WHAT would our farmers think of farm stock sale terms: 11 months credit with 8 per cent. interest, or six per cent. off for cash? This would figure out at about 14 per cent., but these are Western Canada terms. Probably some of our old timers in this county may remember the day when money was worth as much here.

ONCE upon a time there was an Indian named Big Smoke, employed as a missionary to his fellow Smokes. A white man, encountering Big Smoke, asked him what he did for a living. "Umph!" said Big Smoke "me preach." "That so? What do you get for preaching?" "Me git ten dollars a year." "Well," said the white man, "that a very poor pay." "Umph!" said Big Smoke, "me very poor preacher."

THE Annual District Convention of the representatives of the various Tents and Hives of District No. 1, K.O.T.M., Province of Ontario, will be held in Wyoming on the 13th of November at which a large attendance is expected. The social reunion of men and women with a common business interest is also an important feature. Ladies are especially welcome at all the sessions.

A STORY is told of a married lady who compared her husband to a handsome piano lamp that he had presented to her. Her husband felt quite flattered until she mentioned the particulars of the resemblance. "Well," she said, "you know, my dear, it has a good deal of brass about it, it is handsome to look at, it is not remarkably brilliant, requires a good deal of attention, liable to explode when half full, flares up occasionally, is always out at bed time and is bound to smoke."

PRIESTLEY'S dress goods at Swift's.

AFTER over half a century of active business life, Miss Williams has decided to retire from business and will hold a clearing sale to dispose of her stock. Her business is the only one in town that has been under the same management for so long a period, in fact it is about 55 years since she first commenced to serve the public. Her many friends and customers will miss her from her accustomed place among the millinery creations and wish her many quiet years after her busy business career.

SUPERINTENDENT H. E. Whittenberger and Train Master W. R. Davidson of the Grand Trunk Railway were here on Tuesday looking into the matter of providing more siding for loading purposes. A deputation of businessmen met them and discussed the needs of the town in that respect. The officials conceded the need of more accommodation for shippers and although they promised nothing definite, it is likely that an extra switch will be placed in the yards in the near future.

EVERYBODY should take advantage of the opportunity of hearing John B. Ratto at the Presbyterian Concert in the Lyceum Saturday eve., Nov. 9th. Plan of hall at McLaren's Drug Store.

A JOINT MEETING of the congregations of the Presbyterian churches of Watford and Knox church, Warwick, was held in the school room of the church here on Wednesday afternoon to consider the matter of calling a pastor. Rev. W. M. Kannawin, of Sarnia, moderator of the Sarnia Presbytery, presided. After due deliberation it was decided to call Rev. J. C. Forster, of Blackstock, to the pastorate of the two churches and the call will be placed before the Barrie and Sarnia Presbyteries in due form.

THANKSGIVING DAY was one of the finest days of the season and everyone seemed to thoroughly enjoy the holiday. Many went away by rail to spend the day in London, Sarnia and other points, while those who remained at home either basked in the glorious sunshine or did odd jobs necessary before the advent of winter. A general rake-up of dead leaves was made and the burning of them cast a haze over the town for a long time. The sun was out and the birds in town was not large.

SATURDAY EVE., Nov. 9th, is the date of the second of the Presbyterian Concert series, when John B. Ratto will make his second appearance before a Watford audience. He is an impersonator of remarkable ability and those who heard him before are anxious to hear him again. Some of his selections were so well received on his first appearance that scores of requests have been made to have these numbers repeated. Get your seats now as the good ones are going. Plan of hall at McLaren's drug store.

COLONEL KENWARD supplied some of his friends with wild duck for their Thanksgiving dinner. Realizing that the price of turkey was too high for ordinary mortals to indulge in the luxury the Colonel shouldered his trust about four o'clock and hid him to the shore, where his unerring aim brought down about three dozen of the juicy birds, which he distributed among some of his friends. We can testify that the birds tasted better than any barn-yard fowl of our part of the country. The recipients while eating them returned thanks that the Colonel is such a good shot.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. WILLIAM BRISON.

Residents of Watford were shocked on hearing of the very sudden death of an old and much respected resident of the village in the person of Mrs. William Brison, who passed peacefully away early Friday morning at the family residence on Erie street. Mrs. Brison got up about four o'clock and hid him to the shore, where his unerring aim brought down about three dozen of the juicy birds, which he distributed among some of his friends. We can testify that the birds tasted better than any barn-yard fowl of our part of the country. The recipients while eating them returned thanks that the Colonel is such a good shot.

Mrs. Brison was a daughter of the late David Evans, of North Oxford, and was married about 37 years ago. Besides a sorrowing husband she leaves three sons, David, of Calgary; William, at home, and Stanley, Calgary; and two daughters, Vena, who teaches school on the fourth line, and Mattie, who is taking a course of study at London. Mrs. Robert Riggs, of Arkona, is her only sister.

The funeral takes place this (Thursday) afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the family residence to the Watford cemetery.

Deep sympathy is felt for the bereaved family in their affliction.

The family dog had trespassed two good sized coons during the night, and just as the family were ready to sit down to breakfast the youngest boy discovered the visitors in two large maple trees in front of the house. No one wanted any breakfast until both of those coons were killed. One of them came down gracefully but the other one refused to "come down" in spite of the fact that Bertie was ready to shoot. He climbed as high as he could and refused to be shook down, until he had been shot in the head twice. They were fine large coons and very fat, about three parts grown.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

How Mrs. Reed of Peoria, Ill., Escaped The Surgeon's Knife.

Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. For two years I suffered. The doctor said I had a tumor and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. My mother bought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am a well and healthy woman. For months I suffered from inflammation, and your Sensitive Wash relieved me. I am glad to tell anyone what your medicines have done for me. You can use my testimonial in any way you wish, and I will be glad to answer letters."—Mrs. CHRISTINA REED, 105 Mound St., Peoria, Ill.

Mrs. Lynch Also Avoided Operation.
Jessup, Pa.—"After the birth of my fourth child, I had severe organic inflammation. I would have such terrible pains that it did not seem as though I could stand it. This kept up for three long months, until two doctors decided that an operation was needed."

"Then one of my friends recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after taking it for two months I was a well woman."—Mrs. JOSEPH A. LYNCH, Jessup, Pa.
Women who suffer from female ills should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, one of the most successful remedies the world has ever known, before submitting to a surgical operation.

Stray Shots by Solomon.

If you have made up your mind to gamble, go down to a faro layout and put your money on the ace and have done with it. There are a lot of people who would be shocked to death at the sight of a roulette table or a wheel of fortune who have no compunction about gambling along more genteel lines. A man can be a church member and belong to the society for the suppression of vice and be a worse gambler than the fakir who runs a thimble rig. Ananias and Sapphira are held up as examples of moral obliquity on whom the just vengeance of an outraged God fell with fearful swiftness. Yet they were doing what hundreds of church members do every day. They thought to purchase stock in the Kingdom of Heaven on a margin and their stock was "called." Their example in regard to earthly stock as well as heavenly has since been followed with seeming impunity. Some of the biggest gambling deals on earth are consummated by people who would resent being styled "knights of the green baize." Gambling is gambling, no matter whether it is in wheat or in draw poker, or whether it is conducted in a "dive" or in the rotunda in the board of trade. It is all very well to draw nice distinctions, but the church raffle and the friendly penny ante after all are in the same category with the "seven up" and the lottery swindle. Call yourself by your right name if you indulge in games of chance either socially or commercially.

Mind Your Own Business.

Your clerks will not do it for you. Don't make any mistake. The man who goes chasing around the country talking politics, temperance or riding other hobbies, and leaves his business in the hands of his help or his family is sowing the seeds of business decay. The man who devotes most of his time to church affairs to the neglect of his business will just as surely come to grief as he who is found at the circus or the gaming table when he should be at his store or office. To be "diligent in business" is not as imperative as being "fervent in spirit." Men talk about the misfortunes of business and attribute to "mysterious Providence" results that knew no other cause than common laziness or wilful neglect. Humbug! The best clerk in the world will not fill the place of the proprietor of an establishment. We heard the other day of a merchant in a Western city who missed one of his best business opportunities of the season by being so interested in a sporting event that he could not be seen in his office at the proper time. There is as much money to-day as ever for those who know how to "mind their business." If ever business requires increasing, painstaking attention, it is right at this moment.

The Pretty Girl and the Plain Girl.

A gentleman who has a large staff of girls under him remarked recently that he would much prefer to employ a plain girl than a pretty one. "This is not because I fear that the male clerks might flirt with her," he said, but simply because experience has taught me that the pretty girl is not such a good worker as the plain one. It is also a curious fact that, while I have a number of pretty girls in my employment, it is seldom one leaves to get married. On the other hand, I am constantly losing the plainer girls, who are my best workers. I think it is because the man of to-day argues that if a girl is a good business girl she will make an ideal wife, and physical charms are but a secondary consideration."

LOST VITALITY Caused by Kidney, Stomach and Bowel Disorders

St. John, N.B., September 18th, 1911.
My brother was a great sufferer from kidney, stomach and bowel troubles and was given up by two doctors. He was advised to try your Fig Pills, which he did, and after taking five boxes was completely restored to health and is better than he has been for years. You can't recommend Fig Pills too highly.

Man knows there are times when potatoes are more to be desired than roses, and the girl who simpers, who affects artless "pretty little ways," and who indulges in all the other flirtatious foolishness which is so often characteristic of the pretty girl, does not occupy his serious thoughts, although he may seek her society for a time.

Where can I get some of Holloway's Corn Cure? I was entirely cured of my corns by this remedy and I wish some more oil for my friends. So writes MR. J. W. BROWN, Chicago.

Food From the Air.

Scientists long since have promised they would supply the world with heat and power extracted from the rays of the sun. Now they announce discoveries that will enable them to produce a variety of nitrogenous food, notably eggs, from the air. This news is not surprising. In fact, nothing can surprise an age in which has been produced wireless, telegraphy, the telephone, the aeroplane, radium, antiseptics, anitoxins, spectrum analysis and the X-ray—the seven modern wonders of the world. The world is prepared for anything in the way of marvellous discoveries and inventions.

Uniformity in Canadian Dairy Products.

A few months ago there was held at Ottawa a conference of dairy experts and officials from all parts of the Dominion. The meeting was called by the Honourable the Minister of Agriculture, for the purpose of endeavoring to perpetuate the uniformity in quality and character in Canadian cheese and butter that has been responsible for the success of Canadian dairying. As pointed out by the Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, who presided over the Conference, many things come up in the practice of dairying which slight differences of opinion may arise so that it seems desirable to bring together from time to time those in charge of dairy schools, and the chief instructors, in the various provinces, to discuss methods and practices, in order to arrive at some agreement as a body of dairy advisors. The Conference lasted two days, during which time many matters of importance were taken up and freely discussed. Some of these were the pasteurization of whey, factory refuse in relation to tuberculosis in hogs, testing and grading cream at cream gathering creameries, whey butter, methods of raving patterns of cheese factories, and other subjects relating to the production of butter and cheese. For the information of buttermakers and cheesemakers, and others interested in dairying, there has been printed a verbatim report of the proceedings of this Conference. Copies may be procured by applying to the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, at Ottawa.

