CANADIAN UNIONS STAND FOR P. W. A. AGAINST THE YANKEE LABOR UNIONS

The Situation at Glace Bay is Quiet Today—Disputes as to the Authority of the Special Police—Canadian Typographical Union Declares Against the United Mine Workers.

Glacé Bay, N. S., July 13.—(Special)—The beginning of the second week in the great strike finds conditions much as the U. M. W. claimed they would be. Perhaps 100 men have been added to the number at work when the strike began, U. M. W. men have remained loyal, not more than forty have gone back to work. On the other hand numbers of the P. W. A. men have gone over to the U. M. W. The U. M. W. claims that only 1,600 tons of coal were raised yesterday, against a claim by the company of 3,700 tons. The U. M. W. claims to have good information and the company's figures are official. You pay your money and take your choice.

The steel company has got 80,000 tons of coal a month. There is a strike clause, however, by which in the event of a strike a large percentage of the output has to go to the Steel Company. The Steel Company is anxious to have its requirements met. Yesterday's output at the mines of the Dominion Coal Company reached a total of 3,784 tons, according to an official statement from the company. From banking stations, 1,000 tons was shipped, so the coal company feels well satisfied with the state of affairs.

This morning fifty men arrived from Montreal and were put to work in No. 2. All the new arrivals are placed at work in the colliery, which is a storm centre and where the presence of more than 200 soldiers makes the protection of the new comers a serious matter. It is estimated that seven U. M. W. men returned to work this morning. It is claimed that all the miners were now working this morning, more than any time since the strike began.

THE HARRIS CASE ON IN DIVORCE COURT TODAY

Plaintiff Was on the Stand This Morning and Told a Pitiful Story of Marital Infelicity—Judgment is Reserved—Ferguson Case on.

Fredericton, N. B., July 13.—(Special)—The divorce court meeting this morning Judge McKewen presiding. The case of Beulah Longfellow, Harris vs. Edward Alfred Harris was taken up. Messrs. M. G. Teed, K. C., and E. A. Reilly appeared for the plaintiff, and the latter was also in court accompanied by his father, Peter S. Archibald. The plaintiff is seeking a divorce on the usual grounds and the case is undefended. After the libel and other documents had been read, the plaintiff took the stand and told a rather pathetic story of marital infelicities. She said that she was a resident of the city of Moncton and was married to the defendant in that city in December, 1897, by Rev. J. M. Robinson. They lived together as man and wife until 1903, residing at different places, including Moncton, Edinboro, Calgary, San Francisco, Sydney and Winnipeg. They lived at the last named place from 1902 to 1903. She declared that her husband was dissipated and frequently came home in an intoxicated condition. A few days before their child was born he had an attack of delirium tremens, the last reason to believe that he kept company with lewd women and frequented houses of prostitution in that country. The hearing of the Harris case was read in court. He said he was the owner of the house in which Harris resided in Winnipeg. During Mrs.

absence from home, her husband accompanied with other women and so "abandoned himself to her (Nugent) had put him out of the house." P. S. Archibald, of Moncton, told of the marriage of a couple in December 1897. They lived with him for a short time and afterwards went west. He described Harris as being dissipated, reckless and addicted to gambling. For the past two years his wife and child had made their home with the witness. E. A. Reilly of Moncton was called to give evidence in regard to the Harris domicile. He said that so far as he knew, Harris had no permanent place of abode, but followed the plying circuit. He returned to Moncton in 1908, and was in business there for a time. This concluded the case and his honor announced that he would deliver judgment at an early date. The case of Dr. W. A. Ferguson, of Moncton, vs. Bertha Ferguson, is engaging the attention of the court this afternoon. J. D. Phinney, K. C., appears for plaintiff and E. A. Reilly for defendant. The latter will show that the defendant was divorced from Ferguson in the United States, and was afterwards legally married in that country to a man named Henderson. The defendant was formerly Miss Sinclair, daughter of the late Edward Sinclair of New Brunswick. The hearing will be finished this afternoon.

HIGH COURT OF THE I. O. F.

It is Meeting This Afternoon in Church Hall, Fredericton.

Fredericton, N. B., July 13.—(Special)—Members of the Independent Order of Foresters from all over the province are here to attend the annual meeting of the High Court which opens in Church Hall this afternoon. It is expected that the attendance will be close to two hundred.

AN ACTIVE MAN

President Ross of the Dominion Coal Co., an Example of the Strenuous Life

The Dominion Coal Company has become rather noted for the vigor of its chief, James Ross has a reputation for tenacity and pushing the business to the limit. He is now in the hands of the doctors suffering from the results of a two well-directed pieces of mine timber. He has been in bed for some time, but when he takes the field again there will be no vindictiveness, no petty desire for revenge. He will play the game like the good sportsman he is.

SHIPPING CREWS FOR HALIBUT FISHERIES

Clark's Harbor, N. S., July 13.—(Special)—Mr. Stinson, of the New England Fish Company, is endeavoring to ship a crew for their halibut boats operating out of Vancouver. He will visit several places in the maritime provinces for that purpose. The men lately fishing for that company have joined the union and gone on a strike, which has tied up some of the fleet. The company changed the contract with the crew about four years ago and there has been dissatisfaction ever since.

CALAIS PLANNING FOR ONE BIG DAY

Calais, July 12.—At a meeting of the general committee on centennial celebration at the city rooms on Friday evening, a programme for the day was outlined. It is planned to have the biggest and best parade ever seen east of Boston for that purpose. The day was outlined by the Business firms, fraternal societies, clubs and other institutions will be represented by handbills, flags, floats, and prizes being arranged for each class for the best decorated float. There will also be land and water sports, literary exercises and a grand display of fireworks. It is expected that Gov. Fernald and other prominent men will be present as guests of the city on this occasion.

MORE TROUBLE IN TEHRAN TODAY

Tehran, July 13.—One thousand Nationalists entered Tehran at 5 o'clock this morning by three gates. The Cossacks occupied the central square and surrounding streets. Fighting started and is vigorously progressing. The Shah is expected momentarily to take refuge in a foreign legation.

SUIT OVER RELIC

Paris, July 12.—A case arising out of the sale of a twelfth century palmer to J. P. Morgan, the owner of which is Count De Thousseux, is being investigated by an examining magistrate. Count De Thousseux testified today that he entrusted a valuable collection of manuscripts of the Seventh to Fifteenth Centuries to Mme Denonnoy, to take to New York, to submit to Mr. Morgan. Negotiations were begun for the sale of the manuscripts for $300,000, but fell through, and Mme Denonnoy returned to Paris. The Count alleges that on examining the manuscripts prior to selling them at auction, he found the palmer was missing. An investigation showed that it had been sold to Mr. Morgan for $3,000, whereupon Count De Thousseux brought charges against the woman. It is stated that Mr. Morgan, on learning of the circumstances of the case, announced that he would return the palmer.

