CURRENT GOSSIP HEARD ON WALL ST.

Naval activities of the Belgians result in disturbance in commercial circles—Advance in War Risk Rates.

Rapidly advancing prices, such as were seen on the Stock Exchange after the Republican victories of the Presidential year 1896, 1900, 1904 and 1908, would hardly have been looked for this week, even had Wall Street had no large troubles to contend with.

On the Northern and Southern seas since the beginning of the week have caused material disturbance in commercial business.

It was thought that an advance in ocean insurance rates would have a tendency to interrupt the large export movement now under way from the United States, but today, at least, there was no indication of a setback.

Railroads are meeting with not a little success in cutting down their operating expenses.

Only seven weeks elapsed between the Controller of the Currency's fourth and fifth bank calls of 1914.

Much more is being heard regarding plans for re-opening the London Stock Exchange than of plans for re-opening the Stock Exchange at New York.

Chicago Produce Market Chicago, Nov. 6.—Wheat, No. 2 red, 1.14 1/4 to 1.15 5/8; No. 2 hard, 1.14 1/4 to 1.15 1/4.

LONG TIME LOANS OFFERING FREELY

Borrowers in New York await reduction below 6 p.c. rate—Foreign exchange firm.

New York, Nov. 3.—Further strengthening of the local money situation, as seen in last Saturday's bank statement, with its fairly large excess of cash reserves, today resulted in an increase of offerings by banks for long time loans.

Foreign exchange was more firm, England's revision of her list of contraband articles and the increased caution of marine insurance companies being partly responsible for this development.

Inquiry for investment securities continued, although the volume of business today was much smaller than a few days ago.

Railroad officials reported further hesitation in business throughout the west, but a heavier movement of general merchandise was noted.

The steamer Manchester Exchange for Philadelphia and the Caraque for Halifax and the West Indies sail today.

WILL MEAN RELEASE OF MILLIONS OF BRITISH GOVT

Arrangements made with Bank of England for advances to lenders to help them continue loans.

London, Nov. 3.—The plan of the treasury to facilitate Stock Exchange business and to prevent undue depreciation in investments by avoiding the necessity for forced realization has been made public.

All such bankers have agreed not to press loans for payment or require a deposit of further margin until after the expiration of twelve months from the conclusion of peace.

The bank will not press for the repayment of advances until a year has elapsed from the conclusion of peace.

EXPECT REOPENING OF 'CHANGE IN AM.

Bankers discredit report of agreement to keep stock exchanges of the world closed.

New York, Nov. 5.—Prominent banking interests place no credence in reports that at the conference between Sir George Paish and members of the Federal Reserve Board in Washington on Wednesday, an agreement was reached to keep the Stock Exchanges of the world closed.

As regards the matter of re-opening the Stock Exchange, it is stated on the highest banking authority that the situation is today as it was a week ago, that it would be very desirable to resume business at the earliest date at which that could be done with safety.

Why Stevens was so peculiarly affected was not given out but at all events he will in a few days be given a chance to explain in the police court before Magistrate Ritchie.

OLD RESIDENT LOCAL ARTILLERY ASK PASSED MAX LAST EVENING FOR LEAVE TO SUPPLY WHOLE HEAVY BATTERY

Death of James Knox followed a brief illness—Deceased had been in business here for half a century.

Lt.-Col. Armstrong sends telegram to this effect to Hon. J. D. Hazen—Work of recruiting now going with swing—Men to be raised for Infantry, Heavy and Field Artillery and Ammunition Column.

By the death of James Knox, last night, about 11.30 o'clock, St. John lost one of its most prominent citizens. Although he was in ill health for some time Mr. Knox had been able to look after his business until within a few days ago, but was taken seriously ill on Tuesday night and never recovered. His death will be learned with deepest regret by a great many friends.

Being engaged as a ship chandler in St. John for the past fifty years, he was one of the most prominent business men along the water front and was known and respected by all shipping men, especially by the commanders of ships from all parts of the globe.

He is survived by one daughter, Miss Marion at home, and two sons, Richard of the customs service, and John employed with W. H. Thorne & Co. As a curly James Knox was for many years a member of the Thistle Club, and was regarded as one of the keenest skippers in the club. He was also for years a member of the Sons of Scotland and at the time of his death was an expert diver. He was also a pilot commissioner.

It was not decided last night when the funeral would be held, but notice will be given today.

