NINE STORES ON SPADINA AVE. SOLD

Hundred Thousand Dollars Paid For Property Near St. Patrick Street.

One of the largest deals for some weeks on Spadina avenue was closed yesterday, J. A. Cherry, acting for a syndicate, purchasing nine stores, 318 to 338 inclusive, from Miss Annie Welmaug, Brentford, at $100,000. Fauner & Gates conducted the negotiations.

The property, which is a half block north of St. Patrick street, has a frontage of 157 feet by a depth of 100 feet, and the stores, all well rented and returning good revenues, are three stories, solid brick.

The property is in the zone of influence of the cross-town street car line that it now appears will be running this year.

Spadina avenue now deserves the term of textile street of Toronto, there being located on it many of the high-class whitewear, mantles and clothing manufacturers of the city. The new buildings, all substantial looking, give Spadina avenue a decided air of prosperity.

PEMBROKE STREET PROPERTY CHANGES

Big Square Plot Bought at Thirty-Five Thousand by Apartment Syndicate.

William Grogan has sold to private parties, presumably for an apartment house site, the house and large grounds at 22 Pembroke street, occupied by John S. Hodges. The property has a frontage of 136 feet and a depth of 120 feet, and brought $35,000.

It is a short distance north of the W. C. A. building, at the corner of Wilton crescent, and adjoins the Royal Pembroke Apartments.

FORTY THOUSAND DEAL ON YONGE

Land Below Corner of De Lisle Street Brings About Four Hundred a Foot.

Vacant frontage on the west side of Yonge, below the corner lot of De Lisle street, has been sold at about $40,000 for 39.8 feet by 160 in depth. This property was bought a couple of months ago by a small group, in which A. R. McMaster was interested, at $35,000. The present purchasers have not been identified.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN LANSING SECTION

With Yonge street 100 feet wide, the Lansing to Wexford diagonal 86 feet and all streets 75 feet wide, with a 10-foot-back building line, the Duchess subdivision of Kingsdale goes on the market in a few days at $19 to $26 a foot. Wright's, Limited, the owners, announced yesterday that water, sewers, sidewalks, light, shade trees and macadam roadways would be installed through out this property, giving it all the advantages of city conveniences.

The property is on the south side of Lansing avenue, east from Yonge to Bayview avenue, and is the 250 acre J. C. Bales property. Sample improvements on main streets have been begun.

The company say that all improvements in the Empress subdivision of Kingsdale will be installed by July 30. A brickmaking plant, lumber and supply yards, subsidiary companies of Wright's, are now operating.

Improved property, should interest in suburban land for some unexpected reason become quiet, is certain to remain strong, active and in good demand. That's what dictates our policy of improvement," said one of the members of the firm.

The growth and development of the district on Yonge street north of York Mills is surprising enough now. By fall, when the big housebuilding programs now started show just how big come to this suburban section, it will come as a revelation in quick development of Greater Toronto.

BIG HUMBER SALE FINALLY CLOSED

Land at Mouth That City Will Take For Park Purposes.

A deal that has been progressing for many months for the purchase of the old Humber Beach Hotel property, was finally closed yesterday. Patrick J. Mulqueen buying from Thomas J. Eoland at $60,000 cash, and the assumption of mortgages totalling about $12,000. The land will now be taken over by the city for park purposes.

The property has 191 feet on the Lake Shore road, 350 feet on the Humber River, 450 feet on the lake beach, and 463 feet along the west boundary. A water lot extending into the lake along the south limit of the property is also included.

LAMBTON AVENUE ACREAGE IS SOLD

Nine and a third acres on the east side of Lambton avenue, in Etobicoke, shown on the map as part of lot 4, range 2, Kingsmill Reserve, have been sold by Timothy Johnston to Mrs. Annie Law at $14,592.

REAL ESTATE SHOWS.

Showing the city and its suburbs in an impressive way, easily grasped, a topographical plaster map incidentally displays their many properties. Takes up the window front of M. S. Booth & Company's office at 168 Bay street.

Next week homes will have an even more striking window show. In Carriek's window, next door, they will have a relief layout of Lake Simcoe—with real water—showing Orillia, Barrie and Kingston. The summer lands of the Metropolitan Land Company.

STRATH GOWAN

Where Homes of Beauty Will Be Built

STRATH GOWAN is situated just south of Lawrence Park, at the Lawrence Park stop on the Metropolitan car line. We have recently purchased this estate from Mr. Nicholas Garland.