AT CITY HALL

A meeting of the harbor board of the common council will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Recorder will submit a draft of the agreement he is drawing up between the city and the federal government re the Carleton shore lots. The Durant proposition will also come up, but as nothing of the details of the proposition have been received no action will be taken.

ROADS AND HORSES.

Those unreasonable persons who are clamoring for good roads in this province are losing sight of an important fact. It is that the province needs horses. Mr. Hiram Hornbeam was in town yesterday to see the parade. He was a green necktie and yellow boots, and was very useful to many people from the Settlement who were not so accustomed as he is to city ways, and it was under his direction that the recumbent stone in the Old Burial Ground were used as tables for picnic parties.

NEW HOMING RECORD

Baltimore, Md., July 12.—In a flight of birds of the Southern Federation of Homing Pigeon Fanciers, just concluded, a record that has stood for the past 12 years has been broken. The birds were liberated at North Bay, Ont., 310 miles from Baltimore, and the first to arrive covered the distance in 9 hours, 17 minutes, an average of 1,600 yards a minute. The previous record was 1,460 yards a minute. Nearly 500 birds were liberated at North Bay, and of these 67 beat the previous record referred to.

A FEW JOTTINGS.

Because they cover their tracks, some men can get credit for walking in the straight and narrow path. There is a question as to whether the downfall of the Turkish throne will cause any decrease in the price of a Turkish bath.

A full parade of No. 2 Battery of Artillery is ordered by the commanding officer this evening at 7.30.

EQUITY COURT

Motion for Appearance Made in Hon. Wm. Pugsley's Case Today.

At the sitting of the equity court this morning Chief Justice Barker delivered judgment for the defendant in the case of Dyer vs. McGuire, a Charlotte county suit, wherein the plaintiff sought to recover $125.40, the value of a horse, from the defendant. The plaintiff moved to set aside a conveyance to Archibald McGuire, the defendant's son, on May 21, 1908, of the horse in question by the father and valued at $900. In turn the son mortgaged the property back to his father, claiming that $400 for the horse was paid to the father. The court found in favor of the plaintiff and set aside the mortgage.

MONCTON NEWS

Moncton, N. B., July 13.—(Special)—Waiting the result of the report of the commission appointed to enquire into several charges made against Magistrate Kay for alleged injustice, Judge McKewen has issued an order laying the case of Riddout vs. Patrick Gallagher, for Scott's Act violation over until the November term of the supreme court at Fredericton. The papers filed in the case are as follows: A writ of Habeas Corpus, a writ of Certiorari, a writ of Prohibition, a writ of Mandamus, a writ of Habeas Corpus, a writ of Certiorari, a writ of Prohibition, a writ of Mandamus, a writ of Habeas Corpus, a writ of Certiorari, a writ of Prohibition, a writ of Mandamus.

NOVA SCOTIA ORANGEMEN CELEBRATE THE TWELFTH

Truro, N. S., July 12.—(Special)—One of the most successful celebrations of the Orange order in Nova Scotia took place today. Five special trains in addition to regular service were run from Truro to the terminus at 6:30 and 7:30. As many more came by road, so the total number of visitors approximated 10,000 persons. The various attractions on the day's programme were brought off most successfully. The procession started from Victoria Park at 8:30 and after circling part of the town disbanded at four o'clock, after addresses were made by Grand Master Danaher, Rev. Mr. Penney, of Halifax, Dan McDonald of Cape Breton, Rev. Mr. McNally of Pictou, and Rev. Mr. McLaren, grand chaplain.

NOVA SCOTIA SCHOONER WAS ABANDONED AT SEA

Steamer Ansonia, (Ital) from Genoa, etc for New York, reports by wireless, July 8 last, 39.17, on 59 47, sighted schooner Dredge (No. 16), from Papeete, Que., for Barbadoes, completely dismantled. The Americas rescued all the crew and, after setting fire to the hull, proceeded. The schooner was built at Liverpool, N. S. and was owned by J. Millard of that place. Her register tonnage was 99 tons net.

SUFFOCATED TO DEATH

Gloucester, Mass., July 12.—Howard A. Parsons, aged 59 years, was suffocated in a fire which destroyed his home at 13 Russell avenue, here late tonight. His body was found in the kitchen by the firemen after the fire had gained considerable headway. The dead man leaves a wife and children.

TROUBLE IN LABOR RANKS

Galveston, Tex., July 13.—By 31 votes the International Longshoremen's Association of America refused to seat as a delegate its former president, Daniel J. Keefe, federal commissioner of immigration and naturalization. He was not here yesterday when the congress refused to seat him, having been detained on the Mexican border investigating Chinese smuggling, but he telegraphed he would reach here Wednesday and would oppose the action of the congress disqualifying him. The opposition to Keefe was alleged to be solely because he is not actively engaged as a dock worker.

RECOVERED THE BICYCLE

Some days ago the theft of a bicycle, the property of Miss McKim, daughter of Rev. P. P. McKim, was reported to the police and police. The wheel, it seems, was taken from the woodshed, where it was usually kept. Patrolman John J. Smith has recovered the wheel from a person who said he had purchased it from a young lad for five dollars. The man is now at work endeavoring to locate the youth who sold what did not belong to him.

ABANDONED AT SEA

North Sydney, N. S., July 12.—(Special)—Capt. Evans of the Newfoundland schooner Dredmah, which arrived here today, reports having encountered the Norwegian bark Arizona abandoned at sea on Friday thirty miles southeast of Flit Island last night. When near the derelict Capt. Evans sent a man and a sailor on board to see if any of the crew were on board, but they found the bark deserted. Her main and mizzen masts and rigging had been burned away and were hanging over the side. Her stern was ablaze and the fire was making its way towards the galley. The Arizona was loaded with deals from a Bay Chaleur port for the United Kingdom, when she encountered the force of the heavy north-east gale on Thursday last off Cape North. She probably became unmanageable in the storm and was set on fire and abandoned by Capt. Gunderson and his crew, who then took to the boats. Capt. Gunderson and his men landed at Ingonish Island yesterday morning in an exhausted condition and will probably reach here tomorrow. The Arizona was 1082 tons register.

FUNERALS

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Clinton, wife of Joseph Clinton, was held from her late home, 35 Bentley street to St. Peter's Church this afternoon at 2.30. Burial service was read at the church, and interment was in the New Catholic cemetery. The funeral of Fred Carvell was held from his father's home, Watson street, West End, this afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock. Service was conducted by Rev. H. R. Reid and interment was in Cedar Hill.

A Gallant Old Bachelor
By DONALD ALLEN.

