PUGSLEY OBJECTS TO THE READING OF 'MAYES' CHARGES

For Two Hours, Dr. Daniel Is Obstructed by Technical Quibbles in Endeavor to Read Affidavit—Struggle Will Resume To-day.

OTTAWA, April 14.—(Special).—Hon. William Pugsley's seat was the storm centre for two hours this afternoon in the house, and scenes of disorder approaching the Foster-Laurier jangle of ten days ago were witnessed.

The Wednesday 6 o'clock adjournment rule put a temporary stop to the uproar, both sides being no closer together than when Dr. Daniel precipitated the trouble about 4 o'clock, and to-morrow the hostilities will be resumed.

It was all over the celebrated affidavit made by W. W. Mayes, dredge contractor of St. John, on the eve of the last election. The affidavit affirmed that Mayes was induced to withdraw his tender for dredging at 50 cents a cubic yard and substitute another tender at 55 cents, the difference of five cents a yard totaling $25,000, going to George McAvity, a Liberal politician.

Dr. Daniel to-day attempted to move a resolution calling for an investigation of the McAvity-Mayes transaction, and calling on the government to take steps to recover the $25,000 paid as a bribe-off to McAvity, but he was met at the very first with objections and the whole time at the disposal of the house was taken up with heated arguments over points of order.

Before the motion to go into supply, on which Dr. Daniel rose to support the affidavit, the more recent matter of Mr. Pugsley's connection with the New Brunswick Railway and Coal Co. was referred to.

"I would like to ask the first minister a question," said Mr. Foster, "in addition to the one I put to him yesterday, and that is, as to whether he has yet received any copies of the report of the New Brunswick commission, and if, when he receives them, he will refer to the disposal of the house so that it may, if the house thinks proper, be printed for the information of the members of the house, to which Mr. Pugsley has replied 'No'."

Hon. Mr. Pugsley also observed: "May I be allowed to make just one remark? What has been printed is only a part of the report. I think that the members of the house should be given the whole of the report and the evidence and the documents. It is only when these are printed that one can readily understand what the report really is."

Dr. Daniel began by declaring that the affidavit of Mayes was on all fours with the charge of Major Hodgins, which had been referred to a special committee to investigate. Yet the government had not moved to appoint a committee to investigate the Mayes charges.

TROOPS SHOWED LOYALTY TO SULTAN

And Citizens Were Never in Danger—New Cabinet Brings Quietness to Constantinople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 14.—After the stirring events of yesterday and the early part of to-day in the Turkish capital, the successful formation of the cabinet and the issuance of an imperial proclamation, ordaining the preservation of the constitution, served to bring about a comparatively peaceful situation here to-night.

The members of the new cabinet, of which Tewfik Pasha is the grand vizier, have been installed in office. Grand vizier, Tewfik Pasha; minister of war, Edham Pasha; minister of marine, Vice-Admiral Adjemim Pasha; minister of the interior, Adil Bey; minister of justice, Hassan Fehim Pasha; minister of finance, Nury Bey; the other posts are filled by previous incumbents.

During the whole thrilling momentous episode the salient features of the revolution were the loyalty of the troops and the people to the sultan, whose name was frequently acclaimed, and the absence of attacks on the lives and property of citizens.

When it was learned that their demands had been granted the mutineers, headed by bands marched to night to deliberate on the purpose of claiming the sultan. They requested the sultan to repair to the palace and wear the "Green Turban" in order to testify his respect for religion. On their way to Yildiz Kiosk the troops were met by the sultan's bodyguard.

The new cabinet held a meeting to-day to deliberate on the situation. The grand vizier and the Sheikh Ul Islam arrived at the Porte in state at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and were cheered by the immense crowd that had gathered there.

On the approach of the cortege an intimation was made to the troops and the discharges of musketry ceased like magic. The precincts of the Porte were crowded in reply to the sultan's order that the ministry was installed without a shot being fired.

An imperial decree, appointing Tewfik Eddin Effendi as Sheikh Ul Islam also ordains the strict observance of the Shariah by the government and the maintenance of the security and progress of the government and the welfare of all the people.

The sultan adds that the observance of the instructions laid down in the most important and concludes by intimating that the grand vizier of the cabinet, which is composed of elements outside the ranks of the former cabinet, and which generally is considered as transitory and likely to lead eventually to the return of the former cabinet.

The force of the American falls has been reduced by the ice jam above the falls, and it is probable that a repetition of the dried up Niagara Falls will occur.

Employees of the Ontario Power Company have been instructed to make no statement and access to the plant is denied, but it is said that several feet of water floods the power house.

The Canadian-Niagara Company have been making strenuous efforts all day to break up the ice which is floating down the river from entering their intakes. Dynamiters have been using explosives this afternoon, but little effect was obtained.

Toronto's supply of power is safe, Harry Symes of the Electrical Development Company stated to-night that no condition from the ice could occur which will shut off the production of the current.

The mouth of the tunnel at the end of the upper steel arch bridge is buried from sight and the ice seems to be buckling up under enormous pressure from below. The huge ice mounds are being heaped more and more into fantastic shapes the growing hour by hour into what has become a sight of terrific grandeur, never before seen in old Niagara's winter time. The water is rising rapidly.

BRITAIN AND GERMANY BOUND BY TRADE TIES
Winston Churchill Declares There is No Antagonism That Only War Can Put an End To.

LONDON, April 14.—In a long letter to his admirers dealing with naval matters, the Winston Spencer Churchill, president of the board of trade, declares that no more fatal obsession could numb the brain of any statesman than to suppose there was a profound antagonism between Great Britain and Germany which could only be solved by war, because their commercial interests alone these two countries are necessary to each other.

