EQUAL OPPORTUNITY FOR MARITIMES URGED

ASPIRATIONS OF EAST GIVEN PROMINENCE BY FINANCIAL POST

Atlantic Provinces Demand No Special Consideration But Fair Dealing, Says Leading Article of Special Issue

CONFEDERATION PROBLEMS PROBED

Declares If Duncan Report Is Implemented, Maritimes Will Feel That Dominion Is Pulling Together for the Common Weal

TORONTO, Nov. 22.—That the Maritimes demand no special consideration but merely equal opportunity with other parts of the Dominion, is the conclusion reached by Rielie Thomson, eastern editor, in the course of a leading article in the current issue of The Financial Post.

Mr. Thomson's article, which leads a 30-page section devoted entirely to featuring the Maritime Provinces, goes thoughtfully and sympathetically into the complaints, problems and aspirations of the provinces on the Atlantic seaboard, and points out with due emphasis that the difficulties left by Confederation and economic changes require the keenest attention from all good Canadians. The article says:

"For well nigh sixty years, the three Maritime Provinces have awaited patiently some unbiased inquiry of the solution of the obvious handicaps under which they labor as members of one confederation of provinces, now known as the Dominion of Canada.

While the Upper Canadian or Western Canadian, who has given little thought to the problems of these provinces, frequently expresses the view that the Maritime Provinces have but little of which to complain, yet, to any unbiased observer of the situation along the Atlantic seaboard, it is evident that the Maritime Provinces have many claims which should not be overlooked.

Secondly, that while there has been much complaint in the Maritimes regarding their handicaps, yet there seems little doubt that the three provinces have displayed a remarkable patience during the last fifty-nine years which probably would not have been displayed by any other section of Canada.

Thirdly, that while there has been much complaint in the Maritimes regarding their handicaps, yet there seems little doubt that the three provinces have displayed a remarkable patience during the last fifty-nine years which probably would not have been displayed by any other section of Canada.

Fourthly, that while there has been much complaint in the Maritimes regarding their handicaps, yet there seems little doubt that the three provinces have displayed a remarkable patience during the last fifty-nine years which probably would not have been displayed by any other section of Canada.

Fifthly, that while there has been much complaint in the Maritimes regarding their handicaps, yet there seems little doubt that the three provinces have displayed a remarkable patience during the last fifty-nine years which probably would not have been displayed by any other section of Canada.

Sixthly, that while there has been much complaint in the Maritimes regarding their handicaps, yet there seems little doubt that the three provinces have displayed a remarkable patience during the last fifty-nine years which probably would not have been displayed by any other section of Canada.

Seventhly, that while there has been much complaint in the Maritimes regarding their handicaps, yet there seems little doubt that the three provinces have displayed a remarkable patience during the last fifty-nine years which probably would not have been displayed by any other section of Canada.

Eighthly, that while there has been much complaint in the Maritimes regarding their handicaps, yet there seems little doubt that the three provinces have displayed a remarkable patience during the last fifty-nine years which probably would not have been displayed by any other section of Canada.

Ninthly, that while there has been much complaint in the Maritimes regarding their handicaps, yet there seems little doubt that the three provinces have displayed a remarkable patience during the last fifty-nine years which probably would not have been displayed by any other section of Canada.

Tenthly, that while there has been much complaint in the Maritimes regarding their handicaps, yet there seems little doubt that the three provinces have displayed a remarkable patience during the last fifty-nine years which probably would not have been displayed by any other section of Canada.

Eleventhly, that while there has been much complaint in the Maritimes regarding their handicaps, yet there seems little doubt that the three provinces have displayed a remarkable patience during the last fifty-nine years which probably would not have been displayed by any other section of Canada.

Twelfthly, that while there has been much complaint in the Maritimes regarding their handicaps, yet there seems little doubt that the three provinces have displayed a remarkable patience during the last fifty-nine years which probably would not have been displayed by any other section of Canada.

Thirteenthly, that while there has been much complaint in the Maritimes regarding their handicaps, yet there seems little doubt that the three provinces have displayed a remarkable patience during the last fifty-nine years which probably would not have been displayed by any other section of Canada.

Fourteenthly, that while there has been much complaint in the Maritimes regarding their handicaps, yet there seems little doubt that the three provinces have displayed a remarkable patience during the last fifty-nine years which probably would not have been displayed by any other section of Canada.

Fifteenthly, that while there has been much complaint in the Maritimes regarding their handicaps, yet there seems little doubt that the three provinces have displayed a remarkable patience during the last fifty-nine years which probably would not have been displayed by any other section of Canada.

Sixteenthly, that while there has been much complaint in the Maritimes regarding their handicaps, yet there seems little doubt that the three provinces have displayed a remarkable patience during the last fifty-nine years which probably would not have been displayed by any other section of Canada.

EXPRESS SHOWS UPWARD BUSINESS TREND

All Cities in Maritimes Record Increases, C.N.R. Reports

BEGAN IN 1925

Marked Decrease in Export of Small Fruits Owing to Bad Weather

MONCTON, N. B., Nov. 22.—All cities in the Maritime Provinces have recorded increased express business during the last year, H. R. Hauch, superintendent of the Canadian National Express Company, said this morning.

The increase, while not large, is indicative of the general trend of business in the three provinces.

The upward movement began in the latter half of 1925, and has continued since that time, every month with the exception of October last, recording better business.

A wireless communication picked up there from the Spanish steamer Cabo Santa Pola said the vessel was in distress five miles off Pales. She had lost her propeller and was in need of help.

The fishing industry is at a complete standstill. The River again has suffered badly.

A tidal wave swept bales of merchandise from the wharves at Marcellus, damaged the coast road and stopped the operation of the street cars.

Both the Atlantic and Mediterranean coasts, are filled with battered vessels. The fishing industry is at a complete standstill.

The Swiss canton of Ticino has been visited by a gale, accompanied by a deluge of rain, which lasted 24 hours.

The rivers rose swiftly and flooded the various lakes. An Italian torpedo boat belonging to the anti-smuggling service was forced to take refuge at the Swiss village of Maggino, on Lake Maggiore.

HOUDINI'S END WAS FORETOLD, SAYS DOYLE

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Sir Conan Doyle reveals in a letter to the Westminster Gazette that when he was in Atlantic City with Houdini a seance was held in which a spirit message was received through a medium, the wife of a well known American lawyer, from Houdini's mother, mourning the premature end she foresaw for her son.

Sir Conan concludes: "We withheld the message from Houdini, hoping that it might prove she was mistaken. But that hope has now been disappointed."

PORTRAIT PRESENTED

LONDON, Nov. 22.—As a gift to the Canadian nation Sir Leicester Harcourt, ex-M.P., brother of the late Lord Northcliffe, today handed Premier Mackenzie King a portrait of Sir Robert L. Borden, former Prime Minister of Canada painted by Sir Wm. Orpen during the sittings of the Versailles conference.

QUEEN MARIE VISITS ROOSEVELT'S GRAVE

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The programme of Queen Marie of Rumania, and Princess Ileana today included a visit to the grave of Theodore Roosevelt at the Bay and luncheon at the home of Mrs. Wm. B. Leeds, the former Princess Xenia of Greece.

Princess Ileana, on foot from Cleveland, Ohio, did not figure in the plans. The Queen and her party will go on board the steamship Bernagaria tomorrow night.

WARREN, Pa., Nov. 22.—An Erie man and inveterate crossword puzzle enthusiast, has been admitted to the State Hospital for the insane here. It was said his delirium would not be long, as doctors observed his nervous breakdown.

SMUTS IS PLEASED

Boer General Comments on Results of Empire Farley

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Nov. 22.—General Jan Smuts, the noted Boer general, and South African representative at the peace conference in Paris in 1919, today welcomed the report of the Imperial Conference as leaving the Imperial position unchanged.

He added also that the acid test of South African nationalists would be whether they would now drop the plank of the war and support the peace conference.

He said that he hoped nothing more about international recognition of the Dominion.

WILD SCENES MARK DEFEAT OF N. S. WALES LABOR GOVERNMENT

GOVT SUPPORTERS WITH OPPOSITION

Request for Premier's Resignation Meets Vigorous Retort by Lang

BRITISH UNITED PRESS SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 22.—Exciting scenes occurred in the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales this morning when Premier Lang's Labor government was beaten by one vote, following last week's election.

Dr. Minister Loughlin and two others voted with the Opposition, the vote being taken on a minor motion, but the great defeat is critical and a censure motion by the Opposition is a foregone conclusion.

Dramatic week-end negotiations were made to bring in the insurgents in line but they were unsuccessful, and when the vote was taken epithets were hurled at the insurgents while the members of the Opposition cheered wildly.

It is believed that the parliament will be dissolved and a premature election will be held early in the new year. It is believed that Premier Lang could have headed the breach by resigning the leadership of the Labor party.

Franc is causing nervous tension

Poincare Says Financial Battle Far From Being Over

PARIS, Nov. 22.—The franc today opened at 27.43 to the dollar, as against Saturday's closing of 28. There was a state of tense nervousness in all quarters because of an expected financial battle to come.

There was widespread concern over the admittedly too rapid and too great rise in the franc, and Premier Poincare's statement at Tarbes yesterday that France was still far from being out of the woods financially.

Have safety act

Irish Government Determined to Put Down Opposition

DUBLIN, Nov. 22.—The government's proclamation under the public safety act that a state of national emergency exists is indicative of its determination to put down all disturbers of the peace, particularly those persons who last week carried out raids on civic barracks at various places.

It was these raids that led to the quick passage of the public safety act, under the terms of which persons may be arrested and detained without trial on suspicion of complicity in attempts to overthrow the government, or having arms or explosives in their possession or falsely assuming military or police rank.

Baden-Powell at Gathering of Boer War Veterans

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Nov. 22.—(Via Reuters)—The Earl of Athlone, Governor General of South Africa, presided at a gathering of 70 Boer war veterans who assembled here yesterday to meet Sir Robert Baden-Powell, defender of Mafeking during the Boer war, who is now touring the country with Lady Baden-Powell.

The guests almost entirely consisted of Sir Robert's antagonists in the famous siege.

HELD FOR MANSLAUGHTER

BERWICK, N.S., Nov. 22.—Harvey Savage was arrested here Saturday afternoon on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of George Ferguson, who was struck and killed by an automobile near Berwick, October 29.

THREE DIE IN FIRE

Los Angeles Downtown Apartment House is Razed

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—Three persons perished, several were injured and eight women were saved from death by firemen when a blaze of undetermined origin gutted a four-story apartment house in the downtown district here early today.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

TRURO, Nov. 22.—The inquest into the death of Bertha M. Holmes, who was instantly killed here last Friday afternoon, when struck by a car driven by Mrs. Henry Norrie, of North River, Colchester county, resulted Saturday in the jury's returning a verdict of accidental death, with the recommendation that Mrs. Norrie's license be cancelled and no license to drive a car be given in future without an examination and certificate from a qualified official appointed by the government.

CHANGE KING'S TITLE

APPROPOS of the change in the King's title, the Guardian, while admitting that it is largely a matter of form, says what is not a matter of form is the new arrangement in the position and functions of the representatives of the crown in the dominions.

"The precise constitutional position of the representatives of the crown has never yet been clearly defined," the Guardian continues, "and they each have the combined functions of a constitutional representative of the crown and an agent for the practical purposes of the home government, hence there is much confusion concerning their actual powers, of which an unfortunate example was recently seen in Canada. This is now to cease, and a dominion governor will henceforth stand precisely in the same relation to his government as the sovereign to the British government, while the official relations between the home and dominion government will be clarified."

FEW CRITICISMS MADE BY PAPERS OVER RESULTS

Change in Status of Governor-General Welcomed by Guardian

OTHER COMMENT

Washington Deeply Interested, Says Special New York Despatch

By GEORGE HAMBLETON, Staff Correspondent, Canadian Press

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Public opinion, as represented by the press outside of London, especially in the north of England, welcomes the decisions of the Imperial Conference in their entirety.

The Manchester Guardian, noting that the conference did not attempt to lay down a constitution for the Empire, congratulates the British Government on its decision to appoint an impartial investigator to investigate claims of the unalienated crown lands.