James Knox was born in Rosneath, Bute-shire, Scotland, in 1833. He was the son of John Walker & Co., until 1877, when his nephew, Walker Firth, was admitted to partnership. From that time the firm of Knox & Firth carried on the business until Mr. Firth's retirement in 1882. Since that time Mr. Knox has conducted the business alone, and it has been one of the leading ship chandlery establishments in the city.

Mr. Knox belonged to the Masonic fraternity, the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the Foresters; also to the St. Andrew's Society, and was president of the latter for two years. He was a prominent member of St. Andrew's church, of which he was a trustee.

Seven battalions will be held in Canada to form the basis of a third Canadian force.

There will be nine batteries of field artillery, four army service companies, four companies of medical service, two companies of field engineers, one cyclist company, one administrative division, one ammunition park, one supply column line of communication force, field butchery, field bakery.

FINE RECORD IN LOADING HORSES

A. R. C. Clark & Son put 880 horses on the Anglo-Columbian yesterday in five hours.

The steamship Anglo-Columbian which has been fitted for the transport of horses for the Imperial Government is about ready. The work was quickly done by the contractors, Messrs. A. R. C. Clark & Son who also looked after the loading of horses on the ship. The loading took place yesterday and the local contractors made a record in this respect. In five hours 880 horses were put on this ship without very much difficulty. The best record made in loading horses in Montreal was 600 in five hours, while in Halifax it took one day to load 249. With such excellent work by the local contractors, and with the good chances for loading and the looking after horses before embarking, it appears that the St. John station bears out the remarks of General Benson, the Imperial representative, who, when in this city, said that this was one of the best places that he had visited for a remount station. It is expected that another large consignment of horses will arrive in the city today or tomorrow, and from this out there will be hundreds of horses coming here from the west.

Business Increasing.

The local shoe dealers report an increasing demand for shoes made in St. John. This is encouraging and it proves that the people appreciate the fact that good shoes are made in the Humphrey shoe factory.

Tempted Hundreds—Who Yielded.

The unpropitious weather of yesterday did not prevent hundreds of bargain seekers from attending the great reduction sale of the Marr Millinery Company, who are offering special inducements for today, as announced in their advertisement on page two of this issue.

JAROSLAV IN GALICIA FALLS BEFORE RUSSIANS

Five Thousand German Prisoners taken by Czar's Army — Austrians in retreat along River San — Outnumbered, Russians break down defence of enemy and cross River.

Lemberg, Galicia, Nov. 6 (via Petrograd).—News was received in this city the evening of November 5 of the capture by the Russians of the Galician town of Jaroslav, together with five thousand prisoners. Military reports given out in Lemberg set forth that during the past few days the Austrians have been attacking furiously day and night. Their artillery fire has been particularly severe and leads to the impression that they have been making their last supreme effort. Nevertheless, the Russians have repulsed the enemy vigorously and have broken his desperate resistance.

CITY COUNCIL IN BUSY SESSION

Firemen as Home Guards — Accounts present — Routine matters considered.

At the session of the Common Council yesterday the allotment of the berths at Carleton to the different steamship lines was made on the same basis as last year. Com. Russell stated that he had received assurances from the various companies that all the berths would be occupied. Com. McLellan suggested the formation of three rifle companies in the fire department, to be armed with sporting rifles and trained and drilled, at a cost for equipment of about $3,000. The matter was allowed to stand over for a week. Mayor Frink's proposal to provide beds in the Exhibition building was also laid over for a week. Various matters of routine business were disposed of. The common council came to order at eleven o'clock with Mayor Frink presiding, and Commissioners Potts, Russell, McLellan and Wigmore and Common Clerk Wardroper present. Mayor Frink reported payments for the month of October amounting to $125,085.15, as set out in the following statement: Department of Finance and Public Accounts $1,310.06 Department of Public Safety 1,750.51 Department of Public Works 1,901.56 Department of Water and Sewerage 1,760.15 Department of H. F. & P. Lands 1,142.27 The report was adopted. Com. McLellan reported that he had considered the establishment of the fire department into units for military purposes in home protection and home service, and recommended the purchase of sufficient numbers of rifles to equip the department, and ammunition for practice, at a cost of $3,000, and also the establishment of an indoor rifle range for the use of the department. It would be impossible to secure military rifles, but if modern sporting rifles were secured it could be arranged to bring them in duty free. He had