In a general defence of the government's naval policy, Mr. Churchill declares that it would be absurd to build ships against the United States and that it is not the government's intention to take the American navy into consideration in framing the British naval estimates.

"Because," he added, "we do not believe there is any reasonably probable—nay, humanly conceivable—combination against the peace and freedom of the British people which would include the American navy."

SAV, LOOKOUT, MR. WEBB, YOUR WIFE'S AFTER YOU

She's Come All the Way From England to Prosecute For Alleged Case of Bigamy.

PORTLAND, Maine, April 14.—(Special).—Mrs. Elizabeth Webb, 57 years old, who arrived yesterday on the steamship Dominion, told the immigration officers that she was on her way to Toronto in search of a husband who, she says, has married another woman.

She was married twenty years ago and lived with her husband at Pontypool, England. About a year ago, Mrs. Webb says that her husband came to America and the understanding was that she should follow him as soon as she received money from him and some money. A few weeks ago Mrs. Webb got a letter from her husband who lives in Toronto, stating that her father had run away with her money and she was left penniless.

For vengeance Mrs. Webb left Toronto to-day, telling the officers that she would follow her husband to the end of the world to bring him to justice.

LITTLE FOR THE CREDITORS
Affairs of Ennis and Stoppard Said to Be Confused State.

NEW YORK, April 14.—(Special).—The receiver for the bankrupt brokerage firm of Ennis & Stoppard announced to-night that a casual examination of the firm's accounts disclosed that the company's expenses have been about $1,000,000 yearly, and the outlook is that creditors will receive less than 25 cents on the dollar.

Neither member of the firm showed up at the offices yesterday, if they had appeared rough treatment might have been given them, as the 200 men who crowded the offices all day were in an angry, fighting mood. The loss of their money meant absolute poverty to most of them and kept privations for their families. Nearly one-half of the crowd was composed of Jews from the east side, men who had slaved night and day to pile up a few hundred dollars, only to see the whole of their little fortunes wiped out at one swoop.

Ennis lives in a fine home at No. 89 Park-place, Brooklyn. Stoppard's home is at No. 352 West Eighty-seventh-street.

Stoppard has been a conspicuous figure at the fashionable hotels, having some fame as a heavy spender, according to The World. He was the reputed backer of an automobile company which turns out an expensive car. Yesterday it was declared he was in Hot Springs, Ark., where he went several weeks ago for his health.

Excise Officer To Seize 8000 Barrels Whisky

One of the Largest Distilleries in Maryland Alleged to Have Been Defrauding Govt.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—As a result of an investigation into charges of violation of the internal revenue law, John G. Capers, commissioner of internal revenue, issued formal instructions to-day to seize the Carroll Spring Distilling Company's plant, one of the largest registered grain distilleries in Maryland.

The seizure, which will involve the government taking possession of nearly 8000 barrels of whiskey, is based upon a long investigation, under the personal supervision of Commissioner Capers, who himself visited the establishment three months ago.

It is understood the charge was based on discoveries of new whiskey in old barrels, the substitution of new whiskey for old whiskey and the removal of it without the payment of one dollar and ten cents a gallon to the government; the substitution of gin for whiskey in some instances and in some of the packages excessive vantage.

QUEBEC FARMER SLAIN BY AN UNKNOWN HAND

Body Found in Barn After Some Days—Crime Evidently a De-liberate One.

BEAUCHERNOIS, Que., April 14.—(Special).—Last night Wilfrid Gendron of St. Etienne de Beaucharnois, while proceeding about his work, remembered that he had not seen his neighbor, Desiré Pelletier, for some little time.

Fearing that Pelletier had been overtaken by some calamity or other accident or a illness—he set out to investigate. He arrived at Pelletier's farm, and the missing man was soon found—stretched out dead on the floor of a barn, with a bullet wound behind the left ear.

He was lying at the foot of a barn door, and had evidently been entering the building when shot from behind.

Help was summoned and a search made for clues. About forty feet away, in the direction from which the shot had evidently come, an empty cartridge was found, it was lying behind the door of a second barn, and a door which had been placed to allow the passage of a rifle barrel.

Pelletier had been dead some time.

WOULDN'T TEACH YOUNG IDEA TO SHOOT

County of Dufferin Has No Use for Strathcona's Gift—Lively Discussion By School Trustees.

The registration at the Ontario Educational Association convention yesterday attained a total of over 800. The new president, as intimated in The World yesterday, is Henry Ward, B.A., Principal of Church-street School.

Interest again centred in the stir at the trustees' department over the question of military training in the schools. At the morning sitting a resolution by those opposed to compulsory training was proposed by J. J. Morrison, Arthur, seconded by J. H. Laughton, Partridge, and saying: "That the Trustees Association approve a provision looking to the introduction of physical training in public schools, but is opposed to compulsory military training in the same."

The mover of the resolution said it was an axiom that schools in our country should not be turned into military camps so will be our country. There had much been said in the past about the necessity of agricultural education, but the tendency of agricultural training was towards the farm, while military training was away from the farm.

Trustee Henry Collingwood, could not see why physical training would not suffice. The country, Mr. Collingwood said, was filled with settlers who had fled from Europe to escape the exactions of compulsory military training.

Should John Mills. Trustee Little, Dufferin County, said: "Let any young man who wants to be a military drill, join the volunteers. He had three sons who drilled in military camps, and he himself had served four years in the militia, but was opposed to military training being forced into the schools."