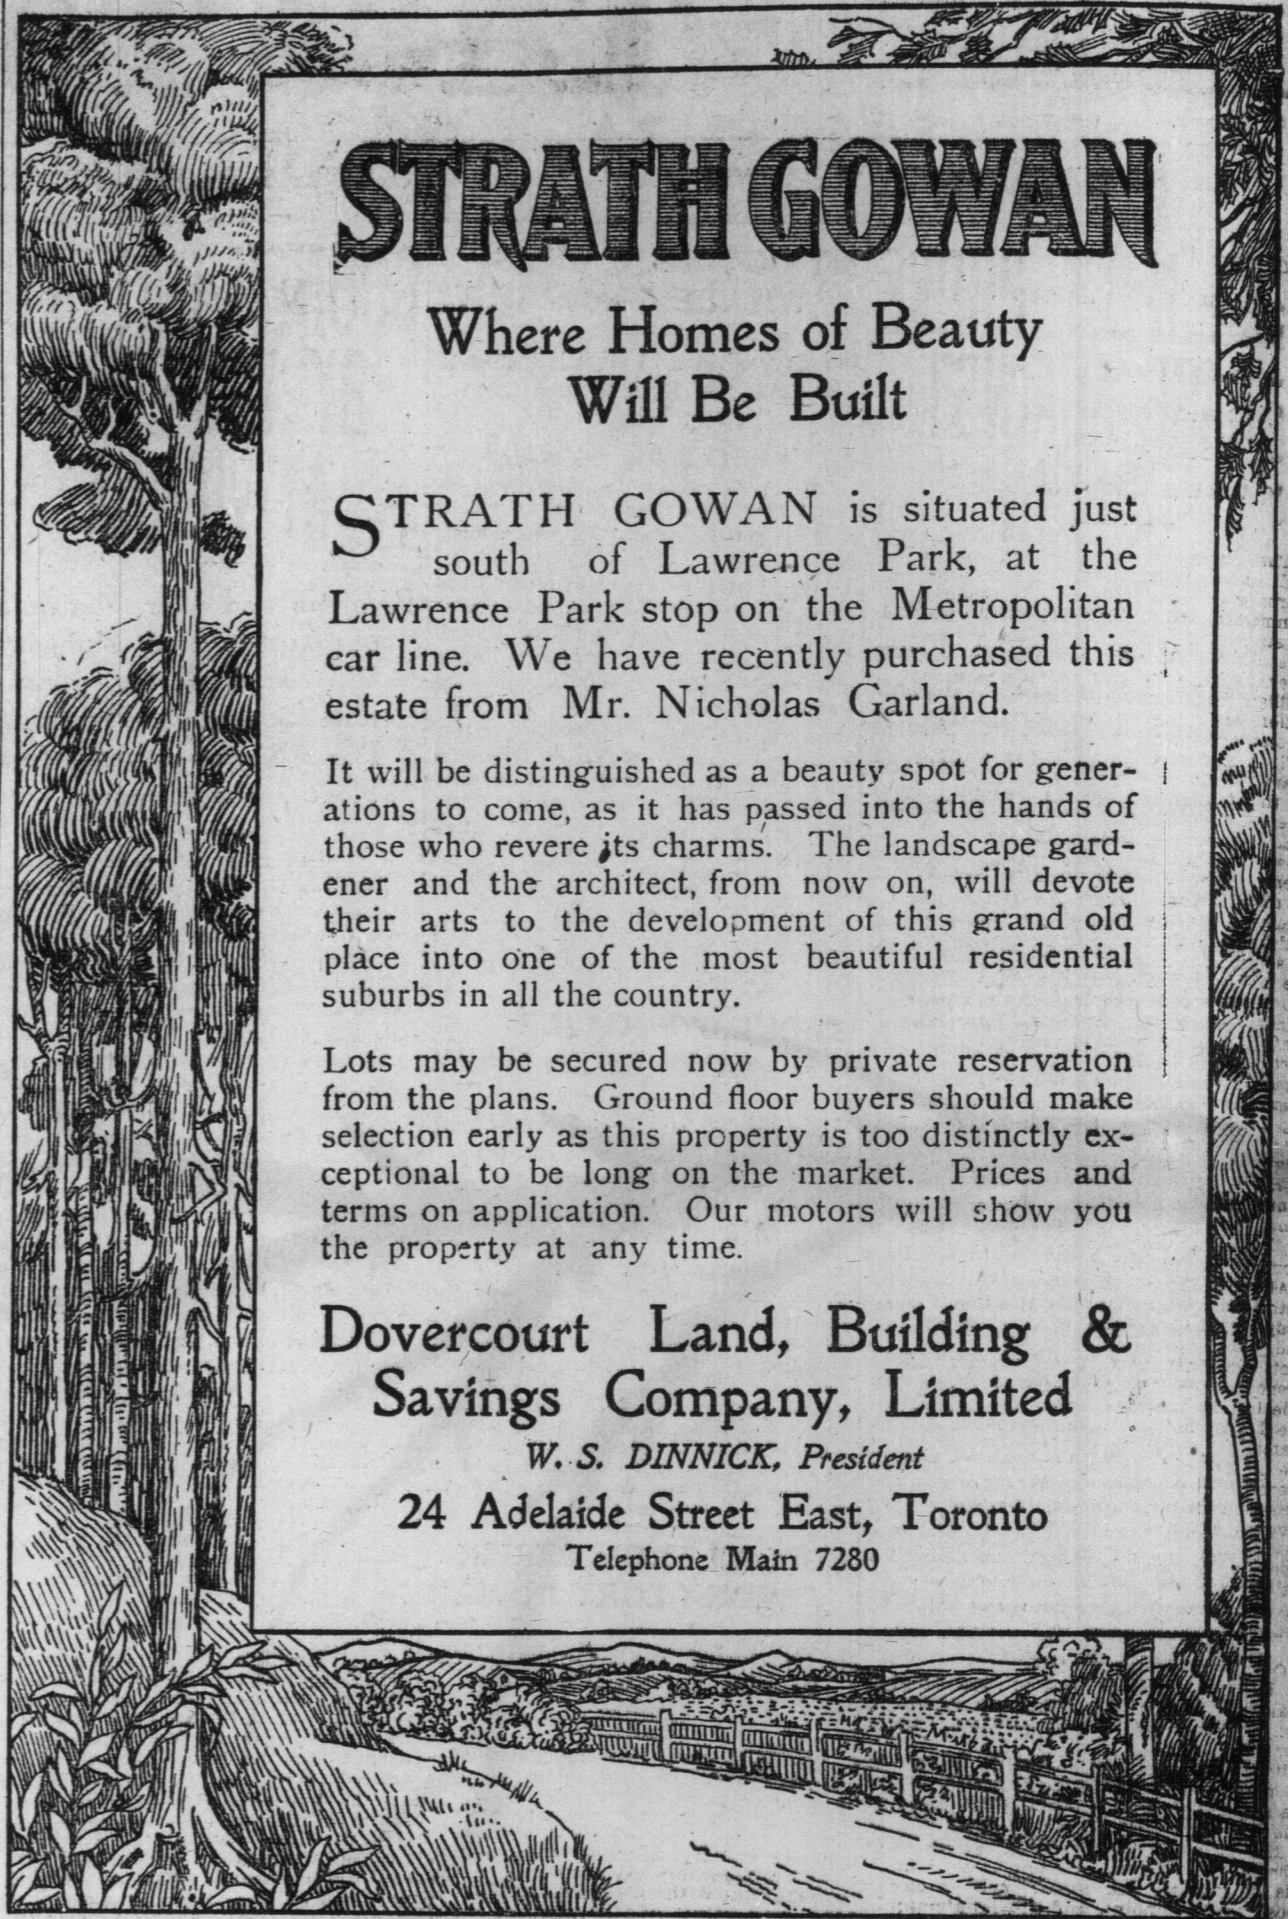

It will be distinguished as a beauty spot for generations to come, as it has passed into the hands of those who revere its charms. The landscape gardener and the architect, from now on, will devote their arts to the development of this grand old place into one of the most beautiful residential suburbs in all the country.

Lots may be secured now by private reservation from the plans. Ground floor buyers should make selection early as this property is too distinctly exceptional to be long on the market. Prices and terms on application. Our motors will show you the property at any time.

FEW PEOPLE MOVED HERE UNLESS FORCED

Seventy-Five Thousand Changed Addresses in Montreal—Toronto People Renewed.

May Day, in the moving line, was quite quiet in Toronto yesterday, although moving vans were on the streets till after midnight. First of May here is not the fete day for the rest of the year; it is in Montreal where 75,000 people took up their beds, carpets and other household goods, and moved them to some other habitation. Every conceivable form of vehicle was requisitioned, from wheelbarrows to cabs, and laborers got $5 an hour. Landlords in Montreal have decreed that yearly leases from May 1 must be signed before a house will be rented, and because of chronic house scarcity they have been able to force these terms.

In Toronto there is no popular date for house leases, and the number of rentals terminating May 1 is not many more than in other months. Houses are scarce here in Montreal, and most people whose leases are running out this spring have been glad to renew, even at an advance. Most of the people moving are forced out by houses being sold over their heads. Not more than four or five hundred families moved yesterday.

CENTRAL BUILDERS' PROPERTY OFFERED

A builder's offering, made especially attractive by the fact that the Parliament cars are distant three minutes from the corner of the property and that the East Queen cars are close to the south end, goes on the market a week from next Saturday. This is the Russell property, sold by Fauner & Gates, and to be sold by them at prices ranging from $45 to $60 a foot. Builders' terms, $2000 up, will cover the property, thus appealing to the best class of house building.

BIG APARTMENT STARTED.

Foundation work has been started on the three units of the Big Enslife Apartments at the corner of Wellesley and Sherbourne streets. The buildings will contain a little over 500 rooms, divided into 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6-roomed suites, baths with each. E. A. English, agent for the apartments, says the first unit will be ready for occupation in October.

Legislation Will Be Asked To Deal With Proudfoot Case

Member Who Made Charges Against Whitney and Hanna Refused to Give Evidence Yesterday and Will Complain to the Legislature on Tuesday—Not Allowed to Make a Statement.

The curtain rang down in sudden and unexpected fashion yesterday morning at the privileges and elections committee of the legislature—that its stage which has centered the intense interest of the province for the past week. The appearance in the box of William Proudfoot, the principal in the action, his refusal to take the oath and give evidence after the custom of courts of law, and his exit in a manner less dramatic but no less indignant than the evidence and proceedings of the more interesting moments. Brief of the proceedings were they sufficed to re-establish that the department of the premier and the legislature are in the matters referred to in the charges was blameless and that these had been laid thru the instrumentality of vindictive character, an enemy of the minister, and a man who had been blinded by party spite and partisan prejudice and who saw a supposed opportunity of blackening Mr. Proudfoot's reputation and character. In utmost detail Hon. Wallace Nesbitt, representing the ministers concerned, reviewed the evidence and demonstrated the more origin of the whole affair in the malice of Harry Maisonneville, the ex-civil servant, and his discovery that a conspiracy had been formed to accuse Proudfoot in the suspicious mind of the member from Centre Huron.

At the Liberal members who had withdrawn yesterday were seated in a body at the opening of the session, and with the exception of Mr. Proudfoot, remained until adjournment was pronounced for Tuesday at 10 o'clock. The latter, however, refused to accept the Bible, but persisted in making a statement regardless of the wish of the committee. Even a roar of disapproval failed to make the speaker relent, but finally, for reasons known to himself, but judged by the counsel to be not at all creditable, he withdrew from the chamber and cleared the field for a summary of the evidence which he will bring it up on the floor of the house.

Refuses to Be Sworn.

On the appearance of Proudfoot in the box he expressed a desire to make a statement. Chairman Ferguson, however, wished the evidence to proceed in the usual manner. The witness, nevertheless, would not agree to proceed as other witnesses had and be sworn in. The chairman tendered the Bible and asked the witness to swear. Amid a babel of cries and shouts of "Order," Mr. Proudfoot began to read his statement. A small riot broke out at this point and the chairman stated that the witness was unbecomingly and unbecomingly.

Mr. Proudfoot Leaves.

"I will treat the committee in the way it has treated me," said Mr. Proudfoot, hotly, and T. W. McGarry at once moved that because the witness had withdrawn yesterday he should not be allowed to make a statement except in the usual manner after the oath had been taken and in the usual process of examination.

"See, then, what should be the punishment," said Mr. Nesbitt, "if he did not see that it was only because he would not," he said.

Hon. J. J. Foy also stated that he was the last piece of machinery to handle the flat, and the suggestion was absolutely false. Mr. McNaught had proved that the reference was neither a fraud nor the matter, but by himself.

Enumeration of Facts.

He described the receipt of $500 from Taylor in November, 1907, and that an election had followed in 1908. Later terms were used by Taylor and provincial secretary had not been well received. Taylor then had threatened to make public the campaign subscription and matters now confessed to be not within his personal knowledge concerning coal tenders and undeclared stocks. The issue of the flat had been charged as improper, illegal and corrupt and was referred to the hands of an arbitrator friendly to the contractor—in short, that the flat and the award were both issued corruptly.

Latitude Allowed.

"In the evidence on the award he felt that no lawyer would be taken exception to his latitude in the cross-examination and leading questions," he said.

"What was the result? Mr. Thorne emphatically stated that not only was his award an honest one, but that he had taken great care and pains with it, that the award was unsatisfactory to Taylor, that Taylor had protested most vigorously against it, but that the award had been counselled and advised by one of the leading Liberal lawyers and a partner of the very gentleman prosecuting charges here and who was intended to attend except for a short time, that it was not his own counsel who advised him but drawn up by him.

Charge Destroyed.

"What then is the result of that? Again I emphasize," Mr. Nesbitt said, "that the end of his evidence was that charge number two of the last session, and the betrayal in the province was absolutely destroyed."

"You know what followed. It is not for me to impute motives, but knowing what I do now—and do not know what reflected light is cast upon all that first day. More than once I asked myself during the greater part of the proceedings here, 'What does this proceeding mean? What does this proceeding mean? What does this proceeding mean? What does this proceeding mean?' I saw. They were perfectly aware of all that Thorne could say; a minute notice could put before the committee and they took full advantage of it.