now. He was endeavoring to ascertain whether some of these rifles could be secured now. There might be some slight difficulty about bringing in rifles from the United States. Com. Wigmore stated that he wished to go on record as being in favor of the plan, but he would like a week to think it over. Mayor Frink pointed out that about seventy men had offered themselves for the corps which he had proposed, but there were some difficulties in the way of the project. The motion to lay the matter over for a week was adopted. With reference to complaint of A. B. McIntosh, which was referred to him, Commissioner McLellan reported that the building law provides that the Inspector of buildings may require that plans of said building be submitted for his inspection before issuing his permit; this was not done, it also provides that if any question arises between the builder and the Inspector it must be referred to the board of arbitration. If the council therefore decided to interfere with the law in this matter it must take the responsibility for so doing. The section was adopted. The commissioner further recommended that the unexpended balances of the fire department appropriations for the remainder of the year be put into one fund to meet the expenditure of whatever part of this service requires the outlay, and that the unexpended balances of the police department appropriations for the remainder of the year be put into one fund to meet the expenditure of whatever part of this service requires the outlay. The section was adopted. Commissioner Russell recommended that he be authorized to purchase a raft of birch logs from Messrs. Bohan Bros. for repairing wharves at $17.50 per M. Adopted. The commissioner recommended that renewal lease issue to the executors of the estate of James Mills of lot No. 22, block A, Lancaster, for seven years from 1st May, 1913, at $12.60 per annum, being an increase of 20 per cent. on the present rental. Adopted. The commissioner recommended that the following allotment of berths be made for the following winter: Canadian Pacific Railway Company, Nos. 1, 2 and 3; Donaldson Line, No. 4; Manchester Line, No. 5; Allan Line, No. 6. Adopted. The commissioner further recommended that a lease be given to John G. Sperdake of a lot on the west side of the harbor, lying between the toll house and the C. P. R. station, for a term of one year, subject to termination at any time on receiving one month's notice from the city. Rent at the rate of $150 per annum, payable monthly. Lease to be prepared by the recorder. The recommendation was laid over for a week. The commissioner also recommended that renewal lease issue to Daniel C. Clark, lot No. 1, block "X" in Guys ward for seven years, from the 1st day of May last at $3.70 per annum, being an increase of 10 per cent. on the present rental; Orlando C. Ward, of lot No. 751, Brooks ward, for seven years, from 1st November inst., at $20 per annum rental, upon the Common Clerk being satisfied that he is entitled to the same; David Masee of lot No. 4, block "B," Prince ward, for seven years from 1st November inst., at $11 per annum rental, being an advance of 10 per cent. on present rental. These were granted.

The Common Clerk read the report of the Comptroller on his audit of the books of the School Board, and the report was adopted. The bonded debt of the board on June 30 was $619,500, and during the year $50,500 five year debentures were issued. The Common Clerk read an opinion from the Recorder on the city's power to expend a balance remaining from the Main street pavement for the construction of permanent sidewalks, stating that this course would be perfectly legal. A resolution had previously been adopted ordering the work. Another opinion of the Recorder on a legal matter was read and filed. Commissioner Potts asked for authority to erect a shed to cost about $600 to house some of the equipment of his department, which had been removed out of the exhibition building by the military.

Mayor Frink asked Com. Potts whether it was his intention to submit any programme for the expenditure of his special fund of $50,000 to the council. Com. Potts said that there were not enough meetings of the council to give him an opportunity to explain his plans. Mayor Frink stated that members of the 28th Dragoons were crowded out of the Army, and the exhibition Association had given them the use of the new wing of the exhibition building. An expenditure of $400 to $500 would provide sleeping accommodation for the men. He thought this might be allowed to stand over until Monday's meeting. An application to erect an electric sign was referred to the engineer. A communication from the Carpenters' Brotherhood was read, urging a fair wage clause in any agreement with any building company, was read and laid over. The meeting then adjourned.

REDMEN OF CANADA OFFER MONEY AND MEN TO "HELP GREAT FATHER THE KING" DEFEAT THE GERMANS

Indian Tribes in Dominion give striking Lesson in Loyalty to Empire — Even poorest send contribution, but are anxious to take place on Firing Line and Fight for Flag.

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—Much as Canada has done since the war began to show her loyalty to the cause of liberty, and much as have other nations within the British Empire done, there is nothing more noteworthy than the response of the Red Indians of Canada. The remnants of the once great races that roamed these broad acres have grown few in these years, but those that remain have presented the nations of the world with a lesson of loyalty to the British Empire, and the reasons why such loyalty has been born.

Poverty stricken as most of them are nearly every tribe of Indians in Canada has subscribed something for the Canadian Patriotic Fund, while every chief has offered help in the fighting line and many of them in fact everyone who is of fighting age has demanded as his right that he should be allowed to take his place in the forefront of battle.