"We don't care for Lord Strathcona's millions, our boys have the shooting practice now. They can shoot the fox on the run, and the enemy on the run, and we want our boys to go to school for practical education, but not for little red caps and guns. We can clothe them ourselves. We are determined in the County of Dufferin not to have it."

Mr. Todd, Meaford, said that before Mr. Little saw the light of day, his father had handled his rifle, and he should be remembered that Waterloo was won where? At Rugby.

Mr. Weimer, secretary, said the Department in settlement was a unit. There is no division in regard to the willingness of every trustee to do his utmost for the defence of the County of Ontario. The present public school act provided for optional military drill, and no action by the section was necessary.

Mr. Anderson, Welland, declared military drill all right if optional. It gave boys a clean, neat, manly way of spending their leisure hours, and would never need to be used.

Mr. Colwell (Whitby) said there was no line, or suggestion of anything compulsory proposed. It was an optional system for teaching the boys of Canada how to do the right thing at the right time in the right way.

The debate was suddenly closed by the six months' holiday, and the Rev. J. C. Martin, Oshawa, seconded by J. Wright, Sarnia, but immediately flared up again in a motion by C. Ramage, Durham, seconded by the Rev. J. C. Martin, Oshawa, that the Rev. J. C. Martin, Oshawa, be printed in the report. After a short fervid debate the paper was ordered printed by a vote of 20 to 2 against.

Need of Physical Training. Dr. J. E. Hett followed the debate on military training by an address on the benefits of physical training and medical inspection. Statistics showed that 88 per cent. of all the children in New York schools required medical treatment. He remarked that with medical inspection and physical culture on national sports, would be placed on a much higher plane. There would be less drunkenness, insanity, suicides, and other evils.

"SPRING FEVER."

The need of a spring medicine seems to be universal. This is due to the fact that during the winter the blood becomes impure on account of the hearty food eaten. This causes that tired, weary, all-gone, don't-care-to-work feeling which is so prevalent at this time of year.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

THAT TIRIED FEELING.
Mr. F. H. Leard, Saskatoon, Sask., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters as a blood-purifier, and think it an excellent remedy. Everyone should take it. It is the spring to cure that tired feeling that comes to so many at this time of year."

USES IT EVERY SPRING.
Mr. H. Langley, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters as a spring tonic, and I find it the best thing I can take. It builds me right up, and I use it every spring. It is excellent to the blood."

Hewick measured 5 feet 11 inches in his stocky feet and was built in proportion. He had been somewhat of a short distance runner during the last two years, and when the east-end business men game a Marathon race some weeks ago the young man entered and ran a good, long race. He did not finish, and when he stopped was warm and did not take proper care of himself. He contracted a cold, which developed into pneumonia and caused his death.

STAND BY THE BOARD.

By the decision of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board yesterday to add the tract of territory known as "the Midway" to the municipal area of Toronto, there has been fulfilled in great part the policy urged by The World in a series of articles two years ago. Everybody except those immediately concerned in the government of the city is aware of its rapid growth. The rate has been 14,000 or 15,000 a year for some years. This means that in ten years Toronto will have 500,000 people. Toronto merchants are aware of this and are taking steps accordingly. Real estate men know what is going on and are flocking in from all over the province and from the United States and are making fortunes out of Toronto pessimists. Go up to the city hall and they will tell you that all this is nonsense. There is going to be no great development in Toronto. That there is too much vacant real estate in the city limits now. That it would be unwise to prepare for conditions five years ahead. That to look fifty years ahead, as they do in Boston or Chicago, is visionary. And that, anyway, it would cost too much.

"A stitch in time saves nine," is a homely proverb that might be commended to our pennywise pound-foolish city government, since their experience must convince them that most of the improvements crying for execution might have been completed at a tenth of the cost ten years ago, and that every year's delay adds from ten per cent. upwards to the ultimate cost.

The opposition to the midway annexation is now centered in the city hall. It is based on the grounds that the city has no right to be saddled with the territory in question with the addition of any terms beyond the straight order for annexation. The railway board has decided that the district is entitled to the same or similar terms that were given Westwood and Brimley. The representations made to the board led them to that decision, and the city is evidently regarded by the board as receiving adequate compensation for any responsibility it assumes in the added area and population. It is clear from the experience in the Avenue-road section that a fixed assessment for six years or until the sale of property, when reassessment is enforced, constitutes terms which work well for all parties.

If the city be really so earnest about bringing the property up to assessment value, and having it change hands within the prescribed period, so as to secure reassessment, all that is necessary is to build the Bloor-street-Danforth road viaduct and the whole eastern district will develop as rapidly as the tract north of Bloor and west of Bathurst. The same old paragonous objection is raised in this as in other cases, without any regard to the ultimate necessity and the ultimately increased cost. There is no making of omelettes without breaking of eggs, and the pitiful moan of the little fathers of the city hall is one of the things which make Toronto the laughing stock of the province.

It is only necessary to glance at a map of the city and the straight line that runs from the extreme west to the extreme east along Bloor-street to see that there is a clear case for the need of a thoroughfare across the Don, giving this spinal channel of the city a free way for the immense cross-town traffic that awaits it. Twenty years ago people talked about Bloor and Yonge-street corner as the city hall people now talk about Danforth and Broadview avenues. Today Bloor and Yonge and the neighborhood is not excelled by any other locality in Toronto. With a thru road from east to west the whole city would take a leap forward. The annexation order passed by the railway board yesterday makes the building of the Bloor-street viaduct a logical necessity. If the board had the powers of the New York Public Commission it would order the erection of the viaduct as an inevitable consequence.