PROUDFOOT'S STATEMENT WHICH COMMITTEE REFUSED

This was the statement which Wm. Proudfoot, M.L.A., made to the privileges and elections committee, investigating the corruption charges, yesterday morning, but the committee refused to accept the statement. "Yesterday I withdrew from this committee, accompanying such withdrawal with a statement that the matters in question were first brought up by me before the public accounts committee, to bring the matter up on the floor of the house. No relief was afforded. I again went before said committee, which again refused to permit the evidence I desired being put in. Afterwards I made charges on the floor of the house, which are before you. I asked for an investigation before a royal commission. The house declined my request, but sent me to this committee, accompanied by the statement of the prime minister that a full investigation would be granted. I retained counsel and to a great deal of trouble and inconvenience to properly present my case. All productions required were not forthcoming on the day promised, and I was very much hampered. Notwithstanding this I went on after many objections which, believe, were utterly untenable. Evidence was put in which, I believe, fully established certain of the most important facts I set out to prove. Finally we reached the point where evidence of an important and vital nature was tendered and refused. I was prepared to prove the balance of my allegations, but the course taken I found it impossible to do so. After I withdrew, evidence for the defence was permitted of a nature similar to that which had not been allowed to be put in on my behalf on the ground that it was irrelevant. This satisfies me that the course I took in withdrawing was fully justified. I do not intend to let the matter drop here. On Tuesday next will bring the whole question up on the floor of the house. In the meantime, and until the matter is disposed of, I must most respectfully decline to answer any questions or take further evidence. I have no regrets but feel obliged to take this course, but as I cannot obtain justice and fair treatment no other course could be adopted."

but they were also aware that the very moment that witness closed—charge number one had gone before—charge number two was to be made, and that there was not a leg to stand upon in the prosecution of any charges. Their case was over.

"Night or Blucher."

"And I suggest that the dramatic retreat to which we were treated yesterday morning was only part of a play. My friend, Mr. Dewar, to let the matter stand over until the next morning, it was a case of 'Night or Blucher,' and he wanted to get ready, having realized that his case was gone, that there was not a tittle of evidence to support the charges—he would consult with his colleagues and see how best to stage the next performance so as to catch the public eye in this campaign of slander, and we had the spectacle which you saw here, and we now have the stage getting ready for what you gentlemen will do next week, according to the suggestion of my friend, Mr. Proudfoot."

"Determined, however, that although the case had not a leg to stand upon, every vestige of it should be destroyed, and that the public should not say that all the evidence bearing upon the matters charged was not before them, I proceeded to call Mr. Montgomery."

"He had stated that the evidence which followed, he said that he had continued to pour in more evidence."

"Niggardly Award."

He had stated that the province actually held a large amount of money that should have gone to Taylor for the delay of the issue of the flat, which might have been suspicious, was confessed by Mr. Montgomery. "I have no doubt but that he had the money, and he held malice against Taylor for not doing it."

"See, then, what should be the punishment," said Mr. Nesbitt, "if he did not see that it was only because he would not," he said.

Hon. J. J. Foy also stated that he was the last piece of machinery to handle the flat, and the suggestion was absolutely false. Mr. McNaught had proved that the reference was neither a fraud nor the matter, but by himself.

Mr. Hanna's Case.

Before Mr. Nesbitt accepted Mr. Hanna had named with nice scrupulous care one would expect from a barrister and told him that the department and who held malice against Taylor for years preparing himself as a witness. Thorne accepted and it went thru. The evidence was a very simple syllable of facts the charges were made.

Key of Situation.

"In Mr. McNaught's evidence we probably got the key of what has transpired," he said. "We find from Mr. McNaught that the man who had betrayed the confidence of his superior officer, the man who had acted the part of a spy—who in all countries is not even given a trial but is shot on sight—this creature, for I can only so describe him, who was kicked out of the province, and who held malice against Mr. Hanna because he would not attempt to protect him from the just indignation of the premier; this creature who for his own purpose had stolen a letter from the files and betrayed the confidence of his employer, was the man who inspired it all. He had tricked his informant about the $500 from one section of the country to the other and he found the only place where he could get a proper receipt, and he propagated the same suspicious mind of my friend Proudfoot. Every other decent man that he went to kicked him out of doors. And Mr. Hanna had said: 'Post it if you like on every sign post from Windsor to Montreal, and it was not until he found a congenial soil for it. They saw there are certain bacteria and germs for which some one is particularly adapted in order that they shall bear fruit."

A Slimy Creature.

"I leave that until it reached the hands of Mr. Proudfoot, no other man in this province could be got to even lend countenance to the evidence of this slimy creature Maisonneville."

"Then I called Sir James Whitney. It is needless to sum up his evidence, because it is put in a few words and promptly removed from the only channel but there is not a single person who believes the charge, not even the man who instigated it himself. And the people of this province to view the conduct of this pale faced creature who appeared here this morning and who refused to take the oath. I would have liked to ask him: 'Did you believe for one moment that Sir James Whitney was guilty of this conduct?' and I should like to have heard his answer. It would have proclaimed to the people of this province that the man who made the charge had no belief in it himself at the time he made it. He was wise in declining to take the oath

Triumph of Premier.

"The fact of his declining will see the triumph of Sir James Whitney. Let him proclaim, if he will, on the floor of the house and ask the people of the province to countenance his attempt to slander the reputation of a man whose rugged honesty in administration has purified public life in this country as no other influence has done since the foundation of this country eye to eye with Sir James, but I am proud to be able to represent him and say that no man dare take the book in his hand and venture his own belief in the truth of such a charge."

Help Emigrants.

Commissioner Howell outlined a plan being formulated by a number of prominent people both in Canada and Great Britain, whereby the British immigration to Canada will be on the migration to be placed upon a greatly superior basis. This will be brought about by the formation of a new organization to promote the flow of immigration from Great Britain to Canada and to assist emigrants with information on all points before they leave the British Isles.

Assisted Passage.

The government of Australia was offering assisted passage to that country and the Canadian Government to beat that country at their own game by advancing passage money to farming and domestic immigration. Not only should this be done, but the land furnished the British settler by the Dominion Government should be made ready for cultivation—even so far as to have the land partly cleared, and the stream of immigration now coming over are not prepared to tackle under a proposition of 160 acres of untouched land.

Blinded by Spite.

"Do not forget," interjected the chairman, "that I have not said a word since the Whitney Government came into power, and it was with-stand the evidence of Cartwright and charges," the accuser paying the price of his own folly.

"That is the best comment possible," pursued the counsel in stating that every shred of the charges had gone. "The evidence of Cartwright had destroyed that concerning the flat and that of Thorne had destroyed the suggestion relating to the award."

"What is the whole sum and substance of this charge? It is the suspicious mind yielding to the suggestion of one of the vilest of God's creatures, who for his own purpose held malice, for months and months, since he found out his ability to make the statement that $500 was received for the party fund, that he had no suggestion of personal corruption, but by any decent man, and finally got its lodgement in the mind of the party fund, who, blinded by party prejudice, gave him the opportunity of placing the flat in the hands of a man whom the people of this province owe the greatest debt of gratitude for his remaining in the public life of the province."

COMMISSION OF IMMIGRATION IS NECESSARY FOR ONTARIO

Thomas Howell, on Return From England, Says Something Must Be Done to Assist Thousands of New Arrivals and to Keep Them Coming to This Province.

A commission of immigration for the Province of Ontario, to promote immigration to this province, to select farms and settle the immigrants on them on their arrival here, is the plan advocated by Thomas Howell, commissioner of immigration and colonization of the Canadian Northern Railway. Speaking to 'The World' yesterday regarding his recent visit to England, he stated that what he had seen while there had convinced him that it was urgent something should be done, not only by the provincial, but also by the Dominion Government, in an effort to divert this stream of immigration from Canada to Australia, and unless the Dominion Government did more than has been done in the past, the government of the commonwealth stands to gain heavily at Canada's expense.

The government of Australia was offering assisted passage to that country and the Canadian Government to beat that country at their own game by advancing passage money to farming and domestic immigration. Not only should this be done, but the land furnished the British settler by the Dominion Government should be made ready for cultivation—even so far as to have the land partly cleared, and the stream of immigration now coming over are not prepared to tackle under a proposition of 160 acres of untouched land.

And the people of this province to view the conduct of this pale faced creature who appeared here this morning and who refused to take the oath. I would have liked to ask him: 'Did you believe for one moment that Sir James Whitney was guilty of this conduct?' and I should like to have heard his answer. It would have proclaimed to the people of this province that the man who made the charge had no belief in it himself at the time he made it. He was wise in declining to take the oath

Triumph of Premier.

"The fact of his declining will see the triumph of Sir James Whitney. Let him proclaim, if he will, on the floor of the house and ask the people of the province to countenance his attempt to slander the reputation of a man whose rugged honesty in administration has purified public life in this country as no other influence has done since the foundation of this country eye to eye with Sir James, but I am proud to be able to represent him and say that no man dare take the book in his hand and venture his own belief in the truth of such a charge."

Help Emigrants.