The Guardian also commends the Premier's decision to return to the Dominion of Wales the Peace River District and along the Canadian Pacific Railway which the province ceded in return for a railway.

Premier John Oliver declared in celebration of the birthday of Sir James Douglas, British Columbia's first Governor.

After instancing the case of the Maritimes, where a Royal Commission was appointed to investigate claims, the Premier declared: "We have a very serious grievance, and, if the Federal Government is consistent, it will give us a Royal Commission."

PREMIER HONORED BY CAMBRIDGE U.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The University of Cambridge today conferred on Premier Mackenzie King the honorary degree of doctor of laws.

Tomorrow, following the official close of the Imperial Conference, Premier King will go to Edinburgh, where he will receive the freedom of the city.

On Saturday the Canadian Prime Minister will proceed to Paris, where he will take a few days' rest prior to sailing for home from Cherbourg on the Majestic on December 1, accompanied by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Canadian Minister of Justice, and Hon. Vincent Massey, minister plenipotentiary at Washington.

It says that such a task was impossible in itself, for even if it were done today it would have to be undone tomorrow, as circumstances change and political arrangements have to change with them.

The definition of the dominions as autonomous committees, etc., seems to the Guardian to carry every right except the right of secession, "and it is difficult to see how even that could be denied if seriously demanded and pressed," it says.

5-DAY WEEK WOULD SEND MORE TO CHURCH

So Says Henry Ford In Talking of His
New Plan
GIVES REASONS

Billionaire Manufacturer Declares More Recreation
Needed

DEARBORN, Mich., Nov. 20.—Henry Ford believes in the five-day working week because it is good business; he believes in it, also, because with two days of weekly leisure more people will go to church.

The new week that Ford sees coming comprises:
Monday to Friday, inclusive, labor.
Saturday, recreation.
Sunday, religious devotion.

Both physical and spiritual recreation, he declares, are essential to the perpetuation of the human race.

INTERLOCKING
In a remarkable discussion of the interlocking of man's spiritual with his material welfare, the billionaire manufacturing genius asserted:

People of today have stressed the physical to the neglect of the spiritual. In the "squirrel cage round of work and recreation which they have devised, they have left no place for the church."

The solution of the problem of spiritual development lies in greater leisure.

The five-day week provides the opportunity for physical recreation on the sixth day and leaves the seventh free for moral and religious observance.

No one should be more zealous in his insistence upon the observance of Sunday than the workman.

The church will receive rewards from new leisure commensurate with the force it exerts in directing the intelligent use of it.

Revelation of his convictions of the importance of religion in daily life was the first of its nature that had come from Ford. He said:

DUAL BENEFIT
"The five-day week has been considered heretofore largely in the cold light of business. It is good business, but it is just as sound from the spiritual standpoint. The church will be one of its chief beneficiaries."

"The commonest excuse most people give for not going to church is lack of time. Like most excuses it has in it a grain of truth. Life, as some men view it, is divided into two parts: one, the co-ordinated expending of human faculties, called work; the other, the re-creating of those faculties, called recreation.

"Recreation does not necessarily mean play. Its basic meaning is to impart new vigor, to refresh after labor. But in the recreative processes these men have given an undue importance to play. They have stressed the physical to the neglect of the spiritual. In the squirrel-cage round of work and recreation which they have devised, they have left no place for the church."

"Men need contact with nature, they need the vigor that is imparted by leading fresh-turned earth. They need to watch the common, every-day miracles of nature as they unfold in the open country. They need contact with the spiritual. They need the influence of the church. Both physical and spiritual recreation are essential to the perpetuation of the race."

REGRETTABLE TRAIT.
"Unfortunately when men are forced to make a choice between the two, many are prone to choose the former. It is a regrettable trait, but one which must be faced."

"The solution lies in greater leisure. People's minds expand and their sense of a fuller life grows stronger during their leisure hours. Culture is a product of leisure."

"The five-day week provides the opportunity for physical recreation on the sixth day and leaves the seventh free for moral and religious observance. It helps restore the Sabbath to its former high place. It means larger attendance at church."

"A great philosopher has said that religion is the conservation of values. It is more than that. It is the bulwark of the people. No one should be more jealous in his insistence upon the preservation of Sunday than the workman."

"In recent years camouflaged interests, at work under the name of liberalism, have been steadily taking the day from him. For thousands, Sunday, the day of rest, has been changed into Sunday, a day of labor. "Some of this Sunday labor is necessary; most of it is not."

"The church will benefit from greater leisure to the extent that it takes advantage of the opportunity, Ford said.

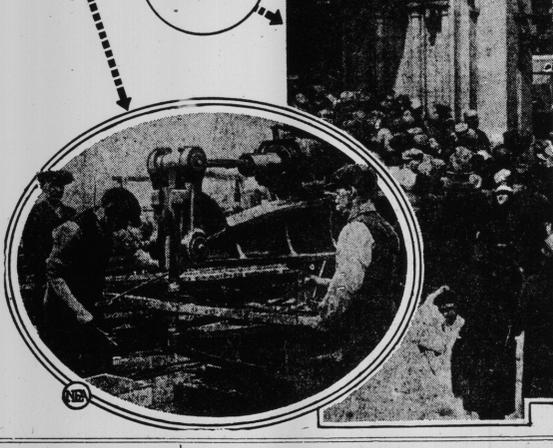

"The church has definite duties to perform as well as definite benefits to reap," he commented. "There is a sharp line between leisure and leisure to be effective must be properly directed."

Life today is "fuller and more worth the living," Ford added, philosophically.

PETERBORO—Drastic action was taken by the Board of Health with regard to houses in this city where the final notice had been sent to the owners to have sanitary conveniences installed. If the owners do not commence work within seven days of receipt of a registered order from the Board of Health ordering them to have the necessary equipment installed, the houses will be placarded as unfit for habitation.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont.—Norman Doherty, of Mud Lake, has had the misfortune of losing his entire herd of hogs and sheep to the wolves. Doherty lives in the Thessalon district.

WINDSOR, Vandalis, driving a car with a Michigan license, carried off the old cornerstone of South Colchester church, the ruins of which stand on the edge of Lake Erie, not far from Amherstburg. The stone, which was laid in 1816, contains gold coins and other relics of the past, it is said.

TORONTO—A report of the Provincial Highways Department for a period of 10 months ending Oct. 31 shows a traffic amounting to 10,370,000 automobiles and other motor vehicles over 1,867 miles of road. There were 421 accidents on Provincial roads, in which 40 people were killed or died from injuries, and of the number, nine persons were killed and two injured in level-crossing accidents.

FORT WILLIAM—William F. Quigley, veteran Canadian Pacific Railway locomotive engineer, sustained fatal injuries, when, on his way to work, he slipped and fell in front of a passing yard engine. He was thrown against the rails, fracturing his skull, and died in McEldar Hospital without regaining consciousness.

VANCOUVER—Police of Greater Vancouver are seeking seven girls who are reported to have escaped from the Industrial Home at Esquimalt, north of New Westminster. They are alleged to have left in an automobile.

PRINCE GEORGE, B. C.—H. G. Perry, M. L. A., has received assurances from Hon. T. D. Pattullo, which point to an early start being made upon the $30,000,000 pulp and paper enterprise in the vicinity of this city. Frank P. Jones, of Montreal, has been conducting negotiations with the minister for several days.

NAME OFFICERS
Announcement of the officers for the First Church of Christ Scientist was made at the morning service yesterday, with the following to serve for the ensuing year: President, John Peterson; secretary, F. W. Daniel; clerk, F. C. Colwell; other executive members, Miss J. Danksin and Miss MacPhail. Announcement was made of a free lecture to be given next Sunday in the Imperial Theatre by Professor Herman S. Herring, U. S. B., on "Christian Science and World Redemption."

QUEEN MARIE EXPLOITED BY AN EX-CONVICT

Promoted Show as Compatriot of Royal Visitor
And Made $900

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Queen Marie of Rumania was the unwitting guest of a paroled convict who poses as a Rumanian at a benefit theatrical performance in Seattle recently, and the erstwhile prisoner made $900 through the venture after having borrowed $45 to finance the show and rent a dinner suit, the Chronicle says.

Sir S. Millar, recently released from San Quentin Prison, after serving a term for embezzlement from a show troupe, obtained a permit to leave California to stage the event. He canvassed Seattle and found 43 Rumanians. Then he persuaded the manager of a theatre there to turn over his play-house for the occasion on the promise that the Queen would be brought there. He then arranged a "fifty-fifty" agreement—half the proceeds to go to Rumanian orphans and half to himself.

After paying for a telegram of invitation to Samuel Hill, the Queen's host in the Northwest, Millar had $135 left. Soon the reply from Hill came: "Her Majesty graciously accepts your invitation."

The Queen came to the crowded theatre at the appointed hour. Millar escorted her to a box and she and her children, Princess Ileana and Prince Nicholas, accompanied by Mr. Hill and others of the royal train, remained for 20 minutes. When the party left, Millar hastened to the box office and collected his half of the profits—$900—paid his incidental bills, returned the dinner suit, and came back to California.

World News
In Short Metre

MEXICO CITY—His price for accepting a commission to murder a member of congress was $8,000 (about $41) Sebastian Gonzalez Chavez told police when arrested on a charge attempting to kill Deputy Marcos Mejia, of the State of Oaxaca.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay—The Brazilian Government was reported to be rushing troops to affected areas in the State of Rio Grande do Sul, where revolutionaries elements, according to border advice, have clashed with State troops.

MELENHOFEN, Bavaria—Anton Moras, 38, a basket weaver, faces three months in jail as a result of attempting to trade off his wife for a horse. Monach police acted on the bargain to Herman Seamer, son of a horse-dealer, saying that a horse would be made more valuable to a wife. Seamer asserted he took up the proposition as a joke.

DRESDEN, Germany—Brandishing a petition and crying "I am Jesus Christ," a man believed to be insane today jumped on the running board of the automobile in which President Von Hindenburg was riding to an official ceremony.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua—Adolfo Diaz, newly inaugurated president of Nicaragua, has requested the intervention of the United States to put his country, which is now struggling with a revolution, on a peace basis. The president, in his request, stated that a small weak nation such as Nicaragua could not quell a revolution aided by Mexico.

BUDAPEST—Parliament has been dissolved. After more than four years of quarrelling between the Government majority and the opposition, Admiral Horthy, as regent, issued a decree dissolving the national assembly. Elections are to be held Dec. 4, 8 and 10, and the new assembly will meet Jan. 25, 1927.

WASHINGTON—The treaty with Spain to curb liquor smuggling went into effect yesterday when ratifications were exchanged at the State Department. It is similar to the original treaty with Great Britain, permitting searches and seizure of rum-runners.

TOKIO—The town of Hayama, in which Emperor Yoshihito lies ill, is quiet and still, in deference to his majesty. Deaths

George W. Fenwick.

Word has been received here of the sudden death of George W. Fenwick, at his home in San Francisco on Nov. 19, 1926. Mr. Fenwick was a native of Kings county and a graduate of the U. N. B. He was principal of Frederick High School for some years, when he joined his brother-in-law, A. B. Hammond, in the lumber business in the American west, and with which he had been connected up to the time of his death. He leaves a wife, one son and three daughters. His son, Fred, resides in New York. The Misses George and Harriet, at home, and Mrs. Spencer Brush, of San Francisco, are the daughters. One brother, Everett Fenwick, of Millstream, Kings county, also survives. The funeral will be held at the Roman Catholic cemetery, place in San Francisco today, Nov. 22.

Mrs. M. Mitchell.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Nov. 21.—The death occurred in the city on Wednesday, Nov. 17, of Mrs. Maria Mitchell, in the 80th year of her age. Mrs. Mitchell, who was a Miss Griffith before her marriage, was born in Charlottetown, and was always resident here. She was highly esteemed, and her death will be learned with deep regret by a wide circle of friends.

She leaves to cherish her memory her son, Charles, and one daughter, the editor of the Patriot, at whose home, 210 Dorchester street, she passed away. She had enjoyed excellent health up to Thursday last, when she became ill, and gradually grew weaker until the funeral took place from Mr. Mitchell's residence at 8:45 a. m. Friday, in St. Dunast's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

Mrs. Mitchell had friends in Saint John. Her son Charles married Miss Loretta Fitzgerald, daughter of the late W. F. Fitzgerald of West Saint John.