Mr. Cyrus Stebbins, attorney at law, and a resident of Philadelphia, had some legal business to transact in Paris, and knowing that it would take several weeks to accomplish it, and being a man who preferred peace and quietness, he looked about for lodgings and soon obtained what he desired.

Mr. Stebbins had turned, the 30th, and there were young and envious attorneys who spoke of him as an old Stebbins. He had never married, and there were other young and envious attorneys who said that it was a blessed good thing for at least one woman that he had.

The fact was that Mr. Stebbins was bitter, and not at all willing to spread the bad news. He had never known a woman, and he had never known a woman to exhibit the least consideration for womankind, even when one of them was on the stand for an idea.

One day, in walking about with his briefcase, he saw a woman who had a very nice French gentleman had called and exhibited an order signed by Mr. Stebbins, and, of course, he was obliged to let the article go.

Mr. Stebbins sat down to reason it out. He had paid 50 francs for the piece of furniture. He had been offered 600 francs advance. The piece wasn't worth the money. Why was the man so anxious, then, to get into his possession? It was now given another inspection, but the lawyer could neither see nor smell anything more.

Ten days later he took her he would have been a fool. Half an hour after leaving the house he returned for some forgotten data and found her showing his room to a stranger. The man he had met twice before. The landlady said she was showing the room because the gentleman stood ready to take it as soon as Mr. Stebbins vacated. She was talked to in plain, legal Philadelphia language, and her key taken away.

A couple of weeks passed before anything more happened. Then, as the lawyer sat reading one evening, the landlady came up with a young woman behind her. This young woman was plainly, but neatly dressed, and looked to be a lady's maid. She introduced herself and the landlady left.

She had friends in Philadelphia, and learning that Mr. Stebbins was from that city she made bold to call on him to ask for information. The lawyer didn't believe her story for a minute, but while he was preparing to draw her out and show up inconsistencies she suddenly clasped her hand over her heart and tumbled down in a faint.

Of course, Mr. Stebbins summoned the landlady. That is he started to go downstairs to her, his room having no bell, when a lawyer-like idea came to him and he turned about. He was just in time to find the fainting girl at work at the desk. Then she was taken by the ear and led to the door and ceremoniously bowed out.

The creature was now hauled into the middle of the room, all the drawers removed and Mr. Stebbins went over it inch by inch. He was in the midst of his work when the lady's maid returned to say: "I came here and told you a story and I am sorry for it."

"I have no doubt the jury will take that into consideration," grimly replied the lawyer.

STRIKERS MUST RETURN OR COLLIERIES WILL CLOSE

Ultimatum Issued by the Dominion Coal Company to the Glace Bay Strikers—New Men Are Coming in and Quiet Prevails—1,600 Peace Officers on Duty.

Glace Bay, N. S., July 12.—The announcement was made at the Dominion Coal Company's headquarters tonight that unless the United Mine Workers returned to the pits within a very short time no mines would be closed down for the remainder of the year, when labor conditions would not doubt be much more favorable to the company.

The company also told your correspondent that it may be some time before the whole calling the workmen to the pits was held. The celebration interfered somewhat with the output at the mine but all went along smoothly, there being little change from conditions during the last few days. The company has been receiving men from outside points. No longer crowds have come in but men are expected to arrive in greater numbers soon.

President Ross states that the company does not wish to replace men if they will work. He will be imported to take the vacant places. A reasonable time will be given in which to get back to work.

There were some instances of interference with men at Bridgport this morning. The women were the aggressors. No arrests were made.

The output yesterday, as given out by the Dominion Coal Company, was 4,000 tons, with 1,000 from the bankhead, making a total of 5,000, the largest since the men were called out on Tuesday. The company expresses great satisfaction at yesterday's output at No. 2, which was 234 tons. Yesterday was the first time No. 2 has been working since Tuesday and there were about forty-five men in the pit.

Inverness, N. S., July 12.—The Belgian women were out in full force with the U. M. W. pickets at 4 o'clock this morning to prevent men going to work in the coal mines. The Royal Canadian Regiment were called out on Tuesday night and day, as threats were made that no coal would be allowed to go out of Inverness.

A magistrate was ready to read the riot act if necessary, and a number of special police were also at the scene. While the soldiers are here no serious trouble is anticipated.

One hundred and thirty-seven men were at work today and quite a number who would have been to work were on the Orangetown excursion. Four hundred tons of coal were got out, which is about one-half the usual amount.

LORD ROBERTS HAS NEW PLAN

Introduces Compulsory Service Bill in the House of Lords—Would Make All Males Soldiers.

London, July 12.—"The national service bill," which provides for the compulsory service in the territorial army of all male citizens between the ages of 18 and 31, was introduced in the house of lords today by Lord Roberts, who, in supporting the measure, painted a gloomy picture of conditions of the country's defenses and the threatening dangers of the empire.

Continuing, Lord Roberts denounced the present policy, which he characterized as a "willing gambler with the safety of the country and the empire," and claimed that his bill would furnish 1,000,000 well-trained and disciplined soldiers in a few years.

MONTREAL MAN GIVES HIS LIFE FOR WOMAN

He Jumped Into Lake St. Louis to Save a Woman and Both Were Drowned

Montreal, July 12.—(Special)—Another double drowning fatality occurred this afternoon on Lake St. Louis, when a young man and woman lost their lives within a few feet of the shore.

The victims were Lily Outais, a young English girl, and Edouard Marchand, her father at the Chateauguy Hotel. The girl had only come from England with her mother a week ago, and both were employed at the hotel.

Miss Outais has been rowing on the bay with a couple of children, and coming back essayed to step from the boat to the wharf when the boat pushed away and she fell into the lake. Her father, being fourteen feet deep at the wharf's edge.

Marchand was standing near, and although he could not swim, at once jumped to the rescue, when Miss Outais caught him around the neck. Both went down and never rose to the surface again. Their bodies were picked up twenty minutes later.

A GREAT GOLD FIND IN SASKATCHEWAN

An Eight Inch Vein Struck Which Assays as High as $30,000 to the Ton.

Seattle, July 12.—A despatch from Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, to the Post-Intelligencer says:

"The most remarkable gold discovery since the Klondike finds has just been made at Lac la Bonge, 200 miles north of Prince Albert, in the great hinterland of the province of Saskatchewan. H. C. Hamelin and B. L. Clemens, prominent business men of Prince Albert, having evidence of a rich gold vein in an area of Saskatchewan last year, outfitted three companies of prospectors. The finds were encouraging, but not sensational.

"This year two more parties were sent out, and the finds which have been made of an eight-inch vein of free milling gold quartz have created a profound sensation. On June 21 B. L. Clemens secretly left his home for the north, carrying with him one of the finest specimens of gold quartz found by one of his parties. H. C. Hamelin has a specimen from the same vein of quartz seen made within forty miles of each other. A prospecting party in charge of H. B. Totten, manager of the Northern Crown Battery, and another in charge of Dr. J. A. Moran, are leaving Prince Albert for the newest Eldorado of the north.