Commissioner Howell outlined a plan being formulated by a number of prominent people both in Canada and Great Britain, whereby the British immigration to Canada will be on the migration to be placed upon a greatly superior basis. This will be brought about by the formation of a new organization to promote the flow of immigration from Great Britain to Canada and to assist emigrants with information on all points before they leave the British Isles.

Assisted Passage.

The government of Australia was offering assisted passage to that country and the Canadian Government to beat that country at their own game by advancing passage money to farming and domestic immigration. Not only should this be done, but the land furnished the British settler by the Dominion Government should be made ready for cultivation—even so far as to have the land partly cleared, and the stream of immigration now coming over are not prepared to tackle under a proposition of 160 acres of untouched land.

Blinded by Spite.

"Do not forget," interjected the chairman, "that I have not said a word since the Whitney Government came into power, and it was with-stand the evidence of Cartwright and charges," the accuser paying the price of his own folly.

"That is the best comment possible," pursued the counsel in stating that every shred of the charges had gone. "The evidence of Cartwright had destroyed that concerning the flat and that of Thorne had destroyed the suggestion relating to the award."

"MAISONVILLE WAS NOT KNOWN TO ME," SAYS MR. PROUDFOOT

He Met the Former Secretary Only Once or Twice and Denies That Discharged Employee Is the Real Author of His Charges Against Ministers.

If there existed any doubt whatever that the origin of the Proudfoot charges did not rest in the letter retained by Harry Maisonneville, it was cleared up by a published statement of the member himself at the adjournment of the committee. Therein he stated explicitly that they were based on a statement written by L. E. C. Thorne, but the fact that they were in a communication to Maisonneville had no bearing upon their truth or falsity. "I did not know Mr. Maisonneville except to have met him on a few occasions when he was secretary to Dr. Reame," he states. "I have never had any communication with him, direct or indirect, and I do not believe any of my colleagues have had any communication with him in connection with the charges brought before the house. I have no knowledge that there are any facts within his knowledge upon which he could give evidence to the committee relative to the issue. This very palpable attempt to divert attention from the issue is unprecedented and unjustifiable, and the refusal of the committee to permit my counsel to put in evidence to prove my case is on a par with these obstructive proceedings the majority of the committee itself."

NOTIFIED TO MOVE.

The Grand Trunk Railway has served notice on Warren Brown and A. R. Williams Company, the two tenants occupying the company's property on the new Union Station site, notifying them that they must vacate their premises by July 1.

NATIONAL LIVE STOCK SHOW WILL BE HELD IN TORONTO

Dairy and Kennel Clubs Will Co-Operate and First Annual Judging Arena, Next Winter.

A national winter live stock and dairy exhibition is being instituted for Toronto. Officers have been elected, the board of control is pledged to finance it, and the inaugural show is to be held in the Exhibition Park next winter. Controller Foster had introduced into the board of control a resolution to organize Toronto fair and the board adopted it, but about one hundred delegates were at the organization meeting in the council chamber, and they made it their duty for a national institution. The officers are as follows: Honorary presidents, ministers of agriculture for the Dominion and the provinces and Mayor Hocken; president, R. J. Fleming; vice-presidents, Sena Anderson, Dr. Boulton, the officers and the board of control.

A National Show.

R. McKee of Norwich said that the dairy interests had never given up the idea of holding a national dairy show for Canada and were willing to co-operate with the Toronto winter exhibition at the same time retaining control of the dairy department.

W. F. Ardagh said that the Toronto Poultry and Pet Stock Association was willing to hold its annual show in connection with the stock exhibition, and gradually evolve a really well-appointed national show.

Health Necessary for Good Work

Whether working for oneself or for others, no man or woman can do efficient work unless the health is in good condition.

Competition is keen these days, and success goes to those who are strong, energetic and ambitious. From a purely financial standpoint you cannot afford to neglect the warnings given by headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, indigestion, loss of energy, mental vigor and physical strength.

Most workers, whether their work is manual or mental, find themselves handicapped at times by a run-down condition of the system.

MRS. BELMONT GOES TO PARIS

Critic Says She Loves Personal Comfort More Than "Cause."

MILITANTS ASSAILED

They're Either Fanatics or Criminals, Says Miss Gladys Pott.

(Special Cable to The World.) LONDON, May 1.—(Copyright.)—Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont left for Paris today, after a disagreeable visit.

She was "detected" in the purchase of some candy and found new reason for resenting the joking enquiries of her friends about her "self-denial ordinance."

After luncheon with the Duchess of Marlborough at Sunderland House Mrs. Belmont visited Mrs. Pankhurst, with whom she spent an hour discussing the raid on the Kingsway headquarters.

"Militants are either fanatics or criminals. It seems to me that Mrs. Belmont's political principles have given way before her personal comfort."

When Mrs. Belmont finds it most comfortable to sleep in the week in the Ritz Hotel, she spends it notwithstanding what she said.

"That does not seem to me to show that Mrs. Belmont's principles are very strong. Her statement comparing Mrs. Pankhurst to Joan of Arc is pure nonsense."

"The fact that Mrs. Belmont is the mother of the Duchess of Marlborough will influence few except the militants themselves. I am quite certain that American people would not be more lenient with women who outrage public opinion than we are."

The world correspondent hears on the best of authority that Mrs. Pankhurst and her lieutenants have been confined for some time that the bolt of militancy behind their warfare, as decided, however, that any weakening on their part would bring about the collapse of the organization, and that he counseled increasingly drastic measures.

They even believe that the concession of woman suffrage in any form would be postponed indefinitely, but they will continue their warfare, as their income—most of which comes from anonymous sources—bears a close relation to the degree of their activity."

LONDON, May 1.—(Can. Press.)—The determined stand which the government appear to have taken against suffragettes, beginning with the raid yesterday upon the headquarters of the Women's Social and Political Union, with the arrest of six leaders, is commended by some of the London press. The Standard calls it "the doom of the militants" and believes that altho the movement may cause some small annoyance even after the loss of the leaders, the rank and file can do nothing effective. It continues:

"An attempt will probably be made to re-organise the Women's Social and Political Union elsewhere, probably under another name. If so, the police must make another raid and continue the process until the whole fabric of militancy is shattered. To keep the militants on the run is the surest way to extinguish their activity. The vitality of militancy, which has ceased to have any real connection with the vote and has lost the sympathy of the great mass of suffragists, cannot survive the destruction of its organization."

UNCLE WIGGILY TRIES TO GET OUT

(Copyright, 1913, by Howard R. Garis.) Uncle Wiggily Longears, the old gentleman rabbit, did not sleep well that night in the pen, or cage, which the bad boy had made. "There I go again!" I say bad boy, but really perhaps he did not know any better than to catch rabbits. So we'll forgive him. Some day he may be good.

"Oh dear!" sighed Uncle Wiggily, as he looked around the pen. "I do wish I could get out! Here it is coming on night, and I am far from my nice comfortable home in the hollow stump. Oh, woe is me! Oh, sadness! Oh, unhappiness!" and he sighed such a big sigh that his breath blew his whiskers right out straight.

"My! My!" exclaimed the kind lightning-bug-freely who had flown into the cage to keep Uncle Wiggily company. "You do certainly feel bad."

"Well, don't worry," said the lightning-bug, kindly. "I will help you all I can. And I will now shine brightly for you, so you can see to eat your supper."

"But I don't feel like eating," said Uncle Wiggily, sorrowful-like. "Oh, you must eat," went on the lightning-bug, "or else you will not be strong enough to dig your way out of here."

"Oh, am I going to dig my way out?" the old rabbit gentleman asked.

"Indeed you are," replied the lightning-bug. "On the end of his tail he made his lantern as bright as he could, until it shone quite bravely in the cage where Uncle Wiggily was a prisoner."

"You see he had been out riding in his auto, and the machine had stopped because it needed a drink. Uncle Wiggily went to the well to get some water, and the boy caught him. 'How'd I didn't say bad boy that time, did I?'"

"Well, it got darker and darker in the cage, and Uncle Wiggily felt more and more lonesome. Even the firefly showing its lantern could not make the old gentleman rabbit happy."

"If I were only home now," he said, "I could be playing Scotch checkers with Grandfather Goosey Gander, or Sammie and Susie Littletail would come in to visit me, or the Bushytail squirrel brothers might pass by, and I would be happy. But in this pen I cannot be. What shall I do?"

"That is very kind of you," spoke Uncle Wiggily as he began to dig. With his strong front feet he made the dirt fly, opening a hole under one edge of the box pen where the boy had forgotten to put any tin. Faster and faster dug Uncle Wiggily, and he was feeling quite happy, for he thought he would soon be out and back home with his friends.

"The firefly held his queer little lantern, in the end of his tail, high up so the old rabbit gentleman could see. At last Uncle Wiggily had made a little hole. He could look thru it and see the stars shining."

"I'll soon have it big enough so I can crawl out," he said to the firefly. "Good!" cried the lightning bug. Then, all of a sudden Uncle Wiggily was out of the pen. Oh! how thankful he was, and he laughed a little to himself, not out loud in church, you know, to think how the boy would be surprised not to see a rabbit in the pen in the morning.

"Come on!" softly called Uncle Wiggily to the firefly. "Come on!" "Go ahead," said the lightning bug. Well, Uncle Wiggily started off, but all of a sudden he heard a dog barking, and by the sound he knew it was not a good dog, like old Percival, but a bad nipping, napping, yipping, yapping dog, who was coming after him.