Fruit Growing in Canada.

A year ago the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, through the Branch of the Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, undertook an investigation of the fruit growing conditions throughout Canada. The inquiry was entrusted to Mr. Wm. H. Bunting, an extensive fruit grower at St. Catharines, Ont., who secured as much information as possible on the following points:—

1. The possibilities of the extension of the fruit growing industry of Canada in the different localities visited.
 2. The tendencies in the matters of planting and growing of different kinds of fruit, and with regard with apples, the varieties which are being most extensively planted in the different districts.
 3. The difficulties which are likely to be encountered in the further development of the fruit-growing industry.
 4. Methods of production and orchard management which have been most successful in the different districts, and the probabilities of over production.
 5. The conditions under which British Columbia, Ontario and Maritime Province fruit is marketed in the Prairie Provinces as well as in the matter of the effect of American competition.
- The enquiry was concluded in due time and the report has been printed for general distribution. It contains a large amount of detailed information gathered in every province making it an invaluable guide to persons who desire to take up fruit growing as an industry.
- In his general conclusions Mr. Bunting points out that while the growing of fruit offers ample reward to the men of energy, patience and perseverance, there is perhaps no phase of agricultural endeavor which requires to be more closely studied and in which a wider range of information is more desirable and necessary. The future of the industry he states, was never brighter than it is to-day, the prospects never more attractive nor the field of extensive effort in all fruit growing provinces more inviting.
- The report which contains eighty-four printed pages and many illustrations, is available to all who apply for it to the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Ont.

108 Cheques Will be Distributed Among Canadian Farmers. Will You Get One of Them?

In addition to the twenty-seven first prizes of $50 each, there will be eighty-one other cash prizes, ranging from $10 to $25 in our

1912 PRIZE CONTEST FOR FARMERS

This contest is along the same lines as the one which was so successful last year, except that there are three times as many prizes, and therefore three times as many chances for each contestant to win. Every farmer in Canada who uses "Canada" Cement is eligible to compete. The conditions are such that large and small users of cement have equal opportunities to win a $50 prize.

The contest is divided into three classes, and there are first, second, third and fourth prizes ($50, $25, $15 and $10) in each class.

CLASS "A"—Prizes to be awarded to the four farmers in each province who use most "Canada" Cement on their farms in 1912.

CLASS "B"—Prizes to be awarded to the four farmers in each province who send photographs of the best concrete work done with "Canada" Cement on their farms in 1912.

CLASS "C"—Prizes to be awarded to the four farmers in each province who send the best description, telling how any piece of concrete work was done with "Canada" Cement. (Entries for this prize must be accompanied by photographs of the work.)

In addition to this being divided into classes, so as to give small users of cement an equal chance with those who use more, the Contest is also divided into nine divisions, one for each province. So you see you need only to compete with the other farmers of your own province, and not with those all over Canada.

Don't think that because you have never used cement, you cannot win a prize. Many of last year's prize winners had never used cement before they entered the Contest. We will send you a free book, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete," that will not only help you in the Contest, but will tell you everything you could want to know about the use of cement on the farm.

Don't delay, but send us your name and address to-day and get this free book and full particulars of the Prize Contest right away. Use a letter, postal or coupon.

FALL NECKWEAR.

Interesting New Models in Exclusive Collars and Jabots.

The collarless gown is the thing for fall wear, and nearly all gowns are made with V shaped necks, rather shallow, but low enough to reveal that pretty part of the throat just below its base. Collars and jabots are therefore made accordingly.

A sailor collar of white linen has a two inch band of blue and white figured linen stitched around its edge, and a bishop jabot of fine white linen has a plain blue border edging it. The

JABOT OF PLAIRED LACE

Jabot is made with a slight V at the neck, with a flat bow of blue velvet ribbon at its base.

Another sailor collar of black satin extends just over the turn of the shoulders and is there met by long pointed revers of buff colored satin, trimmed on their outer edge with frills of three inch wide ecru lace. These lap over from left to right in the front, outlining the V shaped neck of the blouse. Not only the jabot of plaired lace seen in the illustration, but also the corded bodice over which it is worn, is most interesting. The bows on the jabot add a novel touch and match the satin of which the waist is made.

THE TREASURE CHEST.

Just the Gift an Engaged Girl Will Appreciate.

For the engaged girl's treasure chest an apron of the practical kind to be slipped on over a pretty frock will be thoroughly appreciated.

Probably the most useful kind is a studio apron, such as is used by the woman artist. Get a good pattern with sleeves reaching to the wrists and cut without too much fullness. Choose a pink gingham of fine quality or a clear black and white stripe which always washes well.

For the former trim the neck, which should be cut slightly square, and the sleeves with a two inch insertion of white embroidery and fasten at the back with white pearl buttons.

A somewhat dressier apron, though not so useful for protection, is made like a waitress' apron with straps over the shoulders. A pretty effect is had with ecru or pale pink percale, the straps embroidered in a cross stitch band that is carried on each side to the bottom of the apron. The hem at bottom and sides is finished with a row of two chain stitching worked in the same cotton as the bands.

