

President of French Republic at His Home

M. Clemenceau, President of France, who is here on a visit to England, is shown in his home life, with the members of his family, his secretaries, and representatives of his personal and state staff.

ST. JOHN AS THE PLACE FOR G. T. P. TERMINALS

Mr. Morse's Views as Expressed to St. John Delegation---Members Returned Home Saturday---Well Pleased With Results---Harbor Commission Plan to Go to Council This Week---Further Information as to Aboideau Wanted---Lot Opposite Customs House Now Talked of as Armory Site.

The city delegation which went to Ottawa to discuss with members of the Dominion cabinet some important projects affecting the city, returned to St. John on Saturday. They express themselves as well satisfied with the results achieved. One of the members, in referring to the proposal to pass a bill this season to put the west side of the harbor commission, had done more for the benefit of the city than had been accomplished in twenty years.

One of the principal objects was to discuss with Hon. William Pugsley the extension of South Rodney wharf, the alternative suggestion of the minister that the government should proceed with the development of the city's property below Sand Point.

ST. STEPHEN METHODIST DISTRICT MEETING

St. Stephen, June 10--The Methodist District Meeting convened in the school room of the church at 10 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. The examination of the ministerial character was the first item of business.

BRITAIN PLANS A 21,000-TON BATTLESHIP?

Washington, June 13--According to the London Telegraph, the British admiralty is planning a battleship with heavier armament and greater displacement than any in existence. The St. Vincent, which will be launched in October, 1909, is of 19,500 tons and will cost $5,500,000.

NEW BRUNSWICK YOUNG LADIES PROMINENT

The closing exercises of the Halifax Ladies' College are of more than usual interest this year as it has been one of the most prosperous years in the history of the college from every point of view.

HEAVILY FINED FOR SELLING LIQUOR TO G. T. P. ITALIANS

St. Stephen, June 12--(Special)--On Tuesday last one of the contractors on the G.T.P. construction work laid before Chief of Police Foster information against Baptiste Theriault, of Salmon River, Victoria County, charging him with selling liquor to the Italian workmen. A hearing was held today at Perth before G.T.P. Police Commissioner Hon. L. P. Ferris. Joseph Lorry and Hans Christensen were the witnesses and on their evidence Theriault was proven guilty of seven offences.

Grimmer, in a happy little speech, presented Mr. and Mrs. Baskin with a silver candelabrum, a gift from their friends as a souvenir of the occasion. There were also speeches from Col. Chipman and Mr. Almon Teed, to which Mr. Baskin most happily responded. The evening was greatly enjoyed, the whole affair being made a complete surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Baskin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stevens have returned from a visit in Restigouche County. Mrs. Willard B. King has arrived from New Haven (Conn.) and will spend the summer in Calais. Mr. Edgar G. Beer has returned from a visit to Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wadsworth have arrived from Boston and will spend the summer as it is their usual custom in St. Stephen.

Mr. James Vroom is visiting Boston this week. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Burdette and their daughter, Miss Edith, arrived from San Jose, Costa Rica on Monday and are registered at the Windsor. Mrs. Burdette, and her daughter will remain during the summer but Mr. Burdette returns to San Jose next week.

Mrs. Louisa A. Abbot is another well-known visitor for the summer from the South, arriving from Cuba on Monday after spending the winter there. Mr. Abbot will come to St. Stephen at a later date, business detaining him in Cuba during this month.

Sentator and Mrs. Gilmor, of Montreal, were recent visitors in the city. Miss Rose Brittain has recently graduated from the School of Domestic Science in Boston after a course of several months' study.

The efforts to hold a four days' carnival early in September have been most successful and already arrangements are being made for amusement for the different days.

Mr. William Earp, of St. John, has been the guest for several days of Mrs. O. S. Newham at Christ Church rectory. The reception concert and ball given in the Calais Opera House on Tuesday evening by the Thistle Athletic Association of St. Stephen, was a most brilliant and enjoyable affair.

The efforts to hold a four days' carnival early in September have been most successful and already arrangements are being made for amusement for the different days.

Mr. William Earp, of St. John, has been the guest for several days of Mrs. O. S. Newham at Christ Church rectory. The reception concert and ball given in the Calais Opera House on Tuesday evening by the Thistle Athletic Association of St. Stephen, was a most brilliant and enjoyable affair.

The efforts to hold a four days' carnival early in September have been most successful and already arrangements are being made for amusement for the different days.

Mr. William Earp, of St. John, has been the guest for several days of Mrs. O. S. Newham at Christ Church rectory. The reception concert and ball given in the Calais Opera House on Tuesday evening by the Thistle Athletic Association of St. Stephen, was a most brilliant and enjoyable affair.

The efforts to hold a four days' carnival early in September have been most successful and already arrangements are being made for amusement for the different days.

Mr. William Earp, of St. John, has been the guest for several days of Mrs. O. S. Newham at Christ Church rectory. The reception concert and ball given in the Calais Opera House on Tuesday evening by the Thistle Athletic Association of St. Stephen, was a most brilliant and enjoyable affair.

The efforts to hold a four days' carnival early in September have been most successful and already arrangements are being made for amusement for the different days.

