OUTPUT OF FOUR LARGEST LINES UP 24 PER CENT

Commerce Minister Sees Tide of Prosperity Turned

BUILDING ACTIVE

Employment Better in June, July Than at Same Date Since 1920

Special to The Times-Star OTTAWA, July 31.—The monthly review of business statistics for July, issued yesterday by the Trade and Commerce Department reflects a healthy condition of things. The summary published by authority of the Acting Minister, Hon. J. D. Chaplin, says in part: "Business activity in Canada was maintained at a high level during the first half of 1926. Notwithstanding the reaction in speculative stocks and in wholesale prices, the prominent factors of physical volume indicate that, even when allowance is made for seasonal tendencies, business was more active in the second quarter than in the first."

CONSTRUCTION RECORD

"Construction was especially active from April to June, the contracts awarded in May reaching a record for all time. Business activity was also greater in the second quarter when allowance is made for seasonal variations. The primary iron and steel industry operated at a comparatively high level of activity with orders from the railways and the construction industry. Industrial employment showed significant improvement during the first half of the year, attaining on June 1 and July 1 a higher level than in the corresponding dates of any year since 1920."

OUTPUT INCREASED

"The remarkable increase in the physical output of Canadian industry in the first five months of the present year as compared with the corresponding part of 1925 indicates that the country has entered upon a period of prosperity in decided contrast with the previous period of readjustment. Considering forestry, mining, construction and manufactures, the four principal branches of industry with which agriculture are engaged in the production of commodities, the output in the first five months of 1926 was 24 per cent. in excess of the corresponding period of 1925. This was determined by the construction of an index number of the physical volume of production in the four branches in question weighted according to net value of production in the period from 1919 to 1923."

CAPTAIN CAUTIONED IN SHIP GROUNDING

Certificate of Manchester Civilian's Second Officer Suspended For Month

QUEBEC, Que., July 31.—In rendering judgment at the conclusion of his inquiry into the stranding on May 23rd, 1925, of the steamship Manchester Civilian, near Point Seche, west of Fame Point, Dominion Wreck Commissioner L. A. Demers, found that the master of the ship, Captain T. J. Barclay, was in default for close sailing and cautioned him to adopt safer measures in the future. Second Officer J. T. C. Vignar was found in default and his certificate was suspended for one month, dating from July 30, 1926. "The report, having carefully reviewed and weighed the evidence adduced, is of the opinion that the course given by the master to be followed after leaving Fame Point, was too fine and too close to be considered safe. Many unexpected agencies may occur in two miles of shore from Fame Point to Cloridrome Point is not sufficient to avoid the effect of such agencies. The court is justified in saying it is too close and dangerous at all times."

POOR DOCUMENT MC 2035

THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, SAINT JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY, JULY 31, 1926

Civic Hydro Commission Protests Provincial Bill

The selling price would mean a substantial surplus.
This surplus current will be sold in the near future is practically assured.
The saving made by the citizens last year, over the 1920-23 rates was at least $600,000, made up as follows: Seven million kilowatt hours sold by hydro in the year at a saving over pre-hydro rates of 5c per kilowatt hour—$350,000. Five million kilowatt hours estimated sold by the Power Co. in 1926 at a reduction forced by hydro, over their former rates, of 5c per kilowatt hour—$250,000 $600,000

"This saving, equivalent to one-third of the total taxes paid by the citizens of Saint John, must impress everyone, particularly at the present time, with the importance of hydro to the city.
"It would seem an appropriate time again ask those who are not yet using hydro to support the undertaking that has done so much to reduce the cost of electricity in Saint John."

Although ignorant of the course, the force of the current or the prowess of the other competitors, Perreault said he believed he would be able to equal M. Chretien's record of 12 hours of Le Brian's record of 12 hours 30 minutes in the race last year.
Perreault will use the aid of a scuba diver on the six kilometer stretch between Villeneuve Bridge and Chouy Bridge, where he may vary his stroke.

Halfax Club Instructs Delegates to Vote for Separation From M. P. B.

Some weeks ago a similar movement was started in New Brunswick, but it was short lived. Now several Nova Scotia clubs are said to favor the establishment of a separate amateur spot governing body in Nova Scotia, one that will form its own rules and regulations, without interference from the officials of the C. A. U. The officers and members of these clubs take the stand that the C. A. U. rules are framed in such a way as to make it impossible to adapt them to conditions in the Maritimes and hence the secession movement, in the amateur athletic world, is finding considerable support.

How Can They Afford It?

Their income was so, so. Their future—magnificent. Everybody wondered—How did they manage it? Why on earth did they come to spend so much money just on furniture?

In time 'twas hinted directly in conversation to the young couple themselves.
And here was their reply—"We might have spent our savings on a car. But in time there would be no more car, and always the car eats up what you save. You use it only part of the year. Our Furniture makes us happy EVERY DAY of EVERY year while we live. Once paid for it costs nothing to keep up—we learned to live below our income while paying for it and since then we find it easy to save money for Bonds."

N. B. POWER CO. SALE NEGOTIATED, SAYS REPORT

N.B. COMMISSION AFTER PLANT, MONTREAL HEARS

About $4,000,000 Involved in Transfer of Property If Effected

MONTREAL, July 30—Great interest is being manifested in financial circles here over a rumor that the New Brunswick Power Commission is negotiating to purchase outright the New Brunswick Power Company.

The rumor would explain the strength which has been shown in the securities of the Saint John company during the past few months, and the optimistic references to their future in United States financial publications and brokers' circulars.

FINANCIERS SURPRISED. The negotiations have surprised the local financial world in view of the fact that it has been generally thought here that the last provincial election meant a change in the New Brunswick policy of public ownership.

INVOLES $4,000,000. The sale of the property would involve about $4,000,000, which it is understood, represents the cash investment in the property in Quebec circles, where the avowed policy of the Liberal government, as announced by Premier Taschereau, has been against any form of public ownership, it is hard to understand this situation.

He said the incident was not as serious as first reported.

AUTO PARTY SPEND NIGHT IN THE OPEN

Taxi Overtures While Coming Here From Fredericton on Thursday Night

Forced to spend the night in the open, with intermittent showers making their plight still more uncomfortable, was the experience of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Olive, Willard Jones, William Baxter and another man, whose names could not be ascertained last night, all of this city, when the taxi in which they were returning to Saint John from Fredericton turned on its side a short distance this side of Oromocto at 10 o'clock Thursday night.

None of the party sustained serious injury, although they were all considerably shaken up. The taxi, which was the property of William Puddington, of the North End, and driven by one of his chauffeurs, upset when the driver attempted to negotiate a sharp turn.

