THE HOLLOW RUBY. [Continued from last week.]

CHAPTER IV. An hour after sunset Meryon, An hour after sunset Meryon, mounted on a thoroughbred Arab and followed by two camels bearing his luggage, passed out of the gate of the city and set his course towards the west. A good many things had happened since we saw him last.

As they crossed the line the moon rose, in its third quarter, throwing black shadows before them on the sandy plain. Its light also dimly revealed-the apex of the great rock appointed as the trysting place, and where it was still Meryon's intention to camp for the pight.

As they crossed the line the moon rose, in its third quarter, throwing the matter that he didn't escort you?"

The princess, whom the wine was beginning to restore, laughed faintly, as a schoolgirl over some bit of roguery.

"We exchanged dresses and places lord of my heart" said she.

Ebal, on hearing the result of the night.

Ebal, on hearing the result of the interview, had declared that it meant mischief, and begged to be taken along to share his master's for his passport, which was in the soft cushions again. But now the soft cushions again. But now the soft cushions again the soft cushions again. But now the soft cushions again the soft cushions again. taken aloug to share his master's fate. Meryon had a half-formed scheme to profit by the confusion in the harem caused by the disgrace of Hatipha, to carry off the princess; but the only way to effect it was to have her join him that night beyond the boundary of the principality, which was not more than twenty miles distant. By the connivance of Senuah and the help of Ebal, this might be accomplished; and the latter eagerly agreed to attempt it. There had not been much time to arrange the details of the plot, but a trysting place was fixed upon—a tall, isolated rock near the caravan read, in the enemy's country. Here Meryon was to wait six hours; if Ebal and the princess did not appear within that time, he was to presume that the plan had miscarried, and keep on alone.

In the officers of customs, for his passport, which was in readiness; but none appeared, and they subt none appeared, and they for his passport, which was in readiness; but none appeared, and they for his passport, which was in they kept on. An hour's further travel brought them to the great smoked some cigarettes and had a good long sleep, I shall be all right. "This is going to be the devil," "This is going to be the devil," their rock was of a roughly conical shape, about a hundred feet high. It stood in the midst of a barren plain; but around it, their rock was a grove of tall palms and great hemispherical mangos, All was silent and deserted in silent moonlight. In the base of the rock was a marrow opening leading to a small cave or cell, formly according to tradition, occupied by a saint and hermit of supernatural powers.

Meryon looked into it, and saw a pace about eight feet in diameter. hewn out of the solid rock.

Meanwhile it transpired that Hatipha had escaped; when the Hatipha had escaped; when the meter, hewn out of the solid rock. he had vanished. It was not surprising; the war scare threw everything into a hubbub. Had the American not been rendered so conspicuous by his mission, he might easily have spirited away the princess himself. Late in the afternoon a report that the princess' mot'er had been taken violently ill added to the confusion. When Meryon went to the prince for his farewell interview, he was half minded to proclaim and put himself at the head of a revolution, depose his highness, and assume her safe-deposit company's vaults,

The animals were watered and fed. The camels squatted down in their usual absurd fashion, with their usual absurd fashion, with their legs curled under them and their noses on a parallel with the horizon. The drivers curled up beside them and promptly went to sleep. Meryon did not feel sleepy. He wandered about, thinking over what had happened, and speculating as to might be to come.

It was like a mixture of the lazy wonder and laughed.

Meryon finally resolved against it, from reluctance to be left with a kindom on his hands so far from New York, and with the home policy still so strong against annexations. He afterwards was sorry he had been so fastidious into which his artistic and susceptible temperament and devil-may care habit had brought him. No doubt his mother-wit and audacity had that day saved his neck, buy only to put it in yet graver jeopardy. Mr. Murray refuses to voluntarity produce the record referred to, claiming that the law provides a means of obtaining the record. Mr. Lawlor-I notice that Mr. Bennett, in giving his evidence, referred to a case against Emile Malive and stated that Mr.
McCulley had added at the end of the copy of proceedings a statement that the fine had been paid, which was untrue, and that he (Mr. Bennett) had asked Mr. McCulley to alter that, but that he had declined; that he (Mr. Bennett) then informed you of what the magistrate had done, and that you took the proceedings out with you, and that he (Mr. Bennett) that evening got them from Mr. McCalley with the necessary correction made. Do you remember taking the proceedings to Mr. McCalley?

Yes. I asked him why he put on the record that the fine and costs had been paid

I said 'You must have done so for the purpose of preventing an appeal, because to my mind no judge would grant a review (Mr. McCully) said he did not do so for that purpose. I replied that it was extraordinary that he should return that penalty and costs were paid when he was perfectly aware that the fine and costs were not paid: He said he would change the record. I presume he did so change it. The record will show that.