Frank Phillips.

ST. GEORGE, Nov. 21.—Word has been received by Westley Phillips of the death of his son, Frank, a prominent granite manufacturer and a former St. George resident, who died in the city for which he adopted country. Leaving St. George as a boy he settled in Vermont, following the granite business. As the years went by his interests grew until he became one of the biggest men in the business.

Mr. Phillips was the son of the late Hugh Phillips, and leaves a widow, his second wife, and one daughter, his first marriage in Vermont, two brothers, John and Vernon, and one sister, Mrs. Herbert Harvey, of St. George. The funeral was held in Northfield.

Francois Richard.

MONCTON, Nov. 21.—The death of Francois Richard took place here at 5:30 this evening at the residence of his son, Edgar Richard, 111 Bonaccord street. Deceased, who was 76 years of age, had been in the employ of the city for a number of years. He was struck by a car at the corner of Main and Church streets on Sept. 8, last, and had since been confined to his bed. He leaves his wife, three sons, Edgar, of the C. N. R., Philip, of Moose Lake, Sask., and Napoleon in the United States. One daughter, Miss Edna, at home, also survives.

Tobias Spinning.

ST. GEORGE, Nov. 21.—Tobias Spinning, a well known and life long resident of St. George, died recently at his home, of heart failure. Mr. Spinning was 88 years of age and had been in the employ of the city for a number of years. He was struck by a car at the corner of Main and Church streets on Sept. 8, last, and had since been confined to his bed. He leaves his wife, three sons, Edgar, of the C. N. R., Philip, of Moose Lake, Sask., and Napoleon in the United States. One daughter, Miss Edna, at home, also survives.

More than half of the 500,000 refugees installed in the rural districts of Macedonia already are self-supporting.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 22, 1926.

THE IMPERIAL CONFERENCE

AS a definition of the mutual relationship of the self-governing components of the British Empire, that issued by the Imperial Conference in London last week, is a document of historic importance.

For the Crown is the symbol of the Great British Ideal. It may center in a personality, a personality loved and revered, but it is utterly impersonal and it is everlasting.

WHAT NEXT?

THE leaders of the British coal miners accepted the proposals of the government and referred the terms to the rank and file to decide by district vote with recommendation of acceptance.

Other Views

THERE are some few newspapers scattered around the country that have no editorial department, but they are simply commercial sheets devoted to advertising and other sources of revenue.

THE IMPERIAL CONFERENCE

IN adjusting the machinery of consultation within the Empire, there is no need to be disheartened because there are many countries which are trying to effect collectively the most stupendous piece of nation-building ever attempted.

BRITAIN AND GERMANY

THE extent to which good feeling now prevails between Britain and Germany is illustrated by a plan that is being worked out for the film portrayal of the battle of Coronel and Falkland.

THE LASH

THE GLOBE gives it as its opinion that if criticism and once convinced that all crimes of violence of which they are convicted will be visited physically upon themselves, such offenses will speedily diminish.

THE BUSIEST WINTER

THE busiest winter in many years, that of the prospect Sydney and all Cape Breton are facing now.

THE "CHESTY" ISLANDERS

AFTER having broken shipping records in North America, broken all previous records in production per acre, and after being sold continuously during the past summer that we have the best summer climate on the American continent, we are liable to become "chesty" in Prince Edward Island.

Must Get Immigration From Many Countries

THE presidents of the two great railway systems and other prominent in the commercial life of the country, as for instance Mr. W. M. Birks, ex-president of the Board of Trade, are agreed that Canada will not make material progress without a greatly increased immigration.

We come now to ways and means. We ask what types of immigrants do we need, what types can we get? It is absurd to suggest that we need only one type. It will be found equally absurd to continue a policy which produces only one type.

When to the foregoing requirements are added unlimited barriers as to racial origin we are going too far. Those who say, for instance, that we must have only Englishmen and other peoples of whom will have farming experience and all of British origin, we are actually creating a wall of exclusion.

There are something over seven hundred thousand experienced agriculturists in England. English stock represents 12 per cent of England's farm product requirements. England has the land and markets within its own borders for maintaining five million by agriculture. It must be obvious that her experienced farm labor will not emigrate.

His friends in Canada, and they include the people of St. John, will regret to learn that Sir Robert Baden-Powell is suffering from ill health, due to over-exertion. It is significant that in Johannesburg yesterday seventy Boer War veterans, who were his enemies in the famous siege of Mafeking, assembled to do him honor.

A Toronto despatch says that a slight majority of the candidates nominated in Ontario on Saturday favors the Ferguson policy of liquor sale by government permit. This may be doubted. The "drys" would hardly confess themselves beaten before the battle began.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police appear to be getting some results in dealing with smugglers in Quebec province. Perhaps if we had some of the force in New Brunswick there would be less smuggling of liquor.

Rev. Doctor Norwood, formerly of Nova Scotia, but now of New York, believes the time has come for the churches to cease quarreling among themselves. It would perhaps be as well to let the heathen "rage."

This will be a rather anxious week in railroad circles, as it may decide whether or not there is to be a strike on the two great railway systems of Canada.

Maritime Co-operation

REFERRING to the meeting in Toronto tomorrow, under the auspices of the Maritime Board of Trade, H. E. Armstrong recalls the meeting of the Maritime Board in St. John in 1922, when W. F. Buntin, then Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Mr. Armstrong quotes the following from the circular then issued.

"Without the Maritime Provinces there would have been no United Canada. These provinces are the stepping-stones between the Motherland and the rest of the Dominion.

P. E. I. Potatoes

WHILE the Maritime Provinces undoubtedly have some grievances, it is a pleasure to note that Prince Edward Island has been unusually successful this year with its agricultural products.

Sea-Spider

BY AUSTIN H. CLARK NORTHWEST of the tip end of Cape Cod lies the famous "Spider ground." This is a well-known and productive fishing ground, but it is avoided by the fishermen because here their gear comes and many times divided arms which is also sometimes called the basket-star.

Just Fun

SOME people live and learn and some just live. WINDY WOLF says his wife is about as easy to control as a hiccup.

HELP!

"There's a fly in that milk picher," said the fussy Mrs. Brown. "Never mind," replied the waiter, "I'll serve him right—just let him drown."

THINK OF THAT!

A MAN had been visiting a certain widow every evening. "Why don't you marry her?" asked a friend. "I have often thought about it," was the reply, "but where would I spend my evenings then?" — Kasper, Stockholm.

Poems I Love

BY CHAS. HANSON TOWNE

"Our Dead," by Robert Nichols. YOUNG Robert Nichols wrote "Arduous and Endurances" during the World War—a book of poems which received wide praise.

They have not gone from us. O no! They are The inmost essence of each thing that is Perfect for us; they flame in every star; The trees are emerald with their presences.

They are not gone from us; they do not roam The flow and turmoil of the lower deep; But have now made the whole wide world their grave; And in its loveliness themselves they steep.

They fall not ever; theirs is a diurn Splendor of sunny hill and forest green; In every rainbow's glittering drop they burn; They dance in the massed clouds' architrave, They chant on every wind, and they return.

In the long roll of any deep blue wave.

After Dinner Stories

A YOUNG woman writer of some reputation not long ago asked a well-known editor to give his opinion on a book she intended to publish.

HE was taking the girl to a dance for the first time, and wishing to make a good impression, ordered some flowers to be sent to her house before-hand. Unfortunately the florist accidentally put his note in the box, for when the girl opened the blossoms the tissue paper she read: "Do the best you can for half-a-crown."

An Especial Plea to Parents to Have a Heart and Let the Young People Entertain Themselves—Why a Man Who Has Ceased to Love His Fiancee Should Break the Engagement—Marriage for Business Girls.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Why do parents insist on sitting in the same room while the young folks are there? When I have company my whole family assembles. My mother sits up and talks about her rheumatism and father talks about the grocery business and what Mr. Coolidge ought to do, and all the young people are so bored that they get up and go home.

ANSWER: Every girl's mother and father should meet the young people who come to the house and get acquainted with them. It isn't that we want to do anything of which the older people would disapprove, but we just can't enjoy ourselves when older people are listening in. Please tell me what you think of this? CLARE.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—It gives the girl the right sort of background for her parents to be in evidence and for the young man to know that they are there to protect and guide her. Also the right sort of young man who wants to see for himself what sort of people a girl belongs to. And on their part, the parents should know the kind of friends their daughter has.

But having given the young people, and especially the young men, a cordial welcome and a pleasant atmosphere, no young man goes to see a girl for the pleasure of listening to all of mama's symptoms and having a heart-to-heart talk on the subject of the high cost of butcher's meat. Neither does he go to see a girl to hear her father discourse on any subject whatsoever.

And even when father and mother and Aunt Jane and little brother do not monopolize the conversation, the mere fact that they are present throws a wet blanket over the occasion. What he means is that the fact that the other people are sitting round strikes the most talkative youngster dumb. He feels that they are critical; that the minute his back is turned they will make fun of him. And the one thing that youth dreads above all else is ridicule.

If fathers and mothers want to make old maids of their daughters they can take no more certain way to do it than just to spend the evenings with them when they have company. It takes more courage than the average young man possesses to go through such an ordeal, and he never risks it a second time. So I say to all parents: Have a heart! Give the young people a chance by leaving them alone. They just want to giggle and be silly and young, and your presence cramps their style.

Remember how you felt about the girl's father and mother when you were young. DOROTHY DIX. DEAR MISS DIX—How can you advise a man to break an engagement to marry if he grows tired of his fiancee, while she remains in love with him? F. A. H.

ANSWER: I advise a man under such circumstances to break the engagement in order to save the happiness of the girl as well as his own. Especially am I thinking of the girl's welfare, because a man who does a woman no other such deadly wrong as to marry her after he has grown tired of her and ceased to care for her.

The bitterest tragedy that can befall a woman is for her husband to cease to love her, for her to come to know that he loathes her, that she bores him, that her very touch is repulsive to him, that he would gladly be rid of her if he could.

If this heartrending situation arises after marriage it is just one of the catastrophes of life that cannot be helped. The man is not to be blamed if he has married the woman in good faith, if he loved her at the time he married her.

Love dies. Tastes change, without any volition on our part, without being able to avert the disaster. Very often if a man and woman are both noble, unselfish people, they go on for years, enduring the hideous mockery of a marriage that is only an enforced companionship.

But if a man ceases to love a woman before marriage he can save her from this cruel fate by breaking off the engagement. And, while she may be hurt and disappointed and wounded in her pride at being jilted, it is nothing to the way her heart would be broken and her soul humiliated to do so at knowing herself an unloved wife, married out of compassion.

No man can keep up a living life of pretending year after year that he loves a woman whom he does not love. He may be kind, good, considerate, affectionate, but these are dust and ashes if they have not the warmth of affection, the undying interest, the comradeship which really make marriage.

So I say again, the fair thing, the honorable thing, the kind thing for the man or woman who has ceased to love is for him or her to break the engagement, no matter how long it has lasted, no matter how close to the wedding day. DOROTHY DIX. DEAR MISS DIX—I am engaged to a man that I admire very much and who has every quality that a girl would require in a husband. When I am with him I am perfectly contented and never tire of his company, but when I am away from him I do not know whether I love him or not. I am 27 years old and a business girl. Do you think I have just become hard to please and so very satisfied with my present condition that I hate to think of changing it? ANXIOUS.

ANSWER: Young girls rush into matrimony without a qualm of misgiving, just as little children rush before a speeding automobile because they are too untalented to realize their danger. The older a woman is the more she hesitates about marrying, because she has seen many marriages that turned out disastrously. And especially is this true of business women. They get awfully disillusioned about men, because they see so many men unfaithful to their wives and hear so many men make lying excuses to their wives over the telephone.

Also the business girl who earns a good salary has no need to marry for support, and as she contemplates her lachry and her individual pocket-book she wonders if any man is worth giving them up for and if it isn't wise to heed the old proverb and let well enough alone. So there is no wonder that your mind is filled with doubts as to the wisdom of marrying.

But don't forget this, that, while marriage is the greatest of all gambles, it has the biggest of all prizes and it is worth taking a pretty big risk for. For no other happiness in the world is so complete as that of the woman who gets a good husband and who has children and a real home.