The Caste of a Custom Car without its Cost Achieved through One-Profit facilities

FOR the first time in an automobile of economical production, this Studebaker Standard Six Custom Sedan duplicates the master creations of custom design. Swung low in the body—close-hauled in the coachwork—fleet and flowing in its lines—replendent with the lacquered loveliness of a duotone color scheme—and replete with every detail of correct custom treatment from broadacre trim, Butler finish hardware and Chase Mohair interior to the silvered figure of Atlanta poised on the radiator. This Custom Six Sedan combines the lines that appeal to a woman and the stamina that appeals to a man—adds custom refinements to the ruggedness of Studebaker performance—offers disc wheels and four-wheel brakes—reaffirms the inflexible standards of Studebaker quality—and invokes anew the great Studebaker tradition of making good with the public by continually making better in the plant! It is the latest example of the Studebaker policy of progressive betterments, and unites the smoothness and power of the quiet Studebaker L-head motor with a custom symmetry of line and treatment that would be absolutely impossible, at the Studebaker price, without Studebaker One-Profit facilities. Come in and see this Standard Six Custom Sedan—mechanically up-to-the-minute... Artistically, ahead of the time... Economically, the car of the hour!

SAINT JOHN, N. B., JULY 31, 1926.

"AS SPEEDILY AS POSSIBLE." IN HALF A CENTURY. The Royal Commission which is investigating the Maritime case, and which is to sit here on Monday, was appointed on April 6 last, and the order-in-council containing the personnel and defining the mandate of the tribunal instructed the commission to make its report "as speedily as possible." In view of the progress made in Nova Scotia, where Sir Andrew MacDuff and his associates began their enquiries, it may be estimated that the hearings here and in Prince Edward Island will not be more prolonged than they were in Halifax, and it therefore seems well within the possibilities that the report of the Duncan tribunal may be made public before the election of September 14. This, of course, is speculation merely, for notwithstanding the former Government's instruction to prosecute the enquiry with all reasonable speed, Sir Andrew MacDuff, Judge Wallace and Professor MacMillan, thoroughly realizing the momentous character of the issues with which they are dealing, will naturally ignore all considerations relating to the political campaign, or the fate of the parties, and will have in mind chiefly the necessity for thoroughness in securing all the information requisite in order to complete their report and frame the specific recommendations required by the mandate given them.

The order-in-council, it is interesting to recall, gave the commission authority to cover a wide range of issues and set forth the need for an enquiry covering every question affecting these provinces, prejudicially. From the nature of the order-in-council it becomes clear that the Royal Commission need not necessarily content itself with the evidence volunteered by the three provinces, but has ample power to open up any desirable line of enquiry on its own account; for the Government's purpose evidently was that this tribunal should get to the bottom of all the Maritime troubles and devise remedies for them so far as such remedies may be within the authority of the federal government.

The order-in-council refers to the claims made on behalf of the Maritimes that certain legislative and administrative measures adopted by successive Parliaments and Governments of Canada have resulted in injustice to these provinces; that there has been a failure to utilize Canadian ports to the proper extent; that excessive freight rates have prevented the development of the Maritimes; that the operation of the Intercolonial Railway has been inconsistent with the pledges given at the time of Confederation; that in the matter of immigration the provinces have not been accorded such treatment as has been given the provinces west of them; and that, generally, the Atlantic Provinces have not only failed to secure a fair share of the benefits of Confederation but have, in many instances, reaped injury rather than profit from the union.

"The Prime Minister," says the order-in-council, "observes that it is most undesirable that any section of the people of the Maritimes should entertain the opinion that their interests are being knowingly prejudiced and that the public interest requires that every occasion for the existence of a feeling of grievance should, if possible, be removed." And further, "The Prime Minister submits that, in order to determine how this can best be done, it is necessary that there should be an enquiry into the representations set out above, and into the claims set forth in any memorandum that may be presented by the Government of Nova Scotia or in any memorandum of the Governments of New Brunswick or Prince Edward Island, and into representations that may be presented to the Federal Government or to the commission relative to the conditions and claims of the people of the Maritime Provinces, and that an examination from a national standpoint of all the factors which peculiarly affect the economic position of the inhabitants of the provinces in question should be made, and that upon the results of such enquiry and examination there should be based specific recommendations which in the opinion of the Commission would result in affording relief from the conditions complained of."

The case on behalf of Nova Scotia has been presented to the Duncan Commission thoroughly and impressively, and we may well anticipate that the sessions here and in Charlottetown will show that New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island will be equally successful in marshalling the evidence bearing upon every angle of the supremely important issues coming within the scope of this tribunal. Sir Andrew MacDuff's high reputation and his associates are Maritime Province men whose character, experience and standing equip them splendidly for the task in hand. It follows, therefore, that we may look forward most hopefully to the end of the Commission's work. It will remain for the next incoming Government to give prompt and courageous effect to the commission's recommendations.

Queer Quirks of Nature

A BUTTERFLY WITH A DARK PAST By AUSTIN H. CLARK. GRATITUDE of the very basest sort is practiced by this pretty little butterfly, the so-called "Large Blue" of Europe. The beautiful deep blue color, exquisite distinctness, and apparent feebleness of the creature quite belie its nature. The female of this butterfly lays her eggs on the flowers heads of the thyme, carefully choosing buds that meet each other promptly eats the other. But after the third moult they are no longer cannibals, and several will live happily together.

The caterpillars on hatching are exceedingly small, only one-thirty-second of an inch in length. They feed on the blossoms of the thyme. The caterpillars shed their skin three times, reaching an eighth of an inch in length, and then begin a different mode of life, featured by heartless ingratitude toward their erstwhile friends, but by a commendable change of heart toward their fellow caterpillars. When feeding on thyme blossoms these caterpillars are enthusiastic cannibals. If by unhappy chance two Conservative SAYS STABILITY IS NEEDED. (Ottawa Journal). In October last the Canadian people gave clear evidence that they wanted no more of Mackenzie King. What happened after last October is clear history. There was Mr. King's defeat, when the public verdict in his attempt to hold on to office; intrigue and cabals and barter with Progressives to give the Liberal Government a majority in Parliament; the consequent paralysis of government; the resignation of Mr. King; the appointment of Mr. Meighen as Prime Minister; the consequent paralysis of government; the resignation of Mr. King; the appointment of Mr. Meighen as Prime Minister; the consequent paralysis of government; the resignation of Mr. King; the appointment of Mr. Meighen as Prime Minister.

MEIGHEN AND THE PEOPLE (Manitoba Free Press). Mr. Meighen has not been called to office by the people of Canada. Upon the two occasions upon which the opportunity was presented to them they rejected him. Now he is called to office by the Parliament of Canada.

A MATTER OF APPRAISAL (Charlottetown Guardian). For the next two months Mr. King will be going around ranting up and down the country, trying to bring about a popular sentiment against Lord Byng and voters of Canada will justify their rejection of the British Empire, independent of the British Empire, independent of the British Empire.

THE EMPLOYMENT QUESTION (Toronto Star). Mr. Meighen talks of giving work to Canadian workmen and to a host of new immigrants whom he proposes to bring to Canada. Yet when Mr. Meighen held office in 1921 there were more out-of-works than at any corresponding period since his defeat.

And start on a long, long hike. For you'll only find what you've left behind.

For there's nothing that's really new. When you blame your town you blame yourself.