Mr. William Earp, of St. John, has been the guest for several days of Mrs. O. S. Newham at Christ Church rectory. The reception concert and ball given in the Calais Opera House on Tuesday evening by the Thistle Athletic Association of St. Stephen, was a most brilliant and enjoyable affair.

The efforts to hold a four days' carnival early in September have been most successful and already arrangements are being made for amusement for the different days.

Mr. William Earp, of St. John, has been the guest for several days of Mrs. O. S. Newham at Christ Church rectory. The reception concert and ball given in the Calais Opera House on Tuesday evening by the Thistle Athletic Association of St. Stephen, was a most brilliant and enjoyable affair.

The efforts to hold a four days' carnival early in September have been most successful and already arrangements are being made for amusement for the different days.

Mr. William Earp, of St. John, has been the guest for several days of Mrs. O. S. Newham at Christ Church rectory. The reception concert and ball given in the Calais Opera House on Tuesday evening by the Thistle Athletic Association of St. Stephen, was a most brilliant and enjoyable affair.

The efforts to hold a four days' carnival early in September have been most successful and already arrangements are being made for amusement for the different days.

Mr. William Earp, of St. John, has been the guest for several days of Mrs. O. S. Newham at Christ Church rectory. The reception concert and ball given in the Calais Opera House on Tuesday evening by the Thistle Athletic Association of St. Stephen, was a most brilliant and enjoyable affair.

The efforts to hold a four days' carnival early in September have been most successful and already arrangements are being made for amusement for the different days.

Mr. William Earp, of St. John, has been the guest for several days of Mrs. O. S. Newham at Christ Church rectory. The reception concert and ball given in the Calais Opera House on Tuesday evening by the Thistle Athletic Association of St. Stephen, was a most brilliant and enjoyable affair.

The efforts to hold a four days' carnival early in September have been most successful and already arrangements are being made for amusement for the different days.

FREDERICTON

Fredricton, June 11--The event of the week was the garden party on Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Howard Shaw was at home to a large number of her friends. Mrs. Shaw, with her mother, Mrs. Bullock, received her friends on the lawn, where tete-a-tete tables and cosy seats were scattered on rugs under many trees in full bloom, which gave a charming effect to the pretty decorations. Hanlon's orchestra furnished music.

The table for which refreshments were served was prettily decorated in pink and white and was presided over by Mrs. W. C. Crockett and Mrs. W. T. Whitehead. Mrs. Street served ices and Miss Rainsford presided over the fruit punch. Miss Whitehead, Miss Florie Stopford, Miss Stella Sherman, Miss Lenore Allen, Miss Cunningham, Miss Bailey, Miss Cavallini, the Misses Hazen and Miss Jane Rainsford served the guests.

Mrs. McLae of St. John, paid a week's visit to her father, Judge Gregory, returning home on Tuesday. Rev. L. and Miss A. Giles have arrived here from England and are at Brooklands. The guests of Mr. and Mrs. Woodstock, who was the guest of Mrs. W. T. Whitehead, has returned home.

Miss Young Dibble entertained informally at the tea hour on Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Carvell. A double wedding of much interest was solemnized yesterday afternoon at St. Peter's Episcopal church, Springfield, Rev. Canon Montgomery officiated when Miss Beattie L. Murray became the bride of Fred H. Everett, and her sister, Miss Mabel M. Murray was married to Mr. N. Harper of Victoria, B.C. The brides were the daughters of the late Com. J. O. Murray. They were prettily gowned in cream chiffon, with bridal veil, the church was prettily decorated with spring blossoms and was filled with friends and friends of the contracting parties. Mr. and Mrs. Everett and Mr. and Mrs. Harper were left by the five-city train for Niagara Falls and Toronto, and will be absent ten days. Mr. and Mrs. Everett will reside in this city and after returning from their bridal tour Mr. and Mrs. Harper will visit friends here for a few weeks before leaving for their future home in Victoria, B.C.

Mrs. Rennie Murray of St. John is visiting her sister, Mrs. Thos. Colter, having come up to be present at the marriage of her cousin, the Misses Murray. Mr. John Kilburn paid a short visit to St. John this week. Mrs. Rogers of Sussex is visiting Mrs. George Coulthard and meeting with many of her old time friends. A picnic party in honor of Mrs. Rogers, is being held this afternoon on the grounds of old Government house. Mrs. F. B. Edmondson and her family have returned to their summer home, "Cherry Bank," at Springfield and later will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. Ryan of Sackville, who will spend the summer with Miss Wilmut at visiting Dr. and Mrs. Bridges.

Mrs. Massie gave a pleasant bridge on Saturday evening--five tables. The first tennis table of the season will be given on the club grounds on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Law and Mrs. Crompton of St. John, W. C. Crockett entertained the ladies' club on Tuesday evening when Mrs. W. T. Whitehead was prize winner. Mrs. W. T. Whitehead was prize winner. Mrs. W. T. Whitehead was prize winner.

Mrs. and Mrs. Joseph Risten are visiting in Woodstock. Mrs. F. S. Hilyard has returned from New York and is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. John C. Allen. Mr. J. F. VanBuskirk and family have gone to their summer camp on the river "Sunny Crest" for the warm weather. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jones, of St. John, Elizabeth Burnett, wife of James Burnett, died at her home in Kingsclear this morning after a lingering illness, aged 74. Besides a husband, she leaves a family of five sons and one daughter.