"The provincial cabinet is now considering immediate repairs to the Montreal Lake trail, a distance of seventy-five miles north from Prince Albert and as far as remaining 125 miles in canoe route, the means of reaching Lac la Bonge will be comparatively easy. William McInnes of the railway lands branch have just left for the north.

"The dominion government has a man now on the ground with a view to establishing without delay an assay office at Prince Albert."

ORIGIN OF A FAMOUS HUMAN FOOD.

The story of great discoveries or inventions is always of interest. An active brain worker who found himself hampered by lack of bodily strength and vigor and could not carry out his plans and enterprises he knew how to conduct, was led to study various foods and their effects upon the human system. In his plans before he could carry out his plans he had to find a food that would carry him along and renew his physical and mental strength.

He knew that a food which was a brain and nerve builder (rather than a mere fat maker) was universally needed. He knew that meat with the average man does not accomplish the desired results. He knew that the soft gray substance in brain and nerve centres is made from Albumen and Phosphate of Potash obtained from food. Then he started to solve the problem.

Careful and extensive experiments evolved Grape-Nuts, the now famous food. It contains the brain and nerve building food elements in condition for easy digestion.

The result of eating Grape-Nuts daily is easily seen in a marked sturdiness and activity of the brain and nervous system, making it a pleasure for one to carry on his daily duties without fatigue or exhaustion.

Grape-Nuts food is in no sense a stimulant but is simply food which renews and replaces the daily waste of brain and nerves.

Its flavour is charming and being fully and thoroughly cooked at the factory, it is served instantly with cream.

LABORERS MAKE RICH GOLD FIND

Some of the Men Digging Los Angeles Viaduct Reported to Have Struck It Rich.

Randburg, Cal., July 12.—The water supply of the Owens Valley County, will wind through strata of gold. Part of the aqueduct is found to be heavy with veins, and in a number of cases pockets of gold have been taken away. Some places of the construction laborers actually fight for, because of the chance of striking a pocket. From one stretch of excavation less than twelve feet long, samples of high grade ore were taken which in some instances show assays of $900.

The aqueduct will cross a bed of pieces gold and also go through lodes. All sorts of stories are to be heard regarding gold finds, one being as to the luck of Patrick McCullum, a Los Angeles man, who cleaned up $12,200.

AUTO PROCESSION WILL FOLLOW BODY

Novelty in the Way of Funeral Processions at Montreal Today.

Montreal, July 12.—(Special)—Something in the way of a novelty in funeral processions will take place tomorrow morning when James Twohey, the young chauffeur who was one of those killed in the automobile races at Blue Bonnets last Friday, is buried. A draped automobile will convey the body to St. Patrick's church and will be followed by seventy-five automobiles, containing those prominent in automobile circles in this city. At the inquest today no one was blamed by the jury for the deaths of Batchelder and Twohey.

NO GOVERNMENT MONEY FOR HIGHWAYS THIS YEAR

Special to The Telegraph.

St. Andrews, N. B., July 12.—A more disgusted crowd of men would be hard to find than the members of the highway boards of Charlotte county, who have just been informed that the government has no road grants for them this year.

As special grants had been promised certain districts by the county representatives, the highway boards are asking whether the promises were pure bluff, or whether the members were ignorant of the fact that the treasury was empty.

County members have been placed in an embarrassing position, but their position is not nearly so bad as the positions of the road commissioners who, in anticipation of the government grants, have expended all the available road assessment.

Disgusted farmers, whose roads are in a desperate condition, are asking where is the vaunted surplus of Mr. Fleming?—but there is no one to give answer.

J.S. BACHE & CO ON THE MARKET New York, July 10.—The government report issued Thursday is one of the most favorable on record. While it shows a deterioration of 2.5 per cent for the month, and winter wheat though improved during June, shows a lower percentage than last year, oats indicate over 150,000,000 bushels more than 1908, and the corn crop bids fair to be the largest in the history of the country—over 1,100,000,000 for the year as against the heretofore bumper crop of 1906 of 2,027,000,000 bushels.

The market at present is wholly dependent upon the needs of professional operators or the moderate amount of manipulation which the holders of stock resort to in order to keep the appearance of strength to an uninteresting exhibit. It is probable that the market will drift in a narrow range unless something occurs to give it an impulse in one direction or the other.

THE TORY FLOOD Any Liberal who thinks he should not take any particular interest in the by-election is respectfully invited to consider the following array of speakers in the Conservative interest, announced by the Standard as taking part in meetings in the county this evening: Premier Hazen, Solicitor General McLeod, Hon. John Morrissey, Chief Commissioner of Public Works, Hon. Robert Maxwell, Mr. J. F. Mosher, Mr. J. A. Murray, M. P. P., Mr. John E. Wilson, M. P. P., Mr. Fred Sproul, M. P. P., Mr. Miles E. Agar and Mr. Daniel Mullin, K. C.

THE BAND CONTROVERSY Col. White, D. O. C. informs the Standard that the statement in the Times yesterday that he had ordered the band of the 3rd. Regt. C. A. not to turn out in uniform in yesterday's parade was incorrect. Col. White was given an opportunity to make his statement to the Times yesterday but declined to discuss the matter. Who told the band that the D. O. C. had issued the order? They received that information, and their usual excitement in their room and at Orange Hall. Strong Conservatives were somewhat bitter in denunciation of somebody, and the Liberal government at Ottawa did not escape denunciation in connection with the affair. No doubt some members of the order have gone back to their homes in the county under the impression that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was somewhere in the underbrush yesterday when the band was told not to turn out. Who told them not to turn out? The D. O. C. issued no order. There is a regulation forbidding military bands to turn out in parades generally, but it has not been rigidly observed.

YESTERDAY'S CELEBRATION An interesting and gratifying feature in connection with yesterday's celebration is the fact that the great crowds of visitors were handled by the transportation companies without any accident to mar the pleasure of the day. Another notable feature was the good order that prevailed throughout the day and evening. There was a larger number of persons under the influence of liquor about the crowded streets last evening than usual, but it was a good natured crowd, and very few arrests were made. The officials of the Orange order had made their plans well for the day, and the procession and all connected with the meeting was carried out very successfully. The parade was viewed by an immense crowd all along the route, and all was as peaceful as if it had been a church parade on Sunday. A great crowd of very tired people left the city by the evening train, but they had enjoyed the day despite the fog and showers. Years ago such a celebration would have engendered bitter feeling, but a broad spirit of tolerance prevails today, and even those who differ radically in religion are disposed to give each other wide latitude in the manner in which their views may be expressed.