The two head chiefs of the famous Blood Indians "Shot Both Sides" and "Ermine Horses," worthy descendants of a kindly race, send one thousand dollars "to be used in whatever way may be deemed of most advantage to British arms in this time of peril. Our desire to contribute is not on account of the money we can give, but as a token of the pride we have in our country, our King and our government."

In offering the assistance of every brave of the tribe the blood chiefs desire "that Great Britain may ever remain the guardian of the weak and the arbiter of the world's peace."

Chief Obetsoaway of the Sucker Creek Indians, in sending $500 remarks proudly that "their forefathers fought faithfully under the British flag in 1812 and in 1870 four members of the Sucker Creek band went on the war expedition with Sir Garnet Wolsey to the Red River."

Chief Pappewash of the Shegungadans also sends $500 of their funds and the resolution giving this amount was moved by Gakcheonga and seconded by Wandahbeens. These men are anxious to be called upon to serve. The Metlakatla Indians of Northern British Columbia have volunteered the services of all the braves in their band to serve with the regiment now being recruited at Prince Rupert. The Metlakatlas are a well known organization of magnificent men. Offer of Corps of Guides The Tsimshian tribes of British Columbia have offered to form a corps of guides and the local military authorities are strongly in favor of this movement as they know that among the Indians of these tribes is the very best of material for such a corps. The world famous Sloux Indians have already a dozen of their braves with the 19th Alberta Dragoons in the first contingent. They are the pride of the regiment, noble specimens of manhood. NEW LINE OF STEAMERS NEXT YEAR TO CANADA

Service being organized by Montreal people to compete with North Atlantic Shipping Pool.

Montreal, Nov. 6.—The Montreal Star says: The next season will see a new steamship line running from Montreal to England in competition with the North Atlantic shipping pool, according to the latest report in shipping circles. The new line, it is declared, is only incidental to a co-operative enterprise being organized in Montreal. In conjunction with the incorporation of the co-operative society a steamship charter is to be asked for. The steamers will carry whatever goods are imported by the co-operative society. It is further reported that the Midland Railway Company of England will give the line, (which is to run to their docks at Heysham, near Liverpool), very low rates in the hope of developing trans-ocean trade.

SENDING GERMAN WOMEN AND CHILDREN HOME FROM FRANCE

Have been interned There Since War Began.

Berne, Switzerland, Nov. 6, via Paris, 4.30 p. m.—Five hundred German women and children who had been interned in France, and who are now being repatriated, arrived here today. It is estimated that at the present time there are in France about 25,000 Germans and Austrians who have been interned. Every day, however, has seen this number reduced by from six hundred to one thousand persons. These pass through Switzerland by train on their way home. Something like 10,000 letters and 5,000 money orders for prisoners of war reach Berne every day, to be forwarded to their destination. All this material is sent post free by Switzerland. No fewer than forty Swiss postal clerks are detailed to handle this mail.

BUSINESS AT STANDSTILL

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Pending the completion of the disincorporation of the pens and yards at the East Buffalo stockyards, business is at a complete standstill. No a head of cattle, sheep or hogs is at the yards today. Several regiments of warriors of unexcelled prowess can be recruited if it is considered necessary. In this connection there is an excellent story told here of the grandson of General Brant who when he heard that Colonel Currie, M. P., was going to the front wrote him, "hoping he would come back with a hundred German scalps in his belt."

THE STORY OF KITCHENER'S ACTIVITIES

How England's "Grand Old Man" Remade an Army.
Mobilizing India's Forces and turning the Old Guard into an Up-to-date Unit— Testing out every Battalion— Plans which made it possible to send 70,000 Veterans to France.

(L. Fraser in the London Mail.)

It is not yet generally realized that the landing of a great Indian expeditionary force in France is the supreme test of one of the biggest pieces of work ever accomplished by Lord Kitchener. There have been five dominant phases in Lord Kitchener's career. The first was the fashioning of the Egyptian Army into a powerful military force. The second, which was the natural sequel, was the reconquest of the Sudan. The third was the slow but inexorable organization of final victory in South Africa. The fourth was the entire reorganization of the forces of India. The fifth we are now witnessing—the creation of a strong shaft to drive our steel spear-head already in France into the heart of Germany.