At this point, however, the city hall is again up in protest, and yesterday it was stated that if the railway board failed to impose terms on the city the matter would be carried to the familiar tribunal at the foot of the throne. The act seems very clear, giving the board power to order annexations on such terms as shall be agreed upon, or "as may be determined by the board." There appears to be no desire on the part of the board to exercise arbitrary authority, but only in the absence of agreement on the part of those interested to lay down fair terms. These are to be arranged by the parties before the 28th inst., when the final order will be made. It is to be hoped that the city authorities will not take an obstructionist view of the case.

There is a special reason why they should not. The street-railway is particularly interested in tying up all the suburban and outlying city territories so that the question of extensions may be postponed as long as possible. It is altogether the street railway game that the city would be playing in entering upon a lengthy lawsuit with the railway board, which would delay the settlement of the large problems of street car service for the new districts until the city had lost control of the situation. The city will be well advised to accept any reasonable terms of annexation that the board sees right to impose. It goes without saying that this would not mean any more favorable consideration for the Golf Club than for others, if as much.

CIVIC GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION.

On Monday last Wichita, Kansas, passed a form of government, by a city council to government by commission. This new system, which began with Galveston, Texas, in 1902, has rapidly grown in favor after that city's experience demonstrated its efficiency, and the movement once set in motion has spread with remarkable rapidity. In 1907 the Texas Legislature authorized several other cities to adopt government by commission and simultaneously Iowa gave its municipalities the same opportunity. It was taken by Des Moines and since then other cities have made the change and are contented with the result. Only last week the Minnesota Legislature sent an enabling measure to the governor for signature.

The essence of government by commission is centralization and individual responsibility. Instead of a mayor and city council working thru committees there is a board of commissioners, who arrange among themselves how the departments are to be divided. Each member is responsible for the administration of the department or departments allotted to him and he has to justify re-election by his record. In fact, government by commission really regards a municipality as a strictly business proposition and it contemplates a strict adherence to business lines. There can be no evasion of responsibility and no escape from the duty of rendering account to the people for the manner and quality of the city's government. In all probability the experiment will result in the creation of a body of municipal experts living in the full light of publicity, which is the best safeguard of impartial and disinterested service.

The results during the next few years are deserving of close observation and the scheme is on trial in sufficiently large degree to warrant reliable conclusions. Enabling laws have been passed by South Dakota and Kansas and many cities in Maine, Massachusetts, Virginia, Tennessee, Idaho and Oregon have obtained power to establish commission governments. Of course in this as in every large business case the commissioner will stand or fall by the results he can show. In Iowa checks on the commissioners have been secured thru the medium of the initiative, recall and referendum. These and the commission system itself cannot but encourage the growth of a healthy public spirit by bringing home to the individual citizen a sense of his own immediate responsibility for the character of the civic administration which touches him so closely. It cannot also but check, if not wholly destroy, the corruption which has so long affected civic government in the United States. This itself is a gain well worth the essaying of the new system.

BETTER ROAD METHODS.

Before another winter comes and passes an earnest effort should be made to reform our road-making and road-tending methods. As The World has recently pointed out and reiterated, the conditions of the main roads in and about Toronto, once the asphalt limit is reached, are not only not creditable but positively discreditably to the leading Canadian province. Good roads are an absolute necessity and particularly required in the outskirts and borders of a great city. Over the border in many states vigorous organizations are in existence for the purpose of establishing and maintaining road systems of good class and adapted to meet the requirements of the general community. The value of a movement of this kind cannot be exaggerated and the advantages accruing from it are too apparent to require demonstration.

The methods that have been hitherto followed are too lax and haphazard to serve their purpose. In many cases, insufficiently constructed to begin with and for that reason calling for all the more care and attention, they have been left to themselves at the very time when assistance was most needed and would have had the best and most lasting effect. As a consequence of this delay and neglect the main arteries of traffic between city and country were all but impassable in places and nowhere were anything like what they should have been. The movement of commodities was thus impeded and considerable discomfort and inconvenience caused to all who had occasion to use the roads. Better provision ought to be made for the bestowal of the regular care without which even a well-built road cannot be kept in proper order. The World again urges the strong call for reform in road methods.

CITIES AND PUBLIC SERVICES.

By unanimous vote the senate of the State of New York passed the proposed amendment of the constitution, permitting the extension of the borrowing powers of the City of New York by exclusion from the computation of the debt limit of self-sustaining bonds issued for rapid transit and dock purposes. The amendment extends the same privilege to third-class cities in connection with bonds issued for a water supply, thus placing them in that respect on the same footing as first and second-class cities. The resolution, it is believed, will pass the legislative assembly without serious opposition and will be submitted for ratification by the people in November next.

Impressed by the propriety and urgency of this constitutional amendment Governor Hughes forwarded a special message urging the advantage of having new subways built and that the city authorities should be placed in a position to plan and carry out plans for comprehensive transit development. In doing this he remarked that "in any event the authorities should be so armed with all suitable powers for protection of the city that its serious situation may not be taken advantage of and terms secured which otherwise would not be yielded." He urged further that the city should be empowered to take the course it considered best for its own interests, and added that "it should not be compelled to consent to arrangements which are made the more onerous because of the existence of unnecessary limitations upon its authority."