THE GLOBE AGAIN The Globe, which is the evening organ of Mr. Hazen, made another artful attempt last evening to create discord in the Liberal ranks in St. John county. For some years, the Globe has pursued a course, at times when the Liberals should stand together, which was designed to create a division, for the benefit of the Conservative party. The knowledge which the people have of this fact effectively blocks any such attempt at the present time. If the Liberals of St. John had listened to the Globe the present minister of public works would have been defeated, to the great injury of the interests of St. John city and county. Now it seeks to defeat Mr. Bentley, a staunch Liberal who would make an admirable representative in the legislature. The Globe has lost all its former influence by the course it has pursued ever since the late Hon. A. G. Blair went into federal politics. The Liberal who looks to the Globe for guidance will not serve the interests of the Liberal party. That party in St. John county today should stand united and aggressive, to resist every attempt at its disruption, whether made by an open foe or a professed friend. The issue in this election is one of great importance to Liberals, and one of great importance to the people, and that is why such determined efforts are made to create the opposite impression.

Monday's New York Herald says:—"To students of aviation, no less than to the general public, the coming attempts to fly across the English Channel in an aeroplane to win the $5,000 prize of the London Daily Mail will have a spectacular interest. As told in a special cable despatch to the Herald from Calais, this morning the high wind prevented any attempt yesterday by Latham or Levasseur, who have for days been preparing for flights. As a matter of fact the trip from France to England is a trifle, and the Wrights have excelled it a dozen times. But it is in the varying conditions of a straight away journey that danger lurks and no man knows what may happen."

Lord Roberts' compulsory military service bill, introduced in the house of lords, will be the subject of a bitter controversy in parliament and the country.

ST. JOHN COUNTY SUFFERS because of the Hazen highway act. Why support a government that strikes a blow at the county?

AIR KING MAKES ANOTHER FLIGHT Orville Wright Made Successful Ascension at Fort Myer, Va., Last Night

Washington, D. C., July 12—Orville Wright this evening made a very successful flight in the Wright aeroplane at Fort Myer, Va., remaining in the air five minutes and 30 seconds, during which time the machine attained the exceptional speed of about forty miles an hour. He circled the parade grounds half a dozen times, a total distance of about three and a half miles. After keeping a crowd of nearly a thousand and expecting people, including a number of persons prominent in official life, waiting for an hour and a half on account of unfavorable wind conditions, the aeroplane started on its flight at 7:07 p. m. Orville Wright mounted into the seat, and when the signal was given the machine shot forward instantly and mounted gracefully into the light breeze. Mr. Wright guided the flyer to the tower end of the large parade ground and circled around toward the starting-point gradually rising higher. Applause greeted him as he passed the starting-point and sped away on the second round. Six times he rounded the course, the machine making an average speed of about forty miles an hour, according to the Wrights.

CANADIAN MARKSMEN AND THE ROSS RIFLE

Montreal, Q., July 12—A special London cable says: "The question of allowing the Canadian competitors in this year's Bisley contest, which began today, to use the Ross rifle, came up this morning before the council of the National Rifle Association. No decision was announced, pending word from Sir Frederick Borden, to whom has been submitted the question as to whether the rifles brought over by the Canadians are intended merely for the purpose of the competition or whether they are exactly the same as those issued to the Canadian militia volunteers for actual service. The position of the council is that if the rifles are regular service weapons their use should be permitted, but if they are merely a few issued to the competing team then they should be disallowed."

Flower Booth for Festival

Women who are interested in charity often find occasions to propose a summer festival or sale for the benefit of some good organization or society, and the installation of a flower booth is nearly always a wise selection. One of the best paying departments at a festival is the flower booth, in charge of a dozen pretty girls and a popular young matron. One of the best plans is to avoid a regular cage, the usual affair, but substitute a little flower garden, with a green hedge and symmetrical beds, the beds being made of stout cut hung between posts, and covered with ropes of laurel leaves, which are sprinkled and kept green all the time. Clean white sand can be arranged in the various beds, leaving space between each bed. This space, which is for the paths, is then laid with green grass, and each bed is filled with flowers, some of them artificial and others real. One corner may have a patch of hollyhocks or poppies, arranged so prettily that they look like real flowers, and at the end of the fair can be auctioned off to the highest bidder. Foliage and flowering plants can be plucked into the sand in their pots and replenished as often as sold. A pretty arch of flowers, real and artificial, can be arranged at the entrance of the garden, or a sort of trellis framed with vines and stock full of garcon flowers, in full bloom, may be used. The small bunches of flowers can be kept in bread-mouthed bottles, fresh water being placed in them frequently in order that the flowers may not wilt and fade. Two of the prettiest girls should be stationed at the gateway to sell the cut flowers.

THE INGLENOOK PHILOSOPHER of Kennebecasis Bay.

A hand fell on my shoulder softly, and Mr. Pollard spoke somewhat dramatically: "By the way, on a mossy stone, the dreariest of all, there were three old men."

She seated herself beside me in my roadside corner and resumed: "They are to be pitied, the old, who are without diversion, and are incapable of diverting themselves."

There are those who have been compelled by habit to abandon their accustomed occupations and are without those mental resources which observation and thought provide. He who has nothing to do, which he can interest himself and nothing to think of or speculate upon is in a pitiable plight."

"It is speculated," said I, "when you dream, you see that abandoned farm on the island, and that you are about to die, about a mile away. Its slope to the water's edge is very graceful, the old house in its might once have been the abode of peace and content. With closed eyes I saw that house and its occupants as they were a hundred years ago."

The young man, who built it, and his wife were strong, intelligent, ambitious, happy, and in the land. He cleared and tilled the land; attended to her household duties, planted flowers in the garden and morning glories to shade the windows and climb over the porch. Then a boy came, then a girl, then more boys and girls; they were very happy. Time passed, the children go away to school; they come home for their vacations, but their stay is short, for they have become enamored of study in the city. The children have grown to young men and women and there is a girl, that some of them are about to marry, for that some of them have decided to remain in town and their visits to their birthplace are infrequent. As I sat there with my eyes closed, just before you touched my shoulder, Mrs. Pollard, I fancied I saw two funeral processions leave the house, one after the other, but there was quite a space of time between the two. The children, now men and women, with children of their own, were there, and I fancied I heard one of them say, while tears dropped from his eyes, "O, dear old home! Why did we ever leave it?"

Now squirrels and mice inhabit its chambers, and the surrounding fields are putting on a primitive aspect. Nature is a persistent power to have her own way. Man builds, purpose to have her own way. Man builds, fields with crops of her own choice, and she buries them. The children, now men and women, with children of their own, were there, and I fancied I heard one of them say, while tears dropped from his eyes, "O, dear old home! Why did we ever leave it?"