For it isn't the town, it's you. Real towns are not made by men afraid lest some one else gets ahead.

But when everyone works and nobody shirks, you can save a town from the dead.

So if while you make your personal life, your neighbor makes one, too, you'll have the town you'd like to see.

POEMS I LOVE

"The Stammering Wife" by John Godfrey Saxe.

IT IS seldom nowadays that we encounter this kind of verse; but it has a distinct value. It is pure silliness, if you will, frankly childish, yet with a certain underlying relation to life, and it should not be dismissed as trivial. I imagine it must have been frequently recited in the old days, when lyeams were thick through the land, and doubtless it brought healthy happiness to the multitudes who heard it. I like it, and am not ashamed to say I hope I always shall.

When, deeply in love with Miss Emily I vowed, if the maiden would only be mine, I always endeavor to please her—

She blushed her consent, though the said never a word, except, "You're an ass—"

But when we were married, I found to my rith, The stammering lady had spoken the truth—

For often, in obvious duddog, She'd say,—"if I ventured to give her a dog—"

In the way of reproof,—"You're a dog— you're a dog—"

A dog—a dog—matic curmudgeon!" And once when I said, "We can hardly afford—"

This extravagant style, with our moderate board, And hinted we ought to be wiser, She looked, I assure you, exceedingly blue—

And fretfully cried, "You're a Jew— you're a Jew—"

A very judicious adviser!" Again, when it happened that, wishing to beg her to go to a neighbor, She wanted to know why I made such a fuss—

And said, "You're a cuss— cuss—"

You were always accus-tomed to Out of temper at last with the insolent dame, And feeling that Madam was greatly to be pitied, I mimicked her speech—like the churl—

And angrily said, "You're a dam-dam— dam—"

A dam-age instead of a blessing!" U. S. A. AND DISARMAMENT (London Times).

Many features of the foreign policy of the United States government are at the present moment obscure. It is not always easy to predict—view of the complicated relations between the executive, congress, and that broad electorate which this year will again express its verdict in a turbulent election—over many issues—what line the United States will take on matters of international importance.

Important international questions that interest us far less. What can be distinguished as consistent and permanent is the concern of the United States in a general reduction of armaments.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I tried read about it in the papers, so I tried it and the pains all left me. I have a family of three children now, and the medicine helped me during the months before they were born. I recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. CLAY W. CORBIN, Main Street, Stewick, Nova Scotia.

DUNCAN COMMISSION LEAVES FOR SAINT JOHN TO OPEN PROBE

FIRST PART OF N. S. SUBMISSION IS COMPLETED

Enough Evidence in to Back General Statements, Says Phinney

HALIFAX, July 30.—The Royal Commission appointed by the Federal government to investigate the position of the Maritime Provinces within Confederation concluded the first Halifax session today at noon and the members, Sir Andrew Rae Duncan (chairman), Dr. Cyrus MacMillan, of Montreal, and Judge W. B. Wallace, of Halifax, left here this afternoon by motor for Digby, whence they will sail for Saint John, N. B., where the next hearings will be held. They were accompanied by the secretary, F. MacLure Sclanders of Saint John.

Leut.-Colonel E. C. Phinney, counsel for the Nova Scotia government, concluded the first session of the Nova Scotia argument at noon today, but announced that several witnesses were yet to be called who were not available during the hearing this week, and he announced that he would take advantage of the second visit of the commission to Halifax, which is expected to be in about one fortnight. Answering the chairman's suggestion that a two-day hearing would be sufficient for the remainder of the witnesses to be heard in Halifax, Col. Phinney replied that it would be ample.

OTHERS COMPLAIN. In addition to the witnesses called by the Nova Scotia government, several other citizens came before the commission to complain of inadequate attention being paid to Nova Scotia's interests by the Federal government. Prominent among these was Hon. F. B. McCurdy, a former minister of works in the Federal government, who will appear again before the commission for cross-examination upon what the chairman described as "a large number of interesting points," contained in the brief which he presented.

PHINNEY'S STATEMENT. At the close of today's session, Colonel Phinney did not sum up his case for the province, the chairman suggesting that he reserve that until the close of the final public hearing here, but he made a brief statement, in part as follows: "In connection with the eight major points that have been raised (in the brief) I submit that we have given to the Commission, either by data and statement of fact, statistics and otherwise set out in the memoranda either by arguments or by direct evidence, sufficient to corroborate our general statements. I am making that submission. In the case of subsidies we can not produce direct evidence. We do not propose to."

PUBLIC DOMAIN. "In connection with the matter of public domain there is no direct evidence to submit in itself with certain statements that have been made and are on the record. In respect to freight rates, we have submitted our evidence regarding that with the reservation of submitting certain other evidence which the commission requires. We also say that so far as the government is concerned the matter of coal and steel is complete, but we are making, either privately or otherwise, a request that certain witnesses be called who are not available at Halifax."

GENERAL CASE BACKED. With respect to trans-continental development we have no further direct evidence to offer on that, and submit that the Board of Trade case has substantiated the general case we brought forward in respect to that point. Fisheries, we consider complete as far as direct evidence is concerned. The same applies to colonization and settlement with the reserve of privilege of calling further witnesses later. With reference to the representation case we have no evidence to present on that, as it is purely a statement of fact and argument."

GOING TO ENGLAND. Frank M. Ross, general manager of the Saint John Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Co., Ltd., intends leaving for England on Aug. 4 on a business trip.

Deaths

Edward Fay. In a telegram last night, Mrs. Hugh F. Murphy, of Prince Edward street, received the sad news of the death of her father, Edward Fay, which occurred on Thursday night in Toronto, where he had made his home in recent years. His death was caused by pneumonia. The funeral is to take place in Toronto on Monday but because of illness in her own family Mrs. Murphy will be unable to be present.

Mr. Fay was about 85 years of age and was born in the province of Quebec. He had resided in Saint John for a considerable number of years and was in business here as a contractor. He will perhaps be best remembered locally as the contractor who had charge of the building of the Intercolonial Railway from Saint John to Campbellton and other large railway enterprises in Canada and the United States. He left Saint John about 40 years ago and only on infrequent occasions had visited here since then. He had been retired from business for some little time. Mrs. Murphy is the last surviving member of the family.

Jean Macaulay. Much sympathy will be extended to the bereaved family in the death of Jean Macaulay, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Macaulay, 219 Winslow street, West Saint John, which occurred in this city at 5:30 p. m. yesterday. The little girl had been exceptionally bright and of a very lovable disposition, but had been in failing health following a serious illness six years ago. She is survived by her parents, one sister, Donaldine, aged six, and one brother, Malcolm, aged three. The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon from St. George's church at 3:15.

J. L. Blakney. MONCTON, July 30.—The death occurred at his home, Donald Avenue, Sunny Brae, early this morning of John Irvine Blakney, a well known resident in that town. He had not enjoyed good health for some time. He was 48 years of age and was a native of Egin, Albert county, but moved to Sunny Brae many years ago and was employed as a painter with the C. N. R. Mr. Blakney was an elder of St. John's United church, Moncton. He took a deep and active interest in the temperance cause and was a Past Grand Worthy Patriarch of Sunny Brae Lodge, Sons of Temperance, as well as being a member of the Grand Division of the order.