Lord Kitchener will live in history as the maker of armies. Like Carnot, he is an "organizer of victory." He never hurries and he has always reached his goal. This time his goal is Berlin. Just at the moment that the war was breaking out people marvelled to find many who had opposed him in the past eager for his appointment to the War Office. The explanation was very simple. It was not only because he was the best man, the one man who could make the new armies. Far more potent was the feeling that once in the Cabinet, he would never relinquish the task till victory was won, if it took him twenty years. He remembered that in those early days he did not know all we know now. Mr. Asquith had not made his magnificent speeches, and there was a fear in many quarters that the Ministry as a whole might grow faint-hearted if the struggle was a long one. Hence the cry for Lord Kitchener, about whom some things were almost certain, that if he once took his coat off he would never stop fighting till Berlin was as vanquished as Omdurman. We know now that the Minister of the Interior cherishes a like determination, we trust the Cabinet in this matter to the end, and in this crisis we know no politics.

The great achievements of Lord Kitchener in India can be stated in a single sentence. He converted the army of India into a first-class fighting machine, a description which could not have been undeservedly applied to it when he went there. Before his day the army of India was an army of proud traditions, composed of splendid fighting material, but organized upon obsolete conceptions, and in many respects still controlled by the standards framed immediately after the Mutiny. There was no broad view regarding the ultimate purpose for which it was maintained. The authorities had never made up their minds whether the army was primarily intended to preserve order within the frontiers or to repel invasion from without. Its distribution had never been made to conform with the wonderful development of the Indian railway system. Small, isolated cantonments were still maintained all over the country, and in many cases their original object had been almost forgotten. One found straggling detachments garrisoning ancient Indian forts, for no better reason than they had been thus garrisoned a hundred years ago. Even British battalions were sometimes split up into three or four widely separated segments, so that in such a case the regiment never drilled together.

The staff organization was deficient, and English officers in the native army had to come to England for their staff training. There was no efficient mobilization scheme, and the military department only professed to be able to put four divisions in the field at the outbreak of a great war. Supply and transport arrangements were woefully lacking, the medical branch was insufficiently equipped for the field, and India was far from self-sufficient in the matter of the manufacture of warlike stores. For many of these defects the Government of India were not to blame. The existence of defects was recognized, but a series of lean years had prevented reform. Lord Kitchener was fortunate enough to arrive when the exchequer was full.

The first thing he did was to make a thorough examination of the long marches of the North-West frontier. He rode over the borders almost from end to end. Then he made up his mind about what he was aiming at. In those days the Anglo-Russian Convention had not been thought of, and the Indian authorities looked over and anxiously towards the Oxus. He decided that the army of India could no longer be regarded as required for purposes of police, that it must some day face larger duties than the punishment of frontier tribesmen, and that the time might come when it would have to take the field against a powerful European foe. He bent all his energies towards preparing it for that ultimate possibility. We see the result today, although the foe is one whom almost no one dreamed of.

Lord Kitchener's original object was to enable India to send into Afghanistan two formidable armies, one to the line of the Helmand and the other to the heights beyond Kabul, while still keeping enough troops in India to maintain order. Instead of the old scheme of four divisions his new mobilization scheme provided nine infantry divisions of three brigades each, and eight cavalry brigades. Each infantry brigade consisted of two Indian battalions and one British battalion. The old system was to send Indians with each British soldier, and thereby expanded his striking strength. The Russian menace happily vanished while he was still at work, but his work stands good. It had to face the fire of much criticism at the time. Now that his scheme has sent 70,000 troops from India to France, with possibly more to follow. It has survived all attacks, and is amply vindicated.

One of his earlier expeditions caused an immense amount of grumbling in the classic land of the grumbler. He insisted on subjecting every battalion of India to a separate prolonged and quite tremendous examination under service conditions. The "Kitchener test" was loudly condemned, and the newspapers teemed with complaints; but it served to reveal such weaknesses as existed, and when it was all over there was not an officer in India who did not admit its value. The same principle will assuredly be practiced in a modified form with the armies now in process of creation in this country. Whatever be the exigencies, we may be certain that no new regiment will be permitted to go to the front until Lord Kitchener is thoroughly satisfied that it can stand exposure and stand fire. He will not suffer the new line to be thrown away through imperfect training.

The British emergency ration, that is, a ration that each man carries in his knapsack and is supposed only to be eaten if he becomes detached from his comrades and is in danger of starvation, consists of a compressed pea soup. It came into use first in 1878, when an enterprising Englishman supplied the British army during the Afghan War. When Roberts made his famous march to Kandahar his troops were fed almost exclusively upon this pea soup ration, which was so thoroughly concentrated that the German does his tight-fisted food for a whole battalion. It is generally conceded that peas are the best of all food, when the choice is limited to one variety. They are more nutritious than even lean meat, and are a "balanced" ration, that is to say, contain both fuel-producing elements and the protein that makes bone and muscle.

