

Canada House, Corner Water and St. John Sts., Chatham. LARGEST HOTEL IN CHATHAM. Every attention paid to THE COMFORT OF GUESTS.

The Factory JOHN McDONALD & CO. (Successors to George Cassidy.) Manufacturers of Doors, Sashes, Mouldings, AND— Builders' Furnishings generally. Lumber Planed and Matched to order.

INSURANCE The Insurance business heretofore carried on by the late Thomas F. Gillespie, deceased, is continued by the undersigned who represents the following companies: SCOTISH UNION AND NATIONAL ALBION IMPERIAL LONDON & LANCASHIRE, ETNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHENIX OF LONDON, MANCHESTER, JAS. G. MILLER.

Mark You! We have the BEST STOCK, BEST material and the largest and most varied EXPERIENCE, and use only the BEST materials and therefore produce the Best Photographs. Whether our patrons be RICH or POOR we aim to please every time.

WOOD GOODS I WE MANUFACTURE & HAVE For Sale Laths, Paling, Box-Shooks, Boarding, Matched Flooring, Dimensioned Lumber, Saw Spruce Shingles.

THOS. W. FLEET, Nelson. THE BATH GLOVES AND MITTS SPONGES A Beautiful Line of Toilet Soaps From Five Cents to One Dollar per Cask.

Just Arrived Mackenzie's Medical Hall CHATHAM, N.B. Headquarters THE HEADQUARTERS FOR DRUGS, Patent Medicines and Toilet articles is at the NEWCASTLE DRUG STORE. We have on hand, as usual, a Large & Fresh Supply of the different Medicines, Liniments, Cough Syrups, Tonics, Dyspepsia, Rheumatic, Kidney, Asthma, and Catarrh Cures.

NEWCASTLE DRUG STORE, K. L. STREET - PROPRIETOR, MACKENZIE'S Quinine Wine and Iron THE BEST TONIC AND BLOOD MAKER— 50c Bottles We Guarantee it at Mackenzie's Medical Hall, CHATHAM, N. B.

MIRAMICHI FOUNDRY STEAM ENGINE AND BOILER WORKS Chatham, N. B. JOSEPH M. RUDDOCK, PROPRIETOR. Steam Engines and Boilers, Mill Machinery of all kinds; Steamers of any size constructed & furnished complete.

G. B. FRASER ATTORNEY & BARRISTER NOTARY PUBLIC. R. A. LAWLER, Barrister-At-Law. Solicitor Conveyancer Notary Public, Etc. Chatham, N. B.

MONARCH Steel Wire Nails, THEY NEVER LET GO, AND TAKE NO OTHERS. KERR & ROBERTSON, SAINT JOHN N. B. N. B.—IN STOCK AND TO ARRIVE 100 DOKEN K. & R. AXES.

Miller's Foundry & Machine Works RITCHIE WHARF, CHATHAM, N.B. (Successors to GILLESPIE FOUNDRY, Established 1852.) Mill, Railway, and Machine Work, Marine Engines, Boiler repairing.

Paints, Oils, Varnishes and Hardware Ready-Mixed Paints, all shades, including the Celebrated Weather and Waterproof THE BEST EVER MADE.

R. Flanagan ST. JOHN STREET, CHATHAM. Spectacles The undermentioned advantages are claimed for Mackenzie's spectacles.

J. R. GOGGIN. White Mountain Ice Cream Freezers, $1.90. Clothes Wringers, $2.50. Dairy Cans, $3.75. Cart and Wagon Axles, Cow Bells, Wire Screen Doors, Window Screens, Green Wove Wire 14c. yd., Barbed Wire Fencing, Counter Scales.

WE DO Job Printing At the Old Stand Conard Street, Short's Bran Cornmeal Cracked Feed Hay and Oats E. A. STRANG

HOUSEHOLD. OLD LACES. It was linen, embroidered and cut-work, sometimes combined with what is now known as drawn-thread work.

THE OYSTER. Oyster Brochette.—This favorite dish is prepared in a unique manner. A heavy pointed wire measuring four inches in length, with a ring or hook at one end, is the principal utensil used in cooking.