"Burr-r-r-r-r!" Wow-wow!" barked the dog. Then he saw the rabbit gentleman out of the pen, and the dog, who belonged to the boy, rushed at Uncle Wiggily, calling out to get back there! Get back in the pen! Get back you!"

"What shall I do," cried Uncle Wiggily. "You had better go back in the cage and the dog can't get you," said the lightning bug, who was safe under a big leaf. And the Uncle Wiggily wanted very much to run to his auto and ride back home, still he thought it best to do as the bug said.

"Back into the cage he hurried, stuffing up with some of the roots of the plant, and the dog scratched around and barked like anything, but he couldn't get Uncle Wiggily, nor the lightning bug, either, for they were safe inside.

And so the old gentleman rabbit was back in the pen again, not having had a chance to escape, but still he didn't worry. I shall find my typewriter. And tomorrow night, in case the rain comes, don't turn out again, and stand on the roof of the pen, so the pansies can't go to sleep. I'll tell you about Uncle Wiggily getting away."

The Woodbine (Loncera Perly-menium.)

The unusual grace and beauty of nearly every member of the honeysuckle family add unmeasured value to the charm of any garden. The delightful pergola-shaded porch and restful arbor afford unlimited opportunities for the enterprising gardener who delights to revel in profusion of bloom and perfume.

The different varieties each have their own individuality, some quite early, some quite late, so that it is an easy matter to have an unbroken succession of bloom month after month from honeysuckles alone. A pergola planted with these vines only will produce an effect that cannot be equalled for harmony of outline, practical screening and unrivalled profusion of bloom.

Even an ordinary every-day wire or iron fence offers splendid opportunities for experimenting with the different varieties, providing, as it does, plenty of fresh air, abundance of sun and adequate support.

Yesterday we studied the trumpet or coral honeysuckle. Today let us look at the woodbine, Loncera Perly-menium. This is a native of this country with great success. The flower heads are much more remarkable, having from ten to fifteen trumpet-shaped flowers on one head alone. The "Horns of Plenty" are yellowish within and purple or very dark red outside, not to be compared with the roots of Eryngium, but translucent in coloring. But, oh, the fragrance of the woodbine!

The yellow honeysuckle (I flava) is a splendid climber, from fifteen to twenty feet long. The flowers are green above, almost white below, producing a queer twinkling effect when the wind whistles through them, bringing golden yellow rays of light, and appear the first of all the honeysuckles, quite early in the spring.

The yellow honeysuckle will thrive in almost any kind of soil, but it has plenty of fresh air and sun. Enrich the earth as freely as possible, year in and year out. Give often a good free dose of liquid manure to the roots. Spray the whole vine frequently with the fine streamer, for no other purpose than to give the leaves a refreshing drink.

Plant in a sunny or sunny-ish place, give thick screen, fragrant shades and beautiful pictures.

9563-A Middy Suit for the Young Miss-Girls' Middy Blouse with Skirt.

Blue and white striped tub silk was used for the blouse and blue serge for the skirt. The blouse may be worn with high neck closing, or open at the throat, the collar being arranged to form a facing and flat collar. The sleeve is finished with a pointed cuff. The skirt is a five-gore model, with inverted plait at the centre back. The design is suitable for flannel, Eden cloth, gingham, corduroy, gaiters, gingham, serge, or silk. White serge, with red or white trimmings, would make a pretty suit. The pattern is cut in four sizes: 8, 10, 12, and 14 years. It requires three yards of 37-inch material for the blouse and 2 1/2 yards for the skirt, for the 12-year size. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 15c. in silver or stamps.

WHEAT ACREAGE NO LARGER.

Reports From West Show Farmers Are Cautious.

WINNIPEG, May 1.—(Can. Press.)—According to reports received from over two hundred points in the Canadian prairie west, seeding is well on the way to general completion. At 14 points, over 75 per cent of the wheat area is reported seeded. Taking into account the acreage of surrounding points which report a less amount seeded, it is reasonably safe to assume that fully 73 per cent of the land intended for wheat this year has already been sown to that cereal.

NO OTHER WAY

By GORDON HOLMES

"Yes, of course, I may be a scamp; but I don't intend to let that infant. The child succeeds to everything, I take it, with a life interest for her mother."

"Exactly. You will not be angry with me if I say that you have a closer grasp of affairs now than—before your accident, Mr. Waverton."

"The actual fact is that my head is in a whirl. I forget things I don't know my own belongings sometimes. I told you I was conscious of a change and, for the most part, it takes that shape, forgetfulness. At any rate, I am not bemused with drinking and that counts for something. Now, how soon can I escape from New York—a week, a fortnight?"

"I shall use all expedition. By the way, may I acquaint Mrs. Waverton's lawyers with your extraordinarily generous decision?"

"Candidly, I think she ought to know."

"Again, why?"

"Because—well, I must out with it—people who have been divorced have agreed to get married again. Such a thing is not unknown."

"Suppose she thinks of marrying some other man?" pressed the lawyer, who was persuaded that two lives were being wrecked needlessly.

"We shall deal with that development when it arises."

So there was nothing more to be said; but a good deal remained to be done, and it was the middle of July before Claude Waverton left his house on 64th street, and accompanied only by his English valet, took a train for Narragansett Pier.

Narragansett turns toward the bathing beach. The searooms of the woman attracted a crowd that seemed to spring from nowhere, and it was eager for excitement. After dragging Waverton on to his arm, he met by a cheering crowd that hurried to the float. So many hands were stretched out to help him that he demurred with rather a scowl.

"Where is the child's mother, or nurse?"

A buxom blonde, wearing the colf cloak of her calling, struggled thru the throng on the beach, and the little one recognized her with a loud cry of "Nana!"

"With never a word of thanks to the man who saved her child!" cried another.

"Such people are not fit to be trusted with a baby," declared a third. At last, followed by an enthusiastic escort, Waverton reached the hotel and was glad to gain its sheltering porch.

"The manager met him in the hall. 'What a wonderful thing, Mr. Waverton!' he said, his eyes kindling with enthusiasm."

"No one has done anything wonderful," said Waverton, tartly. "Would you mind sending a page to show me my rooms?"

"I'll come myself, with pleasure. This way. Now, boy, quick with that elevator!"

As they walked along the upper corridor, Waverton realized that the hotel manager had become unaccountably silent.

"Do you know whose child it was that fell into the sea?" he asked.

"Of course I do," came the surprised answer.

"Is the mother staying at this hotel?"

"Yes."

"Oh, the deuce take it! Who is she?"

"Her name is given as Mrs. Binstead."

Waverton put his left hand to his head as the in an effort to touch some chord of memory stirred by the name.

"Mrs. Waverton chose to be known by that name, sir," went on the man, with the sympathetic voice of one forced by circumstances to be unpleasantly explicit.

"Mrs. Waverton!" and that gasp of amazement was convincing.

"Yes, sir. Haven't you realized that you have saved the life of your own little girl? That is why I said it was wonderful. I have never known such a thing as a Never! You might have been brought back by Providence. Here is your room, sir. Shall I show you anything—a little brandy, or a stiff cocktail? You need a stimulant of some kind, Mr. Waverton."

CHAPTER II. Showing How the Door Was Closed. "No, no brandy, thank you," Waverton paused in front of the door of his suite with the air of a man who was collecting his scattered thoughts.

"I suppose the other lady who accompanied Mrs. Waverton was her sister, Mrs. Daunt?" he said. Then, noticing that the manager's eyes were suddenly fixed on him, he added, "You don't know, of course, that I did not chance to see either of the ladies. I had a vague notion that there were two of them, with a nurse and a baby, when suddenly the youngster fell into the sea. After that there was no time for gazing at anybody."

"It was marvelous, sir, marvelous! A gentleman sitting on the balcony was looking directly at you thru a telescope, and saw the whole thing. It was he who called me out and told me of it. Yes, the other lady is Mrs. Daunt. They have been here a fortnight, and, I think I ought to mention it, their rooms are on this floor."

FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 2, 1913.

LESSONS OF THE BELGIAN STRIKE.

After the successful issue of the general strike in Belgium, it was only natural that the syndicalists should claim it as a justification of their aims and methods. Syndicalism began in France, and the word is the counterpart of the English term trade unionism, but now connotes concerted action for common purposes.

Franchise reform in Belgium was not the demand of the workers alone. The forces arrayed for and against it were not divided by class prejudice, but by religious and political sentiment. The Belgian electoral system was designed to favor the Conservative Centre or Catholic party, which has been continually in power since 1884, and eleven years ago was assailed by a general strike which failed of accomplishment.

ALIEN LAND HOLDING IN CALIFORNIA.

California's determination to prevent Asiatics from holding agricultural land within state territory again calls attention to the character of the United States constitution. The difficulty that has arisen is not without important bearing on the position of the British Empire, particularly with regard to the relationship between the United Kingdom and the self-governing dominions.

President Wilson is a firm believer in the Democratic doctrine of state sovereignty, as is his secretary of state, and the right of each state to legislate upon land holding is admitted by them. Whether rightly or wrongly, California is afflicted with the Asiatic menace and sees in the industrious and thrifty Japanese, who are producing more at less cost from the soil, an enemy that will before long lower the native standard of living.