To what extent railroad economies are being practiced, may be judged from the September statement of the Pennsylvania system published today. For the operation of all the lines of this vast system, $2,968,000 less was expended than in September of last year; the saving amounted to more than 10 per cent. Gross earnings declined about 7 per cent. A part of the decline in expenses can be attributed to the lessened call upon the system to move freight and passengers. But also a part—and perhaps the largest part—can be attributed to the decided taste for economy which has been acquired by the railroads this autumn. The taste is a commendable one, and so long as it can be retained without hurt to roadbed or rolling stock it will not be regretted by investors.

WHAT SOLDIERS ON ACTIVE DUTY EAT

(Mail and Empire.) As long as it is possible soldiers on active service eat about the same sort of food as they eat at home, but in larger quantities, and, of course, with keener appetites. They have fresh meat of all kinds, vegetables, even fruit, bread and butter and jam, tea, coffee, candy, and even beer, to say nothing of an occasional "tot" of rum or some other spirit. But few of them are so lucky as to be long at the front before having to fall back upon the specially prepared concentrated foods that each army provides in tremendous quantities. The concentrated rations supplied to the various armies in Europe differ quite as much as do the home and length of their rifles. In fact, each nation pins its faith on a different sort of food, or a different combination of the same foods. The problem of feeding the Japanese is the simplest of all, for the Japanese can live for months and

DOCTOR SAID SHE HAD BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED HER.
 Bright's disease is a term applied to one of the most serious of all diseases of the kidneys, the symptoms of which are often of a severe character. Severe pains in the back appear at first and are followed by disturbances of the urinary organs which show that the urine contains a large amount of albumen. Dropsy is also another forerunner of the dreaded Bright's disease. On the first sign of any kidney trouble you should at once put the kidneys right by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. The pills that cure kidney troubles only.
 Mrs. C. A. Heistand, Mooswa, Alta., writes: "Last May I was taken down sick. The doctor told me I had Bright's disease. My kidneys got so bad I could not rest day or night. The doctor's medicine did not give me any relief. I used four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, and they put me in good shape again."
 Doan's Kidney Pills are the original kidney pill, so when you ask for "Doan's" do not accept any others with similar names.

GOOD TIMES AND WARM SMOKESTACKS

Good times are bound to come back to the world and to this country. But good times don't come by any meandering of fat kine after lean ones. They are not controlled by blind cycles now forecasted by people like Madame Thebes. They are not phantoms that wait for the rise and fall of the real estate booster, they have nothing radically to do with the price of land. They have still less to do with the policy of any government. All the world needs to keep good times all the time, is good crops over most of the world, plenty of people getting what they earn for their labors and the placing of the red god Mars on the retired list. Crops come naturally. The crops of 1914 are on the whole more profitable in this country than in 1913, or any of the fat years of the last decade. We have in this country a larger army of efficient, industrious people than ever we had. We have more factories than ever. We have more railways and steamships. We have all the machinery for keeping the times good without resorting to poetry or legislation or witchcraft. All we need in Canada to keep this machinery operating for our benefit is for the people to stand behind the machinery. The factories of Canada were built primarily to satisfy the home market. They represent capital enough to build Britain's navy three times over. That investment is practically owned by the people of Canada because when it is operating at full strength it maintains good conditions in the country. Slacken up on the smokestacks and you lessen not so much the supply as the demand. The good times that depend on warm smokestacks are entirely in the hands of those who now and hereafter buy goods made in Canada.

On a Pedestal

Those things we value most highly, as symbolizing the best in Art, in Science or in Literature, are fittingly placed upon a pedestal, where we can look up to them.

Figuratively speaking, we also place upon the pedestal of our imagination, those high ideals, those lofty aspirations, by which, in our more thoughtful moments, we would wish to guide our conduct.

Among those guiding principles, why not place upon a pedestal of its own, an ideal that may be better described as "Canada First," rather than "Made in Canada."

The "Made in Canada" movement stands for far more than mere commercial patriotism. Pride of country, pride of national resources, pride of national accomplishment in the realms of literature, art and science, pride of virile citizenship, and pride of national destiny, are all embraced within the broad sweep of this deep seated and soul stirring movement.

Future generations will look back to 1914 as an epoch marking year in Canada's history if you, in common with all her citizens, will only resolve, from this day forward, to be guided by the motto
