Harcourt's Straightforward Reply to Mr. Balfour.

Resolution Regarding the Status of the Lords to be Introduced.

Unveiling of the Statute of Martin Luther in Berlin, Preliminaries of the Great Naval Pageant at Kiel.

Chinese Barbarity-The Loss by the Destruction of Mission Property Amounts to Millions.

MARTIN LUTHER'S STATUE. Berlin, June 11.-The statue to Martin Luther, which has been a long time in course of construction, was unveiled in the Neumarket today.

AN IRISH APPOINTMENT. London, June 11.-Prof. Dougherty, of Magee College, Belfast, has been appointed Assistant Under Secretary for Ireland, vice Sir William S. B. Kaye,

THE LOSS OF THE ELBE. London, June 11 .- The inquiry instituted by the Board of Trade into the circumstances of the loss of the North German Lloyd steamer Elbe has been concluded and judgment will be rendered on Monday.

THE MINE DISASTER. Berlin, June 11.—Up to noon 26 bodies had been recovered. Nobody appears to know even aproximately how many men there were in the mines at the time of the disaster, but it is believed many bodies, dead or alive, remain.

COOLNESS BETWEEN CANADA AND GREAT BRITAIN. Liverpool, June 11. - The British steamer Catalon, Capt. Atkin, from Boston, June 1, for Liverpool, arrived today. She reports having discovered icebergs on June 5 in latitude 42, longi-

FRANCE REWARDED. Paris, June 11.-The Dix Neuvieme Siecle reports that the Chinese Government has ceded to France a port in the Pescadore Islands. The Siecle adds that France will probably acquire the whole Pescadore group as the result of her interference, conjointly with Germany and Russia, to prevent Japan from pursuing her policy of territorial rapacity in her negotiations with China for indemnity. VESSEL BURNED AT SEA. Paris, June 11.-A dispatch from St. Brieux, Cotes du Nord, says that the British vessel Why Not, with a cargo of fodder and a number of passengers for the Island of Jersey, caught fire en voyage and was abandoned at sea by her crew, leaving her passengers on board. The crew, the dispatch says, landed at Erquy. The fate of the passengers is not known. A later dispatch from St. Brieux says the Why Not was driven ashore with her passengers, all of whom were

GLADSTONE'S CRUISE. London, June 11. - Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone left Hawarden for London at 9:55 o'clock this morning. They will proceed directly to Gravesend, where they will go on board the steamer Tautallon Castle. Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone, who are the guests of Sir Donald Currie, the owner of the steamer, will sleep on board the vessel tonight and sail for Kiel tomorrow. CHILD LABOR.

London, June 11 .- In the House of Commons today the Trade Committee having the Factory Bill under consideration, reported in favor of substituting 14 years for 16 years as the age limit for employment in factories. Mr. Asquith assented to the proposal, and it was carried by the committee by a vote of 40 to 14. The Radical members of the committee protested against the CHINESE BARBARISM. London, June 111 .- According to a special dispatch from Shanghai, the loss of property as a result of the recent rioting at Cheng Tu, Kaitung and Yo Ching amounts to several million dollars. The Chinese officials, headed by the Viceroy of the Province of Szchuen, openly encouraged the mob to all sorts of outrages, and the petitions of foreigners for protection were refused.

THE GREAT NAVAL PAGEANT. Kiel, June 11 .- The Austrian squadron which is to take a place in the naval pageant at the opening of the Baltic Sea Canal arrived this morning. The vessels were saluted by the German forts and ships and the Austrian ships replied. As the fleet steamed into the harbor the bands of the forts and German ships played the Austrian national hymns, while the bands on the Austrian vessels played the Prussian BRITISH CABINET IN SESSION. London. June 11 .- The entire Cabi- an improvement was noticeable. net was present at the council at 11 o'clock today. Lord Rosebery presided. Home Secretary Asquith left the council at noon, but the other members continued in session. Canon Nicoll paid a visit to Lord Rosebery this morning to interview the Premier in regard to the situation in Armenia. The canon is an ardent advocate of British intervention in behalf of Armenia.

TERMS FOR TURKEY. Constantinople, June 11.—The British, French and Russian ambassadors to Turkey have formally demanded that the Porte disarm the Bedouins at Jeddah and pay an indemnity for the atplace. It is understood that the Porte | tion, urged the extreme difficulty that would be encountered in an attempt to disarm the Bedouins. The ambassadors will hold a conference soon to consider what further action shall be taken. London, June 1.—The Standard's Berlin correspondent says it is feared that if the Turkish Government will not agree to the demands of the powers, Russia will march her frontier troops into Armenia, establish a Christian governor in the country, and pursue a policy similar to that followed in the

Herr Scharre and his associates were acquitted at the trial, and the newspapers have vigcrously demanded the prosecution of

PATTI'S GREAT RECEPTION. London, June 12.-An immense audience assembled in Covent Garden last night to welcome Mme. Patti on her reappearance in opera. She appeared as Violetta in "Traviata." In the first act she wore a pink satin and velvet gown and a profusion of flowers. Her entry was the signal for a burst of applause, that for a time stopped the performance. The warmth of her reception unnerved the famous singer whose first notes were hardly audible. She quickly recovered herself, however, and sang with much of her old charm. The second act was one prolenged triumph, and throughout the whole performance the audience was most enthusiastic. Mme. Patti was repeatedly called before the curtain, and the bouquets and baskets of flowers presented to her turned the stage into a flower garden. Among the many beautiful emblems was a gigantic lyre. IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT. London, June 11 .- In the Commons today Sir Edward Grey, Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, said the text of the Porte's reply to the proposal of France, England and Russia regarding reforms in Armenia, had been received only within the last few days, and that until the three powers had time to consider the reply and decide what action should be taken upon it, no statement would be made. William

Answering a question by William Birkmyre (Liberal), Sir J. T. Hibbard, Financial Secretary to the Treasury, said the Government of British Columbia had not asked the Treasury for any part of the £150,000 which it had been authorized to advance to them for the purpose of paying the expenses of the transfer of crofter families from Scot-

Mr. Balfour asked if the Government confirm the reports that they intended to again claim the time of the House as they had done after the Whitsuntide recess in 1894. Sir William Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said he would take this opportunity to inform the Opposition that the Government certainly did intend to claim the time of the House, as indicated by the leader of the Conser-

T. G. Bowles-Does the Government propose at this session to submit to the House a resolution relative to the status House of Lords? Sir William Harcourt-Yes, sir. (Lib

Britain ' ired of Spain's Delay-Fired On the Union Jack.

Key West, Fla., June 11.-While the British warship Mohawk, during her last visit to Cuban waters, was passing Cape Maysi late on the night of May 22, she was fired on by a Spanish warship guarding the coast, and she afterwards pursued the Spaniard into the port of Santiago. There the British commander demanded and received full satisfaction from the Spanish commander. Only two blank shots were The night was very dark. Both vessels used searchlights, but the Spaniard seemed not to recognize the Englishman.