Rev. Dr. Harrington, of Yokohama, Japan, who is visiting relatives here, occupied the pulpit of the Brunswick street Baptist church very acceptably this evening. A liberal collection in aid of the Victoria hospital was taken up in all the city churches today. The cricket match yesterday between the soldiers and civilians resulted in victory for the latter. With an inning to spare the score stood 72 to 69 in their favor. Rev. Dean Schofield played with the civilian team and made a good showing. The water in the river has been falling steadily for some days past and will soon be down to ordinary summer level. There was quite a heavy shower of rain this morning which will be of great benefit to the crops.

Mr. and Mrs. Westgate, a returned missionary from East Africa, preached in the Cathedral this morning. The June term of the York circuit court opens Tuesday, Judge Gregory presiding. The value of real estate available for assessment in Fredericton this year is again 755,403 an increase of $4,880 over last year. The assessable personal property is $1,260,704 a decrease of $88,745. The assessable income is $320,328, an increase of $21,382. There are 1733 polls a gain of 73 over last year. The rate of taxation is $1.50 per $100. From banks and insurance companies the city will realize about $5,500. Personal property in the form of bank stock amounting to $300,000 is exempted from taxation.

The 71st York Regiment, Col. Chipman commanding will leave for Camp Sussex on Tuesday, June 23rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Burdette and their three children, were visitors to Hampton on Saturday last, and Mrs. Pickett improved the occasion by visiting old friends and renewing pleasant memories.

Miss Edith Humphrey and Miss Floesie Peters returned from New York on Friday last, making a short break in their journey to visit friends at Newton, Mass. The Rev. Millidge Walker, Mr. Walker and family, have returned to their home at Lakeside, after their spending the months of Winter and Spring at Coconia, Florida.

Mr. Fred M. Sproul, M.P.P., for King's County, on the closing of the legislative session, went to Boston to consult a specialist in regard to his hearing, and returned home on Saturday last, after receiving encouragement to hope that a permanent remedy may be found even if somewhat slow in coming, as no operation was found to be necessary. Mr. Sproul will visit the same specialist again in about six weeks for observation and further treatment. Mrs. F. M. Sproul, who has been visiting her parents at Westfield, N. S., is expected home this week.

Ralph Humphrey spent the last weekend at Hampton. The Rev. E. Evans, D.D., and the Rev. Geo. A. Ross are spending the week so far, in St. John, attending the John's District Meeting of the Methodist Church, which is being held in the Portland street church.

Mr. W. Frank Hatheway, M. P. P., and Mrs. Hatheway, St. John, came up on Saturday, and are guests of River-view Hotel, across the river from Hampton Village. Mrs. Clark of Church Hill, Hampton Station, is spending some weeks pleasantly in a visit to friends in Boston and adjacent cities.

After an absence of six weeks, the Rev. Mr. Anglin will be at home to take his place in his church, St. Paul's Presbytery, in Hampton Village, on Sunday, 21st. He has been on a visit to his old home in Ireland. Miss Edith Humphrey has gone to Onnetta, on a visit to her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Humphrey.

Mrs. M. E. Skillen and a party of ladies came from St. Martin and went to St. John on a visit for a few days. Dr. Pratt from St. John and a number of gentlemen, went out to Henry Lake on Tuesday, fishing.

The Rev. Dean Schofield, wife and children, will spend a part of the week with Mr. and Mrs. E. Allan Schofield, at Allandale. Mr. William Carson, of French Village, met with a very serious accident while sawing timber with a broad axe. He was thrown from the tree and his foot was crushed and he was brought to Hampton to Dr. Wetmore to have it dressed.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Herbert, of Moncton, were in town on Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. John D. Palmer, who were visiting Mrs. Palmer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Jardine, Kouchibouguie, and were present at the marriage of their youngest daughter to Harry E. Lawrence, left last week on their return to Fredericton.

Trustee Lodge, I. O. G. T., was reorganized on Monday evening and elected the following officers--R. W. Beers, C. T. David, Thomson, P. C. T. R. H. Davis, L. D. Alex. Haines, V. T. Flora Atkinson, R. S.; Herbert Halleran, A. S.; Mrs. J. D. McMinn, F. S.; Mrs. R. H. Davis, Treas.; Richmond Munnell, Mar.; Kate Lawson, Chap.; Carrie Munnell, G.; Maggie Halleran, S.; Lizzie Morton, D. M.; Lizzie Irving, Organist.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smallwood returned to their home in Moncton this morning. Mrs. A. H. Ingram and Mrs. H. M. Buckley, who have been visiting friends here returned to their homes in Campbellton and Bathurst.

At the masses in Moncton, by Rev. Mr. McDermott, Robert Keswick, of Base River, was united in marriage to Miss Beatrice McCray of Emmonsport.

Rev. R. H. Staver is spending a few days at his home in Summerside. Mr. George Lampey, who has been visiting her parents in Smith's Corner, returned to her home in Dalouise last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smallwood returned to their home in Moncton this morning. Mrs. A. H. Ingram and Mrs. H. M. Buckley, who have been visiting friends here returned to their homes in Campbellton and Bathurst.

At the masses in Moncton, by Rev. Mr. McDermott, Robert Keswick, of Base River, was united in marriage to Miss Beatrice McCray of Emmonsport.