HOW MOVING PICTURES are made

By A. R. Parkhurst Jr.

Materials

Those who live in cities are growing more and more familiar with the phrases "talking pictures" as a dramatic display on the front of moving picture shows or theaters. And if, by curiosity piqued by the oddity of the idea, one pays his nickel or dime to enter one of these places of wonder, he usually finds ordinary—often very ordinary—motion pictures projected upon the screen and accompanying a few of the pictures being the sound of voices coming from behind the screen. In a few moments, from the music dialogue and the erudition of cheap diction and cruder enunciation which reach his ear, he detects the truth, that some cheap actors are doing the talking, improving dialogue to presumably fit the action of the characters shown on the screen. These characters by the way, having been posed by actors before the motion-camera without the faintest idea of speaking dialogue, and enacting the scenes purely in pantomime, without uttering a word or opening their mouths.

But genuine talking pictures exist, nevertheless, and are astounding spectators and listeners in many cities of the United States, not only dialogue perfectly fitting the scenes on the film, with the very movements of the lips by the characters in the picture, forming every word, but presenting entire plays, whole operas and all kind of musical performances.

The exhibitor of these pictures receives each week in a small padlocked box, measuring 13 by 15 by 18 inches, the orchestra, stage hands, posters and photographs, frequently speaking in person, company presenting "The Mikado," or "Pinafore" or "The Chimes of Normandy."

The sound volume is astounding, being sufficient to make every word or note music clearly heard through such huge theatres as the Auditorium, Chicago, and the Grand Opera House, New York, during long runs of this form of entertainment. The process of making this "ready-made" entertainment is wonderfully simple. On the top floor, as far as possible away

Lights Set for Picture Making

From the clutter of the street traffic, is the recording-room. Here the opera company, orchestra, vaudeville team, lecturer, comedian or instructor sing, play or talk the words into the recording phonograph, making the master record. This is then passed to the platemaker, who carefully sets it in a chemical bath with electric current passing through it. After a day or two a layer of copper is deposited upon the surface of the record, conforming to the minute details made in it by the recording phonograph. In this the copper layer is sufficiently heavy the recording of a single record is then taken out and backed with a stiffer collar of brass, which makes it a mold or matrix.

This, set on a core, constitutes a mold into which melted wax is poured and duplicate cylinders or records are made; as many as are desired. After cooling and some trifling trimming or paring such a record is ready to put upon the reproducing phonograph, which may be thousands of miles away.

Rehearsing on Set

First, however, the film must be photographed, the picture taken. This process follows the phonograph work, naturally, for, as everyone familiar with the basic laws of sound knows, the speed of a phonograph's revolutions must be steady, not variable. Slow down your own phonograph at home and you lower the musical pitch of the notes produced and vice versa. Hence in the stage of making or reproducing these real talking pictures the picture film must follow the sound, not the sound the picture. And here is the most interesting phase of the proceeding. On the floor below the phonograph departments and the rehearsal halls is the studio, or stage, where the performance is given—sometimes by 40 or 50 actors and actresses. Every effort at strong portraiture is made, to impress the camera.

After thorough rehearsing within sound of the phonograph, rendering the words the performers are familiar with every word and passage, and with the scene fully set, the camera is made ready to photograph them.

Making a Record

A motion picture camera is a mechanism like a motion-picture projecting machine reversed. Its crank or main shaft must be turned, so that the film traveling on sprockets past the lens, the successive little images are caught. It is merely successive snapshooting at the rate of 16 or more exposures a second. Naturally, in indoor photography the scene must be brilliantly lighted, about 100,000 candle power of light is used, from Cooper-Hewitt mercury vapor tubes and arc lights.

Watching this stage performance gives a regular drop curtain, back of which the characters speak their "cue" in a theater. At the signal, the camera mechanism starts and with it the cylinder of a phonograph, geared with it. A whirling sound the camera is snapshooting, the curtain lifts, the phonograph connected with the camera rolls out its music, let us say, if an orchestra be involved in this play. The "cue" music, as it is called in a theater, is for all and to prevent the granting of rights to the music. By so doing you cannot make good citizens, be used in any way, and to something that has a country amongst a free people, by the maintenance of equality and the securing of just dealing.

Recording on Set

By the actor behind the phonograph his "lines" and speaks in unison and continues to do so until the scene is ended and the curtain falls. If there be a dozen actors each does likewise. The film thus photographed is the dark developed room it goes and is wound upon big drums or reels, as big as two barrels, and to end, for a fifteen-minute scene involves a thousand running feet of the film, about an inch wide. The drum revolves in the "chop" and other tanks, watched carefully. From both to bath it passes until it is clearly developed. It is then dried and used to print positives.

In the printing process the negative and the positive pass before a fixed strong light and the latter is acted upon in a manner similar to the photograph paper with which we are so familiar.

The positive film is then developed and dried. It is now ready to enter into many audiences, being shipped out with its accompanying "records" for the phonograph.

A Scene Set

In exhibitions, the operator of the picture machine has at all times a perfect control of the speed of his projecting machine. He causes it to follow the singing of the phonograph—or the speaking as the case may be—in absolute synchrony. The result is a perfectly human illusion, every movement of the lips of the character on the screen forming the sound of the words as the audience sees and hears. The phonographs are, of course, directly behind the screen, so that the pictures are thrown. Two phonographs are used in order to prevent pauses or lapses in long performances. Some pieces, for instance, such as an act of an opera, last 20 minutes or longer, and, as no phonograph record can be made longer than for a four or five minute rendition, the two phonographs permit of one record following another without a break. The opera "Mikado" has been produced with slight condensation, each act containing all the requisite comedy dialogue to make it a satisfying and complete presentation of the opera.

The most wonderful developments are crowding each other in an educational scope for motion photography and motion picture projection. The United States government has adopted the motion picture for use in stimulating enlistments in the Army and Navy. In England and America elaborate motion pictures have been made by the score, illustrative of natural history studies; motion pictures of the fishes of the sea, the birds of the air, of insect and microscopic life. Views of surgical operations upon the human body, all these studies, together with geography, meteorology, sociology and other sciences, are being taught with wonderfully illuminative effect by the motion picture.