The Mohawk and two other ships are expected at Havana soon to demand the immediate release of Mackenzie and other sailors from the Honora, now confirled there. Her Majesty's Government is tired of Spain's unfulfilled promises to grant them a civil trial. A prominent autonomist of this province says there will be an early uprising of that party unless Campos immediately grants home rule to the island.

Closing Proceedings of the London Conference.

Series of Important Resolutions Unanimously Adopted.

Steady Growth of the Denomination as Shown by the Statistical Report-Final Draft of Stations.

MONDAY EVENING.

Strathroy, June 10 .- The annual conference missionary meeting was held, commencing at 8 o'clock, The chair was occupied by Rev. Dr. Hannon. Rev. C. Smith assisted in the opening exercises. Instructive and interesting addresses were given by Rev. W. Godwin, Mrs. McMechan, of London, Mr. W. M. Gray and Rev. F. A. Cassidy, M.A., returned missionary from Japan. The choir furnished excellent music, and Rev. H. T. Crossley sang two solos with splendid effect.

TUESDAY MORNING. At 8 o'clock Rev. Dr. Keen conducted a religious service. At 9 a.m. conference assembled in regular session. Rev. Dr. Williams was in the chair. Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. J. Philp, of Ridgetown.

Mr. Geo. Robinson, of London, was elected lay representative on the general board of missions. Rev. A. C. Crews, the newly-elected secretary of the Sabbath School and Epworth League Department was introduced, and addressed the conference regarding the duties and responsibilities

A pleasant feature at this juncture was the presentation to Rev. Dr. Williams, president, of a large framed photograph of the president and ordination class of the year by the young men. Dr. Williams replied in feeling and well-chosen words. Rev. W. McDonagh submitted the following resolution, of which notice had previously been given: 'Whereas, the subject of public education is a matter of the highest and greatest importance to Canadian citizens of all classes, involving as it does the present and future welfare, moral and intellectual, of our common country; and whereas, it is of the greatest interest to the whole Dominion that Manitoba and the newer Provinces of the Northwest, which are largely untrammeled by legislation or the machinations of hierarchical assumptions and compacts of former years; and whereas, we believe that the system of education which produces the highest type of citizenship should be adopted and maintained; therefore, be it resolved, that in the opinion of this conference, the present public school system of Manitoba should be preserved in its integrity, and we therefore most earnestly deprecate any interference of the Romish hierarchy in its attempt to establish a separate school system in Manitoba, supported by public funds of the Province, and hereby express our hearty sympathy with that Province in the stablishment of one uniform standard of education for all classes of its citizens."

Rev. J. R. Gundy seconded the motion, which was supported by Mr. T. Haynes, other members of the conference taking part in the discussion. The resolution was carried by a standing vote, and the National Anthem was sung. In view of the fact that the Legislature of Manitoba will meet on Thursday, it was moved by Rev. H. W. Mc-Tavish, seconded by Rev. James Whiting, and carried:

"That the conference letter-writer be instructed to forward by wire to the opponents of separate schools in the Province of Manitoba an assurance of our united moral support in their struggle, as evidenced by the unanimous lay and clerical vote in favor of the Rev. W. McDonagh's resolution." The president called the attention of the conference to a cablegram which had been received, stating that the Shanghai missionaries in China were safe, but that the missionary property at Chengtu and Keatung was destroyed by a mob. The announcement was received with great delight, and the doxology was sung, expressive of thanks for the safety of the noble band of workers, for whose safety grave fears were entertained. Rev. S. Bond introduced a resolution re Japan difficulties, which was ordered to be forwarded to the general board of missions

TUESDAY AFTERNOON. Conference reassembled at 1:30 p.m., the president, Rev. Dr. Williams, in the chair. Rev. W. G. H. McAllister, M.A., presented the report of the temperance committee, in substance as follows: "That the majority report of the royal commission be regarded as an expensive comedy, unsatisfactory to Godly men. That the minority report be indorsed as worthy of our most hearty approval, and our sincere thanks be tendered to Dr. McLeod.

"We deprecate the actions of license commissioners in lengthening the hours of sale to bar-keepers, who affirm distinctly that the largest number of sales are made during the time for which they have been granted the right to sell. We would call special attention in thns respect to the city of London.

"We would pay a tribute of gratitude to one of the whitest encampments of our times—tr W. C. T. U. We indorse the efforts r ade by the W. C. T. U. in urging upon those who are responsible the teaching of temperance and kindred subjects in our public schools. "We deprecate the cultivation of abnormal tastes which lay the foundation of appetites for strong drinks, by the use of cider." The following resolution was unanimously carried:

"That this London Conference beg to call the attention of the Ontario Government to the fact that after the pledge of the Cabinet to grant all the prohibition in its power, its representadives in London, the license commissioners, have violated this pledge by lengthening the time of the sale of liquor from 10 to 11 p.m., and we humbly

On motion it was resolved: "We would respectfully draw the attention of directors of agricultural fairs to the practice of fakirs, proprietors of shooting galleries and games of chance, etc., giving to minors and others on their grounds eigars, etc., as a reward for success in contests in their several games." Rev. G. H. Cobbledick, B.D., submitted the report of the Epworth League, which showed a year of great prosperity. Rev. W. Rigsby introduced a motion regarding the rearrangement of districts, which was referred to the stationing committee to prepare a draft of districts to be laid before the conference during the year. Rev. G. Daniels, who has been transferred from the Manitoba Conference into the London Conference, was introduced and gave a brief address.

President Williams, on behalf of the conference, presented Rev. J. Morrison with a purse of money in recognition of his services as postmaster during the session of conference. The statistical committee reported as follows: Number of members, 44,552; increase of 908; amount raised for missions, $24,718; superannuation fund, $9,499; contingent fund, $899; educational, $3,053; general, $559; sustentation $877; union church relief, $735; total contributed for all purposes, $334,419.

A resolution expressing sympathy with the congregations who had suffered the loss of their churches by fire during the year was unanimously carried.

It was decided to hold the next conference in the city of Stratford. The conference then adjourned at 4:30 p.m., to meet at 10 The Rev. J. Philp was reappointed treasurer of the superannuation fund.