And I can think of no better test of the state of your affections than that you never tire of the man and that he always interests you. DOROTHY DIX.

Goat-Getters

BEHIND THE SCENES

NOT long ago I saw a film bearing the elaborate monogram of Samuel Goldwyn, in which there was a scene showing a weasel-faced, pallid, bare-foot lad, his cheek pressed against the window of a bakery shop. There could be no doubt; the lad was "registering hunger."

At the end of five years he thought he knew the glove making business backward and forward. He asked to go on the selling end and got the job. He was awarded at dealing and just eight years after he had entered as a character in the streets of London, with an income of $15,000 a year. One day, with time hanging on his hands, Goldwyn wandered into a movie theater. "That was in 1915," he relates. "I thought of all the famous people of history and of all the characters in books and plays and I wondered why they couldn't be reproduced on the screen. The staff I had, shoot-from-the-hip subject."

Within a few weeks he was in business copartnership with Jesse Lasky and the Lasky corporation had been formed. Furthermore, the subjects they had in mind could not be taken in a couple of reels. "The Squaw Man" as their first feature and together put up about $10,000. That was the beginning of both great fortunes. They borrowed another $80,000 or so and the film was made. They had, however, just beginning. They had to jump to run it off the picture all but went off the screen. They had a few more to arrange the film perforations so that a picture would run smoothly.

As I get the story they got some first aid from Lubin, a leading film figure of the day and the picture finally produced after all concerned had laid their investments goodly. It was a great success and Goldwyn's reputation was started. An interesting commentary is that just a few months ago, he put up a million dollar for the filming of "The Winning of Barbara Worth" without fear that it would not come back with fat interest. All in a few years! The films that Samuel Goldwyn makes have no more remarkable story.

BE thou faithful unto death—Revelation 2:10. ALL the scholastic scaffolding falls, as a ruined edifice, before one single word—faith—Napoleon I. SELL GOBELIN'S TAPESTRIES LONDON, Nov. 20.—The Duchess of Rutland is to sell the famous Gobelin's tapestries which have hung for a century and a quarter in Belvoir Castle to help provide funds for re-furnishing Haddon Hall, the home of Dorothy Vernon which has not been occupied for 200 years. The tapestries were purchased shortly after the French Revolution by the Fifth Duke of Rutland. They are in eight pieces and depict the adventures of Don Quixote. They were made by command of Louis XV.

WALTZ WRITTEN ON CUFF. Johann Strauss, the "waltz king," wrote his famous "Blue Danube" on a pair of detachable cuffs and then threw them into the wash. They were rescued by his mother, and his music publishers made a fortune from the composition. Strauss wrote so many compositions that he could not recognize all of them.

See-Sawing On Broadway

BROADWAY, which knows how to handle almost any situation, has been a bit disturbed of late about the college-boy question. A sigh of relief will go along the white light lanes when the football season has ended. The youths from Princeton, Yale and nearby way points have taken to celebrating their victories in the "fish-pots," irrespective of covert charges. And the manners of the campus at the close of a football game are scarcely those of the night club patrons. Now the university "proms" may consider "cutting dances," for instance, quite the onions, but the papas who are stepping their girl friends around at $2 per covert, and more, plus gingerale, white rock and tips, see no percentage in providing entertainment for unescorted young men.

Many are the reports of brawls, near brawl and arguments to issue from the night club zone. HIP flasks, they say, are very popular just now in the bleachers during the "big games," and by the time the trains reach New York the collegians are in good form. Recently three of them wandered into a club and, in the best manner of the varsity prongs, stepped up to cut dances. The Broadway regulars didn't know what this was all about.

It happened that the three picked on a girl who was dancing with one of the hardest gents of the famous street. When one of them "cut in" the Broadwayite merely pushed him aside. He held a consultation with his fellows. When the scene cleared the three varsity lads were sitting on the pavement outside.

Fashion Fancies.

THIS WHIPOOR AND WOOLEN SUIT EXPLOITS A DEEP, CREAMY TAN. Many of the smartest equestrian favor judgments, the gracefully fitted riding breeches which do away with the necessity for boots.

Above is shown a youthful horse-woman who chooses a riding suit of deep, creamy tan. The breeches are of English whipcord and the matching coat of plain woolen material. For those who prefer a contrasting coat, brown woolen material would be smart.

The correct accessories are a bright orange crepe tie and a shirt of white English broadcloth.

HEALTH SERVICE

Nature Gives Warnings To Middle-Aged Man

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEN. AS MAN approaches middle age and his body begins to lose its powers of recovery from degeneration and disease, certain symptoms may appear which must be taken as danger signals on the road of life. They are definite warnings to slow down, to keep to the centre of the road and to avoid complications. Chief among these are obesity, high blood pressure, albumin in kidney excretions, gout and diabetes. There is a tendency in persons past middle age to take on fat. All medical authorities are agreed that it is well for a person after 60 years of age to diminish in weight, and that if he fails to do so, the deposits of fat must be regarded as a bad sign. It is well for the man of middle age to realize that the time to begin to take off fat is before he reaches 60.

FAT ELDERLY MAN. The insurance companies have found from an investigation of their records that the man of middle age with a large amount of fat is likely to have a shorter life expectancy than the one who is lean. A large amount of fat beneath the skin probably means also a great amount of fat around the heart and liver. A heart surrounded with fat hardly has sufficient elbow room for the extra work it may be required to accomplish should the person become infected with pneumonia or some other disease that places an unusual burden on that organ. The liver, which is a mass of fat, and my eyes are wet with thoughts of any unusual burden which may be placed upon it by the digestive tract after middle age.

High blood pressure is a disease condition associated frequently with intoxication of the body of various types. The person with a very high blood pressure is placing a burden on his arterial system which may cause a rupture at some weakened point. Frequent bleeding of the nose in a person past middle age may be a symptom of high blood pressure and should not be belittled until its importance is understood. The appearance of albumin in excretions from the kidneys indicates that this organ is not functioning adequately, and must be taken as a warning sign. When it is the only symptom, it is not a cause for extreme anxiety, but it is always a signal for careful and complete investigation.

WARNING SIGNALS. Gout is less common now than formerly. Its exact cause has not, however, yet been established. The "big toe" joint of the irascible, retired millionaire is now seldom seen, probably because of the increasing temperance in both food and drink. When this form appears, or when the person beyond middle age has the other manifestations, including pains in the muscles, nerves and joints, these must be taken as warning signals for lessened speed and lessened quantities of body fuel. Diabetes represents difficulty in the body's ability to handle sugars. It is a disease that can be controlled easily by modern methods, but, unless seen early, may produce effects that are promptly fatal. It demands a scientific consideration of the diet, such as only a trained physician can give.

The Rhyming Optimist

All things are strange in this new land, a lonely wanderer I, strange lies the white and shining and strange the cloudless sky. Afta, afta, the blue waves go to shores I hold so dear, and as I watch their ebb and flow a song of home I hear. All things are strange around me now; the narrow, cluttered street, the great ship's lofty, lifted prow, the faces that I meet. But ah! a welcome note at last my loneliness to greet, a scent and color from the past, a gracious burden on that nodding spray of magnonette, what memories it brings. So dear, and my eyes are wet with thoughts of other springs; But lately all was strange, and yet, though hard to understand, the fragrance of this magnonette makes home of alien land.

Little Joe YOU GET SICK OF EVERYTHING WHEN YOU LET WELL ENOUGH ALONE. SEES WOMEN RULE BUSINESS. LONDON, Nov. 20.—Women are forging ahead so rapidly that if men do not stop slacking, within the next twenty years or so the work of the United States and of the other world-dominating by men, declared Sir Charles Higham, publicist, before members of the Sewell club. Sir Charles, who has returned from America, paid additional compliments to women, declaring that everywhere he had noted that women were gaining more and more power. "In the main, women are better equipped than men, and this was not true fifteen years ago," Sir Charles said.

Sunday School Worker Here From West Gives Address On Work In Diocese of Kootenay

The hairbreadth escapes which she had had in her caravan Sunday school during the past summer are related by Miss Hasell, volunteer worker and organizer of the Sunday school by post and caravan Sunday schools which was started in 1920 in British Columbia. Miss Hasell is an Englishwoman and her work in Canada is financed almost entirely by her own efforts in collecting money in England. She is now in the city and spoke yesterday before the Sunday school of St. John's (Stone) church and at a meeting of members of St. Paul's church in the Sunday school after the evening service.

Miss Hasell sails on Nov. 28 from Montreal to England on the Montclair to raise more funds for carrying on the work. Last winter she raised $7,000 in England and this paid for the new van which she used in Kootenay diocese and the traveling expenses of the workers. Half of the workers are English women and half are from eastern Canada.

Miss Hasell herself and her companion traveled about 8,000 miles during the summer, 2,100 in the van, 400 miles in walking where there were no roads or where the roads were impassable, and the 800 on horseback or 400 miles on boats, sometimes having their van ferried across lakes or streams. In that journey they organized 21 new Sunday schools and enrolled 1,300 children for the Sunday school by post and visited 800 lonely homes.

She found that in that district the problem of religious education of the children had been one the people could not cope with. There was no Bible teaching in the schools and in many districts there were no religious services. Miss Hasell said she had met one clergyman whose parish was 1,000 square miles in extent and who had 11 points at which he held services. During the 18 years that he had been in charge of that parish he had never had a holiday.

There were all kinds and conditions of people that Miss Hasell and her companion visited. Lumbermen, miners, fruit growers, retired British ex-service men and many others. Donkshobos, who were breaking away from their communal life and were losing their religious beliefs, and the Pines, among whom there were some people who were pathies, were among the most difficult people with whom the two workers came in contact. All other people welcomed them most cordially. Language was never a difficulty, Miss Hasell said, as in every case the children were able to speak English.

BACK NEXT SEASON
Miss Hasell means to return to British Columbia next season and will take her van into the East Kootenay district and the Windermere highway. She was most enthusiastic in describing the beauties of British Columbia and the marvelous fruit produced in the Kootenay district. Fruit was very abundant this season but because of high freight the returns were comparatively small and peaches were fed to the pigs. Cherries, which had won the first prize at Wembley exhibition, sold at one cent a pound.

Trophy Won By St. David's S. S. Is Presented

During the summer months of June, July, August and September, the Sunday schools in connection with the Germain Street Baptist Church and St. David's United Church held a Summer Sunday school attendance contest. The trophy offered is a handsome silver cup on a mahogany base, and was donated by L. W. Simms, superintendent of Germain Street Baptist Sunday School. When the returns were compiled the percentage of deep red color, in writing to "The Telegram" journal concerning this extremely late blooming flower, Mr. Grant said, "The enclosed snapdragon was picked the morning after a window box that has been continuously in the open without any protection covering it. The whole box of it is as fresh and green as it was in mid-summer. After the enclosed was picked we brought the box in the house for winter blooming."

On Sunday afternoon L. W. Simms visited St. David's Church Sunday School and presented them with the trophy, bringing James Power and congratulations from his Sunday school. Robert Reid, superintendent of St. David's Sunday School, in accepting the cup, expressed the thanks of St. David's and extended greetings to Germain Street Baptist school.

Rev. Hugh Miller followed with a few happy remarks regarding the contest. The cup was handsomely engraved with the wording, "Summer Sunday School Attendance Contest, Germain Street United Church vs. St. David's United Sunday School." On the other side of the cup was engraved, "Won by St. David's, 1926." Both Mr. Simms and Mr. Reid stated that the contest had added 50 per cent to the different school attendances.

Guard Boats Out Seeking Rescue Of Captive Girl

BEACH HAVEN, N. J., Nov. 21.—Coast Guard cutters were put to sea to try to rescue Kate Lavina, a New York girl believed to be a prisoner on a rum runner somewhere off the New Jersey coast.

Search for the craft said to be known as the Jupiter, follows the finding of a note on the beach. The note was enclosed in a whisky bottle. It was dated October 20, 1926 and read: "Please save an American girl from rum runners. They are somewhere off Atlantic City. They want me to take care of them. They are always drunk. There are glasses and bottles over my room, so I am trying to get a lot of paper and send more notes as I have been doing. My name is Kate Lavina and I am from New York. Please help me. My father will pay you for it. The boat is called the Jupiter. Her next stop will be Cape May."