Rev. R. H. Staver is spending a few days at his home in Summerside. Mr. George Lampey, who has been visiting her parents in Smith's Corner, returned to her home in Dalouise last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smallwood returned to their home in Moncton this morning. Mrs. A. H. Ingram and Mrs. H. M. Buckley, who have been visiting friends here returned to their homes in Campbellton and Bathurst.

WILL USE GAS ENGINES FOR PROPULSION AND MOUNT 13.5 GUNS.

Washington, June 13--According to the London Telegraph, the British admiralty is planning a battleship with heavier armament and greater displacement than any in existence. The St. Vincent, which will be launched in October, 1909, is of 19,500 tons and will cost $5,500,000.

FACTORY INSPECTOR McMULLEN TELLS OF TRIP TO ALBERT COUNTY AND NORTH SHORE.

Factory Inspector John McMullen returned on Friday evening after a week's inspection trip to Albert county and the North Shore. During his absence he visited a large number of mills and reports that on the whole he found very satisfactory. He left here by steamer and first went to Point Wolfe, Albert county. From there he made his way to Alma, West River, Albert Hillboro, and Coverdale. He then took the train for Campbellton and inspected all the mills in that locality. Dalhousie and Base River were also visited and all the mills inspected.

CONDITIONS IN MILLS FOUND SATISFACTORY

Through all the districts he visited, the inspector says he found all the mills safe and had been closed down for repairs. He found some of the mills improved from the standpoint of the safety of the laborers as some of his suggestions under the year before had been adopted. He says the men seemed satisfied with the conditions.

NEW BRUNSWICK YOUNG LADIES PROMINENT

The closing exercises of the Halifax Ladies' College are of more than usual interest this year as it has been one of the most prosperous years in the history of the college from every point of view. The closing exercises will take place in the following order: Friday evening, 10th, Miss Susie Sylvester, of New Glasgow, will give a graduation pianoforte recital. On Saturday evening a graduation elocution recital will be given by Miss Jennie Irving, of Buctouche (N. B.); Miss Nina Murray, of Chatham (N. B.); and Miss Amy Witter, of Dartmouth (N. S.). The anniversary sermon will be preached by Rev. George Wood, of Chatham, on Sunday morning in St. Matthew's Church. On Monday evening Miss Mary B. Stewart, of Andover (N. B.), will give a vocal graduation recital. Miss Stewart is a fine vocalist and has received excellent training. She has already been appointed to the staff of the conservatory and will enter on her duties next September. On Tuesday evening, 10th, there will be a general musical recital and on Wednesday afternoon the commencement exercises will be held.

HEAVILY FINED FOR SELLING LIQUOR TO G. T. P. ITALIANS

St. Stephen, June 12--(Special)--On Tuesday last one of the contractors on the G.T.P. construction work laid before Chief of Police Foster information against Baptiste Theriault, of Salmon River, Victoria County, charging him with selling liquor to the Italian workmen. A hearing was held today at Perth before G.T.P. Police Commissioner Hon. L. P. Ferris. Joseph Lorry and Hans Christensen were the witnesses and on their evidence Theriault was proven guilty of seven offences. Commissioner Ferris fined him $80 or three months for each offence. The case was ordered to be destroyed. Hon. W. P. Jones, K.C., prosecuted. The chief work of the new G.T.P. police is to prevent the sale of liquor in the construction camps and it is hoped that the firm manner in which Commissioner Ferris has handled this the first case of the kind, will have a wholesome effect.

HAMPTON

Hampton, Kings Co., June 10--Alderman H. H. Pickett, and his wife, and their three children, were visitors to Hampton on Saturday last, and Mrs. Pickett improved the occasion by visiting old friends and renewing pleasant memories.

Miss Edith Humphrey and Miss Floesie Peters returned from New York on Friday last, making a short break in their journey to visit friends at Newton, Mass. The Rev. Millidge Walker, Mr. Walker and family, have returned to their home at Lakeside, after their spending the months of Winter and Spring at Coconia, Florida.

Mr. Fred M. Sproul, M.P.P., for King's County, on the closing of the legislative session, went to Boston to consult a specialist in regard to his hearing, and returned home on Saturday last, after receiving encouragement to hope that a permanent remedy may be found even if somewhat slow in coming, as no operation was found to be necessary. Mr. Sproul will visit the same specialist again in about six weeks for observation and further treatment. Mrs. F. M. Sproul, who has been visiting her parents at Westfield, N. S., is expected home this week.

Ralph Humphrey spent the last weekend at Hampton. The Rev. E. Evans, D.D., and the Rev. Geo. A. Ross are spending the week so far, in St. John, attending the John's District Meeting of the Methodist Church, which is being held in the Portland street church.

Mr. W. Frank Hatheway, M. P. P., and Mrs. Hatheway, St. John, came up on Saturday, and are guests of River-view Hotel, across the river from Hampton Village. Mrs. Clark of Church Hill, Hampton Station, is spending some weeks pleasantly in a visit to friends in Boston and adjacent cities.

After an absence of six weeks, the Rev. Mr. Anglin will be at home to take his place in his church, St. Paul's Presbytery, in Hampton Village, on Sunday, 21st. He has been on a visit to his old home in Ireland. Miss Edith Humphrey has gone to Onnetta, on a visit to her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Humphrey.