Here she comes, tripping gaily down the broad path of the garden, her wide hat set jauntily on her sunny head, her skirts short enough to escape contact with much earthiness, her implements of warfare in her hand, her bright eyes, plump shoulders, rounded cheeks, and firm, light tread all betokening that this is not her first gardening exploit. Well she realizes that a trowel may be wielded as gracefully as a tennis racquet, and that frequent use of light hoe and rake will bestow as much suppleness and as many beauteous curves to wrist and forearm as the best Delsartean exercise. Physical culture is not all the aim in view, however, for she digs, weeds, plants and gathers from genuine love of the work. She is not frightened into hysterics at sight of an angle-worm, nor does she shriek and turn pale when her spade inadvertently turns up a brown earth-beetle. And how much she knows, this gardening girl. She knows the most approved method for trapping moles which burrow the paths, and insists that a castor bean is only traditional, not to be depended upon, in fact, not at all efficacious in driving them away. She kens the difference 'twixt annuals and biennials, and will not own to even a faint expectation of flowers from a perennial the first season after

This is also the time of year when the sweet girl graduate in white muslin and pink ribbons tells us we can find a useful lesson in the legend she has just cribbed from some standard author, and that by our kindness and helpfulness toward others we may give an outward and invisible sign of our true and sweet inward disposition. And then she goes home and complains that her mother makes such a dust when she is house-cleaning! But we love her just vator again, you'd better walk! See?-Roxbury Gazette. Not a few well authenticated anecdotes go to show that even the people who enjoy the advantages of travel are often sadly unenlightened. A lady who has recently returned from a Mediterranean trip says that as the ship was leaving the harbor of Athens a welldressed lady passenger approached the captain, who was pacing the deck, and pointing to the distant hills covered with anow, asked: "What is that white stuff on the hills, captain?" "That is snow, madam," answered the captain. "Now, is it really?" remarked the lady.

They come over here, find no end of fault with every-thing; go back home, find no end of fault with everything there, because it is their nature. An Englishman by birth and education is a brute, but he usually tries to tell the truth, just as he makes a violent effort to pay his debts of honor. Physically, he is the most beautiful specimen in the world; he knows just how to put his clothes on. and he never looks conscious of them. Occasionally an Englishman comes over here and lives. IT ISN'T "SMART" TO LIE. A friend of the Boys' Brigade writes: It was reported in your valuable paper last night that the Excelsions defeated the Junior Boys' Brigade Monday. It was the Boys' Brigade who defeated the Excelsiors by a score of 3 to 8. The Excelsiors, who are ashamed of their bad work, tried to get the account of the game in before their warlike rivals. This is the second time such a thing has occurred. It was stated that the other game was unfinished. The boy who put this in probably put in the other. He la Prairie. ought to be exposed. I am told that Capt. Wray, of the Brigade, will not likely play with them again if they make such misstatements.

TORONTO VS. ROCHESTER. Toronto, June 11.-The visitors played an uphill game today, coming out with flying colors. They were away behind until the fifth, when Crane was knocked out of the box. Only two safe hits were made off Duryea after the second. It was a listless game all through, and there was little enthusiasm among the 600 spectators. Maddock is still running the Torontos, and it is expected Chapman will be here shortly; but it is a question if any outsider can make a success of the venture.

THE TURF. STRATFORD SPRING MEETING. Stratford, June 11.-The first day of the Stratford Turf Association spring meeting was a great success in all respects. Fine weather, track in splen-did condition, good sport and a large attendance. Following are the sum-

THE CONGREGATIONAL UNION.

First Day of the Stratford Turf Action of the Body on the Temperance Question.

Hamilton, June 10.—At today's session of the Congregational Union a report on temperance was brought in by W. W. Buchanan, chairman of the temperance committee.

Bar legalized traffic in alcoholic drinks. The committee recorded with joy the efforts being made to extend the principle of total abstinence, and urged the churches to give greater prominence to the teaching of temperance. It also said: "That this union protests against the findings of the majority; and that the thanks of the union are due to Rev. Joseph McLeod, D. D., for his excellent work upon the commission and his able minority report."

A long discussion took place over the report, the chief objections to it being directed against the clause condemning the royal commission. Rev. F. W. Clark, of Guelph, questioned the right of the union to protest against the methods of investigating adopted by the royal commission. Rev. Dr. Wilde was of the same opinion. He moved that the clause be struck out. The clause was referred back to the committee on resolutions. The statistical report showed that there are 103 churches in the union. There are in addition to these 25 preaching stations. The death of Rev. J. G. Sanderson, of Danville, Que.; the retirement of Rev. William Hay, reter 47 years of work as paster of Scotland Church, and other changes in the personnel of the ministry were referred to. The receipts for the year amounted to $4,600, which though considerably below the amount last year, was up to that of two years ago. During the year there have been additions to the membership amounting to 900. An extensive Batteries—Dwyr and Merritt; Hoffer and obinson. Umpires—Foreman and Hemming. and removal left the total membership about the same as last year-9,000.

The membership committee reported in favor of dropping the following names from the roll: Rev. Robert Aylward, Rev. A. McFadyen, Rev. G. H. Sandwell, Rev. McGee Pratt and Rev.

Trotter Carr.
The case of Rev. Robert Aylward was discussed at some length, the state-ment being made that he had left the church without giving notice, and had been received into the Presbyterian ministry without even a letter of recommendation from the union. It was hinted that neither Mr. Aylward nor the Presbyterian body had done right.

It was finally decided to drop the name, together with all the others named. The name of Nathaniel Harris was also dropped, that gentleman having applied for membership in the Methodist and Congregational churches at ing the milk should be placed to keep the same time, and having entered the and Tilbury North were referred to the committee again. Hamilton, June 11.—Before the adjournment of the Congregational Union resolutions were passed protesting in the strongest terms against interference in the Manitoba school case; expressing regret at the tendency of city corporations to encroach upon the sanctity of the Sabbath, and protesting against the finding of the majority of the royal commission.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. C. W. Brown, B.D., the regular morning service on Sunday last in connection with the Methodist Church was conducted by the Epworth League. The president of the society, Miss Campbell, conducted the service throughout, and in a very able manner introduced the subject for discussion, viz., "Character." A thorough discussion of the subject followed on two thoughtful papers by Miss Edith Weekes and Mr. H. W. Baker, B.A. In the evening the pulpit was occupied by Mr. C. G. Cor-

DEAN HOLE ON WORKINGMEN. Dean Hole, who visited Toronto some months ago, and delighted all who heard him by his genial wit and humor, has given to a representative of the Christian Commonwealth his opinion of the working classes in language which we might commend to the same class here: "They are just like other men. The honest workingman, who is trying to do his duty and takes a pride in his work, is the finest fellow on earth; but the lounger, who only works in order that he may just exist and get his beer, is a poor enough creature. The worst enemy of the workingman is he who tries to persuade him there is no dig-nity and no happiness in work, that he is a slave, and ought, if he can, to put his hand into the rich man's pocket. I have always told the workingman that if he is doing his best he is as great a man in the eyes of his Creator and Judge as the man in the highest position in life. No one can do more than his best, whatever his work and posi-

QUALITY IN CHEESE.

The Patrons' Responsibility in the

(By J.W.Wheaton, secretary D.A.W.O.) Year by year, as the number of cheese factories in this country increases, and as the competition for the dairy markets of the world becomes keener, the demand for a finer quality of goods becomes greater, and the need of more care and attention on the part of everyone connected with the business becomes of the utmost importance.

