R. K. TRACEY, M.L.A. GETS INFORMATION

Government Plans to Supply Electric Current to Carleton Co. Villages From Bridgewater—Cost of Bath Bridge.

Answer to Inquiry No. 7 Tuesday, April 5.

By Mr. Tracey.

Q. 1. Has application been made to the Government during the year 1921 by any persons or corporations for the right to use the highways of the Province for the construction of a pole line to carry electricity from Andover in the County of Victoria, through Bath, Bristol, Florenceville and Hartland, and thence to Woodstock?

Ans. Yes.

Q. 2. Has the said application been granted by the Government?

Ans. No.

Q. 3. If not, why not?

Ans. Answered by No. 4.

Q. 4. If the Government has refused, has it any policy or program in view by which the towns and villages along the St. John River south of Andover not now supplied with electric current may obtain the same?

Ans. The New Brunswick Electric Power Commission are considering a plan to provide light and power for the towns mentioned by purchasing electric current from the Maine and New Brunswick Electric Power Company at some point on their lines, probably at Bridgewater, Maine, and build a transmission line across to Florenceville, thence up and down the St. John River Valley to the several towns above mentioned. Before such work is undertaken it will be necessary to make a canvass to ascertain whether sufficient revenue can be obtained to pay interest and overhead expenses at a reasonable price to the consumers, such transmission line would be a link in the Government's proposed power system.

Reply to Notice of Enquiry, No. 21, Wednesday, April 13.

By Mr. Tracey.

Q. 1. Has the Department of Public Works completed soundings for the foundation of a bridge across the St. John River at or near Bath, in the County of Carleton?

Q. 2. If such work has been completed, can the Hon. Minister of Public Works give the estimate cost of such bridge?

Ans. A survey, including soundings for the proposed Bath bridge over the St. John river, purchase of Kent and Wicklow was completed during the early part of the year 1920. While the field survey and soundings have been completed, there has been no detail, even of a preliminary nature, of the design of the work advanced to date that would enable one to make any near approximate estimate therewith.

The ledge rock foundation bed to build upon has been found to be by the soundings, reasonably near the river bed surface, approximately some 10 feet below the same, yet such a structure as this in such a river as the St. John, embracing a possible length of some 1000 feet of bridge work with roadway surface, possibly some 70 feet above the ledge rock foundation bed, would easily amount up to a cost of some several hundred thousand dollars.

MRS. ROBERT J. POTTS

The community was shocked on Wednesday evening when the news was given out that Mrs. Robert J. Potts had passed away. While it was known she was critically ill her many friends hoped for a favorable turn to the last. But after ten days' desperate illness from pleuro-pneumonia she succumbed at 6 o'clock on the evening mentioned.

Mrs. Potts was a daughter of the late Ezra and Anne Barnes and was born 42 years ago at Bass River, Kent county. She is survived by her husband, Robert J. Potts, to whom the sympathy of a wide circle of friends goes out. Other relatives are a brother, William T. Keswick of Bass River; a sister, Henry Fyne of Fitchburg, Mass.; while other near relatives are H. D. Keswick of Fort Kent, Mrs. W. E. Spike of Andover, Mrs. Charles Olsen of Fitchburg and numerous others.

The late Mrs. Potts was a devoted member of the Presbyterian church and a faithful supporter and worshipper at Hartland Methodist church. A woman of sterling qualities, beloved by a large circle of friends, she lived a life as Christ commanded His followers, "not letting the right hand know what the left hand doeth" in many lines of charitable work.

Mr. and Mrs. Potts came to Hartland from Fredericton about fourteen years ago and have resided here ever since. The funeral services were conducted from the home on Sunday afternoon by Rev. N. Franchette, late rector of Holy Trinity, assisted by Rev. W. P. Haigh (Anglican) and Rev. E. A. Trites (Baptist), and were largely attended. A selected choir sang "Asleep in Jesus," "By the Way of the Cross," and "Gathering Homeward Ours by One." Among many beautiful floral tributes were a pillow (R. J. DR. I. B. CURTIS IS NO MORE

Well-Known Practitioner Dies on Sunday After Long Illness

Dr. I. B. Curtis died at his residence, Maple street, at 1 a.m. on Sunday morning after several years of ailment and more than a year of almost complete helplessness. He was able to be out up to about two months before the last few weeks he hovered between life and death. No earthly aid could save him. Although daily expected for a long time the news of his death cast a pall of sorrow over the town, as for 30 years he was a faithful practitioner and friend to humanity.