Sydney Man and Woman in Hospital After Mishap; Driver Jailed

SYDNEY, N. S., July 30.—Archie Ferguson, who was severely injured in an automobile smash on King's Road, about a mile from the city, this afternoon, was recovering at the city hospital tonight, while John Andrews, another passenger in the car, is still in the police cells awaiting his trial tomorrow on a charge of drunkenness. Mrs. Charles Kehoe is also severely injured in the hospital. The accident occurred at 2:30 p. m., today, when a motor party including Ferguson, who was driving, John Andrews and Mrs. Charles Kehoe were rounding a sharp curve at the Indian Reservation at a fast clip, when they suddenly came upon a milk wagon and crashed into it, the car careening off and sailing clean through a large billboard on the side of the road. Glass from a broken windshield flew in all directions, inflicting wounds on Ferguson and Mrs. Kehoe, while Andrews was considerably bruised and shaken up. The car was badly wrecked. The two more seriously injured were removed to the City Hospital, while Andrews was carried off under arrest to the police station.

Have You Packed Away Discarded Coats That Might Keep Someone Warm?—Fancy That Might Delight Some Young Girl?—Toys That Should Be Played With—Don't Let These Things Accuse You in Your Dreams.

WE HAD been talking about dreams. Finally a woman said: "I come of a long line of thrifty housekeepers, and one of the maxims on which I was reared was to put everything away when I was done with it, because some day I might find a use for it."

MY MOTHER and grandmother before me had held devoutly to that same faith, so that we had an attic simply bursting with the accumulation of fifty or sixty years of cast-offs. One of the ordeals of spring cleaning time was to go through that mass of junk and dust off the boxes and the barrels, and pack them a little closer in order that moss might be put in.

"WELL, after one of these orgies of cleaning up the attic, tired and worn, I fell asleep and dreamed that I was dead and had gone to the Judgment Bar, and that I had to give some sort of reason to St. Peter for letting me through the 'Pearly Gates.' In my dream I started off glibly telling him that I had been a dutiful daughter and a good wife and mother and an economical and saving housekeeper, and at that St. Peter nodded his head and asked: 'Is what this woman says true? Are there any that accuse her?'"

"And at that, to my horror, I saw a long and incongruous procession of the things in the attic approaching. At its head was a great mass of clothing—old dresses, old wraps, old trousers—dozens and dozens of things all stained and mildewed and falling to pieces with age. Suddenly an old fur-lined overcoat began to speak:

"WE ACCUSE her," it said. "For years and years we have hung in the attic rotting away, devoured by the moths, of use to no one. I had it in me to bring warmth and comfort to some poor shivering wretch, yet every cold day in the winter I would have been a Godsend. Perhaps if she had given me to the old man who sold papers on the corner he would have caught the cold that ended in pneumonia and killed him in that last blizzard."

"WE ACCUSE her," cried a score pair of shoes in chorus, "because she let us mold and decay and perish in the attic, when there were so many thousands of feet passing her door that were upon the ground and that we could have saved from the wet and cold of the pavement."

"WE ACCUSE her," said a trunk of old fanny, "because we would have brought so much happiness to so many young girls, and she shut us away under lock and key where we did not have a dancing frock to wear to the Firemen's Ball, and when we passed a hundred half-frenzied men on the street to whom I would have been a Godsend. Perhaps if she had given me to the old man who sold papers on the corner he would have caught the cold that ended in pneumonia and killed him in that last blizzard."

"WHY, there have been times when we have almost broken out of the trunk when we have heard the poor little shop girl from whom this woman bought her gloves sobbing in her pillow at night because she did not have a dancing frock to wear to the Firemen's Ball, and when we thought of how well that pretty darling girl who runs the elevator in the apartment in which she lived could marry if she only had that red velvet hat and frock that the moths were just beginning on, to set off her dark beauty and make that young salesman realize what a queen she really is."

"I ACCUSE her," rumbled a big spring mattress. "I am as good as new, capable of bringing rest and relaxation, yet she put me up in the attic three years ago when she installed twin beds in her guest room, and I have done nothing but make a nesting place for mice ever since."

"YET, her landlady, who works every day beyond her strength to support her big family of fatherless children, goes home at night to lay her tired body on a bed that is as hard as a rock. What a comfort it might have been all these years to that poor, brave, little creature and the little children who cuddle against her at night for warmth!"

"I ACCUSE her," said a big, fat, soft-stuffed chair. "Heaven knows how long I have idled away my life in uselessness! Ever since she did over the house in period furniture and I was not considered good enough to mix with Louis XV or Duncan Phyfe."

"PERHAPS she has forgotten that I ever existed, but I have often wondered that she did not recall me when she saw that poor little crippled boy sitting in his hard chair in the back of the shop where she took her little boy's shoes sometimes to be mended. I hate to think of that child, and of the tired old bones that I could have held in my soft lap."

"WE ACCUSE her," said a great pile of books and magazines. "We have lain in the attic for years upon years molding away with never an eye to read us, with never a hand to lift our covers and take the riches we have to bestow. Yet this woman went summer after summer in the country places where there are no books."

"JUST think what joy she could have given if she had sent us to the lonely farm houses where people are starving for something to read. Think of how short the winter nights would be if they had thrilling stories to while away the hours! Think of what cheer and comfort we would bring to shut-in lives! Think of boys and girls to whom we would be an inspiration and whose lives we might change!"

"THEN came a lot of children's toys: dolls whose waxen cheeks time had faded, battered little trains, miniature sets of dishes, balls and tops falling to pieces. 'We accuse her,' they said sadly, 'because we have rusted and become rusty. We have dragged spoils at the end of a string and sang rag babies to sleep.'"

"BUT I could bear no more. The horror of my nightmare awakened me, and the next morning I cleared out that attic to the last article in it and sent the things where they would be of use and do some good."

"I SAVE nothing. The minute I am done with anything I pass it on to some one who needs it. And when I come to die, whatever else I have on my conscience, I will be free of the vice of hoarding useless things."

"I AM going to escape the curse of the attic."