LINEN FOR DOLLIES. The linen used for dollies that are to have borders of drawn work should be very fine, of the finest quality.

SOME GOOD RECIPES. Breast of Lamb.—Breast of lamb should be simmered, not boiled, until it is thoroughly tender.

PHYSICAL DEFECTS AMONG MEN. Seven Shoulders, Arms, Legs and Hips Probably Most Numerous. A man can be assured that the best advantage, tailor-wise, away from him, is standing before a mirror.

A SHIP'S PERIL. Experience of a Steamship on the Way to the Klondike. The perils of a trip to the gold-fields of the Klondike best the traveller almost from the start.

PEARLS OF TRUTH. Influence is the exhalation of character.—W. M. Taylor. A grateful dog is better than an ungrateful man.—Scott.

PERFUMED BEDS. While many a housewife has made her bed habit to lay away the bed linen in lavender-scented closets, it was not until recently that the perfume pad invaded the bed itself.

FALL FUN. Jack Borrowitt—I called at your office yesterday to see you, but you were out. Tom Leadi—Not so much so, I imagine, as if I had been in.

THE RETIRED BURGLAR. Scarred Away by Mysterious Sounds, These Sources, Years Later, Were Revealed. "As a rule," said the retired burglar, "I did not pause to look at pictures in the houses I visited; there wasn't time even if I had had the inclination; but sometimes one's attention would be fixed on a picture by circumstances.

A FAINT GROAN. Well, now, you understand, I am not much disturbed by strange sounds, because a man in a business gets so used to speaking to the unexpected, but that groan appalled me. I stood there for a minute, with one foot on the floor of the hall and the other on the lowest step and waited. I didn't hear any more and then I thought I might have been mistaken and I started up.

CONSOILING. Condemned Man, to his lawyer—It's a long sentence, sir, to be sent to prison for life. Lawyer, inclined to a more hopeful view—Yes, it does seem long, but perhaps you won't live a great while.

EMPEROR'S EMPLOYEES. There are 1,600 persons upon the German Emperor's list of employees.

THE RETIRED BURGLAR (continued). "When I turned away from the shelf I walked across the parlor to the hall of the house and out into the hall to go upstairs, but just as I put my foot on the bottom step I heard that sounded like.

THE RETIRED BURGLAR (continued). "Well, I never saw that town again for three years. The next time I went there was in the time of a POLITICAL CAMPAIGN. They were having a big meeting there that night and a parade and that sort of thing, and I stood in a good place in the crowd and watched the procession and when the band came along I saw the man who you think was playing the bass drum my man whose picture I'd seen on the mantle-shelf that night I nipped the hair from my beard and heard the mysterious moaning and groaning and thunder attachments.

THE RETIRED BURGLAR (continued). "I'd dropped a spoon or a fork or something in the dining room in his house before I struck the parlor, and he'd heard it, and got up and saw me and then he headed me off with the drum. He had his eyes on me from somewhere, and when I set foot on that lower step he ruffled the big drum again, the low drum; it was easy for him, and these groans grew under his hand as I advanced, till he hit them beat it with frantic energy when he saw that that single thunder-bolt didn't stop me.

General Business. FREDERICKTON COLLEGE. The Business College. W. OSBORNE, PRINCIPAL.

EVERY MOTHER SHOULD HAVE IN THE HOUSE. JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT. PARSONS' PILLS.

Call to HICKEY'S DRUG STORE FOR ANY OF THE FOLLOWING: PERFIANT PLANT FOOD, PLANT SPRAY, FLY AND INSECT POWDER, DERMO-CURE, BED BUG EXTERMINATOR, DOG WASH, HORSE WASH.

Notice of Sale. To the Hon. Mr. Justice of the Peace, in and for the County of Gloucester, New Brunswick.

Notice of Sale. To Charles E. Boy, of the Parish of St. Charles, County of Gloucester, New Brunswick.

Notice of Sale. To Charles E. Boy, of the Parish of St. Charles, County of Gloucester, New Brunswick.