It is impressive to see a statement of national fame in the motion picture. Imagine having his personality presented to your gaze a thousand miles away and hearing and seeing him address you upon one of the live issues of the day! You will now be able to hear a sermon delivered by a great preacher in New York, or Boston, or Chicago, without leaving one's home town. It is interesting to see the beautiful religious scenes of "Quo Vadis" enacted in pantomime, it is positively wonderful and inspiring to hear and see it enacted, with the solemn chanting of the Christ an prisoner in the Mamertine prison, hear the grief words of the Roman soldier guards and to experience the thrill of the arena, with the roaring of the wild beasts, the blast of trumpets, the shouts of the populace, the dialogue between Nero, Ursus, Lygia and Marcus Vinicius. Among the many educational subjects a far produced the reenactment of history plays an important part. Sitting in the lecture hall, church, school or hall in our town we have brought to us the interior of quiet little St. John's Church, Richmond, Va., with the convention of 1775 in session. We hear the murmur of the attending delegates and recognize in the crowded pews such deathly portraits as Washington, Jefferson, Lee, Hancock and Patrick Henry. We listen to the proceedings. A milk-and-water royalist's resolution is read. Henry, unable to control himself, springs to his feet and gets the attention of the chairman. He proposes his historic amendment to organize a militia to defend the colonies against Great Britain. It is a firebrand in a magazine. In the tensely dramatic scene ensuing he fights down the royalist opposition and fairly sweeps the assembly from its feet by his burning, matchless eloquence, concluding with "Give me liberty or give me death!"

"Washington's Farewell Address," "Lincoln's speech at Gettysburg," "Webster's Debate with Hayne," "Napoleon's Farewell to His Troops," "Cornwallis' Surrender to Washington," are a few of the historical episodes in preparation.

Can any book lesson in history be so graphic or so impressive as the human mind? The reader will soon be able to enjoy the privilege of a "sightseeing tour through New York," without leaving home and of having all the objects of interest explained to him as they pass on the screen. And equally entertaining travel talks and walks—or rides—through foreign scenes. Through the streets of Hong Kong, "Sensia and Its People" and the "Champagne Industry," etc.

GREAT MEETING IN RINK HELD IN CELEBRATION

Orangemen Had a Glorious Twelfth in St. John Yesterday—Rain and Bad Weather Did Not Dampen Their Ardor—The Speeches in the Rink.

In spite of the inclement weather, the ardor of the Orangemen in yesterday's parade was not dampened. The route of the procession was as given in yesterday's Times, and all along the line the streets were crowded with people. The parade terminated at the Victoria Rink, which was filled to overflowing, and it is safe to say that never was there a gathering of such proportions here in St. John. The speakers were delivered by Grand Master Dr. A. W. MacRae, J. King Kelly, Hon. C. N. Skinner, Hon. H. F. McLeod, Col. J. B. Baxter, Rev. A. A. Rideout and Rev. J. E. Purdie.

At 4:45 County Master J. King Kelly called the vast assemblage to order. In bidding the Orangemen welcome to the city he said that he had never before seen there such a vast assemblage in St. John under an organized head. So far every mother's son had been present in person. Where temperance was concerned the order stood pre-eminent in support of legislation affecting the liquor traffic. Those present were a sample from all over the province for what they stood for as men.

He then called on Dr. A. W. MacRae, grand master, to deliver the address. A hearty applause greeted Dr. MacRae as he came to the front of the platform. It was unnecessary to say, he began, that it afforded him the greatest pleasure to have the opportunity of standing on the platform. The occasion would be remembered in the order and the city for many years if not for generations to come. The demonstration reflected the greatest credit on the order throughout the province and the city would be proud of her citizenship. Dr. MacRae then proceeded with his address as follows:

Members of the L. O. A. of British North America.

We, in common with thousands of others who are actuated by like motives, have this day assembled in part at least, to do honor to the glorious memory of William of Orange, who succeeded the throne of Great Britain in the name of William the Third. Much has been said with much to glory that sentiment man, and in both respects exaggerations has played a little part.

However, I would not ask you to take as gospel either the admirers of his successors or the abuses of his enemies. In the memoirs of State-Simon, the distinguished French counselor of Louis XIV., are a few words which he always spoke of as an adviser, which are certainly not prompted by affection for William, and I think must be taken as a most moderate estimate of his abilities and character.

He says, when referring to the death of the prince in the early part of this year (1702) King William, were out before him had carried on with a capacity and address a superiority of genius that acquired for him the respect of his ministers. The great alliance was very sensibly touched by the loss, but turned to the advantage of the spirit of William continued to animate it.

A man of whom one of his greatest contemporary opponents could say in his private memoirs such things as "I have never known a man of greater genius and intellectual power than

DO YOU OWN A HYOMEI INHALER?

This is a picture of the Hyomei Inhaler. It is a small, portable, and efficient device for relieving various respiratory ailments. The inhaler consists of a glass bottle containing a medicinal solution, with a rubber bulb and a glass tube leading to the mouth. It is used by drawing the solution into the mouth and inhaling it through the tube.

When you breathe Hyomei you bring the healing virtues of the medicinal solution into direct contact with the mucous membrane of the throat and lungs. It is a most effective remedy for colds, coughs, croup, and asthma. It is also useful for bronchitis, whooping cough, and other respiratory ailments. The Hyomei Inhaler is a most valuable addition to your household.

Mr. Skinner said he came in support of the order, and that he had never before seen there such a vast assemblage in St. John under an organized head. He then called on Dr. A. W. MacRae, grand master, to deliver the address. A hearty applause greeted Dr. MacRae as he came to the front of the platform. It was unnecessary to say, he began, that it afforded him the greatest pleasure to have the opportunity of standing on the platform. The occasion would be remembered in the order and the city for many years if not for generations to come. The demonstration reflected the greatest credit on the order throughout the province and the city would be proud of her citizenship. Dr. MacRae then proceeded with his address as follows:

NO SPEECH MAKING ON THE NOMINATION DAY PROGRAMME

Mr. Bentley Grows Stronger Daily and His Majority is Greater—The List of Liberal Meetings for This Week.

The nomination proceedings in the court house today in connection with next Tuesday's election in St. John county will be very brief. By arrangement between the parties there will be no speech making. It was felt by both sides that, as a large number of friends of both the candidates had been in the city yesterday it would hardly be fair to ask them to return today.

A. F. Bentley, the Liberal candidate, continues to make excellent progress in his campaign. He is now in the city, and is being received with hearty applause from the electors on all sides.

It is now well understood that the Liberal members of the highway boards cannot be held responsible for the conditions of the roads and the fact that no work has been done on them, and that the situation is caused by the lateness of the assessment and the impossibility of collecting the taxes in time to start the work.

It is believed that all the money from the roads will be paid by the Liberal members of the highway boards, and that the Liberal members of the highway boards will be held responsible for the conditions of the roads and the fact that no work has been done on them, and that the situation is caused by the lateness of the assessment and the impossibility of collecting the taxes in time to start the work.

6,000 ORANGEMEN IN PARADE AT OTTAWA

First Big Demonstration of the Capital in Fourteen Years

Ottawa, July 12.—The capital today had its first big Orangemen's demonstration in fourteen years. About 6,000 Orangemen from all parts of the Ottawa valley, gathered at noon and marched through the principal streets to Exhibition Park where the afternoon was spent in sports and in listening to an address from prominent Orangemen of the district.