Dr. Curtis was born at Plymouth, Me., on Nov. 4, 1860, and came to New Brunswick when three years of age. Graduated from the Provincial Normal School, he taught for a number of years, and came from McGill University with the degree of M. D., C. M. in 1896. He commenced his medical practice at Hartland and was active for 30 years. He is survived by one brother, William W. of Hartland. Early in life he married Almada J., daughter of W. A. Hayward, and besides his widow he leaves one son, Arthur B., of Hartland Drug Co., and two daughters, Mrs. R. W. Cameron of Hartland and Mrs. B. O. Kinney of Mars Hill.

The funeral on Monday was attended by practically the whole town and countryside, very many not being able to secure entrance to the church. His pastor, Rev. E. A. Trites, conducted the service and preached, while all the resident clergymen, Revs. N. Franchette and W. P. Haigh (Anglican) and Revs. H. C. Mullin and C. N. Barton (Baptist) took parts of the service. The burial service was in the solemn and beautiful Masonic ritual, when many of his brothers in Carleton Lodge No. 35, A. F. & A. M., tenderly laid him to rest.

There were a large number of floral tributes, among them being a pillow and cut flowers by the family, Masonic Emblem by the Masons, cressent, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Keith and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Keith; cross, U. B. church; cressent and pedestal, R. J. Potts; carnations, A. F. Campbell and family, Mrs. Jarvis Day and family; wreath, R. A. Hall and G. Murray McLeod; lilies and carnations, Misses Lydie Reid, Martha McCallum, Sara Currie, Marion Stevens and Mrs. Howard Adams; carnations, Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Main (St. Stephen); roses, Dr. and Mrs. G. N. Belyse; carnations, J. E. McCollom and family and Mrs. Moses Taylor. The pall bearers were A. B. Cameron (son-in-law), C. E. Hayward, Harold Montgomery (brother-in-law) and Dr. W. R. Currie. The music by a selected choir, was impressive.

All places of business and the schools were closed during the time of the funeral.

DAME PETER LAMARRE

Pointe St. Pierre, P. Q.
"I think it my duty to tell you how much your medicine has done for me. I suffered for three years with terrible Eczema. I consulted several doctors and they did not do me any good. Then, I used one box of 'Sootha-Salva' and two boxes of 'Fruit-a-lives' and my hands are now clear. The pain is gone and there has been no return. I think it is a marvellous cure because no other medicine did me any good and I tried all the remedies I ever heard of, without benefit until I used 'Sootha-Salva' and 'Fruit-a-lives'."

'Fruit-a-lives' cooled the blood and removed the cause of the disease, and 'Sootha-Salva' completed the cure."

Tells Remarkable Story of Sickness and Recovery.

Toronto, Ont.—"I suffered greatly from weakness, seemed to be tired all the time, and had no ambition to do anything or go any place. My nerves were in bad shape. THE OBSERVER

HARTLAND, N. B., APRIL 21, 1921.

DR. CURTIS

Dr. Curtis is dead. The news is epochal in the history of our little town. A truly good, and, as compared with things hereabout, a truly great man has passed, and we all bow in sorrow and mingle our tears with the tears of those most intimate ones to whom he was dearest and best. Only just around the 60th milestone, he died utterly worn out in service to his fellowman, and "greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for his friends." Although dead in the flesh the Doctor's spirit will long live among us. During 30 long years of practice, in the storms of winter, the westerling heat of summer, at midnight, early in the morning or at noon, whether next door or to the remotest reaches of the hinterland, Dr. Curtis invariably responded to the call of the sick. And rich man, poor man, all were ministered to alike—but the poor claimed the most from him.

In affairs of the town Dr. Curtis was always interested. He served for years as a Commissioner of the old Fire and Water Corporation, and in all public, as well as in every matter, his even, level-headed judgment stood out conspicuously. Never an extremist, he held his convictions firmly, but with that evenness of temper and quiet dignity that brought him respect and admiration, even from those whose ideas were opposite to his own. For many years he served as Chairman of the County Board of Health, and always most acceptably to those directly interested. When a little more than two years ago the influenza epidemic ravaged the country, Dr. Curtis, forbidden on the advice of expert medical men to engage in any arduous work, was constant day and night in his ministrations, and he gave his life to his fellowmen.