Miramichi Advance. CHATHAM, N. B., OCTOBER 26, 1899. Northumberland with the Empire. There was no uncertainty about the attitude of the citizens of Chatham, at the public meeting of Tuesday evening, towards the movement for separating the volunteers who are being sent by the Dominion government to South Africa to assist in demonstrating the unity of the empire and the loyalty of the colonies to the mother land.

There was no uncertainty about the attitude of the citizens of Chatham, at the public meeting of Tuesday evening, towards the movement for separating the volunteers who are being sent by the Dominion government to South Africa to assist in demonstrating the unity of the empire and the loyalty of the colonies to the mother land.

There was no uncertainty about the attitude of the citizens of Chatham, at the public meeting of Tuesday evening, towards the movement for separating the volunteers who are being sent by the Dominion government to South Africa to assist in demonstrating the unity of the empire and the loyalty of the colonies to the mother land.

There was no uncertainty about the attitude of the citizens of Chatham, at the public meeting of Tuesday evening, towards the movement for separating the volunteers who are being sent by the Dominion government to South Africa to assist in demonstrating the unity of the empire and the loyalty of the colonies to the mother land.

There was no uncertainty about the attitude of the citizens of Chatham, at the public meeting of Tuesday evening, towards the movement for separating the volunteers who are being sent by the Dominion government to South Africa to assist in demonstrating the unity of the empire and the loyalty of the colonies to the mother land.

BIGGLE BOOKS. A Farm Library of unequalled value—Practical, Up-to-date, Concise and Comprehensive—Handsomely Printed and Beautifully Illustrated. By JACOB BIGGLE.

CANADA EASTERN RAILWAY. SUMMER 1899. Between Fredericton Chatham and Loggieville.

Montreal and Vancouver ONLY 100 HOURS APART. THE IMPERIAL LIMITED TRAIN COMMENCES RUNNING JUNE 18th, 1899.

INTERNATIONAL S. S. COMPANY. COMMENCING OCT. 2. PORTLAND AND BOSTON, every MONDAY, WEDNESDAY and FRIDAY MORNING, at 7.30, standard.

Wanted—Industrial men of character to travel and appoint agents. Salary and expenses paid.

Wanted—Christian men and women to introduce "Light of Life," the most marvelous book since the publication of the New Testament.

Wanted—Several bright and honest persons to represent us as Managers in this and other provinces.

Notice 1874 NOTICE 1899. That F. O. PETERSON, Merchant Tailor, is still at the same business as for A.

THE WAR. Half a million tons of shipping is required to transport Great Britain's two army corps to South Africa. There are about 35,000 men of all ranks in each of the army corps and Lord Wolseley, some time ago, said that there were always two army corps in such a condition of readiness to be embarked, that they would be prepared to go on board the ships sooner than the ships could be found.

MAKING RAG CARPETS.

Making rag carpets is neither pleasant nor easy work, but it is work that will pay, writes Sarah E. Wilcox. With patience and perseverance, economical, durable and pretty floor coverings are made of odds and ends of rags—cast-off garments which otherwise would find place in the rag-bag, number close or attic, and in the waste-bowl. A well-made rag carpet will last two or three of the cheap, loosely-woven, almsy articles sold at carpet emporiums.

Heavy woolen, cut wide and more or less unevenly, entered largely into the texture, heavy to handle and unobtainable. The best modern rag carpet is made mostly of cotton and soft woolen, cut fine and neatly sewed, plenty of warp, close weaving, and a harmonious arrangement of colors give a light, durable, and handsome carpet. Experience teaches that the prevailing color for outdoor exercise, than dark colored, as it shows dust and dirt less. An accumulation of old rags, of all colors, is gathered together, and sorted into piles of red, blue, green, yellow, and white. These are then cut into strips of the following extract from my diary:

Feb. 12, 1888.—There came from the weaver's to-day 27 yards of "red and white" carpeting. Cost per yard, $1.00. It is a good carpet, and I prepared the material in four weeks during those winter days, including the work for a family of four persons and the mending of two cows. We did not work evenings, and took from half to one hour each day for our work. Careful sorting reveals only an occasional strip of thread broken.