Mrs. M. E. Skillen and a party of ladies came from St. Martin and went to St. John on a visit for a few days. Dr. Pratt from St. John and a number of gentlemen, went out to Henry Lake on Tuesday, fishing.

The Rev. Dean Schofield, wife and children, will spend a part of the week with Mr. and Mrs. E. Allan Schofield, at Allandale. Mr. William Carson, of French Village, met with a very serious accident while sawing timber with a broad axe. He was thrown from the tree and his foot was crushed and he was brought to Hampton to Dr. Wetmore to have it dressed.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Herbert, of Moncton, were in town on Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. John D. Palmer, who were visiting Mrs. Palmer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Jardine, Kouchibouguie, and were present at the marriage of their youngest daughter to Harry E. Lawrence, left last week on their return to Fredericton.

Trustee Lodge, I. O. G. T., was reorganized on Monday evening and elected the following officers--R. W. Beers, C. T. David, Thomson, P. C. T. R. H. Davis, L. D. Alex. Haines, V. T. Flora Atkinson, R. S.; Herbert Halleran, A. S.; Mrs. J. D. McMinn, F. S.; Mrs. R. H. Davis, Treas.; Richmond Munnell, Mar.; Kate Lawson, Chap.; Carrie Munnell, G.; Maggie Halleran, S.; Lizzie Morton, D. M.; Lizzie Irving, Organist.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smallwood returned to their home in Moncton this morning. Mrs. A. H. Ingram and Mrs. H. M. Buckley, who have been visiting friends here returned to their homes in Campbellton and Bathurst.

At the masses in Moncton, by Rev. Mr. McDermott, Robert Keswick, of Base River, was united in marriage to Miss Beatrice McCray of Emmonsport.

Rev. R. H. Staver is spending a few days at his home in Summerside. Mr. George Lampey, who has been visiting her parents in Smith's Corner, returned to her home in Dalouise last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smallwood returned to their home in Moncton this morning. Mrs. A. H. Ingram and Mrs. H. M. Buckley, who have been visiting friends here returned to their homes in Campbellton and Bathurst.

At the masses in Moncton, by Rev. Mr. McDermott, Robert Keswick, of Base River, was united in marriage to Miss Beatrice McCray of Emmonsport.

Rev. R. H. Staver is spending a few days at his home in Summerside. Mr. George Lampey, who has been visiting her parents in Smith's Corner, returned to her home in Dalouise last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smallwood returned to their home in Moncton this morning. Mrs. A. H. Ingram and Mrs. H. M. Buckley, who have been visiting friends here returned to their homes in Campbellton and Bathurst.

At the masses in Moncton, by Rev. Mr. McDermott, Robert Keswick, of Base River, was united in marriage to Miss Beatrice McCray of Emmonsport.

Rev. R. H. Staver is spending a few days at his home in Summerside. Mr. George Lampey, who has been visiting her parents in Smith's Corner, returned to her home in Dalouise last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smallwood returned to their home in Moncton this morning. Mrs. A. H. Ingram and Mrs. H. M. Buckley, who have been visiting friends here returned to their homes in Campbellton and Bathurst.

At the masses in Moncton, by Rev. Mr. McDermott, Robert Keswick, of Base River, was united in marriage to Miss Beatrice McCray of Emmonsport.

Rev. R. H. Staver is spending a few days at his home in Summerside. Mr. George Lampey, who has been visiting her parents in Smith's Corner, returned to her home in Dalouise last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smallwood returned to their home in Moncton this morning. Mrs. A. H. Ingram and Mrs. H. M. Buckley, who have been visiting friends here returned to their homes in Campbellton and Bathurst.

At the masses in Moncton, by Rev. Mr. McDermott, Robert Keswick, of Base River, was united in marriage to Miss Beatrice McCray of Emmonsport.

Rev. R. H. Staver is spending a few days at his home in Summerside. Mr. George Lampey, who has been visiting her parents in Smith's Corner, returned to her home in Dalouise last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smallwood returned to their home in Moncton this morning. Mrs. A. H. Ingram and Mrs. H. M. Buckley, who have been visiting friends here returned to their homes in Campbellton and Bathurst.

At the masses in Moncton, by Rev. Mr. McDermott, Robert Keswick, of Base River, was united in marriage to Miss Beatrice McCray of Emmonsport.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TELEGRAPH

The semi-weekly telegraph is issued every Wednesday and Saturday by the Telegraph Publishing Company, of the Legislature of New Brunswick.

ADVERTISING RATES
Ordinary commercial advertisements taking the run of the paper, each insertion, 25c per inch.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
Sent by Mail to any address in Canada at One Dollar a year, sent by mail to any address in United States at Two Dollars a year.

IMPORTANT NOTICE
All remittances must be sent by post office order or registered letter, and addressed to The Telegraph Publishing Company.

AUTHORIZED AGENT
The following agent is authorized to canvass and collect for The Semi-Weekly Telegraph, viz:

Wm. Somerville
Semi-Weekly Telegraph
ST. JOHN, N. B., JUNE 17, 1903.