It is all to his credit, and quite his due, to recount in brief his early struggles. Orphaned early in life, he ventured alone in the world, and at a time in the country's history when poverty was the chief asset of most. His livelihood was precariously gained in his youthful days, but he gained the lust of knowledge was strong within him, and as yet he had never gone to school. To "work for his board and go to school" was the experience of many of his generation, and at seventeen his opportunity came in the home of the late Howells Corbett of Lakeville. He attended school for three successive terms, to a third class female teacher, and then went to Normal school and was graduated with a second class license. Never to school before he was seventeen, he was a teacher at nineteen—and he taught, and taught well and with understanding. Soon his health weakened and he and his brother went to Montana where they worked at mining. Returning he again resumed school teaching, in better health, and at twenty-five he entered McGill Medical College, from which he graduated in 1890, at the age of thirty. He at once opened practice in Hartland, and his course since then is familiar to us all.

A FIRE DEPARTMENT

Not since Hartland became incorporated as a town has there been a regularly organized fire department. In fact the old fire company had been rather in a state of disorganization for some time. Yet J. W. Montgomery was the recognized chief and there was a way in which the fire-fighters were paid a nominal fee for their services whenever there was a fire. As a fire-chief Mr. Montgomery had behind him long experience in a corps that was second to none in the province at the time he belonged to it. In every conflagration the village had he worked willingly and with every ounce of energy that was in him, and, withal, he showed rare good judgment. The man knows how to fight a fire. After incorporation the town had no appointed fire-chief until at the special meeting on Monday evening when an appointment was made—and the new chief is not Jim Montgomery. No one has anything against the new appointee as a worthy and energetic young man, and when the big fire comes he may win laurels, but the feeling is about town that the best available man was not chosen, and when the town is again threatened, as it has been in the past, the best will be cheap at any price.

OFFICE ASSISTANT WANTED

The Observer wishes to secure a young woman to qualify as an assistant to the manager. She must be well equipped with common sense, have a real aim in life, and need the money she will earn. Education equivalent to eighth grade standard is essential and a knowledge of typewriting and previous experience in a business office will be in her favor. A girl who already has had experience as a typewriter would be chosen in preference to others, as, while she may not be required to set type, she will have a fair working knowledge of newspaper office routine to start with. Applications will be considered only from girls who are earnest and determined to succeed in the business, whose minds can be concentrated on today's work rather than this evening's fun. In long years of experience we have found that the average girl becomes really useful after two years experience. But living wages start earlier than that. It is not expected that the office will be over-run with applications—but we want only one, the right one, and we want her to start work next Monday morning. Apply in person; don't write.

BODY OF UNKNOWN BOY IN THE RIVER

The body of an unknown boy of about nine or ten years of age has been found washed up on the bank of the Aroostook river. Practically all of the hair was gone off the head and face was all worn away. It is thought that he body came over the Aroostook Falls this spring and that it may be that of a young lad who was drowned at Stevensville, Me., last fall. Stevensville is on the Aroostook river between Caribou and Port Fairfield.

GEORGE RITCHIE

The death of George Ritchie, on March 20, at Minneapolis, came as a great surprise and shock to his many relatives residing at Greenfield. Earlier in the month of March his brother received word that George was going to a hospital for a minor operation and that he was contemplating coming home to Greenfield to recuperate. From such news his friends were expecting soon to see him. But, alas! man proposes, but God disposes.

Great was the consternation of all when on March 12 word was received to the effect that another operation was deemed necessary and that the doctor held out little hope for his recovery. On the receipt of a telegram stating the serious condition of his brother, Joseph H. Ritchie, accompanied by his nephew Archie Ritchie, left Carleton county for the west, hoping against hope that the news as received was exaggerated. They arrived at Minneapolis, March 18, and went immediately to the hospital to see the sick man. They found him conscious, but falling fast. Enquiring of the doctors whether there was any hope of recovery they were told there was not the slightest, which proved only too true, for he died early on the morning of the 20th.

The body was brought to Greenfield for burial, after a service conducted by the Oddfellows and the Order of the Eagle, the deceased being a member of both societies. Arriving at Greenfield on the 25th, interment taking place at Greenfield on the 30th the service was conducted by Rev. J. E. Flewelling of Canterbury. Mr. Flewelling preached to a very large gathering of people from Jer. 22.