The bill as originally introduced in the Californian Legislature debarred from the ownership of land all individuals ineligible for citizenship. That privilege only covers peoples of the white race and negroes, and had it become law, the courts of the United States might have been required to pass upon the Japanese claim that they are of the same blood as Europeans.

committed to the policy of The Telegram, which is to block everything that Mayor Hocken attempts to do, beginning with the purchase of the street railway and the Toronto Electric Light Co., then the whole responsibility of insuring a progressive municipal administration for the year deplorable upon Controller O'Neill. If he joins "The Two Tommies," Mayor Hocken and Controller McCarthy will be heavily handicapped in securing the transaction of public business.

Controller O'Neill thus becomes the civic Warwick, and as he has changed sides on four occasions already, it is not easy to judge what he may do in the future, unless we are to suppose that he will continue to follow The Telegram's instructions as on those four occasions. But the people will not need to judge until next New Year's Day, and if Mr. O'Neill sees himself in the meantime permanently with the "no accounts," the people will doubtless pass righteous judgment.

Centroller Church, as usual, is trying to appear to be in favor of what he works against. He did this in the North Toronto annexation, to mention one of the many instances. He proposed it; he should in favor of it; he voted against it. He is now professing to be in favor of buying the street railway, but votes against taking any steps in that direction. It is a sad reflection on the wisdom of an evening contemporary, to say that Tommy Church would make a better record if he followed his own independent judgment, such as it is, than by following the siren voice of Melinda street.

Meanwhile Controller O'Neill can control a great deal for the city's benefit or otherwise. We do not believe he is the kind of man who wishes to take the part of Mr. Facing-both-ways. He will earn the gratitude of the citizens if he will keep in mind that, as The Telegram has shown, there will be a million people here in ten years, and help make ready for them and to relieve the civic difficulties and distresses of those who are already here.

The Telegram is denouncing the whisperers. This is a good sign. It might cut out the "holerin'" as well and talk sensibly.

BANK IN NEW OFFICE.

The Home Bank of Canada recently purchased the premises on the southeast corner of Dundas street and High Park avenue, and the West Toronto Branch of the Home Bank has been moved to this new office.

The Philosopher of Folly

By Sherwood Hart

A PIRATE SONG.

When spring comes and the buds unfold, and the fields are green and gay—when the woods laugh and the waters call, then our thoughts fly far away; they turn back to our boyhood days and an old familiar trail, which we raced down of a shining morn to a shivering beach of shale. Then we cast off, and we steered our ship from the lakelet's shining shore, with a sail for the Spanish main, where the black flag at the fore! Firce, terrible men were we on our low and rakish craft, as we pushed out for the Caribbees with the "Jolly Roger" ruff; our course set for the little bay at the head of the tiny sea, where the creek croons to the sandy beach, and the life is wild and free. Heave-ho; past the fallen birch and over the baby bar; up the creek to the old fire stump, and once more here we are! All off of our sleep, but craft with a rousing hip-hurroo, for this spot is the Spanish main, and we are a Pirate Crew! Near here is a pirate's cave, with a hoard of wealth untold; near here is our pirate's oath, at the foot of a pine, hid deep—a fierce, awful, terrible oath, which we dreamed of in our sleep. Little did we know, our neighbors think as they chat with us, that we in the days of our youth were buccaners, and the terrors of the sea!

GROWTH DEPENDS ON CAR SERVICE.

Superior (Wis.) Telegram: There is much in the growth of any city which depends upon the street railway service. On the other hand, a street railway policy which is carried out on the plan of queuing all the juice out of the lemon and capitalizing public generosity, making people pay interest on their own liberality, and giving them in return as little as possible, has the effect of greatly hindering the growth of any city which submits to such treatment.

ALL RAILWAYS UNDER COMMISSION.

The recent absorption of a number of provincial railways by railways subject to the jurisdiction of the Dominion Railway Commission should not exclude the former from the control of the body. The argument is advanced that a road built under a provincial charter is not subject to the Dominion Commission, even tho it is leased and operated by a company incorporated under a federal charter and subject to the federal government's commission. A case in point is that of the Quebec Central Railway Company, incorporated under the statutes of Quebec. On Oct. 2, 1912, this road was leased by the C.P.R. for nine hundred and ninety-nine years, but it is not subject to the Dominion Railway Commission.

This seems to be an evasion of the spirit of the Railway Act. Does the road control the provincial road or does it not? If it does, surely the remote and insignificant branches should come under the jurisdiction of the commission which regulates the trunk; and exempt his feet and hands, which are constantly getting him into trouble, and it would take a clever person to control a centipede if he had no power over its hundred legs. The Railway Act should be amended, during the present session, so that not only a railway owned or controlled by a railway company, operating under a federal charter, shall escape the jurisdiction of the Dominion Railway Commission—Industrial Canada.

Peremptory list for appellate division for Friday, May 2, at 11 a.m.: 1. Patterson v. Township of Aldborough (to be continued). 2. Spinks v. Campbell. 3. Re Royton Park subdivision. 4. Park v. Fletcher. 5. Farah v. Capital.

Master's Chambers. Before J. Cartwright, K.C., Master. P. Antiseptic Bedding Co. v. Gurefsky, P. Arnold, K.C., for plaintiff. C. A. Moss for defendant. Motion by plaintiff for further affidavit on production by defendant to include insurance Brokers Company's books and other documents of the company on the hypothesis of the identity of the defendant and the Insurance Brokers Co., being true. Judgment: No such allegation appears on the pleadings, and as discovery is relevant only to what appears thereon, motion cannot succeed at present. The proper course to take now is to give plaintiff leave to reply so as to set up his present contention, and direct defendant to file a further affidavit in which these documents will be produced, if then he is entitled to further examine defendant if desired. Under the facts in this case costs will be in the cause. Wilson v. Murphy, shaver for plaintiff, obtained order of writ of summons by publication. Reinhardt Salvador v. Gamble—H. S. Morton, for plaintiff, obtained order shortening time for answer to twelve days. Frost v. Walkey, Groesch (Briggs & Co.), for plaintiff, obtained order of substitutional service of notice of writ of statement of claim by registered mail addressed to Bradford, Pennsylvania.

Frost v. Walkey, Groesch (Briggs & Co.), for plaintiff, obtained order of consent dismissing action without costs against his pendens. Stauffer v. London and Western Trusts Co.—Proudfoot (Proudfoot & Co.), for plaintiff, obtained order of stay of proceedings until disposition of motion for security for costs and other relief with leave to file the material. Felt Gas Co. v. Felt—M. L. Gordon, for plaintiff, moved for order directing that security already given shall stand as security for all the defendants. R. D. Moorhead for defendant. Order made. Charlton v. Fraser (Ryckman & Co.), moved for order of substitutional service on them for defendant. Order made on April 22, and the service thereunder. M. L. Gordon for plaintiff. Judgment reserved. Bound v. Bell, judgment reserved. Morris v. Chubb—M. Wilkins, for plaintiff, obtained on consent order dismissing action without costs.

Single Court. Before Middleton, J. Myerscough v. Lake Erie and Northern Railway Company—W. S. Brewster, K.C., for defendant. W. T. Henderson, K.C., for plaintiff. Appeal by defendant from award of arbitrators awarding plaintiff $1300 damages against the company for lands taken by the company. Enlarged sine die. Lawless v. Tibbitts—H. J. Macdonald for plaintiff, on motion to continue injunction, stated that defendant had written him, asking two weeks enlargement for the trust company. Enlarged two weeks. Injunction continued meantime. Re J. J. Estabrook—F. McCarthy, for applicant, on motion for order appointing trustee, says all parties desire enlargement until May 5. Enlarged until May 5. Re Archibald McLean Estate—re Alexander McLean estate—A. F. Wilson (Marchant), for executor. G. W. Holmes for adult heirs, and appointed to represent one infant in different interest. W. Douglas, for administrator of estate of Gillem McKinnon. E. C. Cattanach, for two infants. Motion for order sanctioning settlement of matters of estate between parties entitled. Judgment in accordance with consent minutes.

Appellate Division. Before Mulock, C.J., Clute, J., Riddell, J., Sutherland, J., Leitch, J., Scully v. Ryckman—F. Hellmuth, K.C., and C. C. Robinson, for defendant. J. P. MacGregor, for plaintiff. Appeal by defendant from judgment of Lushnell, J., of Feb. 20, 1913. Argument of appeal resumed from yesterday and concluded. Judgment reserved. Kates v. Lyng—R. G. Smythe, for plaintiff. R. Wherry for defendant. Appeal by plaintiff from judgment of Middleton, J., of Feb. 17, 1913. Action for specific

RAILWAYS REFUSE DEMANDS OF MEN NEW YORK, May 1.—(Can. Press.) The conference committee of managers of eastern railroads declined today to grant the requests made by plaintiff from falling into an unguarded excavation on the public highway in the ninth concession of Aldborough, where defendants were building a bridge. At the trial judgment was awarded plaintiff for $300 and costs. Appeal partially argued, but not concluded.