MATTERS POLITICAL

Conservative members at Ottawa are engaged in unusually active speculation as to the date and result of the Federal elections. The Quebec and Ontario contests have less additional interest to talk of this year, and there is, moreover, a growing conviction that the session will not last much longer. Many Conservatives predict that the government will go to the country in August or September. When it is pointed out that another session is not only possible but that there are considerations which would seem to render it desirable from the administration standpoint, the Conservatives shake their heads and speak of the coming autumn as pretty certain to bring the contest. As for the outlook, there is no doubt that recent events have given the opposition members considerable confidence and raised their fighting spirit to a degree which will have its effect when they return to their constituencies. The result of the provincial elections in March last, followed by the loss of such a sweeping victory, is quoted as indicating a marked loss of popular sympathy with the government at Ottawa. It is argued that the Conservatives will be able to win at least a handful of seats in Nova Scotia, improve their position in New Brunswick and carry from twenty to thirty seats in Quebec. The contest the other day in Quebec did not give the Conservatives quite as many seats as they had hoped to win, but the gain was encouraging in view of the conditions, among which was the fact that the LeBlanc forces had not money enough to pay the ordinary expenses of organization. It has been said that Mr. Bourassa would assist the Liberals in the Federal elections, but some of his recent speeches had led Conservatives to believe that he has definitely cut loose from Sir Wilfrid. At one meeting he directed some very pointed remarks to Hon. Messrs. Lemieux and Broussard, telling them that his turn with them would come before long and that they would find he would make good use of it. He charged them with assailing and misrepresenting him, and his speech was interpreted as a clear threat to take his revenge when the general election came. This is the more significant because of the great strength Mr. Bourassa developed in the provincial contest. The reception accorded him in Montreal after the returns came in was a tremendous popular ovation. Some who saw the crowds and marked their enthusiasm, assert that there has been nothing of the sort to equal it in Montreal in a generation.

The Ottawa Citizen, in an interesting article dealing with Federal prospects, the light of the recent provincial contests, has this to say, in part:
"Four years ago the Conservative party held power in only one small province. Today it controls the administration of four provinces and on Monday a notable increase was made in re-establishing Conservatism in the Liberal stronghold of Quebec. On the first of Nov. last, of the 24 seats in the Dominion House, the Liberal party held 138, giving it a clear majority of sixty-two. At the next election there will be seven seats in Saskatchewan and three in Alberta, making a total of 221. Counting Mr. Bourassa and Mr. Lavigne as opposition members, and Mr. Thompson, of the Yukon, having formally announced his adherence to Mr. Borden, the relative position of the government and opposition by provinces on Nov. 1st, were as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Province and Seats. Ontario: 82, Quebec: 52, Nova Scotia: 13, New Brunswick: 8, Manitoba: 5, Saskatchewan: 7, Alberta: 3, British Columbia: 1, Prince Edward Island: 1, Yukon: 1.

"In view of the tremendous political change in Ontario, it is not unreasonable to expect a turnover of ten seats at the next Dominion election; neither is it unreasonable to expect a similar gain in Quebec with the forces now at work there. Out of eighteen seats in Nova Scotia it is not too optimistic to expect five in view of the general trend of public sentiment as evinced at the recent New Brunswick elections; and in the latter province the Conservatives should at least break even. At present British Columbia has a solid representation in the Dominion of seven Liberals; it has since gone Conservative provincially, and, in view of the recent conflict of authority between the Federal government and the province, the statement is freely made that British Columbia will not return a single supporter of the Liberal government at the next Federal election. Should that be the case, the Conservative party would have a majority of six, provided it held its own in Prince Edward Island, and exclusive of the three Northwest provinces. At present the Liberals stand fourteen to six in favor of the Liberals, and seven more seats will be added to this representation, making a total of twenty-seven to be divided between the parties as the event shall befall. There is no reason to believe that the government has strengthened itself in the Northwest by its corrupt dealings with public lands and timber limits, and even if the Conservative party should only break even in the three Northwest provinces, it would have a working majority which, in the natural course of events would be rapidly augmented. The support of the present Laurier government is such that if it once commences to dwindle it will melt away rapidly. It is also idle to minimize the fact that the prospect of installing a government at Ottawa which will not be altogether dependent upon a solid Quebec will have a strong influence upon the attitude of the people of the other provinces irrespective of their normal political leanings.

A BENEFICENT SCHEME

In proposing, in an article in the Columbia Quarterly, the creation of a school of sanitary science and preventive medicine in connection with Columbia University, Dr. Norman E. Ditman presents some considerations that are of great importance in relation to the situation of the United States. He first points out that one-third of the human beings born alive die before the age of five years; that over a million persons die every year of tuberculosis; that pneumonia kills over a hundred thousand people every year in the United States; that twenty-five thousand each year needlessly become blind; and that plague, smallpox, fever and cholera cause an enormous number of deaths, while half a million are crippled every year in the United States by preventable accidents. Dr. Ditman contends that enormous benefit would result from the establishment of the proposed school in connection with Columbia University, which already has a school of law, the school of philanthropy, Barnard College, the Teachers College, and the College of Physicians and Surgeons, with its numerous clinics and hospital connections. The situation of these departments in the heart of a city of the type of New York would also operate effectively in providing opportunity for the study of social and industrial conditions. He points out that opportunity would be offered to classes to inspect existing city departments pertaining to health problems and to observe conditions which require improvement. For the increased efficiency which is stimulated by such class inspection would be of benefit to the public when directed toward such subjects as: Municipal departments of water supply, sewage and refuse disposal, street cleaning and health departments; tenement houses, sweatshops, slaughter houses, dairies, markets and water sheds; offensive trades and dangerous occupations; child labor and factories. In connection with hospital laboratories, health boards, etc., research should be instituted into the features of preventable disease, and such subjects as the investigation and preparation of antitoxins, vaccines, etc., for the prevention and cure of disease; also investigation of such subjects as the efficiency of filtration and disinfection methods. Fellowships should be founded, the holders of which, by availing themselves of material from institutions such as the Sage Foundation, the Rockefeller Institute, health boards, etc., should strive to solve such problems as the following:

- "The best methods for the prevention of alcoholism, preventable accidents, venereal diseases, insanity and social conditions causing disease (child labor, etc.).
- "The collection of social and vital statistics for specific purposes.
- "Relations between varieties of food and disease.
- "Results obtained by the use of pasteurized milk, immunization by vaccination and antitoxin administration, seashore and mountain hospitals, etc.
- "Utilization of sewage for commercial purposes.
- "Methods of garbage disposal.
- "Modes of transmission of contagious diseases.
- "Study of epidemics and their causes."

THE PORT AND THE GOVERNMENT

No great wave of emotion will sweep over the city because of the news that delegates from the Common Council and the Minister of Public Works have agreed upon a plan for the development of this port, which plan is subject to confirmation by the Dominion government on the one hand and the Common Council on the other. If any taxpayer's pulse were unduly accelerated by the tentative programme of port extension, it would be easy to recall matters whose memory should restore his wonted calm. The drill shed receives fresh mention in connection with the civic delegation's visit. The drill shed was damaged before the eyes of the electors here before a former Federal election. The statements made at that time concerning it were specific and positive; yet once the elections were over the urgent necessity for a drill shed no longer appealed to the politicians. The speeding years brought no closer approach to a fever for construction than sundry unprofitable disputes over the site. Even talk about the site languished, and the drill shed became a mere unsubstantial election promise. Very likely its walls are now to be reconstructed by vote-seeking orators, for another election approaches. This time the government should build the army before election day. Seeing is believing. If one of Sir Frederick Borden's relatives were to secure an option on some suitable drill shed site in St. John we should be disposed to regard the first essential step as having been taken.

And the harbor plans outlined at Ottawa are about as old as the drill shed question. The government would have taken a long step toward the proper development of the Winter Port if it had carried out the recommendations of the National Transportation Commission. That commission, appointed by the present government, urged extensive improvements here several years ago. Its report was not acted upon. The matter was ignored almost wholly. It may be assumed that the approach of the Federal

PEACE THE THEME OF KING EDWARD AND CZAR AT REVAL

THE TSARITSA. THE KING'S YACHT, VICTORIA, AND ALBERT. QUEEN ALEXANDRA.

Reval, June 11.—The texts of the toasts exchanged between the King and the Emperor have just been published. The two sovereigns mutually expressed the wish that the meeting would draw the two countries closer together and promote the peace of the world. King Edward intimated that this meeting in Russia would be followed soon by a visit of the Russian Emperor and his wife to England. King Edward appointed Emperor Nicholas an admiral of the British fleet.

The toasts were textually as follows: "It is with feelings of the deepest satisfaction and pleasure," said Emperor Nicholas, "that I welcome your majesty and your majesty's queen to Russian waters. I trust that this meeting, while reserving the many and strong ties which unite our houses, will have the happy result of drawing our countries closer together and promoting the peace of the world. "In the course of the foregoing year several questions of equal moment to both Russia and Great Britain have been satisfactorily settled by our governments. I am certain that your majesty appreciates as highly as I do the value of these agreements for notwithstanding their limited scope, they cannot help spreading among our two countries feelings of mutual good will and confidence. I drink to the health of your majesty, to the health of her majesty the Queen, to the prosperity of your family, and that of the British nation."

In his reply King Edward made use of the following words: "I thank your majesty most heartily on behalf of the Queen and myself for the cordial manner in which you have welcomed us to the waters of the Baltic and for the affectionate words in which you have proposed our health. I have the happiest recollections of the welcome which I received on the occasion of my previous visits to Russia at the hands of your illustrious grandfather, your beloved father and yourself, and it is a source of the sincerest gratification to me to have this opportunity of meeting your majesties again. "I most heartily endorse every word that has fallen from your majesty's lips regarding the convention recently concluded between our two governments. I believe it will serve to knit more closely the bonds that unite our people and our two countries, and I am certain that it will conduce to a satisfactory settlement in an amicable manner of some momentous questions in the future. I am convinced that it will not only tend to draw our two countries more closely together, but that it will help very greatly in the maintenance of the general peace of the world. "I hope this meeting may be followed before long by another opportunity of our meeting your majesties. I drink to the health of your majesty, to that of the Dowager Empress Marie Feodorovna, and the members of the imperial family, and above all to the welfare and prosperity of your great Empire."

that he is now recognized as a leading figure in the Unionist forces. The fact that the Standard gives him the rank it does in the passage quoted is striking evidence of the place he has won by merit in the estimation of his party in the United Kingdom. The Standard's report and comment upon the debate is filled with passages which should make pleasant reading in Mr. Law's native province. We quote a part of the article:

"Unemotional, but with swiftness of delivery and with never recourse to a note, except to quote an opponent, Mr. Law poured into the ministry the shot of deadly argument. He had a full house, closely knit in attention. He showed how, with a reduced revenue from sugar, owing to the lowering of the tax, a smaller return from income-tax, owing to bad trade, and the necessity to provide for old age pensions, the Chancellor of the Exchequer would next year be faced with a deficit of something like seven million sterling. But no indication had been given by the government how they proposed to meet their liabilities. He easily demonstrated how Mr. Asquith had vacillated. The nervousness which led him to introduce this year a popular, rather than a sound budget was induced by the recent by-elections. Further, he reminded the House of Mr. Asquith's promise that the strength of our navy must be kept proportionately ahead of the German navy, and, knowing the German naval programme, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction would have to be faced next year. Yet last night Mr. Lloyd-George talked about reductions in armaments. 'If,' said Mr. Bonar Law with seriousness, 'the views of the government are represented by the Chancellor of the Exchequer the country is in the gravest danger. But if the views of the Prime Minister represent the government, then the applause of his followers below would be talking about reductions in armaments, the expenditure of millions on construction

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE

The leafy month of June seems to be more particularly adapted to bridal festivities than any other of the year. Ideal weather favored all the weddings last week and according to the old adage, the brides must have been a happy group...

Mrs. Edward Schmidt has gone to Boston to visit Mr. and Miss Fennell. She will return to St. John accompanied by Miss Helen Purling, in about a fortnight...

the beauty of the floral display, promises this season to be quite up to former records. Miss Katie Hazen with Miss Tibbets, spent a "honeymoon" at the cottage...

PRINCE OF MONACO'S MADNESS HELPS PAY FOR 200 SUICIDES A YEAR

His Income of a Million Dollars a Year Comes Chiefly from the Losses of Gamblers at Monte Carlo, and Although the Fate That Has Overtaken Him Looks Like a Nemesis, it is Said That He Has Never Troubled Himself at All About the Tragedies at the Beautiful Plague Spot on The Riviera.

Copyright in the United States and Great Britain by Curtis Brown. (All Rights Reserved.) Niece, June 2-It seems like an act of Nemesis that Prince Albert of Monaco, ruler of Monte Carlo, should be suffering from insanity after being connected all these years with the gambling resort...

Out of the $1,000,000 a Year Which the Prince Receives from the Gambling Tables He Lives Like a Monarch—His Palace and Castle is on the Promontory Overlooking the Town of Monaco.

TORONTO MAN, SWEEP OVER NIAGARA FALLS, TELLS HOW IT FEELS

Toronto, Ont., June 12.—Swept over the highest point of the Niagara Falls and alive to tell the tale, will ever be the proud boast of David Hutton, 36 Niagara street, and his many friends are strong in their belief that the young man has a charmed life.

gins, Paris, immediately after a trip to Monte Carlo. He was a young law student with a "license" offered Kardos $200 to continue the play, and this he also took. Kardos had played this money with the utmost care, but the turn of the wheel so, piece after piece, and he had seen it rising from his seat, he placed the barrel of a revolver in his mouth and fired. His body fell across a French woman sitting next to him. She fainted, and a terrible scene of panic followed.

There is a grim little graveyard just at the foot of the mountains which borders Monaco on the north, and it is here that one can count hundreds of the victims of the plague. Little effort is made to communicate with relatives or friends in these cases, and every possible attempt is made to keep the public from obtaining information. A few months ago a young Russian shot himself on the very steps of the Casino, but so quickly was all trace of the crime obliterated that five minutes afterwards persons passed in and out of the Casino, walking light-heartedly...

SKULL FRACTURED Theodore Fraser Struck by Deal in Carleton on Saturday.

Theodore Fraser, of Market Place, Carleton, had his skull fractured by a deal on Clark & Adams' wharf last Saturday afternoon. A large deal was being nailed up the side of the wharf and it fell striking Mr. Fraser on the head. He was taken to the hospital where it was found that he had a fractured skull.

REPLY TO "A FORESTER" To the Editor of The Telegraph:

Mr.—A letter is published in the issue of your paper dated June 16th, signed "A Forester," which contains statements which I think call for comment. It is the opinion of the editor that any man who undertakes to give to the public such views as are set out in the above letter, should sign the same with his own name. I would not enter into a discussion with an anonymous correspondent and will therefore say that I would ignore any reference to my letter by other than the name of "Forester" in himself to sign his name to whatever he writes.

LATEST PHOTO OF PRINCE ALBERT OF MONACO. Principal Recipient of the Losses of Gamblers at Monte Carlo Now Suffering from Insanity to Which His Tables Have Devised Thousands of Dollars.

The entire financial strength of the company could not hush up the Goold affair, and already the attendance at Monte Carlo has begun to drop off.

HEARST GAINS VERY LITTLE IN RECOUNT

New York, June 12.—The examination of ballot boxes today in the recount of the disputed majority section of 136, showed gains for William B. Hearst of 23 votes. Hearst has so far gained 228 votes. There are 659 ballot boxes to be examined and the recount of the boxes will be known about the end of the month.

PRINCE ALBERT OF MONACO