George Ritchie was the son of George Ritchie, one of the early pioneers of Greenfield and was born in 1858, being in his 63rd year at the time of his death. In 1880, at the age of 22, he went to the United States to try his fortune as a railroad contractor. This seemed to be his life-work, for he soon made good and was quite a successful contractor. Later in life he entered into partnership with Philip O'Connell and continued in this partnership until his death. George was a man of sterling character and carried with him throughout his life the sturdy and honest qualities found in his forefathers, the early pioneers. During his years in the Western States he made for himself a host of friends which was evidenced by the kindness, help and sympathy extended to his brother and nephew in their time of trouble, and by numerous and beautiful floral tributes from his friends and co-workers in the far west. He never married, contending that a railroad contractor's life was too transitory to make a home in any one place. He leaves to mourn, three brothers and three sisters, besides many other relatives and friends.

EDWARD FOSTER

Edward, Foster of Lower Windsor died at the home of his son Edward on Friday. He was 79 years of age and lived the whole of his life near where he died. He was highly respected and had very many friends who will honor his memory. His wife died eight years ago and he is survived by his son with whom he lived, and a daughter, Mrs. George Bartlett of Temperance Vale. There also survive two brothers, Samuel Foster of East Coldstream and William Foster of Lower Windsor, while a brother, John, lives in the west. Mrs. Norman Prosser of Vancouver and Mrs. Willard Hatfield of Houlton are sisters.

The funeral was held at Rockland on Sunday afternoon, sermon by Rev. Charles Bell.

FISHER-JONES

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones, Royaltown, was the scene of a quiet wedding when their daughter Josephine Bell was united in marriage to William Fisher of Bridgewater by Rev. I. F. Keirsted. Only the immediate family were present. The bride wore a pretty travelling dress of navy blue trimmed with black silk braid and hat to match. The happy couple left for a short wedding trip with all good wishes of their many friends.

ADDITIONAL TRAIN SERVICE IN DOUBT

Change of Time on May 1—Management Still Considering Added Service for this Section

Following the agitation for increased passenger service on the Woodstock-Aroostook subsection of the C. E. R., The Observer last week caused to be circulated petitions asking the management to take the matter into consideration. Writing to The Observer under date of April 16, Supt. Woodman said the petitions came in too late for the May 1 change, but he intimated that the cost and the probable extra revenue would be figured upon, and if found feasible a recommendation would be sent to Montreal, and if approval was obtained the additional passenger train might be arranged for the June change.

A GIANT NEW BRUNSWICK TREE

Among Tuesday's callers at The Observer office was Otis Shaw of Wicklow, who brought with him data concerning a giant elm recently cut into timber by John B. McKinnon of South Johnville. From the tree were heaped three timbers 20 feet long, measuring 28x30 inches, 27x29 inches and 24x24 inches, straight and sound. The weight was seven tons and 1250 pounds, and sold to C. E. Gallagher Co. of Bath the tree brought $150. Not a bad price for a single New Brunswick tree.

J. W. Bohan has a four inch section sawn from the butt, which is a really wonderful specimen and should find a place in the provincial or the Dominion exhibits of natural resources.

SPECIAL MEETING OF TOWN COUNCIL DISPOSES OF TOWN MANAGER PLAN

The town fathers have decided to discontinue the town manager plan. The decision was reached at the special meeting on Monday evening after a rather heated session. Just exactly what will be the arrangements is not known, but both Town Manager Plummer and Marshall Murdoch were retained for a month longer. A motion to do away with the office of marshal was defeated by Ald. Hatfield's amendment. The whole matter was left in the hands of committees who will report at the next meeting. Ald. Faulstich handed in his resignation as a member of the Council, and action on this will also be taken at the regular meeting.

SALVATION ARMY SELF-DENIAL WEEK

Next week will be self-denial week with the Salvation Army and they are hoping to be able to raise a large sum for their rescue and charitable work.

In Hartland the Women's Institute have agreed to look after collections so every one in town may expect a call, and responses should be liberal. There is little doubt that Salvation Army is the greatest power for good on earth today. Its work is rescuing the down fallen and ministering to the afflicted requires vast sums of money and whatever given to the Army is money well spent.