The Jupiter is described by Coast Guards as a speedy craft and one of the most persistent offenders engaged in rum running.

Y-JINX CLUB ENTERTAIN

The Y-Jinx Club of the Y. W. C. A. on Saturday night were hostesses for the members of the Hi-Y Club of the Y. W. C. A. The enjoyable social gathering was held in the Y. W. C. A. recreation centre and the young people spent the evening very pleasantly in games, races and dancing. A "re-acquainted" game was the first item on the evening program and proved very popular. At the close of the evening delicious refreshments were served in the assembly hall by the members of the physical committee of the Y. W. C. A., with Mrs. Clinton Brown and Mrs. H. T. Campbell as conveners.

ON MISSIONARY WORK

Miss Evelyn Mitchell, Dominion Field Secretary of the Women's Missionary Society of Canada, United Church, returned to the city from Robbsey this morning and is the guest of Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Goodwill at 90 Main street. Miss Mitchell will speak in Queen Square Church this evening at 8 o'clock to the auxiliary members of the united churches and those interested in missionary work.

Weddings

Wilson-Stackhouse.
A pretty wedding took place at 119 Metcalf street, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stackhouse, parents of the bride, when Miss Olive Beatrice Stackhouse was united in marriage to George E. Wilson, son of the late Benjamin Wilson and Mrs. Wilson, of this city. The marriage was performed by Rev. M. S. Richardson, pastor of the Main Street Baptist church, in the presence of friends and relatives. The bride and groom received many handsome presents testifying to the esteem in which they are held by a wide circle of friends. The present of the bride's parents was a check for a substantial amount.

Falsley-Rushton.
MONCTON, Nov. 21.—A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Highfield Baptist parsonage on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock when Rev. A. K. Hermon united in marriage Miss Gladys Muriel Rushton, youngest daughter of Mrs. Enoch Rushton, 99 Dufferin street, this city, and James Falsley, also of Moncton but formerly of Scotland. The couple were attended by Mrs. Lena MacDonald and N. D. Rushton, sister and brother of the bride. Following the ceremony the happy couple left on a short honeymoon trip through the province and on their return will make their home here.

Silver Cross Circle Gives Program At D. S. C. R. Hospital
The Silver Cross circle of the King's Daughters gave a greatly enjoyed entertainment for the pleasure of the patients in the D. S. C. R. hospital in Lancaster on Saturday evening. Among those who took part in the entertainment were Miss Audrie Hunter, Miss Annie Tait, Miss Mary Kirkpatrick, Mrs. H. B. Teck, F. Punter, Albert Punter, Charles Case, Lester Rowley, Ronald Shaw and Armand Kee. Mr. Punter, also of Moncton, hearty sing-song in which the soldier patients joined with evident enjoyment. The whole affair was a great treat for the patients and they were most appreciative. Miss Edith Lawrence, president of the circle, was general convener for the entertainment.

HELPING THE SICK AND AGED THROUGH THE WINTER.
Nothing helps the aged and ailing through the winter like proper foods. This property food cannot be sick. Fifteen years ago Dr. Robert G. Jackson was a sick, old man, although 62. Today at 67 he is a marvel of youthful vigor, preparing for years of accomplishment and usefulness. The cause is natural foods—living largely upon nuts, fruits, vegetables, Roman Meal, milk.

The chief cause of sickness is acid accumulation in the blood through "excess acid" foods. Dr. Jackson's foods, mentioned above, prevent acid accumulation.

Dr. Jackson is dietetic editor, "Archives of Therapeutics," New York, a physician's journal, advisor to "Defensive Diet League," a physicians' association. Send for his free leaflet, "How to Keep Well," to Robert G. Jackson, M.D., 302 Vine Ave., Toronto, Ont.

BACK FROM TRIP.
Miss Ethel H. Jarvis, secretary of the New Brunswick division Red Cross Society, returned to the city on Saturday evening after a trip to the Charlotte county islands, Campobello and Deer Island, where she spoke before the local branches of the Red Cross and showed an interesting series of lantern slides. She reported that the four branches which she had visited, and North Road branch also, were preparing for the winter's work and all were energetically taking up the Red Cross activities.

Mrs. J. M. Scovill, of Saint John, who has been ill in the General Public Hospital with typhoid fever, will be glad to learn that she is now convalescing rapidly at her home.

Mrs. J. M. Scovill, of Saint John, has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Guy Humphrey and Mr. Humphrey, in Hampton.

Rev. F. Walker, pastor of St. Etienne church, left yesterday for Montreal. He was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Leo Bradley, who is ill, and Miss P. M. Fraser, Reg. N.

Mrs. Thad Tobey, of Passaic, New Jersey, and Mrs. Thomas Bird, of Boston, daughters of the late Mrs. C. A. Sweet, have left for their homes, having been here to attend the funeral of their mother.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Porter have closed their home at Hampton and returned to Saint John, where they will spend the winter.

Mrs. C. S. March, of Saint John, is spending a few weeks in Hampton and is the guest of Mrs. Howard Campbell, who is confined to her home with scarlet fever.

Rev. C. M. Morgan of Saint John, Presiding Elder of the A. M. E. church, returned to Amherst last week to attend the quarterly meeting of the local A. M. E. church.

Misses Sara Perkins and K. Prescott who have been visiting Mrs. Archibald McKenzie for a few days in Campbellton have returned to their homes in Sussex.

Mrs. W. P. Van Oudenline, of Wallington, New Jersey, and Mrs. John Barclay, of Carleton Hill, New Jersey, granddaughters of the late Mrs. C. A. Sweet, have left for their homes, having been here to attend the funeral of their grandmother.

Mrs. H. A. Peters, hostess of the Admiral Beatty Hotel, who has been several weeks visiting Boston, New York and vicinity, during which time she attended the wedding of her son, H. Arthur Peters Jr., of the Roosevelt Hotel executive in New York, returned home Saturday.

Mrs. W. F. Ferguson, of Carleton Hill, has been visiting in Saint John, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. O. J. Lawson.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dykeman will be sorry to hear of the illness of their son, Chalmers, at his home in Church avenue, Fairville, who suffered a relapse from influenza.

Shower Given For Miss Josephine King
Miss Josephine King, who is to be married on Thursday, was the guest of honor at a delightful novelty shower given by her sisters, the Misses Lillian and Mary King on Friday evening, at their home, 15 Rebecca street. About 80 friends assembled and a very pleasant evening was spent in games music and dancing. The guest of honor was made the recipient of a large number of beautiful and useful gifts of silver, cut glass, linen and other appropriate articles. At the close of the evening delicious refreshments were served.

VISITING PRIEST HOLDS SERVICE AT CATHEDRAL

Rev. A. Mullin, Montreal, Conducts Profession of Third Order Members

Rev. A. Mullin, of the Franciscan Monastery in Montreal, officiated at the profession of the members of the Third Order of St. Francis in the Cathedral last evening after Vespers and he also preached at all the masses there yesterday. This evening in the Cathedral, after night prayers, he will conduct a reception of new members of the Third Order.

In his sermons, Father Mullin spoke in explanation of the Third Order. He told how St. Francis of Assisi, 700 years ago had laid down by himself a rule of life modelled after that of the Saviour and followed the gospels and the counsels of the Lord given while he walked among men. The saint had founded the Franciscan order of priests. Soon after, a holy woman of the same city, impressed by the life of St. Francis, sought to follow his example. This was St. Clare and she founded what has come to be known as the Second Order of St. Francis, a community of nuns.

THE THIRD ORDER

Realizing that there were a great many who could not give themselves to the priesthood or to the community of nuns, but who desired to emulate the example of those of the first and second orders and still remain in the every day life of the world, St. Francis founded

The Third Order. In this a rule of life was followed, but no distinctive dress was worn and the men and women, who attached themselves to it, continued their work in the world, while following in the footsteps of their illustrious founder. These Terzians, as they were known, numbered millions.

Since the days of St. Francis on earth, said the speaker, some 300 Terzians had been canonized as saints or numbered among the beatified holy men and women. One of particular interest on this continent was Christopher Columbus. The most distinguished Terzian of the present day was His Holiness Pope Pius, who had been for 50 years a member of the Third Order.

GIVE APPROVAL

Father Mullin told that one after another of the Popes had given warm approval of the Third Order. The members were not required to be public preachers but by the example of their own lives to lead others to good living. Its object was the sanctification of the individual and that was sure to have a beneficial effect on the reform of society as a whole.

APPEAL MADE FOR CHARITABLE WORK

Annual Collection For St. Vincent de Paul Society Next Sunday

Announcing in the Cathedral yesterday the annual collection for the St. Vincent de Paul Society, to be taken up on next Sunday, Rev. W. M. Duke gave a statement of the receipts and expenditures for the year just passed. This society for many years has been looking after the poor of the Cathedral parish and providing necessities for the needy. It has done a great amount of charitable work in the long period of its existence.

Its chief source of revenue is the yearly collection taken up at the beginning of each winter. The Cathedral collection last year amounted to $945.90; weekly collection from members amounted to $64.17; bequests and contributions totaling $206.40. There was received the sum of $67.74 from a concert given by the Elks, and bank interest was $26.48 for various other items. There was now a balance of $872.10 with which to begin the work of this winter.

Expenditures included $548.41 for groceries, $372 for coal, $328.24 for clothing, $316.83 for boots and shoes, $81 for insurance, $7 for lighting, $13.30 for water rates and $87.44 for various other items. There was now a balance of $872.10 with which to begin the work of this winter.

Father Duke said it was feared there would be a large demand on the fund in the coming winter and he asked for a generous response at the collection of next Sunday.

Speaking on some conditions of the day, he said much was being spent for amusement and often by people who could not afford it. He counselled saving of any surplus there might be on the family budget and assistance to those who, through lack of work, could not better their circumstances, and who would be in need of assistance for themselves and families.

ENDS 50 YEARS AS CHURCH TRUSTEE

Henry Pratt is Honored at Portland United 99th Anniversary

The presentation of a handsomely bound bible to Henry Pratt in recognition of his devoted service during 50 years as trustee of Portland United church, was a very pleasing incident in the observance of the 99th anniversary of the church yesterday. The presentation was made by Rev. H. A. Goodwin, the minister, and R. A. Corbett, secretary of the trustees board, and Mr. Pratt expressed his hearty thanks to the board for their kind appreciation of his services.

The special preacher for the anniversary services was Rev. W. M. Ryan, of Charlottetown, P. E. I., who delivered forceful and eloquent messages that were heard with keen interest by the large congregation. The choir, under the direction of its leader, H. W. Bromfield, rendered special music very effectively, and Miss Lillian Bromfield was the organist. In the morning two anthems of great beauty were splendidly rendered and in the evening the special music included an anthem and a duet which was rendered with fine expression by Miss Besie Hill and Miss Phyllis MacGowan.

Mr. Goodwin, in extending a welcome to Mr. Ryan on behalf of the church and the session of elders, spoke highly of the excellent work that Mr. Ryan had been accomplishing in Prince Edward Island, and made reference to the faithful services in the ministry of Mr. Ryan's father, who is now 94 years of age.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S WEEK STARTED

Inaugural Service at Century Held Sunday With Many Present

Inaugurating "Young People's Week" in Century church a special service, that was greatly inspiring, was held in the church yesterday morning, when the members of the Junior and primary departments of the Sunday school were present in large numbers and were seated in the front pews.

Impressive readings by Miss Margaret Sealy and Miss Gretchen Morehouse, a vocal solo by Leonard Roberts and a violin solo by Harrison Morgan were the special numbers contributed to the service by members of the Sunday school.

The service was conducted by Rev. G. Fulton, the minister, who in his sermon aptly and forcefully illustrated the story of Christ and little children by telling of what he had heard at the London Zoo. A new form of service for the younger children was also introduced yesterday and at sermon time the little children marched out of church to a room in the Sunday school where they were told Sunday stories by Miss Julia Hennigar.

This new plan will be followed out each Sunday and Miss Hennigar, who is superintendent of the primary department of the Sunday school, will have charge of the junior service. Among the observances of Children's week will be a special program of the Young People's Society on Tuesday night and a winter picnic for the members of the primary department and their mothers on Friday afternoon.