SEE-SAWING ON BROADWAY. Includes text: 'THIS is open season for musical auditions in New York. Anyone can bag a limit of vocalists, fiddlers and piano thumpers in a few hours. A week's check-up on Aeolian or Carnegie Hall leaves the impression that the talent of America makes its way to Manhattan somehow or other for a public hearing. THE summer holiday season seems to let down the gates of every Mid-Western village and farm and out pours the ambitious flood of ambitious ones in search of madala, scholarships, opera tickets—anything and everything. To thousands it is the most important moment of a lifetime. For a few hours they seem important. Whether or not they succeed they can always go back home and, for years after, tell of "how I got an audition at Carnegie Hall." PERHAPS those who fall are the most fortunate. A few, perhaps, achieve greatness. A vast number, encouraged by the waves of the audition, join the army of strugglers to be found in Manhattan; folk who never get very high up or very far down. Their dreams, always a few feet ahead, invariably escape them. NEW YORK has a number of organizations that give aid to worthy and struggling talent. And many are the romances born of their efforts. The American Concert Singer's League gives its "discoveries" a chance to sing from Station WJCA, atop the McAlpin Hotel. This group it was who "found" Myra Calderon, the factory girl with a golden voice. On the night she was to have her audition she telephoned that she feared she couldn't come as she had no suitable clothes. An evening dress was provided at the last moment. She sang. As in the Cinderella tale, the hour of 12 found her scurrying back home in her working clothes. She has since been given a position that offers her more time for practice. And there was Sylvia Armstrong, a dressmaker; Becky Crawford, choir singer, and many others. THE daily mail is filled with letters. A bookbinder, an iceman, a stenographer who practices an hour before she goes to work, a small-town singing teacher, a farmer in Vermont. The other day a truck driver came up, announcing that he had to hurry as he was taking his lunch hour and had left his truck at the curb. FOR years the New York stadium concerts attracted national talent. This season the National Music League handles the auditions. This is another organization that does much for the undiscovered talent. It is a sort of clearing house for young musicians. Auditions are held every week from June to October. A Jury, drawn by panel, hears the ambitious ones and gives verdict. The verdicts, coming from musicians, are candid and dependable. Thousands make use of the opportunity. GILBERT SWAN.'

Sketches of Medical Men Who Came to City
in 1783

SOME SURGEONS IN INDEPENDENCE WAR

Were Prominent Men of Early Life in Saint John

The following sketch of some of the medical men who came to Saint John with the Loyalists in 1783, is from records in the local office of Dominion Archives, Princess street.

With the Loyalists in 1783, came a number of medical men, some of whom were commissioned as surgeons during the war. Among them were Doctors Palme, Huggeford, Moore, Gamble, Prince, Earle, Emerson, Clarke, Ham-
mell, Dupasac, Sherman, Lewis, Coleff, Betts, Brown, Paddock and Smith.

DR. WILLIAM PAYNE

Dr. Payne first saw the light of day in Worcester, Mass., in 1750, and during his boyhood was taught by John Adams, afterwards famous as President of the United States. On his return from London in 1782, Dr. Payne was appointed physician to the army, by Sir Guy Carleton. At the peace
he went to Halifax, where he obtained a grant of La Tete Island in Passaquoddy Bay and went there to reside. In 1785, Dr. Payne returned to Saint John and at the incorporation of the city was appointed an alderman for Sidney Ward. With the return of the banishment act by the United States in 1787, Dr. Payne returned to Worcester and lived there until his death in 1838.

A story is related about a dinner party in Worcester just before the revolution, given by the wife of Dr.
Palme. Among the guests was John Quincy Adams. When the toast to "The King" was proposed, some Whigs refused to drink it. Mr. Adams requested them to comply saying that they would have an opportunity to return the compliment. When asked to give the next toast, Mr. Adams proposed "The Devil." As the host was about to resent this indignity, Mrs.
Palme turned the laugh on Mr. Adams by saying to her husband, "My dear

DR. AZOR BETTS

Dr. Betts was a New York physician, and strong in denouncing those opposed to King George III. In 1776 he was brought before the Committee of Safety for denouncing Congress and the Provincial Assembly as a set of damned rascals, acting only to feather
their nests and not to serve the country.
After three months' confinement,
the committee released him, the doctor
having acknowledged penitence, feeling discretion to be the better part of valor. Dr. Betts was among the Loyalists at Saint John, but at the urgent solicitation of the people removed to Kingston. In 1809 he died at Digby,
Nova Scotia. His widow died soon after at Saint John and was buried in the old graveyard. Two sons, Hiram and James Betts resided in Saint John for a number of years. A son of the

Consent to Pose Together

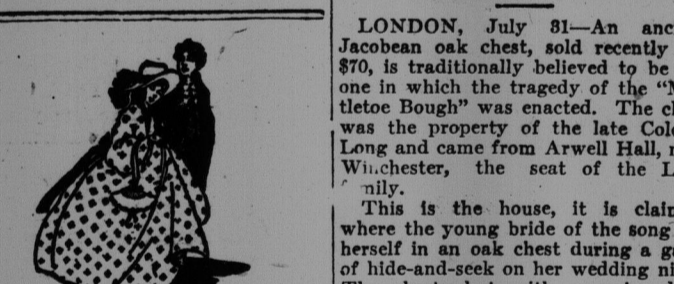

The Countess Salm, formerly Millicent Rogers, is seen here in one of the first pictures posed with her son Peter, heir to the $50,000,000 estate of H. H. Rogers, Standard Oil magnate. Peter appears utterly and happily oblivious of the fortune hanging over him. He's just 20 months old now.

DR. SAMUEL MOORE

When John Mosley, a colored man, who drew lot No. 1064, east St. James street, was killed by a blow from a fork, which he received at the hands of his wife in the fall of 1784, the Hon.
George Leonard, one of the Justices of the peace, called upon Dr. Moore to make a post mortem examination of the head of Mosley. This was accordingly done, and to the report, Dr.
Moore is indebted as preserving his name in the annals of the city. As this was the first murder after the landing of the Loyalists and likewise the first post mortem, the incident is entitled to a place in New Brunswick history and the name of Dr. Samuel Moore will go down to posterity associated with it.

DR. AZOR BETTS

Dr. Betts was a New York physician,
and strong in denouncing those opposed
to King George III. In 1776 he was brought before the Committee of Safety for denouncing Congress and
the Provincial Assembly as a set of damned rascals, acting only to feather
their nests and not to serve the country.
After three months' confinement,
the committee released him, the doctor
having acknowledged penitence, feeling discretion to be the better part of valor. Dr. Betts was among the Loyalists at Saint John, but at the urgent
solicitation of the people removed to Kingston. In 1809 he died at Digby,
Nova Scotia. His widow died soon
after at Saint John and was buried in the old graveyard. Two sons, Hiram
and James Betts resided in Saint John
for a number of years. A son of the Ancient Mine Is Found In Ayrshire

LONDON, July 31—Hundreds of tons of coal have been secured by miners near Comarock, Ayrshire, where they found a miniature mine. While digging out coal the miners noticed that the solid rock appeared to be woven in perfectly circular form.
A circular shaft, with a diameter of about 10 feet, was cleared of stone and other rubbish. Water was pumped out and the men descended the shaft and worked the mine, which is believed to be of great antiquity and which was unsuspected until this chance discovery.

Tragedy of Mistletoe
Bough Is Recalled

LONDON, July 31—An ancient Jacobean oak chest, sold recently for $70, is traditionally believed to be the one in which the tragedy of the "Mistletoe Bough" was enacted. The chest was the property of the late Colonel Long and came from Arwell Hall, near Worcester, the seat of the Long family.