Contentment.

Some people seem to take delight in finding fault with the world and all it contains. They look upon the dark side of everything and act as if they were made to detect the faults of the universe. They grumble about nature and experience and see faults in all they behold. The weather is always too hot or too cold, too wet or too dry; the fall is too early and spring too late; and in their neighbors they see nothing but their faults. Tolerant is a stranger to them. If the Angel Gabriel should come down, and there was a speck on his wings, they would see nothing but that blemish. The countenances of such people become about double the longitude that the Divine Creator made them, and a pan of milk would sour were they to look into it. To what end are the bounties of nature lavished upon such men? They never see the flowers or hear the songs of birds; but if a serpent hisses their ears are quick to hear, and they would walk a mile at any time to see a bed of thistles or a bramble bush, just to get an excuse to grumble about it. It is difficult to decide what such people were made for, unless it was to fill up the picture of life with dark shades in order to display its beauties in stronger light by the contrast. For surely it is a God-send to meet a smiling-faced genial man, and listen to his hearty laugh

NO MORE DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR, SCALP ITCH

Men and women—do you want a splendid head of luxuriant hair free from scalp itch and dandruff?

Do you want hair so bewitching radiant that it compels the admiration of all who see it?

Do you want a scalp so immaculately clean and bright as a newly-minted coin?

Do you want to use a hair dressing that will surely prevent baldness, that always refreshes and invigorates and makes your entire head feel fine?

Then spend 50 cents this very day and get a bottle of PARISIAN Sage at any drug store or toilet goods counter. Use it as directed and you will never care to use ordinary tonics again.

No poisonous sugar of lead, no sulphur or injurious ingredients in PARISIAN Sage. Ask for PARISIAN Sage. T. B. Taylor & Son guarantee it.

The fact that you are industrious doesn't raise you much above the common level. So is the little red ant, after having encountered one of those frowning-faced, soured-soled grumblers. It is like going out from a forest full of owls into an aviary of the birds of paradise. Fraternalism tends to make a man congenial and happy, and makes him feel that life is worth living.

Three Canning Hints.

When canning berries lay the jars on their sides instead of standing up, as usual. Once in awhile give each jar a little shake until entirely cold. It will be found that the berries are evenly distributed through the juice and not all on top of the jar.

In making jelly have a piece of thin muslin or cheesecloth handy, wet it and instead of "skimming" strain the jelly into the glasses through the cloth. Your jelly will be clearer and you will have more of it.

For canning cut two holes in one side of a five gallon oil can, stick a piece of stovepipe in one, while the other hole is used to cook on. It takes very little fuel and makes less heat than the kitchen range, and all the canning can be done outdoors.

What we need most in Canada is more self-reliance of the good old British type. The Englishman, criticize him as we may, is an example to Canada, and until we follow his example self-reliance and higher development will make comparatively slow progress.—Tribune.

BLIQUENESS BURDENS LIFE.—The bilious man is never a companionable man because his siltment renders him morose and gloomy. The complaint is not so dangerous as it is disagreeable. Yet no one need suffer from it who can procure Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. By regulating the liver and obviating the effects of bile in the stomach they restore men to cheerfulness and full vigor of action.

HARRIS & CO. PROPRIETORS.

WATFORD, NOVEMBER 1, 1912.

The Parson.

The parson, though a parson,
Is an ordinary man
Ecclesiastic duties
He performs the best he can,
He pays his pastoral visits
To you as well as me.
We'd like to see him oftener;
And should, perhaps, but see,
There are others.

He starts on Monday morning,
Through slush and rain and all,
He listens to much gossip
As he makes his friendly call.
The back concessions know him,
The side lines know him too
You think you're claims upon him,
But you, are only you.

There are others.
You like to see the Parson,
When making usual calls,
You leave him in the lurch
Don't ask him to your balls,
One place you seldom see him
You leave him in the lurch
Confound your lazy pictures
You seldom go to church.

There are others.
And when you go, his sermons
Oft fall on listless ears,
Pay not the least attention
To Him, it oft appears.
But sometime he'll be wanted
Your friends will want him where
He reads your burial service,
You'll certainly be there.

With the others.

The Carnegie Library.

A town subscriber writes as follows:—
Section 12 of the Public Libraries Act states that "The Council of the municipality in addition to all other rates and assessments levied and assessed for municipal purposes, shall levy and assess in each year a special rate to be called the "Public Library Rate" sufficient to provide the amount estimated by the board as hereinbefore provided but such rate shall not exceed one-half mill in the dollar unless by a vote of two-thirds of all the members of the council such rate is increased to an amount not exceeding in the whole three-fourths of a mill in the dollar.

It will be seen from the foregoing it makes no difference whether we have a Carnegie Library or not the ratepayers do not have to pay anything more in taxes and by having a building which costs us nothing we are that much ahead. Government grants and receipts from other sources outside of municipal taxes makes up the required amount to be raised for the maintenance of the library.

"Pelee Islanders will derive more revenue from the crops of the past season than ever before in the history of the island," was the statement made by Major J. S. Hamilton, president of the Pelee Island Wine Company, who was on the island last week. "Grapes were of good quality and there was a fair crop," continued the major. "The tobacco crop was bigger than last year and is estimated at over one million pounds. Fifty thousand bushels of oats, fifteen thousand of wheat, seventy-five thousand of corn, four thousand of barley and ten thousand of potatoes is the yield of the fertile soil of the little island for this year."