CARS COLLIDE

Automobile No. 7119, owned and driven by George Smith, 211 King Street East, and a taxi, No. 3291, owned and driven by Herbert Sprague, came together at the corner of Sydney and Union streets at nine o'clock last night. The Smith car at the time of the accident was proceeding west on Union street, while the other was going down Sydney, towards a bent front fender and had its running board damaged, while Mr. Sprague's car had the rear fender damaged and the rear part of a running board smashed.

London now has 100,000 women in business, eight times as many as twenty-five years ago.

MONTREAL, Nov. 21—Charred remains, believed to be those of two of the three missing members of the crew of the Canada Steamship Lines S.S. Montreal, which was burned to the water's edge near Sorel late Thursday night, were found aboard the still smouldering vessel, according to advices received here today. A relative has identified the charred bones of one of the men as being those of Joseph Lebrun, of Montreal.

STORMY PASSAGE

HAVRE, France, Nov. 21—The French liner Paris arrived here Saturday after a stormy passage in which four passengers were slightly injured. At the height of the storm, Thursday night, a grand piano was torn from its moorings in the saloon and crashed through a wall on to the promenade deck.

Skeletons believed to be those of the Vikings were unearthed recently at Reay, Caithness, Scotland.

N. B. LUMBER INDUSTRY INVESTIGATION TO START ON THURSDAY

FIRST SESSION TO BE HELD AT FREDERICTON

Judge Grimmer Says Inquiry Will be Carried Out in Private

NO ANNOUNCEMENT UNTIL REPORT MADE

Question as to Whether Costs Exceed Revenue Will be Decided

AN INVESTIGATION into the operation of the lumber industry in New Brunswick, which was authorized by the Provincial Government some months ago, will open at Fredericton on Thursday of this week, according to an announcement made this morning by Judge W. C. H. Grimmer, who with F. C. Beatey will conduct the inquiry.

Other speakers were Rev. Mr. Wright, of St. Stephen, who told of the first Boy's Week held under the auspices of the St. Stephen-Milltown club this year, and Dr. H. A. Farris, who made a special plea to the members of the club to purchase Christmas seals and thus help the work of the tuberculosis hospital.

Private Sessions. Judge Grimmer said today that the investigation would be made in camera and that nothing would be given out by the commission until the report is made to the Government. He said that there were no plans for the holding of public sessions.

PULPIT REFERENCE RECALLS GRIM DAYS

Mention of Boxer Rebellion Stirs Rupert Taylor, Who Fought in it

When Rev. E. E. Styles, in Exmouth street church last evening, made reference to the Boxer uprising of 1900 in China, he carried the thoughts of one of the congregation to very grim memories. This was Rupert Taylor, postmaster at East Saint John, who was dangerously wounded in that rebellion.

Mr. Taylor, when asked about the matter today, said that he was in H. M. S. Barfleur. It was in July, 1900, and this warship took part in the attack on Tien Tsin. A companion by his side, a young Englishman named Brown, was instantly killed. Another Englishman of his company, named Gray, was later awarded the V. C. for his heroism in that fight.

ROTARY GOVERNOR HERE FOR MEETING

Howard Murchie, of St. Stephen, Tells Local Members Growth of Movement

The chief speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon today was District Governor Howard Murchie, of St. Stephen, who told of the remarkable growth of Rotary and the work that lay ahead of all members to make the movement more progressive and successful. He paid tribute to the Saint John club, and declared that the district conference held here last spring compared favorably with any conference ever held.

Other speakers were Rev. Mr. Wright, of St. Stephen, who told of the first Boy's Week held under the auspices of the St. Stephen-Milltown club this year, and Dr. H. A. Commonwealth Will Now Move Ahead, Says Herald-Tribune

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—New York press comment on the Imperial Conference recommendations, in a nutshell, follows:

"The theory of the veto power over Dominion legislation vesting in Great Britain—for years no more than a theory—gone on the dump heap."

"Close inspection of the report shows that little is proposed except to make the old Empire more easily in a new world."

"The dominions are young, strong and growing. Now each dominion is made officially the equal of Great Britain. The dominions and Great Britain form an alliance, not an Empire."

LEAFER COMES TO FRANK WHITE RE WITHDRAWAL

Desired That Canada Govern Her Own Affairs in Skating

OFFICIAL WORD RECEIVED HERE

Communication From Louis Rubenstein, President of Canadian Association

Reasons for the withdrawal of the Canadian Amateur Skating Union from the International body as referred to on the sport page, are given in a letter received here by Frank White, vice-president, from Louis Rubenstein, secretary, who says that the general opinion was that skating in Canada should be governed by a Canadian body. A copy of the official notification of withdrawal has been forwarded to Mr. White, who is president of the New Brunswick Skating Association.

While international union is broken up, it is felt that it would in no way interfere with completion of arrangements for international tours.

TEXT OF LETTER. The letter is as follows: Montreal, November 18, 1926. International Skating Union of America.

Dear Sir:—I have to inform you of the withdrawal of the Amateur Skating Association of Canada from membership in the International Skating Union of America.

This action was taken at the annual meeting of the Amateur Skating Association of Canada held in Montreal, November 17, 1926, where the following resolution was passed:

"Resolved, that the Amateur Skating Association of Canada withdraw its membership from the International Skating Union of America, and that notification be sent to the International Skating Union of America, informing them that the Association of Canada intended to conduct their own championships and supervise all skating events in Canada."

ENTIRELY CANADIAN BODY. The feeling of this meeting was that in the interests of skating and of the sport in general in this country, that it should be governed by an entirely Canadian body.

It is probably quite unnecessary to point out that all skaters in this country, including all skaters, come under the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada. The Amateur Skating Association of Canada is affiliated with this association and has jurisdiction over all Canadian matters.

With reference to future international skating championships, this association will be pleased to work with your association and the International Skating Union of Europe, any conditions and make any arrangements for such events either for world or any international championships on this continent.

We regret having to take this action, but you will appreciate that it is in the best interests of all concerned and that each association should have free hand in their national sports, and co-operate only in international competition.

Yours very truly, (Sgd.) LOUIS RUBENSTEIN, President, Amateur Skating Association of Canada.

COMMENT HERE. It was said in local skating circles today that the severance of relations between the Amateur Skating Association of Canada and the International Skating Union of America would have no immediate effect on the sport in this province, as the New Brunswick Skating Association was affiliated with both bodies, and skaters under the jurisdiction of the local body would be eligible to participate in meets conducted by both associations. It was pointed out, however, that any unpleasantness that might attach to the break was bound to have effect ultimately on the sport.

Federal Inspector E. M. McKinnon Gives Egg Buying Tips To Local Housewives

Eggs graded as first might be used alone but their flavor and texture were the lowest grade recognized.

Six "don'ts" for the housewife he gave as follows: "Don't buy ungraded or ungraded eggs. Don't buy eggs just as good. Don't wash eggs. Don't keep in a hot room. Don't try to make lower grade fill the place of the higher grade an expect the same results. Don't buy eggs called 'strictly fresh' or 'freshly gathered.' Buy only by the grade names."

Married Today At St. Peter's Church

A pretty wedding took place in St. Peter's church this morning at 10 o'clock when Rev. James Woods, S. S. R., united in marriage, with nuptial mass, William Joseph Yettman, of Halifax, and Miss Catherine McCann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. McCann, 5, Douglas avenue. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Edward McCann. She was attended by her sister, Mary McCann, while Thomas Walter Forwood, of Halifax, acted as groomsmen. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Yettman will make their home in Halifax. Many beautiful gifts were received.

In its social news from Quebec the Montreal Gazette of Saturday had the following: "Miss Hayes, of Saint John, who has been visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Cream, has returned to New Brunswick."

Miss Frances Murdoch left Saturday evening for Boston where she will visit for a week.

Howard Murchie, of St. Stephen, was at the Admiral Beatty today.

PASSES EXAMS. The result of the examination of the New Brunswick Optometrical Society, held here recently, was received this morning by E. H. Boyaner, secretary of the society. E. Percy Goldman, of this city, the only person writing the examination, was successful in passing and will receive a certificate of registration, permitting him to practice optometry in New Brunswick.

WILL REPORT ON SUMS PAID FOR 'VOCATIONAL'

Finance Question Comes Up at City Hall Meeting

IS CITY FINANCING FOR GOVERNMENT?

Matter of Rebate on Salaries to be Looked Into

The question as to whether the city was financing the Provincial Government's share of the salaries paid to teachers in the Vocational School was raised this morning at a committee of the council and Mayor White will present a report on the amount paid out to the Vocational School and whether there is a rebate due to the city because of payments not yet collected from the Government.

REQUEST FOR $2,387.52. The common clerk read a notice from the Board of school Trustees stating that $2,387.52 would be required to meet payments due on December 1, by the vocational committee and Commissioner Wigmore moved the amount be paid, provided the comptroller was satisfied.

Commissioner Harding asked if a close watch was being kept on this account so that everything was in order and the Mayor said he did not think much would get past the city comptroller. He was having a report prepared on the amount paid to the vocational committee and would present it at the next meeting of the council.

Commissioner Frink said it seemed to him that the city was to get a rebate from the Government for the amount paid to the Vocational School.

Commissioner Wigmore said he did not think this could be so it was not understood that the city would be asked to pay the money on this account.

N. B. Apples This Year Are Stated Best

A. G. TURNEY, of the Fredericton experimental farms, largely responsible for the splendid showing of this province at the apple exhibition in the Eaton building, Toronto, a short time ago, is in the city. Mr. Turney states the New Brunswick crop this year is about 5,000 barrels short, but it is vastly superior in quality to anything yet grown in the province. This coincides with comments made up New Brunswick apples in the All-Canada show. Mr. Turney is naturally gratified with the improvement in this growth of fruit, and places the matter of yield as of second importance while the quality campaign is on.

ABSENCE OF COMMISSIONER BULLOCK, III, DRAWS REFERENCE TO SITUATION

CHANGE IN CHARTER DEEMED NECESSARY

Matter Informally Presented Before Meeting of Committee Today

THE need of a change in the city charter to provide that the city business would not be held up when one commissioner was away from the city, was stressed this morning by Mayor White, speaking in an informal way before the Monday morning committee meeting began.

His Worship said that the absence from the city of Commissioner Bullock, who had been compelled to go away in search of health, made it impossible for the council to pass a bond issue for any purpose whatsoever and, should the remaining four be unable to attend to his duties, the business of the city was entirely at a standstill.

MAJORITY QUORUM. He was of the opinion that some provision should be made so that a majority of the council could form a quorum for the transaction of ordinary business and that some action should be devised for getting around the present requirement of an unusual vote for a bond issue.

VESSLS OF C. P. BRING 40,600 TO ST. LAWRENCE

Fewer Ships But More Immigrants in Record for Season

Bringing to an end the summer immigration season of the Canadian Pacific Steamships fleet, the S.S. Montclare and Fleet of Scotland departed for Quebec at the week-end, to be permanently added to Canadian ports.

Parties of single workers, married couples and families, traveling under the Farm Labor Service of the Canadian Pacific Railway, made up the bulk of the newcomers, being bound for Montreal and Winnipeg for distribution into assured employment in Western Canada. British nationality predominated among them, the Norwegian and Swedish elements being fewer in number.

Parties of domestic workers under the auspices of the Dominion government and the Canadian Pacific Railway were moving into household employment in all parts of the country, and 100 were moving in charge of the Salvation Army. Special parties of newcomers were moving for placement and supervision under the direction of the Lutheran Immigration Board, the German Baptist Board, the V. D. C. K. and other organizations assuming responsibility for their reception and placement.

Smaller groups of farm workers were going to fill blanketed areas in Western Canada. A further party of Norwegian bushmen were bound for lumber camps in Ontario and Quebec. Nearly all phases of the new immigration movement were represented in the season's last arrivals.

RECORD SEASON. The gratifying impetus to the immigration movement experienced throughout the present year, and confidently believed to be the commencement of a new ascendancy towards figures more closely approximating pre-war records, is reflected in the handling of the Canadian Pacific Steamships for the summer season. In the 1926 St. Lawrence season there were 74 arrivals of Canadian Pacific steamships at Quebec, as compared with 80 in 1925, and 98 in 1924. The average carryings of immigrants per vessel by the Canadian Pacific Steamships in 1926 was 549, as compared with an average of 890 in 1925 and 424 in 1924.