Unless everyone connected with the industry-the cheesemaker who makes the cheese, the patron who supplies the milk, and the shipper who handles the goods when made—is doing his utmost to perform his share of the work in the best way, the highest perfection cannot be attained to in the quality of the product. The duties of the patron of the cheese factory are just as important as those of the other factors connected with the business. They are important, because the patron has control of the cow which produces the milk, and because he also has control of the milk from the time it is taken from the cow until it is placed on the milk wagon for delivery at the factory, or in other words, during the time when it is most susceptible to injury from taints and foul odors.

A great many patrons of cheese factories fail to realize the importance of their duties, and look upon the cheesemaker only as the one who is responsible for the quality of the cheese at their factory. True, the responsibility of the maker is very great, but it must be remembered that, however skillful a maker may be, he must have a pure flavored and suitable raw product to begin with, or he cannot make a first-class article of cheese.

The duties of the patron, though important, are not very onerous, and if given a little application can be performed without much difficulty. During the warm season special care is necessary in preserving the milk in a pure condition. The more important duties devolving upon the patron may be specified as follows:

1. Absolute cleanliness. All milk cans and milking utensils should be washed first with luke-warm water after using, and then thoroughly sterilized by boiling water to kill the germ. Sunlight is an antidote for germ life. and therefore all vessels when washed should be placed where the direct rays of the sun will reach them.

2. All milk should be strained as soon as the milking is done. It is always necessary to remove lumps of dirt and other impurities right away before they become dissolved in the milk.

3. A thorough aeration of the milk immediately after milking is alsolutely necessary. It will allow the animal heat to escape and put the milk in a better condition to withstand the growth of the germ life in the atmosphere, which produces bad odors in milk. It can be done by dipping or pouring through some aerator, and allowing the air to pass through the milk, or by forcing air into the milk by means of an air pump or by an inverted vessel, so arranged as to compress the air into the milk.

4. After a thorough aeration and coolover night where the air is pure, and stirred occasionally during the evening. 5. The patrons of chese factories, when the sour whey is returned into the milk cans, should give particular care to removing the whey from the milk cans, and to thoroughly cleansing the cans as soon as the milk wagon returns from the factory. If the sour whey is left for a time in the cans, or till night, as has been done in many places, it will be almost impossible to remove the effects of the sour whey and get the can in a fit condition for receiving the evening's milk.

THE NEW GUN.

The new Maxim gun fires 600 bullets a minute, and each bullet will pierce the bodies of six men if they stand in its way. It can be turned on an army as a sprayer is applied to a fruit tree. As the most destructive implement of war so far invented, this new gun should be welcomed. Its use will tend to make war more destructive, more revolting, than ever. The meeting of two armies equipped with the weapon will mean their mutual annihilation. The contemplation of such a result will make the rulers of nations exhaust, as they have never done before, every agency calculated to maintain peace. Indeed, the more destructive the weapon, the less likelihood of any civilized nation consenting to its use in the settlement of international disputes. In thus perfecting the science of killing, the gunmakers hasten the end of war.

In every state there is the same complaint of overgrown expenditure, and the difficulty of meeting it. Still, in spite of this tendency, Sir William was able to say that the credit of Great Britain stood higher at present than at any other former period, and he believed that this was due largely If not wholly to the constant efforts made to reduce the public debt. Since this determination was arrived at a generation ago, through the financial skill and forethought of Mr. Gladstone, Britain's debt has been reduced by over f100,000,000, and the aim of every Chancellor of the Exchequer since has been to provide at least something in every year to lessen the amount.

In Canada, unfortunately, the policy seems to be to add something to the public debt every year, and it too often happens that the objects for which it is incurred to have no higher aim than to strengthen the hold of the ruling party in office. When the Liberals come in we trust that they will reverse this policy, and adopt in its stead the wiser and better British one.

HOME NEWS FROM ENGLAND.

Home news sometimes reaches us by way of abroad. For example, the London Times tells something of the Manitoba school question which reporters of the Canadian press were not a long conference took place between the Earl of Aberdeen, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Mr. Greenway, Mr. Sifton and 'Archbishop Langevin. This conference, it was believed, resulted in a compromise, the general terms of which are that the Manitoba Government will recognize the separate schools of the Roman Catholics, but which are to be placed under provincial inspection and be provided with certificated teachers.

Mr. Greenway, according to the London Times story, wished to re-establish the Council of Public Instruction, composed of Protestants and Catholics according to population; but to this the erican, archbishop had not agreed, though a settlement is regarded as certain. And the Times says that a bill on the subject will be introduced into the Manitoba Legislature on the reassembling of

We incline to the opinion that the information supplied to the London source. We do not think it is true that either Sir Mackenzie Bowell or Archbishop Langevin were present at the interviews; nor do we believe that any compromise of the character mentioned was reached by the parties. The one thing which appears to be certain is that the remedial order will not be enforced, and that Parliament will not be asked to deal with the subject this ession. As for the rest, the most likely thing is that the Dominion Government will appoint a royal commission to procure information on matters concerning which they have great need to be informed. Meanwhile, Premier Greenway, who has been visiting at his old home near Exeter, has left for Winnipeg. When the Manitoba Legislature reassembles to-morrow, the Premier will no doubt Dominion Government were to withdraw the unwarranted "remedial order" which it issued to influence recent byeelections in Quebec and Nova Scotia, and which most signally failed to achieve its purpose.

Given Before the Public Accounts Committee-How the "Soo" Contractors' Receipts Were Fattened by Private Arrangement With the Government

Specially telegraphed by our own Representative.)

Ottawa, June 11. Rev. Dr. Manly Benson, the new pastor of the Mountain Street Methodist Church, Montreal, appeared before the public accounts committee this morning to explain his receipt of $1,100 on account of immigration. He said that he suggested to Sir Mackenzie Bowell to employ him in this way while he was abroad on his holidays. He told Premier Bowell that he would like to make expenses, and would love to work for his country. He delivered ten lectures on Canada in England and Scotland, or at the rate of $100 a lecture, but he had to pay all his expenses and for places to lecture in. He always lectured in churches or chapels. The average audience was about 400. Mr. Somerville asked if Dr. Benson paid for the chapels to lecture in, and he replied: "I paid for them by preaching on Sundays." (Laughter.) One object, too, he had in preaching on Sundays and lecturing on Mondays was to create an audience for the lectures. Asked why he had not favored Ireland with any lecture, Dr. Benson replied: "I will be glad to go again." Amid roars of laughter, Mr. Somer-ville resumed his seat. Dr. Benson was absent two months, and said his expenses were some hundreds more than the $1,100 he received. Mr. Schreiber's examination on the Soo Canal contracts was resumed. The evidence showed that the contractors were asked to complete the work eleven months before the specified time. They replied that it would not be possible unless they had a change from stone masonry in the lock chamber to concrete. They were allowed to do so, but did not. They continued to use stone. Mr. Lister was not present today, and consequently not much progress was made in this investigation.