Owing to the restrictions placed on municipalities in dealing with their own proper affairs they have been constantly hampered in transactions concerning their public franchises, money borrowed for the purpose of carrying on a profitable public service and ought not to be classed with debts incurred for non-productive purposes. Debts, as Governor Hughes says, that are taken care of, interest and principal out of the earnings of the properties in question, should not be included in calculating the indebtedness of the city. The same rule should apply in Canada and further municipalities should be placed in a position to carry out comprehensive plans for the development of their public services and to negotiate on equal terms with franchise holders, whose interests would not otherwise be granted, which would not otherwise be given power to resume its public services or to purchase the shareholdings in the operating companies. Without that power the council cannot be free to take the course which, in the governor's words, "under a fair consideration of all proposals may be for the city's best interests."

HOW TO EFFECT REDUCTION

Unique Plan Suggested to Secure Compensation.

Everybody is talking about how the tax will fall on the forty hotel licenses that are to be abolished in a few days. One unique suggestion has been made by a gentleman of considerable knowledge to the effect that the commissions ought to be decapitated. The forty best hotels in Toronto and then put it up to these gentlemen to buy out the forty poorest ones and in that way the poor hotels would be wiped out, their licenses would go to the best ones, and the men that stand the shock, and the men that are wiped out would get something for their loss.

Another man with whom The World conversed said that there was a disposition abroad to wipe out the ordinary drinking places, say for instance on Queen-street east of Yonge-street, where there were quite a number of hotels whose main custom was that of working men and the main drink of such customers was generally beer. He thought a great injustice would be effected if the beer drinking saloons, which were necessarily working men's places, were to be largely wiped out, or to put it in another way, if beer was put down in favor of spirits, and the working man to have less accommodation proportionately than his more wealthy neighbor.

The question of the legality of the reduction is still before Chief Justice Macdougall. Justice Pritchard and Justice MacLaren, who are reviewing the decision of Chief Justice Meredith, who has held that the proper procedure is the city bylaw reducing the number of licenses. This decision will be handed out any day now.

GEORGE E. SEARS

who sustained serious injuries in a street collision Tuesday night, is well known in Toronto. ### SOCIETY IS ORGANIZED FOR SPELLING REFORM

Will Endeavor to Further the Movement of the Cause in This Province

"The ultimate end of this movement, as I see it, is straight phonetic spelling," said T. H. Lennox, chairman of the meeting held yesterday afternoon at the university to discuss spelling reform. "There is one word that has always given me a great deal of trouble, 'physiology'—you've got to go to the middle of the word before you realize what it means. Leave off the 'p,' and then we will be able to distinguish it from 'physiology.'"

Dr. Hamilton pointed out that confusion would occur unless they gave a definite list of words. Newspapers had their list of the office, cast-iron, inviolable. Should they be taken out of the school? If the movement were to gather weight it could not afford to become loose or indefinite.

Some discussion arose as to whether the society should become a section of the Ontario Educational Association. The general view seemed to be that it should be widened to include the

A BANKERS' MONOPOLY?

Annual Take-Off of Millions in Unearned Note Income

"That the Canadian Bankers' Association had too much power, was urged by P. McIntosh before the commercial section of the Ontario Educational Association yesterday. It was an anomaly in the Banking Act that, as he read it, no reserve was called for behind any note or deposit. While there was a percentage of one per cent of the cash reserve called for in Dominion notes, no total reserve was called for at all. Actually, the double liability of the shareholders was the main source of the note holder."

ONOPOLY?

Bankers' Association was urged the commercial Educational Assn. It was an anecdotal, as he is called for to deposit. While 40 per cent. of last year, it was 500,000. It was to pay half of United States revenue here after.

Canada's Power.

LONDON, April 14.—(C.A.P.)—An experienced member of Mark-Lane, in the Morning Post discusses the wheat shortage and says that Canada has 4,000,000 quarters of old wheat which, if put into Mark-Lane, would supply half the deficit here. Canada holds a strong position, and any movement she makes would have an important effect on any operations which the American grain will be contemplating.

Farmers Dictate Terms.

CALGARY, Alta., April 14.—Farmers control wheat situation here. Local millers claim their supply in store exhausted and will have to advance the price of flour until the farmers see fit to market their surplus wheat. The last year placed the farmers in a position to hold the grain and dictate terms.

Farmers Not Alarmed.

WINNIPEG, April 14.—(Special.)—The grain situation is backward, the farmers fell no anxiety on that account. Most of the wheat land is already prepared, and the heavy snowfall, slowly melting, is entering the soil instead of running off as in speedy floods. With later seeding it will be warmer and with plenty of moisture the crop will secure a vigorous start.

An Emperor's Menu Cards.

The Emperor of Austria's collection of menu cards is without equal in the world, writes a Vienna correspondent of The London Mail. Numbering 3700 examples, it consists of cards for every occasion, from festive occasions, and scarcely a royal house in Europe is unrepresented.

The Austrian ambassadors at the various courts, knowing the emperor's hobby, took every opportunity of collecting for him specimens from all parts of the world.

The cards are arranged under the towns from which they date, a shelf in the cabinet being devoted to each capital.

One of the most interesting and beautiful of all is the card designed in black marble with ivory lettering by a French artist for the festival of given by Czar Alexander in honor of the visit of the czar. A special cabinet is reserved for the menus of banquets given in honor of Bismarck.

King Edward's Suits.

Someone has said that King Edward never wears the same suit twice. This is an exaggeration. The King exchanges his attire about three times a day, and consequently would more than a thousand new suits a year, costing $4,000,000 quarters of old wheat which, if put into Mark-Lane, would supply half the deficit here.

A Delicate Hint.

Sandy and his lass had been sitting together about half an hour in silence, relates Success.

"Maggie," he said at length, "wasn't I here on the Sawbath night?"

"Aye, Sandy, I daur say you were."