From Old Subscribers.

W. J. Miller, formerly of Watford, has moved from Chamberlain to Saskatoon. In renewing his subscription to the Guide-Advocate he says:—"We are all well and liking the country fine. I think the crops have been fairly good all over the country this fall and I think will be all threshed and saved. The great problem is the getting of the grain out fast enough to prevent blockading the local elevators. The long haul to the terminal elevators and the shortage of rolling stock sometimes causes a serious local blockade. Wishing you and your paper every success."

Local Option Contests.

Another big local option campaign will be fought out at the time of the next municipal elections in January, 1913. Voting is, according to the calendar, likely to take place in over 70 municipalities, comprising 1 city, 16 towns, 20 villages and 34 townships. For the most part, the contests are in Western Ontario, Huron leading with nine contests. Among the larger places to vote are Peterboro', Lindsay, Carleton Place, Clinton, Oshawa, Pembroke, Petrolia and Sarnia. Most of these places have voted before, but in a considerable number the question is now before the electors for the first time. The striking features of the fight is the fewness of repeal contests. Last year of 178 places where repeal contests were possible, voting only took place in 15, and in one of these the attempt to repeal was successful. This year there are 240 possible repeal contests, but it is not likely that in 10 per cent. of these will the issue be brought before the electors. Repeal contests, however, will be brought on in a number of places. Amongst these being the towns of Galt, Orangeville and Strathroy. The contest will likely be a hot one, and profiting by experience gained in former contests, the forces on either side will be better organized than ever before. License reduction campaign will also be fought out in Windsor and some other places.

Slot machines have been cleaned out of Petrolia.

An evidence of the productive soil of Old Ontario is given by Mrs. J. B. Thornton, formerly Miss Lizzie Currie. Mrs. Thornton stated that on her farm in Oxford county this fall they threshed in one day 2,000 bushels of oats off 30 acres—an average of nearly 87 bushels to the acre. Not only is this a big day's work for the threshing outfit, but the yield is one that we doubt if even the Great West could equal.

The harvest Thanksgiving service was held in the Anglican church on Sunday evening, service being conducted by Mr. Montrose, of Huron College, from the text found in Col. 3:15, "Be ye thankful." He tried to impress upon the large congregation that was present, that man ought to be the most grateful of all God's beings but as a general thing he was the most unthankful for all His goodness. The church was beautifully decorated with all kinds of grain, vegetables, flowers and fruit, and the choir rendered choice music for the occasion.

Leach—McRorie.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McRorie, Main road, Warwick, at high noon on Tuesday, October 8th, when their daughter Ida Pearl, was united in holy matrimony with Robert J. Leach. The bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Lillian Leach, sister of the groom and took their place beneath a beautiful arch. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. Kenney, assisted by Rev. H. J. Fair, of Arkona. The bride, who was given away by her father, was prettily attired in white satin, with pearl trimmings, and wore a bridal veil caught up with lily of the valley, and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and maiden hair fern. After congratulations had been received, guests to the number of fifty repaired to the dining-hall, where a daintily prepared wedding breakfast was served. The dining-room was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, roses and acorns. The bride went to the piano and played a gold brooch set with pearls. The happy couple left on the 3 p.m. train for London and points east, the bride travelling in a suit of brown with black beaver hat and willow plume. On their return they will reside on the bridegroom's farm, sixth line, Warwick. They will be at home to their friends Nov. 1st.

Willoughby—Smith.

The home of Mrs. Eva Smith, on Scott street, Grand Ledge, Mich., was the scene of a very interesting event Thursday afternoon, Oct. 24th, at 4 o'clock, when her only daughter, Blanche Helen, was united in marriage to Mr. Melvin Lloyd Willoughby, son of Mr. Wm. Willoughby, formerly of Watford, now of Ithaca, Mich. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Lincoln R. Vercoe, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends, using the ring ceremony. They were attended by Miss Mayo Lambie and Mr. Bert Townsend.

The rooms were tastefully decorated in autumn vines, flowers, etc., the general effect being very pretty. The many handsome and valuable gifts received by the young couple is evidence of the high esteem in which they are held. Mrs. Willoughby has occupied a position in the local exchange of the Bell Telephone company and is very popular with the young people of the city. Mr. Willoughby is a young man of high character and is not a stranger here, having held a position as jeweler with D. D. Shane a year ago.

Farm Dairying

Oxford Wrangler, Jersey Bull, Owned by Lord Rothschild

XV.—Farm Cheesemaking.

By LAURA ROSE,
Demonstrator and Lecturer in Dairying at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Canada.

Copyright, 1911, by A. C. McClurg & Co.

MOST country people are English enough to like home grown and homemade food products. This is mainly why the making of small farm cheeses appeals to them. If made at the time of the year when milk is cheapest one can produce an extra nice quality of cheese at a very reasonable cost.

Cheese does not hold its proper place in our dietary. It should be more largely used on our tables and should often take the place of meat at a meal. The process of manufacturing cheese on the farm should be as simple as possible, and the time from starting until the cheese is put to press should be between four and five hours. The milk must be sweet and pure, and especially of good flavor. If the fresh morning's milk be mixed with the previous day's milk properly cared for, it is usually in about the right condition for making cheese in regard to the acidity.