CHAPTER VII. The morning after the conversation Eva was in her painting room trying to work up a red and white carpet. A fever of restlessness was in her veins. She hoped rather than expected that Ernest Westbrooke or his mother would call upon her and she was unable to work, and afraid to go out, she was in a state of nervousness. In the afternoon, however, her hopes were realized, for Mrs. Westbrooke came to her room, but she came alone.

CHAPTER VIII. The morning after the conversation Eva was in her painting room trying to work up a red and white carpet. A fever of restlessness was in her veins. She hoped rather than expected that Ernest Westbrooke or his mother would call upon her and she was unable to work, and afraid to go out, she was in a state of nervousness. In the afternoon, however, her hopes were realized, for Mrs. Westbrooke came to her room, but she came alone.

CHAPTER IX. The morning after the conversation Eva was in her painting room trying to work up a red and white carpet. A fever of restlessness was in her veins. She hoped rather than expected that Ernest Westbrooke or his mother would call upon her and she was unable to work, and afraid to go out, she was in a state of nervousness. In the afternoon, however, her hopes were realized, for Mrs. Westbrooke came to her room, but she came alone.

CHAPTER X. The morning after the conversation Eva was in her painting room trying to work up a red and white carpet. A fever of restlessness was in her veins. She hoped rather than expected that Ernest Westbrooke or his mother would call upon her and she was unable to work, and afraid to go out, she was in a state of nervousness. In the afternoon, however, her hopes were realized, for Mrs. Westbrooke came to her room, but she came alone.

CHAPTER XI. The morning after the conversation Eva was in her painting room trying to work up a red and white carpet. A fever of restlessness was in her veins. She hoped rather than expected that Ernest Westbrooke or his mother would call upon her and she was unable to work, and afraid to go out, she was in a state of nervousness. In the afternoon, however, her hopes were realized, for Mrs. Westbrooke came to her room, but she came alone.

She Would Be a Lady

CHAPTER VI.—Continued.

Conrad, who was watching Eva, and debating mentally whether or not he should bestow his valuable affections upon her, was now pounced upon, and immediately indignation demanded. To the surprise of his friends, however, Conrad declined to accede to the request, and when they were still, he had fallen quietly asleep.

After this evening scarcely a day passed without the rector managing to make one of the party, on some pretext or other, and it soon became evident that Barbara had forgotten the German professor, and that she thought no position in life more desirable than that of the wife of a country clergyman.

CHAPTER VII. The morning after the conversation Eva was in her painting room trying to work up a red and white carpet. A fever of restlessness was in her veins. She hoped rather than expected that Ernest Westbrooke or his mother would call upon her and she was unable to work, and afraid to go out, she was in a state of nervousness.

CHAPTER VIII. The morning after the conversation Eva was in her painting room trying to work up a red and white carpet. A fever of restlessness was in her veins. She hoped rather than expected that Ernest Westbrooke or his mother would call upon her and she was unable to work, and afraid to go out, she was in a state of nervousness.

CHAPTER IX. The morning after the conversation Eva was in her painting room trying to work up a red and white carpet. A fever of restlessness was in her veins. She hoped rather than expected that Ernest Westbrooke or his mother would call upon her and she was unable to work, and afraid to go out, she was in a state of nervousness.

CHAPTER X. The morning after the conversation Eva was in her painting room trying to work up a red and white carpet. A fever of restlessness was in her veins. She hoped rather than expected that Ernest Westbrooke or his mother would call upon her and she was unable to work, and afraid to go out, she was in a state of nervousness.

CHAPTER XI. The morning after the conversation Eva was in her painting room trying to work up a red and white carpet. A fever of restlessness was in her veins. She hoped rather than expected that Ernest Westbrooke or his mother would call upon her and she was unable to work, and afraid to go out, she was in a state of nervousness.

CHAPTER XII. The morning after the conversation Eva was in her painting room trying to work up a red and white carpet. A fever of restlessness was in her veins. She hoped rather than expected that Ernest Westbrooke or his mother would call upon her and she was unable to work, and afraid to go out, she was in a state of nervousness.

CHAPTER VI.—Continued.