"An' wasn't I here on Monday night?"

"Aye, so ye were."

"An' I was here on Tuesday night, an' Wednesday night, an' Thursday night, an' Friday night?"

"Aye, I'm thinkin' that's so."

"An' I was Saturday night, an' I'm here again?"

"Weel, what for, no? I'm sure ye're feelin' well."

"Sandy desparately: 'Maggie, woman! D'ye no begin to smell a rat?'"

April. The raindrops glisten in the sun. As down the window-panes they run, and grass within their tiny hands, and a rainbow bright of colored strands, a rainbow bright of colored strands, a rainbow bright of colored strands, a rainbow bright of colored strands.

And Phyllis' gaze—when to her eyes The glancing tears rebellious rise; My Phyllis smiles thru mists of tears, And each a rainbow gay appears of Phyllis, ill with colored strands, Is sweetest in an April shower.

GOOD SHEEP FARMING IN HASTINGS COUNTY

An Experiment Wherein 1000 Sheep Are Graded Up Into Profit of Owner and Caretaker

Thinking that an account of a recent visit to an extensive sheep farm in one of the northern townships of Hastings County may be of interest to your readers, the following is respectfully submitted.

The farm referred to is the property of Dr. A. S. Leavitt and lies about 5 miles south of Bancroft, a thriving village on the C. O. Ry. and is 1300 acres in extent, being a square, it entirely encloses three lakes which the Doctor has taken pains to stock with trout and black bass, putting in eighty thousand trout fry about three years ago, soon after acquiring the property.

The acquisition of so large a property is the sequel to a chance invest-ment in a flock of twenty ewes, about twelve years ago. At that time the Doctor had no idea of being a farmer nor of owning, as he does at this writing, not less than a thousand sheep.

It happened in this way: The Doctor was November the Doctor thought himself fortunate to be able to acquire a flock of sheep, each ten of his ewes, under an agreement to care for and return at the end of three years, double the number. This was interesting to a great many people besides the parties directly concerned.

The original point was discussed at great length, and Mr. Speaker observed that he desired to have the opinion of the old parliamentarians given his ruling. The old custom had been that no member should presume to make a charge without responsibility. On that point, he asked the opinion of the house before giving his ruling.

Mr. Speaker again observed that no offensive word could be read or spoken of another, and Mr. Speaker said that when the charge had reference to something which occurred during the private life of a minister, it was not within the scope of the house.

Mr. Lancaester pointed out that Dr. Daniel's motion was to get back some money belonging to the people of Ontario, and the doctor proposed to produce reasons why it should pass. He could not garble the evidence by leaving out any offensive words.

"If the motion," asked the premier, "is to investigate a rake-off wouldn't it be as complete without the reference to the names of the parties?"

"You would ask us to produce the evidence," replied Mr. Lancaester.

"The house wanted for some minutes on this point till finally Mr. Foster made an appeal to the prime minister.

"Are we in a parliament or a mad house," asked Mr. Foster. "I leave the whole matter to the right hon. gentleman."

Sir Wilfrid said in reply to this query that, as on a previous occasion, it was for him to set the example. They had the rule that no member may speak offensively of another, but there was an exception in the case of a member who makes a charge, which, if he fails to prove, would leave him open to grave censure. He cited several cases where such charges were made. Dr. Daniel should proceed with his speech, remembering the caution of Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Haggart maintained that it was not competent for any one to make a charge against Mr. Pugsley who was not a member of that house in 1905, and that his childish, boyish, babyish, for subtlety.

Six o'clock arrived with the two parties still appearing and wrangling, and Mr. Pugsley, under the Wednesday rule Mr. Speaker did not leave the chair.

Mr. Foster's Appeal. Just as he left the date he shed used appealed to the prime minister not to consider a decision as having been made that would curtail the privileges of parliament and to take time to consider the best course to pursue.

"No decision has been made," said Sir Wilfrid.

Small Fire. Fire of unknown origin, but thought to be incendiary, destroyed a shed used by a baby carriage repair shop by Robert Hawks, in rear of his house, just north of St. Clair-avenue, on Bathurst-street, at 9.30 last night. The fire, which was caused by a gas stove, from Ovington-avenue went to the scene, but as they could get no water, were unable to do anything.

The feature of the evening session of the Ontario Education Association in Convocation Hall was the address by Charles DeGarmo, Ph.D. of Cornell University on "Some Modern Ideas in Education."

Prof. DeGarmo, who is the possessor of a clear and incisive manner of speaking, and withal blessed with a ready wit.

"There is something radically wrong," he proclaimed. "Even the blind can see it. I speak only of our own conditions on the other side of the line; I do not know yours well enough. Our high schools are only half doing their work. We are running two systems of education in Ontario."

"The students in our graduate schools come to the university as if for a repair shop, but what kind of a system of education is it?"

"One lady writer in the United States," he said, "all on the kindergarten system; 'Infant vaudeville,' she calls it. Another says it's all because of the women—let me put down the other way of the elementary schools, raise them. These remedies are picturesque but impracticable. Progress does not come from destruction."

"Over our way we tried addition, then we broke away from the curriculum, then we had subtraction and took out again. Then we followed John Dewey and tried organization. Our pet delusion is that the way to correct a bad system is to have more of it."

"The fundamental difficulty is that we break away from the system we expect to look on as a curse. I believe that the only remedy is one that puts into the schools a man who will believe that he will respond to an education that has no work in it."

Prof. DeGarmo then went on to make a plea for a more practical education, one that would give the student a real education, one that would give the student a real education, one that would give the student a real education.