In factory work much stress is laid on having the milk at a proper ripeness before setting it, and either the acidimeter or the rennet test is used to determine the amount of acid present in the milk. With the acidimeter it should show from .18 to .19 per cent of acid; by the rennet test, 20 to 24 seconds, when in condition for setting.

A large tin or churn or new tub—in fact, any clean vessel which will hold milk and not injure it—will answer as a cheese vat.

Heat the milk to 86 degrees F. by setting it on the stove and stirring or by placing a clean can of hot water in it. Be prepared to go on with the work or the milk kept at this temperature may develop too much acid.

If the cheese is to be colored use a small teaspoonful of cheese color to 100 pounds of milk (ten gallons). Add the color to a pint of the milk and stir well into the milk in the vat.

For every twenty-five pounds of milk use one teaspoonful of rennet. Try to get the rennet at a cheese factory. Junket or rennet tablets, such as druggists sell, are often not satisfactory. Dilute the rennet in a pint of cold water and pour it in a stream up and down the milk, stirring well all the time and continue stirring two or three minutes. Cover the vat to keep the milk warm.

Try the milk occasionally to see when it has sufficiently coagulated by inserting the index finger into the curd and with the thumb making a dent or slight cut in the curd just at the base of the finger, then slowly moving the finger forward. If the curd breaks clean like a firm but tender custard it is ready to cut. The time from setting or adding the rennet to cutting is usually about twenty minutes. The older or riper the milk the more quickly the rennet will act upon it. Overripe milk will give a dry, acidulous cheese.

Cutting the Curd.
If you expect to make much cheese I would advise getting a set of curd knives. Use the horizontal knife first, cutting slowly lengthwise of the vat. Then with the perpendicular knife cut crosswise and afterward lengthwise of the vat. This makes the curd into cubes from a quarter inch to a half inch square, according to the knife used. For factory work the quarter inch wire knife is highly recommended. While more tedious, a long bladed carving knife or a thin bladed sword answers the purpose. First cut lengthwise into strips one-third inch wide, then crosswise the same, then horizontally as well as you can. Begin stirring gently, and continue the cutting if the carving knife is used till the curd is of uniform size.

While the stirring is going on heat may be slowly applied. The vat may be set in a vessel holding warm water, or a clean can filled with hot water may be put into the vat. After the whey has separated pretty well from the curd a pallful may be dipped out and heated to 130 to 140 degrees. Do not have any curd in the whey. The warm whey is returned to the vat, and carefully on the cheese, cover with a square of wet cotton, place the hoop on top and force the cheese into it. Finish off the other end in the same way. Put again to press till the next day. Take from the hoop and place in a cool cellar, turning it upside down every day for a month, and after that occasionally.

Do not worry if it molds. The mold will be on the outside only and should be well washed off before the cheese is cut. At the end of two months it should be ready for eating, but is better if kept for five or six months.

If the milk is sweet and good, and the necessary care be taken in the manufacture, this method produces a rich, meaty cheese, much liked by every one. The cheese resembles a nice Canadian cheddar, but is more open and softer in texture.

In a little while more whey may be dipped out and heated. Half an hour should be taken to get the curd heated to 98 degrees. If heated too quickly the curd does not expel enough moisture, and a weak bodied cheese is the result. It is a bad fault to get the curd too warm. After it is brought to 98 degrees it is not necessary to stir continuously, but it must be frequently stirred to prevent the curd from matting, and the temperature must be maintained. It is well to keep the vat covered.

The curd is usually ready to dip in from three and a quarter to three and a half hours from the time the rennet is added to the milk. The right condition for the curd to be in at this stage may be ascertained by feeling the curd. If it is rather firm, has a shiny appearance and falls apart when pressed in the hand, it is ready to have the whey drawn. By the acidimeter it should show from .18 to .19 per cent of acid, or when a little of the curd is squeezed well in the hand and pressed against a hot iron (a stove poker answers the purpose) and gently withdrawn if it leaves hairlike threads a quarter of an inch long on the iron it is a sign the whey should be removed.

If the vat is without a tap dip the curd and whey into a strainer dipper or colander and put the curd in a large cheesecloth on a level butter worker. If you have not a butter worker devise a wooden rack for the bottom of a large tin and spread the cloth over it. The curd must be well stirred for ten or fifteen minutes to allow the whey to escape.

The curd may now be salted at the rate of one ounce to every twenty-five pounds of milk. Sprinkle the salt over the curd, stir well and allow it to stand ten or fifteen minutes.

The Cheese Hoop.
One cannot get along without a cheese hoop. It may be made of wood or heavy tin, but must be round, straight, strong and the ends clean cut without any rim. A nice size is 6 inches in diameter by 12 inches high. This will press a cheese weighing from six to ten pounds. The circle or follower of wood placed in the hoop on top of the curd must fit well or the cheese will have shoulders.

A bandager may be made of ordinary tin and should fit closely inside the hoop and be four inches higher than the hoop, but must have no wire rim around it.

Put a piece of cheesecloth the length of the bandager and the width around it. Sew up the sides and run a thread around one end and slip it on the outside of the bandager.

Place the hoop on a board in a tin pan, put a square of cotton wet in the hot water on top of the hoop, then place on the prepared bandager and shove it to the bottom. Put in the salted curd, press down well with the hand, pull up the bandager and the cheese is inside the cheesecloth in the hoop; lay on a square of wet cotton and put on the follower.