Mr. Bennett also in giving his evidence stated that in the Malive case Mr. McCulley adjourned the hearing to the house of Mr Robert Murray without requiring any affidavit to be made. Tell me what is your experience before Mr. McCulley in reference to obtaining adjournments?

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

Stomach Liver Cure

The Most Astonishing Medical Discovery of the Last One Hundred Years. It is Pleasant to the Taste as the Sweetest Nectar. It is Safe and Harmless as the Purest Milk.

This wonderful Nervine Tonic has only recently been introduced into this country by the proprietors and manufacturers of the Great South American Nervine Tonic, and yet its great value as a curative agent has long been known by a few of the most learned physicians, who have not brought its merits and value to the knowledge of the carrel public Chereal public.

This medicine has completely solved the problem of the cure of indigestic. dyspepsia, and diseases of the general nervous system. It is also of the greatest value in the cure of all forms of failing health from whatever cause. It performs this by the great nervine tonic qualities which it possesses, and by its great curative powers upon the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver and the bowels. No remedy compares with this wonderfully valuable Nervine Tonic as a builder and strengthener of the life forces of the human body, and as a great renewer of a broken-down constitution. It is also of more real permanent value in the treatment and cure of diseases of the lungs than any consumption remedy ever used on this continent. It is a marvelous cure for nervousness of females of all ages. Ladies who are approaching the critical period known as change in life, should not fail to use this great Nervine. Tonic, almost constantly, for the space of two or three years. It will carry them safely over the danger. This great strengthener and curative is of inestimable value to the aged and infirm, because its great energizing properties will give them a new hold on life. It will add ten or fifteen years to the lives of many of those who will use a half dozen

IT IS A GREAT REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF

Debility of Old Age, Indigestion and Dyspepsia, Heartburn and Sour Stomach, Nervous Prostration, Nervous Headache. Female Weakness, Weight and Tenderness in Stomach, Nervous Chills. Paralysis, Dizziness and Ringing in the Ears, Weakness of Extremities and Nervous Paroxysms and Nervous Choking, Hot Flashes, Palpitation of the Heart, Mental Despondency, Impure and Impoverished Blood, Boils and Carbuncles, Failing Health, Summer Complaint of Infants. All these and many other complaints cured by this wonderful Nervine Tonic.

NERVOUS DISEASES. As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nervine Tonic, which is very pleasant and harmless in all its effects upon the youngest child or the oldest and most delicate individual. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir are dependent on nervous exhaustion and impaired diges tion. When there is an insufficient supply of nerve food in the blood, a general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow, and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become strong when the right kind of food is supplied; and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nerves recover: As the nervous system must supply all the power by which the vital forces of the body are carried on, it is the first to suffer for want of perfect nutrition. Ordinary food does not contain a sufficient quantity of the kind of nutriment necessary to repair the wear our present mode of living and labor imposes upon the nerves. For this reason it becomes necessary that a nerve food be supplied. This South American Nervine has been found by analysis to contain the essential elements out of which nerve tissue is formed. This accounts for its universal adaptability to the cure of all forms of nervous de-Tangement.

To the Great South American Medicine Co.:

Dear Gents:—I desire to say to you that I have suffered for many years with a very serious disease of the s.omach and nerves. I tried every medicine I could hear of, but nothing done me any appreciable good until I was advised to try your Great South American Nervine Tone and Stomach and Liver Cure, and since using several bottle-sof it I must say that I am surprised at its wonderful powers to cure the stomach and general nervot s system. If everyone knew the value of this remedy as I do you would not be able to supply the demand.

A SWORN CURE FOR ST. VITAS' DANCE OR CHOREA. Chawfordsville, Ind., June 22, 1887.

My daughter, eleven years old, was severely a dicted with St. Vitus' Dance or Chorea. We gave her three and one-half bottles of South American Nervine and she is completely restored. I believe it will cure every case of St. Vitus' Dance. I have kept it in my family for two years, and am sure it is the greatest remedy in the world for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and for all forms of Nervous Disorders and Falling Health, from whatever cause.

Harners E. Hall. of Waynetown, Ind. says:

"I owe my life to the Great South American Nervine. I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted stomach, Indigestion, Nervous Prostration, and a general shatter of condition of my whole system. Had given up all hopes of getting well. Had tried three doe tors, with no relief. The first bottle of the Nervine Tonic improved meso much that I was able to walk about, and a few bottles cured me entirely.
I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I can not recommend it too highly."

No remedy compares with South American Nervine Tonic, and continued its use for land to the total continued to the cont can not recommend it too highly."

No remedy compares with South American Nervine as a cure for the Nerves: No remedy compares with South American Nervine as a cure for the Stomach. No remedy compares with South American Nervine as a cure for all forms of failing health. It never fails to cure thores or St. Vitur Dane, the powers to cure largeston and Dyspepsia.