"The original point was discussed at great length, and Mr. Speaker observed that he desired to have the opinion of the old parliamentarians given his ruling. The old custom had been that no member should presume to make a charge without responsibility. On that point, he asked the opinion of the house before giving his ruling."

Mr. Speaker again observed that no offensive word could be read or spoken of another, and Mr. Speaker said that when the charge had reference to something which occurred during the private life of a minister, it was not within the scope of the house.

Mr. Lancaester pointed out that Dr. Daniel's motion was to get back some money belonging to the people of Ontario, and the doctor proposed to produce reasons why it should pass. He could not garble the evidence by leaving out any offensive words.

"If the motion," asked the premier, "is to investigate a rake-off wouldn't it be as complete without the reference to the names of the parties?"

"You would ask us to produce the evidence," replied Mr. Lancaester.

"The house wanted for some minutes on this point till finally Mr. Foster made an appeal to the prime minister.

"Are we in a parliament or a mad house," asked Mr. Foster. "I leave the whole matter to the right hon. gentleman."

Sir Wilfrid said in reply to this query that, as on a previous occasion, it was for him to set the example. They had the rule that no member may speak offensively of another, but there was an exception in the case of a member who makes a charge, which, if he fails to prove, would leave him open to grave censure. He cited several cases where such charges were made. Dr. Daniel should proceed with his speech, remembering the caution of Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Haggart maintained that it was not competent for any one to make a charge against Mr. Pugsley who was not a member of that house in 1905, and that his childish, boyish, babyish, for subtlety.

Six o'clock arrived with the two parties still appearing and wrangling, and Mr. Pugsley, under the Wednesday rule Mr. Speaker did not leave the chair.

Mr. Foster's Appeal. Just as he left the date he shed used appealed to the prime minister not to consider a decision as having been made that would curtail the privileges of parliament and to take time to consider the best course to pursue.

"No decision has been made," said Sir Wilfrid.

Small Fire. Fire of unknown origin, but thought to be incendiary, destroyed a shed used by a baby carriage repair shop by Robert Hawks, in rear of his house, just north of St. Clair-avenue, on Bathurst-street, at 9.30 last night. The fire, which was caused by a gas stove, from Ovington-avenue went to the scene, but as they could get no water, were unable to do anything.

PUGSLEY OBJECTS

making that certain matters be referred to a committee, he had no objection.

That was exactly what Dr. Daniel intended, he said, and he sent his resolution to Mr. Speaker who, after reading it, said there was no charge against the minister.

Mr. Foster began an explanation of the affidavit. Among other things Mr. Foster said that he had no objection to Mr. Pugsley's resolution to read the affidavit, but that he had no objection to Mr. Pugsley's resolution to read the affidavit, but that he had no objection to Mr. Pugsley's resolution to read the affidavit.

Mr. Pugsley interposed an objection and called for a retraction of the last statement, but Mr. Foster held that he was only quoting the language of the affidavit.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier had taken no part in the discussion up to this point, but he rose to say that the issue was whether the affidavit should be read. While that point was being discussed he was not allowable to read the affidavit, but he was only quoting the language of the affidavit.

Dr. Daniel was surprised at the attitude of Mr. Pugsley. If any honorable gentleman in the house ought to be censured for a committee of investigation, it was the minister of public works. If the charge could be disproved, Pugsley ought to be the first to ask for the investigation.

A Reflection Upon Homer? Prof. Stevenson discussed the point of order. The affidavit about to be read by Dr. Daniel reflected upon the honor of a public man, and he asked my hon. friend to withdraw that statement," demanded Mr. Pugsley.

Mr. Lennox refused to admit that there was anything to withdraw, and Mr. Speaker read the rule that no member may say an offensive thing of another.

Mr. Conmee joined in, but his rising only created a more uproar. Mr. Lennox put in an observation about a special train and the Conservative benches yelled "Committee!" Mr. Conmee demanded a withdrawal, and Mr. Lennox was willing to leave that to Mr. Speaker.

"I don't see anything to object to," was the comment of Mr. Speaker. As in the late Laurier-Foster episode, the remark could only be applied to Mr. Conmee "by inference."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier did not think Mr. Lennox intended to be offensive. If he did he should withdraw. "The member is out of order; the speaker has ruled," said Mr. Lennox. Did the prime minister desire that the thing should be brought up that there should be an investigation?

Mr. Speaker seeks Advice. The original point was discussed at great length, and Mr. Speaker observed that he desired to have the opinion of the old parliamentarians given his ruling. The old custom had been that no member should presume to make a charge without responsibility. On that point, he asked the opinion of the house before giving his ruling.

MODERN IMPROVEMENTS ARE BEING INSTALLED

Telephone Will Soon Be in Good Working Order—Opera House Nearly Completed.

ELK LAKE, April 14.—(From the Rev. J. J. Wright.) "The walking is good." This was the remark made by a man this morning when referring to the trip between here and Charlton.

A very few teamsters are taking the risk of getting small loads from Charlton, but most will likely see the end of all teaming. This afternoon the engine and fittings for a gasoline launch came in. The slight was drawn by four horses each of which was nearly exhausted as it could be without dropping by the roadside.

On Sunday morning, Easter, the first church in Elk Lake opened its doors. Rev. J. J. Wright, minister, has been holding services in a large tent during the winter.

A gang of men are now at work on the telephone line between Charlton and Elk Lake and Gowanda, doing permanent construction work, and when this is completed the difficulties that have been experienced all winter on account of the line being down frequently, will be done away with.