Conrad, who was watching Eva, and debating mentally whether or not he should bestow his valuable affections upon her, was now pounced upon, and immediately indignation demanded. To the surprise of his friends, however, Conrad declined to accede to the request, and when they were still, he had fallen quietly asleep.

After this evening scarcely a day passed without the rector managing to make one of the party, on some pretext or other, and it soon became evident that Barbara had forgotten the German professor, and that she thought no position in life more desirable than that of the wife of a country clergyman.

CHAPTER VII. The morning after the conversation Eva was in her painting room trying to work up a red and white carpet. A fever of restlessness was in her veins. She hoped rather than expected that Ernest Westbrooke or his mother would call upon her and she was unable to work, and afraid to go out, she was in a state of nervousness.

CHAPTER VIII. The morning after the conversation Eva was in her painting room trying to work up a red and white carpet. A fever of restlessness was in her veins. She hoped rather than expected that Ernest Westbrooke or his mother would call upon her and she was unable to work, and afraid to go out, she was in a state of nervousness.

CHAPTER IX. The morning after the conversation Eva was in her painting room trying to work up a red and white carpet. A fever of restlessness was in her veins. She hoped rather than expected that Ernest Westbrooke or his mother would call upon her and she was unable to work, and afraid to go out, she was in a state of nervousness.

CHAPTER X. The morning after the conversation Eva was in her painting room trying to work up a red and white carpet. A fever of restlessness was in her veins. She hoped rather than expected that Ernest Westbrooke or his mother would call upon her and she was unable to work, and afraid to go out, she was in a state of nervousness.

CHAPTER XI. The morning after the conversation Eva was in her painting room trying to work up a red and white carpet. A fever of restlessness was in her veins. She hoped rather than expected that Ernest Westbrooke or his mother would call upon her and she was unable to work, and afraid to go out, she was in a state of nervousness.

CHAPTER XII. The morning after the conversation Eva was in her painting room trying to work up a red and white carpet. A fever of restlessness was in her veins. She hoped rather than expected that Ernest Westbrooke or his mother would call upon her and she was unable to work, and afraid to go out, she was in a state of nervousness.

"Yes, every one can see that the love her." And meanwhile the storm raged on, with unceasing fury. The two ladies, watching through the windows, saw the party of men returning, carrying Barbara in their arms like a lifeless body between them.

HOW DREAMS ARE MADE. Generally a Repetition of Thoughts Engaged by Reason. Dreams are generally a repetition of thoughts unguided by reason. Those caused by internal action or brought about by action within the body are due entirely to the action and state of the stomach, which in turn is affected by the quantity and quality of food consumed.

THE FIRST ENDS OF FEELERS OF THE NERVES are located in the walls of the stomach, and as the food is digested they regard them as swine. They are disgusted throughout the nervous system to replace the waste that has taken place during the day. If the stomach is overcharged with an abundance of food, too much nourishment is sent to the nervous system, and an abnormal filling of the channels, thereby expanding them, bringing them in touch with others, and causing the matter from one to overflow into another.

AN OVERLOADED STOMACH. An overflow of blood to the brain, sent there by nature to assist in assimilating the extra nourishment, and the overcharged blood vessels, pressing on the brain, cause a series of disturbances. This accounts for the advice of so many medical men that no considerable quantity, especially of animal food, should be taken immediately before bedtime. The crossing and touching of these thought channels, brought about in this way, produces the absurd mixtures of fancies that often come to us when we are asleep.

THE STOMACH, too, is a mill which keeps on forever grinding, the walls acting as the grindstones. When, therefore, there is nothing between them, or, in other words, when the stomach is empty, the walls of the stomach are in contact with each other, causing an irritation of the nerves which produces that peculiar sensation of falling from some great height.

TO UNDERSTAND how external action affects the dream, let us take a sleep of a few hours, during which the dream, which seems to be a long, and even days, in passing, really occupy but a minute fraction of a second. If, therefore, we are awakened by some external action, such as the ringing of a bell, then between the time that the sound strikes the ear, while the brain is still in a state of sleep, we are fully awake to realize what has caused the sound, a few moments only after the sound has been heard.

