as he appears. But I know not what to think. Oh, that I could only meet him!"

Flora said nothing. A question several times rose to her lips, but she could utter it. But Jeannie, overcome as she was with fatigue, was scarcely able to talk further, and the two rising made their way to the spot where Flora had slept during the day, and laying down the child between them, they wrapt themselves up as best they could—two lonely outcasts, suffering because they struggled to be true and virtuous—and Jeannie's eyelids were soon closed in slumber, Flora lay and mused on the events which were crowding upon her.

For her it was a weary night; but she was cheered by the knowledge that she was enabled, by speaking kind words to this weeping girl, to requite in some measure the debt of gratitude she owed to Gordon, whose kindness she could never forget.

Jeannie slept soundly, and Flora was inspired with the hope that when she awoke in the morning she would be able to go forward with her so far, at least, as would put them at such a distance from Droghdaire that little danger might be apprehended of her own re-capture.

The child, doubtless sharing in the fatigue of its mother, also slept soundly; but sometimes during the short hours of the morning, just as Flora was sailing pleasantly away into the land of dreams, it awoke with a loud sharp cry, recalling Flora, and arousing its mother from her slumber.

Upon being interrogated by our heroine, Jeannie Gordon stated that she was much better, and that although weak she would now be able to accompany her.

The last fragments of food were divided between them. And then, while yet it wanted several hours of the dawn, the two proceeded on their journey—Flora carrying the child to relieve the wearied and already travel-worn mother of the burden. When they started the clear moon was shining steadily down from the cloudless sky. But as the hours wore on, and the morning set in, the moon brightness became dissipated—not shut out by the intervention of dark clouds and mists, but paling before the effulgence of the rising sun, resembling the close of a good man's life, which sets not amid the gathering around of a tempestuous night, but amid the brighter revelations of a glorious morning.

Shortly after daybreak, feeling much fatigued, both rested. The spot where they did so was an oasis amidst the wilderness of bleak mountains by which they were surrounded—Loch Leuchart, a sweet and charming lake.

It was refreshing to sit and pour their tales of sorrow into each other's ears, and of this encouragement and strength thus afforded they availed themselves to the utmost extent. Already the girls both loved and trusted each other, short as their acquaintance had been. They had not sat long at this spot, at which they espied a man upon the opposite side push off a boat and pull towards them.

A vague feeling of alarm stole over Flora, but she shook it off with the remark that she was now becoming frightened at the sight of every human being—believing all to be enemies.

Jeannie proposed to make off, but Flora suggested that if the man was a shepherd they might obtain from him some food to serve them during the remainder of their journey.

The boat continued to near them, and both girls began to watch it with much eagerness.

Suddenly Flora paled a little, and a tremor shot through her frame.

Then she sprang to her feet, clasping her hands and exclaiming— "My God, I am lost! It is Ian McKenzie!"

TREASURE TROVE.—A few days ago some workmen employed by T. P. White, Esq., were cutting saw logs on his farm, near the old dam, north of Whitvale, they unearthed the following articles: One roll of tweed, one roll of French merino, one roll of black lustre, one roll of jean, a quantity of velvet trimmings, a silk shawl, and forty-eight yards of silk. The goods were evidently secreted in the ceiling some years ago, as they were all new, excepting the silk, which appears to be well preserved.—Economist.

MRS. JAMES FORSTER.

Dr. McClelland, of London, Ont., formerly of the Hamilton Infirmary, will be at the Royal Hotel, Guelph, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the 11th, 12th and 13th of December, where he can be consulted professionally. Having long and carefully studied theoretically and practically all kinds of chronic diseases, and having had every class and character of treatment at the Infirmary—all diseases are treated to the best possible advantage. He relies in the most decided manner, and in every instance, all medicines, be they vegetable or mineral, that are capable of producing mischief or incompatible with organic tissue, such as mercury, lead, zinc, &c.; outwitting that every character of disease, if curable at all, will yield to those agents which are mild in nature and capable of neutralizing and rendering harmless that morbid matter in the circulation which engenders and supports disease. The remedies he employs are less depressing to the vital powers, more in harmony with the efforts of nature, and attended with better success than the generally adopted system of medicine. They are prepared upon scientific principles prepared by time, study and research, for the special cure of all lingering chronic diseases. Some of the most important and serious of which we here mention, and in which his treatment has proved to be signally successful, viz: All diseases of the lungs, throat, heart, and chest, asthma, catarrh, bronchitis, all diseases of the nerves, atrophy, curvature and other diseases of the spine, convulsions, cramps and spasms, goitre or enlarged neck, epilepsy, disease of the mind, melancholy, &c., consumption in its first and second stages, dyspepsia, and all diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, &c., scrofula and all other skin diseases, tumors and morbid growths, ulcers, foul and indolent sores. Cancers are effectually cured without the use of the knife, and hernia or rupture without an operation or pain. Other diseases of a grave nature might be given but it is deemed quite unnecessary. The attention will be given to female complaints in all their medical and surgical bearings. Every disease of the eye and ear successfully treated, and every operation in ophthalmia and auricular surgery performed upon those principles that the science of the old and new world has shown to be the most successful, as demonstrated in the largest ophthalmia and auricular hospitals, institutes, and infirmaries in Germany, France, England, and the United States. Cross eyes will be straightened with very little pain. Cataracts will be removed with or without cutting. Inflammation and ulceration of the eyes are speedily and permanently cured. Intruding eye lids are often cause of serious inflammation by rubbing the eye lash upon the eye. Sight has been restored that from this cause turning eye lids are at once cured, and original heavy restored to the face. Granulated lids thickened along the edges, or in a state of adhesion readily cured, also watering of the eye. He makes no charge for consultation. N.B.—It is with a view of giving those suffering with disease who live at an inconvenient distance from him an opportunity of seeing him that he visits Guelph professionally.

IMPROVE NUTRITION.—The central idea in the treatment of all Chronic and Wasting Diseases, resulting in Nervous Prostration and general Debility, is to improve the Digestion and Assimilation of Food, and the Formation of Healthy Blood. Dr. Wood's Compound Extract of Blood-purifier and Calista, contains the only agents known that act directly as excitants of nutrition, by imparting tone to the Stomach, Liver and Pancreas, the great triad that prepares nourishment for building up the system and invigorating the body. The action of this valuable preparation is to strengthen the constitution, whether impaired by age, or debilitated by excessive habits, or broken down by old or new ailments that have resisted all ordinary means of treatment. Being a delicious and palatable, and perfectly harmless, it is suitable for all circumstances, it is especially adapted to the delicate and nervous, and to the aged and infirm.

This is indeed a book for every man. Thousands have been cured by this work the true way to health and happiness. It is the cheapest and best medical work ever published, and the only one on this class of ill's worth reading. 190th edition, revised, much enlarged, illustrated, bound in beautiful French cloth.