Many contrivances may be used to supply the pressure. A cider press answers. I use the old fashioned fulcrum and lever press, as with it the pressure is continuous. This press is easily constructed. Get a strong board or a piece of scantling eight or ten feet long. Place it under a ledge, put the cheese on the floor or on a bench near the ledge and put a small block or board on the center of the cheese for the scantling to rest on. Place a heavy weight—about fifty pounds—on the end of the scantling. It is well not to put all the weight on at once.

Dressing the Cheese.
The next morning the cheese should be taken from the hoop, dampened with hot water on the outside, the bandage pulled up and trimmed so as to allow it to extend half an inch over the ends; Cut a circle of stiffened cheesecloth the size of the top, place

Do You Feel This-Way?

Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at nights unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead in the world left you? If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your lazy liver to work. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. It will purify your blood. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a lingering cough, bronchitis, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about a cure in 98 per cent. of all cases. It is a remedy originally prepared by Doctor R.V. Pierce. Medical advice is given free to all who wish to write for same. Great success has come from a wide experience and varied practice. Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good." Dr. Pierce's medicines are of known composition. Their every ingredient printed on their wrappers. Made from roots without alcohol. Contain no habit-forming drugs. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Courtesy Between Telephone Users.

Would you rush into an office or up to the door of a residence and blurt out "Hello! Hello! Who am I talking to?" and then, when you received a reply follow up your wild discourteous salutation with "I don't want you; get out of my way. I want to talk with Mr. Jones." Would you? That is merely a sample of the impolite and impatient conversations that the telephone transmits many times a day.

There is a most agreeable mode of beginning a telephone conversation which many people are now adopting, because it saves useless words and is at the same time courteous and correct. It runs thus: The telephone bell rings, and the person answering it says—"Morton & Company, Mr. Baker speaking." The person calling then says—"Mr. Wood of Curtis & Sons, wishes to talk with Mr. White." When Mr. White picks up the receiver he knows Mr. Wood is on the other end of the line, and without any unnecessary and undignified "Hello's" he at once greets him with the refreshingly courteous salutation: "Good morning, Mr. Wood." That savors of the genial hand shake that Mr. Wood would have received had he called in person upon Mr. White.

Undoubtedly there would be a far higher degree of telephone courtesy particularly in the way of reasonable consideration for the operators if the "face-to-face" idea were more generally held in mind. The fact that a line of wire and two shining instruments separate you from the person with whom you are talking takes none of the sting out of unkind words.

Telephone courtesy means answering the telephone as quickly as possible when the bell rings—not keeping the caller waiting until one gets good and ready to answer. Telephone courtesy on party lines means being polite when someone else unintentionally breaks in—not snapping, "Get off the line; I'm using it."

In a word it is obviously true that which is the correct thing to do in a face-to-face conversation is also correct in a telephone conversation and anyone has but to apply the rules of courtesy, prescribed long years before the telephone was first thought of, to know the proper manners for telephone usage.

Be forbearing, courteous and courteous. Do over the telephone as you would do face to face.

A Smile or Two.

An Irishman, meeting an acquaintance thus accosted him: "Ah, my dear! who do you think I have just been speaking to? Your old friend, Patrick, faith! And he has grown so thin I hardly knew him. You are thin, and I am thin, but he is thinner than both of us together."

A woman grew suspicious of her husband and believed him to be in the habit of kissing a pretty servant girl in her employ, so she decided to watch him and catch him in the act. She heard him enter the kitchen quietly one evening when the pretty servant girl was out. She immediately placed a shawl over her head and, with matches in hand, entered the dark kitchen by the back door and was almost immediately seized and kissed in the most ardent manner. Bent on administering a terrible rebuke, she tore loose from his embrace and struck a match. There stood the servant girl's beau.

"Now, boys," said the schoolmaster, "what is the axis of the earth?"
Johnny raised his hand promptly.
"Well, Johnny, how would you describe it?"
"The axis of the earth, said Johnny proudly, "is an imaginary line which passes from one pole to the other, and on which the earth revolves."

"Very good," exclaimed the teacher. "Now, could you hang clothes on that line, Johnny?"
"Yes, sir," was the reply.
"Indeed!" said the examiner, disappointed. "And what sort of clothes?"
"Imaginary clothes, sir."

We want you to try three large bottles of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic on our personal guarantee that the trial will not cost you a penny if it does not give you absolute satisfaction. That's proof of our faith in this remedy, and it should indisputably demonstrate that we know what we are talking about when we say that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will grow hair on bald heads, except where baldness has been of such long duration that the roots of the hair are entirely dead, the follicles closed and grown over, and the scalp is glazed.

Remember, we are basing our statements upon what has already been accomplished by the use of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, and we have the right to assume that what it has done for thousands of others it will do for you. In any event you cannot lose anything by giving it a trial on our liberal guarantee. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. THE LIGHT-HOUSE KEEPER'S STORY.

FROM the lighthouse at Lobster Cove Head, Bonne Bay, Newfoundland, Mrs. W. Young sends her experience of Zam-Buk.

She says: "I suffered with eczema for seven years and so my delight Zam-Buk has cured me. The disease started on my breast, and spread until it extended over my back. The itching and burning—especially when the affected parts were warm—was terrible; and yet when the eruption was scratched or rubbed, it turned to bad sores and caused great pain. I went to a doctor and tried various prescriptions, but seemed to get no benefit, so I tried another doctor. Again I got no relief, so I tried a third doctor, and then a fourth.