The evidence before the public accounts committee today developed some very interesting facts in connection with the construction of the Soo Canal. In cross-examining Deputy Minister Schreiber, Mr. Gibson, of Lincoln, drew from him the admission that while under the original contract the rate to be paid for excavation for the lock pit was 25 cents per cubic yard, a private arrangement had subsequently been made with the contractor by which he was paid 60 cents per cubic yard, it being held that he was receiving too little for the work. A similar private arrangement was also made with regard to rock excavation, which was increased from the original contract price, 95 cents, to $1 40 per cubic yard. Another evidence of the Government's generosity was found in the price paid for unwatering, for which under the original contract they were to receive $20,000, which was increased to $53,000 finally decided to increase the length of the lock to 900 feet, with a width of the auditor, and was received by the only 60 feet, the Government added Opposition with laughter and cheers. another $15,000, making in all $70,000 The matter was then allowed to drop,

Engineers who will take the trouble to figure out the area covered by the original contract and the area of the lock as completed, will appreciate the nice little sum the contractors made in the item of unwatering alone by their private arrangement with the Govern-

It also came out in the Deputy Minister's evidence that by the private arrangement between the contractor and the Government, the price allowed for concrete work was increased from $7, the contract price, $8.30 per yard. It was further brought out that to the price of wrought iron, which under contract was to be furnished at 6 cents per pound, the Government added $40 per ton in their generous moments. These are only a few of the facts developed by the public accounts committee today.

In the House, on motion to go into supply, Mr. Mills brought up the matter of the petition presented by the Auditor-General, who evidently felt that he was denied the treatment necessary to the discharge of the duties imposed upon him by Parliament. His representations to the Government as to the organization of his office had been disregarded. The Auditor-General claims that his office is not efficiently equipped, that he is cut down in his estimates, and only allowed one firstclass clerk where there should be four. He asked for a special committee to consider the facts and report. Mr. Mills declared that the Government had placed the stamp of their displeasure on the audit department. The clerks in the audit branch averaged only $1,070, while in the finance, justice and other departments it was $1,570.

Mr. Foster charged Mr. Mills with attempting to make party capital out of this matter. For himself he was in sympathy with the aims of the Auditor-General, and no charge against him of unfair treatment of the audit branch could be established. Mr. Foster entered into a long argument, and used many illustrations to show that the audit office had not been unfairly treated as compared with other departments. The reason the salaries in the finance department were on the average higher was because it was an older department. Mr. Foster resented the course taken by the Auditor-General in appealing to Parliament. He should have discussed it with the Government. He did write to the Finance Minister. but the Finance Minister did not find time to bring it before the Council. Mr. Foster criticised the habit of the Auditor-General in publishing all the details of the payments and the display of all items of expenditure. It was more than an audit. The details of payments to every Tom, Dick and Harry should not be paraded. The committee asked for could not be given.

Sir Richard Cartwright thought that the Auditor-General's real offense was that he had given to Parliament and the country particulars of expenditures which the Government had rather kept concealed. The display of expenditures in the Auditor-General's report acted as a curb on the extravagance of the Government. It was, no doubt, unpleasant for the Government to have the Auditor-General extend all the payments for public perusal.

Sir Hibbert Tupper asked who had charged the Auditor-General with the supervision of public affairs. The taxpayers had not. They looked to the Executive. How was it that it had been left to the Opposition to discover the many scandals alleged, notwithmade a statement as to the present posi- | would be more acceptable to the people. | General "to pry into the departments?" |

The Minister of Justice spoke warmly of the duties "arrogated to himself" by the Auditor-General. He termed that officer a censor and a bold critic of the Government, and an ally of the Opposition. Through all his long speech however, the Minister of Justice never once quoted a single instance where the Auditor-General had overstepped his line of duty. He contended that the Auditor-General was trying to do too much, and no staff they could give him would satisfy his longings. Growing warmer, the Minister styled the Auditor-General's action impudent and unconstitutional.

Mr. Davies, who followed, rebuked the Minister of Justice for his unmeasured abuse of an independent officer, whose services were of the greatest value to Parliament and the country. If the expenditures were right the Government need not be afraid of the Auditor-General. Mr. Davies, in an effec-tive speech, defended the Auditor-General, who was attacked now when he could not defend himself, but who was never attacked by Sir Hibbert Tupper in the committee on public accounts when he could explain and defend him-

Mr. Dickey, the new Minister of Militia, questioned the propriety of the Auditor-General petitioning Parliament, and pooh-poohed the whole aflair, though he admitted that the principle involved was very important. Mr. Dickey realized that a charge was made by the Auditor-General that a corrupt executive was crippling his staff so as to try and prevent an efficient audit of the public accounts and investigation into the expenditures. He did not think an Auditor-General essential to a check on expenditures.

Mr. Laurier deprecated the spirit in which the Government had approached this question. He denied the proposition that the auditor should be held to be merely an officer of the Government. He was an independent offi-cer, responsible to Parliament and to no one else, removable only by twothirds of Parliament. There was no Minister responsible to the House for the auditor. He was responsible to Parliament alone. Mr. Laurier charged that Mr. Dickey let the cat out of the bag when he expressed the opinion that they could do without an auditor, and foreshadowed an abolition of the office. The point at issue now was the efficiency of the auditor's staff, and a request for an investigation of the point was so reasonable that it should be

A 46,000,000-Candle Power Beacon Light for the French Coast.

The engineer-in-chief of the French ighthouse service proposes to outdo all previous achievements in brilliant light with a lantern of 46,000,000 candl power, says the Philadelphia Record. It has only been a few months since this gentleman completed the most powerful lighthouse which up to that time had been constructed. It is at the Cape of La Heve, less than three miles from Havre, and marks the northern entrance of the estuary of the Seine. Its illuminating power is equal to 23,000,000 candles, and its light is visible at a distance of 140 miles in clear weather.

The new lighthouse, which will be located some ten miles from Quimper, at a projecting headland bearing the name of Penmarck, will not send its light ray much further than that of La Heve. The maximum distance in clear weather will be about 150 miles, but the intensity of the pencil of light being doubled, the amount of light at the same distance is likewise doubled The enormous intensity of light is obtained by an arrangement of the knses of the lamp. In the ordinary lampe the lenses, consisting of a number of rectangular panels, are placed in steps in such a manner that the source of light occupies the principal focus of each of them. The rays of light then emanate from this part of the apparatus in a horizontal pencil. By reducing the number of panels the quantity of light received by each is consequently correspondingly increased. At La Heve there are four panels, the total light emitted by the lamp being triple the amount received in an apparatus with twelve panels. It is proposed in the new lighthouse to employ but two panels, each of them occupying a half square. Each lens will, therefore, receive half of the total light emitted by the lamp, and consequently will emit a pencil of rays of a power double that furnished at La Heve.

La Heve.

Like the lighthouse at La Heve, the new lighthouse will be lighted by electricity. The lamp will be fed by an alternating current of 100 amperes at its maximum.