GIRL SEES DAYLIGHT FOR THE FIRST TIME IN TWELVE YEARS

IMPRISONED BY FATHER BECAUSE OF AN ILLNESS

Employe on Farm Says Child Deprived of Clothes and Bedding

PARENT PLACED UNDER ARREST BY POLICE

Girl in Bad State But Doctors Hopeful for Her Recovery

PARIS, July 31—For the first time in 12 years Anne Marie le Creven sleeps on a clean, white bed, has someone tucking her up and making a fuss over her, has real food to eat, has seen the sun, the broad daylight and the faces of her fellow-creatures.

Anne Marie is the daughter of a prosperous farmer of Calan, near Lorient, the great arsenal town on the Black coast, but for 12 years she has been imprisoned by her father in a veritable oubliette, without light, without proper clothing, without bedding, and without proper food.

Her sister, her brother-in-law and her father's employers knew of her pitiable plight but they were all afraid to tell.

POLICE SEARCH HOUSE. It was village gossip that aroused the police to action, and they searched an outhouse.

They found the girl completely shod and half-buried in rotting hay. When questioned her father declared that she fell ill 12 years ago when she was 16, and he was committed to keep her in captivity and without clothing because she was in the habit of leaving her underlinen into sheds, and consequently could not be allowed out in public.

A youth employed on the farm affirmed that throughout the winter the girl was kept naked, and that sometimes she was even deprived of her usual covering of straw at nights.

The only reason which can be assigned for the terrible 12 years' martyrdom of the girl is that the farmer is so miserly he wished to economize the cost of giving his daughter medical attention and proper care.

She is very ill and delirious as the result of her sufferings, but the doctors in charge of her case hope to bring her back to health.

Miss Jane Taylor of Spartanburg, S. C., is a most persevering young woman. So diligently did she study music and dancing in New York last fall that she won a part in the chorus of a musical comedy, "O' Mary," and eventually was given the leading role.

Letters to the Editor

TAXATION. To the Editor of The Times-Star: Sir—If ever there was a time, more than any other, calculated to impress upon the minds of the members of the Common Council the necessity of curtailing expenses and of applying the pruning knife wherever possible, it is certainly at the present time.

At no time in my recollection have the citizens been heard to complain so bitterly of their taxes as they do now. Words fail adequately to describe the wrath and indignation expressed by them on receipt of the rate bills issued by the Chamberlain's office. They will have greater reason, I fear, next year to find fault with these excessive demands, unless in the meantime a vigorous protest is registered at City Hall and a guarantee given that there will be no further additions to our burdens.

I very much doubt, even with such assurances, the majority of the ratepayers will be satisfied for there seems to be a determination on the part of many owners of real estate to appeal to the Legislature at its next session to provide either for important amendments to the city charter as a means of relief of the present unjust burdens to the old aldermanic system in a modified form.

It is not much wonder the people are complaining. It will be seen by the city accounts that, with few exceptions, the rates have been increasing since 1908. That year the rate was $1.02. In 1923 it was $3.00 and last year ran up to $3.10. In 1911, the last year of the old aldermanic system, the citizens were assessed for $697,810. Last year the warrant assessment called for $1,756,106. This year the rate is $3.86. Out of the revenue the sum of $371,787 is needed for interest. It will thus be seen that more than $1,000 every day is required to provide for carrying charges on bond issues.

As the custodian of the city's moneys, the Chamberlain continues to point out to the commissioners "the danger signal," but apparently his advice is passed over in silence or is utterly disregarded. Referring to the city's bonded debt the Chamberlain says: "The interest and sinking funds are a great drain upon the citizens" and he adds, "I would advise the issue of debentures only for such work as will pay the carrying charges."

According to Comptroller Macintyre, the city closed the year ending December 31 with a deficit of $81,715. This information, coming from so eminent an authority, cannot be disputed. It only goes to show the unbusinesslike methods practiced by our representatives and seems to afford grounds for the sharp criticism indicated in the foregoing, and to the electorate generally. Sufficient, I think, has been said to arouse your active interest in our civic life, for there has been the case in recent years.

Yours truly, JOHN B. JONES Saint John, July 30, 1926

TRANSFUSION OF BREATH IS TESTED

Doctors Affirm Method Can be Used to Restore Patient

LONDON, July 31—Important experiments are being conducted at the present moment by eminent lung specialists, whereby the practice of transmitting vital energy of a healthy and fit person into an invalid by means of the human breath shall be perfected.

A case occurred recently in which Dr. Keogh, house surgeon at Bedford Hospital, kept a man alive for some time by breathing into his lungs, and he was complimented by the coroner on his heroic action.

"Just as it is possible to transfuse blood," said a well-known doctor, "it is becoming a practical experiment to use the human breath for restoring and re-vitalizing a patient."

"Two or three years ago Dr. Henry Durville, of Paris, carried out a series of tests for the Congress of Experimental Psychology.

"He treated a boy of seven years of age, who, weak from birth, contracted acute pneumonia, and his life was despaired of.

"Dr. Durville covered the affected parts of the throat with a thin towel and filling his lungs with pure 'open air' breathed heavily, endeavoring to penetrate the boy's chest.

"This treatment was continued for several days, and after a week the boy was pronounced out of danger. There is no doubt that there will be developments in this direction in the near future."

THE WANT AD: "Ex-M.P. wants work as operative spinner. A. Law, 65 Starcliffe street, Bolton."

Mr. Law was elected socialist member of parliament for Bolton in December, 1923, but was defeated in the 1924 election. He has been unemployed ever since and was on the "dole" until his benefit became exhausted.

ACTRESS INSTALLS RIVER IN HER HOME Then Invites Paris Friends to Midnight Party in Bathing Suits

PARIS, July 31—Mademoiselle Parly, an actress who is one of the most characteristic personalities of the Paris which meets at every repetition general and will soon be meeting again at Deauville, last year made a sensation with a party in her fifth-floor apartment, at which the guests included half-a-dozen seals as well as a couple of ambassadors.

Now she has just wound up the season by installing a river in her rooms and inviting all her friends to arrive at midnight in bathing suits. She got the river as a bargain the other day, when the Nouveau Cirque sold its aquatic material on going out of business. It began with a waterfall from one of the windows and meandered in the most convincing way through doors and along passages and appropriate scenery.

Everyone had a good time, except, perhaps, the fish and frogs, of whom several hundreds had been introduced into the river.

ON AUTO JOURNEY Mrs. S. Thompson, of West Saint John, accompanied by her three sons, Harold, Bruce and William, motored to Portland, Me., where she visited her daughter, Miss Isabelle Thompson, of the nursing staff of the State Street Hospital. The party returned to Saint John via Woodstock and at Woodstock they visited Mr. and Mrs. Gayvin Brown. They were much surprised that during the whole of their trip in Maine they saw only one New Brunswick car, although they saw many from Quebec.

THRASHED ROMEO; COURT ACQUITS HIM Gardner's Son Took Lover For Burglar, Gave Him Terrible Beating

PARIS, July 31—A garenere's son in Lyons who beat M. Louis Seux, a would-be Romeo, to the verge of death thinking that he was a burglar, has been exonerated by a Lyons court after an inquiry, lasting six months.