"Seven years is a long time to suffer, and I had got used to the thought that I never would be cured, when I saw a report in the Family Herald, telling how beneficial Zam-Buk was in cases of skin disease.

"I bought some Zam-Buk, and from the use of the very first box I saw it was going to do me good. I persevered with it, and the improvement it worked in my condition was really wonderful.

"It eased the irritation, stopped the pain, and the sores began to dry up and disappear. In short, I found Zam-Buk all that was claimed for it and within a very short time it worked a complete cure in my case.

"Since that time I have recommended it for several other cases, and in each it has proved its wonderful merit.

What Zam-Buk Cures
Zam-Buk cures Eczema, Uleers, Blood Poison, Piles, Cold Sores, Chapped Hands, Scalp Sores, Bad Leg, Festering, Children's Eruptions, Cuts, Bruises, Scalds and Burns. All druggists and stores sell at 50c box or post free for price from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Refuse worthless substitutes.

EVERY HOME NEEDS IT

Home for Thanksgiving.

There was a woman in a big city who yearned to get "home" for Thanksgiving, home in a little ten-by-twelve sort of a town, where everyone knew her since she was a baby. And I heard her say tempestuously "I'm tired of a big city and postal delivery, and trolley cars, and big crushes and fine clothes and theatre parties and formal friends and At-Home days. I want to go back for a month to that town I was born in. I want to go and buy a whole big basketful of mushrooms for fifty cents. I want to go and ask if there's a letter for me in the post office. I want to have people shake hands with me on the street, and turn and walk with me. I want people that call me Mary. I want to go where everybody calls me Mary!" And she went and she's not back yet.

In uncivilized countries men fight for their wives. In civilized countries they fight with them.

Parents buy Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator because they know it is a safe medicine for their children and an effective expeller of worms.

A French physician professes to cure asthma with a serum developed from the duck. It sounds to us like more quackery.

THE CRACK IN THE BACK.—"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin," sings the poet. But what about the touch of rheumatism and lumbago, which is so common now? There is no poetry in that touch, for it renders life miserable. Yet how delighted is the sense of relief when an application of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil drives pain away. There is nothing equals it.

It takes a certain amount of cheek to kiss a girl. Also lips.

After a woman has been married a few hours she quits trying the plans she cut out of newspapers to make home happy for her husband.

Every man divides girls into four classes. The girl he loves, the girls he has loved, the girls he has not yet loved—and the girls he never will love.

"Cholly received a letter this morning from Gladly Mand. He consumed an hour in reading it." "Was the letter very long?" "Not very long. He spent most of the time looking for page two."

A man at a Baltimore Ladies' Aid church social found a pearl valued at $1,000 in his oyster stew, and nearly choked on it. Later it was decided by the court that "finding is keeping," and the Ladies' Aid Society nearly choked on it.

Stephen Kyoshk, the Sarnia Indian, under sentence of death, is to have another trial. This will be his third. The Minister of Justice has ordered the new trial, owing to the peculiar circumstances of this case. Two men were evidently killed by the same hand. Kyoshk was put on trial. He was acquitted of the charge of killing one of the men, and being put on trial again was found guilty of killing the other, and sentenced to death. The Minister of Justice now thinks there should be a deciding trial. This is the second time a new trial has been ordered by a minister of justice. The other was the Stemann case.

WEAK STOMACHS
Need New, Rich Blood to Restore Them to a Healthy Condition.

Actually in need of food to nourish the body and yet afraid to eat because of the racking pains that follow. That is the condition of the sufferer from indigestion—a choice between starvation or merciless torture.

The urgent need of all dyspeptics, of everybody whose organs of digestion have become unfit to perform their important duty, is for stronger stomachs that can extract nourishment from food. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give weak stomachs just the strength they need by enriching the blood supply, thus giving tone and strength to the stomach and its nerves, and enabling it to do the work nature intended it to do. Thousands of cases of indigestion have been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, of which the following is but one instance. Miss L. A. Brown, Fort Albert, Ont., says: "For a number of years I was a terrible sufferer from indigestion, and as a result I became completely run down, and suffered from backaches and nervous troubles as well. I had to force myself to eat, but never enjoyed a meal owing to the awful pains that followed eating. Little by little, however, I began to feel better, and after medicine failed to help me I felt I was doomed to go through life a constant sufferer. Finally a married sister strongly urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I have reason to be thankful I followed her advice, as they have fully restored my health, and I can now enjoy all kinds of food without the least discomfort, and my friends say I am looking better than I have done for years. At all events I know I feel like a new person, so shall always praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BOSANQUET.

Miss Annie McPherson, Warwick, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Isaac Carrothers, 6th con.

Mr. W. Lambe, of the 1st con., sold four pigs to a Tilford shipper the other day for which he got $85. The four weighed 1090 lbs., or an average of 272 1/2 lbs. each. He bought these pigs three months ago for $16, and in that time they received very little grain, having been fed mostly on whey and apples. Money in pigs?

McNeil, at the time was washing at the other side of the house and did not

Its true. Mother has had her picture taken rather oftener than father has—but even she hasn't been in two years and that picture will never do to send to Aunt Jane. She wears her hair so much more becomingly now—and anyways its high time there was another picture for the family collection.

He switched off the road at this point and walked along on the inside of the field, it is supposed, to the second Ward drain into which he fell. The body was found by Neil McNeil, his grandson. Efforts were made to revive him, but they were of no avail. Dr. Balfour, the physician in attendance, deemed an inquest unnecessary.