Have you the right illumination for your store? Light is a tool. Its efficiency is determined altogether by the manner in which it is used. Light distribution is as important as choosing the right light. Inadequate or improperly distributed illumination in the store wastes money. It should be remembered that illumination is the thing, and light is merely part of it. To conserve not to consume—to concentrate not to scatter—to produce a glow and not a glare—these are some of the principles of modern scientific illumination. In order to help you, as a merchant, to get better illumination, we offer you free of charge the services of our illuminating engineers for consultation. You'll be surprised at the results it is possible to obtain when the matter is once taken up in a thorough and systematic manner. LAWYERS WRITE LOVE LETTERS RE PROUDFOOT Continued From Page 1.

to newspaper criticism that is suggested that I was trying to gain time, but my remarks make it necessary that the truth should be known.

I can well understand that when your motives and methods have been laid bare to the public gaze, you are disappointed at the result of your tactics.

Dear Sir: Your letter received. I made no offer of settlement. I suggested to you that in view of Mr. Cartwright's evidence, I would ask Mr. Montgomery, solicitor for Taylor, to tell you what he had told me as to the facts about the case.

The suggestion I made to you that you should consider the profession with Mr. Proudfoot was not at the instance of either Sir James Whitney or Mr. Hanna.

Your reference to Mr. Stewart as my understudy is a piece of impertinence. Mr. Stewart is a very highly esteemed member of the profession, who has no special relation with me.

I hope that you will be the first to say that your letter is absolutely uncalled for and that its tone is distinctly that of a person in temper.

PLATER'S SLOW TIME IS FASTEST OF YEAR

HORSES NOT YET IN GOOD SEASON FORM

Fastest Trial of Season by Eddie Gleason's Plater in Ordinary Effort.

Some one said the track is in the best of condition and horses are showing mid-season form at the Woodbine, but this is painting the color a little too rose.

The fastest time that has been made by any of the King's Plate candidates was done yesterday morning by the colt Maousus in Eddie Gleason's stable, that reeled off a three-quarter mile flat in 1:17 3-5, but a horse that cannot run considerably faster on race day than in the trials is not asked to do so by their trainers.

Mike Gorman worked Mary Bud along with Tom Sayers, the pair running 6 furlongs in 1:29 2-5, and Kesturtium ran 5 furlongs in 1:06.

Eddie Whyte sat the King's Plate entry from the Hendrie stable a mile in 1:54 2-5 in company with Maousus and the good 3-year-old Tankara. Blue Grouse and Orliska, a pair of 2-year-olds from the same stable, were bressed a half in 55 seconds.

Trainer Harry Giddings, Jr., worked Sarolta and the King's Plate filly Widow Wise three-quarters in 1:20, both full of run.

The other Giddings betters, Hearts of Oak and Omandra, ran the same distance in 1:18 2-5. This time the colt put it on the filly, reversing her record of him in a half-mile dash earlier in the week.

They ran the first half in 50 seconds, with the first in a shade less than 24. The 2-year-olds, All and Hal-Law, slipped a half in 51 2-5 seconds, showing form, ever in Amberle, looking better than ever, one will win when she is ready, which will be when the races are on.

The older horses, Ta Nun Da, Senex, Denham and Havrock, were bressed short distances only.

Some real trials are promised for next week.

LAST TWO AT LEXINGTON.

FIFTH RACE—Selling, 3-year-olds and up, 6 furlongs: 1. Belle Sue, 105 (Kederis), $5.30, $3.50, $2.50.

2. Merrick, 114 (Glass), $4.30, $2.60. 3. Pennant, 109 (Hopkins), $2.70, $1.75. Time 1:09 1/4. Bobby Cook, The Beach and Golden Egg also ran.

SIXTH RACE—Selling, 3-year-olds, 1 mile.

1. Harry Laudler, 107 (Gobbe), $15, $7.10, $5.10. 2. Imen, 107 (Martin), $19.70, $5.90. 3. Anna Reid, 105 (Vandusen), $4.10. Time 1:14 2-5. Fox Weaver, Foreman, Elisabe and Chilton King also ran.

Robert Simpson Store House Soccer League

A "House League" has been formed at the Robert Simpson Store, and some interesting soccer games are looked forward to. All matches will be played on the evenings on the ground of the R. S. Club, of which the "House League" is becoming a thriving branch, from which some good talent is expected.

The secretary of the House League is J. Meridew, 12 Elmwood avenue, who will be pleased to welcome all followers of the game at these matches. The schedule:

May 7—Construction Dept. v. Main Floor; 14, M.O.D. v. 4th, 5th and 6th Floors; 21, Elevators v. Second Floor; 28, Construction Dept. v. 4th, 5th and 6th Floors.

LOCAL PRO LACROSSE CLUBS SIGN UP PLAYERS

CAPITALS OF OTTAWA SHORT ON SALARIES

Indian Player Suing For Three Weeks—News and Gossip.

The Caughnawaga Indian council of the Indian village opposite Montreal intends to appeal to the Indian department about the back salary due Paul Jacobs. Jacobs played last summer with the Capital Lacrosse Club and did not receive his salary, some three weeks being still due him.

At a largely attended meeting of the Capital Lacrosse Club it was decided to organize for the summer. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, J. P. Eargrey; vice-president, W. S. Carruthers; secretary, G. S. Leblond; captain, Dr. Ferguson; executive committee, J. Bullivant, J. Douglas, R. Broley, H. Kellner, J. Williams. Two delegates were chosen to join a series of games. Rugby River will also be asked to draw up a schedule for a series of games.

Buck Sarazin of last year's Capitals will figure this season with the Nationals in the Big Four. Sarazin received an offer some time ago, but only recently made arrangements to leave. He is employed in the fire department in Ottawa. Sarazin tried out with the Nationals, but failed to make the team. This season he should be able to catch a place on the defence. He has the speed and strength and is a good stick-handler.

The executive committee of the Cornwall Lacrosse Club has decided to put on a big demonstration on Saturday, May 24. The details have not been worked out thoroughly as yet, but the intention is to have an elaborate celebration in Victoria Day without a celebration in Cornwall by the lacrosse boys would not pass successfully.

The Toronto and Tecumseh have sent contracts to their players. The first two signed up by the Indians were McGregor and McDougall, who played with Vancouver last year. They should be a big help to the Tecumseh home, which was weak last year.

Five players have signed contracts with the Vancouver Lacrosse Club. They are Archie Adams, George Mathews, Dot Phelan, Bones Allen and Harry McGee. Adams made the announcement that Griffith would be player manager and captain of the team and that Griffith would have absolute control of the players.

President Percy Quinn of the Big Four received a wire from President Harry Rowan of the British Columbia Lacrosse Association, asking him to arrange for a conference of the east and west delegates to the lacrosse commission at Winnipeg, but after this month's celebration at Winnipeg, the man who has been nominated for chairman, or R. H. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the Winnipeg Public school board, will be acceptable to us as chairman of the commission, said Mr. Quinn.

RUSHOLME LAWN TENNIS.

The formal opening of the Rusholme Lawn Tennis Club will be held on Saturday at the grounds, 375 Dovercourt road. An exhibition match has been arranged and tea will be served to members and friends.

BASEBALL NOTES.

The Westmoreland Senior Boys' Union team will play the Oler P.B. team Saturday afternoon at Dovercourt Park at 6 o'clock, while the junior team of High Park Methodist Church at West Toronto Collegiate grounds. Both teams will meet at the club Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. Saturday: Harry Gardner, Clark Wilt, Herb Butt, Hank Gardner, Roy Lawrence, Walter Webber and others not mentioned. Hugh Macdonald, Jack McKeown, Len Cook, Charles Blandford, Al Saunders, Bert Webber and others not mentioned. Who would like to try out for the team.

CRICKINOLE.

In the final game of the home and home series between the All-Star M. Y. M. A. crickinole team and the B. Y. M. U. team the Baptists put another one over the Methodists on the latter's boards by the score of 670 to 607, making a majority of 1495 on the round, as they won on their own boards 639 to 625. Score on the series:

Table with columns: Won, Lost, Tie, R. Y. M. U., M. Y. M. A., Line up, J. Fidler (First Avenue), L. Spry (College), G. Clarke (College street), W. Creber (College street), J. Del Gainer, Detroit Tiger first sacker, says that the hardest ball for a first sacker to pick up is the little roller that just cases along the base line. The first baseman's fingerless glove makes it hard to pick it up. Del's statement is all right as an alibi, but, all the same, there are a good many first sackers who do manage to get 'em, no matter how they come.

Owen Bush, shortstop for the Detroit Tigers, one of the most sensational fielders in baseball has ever seen, is said to have discovered a cure for his batting weakness against slow-ball pitching. He intends to hunt every slow ball the pitcher sends up, and he depends upon his speed and outside start to beat the throw to first. He isn't worrying about his ability to hit speed and curves.

The following comes from the Ottawa training camp: Little O'Hala of Toronto is a cracking good ball player, but so much under size he would have no chance of making the Canadian League. He is a likable kid and, in contrast to some of the recruits, is devoid of freshness. Sing gave the youngster some encouraging words when he let him go.

See Nature at Her Best. Spring sings in the blood. It riots in the air. The country lures us with its woods and fields, and the trees beckon with their leafy fingers. Take the advice of those who know and get a wheel, so you can ride out into the sunshine and the open. Hyslop bicycles are, setting regularly at twenty-five dollars, and aside from the spring and summer outing, they fit in with your every day life. There will be no more waiting on street corners, no missing of cars, no crowding, no breathing of foul air. You get home quicker, and fares saved pay for the bicycle in a short time.