The opera house on the Elk City side of the river is also nearing completion. The building will be capable of seating 500 people. When completed it will be one of the best opera houses in the state of North Bay.

The World Man visited the office of the Explorer, Elk Lake's first newspaper, to-day. It was a surprise and revelation. A surprise to find a complete newspaper plant in a log cabin.

Another new thing that The World Man saw, not into to-day, was a wire netting being used by the men who frequent the Majestic Theatre.

The Reason Why. The reason for such exceptional values in typewriter papers and carbons is that it pays us to give our customers the best.

THE STERLING BANK OF CANADA. It is hereby given that a dividend of one and one-quarter per cent (1 1/4 per cent) for the quarter ending 30th April instant (being at the rate of five per cent per annum) has been declared.

Wall Street Is Irregular The Good Support Is Present

Specialty Movements Serve to Keep Up Speculative Interest—Canadian Stocks Are Still Listless.

Wednesday Evening, April 14. Altho a fair volume of business was transacted at the Toronto stock market to-day there was no enthusiasm displayed in any of the issues and prices in the aggregate showed little if any change from those of yesterday.

The New York market continues to absorb all the speculative local business and until a change in this regard it is not expected that domestic securities will either show activity or buoyancy.

No news came into the market to-day to disturb the normal situation and such trading as occurred was largely between those who give almost continuous attention to this market.

There is a better demand for investment issues to-day, but supplies were obtainable without making any definite imprint upon quotations.

Wall Street Fluctuates. London expects further reduction in bank rate before end of month.

Contango on Americans at London settlements at 3 per cent, but stock exchange loans were made at 2 1/4 to 2 1/2 per cent.

Assembly at Albany reports favorably on public service commission's new law.

American Malt now doing much larger business than a year ago, but with smaller margin of profit.

Twenty-four roads for first week of April show average gross increase of 15.9 per cent.

It is reported in the board that they have decided to sell all H. property, which accounts for the rise in the stock.

OAKLAND, Cal.: The Union National Bank has closed its doors. There is due depositors $388,000, which the bank officers are confident will be paid in full.

Joseph says: A resumption of the upward movement will be seen almost immediately. Good buying of Beet Sugar and Ice will again be in evidence.

Latest reports seem to indicate that the general market is resolving temporarily into a trading affair, with specialties bulled during the selling of the leaders.

We look for profit-taking to extend somewhat further, but important interests will not allow the market to get out of hand and on any sharp dip we regard leading stocks generally as safe purchases for turns, at least.

Domestic Steel Directors to Meet. MONTREAL, April 14.—The directors of Dominion Steel Company will meet Friday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock at the Windsor Hotel to discuss the financial affairs of the company and take action on the proposed dividend on the preferred shares.

On Wall Street. Beaty & Glasco received the following from Erickson, Perkins & Co.:

After the morning advance the business quieted down and until the last hour showed but little animation.

Miller & Co. wired Wallace & Eastwood after the close: The slight show of weakness from abroad to-day was undoubtedly due to the situation in the Ottoman Empire.

Mr. Fox's law and Mr. Habbitt kept on saying nothing fairly represents the behavior of the majority of the members of the legislature...

Feeling all this, Sir James is the more impatient of criticism or of suggestions for further radical outpourings...

Very few changes have occurred in the other departments. However, the Ontario Northern Railway grant of 2,000,000 acres...

While the government has pursued its undeviating way the opposition has done little to justify its existence as such. It is expected that the excavating will commence in the fall for the building...

MIDWAY COMES IN ON SPECIAL ASSESSMENT

Gets Six Years or Same as Bracendale and Wychwood—Suburban and County News.

A large array of legal talent presented the views of the various sections constituting the "Midway" to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board yesterday afternoon...

City Solicitor Chisholm was there, John Kyle represented York Township, Frank Hodgins, K.C., looked after the interests of those who sought special terms...

Chairman Leitch did not see how the board could discriminate in favor of the Toronto Golf Club against the farmers who have to struggle for a living...

The chairman thought otherwise. "Do you think," said Mr. Leitch, "that a resolution of the city council would oust the jurisdiction of the board?"

Controller Ward, when asked last night if the board of control would move for the prohibition of such procedure, said that the board of control would fight to the bitter end...

Controller Harrison thought that since the terms were the same as those extended to Bracendale and Wychwood they might be accepted.

Monday, April 12, was agreed upon by the railway board as the day for drawing up the final document.

J. B. Harris of William Harris & Co., the largest property owner in the "midway," was delighted with the finding of the municipal board...

All thru the "midway" and up in Chester the finding of the municipal board was last night hailed with pleasure and not even the implied intention of the board of control to fight the decision of the municipal board is looked upon with alarm.

"The 'midway' and all the north-eastern section will experience a great big substantial boom," said a well-known business man last night.

MINISTER HEARS VOICES OF U. S. PRINCIPALS. "Approved" Method of Inspection Declared to Be Unfair—Suggestion Will Be Considered.

"A plain English interpretation of the regulations" was the demand made upon Hon. Dr. Fyne, minister of education, yesterday afternoon...

The principals were introduced by W. S. Ellis of Kingston College and the minister. They objected to the present system of inspection as autocratic, discouraging, and an encroachment upon freedom.

"We are convinced," said "that the method of determining the character of the teacher's work by examination of note-books is at variance with sound educational principles and cannot fail to lead to mischievous results."

Dr. Fyne, while the latter was chosen an honorary president. Among the members the memorial issue just placed in the hands of the members, containing a biographical sketch of all those deceased during the year was regarded as a splendid production, and will be treasured as an heirloom.