M. Seux fell in love at first sight with Mlle. Gillet, whom he met at a dance. He scaled the wall of her house with the intention of climbing into her room, but mistook the window, and found himself in the English governess' room.

She alarmed the household, and the garenere's son beat M. Seux with a hockey stick. M. Gillet was present during the punishment, but declared that he did not recognize his daughter's suitor until he was being carried away by the police.

M. Seux is still in hospital with one side paralyzed, and he is probably dumb for life.

PROTESTANT ORPHANAGE FAIR COMMITTEE P. O. Box 12, Saint John, N. B.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT With Reference to PROVINCIAL AID FOR New Brunswick PROTESTANT ORPHANAGE. During the coming week about 11,000 persons throughout the province will receive a circular letter from the Protestant Orphanage Fair Committee. If you are a Protestant and live outside of Saint John and do not get one please send us your address and we will see that you do. You who are fortunate enough to receive one are requested not to treat it as an ordinary advertisement or appeal. Read it over carefully and you will find that it contains information and suggestions worthy of your most serious consideration. After you have read and inwardly digested the contents, DO NOT DESTROY IT, PASS IT ALONG. Getting these circulars into your hands has cost considerable money as well as a lot of work on the part of those responsible. In giving our labor freely, as we do to this work, it is with the hope that the "bread cast upon the water" may not return unto Him (God) void but may, naturally by your co-operation bring forth some ten fold, some thirty, some fifty, some sixty and some few at least a hundred fold even as the Lord has blessed and prospered the recipient. If you cannot pay at once send us your pledge for a future date. Our financial objective is $37,000, the full amount of the present overdraft, which means that we must have your assistance, even if only in a small way. IS IT TOO MUCH TO ASK THAT EVERY PERSON WHO RECEIVES A CIRCULAR WILL MAKE IT RESPONSIBLE FOR SOME, EVEN THOUGH SMALL, RETURN? Many nickles make a muckle. These circulars are being sent to those whose names and addresses were available to us, we could not attempt to circulate every Protestant in the Province but are trying to reach as many as possible through them, if not please come forward voluntarily. If the Lord loveth a cheerful giver, how much more so one who does not wait to be canvassed or coerced to assist in caring for the homeless and motherless waifs of humanity which have been entrusted to our care. The Fair will open on the 23rd of September, in the St. Andrew's Rink, Season Tickets fifty cents each or five for $2.00. Tickets on the Mahogany Hope Chest and contents only 25 cents or 5 for $1.00. Buying or selling these tickets are one means of helping. Ticket sellers are reminded that in order to sell they must be offered for sale, and every time offered, even if not sold, they advertise the coming Fair. ITALIAN SHIPOWNER DIES SAVING SON

NEW YORK, July 30.—In an attempt to save his six-year-old son, Oscar Cosulich, one of the members of the firm owning and operating the Cosulich Line of steamships, lost his life in the Gulf of Porto Rosso, Trieste, on Tuesday. The boy was saved by grasping the cutter in which he and his father were sailing and were upset. The news of the untimely death of Signor Cosulich was received with deep regret in New York's shipping district yesterday. A brother of the deceased, Captain Giuseppe Cosulich, left New York a few weeks ago for a vacation in Italy during which he sailed his own boat in yacht races and had planned to return to this country next month and sail in races at Larchmont. Oscar Cosulich was about 45 years old, a member of a family which has for many years been prominently identified with ship building, owning and operating in Italy and the United States.

MEXICO CITY, July 30.—The Roman Catholic Archbishop today announced that Monsignor Crespi, in charge of the apostolic delegation in Mexico City, has been ordered deported by the Department of the Interior upon a presidential decree. The details of the order have not been revealed but the archbishop assumes that alleged activities concerning the present religious situation are in back of it. Mgr. BARTER DIAMONDS OVER COFFEE CUPS

Unusual Scenes Witnessed in Hatton Garden Cafe in London

LONDON, July 31.—A small cafe in Hatton Garden is one of London's busiest diamond markets. There, among cups and saucers on marble-topped tables, thousands of dollars' worth of gems change hands every day amid a babel of tongues, in which English is little heard. The dealers are mainly Dutchmen, Afrikaners and Jews. The procedure is almost comic in its unfeeling regularity. Enter two men, apparently in search of coffee and rolls. One wears a suit that, cost at least $5 four years ago, but he is evidently undecided whether to grow a beard, or not. You wonder whether he has sufficient to pay his bill. But almost before he has had his first sip of coffee he has produced a small roll from his waistcoat pocket, and poured a couple of dozen unset diamonds on to his plate. While his slightly better dressed companion, opening his eyes to the sight, examines them in intervals of helping himself to more sugar. They may be worth $1,000 or $10,000, but buyer and seller appear so casual about it all that you would hardly be surprised if they left a dozen as a tip to the waitress.

The GREATEST McLAUGHLIN -BUICK EVER BUILT

An Engine Vibrationless Beyond Belief

The McLaughlin Motor Car Company, Limited, today presents the 1927 McLaughlin-Buick, with an engine vibrationless beyond belief. This achievement, we earnestly believe, will rank as one of the most important in all motor car history. Our engineers, working in conjunction with the engineering staffs of General Motors Research Laboratories and General Motors Proving Ground have divorced the annoyance of vibration to a point never before attained. They have given McLaughlin-Buick motor cars a new luxury of quietness at every speed, exceptional among all cars, no matter what their price.

Never in all the twenty-two years of McLaughlin-Buick success has there been offered such convincing proof of engineering and manufacturing leadership. McLaughlin-Buick offers you today a brilliant example of the quality of McLaughlin-Buick craftsmanship—Confident that acquaintance with its performance and value will fix in mind the conviction that money can buy nothing finer—Certain that you will discover, in this great new car, further evidence of the deep meaning in the long-standing pledge: "When Better Automobiles are built, McLaughlin-Buick Will Build Them."

Other Vital Improvements

Another revolutionary improvement in the 1927 McLaughlin-Buick is the vacuum-cleaned crankcase. Crankcase moisture, the vicious foe of engine efficiency, is now drawn out of the crankcase before it has an opportunity to do harm. The crankcase is cleaned and kept free of dilution by the McLaughlin-Buick Vacuum Ventilator, a new device, operated by the air flow; positive and certain in action, and without a single moving part. The oil in the crankcase of the 1927 McLaughlin-Buick need be changed only four times a year! McLaughlin-Buick performance is now made more certain, more pleasant and more economical by thermostatic control in the cooling system. Water circulation is prevented and the heat held in the engine, until the proper operating temperature is reached. Gear noise is removed by McLaughlin-Buick's new giant-tooth transmission, which is quiet in all of its speeds. Further quietness has been obtained by a new muffler design. And in this remarkable new car McLaughlin-Buick introduces balanced wheels, another contribution to better driving. The princely beauty of the new Fisher bodies is in thorough keeping with the unusual and incomparable performance standards now attained.