THE MAKING OF PURE VINEGAR ON THE FARM. The making of pure vinegar on the farm is not a difficult matter. A little care and attention will enable the farmer to make a barrel for home use, or ready market in village or city. A first requisite is good cider and exposed to a temperature of about 70 degrees, it will soon make good vinegar. The barrel should not be placed in a dry, warm place, not in the cellar. The barrel should not be disturbed for a time, resting on supports about 2 ft. from the ground for convenience in racking off. Let the cider stand until the bung out until the first fermentation is over and the cider is clear, then rack off with a rubber hose siphon or an ordinary wooden faucet. Clean the barrel, remove the cider, and allow it to stand in the future and get a bottle of Putnam's is the best, safe, painless, and acts in twenty-four hours.

THE WITNESS'S STORY. The present Lord Chancellor was cross-examining a shrewd baucio character. "What was your name, my friend?" he asked. "I was sometimes called by a Devonshire Dampier, don't they?" asked the witness. "But you are not a Devonshire Dampier?" "No, my lord."

GOOD RIDDANCE. "Bugs—Why did you lend Dobbs your umbrella?" "Bugs—Because I don't care to see either him or the umbrella again."

LUBY'S. Sold by all druggists, 50¢ a bottle. A YOUTHFUL YERKSON. Bobby, who has tripped and fallen on a comb-omb, mamma, look at the cut on my head. The teeth in the comb are gone.

SAILORS AND MINERS. Their handicrafts indubitably impress their Mark Upon Them. Probably sailors and miners are more impressed by their respective callings than any other workers. The sailor, living in great open spaces, and subject to sudden and unforeseen contingencies, is frank to the verge of recklessness, and full of prompt resource. He usually thinks what he pleases and says what he thinks without stopping to cogitate. The sea molds his character to its own moods, and whether these resemble the hard-hitting of the gale, or the softer tempering of smooth waters, both are frank and free.

HINTS FOR THE FARMER. SHEEP AND HOGS. For small farms sheep and hogs are good animals to raise, and exclusive farming with either one generally produces an enthusiast. It really requires a man of enthusiasm to succeed in most branches of cattle raising. One must love both the work and the animals to obtain the best results. Then he will reduce everything down to a system that will give him good sense and sympathy. Some people cannot get enthusiastic over pigs; they are swine and dirty animals at heart. Such people probably have never seen a clover leaf or a pig, and sleek and fat with the green food they have eaten, and so intelligent looking that their porcine qualities seem to have left them. But if there is a feeling against pigs so that one can only regard them as swine, it is better to let them alone, and devote the time and attention to sheep.

THE GREEN-VEG MONSTER. Policeman—Why did your husband kill that young man? Mrs. Peanuti—He makes love to me. Policeman—What did he say? Mrs. Peanuti—He says that a cook-stove and two beds too heavy for me to carry.

A CITY CASE. One of a Thousand Such Come to Light in the Queen City. Mr. John H. W. of St. Louis, Mo., Toronto, Ont., Oct. 2.—This city is one of the finest in Canada and among the most beautiful in the world. It is better to let them alone, and devote the time and attention to sheep.

CHANGED THE SUBJECT. He gently—Are you not afraid some one may carry you for your money? She—Well, dear, no. Such an idea never entered my mind. He, testing her—In your sweet innocent heart, do you not know how coldly, cruelly mercenary some men are? She—Well, dear, no. Such an idea never entered my mind.

THE LOST AND FOUND. Madge—Did Ethel find a husband while she was away? Dolly—Yes, but unfortunately she discovered later that he belonged to another woman.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS. Mrs. W. writes: "I have used your medicine for over fifty years, and it has done me more good than any other medicine I have ever used. It is a most valuable and reliable medicine, and I can recommend it to all who are afflicted with any of the ailments it cures."

THE MOST NUTRITIOUS. BRASS BAND COCOA. THE MOST NUTRITIOUS. BRASS BAND COCOA. THE MOST NUTRITIOUS. BRASS BAND COCOA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.

THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA. THE PROOF OF A TEA. LUDELLA.