T. M. Allen Regains His Reason After Eighteen Years to Find Himself Wealthy.

Montgomery, Ala., June 12 .- A letter from San Francisco addressed to "Mrs. T. M. Allen, Annistown, Ala.," who has long been dead, brings to light a remarkable story.

Twenty years ago T. M. Allen, a Calhoun county farmer, went west to better his condition, leaving his wife and five children at home. He finally settled in San Francisco. For two years his wife heard regularly from him, and his letters said that he was prospering and intended to remove his family there. Suddenly the letters ceased. His wrote to the San Francisco authorities and received word that her husband had been murdered and robbed.

The letter just received states that Allen is not dead, but that he was assaulted by robbers some eighteen years ago and so seriously injured about the head that he lost his reason, since which time he has been confined in a hospital, with no recollection whatever of his name or his past. Recently his condition has materially improved, until now he has almost recovered, and the letter is written at his instance. It appears, also, that just before his misfortune he purchased several acres of land near San Francisco, and that since then the land has been taken in the city and now contains several blocks of handsome store buildings valued at $14,000,000.

Allen has three children living-Mrs. (Dr.) J. T. Acton and Mrs. M. L. Gar-rett. of Anniston, and W. H. Allen, in

A Change of Governors-Retrenchment in Order.

St. Johns, Nfld., June 11. - Gov. O'Brien's term expires at the end of this month, and he leaves for England on the steamer sailing on June 29. Sir Roger Goldsworth, formerly governor of British Honduras, will probably be the successor of Gov. O'Brien. The Government expects to be pared to meet the Legislature on Thursday next.

The Retrenchment Bill provides for a reduction of every salary from that of the chief justice downwards, and every allocation for public services. The increased duties on all luxuries, together with this reduction, will give a sum sufficient to pay the interest and provide for a reduction of a portion of this special debt yearly until all is re-

The Bay of Quinte Conference Adopts a Resolution to That Effect.

Picton, June 12.—By an almost unanimous vote, the stationing committee of the Bay of Quinte Conference have decided to adopt the extension of the pastoral term to four or five years. The delegates of the Bridge Street Church in Belleville and Port Hope Church are to be credited with the success of the issue. This decision affects fourteen churches, all of which will have their requests to have their pastors returned to them granted.

Five Years After the Lad's Bleached Bones Were Found on the Prairie.

Winnipeg, Man., June 12 .- Over five years ago Willie McMillan, the 10-yearold son of James McMillan, of Pengarth postoffice, near Regina, who shortly before had removed from Toronto to the Northwest, lost his way in going from his father's to his uncle's place, a distance of twelve miles, there being no trail and deep snow. This was in the month of February, and 20 degrees below zero. His father and uncle on the day afterward followed the tracks from Pengarth for some distance, but finally lost them. They then thought it best to go to the uncle's house, two miles distant, to get food and a lantern and renew the search, but losing their bearing, they crossed Long Lake, and when light came they were ten miles out of their way. They did not get home until 2 p.m., and Currie's feet were so badly frozen that they had to be amputated. A search was made by the neighbors, but they could It was then decided that Willie, being overcome by fatigue and sleep, made a hole in a snow drift and laid down to perish. The weather being stormy, all further traces of his whereabouts were

ECONOMY OF STEAM PLANTS.

Some Useful Advice to Manufacturers and Others-How to Remedy Defects. money and don't know it, it don't worry

The statement carries its own demonstration with it, but the peace of mind not find tracks any further than before. which it infers is often expensive to its

> The average steam plant is not run at anything like the maximum efficiency obtainable under its condition of environment and use. The owner or manager often does not know whether his plant is running above or below the average; and a vast amount of money is burned up in fuel which need not and should not be burned, and the owner of the plant does not worry because he does not know.

of enterprising managers to improve the efficiency of their plants without an intelligent analysis of the condition and a careful study of the requirements. evening on Park's A plant may be in excellent condition, field between the Newsboys and the so far as its boilers are concerned, and evaporate a large amount of water per pound of coal, and still use an excessive amount of fuel for the work performed by reason of wasteful engines, or an extravagant use of steam after it is made. Obviously, any change in the boiler room can have but a slight beneficial effect upon the efficiency of the plant; yet it is no uncommon thing for a manager, because a neighbor has made a creditable saving by a change in fuel or the method of firing, an alteration in his boiler setting, or the adoption of a new kind of grate, or some of the many appliances which are offered to improve the performance of a boiler. to adopt the same tactics in his own plant, and condemn the method or device because it results in no gain or even in a direct loss in his case.

The obvious and intelligent way to get the most work out of a steam plant at the least expenditure is to first find out in what particular the plant is lacking, and then bring that portion up to the standard. If the product is a standard one find out how your total expenditure chargeable to power per unit of production compares with that of the best mills and factories in the same line. This will be a comparative measure of the efficiency of your plant as a whole, including the generation, transmission, application and use of the power.

Then find separately the efficiency of your boilers and engines, the proportion which the friction of transmission bears to the useful load, and finally if your machinery of production is as economcal as it should be in the use of power. If the plant is deficient in any of these particulars, do not adopt hap-hazard the first idea which suggests itself for its improvements, but study out the cause of the trouble. If your boilers are inefficient it may be because your rate of combustion is to high or too low for the amount of heating surface, a faulty setting, a poor heater or none at all, a wasteful fireman, or any one or more of a dozen other causes.

Your engine may be of an inefficient type, under-loaded, over-loaded, badly set or leaking. Your shafting may be out of line or illy designed.
Find the trouble, and then you can go systematically to work to remedy it.

AN ENORMOUS SUN. The Heat and Light Radiated From It

Giant Star A cturu . (Garrett P. Serviss, in the Popular Science Monthly.)

If the earth were situated midway be-tween the sun and Arcturus it would receive 5.198 times as much light from that star as it would from the sun! It is quite probable, moreover, that the heat of Arcturus exceeds the solar heat in the same ratio, for the spectroscope shows that although Arcturus is surthe sun's, yet, smothered as the great rivals Sirius itself in the intensity of its radiant energy.

If we suppose the radiation of Arc. turus to be the same per unit of surface as the sun's, it follows that Arcturus exceeds the sun about 375,000 times in volume, and that its diameter is no less than 62,350,000 miles! Imagine London, June 12 .- Thomas G. Bowles the earth and the other planets conhas given notice that in the House of stituting the solar system removed to Arcturus and set revolving around it in orbits of the same forms and sizes as those in which they circle about the sun. Poor Mercury! For that little planet it would indeed be a jump from the frying pan into the fire, because, as cordance with the terms in treaty it rushed to perihelion, Mercury would plunge more than 2,500,000 miles beneath the surface of the giant star. Venus and the earth would perhaps melt like snowflakes at the mouth of a furnace. Even far-away Neptune, the remotest member of the system, would be bathed in torrid heat.