The Most Remarkable Fact of All—Value

This Greatest of all McLaughlin-Buicks is the Greatest of all McLaughlin-Buick values. McLaughlin-Buick volume has permitted engineering research and development on a scale far beyond the reach of most manufacturers. Constant improvement has leveled one price barrier after another, until now you are offered, in this new McLaughlin-Buick, a car as fine as money can buy, at the price of cars of very ordinary quality. This car will convince you, as no other car can, that money can buy nothing finer—no matter how much you may be able to spend!

GATINEAU POWER COMPANY
6% Sinking Fund Gold Debentures, due 1941

Gatineau Power Company, a subsidiary of International Paper Company, will own water powers in the Province of Quebec with an aggregate potential capacity in excess of 700,000 h.p. Present development program calls for completion by the fall of 1928 of four hydro-electric plants with an initial aggregate installed generating capacity of 397,500 h.p., of which 373,500 is on the Gatineau River. Two of the developments with over half the initial capacity lie within seven miles of the city of Ottawa.

Over 90% of the primary power to be generated by initial installations at these four plants has already been contracted for by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, Canadian International Paper Company and Canada Cement Company, Limited.

Upon completion of all four power plants and delivery of the ultimate amount of power contracted for by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, it is estimated that net earnings available for interest and reserves will exceed twice the combined annual interest requirements of the First Mortgage Bonds and 6% Gold Debentures issuable against this initial construction program, and that the 30-year contract with the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission will alone produce annual net earnings for interest and reserves over 1 1/2 times such interest charges.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor of The Times-Star:—In your issue of Thursday the 29th instant you published a scurrilous letter over the signature of George H. Simpson, "Councillor" for the Parish of Simonds, referring to the sale of unpasteurized milk.

The Councillor states that the Pacific Dairies paid the stockholders of the Purty Ice Cream Company 12 cents on the dollar for their holdings. He however, did not mention that 12 cents on the dollar was paid by this company for the shares held by the Purty Ice Cream Company, neither did he mention that we paid 4 1/2 cents on the dollar to the holders of Preferred Stock in the Purty Ice Cream Company.

There was a huge deficit of $16,000 on the operating account of the Purty Company at the time we acquired control. It was seriously considered by our directors whether the company should not be liquidated. On consideration these "Upper Canadian Capitalists" decided that there being many small local investors in the Purty Company it would be their duty to pay them something for their stock holdings. Had the company been put into liquidation there would not have been one cent for the stockholders after bondholders and current liabilities had been paid.

This company acted more than generously to the Purty stockholders, and any aspersion that the Councillor for Simonds intends to reflect on this company has no foundation in fact.

Yours truly,
F. J. DONEGAN,
Managing Director of Pacific Dairies, Ltd., Saint John, July 30, 1926.

HARBOR RECEIPTS UP

The Saint John harbor receipts for July this year show an increase of $273.41 over those of the same month of 1925. The figures are: July 1925, $4,468.49; July 1926, $4,741.90. The harbor master, F. D. Alward, said this morning that prospects for the month of August were good.

ST. LOUIS CREEPS UP ON PITTSBURG

Lead of Pirates Cut Down by Cardinals—Yankees Still Go in Strong

NEW YORK, July 31.—St. Louis Cardinals in the thick of the struggle for the National League pennant, again have cut down the margin of leading Pittsburgh and second place Cincinnati. The Cardinals gained a vital game on the world champions yesterday by turning back the Giants, 6 to 2, while the Pirates succumbed to slight pitching on the part of Carlson, of Philadelphia, 6 to 1. The Reds and Braves were idle.

SAINT JOHN AGENCY SEVENTY YEARS OLD

Local Office of Canada Life, Has Anniversary—Company 79 Years in Business

The Saint John office of the Canada Life will this year celebrate the 70th anniversary of its opening and the records of its activities contain some very interesting reading. The Canada Life Annual report for the year 1926, nine years after the opening of this office, has the following mention of it:

In the Canada Life annual report of the year 1856, the ninth year after the founding of the company, the opening of the Saint John office is referred to as follows:

"The recent opening of a branch at Saint John, New Brunswick, with subsidiaries connected therewith, will, from the known energy of the gentlemen who have charge of that branch, materially increase the operations of the company."

In the time there were no other life companies located in Canada but one or two foreign companies had policy holders in this country.

A statement made by Hugh Baker, then president of the Canada Life, that his company was absolutely against anything which was unfair to beneficiaries has been borne out by the company's records of the years since its business was established in Canada. Although many millions of dollars have

$325,000 Pledged In King's Drive

It was announced last night that the first stage of the crisis in the life of the University of King's College had been safely passed and the work of the university will continue. During the recent campaign about $325,000 has been pledged for the permanent establishment of the institution and only $75,000 is to be raised.

The only question that remains is the amount of time that will be granted to the university by the trustee board of the Carnegie Corporation when it meets next October in which to complete its quota. While King's has been in association with Dalhousie it has been possible to build up a teaching staff in arts and pure science that is second to none in any other Canadian university.

MONEY STOLEN IN FAIR VALE HOUSE

Robber Invades Home of D. T. Wetmore While Ball Game is in Progress

The all year round Fair Vale home of L. T. Wetmore, of the staff of Oak Hall, King street, was entered during the early part of Thursday night and a small amount of money stolen. Mr. Wetmore said this morning that the family had attended the baseball game after supper on Thursday. After the game his wife had gone to visit some friends and he returned to the house about 9:30 o'clock. At the time he noticed that some clothing had been removed from its usual resting place. While dressing next morning he discovered that some money had been taken from his trousers. A search through the house failed to reveal anything else had been taken or disturbed. Mr. Wetmore says that entry into his home must have been made either by some one who possessed a skeleton key or else through a window. The thief or thieves left no trail behind. Mr. Wetmore has placed the case in the hands of the police who are investigating the affair.

SEE THE FALLS

At high tide the water of the Bay of Fundy reaches a higher level than the water of the Saint John River and forces its way through the gorge of the falls, creating a "fall" running up river.

At half tide, when the level in the Falls disappears entirely, and the water of the Falls becomes smooth as the surface of a lake.

To fully appreciate the wonder of the world it should be seen at all three stages.

As Hiram Sees It

THE SETTLEMENT.—They ain't no Injuns camp here this summer. I guess they must 'ave gone to Westfield or Rye say this year. We ain't worried—fer they's a Mohawk here from up around New York somewhere—an' every time he whoops the salmon in the river jumps clear out of the water. He's makin' a rustic chair out of cedar poles—an' he's done a lot of Injun paintin' fer the gals from town—an' all he wants is panacheer an' shortcake. He says if the white squaws keeps on the way they're goin' it won't be long afore they won't wear no more clo'es. The Micmacs did when the French was here more'n three hundred year ago. He had a scalpin' knife when he was here—but he throwed it away when he seen the bobbed hair. He gonto show the town gals how to shoot with a bow an' arrow—an' then it won't be safe fer a feller to poke his head out—