Jack Dillon of Indianapolis had the better of Bob Moha of Milwaukee in a decision ten-round boxing contest at Milwaukee. Moha is the middleweight who gave Hilliard Lang a bad beating.

In one respect at least the New York Yankees, now headed by Frank Chance, have obtained a better start this season than last. Harry Wolverton had to go 15 battles against the Red Sox before copying a victory, whereas the Yankees with Chance turned the trick in their second game with the world's champion.

The Canadian Canoe Association will hold their annual meeting at Detroit Saturday, at which delegates from Toronto and principal canoe clubs of Canada will be present. The election of officers and the choosing of a location for the big C.C.A. regatta for the summer of 1913, will be the principal business transacted. St. Johns, Que., is the most likely location of this year's meet.

With six points to the good, Donald McLeod captured the all-round athletic and study championship of the Fred Victor A.C. and will be awarded on Monday night, at the second annual concert, the silver cup, which he will retain for a year. With the silver cup goes a silver medal with a gold mounting for engraving, which he will meet at other winners who will be awarded trophies are: Donald McLeod 182½, Alex. Weiner 174½, Harry Leask 167½, Dan Bremen 169½, Edgar Staton 161½, John Fitzgerald 155½.

The work on the foundation of the new Quebec Arena, at Victoria Park, will be started next week and the steel work on the building will start in July.

The Riverside A.C. Junior List team will play the East Toronto Y.M.C.A. Saturday on the Y.M.C.A. grounds, at 3:30. St. Joseph's club of the Don Valley League will practice on the Riverside High School grounds on Friday evening from 6 to 8 o'clock, and at the same hour on every Wednesday and Friday during the season. All members of the team must be on hand in preparation for the game with St. Michael's College on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. For this game the team will meet at the club rooms, 143 Curzon street, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

BIRDS HAMMERED THEIR SHOTS

Leafs Had About as Much Life as a Broken Down Cab
Horse in Second Game in Birdville—Errors Played a Big Part in Toronto's Defeat—Started Like Winners.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 1.—(Special)—The Orioles had a very easy time of it this afternoon with Joe Kelley's Maple Leafs, hammering Kelley's pitchers for 15 hits and winning in a walk, 9 to 3.

The visitors jumped on Pitcher Shawkey after what they called a balk, when they hit for three safeties and, aided by an error, shoved one runner across after which they took a double, after a safety off the blonde boy, until the seventh frame, when Bill O'Hara dropped a puny single in left, which Malsel touched, but could not hold.

Leafs Lacked Pepper. The other two runs scored by the Maple Leafs were due to Shawkey letting up in the final frame, combined with an error. The present holders of the cellar berth failed to show any life at all during the game, while their fielding was of any assistance, while no less than six errors being made, most of which figured in the run scoring.

On the other hand Dummie's boys were right in the game from bell to bell, and it was due to number of sparkling plays by them that the Leafs were kept from running things up in the final stanza. The only exception to the rule was Tom Downey at third for the Birds, who had a number of boots.

Manager Kelley, when seen after the game, was the very picture of fury, and stated that he would send Bert Maxwell to the mound tomorrow, and if the rest of the team don't soon take a brace there will be something doing in camp. The Birds have had walkovers in both games played in the present series, and are doubtless scheduled here for Saturday between the teams, Manager Kelley is up in the air in an effort to fight on the other hand the team's hurlers are all in good condition and going at top speed at present.

Both Were Easy for the Birds. Manager Kelley sent Goulat, whom he secured from the New York Giants, to the mound at the start of the contest, and the former Giant, after being touched up for 3 hits and 6 runs in 6 innings, during which time he was hit by 4 errors, he retired in favor of the youngster, Herbert, who pitched for 7 hits and 3 runs during his stay on the hill.

An unique incident of the contest lay in the fact that the Birds, after failing to register a safe hit in the first inning, came thru with two runs in the second two in each of the next two frames, and three in the fifth inning, and two each in the next two frames, to bring their last time at bat with three safeties.

At Shaw opened the game by driving a slanting single to left, and the contest, which was a close one, was decided in the second and kept on to third when Malsel failed to cover the keystone sock on Ben Egan's perfect throw, and O'Hara fanned, and Downey held Shaw on third while he tossed Northern out at first on his last throw. Kelley's Leafs would not score. Big Tim Jordan set Manager Kelley doing a war.

Four Runs—Stallings Needs
Dicky Rudolph.

BROOKLYN, May 1.—Charley Stengel was the hero of Brooklyn's victory over Boston today. The final score was 4 to 2, and Stengel was responsible for three of the four. On his first time up he drove the first ball pitched by Egan to the center field fence for a home run. He came up again in the second inning with Miller off the base, and was hit and slammed out another homer. Hummel, who struck three hits, scored the first run on his double play, which was a single. Stok pitched an erratic game, but was saved several times by sensational fielding.

Gervais finished the pitching for Boston and disposed of six batters that faced him in the last two innings. Benny Meyer was put off the Brooklyn bench for talking too much. Score: Boston: A. B. R. BOSTON, May 1.—Boston easily defeated Washington today, 8 to 2. O'Brien went the entire distance and kept the visitors' hits well scattered. Foy's pitchers were used by Washington, Hughes lasting but four innings, during which time Boston scored four runs. Foy captured a liner from Almsmith's bat in the second inning and doubled up Morgan, who had reached first on a single. Captain Wagner injured one of his fingers in taking a throw at second, and will be out of the game for several days.

The New York Yankees have become quite tame by their new manager, Frank Chance. The Peoria Leader enforces strict discipline, and the players all call him Mr. Chance. He believes in the "big, familiarity breeds contempt."

BRANTFORD, May 1.—(Special)—The Cuban Stars defeated the Brantford team again today. The score was 3 to 2. The Cubans showed great class, and as a result a hurry call has been sent out by President Nelson for shortstop of merit. A purchase was effected tonight of Teach and Anders, also infielders. Orrilly, Shea and Alern will be released. Brantford's championship record will be retained for his hitting ability also.

Highlanders In Leafs' Class
Red Sox Win From Senators

RUDOLPH SOLD TO BOSTON
LEAFS GET PITCHER BROWN
Dicky Drew Record Price—Herbert For the State League
—Fitz May Replace McConnell at Second — Bachman
Is Holdout—Notes.

The Toronto fans have seen the last of Richard Rudolph. Dicky drew a fine and a suspension. The Toronto Club in his shape for good reliable pitchers offered big money and a tried heavier for Rudolph. McConnell closed the deal at once, despite his personal feelings.

Rudolph drew the record price when Boston paid $4000 cash and gave the Toronto management Pitcher Farmer Brown. Boston was offered $3500 or later on yesterday for Brown, and this brings Rudy's price up over the $7000 mark.

Maxwell is sporting a lame back, and President McCaffery asked that Brown report to the Leafs at once. He will join the club in Baltimore today. Another string is attached to the deal. Toronto is to get the pick of any material that Boston has to turn loose and may grab a few youngsters within the next few days.

Rudolph must pay his $100 fine, also the costs, amounting to $225, and give back $500 advanced by the Toronto Club at the beginning of the season before he reports to Boston.

Brown has a good record in the big show. He was traded to Philadelphia by the Leafs for our own Johnny Lush and then was sent to Boston in another trade. He would make good in this company.

Herbert has failed to satisfy Manager Kelley, and he will be given a year in the New York State League. He will have another chance with the Leafs next year.

Manager Kelley had his squad out for a week of hours on the Baltimore diamond yesterday morning, but yet they lost in the afternoon.

Wellman's pitching is clouting the Athletics in grand fashion, and with McConnell not in his stride yet there is a chance that Fitz will be worked at second for a few days. A rest may do him good.

PROVIDENCE, May 1.—Bailey was unsteady all thru today's game, and was hit hard when he was on base. His support was loose and slow fielding gave Buffalo the game. The score was 10 to 2.

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—Alexander, who last week pitched an eleven inning scoreless tie against New York, shut out McGraw's team here this afternoon, 1 to 0. The visitors secured six hits, three of which were made by Shafer and two by Snodgrass. Only one New York runner reached third. Killifer threw two men out trying to steal second and broke up a batting rally in the third inning by catching Snodgrass napping off second base. Four hits were made on Tesreau permit McGraw to get on base. Knabe and Doolan divided the safeties. Alexander scored the only run of the game on Shafer's double. Score: Philadelphia: A. B. R. H. O. MONTREAL AGAIN
SKEETERS BEATEN
Jersey City Off to Good Start,
But Davis Blew and Royals
Came On.

RUSHED TO THE RESCUE
Slow McHale Could Not Stop
Montreal's Swatfest and It
Was a Slaughter.

JERSEY CITY, May 1.—Montreal made it two straight over Jersey City with a victory in today's line-up at West Side Park by a score of 10 to 2. The Skeeters got off to a twirl in the first frame, but in the fifth round Pitcher Davis blew up and the Jersey City players went with him and six runs were collected by the Royals on two passes, four hits, Davis' error, a wild pitch and a passed ball. McHale was rushed to the rescue with the bases full, and worked until the end of the sixth when four more runs were scored. Brandon finished the game. Score: A. B. R. H. O. A. E.