Yesterday afternoon a rig belonging to a farmer named Joseph Poole was left standing near the City Hotel stables. During the absence of the owner John Kerr carried away a whole hide, steamer St. Louis, Capt. Rundle, from New York for Southampton, passed the Scilly Islands at 3:45 p.m. today. She will be about sixteen hours behind the time of the Fuerst Bismarck. The time of the St. Louis on the voyage will be seven days and two hours.

John Kerr carried away a whole hide, which he sold to Edward Jarmain, a buyer. Kerr was shortly afterwards arrested, and at the Police Court this morning he pleaded guilty, and claimed he had shipped too big a cargo of beer to navigate properly or be responsible for his misdeeds. Ingersoll is his home.

Kerr was remanded for a week. George McDonald, the vagrant arrested a week ago while begging, and whose arm was found to be very sore, was given two months in jail. The wounds are healing rapidly, and amputation will not be necessary. John Sussex, summoned to appear on the charge of breaking the city bylaw, failed to materialize, and a

Samuel Coulter, of Torente-A London Address in His Pocket. Toronto, June 12.—Samuel Coulter, who was brought over from Lewiston in an unconscious condition on Thursday last on the steamer Cibola, died Monday in the General Hospital. It seems that Coulter had got into a quarrel, and in the course of the row Scott is said to have struck Coulter a blow behind the ear, which caused consion of the brain. District Attorney King, of the Niagara district, New York, wired the police authorities here last evening that Coroner Walker, of Lewiston, would fetch the body of Coulter today. An examination of papers ir his pockets makes it probable that he has a brother Benjamin working for Edward Haltby, a farmer near Pick-ering. Other addresses found were Susie C. Brown, 336 Talbot street, London, and Mrs. Rose Howe, care of Joseph Meier, Lindsay.

What Causes it and How Overcome.

How often the remark, "Oh, my head aches," and there are many varieties of aches and pains the head is subject to all along the line, from the dull and heavy and oppressed feeling over the eyes, to the persistent, racking and torturing misery of sick headache. The cause is in most cases the same, the overflow of poisonous uric acid is not extracted from the blood by the kidneys, and accumulating in the blood, cause high and irregular pulse, headaches, mental depression and nausea. Chase's K. and L. Pills tone and restore the kidneys, excrete poisonous matter from the blood, sending it on its way pure and health-giving, curing headache, and removing all the attending symptoms from its wake. Mrs. G. Bird, Harriston, Ont., while attending the 1894 fall exhibition at Toronto, was taken very ill with sick headache and dizziness. She was subject to these attacks for years, compelling her to take to her bed. In this case by using Chase's Pills relief was immediately obtained, and the usual days of misery and prostration avoided. Lost Gem

The process was already beginning when help came. A workingman passed up the lane from the high road to Tomgarrow. Hannington had heard the footsteps of several passengers along the road, but had known that it was useless to try to summon help. He did not greatly care; his brain was becoming confused; it seemed almost as though a pleasant sleep were overtaking him, when the tramp of heavy footsteps roused him from the stupor into which he was fast falling. He heard a man's voice, he heard the summons for help; he was painfully aware of being touched, handled, examined-and then he knew no more. Movement was terture, and a dead swoon was the greatest blessing that his best friend could have wished him then.

When he awoke to consciousness he was dimly surprised to find familiar faces about him. He had been carried to Torresmuir, for the man who had discrovered him knew that he had married Mr. Moncrieff's daughter, and had taken it for granted that he would be nursed at his father-in-law's house. At another time some embarrassment of feeling might have been aroused by this turn of events. At this time he could but feel dumbly, passively grateful for the care and tenderness lavished upon him, and renew within himself the determination that if life were spared him he would make of it a different thing.

But this was not to be. His hours were numbered; he had had his "last chance" on earth. Other chances might be waiting for him elsewhere, but for this life, at least, his time of probation had expired. All that he could do was to make the best of the hours that re-

He lay for the most part in a dreamy state, not suffering much pain, but growing weaker every hour. It seemed to him that he was wrapepd in a sort of mist, from which faces occasionally emerged with puzzling distinctness. They were all kind and friendly faces, but he had not energy to respond much to the kindness. Now it was Stella's soft eyes that rested upon him pityingly; he roused himself to ask her to forgive him for all that he had done. forgive him for all that he had done. Priest, under date of April 22, 1895:
Then Alan Moncrieff bent over him and W. B. Waterbury, Secretary-Treasurer asked him some questions, and to these he did his best to reply. But it ard to fix his attention, to call his mind back from the floating mists in which it was enveloped.

"Had Ralph Kingscott anything to do with this?" Alan asked. There was a long pause before the feeble answer came. "It was all my

"All your fault? You had quarreled?" "It was about-Molly. I can't tell you now. She never robbed you-nor did I. I believe that it was Kingscott."
"Yes; I believe that it was King-

"You know that it was not Molly?" "I know-I am sure of it." 'That's right," said Hannington in a tone of weary relief, and then his eyes closed, and the mist seemed to have engulfed him once again. on Molly's white, worn face. She was sitting beside him.

"Molly," he said feebly. "Is it really—Molly?" "Yes, dear Jack."

"There is something that I wanted to Will you forgive me, Molly? "I forgave you ever so long ago, Jack. When baby came I forgave you." You will let me see it-the babybefore I go?" She is here," said Molly.

"I can't see it; everything is so dark." She guided his hand to the little head the child, which was now given into her arms. Then he asked if he might kiss it. 'It is a girl, isn't it?" he said. "She will be a comfort to you, Molly. Somebody told me that you were going to

"Valencia," said Molly softly.
"Valencia, yes." A clearer look came into his eyes; he lay silent for some moments as if thinking deeply, "Molly," he said at last very gently, "if I had lived I meant to be a better husband to you. I wanted to be a better man. But I have not the chance,"
"Dear Jack," she said, the tears falling fast as she spoke, "I was not a good wife to you. I meant to be better, too. Perhaps God will take what we meant to do as if it had been done."

"Perhaps," he murmured; and then he lay very still.

Molly was warned by the nurse that she ought to come away. She was not really fit to leave her bed, but she had been carried into Jack's room so that she might see him once again. But before she went she had one more word

'Jack," she said, "is there no one whom you want to see?" A sudden light came into his eyes. He looked at her eagerly, but did not

"I have sent for her," said Molly "I know you loved her, Jack; but you love me a little, too, do you not?" It was a piteous cry, but she was satisfied with his answer.

"I loved her in a different way, Molly. I never injured her. It was all so dif-ferent. * * * Child, forgive me and say good-bye. I do love you—you, my wife."

But when they had exchanged the last sad kiss, and he was left with his nurses, it was noticed that he began sound seemed to agitate him; the stu-por was varied by fits of feverish rest-nessness, in which he murmured a name that was not that of his young wife. He had learned, perhaps, to love Molly. But he loved Valencia, as he said, in a very different way.