Rev. W. H. Stacey, of Hazeldean, in the course of a vigorous address, declared that both Liberal and Conservative parties were trucking to the power of Rome and selling their dearest principles to carry out the will of the Pope. He urged all Orangemen to stand solidly together in politics and circumvent the domination of Rome.

The day was marked by very little disorder. The weather was a fine, clear day. The parade was a most successful one, and the Orangemen were well received by the people of Ottawa.

THE OUTLOOK IN ST. JOHN COUNTY

Visitor From Simonds Says Conservatives Realize They Cannot Elect Their Man

Councillor J. M. Donovan, of Simonds, was in the city Monday and reports that the outlook for the election of the Liberal nominee in his section of the county is particularly bright. He was talking the other day to some Conservatives who, he said, were well acquainted with the workings of their own party in the county, and they made no secret of their feeling that Mr. Hazen could not win in the bye-election on the 20th inst.

These were other Conservatives who were for various reasons dissatisfied with their own party and were going to cast their ballots in favor of Mr. Bentley.

POLICE COURT

Twelve Prisoners Faced the Police Magistrate This Morning

That the venerable John Barleycorn scored at least twelve knock-outs yesterday in St. John was attested by the array of individuals that faced prisoner's "row" before Judge Ritchie this morning.

The first man to cross with his honor was Frank Gerriory, a west end inebriate who explained that he was not intoxicated but was proceeding home. Patrolman Hughes vouchsafed that he spied Gerriory threaten a child with a stone. Gerriory, according to the officer, subsequently threatened to shoot him with a revolver that was in his possession. A fine of $4 or ten days was suspended.

Michael Kelly, aged 30, pleaded not guilty to intoxication on Water street at ten o'clock last night. Patrolman Belyea testified that Kelly was one of a quartette who were imbibing from a bottle of liquor in an alley adjoining the Water street lock-up. Kelly was undoubtedly intoxicated, as he was sworn on his own behalf. He stated that he visited the Longshoremen's hall on Water street last night for the purpose of attending a meeting of the organization, but as a quorum was not present, the meeting did not materialize. After departing from the hall he met two friends and was joined by another, farther down the street. One of the trio produced the inevitable bottle but Kelly declared that he did not partake of its contents. Belyea approached and commanded the party to disperse. They were all arrested on according to the report of the officer. Two of the men repaired to the steamer Brunswick and Kelly said that he walked to the street where he was accosted by Belyea who simultaneously with an injunction not to be impertinent, clutched him by the collar and arrested him. He asserted emphatically that he was perfectly sober and was excused.

Thomas Connel pleaded guilty to assaulting Patrick Lyons on May 12. A fine of $20 or two months was imposed.

Fred Belyea opened up with "I got my ticket home to Fredericton and if you'll give me a—" and was fined $4 or ten days for inebriation.

John McKay commenced with "I've been off it for three years and I took a few drinks yesterday and—" He was fined likewise.

Charles Myers of Hampton who reached the city for the purpose of viewing the procession but was in the lock-up when the parade passed, was fined $8 or twenty days.

Thomas Smith who was in possession of ninety cents to purchase a ticket for Sussex was fined $4 or ten days.

Felix Holland was fined $8 or two months and Thomas Wilson, Joseph Cochran, Henry Batchelor and Peter Martin were fined $4 or ten days each. James Almon was fined $8 or twenty days, and Josephine Thomas a woman who was suffering from the effects of her spree, this morning, was remanded. However, Belyea, Smith and Myers were liberated providing they return to their homes. Dennis Cain forfeited a deposit of $8 for intoxication on Market Square.

Fred Gidney the eighteen year old youth who was remanded yesterday for intoxication and profanity on Sunday, was fined $16 or 30 days and released on payment of half the fine. His honor complained that the police had not unveiled the haze surrounding the obtaining of the liquor by the boy on Sunday.

William Howe who was also remanded yesterday for disorderly behaviour in the street and, was offered his freedom if he would consent to abstain from liquor for any period over twelve hours, but being reluctant to promise, his honor concluded that he was more attached to liquor than liberty or his wife and four children and fined him $8 or thirty days.

THE COUNTRY MARKET

Good Supply This Morning—Strawberries Will be Cheaper.

Strawberries were plentiful in the country market this morning and a considerable drop in prices is expected shortly. While the crop this year does not compare favorably with that of former seasons as regards the quantity, yet the quality seems to be very much better than for some time past. The berries averaged about 7 1/2 cents per box by the crate and 8 and 9 cents by the box, retail.

The supply of green goods, dairy products and meats was well up to the standard and it is expected that the price of vegetables will be lowered before Saturday, as the supply at present exceeds the demand.

S. Kerner, of Fredericton, is at the Royal today.

COL. WHITE DID NOT GIVE ORDER

But Some One Did Tell Artillery Bandmen They Could Not Take Part in Yesterday's Parade.

The unfortunate mix-up in connection with the Artillery band and yesterday's Orange procession continues to attract much attention. Col. G. Rolt White denies today that he issued any order prohibiting the band from turning out. Some one did so instruct the bandmen and the result was that after an angry and strenuous meeting in their hand room they decided to turn out on their own responsibility and thus keep their contract with the Orangemen. They reached the Barrack Square late, but nevertheless in time for the parade. They were warmly received on their appearance and given the place of honor at the head of the pageant.

Two things are clear today, one is that Col. G. Rolt White had no special instructions to prevent the band from turning out yesterday and the other is that some meddling was at work and caused the confusion. Whether he acted unwisely, but in good faith, or whether his action had deeper import is open to question. There is and has been for many years a standing militia order that regimental bands should not take part in processions of semi-religious or political organizations. In the past this order has not been stringently carried out. Yesterday some one, said to be the adjutant of artillery, brought the matter to the attention of Col. White, and he is said to have stated that there was a regulation preventing the appearance of military bands in such processions. He did not spread the order to the band and about 1:15 of the bandmen called at the Barrack Hall and informed an officer of the St. John District Lodge by which body the band had been engaged, that they "had orders not to turn out."

"Who gave the order," was the query.

"The D. O. C." was the reply. For a time the Orangemen were very angry. Numbers of them thought the government was responsible which was not the case.

Col. White's explanation today clears the atmosphere somewhat, but it would have been cleared sooner if he had answered the "Times" question yesterday instead of refusing to discuss it.

It was also reported that the 62nd Band had received orders not to parade and this was also denied. Bandmaster Jones had received instructions to this effect. This was not true, Bandmaster Jones is in the hospital and some of his bandmen turned out yesterday with the Carleton Cornet band.