The 1926 St. Lawrence season, as reflected in the arrivals of the Canadian Pacific Steamships, has very clearly demonstrated the effects of the organization and improvements in immigration machinery gradually and laboriously effected in the post-war period. While satisfactory and encouraging in itself, it is to be considered more gratifying in indicating what may be expected in the way of new population in the years immediately ahead.

AWAY TONIGHT TO MEETING IN TRURO

Delegates to Maritime Board of Trade Sessions Leave at 6.15

The Saint John delegates to the conference of Maritime Boards of Trade, to be held at Truro tomorrow, will leave at 6.15 o'clock tonight in a special car placed at their disposal by the C. P. R. From advice received at the meeting it will be a very representative one and much good is expected. H. W. THE need of a change in the city charter to provide that the city business would not be held up when one commissioner was away from the city, was stressed this morning by Mayor White, speaking in an informal way before the Monday morning committee meeting began.

His Worship said that the absence from the city of Commissioner Bullock, who had been compelled to go away in search of health, made it impossible for the council to pass a bond issue for any purpose whatsoever and, should the remaining four be unable to attend to his duties, the business of the city was entirely at a standstill.

MAJORITY QUORUM. He was of the opinion that some provision should be made so that a majority of the council could form a quorum for the transaction of ordinary business and that some action should be devised for getting around the present requirement of an unusual vote for a bond issue.

HENRY FLETCHER
DIES SUDDENLY
DURING SERVICE

Was Brass Finisher, 55 Years
in Employ of T. McAvity & Sons

Henry Fletcher, of 140 St. James street, passed away suddenly yesterday morning, succumbing to a heart attack just as he had seated himself at the Brethren's meeting house in Coburg street at the commencement of the morning service. Dr. C. G. Corbett was hastily summoned, but found life extinct when he arrived. Dr. William Warwick was called as coroner and, finding that death was due to natural causes, he gave permission for the removal of the body.

Mr. Fletcher had walked to church from his home in St. James street and had appeared to be in normal health, but had complained that he could not walk fast up the hill.

The friends and relatives were greatly shocked at the tragic suddenness of Mr. Fletcher's passing. He was 55 years of age and until his retirement two years ago had been in the employ of T. McAvity & Sons, Ltd., as a brass finisher. He was highly skilled in his calling and had been in the service of that firm for 35 years. He was widely known in the community and held in very warm regard by a host of friends.

He is survived by three daughters, the Misses Ethel and Gladys at home and Mrs. W. J. Anderson, of this city, and one son, Henry, also residing in Saint John. One sister, Mrs. Annie Duval, of Saint John, also survives. The funeral will be held from his late residence on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 and interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

CARS COLLIDE ON SPRUCE LAKE ROAD

One Keeps on After Hitting Other, Which Had Been Stopped

Two touring cars were in collision on the Spruce Lake road at about 6 o'clock last evening. One car going to Little Lepreau with one man and two women passengers, sidetracked a car coming to Saint John with license 8-488, in which the occupants were a man and three boys. The city-bound car saw the other approaching and swerved to the side of the road and stopped but the other car kept right ahead and crashed into the one heading towards the city. The stationary car suffered a bent fender, bent running board and had a wheel cap torn off. The car headed for Lepreau had one wheel smashed but continued its journey without waiting for repairs. Police Officer Stinson was called but by the time he arrived the car was well on its way to Lepreau.

Gould Denies Being Party to Paying $100,000 in Action
Without His O. K.

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 21—The eight-year-old affair of the Saint John Valley and Quebec Railway bobbed up in Maine's senatorial campaign today. Arthur R. Gould, Republican candidate, replying to charges made by the headquarters of a Democratic opponent, Fulton J. Bedmond, that Gould had paid a "bribe" of $100,000 at the time he was connected with construction of the railway, denied that he had been party to the payment. The payment had been made, Gould said, by his business associates without his knowledge.

"I strenuously objected to the payment of one cent," he said, "but the judgment of my business associates who were in the majority prevailed, and my New York associates paid this amount of money without my knowledge, sanction or consent."

Gould then reviewed legal procedure in the suit of himself and associates to collect $400,000 from the province of New Brunswick.

FARMER WINS

Murray Pearson, Highfield,
Gets Sedan in Orphans'
Fair Drawing

The new Ford Tudor sedan, offered as a prize in connection with the recent fair held by the general committee in support of the New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage, was drawn for in the Imperial Theatre on Saturday evening.

Murray Pearson, farmer, of Highfield, Queens county, in the territory back of Norton and near the Washademoak, won the car. C. Percy Taylor, general manager of the Film Booking Offices of America, who was in the city from Toronto, was invited from the audience to conduct the drawing and after the many thousands of stubs of tickets were thoroughly shuffled and rolled in a locked barrel, ticket 10,227 was drawn by him. The stub bore the name of the winner.

Later Mr. Pearson was communicated with by long-distance telephone and told of his good fortune. He is already the possessor of a Chevrolet car. It was said on Saturday night that a great many tickets had been sold throughout the rural districts of the province in support of the project.

W. M. Campbell, of the Orphanage Fair committee, made the announcement that up to Saturday night's final dash in the Ford car contest he would judge the total act of the enterprise would reach fully $20,000. The objective of $27,000 would probably not be reached, although there was standing offer of a $2,000 donation if the other $5,000 can be raised, in which event the orphanage overdraft would be practically eliminated.

Mr. Campbell thanked the general public for its hearty support of the committee's efforts both with patronage and gifts of goods and felt that in all the circumstances governing Maritime conditions the fair had received generous treatment.

NEW PEW SYSTEM

The Quarterly Board of the Queen Square United Church at a meeting last evening, after the regular service, decided unanimously to abandon the system of pew rents in the church and to have all pews free. A suggestion that pew rents be abolished has been under consideration by the Board for some time and last night the decision was made with hearty unanimity. Rev. H. C. Rice, minister of the church presided at the meeting.

ENTERS INFIRMARY.

Rev. Francis Cronin celebrated high Mass at Holy Trinity church yesterday, and also preached the sermon from the gospel of the day.

Rev. J. J. Walsh, the pastor, who has not been feeling well, has entered the infirmary for a few days. With him, and is at present in the Baptist Missionary Home in Wolfville, N. S., a domicile set aside by the Baptist Mission Board for its missionaries on furlough. Mrs. West was formerly Miss Rosalie Waterman, of Saint John, who attained considerable prominence in her public school days as a winner of scholarship awards. She, too, is associated with mission work in the foreign field.

Attractive Floors That Last for Years

Pleasing to the public eye—and feet—Dominion Battleship Linoleum floors are assets to any business or institution from the very first day they are laid. They are permanent and end all worry about upkeep costs and replacements because they eliminate both.

They hold their attractive appearance through all their years of service. Dirt cannot grind into the firm, smooth, non-absorbent surface of Dominion Battleship Linoleum which offers an attractive setting for any furniture or fittings.

Dominion Battleship Linoleum is odorless and easy and quick to lay. It subdues the noise of footsteps and takes the jar and fatigue out of walking—advantages particularly appreciated in hospitals, libraries and busy offices.

You will find it installed as the chosen floor of Canada's largest banks, stores and business and public institutions. When a high polish is desired, waxing only is necessary.

Dominion Battleship Linoleum, AAA quality, is made in eight standard shades—brown, green, terra cotta, grey, buff, blue, black and white (used extensively for tile floors). AA and A qualities, in four standard shades only. Write us for free samples and literature.

Made in Canada to suit our climate and installed by all large house-furnishing and departmental stores. Write us for free samples and literature.

SHIPMENTS OF GRAIN LOWER AT MONTREAL

Wheat Pool May Have Some Effect is One View

That shipments overseas from Montreal this season are about 25 million bushels behind last year is a matter of some concern, and in transportation circles there is a question as to whether the creation of the Wheat Pool has not had something to do with it, says the Montreal Standard. Last year the Wheat Pool was an experiment; this year it is an accomplished fact, an organization carrying on operations on so vast a scale that it cannot fail to have reactions on the grain trade of an important character.

The demand for tramp tonnage to carry American coal, and the resultant increase in the ocean rates, are explanations given. But the outward movement of grain has been relatively slow all this season, as compared with last year, and Europe seemed to be in no hurry to order grain even before the British coal strike began to seriously affect the Atlantic shipping situation. Up to mid-September of this year, the number of ocean sailings from Montreal was somewhat greater than last year, despite the demand for tramps to carry coal, and not all these boats left here with full cargoes. So far a large part of the season of navigation there were apparently other factors in the situation than the question of the availability of ocean tonnage at reasonable rates.

When all the export grain was han-

WHEN AN AIRMAN DROPPED IN

Aviator Gerald Smith, of Seattle, dropped in on Senator and Mrs. R. F. Green of Victoria, B. C., the other day—and here's what his plane looked like afterward. It hit the breakfast room of the Green home, but fortunately the senator and his wife had just finished eating. Smith's ankle was broken.

...died by private trades competition supplied a certain pressure to move the grain towards consuming markets as soon as possible, in order to facilitate quick sales and deliveries. Traders were anxious to get old stocks off their hands, in order to prepare the stage for the new crop. Then when the new crop became available, offerings crowded the market, tending to weaken prices, a condition which made the European miller anxious to place his orders early, to take advantage of the rather of a plan of regularizing offerings in the hope of keeping up prices. At the same time, the European miller finds the advantage of placing early orders for quick delivery reduced by the ability of the Pool to withhold supplies that would otherwise glut the market and force down prices, while he knows that the Pool will be as much interested as he is in keeping the supplies it controls out of the hands of speculators.

There are other ways the Wheat Pool may affect the customs of the grain trade, and the traffic movements to which it gives rise. What the effect upon the position of Montreal as a grain port will be remains to be seen. At the close of St. Lawrence navigation there will certainly remain in Canada a much larger proportion of the crop available for export than last year. This may be held during the winter in Canadian elevators, and produce a larger movement of grain through Montreal next spring than is usual. It may be moved to tide water by rail during the winter, and in that case probably produce a more intensified competition between the routes via Buffalo to the American Atlantic ports and the routes to Canadian Atlantic ports.

If the effects of the Pool upon the grain trade are of a nature to slow up the movement of the new crop and spread it over winter shipments, Montreal would lose a certain portion of business. But this is not a necessary consequence. The Pool is such a big factor in the situation that it is bound to cause some disturbances, and inevitably it will make adjustments to the new conditions which it helps to create. As it builds up its business relations with European millers, it may find it to its advantage to speed up export through Montreal, and so bring to this port much of that proportion of the grain which in the past has been diverted to the American ports.

In any case, and notwithstanding that the Atlantic shipping situation may have been largely responsible for the fact that the grain movement through this port has not been up to expectations, the efforts of the operators of the Wheat Pool will be studied closely by the transportation and harbor interests, the paper says in conclusion.

EMPIRE REPORT PRAISED BY KING

Canadian Premier Says Each Dominion Now Master

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Staff Correspondent Canadian Press

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Among the members of the Canadian delegation there is keen satisfaction tonight over the Dominions charter.

This report of the Premier's Committee of the Imperial Conference with its ringing sentence, its precise statements, is regarded as a great milestone along the way of imperial relations.

It does not so much indicate grave constitutional departures—such is the comment one hears—as it crystallizes and applies principles of self-government which have already been recognized, if at times somewhat nebulously.

Premier Mackenzie King is reserving his considered comment. Nevertheless he was warm tonight alike in praise and in appreciation of the spirit of good fellowship which dominated the committee's proceedings.

PRINCIPLE OF AUTONOMY

"The report states clearly those principles of dominion autonomy for which Canada always contended," Mr. King said. "As the great charters of England set down liberties which had been won, so the report, in unmistakable language, sets down the principle that self-governing communities are equal in status."

More detailed examination of the reports reveals to what extent it carries the principle, in its own words, "every self-governing member of the Empire is now master of its own destiny."

In no aspect of domestic or external affairs is one autonomous community within the Empire to be subordinate to another. So far as the dominions are concerned the term "Imperial" disappears, although curiously enough the report frequently used the word "Empire" as well as the British Commonwealth of nations. In the charter of the King's title the term "United Kingdom" also disappears.