WINDSOR WHISPERINGS

Rev. A. L. Tedford from St. John preached to a large and appreciative audience in our church Sunday evening, April 18. He was accompanied by his bride of a few days. They visited relatives and friends while here. J. E. Tedford is a brother and Mrs. P. E. Dickinson a sister, both of this place. Owing to prior engagements we were unable to keep him for the missionary meeting at H. L. Dickinson's as we expected to do. Although the time was short, arrangements were made for another program which proved good and interesting. All went home well satisfied with the efforts put forth. The next one will be at P. E. Dickinson's, May 11. An altogether new feature will be in included in the program for next meeting. Everyone come and see what it will be.

"HASN'T AN EQUAL" SAYS MRS. LEWIS

St. John Woman Tells Of Good Tanlac Did Her for the Benefit of Others

"For the sake of others who may be suffering from the after effects of influenza, I am glad to tell of my experience with Tanlac," said Mrs. Lewis Gilliland, of 96 Sea street, St. John, N. B.

"Ever since I had the influenza year before last, I had been in a badly run-down condition. I had no appetite, never dared eat rich foods of any kind and no matter what I ate, I suffered terribly from indigestion. I also suffered from constipation, had blinding headaches and almost unbearable pains in my back.

"The noises of the children playing almost set me wild, and my nervousness kept me awake so much every night that I felt as tired in the mornings as if I hadn't gone to bed at all. To add to my misery, I was badly crippled with rheumatism which caused me intense suffering.

"Well, I have only taken two bottles of Tanlac so far, but I haven't had a headache since I began taking it and I believe my rheumatism is completely gone, for I never feel a touch of it. My appetite is just splendid and I can eat anything I want and never suffer any afterwards. My constipation and nervousness have left me, and I just feel fine all the time. For those who suffer as I did, I don't believe there is anything in the world equal to Tanlac.

But near their homes they were bounced off entirely unharmed. The team was halted about one and a half miles below town.

THE GRAND FALLS POWER QUESTION

Shortly before the legislature prorogued last week assent was given the bill extending for two years the franchise to the Grand Falls Power Co.

Mr. Veniot speaking to the bill respecting the Grand Falls Company, said that an amendment acceptable to all parties had been drafted and accepted by the committee on corporations.

Mr. Hayes said that the question of development of Grand Falls was a matter which concerned more than the counties directly interested. This property had been held for years, and the holding company had failed to develop, although water-power development had taken place in other parts of the province. It was his opinion that there should be consideration of the advisability of the government developing this power as it had others. However, if the large delegation which had appeared in opposition to an extension of time were satisfied, perhaps opposition to the bill need not be pressed.

Mr. Fawcett said that many were hardly satisfied by the amendment

"Goodness me— I've forgotten the name of that medicine—for the wife."

"What is it for, Sir?"

"It's to build up the system."

"I know what you want, it's....."

suggested. He believed that an extension should not have been given. Something was due the province, perhaps a royalty.

Mr. Warnock said that he had opposed the extension of time to the company, and he knew that all members of the delegation were not satisfied by the amendment to the bill. It was his opinion that the government, while developing other water-powers in the province should develop Grand Falls.

Mr. Burdock said that he was opposed to the bill. This was the most glaring instance of class legislation on record.

Mr. Pickett said that he was opposed to the bill. It practically meant that a foreign company was being allowed to tie up this power and to use it for the development of their own country.

PRESERVING THE TOWN'S MORALS

Mr. Editor: I should like with your permission to say a word in The Observer with regard to the opening up of another pool room or bowling alley in this town. We had far better go without the revenue derived from a license of these places, of iniquity which are destroying our young men and boys and fostering idleness and vice.

What a beautiful thing if our town fathers would see the importance of closing the present place and refuse to grant license to another—and thus to release the town of the stigma attached to such a condition of affairs. I hope the conscience of the town will awake to the enormity of the present condition of things in connection, and preserve this town which has been the subject of so much prayer and intercession all the years of the past, from the ravages of sin and the devil.

A Start in the Right Direction
The temptation to spend money in your pocket is greater than when your money is in a savings account in the bank. That margin of temptation may mark the difference between an opportunity to go into business later on or of working for wages with nothing saved and nothing ahead, at the end of your working years.
Why not open a savings account in The Bank of Nova Scotia to-day?
Your account will be welcomed and you will have made a start in the right direction.