She was with him at last. Her face came out of the mists and smiled very bravely upon him. She was always courageous, and she had made up her mind that she would not distress him by lamentations. He was vaguely glad that she did not cry—as Molly did.
"Val," he said with a faint smile of welcome. "The end has come, you

"Not by your own seeking, Jack," she answered. She had knelt down be-side the bed and was pillowing his head upon her arm. A sort of instinct told her what was best to be done for him. "No, not by my cwn seeking. I was trying to do what you told me."

She suppressed a cry of agony. "As it has turned out in this way, and you were trying to do right, Jack," she said, "I think that we must conclude that-that-it was God's will-

"For me to die?" said Jack with a smile. "Well, I told you that it was the best way out of our difficulties. I want to say something to you, Val; hold my hand; don't let me go—don't let me die—until I have said it."

"No, Jack,' she answered softly, but firmly. "You shall not die until you have said all that you want to say. 'You make me feel strong, Val. With you-with you-I should have been a better man. We are alone, are we not?" "Yes, dear."

"Tell me that you love me, Val?" "I have always loved you-all my life. shall love until I die-and after that, to all eternity." "And I-you, Val."

Then, quite easily and naturally, he began to speak of Molly. 'I would have been a better husband, if I had lived, to that poor child. She loves me, and I should have loved her —and the child, too. You will be a friend to them, will you not, Val? I leave them to you.

'Yes, Jack; I will do all I can." "She will marry again," said Han-ington quietly. "Rutherford, pernington quietly. haps. I hope she will. You can tell her so, if ever the occasion comes, Val. And if she has-other children, and this little one should be neglected, or if the child were left motherless, then you, Val--" "She should be my child, then," said

Valencia softly.
"Yes, that is what I wanted to hear you say. God bless you, Valencia. God forgive me!" The light was fading from his eyes.

His voice was growing very weak. She could barely hear his words when he murmured at last: "Kiss me, Val." She bent over to kiss him, and received his last breath upon her lips.

A Gold Cure Club at Mitchell.

Mitchell, May 15.-This town has a Gold Cure Club. It is the result of the successful treatment for alcoholism at Lakehurst Institute, Oakville. It was formed for the purpose of inducing and assisting financially drink-stricken ones to avail themselves of a cure. It is composed of graduates from Lakehurst and others of our citizens who are prompted by philanthropic motives. That it is true home mission work is established by the followng letter from the parish Dominion Gold Cure Club, Mitchell, Dear Sir,-When I first heard of the "Oakville Sanitarium" and the "Gold Cure" I took very little interest in it. Indeed, I almost put it down as a fake. My attention was drawn more closely to it when your admirable club succeeded in inducing one of our parishioners at Mitchell to try it. Now that he is cured of his terrible appetite for strong drink by the treatment of the Lakehurst Santarium at Oakville, I must say that it deserves the support of all benefactors of humanity. I have known the man in question for ten years, met him very often, but he was seldom sober. His case, as well as several others that I have met with in the last year, lead me to recommend the insti-tution at Oakville to all who may have become victims of strong drink. Multum in Parvo.

"Much in little," this sentence means. It has almost become a proverb, because the expression can be used in so many instances. In no instance, however, can this saying be used with greater propriety than in speaking of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. There is indeed much in a little vial of themthere is a cure for many a headacherelief from dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, colic and piles and restoration to health and happiness. Much good in little space.

Results Made Known - London Art School and Collegiate Institute Pupils Do Well.

The results of the annual Provincial Art School examinations have just been made public, and show great progress made in every branch of the fine arts applicable to manufacturing industries, proving that the present excellent system of teaching industrial drawing in the public and high schools is a great stimulus in promoting industrial art education throughout the Province. Some idea of the extent of these examinations may be formed when it is stated that 82 different schools, colleges, etc., competed, and 19,676 examination papers were applied for by the candidates, and in addition to these time studies done in the presence of presiding examiners, over 2,000 specimens of paintings, industrial designs, wood carving, modeling in clay, china painting, etc., executed during the school term were sent in for competition. Certificates of merit have been awarded to art schools and ladies' colleges:

A Strong Feeling in Favor of a Canadian

Product in the State of New York. Syracuse, N. Y., June 10.-In spite of a strong sentiment prevailing throughout this State that nothing good can come out of Canada, a feeling is beginning to grow here that there are certain notable exceptions, and among them is classed the new specific remedy for all diseases of the kidneys and all complaints arising from a derangement of these organs, known as Dodd's Kidney Pills. The medicine has re-ceived a thorough test, and is being prescribed not only by druggists but by physicians, whose well-known reluctance to admit any virtue in a proprietary medicine makes their testimony to its merits still more remarkable.

OTHERS, Do You Know that Paregorle, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons? Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Knew that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle? Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher.

That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined? Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word

"Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense? Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless? Do You Know that 25 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Emery lives in the rear of the hotel, and saw Grant from his woodshed. After the robbery he thought of Grant's action, and he (Emery) made a search and found three keys where Grant had hidden them. Agent Thompson, of the Canadian Express Company, found that one of them fitted the express office safe, from which the money was undoubtedly stolen, and the other the lock in the G. T. LOCAL C. E. OFFICERS. The executive committee of the Local Union of Christian Endeavor held their annual business meeting in St. Andrew's Church last evening. The chief item of business was the electing of officers, as follows: President, Mr. A. Mc-Mullen; first vice-president, Mr. A. Richards; second vice-president, Miss Lamb; third vice-presidnt, Miss Baxter; recording secretary, Miss Drew; corresponding secretary, Mr. McCorkindale; treasurer, Miss Gower. A subommittee was appointed to arrange for the annual picnic. The date will be about the second week in July. The matter of publishing a paper in connection with the society was laid over. SATURDAY EARLY CLOSING.

The Trades and Labor Council held their regular meeting last evening at 8:30 in the usual place of assembly with President Cummings in the chair After routine business had been disposed of a delegation representing the Ministerial Association, the Christian Endeavor Society and other organiza-tions favorable to the early closing of ousiness places on Saturday evening was introduced to the council. Among the delegates who addressed the meeting and urged the co-operation of the Trades and Labor Council in this matter were Mr. R. A. Jones, of London West, Rev. M. P. Talling, and Mr. Thos. Brenton. It was argued in this connection that the preferable day for the payment of wages was Friday or Monday, instead of Saturday. Where Saturday is the payday purchases are ne-cessarily made late in the evening generally long after supper time, and this keeps the parties who deliver the gccds working up till midnight and, often until 2 o'clock Sunday morning. Late hours were in this way not only an injustice to the workers, but a deterent to the proper observance of the Sabbath. These views were warmly in-gersed by the members of the council. Messrs. Joseph T. Marks, H. B. Keene. and others, spoke on the subject, expressing themselves as heartily in accord with the movement, and anxious to lend their aid or accept the aid of others in accomplishing the object aimed at. The early closing of stores on Saturday as well as other evenings it was held would be in the interest of the manufacturer and merchant as well as the workingman. A large meeting is to be held in the near future, when the various societies interested in this reform will be represented by delegates, and a united effort made to bring the matter in a clear and forcible way befcre the attention of the public.