PRIVY COUNCIL APPEALS

The effect of the report, it is observed, is that where what some regard as anomalies remain they remain by wish of the dominion concerned. In regard to Privy Council appeals, for instance, the report does not pronounce on the question of retention or abolition. But it makes it clear that it is no part of the policy of "His Majesty's government in Great Britain" as the report phrases it, that questions affecting such appeals should be determined otherwise than in accordance with the wishes of the Dominion concerned. The Irish Free State, which is particularly interested in the question of appeals, did not press the matter further in view of this general understanding, although it reserved the right to raise the matter again at the next Imperial Conference.

COMMUNICATIONS.

As forecast some days ago, probably the most important constitutional development the report recommends lies in the methods of communication as between the Dominions and Great Britain. It was recognized by the committee that there had been great improvement in recent years in communication by cable and letter between London and the Dominion capitals. At the same time it was felt that more could be done by way of personal discussion. As the governor-general now becomes the representative of the Crown and not of the British government, the Canadian delegates proposed, it is understood, that Britain have a special representative at the Dominion capitals who would be in a position to present the views of the British government. The probable development of this idea will be the representation of the Dominions as between themselves.

The report records that all representatives at the Conference were impressed with the desirability of closer personal touch between Great Britain and the Dominions, also between the different Dominions. But the question of its direct representation at the Dominion capitals was left for the consideration of the British government. The immediate change in communications which the report brings about is that communications between the British government and the Dominion governments no longer pass through the governor-general, but between government and government. In other words, if the British Secretary of State for the Dominions wishes to communicate with the Canadian government, the communication would not go by way of the governor-general, but direct to the premier or Secretary of States for External Affairs.

BATHURST YOUTHS WIN GOLD MEDALS

William Lindsay and C. Payne Successful at Toronto Fair

FREDERICTON, Nov. 21.—William Lindsay and Clinton Payne, of West Bathurst, members of the South Tatagouche Boys' and Girls' Pig Club, who represented New Brunswick in the inter-provincial judging competitions at the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto, have been awarded gold medals for the best showing in the judging competitions, according to James Bremner, jr., provincial livestock superintendent, who returned Saturday afternoon from Toronto.

The winners, who were chosen to represent the boys' and girls' pig clubs of the province as a result of their showing at the Maritime Winter Fair at Amherst, N. S., were 16 points ahead of their nearest competitors. They also made an excellent showing in demonstration work in competition with teams who had enjoyed six weeks' expert coaching prior to the test.

Mr. Bremner also states that Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., of Saint John, came within an ace of winning the grand champion female award in the Short-horn classes in addition to the 17 prizes captured by his Brookside Farm herd from Robbsey, including the grand male champion. In fact the award of this prize came as a surprise to many of the expert livestock men at the fair.

BUILDINGS BURNED YARMOUTH SUNDAY

YARMOUTH, Nov. 21.—The wooden section in the centre of this town was seriously threatened by fire this morning when a blaze broke out in the building on the north side of John street, owned by Charles Carey and occupied by John Speers as a restaurant and practically demolished that building as well as the one immediately next to it, occupied by the Smolky meat market.

The fire was discovered by Police Sergeant Gaudet who pulled in the alarm. In short order the fire department had four very effective streams doing excellent work. The building was in the midst of several large wooden buildings all of which were joining in another conflagration for a few minutes the situation was decidedly serious. Immediately adjoining the restaurant, eastward, was Smolky's meat market which, with its contents, was practically destroyed. Adjoining this was the meat and provision shop of A. C. Pitman and then Steen's grocery and feed stores and other wooden buildings. The flames, however, after strenuous efforts held the fire at Smolky's market where it was stopped.

Remarkable Profits In French Government 6% Bonds

In sweeping the Saturday French franc reached 3.72 1/2 cents. This represents a new high on the movement which has carried the franc up more than 92 per cent. in four months' time.

WE BELIEVE that an investment made today in French Government 6% Bonds (Loan authorized Dec. 14th 1920; redeemable at par at the option of the French Government on or after Jan. 1st, 1931) presents an extraordinary opportunity for profit in the event of a recovery of the French franc.

International investors believe that the French franc will sell at 3 cents per franc before very long. Just think what this means! The French Government 6% Bonds (Loan authorized Dec. 14th 1920; redeemable at par at the option of the French Government on or after Jan. 1st, 1931) presents an extraordinary opportunity for profit in the event of a recovery of the French franc.

WILL CONSIDER ABOLISHMENT OF POSITION OF BASEBALL CZAR

EFFORT WILL BE MADE TO OUST JUDGE LANDIS

Present System Has Done Much to Place Sport on Firm Basis

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Whether or not the commission form of government in the major leagues is to continue to be the ruling system of the professional game with its present leader, K. M. Landis, for the next seven years, will be ascertained at the joint meeting of the two leagues, National and American, held in Chicago, Dec. 16.

SHOULD CONTINUE

That the present form of government has been and should continue to be a boon to baseball is undoubtedly the contention of the majority of followers and is, apparently, going to receive the sanction of the National League, especially, is believed to be of Landis. The American League will not be wholeheartedly behind Landis because of his difficulties with its president, B. B. Johnson, during the last two years or so, but he is almost certain of the support of enough American club owners to assure him a return to the office.

Internal Dissension Among Cardinals Causes Comment

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Reports of internal dissension on the St. Louis Cardinal baseball club, so close upon the evidence of the wreck that family trouble made out of the Pittsburgh Pirates, put the future of the world's champions largely up to the diplomacy of the majority stockholders.

THE young manager of the team, during and after the world's series, stories were passed around that the best of feeling didn't exist between Rogers Hornsby, manager of the champions, and the officials of the club. And they haven't been denied.

VIRGIN BIRTH IS SUBJECT OF REV. H. MILLER

St. David's Pastor Expresses Thanks for Work of Congregation

Rev. Hugh Miller before entering upon the presentations of his sermons yesterday extended hearty thanks to the congregation of St. David's for their efficient response to the anniversary appeal for the activity of the various church organizations and for good spirit of the entire congregation.

The Sunday school attendance last Sunday was the largest for many years he stated.

The "Home Base" was the title of his morning sermon. At last evening's service "The Virgin Birth" was the third sermon in the series of "Modern Religious Difficulties." He impressed upon his congregation that everything connected with the life and ministry of Jesus is of interest.

"Every word He uttered and every work He performed had an integral place in His ministry. The great central fact," said the speaker, is the statement, but the Cross was related to the manger. His death to His birth. "What was the message of His birth? Many are not troubled about that it is all. But there are many who are troubled about it. If Christ is or was the representative of man, then His birth must be after the manner of man. For many the virgin birth is an aid to faith, to others it is a hindrance.

"The great Authority is Jesus in all matters pertaining to faith and conduct. It is natural to ask what did Jesus teach regarding His birth? Jesus made no reference to it. That for many settles the question. The next court of appeal are the four gospels written by His followers. If it was a part of their teaching and accepted as necessary to faith it will have a prominent place in their writings. But only two, Matthew and Luke mention it, and they were satisfied with a reference to it. In the remaining part of the New Testament it has no place. Consequently many have difficulty in accepting the doctrine of the virgin birth.

"The convincing proof of the virgin birth is Jesus. We do not start with His birth but Himself. Instead of His birth determining His divinity, His divinity determines His birth. We start with the moral character, the conscience and the religious consciousness of Jesus and argue back to the manner of birth. The virgin life of Jesus makes it possible to accept the virgin birth of Jesus.

In closing, Mr. Miller dealt with the question if one could be a Christian and not believe in the virgin birth. Many claimed one could. It was Christ for Christ's sake. "Believe in Him as the Son of God and you will have life. What Jesus did not teach we dare not make essential."

Next Sunday evening The Unpardonable Sin will be the subject. At both services yesterday special music of excellent character was rendered by the large choir. Among the special soloists were Mrs. McKel, Mrs. Ferris and Mr. Smith.

MORE TEACHING OF THE BIBLE NEEDED

Coburg Street Church Pastor in Sermon Makes Saint John References

In the Coburg street Christian church yesterday morning, Rev. W. J. Johnston, the pastor, spoke on the need of Biblical teaching in the city, making reference to recent reports in circulation. He felt these conditions existed because the churches were not carrying out their duty in the matter of getting together on a common program of the welfare of the city, time was spent in building up denominations with resultant jealousies and distrust.

In the evening Mr. Johnston spoke on God's plan for man developing the thought that man had been cut off from God through trouble-makers who had misrepresented God to the human family. He said that throughout the Bible God was the savior of the world, warning His people against disobedience and sought in every way to promote man's interest in the gift He His only Begotten Son. He proved conclusively that His plan for man was eternal life. God had done everything He could do and still patiently invited men to return to Him.

TOMORROW JUBILEE DAY IN INSTITUTE

PROHIBITION ACT IS SUBJECT AT ST. GEORGE'S

Y. M. C. A. Clubs Attend Morning Service in West Side Church

The Y's Men's Club, with George Homan as president, and the Other Y's Men, with W. Angevine as president, and B-Y's with Harold Williamson as president, and the H-Y's Club with Richard Humphrey as president, made their annual corporate attendance at divine service yesterday morning in St. George's church with about 75 present.

A. M. Gregg, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., of which these clubs are special groups, was also present. Rev. W. H. Sampson assisted in the service, and Rev. John Unsworth preached a very inspiring sermon on "Christian Love." The members of the clubs attending sang in chorus "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus," and the choir rendered the anthem, "Lord, Thou Hast Been Our Dwelling Place."

Miss Maria Beattay was the organist in response to a request from the Saint John Denanyer spoke on the evils consequent on the non-enforcement of the Prohibition Act. His text was taken from Luke 14: 20-21, "It is good neither to eat flesh nor to drink wine, nor anything whereby thy brother's stomach or is offended or is made weak. Hast thou faith, have it to thyself before God. Happy is he that believeth and shall be allowed." Mr. Unsworth said that Christians should stand by the Act and encourage the people to support the law. The Act as enforced at present, he said, was a disgrace to the country and to the doctors and to the public.

He also said that bootleggers instead of being fined should be imprisoned. He mentioned some of the evils which he said followed in the train of infidelity. He said that the only way to Christ was a higher law than Prohibition, and if that law was followed all troubles would be solved.

ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED BY LOCAL COUNCIL

Knights of Columbus Remember Dead at Services—Event Tonight

Today the Saint John Council of the Knights of Columbus is observing the 22nd anniversary of the institution of the order in this city. This morning at 8 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem was sung in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception for the souls of the deceased members of the council and was attended by members of the order in all the parishes of the city. Rev. M. L. Nichol officiated, and was assisted by Rev. Dr. R. M. McDonald as deacon, and Rev. E. Reynolds as sub-deacon. Rev. H. Ramsay, of West Saint John, was in the sanctuary.

This evening, in their rooms in Coburg street, the knights will hold an informal smoker and at home in celebration of the event.

PRIORITY MATTER IN ESTATE CLAIMS

Chancery Court Engaged on Point Relative to Geo. E. Blake Estate

In the Chancery Court this morning before Mr. Justice Grimmer, hearing was commenced in the matter of Catherine A. Blake, executrix of the estate of the late George E. Blake, against James Robertson Company, Mott & Co. Ltd., and W. H. Thorne & Co. Ltd., creditors of the estate. The action was brought to determine whether the claims of the creditors previous to the death of Mr. Blake took priority over those of creditors who supplied goods after his death for the completion of the estate into both previous and subsequent to his demise. Mr. Blake carried on a plumbing and heating business here this afternoon.

R. F. Wright, manager of the Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation, agents of the executrix, who looked after the business for a short time prior to its being closed up, gave evidence regarding the condition of the business and stock in trade at the time his company was in charge. The matter is being continued this afternoon. R. F. Wright appeared for the plaintiff, J. F. H. Teed and C. S. Hamilton for the Robertson Company; J. D. P. Lewis for Mott & Company; W. H. Harrison, K. A. Ferguson, D. King Hazen and K. A. Wilson for certain other creditors. The assets of the estate, it was said, amount to about $6,000 and the debts to $11,200.
